THERE is only this Justice due to the Reader, to give a plain Account of the first Author, and of the present Improvements of this Work.

The first Author was Dr. John Cowel, born in Devonshire, (a) and bred at Eaton School, where by good Parts and agreeable Industry, he distinguished himself from other Boys, and appeared worthy to be elected a Scholar of King's College in Cambridge, 1570. possibly committed to the Tuition of his Name-sake and Relation John Cowel, Fellow of that House, who had been one of the University Proctors in the Year 1561. (b) Our Author seems here to have applied himself heartily to Books, and a good Digestion of them. By which studious and virtuous Course of Life, he grew up to so much Reputation and Interest in the University, that he had the Honour to be chose one of the Proctors for the Year 1585. And having past the two Degrees in Arts, he applied himself to the Study of the Civil Law, by the Advice and Importunity of that eminent and active Prelate Richard Bancroft, then Bishop of London; (c) who had Judgment to find the Genius of our Author, and knew the great Necessity our Church was in, to have Men of Abilities and Integrity in that Profession. Being regularly admitted to the Degree of Doctor of Laws in his own University; he made a Visit to Oxford in the Year 1600, where he was incorporated by the same honourable Title LL. D. (d) His Reputation was now so established, that the Government thought it Justice to prefer him: He was made the King's Majesty's Professor of the Civil Law in the University of Cambridge; and near the same Time Master of Trinity-Hall; which two Stations in that Place of Residence, had as much Honour and Profit, as were possible to be there bestowed on a Man of that Profession. He executed the Office of Vice-Chancellor of Cambridge 1603, 1604.

His chief Patron Bishop Bancroft was advanced to the See of Canterbury in Decemb. 1604. where projecting many Things for the Interest and Honour of the Church and State, he knew the greatest Art in promoting publick Service, was to employ Men in their own Way. Upon this Motive, he solicited Dr. Cowel (e) to shew himself an Antiquary, and an useful Man, by giving the Interpretation of such Words and Terms, as created most Difficulty to the Students of our Ecclesiastical, Civil, and Common Laws.

The Doctor would not dispute the Archbishop's Authority, nor excuse himself from serving the Publick: And therefore fell upon the Work with so much Edge and Application, that in proper Time he put his Collections into fit Method, and published them in Quarto at Cambridge under this Title:

The Interpreter, or Book containing the Signification of Words: Wherein is set forth the true Meaning of all, or the most Part of such Words and Terms, as are mentioned in the Law Writers, or Statutes of this Victorious and Renowned Kingdom, requiring any Exposition or Interpretation. A Work not only Profitable, but Necessary for such as desire thoroughly to be instructed in the Knowledge of our Laws, Statutes, or other Antiquities. Collected by John Cowel, Doctor, and the King's Majesties Professor of the Civil Law in the Univerſity of Cambridge. In legum obscuritate captio. At Cambridge, printed by John Legate, Anno 1607.

The Author thought it Justice and Gratitude to commend his Book to that Patron, by whose Advice and Encouragement he wrote it: And therefore prefixed this modest Dedication.

To the most Reverend Father in God, his especial good Lord, the Lord Archbishop of Canterbury, Primate and Metropolitan of all England, and one of his Majesty's most Honourable Privy Council.

“ AFTER long Deliberation, I hardly induced my self to crave your “ gracious Protection toward this simple Work: Valuing it at so low a “ Price, as I think it hardly worth the Respect of any grave Man, much less
 “ the favourable Aspect of so honourable a Personage. Yet the Remembrance “ of those your honourable Provocations, whereby, at my coming to your Grace
 “ from the University, you first put me upon these Studies, at the last by a Kind “ of Necessity inforced me to this Attempt; because I could not see how well to “ avoid it, but by adventuring the hateful Note of Unthankfulness. For I cannot “ without Dissimulation, but confess my self persuaded, that this poor Pam“ phlet may prove profitable to the young Students of both Laws, to whose Ad“ vancement that Way, I have of late addicted mine Endeavours; else were I
 “ more than mad, to offer it to the World, and offer it without Mention of him,
 “ that by occasioning of this good, more or less, deserveth the prime Thanks,
 “ were to prove my self unworthy of so grave Advice.

“ And therefore howsoever I account this too much Boldness in respect of “ the Subject, yet could I be exceedingly glad, it might please your Grace to “ ascribe mine Intention to the Integrity of my Duty. For he that meaneth “ truly well, and cannot perform much, must needs rejoice at the good Accep“ tance of that little which he performeth.

“ All I crave for this at your Grace's Hands, is Patience and Pardon for this “ Enterprize, with the Continuance of those your many Favours, that hitherto “ to my great Comfort I have enjoyed. And so my long Observation of your “ judicious Disposition, having taught me, what small Delight you take in af“ fected Complements, and verbal Commendation, without more Words, in all “ true humbleness, I beseech the Almighty long to continue your Grace in “ Health and Prosperity, to his Glory, and the good of his Church.

Your Grace's at all Commandment,

John Cowel.

He prefixed likewise to this First Edition, a Preface to the Readers, which being omitted in later Editions, is the more proper to be now inserted. Any Reader, that has a Relish in these Matters, will be content that first Draughts and Originals, should be recovered and preserved.

To the R E A D E R S.

Gentle Readers, I here offer my self to your Censures, with no other Desire, than by you to be admonished of my Faults. For though I do profess the Amplifying of their Works, that have gone before me in this Kind, and have both gathered at home, and brought from Abroad some Ornaments for the better Embellishing of our English Laws; yet I am neither so vain, as to deny my Imperfections, nor so passionate, as to be offended at your Charitable Reformation. Nay, my true End is the Advancement of Knowledge; and therefore have I published this poor Work, not only to impart the Good thereof to those young Ones that want it; but also to draw from the Learned the Supply of my Defects: And so by Degrees, if not my self to finish this Model, yet at the least by the Heat of Emulation to incense some skilfuller Architect thereunto. Yea, I shall think my Pains sufficiently recompensed, if they may be found but worthy to stir up one learned Man to amend mine Errors.

The Civilians of other Nations have by their mutual Industries raised this kind of Work in their Profession, to an unexpected Excellency. I have seen many of them that have bestowed very profitable and commendable Pains therein: And lastly one Calvinus a Doctor of Heidelberg, like a laborious Bee, hath gathered from all the Former, the best Juice of their Flowers, and made up a Hive full of delectable Honey. And by this Example would I gladly incite the Learned in our Common Laws and Antiquities of England, yet to lend their Advice, to the gaining of some comfortable Lights and Prospects toward the beautifying of this ancient Palace, that hitherto hath been accompted (howsoever substantial) yet but dark and melancholy.

Whosoever will charge these my Travels with many Oversight, he shall need no solemn Pains to prove them, for I will easily confess them. And upon my View taken of this Book since the Impression, I dare assure them that shall observe most Faults therein, that I by gleaning after him, will gather as many omitted by him, as he shall shew committed by me. But I learned long since out of famous Tully, that as no Man's Errors ought to be followed, because he saith some Things well: So that which a Man saith well, is not to be rejected because he hath some Errors. No Man, no Book is void of Imperfections. And therefore reprehend who will in God's Name, that is with Sweetness and without Reproach. So shall he reap hearty Thanks at my Hands; and by true Imitation of the most judicious that ever wrote, more soundly help on this Point of Learning to Perfection in a few Months, than I by toiling and tumbling my Books at home, could possibly have done in many Years. Experience hath taught me in this my Institutes lately set forth, by publishing whereof I have gained the judicious Observations of divers Learned Gentlemen upon them; which by keeping them private I could never have procured. By which means I hope one Day to commend them to you again in a more exact Purity, and so leave them to future Times for such Acceptance as it shall please God to give them.

I have in some Towardness a Tract (De Regulis Juris) wherein my Intent is, by collating the Cases of both Laws, to shew, that they both be raised of one Foundation, and differ more in Language and Terms than in Substance, and therefore were they reduced to one Method, (as they easily might) to be attained (in a Manner) with all one Pains. But my Time imparted to these Studies being but stolen from mine Employments of greater Necessity, I cannot make the Haste I desire, or perhaps that the Discourse may deserve. Wherefore until my Leisure may serve to perform that, I intreat you lovingly to accept this.

One thing I have done in this Book, whereof, because it may seem strange to some, I think to yield my Reason, and that is the inserting not only of Words belonging to the Art of the Law, but of any other also, that I thought obscure, of what sort soever: As Fish, Cloath, Spices, Drugs, Furs, and such like. For in this I follow the Example of our Civilians, that have thought it their Part to expound any Thing they could meet with in their Walk. And indeed a Lawyer professeth true Philosophy, and therefore should not be ignorant (if it were possible) of either Beasts, Fowls, or creeping Things, nor of the Trees, from the Cedar of Lebanon, to the Hyssop that springeth out of the Wall. And therefore if I have either omitted any hard Word within my Circuit, or set it down not expounded, I give you good Leave to impute the one to my Negligence, the other to mine Ignorance, and so commend these my Pains to your best Profit, and you unto God. Nov. 3. 1607.

John Cowel.

The P R E F A C E.

At the Publication of this Book, the World was satisfied that nothing could more facilitate the Studies of the Law, than such a familiar Exposition of the obsolete Words and ambiguous Terms. And that no Method could be more proper to make it useful and serviceable, than to throw the Words into an Alphabet, and so make it a standing Glossary or Dictionary to consult upon all occasional Readings.

I know of no Offence, that was immediately taken at this first Edition: Tho' it was infinitely hard to speak of Prerogative, Property, Government, Laws, and mutual Rights, with that Caution and Regard, as not to make some to murmur, and others to insult; especially where Parties and their Passions were even then prevailing.

This Performance satisfied his Patron Archbishop Bancroft, that he was a Man of Parts, Industry and Courage, truly capable of Trust and Office. And therefore in the following Year, upon the Death of Sir Edward Stanhop, Vicar-General to the Archbishop, departing this Life on the 16th March, 1608. His Grace conferred that Honourable Place on our Dr. Cowel,

(a) Contin. Hatchers who had practised before as an Advocate in the Arches. (a) In this Station he carried himself with that Fairness and Integrity, that Equity and Honour, as raised him no Enemies, and lost him no Friends. And if he was afterwards Invidious as a Writer, he was still blameless as a Judge: For when the warmest Objections were made against some Expressions of his Book, there was not a Word to be objected against his Administration of Justice.

The greatest Offence and Provocation given by his Book was indeed this. He had spoke with too much Liberty and too sharp Expressions of the Common Law, and some eminent Professors of it. At this, the Gentlemen of that Robe thought themselves and their whole Faculty affronted. He had not spared the Oracle of the Law, Littleton. He had recited Hottoman's Reflections on his Treatise of Tenures, and by so reciting them was thought to make them his own. This especially gave fire to Sir Edward Coke then Chief Justice of the Common Pleas, who was more particularly concerned for the Honour of Littleton, and valued himself for the Chief Advocate of his own Profession. There seems to have been another Reason that brought Dr. Cowel out of Favour with this Judge; within Two Years after the Publication of his Interpreter, Archbishop Bancroft grew sensible, that the Jurisdiction of the Spiritual Courts was perpetually obstructed by the Grant of Prohibitions from Westminster-hall. He thought the Discipline of the Church could not be effectually executed without redressing this Grievance. He found the ancient Practise of the Clergy of England, when called to attend in Parliament, was to draw up a modest Remonstrance of such Grievances, and to present them to the King, with Petition for Relief. And the King with Advice and Consent of his Council in Parliament, the Barons or House of Lords, did answer the Complaints and Requests in such Manner, as was most lawful and reasonable. Very many of these Precedents remain upon Record, and were commonly called Articuli Cleri. The Spiritual Commonalty, or Parliamentary Convocation, having in this respect a like Privilege with the Temporal Commons, to grant or refuse their Subsidies and Taxes, according as the King was pleased to oblige or deny their Petitions of Right. The Archbishop thought it proper to take a like Method in the present Case, and seems to have employed his Right Hand, Dr. Cowel, in drawing up those Reasons and Exceptions against the too frequent Grant of Prohibitions, which were delivered to the King in Time of Parliament, under the same Title of Articuli Cleri; the King ordered these Articles to be argued by the Judges, and their Arguments against them are printed by Judge Coke in his XII. Report, who had the chief Hand in them; and was now more and more incensed against Dr. Cowel, whom he took for a profest Enemy to the Westminster Courts, and therefore directly or obliquely reflects upon him in several Pages of his less accurate Works.

But Paper Reproofs were too little Satisfaction; Sir Edward Coke was of some Authority with the King, and had good Interest in the House of Commons: By these Advantages, he represents Dr. Cowel as an Enemy to both. He knew nothing would excite the King's Jealousy so much as to touch upon the Question of Prerogative, and therefore he suggests, that this Author had disputed too nicely upon the Mysteries of this Monarchy, nay in some Points very derogatory to the supream Power of his Crown. (a) It was further represented to his Majesty, That this bold Writer had asserted, that his Royal Prerogative was in some Cases limited, (b) as if this could be any Offence to an English Monarch. And I suppose it passed for a common Report what a severe Author has delivered in his Court and Character of that Prince, that in the Interpreter it is said, That King took not the usual Oath all Kings are bound unto at their Coronation. (c) His thus incurring the Royal Displeasure, might have have mark'd him out for Disgrace and Ruin. But I believe the King was wise, and the Archbishop faithful; and so this Plot miscarried.

Upon this Disappointment, his Adversaries (who knew how to bring in a Man guilty of Felony, when he was acquitted of Treason) turn the Tables, and resolve to make him a Betrayer of the Rights and Liberties of the People, thinking this Accusation would do more with the Parliament, than the other had done with the King. It is natural enough to imagine, that by giving Offence to both Parties, he meant no harm to either. Nothing can dispense Two opposite Sides, but Moderation.

However the Design against him was carried on in the House of Commons by Men of Parts and Interest; and it came to this Issue, that the Author was committed to Custody, and his Books were publickly burnt. I want Opportunity to consult the Journal of the Two Houses, but a Report from them is thus given by the Learned Mr. Petyt in his Miscellanea Parliamentaria, pag. 64.

Anno 7 Jacobi, 1609. Dr. Cowel Professor of the Civil Law at Cambridge, writ a Book called the Interpreter, Rashly, Dangerously, and Perniciously asserting certain Heads to the Overthrow and Destruction of Parliaments, and the Fundamental Laws and Government of the Kingdom.

He was complain'd of by the Commons to the Lords, as equally wounded, who resolv'd to censure his Errors and Boldness: But upon the Interposition of the King, who declared that the Man had mistaken the Fundamental Points and Constitutions of Parliaments, promised to condemn the Doctrines of the Book as absurd, and him that maintained the Positions; they proceeded no further. His Principles with the evident Inferences from them were these.

1. That the King was solutus a Legibus, and not bound by his Coronation-Oath.
2. That it was not ex necessitate, that the King should call a Parliament to make Laws, but might do that by his absolute Power; for voluntas Regis (with him) was Lex populi.
3. That it was a Favour to admit the Consent of his Subjects in giving of Subsidies.
4. The Doctor draws his Arguments from the Imperial Laws of the Roman Emperors; an Argument which may be urg'd with as great Reason and upon as good Authority, for the Reduction of the State of the Clergy of England to the Policy and Laws in the Time of those Emperors; as also to make the Laws and Customs of Rome and Constantinople to be binding and obligatory to the Cities of London and York.

I have no Authority, nor indeed Inclination, to contradict this Report of Mr. Petyt. And I must confess these Positions are so gross and intolerable, that no English Man would defend them or excuse them. I mean if they are as gross and positive in the Author, as they are in this Relation. But I think I have run over most Part of the First Edition 4to. 1607. and find no such abominable Assertions in Words at length; there be many Things too unadvisedly express'd, which a wise Author would have omitted, and a wise Government might have desisted. But alas, when a suspected Book is brought to the Torture, it often confesseth all, and more than all it knows.

However the King acted with Prudence and Honour in Issuing out his Royal Proclamation for suppressing the Book, and censuring the Writer. And because it is the best Light of History in this Matter, and but rarely seen, I shall here give the Whole.

A Proclamation touching Dr. Cowel's Book, called the Interpreter.

THIS later Age and Times of the World wherein we are fallen, is so much given to verbal Profession, as well of Religion, as of all commendable Moral Virtues, but wanting the Actions and Deeds agreeable to so specious a Profession, as it hath bred such an unsatiable Curiosity in many Mens Spirits, and such an itching in the Tongues and Pens of most Men, as nothing is left unsearched to the Bottom both in Talking and Writing. For from the very highest Mysteries in the Godhead and the most inscrutable Counsels in the Trinity, to the very lowest pit of Hell, and the confused Nations of the Devils there, there is nothing now unsearched into by the Curiosity of Mens Brains. Men not being contented with the Knowledge of so much of the will of God as it hath pleased him to reveal: But they will needs sit with him in his most private Closet and become privy of his most inscrutable Counsels. And therefore it is no wonder, that Men in these our Days do not spare to wade in all the deepest Mysteries that belong to the Persons or State of Kings and Princes, that are Gods upon Earth: Since we see (as we have already said) that they spare not God himself. And this Licence that every Talker or Writer now assumeth to himself, is come to this Abuse, that many Phormios will give Counsel to Hannibal, and many Men that never went of the Compass of Cloysters or Colleges will freely wade by their Writings in the deepest Mysteries of Monarchy and Politick Government: Whereupon it cannot otherwise fall out, but that when Men go out of their Element, and meddle with Things above their Capacity; themselves shall not only go astray and stumble in Darknets, but will mislead also divers others with themselves into many Mistakings and Errors; the Proof whereof we have lately had by a Book written by Dr. Cowel, called The Interpreter: For he being only a Civilian by Profession, and upon that large Ground of a kind of Dictionary (as it were) following the Alphabet, having all kind of Purposes belonging to Government and Monarchy in his way, by meddling in Matters above his reach, he hath fallen in many Things to mistake and deceive himself: In some Things disputing so nicely upon the Mysteries of this our Monarchy, that it may receive doubtful Interpretations: Pea in some Points very derogatory to the supreme Power of this Crown: In other Cases mistaking the true State of the Parliament of this Kingdom, and the Fundamental Constitutions and Privileges thereof: And in some other Points speaking unreverently of the Common Law of England, and the Works of some of the most famous and ancient Judges therein: It being a Thing utterly unlawful to any Subject, to speak or write against that Law under which he liveth, and which we are sworn and are resolved to maintain. Therefore upon just Considerations moving us hereunto, for preventing of the said Errors and Inconveniencies in all Times to come, we do hereby not only prohibit the Buying, Uttering, or Reading of the said Book, but do also Will and straitly Command all and singular Persons whatsoever, who have or shall have any of them in their Hands or Custody, that upon Pain of our high Displeasure, and the Consequence thereof, they do deliver the same presently upon this Publication to the Lord Mayor of London, if they or any of them be dwelling in or near the said City, or otherwise to the Sheriff of the County where they or any of them shall reside; and in the Two Universities to the Chancellor or Vice-Chancellor there, to the Intent that further Order may be given for the utter Suppressing thereof. And because there shall be better Oversight of Books of all Sorts before they come to the Press, we have resolved to make Choice of Commissioners, that shall look more narrowly into the Nature of all those Things that shall be put to the Press, either concerning our Authority Royal, or concerning our Government, or the Laws of our Kingdom, from whom a more strict Account shall be yielded unto us, than hath been used heretofore.

Given at our Palace of Westminster the 25th Day of March, in the Eighth Year of Our Reign, of Great Britain, France and Ireland. Anno Dom. 1610.

It is one of the Detections of Roger Coke, Esq; that this Proclamation could not call in those Books, but only seemed to make them more taken Notice of. The only Truth that drops from that Gentleman in his Relation of this Matter: For how can he prove that Dr. Cowel published his Interpreter the next Year after the 7th of the King, when it was indeed the 5th of the King? How can he tell the Doctor wrote the Book to supply the King's Necessities? How does he know that he was no Doubt set upon it by Bancroft, and those called the Church? Where does he find the Proclamation published during the Session of Parliament, and that it had not the desired Effect of getting more Money, when there was no such Proclamation till three Months after the Dissolution? Secret History should be wrote with a very good Memory. Roger Coke Esq; was descended from the Lord Chief Justice, and so by Right of Inheritance had a Feud against Dr. Cowel, and by the same Hereditary Right was to be no good Historian; for that Oracle of the Law, was at least no Oracle in Matters of Fact. His Opinions may be excellent, but his Stories are most of them Trifles and Falshood.

To return to our Author Dr. Cowel, when he had thus felt the Displeasure of the King, and the Indignation of the People; like a wise Man he took his Leave of the Press, and retired to his College and his private Studies, and lived inoffensive and in good Repute, not averse to serve the Publick, when he was called to any Advice or proper Service. Soon after he died upon the Operation of being cut for the Stone.

A considerable Benefactor to the College of which he had been Fellow, to the Hall of which he had been Master, and to the University of which he had been Governour. He lies buried under the Altar in the Chapel of Trinity-Hall, with this Inscription, as I receive it with some other Notices from the Honoured Master, and a worthy Fellow of that House.

Johannes Cowel LL. D. Custos hujus Collegii, Juris Civilis, in hac Academia Cantab. Professor Regius, Vicarius Generalis Cantuariensis Provinciae sub Domino Richardo Bancroft Archiepiscopo Cantuariensi, hic expectat Resurrectionem. Obiit undecimo die mensis Octob. Anno Dom. 1611.

This condemned Book was known to be very useful, and therefore has been often reprinted, in the Reign of Ch. I. under the Administration of Cromwel, and after the Restauration. But in all the later Editions, those Passages that were dubious or offensive have been corrected or omitted.

Archbishop Laud, who was to bear the Blame of every invidious Thing, was charged with giving Countenance or Connivance to an Impression of this Work. Of which Act and Effort of Malice, his own Account is the best that can be given. Hist. Troub. and Trial of Archb. Laud. p. 235.

Cap. XXIII. 2d. Day Art. IX. Then was charged upon me the printing of Books, which asserted the King's Prerogative above Law, &c. The Instance was in Dr. Cowel's Book Verbo (a) Rex. That this Book was decayed by Proclamation; that Complaint was made to me, that this Book was printing in a close House without License, and by Hodgkinson, who was my Printer; that I referred them to Sir John Lamb; that they came to me again, and a third Time, and I still continued my Reference; which Sir John Lamb sighting, the Book came forth; the Witnesses to this were Hunt and Wallye, if I mistook not their Names.

1. For this Book of Dr. Cowel's, I never knew of it till it was printed, or so far gone on in Printing, that I could not stay it: And the Witnesses say, it was in a close House and without License, so neither I nor my Chaplains could take Notice of it.

2. They

(a) No such Word there, sure, it should be Prerogativa Regis. W. S. A. C. (i. e.) a Note of William Sen ro's Archb. of Cant.

The P R E F A C E.

2. They say, they informed me of it, but name no Time; but only the Year 1638. But they confess I was then at Croydon; so being out of Town, (as were almost all the high Commissioners) I required Sir John Lamb, who being a High Commissioner, had in that Business as much Power as my self, to look to it carefully, that the Book proceeded not, or if it were already printed, that it came not forth. If Sir John slighted his own Duty and my Command (as themselves say) he is living and may answer for himself; and I hope your Lordships will not put his Neglect on my Account.

3. As for Hodgkinson, he was never my Printer, but Badger was the Man I employed; as is well known to all the Stationers; nor was Hodgkinson ever employed by me in that Kind or any other; upon just Complaint, I turned him out of a Place, but never put him into any: And therefore those Terms which were put upon me of my Hodgkinson and my Sir John Lamb, might have been spared; Sir John was indeed Dean of the Arches, and I employed him as other Archbishops did the Deans which were in their Time, otherwise no Way mine: And Hodgkinson had his whole Dependance on Sir Henry Martin, and was a meer Stranger to me. And this Answer I gave to Mr. Brown, when he summed up the Charge. Nor could any Danger be in the Printing of that Book to mislead any Man: Because it was generally made known by Proclamation, that it was a Book condemned, and in such particulars: But for other Things the Book very useful.

As to the Additions and Improvements in this present Volume, all I pretend to is to augment the Work by the easy Addition of many Thousand Words, which neither Author nor Editors had before observed. And indeed a Work of this Nature is no more to be raised up in one Impression, than Rome in one Day. What have all Sorts of Glossaries and Dictionaries been at the first projecting of them, but rude and modelling Draughts; but meer Scaffolding to carry up Materials, to build higher in due Time and Order.

Yet I think I have not done, as many other Alphabet Writers, who have traded purely in transferring of Stock, and have picked out the Words of one Dictionary to insert into another. I have indeed thrown in from Du Fresne, &c. most of those Words that bear Relation to English Laws and Customs; but then I have explained them with more Familiarity, and confirmed them with more Authority: And have often adjusted the Mistakes of that very Learned Writer, who was a Foreigner in this Cause, and wrote sometimes of English Matters with a French Air, loose and at large. But a very great Number of the Terms here interpos'd are new to the present Age, and were occasionally gathered up from many Manuscripts and old Records, more to satisfy my own private Curiosity, than with any Design upon the Publick.

But since the Proprietors of the old Copy called upon me, to lend them some Additions and Improvements for a new Edition, I communicate the Heap of Collections to them and the World; and dare say, they will be serviceable to the Antiquary, to the Historian, to the Lawyer, to any Scholar, nay to every English Reader.

Thus far the Prefacer to the last Edition, concerning the first Author, and the Improvements he himself made to this Work: It remains to say something in Behalf of this present Volume. In the first Place, the Text of the last Edition is left entire and whole. But the Faults of that Impression, the literal, (which are almost innumerable) and the many wrong Quotations and References are corrected with the greatest Care. The Etymologies of Words, where they seemed to be mistaken, are not altered; but the true Derivations added; and these I am not ashamed to own were chiefly taken from Dr. Wilkins's Glossary to his Saxon Laws. As for the Additions now made they are very large, consisting of many Thousand Words; of which there needs no other Proof than the additional Number of Sheets, this Impression containing above thirty more than the last.

History, Antiquities, and LAWS.

A IS the first Letter of the Alphabet with the Hebrews, Greeks, Latins, and other Nations, and called by the Heb. Aleph; the Arab. Alph; Chaldee and Syriac, Olaph; Armenians, Alp; Ethiopians Alph; and Greeks, Alpha. A prefix'd to Words, in English stands equivalent with un in French; as a Man, un homme. But A prefix'd according to the Greek Acceptation becomes privative, and signifies as much as without v. g. in Greek ἄνομα, a Name, by prefixing A it becomes ἄνομος, sine nomine, without a Name, or that will not own his Name.

Ab. When the Name of a Place begins with Ab it denotes, that either the Place belonged to some Abbey, or that an Abbey was founded there Thus, Abingdon in Berkshire took that Name soon after Cissa King of the West-Saxons had founded the Abbey there; for before, it was called Cloveshoe.

Abator, The Cap of State, used in old Time by our English Kings, wrought up in the Figure of two Crowns. Vid. Chron. Angl. 1463. Ed. 4. p. 666. Vol. 2. l. 27. Spelman.

Abatores, (Abatores) Drivers away, or indeed stealers of Cattle or Beasts, not by one and one, but in great Numbers at once; and therefore by M. S. thus distinguished from fur, qui unam ovem surripuerit, ut fur coeretur, qui gregem, ut Abator. 'Tis derived from the Verb Abigere. For when Herds of Cattle are stoln, they are certainly driven away:

Amisit taciti furto prædonis abatores.*

Abacus, Arithmetic, or the Art of numbering, from the Abacus or Table, on which the Ancient set down their Figures.—Omniū liberalium artium peritus, Abacum præcipue, lunarem cœripotum & cursum rimatus. Hen. Knighton, Chron. lib. 1. cap. 3.

Abacista, An Arithmetician, whence the Italian Abbachier and Abbachista—Gerbertus—Abacum certe primus a Saracenis capiens, regulas dedit, quæ a sudantibus Abacistis vix intelliguntur. Will. Malmisbur. Hist. Angl. lib. 2. cap. 10.

Abanoun, Abandonum, Any thing sequestred, proscribed, abandon, i. e. In banum res missa; a Thing Ban'd or Denounc'd as forfeited and lost. Whence to abandon, to desert, or forsake as lost and gone.

Abarnarr, To detect or discover any secret Crime. Sax. Abarian, to uncover, disclose or make bare. — Siquis Francigena occidatur, & Interfector ignoretur — Si parentes secundum legem repententes, vel probantes non habeant, sent illius qui abarnaverit. Leges Henrici I. Angl. cap. 91. — Si Homo furtivum aliquid in domo sua occultaverit, & ita fuerit abarnatus, restum est ut inde habeat quod quesivit. Leges Canuti Reg. cap. 104. Dr. Wilkins in his Glossary on the Saxon Laws thus explains this Word Abarnare: Rem clam & occulte gestam probationibus manifestare: Unde Mvdrum abarnatum idem est ac Mvdrum probatum.

Abartstick, Insatiable; from a Privative, and the Saxon, Beyson, Dysrumpi, who has so large a Belly, that tho' full, it will not burst.

Abate, May be derived from the French Word Abatre, destruere, prosternere, to break down or destroy; in the vulgar Sense, it signifies to diminish, or take away, as to abate the Courage of a Man; it is in the Writers of the Common Law used both actively and passively, as to abate a Castle or Fortlet, Old Nat. Brev. fol. 45. Which in West. 1. cap. 17. is plainly interpreted to beat it down: And to abate a Writ, is by some Error or Exception to defeat, or overthrow it. Britton, cap. 48. And in this active Voice, it has two Significations, one general, another special; general, as in the former Examples; and again, in Kitchin, fol. 173. Abater Maison, is to ruin or cast down a House; special, as in the Old Nat. Brev. fol. 115. A Stranger abateth, that is, entreth upon a House of Land, void by the Death of him that last possessed it, before the Heir takes his Possession, and so keeps him out; wherefore as he that putteth him out of Possession, is said to disseise; so he that steppeth in between the former Possessor and his Heir is said to abate. And in the Statute De conjunctione Feoffatis, 34 Ed. 1. Stat. 2. The Writ of the Demandant shall be abated, that is, shall be disabled, frustrated, or overthrown. So in Stauford's Pleas of the Crown, fol. 148. The Appeal abated by Confingage, that is, the Accusation is defeated by Deceit. Anno 11 H. 6. cap. 2. The Justices shall cause to be abated the said Writ, and hence cometh a Word of Art Abatementum. Vide Intrusion.

Abatement, Derived from the French Abatement, sometimes signifies the Act of the Abator, as in the Abatement of the Heir into the Land before he hath agreed with the Lord. Old Nat. Brev. 91. Sometimes the Affection or Passing of the Thing abated, as Abatement of the Writ. Kitch. fol. 214. And in this Signification, it is as much as exceptio dilatoria with the Civilians, (Brit. cap. 51.) or rather an Effect of it; for the Exception alledged, and made good, works the Abatement. And this Exception may be taken either to the Insufficiency of the Matter, or to the Incertainty of the Allegation, by the Misnaming of the Plaintiff, Defendant, or Place; to the Variance between the Writ and the Specialty, or Record; to the Incertainty of the Writ, Count or Declaration; or to the Death of the Plaintiff or Defendant before Judgment had, and for divers other Causes: Upon which Defaults the Defendant may pray that the Writ or Plaint may abate, i. e. the Plaintiff's Sute against him may cease for that Time. New Terms of the Laws, Verb. Abatement of a Writ, &c. To prevent Abatement of Writs of Error. See the Stat. 16. Car. 2. cap. 2. Co. Entrics, fol. 63. c. & 205. d. & 519. c. Abatement is called in Latin Intrusio, but it may rather be called Interpositio, or intratio per interpositionem, to distinguish it from Intrusion after the Death of Tenant for Life: And in his Com. on Lit. fol. 277. he shews the Difference between Abatement, Disseisin, Intrusion, Forfeiture, Usurpation, and Purpresture. He that will read more of this, may read the New Book of Entries, verb. Brief. See also Writ, Misnomer and Variance, and the Book called, The Digests of Writs.

Abatote, Is he that abateth, that is, intrudeth into a House or Land, void by the Death of the former Possessor, and not yet entred, or taken up by his Heir. Old Nat. Brev. fol. 115. Perkins, fol. 76.

Abatuda, i. e. diminished; Moneta abatuda is Money clipt or diminished in Value: Si tempore solutionis hac Moneta fuerit abatuda, sine deteriorata. Charta Simonis Comitis Leicesterie, Anno 1209. Du Cange in verbo.

Abawed, i. e. terrify'd, from the French Esbaïr, attonitum reddere.

Abay, or Abey: Te shall sore abey it, i. e. You shall suffer great Pain, or You shall pay dear for it.

Abbay, In Latin Abbazia, or Abbatia, is the Government of a religious House, with the Revenues and Persons, subject to an Abbat, as a Bishoprick is to a Bishop. The Word is used Anno 34 & 35 H. 8. cap. 17, 18. Sciant, &c. quod ego Isabella Comitissa Pembroke pro salute anime mee, &c. Dedi Deo & Abbatia de N. totam vicham juxta predictam Abbatiam, &c.

Abballaba, Apubly, a Town in Westmorland.

Abbat or Abbot, Abbas in Latin, in French Abbe, Sax. Abbud, a Spiritual Lord having the Rule of a religious House, according to our Common Law: Skillful Linguists derive it from the Syriack Abba, Pater; Justinian's Novel Constitut. 115. Seit. v. πῶλες π. γ., terms him Archimandrita; others Cænobiarcha, or Archimonaclus. Hotoman in verb. Feuda. Of these, some here in England were Mitered, some not. Stow's Annals, pag. 442. Such as were Mitered, were exempted from the Jurisdiction of the Diocesan, having themselves Episcopal Authority within their Limits, and were also Lords of the Parliament. Of this Kind, thus saith Corassi, Aliqui Abbates habent jurisdictionem Episcopalem, ad quos cum Ecclesia pleno jure pertineat, in eorum Monasteriis Episcopus nihil exerceat. Cap. Ea que. And these were called Abbots Sovereign, 9 R. 2. cap. 4. And Abbots Generals, as Mr. Ferne Noteth in his Glory of Generosity, pag. 126. The other Sort were subject to the Diocesan in all spiritual Government. Cap. Monasteria 18. Quaest. cap. Abbas & ca. visitandi, cum quatuor sequentibus ibid. Omnes 16. Quaest. 7. & ca. cum venerabilis, extra de religiosis domibus. And as Abbots, so were these Lords Priors also, who both had exempt Jurisdiction, and were Lords of Parliament, as Sir Edw. Coke makes out, De jure Eccles. fol. 28. a. Of which Lords Abbots and Priors that sat in Parliament, some reckon but twenty-six, but Sir Edw. Coke says, they were twenty-seven Abbots and two Priors, Co. super Lit. fol. 97. In the Parliament 20 R. 2. there were but twenty-five Abbots and two Priors: But in the Summons to the Parliament at Winton, Anno 4 Ed. 3. (in Dorso clauso ejusdem An. Membran. 41.) I find more named, to which I have added the Founders out of the Monasticon Anglicanum.

- 24 Abbot of Hyde. Alfredus Rex, 922.
 25 Abbot of Rading. Henricus Primus Rex, 1125.
 26 Abbot of Glastonbury. Inas Rex Occid. Sax. 708.
 27 Abbot of Osney. Rob. Fitz - Nigel Doily, 1129.
 28 Prior of Spalding. Jo. Talbois, Com. Andegav. 1074.
 29 Prior of St. John's of Jerusalem. Jordanus Bristet & Uz. ejus, 1100.
 30 Prior of Lewes. Will. de Warren, primus Comes Sur. 1708.

To which were afterwards added,

- 31 Abbot of S. Austin's. Henricus Secundus Rex. Bristol.
 33 Prior de Semplingham. Sanctus Gilbertus, 1131.

To these also Henry the Eighth added the Abbot of Tavistock. And in the Teste to Mag. Charta, the Names of some other Abbots are inserted, among the great Men of the Realm. An Abbot with the Monks of the same House, being called The Covent, made a Corporation; but such Abbot was not chargeable by his Predecessors Act, but by their common Seal, or for such Things as came to the Use of his House; neither for the Debt of his Monk before his Entry in Religion, though the Creditor had a Speciality. See for this the Abridgment under the same Title.

The Bishops complained that the Monks invaded their Rights and Privileges, I mean at the Time when the Abbots were first mitred; and they were very much offended, because in Synods and Councils there was no Distinction between them in their Habits, for both were mitred and alike; thereupon Pope Clement the Fourth ordered, that the Abbots should wear their Mitres embroidered with Gold, but without Jewels; but those of the Order of Pramonstratenses wore no Miters, because they would not seem to be elevated with those Things which were worn by Popes and great Prelates.

Abbatby, An. 31 H. 8. cap. 13. See Abbacy.

Abbatiss, An Avenier or Steward of the Stables; the Word was sometimes used for a common Hostler, pronounced short in the middle Syllable, which distinguishes it from the genitive of Abbas, an Abbat. As in this old Line,

Abbatis ad canam dat equis Abbatis avenam. Spelman in voce.

Abbettoz. See Abet.

Abbotzement, (Abbotamentum) is a Forestalling of a Market or Fair, by buying up the Wares before they are exposed to Sale in the Market or Fair, and then vending them again by Retail. M. S. de Placit. coram Rege Ed. 3. Penes J. Trevor Mil.

Abbundun. See Abingdon.

Abbuttals, (From the French Abutter, that is, to limit or bound) are the Buttings and Boundings of Land either to the East, West, North or South, shewing on what other Lands, Rivers, Highways, or other Places it does abut: As in Croke's Reports, Part 2. Fol. 184. The Plaintiff hath fail'd in his Abbutals, that is in setting forth how the Land is abutted and bounded. Latere autem nunquam aiunt Abbutare, sed terram Proximum adiacere. And Camden says, Limits were distinguished by Hillocks raised on purpose, which were called Botentines; whence we may guess our Butting to spring. The Word Abbutare to Abut or to Bound Ends ways, from the Saxon Onbutan, Butan, preter, ultra. In a Terrier, or Description of the Site of Land, the Sides on the Breadth are properly adjacentes, lying or bordering, and the Ends only in Length are abbutantes, abbuting or bounding: Which in old Surveys, they sometimes express'd by capitare, to Head, whence Abbutals are now called Had-Lands, i. e. Head-Lands. As in the Rental of Wye in Kent belonging to the Abbey of Battle in Suffex. Tenent octo acras juxta Gores wall. capitantes ad predictum wallum.

Abdutorium, An Abditory or Place to hide and preserve Goods, Plate, or Money, or a Chest in which Relicks were kept. As in the Inventory of the Church of York. Mon. Angl. Tom. 3. p. 173. Item unum coffeur, & una pixis de ebore ornata cum argento deaurato. Item tria Abditoria & tres pixides de ebore ornate cum cupro deaurato.

Aberched, Is an old Word, and signifies to be satisfied; from the French acheber, to feed.

Abermurder, Aberemurdrum, Plain or Right down Murder; as distinguished from the less heinous Crimes of Manslaughter and Chancemedly. From the Saxon, Aebere, apparent, notorious, and Mord, Murder. So Aebere Theof, a bare, evident, notorious Thief. This Aberemurder was declared a capital Offence, without Fine or Commutation by the Laws of Canute, cap. 93. Hoc ex scelerum genere fuit, nullo pretio, etiam apud Saxones nostros, expiabilem, cum alia licuit pecuniis commutare, says Spelman, in voce. And in the Laws of Hen. 1. c. 12. Ex his placitis quadam emendantur centum solidi, quadam Wera, quadam Wita, quadam non possunt emendari, que sunt Husbreeke, & Bernet, & Openthifthe, & Ebercmorth, &c.

Abergabenny. See Gabanum.

Abested, i. e. humbled; from the Fr. abaissier, to depress; and hence the English Words Base, and Abase.

Abet, (Abettare) May be said to proceed from the French Bouter, impellere or excitare (rather from the Saxon a, an energetical Article, and Bedan to stir up, or excite; from whence the Phrase of beeting or beating the Fire, i. e. supplying it with more Fuel;) In our Common Law, it signifies as much as to Encourage, or set on. Abetment (Abettum) the Substantive implies the same. Staundf. Pl. Cor. 105. As in the Pleas of Parliament, 21 Ed. 1. Jurati quesiti per cujus abettum appellum predictum factum fuit, & prosecutum, dicunt quod per abettum Hugonis de Ewere. And Abettor (Abettator) for him that encourageth, or setteth on. Old Nat. Brev. fol. 21. but both Verb and Noun are always taken in the worst Sense. As Abettors of Murder, are such as command, procure, or counsel others to commit a Murder; and in some Cases such Abettors shall be taken as Principals, in other but as Accessories; and their Presence or Absence at the Doing of the Fact, differences the Case. There are also Abettors in Treason, but they are as Principals; for there are no Accessories in Treason. See Fleta, lib. 1. cap. 34. Sett. 13. cap. 52. Sett. 35. Coke on Lit. Sett. 475. Staundford's Pleas of the Crown. Rapal's Exposition, &c.

Abettatoz, An Abettor. See Abet.

Abeyance, Hath by some been derived from the French Aboyer, that is, allatrare, to bark at, as Dogs do at a Stranger; but I rather suppose it may come from the French word Bayer, to gape after, or to expect: So Children are said Bayer a la mamme, who seeing the Dug, they strivingly expect it: So also bayer a l' argent, qui spe atq; animo pecunie incumbunt. This Word in Littleton, cap. Discontinuance, we find thus used, The Right of Fee-simple lieth in Abyeance, that is, according to his own Interpretation, only in the Remembrance, Intendment and Consideration of the Law. Sir Edw. Coke calls it in gremio legis. The Frank-tenement of the Glebe of a Parsonage is in no Man, so long as the Parsonage remains void, but is in Abyeance. And it is a Maxim in Law, That of every Land there is Fee-simple in some Man, or else it lies in Abyeance. Considering and comparing these Places with the Signification of the French Word Bayer, it seems more than probable, that our ancient Law-Looks would signify hereby a Kind of Hope, or longing Expectation, because Things in Abyeance, tho' at present in no Man, yet in Hope and Expectation they belong to him that is next to enjoy them. And also in French, a Man that earnestly gazes at any Thing, is termed an Bayard, a greedy Beholder. This Abyeance cannot be better compar'd, than to that which the Civilians call Hereditatem jacentem. For as Bracon saith, lib. 1. c. 12. num. 10. Hereditas jacens nullius est hominis ante additionem, &c. So that (as the Civilians say) Lands and Goods do jacere; so the common Lawyers say, That Things in like Estate are in Abyeance as the Logicians term in posse, or in Understanding; and as we say, in nubibus, in the Clouds, that is, in Consideration of the Law. Read more of this in the New Terms of the Law, fol. 6. & Plow. Rep. Walsingham's Case. See also lib. 3. cap. 11. fol. 145. & Perkins, fol. 12. Co. on Lit. fol. 342. b.

Abecatoria. Abetorium, The Alphabet, or A, B, C, as Mat. Westin. reports of St. Patrick—Abetoria quoque 345. & eo amplius scripsit, totidem Episcopos ordinavit. So Wavenus de script. Hibern. lib. 1. Baptizavit quotidie homines & illis literas legebat, & Abecatorias. The Irish still call the Alphabet Abghittin. Abigevus, for Abigenus, signifies a Thief who hath stoln many Cattle: Si quis suam surripuit, fur erit, & si quis gregem, Abigevus. Bracon, lib. 3. c. 6.

Abyngdon, anciently Abbundun, a Town in Berkshire, so called soon after Cissa, King of the West-Saxons, had builit an Abbey there; for before that Time it was called Clovesham alias Cloveshoe, where the famous Council was held. The old Book of that Abbey tells us, Hic sedes regia, hic cum de regni principis & arduis tractaretur negotiis, concursus fiebat populi.

Abitherfing, (As Rastal in his Abridgment expounds it,) Is to be quit of Amerciaments before whomsoever of Transgression proved. It is called in the New Terms of the Law, Misþersing; It signifies originally a Forfeiture, but much miswritten by the Ignorance of Clerks, since more properly it should be Misþersing, Misþering or Miskering, according to the learned Spelman, in his Glossary. Old Authors have termed it a Freedom or Liberty, because whoever hath this Word inserted in a Charter or Grant, hath not only the Forfeitures and Amerciaments of all others withheld in his Fee for Transgressions, but also is himself free from the Controul of any within that Compass.

Abjuratio, (Abjuration) is a Renouncing by Oath; and signifieth in our Law a sworn Banishment, or Forfeiting of the Realm; Staundf. Pl. Cor. lib. 2. cap. 40. saith out of Polyd. Vigil 1. So great was the Devotion towards the Church in King Edward the Confessor's Time, till 22 H. 8. that if a Man having committed Felony, could get into the Church or Church-yard, before he was apprehended, he might not be taken thence to the usual Trial at Law; but confessing his Fault to the Justices at their Coming, or to the Coroner, might be admitted to his Oath, to abjure or forsake the Realm, Anno 7 H. 7. cap. 7. The Form and Effect of this you have in the Old Abridgment of Statutes; an ancient Traict, De Officio Coronatorum, Crompton's Office of Coroner, fol. 260. b. New Book of Entries, verb. Abjuration. Horne's Mirror of Justices, lib. 1. cap. Del Officio del Coroner. Quando aliquis abjuravit Regnum, Crux ei liberata fuit in manu sua portanda in itinere suo per semitas Regias, & vocabatur vexillum Sancte Ecclesie. Essex, Plac. Hil. 26 Ed. 3. This Part of our Law was in some Sort practised by the Saxons, as appeareth by the Laws of King Edward, set out by Mr. Lambard, num. 10. but more directly by the Normans; evidenced by the Grand Customary, cap. 24. where the Form of the Oath is likewise set down with the Rest of the Proceedings therein, very agreeable with Ours. This Clemency something resembles that of the Roman Emperors towards such as fled to the Church, Lib. 1. Co. tit. 12. or to the Images themselves Eod. tit. 25. And also that of the Cities of Refuge mentioned by Moses, Exod. 21. 13. Numb. 15. 6, 11, 12. Deut. 19. 2. Josb. 20. 2. Of all the Circumstances belonging to this Abjuration, read the New Terms of the Law, and Staundf. ubi supra. But this grew at last to be but a perpetual confining of the Offender to some Sanctuary, wherein upon Abjuration of his Liberty and free Habitations, he would chuse to spend his Life; as appears Anno 22 H. 8. cap. 14. And by 21 Jac. 1. cap. 28. this Benefit is wholly taken away, and consequently Abjuration, 2 Inst. fol. 629. See Sanctuary. Robertus le Tailleux de Drayton, qui suspensus fuit apud Abyngdon, reliquit pro mortuo sub furtis, surrexit & fugit ad Ecclesiam de Abyngdon, & ibidem cognovit se esse latronem, & abjuravit Regnum coram coronatore, &c. Anno 14 Ed. 1.

Abiadum, Corn mowed or reaped.

Aborellus. This Word is used in Petrus Blesensis. Serm. 18 & 43. and signifies one who is blind.

Abolition, (Anno 25 Hen. 8. cap. 21.) a Destroying, or Putting out of Memory: Instituta actionis peremptio: "Tis the Leave given by the King or Judges to a criminal Accuser to desist from farther Prosecution.

Abridge, (Abbreviare) Cometh of the French Abreger, to make shorter in Words, yet still retains the Sense and Substance; but in the Common Law it seems more particularly used for making a Declaration or Count shorter, by substracting or severing some of the Substance. As for Example, A Man is said to abridge his Plaint in Affize, or a Woman her Demand in an Action of Dowry, that hath put into the Plaint, or Demand, any Land not in the Tenure of the Tenant or Defendant, if the Tenant pleads Non-tenure, joint-tenancy, or the like, in Abatement of the Writ, the Demandant may abridge his Plaint, that is, he may leave out that Part, and pray that the Tenant may answer to the Rest, to which he hath not yet pleaded; and the Reason is, because the Certainty is not set down in such Writs: And tho' the Demandant hath abridged his Plaint in Part, yet the Writ remains good still still for the Rest: So that here Abridger is not contrabere, but rather subtrahere. Bro. Abridgment, & Anno 21 H. 8. cap. 3. Of this the Civilians have no Use, by Reason of certain cautelous Clauses they ordinarily affix to the End of every Article in their Libel or Declaration.

Abrogment of a Plaint, (Abreviamentum.) See Abridge.

Abrocamentum, Is a Buying of Goods by Wholesale, before they are brought to Market, and Selling them again in Parcels. See Abroachment.

Abrogate, Abrogare, To disannul or repeal; as to abrogate a Law, that is, to lay aside, or repeal it, Anno 5 & 6 E. cap. 3. See Prorogue.

Abtentees, or Des Abtentees, A Parliament so called, held at Dublin, 10 May, 28 H. 8. and mentioned in Letters Patent, dated 29 H. 8. See Co. 4. Inst. fol. 358.

Absoniare, To detest and avoid. As in the Form of Oath among the Saxons, recorded by Mr. Somner. In illo Deo, pro quo sanctum hoc Sanctificatum est, volo esse nunc Domino meo N. fidelis & credibilis, & amare quod amat, & absoniare quod absoniat, per Dei restum, & seculi competentiam.

Abuttals. See Abuttals.

Ac. Some Words which begin with Ac, are derived from the Saxon Ac, which signifies an Oak. Accapitum and Accapitare, the same with Relief; thus capitali Domino accapitare, is to pay a Relief to the Lord.

Accedas ad Curiam, Is a Writ that lies for him who has received false Judgment or fears Partiality in a Court-Baron, or Hundred-Court, being directed to the Sheriff, as appeareth by Dyer, fol. 169. num. 20. Like as the Writ de falso Judicio lies for him that hath received false Judgment in the County-Court: The Form you may see in F. N. B. fol. 18. d. And in the Register, fol. 9. b. where it is said, This Writ lies as well for Justice delayed, as Judgment falsly given: It is a Species of the Writ Recordare. Reg. Orig. fol. 56. & F. N. B. ubi supra.

Accedas ad Vice-Comitem, Is a Writ directed to the Coroner, commanding him to deliver a Writ to the Sheriff; who having a Pone delivered him, suppresses it. Reg. Orig. 83.

Acceptance, Is a Taking in good Part, and as it were a Kind of Agreeing to some Act done before by another, which might have been undone and avoided, if such Acceptance had not been: For Example, If a Bishop before the Stat. i. El. lease Part of the Possessions of his Bishoprick for Term of Years, reserving Rent, and dies, and after another is made Bishop; who accepts, that is, takes or receives the Rent when it is due, and ought to be paid; by this Acceptance the Lease is made good, which else the new Bishop might have avoided: The like is, if Baron and Feme seized of Land in Right of the Feme, joyn and make a Lease or Feoffment by Deed, Reserving Rent; the Baron dies, the Feme receives or accepts the Rent; by this the Feoffment or Lease is confirmed, and shall bar her of bringing a Cui in vita. Co. on Lit. fol. 211. b.

Accessory or Accessary. (Accessorius vel Accessorium) Particeps criminis, Is used in our common Law otherwise than among the Civilians; for whereas with them it is generally taken for any Thing depending upon another, here tho' it be so likewise, yet most commonly and notoriously it signifies a Man guilty of a Felonious Offence, not principally; but by Participation, as by Command, Advice or Concealment. And a Man may be Accessory to the Offence of another after two Sorts; by the Common Law, or by Statute; and by the Common Law two Ways also, viz. either before or after the Fact; before the Fact, as where one commandeth or adviseth another to commit a Felony, and is not present at the Execution thereof; for his Presence maketh him also a Principal; wherefore there cannot be an Accessory before the Fact in Manslaughter, because Manslaughter is sudden, and not premeditated. Co. Lib. 4. fol. 44. 2. Accessory after the Fact, is, when one receives, assists or comforts him whom he knoweth to have committed a Murder or Felony. He who counsels or commands any Evil, shall be judged Accessory to all that follows upon it, but not to another distinct Thing. As, I command one to beat another, and he beats him so that the other dies of it, I shall be Accessory to his Murder. But if I command one to steal a white Horse, and he steals a black one; or to burn such a House, which he well knows, and he burns another, I shall not be Accessory. Where the Principal is pardoned or hath his Clergy, the Accessory cannot be arraigned; there being a Maxim in the Law, Ubi non est principalis, non potest esse accessorius: For it appears not by the Judgment of Law, that he was Principal; but if the Principal, after Attainder, be pardoned, or hath his Clergy allowed him, there the Accessory shall be arraigned. See Sir Edw. Coke's Institutes, Part 2. fol. 183. In the lowest and highest Offences, there are no Accessories, but all are Principals; as in Riots, Forcible Entries, and other Transgressions vi & armis, which are the lowest Offences; so in the highest, which is Treason, crimen lese Majestatis, there are no Accessories; but in Felony there are, both before and after. Accessory by Statute, is, he that abetteth, counselleth or concealeth, committing or having committed an Offence made Felony by Statute; for tho' the Statute make no Mention of Abettors, yet they are by Interpretation included. Of all these consult, Staundf. Pl. Cor. lib. 1. cap. 45, 46, 47, 48. There is also an Accessory of an Accessory, as he that wittingly receiveth an Accessory to a Felony; but a Woman in such Case shall not be an Accessory for helping her Husband. Lib. Ass. 26. Pl. 51. Cor. Fitz. 197. Staundf. Pl. Cor. lib. 1. cap. 48. Of this Subject, read more in Comp. Jus. fol. 57. b. 38, 39. If a Man counsel a Woman to murder the Child she hath in her Womb, and afterward the Child is born, and then murdered by the Woman in the Absence of him that so gave the Counsel; yet he is Accessory by his Counselling before the Birth of the Infant, and not countermanding it. Dyer, fol. 186. pl. 2.

Accola, an Husbandman who came from other Parts to till the Land, eo quod adveniens terram colat, and is thus distinguished from incola, sc. Accola non propriam, propriam colit incola terram. Du Fresne.

Accollade, A Ceremony used in Knighthood by the King's Putting his Hand about the Knight's Neck, from the Fr. accoller, collum amplecti.

Accompit (Computus) Is in the Common Law taken for a Writ or Action, which lies against a Man, that by Means of Office or Business undertaken, is to render an Accompit to another, and refuseth; as a Bailiff towards his Master, or Guardian in Socage towards his Ward, and the like; as you shall find particularized in Fitz. Nat. Brev. fol. 116. And by the Statute of Westm. 2. cap. 1. If the Accompit be found in Arrear, the Auditors Auditors that are assigned to him, have Power to award him to Prison, there to remain, till he makes Agreement with the Party. But if an Accomptant be not allowed reasonable Expence and Costs, or charged with more Receipts than he ought, his next Friend may sue a Writ of Ex parte talis out of the Chancery, directed to the Sheriff, to take four Mainpernors, to bring his Body before the Barons of the Exchequer at a certain Day, and to warn the Lord to appear there the same Day. See F. N. B. fol. 116.

Accord, That is, an Agreement between Two, or more, to satisfy a Trespass or Offence done by one to another, for which he hath agreed to make Satisfaction, in Recompence; which shall be a good Bar in Law, if the other after the Accord performed, should commence any new Action for the same Trespass. Terms de la ley, fol. 14.

Accroch. From the French Accrocher to fix, hook, clasp or grapple unto: This Word is used Anno 25 Ed. 3. Stat. 3. cap. 8. and signifieth there as much as to encroach, and the French use it for Delay, as, Accrocher un proces, to delay the Proceedings in a Suit for some Time. Vide Encroachment.

Accmannes Cæsar, Accmanni Civitas. See Bath.

Accephal! In the Laws of Hen. 1. Those are called Accephali, who were the Levellers of that Age, and acknowledged no Head or Superior.

Acbat, Comerh of the French Acbat, emptio or nundinatio, and is taken to signify a Contract or Bargain, Brook, Tit. Contract. from whence haply Purveyors in 36 E. 3. were ordained to be called Acbaters, because of their frequent Bargain-making; hence also with seeming Reason enough may be derived the Word Cates, signifying Provision bought in the Market for great Feasts.

Acchitt, A Measure of Corn. The Monks of Peterborough had for their weekly Allowance 12 Acherfets of frumento, & 8 Acherfets of brasio, & 6 de grad. & 11 Acherfets de fabis, &c. The learned Author of the Supplement to the Hist. of the Ch. of Peterborough, p. 274. conjectures this Measure to have been the same with our Quarter or Eight Bushels.

Acchitt, Acchollitus, An inferiour Church-Servant who next under the Sub-Deacon, followed or waited on the Priests and Deacons, and performed the meaner Offices of lighting the Candles, carrying the Bread and Wine, and paying other servile Attendance. This Officer an Acchitt, was in our old English called a Colet, from which Appellation came the Family of Dean Colet, Founder of Paul's School.

Acknowledgment-Money, on the Death of a Landlord the Tenant pays a Sum of Money in Acknowledgment of the new Landlord.—Solvet 12 d. ad recognitionem cuiuslibet novi Domini de Hope, &c. Ex libro Cart. Priorat. Leominstrie, and called in Latin, Laudatium vel Laudemium, a Laudando Dominum.

Aclra, A Place or Feild where Oaks grow, from the Sax. Ac, quercus & Leag, locus, we find it in several Authors, viz. in Asser, in the Life of Elsfred, in Florence of Worcester 851. and in Ethelward, lib. 4. Hist. Angl. cap. 3. Du Cange.

Acquietantia de Shiris & Hundredis, To be free from Suit and Service in Shires and Hundreds, to which Purpose it is said in Regist. Priorat. de Cokesford, quod prior non debet facere festam ad Comitatum Norwici vel in Hundredo pro Manerio de Rudham cum pertin.

Acquietandis Diebus, This Writ we find in the Register of Writs, fol. 158. being in Truth a Justicies, and lies for a Surety against a Creditor, that refuseth to acquit him after the Debt is paid.

Acquietare. This says Dr. Wilkins in his Glossary is a Law-Word, and signifies quietum reddere. Vide etiam Spelman Glossar. in voce. It also sometimes signifies to pay, as in Monasticon, Tom. 1. fol. 199. Tenantur heredes testamenta patrum & aliorum predecessorum suorum servare, & debita eorum acquietare.

Acquittal, Is derived from the French Acquitter, as that from the Latin Compound Acquietare, and signifies in Law to discharge, or keep in quiet, and that the Tenant be safely kept from any Entries or Molestations for any Manner of Service issuing out of the Land to any Lord, that is above the Mesne; hereof we say, Et quietus est, that is, he is discharged. Co. on Lit. lib. 2. Sect. 184. It signifieth also ordinarily a Deliverance, and Setting free from the Suspicion or Guilt of an Offence, as he that is discharged of a Felony by Judgment, is said to be acquietatus de feloniam, and if it be drawn in Question again, he may plead, auter fois acquit. This is Two-fold, Acquittal in Law, and Acquittal in Fact; Acquittal in Law is, when Two are indicted, the one as Principal, the other as Accessory; the Principal being discharged, the Accessory by Consequence is also acquitted, and in this Case, as the Accessory is acquitted by Law, so is the Principal in Fact. Stawndf. Pl. Cor. 168. Acquittal in Fact is either by Verdict, or by Battel; By Verdict, when by a Jury he is found Not Guilty of the Offence whereof he is charged; By Battel, as when in Appeal, the Plaintiff yieldeth himself Creat, or vanquish in the Field; the Judgment shall be, that the Appellor shall go quit, and that he shall recover his Damages. Co. 2 Inst. 385. Acquittal is also where there is Lord, Tenant and Mesne, and the Tenant holds Lands of the Mesne, and the Mesne holds over of the Lord paramount. Now the Mesne ought to acquit the Tenant of all Services claimed by any other for the same Lands; for the Tenant must do his Service to the Mesne only, and not to divers Lords for one Parcel of Land. See Co. Litt. fol. 100.

Acquittance, Acquietantia, cometh from the French Quiter, that is, accepto ferre, and signifieth a Release or Discharge in Writing of a Sum of Money, or other Duty which ought to be paid or done. Also the Verb (acquit) the Participle (acquitted) and the Noun (Acquittal) signifie a Discharge or Clearing from an Offence objected, as acquitted by Proclamation. Smith de Rep. Ang. pag. 76. Stawndf. Pl. Cor. 168. Brook, Tit. Acquittal. This Word differs from that which in the Civil Law is called Acceptatio, because that may be by Word without Writing, and is nothing but a fained Payment and Discharge, where no real Payment is had. Nor can it be said to be Apocba, which is a Witnessing the Payment or Delivery of Money, which discharges not, unless the Money be paid, Terms de Ley, verb. Acquittance. It was the common Form in Deeds of Sale, Gift or other Conveyance—Nos autem—Warrantizabimus acquietabimus & defendemus in perpetuum. Pro hac autem warrantia, acquietantia & defensione— Hence to quit any Claim or Pretension, To get quit of any Danger or Trouble. Quite, i.e. perfectly or entirely, as quite discharged quite Dead, &c. to quite or quot, to satisfy or to quiet, His Stomach is quite quoted.

Acre, From the German Acker, that is, Ager, is a Quantity of Land containing in Length forty Perches, and four in Breadth, or according to that Proportion, be the Length more or less; and if a Man erect any new Cottage, he must lay four Acres of Land to it after this Measure, Anno 31 El. cap. 7. With this Measure agrees Crompton, in his Jurisdiction of Courts, fol. 222. tho' he saith also, That according to the Customs of divers Countries the Perch differeth, being in some Places, and most ordinarily, but sixteen Foot and a Half, but in Staff, twenty-four Foot, as was adjudged in the Exchequer in the Case between Sir Ed. Aston and Sir Joh. B. In the Statute made concerning sowing Flax, 34 H. 8. c. 4. eight-score Perches make an Acre, which is forty multiplied by four. Also the Ordinance of Measuring Land 35 Ed. 1. agrees with this Account. The word Acre at first signified not a determined Quantity of Land, but any open Ground, especially a wide Campaign from the Saxon Æcer, a Field, and this antique Sense of it seems preserv'd in the Names of Places; Caple-Acre, West-Acre, &c. in Com. Norf. When the Word was applied to the Measure of Ground, the Quantity was still various, but determined by the Stat. of 31 Ed. 35 Ed. 1, 24 H. 8. For the different Computation of Acres, observe this Note in a Terrier of the Estate belonging to the Prior and Convent of Burcester Com. Oxon. A. D. 1339. 1 H. 4. Qualibet Acre continet duas solones cum omnibus Furlongis — Exceptis virgis & buttis quarum quatuor virge faciunt unam Acrem, & aliquando plures. Similiter aliquando quatuor buttes, aliquando quingue, aliquando sex, aliquando septem, aliquando Octo faciunt unam Acrem, &c. Paroch. Antiq. p. 534. Note at the great Dooms-day Inquisition, the common Pasture seems measured by Hides, the Arable-Land by carucates, and the Meadow by Acres.

Acre, An old Sort of Duel fought by single Combatants, English and Scotch, between the Frontiers of their Kingdom with Sword and Lance. Ex abusu obtento de voluntate & mandato Domini Regis Anglie & Scotie, non solum simplices Clerici, sed & Abbates & Priores in Diocesi Karleoli, si appellati fuerint ab aliquo de Regno Scotie de re aliqua, & e converso compelluntur cum Lanceis & Gladiis alias inermes duellum, quod dicitur Acrem committere inter fores utriusque regni — Moneatis igitur utrumque Regem — Quod tam detestabilis abusus quoad personas Ecclesiasticas non seruetur. Annal. Burton, Sub. An. 1237. Hence I conjecture, as this Sort of judicial Duelling was call'd Camp-fight, and the Combatants Champions from the open Field that was the Stage of Trial; so Æcer among the Saxons being the same with Campus, the Borderers on Scotland, who best retained the Saxon Dialect, called such Camp-fight, Æcer-Fecht, Acre-Fight; and sometimes simply Acre.

Atilla, Military Utensils. Qualibet paratus sit cum Atillis & harnessis, &c. Et quicunque habet decem libras in bonis, & non habuerit omnia cremorum atilla, perdat omnia bona. Du Fresne.

Action, A.C., is defined by Bracton, lib. 3. c. 1. & 3, in the same Manner as by Justinian lib. 4. Instit. titulo de Actionibus, viz. Actio nihil aliud est

quam ius prosequendi in iudicio quod alicui debetur, and is divided into personalem, realem, & mixtam, Co. Inst. 2. fol. 40. A personal Action is that which one Man may have against another, by Reason of any Contract for Money or Goods, or for any Offence done by him, or some other, for whose Fact he is answerable. Bract. lib. 3. cap. 3. nu. 2. A real Action is defined to be, whereby a Defendant claims Title to have a Freehold in any Lands or Tenements, Rents or Comons, in Fee-simple, Fee-tail, or for Life. Bract. ibid. nu. 3. And every Action real is either Possessory, that is, of his own Possession and Seisin, or Auncient of the Seisin or Possession of his Ancestor, Co. lib. 6. fol. 3. Writs of Right, Writs of Entry, &c. and their several Appendices, as Grand cape, Petit-cape, Receipt, View, Aid-Prayer, Voucher, Counter-plea of Voucher, Counter-plea of Warranty, and Recovery of Value, being real Actions, took Place, and swell'd the Titles of our Year-Books heretofore, but now grown much out of Use.

Action mixt, Is that which lieth as well against or for the Thing which we seek, as against the Person that hath it, and is called Mixt, as having a Respect both to the Thing and the Person, Bract. lib. 3. ca. nu. 5. For Example, The Division of an Inheritance between Co-heirs, or Copartners, called in the Civil Law (Actio familiæ excisunde :) Secondly, The Division of any particular Thing being common to more, called also (Actio de communi dividendo) which Bracton, Cujacius, Wesembachius, allowed to be mixt: Of which Britton discourseth at large in his 71 Chap. In the Terms of the Law, verb. Action mixt, it is said to be a Suit by the Law, to recover the Thing demanded, and Damages for the Wrong done; as in Affize of No. Diff. which Writ, if the Disfeisor make a Feoffment to another, the Disfeisee shall have against the Disfeisor, and the Feoffee, or other Tenant, and thereby shall recover Seisin of his Land, and Damages for the mean Profits, and the Wrong done; and so is an Action of Waste, and Quare Imp.

Action, Is also divided by the Civilians into Civilem & Prætoriam, whereof one ariseth out of the Civil Law in general, the other from some Prætorian Edict. And a Division not unlike this may be made in the Common Law of England, one Part growing from the ancient Customs, the other from the Statute. Bro. Tit. Action sur le Stat.

Actions, Also are divided into Civil, Penal and Mixt. 6 Co. fol. 61. a. Action Civil is that which tends only to the Recovery of that which by Reason of any Contract, or other like Cause, is due to us: As if a Man by Action seek to recover a Sum of Money formerly lent, &c.

An Action Penal, Aims at some Penalty or Punishment in the Party sued, be it Corporal or Pecuniary: As in the Action Legis Aquilæ, in the Civil Law; and in the Common Law, the next Friends of a Man feloniously slain or wounded, shall pursue the Law against the Offender, and bring him to condign Punishment. Br. l. 3. c. 4.

Action mixt, Seeks both the Thing whereof we are deprived, and a Penalty for the unjust Detention. As in an Action for Tithes upon the Stat. of 2 & 3 E. 6. cap. 13. Item est alia Actio mixta, qua dicitur Actio Hircisunde, & locum habet inter eos qui communem habent hereditatem, &c. See Co. on Lit. fol. 262. b.

Action, Is also (according to the Form of the Writ) divided into such as are conceived to recover either the simple Value of the Thing challenged, or the Double, Treble, or Quadruple. Bract. lib. 3. cap. 3. nu. 6. So doth a Decies tantum lie against Embracers. F. N. B. fol. 171. And against Jurors that take Money for their Verdict of either or both Parties: And any other Action upon a Statute that punishes any Offence by Restitution, or Fine proportionable to the Transgression.

Action, Also is Prejudicial, (otherwise called Preparatory) or Principal. Prejudicial, is that which grows from some Doubt in the Principal: As if a Man sue his younger Brother for Land descended from his Father, and it is objected, that he is a Bastard. Bract. lib. 3. cap. 4. num. 6. For this Point of Bastardy must be tried, before the Cause can further proceed, and therefore termed prejudicialis, quia prius judicanda.

Action, Is either Ancestral or Personal, Staundf. Pl. Com. 59. Ancestral seems to be that which we have by some right descending from our Ancestor: And that Personal, which has beginning in and from our selves. There is also Action Ancestral Droituel, and Action Ancestral Possessory, which see in Co. 2. Inst. f. 291.

Action upon the Case, Actio super casum, Is a general Action given for Redress of Wrongs done without Force against any Man, and by Law not especially provided for; for when you have any Occasion of Suit, that neither hath a fit nor certain Form prescribed; then the Clerks of the Chancery in ancient Time conceived a fit Form of Action for the Fact in Question, which the Civilians call Actionem in factum, and the Common Lawyers, Actionem super casum. And whereas in the Civil Law, there are two Sorts of these Actions; one termed Actio in factum prescriptis verbis; the other, Actio in factum pratoria; the Former grounded upon Words passed in Contract; the other more generally upon any Fact touching either Contract, or Offence, formerly not provided against: This Action upon the Case seemeth more to resemble the Actio Pratoria in factum, than the other; because in the Perusal of the Book of Entries, & Bro. Abridgment, I find that an Action upon the Case lieth as well against Offences, as Breach of Contract. See more of this in Trespast.

Action upon the Statute, Actio super Statutum, Is brought upon the Breach of a Statute, whereby an Action is given that lay not before; as where one commits Perjury, to the Prejudice of another, he who is endamaged, shall have a Writ upon the Stat. that is, where the Stat. gives the Suit or Action to the Party grieved, or otherwise to one Person certain: And this Action seems to be like any Action in the Law Imperial, either upon Edictum Pretoris, Plebiscitum, or Senatus consultum; for as the Pretor, so the common People in Comitia, and the Senators or Nobility, in Curia or Senatu, had Power to make Laws, whereupon the Pretor, or other Judges permitted Action: So our High Court of Parliament make Stat. against such Offences as are either newly grown, or more and more increased, and the Judges are obliged to entertain their Pleas that commence Actions against the Breakers of them.

Action, Is perpetual or temporal (perpetua vel temporalis) and that is called perpetual, whose Force cannot be determined by Time; of which sort were all civil Actions among the Romans, viz.

Such as grew from Laws, Decrees of the Senate or Constitutions of the Emperors, whereas Actions granted by the Pretor, fell within the Year. So we have in England perpetual and temporary Actions: And indeed all Actions may be called perpetual, that are not expressly limited. As divers Statutes give Action, so they be pursued within the Time by them prescribed: As for Example, the Statute of 1 Ed. 6. cap. 1. gives Action for 3 Years after the Offences committed, and no longer. And the Statute 7 H. 8. cap. 3. doth the like for four Years; and that of 31 El. cap. 5. for one Year and no more; and the Act for Uniformity, 14 Car. 2. cap. 4. limits some Things to two, some to three Months, and some to more. But as by the Civil Law, no Actions were at last so perpetual, but that by Time they might be prescribed against; so in our Common Law, tho' Actions may be called perpetual, in Comparison of those that be expressly limited by Statute, yet there is a Means to prescribe against real Actions within five Years, by a Fine levied, or a Recovery suffered; as you may see further in the Words Fine and Recovery, and also Limitation of Actions.

Action popular, Is given upon the Breach of some Penal Statute, which every Man that will, may sue for himself and the King, by Information, or otherwise: And because this Action is not given to one especially but generally to any of the King's People that will sue, it is called an Action popular; but in this Case, when one hath begun to pursue an Action, no other may sue it; and in this as it seems, it varies from an Action popular by the Civil Law. Terms de Ley.

Action, Is farther divided into Actionem bonae fidei & stricti juris, which Division hath good Use in the Common Law, tho' the Terms are not to be found in any of their Writers; therefore we refer them to the Civilians, and particularly Wesemb. in his Paratitles, De Oblig. & act.

Action of a Writ, Is a Phrase of Speech used when one pleads some Matter, by which he shews the Plaintiff hath no Cause to have the Writ he brought, yet it may be that he may have another Writ or Action for the same Matter. Such a Plea is called a Plea to the Action of the Writ; whereas, if by the Plea, it should appear that the Plaintiff hath no Cause to have an Action for the Thing demanded, then it shall be called a Plea to the Action. Terms de Ley.

Acto, Acton, Aketon. A Coat of Mail. Ex Gallico Hoqueton, aut Hauqueton, seu potius ex Cambro-Britannico Actwm, Loricæ, Dupla, Duplodes, Du Fresne. — Tho. Wallingh. in Ed. 3. Indutus autem fuit Episcopus quadam armatura, quam Aketon vulgariter appellamus. Stat. Rob. 1. Regis Scot. cap. 27. Quilibet habent in defensione regni unum sufficientem Actonem; unum basinetum, & chirothecas de guerra.

Action Burnel, A Statute so called, made 13 E. 1. An. 1285. ordaining the Statute Merchant, and was so termed from a Place named Action Burnel, where it was made, being a Castle sometime belonging to the Family of Burnel, afterwards of Level, in Shropshire.

Acts of Parliament, Are positive Laws, which consist of two Parts, that is, the Words of the Act, and the Sense and Meaning, which both joined together make the Law.

Acto, The Proctor or Advocate in Civil Courts or Causes. Actor Dominicus, was often used for the Lord's Bailiff, or Attorney. Actor Ecclesie, was sometime the Forinick Term for the the Advocate or Pleading Patron of a Church. Attor villa was the Steward or Head Bailiff of a Town or Village.

Auary, (Auarus) Is the Clerk or Scribe, that registers the Canons and Constitutions of the Convocation: Also an Officer in the Court Christian, who is in Nature of a Register.

Adcredulitate, to purge himself by Oath: Qui in Collegio fuerit, ubi aliquis occisus est, adcredulitate se quod eum non percussit. Leges Inae. cap. 36. apud Brompton; cap. 34. apud Wilkins, who interprets it justifies se.

Addition, (Additio) Is both the English and French Word made of the Latin, and significth in our Common Law, a Title given to a Man besides his Christian and Surname, shewing his Estate, Degree, Mystery, Trade, Place of Dwelling, &c. As for Example, Additions of Estate are Yeoman, Gentleman, Esquire, and such like; Additions of Degree, are Names of Dignity, as Knight, Earl, Marquess, Duke: Additions of Mystery, are Scrivener, Painter, Mason, Carpenter, and all other of like Nature; for Mystery is the Craft or Occupation, whereby a Man gets his Living: Addition of Towns, as London, Kingston, Chester, &c. and where a Man hath a Household in two Places, he shall be said to dwell in both of them; so that his Addition in either shall suffice. That the Word Knaue was antiently an Addition, see Knaue. For the Use of these Additions in Original Writs, of Actions Personal, Appeals and Indictments, it is provided by the Statute 1 H. 5. cap. 5. that in Suits or Actions, where Process of Utlary lies, such Additions should be to the Name of the Defendant, to shew his Estate, Mystery, and Place where he dwells; and that Writs not having such Additions, shall abate, if the Defendant take Exception thereto, but not by the Office of the Court; and this was ordained by that Statute, that one Man might not be vexed or troubled by the Utlary of another, but that by reason of the certain Addition, every Person may be known, and bear his own Burden: For more particular Additions of Town, See Bro. Tit. Addition. See also Crompton Just. of Peace, fol. 95, 96. Co. 2 Part Inst. fol. 595 & 666. and Stat. 27 El. cap. 7.

Adouboys. See Redoubers.

Adeling, Or Etheling, from the Saxon Ædelan, or the Dutch Edel, signifying Excellent, and was a Title of Honour among the Angles, properly pertaining to the King's Children, and Successors of the Crown; whereupon King Edward the Confessor being himself without Issue, and intending to make Edgar (to whom he was great Uncle by the Mother's side) the Heir of his Kingdom, gave him the Honourable Stile of Adeling. Reg. Hovenden, parte postea. suor. Annal. fol. 347. a. Vide etiam Leges sancti Ed. Conf. M. S. a Will. Cong. recept. cap. antepenult. It was usual with the Saxons to join the Word Ling, which signify'd a Son, or the younger, to the Christian Name; as Edmundeling for the Son of Edmund; so that Adeling signify'd the Son of a King. See more of this Word in Spelman's Glossary.

Adhamite, ariamire, ariamare, to promise or oblige himself before a Magistrate to do a Thing. Du Fresne.

Ad inquirendum, Is a Writ Judicial, commanding Inquiry to be made of any thing touching a Cause depending in the King's Court for the better Execution of Justice; as of Bastardy, Bondmen, and such like; whereof see great Diversity in the Table of the Judicial Register, verbo Ad inquirendum.

Adjournment, (Adjournamentum) the same with the French Adjournement, and significs denunciatio, or diei dictio, that is, by our Common Law an Assignment of a Day, or a putting off until another Day and Place. So Adjournment in Eyre (25 E. 3. Statute of Purveyor, cap. 18.) is an Appointment of a Day, when the Justices in Eyre mean to sit again; and Adjournment hath the same Signification in 2 E. 3. cap. 11. See Bro. Abridge. Tit. Adjournment. The Bastard Latin Word (adjournamentum) is used among the Burgundians, as Mr. Skene notes in his Book de verbo Signif. verbo Adjournatus, out of Cassaneus de consuet. Burg. See Provogue.

Adiratus, i. e. A Price or Value set upon Things stoln or lost, as a Compensation to the Owner, viz. Poterit enim rem suam petere ut adiratum per testimonium proborum hominum. Bracton, lib. 3. tract. 2. cap. 32. So in Fleta, lib. 1. cap. 38. Poterit rem suam petere civiliter ut Adiratum, &c.

Adjudication, (Adjudicatio) A Settlement by Judgment, Decree or Sentence. 16 & 17 Car. 2. cap. 10.

Ad jura Regis, Is a Writ that lies for the King's Clerk against him that fought to eject him, to the Prejudice of the King's Title in Right of his Crown. Reg. of Writs fol. 61. a.

Adlegiare, otherwise Aleier in Fr. is to purge himself of a Crime by Oath. In the Laws of King Alfred, in Brompt. Chron. cap. 4. Si se velit adlegiare, &c. cap. 13. Si accusatur, inde adlegiet se per Sexaginta hidas, &c. Du Cange.

Admeasurement, (Admensuratio) Is a Writ which lyeth for the bringing of those to Reason; or a Mediocerity, that usurp more than their Part; and it lies in two Cases; one is termed Admeasurement of Dower, Admensuratio dotis, where the Widow of the deceased holdeth from the Heir or his Guardian, more in the Name of her Dower, than of Right is belonging unto her, Regist. Orig. fol. 171. a. Fitzherb. Nat. Brev. fol. 148. in which Case the Heir shall be restored to the Overplus. The other is, Admeasurement of Pasture, Admensuratio Pasture, which lies between those that have Common of Pasture appendant to their Freeholds or Common by Vicinage, in Case any one or more of them do surcharge the Common with more Cattle than they ought. Reg. Orig. fol. 156. b. F. N. B. fol. 125. This Writ lies not for the Lord, nor against the Lord, but the Lord may distrain the Beasts of the Tenant that are Surplusage: But if the Lord overcharge the Common, the Commoner hath no Remedy by the Common Law, but an Assize of his Common. Terms de la ley 24.

Administrato, (Administrator in Lat.) Is in the Sense of our Common Law taken for one that hath the Goods of a Man dying intestate, committed to his Charge by the Ordinary, and is accountable for the same, whenever it shall please the Ordinary to call him thereto. In this peculiar Sense, this Word is not used in all the Civil or Canon Law, but more generally for those that have the Government of any Thing. However the Signification came to be restrained among us, it matters not. But there is a Statute made 31 E. 3. cap. 11. whereby Power was given to the Ordinary, to appoint these Administrators, and to authorize them as fully as Executors, to gather gather up and dispose the Goods of the deceased, so as they should be accountable for the same as Executors. And before that by the Statute Westm. 2. 13 E. 1. cap. 19. it was ordained, That the Goods of Persons dying intestate, should be committed to the Ordinary's Disposition, who should be bound to answer his Debts as far as his Goods would extend. Against such an Administrator, and for him, an Action will lye as for an Executor, and he shall be charged to the Value of the Goods and no farther, unless by his own false Plea or by waiving the Goods of the deceased. If the Administrator die, his Executors are not Administrators; but it behoves the Ordinary to commit a new Administration. And if a Stranger, that is not Administrator or Executor, take the Goods of the Deceased, and administer of his own Wrong, he shall be charged and sued as an Executor, and not as Administrator; but if the Ordinary make a Letter, Ad colligendum bona defuncti, he that hath such a Letter, is not Administrator; but the Action lies against the Ordinary, as if he had the Goods in his own Hand. Terms de ley Tit. Administrator.

Administratores durante minoris ætate, Cannot sell the Goods of the Deceased, unless it be of Necessity, for Payment of Debts, or bona peritura, for he hath his Office pro bono & commodo of the Infant, and not for his Prejudice, and his Administration ceaseth at the Infant's Age of Seventeen Years. Co. 5. Rep. Prince's Case. Where one hath Goods only in an inferior Diocese, yet the Metropolitan of the same Province pretending that he had bona notabilia in divers Dioceses, commits Administration; this is not void, but voidable by Sentence, because the Metropolitan hath Power over his whole Province; but if the Ordinary of a Diocese commit Administration, when the Party hath bona notabilia, such Administration is merely void, because by no Means he can have Jurisdiction of the Case.

Administratrix, (Lat.) She that hath such Power and Goods committed to her.

Admiral, (Admiratus, Admiratus, Admiralis, Capitaneus, or Custos maris) and derived of the French Amiral, signifies both with them and with us, a high Officer or Magistrate, that hath the Government of the King's Navy, and the bearing of all Causes belonging to the Sea. Crompt. Jur. fol. 88. An. 13 R. 2. Cap. 15. 15 R. 2. cap. 3. 2 H. 4. cap. 11. 2 H. 4. cap. 6. 23 H. 8. 15. This Officer is in all Kingdoms of Europe that border upon the Sea. This Magistrate among the Romans was called Præfatus classis, as appeareth by Tully, in Verrem. 7. Mr. Guin, in his Preface to his Reading, believes this Office was first created in the Time of Ed. 3. his Reason is this, because Britton that wrote in Ed. the First's Time, in the Beginning of his Book, taking upon him to name all the Courts of Justice, makes no Mention of this Court, or Magistrate; and Richard the Second in the Tenth Year of his Reign, limited his Jurisdiction to the Power he had in his Grandfather Ed. 3. his Days. But contrary to this, it appears by some antient Records, that not only in the Days of Edward the First, but also of King John, all Causes of Merchants and Mariners, and Things happening within the main Sea, were ever tried before the Lord Admiral. To this Purpose he hath his Court call'd The Admiralty: He hath Cognizance of the Death or Mayhem of a Man committed in any great Ship riding in great Rivers, beneath the Bridges of the same next the Sea; also to arrest Ships in great Streams, for the Voyages of the King and Realm, and hath Jurisdiction in such Streams during the said Voyages. And Mr. Pryn in his Animadversions on Co. Inst. 4. pa. 75. says, he had Jurisdiction, both within and without the King's Dominions, of all Causes both of Merchants and Mariners, and might judge them in a summary way, according to the Laws of Olevo, and other Sea-Laws. The first Title of Admiral of England expressly conferr'd upon a Subject, was given by Patent of Rich. 2. to Richard Fitz-Alen, Jun. Earl of Arundel and Surrey, 10 Sep. An. 10. Rich. 2. For those who before enjoy'd the Office were simply term'd Admirals, though their Jurisdiction seems as large, especially in the Reign of Ed. 3. when the Court of Admiralty was first erected. Vid. Spelman in voce, who gives a Catalogue of the Admirals from 8 Hen. 3. to 16 Jac. 1. This Officer in our old Records is styled Capitaneus Marinariorum.

Admission, Is when the Patron presents to a Church, being void, and the Bishop upon Examination, admits the Clerk able, by saying Admitto te habilem. Co. on Lit. fol. 344. a.

Admittendo clericis, Is a Writ granted to him that hath recovered his Right of Presentation against the Bishop, in the Common Bench, the Form of which you may have in F. N. B. fol. 38. And Reg. Orig. fol. 33. a.

Admittendo in Socium, Is a Writ for the Association of certain Persons to Justices of Assize before appointed. Reg. Orig. fol. 206. a.

Annulled, 28 H. 8. cap. 7. From the Lat. Nil, or as it was written of old Nichil, signifies annulled, made void, or brought to nothing.

Ad Pontem, Pauntton in Lincolnsire.

Adquietare, Is the same as acquietare, i. e. to pay: Petitum est ut Clerus adquietaret novem millia Marcarum. Matt. Paris. Anno 1287.

Ad quod Damnum, Is a Writ that lies to the Sheriff, to inquire what Damage it may be to others for the King to grant a Fair or Market; or for the King, or any other Person to give any Lands holden in Fee-simple, in Mortmain, to any House of Religion, or other Body Politick; for in that Case the Land is said to fall in manum mortuam, into a dead hand; that is, it is in such an Estate and Condition, that the Chief Lords lose all hope of Heriots, Service of Courts and Escheats upon any traitorous or felonious Offence committed by the Tenant; for a Body politick dieth not, neither can perform personal Service, or commit Treason or Felony, as a single Person may. And therefore it seems convenient, that before any such Grant be made, it be known what Prejudice it is like to work either to the Grantor or others. Fitz. Nat. Brev. fol. 221. Terms de ley 25. Vide Mortmain.

Admiral, Vid. to Arrain.

Adretiare, Adretiare, Adressare, i. e. ad rectum ire, recto stare, To satisfy, to make Amends—Gerwas Doroborn. sub anno 1170. Quod erunt coram Domino Rege die quem eis constituerit, ad rectum faciendum & adretianum ei, & dominibus suis quod adretiare debuerunt. Hence the French still use the Word Adresser in this Sense, To do right.

Ad terminum qui preterit, Is a Writ of Entry, that lies where a Man having leased Lands or Tenements for Term of Life or Years, and after the Term expired, is held from them by the Tenant, or other Stranger, that occupieth the same, and deforceeth the Lessor: In such

Advent, Is a Time comprising a Month, or thereabouts, and begins upon the Sunday, that falls either upon St. Andrew's Day, being the 30th of November, or next after it, and continues till the Feast of the Nativity of our Lord, commonly call'd Christmas. Durandus tells us it was instituted by St. Peter. The first Week in Advent is that which is farthest from the Feast of the Nativity; and that which is nearest, is that which is the last, as appears by this Distich;

But Sir Edward Coke, 2 Part Inst. fol. 265. mistakes in saying it ends eight Days after the Epiphany; herein our Ancestors repos'd much Reverence and Devotion, in regard of the near Approach of that solemn Feast; insomuch that it is said, Inter Plac. de temp. Regis Joh. Ebor. 126. that In adventu Domini nulla assisa debet capi, all Contentions in Law, were then remitted. Whereupon there was a Statute made Anno 3 E. 1. being Westm. 1. cap. 48. that notwithstanding the said usual Solemnity, it might be lawful (in respect of Justice and Charity, which ought at all Times to be regarded) to take Assises of Novel Dissisin, Mordantester, and Darrein Presentment in the Time of Advent, Septuagesima and Lent. This is also one of the Times from the Beginning whereof to the End of the Octaves of the Epiphany, the Solemnizing of Marriage was forbidden, by reason of certain Spiritual Joy that the Church ought to conceive in the Remembrance of her Spouse, Christ Jesus, and was not without special Licence to be entertained, according to the old Verses,

Conjugium Adventus prohibet, Hilariq; relaxat, Septuagena vetat, sed Pasche octavo reducit, Rogatio vetitat, concedit Trina Potestas.

Vide Rogation-Week and Septuagesima. This Solemn Feast had its Name of Advent, because it did so immediately precede the Appearing of our Lord, and therefore was preparatio sancta in Adventum Domini.

Ad ventrem inspicendum, Is a Writ mentioned in the Statute of Effoins. 12 E. 2. See more in the Title Ventre inspicendo.

Avverare, To Avver, to affirm or make good.

Adultery, (Anno 1 H. 7. cap. 4. and in divers other both Places and Authors termed Adovotry) in Latin Adulterium (as it were Ad alterius thorum ascendere) is properly the Sin of Incontinence between two married Persons; yet if but one be married, it is Adultery, which is severely punish'd by the Laws of God, and the antient Laws of the Land; not to mention the Fulian Law, among the old Romans, which made it Death. Edmundus Rex Adulterium affici jussit instar homicidii LL. suarum cap. 4. Canutus Rex hominem adulterum in exilium relegari jussit, feminam nasum & aures praeclidi. LL. Par. 2. cap. 6. & 50. Qui uxoratus faciet Adulterium, habet Rex vel Dominus superiorem, Episcopus inferiorem. LL. Hen. 1. cap. 12. Domejday. Tit. Chent, Rex, Dover. — De Adulterio per totam Chent, habet Rex hominem, Archiepiscopus mulierem, excepta terra Sta. Trinitatis, S. Augustini, &

S. Martini, de quibus Rex nihil habet. Et tit. Cestre Civitas — Vidua, si se non legitime commiserat xx s. emendebat, puella vero x s. The Penalty of this Sin was call'd hairwite by our Saxons. See in 2 Part Coke's Instit. the notable Case of Margaret, the Wife of John de Camois, who, with the Consent of her Husband, lived in Adultery with Sir William Panel, yet lost her Dower. See Dower. — Rex — Vic. South. — Præcipimus tibi quod diligenter inquiri facias per legales homines de Visn. Candetr. si Robertus Pincerna, habens suspectum Will. Essex. apud Wadesfoke. 3 Nov. — Claus. 14 Joh. m. 2. Perhaps this might be in some Degree, pursuant to a Law made by William the Conqueror, That whoever forced a Woman, should lose his Genitali.

Advocate, The Ecclesiastical or Church Advocate was of two Sorts. Either 1. Advocate of the Causes and Interest of the Church, retain'd as a Counsellor and Pleader, to maintain the Properties and Rights; Or, 2. Advocate or Patron of the Presentation and Advowson. Both these Offices did originally belong to the same Founder of a Church or Convent, and his Heirs, who were bound to protect and defend the Church, as well as to nominate or present to it. As Ailwin Founder of Ramsay Abby, — Præmit in Medium, se Ramesiensis Ecclesie advocatum, se possessionum ejus tutorem allegans. Lib. Ramef. Set. 49. But when the Patrons grew negligent, or were Men of no Interest or Ability in the Courts of Justice, then the Religious began to retain a Law-Advocate, to solicit and prosecute their Controversial Causes. Vid. Spelman in voce.

Advocatione decuratum, Is a Writ that lieth for the Claim of the fourth Part, or upward, of the Tithes that belong to any Church. Reg. Orig. fol. 29. b.

Avowry, Alias Avow, advocare, cometh of the French Word Advouer, alias Avouer, and signifieth as much as to justify or maintain an Aét formerly done: For Example, One takes a Distress for Rent, or other Thing, and he that is distrained sueth a Replevin; now he that took the Distress, or to whose Use the Distress was taken by another, justifying or maintaining the Aét, is said to avow, Termes de Ley 73. Hence comes Advowant and Advowry, Old. Nat. Brev. fol. 43. Bracton uses the Lat. Word in the same Signification (as Advocatio Dissessura) lib. 4. cap. 26. and Cassanens, de consuet. Burg. pag. 1210. uses advocare in the same Signification. And pag. 1213. the Substantive desadvowementum, for a Disavowing, or Refusal to avow. The Signification of the Word is to bring forth any Thing, viz. when stolen Goods were brought by one, and sold to another, it was lawful for the right Owner to take them where-ever they were found, and he in whose Possession they were found, was bound advocare, i. e. to produce the Seller to justify the Sale; and so on till they found the Thief. Afterwards the Word was taken for any Thing which a Man acknowledged to be his own, or done by him, and in this Sense 'tis mentioned in Fleta, lib. 1. cap. 15. Par. 4. Si Vir ipsum in Domo sua suscepit, nutrit et Advocaverit filium suum.

Advowee, alias Advovee, (Advocatus) is used for him that hath Right to present to a Benefice, Anno 25 Edw. 3. Stat. 5. Where we find also Advowee Paramount, for the highest Patron, and is spoken of the King. Advocatus est ad quem pertinet jus Advocacionis alicujus Ecclesie, ut ad Ecclesiam, nomine proprio non alieno, possit presentare. Fleta, lib. 5. cap. 14. Fitzh. Nat. Br. fol. 39. useth it in the same Signification. See Advowee.

Advowee Paramount. See Advowee.

Advowttry. See Adultery.

Advowzen, Or Advowson, Advocatio signifieth in our Common Law a Right to present to a Benefice, and is as much as jus Patronatus in the Canon Law: The Reason why it is so termed, proceedeth from this, because they that originally obtained the Right of Presenting to any Church, were Maintainers of, or great Benefactors to that Church, either by Building, or increasing it; and are therefore sometimes termed Patroni, sometimes Advocati, and sometimes Defensores, cap. 4. & 2. de jure Patronatus in Decretal. And Advowson being an old Bastard French Word, is used for the Right of Presenting, as appeareth by the Statute of West. 2. 13 Ed. 1. c. 5. And Advowry is used in the same Sense, in the Statute of Provisors, 25 Ed. 3. Now Advowson is of two Sorts: First, Advowson in gross; that is, sole or principal, not belonging to any Manor, as a Parcel of its Right; and secondly, Advowson appendant, which depends upon a Manor, as appurtenant to it; termed therefore by Kitchin an Incident, that it may be separated from the Subject. Of this Mr. John Skene, de verbor. Sign. hath these Words, Dicitur Advocatio Ecclesie, vel quia Patronus alicujus Ecclesie ratione sui juris advocat se ad eandem Ecclesiam & assertit se in eadem habere jus Patronatus, camque esse sui quasi clientis loco; vel potius cum aliqui. (nempe Patronus) advocat alium jure suo ad Ecclesiam vacantem, eumque loco alterius (veluti desuncti) presentat, & quasi exhibet. No Church could be canonically consecrated, without an Allotment of Manse and Glebe, made generally by the Lord of the Manor, who thereby became Advocate or Patron of that Church; so as the Lordship of the Manor, and Patronage of the Church were rarely in different Hands, till Advowsons were unhappily given to Religious Houses. It had been more to the Honour of this Church and Nation, if Advowsons had all continued appendant to the Manor. For then the Patrons had been (as they first were) Parochial Barons, and so Men of Reputation and Interest in each respective Parish. Whereas the Dividing the Lordship of the Manor from the Advowson of the Church, has enabled Yeomen and Mechanics to purchase the Dignity of Patrons from the Nobility and Gentry, to the Prejudice of the Church, and the great Confusion of Degrees and Qualities.

Advowson of Religious Houses. As those who built and endow'd a Parish-Church, were by that Title made Patrons of it: So those who founded any House of Religion, had thereby the Advowson or Patronage of it. Sometimes the Patron had the sole Nomination of the Prelate, Abbot or Prior; either by Investiture or Delivery of a Pastoral Staff: as William Mareschal, E. of Pembroke, to the Abby of Notely, Com. Buck. A. D.

1200. Or by direct Presentation to the Diocesan: As Reginald E. of Boilein, in his Charter to the Priory of Cold Norton Com. Oxon. 1201. Non hoc autem pratermittendum est quod Domus illa de nostra donatione est, & Nos ibi Priorem apponere debemus, &c. If a free Election were left to the Religious, yet a Conge d' eslire, or License of Electing was first to be obtain'd of the Patron; and the Elect was confirm'd by him. The Patronage of a Convent lap'd to the Lord of the Honour, if the Family of the Founder were extinct: So Edmund Earl of Cornwall became Patron of the Nunnery of Goring, Com. Oxon. by no other Title, than as that House was situate within the Honour of Wallingford. See Mr. Kennel's Paroch. Antiq. p. 147, 163.

Aelmeftoth. Pecunia Elemosynaria, scilicet, Denarii sancti Petri. Vide Almsjeb.

Aerie, Or, Ary of Goshawks (Aeria accipitrum,) Is the proper Term for Hawks, for that which of other Birds we call a Nest. Thus it is used, 9 H. 3. cap. 12. in the Charter of the Forest, and divers other Places. Aerie comes from the French Aire, the proper Term for a Hawk's Nest. So is Airg said to signify in Irish. But Spelman derives it from Saxon Egbe, which the Germans and Normans melted into Eye, an Egg; whence Eye-rie was a common Name for a Bird's Nest, i. e. the Place or Repository of Eggs. Hence too the Eye, or Brood of Pheasants. The Liberty of keeping these Aeries of Hawks, was granted as a Privilege to some greater Persons, as in a Charter of Henry 3. to the Church of York.—In memore de Blideward habebat Archiepiscopus & Canonici de Ebor. proprios Forestarios suos, & mel, & areas accipitrum & noisorum.—Registr. Joh. Romani trepi Ebor. MS. f. 91. The Preserving the Aeries in the King's Forests and Woods, was one Sort of Serjeanty, or Tenure of Land by Service. So An. 20 Ed. 1. Simon de Raghton & alii tenent terras in Raghton, Com. Cumb. per serjantiam custodiendi Aerias Austurorum Domini Regis.

Aestimatio capitis. Sax. Were, i. e. pretium hominis. King Aethelstan in a great Assembly held at Exeter, declared that Muls'd were to be paid pro astimatione capitis; for Offences committed against several Persons, according to their Degrees. The Estimation of the King's Head to be 30000 Thuringa, of an Archbishop, or Satrapas, or Prince 15000, of a Bishop or a Senator 3000, of a Priest, or a Thane 2000, &c. LL. Hen. 1. and Cressy's Church History, fol. 384. b.

Aestivalia, A Sort of thin Boots worn in Summer, aestivalibus largis seu botis pro Calceamentis utuntur. Addit. ad Matt. Paris. pag. 162. Calceamenta pedum sunt caliga & aestivalia. Ibid. pag. 168.

Estate probands. Is a Writ that the King's Tenant holding in chief, by Chivalry, and being Ward, by reason of Nonage, obtaineth to the Escheator of the County where he was born, or where the Land lieth, to enquire whether he be of full Age, to receive his Lands into his own Hands, Reg. Orig. f. 294, 295. F. N. B. fol. 253. & 257. he saith that this Writ is sometimes directed to the Sheriff, to impanel a Jury against a Day certain, before Commissioners authorized under the Great Seal, to deal in such a Cause. Now out of Use.

See Heetere,

Afferers, (Afferatores, alius Affidati) May probably be derived from the French (Affier) that is, affirmare, confirmare; and signifies in the Common Law such as are appointed in Court-Leets, upon Oath, to set the Fines on such as have committed Faults arbitrarily punishable, and have no express Penalty appointed by the Statute. The Form of their Oath you may see in Kitchin, fol. 46. The Reason of this Denomination may seem to be, because they that be appointed to that Office, do affirm upon their Oaths, what Penalty they think in Conscience the Offender hath deserved: Another probable Derivation may be from (seere) an old English Word signifying a Companion, as (Gefera) doth among the Saxons, by Mr. Lambard's Testimony (verb. contubernalis), in his Explication of Saxon Words; and so it may be gathered that Kitchin takes it cap. Amencements, fol. 78. in these Words, Mes tiel amencement soit affire per pares; where (pares) is afferers; and the Reason hereof may be, for that in this Business they are made Companions, or Equals. We find this Word used, 25 Ed. 3. Stat. 7. viz. The same Justices before their Rising in every Sessions, shall cause to be affected the Amencements; and also to the same Effect, 26 H. 6. c. 6. And Kitchin, fol. 78. joins these three Words together, as Synonima's, viz. Affidati, Amerciatores, Affiors; Affidare in the Canon Law is used for Fidem dare, ca. fina. de cognitione spirit. in Decretal. & ca. super eo de testibus. Bracton hath Affidare mulierem, to be betrothed to a Woman, lib. 2. cap. 12. But in the Customary of Normandy, cap. 20. this Word (Affeur), the Latin Interpreter expresses by (Taxare), that is, to set the Value of a Thing, and the same with affimare, &c. which seems indeed the best Etymology. See Go. lib. 8. fol. 40. b.

Afferi. See Averia.

Affiance, Is the plighting of Troth betwixt a Man and a Woman, upon agreement of Marriage to be had between them; the Latin Word (affidare) from whence this is derived, is as much, as fidem ad alium dare, and this Word Affiance is used by Littleton, c. Dower, sect. 39.

Affidare, To plight one's Faith, or give Fealty, i. e. Fidelity, by making Oath, &c. Mulier accusata de assisa cerevisie fracta potest sola manu facere legem si voluerit, id est, affidare in manu Ballivi & esse queta, quod si noluerit affidare, amerciaabitur per Ballivum. Consuetudin. Dom. de Farendon MS. f. 22.

Affidatio Dominozum, An Oath taken by the Lords in Parliament, Anno 3 H. 6. Rot. Parl. See Commendator.

Affidatus, Signifies a Tenant by a Fealty, witness this Charter, Ego Rogerus, &c. dedi, &c. Willelmo Wallensi pro suo servitio unam acram, &c. pro hac donatione & concessione devenit predictus Will. affidatus meus, &c. Affidati non proprie Vassalli sunt, sed quasi vassalli, qui in aliquo scilicet & clientelam sunt recepti, &c. Affidatio accipitur pro mutua fidelitatis connexionem tam in sponsalibus quam inter Dominum & Vassallum. Proles de affidata & non maritata, non est heres, M S. penes Arth. Trevor. An. Affidatus significat also a Retainer.

Affidabit, In Law signifies an Oath, as to make Affidavit, is to testify a Thing upon Oath.

Affidari, seu Affidiari ad arma, To be mustered and enrolled for Soldiers, upon an Oath of Fidelity. — Rex dilectis — Cum assignaveri- mus vos ad superprovidendum quod omnes Homines de Com. Berk. — Equitatura & aliis armis competentibus muniantur, & ad arma afficientur, & arrai-entur juxta formam Statuti. Consuetud. Dom. de Farendon. MS. fol. 55.

Affidatus, The same with Affidatus.

Affinage, Purgatio metalli, a Refining of Metal; hence to fin, and to refine.

Affirm, Affirmare, Signifies to ratify or confirm a former Law or Judgment: So is the Substantive (Affirmare) used Anno 8 H. 6. cap. 12. And so is the Verb it self by West. part 2. Symbol. Tit. Fines, sect. 152. if the Judgment be affirmed, &c. and also by Crompton in his Jurisd. fol. 166. See 19 H. 7. cap. 20.

Affirmare, The same with Firmare, i. e. to shut. Obtulit duo monilia, & iussit ei feretro indelibiliter ad memoriam sui clavus fortiter affirmari. Matti. Paris. Anno 1251.

Affozatus, Appriz'd or valu'd, as Things vendible in a Fair or Market. — Retinuit Rex potestatem pardonandi ei omnimoda amerciamenta tam affozata, quam non affozata, tam de se quam de omnibus hominibus. Cartularium Glasf. MS. f. 58. Affozare is used in the same Sense: Et quod amerciamenta predictorum tenentium affozentur & taxentur per sacramentum parium. Charta anno 1316. apud Thorn. Du Cange.

Affozamentum Curie, The Calling of a Court upon a solemn and extraordinary Occasion. — Facunt bis in anno Rectum ad hundredum ipsius Abbatibus de Nivetone, scilicet ad Cur. Hokeday, & ad Festum S. Martini. & ad affozamentum Curie, quotiescumque laico adjudicandus fuerit, vel quum aliqua loquela ibi fuerit, que terminari non poterit sine affozamento Curie. Cartular. Glasf. MS. f. 45.

Affozament, A Fortres or strong hold, or other Fortification. — Pro reparatione murorum & aliorum Affozamentorum dictae civitatis. Prym Animad. on Coke, f. 184. Faciendo unam Sessam per affozamentum ad curiam Dunbam-Massy. Charta Will. de Tabley tempore Ed. 1. See Effozament.

Affoziare, Signifies to add, encrease or make stronger: Cum juratores in veritate dicenda sunt sibi contrarii de consilio curie affozicetur assis, ita quod apponantur alii juxta numerum majoris partis, que dissenserit (Bracton lib 4. cap. 19.) that is, Let the Witnesses be encreased.

Affoziatius, A thin Cloth used for Caps: Capa Roberti le Moyne de affozciato albo, &c. Du Cange.

Affozsi, Is to turn a Piece of Ground into Forest, Charta de Foresta, cap. 1. & 30. anno 9 H. 3. What that is, see more at large in Forest.

Affray, Cometh of the French Word (Effrayer) terrere, to affright, and therefore may be without Word or Blow given, and so is the Word used in the Statute of Northampton, 2 E. 3. cap. 3. It is commonly taken for a Skirmish, or Fighting between two or more: In our Books it is many Times confounded with an Affault, as appears by Lambard, in his Eirenarcha, lib. 2. cap. 3. & lib. 1. cap. 17. yet as it is there said, they differ in this, that where an Affault is but a Wrong to the Party, an Affray is a Wrong to the Commonwealth, and therefore both inquirable and punishable in a Leet. It may be said likewise, that an Affault is but of one side, but an Affray is the Fighting of many together: Besides this Signification already mentioned, it may be taken for a Terror wrought in the Subject by an unlawful Sight Sight of Violence, &c. as if a Man shew himself furnished with Armour or Weapons not usually worn, it may strike a Fear into others unarmed, and so it is used anno 2 E. 3. cap. 3. 4 H. 6. 10. S E. 4. 5.

Freightmentum, The Freight of a Ship, from the French Fret, which signifies the same. — Sciatis quod cum, ut accepimus ruper in quadam causa nimitum pecuniaria viginti & quinque librarum praxtente Affretamenti medietatis cufusdam Cranere vocate La Chriſtopher de Biſton, &c. Pat. 11 H. 4. p. 1. in. 12.

Æri, Vel Affra, Bullocks or other Beasts of the Plough, Vicecomes liberet ei omnia catalla debitoris, exceptis bobus & Affris carvaca, Weſt. 2. cap. 18. And in Northumberland to this Day, they call a dull or ſlow Horſe a faſſe Awer, or Aſer Spelm. Whence alſo with Probability enough, may be drawn the Word Heyſer for a young Cow.

Agalma, the Image or Impreſſion of a Seal: Ego Dunſtanus hanc libertatem crucis agalmate conſignavi. Chavria Edgari Regis pro Weſtmonaſteria Ecleſia, anno 968.

Age, Etas, French age, and ſignifieth in the Language of the Vulgar a Man's Life, from his Birth to the Day of his Death; but in the Common Law it is particularly uſed for thoſe ſpecial Times, which enable Men and Women to do that, which before for want of Age, and conſequently of Judgment, they might not do: And theſe Times in a Man are two, at fourteen Years he is at the Age of Diſcretion, twenty-one Years he is of full Age. Littleton lib. 2. cap. 4. The Law takes Notice of him at ſeveral other Ages, as at twelve Years, to take the Oath of Allegiance in a Leet; at fourteen to conſent to Marriage, and in Soage to chuſe his Guardian. Dyer, fol. 162. at fifteen for the Lord to have Aid pur faire Fitz Chivalier, F. N. B. in brevi de rationabili auxilio. In a Woman they were fix. Bro. Gard. 7. Firſt at ſeven Years of Age, her Father being the Lord, might heretofore diſtrain his Tenants for Aid pur ſile marier, for at thoſe Years ſhe may conſent to Marriage. Bract. lib. cap. 36. nu. 3. Secondly, at nine Years old, ſhe is Dowable, for then, or within half a Year after, ſhe is able promereri dotem & virum ſuſtinere. Fleta. lib. 5. cap. 22. Lit. lib. 1. cap. 5. which Bracton loco citato does notwithstanding limit to twelve Years. Thirdly, at twelve Years ſhe is able to ratify and confirm her former Conſent given to Marriage. Fourthly, at fourteen Years ſhe is enabled to receive her Lands into her own Hands, and ſhall be out of Ward, if ſhe be at that Age at her Anceſtor's Death. Fifthly, at ſixteen Years ſhe ſhall be out of Ward, though at the Death of her Anceſtor, ſhe was under fourteen: The Reaſon is, becauſe then ſhe may take a Husband able to perform Knight-Service. Sixthly, at twenty-one Years ſhe is able to alienate her Lands and Tenements; beſides, as to a Man we may add, that at fifteen Years he ſhall be ſworn to keep the King's Peace, Anno 34 E. 1. Stat. 3. The Age of twenty-one did heretofore compel a Man to be a Knight that had twenty Pounds Lands per ann. in Fee, and that by 1 E. 2. Stat. 1. which is ſince repealed by 17 Car. 1. cap. 20. That Age alſo enables him to contract and deal by himſelf in the Management of his Eſtates, which until that Time he cannot do with Security of thoſe that deal with him. The Age of twelve binds to Appearance before the Sheriffs and Coroner for Enquiry after Robberies, Anno 52 H. 3. cap. 24. The Age of 14 Years enables to enter an Order of Religion without Conſent of Parents, Anno 52 H. 4. cap. 17. See Co. on Lit. fol. 78. b.

Age puer, (Ætatem precari, or ætatis precatio) Is a Petition or Motion made in Court by one in his Minority (having an Action brought againſt him for Lands coming to him by Deſcent) that the Action may ceaſe, till he arrive to his full Age, which the Court in moſt Cauſes ought to yield unto: This is otherwiſe in the Civil Law, which enforces Children in their Minority to anſwer by their Tutors or Curators. W. de minor. 25 anno.

Agelorum, Littleborough upon Trent.

Agenfrida, i. e. the true Lord or Owner of any Thing; (viz.) Si porcus non fuerit ibi ſapius quam ſemel, det agenfrida unum ſolidum. Leg. Inæ, cap. 50. apud Brompton, cap. 45.

Agenhine. See Hogenhine.

Agent and Patient, Is when a Man is the Doer of a Thing, and the Party to whom it is done, as where a Woman endows her ſelf of the faireſt Poſſeſſion of her Husband: Alſo if a Man be indebted to another, and after makes the Party, to whom he is fo indebted, his Executor, and dies; the Executor may retain ſo much of the deceased Goods in his Hands as his own Debt amounts to, and by this Retainer he is Agent and Patient; that is, the Party to whom the Debt is due, and the Party that pays the ſame. Sed quare de hoc, for that it is reſolved, Co. lib. 8. 138. in Boham's Caſe, that a Man ſhall not be Judge in his own Cauſe, Quia iniquum eſt aliquem ſui rei eſſe judicem.

Agger Terræ, Is the ſame with an Acre of Land (viz.) Rex Willielmus miſit juſticiarios per omnes Anglie Comitatus & inquirere fecit quot agri vel jugera terræ, &c.

Agild. Free from Penalty, not ſubject to the cuſtomy Fine or Impoſition. Leges Aluredi cap. 6. Si Utlaga efficiat ut occidatur, pro eo quod contra Dei reſtum & Regis imperium fiet — jaceat Agild. In Legibus Hen. 1. cap. 51. Agild is corruptly put for Agild. The Word Agild ſignifies alſo, a Perſon ſo vile, that whoever killed him was to pay no Muſter for his Death. 'Tis derived from the privative a, and the Saxon Geldan, ſolvere; quaſi ſine muſtra.

Agiler, An Obſerver or Informer, from the Sax. a privative and Gilt, culpa.

Agillarius. A Hey-ward, i. e. a Herd-ward or Keeper of the Herd of Cattle in a Common Field, ſworn at the Lord's Court, by ſolemn Oath, of which the Form is delivered by Kit. ben of Courts f. 46. The Office of Agillarius was of two Sorts; Firſt the common Hey-ward of a Town or Village; to ſupervize and guard the greater Cattle, or common Herd of Kine and Oxen, to keep them within their due Bounds: He was otherwiſe called Bubulus, the Cow-ward (now turned into a Name of Contempt and Reproach, a pitiful Coward) who, if he was a Cottager, or other ſervile Tenant, he was exempted from all cuſtomy Works and manual Services to the Lord; becauſe he was preſumed to be always attending on his Herd, as a Shephard on his Flock, who had therefore the like Privilege. — Sunt ibi xvi Cotari, quorum alii ſunt Bubulci, alii ſunt Paſtores, qui ſi non eſſent, deberet quilibet unum opus ſingulis ſeptimanis per annum. Cartular. Glaſton. MS. f. 40. Secondly, the Agillarius of the Lord of a Manor, or of a Religious Houſe, who was to take Care of the Tillage, Fencing, Harveſt-Work, &c. and and to see there were no Encroachments, or Trespasses committed on that particular District. The same in Effect with that Officer, who has been called the Field's-man. See Mr. Kennets Paroch. Antiq. p. 534, 576.

Agist, From the French (Gist) a Bed or Resting-place, or giser, jacere, or gister, stabulari, a Word proper to a Deer, cum sub mensam Maium e locis additis in quibus delituit emigrans in loco delecto stabulari incipit : Unde commodum & propinqua sit pabulatio. Budaus in Posterior. lib. Philologia. It signifies in our Common Law to take in and feed the Cattle of Strangers in the King's Forest, and to gather the Money due for the same to the King's Use. Charta de Foresta. an. 9 H. 3, cap. 9. The Officers that do this, are called Agistors, in English Guest-takers, Crompt. jur. fol. 146. These are made by the King's Letters Patent, under the Great Seal of England, of whom the King hath four in every Forest, where he taketh any Pannage. Manwood's Forest-Law, cap. 11. fol. 80. In what their Office consists, see the same Manwood, part 1. p. 336. Their Function is termed Agistment, as Agistment upon the Sea-banks, an. 6 H. 6. c. 5. This Agist is also used for the Taking in of other Men's Cattle into any Ground at a certain Rate per Week. See 4 part, Inst. fol. 293. The Word Agist is also taken for a Charge or Burden on a Thing ; as terra ad custodiam Maris agistate, (Selden, Mar. Claus. p. 19.) are Lands charged with a Tribute to keep out the Sea ; or whose Owners are bound to keep up the Sea-Banks.

Agistatoz, The Agistor or Forest-Officer, who was to take Account of the Cattle there agisted, whether they belong'd to Tenants within the Forest, who had free Agistment, or to Foreigners who paid a common Rate. These Agistors in an old Version of Charta de Foresta, are called Gyst-takers, or Walkers. Hence our Graziers now call the Foreign Cattle which they take in to keep by the Week, Gisements, or Juicements (pronounced like the Joices in Building, corrupted from the French Adjournment, the Crois-pieces of Timber that are adjusted or fitted, to make the Frame of the Floor.) And to gise or juice the Ground, is when the Occupier feeds it not with his own proper Stock, but takes in other Cattle to agist, or pasture in it. All Glossographers agree to derive this Word from the French Gister, to lie, Gist a Bed, &c. But I rather think Agistamentum bears Relation to Ager the Field, or Feeding-place of Cattle, and might be the same as Agriarium, Agerium, Agrotium, the Profit of Feeding Cattle on such a Ground and Field. Unless it were so, I can hardly imagine, why the Duty or Tax levied for repairing the Bank and Walls in Romney Marsh, was call'd Agistamentum ; and the laying such a Proportion of this Duty upon the several Lands, was called Agistatio ; and he who was the Collector and Expenditer of it, was termed Agistator. See Glossary to Paroch. Antiq. in voce Agistator.

Agnus : Gr. i. e. Holy ; as, Ego triumphalem tropheum agni crucis impressi. Monastic. pag. 15, 17, 122.

Agnus Dei. A small Cake, or Piece of white Wax, commonly in a flat Oval Form, stamped with the Figure of the Lamb of God, and consecrated by the Pope, and then given or sold for a precious Trifle of Superstition.

Agraria Lex, Was a Law made by the Romans, for the Distribution of Lands among the common People.

Agreement, (Agreementum which is according to Plowden, aggregatio mentium;) Is a joining together of two or more Minds in any Thing done, or to be done, and this is threefold: 1. An Agreement executed already at the Beginning, and of which Mention is made, 25 E. 3. cap. 3. of Cloaths, which saith, That the Goods bought by Forestallers, being thereof attained, shall be forfeit to the King, if the Buyer have made Grec with the Seller: Where the Word (Gree) which otherwise is Agreement executed, signifies Payment for the Thing, or Satisfaction. 2. An Agreement after an Act done, by another, and is executed also ; this is where one does an Act, and another agrees to it afterwards. 3. An Agreement executory, or to be done in futuro, and this is where both Parties at one Time are agreed that such a Thing shall be done in Time to come ; which is executory in Regard the Thing is to be done afterwards ; for which see 26 H. 8. cap. 3. And this may be divided into two Parts, one which is certain at the Beginning, the other when the Certainty doth not appear at first, and the Parties agree that the Thing shall be performed or paid upon the Certainty known.

Aide, Auxilium, Is all one in Signification with the French (Aide) and differs only in Pronunciation: But in our Law it is applied to divers Significations, as sometimes it signifies a Subsidy, as 14 E. 3. Stat. 2. cap. 1. sometimes a Prestation due from Tenants to their Lords, as towards the Relief due to the Lord Paramount. Glanville, lib. 9. c. 8. This the King or other Lord, might of old lay on their Tenants for Knighting his eldest Son at the Age of fifteen Years, or marrying his Daughter at seven, Reg. Orig. fol. 87. a. and that at what Rate themselves listed: But the Stat. of Westm. 1. an. 3 E. 1. ordained a Restraint for so unlimited a Demand; and 25 E. 3. Stat. 5. cap. 11. provides, That the Rate set down by the former Statute, should hold in the King as well as other Lords ; of which Mention is made 27 H. 8. c. 10. This Imposition seems to have descended to us from Normandy (or rather from a more ancient Original, The Feodal Laws), for in the Grand Customary, cap. 35. you have a Tractate intituled, Des aides Chevelz, i. e. auxiliis capitalibus ; whereof the first is, a faire l'eyne fitz de son Seigneur Chavallier ; to make his eldest Son Knight: The Second, pur une fille marier; to marry the eldest Daughter ; both these, and all Charges incident thereunto, are taken away, and discharged by Stat. 12. Car. 2. cap. 24. But the Word Aid differs from Tax in Signification: For Taxes were formerly levied at the Will of the Lord upon any Occasion whatsoever ; but Aids could not be levied, but where it was lawful and customary so to do ; as to make the eldest Son a Knight, to marry the eldest Daughter, or to redeem the Lord from Prison. Du Cange in verbo auxilium. This Word is also particularly used in Matter of Pleading, for a Petition made in Court for the Calling in of Help from another that hath an Interest in the Cause in Question, and is likely both to give Strength to the Party that prayeth in Aid of him, and also to avoid a Prejudice growing toward his own Right, except it be prevented ; as when Tenant for Term of Life, by Curtesy, Tenant in Tail after Possibility of Issue extinct, for Term of Years, at Will,

Will, or by Statute Merchant, being impleaded touching his Estate, may petere auxilium, that is, pray in Aid of him in the Reversion; that is, desire the Court that he may be called in by Writ, to alledge what he thinks good for the Maintenance both of his Right, and his own; Termes de la Ley: But this Courſe has been much diſuſed. Fitzherbert mentions both Prier in Aide, and Prier Aide de Patron, &c. auxilium petere a Patrono. Nat. Breo. f. 50. d. And the new Book of Entries, verbo Aide de parvener, f. 411. col. 4. This Word is alſo found in 13 R. 2. cap. 17. This Aide prier is ſometimes alſo uſed in the King's Echoof, that there may be no Proceeding againſt him, until the King's Counſel be called and heard, to ſay what they think fit for avoiding the King's Prejudice or Loſs; as if the King's Tenant holding in Chief, be demanded a Rent of a common Perſon, he may pray in Aid of the King: Alſo a City or Borough that has a Fee-Farm of the King, any Thing being demanded againſt them which belongs thereunto, may pray Aid of the King, &c. Termes de la Ley, 35. 36. Of this you may read the Statute De Bigamis, an. 4 E. 1. cap. 1, 2, 3. & an. 14 E. 3. Stat. 1. cap. 14. The Civil Law in Suits begun between two, allows a Third to come in (pro intereſſe) and he that comes in for his Intereſt, comes either aſſiſtendo, or opponendo, &c. See 19 Car. 2. cap. 8. Vide Recit.

Wiel, (Aius) Comes of the French Word (Aieuf) and ſignifies a Writ, which lies where the Grandfather called by our common Lawyers Befayel, but in true French Bifayent, was ſeiſed in his Demefne, as of Fee, of any Lands and Tenements in Fee-fimple, the Day that he died, and a Stranger abates or enters the ſame Day, and diſpoſſeſſeth the Heir. F. N. B. fol. 222. See Plow. Com. fol. 449. b. And the Cuſtoms of Aiel and its Appurtenances. Dorſet, in Rot. Parl. 4 Ed. 3.

Wip of Hawke. See Aery.

Wiſſamenta, Ayſſamenta, Eaſements or Conve- niences, from the French Aiſe, Eaſy; or from the Saxon Eith, eaſy or ready, which Chaucer calls Eith and Eith, and the Northumbrians ſtill uſe Eeth. In Grants of Conveyance and Demife, Aiſſamenta did include any Liberty of Paſſage, Open Way, Water-courſe, or other cuſtomary Benefit, for the Eaſe and Accommodation of the Owners and Inhabitants of any Houſe, or the Tenants of any Land. Hence an Houſe of Office is called an Eaſement, commonly a Houſe of Eaſe.

Witon. See Haketon.

W, and Alud in the Beginning of the Names of Places ſignify Antiquity, as Alborough Aldworth, &c. From the Saxon Eald, i. e. vetuſtas.

Wæ Eccleſiæ. The Wings or Side, Iſles of the Church: From the French Les Ailes de l'Egliſe. — Ad baſes pilavarium murus erat tabulis Marmoreis compoſitus, qui Chorum cingens & Presbyterium, corpus Eccleſie lateribus quæ Alæ vocantur, dividebat. Gervaf. Dorobern. in Deſcript. Eccl. Cantuar.

Wanerarius, Robertus de Chedworth, Vicecom. Linc. liberavit lvi s. viii d. Johanni de Belkento, pro putura ſeptem Leporarium, & trium Falconum & Alanerarii, & pro vadis unius Bracervarii. 16 Ed. 1. Ancient Tenures, p. 125. where Mr. Blount renders Anelavarius, Falconer; but the Learned Du Freſne ſays, Alanus was a Dog well known to the Ancients, in Spain ſtill called Aluno, (the ſame I preſume with our Engliſh Spaniel) and therefore thinks Alanerarius to be the Keeper or Manager of ſuch Dogs, for the Sport of Hawking.

Wlanius flubius. The River Aoon in Wiltſhire. It ſignifies alſo the River Aine in Northumberland.

Alba, The Alb, or Aub; the Surplice or white Sacerdotal Veſt, uſed in Divine Service by the officiating Prieſt, not ſo plain and Simple as what is now more decently preſcrib'd by our Church. It is likewiſe called Canifiſa, Podaris, Talaris, Subucula, &c.

Alba firma, Cenſus annuaſis lqui Centenario ſive Domino Hundredi penditur. Ideo Alba diſta, quod non ex more priſci ſeculi in annona quæ tunc Black-mail nuncupata fuit (hoc eſt, cenſus vel firma nigra, ſed argento, quaſi cenſu albo veddebatur. Spelman. Duplex eſt tenuis in Com. Weſtmerl. ſcil. alia per Albam firmam, & alia per Cornagium, &c. 2 Part. Inſt. fol. 10.

Albergeſum. the ſame with Halsberga; Omnia homo, &c. habeat albergeſum, (i. e. a Defence for his Neck, & capellum ferreum, lanceam & gladium. Hoveden, p. 611.

Albozough. See Eſſurium.

Alder, i. e. the firſt; as Alder-beſt, the beſt of all; Alder-lieſt, the moſt dear.

Alderman, Sax. Earldorman, Lat. Aldermannus, ſignifies as much as Senator, or Senior, and was among the Saxons as Earl among the Danes. Camb. Brit. fol. 107. Lamb. in his Explication of Saxon Words, verbo Senator. Rog. Hoveden. part. poſterior. ſuor. annal. fol. 346. b. At this Day we call them Aldermen, who are Associates to the chief Civil Magiſtrate of a Town Corporate or City, 24 H. 8. cap. 15. See Spelman's Gloſſary at large on this Word; where you find that here we had anciently a Title of Aldermannus Totius Angliæ, Witneſſ this Inſcription upon a Tomb in Rameſey Abbey. Hic requieſcit D. Alwinus inclyti Regis Eadgari cognatus, totius Angliæ Aldermannus, & huius ſacri Cœnobii miraculoſus Fundator.

Alderman was one of the three Degrees of Nobility amongſt the Saxons: Ætheling was the firſt, and Thane the loweſt; but Alderman was the ſame as our Earl. The Word was diſuſed in the later Ages of the Saxons, and in its Place the Word Earl was introduced. 'Tis certain that it was uſed in King Æthelſtane's Reign.

'Tis true, it literally imports no more than El-der; but amongſt the Saxons it ſignified a Duke, an Earl, a Nobleman, and ſometimes a General; but then he was called Heretoga, (viz.) Mercna Heretoga, Alderman of Mercland; which Title he had in Relation to his Military Power: But the Title Alderman ſhewed his Civil Jurisdiction: which Title afterwards was applied to a Judge; as in the Reign of King Edgar, Alwin, the Son of Æthelſtane, is called Aldermannus totius Angliæ i. e. as Spelman tells us, Juſticiarius Angliæ.

There was likewiſe Aldermannus Hundredi: Which Dignity was firſt introduced in the Reign of H. 1. Among his Laws, cap. 8. we read, Preſit autem ſingulis hominum novenis decimis, & toti ſimul hundredo unus de melioribus, & vocetur Aldermannus, qui Dei leges & hominum jura vigilantifudeat obſervantia promovere. Du Cange. See Senator.

At this Day we call them Aldermen who are Associates to the Civil Magiſtrate of a City or Town Corporate. 24 H. 8. cap. 13. See Spelman's Gloſſary at large on this Word.

Alcenarium, a Sort of Hawk, called a Lanner. See Putna.

Alepinan, (Alepinannus) Omnis Alepinam de tota Soca de Hecham debet singulis annis unum denarium de Chevagio; & operabitur per tres Dies in autumno, exceptis illis qui ab hac servitute liberi sunt. Consuetudinar. de Hecham Prior Lew. MS. pag. 21. Videtur Alepinannos istos mancipia fuisse; Chevagii enim solutio servitutis Inducium est. Spelman.

Aler sans jour, Is French, and signifies properly in English to go without Day; the Meaning whereof is to be finally dismissed the Court, because there is no further Day assigned for Appearance. Kitchin, fol. 146.

Alesliver, A Rent or Tribute yearly paid to the Lord Mayor of London, by those that sell Ale within the City. Antiq. Purveyance, fol. 183.

Alestake, a May-Pole, and called Alestake, because the Country People drew Ale there: But some will have it not to be like our May-pole, but rather a Stake driven into the Ground, with a Sign on it, that Ale was sold there.

Aletaster, Is an Officer appointed in every Court-Lect, and sworn to look to the Assize of Bread, Ale, or Beer, within the Precincts of that Lordship. Kitchin, fol. 46. where you may see the Form of his Oath.

Alfretum, A Cauldron or Furnace: Sax. Alfeth, compounded, (according to Du Fresne) from Ælan or Onælan, accendere; and Fæt vas; quasi Vas calefactionis. But more likely from Ælc, cerevisia, and Fæt; as we still say, the Ale-fat, or Ale-vat, or Brewing-Vessel. — Et si aqua judicium sit, calefiat, donec existeret ad bullitum, & sit Alfretum ferreum, vel æneum, vel plumbeum. The Alfret was a Cauldron in which boiling Water was put for the Criminal to dip his Head in up to the Elbow, and there hold it for some Time; says Du Fresne in verbo Alfretum. Leges Athelstani Reg. apud Brompton, cap. 19.

Alas. Vide Capias alias.

Alien, (Alienare) Cometh of the French Word (aliener) and signifies as much as to transfer the Property of any Thing to another. To alien in Mortmain, is to make over Lands or Tenements to a religious House or other Body Politick, Stannif. Præv. Reg. fol. 43. See Mortmain. To alien in Fee, is to sell the Fee-simple of any Land or Tenement, or of any Incorporal Right. West. 2. cap. 25. an. 13 E. 1.

Alien, Alius, Alienus, Alienigena, signifies one born in a strange Country; it is usually taken for the contrary to a Denizen, or natural Subject; that is, one born in a strange Country, and never here enfranchised. Bra. Denizen 4. Yet a Man born out of the Land, so it be within the Limits of the King's Obedience, beyond the Seas, or of any English Parents out of the K.'s Obedience; so the Parents at the Time of the Birth be of such Obedience, is no Alien in Account of Law, but a Subject, Stat. 2. 25 E. 3. commonly called the Statute De natis ultra mare. Also, if one born out of the King's Allegiance, come and dwell in England, his Children begotten here, are not Aliens, but Denizens. Co. Rep. lib. 7. Calvin's Case. See Denizen.

Alien-Priories, Those Cells of the Religious in England, which belonged to foreign Monasteries. These were dissolved by Authority of Parliament, in the Reign of Hen. 4. but some were made Indigenæ, or Endenized.

Alienation, Is to make a Thing another Man's, or to alter and put the Possession of Lands or Tenements, or other Things, from one Man to another. And in some Cases a Man hath Power so to do without the Assent or Licence of another, and in some not; as if Tenant in Capite alien his Estate without the King's Licence, then by the Stat. of 1 E. 3. cap. 12. a reasonable Fine shall be taken, whereas at the Common Law, before that Statute, they were held forfeit, &c. Co. lib. 6. fol. 28. But if a Man will alien Land in Fee-simple to a religious House, or Body Corporate, it behoves him to have the King's Licence to make this Alienation, otherwise the Lands shall be forfeit, by the Stat. of 15 R. 2. cap. 5.

Alfred, An old Word, signifying allowed; from the Sax. Alifan, to allow or permit, from whence we say, such a one hath Leave, &c.

Alimony, Alimenta, Maintenance: But in a legal Sense, signifies that Allowance that a married Woman lives for, upon any occasional Separation from her Husband; wherein she is not charged with Elopement or Adultery. This Alimony was heretofore called Rationabile estoverium, i. e. reasonable Maintenance, as we may see by this Writ: Rex, &c. Præcipimus tibi quod de Maritagio Emma de Pinckney uxoris Laurentii Penir, qui excommunicatus est, eo quod prædictam Emmam affectione maritali non trahat, eidem Emmae Rationabile estoverium suum invenias, donec idem Laurentius vir suus eam tanquam uxorem suam traxerit, re iteratus clamor ad nos inde perveniat. T. 29 Anno Regni nostri 7 Rot. Claus. 7 Hen. p. 1. m. 3.

Alinote. See Halinote.

Alaunds, Hare-Hounds ab Alanis Scythiæ gente, as Molosos from Molossi, a People of Epirus.

Alloy, French, in Latin Allaya, is used for the Temper or Mixture of other Metals with Silver and Gold, an. 9 H. 5. Stat. 2. cap. 4. and Stat. 1. cap. 11. The Reason of which Alloy is with a baser Metal to augment the Weight of the Silver or Gold, so much as may countervail the Prince's Charge in Coinage. Anton. Faber. de Nummulariorum debitorum solutionibus, cap. 1. Allay, a Pound-weight of right Standard Gold of England, consists of twenty-three Carats, and three Grains and a half of fine Gold, and half a Grain Allay. A Pound-Weight of right Standard Silver of England, consists of eleven Ounces of fine Silver, and eighteen Penny-weight Allay. Vide Locund's Essay upon Coins, p. 19. The Allay of Silver continues the same; but that of Gold is altered, the present Standard of Gold in the Mint being twenty-two Carats fine, and two Carats Allay; the Difference of which is only one Carat three Grains and a Half.

Allegiate, To excuse, defend, or to justify by Course of Law. — Si quis se velit allegiare secundum Regis werregildum hoc faciat. Leges Alured. cap. 4. — Allegiat se facinoris, i. e. clear or purge himself of the Crime objected to him. Ibid. cap. 16. Allegiare, i. e. juxta legem se a crimine, quo impetitur, liberare. Spelman.

Allegiantia, Allegiance: The Word at first properly implied the due and legal Subjection of every Vassal to his Lord. It is now restrained to the natural and sworn Allegiance or legal Obedience, which every Subject owes to his Prince.

Allegood. The word Alleg is to make the Expression signify superlatively; So Allegood is the greatest Good. Sometimes alder.

Alleviare, To levy or pay an accustom'd Fine or Composition. Sokenanni Prioratus de Spalding, debent alleviare filias suas — i. e. They ought to pay to their Lord the Price of Redemption for their their Daughters, or to pay an accustomed Rate for Licence to marry them. Brady, Pref. to Engl. Hist. p. 64.

Allocation, (Allocatio) Properly a placing or adding to; but in the Sense of Law it is an Allowance made upon an Account in the Exchequer.

Allocacione facienda, Is a Writ directed to the Lord Treasurer and Barons of the Exchequer, upon Complaint of some Accountant, commanding them to allow him such Sums as he has by Virtue of his Office lawfully and reasonably expended. Regist. Orig. fol. 206. b.

Alodial: This is where an Inheritance is held without paying to any Lord or Superior: And therefore is of another Nature from that which is Feudal or Beneficiary. From the Sax. a privative and Leod, vassallus, or rather Leof, Dominus, i. e. Held without any Burthen or Vassallage, or without a Superior.

Alutiginosus, i. e. Mucidus.

Aluminoz, Is derived from the French word Allumer, i. e. accendere, and denotes one that by his Trade coloureth or painteth upon Paper or Parchment: And the Reason is, because he gives Light and Ornament by his Colours to the Letters, or other Figures coloured. The Word is used an. 1 R. 3. cap. 9. At this Day we call such a one a Limner.

Almaine rivets, Is a light Kind of Armour for a Man, with Sleeves of Mail, or Plates of Iron, for the Defence of his Arms; this may seem to have been the Pattern of the Rocket, not long since in Use among us, having loose Sleeves, which the Livery-Cloaks of Noblemen's Coachmen may also seem to imitate.

Almaria, for Amaria, i. e. the Archives of a Church, a Library. Omnia etiam Ecclesie Almaria confregit, chartas & privilegia quedam igne cremavit. Gervaf. Dorob. in R. 2.

Almery. See Ambrey.

Almmer or Almour, (Elemosynarius) Is an Officer of a King's or Prince's House, whose Office is diligently to collect all the Fragments of Vittuals, and distribute them daily to the Poor; charitably to visit all Sick, Leprous, Prisoners, poor Widows, and other necessitous and vagrant People, that have no constant Abode: Likewise to receive, and faithfully distribute all cast Horses, Robes, Money, and other Things given in Alms. He ought also by frequent Admonitions, to move the King to bestow his Alms, and especially upon Saints or Holydays, and to advise him not to give his rich Robes to Players, Sycophants, Flatterers, Whippers, or Minstrels, but that he command them to be bestowed as an Increase of his Alms. Fleta. lib. 2. c. 22. He hath the Forfeiture of Deodands, and the Goods of Felons de se, which he is to dispose in Alms to the Poor. Termes de la ley, 39.

Almoine. See Aumone, and Franck-almoyne.

Almonarium, Almonaria, Almeriola, A Cupboard or Safe, to set up cold and broken Vittuals, to be thence distributed for Alms to the Poor. This sort of Repository is in the Northern Parts still called the Aumbry, Ambry, and Ammyery. — Nos dedimus totam illam Seldam vocatam le Hufe, cum Schopis, Solariis, Stallis, Cistis, & Almorietis, cum omnibus suis pertinentiis. Cart. 5 Rich. 2. Cartular. Hospital. SS. Trinit. de Pontefracto MS. f. 44.

Almsfeoh or Belmsfeoh, Saxon; that is, Alms-Money: It was taken for Peter-Pence, anciently paid in England, on the first of August, and first given by Ina King of the West Saxons. It was called also Romfeoh, Romesot, and Heorthpening. Selden's Hist. Tythes, pag. 217.

Almond, Amygdalum, Is well known to every Man's Sight, being the Kernel of a Nut, of whose Nature and Diversities, read Gerard's Herbal, lib. 3. cap. 87. This is noted among Merchandize, that are to be garbled, anno 1 Fac. cap. 19.

Almond-Furnace. At the Silver Mills in Cardiganshire, they have a particular Furnace, in which they melt the Slags or Refuse of the Licharge not stamped, with Char-coal only, which they call the Almond, or Almond-Furnace. Perhaps All-many, Sax. All-menyth, mixt all together.

Almutium: This is a Garment which covers the Head and Shoulders of the Priest. Quæsit Episcopus in quali habitu esset? Responsum est quod tunica de Burneto & almutio sine cuculla. W. Thorn. 1330.

Alnage, French Aulnage; the Measuring with an Ell, or the Measure of an Ell. 17 E. 4. cap. 5. See Alnager.

Alnager, Alnageoz, Vulnager, Alneger. In Latin Uniger or Unator; that is, a Measurer by the Ell: It may be derived from the French word Aulne, an Ell, and signifies a publick sworn Officers of the King's, who by himself, or his Deputy, looks to the Assize of Woollen Cloth made thro' the Land, and to the Seals for that purpose ordained, 25 E. 3. Stat. 4. cap. 1. and 3 R. 2. c. 2. who is accountable to the King, for every Cloth so sealed in a Fee or Custom thereunto belonging. anno 17 R. 2. cap. 2. Read of this more, 27 E. 3. 4. 1 H. 4. 13. 7 H. 4. 10. 11 H. 4. 6. 12 H. 4. 4. 11 H. 6. 9. 31 H. 6. 5. 4 E. 4. 1. 8 E. 4. 1. & 1 H. 3. 8. There are now three Officers belonging to the Regulation of Clothing, all which were anciently comprised in one Person. These bear the distinct Names of Searcher, Measurer, and Alnager; which last, though in a several Language, it be the same with Measurer; yet long Usage and Custom have brought them to distinct Offices, and that which was anciently called Alnager, is now become Collector of the Subsidy granted to the King, by the fore-mentioned Statutes, still holding the same Name; because the Collection of that Subsidy was by Edw. III. committed to the Alnager, and he nevertheless not abridged of measuring, till by his own Neglect separated: Inasmuch as there is now a peculiar Measurer to every particular Cloth made in England and Wales: And to prevent Abuses, an Officer of Searching is established by an Act of Parliament, who ought by peculiar Seal, to denote the Defects which each Cloth contains. All these were anciently under the Cognizance of the Alnager, as you may read at large in a Treatise, entitled The Golden Fleece, Printed an. 1556. See 4 Inst. fol. 31.

Alne, a River in Northumberland.

Alnetum, est ubi alni arbores crescunt, a Place where Alder-Trees grow: Unum Pomarium & unum Alnetum, & unum Sokemanium, & decem Libratas terre. Pat. 16 H. 3. Par. 1. m. 8. It also often occurs in Domesday.

Alodius, Signifies a Manor, and Alsdarii or Alodarii, the Lords of the same Manor. The old Translation of the Saxon Laws useth this Word for Blockland. And Alocii, or rather, as I believe, Alodacii, for them that hold Blockland or Charterlands. Quando moritur Alodarius, Rex inde habet relevationem terra, &c. Domesday, Rent, and Coke's 1 Inst. fol 1 and 5. See Fee.

Beim, Whiteley in Northumberland.

Alloverium; a Purse. 'Tis mention'd in Flota, lib. 2. cap. 82. par. 2. Tritura ceres ac ventricis nequicquam bladi fuerunt in suis sctularibus, Civiticiis, Aloveriis, burfis, pantoneriis vel sacerdotibus.

Altarage, Altaragium; This Word includes not only the Offerings made upon the Altar, but also all the Profit that arises to the Priest by Reason of the Altar, Obventio Altaris, as appears by an Order made in the Term of St. Michael 21 Eliz. viz. in the Exchequer, between Turner Vicar of Westhaddon in Com. Northamp. and Andrews, whereby it is declared, That by Altaragium is meant Tithes of Wool, Lamb, Colt, Calf, Pigs, Goslings, Chickens, Butter, Cheese, Hemp, Flax, Honey, Fruits, Herbs, and other such small Tithes, with Offerings that shall be due in the Parish of Westhaddon. This Order is as follows, viz.

Northampton, ff. Inter ordines sive decreta de Terminis Sancti Mich. Anno 21 Eliz. in Scaccario remanentes, & in custodia Rememoratoris Regis inter alia continetur sic.

Jovis, 12 Die Nov.

UPon the hearing of the Matter betwixt Ralph Turner, Vicar of West Haddon, and Edward Andrews, it is ordered, that the said Vicar shall have, by Reason of the Words (Altaragium cum manso competenti) contained in the Composition of the Profits assigned for the Vicar's Maintenance, all such Things as are ought to have by these Words, according to the Definition thereof made by the Reverend Father in God, John, Bishop of London, upon Conference with the Civilians, viz. David Hewes, Judge of the Admiralty, Bartholomew Clark, Dean of the Archdeacon, John Gibson, Henry Jones, Lawrence Hewes and Edward Stanhope, all Doctors of the Civil Law, that is to say, By Altaragium, Tithes of Wool, Lamb, Colt, Calf, Piges, Goslings, Chickens, Butter, Cheese, Hemp, Flax, Honey, Fruits, Herbs, and such other small Tythes, with Offerings, that shall be due within the Parish of Westhaddon.

And the like Case was for Norton in Northamptonshire, of a later Date, Oblationes sive nummorum sive panum tali vel tali Altari, vel ex devotione, vel ex consuetudine, aut a Parochianis, aut ab extraneis facta, Altaragii nomine censebantur. Gloss. in Mat. Paris. The Word Altarage could signifie at first no more, than the casual Profits arising to the Priest, from the Peoples voluntary Oblations at the Altar. Out of these Customary Dues, the Religious assigned a Portion to the Vicar; but in such different Quantity and Method, that since the Reformation, several Disputes have arose, what Dues were comprehended under the Title of Altaragium; which was remarkably determined to comprize all Offerings and small Tithes, in a Trial in the Exchequer, in Mih. Term. 21 Eliz. Which Judgment, I presume, might be grounded on this and other Authorities: The Ordination of the Vicarage of Tickhill by Walter Grey, Archbishop of York, Anno Dom. 1249, & Anno Pontificat. 33. Vicarius ad sustentationem sui—habeat totum Altaragium, ita quod nomine Altaragii continentur omnes obventiones, Decima & proventus ipsius Ecclesie de Tickhill, exceptis Decimis bladi, leguminis, & feni, & terris ad dictam Ecclesiam pertinentibus salvo competente manso Vicario assignando. Mon. Ang. Tom. 3. p. 158. b. Hence, though it seems to be certain, That the Religious when they first allotted the Altaragium in Part or Whole, to the Cappellane or Vicar, they meant only the arbitrary or accustomed Offerings at the Altar, and not any Share of the standing Tithe, whether Predial or Mixt. Yet it being usual for the Religious to content themselves with the greater Profits of Glebe and Tenths of Corn and Hay, and to leave the inconsiderable small Tithes to the Officiating Priests: Hence Altaragium by Degrees was supposed to include all Dues, except as before excepted. Oblationes sive nummorum, sive panum tali vel tali Altari, vel ex devotione vel ex consuetudine, aut a Parochianis, aut ab extraneis facta, Altaragii nomine censebantur. Gloss. in Mat. Paris.

Alto & Basso, or In Alto & in Basso. By this is meant the absolute Submission of all Differences, small and great, high and low. Pateat Universis, &c. quod W. T. de Y. & T. G. de A. posuerunt se in Alto & Basso, in arbitrio quatuor hominum, &c. de quadam querela, &c. Dat. apud A. die Mercurii prox. post Fest. Conceptionis B. Mar. Virg. anno 2 H. 5. And the like Signification it hath in Plac. coram Rege Hil. 18 E. 1. Ipse Prior venit & Bogo similiter, & ponunt se in gratiam, misericordiam & voluntatem Regis de Alto & Basso, ad quod mandantur Turri London, &c. Nos & terram nostram Alte & Basse ipsius Domini Regis supposuimus voluntati. Du Fresne.

Altus Justiciarius. See Justiciarius.

Alvctum. Habet Alvctum insula permaximum. Matt. Westm. 189. It is the same as Alnetum, which see.

Amabyr, vel Amvabir, Pretium Virginitatis domino solvendum LL Gul. Howeli Dha. Regis Wallie. Puella dicitur esse desertum Regis, & ob hoc Regis est de ea Amvabyr habere. This Custom was in the Honour of Clun, till Henry Earl of Arundel, by his Deed dated 31 Aug. 3, 4. Phil. & Mar. released it to his Tenants, by the Name of The Custom of Amabyr and Chevage. See Chevage.

Amayl, Enamel. — Una Cuppa rubra de Sany bene brudata imaginibus in tabernaculis, cum uno Nouche nobili de argento cum solutione protratta in Amayl saphyri coloris. Histor. Elien. apud Wharton Angl. Sac. P. 1. p. 642. — Prior Elienensis contulit Altari unum dorsale magnum, & duas pelvas argenteas nobiles & pulcras quarum labra sunt per gyrum deaurata, & in fundo Amayl inserti in opere artificioso. Ib. p. 649.

Ambaratus, i. e. a Servant or Client.

Amviderer, Properly denotes a Man that can equally use both his Hands: But in a legal Sense, it signifies, That Juror or Embracoor, that takes Money of both Parties for the Giving of his Verdict, for which he forfeits Decies tantum, ten Times as much as he takes. 38 E. 3. 12. Crompt. Just. of Peace, fol. 156. b.

Amara, Sax. Amber, Lat. Amphora: A Vessel among our Saxons, the Quantity now not known: But I have seen in an old Deed Mention of Ambræ Salis. It was not only a Measure of Salt, but of Beer, Butter, Meal, &c. as appears by these Authorities. Leges Ina West-Sax. Tit. 74. — Ambræ Cerevisie Wallie; plena Ambra butyri. — Leges Adelftani Regis Tit. 3. De drabus meis firmis, cent eis singulis mensibus Ambra plena farina.

An. x. (King's Proclamation in 1665.) Vide Anme.

Ambyr, The Place where the Arms, Plate, Vessels and every Thing which belonged to House-keeping, were kept: And probably the Ambry at Westminster is so called, because formerly set apart for that Use: Or rather it should be called the Almshouse (Lat. Eleemosynaria) a House adjoining to an Abbey, in which the Charities were laid up, and from thence distributed to the Poor.

Amendable. From the French Word Ameney, Adducere, to lead unto; or as some Amaynable, deducting it from (Main) a Hand: It signifies Tractable, that may be led or governed. It is applied in our Law-Books to a Woman, that is governable by her Husband.

Amendment, Emendatio, Signifies in our Common Law, a Correction of an Error committed in a Process, and espied before Judgment, and sometimes after the Party's seeking Advantage by the Error. Terms de la Ley. Bro. Tit. Amendment per tot. But if the Fault be found after Judgment given, the Party that will redress it, is driven to his Writ of Error. Bro. Tit. Error and Amendment.

Amerciament, Amerciamentum, (From the Fr. Mer, i. e. Misericordia) Signifies the pecuniary Punishment of an Offender against the King, or other Lord, in his Court, that is found to be in Misericordia; that is, to have offended, and to stand at the Mercy of the King or Lord. There seems to be a Difference between Amerciament and Fines. Kitchin, fol. 214. For Fines, as they are taken for Punishments, be certain, and grow expressly from some Statute, but Amerciaments are such as be arbitrarily impos'd by Affessors, which Kitchin, fol. 78. in some Manner confirms in these Words L'americiament est affine per pares. Manwood in his Forest Laws, part 1. fol. 166. saith, An Amerciament is a more easy, more merciful Penalty, and a Fine more sharp or grievous: His Words are these, If the Pledges for such a Trespass do appear by common Summons, but not the Defendant himself, then the Pledges shall be imprisoned for that Default of the Defendant. But otherwise it is, if the Defendant himself do appear and be ready in Court before the Lord Justice in Eyre, to receive his Judgment, and pay his Fine: But if su h Pledges do make Default, in that Case the Pledges shall be amerced, but not fined. So that an Amerciament is for a small Fault, and a Fine for a great One. The Author of the New Terms of Law, saith, That Amerciament is properly a Penalty assessed by the Peers or Equals of the Party amerced, for an Offence done; for the which he putteth himself upon the Mercy of the Lord: Who also makes Mention of an Amerciament Royal, and defines it to be a pecuniary Punishment laid upon a Sheriff, Coroner, or such like Officer of the King, by Justices, for some Offence. Ratcliff Baron of the Exchequer. 2 H. 7. fol. 7. See Misericordia. If the Amerciament were too grievous, i. e. disproportioned to the Nature of the Offence, or the Abilities of the Offender, there was a Release to be sued by a Writ called Moderata Misericordia. Amerciamenta illecebilia were such Amerciaments as thro' Poverty, or Escape of the Amerced, became desperate Debts, and were deducted in the Accounts of the Bayliff, or Steward, or Collectors of Rents and other Dues. So A. D. 1425. the Prior and Canons of Burcester, allowed to the Receiver of their Rents at Kirlington — In allocatis eidem pro Amerciamentis illecebilibus hoc anno sex denarios. See Mr. Kennet's Paro. h. Antiq. 573. and Glossary, in voce Amerciamentum.

Amictus, a Priestly Garment; from the Lat. Amictus.

Amicia, (the same with Almutium) a Cap made with Goat's or Lamb's Skins: That Part of it which covered the Head was square; and one Part of it hung behind, and covered the Neck. 'Tis mentioned in the Monasticon, 3 Tom. pag. 36. Pennulas autem hujus amictiarum caprinas esse volumus vel agninas.

Amictus, was the uppermost of the six Garments worn by Priests; it was tied round the Neck, ne inde ad linguam transeat mendacium; and it covered the Brest and Heart, ne vanitates cogitet. Amictus, Alba, Cingulum, Stola, Manipulus & Planeta.

Amittre legem terræ, To lose the Liberty of Swearing in any Court, or (as Sir Edw. Coke lays) to become infamous, is used by Glanvil, lib. 2. cap. 3. for the Punishment of the Champion, overcome or yielding in Battle, upon a Writ of Right, and of Jurors found guilty in a Writ of Attaint. Selden's Titles of Honour.

Amma 1 a 1, to enamel. 'Tis often mentioned in the Monasticon, 3 Tom. pag. 170, 352.

Amum ammonitio. — Richardus de Pynelesdon, tenet terras in Worthenbury in Partibus de Mulier, Com. Flint. que tenentur de Domino Rege per certa servitia, & per Ammobragium quod ad quinque solidos extenditur cum acciderit. — Pat. 7 Ed. 2. m. 7.

Amunium Justitæ, Isles upon the West Coast of Britain.

Amnesia, Oblivio, as an Amnesia, or Act of Oblivion, such as was granted by King Charles 2d. at his Restoration.

Amortization, Amortizatio, French Amortissement, est traditum translatum in Manum mortuam quod tamen sine venia Principis non fiat. Fus Amortizationis, est privilegium seu licentia capiendi in Manum mortuam. In the Statute De libertatibus perquirendis 27 E. 1. this Word Amortissement is used. See Mortmain.

Amortiss, (from the French Word Amortir) Is to aliene Lands or Tenements to any Corporation, Guild or Fraternity, and their Successors, which cannot be done without Licence of the King, and the Lord of the Manor. 15 R. 2. c. 5. See Mortmain, and the Statute of Amortizing Lands, made tempore Ed. 1.

Ampouas mitem. See Ouster le main.

Ampiation, Ampliatio, properly an Enlargement; but in Sense of Law, denotes a Referring of Judgment, till the Cause be further examin'd. Amr, Amicus, As in Law Prochein Amie, is the next to be trusted for an Orphan, or Infant.

Amictre The Garment with which the Priest, in Sacrificing, covered his Head and Shoulders. From the Lat. Amictus.

Analogium. Rex Johannes concedit Jordano de London Analogium dimissia apud Bray in feudo. Rot. Cart. 7. Feb. m. 1.

An, Flour & Classe (Annus, Dies & Vastum.) Look Year, Day and Waste.

Analogium, a Pulpit.

Anabus, i. e. Mendosus.

Anar, i. e. a King.

Analcites, the Hundred of Henley.

Ancafter. See Crocalana.

Ancestor, Antecessor, The Signification is well known; and the Law makes this Difference between that and Predecessor, that Ancestor is applied to a natural Person, as J. S. and his Ancestors; the other to a Body Politick or Corporate, as a Bishop and his Predecessors. Co. on Lit. lib. 2. cap. 4. sect. 103. The Word Antecessor in the Forinsec rinick Sense was not properly applied to the Ancestor of a Family; but either to the Predecessor of an Estate, or the Predecessor in an Office.

ANCESTREL, as Homage Ancestrel; that is, Homage that hath been done or performed by one's Ancestors. See Homage.

ANCHORAGE, (Anconagium) A Duty taken of Ships for the Pool of the Haven where they cast Anchor, MS. Arth. Trevor Ar. For no Man can let any Anchor fall on the King's Ground in any Port, without paying for it to the King's Officer appointed by Patent.

ANCHUR, Anshent, The Flag or Streamer in the Stern of a Ship. The Seamen are the greatest Corrupters of Words: Thus from the Portugal Word Allagerto a Crocodile, our Mariners call that Beast or Fish an Allegator. And from the Portuguese Logrsta, they call the prickly Lobster, that wants Legs, common in the Southern Sea, a Long-Oyster. So probably from End sheet (for Seamen call their Sails Sheets) a proper Name for the Flag in the Stern, they corruptly speak Anshent.

ANIENT, In the Middle-Temple, such as are past their Reading, and never read, are Anients. In Gray's Inn the Society consists of Benchers, Ancients, Barriers and Students under the Bar, and here the Anients are of the more Ancient Barriers. The Ins of Chancery consist of Anients and Students, or Clerks, and among the Ancients, one is yearly the Principal or Treasurer.

ANCIENT DEDAIM or DEMESNE, (Vetus Patrimonium Domini) Is a certain Tenure, whereby all Manors belonging to the Crown in the Days of Saint Edward, or William the Conqueror, were held. The Numbers and Names of which Manors, as of all others belonging to common Persons, after a Survey made of them, he caused to be written in a Book, now remaining in the Exchequer, and call'd Doomsday. And those, which by that Book appear to have at that Time belonged to the Crown, and are contained under the Title Terra Regis, are called Ancient Demesne. Kitchin, fol. 98. Of these Tenants were two Sorts; one that held their Lands frankly by Charter, the other by Copy of Court-Roll, or by the Verge at the Will of the Lord, according to the Custom of the Manor. Britten, cap. 66. num. 8. The Benefit of this Tenure consists in these Points: 1. The Tenants holding by Charter, cannot be impeached out of their Manor; or if they be, they may abate the Writ by Pleading their Tenure, before or after Answer made. 2. They are free from Toll for all Things concerning their Livelihood and Husbandry. They may not be empannelled upon any Enquest. F. N. B. fol. 14. d. & fol. 228. &c. By whom it appears, these Tenants held originally by Ploughing the King's Lands, plashing his Hedges, or such like, towards the Maintenance of his Household; for which Cause they had such Liberties granted to them: And to avoid Disturbances, they may have Writs to such as take Duries of Toll, as also Immunity of Portage, Passage and such like. No Lands ought to be esteemed Ancient Demesne, but such as are held in So cage. See Monstraverunt and Demayn.

ANIENTE, (French Anienmete, that is, Antiquitas) It is used in Statuto Hibernia, 14 H. 3. for Seniority. As, The eldest Sister can demand no more than her other Sisters, by Reason of her Ancienty.

ANCONES of Iron: At the Iron Works, in the Forge, called the Emery; they work the Metal by the Hammer, till they bring it into Blooms and Anconies; a Bloom is a four-square Mass two Foot long, which they afterwards by heating and working, bring to an Ancony, the Figure whereof is in the Middle a Bar about three Foot long, of that Shape which they intend the whole Bar shall be after made, leaving at each End a square rough Piece to be wrought at the Chafery.

ANDATES LUTUS, (Anderida). Mr. Camden was of Opinion, that Newenden in Kent, situated near the Wood called Andar, was the Place where a famous Castle was built by the Romans, to defend the Sea-Coasts from the Saxon Pirates; which Town was called Brittenden by the Saxons. And being decayed, but rebuilt; soon after a Monastery was founded by the Carmelite Friars, in the Reign of Ed. 1. it was called Newenden. But Mr. Sommer was of another Opinion: He rather thinks it was Pevensey, because that is near the Sea-Coast; but the other is more remote.

ANCON, A Swath in Mowing. See Dole. It likewise signifies, as much Ground as a Man can stride over at once.

BURNING OF SILE, 17 Ed. 4. cap. 4. Signifies the Burning them, and comes from the Sax. Onelan, accendere.

ANCONIUS, A short Knife or Dagger. 'Tis mentioned in Mat. Paris. viz. Lori à erat indutus, gestans Anelacium ad Lunbare, pag. 277.

ANCONIDOR. Et si Anfeldthyde sit, immergatur manus post lapidem, vel exanen isque ad wristle. Leg. Adelftan, cap. 19. apud Brompton. Mr. Sommer tells us it should be Ansealtible, i. e. a Simple Accusation: For the Saxons had two Sorts; viz. Simplex & Triplex: That was called a single Accusation when the Oath of the Criminal and two more was sufficient to discharge him; but his own Oath, and the Oaths of five more were required to free him à triplici Accusatione.

ANGARIA, — Terram liberam ab omnibus Angariis & Exactionibus, &c. MS. penes Eliam Asmole, Arm. From the Fr. Angarie, i. e. Personal Service; that which a Man is bound to perform in his own Person. Præstationes Angariorum & Perangariarum, plausorum & navium, Impressing of Ships.

ANGELICA VESTIS was a Monkish Garment, which Laymen put on a little before their Death, that they might have the Benefit of the Prayers of the Monks. It was from them called Angelicus, because they were called Angeli, who by these Prayers Anima Salutis succurrebant. And therefore where we read the Words ad su currendum in our old Books, it must be understood of one who had put on the Habit, and was near Death. Si quis ad succurrendum metu mortis se loco prænominate dederit, illic se itetur. Monasticon, 1 Tom. pag. 652. So likewise, De scepitis in morte, is meant of those dying Persons who had put on the Habits.

ANGILUM, The bare single Valuation or Compensation of a Man or Thing, according to the legal Estimate: From the Sax. An, One, and Gild, Payment, Mult or Fine. So Twigild was the double Fine: Trigild the Treble Fine according to the rated Ability of the Person. See the Laws of Ina, cap. 20. and the League between King Alfred and Guthrum, cap. 6. Si villanus furivus fuerit, &c. & habeas plegium, admonet eum de Angildo. Spelman.

ANILNER, Anlote, Anlot. De reta Will. Cong. apud Hoveden, in Hen. 2. — Francigena qui tempore Edwardi propinqui mei fuerit in Anglia particeps consuetudinis in Anglorum, quod ipsi dicunt Anlot & Anscoti, persolvunt secundum consuetudinem Anglorum.

Anglorum. The Sax. in Lambard reads it Anchlot and An Sote; & in margin vulgo Scot & Lot. The Sense is no more, than that every one should pay according to the Custom of the Country, his respective Part and Share. Spelman.

Aniented, (Anientized in Stat. 1 R. 3. c. 2. from the Fr. Anentiv, i. e. To make void,) signifies abrogated, annihilated, or brought to nothing. Littleton, lib. 3. cap. Warranty, and 3 Inst. fol. 40. Animalia otiosa are such which are not used for to plow; as Sheep, Hogs, &c. Fleta, lib. 4. cap. 16. Par. 15. Si fiat distinctio per oves & bestias caruicarium, cum sint alia animalia otiosa, &c.

Annates, Yearlings, or young Cattle of the first Year.—Vituli primo anno postquam nati sunt, Vituli vocantur; secundo compositi Annales vocantur; tertio Boviculi; quarto Bovetti vocantur. Regala compositi domus de Earendon MS.

Annats, Annates, Are all one with First-Fruits, an. 25 H. 8. cap. 20. See First-Fruits. The Reason of the Name is, because the Rate of First-Fruits paid to Spiritual Livings, is after the Value of one Year's Profit. Annates move suo appellat primos fructus unius anni Sacerdotii vacantis aut dimidiam eorum partem. Pol. Virgil. de Invent. rer. lib. 8. cap. 2. Here observe, That First-Fruits, Primitia & Annates, are all one. Co. 12. Rep. fol. 45.

Annit nubile, (Lat.) when a Woman is said to be infra annos nubile, that is, under the Age of twelve Years; unmarried. Coke's 2 Inst. fol. 434.

Annis-seed, Semen Anisi, a Medicinal Seed, not unknown. Gerard's Herbal. lib. 2. cap. 327. It is noted among the garblicable Drugs, and Spices. 1 Jar. c. 19.

Anniversary Days, (Dies Anniversarii) Were in former Times solemn Days appointed in Commemoration of the Deaths or Martyrdoms of Saints, and once every Year celebrated: Also Days whereon, at the Return of every Year, Men were wont to pray for the Souls of their deceased Friends, mentioned in the Statute 1 Ed. 6. cap. 14. and 12 Car. 2. cap. 13. This was in Use among our Ancestors the Saxons, as may be seen, Lib. Rames, Sect. 134. Anniversaria dies ideo repetitur defunctis, quia nescimus qualiter eorum Causa habeatur in alia vita. This was the Reason given by Aleuinus in his Divine Offices. The Anniversary or yearly Return of the Day of Death of any Person, which the Religious registred in their Obitual or Martyrology, and annually observed in Gratitude to their Founders and Benefactors, was by our Fore-fathers called a Year-Day, and a Memorial-Day, i. e. a Memorial Day. This was one of the trading Arts of the Religious, who got many a Pittance and Legacy for thus recording and continuing the Memorials of their Friends. Yet abating the Superstition, we must needs confess this Practice of theirs has been a great Advantage to the History of Men and Times, by fixing the Obits of Great and Good Men.

Anno Domini, Is the Computation of Time from the Incarnation of our Lord JESUS, and is used in publick Writings; sometimes with, and sometimes without the Year of the King's Reign. As the Romans made their Computation from the Building of the City of Rome, and the Grecians by Olympiads: So Christians in Remembrance of the happy Incarnation of our Saviour, reckon their Time from thence. The Day of the Month, the Year of our Lord and Saviour Christ, and the Year of the King's Reign, are the usual Dates of Deeds. Coke's 2 Inst. fol. 675.

Annopance, Annosance, or Assance. (Fr. Nuisance, Hurt or Offence) hath a double Signification, being used as well for any Hurt done to a publick Place, as a Highway, Bridge, or Common River, as to a private, by laying any Thing that may breed infection, by incroaching, or such like Means; as also for the Writ that is brought upon this Transgression, of which see more in Nuisance. The Word Annosance is used in the Stat. 22 Hen. 8. c. 5.

Annuale, The yearly Rent or Income of a Prebendary.

Annuaia, Annats, or a yearly Stipend assigned to Priest, for keeping the Anniversary, or otherwise for saying continued Masses one Year, for the Soul of a deceased Person.—Inhibemus quoque districtius ne aliquis Rector Ecclesie faciat hujusmodi pactum cum suo Sacerdote, videlicet quod ipse Sacerdos preter cetera stipendia poterit recipere Annuaia & Triennialia. Conf. Rob. Grosstest Episcopi Lincol. in Append. ad Fascic. pag. 411.

Annua Pensione, Is a Writ (now disused) whereby the King having due unto him an Annual Pension from an Abbot or Prior, for any of Chaplains (whom he should think fit to nominate, being as yet unprovided of sufficient Living) doth demand the same of the same Abbot or Prior; and also willeth him for his Chaplains better Assurance, to give him his Letters Patent for the same. Reg. Orig. fol. 165, & 307. & F. N. B. 231. Where you may see the Names of all the Abbies and Priories bound to this, in respect of their Foundation or Creation; as also the Form of the Letters Patent, usually granted upon this Writ.

Annuity, Annuus redditus, Signifies a yearly Rent to be paid for the Term of Life, or Years, or in Fee; and is also used for the Writ that lies against a Man for the Recovery of such a Rent, if it be not satisfied every Year according to the Grant. Reg. Orig. fol. 158. F. N. B. fol. 152. The Author of the New Terms of Law, defineth Annuity, to be a certain Sum of Money granted to another in Fee-simple, Fee-tail, for Term of Life or Years, to receive of the Grantor or his Heirs, so that no Freehold be charged therewith, whereof a Man shall never have Aliene, or other Action, but a Writ of Annuity. Saint Germain, in his Book titled Doctor and Student, Dial. 1. cap. 3. sheweth divers Differences between a Rent and an Annuity; whereof the first is, That every Rent, be it Rent-Charge, Rent-Service, or Rent-Seek, is going out of Land, but an Annuity goeth not out of any Land, but chargeth only the Person; that is to say, the Grantor, or his Heirs, that have Assets by descent: Or the House, if it be granted by a House of Religion. Lit. Sect. 220. 2. A second Difference is, That for the Recovery of an Annuity, no Action lieth, but only a Writ of Annuity against the Grantor, his Heirs or Successors. Fitz. Nat. Brev. 152. But of a Rent, the same Actions lie as do of Land, as the Case requireth. 3. The third Difference is, That an Annuity is never taken for Assets, because it is no Freehold in Law, neither shall it be put in Execution upon a Statute-Merchant, Statute-Staple, or Elegit, as a Rent may. Doct. and Stud. cap. 30. So also Dyer fol. 345. Pl. 2. Also an Annuity cannot be recovered. Co. lib. 8. fol. 52. b. See more Leigh's Comment. verbo Annuity.

Ansa ad Balam, near Loggishall in Essex.

Anscore,

Anscote, the same with Angild. (LL. W. 1. cap. 64.) See Scot and Lot.

Ansel Weight. See Aunsel.

Ansul. See Aunsel Weight. De pede, pollice, cubito, & palma, de Ansel balancibus & mensuris. Thorn. Chron.

Antejuramentum and Presuramentum, which by our Ancestors was called Furamentum Calumnie. In which they were so strict, that both the Accuser and Accused were obliged to make this Oath before any Trial or Purgation, viz. The Accuser was to swear that he would prosecute the Criminal; and the Accused was to make Oath, on the very Day that he was to undergo the Ordeal, that he was Innocent of the Fact of which he was charged. Leg. Æthelstan. apud Lambard 23. If the Accuser failed, the Criminal was discharged; if the Accused, he was intended to be guilty, and was not to be admitted to purge himself by the Ordeal. Leg. H. 1. cap. 66.

Antistitium is a Word used in the old Histories, and signifies a Monastery.

Antisthetarius. 'Tis mentioned in the Title of a Chapter in the Laws of Canutus, (viz. Capite 47.) but not in the Chapter it self. The Meaning of the Word is, Where a Man endeavours to discharge himself of the Fact of which he is accused, by recriminating, i. e. by charging the Accuser with the same Fact.

Antivestrum, the Cape of Cornwall.

Apatatio is an Agreement or Compact made with another. 'Tis mentioned in Upton, lib. 2. cap. 12. De officio militari, viz. Concedimus per presentes bonum & saluum conductum, ac saluam gardiam sive securitatem Apatiationis.

Aplato, i. e. For certain: Si verbum non direxerit ut ailata sit, for aplata. Leg. Adelstan. cap. 6.

Aporiare, i. e. To be reduced to Poverty, viz. Permisi suos spoliare patriam, Aporiare vulgus. Walsingham in R. 2. Sometimes it signifies To shun, or Avoid, viz. In ciuitate degentes, in refectorio pompacitas lasciuasque secularium delicias ut melancholiam Aporiantes.

Apostare Leges, & Apostatate Leges, Willfully to break or transgress the Laws, Leg. Edw. Conf. cap. 35. Tit. de Heterochis. Qui leges Apostabit, uere sue reus sit apud Regem, ac idem in R. Hen. 1. cap. 13. where Apostabit is read Apostatabit. Spelman.

Apostata capiendo, Is a Writ now out of Use, that lay against one, that having entred and professed some Order of Religion, broke out again, and wander'd up and down the Country, contrary to the Rules of his Order; for the Abbot or Prior of the House, certifying this into the Chancery, under their Common Seal, and praying this Writ directed to the Sheriff, for the Apprehension of such Offender, and Delivery of him again to his Abbot or Prior, or their lawful Attorney, were wont to obtain the same; The Form whereof, with other Circumstances, you may find Reg. Orig. fol. 71. & 267. and Fitz. Nat. Brev. fol. 233. C.

Apparato; Comitatus. There was an Allowance to the Sheriff of Bucks, of a considerable yearly Sum, ut apparatoris Comitatus. There was an Order of Court in Q. El. Time, for making that Allowance; but the Custom and the Reason of it are now altered. Vide Hales of Sheriffs Account, p. 104.

Apparitor, 21 H. 8. c. 5. Signifies a Messenger that cites Offenders to appear in the Spiritual

Court, and serves the Process thereof. The Office of an Apparitor will best appear from this Commission of Walt. Archbishop of Can. Walterus Dei gratia Cant. Archiepisc. totius Anglie Primas, dilectio Filio Willielmo de Grasione in Apparitoris Officio, in Curia nostra Cantuar. uidel: in Consistorio ac Decanatu nostro Ecclesie Beate Marie de Arcubus London. ministranti Salutem, Gratiam & Benedictionem. Personam tuam eo quod de fidelitate in dicto Officio per laudabile testimonium apud Nos multipliciter commendauis volentes prosequi cum favore, dictum Apparitoris Officium in Curia Consistorio & Decanatu predictis perpetuo possidendum tibi conferimus per presentes. Ita tamen quod te fideliter geras in Officio predicto memorato. Volentes & tibi specialiter concedentes, ut cum in ministerio dicti Officii per teipsum personaliter vacare non poteris, vel absens fueris a Curia, Consistorio & Decanatu predictis, nihilominus per aliam idoneam personam, quem ad hoc assignandum omnia & singula que dicto incumbunt Officio — facere valeas, & iugiter exerceere —

Dat. apud Lambith. 8. Id. Marti. 1316.

Apparement, Cometh from the French Pareillement, that is, Similiter, Perinde, Ibidem, in English likewise it signifies a Resemblance or Likelihood, as Apparement of War. 2 R. 2. Stat. 1. cap. 6.

Apparura, Furniture, Apparel, Dominus clamat habere omnes carrectas ferro non ligatas, & omnes carrucas cum tota Apparura. Placit. in Itin. apud Cestriam. 14 H. 7. Carrucarum Apparura is Plough-tackle, or all the Implements belonging to a Plough. Thus in our Statutes we frequently find the Tackle, Apparel, and Furniture of a Ship.

Appeal, Appellum, Cometh from the French word Appeller, that is, Acire: It signifies in our Common Law as much as Accusatio, with the Civilians; for as in the Civil Law, Cognisance of Criminal Causes is taken either upon Inquisition and Denunciation or Accusatio; so in Ours, upon Indictment or Appeal; Indictment comprehending both Inquisition and Denunciation: And Accusatio or Appeal, is a lawful Declaration of another Man's Crime (which by Bracton must be Felony at the least) before a competent Judge, by one that setteth his Name to the Declaration, and undertakes to prove it upon the Penalty that may ensue of the contrary. To declare the whole Course of an Appeal, is not proper for this Place; I refer you to Bracton, lib. 3. Tract. 2. cap. 18. cum sequent. Britton, cap. 22, 23, 24, 25. Smith, lib. 3. de Reput. Angl. cap. 3. And Staundf. Pl. Cor. lib. 2. cap. 6, 7, &c. usque 17. An Appeal is commenced two Ways; either by Writ, or by Bill, Staundf. ubi supra; and it may be gathered by him, fol. 148. that an Appeal by Writ is, when a Writ is purchased out of Chancery by one to another, to this End, that he appeal a Third of some Felony committed by him, finding Pledges that he shall do it, and deliver the Writ to the Sheriff or Coroner, offering to undergo the Burden of the appealing another therein named. Appeal by Bill is when a Man of himself gives his Accusation in Writing to the Sheriff or Coroner, offering to undergo the Burden of appealing the Person therein named. This Point of our Law, among others, is taken from the Normans, as appears plainly by the Grand Customary, cap. 68. where there is a solemn Discourse both of the Effects of this Appeal, viz. The Order of Combat, and of the Trial by Inquest; of either of which it is in the Defendant's Power to make Choice. See New Book of Entries, verbo Appell, Lib. Ass. fol. 78. & 3. part. Inst. fol. 131. Appeals to Rome were so great an Inter.

Interruption to all English Justice, that even in those Times of Slavery, this Evasion of National Justice, by appealing to the Pope, was forbid and severely punished. So when Gilbert de Segrave, Archdeacon of Oxford, in 33 Ed. 1. appealed from the King's Court to the Pope of Rome, he was summoned to Westminster, and obliged to renounce his Appeal by Oath, and to find Pledges for appearing at the next Parliament.

Appeal of Wapheim, Appellum Mahemii, Is an Accusing one that hath mained another. But that being no Felony, the Appeal is but a kind of Action of Trespass, because there is nothing recover'd but Damages. Bracton calls this Appellum de plagis & Mahemio, and writes a whole Chapter about it. Lib. 3. tract. 2. cap. 24. See Coke, vol. 4. fol. 49. a. In King John's Time, there is an Appeal recorded against a Jew. Qui fecit ementulari quendam nepotem suum.

Appeal of Wrong Imprisonment, (Appellum de pace & imprisonment) Is used by Bracton for an Action of Wrong Imprisonment, whereof he writes lib. 3. tract. 2. cap. 25.

Appeal, (Appellatio) Many Times used in the Common, as it is in the Civil Law, which is the Removing a Cause from an inferior Judge to a superior; as Appeal to Rome. 24 H. 8. cap. 12. & Eliz. cap. 1. So St. Paul appealed from Festus to Caesar. But more commonly for a private Accusation of a Murderer, by a Person who had Interest in the Party murdered, or of any Felon, by one of his Complices with him. And those that are so appealed, are called Appellees. 28 E. 1. See Approver.

Appello, or Appellant, He who has committed some Felony or other Crime, which he confesses, and now appeals, i. e. accuses others who were Complices with him, and those who are so appealed, are called Appellees. Artic. Cleri Anglicani oblati. Ed. 2. Regi, an. 1316. cap. 10. Placet etiam Domino Regi, ut Latrones & Appellatores, quandoque voluerint possint Sacerdotibus sua facinora confiteri.

Appendant, Appendens, Is an Inheritance belonging to another that is more worthy; as Accessorium Principali, with the Civilians, or Adjunctum Subiecto, with the Logicians. An Hospital may be Appendant to a Manor. Fitzb. Nat. Brev. fol. 142. Common of Fishing Appendant to a Freehold. West. 2. cap. 25. 13 Ed. 1. Appendants are ever by Prescription. See Co. on Lit. fol. 121. b.

Appenditia, The Appendages or Pertinences to an Estate, &c. So Simon Earl of Northampton gave to the Knights Templars, his Manor of Merton, Com. Oxon. cum omnibus Appenditiis suis. Mr. Kennets Paroch. Antiq. p. 110. Hence our Pentices, or Pent-Houses, a Pent-Stock, Appenditia domus, &c.

Appennage, or Appennage, French, A Child's Part, properly the Portion of the King's younger Children in France, where they have a Law which they call, The Law of Apennages, whereby the King's younger Sons have Dutiches, Counties, or Baronies granted to them, and their Heirs, or Heirs Males of their Bodies, the Reversion reserved to the Crown, and all Matters of Regality; as Coinage, levying Taxes, and the like: It is derived ab appendendo, or from the German word Apanage, which signifies a Portion. See Gerard de Heylan, & Spelman's Gloss. in verbo Appennagium.

Appensura, The Payment of Money at the Scale, or by Weight. — Dedit Regi prefato ap-

pensuram novem librarum purissimi auri juxta magnum pondus Normannorum. Histor. Elien. Edit. Gale, l. 2. c. 19.

Appertinances, (Pertinentia) Is derived of the French word Appertenir, Pertinere, to belong to. It signifies in the Common Law Things both Corporeal, belonging to another Thing, as the more Principal; as Hamlets to a chief Manor, Common of Pasture, Turbary, Piscary, and such like; and Incorporeal, as Liberties, and Services of Tenants. Brit. cap. 39. Where we may observe, That he accounts Common of Pasture, Turbary and Piscary, to be Things Corporeal. Vide Corporeal.

Appumbatio is the Incorporating several Metals together. See Bract. lib. 2. c. 2. Fleta, Lib. 3. cap. 2. paragraph 12.

Appodiare is a Word used in our old Historians, and it signifies, To lean on any Thing, To prop up a Thing, &c. Walsingham, an. 1271. Mat. Paris. Chronicon Aula Regie an. 1321.

Apponere signifies To pledge or pawn: Accepta a fratre Gulielmo summa non modica Normanniam illi apposuit. Neubrigenst, lib. 1. cap. 2.

Apportionment, Apportionamentum, Is a Dividing of a Rent into Parts, according as the Land, whence the whole Rent issueth, is divided among two, or more. As if a Man hath a Rent-Service issuing out of Land, and he purchases Parcel of the Land, the Rent shall be apportioned, according to the Value of the Land. So if a Man hold his Land of another by Homage, Fealty, Eicuage and Rent, if the Lord, of whom the Land is holden, purchases Parcel of the Land, the Rent shall be apportioned. And if a Man let Lands for Years, reserving Rent, and after a Stranger recovers Part of the Land, then the Rent shall be apportioned, and the Lessee shall pay, having respect to that which is recovered, and to that which remains in his Hands, according to the Value. But a Rent-charge cannot be apportioned, nor Things that are entire: As if one hold Land by Service, to pay his Lord yearly at such a Feast, a Horse, a Hawk, a Role, or a Cherry, &c. There if the Lord purchase Part of the Land, the Service is totally extinct; because such Things cannot be divided or apportioned, without Damage to the Entirety: In some Cases, a Rent-charge shall be apportioned; as if a Man has a Rent-charge issuing out of Land, and his Father purchases Parcel of the Lands charged in Fee, and dies, and this Parcel descends to his Son, who hath the Rent-charge; there this Charge shall be apportioned, according to the Value of the Land: Because such Portion of Land purchased by the Father, comes not to the Son by his own Act, but by Descent, and Course of Law. Common Appendant is of Common Right, and severable; and though the Commoner purchase Parcel of the Land, whereto the Common is appendant, yet the Common shall be apportioned. But in this Case, Common Appurtenant, and not Appendant, by such Purchase is extinct. Co. lib. 8. fol. 79. Termes de Ley 48, 59.

Apportum. — Ita quod profusa manerii predicti nomine Apporti quolibet anno prefato A. in subventionem sustentationis sue solvantur. an. 22 Ed. 1. It seems to be deduced from the French Apport, which beside the Common, signifies the Revenue, Gain or Profit, which a Thing brings in to its Owner. And in the Place cited, it is used for an Augmentation given to any Abbot, for his better Support out of the Profits of a Manor. The Word was commonly used for a Corrody or Pension: — Nicolaus Gwyn Prior de Andover, debet xx Marcas de quodam Apporto, ad capitalem Domini ejusdem Prioris, in partibus transmarinis, in tempore pacis debito. Ex Registro evidentiarii Colleg. Wickham juxta Winton. MS. — Rex Edwardus III. restituit terras Prioratum Alienigenarum salvo nobis Apporto, quod prefatus Procurator alicui domini superiori solvere tenetur. Claus. 14 E. 3. The Word might at first signify any Profit or Emolument apported or brought to another. And therefore Du Fresne observes in the Customary of Rhemes, Apport was the Portion which the Wife brought to the Husband.

Appofal of Sheriffs, Is the charging them with Money received upon their Account in the Exchequer. 22, 23 Car. 2. Act for better Recovery of Fines due to his Majesty.

Appendix, (French) As a Fee or Profit Appendre, 2 & 3 Ed. 6. cap. 8. A Fee or Profit to be taken, or received.

Apprentice, Apprentitius, (French Apprentif, and that from apprendre, to learn; whence the Fr. Apprentissage, and our Apprenticeship) signifies with us one that is bound in Word or Writing, to serve another Man of Trade for certain Years, upon Condition, That the Artificer, or Master shall in that mean Time endeavour to instruct him in his Art or Mytery. Smith de Rep. Ang. lib. 3. cap. 8. saith, They are a kind of Bondmen, differing only, that they be Servants by Covenant, and for a Time. Baristers at Law were heretofore called Apprentices of the Law, in Latin; Apprentitii juris mobiliores: So saith Mr. Selden in his Notes upon Fortescue, p. 3. And so the learned Mr. Ploeden stiled himself. Sir Henry Finch, in his Nomotechnia, gives himself the same Title. And Sir Edw. Coke. 2 Part. Inst. fol. 564. holds, That Apprentitii Legis are called Homines Consilarii, & in Leges periti. And in another Place — Apprentices and other Counsellors of Law. Of the Word Apprentitius, as it signifies a young Person, bound by Indentures to a Master, who upon such Covenants, is to teach him his Mytery or Trade; I think the oldest Authority is from a Charter, dated 12 Ed. 3. recited in Mr. Kennet's Parochial Antiquities, p. 449. At least I have met with no Mention of them, till the Beginning of the next Reign, when Henry de Knighton, sub an. 1381. Apprentitii quoque relictis Magistris suis illuc accurrebant. And Tho. Walsingham in Ric. 2. p. 103. De Londonio multi Apprentitii, plures servi, sumptis altis Capitiis, invitis Magistris & Dominis sunt profecti. Vid. Selden's Notes on Fortescue, p. 2. Orig. Jurid. fol. 143. a. and the Statute of Champertry. 33 Ed. 1.

Appropriation, Appropriatio, proceedeth from the French Approprier, i. e. Apptare, accomodate; and properly significth in the Law of England, a Severing of a Benefice Ecclesiastical, which originally, and in Nature is, Juris divini & in patrimonio nullius, to the proper and perpetual Use of some religious Houles, or Dean and Chapter, Bishop or College: And the Reason of the Name may be this; because, that whereas Parsons ordinarily be not accounted Domini, but Usufructuarii, having no Right of Fee-simple. Lit. Tit. Discontinuance. There, by reason of their Perpetuity, are accounted Owners of the Fee-simple, and therefore are called Proprietarii. And before the Time of Richard II. it was lawful (as it seems) to appropriate the whole Fruits of a Benefice to an Abbey or Priory, they finding one to serve the Cure. But that King redressed that Evil by a good Law, whereby he ordained, That in every Licence of Appropriation made in Chancery, it should be expressly contained, That the Diocesan of the Place should provide a convenient Sum of Money, yearly to be paid out of the Fruits, towards the Suttenance of the Poor of that Parish, and that the Vicar should be well and sufficiently endowed. 15 R. 2. cap. 6. Touching the first Institution, and other Things worth the Learning about Appropriations, read Ploewd. in Grendon's Case, fol. 496. b. & seq. As also Termes de Ley verbo Appropriation. To an Appropriation, after the Licence obtained of the King in Chancery, the Consent of the Diocesan, and the Patron and Incumbent are necessary, if the Church be full; but if it be void, the Diocesan and Patron may conclude it. Ploewd. ubi supra. To dissolve an Appropriation, it is enough to present a Clerk to the Bishop, and he to institute and induct him: For that once done, the Benefice returns to the former Nature. Fitz. Nat. Brev. fol. 35. & Co. l. 7. fol. 13. See the Methods of Appropriation, and the fatal Abuse of thus robbing Church and Clergy, and the laudable Ways and Means of restoring Impropriations to the better Maintenance of Parish Priests, &c. discoursed at large, in Mr. Kennet's Paroch. Antiq. p. 433.

Appropriare ad honorem, To bring a Manor within the Extent or Liberty of such an Honour. Petrus de Afferburg tunc Senescallus honoris Sancti Walerici appropriavit dictum manerium ad honorem Sancti Walerici — Paroch. Antiq. p. 336.

Appropriare Communiam, To discommen, i. e. to separate and enclose any Parcel of Land, that was before open Common. So A. D. 1299. the Prior and Convent of Burcester granted to the Rector of Afferburg and the Bon hommes of that Place, quod sibi possint appropriare, & includere pro voluntate sua tres Acres de Comuni pastura in Blake-thorn, &c. Paroch. Antiq. p. 336.

Approve, (Approbare), To Augment, or, (as it were,) To examine to the utmost. For Example; To approve Land is to make the best Benefit of it by encreasing the Rent, &c. an. 9 Hen. 6. cap. 10. Bailiffs of Lords in their Franchises are called their Approvers: And by what follows, you may see what Kind of Approvers or Improvers were formerly in the Marches of Wales, authorized by the Prince thereof. Richard de Lyngain Improver desub Commission nostre tre-dont Seigneur le Prince deins le Comte de Hereford, & le Marches adjoignant, a toutz yeux qui cestz Letters verront ou orront, salutx. Sachez moy aver grant a une fanin de Brompton loyal & liege home nostre Seigneur le Roy, & a ses servants, de vendre & acheter bests & berbez deins le Comte de Hereford, & le Marche adjoignant sans eschequement ou arrest de nulluy, come loyal & liege homes, a son propre use & envese, sans refressement des Rebels de Gales. Et cest ma Lettre serra son Garrant. En tesmoignage de quel chose a yeste j'ay mis mon Seal. Don a Lemesire le xi. jour de Juleit le ann de Regne le Roy Henrie le quart apres le Conquest, quarte. — See 2 Part. Instit. fol. 472. — Quod nullus liber tenens infra Baroniam illam se appropiare possit de vasso suo, &c.

Approve also occurs in old Records, as, approve vassa, — and vassis appropiatis.

Approbementum, — Cum omnibus Approbementis, & aliis pertinentiis suis. Mon. Angl. 2 part. fol. 607. b. Improvement.

Approbement (Anno 43 Eliz. cap. 11.) is the same with Improvement; but it is more particularly used for the Enclosing Part of a Common by the Lord of the Manor, leaving sufficient nevertheless for the Commoners.

The Word Approvement properly signifies the Profits of a Farm : Posueruntque custodes qui medio tempore exitus & approviamenta terre ad opus illorum custodient. Wallingham, pag. 57.

Approver, Approbator, Cometh of the French Approver, Approbare ; It signifies one that confessing Felony of himself, appealeth or accuseth another, one or more to be guilty of the same; and he is called so, because he must prove that which he hath alledged in his Appeals. Staundf. Pl. Cor. fol. 142. And that Proof is by Battle, or by the Country, at his Election that is appealed. The Form of this Accusation you may in Part gather by Crom. Just. of Peace, fol. 250, & 351. That it is done before the Coroner, either assigned unto the Felon by the Court, to take and record what he saith, or else called by the Felon himself, and required for the good of the Prince and Common-wealth, to record that which he saith, &c. The Oath of the Approver, when he beginneth the Combat, see also in Crompt. pag. ult. As also the Proclamation by the Herald. Of the Antiquity of this Law, you may see something in Horn's Mirror of Just. lib. 1. in fine cap. del Officio de Coroner : and more at large, Bracton. lib. 3. trañt. 2. ca. 21, & 34. Staundf. Pl. Cor. l. 2. c. 52. cum seq. 3. Part. Inj. fol. 129. See Prover. Cum probator perfectit quod promissit tenetur ei conventio, scilicet ut vitam habeat & membra, sed in regno remanere non debet, etiam si velit plagas invenire, saith Bracton. See Fleta, lib. 2. cap. 52. par. 42. and Staundford's Pleas of the Crown, cap. 52.

Approvers of the King (Approbatore Regis), are those that have the Letting of the King's Demesns in small Manors, to his best Advantage. Anno 51 H. 3. Stat. 5. And in the Statute of 1 Ed. 3. cap. 8. the Sheriffs did call themselves King's Approvers.

Appruare is to take to his own Use or Profit, viz. Domini vasorum & bosorum, &c. appruare se possunt de vastis, &c. W. 2. cap. 50.

Apsulby. See Abbailla.

Aquage, Aquagium quasi Aquæ agium, i. e. aquæ ductus, aquæ gangium, aquæ iter, a Water-course. — Non liceat alicui de cetero facere dammas vel faldas, aut alia impedimenta in aliquibus landeis, water-gangiis, fossatis, sive aquagiis communibus in marisco prædicto. Ordinatio Marisci de Romney facta tempore H. 3. & Ed. 1. See Watergag.

Arabant ad Cuviam Domini, Was intended of those who held by the Tenure of ploughing and tilling the Lands of the Lord, infra Cuviam, i. e. manerium suum. Spel. Gloss. verb. Arabant.

Aralia, Plur. Arable Grounds, Domesday Tit. Essex. Rex. hundred. de Cheremesford. — Silva 20 porc. decem Ar. prati 2. noncul. Quatuor Aralia 23 porc. 50. oves 24. caponei, &c.

Arbitrator, May be taken to proceed either from the Latin (Arbitrator) or the French (Arbitre) and signifieth an extraordinary Judge in one or more Causes between Party and Party, chosen by their mutual Consents. West. Sym. Part. 2. Tit. Compromise, sect. 21. who likewise divideth Arbitrement into General, that is, including all Actions, Quarrels, Executions and Demands, and especial, which is of one or more Matters, Facts, or Things specified, ibid. sect. 2, 3, 4. The Civilians make a Difference between arbitrum and ar-

bitratorem, lib. 76. π pro socio ; for though they both ground their Power upon the Compromise of the Parties, yet their Liberty is divers : For Arbitrator is tied to proceed and judge according to Law, with Equity mingled. Arbitrator is permitted wholly to his own Discretion, without Solemnity of Process, or Course of Judgment, to hear and determine the Controversy committed unto him ; so it be juxta arbitrium boni viri. See Alto & Basso.

Arbitrement, Is an Award, or Determination, made by one, or two at the Request of two Parties at least. To every Arbitrement five Things are incident, scil. 1. Matter of Controversy. 2. Submission. 3. Parties to the Submission. 4. Arbitrators, and 5. Giving up of the Arbitrement. Dyer, 217. Pl. 60. How an Arbitrement may be avoided, see 7 H. 6. c. 40. And Termes de la Ley, f. 54. Also no Party shall be bound by an Arbitrement, unless the Award be delivered unto him. As it is, Co. lib. 5. f. 103. And lib. 8. f. 98.

Arca Cyrographica, or Cyrographorum Fudeorum, was a common Chest with three Locks and Keys, kept by certain Christians and Jews, specially designed for that Purpose, wherein all the Contrasts, Mortgages, and Obligations, belonging to the Jews were kept, to prevent Fraud ; and this by Order of King Richard I. Hoveden's Annals, Parte postea. pag. 745.

Arceoniz, Arceus Epippiarius. French, Arcon de Selle de Cheval ; English, Saddle-bow. — Bertramus le Wyle tenet terras in Brabam Com. Beaf. de Domino Rege per Serjantiam reddendi per annum unum par Arceonum ad Sellam ; & Prior de Neunham tenet terram in Surrey de Domino Rege, in capite per Serjantiam, reddendi per annum unum par Arceonum dealbatum ad Sellam. Tenur. p. 37.

Arch-deacon, Archilevita, Archidiaconus. In the Primitive Church, the Arch-deacon was employ'd by the Bishop in more servile Duties of collecting and distributing Alms and Offerings, and seems to have been subservient to the Arch-Presbyters, the Urban or Rural Deans of Christianity, to whom they were originally as much inferior, as their Order of Deacon was to that of Priests : Till by the Advantages of a Personal Attendance on the Bishop, and a Delegation to examine and report some Causes, and Commission to visit some remoter Parts of the Diocese, they became in Effect Eyes to the Overseers of the Church ; and by degrees advanc'd into considerable Dignity and Power. Lanfranc Archbishop of Canterbury, was the first Prelate in England, who instituted an Arch-deacon in his own Diocese about the Year 1075, when upon the Death of Godwyn, the Suffragan Bishop of St. Martin's, he would not consecrate any other assisting Bishop, but ordain'd Valerius Archdeacon, to execute the like Jurisdiction within his Diocese of Canterbury. Which Example gave Occasion to the Establishing of Arch-deacons, and Allotting their Districts in every other Diocese, within few Years after Lanfranc.

Archery was a Service of keeping a Bow for the Use of the Lord, to defend his Castle. Johannes de Archier qui tenet de Domino Rege in capite per Serjeantiam Archeriæ. Co. Litt. Sect. 157.

Archies Court, (Curia de archibus) Is the chief and most ancient Consistory that belongeth to the Archbishop of Canterbury, for the debating of Spiritual Causes ; and is so call'd from the Church in London, dedicated to the Blessed Virgin, commonly called the Church of St. Mary le Bow, where it is held ; and the Church is named Bow.

Bow-Church, from the Fashion of the Steeple, whose top raised of Stone Pillars, is builded Archwise, like so many bent Bows. The Judge of this Court, is termed The Dean of the Arches, or The Official of the Arches Court. Dean of the Arches, because with this Officiality, is commonly joined a peculiar Jurisdiction of thirteen Parishes in London, termed a Deanery, being exempt from the Authority of the Bishop of London, and belonging to the Archbishop of Canterbury; of which the Parish of Bow is one, and the Principal, because the Court is there kept. Others conceive that he was first called Dean of the Arches, because the Official to the Archbishop being many Times employ'd abroad in Embassies for the King and Realm; the Dean of the Arches was his Substitute in this Court, and by that Means the Names became confounded. The Jurisdiction of this Judge is ordinary, and extendeth it self through the whole Province of Canterbury. So that upon any Appeal made, he forthwith, and without any further Examination of the Cause, sends out his Citation to the Appellee, and his Inhibition to the Judge from whom the Appeal was made. Of this you may read more in Hist. de Antiquit. Eccles. Britan. And 4 Part, Inst. fol. 337.

Archives, Archiva, A derivative from Arca, a Chest. The Rolls, or any Place where ancient Records, Charters, and Evidences are kept; also the Chancery, or Exchequer-Office. Also the private Repository in Libraries.

Artesie were a Sort of Tiles of a blue Colour, like our Cornish Slate.

Arche is an old Word, signifying to divulge; from whence we derive the Word Reckon.

Arentare, To Rent out, or set at a certain Rent. — Ricardus de Arnesfione Ballivus manerii de Kinesford, maliciose & per violentiam ditos Religiosos de eadem piscaria ejecit, & ipsam Domino suo Arentari fecit in 12 fol. quos idem Dominus per 6 annos recepit. — Consuetud. Domus de Farendon. MS. f. 53.

Aterement, Surprise, Affrightment. — To the great Aterement and Erterysment of the Common Law. Rot. Parl. 21 Ed. 3.

Argentarius Miles is mentioned in Gero. Tilbury: Et dicitur qui ab inferiori scaccario ad superius desert loculum examinandi argenti, ubi videtur miles poni pro gregario famulo.

Argentum Album, Silver Coin, or current Money. By Doomsday Tenure, some Rents to the King were paid in Argento albo, common Silver Pieces of Money, other Rents in libris usys & pensatis, in the Meral and full Weight and Purity. So the King's Manor at Brethul, Com. Buck. veddebet per annum 28 libras de albo argento, & pro sovefa 12 libras usys & pensatis. Paroch. Antiq. p. 165. Hence in the next Age, that Rent which was paid in Money was called Blanch-fearn, and afterwards White-rent; and what they paid in Provision was term'd Black-mal.

Argentum Dei, God's Money; That is, Money given in Earnest upon the making of any Bargain. It is still called God's Penny in the North: I meet but with this one Authority of taking such Money in Hand as an Earnest of a remaining Sum. — Adam de Holt vendidit quintam partem manerii de Berton Henrico Scot. & cepit de predicto Henrico tres denarios de Argento Dei, pro manibus. Placit. apud Castr. 2 Ed. 3. Hence Arles, Earnest; and Arles-Penny, now used in Torkshire, where they likewise call Servants Vails Arles.

Argumentosus, Is a Word mentioned by our Historian Neubrigenfis, and signifies Ingenious: In picturis quoque opera argumentosa vocamus. Lib. 1. cap. 14. Apes argumentosa, &c.

Arcomum, Kenchester near Hereford.

Arriban, Is the Edit of the King, commanding all his Tenants to come into the Army: If they refuse, then to be deprived of their Estates. From the Sax. Here, Exercitus, and Ban, Editum.

Arrium levatio, an old sportive Exercise, which seems to have been the same with running at the Quintan, or Quintal. See Quintan.

Arma dare, To Dub or make a Knight, An. Dom. 1144. 10 Steph. Ego Brientius filius Comitiss, quem bonus Rex Henricus nutriti, & cui arma dedit & honorem. So Arma capere, to be made a Knight. A. D. 1278. 31 Ed. 3. A die quo dictus Comes (i. e. Henricus de Lacy) arma militaria à Domino Henrico Rege data nostro cepit. See Mr. Kennet's Parochial Antiquities, p. 101, 289. Quem etiam premature militem fecit donatum chlamyde coccinea, gemmato baltheo, ense saxonico, cum vagina aurea. Malmf. lib. 2. cap. 2. de Ethelstano. So in Hoveden, Part 1. Post hac in hebdomada Pentecostes, filium suum Henricum apud Westm. armis militaribus honoravit. And in Walsingham, pag. 507. Die Dominica in vigilia Purificationis, Edwardus juvenis suscepit arma militaria.

'Tis true, the Word Arma in these Places signifies only a Sword, but sometimes a Knight was made by giving him the whole Armour: Thus we read, Lanfrancus Dorobernensis Episcopus eum lorica induit, & galeam capiti imposuit; eique & Regis filio militie cingulum in romine Dei cinxit. Ordericus Vitalis. Lib. 8. de Henrico, &c.

Arma deponere, Was enjoin'd when a Man had committed an Offence. LL. Hen. 1. cap. 68.

Arma libera Were a Sword and a Lance which were usually given to a Servant, when he was made free.

Arma molita, Sharp Weapons that cut, and are not blunt, which only break or bruise, Bract. lib. 3. tract. 2. ca. 23. & Staundf. Pl. Cor. 78, 79. Bracton's Words be these, Arma moluta plagam faciunt, sicut gladius & hujusmodi: Ligna vero & lapides, brujuras, vrbes & ictus, qui judicari non possunt ad plagam, ad hoc ut inde venire possit ad duellum. And Fleta lib. 2. c. 33 par. 6. calls them arme emolita.

Arma mutare was a Ceremony used to confirm a League or Friendship.

Armandia, or jus Armandia. Habent Principes plura jura sive regalia ut sunt Armandia, quod exponitur per aliquos esse jus faciendi fieri arma; & per alios esse littora quae sunt publica & regalia quoad defensionem ac protectionem, ut prohibeant ibi fieri quicquam si usus litoris publicis impediatur. M. S. vocat. antiqua Via, penes Tho. Street. Serocien. ad legem.

Arma rebricata. This was when a Man was convicted of Treason or Felony. Thus Knighon, speaking of Hugh Spencer, Primo vestierunt eum uno vestimento cum armis rebratis. lib. 3. pag. 2546.

Armigeri; Not only a Title of Dignity, but the common Appellation of Servants, especially in Convents. I suppose the better Sort of Servants, yet such as wore Liveries in the Priory of Burcester, where in 4 Hen. 6. the Prior and Bursar accounted — & in blodeo panno empto pro Armigeris & valedictis Prioris de Johanne Bandy de Magna-Tue. Pannario erga Natale Domini hoc anno 7 lib. 15. fol. 11. Ken. Paroch. Antiquit. p. 576. This is the same servile Office, which by Sir Henry Spelman is called quedam Species Armigerorum in the Abbey of Battle, Com. Suff. where the Abbot and Convent granted Hugoni Francey Armigero suo, a yearly yearly Prestation or Wages, and a customary Livory.

Armour or Arms, (arma) in the Understanding of Law, are extended to any Thing that a Man wears for his Defence, or takes into his Hands, or useth in his Wrath to cast at or strike another. Crompt. Justice of Peace, fol. 65. So that Armorum Appellatio non ubique scuta & gladios, & galeas significat, sed & fustes & lapides.

Arms are also what we call in Latin Insignia, Ensigns of Honour.

Armistice is a Sort of Punishment decreed or imposed by the Judge. Malsb. lib. 3. pag. 97. Walsingham, pag. 430. At first it was to carry a Saddle at his Back in Token of Subjection, viz. Nudis vestigiis equestrem sellam ad satisfaciendum humeris feret. Thus Brompton tells us, that in the Year 1176, the King of the Scots promised Hen. the 2d. at York, Lanceam & sellam suam super Altare Sancti Petri, ad perpetuam hujus subjectionis memoriam offerre.

Arnaldia, Arnoldia: A Sort of Disease, that makes the Hair fall off, like the Alopecia, or like Distemper in Foxes. — Deinde uterque Rex incidit in agritudinem quam Arnaldiam vocant, in qua ipsi ad mortem usque laborantes capillos suos deposuerunt. Rog. Hoveden. Ric. 1. p. 693. & Brompton. col. 1201.

— Cum autem Rex Ricardus per aliquot dies ibi moram fecisset, gravissimam incurrit agritudinem, qua vulgo Arnaldia vocatur, ex ignota regionis constitutione cum ejus naturali complexionem minus concordante. Gausfridi Vineaus, Ricardi Regis, Iter Hieros. cap. 4. l. 3.

Arpen, or Arpent, (Fr.) an Acre or Furlong of Ground: The most ordinary one, called L'Arpent de France, is one hundred Perches square, after eighteen Foot to the Perch; some account it but half an Acre, this Word is often found in Domesday, Quatuor Arpenni vinea noviter plantata. Tit. Middlesex. — Septem acras terre & unum Arpentum qua me contingebant per Eschaieam. Ex Reg. Priorat. de Wormsley, fol. 7. b. where Arpen seems to be some Quantity less than an Acre. Hence Arpentator is used for a Measurer of Lands.

Arrain or Arraign, (from the French Arranger, i. e. To set a Thing in Order, or in its Place,) hath the same Signification in Law: For he is said to arraign a Writ of Novel Disseisin, who prepares and fits it for Trial before the Justices of the Circuit. Old Nat. Br. fol. 109. Littleton (pag. 78.) useth the Word in the same Sense, viz. The Lessee arraigneth an Assise of Novel Disseisin.

To arraign the Assise is to cause the Tenant to be called, to make the Plaintiff, and to set the Cause in such Order, as the Tenant may be forced to answer thereto. Coke on Littl. fol. 262. b. Also a Prisoner is said to be arraigned, when he is indicted and brought forth to his Trial. Arraigned within the Verge upon Murder. Staundf. Pl. Cor. fol. 150. The Manner of this Arraignment you may read in Sir Thomas Smith de Rep. Angl. lib. 2. cap. 23. — The Learned Spelman is of Opinion it should be written Arvame, from Arvare, and that from the old French Arvanir, i. e. furare, promittere, solemmniter profiteri. But this must be a Mistake: For in the Register we find no such Word as Arvare; but in all the Writs of Assise 'tis Arvainavit: And so it is in the Year-Books, and in Fitzh. Nat. Brev. The true Derivation is from the Fr. Arraionner, i. e. ad rationem ponere, viz. To call a Man to answer in Form of Law. And this comes from the barbarous Lat. Arvatio-nare. i. e. Placitare: So that when a Criminal is arraigned, 'tis ponere eum ad rationem.

Arrap. Arrayed in barbarous Latin is Arraiatus, i. e. Well appointed or provided; and that comes from the old French Word Arroye, or Arroye. Thus we read in Thorn's Chron. Gentes suffi-ent munitas & arraitas: And in Knighton, Lib. 3. Rediit tota fortitudo, &c. distincta & bene arraitata. So that it signifies, in a particular Manner, Military Order; but now a Ranking or Setting forth a Jury of Men empanelled upon a Cause. 18 Hen. 6. cap. 14. Hence the Verb to Array a Panel. Anno 3 H. 5. cap. 5. and Old Nat. Br. 157. That is, To set forth the Men empanelled one by another. The Array shall be quashed. Ibidem. By the Statute every Array in Assise ought to be made four Days before. Brook, Tit. Pannel. Numb. 10. To challenge the Array. Kitten, fol. 92. See Challenge. To lead and conduct Persons armed and arrayed. 14 Car. 2. cap. 3.

Aravers, (Arviatores) is used in the Statute, 12 Rich. 2. cap. 6. for such Officers as had Care of the Soldiers Armour, and did see them duly accounted in their Kinds. Such were the Commissioners of Arroy, appointed by King Charles the First, in the Year 1642. and Edward the Third, in the first Year of his Reign, appointed such Commissioners to array Men against the Scots: Edw. Dei Gratia Rex Anglie, Dominus Hib. & Dux Aquit. dilectis & fidelibus suis Johanni de Occlesbop & Johanni de Fenton, electoribus & Arraiatoribus hominum in Wapentacio de Barkeston, salutem. Cum ad repellendam Sotorum maliciam qui regnum nostrum hostiliter sunt ingressi, homicidium, depredationes, incendia & alia mala — citia perpetrando versus partes Marchie Scotie, &c. Inde Scoti cum toto posse suo, ut pr. certo didicimus, prope civitatem nostram Kaveoli ista die Martis se congregare proponunt, &c. Nos considerantes periculum, &c. Omnes homines defensibiles & potentes ad pugnandum ejusdem Wapentachii tam milites quam alii, &c. T. meipso apud North-Alverton xiii die Junii, Anno Regni nostri primo.

Arreayages, (from the Fr. Arriere, retro.) the Remainder of an Accompt, or a Sum of Money remaining in the Hands of an Accomptant. It is sometimes used more generally for any Money unpaid at a due Time; as Arreayages of Rent. That this Word is borrow'd from the French, appears by Tiraquel, De utroque retractu, Tom. 3. pag. 3. num. 10.

Arreatus, Suspected, Accused. Offic. Coronat. Si autem aliquis arreatus fuerit de morte alicujus periclitantis, capietur & imprisonetur. From the old Norman, rette. Westm. cap. 1. Quant Clerk est prise pour rette de felonie. — Cens queux sont endites de tiel rette per selemne inquest. So cap. 21. Spelman.

Arrenatus, Arraigned. Stephanus Rabaz, Vic. Leic. arrenatus & ad rationem positus de hoc quod, &c. Rot. Parl. 21 Ed. 1.

Arrentare is a Word often mentioned in our Histories, and it signifies To rent, Viz. Ne terre vel tenementa eorum ea occasione arrententur. Charta, Ed. 1. And in the Monasticon, 2 Tom. pag. 273. viz. Reddendo nobis per Annum 56 solidos ad quos vastia & assaria sua in diversis forestis arrentanda assignatas arrentabatur. And in Consuetud. Domus de Earendon. MS. fol. 53. Ricardus de Arnestone Ballivus Manerii de Kingesford, malitiose & per violentiam dictos Religiosos de eadem Piscaria eject, & ipsam Domino suo arrentari fecit in 12 sol. quos idem Dominus per 6 annos recepit.

Arrentation,

Arrentation, (from the Span.) Arrendare, q. Ad certum redditum dimittere, Ordin. Forestæ, 34 Edw. 1. cap. 5.) signifies the Licensing an Owner of Lands in the Forest, to enclose them, (Bassa haya & parvo fossato, i. e. with a low Hedge, and small Ditch, which is according to the Assise of the Forest,) under a yearly Rent. Saving the Arrentations is a saving Power to give such Licences for a yearly Rent. Rents for Purprestures arrented, Anno 22 Car. 2. cap. 6.

Arrest, Fr. A Stop or Stay, and is metaphorically used for a Decree, or Determination of a Cause debated or disputed pro et con; as Arrest du Senat, i. e. Placitum Curie. With us Arrest is taken for the Execution of the Command of some Court or Officer of Justice; and a Man stopped, stayed, or apprehended for Debt, &c. is said to be arrested, which may be called The Beginning of Imprisonment. See Hantelode. To move or plead in Arrest of Judgment, is to shew Cause why Judgment should be staid, notwithstanding the Verdict be given. To plead in Arrest of taking the Inquest upon the former Issue, is to shew Cause why an Inquest should not be taken, &c. Brook. Tit. Repleader. For preventing of Arrests of Judgments, see Statute 16 & 17 Car. 2. cap. 8. Buden (says Lambard Eirenarch. lib. 2. cap. 2. pag. 94) in his Greek Commentaries, thinks that the French Word Arrest, which with them (as we said) signifies the Decree or Judgment of the Court, took Beginning from the Greek ἀρεστός, i. e. Placitum, as we may say the Pleasure of the Court, yet I believe rather that we receive the same from the Normans Law, because we use it in the same Sense with them: For commonly with us an Arrest is taken for the Execution of the Commandment of some Court, or of some Officer of Justice: But howsoever the Name began, an Arrest is a certain Restraint of a Man's Person, depriving him of his own Will, and binding him to become obedient to the Will of the Law: Precepts and Writs of the Highest Courts of Law, do use to express it by two several Words, Capias and Attachies, to take or catch Hold of: And it seems that this Word is spread farther than France, for Gale, a German Writer, shews by his Treatise, De Arrestis Imperii, that it is used in the Imperial Treaties, in the same Signification. cap. 1. n. 1.

Arrestantis bonis ne dissipentur is a Writ which lies for him whose Cattel or Goods are taken by another, who during the Controversy doth or is like to make them away, and will hardly be able to make Satisfaction for them afterward. Register of Writs, fol. 126.

Arrestando ipsum, qui pecuniam recepit ad prosciendum in obsequium Regis, &c. is a Writ which lies for the Apprehension of him that hath taken Preit-Money for the King's Wars, and hides himself when he should go. Register of Writs, fol. 24. b.

Arresto facto super bonis mercatorum alienigenarum, &c. is a Writ which lies for a Denizen against the Goods of Strangers of any other Country, found within this Kingdom, in Recompence of Goods taken from him in that Country, after he hath been denied Restitution there. Register of Writs, fol. 129. a. This among the ancient Civilians was called Clarigatio, now barbarously Reprisalia.

Arrested, Arrestatus, quasi, Ad rectum vocatus, that is, He who is converted before a Judge, and charged with a Crime. It is sometimes used for Imputed or laid unto; as, No Folly may be arrested to one under Age. Littleton, cap. Remitter. Chaucer useth the Verb Arrestith, i. e. Layeth Blame, as it is interpreted. Bracton says, Ad rectum habere Malefactorum, i. e. To have the Malefactor forth coming, so as he may be charged, and put to his Trial, Lib. 3. tract. 2. cap. 10. And in another Place, Rectatus de morte hominis, charged with the Death of a Man.

Arrepennes, Arpernus, the same with Arpennis, an Arpen or Arpent. Ego Bernardus de Novo Mercato, consensu Henrici Regis, pro anima Joannis patris sui, dedi Sanctæ Trinitati Sanctoquoque Martino de Bello in Gualia super litus præfati fluminis, quod Tile dicitur tres Arrepennes pratorum. Cartular. S. Jo. de Brcon, MS.

Arrura, — Hoc Scriptum factum apud Sutton Courtenay, 30 Die Dec. 4 Edw. 3. inter Dominum Hugonem de Courtenay ex parte una & Ric. de Stanlake & Johannam uxorem ejus ex altera, testatur, quod idem Dominus Hugo in excambium — remisit — eisdem Ricardo & Johanna — omnimoda opera, viz. Arruras, Messones & Carriagia, & alia quæcumque opera. — Et ipsi non dabant Mediet, &c. Penes Tho. Wollascote de Sutton prædict. Ar. And in the Black Book of Heref. I find De operationibus Arruræ which signifies Days-Works of Plowing: For, of old, Customary Tenants were bound to plow certain Days for their Lord.

Arfura, The Trial of Money by Fire after it was coined. Auri vel argenti confatio purgationis ergo vel examinis. Where it is said in Domesday, Reddit 50 l. ad Arfuram, it is meant of lawful and approved Money, whose Alloy was tried by Fire.

Art and Part is a Term used in Scotland and the North of England. When one is charged with a Crime they say, He was Art and Part in committing the same, i. e. That he was both a Contriver, and acted his Part in it.

Arthel, (An. 26 H. 8. cap. 6. — And that no Person or Persons shall hereafter, at any Time, cast any Thing into the Court with n Wales, or the Lordships Marches of the same, by the Mean or Name of an Arthel, by reason whereof the Court may be letted, disturbed, or discontinued for that Time, upon Pain of, &c.) is a British Word, and is more truly written Arddelw, which the South Welshmen write Arthel, and signifies (according to Dr. Davis's Dictionary) Affipulari, Affereve, Vindicare; Assertio, Vindicatio; Angl. Abouch. Example; W deit Dym, 'at ledwad yn ei Law rhaid iddo geisio Arddelw cyfreithlon, i fwyd ei ledwad odwyrtho, i. e. If a Man be taken with stoln Goods in his Hands, he must be allowed a lawful Arddelw (Vouchee) to clear him of the Felony: Which is Part of the Law of Howel Dda; but probably was so abused in Henry the Eighth's Time, by the Delay or Exemption of Felons and other Criminals from Justice, that Provision by this Statute was made against it. According to the Laws of Howel Dda, every Tenant holding of any other than of the Prince or Lord of the Fee, paid a Fine pro defensione Regia, which was called Artan Arthel.

Articles of the Clergy (Articuli Cleri) are certain Statutes made touching Persons and Causes Ecclesiastical, Anno 9 Edw. 2. and Anno 14 Edw. 3. Stat. 3.

Articulus, an Article or Complaint exhibited by Way of Libel in a Court-Christian: Sometimes the Religious bound themselves to obey the Ordinary without such Process: As Anno Dom.

1300, the Prior and Convent of Burcester submitted themselves to the Official of Lincoln, &c.
*Quod possint eos & eorum successores per omnem censu-ram Ecclesiasticam ad omnium & singulorum premis-sorum observationem, absque articulis seu libelli peti-tione, & quocumque strepitu judiciali compellere. Paroch.
Antiq. Pag. 344.*

Arundinetum, Ground, or a Place where Reeds grow. 1 Inst. fol. 4. b.

Arvil, Supper, a Feast or Entertainment given at Funerals, which Custom is still retained in some of the North, and North-west Parts of England. So Arvil-bread, the Loaves distributed to the Poor at such Funeral Solemnities. And Arvil, Arval, Arsal, are used for the Burial or Funeral Rites. As

*Come, bring my Jerkin Tibb, Ile to the Arvil, Ton Man's dea Seuy Seom, it makes me Marvil.

Arura, pro Aratura. Ploughing: Una arura, One Day's Work at the Plough. — Tenet in bondagio & debet unam aruram in yeme, & unam sirculaturam. Paroch. Antiq. p. 401. Hence in Wiltshire to Ear is to plough, and an Earing is a Day's Ploughing. In which Sense the Word occurs in many Parts of the Old Testament, as
Gen. 45. 6. Deut. 21. 4. 1 Sam. 8. 12, &c.

Ascensiozum, i. e. Steps by which one ascends.
Brevis est scala, non laboriosa, tribus tantum distincta ascensibus. Petrus Blesensis. Term. 24.

Asterium (Archisterium, Assisterium, Aciste-rium, Acysterium, Architrium, Acisterium) is a Greek Word, and signifies a Monastery. It often occurs in our old Histories. Du Cange.

Asecreta, a Secretary.

Astath, or Astath, Was a strange Kind of Purgation, used of old in Wales, by the Oaths of 300 Men: For so I find it explicated in ancient MSS. Assath est un Fur. de 300 homes in Gales; and is now abrogated. But this Custom prevailed to 1 H. 5. where a Statute cap. 6. reports it thus. — Walli emprefionez (Anglos) tanq. al temps que ils eunt fait gree a eux en cel partie, ou que ils vorront se excuser (de le mort des tiels Rebelles enfytuez) per un Astath selonc la custome de Gales; cest a dire per le serement de ccc. homes, &c. Spelman.

Astart, Astartum; In the Opinion of Manwood, Part 2. ca. 9. nu. 5. Of the Forest-Laws, comes from the French astartir, signifying to make plain, Astartum est quod redactum est ad culturam, *Fleta lib. 4. cap. 21. Item respondere: It is, saith the same Manwood, ca. 9. nu. 1. an Offence committed in the Forest, by pulling up by the Roots the Woods, that are Thickets and Covert for the Deer, and by making them as plain as arable Land. This is reputed the greatest Offence or Trespas, that can be done in the Forest to Vert or Venison, containing in it Waste, or more; for whereas Waste of the Forest, is but the felling and cutting down of the Coverts, which may grow up in Time again; an Astart is a plucking them up by the Roots, and utterly destroying them, that they can never grow again. And this is confirmed out of the Red Book in the Exchequer, in these Words, *Astarta vero, occasiones nominantur, quando,
&c. Foreste nemora vel dumeta, pascuis & latibulis ferarum opportuna succiduntur; quibus succisis & radicibus avulsis terra subvertitur & excolitur.* And again, out of the Reg. Orig. fol. 257. a. b. in the Writ ad quod dampnum, sent out in Case where a Man sueth for License to Astart his Grounds in* the Forest, and to make it seveal for Tillage;

so that it is no Offence, if done with License.
To this also may Bracton be added, *lib. 4. cap. 38
nu. 11.* where he saith, That the Words Bescu efficitur astartum, signify as much as redactus in culturam. Of this you may read more in Cramp-fur. fol. 203. And in Charta de Foresta, 9 H. 3.
ca. 4. where the English Word is not written
Astart, but assart. And in Manwood, Part 1. p. 171.
The Word is used 4 E. 1. Stat. 1. in the same Signification. That which we call Astartum, is elsewhere termed Disbocatio: Decis Genu. 78.
Quietus de Essartis, we find in a Charter of Henry the First to the Abbot of Rames, Secl. 198. & in Pat. 18 E. 3. p. 1. m. 19. Et quibusdam Satis qua sartaverunt homines ejusdem Foresta, &c. Assart was also anciently used for a Parcel of Land assarte, as appears by a Charter of Roger Earl of Mort-mer, without Date, which is in the Custody of Mr. Thomas Bridgwater: Sciunt, quod ego Rogerus de Mortuo mare Dedi Adi Pistori pro servitio suo decem acras terra super Mughedone inter pratum q. od fuit Petri Budelli & viam qua vadit per medium Mughedone. Dedit etiam eidem Adi Duo Astarta en la Hope, qua appellantur Ordrichefruding & Al-dicheruding, in quibus Astartis continentur quin uacra ad eandem mensuram tredecim acrarum super Mughedone, &c. Hiis testibus, Ade Salvag. Wait. de novo Menul, &c. The Word Astartum or Essartum, is by Spelman deriv'd from Exertum, as if Wood were thence pull'd or rooted up. Some derive it a sartendi, from weeding or cleaning Fields. Skinner runs into more fanciful Con-jectures, a Lat. Exarturare, i. e. artus seu ramos arboris descendere, arborem detruicare, vel si mavis a Lat. Exaltuare, i. e. saltum in agrum cultum transmutare. Mr. Somner is much more rational and happy, who thinks Exartum to be a Contraction of Exaratum; to which Opinion the learned Du Fresne inclines. Alii denique ab Exaro unde Exaratum, Ager exaratus, precessus; & per contractionem Exartum, uti scribi passim in vetustioribus Chartis obseruare est. Quam ultimam sententiam fulciunt Tabule veteres in Cronico Eusebiano, &c.

Astartments, (Rot. Parl. 51 Ed. 3. seem to be used in the same Sense as

Astart-Rents, which were Rents paid to the
cap. 6.*

Assault, Insultus or assultus, Cometh of the French Verb assayer, i. e. adoriri, invadere; and that French Word may be derived from the Latin assilire, that is, vim asserre, oppugnare. It signifies in Law a violent kind of Injury offered to Man's Person, of a higher Nature than Battery; for it may be committed by offering of a Blow, or by a threatening Speech, *Lambar. Eiren. lib. 1. ca.
3.* As to threaten a Collector with harsh Words, so that he dares not for Fear execute his Office, hath been reckon'd an Assault. To strike at a Man, though he be neither hurt nor hit, hath been adjudged the like. 22 Lib. Ass. Pl. 60. That Assault doth not always imply a Blow or Striking, appears, in that in Trespas for Assault and Battery, a Man may be found guilty of the Assault, and excused of the Battery. 25 E. ca. 24. The Feudists call this Assultum, and define it thus,
Assultus est impetus in personam aut locum, sive hoc pedibus fiat, vel equo aut machinis, aut quacunque alia re assiliatur. Zasius de Feud. p. 10. nu. 38. And *assilire est vim asserre, lib. Feud. 1. Tit. 5. Secl. 1.
Lat. Assultus.* — Habeant Abbas & Monachi Ra-dingenses in tota possessione sua omnem Jussum in Assultu,

Affaltu, & murdris, & furtis, de sanguinis effusione, & Pauci infractione. Cart. 1 Hen. 1. in Cartular. Abbat. de Radings, MS. f. 1. b. The Word Affaltus does in the like Sense occur in the Laws of Ed. Conf. cap. 12.

Affay of Measures and Weights, (Derived from the French Essay, i. a Proof or Trial,) is the Examination used by the Clerk of the Market, Reg. Orig. fol. 279. Ac affiam & affayam panis, vini & cervisie. Paten. 37 H. 8. Tho. Marroco.

Affayer of the King, (Affayator Regis) French Affayeur, Is an Officer of the Mint, for the due Trial of Silver, indifferently appointed between the Master of the Mint, and the Merchants that bring Silver thither for Exchange. 2 H. 6. ca. 12. Vessels of Gold shall be assayed. 28 E. 1. ca. 20. & 18 Car. 2. ca. 5. Mandatum est Will. Harvel Clerico, quod convocatis in praesentia sua omnibus, Monetariis, Affayatoribus, custodiis, operariis, & aliis ministris de Cambiis Regis London. & Cantuar. per visum & testimonium illorum provideat, quod tot & tales operarii sint in praedictis cambiis, qui sufficient ad operationes regias faciendas, ne Rex pro defectu hujusmodi ministrorum dampnum incurrat. T. apud Woodstocke 10 Jun. Claus. Hen. 3. n. 8.

Affaynare, To take Confessors or Fellow Judges. — Henricus Dei gratia Rex Angl. &c. dilecto & fideli suo Nicholao de la Tur, salutem. Sciamus quod constitutus vos iusticiarium nostrum una cum hiis quos vobis duxeritis Affaynandos ad assiam novae Discepline capiendam. — Cartular Abbat. Glaston. MS. f. 57.

Affecurare, Affecurare, To assure or make secure by Pledges, or any solemn Interposition of Faith. In the Charter of Peace between Hen. II. and his Sons, recorded by Hoveden, sub an. 1174. Affecuravit in manu Domini Regis Patris sui, quod illis qui servierunt ei, nec malum nec dampnum aliquod hac de causa faciet.

Affidation, the Setting of the King's Rents: Ubi Ballivus Regis pacta sibi mercede pradia Regis minore pretio elocavit.

Assembly unlawful, Coming from the French Assembler, i. e. Aggregare, to flock together; whence also is the Substantive Assembly, Congregatio; in a legal Sense signifying the Meeting of three or more Persons, to do an unlawful Act, although they do it not. Lamb. Eiren. lib. 1. ca. 19. See Unlawful Assembly.

Assessor, Fleta lib. 1. cap. 15. useth it quasi Ordinator, Collector, Dispositor: We now use it for him who assesseth publick Taxes, as two Inhabitants in every Parish were Assessors for the Royal Aid, that is, rated every Person according to the Proportion of his Estate. Anno 16 & 17 Car. 2. cap. 1. Also an Officer in the Presbyterian Assemblies.

Asses, From the French Asses, i. e. Satis. Bract. lib. 5. tract. 3. ca. 8. nu. 2. And altho' this Word wear the Vizard of a Substantive, yet is it in Truth but an Adverb, and signifies Goods enough to discharge that Burthen, which is cast upon the Executor or Heir, in satisfying the Testator's or Ancestor's Debts and Legacies. See Bro. Tit. Assets per descent, that whosoever insists upon Assets, intends thereby that the Party charged hath enough descended, or come to his Hands, to discharge the Thing in Demand. The Author of the New Terms of Law, maketh two Sorts of Assets; Assets per descent, and Assets enter mayns: Assets per descent is where a Man is bound in an Obligation, and dies seized of Land in Fee-simple, which descend to his Heir, then his Land shall be called Assets, that is, enough or sufficient to pay the same Debt, and by that Means the Heir shall be charged as far as the Lands so to him descended will extend. But if he have alienated before the Obligation be put in Suit, he is discharged. Also when a Man seized of Lands in Tail, or in the Right of his Wife, aliens the same with Warranty, and hath in Value as much Lands in Fee-simple, which descends to his Heir, who is also Heir in Tail, or Heir to the Woman; now if the Heir after the Decease of his Ancestor, bring a Writ of Formedon, or Sur cui in vita, for the Land so alienated; then he shall be barred, by Reason of the Warranty; and the Land so descended, which is as much in Value as that which was sold, and so thereby he hath received no Prejudice; therefore this Land is called Assets per descent. 2. Assets enter mayns is when a Man indebted makes Executors, and leaves them sufficient to pay his Debts and Legacies; or some Commodity or Profit is come to them in Right of their Testator; this is called Assets in their Hands.

Assetware, To draw or drain out Water from Marthy Grounds, — Quod ipsi marisum praedictum Assetware, & secundum legem marisici wallis includere & in culturam redigere, — & marisum ipsum sic Assetwatum, inclusum, & in culturam redactum tenere. Mon. Ang. 2 Vol. fol. 334.

Assidete or Assidare, to Tax equally. Provisum est generaliter quod praedicta Quadragesima hoc modo assidatur & colligatur. Matt. Paris. an. 1232. Sometimes it signifies to assign an annual Rent to be paid out of a particular Farm; as Manerium Rex Stephanus dedit & assedit eis centum maris.

Assign, Assignare, has two Significations, one general, as to appoint a Deputy, or set over a Right unto another; in which Sense Britton saith (fol. 122.) This Word was first brought into Use for the Favour of Bastards, because they cannot pass under the Name of Heirs, therefore were and are comprised under the Name of Assignees. The other Signification is special, as to point at, or set forth; so we may say to assign Errors, Old N. B. fol. 19. that is, to shew where the Error is committed. To assign false Judgement, Id. fol. 17. that is, to declare how and where the Judgment is unjust. To assign a false Verdict. Id. fol. 112. And to assign a Perjury. Ann. 9. R. 2. cap. 3. To assign the Cessor. Old Nat. Brev. fol. 1341. To shew how the Plaintiff had cessed or given over. To assign Waste, is to shew wherein especially the Waste is committed. Reg. Orig. fol. 72. Assign in a general Signification is used 20 E. 1. and 11 H. 6. ca. 2. in these Words, Justices assigned to take Assizes. And the Substantive Assignment hath the same Signification, West. Symbol. par. 1. lib. 2. sect. 496. As the Assignment of a Lease, is the setting over the Interest of the Lessee to another. In which Manner is used also the Word Assignee, assignatus, for one that is appointed or deputed by another, to do any Act, or perform any Business, or enjoy any Commodity. And such an Assignee may be either by Deed, or in Law: Assignee by Deed, is he that is appointed by a Person; as when a Lessee of a Term Assigns the same to another, he is his Assignee by Deed: An Assignee in Law, is he whom the Law so makes, without any Appointment of the Person. Dyer, fol. 6. nu. 5. So an Executor is Assignee in Law to the Testator, who dies possessed of a Lease made to him and his Assigns. Perkins (Tit. Grants) saith, That an Assignee is he that occupieth a Thing in his own Right, and Deputy is he that doth it in the Right of another.

Assignment of Dower. See Establishment of Dower.

Assimulare, i. e. To put together. 'Tis mentioned in Leg. H. 1. cap. 8. De via regia, viz. Tanta vero debet esse, ut inibi duo carri sibi possint obviare, & bubulci de longo sumibili sui possint Assimulare, &c.

Assisa cadere, To be Nonsuited. In what Cases such Nonsuit is suffered, see Fleta lib. 4. cap. 15. & lib. 5. cap. 6.

Assisa, Capi in modum Assise, i. e. When the Defendant pleads to the Assise without taking any Exception to the Count, Declaration, or Writ.

Assisa cadit, i. e. when there is such a plain and legal Insufficiency, that the Complainant can proceed no farther in it. Fleta lib. 4. cap. 15.

Assisa cadit in iuratam is where the Thing in Controversy is so doubtful, that it must necessarily be tried by a Jury. Fleta, lib. 4. cap. 15. Bracton, lib. 2. cap. 7.

Assisa Continuanda is a Writ directed to the Justices assigned to take an Assise, for the Continuance of the Cause, in Case where certain Records alledged cannot in Time be procured by the Party that would use them. Reg. of Writs, fol. 217.

Assisa Panis & Cerbisæ, the Power or Privilege of Assising or adjusting the Weights and Measures of Bread and Beer. As the Weight of Bread prescribed by the Magistrate is still called the Size or Assize of Bread. So Half a Crust or Farthing-Bread is in Cambridge called a Size of Bread; and a Servitor is there a Sizor, or one who is to live upon such an Assized Allowance: Hence to Size, i. e. to match Cloths, Silks, &c. or to get some of the same Assize or Proportion: Hence Size for Height and Stature. Sizely in the North is proud and coy.

Assisa Proxoganda is a Writ directed to the Justices of Assise, to stay proceeding by Reason of the King's Business, wherein the Party is employed. Reg. of Writs, fol. 208, & 221.

Assize, Cometh of the French Assise, which in the Grand Customary of Normandy, ca. 24. is thus defined. Assize is an Assembly of Knights, and other substantial Men, with the Bailiff, or Justice, in a certain Place, and at a certain Time appointed: And again ca. 55. Assize is a Court in which, whatsoever is done, ought to have perpetual Strength. This Word is properly deriv'd from the Latin Verb Assideo, to sit together. Littleton in his Chapter of Rents saith, That it is Æquidocum, setting down three several Significations of it; one, as it is taken for a Writ; another, as it is used for a Fury; the Third, as for an Ordinance. Assize then is taken for a Writ directed to the Sheriff, for the Recovery of the Possession of Things immoveable, whereof any one, or his Ancestors, have been disseized. And this is as well of Things Corporal, as Right Incorporal, of four Sorts, as here follow in Order.

Assize of Novel Disseisin, Assisa Nova Disseisine, lies where a Tenant in Fee-simple, Fee-tail, or for Term of Life, is lately disseized of his Lands or Tenements, or else of a Rent-service, Rent-seck, or Rent-charge, of Common of Pasture, of an Office, of a Toll, Tronage, Passage, Pawnage, or for a Nuisance levied, and divers other such like; for Confirmation whereof, you may read Glanville, lib. 10. cap. 2. Bract. lib. 4. tract. 1. per totum, Britton, cap. 70. & seq. Reg. Orig. fol.

197. F. N. B. fol. 117, 178, 179. New Book of Entries, fol. 74. col. 3. West. 2. c. 25. an. 13. E. 1. And to this may aptly be added the Bill of Fresh Force, which is directed to the Officers, or Magistrates of Cities, or Towns Corporate, being a Kind of Assize, for Recovery of Possession in such Places, within forty Days after the Force, as the ordinary Assize is in the County. F. N. B. fol. 7. *A tut ceus ke cest evesrit ovrunt ou verrunt Reynande de Ginges salut. Come Hawise de Vere mey empleda devant Jusfices en le oyer de Chelmsford par un Brief de Novel disseisin de un chemin ke io avoy estepee ou luy & ses tenants de son Maner de Dunham soloyent & devoient alee, kavier & chascer seerfus le Marche de Raylee, sans nul disturbance en un chemin kest appelle Martinlane ke je esent de le meason Ade Martin deskes au chemin kest appelle Gunthebert. Jo pur moy & mes heires voile & graunt a lavandit Hawise & a ses heires & a ses avantdits tenants de Dunham kil cent le avantdit chemin sans nul disturbance de moy ou de mes heirs a tuts jours a alee chaceer & kavier sicome est avantdit. En tesmoiance de cest chose io lurre ay donne ma lettre patente enselee de mon seele devant Sire William de Lamburne, Nicolas de Barenton, &c. donne a Chelmsford le Meskeday prochein avant le Feste St. Simon & St. Jude, le an tresieime du regne le Roy Edward. Penes Will. Andrew Bayonet. Dom. Manerii de Dunham, alias Downham. This the Civilians, call Judicium Possessionem recuperandi.*

Assise of Mort d'ancestors, Assisa mortis antecessoris, Lieth where my Father, Mother, Brother, Sister, Uncle, Aunt, &c. died seised of Lands, Tenements, Rents, &c. that he had in Fee-simple, and after his Death a Stranger abateth: And it is good as well against the Abator, as any other in Possession. How this may be extended, see Bract. lib. 4. tract. 3. per totum. Brit. cap. 70. Fitz. Nat. Brev. fol. 114. Reg. Orig. fol. 223. This the Civilians call Judicium Possessionem adipiscendi.

Assise of Darrein Presentment, Assisa ultime presentationis, lies where I or my Ancestor have presented a Clerk to a Church, and after the Church being void by his Death, or otherwise, a Stranger presents his Clerk to the same Church in Disturbance of me: And how otherwise this Writ is used, see Bract. lib. 4. tract. 2. Reg. Orig. fol. 30. F. N. B. fol. 195.

These Assizes of Novel Disseisin, Mort d'ancestors, Darrein Presentment, and De Communia pasture, were instituted by Hen. 2. in the Place of Duels: And therefore Glanville tells us, That Magna Assisa est Regale beneficium, clementia Principis de consilio procerum populis indultum, in quo vite hominum & status integritati tam salubriter consulitur, ut in jure, quod quis in libero soli tenemento possidet, retinendo, duelli casum homines declinare possunt ambiguum, &c. Lib. 2. cap. 7.

Assise de utrum, Lieth for a Parson against a Layman, or a Layman against a Parson, for Land or Tenement, doubtful whether it be Lay-fee, or Free-alsms. And of this, see Bract. lib. 4. tract. 5. cap. 1. Brit. cap. 95. The Reason why these Writs be called Assises, may be divers. First, because they settle the Possession, and so an outward Right in him that obtaineth by them. Secondly, they were originally executed at a certain Time and Place formerly appointed. For by the Norman Law, the Time and Place must be known 40 Days before the Justice sate upon them: And by our Laws likewise there must be 15 Days Preparation, except they be tried in the standing Courts Courts of the King at Westminster, as appeareth by F. N. B. fol. 177. Lastly, They may be called Affises, because they are tried most commonly by special Courts, set and appointed for that Purpose, as may well be proved, not only out of the Customary of Normandy, but our Books also; which shew, that in ancient Times, Justices were appointed by special Commission to dispatch Controversies of Possession, one or more, in this or that only County, as Occasions fell out, or Differences were offered, and that as well in Term-time as out of Term: Whereas, of later Days we see that all these Commissions of Assises, of Eyre, of Oyer and Terminer, of Gaol-delivery, and of Nisi prius, are dispatched all at one Time, by two several Circuits in the Year, out of Term, and by such as have the greatest Sway of Justice, being all of them either the King's Ordinary Justices of his Benches, Barons of the Exchequer, Serjeants of the Law, and such like; concerning which, hear the Learned Lord Verulam in his Use of the Law, fol. 13. ad. 21.

All the Counties of this Realm (says he) are divided into six Circuits, and two Men learned in the Law are assigned by the King's Commission in every Circuit, who ride twice a Year thro' those Shires allotted to that Circuit; these we call Justices, or Judges of Assise, who have five several Commissions, by which they sit. The first is a Commission of Oyer and Terminer directed to them, and many others of the best Account in their Circuits. But in this Commission the Judges of the Assise are of the Quorum, so as without them, there can be no Proceedings. This Commission gives them Power to deal with Treasons, Murders, and all Manner of Felonies and Misdemeanors, and this is their largest Commission. The 2d is of Gaol-delivery, and that only to the Judges themselves, and the Judges of the Assise associate; by this Commission they are to deal with every Prisoner in Gaol, for what Offence soever he be there: The third Commission is directed to themselves only, and the Clerk of the Assise to take Assise, by which they are called Justices of Assise; and the Office of these Justices, is to do Right upon Writs called Affise, brought before them by such as are wrongfully thrust out of their Lands. The fourth Commission is to take Nisi prius, directed to none but the Judges themselves and their Clerks of Assises, by which they are called Justices of Nisi prius. The fifth is a Commission of Peace in every County of their Circuit: And all the Justices of Peace, having no lawful Impediment, are bound to be present as the Assises, to attend the Judges, as Occasion shall fall out; if any make Default, the Judges may set a Fine upon him at their Pleasure and Discretions: The Sheriff of every Shire, is also to attend in Person, or by a sufficient Deputy, allowed by the Judges, who may fine him, if he fail, &c. See more in Sir Francis Bacon's Use of the Law, fol. 13 to 21. This excellent Constitution of the Judges Circuits and Assises was begun by Hen. 2. anno 1176, though somewhat different from what they now are.

Atts, in the second Signification, according to Littleton, is used for a Fury; for (to use his own Example) it is set down in the Beginning of the Record of an Assise of Novel Disseisin; as Affisa venit recognitura, which is as much as to say, Juratores veniunt recognituri: And the Reason why the Jury is called an Assise, he giveth to be this, because by a Writ of Assise, the Sheriff is commanded, Quod faciat duodecim liberos & legales homines de vicineto, &c. videre tenementum illud, & nomina eorum imbrevari, & quod summoneat eos per bonas summonitiones, quod sint coram Justiciariis, &c. parati inde facere recognitionem, &c. This is (to speak shorter) Metonymia effecti, for they are called the Assise, because they are summoned by Virtue of the Writ so called. And yet the Jury summoned upon a Writ of Right, is likewise called the Assise; though it be not an Assise, but is so termed κατὰ χρονον, or abusively. Assise in this Signification, is divided into Magnam, & Parvam, Glanv. lib. 2. cap. 6, 7, &c. & Brit. cap. 12. where it appeareth, wherein the Great Assise differeth from the Petit Assise. The former four Kinds of Assises used in Actions only Possessory, are called Petit Assises, in respect of the Grand Assise: For the Law of Fees is grounded upon two Rights; one of Possession, the other of Property. And as the Grand Assise serveth for the Right of Property, so the Petit Assise serveth for the Right of Possession. Horn's Mirror of Just. lib. 2. cap. de Novel Disseisin. Assise in the third Signification, according to the same Littleton, is an Ordinance or Statute, as the Statute of Bread and Ale, made 51 H. 3. is termed The Assise of Bread and Ale, Affisa Panis & Cervisie. Reg. Orig. fol. 279.

The Assise of Clarendon, Affisa de Clarendon, whereby those that be accused of any heinous Crime, and not able to purge themselves by Fire and Water (perhaps Ordeal, Ordaliu) but must abjure the Realm, had Liberty of 40 Days to stay, and try what Succour they could get of their Friends, towards their Sustainance in Exile. Stamph. Pl. Cor. fol. 118. which he seemeth to have taken out of Bract. lib. 3. tract. c. cap. 16. num. 2. See also Roger Hoveden, parte poster. suor. Annal. fol. 313. in Hen. Secundo.

Assise of the Forest, Affisa de Foresta, Is a Statute or Condition, touching Orders to be observed in the King's Forest. Manswood's Forest Lawes, part 1. p. 35. Crompt. in the Court of Justices of the Forest, per totum, fol. 146, &c. And the Assise of the King, Anno 18 Ed. 1. Stat. 1. called the Statute for View of Frank-pledge. And these be called Assises, because they set down and appoint certain Measure, Rate or Order in the Things they concern. Of Assise, in this Signification, Glanville speaks. Lib. 3. cap. 10. in fine. *Generaliter verum est quod de quolibet placito quod in comitatu deducitur & terminatur, misericordia qua inde provenit, vicecomiti debetur: Quia quanta sit, per nullam Affisam generalem determinandum est: And thus much touching Littleton's Division. But if we mark well the Writers of the Law, we shall find this Word Assise more diversly used, than he (Littleton) hath noted. For it is sometimes used for the Measure or Quantity it self, (and that per Metonymiam effecti) because it is the very Scantling described or commanded by the Ordinance; as we say, when Wheat, &c. is of such Price, then the Bread, &c. shall be of such Assise. This word is further taken for the whole Process in Court, upon the Writ of Assise, or for some Part thereof, as the Issue or Verdict of the Jury: For Example, Affises of Novel Disseisin, &c. shall not be taken, but in their Shires, and after this Manner, Ec. Mag. Chart. c. 12. and so it seems to signify. West. 2. cap. 25. 13 Ed. 1. in these Words. Let the Disseisor alledge no false Exceptions, whereby the taking of the Affises may be deferred, &c. And 34 E. 1. Stat. 2. if it be found by Assise; the Affise is araigned, to aver by the Assise, the Affise by their Default shall pass against them. And also 1 H. 6.*

c. 2. Assizes awarded by Default of the Tenants, &c. Lastly, by Merton, cap. 4. an. 20. H. 3. Certified by the Assize, Quia by the Assize, &c. And in this Signification Glavile calleth it Magnam Assisam Domini Regis, qua ex duodecim ad minus legalium hominum Sacramentis consistit, lib. 2. cap. 7. Bract. useth it in like Sort, as Assisa cadit in transgressiōnem. Id. c. 30. & assisa cadit in perambulationem. Id. c. 31. num. 2. Fleta defineth an Assise in this Signification, thus, Assisa in jure possessorio, est quadam recognitio duodecim hominum juratorum, per quam Justitiarii certiorantur de articulis in brevi contentis. And Assize also thus signifying, is said sometimes to pass, per modum assise, and sometimes in modum jurate: In manner of an Assize, when only the Disseisin in Question, is put to the Trial of the Twelve; in manner of a Fury, when any Exception is objected, to disabie the Interest of the Disseisee, and is put to be tried by the Twelve, before the Assize can pass: As for Example, Quaestio status, causa successōis, causa donationis, pactum sive conditio vel conventio, voluntas & dissimulatio, transactio vel quietia clamat, vel remissio, confirmatio sive consensus, propria usurpatio rei propria, difficultas judicii, justum Judicium, finis, Chirographum, intrusio in rem alienam vel disseisina, si incontinenter rejiciatur, negligentia quae per transcursum temporis excludit actionem. Fleta, lib. 10. sect. 1. Whom read also to this Point, cap. 11. sect. Si autem a Domino: And at large, cap. 16. ejusd. lib. & lib. 5. cap. 6. sect. Item vertitur assisa. And note, That Assise in this Signification is taken four Ways. Fitz. Old Nat. Brev. fol. 105. The first is Assise at large, which is taken as well upon other Points, as upon the Disseisin, v. g. where an Infant bringeth an Assise, and the Deed of his Ancestor is pleaded, whereby he claimeth his Right, or founded his Title, then the Assise shall be taken at large; that is, the Jury shall enquire not only whether the Plaintiff were disseised or not by the Tenant, but also of these two Points, viz. Whether his Ancestor were of full Age, of good Memory, and out of Prison, when he made the Deed pleaded. Another Example out of Kitch. fol. 66. The Tenant pleaded a Foreign Release in Bar to an Assise, whereupon the Cause was adjourned: At the Day the Tenant maketh Default, therefore the Assise was taken at large, that is, not only whether the Plaintiff was disseised, but also whether there be any Foreign Release. A third Example you may read in Littleton, cap. Estates upon Condition. The second manner of Assise in Point of Assise, (Assisa in modum Assisae) which is, when the Tenant, as it were, setting Foot to Foot with the Demandant, without farther Circumstance, pleaded directly to the Writ, no Wrong, no Disseisin. The third Manner is, Assise out of the Point of Assise (Assisa extra Assisam, vel in modum jurate), viz. when the Tenant alledgeth some by Exception, that must be tried by a Jury, before the principal Cause can proceed; as if he plead a Foreign Release, or Foreign Matter triable in a Foreign County. For in this Case, the Justices refer the Record to the Court of Common Pleas, for the Trial of the Foreign Plea, before the Disseisin can come to be discussed. Of this Sort, read divers Examples in Bract. lib. 4. part. 1. cap. 34. & Britt. ca. 52. The Fourth and last Manner is, Assise of Right of Damages; and that is, when the Tenant confesseth an Ouster, and referring it to a Demurrer in Law, whether it were rightly done or not, is adjudged to have done wrong; for then shall the Demandant have a Writ to recover Damages, which is called Assise to recover Damages, as also the whole Process. Assise is further taken for the Court, Place or Time, when and where the Writs and Processes of the Assise be handled or taken. And in this Signification Assise is general; as when the Justices go their several Circuits, every Couple with their Commission, to take all Assises twice in the Year, which is called the General Assises, for he that speaketh of any Thing done at that Time, and in that Place, will commonly say, It was done at the General Assises. It may likewise be special in this Signification, (as if a Special Commission should be granted to certain Persons as in ancient Times they often were, Bract. lib. 3. cap. 11. in fine) for taking an Assise upon one Disseisin or two; any Thing done in the Court before them, a Man will say was done at such Special Assise. And in this Signification Glavile useth it, Lib. 9. cap. 12. in these Words, Si contra Dominum suum, & non infra assisam, tunc disringitur ipse occupator, &c. And lib. 13. cap. 32. M. Skene, de verbor. Sig. Tit. Assise, faith, That in Scotland this Word hath five Significations; touching the Fifth, he hath these Words, An Assise is called a certain Number of Men, lawfully summoned, received, sworn, and admitted, to judge and discern in divers Civil Causes, &c. whereof there be two Kinds; one ordinarily in Use, which may be called a Little Assise, of the Number of thirteen or fifteen Persons; the other, a Great Assise, consisting of twenty-five Persons, &c.

Assisores, Assisores, sunt qui assisas condunt, aut taxationes imponunt, faith Spelman. In Scotland, according to Skene, they are the same with our Jurors, and their Oath is this:

*We shall leil suith say,
And na suith conceal, far na thing we may,
So far as we are charg'd upon this Assise,
Be God himself, and be our Part in Paradise.
And as we will answer to God, upon
The dreadful Day of Dome.*

Assisus, Dismissed or farmed out for such an Assise, or certain assised Rent in Money or Provisions. Terra Assisa, was commonly opposed to Terra Dominica: This last being held in Demaine, and occupied by the Lord; the other let out to inferiour Tenants. So among the Lands of the Knights Templars, belonging to their Preceptory of Sandford, Com. Oxon. Apud Covele de dono Matildis Regine babentur quatuor bida, quarum due sunt in Dominico, & due assisae ab Hominihus, apud Meritone dua in Dominico, & quinque assisae ab Hominihus. Mr. Kennet's Paroch. Antiq. p. 141. Hence Redditus assisus, the set or standing Rent. Sunt ibidem de reddito assiso xl s. Ibid. p. 314. Summa reddituum assisorum de manerio; p. 355. Hence to assise or allot the Proportion and Rates in Taxes and Payments, by Assissors in Assessments.

Assishment, A Wiregold or Compensation by a pecuniary Mult: From the Preposition Ad, and the Sax. Diðe, Vice: Quod vice supplicii ad expiandum delictum soluitur.

Assnaffare, From the Sax. Assnaffan, impingere: It signifies to carry his Pike so carelessly that a Man is killed with it, Si quis bastam humero gestavit in quam alius forte fortuna impigerit, equum esse videtur capitis estimationem sine omni multa ei imperrare. Leges Alfred. cap. 39. Si autem oculus assnaffet, reddat Weram ejus, &c. cap. 38. See Possibilitas.

Association, Associatio, Is a Patent sent by the King, either of his own Motion, or at the Suit of the Plaintiff, to Justices appointed to take Assises of Novel Disseisin, or of Oyer and Terminer, &c. to take others unto them as Fellows and Colleagues in that Business. As if the King makes three Justices of Assize, and afterwards one of them dies, there the King may grant a Patent of Association to another, to associate him to the two, in Place of him that is dead, and a Writ which shall be close, directed to the two Justices that are alive to admit him. F. N. B. 185. & 111. The Examples, and sundry Uses hereof, may be found in several Places, but particularly in Registr. Orig. fol. 201, 202, 205, 206, 207, 223, 224.

Asoile, (Absolvere) Signifies to deliver, or set free from an Excommunication. Stannf. Pl. Cor. lib. 2. cap. 18. fol. 71. b. whose Words are to this Effect, otherwise the Defendant should remain in Prison, till the Plaintiff were assoyled, that is, delivered from his Excommunication. So that in 1 H. 4. cap. 10. Mention being made of King Edward III. it is added, Whom God assoyle. Henric Duc de Lancastre, Count de Leicestre, de Derby & de Nicole, Senescal Dengleterre, A tous ceux que ceste endenture verront ou orront salut en Dieu, Come nostre chere & bien ame cousin John de Blount eit en nostre main venduz seissante acres de terre ou les appartenances en Salford en nostre Duchee de Lancastre les quels il avoit a luy & a ses Heirs du don & Feofment nostre tres honore Seigneur & pere, que Dieu assoile, &c. Dat. 30 Edw. 3. penes Wal. Kirkham Blount. Bar.

Astotte, To assotte a Woman, that is, to be mad after a Woman.

Assumption, i. e. The Day of the Death of a Saint, so called, Quia ejus anima in cælum assumitur. Du Cange.

Tandem clava dies, Regine adsumptio cælis, Regi parentis adept. —

Assumpst, Is a voluntary Promise made by Word, whereby a Man assumeth, or taketh upon him, to perform or pay any Thing unto another. This word included any verbal Promise made upon Consideration, which the Civilians exprefs by divers Words, according to the Nature of the Promise; calling it sometimes Pañum, sometimes Sponsionem, sometimes Promissionem, Pollicitationem, Constitutum. The Word is derived from the Latin Verb assumpst, and bears the Sense of, He hath assumed upon, or undertaken.

Astrarius hæres. Dicitur ille cui antecessor in vita sua per cartam hæreditatem restituit. Co. Inst. p. 1. f. 8. b. — De Astro & Astrario, vid. Selden's Notes on Hengham, p. 130.

Astribilthet, or Astrahilthet, Is a Saxon Word, and denotes, say LL. Divi Edwardi, cap. 30. Hi qui pacem Regis habent, vel manu vel brevi, &c. Qui si nimis confidens in pace quam habet, per superbiam alicui forsificaverit, dampnum restituet & iterum tantumdem quod Angli vocant Astribilthet. See Hoveden. pag. 606.

Astrum, A House or Place of Habitation, from Astre, which Spelman renders the Hearth of a Chimney, a Sax. Hearth, Focus, Fornacula. — 18 Ed. 1. *Præceptum dedit Vicecom. quod replegiat corpus Willielmi Jakes quod Ricardus de Sancto Valentio cepit & captum tenuit. Ategar, A Sort of Weapon among the Saxons. Flor. Wigorn. sub. an. 1040. and from him, Hovedon sub eodem anno, — In manu sinistra clipeum, cujus umbo clavique erant deaurati, in dextra lanceam, que lingua Anglorum Ategar appellatur. It seems to have been a Hand-dart, from Sax. Aeton, to fling or throw, and gar, a Weapon. Spelman.

Ath, Atha, Athe, an Oath.

Athes, Adaa, A Power or Privilege of exacting and administering an Oath, in some Cases of Property and Right. From the Saxon Ath, Jura- mentum, Oath. Among the Privileges granted by Hen. 2. to the Monks of Glasenbury, — Habent quoque eadem Ecclesia Socam & Sacam on Stronde and on Strene, on Wode, and on Feld, on Grishbriche, on burh-briche. Adaa, Ortelas, Eallebordas, &c. the same Privilege called Othes in another Charter to the same Abbey, — Abbas & Conventus habeant hundred Setre, Othes and Ordles, Ealle, Twidus, &c. *Cartular. Atrebatii, Berkshire.

Atrium, signifies a Court before a House, and sometimes a Church-yard.

Attache, Attachiare Cometh from the French attacher; that is, figere, nettere, alligare. In the Common Law, it signifies to take or apprehend by Commandment of a Writ or Precept; Lamb. in his Eirenarch. lib. 1. c. 16. makes this Difference between an Arrest, and an Attachment, that Arrest proceedeth out of lower Courts, by Precept; and an Attachment out of higher Courts, by Precept or Writ; and that a Precept to arrest hath these formal Words, (Duci facias), and a Writ of Attachment these Words, (Præcipimus tibi quod attachies talem & habeas eum coram nobis, &c.) Whereby it appears, That he which arresteth, carrieth (or ought to carry) the Party arrested to a Person of Higher Power to be disposed of forthwith; he that attacheth, keepeth the Party attached, and presents him in Court at the Day assigned. Yet we may take Notice, That an Attachment issued out of a Court-Baron, which is an Inferior Court. Kitchin, Attachment in Court-Baron, fol. 79. Another Difference there is, that an Arrest only lies upon the Body of a Man, but an Attachment chiefly upon his Goods: And this also makes it differ from a Capias, which lays hold only of a Body, whereas a Man may be attached by an hundred Sheep. Other Differences between a Capias and Attachment, and a Distress, may be these. First, an Attachment differs from a Capias; that in a Court-Baron, a Man may be attached by his Goods, but a Capias shall not go out thence. Secondly, a Capias (be it the Grand Cape, or the Petit Cape) taketh hold of immovable Things, as Lands or Tenements, and properly belongs to Actions real, as may be gathered from their Forms, F. N. B. whereas Attachment hath Place rather rather in personal Actions. Bract. lib. 4. tract. 4. cap. 5. num. 5. See Skene, de verbor. Sign. Tit. Attachiammentum. In the next Place, an Attachment differs from a Distress. Kitch. fol. 78. holds, That the Process in a Court-Baron, is Summons, Attachment and Distress. Old Nat. Brev. fol. 27. That the Process in a Quare Impedit, is Summons, Attachment, and one Distress. And fol. 28. speaking of the Writ Ne admittas, saith, The Process is one Prohibition, and upon that Attachment and Distress. And fol. 32. in a Writ of Indicavit, after the Attachment returned, the Distress shall go out of the Rolls of the Justices. Bracton on the other Side. Lib. 5. tract. 3. cap. 4. num. 2. thinks, that Attachiammentum & magnum Cape, sunt Distractiones; wherewith agrees Fleta, lib. 5. cap. 24. but with this Distinction, that Attachiammentum est distractio personalis, & Cape magnum distractio realis. So that upon the whole Matter, there are but two Differences between an Attachment and a Distress, viz. That an Attachment reacheth not to Lands, as a Distress doth; and a Distress toucheth not the Body (being properly taken) as an Attachment doth. Yet are they divers Times confounded, as appears by the fore-mentioned Places; and Glaro. lib. 10. cap. 3. and Fleta, lib. 2. cap. 66. But to conclude; In common Acceptation of Law, an Attachment is an Apprehension of a Man by his Body, to bring him to answer the Action of the Plaintiff. A Distress is the Taking Goods, for some real Cause, as Rent, &c. whereby to force him to Replevy, and so become Plaintiff in an Action of Trespass against him that distrained him. There is also an Attachment out of Chancery, and may be had of Course upon Affidavit made of the Service of a Subpoena, and the Defendant's not appearing, or else it issues upon not performing some Order or Decree: And they are of two Sorts; one Simple, which is before-mentioned, originally sent out for Apprehension of the Party: The other, after Return made by the Sheriff, Quod Defendens non est inventus in Balliva sua, with Proclamation made through the whole County, that the Party appear by a Day assigned, and that he be attached nevertheless, if he may be found. This second Kind hath an Affinity with the Canonists, (viis & modis) at which if the Party appear not, he is excommunicate; and with the Civilians, Viis & modis, unam intimatione; for if in the Chancery he come not in upon this Attachment, with Proclamation, a Writ of Rebellion issues forthwith. West. 2. Part, Symboleog. Tit. Proceedings in Chancery.

As to the Word Attacher, to attach or take into Custody, the Learned Du Fresne supposes it derived from the old Gallic Tascu, Tascbia, the Rest of Land or Tenement; from the Brittainish Tasf, Tribute; Tasfyd, Collector of the Tribute, (whence our Tasque or imposed Duty, a Tasquer, or Day-Labourer, a Tasque-master, &c.) So as attacher was no more at first than to gather Rent, or collect Tribute, and upon Refusal, to take it by Force, as a Debt and Forfeiture, &c.

Attachiammenta bonorum, A Distress taken upon the Goods or Chattels of any, sued for personal Estate or Debt, by the legal Attachiatores or Bailiffs, as a Security to answer the Action. It was a Privilege granted to the Abbat and Convent of Osney, to have the Attachments of the Goods of their Tenants quit-claimed or released, &c. See Paroch. Antiq. p. 196.

Attachiammenta de Spinis & Bosco, The Privilege granted to the Officers of a Forest to take to their own Use Thorns, Brush, and Wind-fall, within such Precincts or Liberties committed to their Charge. So John Fitz. Nygel, Forester of Bernwood, A. D. 1230. Debet habere feodum in Bosco Domini Regis; videlicet Attachiammentum de Spinis, de Bosco suo, & de Bosco qui vento profituitur. Paroch. Antiq. p. 209.

Attachment of Privilege, Is by Virtue of a Man's Privilege, to call another into that Court whereunto himself belongeth, and in respect whereof he is privileged, to answer some Action. New Book of Entries, verb. Privilege, fol. 431.

There is also a Foreign Attachment, which is of a Foreigner's Goods or Money found in some Liberty or City, to satisfy some Creditor of his within such Liberty or City. And by the Custom of London, a Man may attach Money or Goods in the Hand of a Stranger, while he is within their Liberty. As if A. owes B. ten Pounds. B. may attach this ten Pounds in the Hands of C. to satisfy himself for the Debt due from A. Calthrop's Rep. p. 66.

There is also an Attachment of the Forest, which is one of the three Courts there held. Manwood, p. 90, & 99. The lower Court is called the Attachment; the Middle one, the Swainmote; the Highest, the Justice in Eyre's Seat. The Court of Attachment seemeth to be so called, because the Verderors of the Forest have therein no other Authority, but to receive the Attachments of Offenders against Vert and Venison, taken by the rest of the Officers, and to enroll them, that they may be presented and punished at the next Justice Seat. Manwood, Part 1. pag. 93. And this Attaching is by three Means; 1. By Goods and Chattels. 2. By the Body, Pledges and Mainprise. 3. By the Body only. This Court is kept every forty Days. See Crompton in his Court of the Forest. For the Diversity of Attachments, see Reg. Orig. verbo Attachiammentum, in Indice.

Attaint, Attincta, Is used for a Writ that lieth after Judgment, against a Jury, that hath given a false Verdict in any Court of Record, be the Action real or personal, if the Debt or Damages amount to above the Sum of forty Shillings. For the Form and Use of it, see F. N. B. fol. 105. and the New Book of Entries, fol. 84. Col. 1. The Reason why it is so called, seemeth to be, because the Party that sueth it out, endeavoureth thereby to stain the Jury with Perjury, by whose Verdict he is grieved, whose Punishment by the Common Law consisteth in these Particulars: 1. Quod amittat liberam Legem in perpetuum, He shall never be received as Witness, or admitted a Juror, &c. 2. Quod forisfaciat omnia bona sua & catalla. 3. Quod terra & tenementa in manus Domini Regis capiantur. 4. Quod uxores & liberi extra domus suas ejicerentur. 5. Quod domus sua prostermentur. 6. Quod arbores sua prostermentur. 7. Quod prata sua arcentur. 8. Quod corpora sua carceri mancipentur. But if it pass against him who brought the Attaint, he shall be imprisoned and grievously ransomed at the King's Will. See Co. on Lit. lib. 3. cap. 8. sect. 514. See also Glanville, lib. 2. c. 19. Fitz. Nat. Brev. fol. 109, 110. Termes de Ley, verb. Attaint. Fortescue, c. 26. Smith de Rep. Anglor. lib. 3. cap. 2. And 11 H. 7. cap. 21 & 23 H. 8. cap. 3. It is a Substantive made of the French (atteindre) i. e. assequi, vel attingere, because he is caught and overtaken; or rather of the French (teindre) in Latin (tingere) to stain, Die, or Colour, or give a Tincture: Unde Gallice Teint, Lat. Tinctus, as, we in English say attainted, or tainted of Treason; that is, stained. In what Diversity of Cases this Writ is brought, see Reg. of Writs, in indice. It was anciently called De Brevi Convictione: See Co. Lit. f. 294. b.

Attainted, Attinctus, Is used in our Common Law, particularly for such as are found Guilty of some Crime or Offence, especially Felony or Treason: Howbeit a Man is said to be attainted of Disseisin. West. 1. cap. 24. & 26. an. 3 Ed. 1. and to the French use it, as, Estre attaint & wayencu en asun case; that is, to be cast in any Cause. A Man is attainted by two Means; by Appearance, or by Process. Staundf. Pl. Cor. fol. 44. Attainder by Appearance, is by Confession, by Battle, or by Verdict. Id. fol. 122. Confession, whereof Attainder groweth, is double: One at the Bar before the Judges, when the Prisoner upon his Indictment read, being asked whether Guilty or Not guilty, answers, Guilty, never putting himself upon his Country; the other is, before the Coroner in Sanctuary, where he was in former Times upon his Confession, constrained to abjure the Realm; and therefore this Kind of Attainder was called Attainder by Abjuration. Id. fol. 182. Attainder by Battle, is, when the Party appealed by another, and chusing to try the Truth by Combat, rather than by Jury, is vanquished. Id. fol. 44. Attainder by Verdict, is, when the Prisoner at the Bar, answering to the Indictment, Not guilty, had an Enquest of Life and Death passing upon him, and is by their Verdict found Guilty. Id. fol. 108, & 192. Attainder by Process, otherwise called Attainder by Default, or Utlary, is, where a Party flieth, and is not found, until he have been five Times publicly called in the County, and at last Outlawed upon his Default, pronounced or returned Outlawed. Id. fol. 44. The same Author, fol. 108. makes a Difference between Attainder and Conviction. And with this agrees the Stat. 34 & 35 H. 6. cap. 14. & 1 E. 6. cap. 12. in these Words; That then every such Offender being thereof duly convicted or attainted by the Laws of this Realm, &c. Add hereto 2 & 3 Ed. 6. cap. 33. And Staundf. fol. 66. saith, a Man by our ancient Laws, was said to be convicted presently upon the Verdict (Guilty) but not to be attainted, till it appeared he was no Clerk; or being a Clerk, and demanded of his Ordinary, could not purge himself, whereby it appeareth, That Attainder is larger than Conviction, Conviction being only by the Jury: And Attainder is not before Judgment. Perkins, Grants, nu. 27, 29. Yet it appears by Staundford, fol. 9. That Conviction is sometimes called Attainder; for there he says, The Verdict of the Jury does either acquit or attaint a Man: And so it is in Westm. 1. c. 14. and likewise in many ancient Writers. Et si quis aliter quam sic fecerit, & de hoc convictus fuerit & attaintus, ponatur in carcere. Du Fresno. Briton fol. 75. uses the Participle attaint in the Sense we say attainted unto. This ancient Law touching the Purgation and Conviction of Clerks, is altered by 23 Eliz. cap. 2. as you may read further in Clergy.

Attainder, attincta, and attinctura, Is when a Man hath committed Felony or Treason, and after Conviction Judgment is passed upon him. The Children of a Person attainted of Treason, cannot be Heirs to him, or any other Ancestor: And if he were Noble and Gentle before, thereby his Posterity are degraded, and made Base; and this Corruption of Blood cannot be salved, but by an Act of Parliament. See Attaint, attained, and Felony.

How far the Tenure of Gavel-kind salves in such Case, we will not dispute, only set down what Tenants in that kind have among themselves as a Maxim, viz.

*The Father to the Bough,
The Son to the Plough.*

But many of those Tenures are within the last Century altered by Statute; the Reasons whereof are not to our Purpose here.

Attal-sarasin. The Inhabitants and Miners of Cornwall, call an old deserted Mine that is given over by this Name of Attal sarasin, i. e. the Leavings of the Saravins, or Sassins, or Saxons.

Attamiatius. See Pelf.

Attegia, a little Houfe, from the Lat. Adtegen-do. 'Tis mentioned in Ethelwerd lib. 4. Hist. Anglie, viz. Pekunt ingenuos passim, Attegas figunt in Opido.

Attendant, Attendens, Signifies one that oweth a Duty or Service to another, or after a Sort dependeth on another. For Example; There is a Lord, Mesne, and Tenant; the Tenant holdeth of the Mesne by a Penny, the Mesne holdeth over by two Pence: The Mesne releaseth to the Tenant all the Right he hath in the Land, and the Tenant dieth; his Wife shall be endowed of the Land, and she shall be Attendant to the Heir of the third Part of the Penny, not of the third Part of the two Pence; for she shall be endowed of the best Possession of her Husband. And Kitchin, fol. 109. saith, That where the Wife is endowed by the Guardian, she shall be Attendant to the Guardian, and to the Heir at his full Age; with whom agrees Perkins in Dower, 424.

Attermining, — Also such as will purchase Attermining of their Debts, shall be sent into the Exchequer. Ordinatio de libertatibus perquirendis. Anno 27 Ed. 1. It comes from the French attermine, i. e. that hath a Time or Term granted for the Payment of a Debt. So in this Statute, it seems to signify the Purchasing or Gaining a longer Time for Payment of a Debt. Atterminent querentes usq; in proximum Parliamentum. Westm. 2. cap. 24.

Attilatus Equus, A Horse with his Geers, or Harness on, for the Work of the Cart or Plough.

Attile, Attilum, Attilamentum, The Rigging of a Ship. — Precipimus Henrico de Fowick & Luca de Batentort, quod quadam bona & mercimonia quorundam Mercatorum de Zealand, Naves & Attillia, occasione quarundam transgressionum — Memo-rand. in Scac. Mich. 4 Ed. 1. Mynard's Year Book. — Præceptum fuit Baronibus — quod sine dilatione reparari faciant unam Navem cum Attilio decenti in London. Ibid. Trin. 24 Ed. 1. — Hence Attila was used likewise for the Tools and Implements of Husbandry — Willielmus Primas Eboracensis vult, ut remaneant in Balliva Chirchedon 2 equi caretarii, cum cavella & 36 boves cum 4 carucis & Atillis, An. D. 1283. Ex Registr. Will. Wickwane Archiep. Ebor. MS. f. 46. The Word Attile, for Military Harness or Accoutrements, occurs in the Stat. of Rob. 1. King of Scots, cap. 27. The French now use the Word Outils, for any Sort of Instruments.

Attilamentum, Furniture or Tackle. 'Tis mentioned in Fleta, lib. 1. cap. 25. par. 9. Batellus, i. e. (the Boat), cum omni onere & Attilamento. So in Lib. 2. cap. 85. Writing of a Carter, viz. Ejus est scire phaleras, Attilamenta, &c. Caretis appenditia.

Attornato facienda bel recipiendo, Is a Writ, which a Man owing Suit to a County, Hundred, Wapentake, or other Court, and desiring to make an Attorney to appear for him, whom he doubteth, whether the Sheriff or Bailiff will admit, or not, purchaseth to command him to receive such a Man for his Attorney, and admit his Appearance by him. The Form thereof, see F. N. B. fol. 156.

Attornare tui, To Attorn or Turn over Money and Goods; i. e. to assign or appropriate them to some particular Use and Service. — quos quidem quatuor solidos — attornavi ad unam pietantiam faciendam in conventu Ofeneinsf. Paroch. Antiq. p. 213. Vide Turn.

Attorney, Attornatus, Cometh of the French Word Turner, vertere. Thence cometh the Participle (tourne) versus, conversus, and the Substantive (tour) vice; as Chesun a son tour, Quilibet sua vice. It signifies in a legal Acceptation, one appointed by another Man to do any Thing in his stead, and is as much as Procurator or Syndicus in the Civil Law: West. Symb. Part. 1. lib. 2. sect. 559. defines them thus, Attornies be such Persons, as by the Consent, Commandment or Request of another, do take heed, see to and take upon them the Charge of other Men's Business in their Absence. And it seemeth that in ancient Time, those of Authority in Courts, had it in their Power, whether they would suffer Men to appear, or sue by any other than themselves; as it is evident by F. N. B. fol. 25. in the Writ Dedimus Potestatem de Attornato faciendo, where it appears, that Men were forced to procure the King's Writs, or Letters Patent, to appoint Attornies for them; but since that, it is provided by several Statutes, that it should be lawful so to do without any such Matter, as 20 H. 3. cap. 10. 6 E. 1. cap. 8. 27 E. 1. Stat. 2. 12 E. 2. 1. 15 E. 2. cap. Unico, 7 R. 2. cap. 14. 7 H. 4. 13. 3 H. 5. 2. 15 H. 6. 7. & 17 H. 7. 2. And you may see great Diversity of Writs in the Table of the Register Orig. wherein the King, by his Writ, Commanded the Judges to admit of Attornies; whereby there grew at the last so many unskilful Attornies, and so many Mischiefs by them, that Provision for restraining them was requisite. Wherefore anno 4 H. 4. ca. 18. it was ordained, That the Justices should examine them, and displace the unskilful. And again, 33 H. 6. cap. 7. that there should be but a certain Number of them in Norfolk and Suffolk. In what Cases at this Day a Man may have an Attorney, and in what not, see Fitzb. ubi supra.

Attorney, is either General or Special. Attorney General is he, that by general Authority is appointed to manage all our Affairs or Suits: As the Attorney General of the King, which is much as Procurator Caesaris was in the Roman Empire. Attorney General of the Duke. Cromp. Jurisd. 105. Attorney Special or Particular, is he that is employed in one or more Causes particularly specified. Attornies General be made after two Sorts, either by the King's Letters Patent, or by Appointment before Justices in Eyre in open Court. Glanville, lib. 11. cap. 1. Britton, cap. 126. There be also in respect of the divers Courts, Attornies at large, or Attornies Special, belonging to this or that Court only. The Name is borrowed of the Normans, as appears by the Customary, cap. 65. And the Word Attornati, or as some read it Turnati, is found in the same Signification, in the Title De statuta regularium, cap. unico, sect. porro in sexto, where the Gloss saith, That Attornati dicuntur Procuratores, apud acta constituti: Our old Latin Word for it, seems to be Responsalis Bract. lib. 4. 31. & lib. 5. part. 2. cap. 8. And so it is in Scotland at this Day, but especially for the Defendant's Attorney. Skene de verb. signif. Responsalis, as Sigonius witnesseth in his first Book, pag. 11. De Regno Italiae, was in ancient Time the Title of the Pope's Ambassador.

Attorney of the Court of Wards and Liveries, Attornatus Regis in Curia Wardorum & Liberatarum, was the third Officer in that Court; at his Admission into the Office, he took an Oath before the Master of the said Court, well and truly to serve the King, &c. But the Court of Wards and Liveries, being it self taken away by the Stat. 12 Car. 2. cap. 24. this Office is gone, and therefore we will say no more of it.

Attorney of the Court of the Dutchy of Lancaster, Attornatus Curia Ducatus Lancastrie, Is the second Officer in that Court, and seemeth for his Skill in Law, to be there placed as Assessor to the Chancellor of that Court, being for the most Part some Honourable Person, and chosen rather for some special Trust reposed in him, to deal between the King and his Tenants, than for any great Learning; as was usual with Emperors of Rome, in the Choice of their Magistrates.

Attornment, Attornamentum, Signifies the Tenants Acknowledgment of a new Lord; as when one is Tenant for Life, and he in Reversion grants his Right to another, it is necessary that the Tenant for Life agree thereto, which is called Attornment; without which nothing passes by the Grants; for otherwise, he that buyeth any Lands or Tenements which are in the Occupation of a Third, cannot get the Possession. Yet see 27 H. 8. cap. 16. The Words used in Attornment, are set down by Littleton, lib. 3. cap. Attornment, 10, viz. I agree to the Grant made to you, &c. or, more usually, Sir, I attorn to you by Force of the same Grant, or, I become your Tenant, or else deliver unto the Grantee a Penny by way of Attornment: You may in the same Place see divers other Cases, whereunto Attornment appertaineth, and that it is the Transferring those Duties the Tenant owed to his former Lord unto another, and is either by Word, or by Act, &c. Attornment also is Voluntary or Compulsory, by the Writ termed, Per que servitia, Old. Nat. Brev. fol. 155. Or sometimes by Distress. F. N. B. fol. 147. Lastly, Attornment may be made to the Lord himself, or to his Steward in Court. Kitchin, fol. 70. There is also Attornment in Deed, and Attornment in Law. Co. vol. 6. fo. 113. a Attornment in Law is an Act, which tho' it be no express Attornment, yet in Intendment of Law is all alone.

Attrap, from the Fr. Attrapper, comprehendere. Unde Angl. A Trap.

Avage, or Abisage, Is a Rent or Payment which every Tenant of the Manor of Writtel in Essex, upon St. Leonard's Day, the 6th of November, pays to the Lord, viz. for every Pig not a Year old, a Half-penny; for every Yearling Pig, one Penny; for every Hog above a Year old, Twopence, for the Privilege of Pawnage in the Lord's Woods.

Avantward, The Van-guard or Front in an Army. — Cum exercitus in hostem pergit, ipse per consuetudinem faciunt Avant-warde, & in reversione Redre-warde. Ha consuetudines erant Walensium. T. R. E. in Arceenefeld. lib. Doomsday.

Avantagium, Profit or Advantage.—Walterus Cantuar. Archiepisc. ad feodi-firmam tradidit Johanni de Besebam, terras vocatas le Wardland, in Villa de Wymbledone, — cum omnibus suis utilitatibus ac avantagiis inde provenientibus. Dat. 24. Feb. 11 Ed. 2. Regist. Eccl. Christi Cantuar. MS.

Auctionarii, Furionarii, Sellers, Regraters, Retailers.—Dicunt etiam quod in domibus illis apud Sheles, sunt manentes Pisiores & Braciatores Auctionarii & Auxionatrices panis, cervisia, & aliarum rerum. Placit. Parl. 18 Ed. 1.

Audience Court, Curia Audientie Cantuariensis, Is a Court belonging to the Archbishop of Canterbury, of equal Authority with the Archies Court, though inferior both in Dignity and Antiquity: The Original of this Court was, because the Archbishop of Canterbury heard many Causes extrajudicially at Home in his own Palace, in which, before he would finally determine any Thing, he did usually commit them to be discuss'd by certain Men learned in the Civil and Canon Laws, whom thereupon he termed his Auditors; and so in Time it grew to one special Man, who at this Day is called (Causarum negotiorumque audientie Cantuariensis auditor officialis.) And with this Office was joined heretofore the Chancery of the Archbishop, which meddleth not with any Point of contentious Jurisdiction; that is, deciding of Causes between Party and Party, (except such as are ventilated pro forma only, as the Confirmation of Bishops Elections, or such like) but only of Office, and especially such as are Voluntarie Jurisdictionis, as the Granting the Custody of Spiritualities, during the Vacation of Bishopsricks, Institutions to Benefices, Dispensing with Banes of Martrimony, &c. But this is now distinguished from the Audience. Of this Audience Court, you may read more in the Book De Antiquit. Eccles. Brit. Hist. & 4 Inst. fol. 337.

Audiendo & terminando, Is a Writ, but more properly a Commission, directed to certain Persons, when any riotous Assembly, Insurrection, or heinous Misdemeanor or Trespas is committed against any Place, for the Appeasing and Punishment thereof; which you may read at large in F. N. B. f. 110. See Oyer and Terminer.

Audita querela, Is a Writ that lieth against him, who having taken a Statute-Merchant, or a Recognisance, in the Nature of Statute-Staple, or a Judgment or Recognisance of another, and craving, or having obtained Execution of the same from the Mayor and Bailiffs, before whom it was entred, at the Complaint of the Party, who entred the same, upon Suggestion of some just Cause, why Execution should not be granted; as a Release, or other Exception. This Writ is granted by the Lord Chancellor of England, upon View of the Exception suggested, to the Justices of either Bench, willing them to grant Summons to the Sheriff of the County where the Creditor is, for his Appearance at a certain Day before them. Old. Nat. Brev. fol. 66. & Fitz. Nat. Brev. fol. 102.

Auditor, (Auditor) According to our Law, is an Officer of the King, or some other great Person, which yearly, by examining the Accounts of all Under-Officers accountable, makes up a General Book; which shews the Difference between their Receipts and Charge, and their Allowances, commonly termed Allocaciones: As namely, the Auditors of the Exchequer take the Accounts of those Receivers, who collect the Revenues of the Augmentation, as also of the Sheriffs, Escheators, Collectors and Customers, and set them down, and perfect them; concerning which, see the Stat. 35 H. 8. cap. 35. & 4 Inst. fol. 106.

Auditors, Conventual, Collegiate, &c. The Religious had their Auditors, or stated Officers appointed to examine and pass the House-Accounts. Hence the Auditory, Audit-house, Audit-time, in Cathedral and Collegiate Bodies.

Auditors of the Press or Imprests, Are also Officers of the Exchequer, who take and make up the great Accounts of Ireland, Berwick, the Mint, and of any Money imprested to any Man for the King's Service. See Præfice of the Exchequer, pag. 83.

Auditor of the Receipts, Is also an Officer of the Exchequer, that files the Tellers Bills, and makes an Entry of them, and gives the Lord Treasurer a Certificate of the Money received the Week before. He makes Debentures to every Teller, before they pay any Money, and taketh their Accounts: He keeps the Black Book of Receipts, and the Treasurer's Key of the Treasury, and seeth every Teller's Money lock'd up in the New Treasury.

Auditors Is the same with Audientes, i. e. the Cataphumens, or those who were newly instructed in the Mystery of the Christian Religion before they were admitted to Baptism; and Auditorium is the Place in the Church where they stood to learn and be instructed; and this it is which we now call Navis Ecclesie: And in the Primitive Times the Church was so strict in keeping the People together in that Place, that the Person who went from thence in the Time of Divine Service was excommunicated: It was so declared by the fourth Council of Carthage, cap. 24. in these Words; Sacerdote verbum faciente in Ecclesia, qui egressus de auditorio fuerit, excommunicatur, &c.

Avel-terra. 'Tis mentioned in Matt. Parif. p. 5. and signifies Lower Germany. Orta est contentio inter Flandrenses qui dicuntur de Avel-terre, & Francos in illis partibus, &c.

Avenage, (From the Latin Avena, Oats) Signifies a certain Quantity of Oats paid to a Landlord in lieu of some other Duties, or, as a Rent from the Tenant.

Avenor, Avenarius, Is an Officer belonging to the King's Stables, and provides Oats for his Horses: He is mentioned 13 Car. 2. cap. 8. Omnibus enim liberatio quorumcumque, siue Accipitrarium, siue falconiorum, siue Avenariorum, ad ejus (sc. Constabularii Anglia) officium spectat, si presens fuerit; nisi forte Dominus Rex ad idem aliquem prius assignaverit. Bundel. Petitionum in Turri London anno 10 Ed. 1. And in Rot. Parl. 21 Ed. 3. there is also Mention of the Avenors of the King, Queen and Prince.

Adventure, (but more properly Adventure) Is a Misfortune, causing the Death of a Man, without Felony: As when he is suddenly drowned or burnt, falling into the Water or Fire, or killed by any Mischance or Misfortune, Briton, cap. 7. where you may see how it differs from Misadventure. See Misadventure.

Avera (quasi Overa from the Fr. Ouvre and Ouvrage, velut Operagium) In Domesday, Grentbrighe. Rex Fordham, sed tamen semper inveniat Averam, vel 8d. in Servitio Regis. That is a Day's Work of the Plough, or 8d. 4 Inst. fol. 269.

Average, (Averagium) By Mr. Stene's Opinion, is derived from the Word Averia, Cattle, and consequently signifies Service, which the Tenant owes to the King or other Lord, by Horse or Ox, or by Carriage with either: For in ancient Charters of Privilege we find, Quietum esse de Averagiis. Others probably derive it from the Fr. Ouvrage, i. e. opus. In the Register of the Abbey of Peterborough (in Bibl. Cotton) it is thus explained: Averagium, hoc est, quod Nativi deberent ex antiqua servitute ducere bladum annuatim per annum diem de Pilegate apud Burgum, vel carriare turbas in Mariscos ad Maner. de Pilegate, cum carreis & equis suis. Anno 32 Hen. 3. cap. 4. and 1 Fac. cap. 32. It seemeth with us to have two Significations: First, Rastal. Tit. Exposition of Words, maketh Mention of the King's Averages, which I take to be the King's Carriages by Horse or Cart. Then, anno 32 H. 8. c. 14. and 1 Fac. c. 32. it is used for a certain Contribution that Merchants and others, do make proportionably towards their Losses, who have their Goods cast into the Sea, for the Safeguard of the Ship, or of the other Goods, and Lives of them in the Ship, in the Time of a Tempest. And this Contribution seemeth to be so called, because it is proportioned after the Rate of every Man's Average, or Goods carried. In this last Sense it is also used in the Statute 14 Car. 2. c. 27. Average, is also a little Dury, which those Merchants, who send Goods in another Man's Ship, do pay the Master of it for his Care, over and besides the Freight: For in the Bills of Lading, they usually say, — Paying so much Freight for the said Goods, with Primage and Average accustomed.

Average of Corn-Fields. In the North they use this Word Average, for what in Kent they call the Gratten, in other Parts the Eddish, in Wales the Adlugh, in some Counties the Roughings; i. e. the Stubble or Remainder of Straw and Grass left in the Corn-Fields, after the Harvest is carried in.

Averare. This Spelman interprets to carry Goods in a Wagon, or upon loaded Horses; a Duty required of some customary Tenants. But I question whether it did not sometime signify to drive Averia, Cattle, to some Fair or Market. — Omnes homines, (i. e. de Kyngston) debent ter averare ad Bristolium. Cartular. Glaston. MS. f. 4.

Averrare, To the like Purpose — debent fruges Domini metere, prata falcare, & carriare & averrare. — Cartular. ib. p. 39.

Aver-Corn, A reserved Rent in Corn, paid to Religious Houses, by their Farmers or Tenants; which Mr. Sommer deduces from the Fr. Ouvre, or Ouvrage, as if Corn drawn to the Lord's Granary by the working Cattle of the Tenant. But it seems more natural (like Averia from Avoir), to have or receive such a Quantity of Corn. I suppose the Custom owing to the Saxon Cyric-Scant, Church-Seed, a Measure of Corn brought to the Priest on St. Martin's Day, as an Oblation for the First-Fruits of the Earth. Under which Title the Religious had Corn-Rent paid yearly, as in an Inquisition of the Estate of the Abbey of Glastenbury, A. D. 1201. — Waltene reddit in gubulo af- isso to lib. xvi fol. — de Church-Seed, vel dua summa & dimid. frumenti. Cartular. Glaston. MS. f. 38. which Church-Seed, by a Norman Epithet, might easily in some Parts be called Aver-Corn, especially in Kent, where by Composition the Tenants of Mentfe, were to pay to the Abbot and Convent of St. Ansins, their Aver-Corn in a certain and determined Measure, A. D. 1263. — Novemint universi, quod cum temporibus renovatis quidam Tenentes Abbatis Sancti Augustini, in manerio de Mentfe, quoddam servitium annuum quod Aver-Corn vocatur, sub mensura minus certa, &c. Vid. Chron. W. Thorn. inter X Scriptores, col. 1912. Aver-Corn is also such Corn as by Custom is brought by the Tenants Carts or Carriages to the Lord's Granary or Barn.

Averdupois. See Acordupoiers.

Averia properly signifies Oxen or Horses used for the Plough, but in a general Sense any Cattle. Homines per averia sua, viz. equos & boves, & Afros graviter distrinxit. W. Thorn in Ed. 2. 'Tis used in the same Sense in W. 2. cap. 88. Let the Sheriff deliver all the Cattle of the Debtor exceptis bovis & affris caruce. Sir Henry Spelman deduces the Word from the French Ouvre, Work, as if chiefly working Cattle. But more probably from Avoir, to have or possess; the Word sometimes including all Personal Estate, as Catalla did all Goods and Chattels. In Northumberland they now say, a Falfe-aver, for a sluggish Horse, or lazy Beast. Yet Spelman rather derives it from the Lat. Affi or Affa, Country-Horses, and cites the said Northern Proverb, A Falfe Awer or Afer. I think the Word Heifer, to have been only a Corruption of Aver, and to have signified at first any Beast, though now restrained to the younger Kind.

Averia captis in Withernam, Is a Writ, for the taking of Cattle to his Use, that hath his Cattle unlawfully taken by another, and driven out of the County where they were taken, that they cannot be replevied. Reg. Orig. fol. 82. When one Beast is spoken of, we say, Quidam equus vel bos; but when more, it is not said in the plural Number, Equi or Boves, but Tot Averia.

Averland, Item Cellarius libere solebat capere omnia sterquilinia ad suum opus in omni vice, nisi ante ostia eorum qui habebant Averland. Mon. Angl. 1. par. fol. 302. a. It seems to have been such Land as the Tenants did plough and manure, cum averis suis, for the proper Use of a Monastery or Lord of the Soil: Quod autem nunc vocatur Averland, fuit terra rusticorum, ibid. which was subject to Averages, or the Lord's Carriages.

Averium ponderis, Full Weight, or Aver de Pois, — de quolibet panno sine grano, & de qualibet libra de averio ponderis, tres denarios. Cart. 3 Ed. 2.

Averment, Verificatio, Cometh from the French Averer, i. e. Tessari, signifies commonly an Offer of the Defendant, to make good or justify an Exception pleaded in Abatement, or Bar of the Plaintiff's Action; and there is Reason, why it would rather signify the Aff, than the Offer of justifying the Exception. For, anno 34 Ed. 1. Stat. 2. And the Demandant will offer to aver by the Affire or Jury, &c. where to offer to avere, and to aver must needs differ: And again in the same Statute, and the Demandant will offer to aver by the County, &c. And in 15 H. 6. cap. 1. The Defendants shall have their Averment, to say, that, &c.

Thirdly,

Thirdly, in the English Nat. Brev. fol. 57. These Errors shall be tried by Averment, &c. This Averment is Twofold, General and Particular; a General Averment, which concludes every Plea, &c. or in Bar of the Replication and other Pleadings, containing Matters affirmative, ought to be Averred, with these Words, Et hoc pariter est verificave, &c. Particular Averment, is when the Life of Tenant for Life, or Tenant in Tail is averred, &c. And an Averment contains as well the Matter as the Form thereof. Co. on Lit. fol. 362. b.

Averpeny (quasi Average-peny) Is Money contributed towards the King's Averages, or to be freed thereof. Rasfal. Expos. verb. Aver-peny, est quietum esse de diversis denariis pro Averages Dom. Reg. From the King's Carriages cum averis, 1 Inst. fol. 35. Habere et Averpeni, sc. pro singulis triginta acris duos denarios. Mon. Angl. 302. a.

Aver-silber — Rogerus Prior, & Capitulum Ecclesie Christi Cantuar. quieto clamant Magistrum, & Fratres Hospitalis St. Marie de Offrens, de consuetudinibus subscriptis videlicet de Annua Hate-wite, Ripe-sel-ver, Wood-lade, Heylode, Avel-felver, Lamb-felver, — que consuetudines fieri solent in curia de Adesham. Dat. Mense Feb. 1242. Reg. Eccl. Chr. Cant. MS.

Augea, A Cistern for Water. — A. D. 1451. 20 Sep. Episcopus Batho Well. concedit Civibus Wellensibus unum caput pro conductu aqutatio cum augeis suspiralibus, & ceteris machinis, sub & supra terrainis — primum caput est Augea, in quo tota aqua nostra recipitur, fiet rotunda in latitudine infra muros decem pedum de petra calce, vel alia materia cum pipis ex utraque parte dista Augea sive Cisterna annexis. Reg. Eccl. Well. M. S.

Augmentation, Augmentatio, Was the Name of a Court, erected 27 H. 8. as appeareth by the 27th Chap. of that Year's Parliament: And the End thereof was, That the King might be justly dealt with, touching the Profit of such Religious Houses, and their Lands, as were given to him by Act of Parliament the same Year, not Printed: For the dissolving of which Court, Authority was given to Queen Mary, by the Parliament held the first Year of her Reign, Self. 2. cap. 10. which fee afterward put in Execution by her Letters Patent. The Name of the Court sprung from hence, That the Revenues of the Crown were augmented so much by the Suppression of the said Houses, as the King reserved unto the Crown, and neither gave nor fold away to others. But the Office of Augmentation remains to this Day, wherein there are many Records of great Use and Importance.

Augusta, London.

Ausage. See Avage.

Avirunatus is mentioned in the Monasticon, 1 Tom. pag. 850. and it signifies an Oar, viz. Debet homo super pedes suos quo profundius poterit intrare, & dum ultra ire nequiverit, avirunatum unum octo pedibus longum, introitus de diverso lanceando propellere, & a loco quo Avirunatus ille transnatare desierit spatia 40 pedum per chordam debet mensurari, ibique signum in aquam insigi.

Avilamentum, Advice, Counsel. — de avilamento & consensu consilii nostri concessimus, was the common Form of our King's Grants.

Avis Sancti Martini, i. e. Cornix, so called, because this Bird appears about the Feast of St. Martin: Si a sinistra in dextram Avis Sancti Martini volaverit, &c. Pet. Blesensis Epit. 65.

Aula, i. e. a Court-Baron. Aula ibidem tenta 4 die Augusti. &c. Aula Ecclesia is that which we now call Navis Ecclesia: In medio Aulae majoris Ecclesie decenter sequalus est. Eadmi. lib. 6 pag. 141.

Aulinger. See Alleger.

Aumone, (French Aumône, that is, Alms) Tenure in Aumone, is a Tenure per liberam Eleemosynam. Britton, fol. 164. As where Lands are given to some Church, or Religious House, upon Condition, That some Service or Prayers shall be offered at certain Times, for the good of the Donor's Soul. See Frank-almoine.

Aumonier; French, Aumônier. Vid. Almoner.

Auncel-weight, Quasi, Handsale-weight; or from Ansa, i. e. the Handle of a Balance; being a kind of Weight with Scales hanging, or Hooks fastened to each End of a Beam or Staff, which a Man lifting up upon his Fore-Finger, or Hand, discerneth the Quality or Difference between the Weight and the Thing weigh'd. In which, because there was wont to be great Deceit, it was forbidden by several Statutes, as 25 E. 3. Stat. 5. c. 9. 34 E. 3. cap. 5. & 8 H. 6. cap. 4. and the even Balance only commanded; yet nevertheless this Weight continued in Use in divers Parts of England, notwithstanding the Constitution of Henry Chicheley, Archbishop of Canterbury, 1431. Pro abolitione ponderis vocati, Le Auncel-weight, &c. qui utitur Excommunicandus; but now it is utterly abolished by a late Statute made 22 Car. 2. cap. ult. A. D. 1434, among the Anathemas publicly denounced against all false Dealers and Deceivers, — 'Alle thei that use false Weights or false Measures, and in especial alle they that use a Weight that is 'cauled Auncel, shaft or poundre, or hoolde or 'keepe that Weight prively or openly. Reg. Eccl. Batho. Well. MS.

Auncient Demeane. See Ancient Demeane.

Auntiatu, i. e. Antiquated. Sicut charta eorum Auntiata est, & libertas anterior. Brompton, lib. 2. cap. 24. par. 6.

Avoydance, Hath a double Signification, the one, when a Benefice becomes void of an Incumbent; the other when we say in Pleadings in Chancery, confessed, or avoided, traversed, or denied, is true, &c. See Voydance.

Avoir du poids, It is true French, Avoir due poids, that is, Habere pondus, or justi esse ponderis. In Law it signifies two Things: First, a Kind of Weight diverse from that which is called Troy-weight, containing twelve Ounces to the Pound, whereas this containeth sixteen. And in this respect it may probably be conjectured, That it is so called, because it contains a greater Weight than the other. Secondly, it significth such Merchandise as are weighed by this Weight, and not by Troy-weight, as in the Statute of Tork, 9 E. 3. in Proemio, 27 E. 3. Stat. 2. c. 10. 2 R. 2. cap. 1. See Weights.

Avolte, i. e. Concameratio, Tholus. 'Tis mentioned in Mat. Paris. in vitis Abbatum St. Albani, viz. Eadem quoque Capella in arduum surgens super eam crepidinem, (for concamerationem,) que vulgo Avolta dicitur, Dormitorii diminutionem supplet.

Avon-River. See Alanus.

Avower, Advocatus. See Advowe: Britton, cap. 29. saith, That Avowee is he to whom the Right of Advowson of any Church appertaineth, so that he may present in his own Name; and is called Avowee, for a Difference from those that sometimes present in another's Name; as a Guardian, that presenteth in the Name of his Ward: And for a Difference also from those, which have the Lands, whereto an Advowson appertaineth, but only for Term of their Lives, of Years, or by Intrusion, or by Disseisin.

Abolyp. Is where one takes a Distress for Rent, or other Thing, and the other sues Replevin, then the Taker shall justify his Plea for what Cause he took it; and if in his own Right, he ought to shew it, and avow the Taking; which is called his Avowry. But if he took it in the Right of another, then when he has shewed the Cause, he shall make Cognizance of the Taking, as Bailiff or Servant to him, in whose Right he did it. Termes de Ley, 75. & 21 H. 8. cap. 19. For the more speedy and effectual proceeding upon Distresses and Avowries, see 17 Car. 2. cap. 7.

Aures. The cutting off the Ears was a Punishment inflicted by the Saxon Laws on those who robbed Churches, and afterwards on every Thief. Fleta, lib. 1. cap. 38. par. 10. And this Punishment was not only for Theft, but for many other Crimes. Upton, De militari officio, pag. 140.

Auricularius, A Secretary: Quem sibi amicularium & auricularium constituerat. Mon. Angl. pag. 120.

Aurum Reginae, The Queen's Gold. Ret. Pat. 52 H. 3. m. 6. Vid. Queen-Gold.

Auscultare. Because the reading of Prayers with a graceful Tone or Accent made some Impression on the Hearers, there was a Person appointed in the Monasteries to hear the Monks read, who directed them how and in what Manner they should do it, before they were admitted to read publicly in the Church before the People; and this was called auscultare, viz. to read or recite a Lesson: Quicumque lecturus vel cantaturus est aliquid in Monasterio, si necesse habeat, ab eo, (viz. cantore) priusquam incipiat, debet auscultare. Lanfrancus, in decretis pro ordinatione Benedicti. cap. 5.

Austurcus and Asturcus, a Goshawk; whence we usually call a Faulconer, who keeps that Kind of Hawks, an Austinger. Some ancient Deeds have reserved unum austurcum, as a Rent due to the Lord.

Autumn. Some computed the Years by Autumnus, but the English Saxons by Winters. Tacitus, De moribus German. tells us, That the ancient Germans knew the other Divisions of the Year, but did not know what was meant by Autumn. And Lyndeswode tells us when the several Seasons of the Year begin:

Autumnalia are the Fruits of the Earth that are ripe in Autumn or Harvest. 'Tis mentioned in Hengham Mag. cap. 5. Ista autem ultima Lex potest vadiari ad salvandum Autumnalia aut redditum assisum.

Auxilium ad filium militem faciendum & filiam maritandum, Was a Writ directed to the Sheriff of every County, where the King or other Lord, had Tenants, to levy of them reasonable Aid towards the Knighting of his Son, and Marriage of his eldest Daughter. See Aide, and F. N. B. fol. 52. But this is utterly taken away by the Stat. made 12 Car. 2. cap. 24.

Auxilium Curie, A Precept or Order of Court, for the Citing or Convening of one Party at the Suit of another. — Vocat inde ad Warrantiam Johannem Sutton de Dudley Chevalier, & Isabel- lam Uxorem, ut habeat eos hic in Oclabis S. Michaelis per auxilium Curie. Paroch. Antiq. p. 477.

Auxilium facere alicui in Curia Regis, To be another's Friend and Solicitor in the King's Court; a Fiduciary Office solemnly undertaken by some Courtiers, for their Dependents in the Country. — Sciant presentes & futuri, quod Ego Bernardus de S. Waleric conceffi Rogero de Berkley & heredibus suis auxilium & consilium meum in Curia Domini mei Regis Anglie. Paroch. Antiq. p. 126. Vid. Ayde.

Auxilium petere, To pray Aid, or Suit in a Cause; i. e. when an inferior Tenant is impleaded, and not capable to defend the Right in his own Name, he prayeth Aid of the superior Lord, to assist and justify his Plea. — Johannes de Handlo implacitatus de Manerio de Pidington, — dicit quod life non potest predicto Privi sine ipso Domino Rege respondere, & petit auxilium de ipso Domino Rege. Paroch. Antiq. p. 414. So the Incumbent prayed Aid of the Patron of the Church, in a Cause that affected a larger Portion of Tithes. Vid. Ayde.

Auxilium Regis, King's Aid, or Money, levied for the King's Use, and publick Service. Vid. Scutagium.

Auxilium Vicecomitum, The Aid or Customary Dues paid to the Sheriff, for the better Support of his Office. Prior de Kime Com. Linc. tenet duas carucatas terre in Thorpe per servitium xl denariorum per annum, ad auxilium Vicecomitis. Mon. Angl. Tom. 2. p. 245. An Exemption from this Duty was sometimes granted by the King, as a special Privilege.

Awaitte, 13 R. 2. cap. 1. Seems to be that which we now call Way-laying, or lying in wait to do a Mischief. The Words of the said Statute are; It is ordained that no Charter of Pardon from henceforth shall be allowed before any Justice for Murder, or for the Death of a Man slain by Awaitt, Assault, or Malice prepensed, Treason, or Rape of a Woman, unless the same be specified in the Charter, &c.

Award, May be derived from the French Agarder, and is properly the Judgment of one that is neither assigned by Law, nor appointed by the Judges, for the Ending a Matter in Controversy, but is chosen by the Parties themselves that are at Variance. And may seem to be called an Award, because it is imposed on both Parties, ad custodiendum seu observandum. Spelm.

Awme, Mentioned 1 Jac. c. 33. and 12 Car. 2. cap. 4. Is a Measure of Rhenish Wine, containing forty Gallons; yet you may read in an old printed Book these Words, — The Rood of Rhenish Wine of Dordreyght is ten Awames, and every Awame is fifty Gallons. Item, the Rood of Antwerp is fourteen Awames, and every Awame is thirty-five Gallons.

Awning, A Canopy supported by Iron Staves, hanging over a Boat or Pair of Oars in the River Thames. It is the common Word used by the Seamen for the Sail in hot calm Weather, set transverse over the Deck for Shade.

Axe and Axen come from the Saxon Verb Axian, to demand; and from hence our English Word Ask.

Axe or Ewe, a Town in Devonshire.

Arelodunum, Hexam in Northumberland.

Arminston, from the Saxon Afarnmyrster, so called because situated near the River.

Ayde, is where a particular Proprietor is impleaded, and not being able to defend the Thing for which he is impleaded, he prayeth Ayde of some better able; which is performed two Ways: First, In a Plea real, Tenens petit auxilium de A. S. sine quo respondere non potest. Secondly, in a Plea personal, and then the Defendant Petit auxilium ad manutenendum exitum. See Aid.

Azaldus, A Sort of poor Horle or Jade. — Affri, Azaldi, & alii Equi minoris valoris amovendi sunt a foresta de Englewoode. Claus. 4 Ed. 3.

Azozium, Azure-colour. — Qui ibidem fodientes lapidem non modicum inventum revolverunt, sub quo locellum ligneum conspiciat, convocatis Priore ac Conventu ipsum aperuit interius undique depictum, medietas cum verniculo, altera medietas cum azorio, & literas, &c. Abbat. Glaston. MS.

B.

Bar, An ancient Sort of Vessel, or Transport Ship. — Willielmus filius Willielmi Bek, tenet terram suam in Levingburn per Serjantiam inveniendi ad transfretationem Domini Regis unam Navem, que vocatur Baard, versus Vascomiam sumptibus suis propriis. Tenures, p. 62.

Baca, A Hook or Link of Iron, or a Staple. — In axibus emptis & carrectis axandis novem denarios, in colariis, Bacis, & sellis ad idem emptis xiii den. — Consuetudinarium domus de Favendon MS. penes. Wh. Kenner, f. 20.

Bacherinde, Is a Saxon Word, and almost good English at this Day, signifying so much as bearing upon the Back, or about a Man. Bracton useth it for a Sign or Circumstance of Theft apparent, which the Civilians call Furtum manifestum; for dividing Furtum into manifestum & non manifestum, he deneth Furtum manifestum in this Sort; Furtum vero manifestum est, ubi latro deprehensus est seistus de aliquo latrocinio, scil. Handhabend & Bacherinde, & insequens fuerit per aliquem cuius res illa fuerit. Lib. 3. Tract. 2. cap. 32. Manswood in his Forest-Law, Part 2. noteth it for one of the four Circumstances or Cases, wherein a Forester may arrest the Body of an Offender against Vert or Venison, in the Forest. For by the Assise of the Forest of Lancaster, (saith he) taken with the Manner, is when one is found in the King's Forest in any of these four Degrees, viz. Stable-stand, Dog-draw, Backbear and Bloody-hand; in which Place you may find all these interpreted.

Baccinium, A Bason or other Vessel to hold Water to wash the Hands. Non torpeta non Nourtergia non Baccinia, & nil omnino per violentiam exigatur. Simeon Dunelm. anno 1126. Mon. Angl. tom. 3. pag. 191. See Bacina.

Bachelletia, The Commonalty, as distinguished from Baronage. — Festivitate S. Edmundi Regis & Confessoris, in quindenam S. Michaelis apud Westmonasterium per Dominum Regem regaliter celebrata, Communitas Bachelerie Anglie significavit Domino Edwardo filio Regis, &c. Annal. Burton, p. 426. sub an. 1259.

Bachelor, Baccalaureus, Cometh of the French Word Bachelier; that is, Tyrol, a Learner: And thereupon I gather those that be called Bachelors of the Companies of London, be such of each Company, as are springing towards the Estate of those that are employed in Council, but as yet are Inferior. For every of the Twelve Companies hath a Master, two Wardens, the Livery, and the Ba*chelor*. I have read in an Old Monument, this Word Bachelor attributed to the Lord Admiral of England, if he were under a Baron. This Word is used 13 R. 2. Stat. 2. cap. 1. and signifieth the same with Knight-Bachelor, 3 E. 4. cap. 5. that is, a Simple Knight, and not a Knight-Baneret, or Knight of the Bath. Touching the farther Etymology of this Word, Baccalaurei (teste Renano) à bacillo nominati sunt, quia primi studii autoritatem que per exhibitionem baculi concedebatur jam concessi fuissent, &c. Anno 28 Ed. 3. we find a Petition recorded in the Tower, beginning thus, A nostre Seigneur le Roy monstrent votre Simple Bachelier, Johan. de Bures, &c.

Sachez nous Roger de Mortimer Seigneur de Wygemore avoir donne & grante a nostre chier Bachelier, Monsieur Robert de Harley, pour son bon service & pour cent livres de argent, la gard du Corps Gilbert Filz & heir Sir Johan de La-y, ensemblement ove le mariage mesmes celuy Gilbert deyns age esteant en nostre garde, &c. Donne à Penebrugge l'an du Regne le Roy Edward Filz le Roy Edward unzyme. Yet Camden in his Brit. fol. 176. makes a Question whether these Bachelors were not of a middle Degree between Simple Knights and Esquires. In Pat. 8 Ric. 2. par. 1. m. 4. Fohannes de Clavou is stiled Bacalaris Regis. See Baneret.

Bacina, A Bason. — Duos Margines de dnabus marcis argenti, & duas Bacinas argenti de sex marcis, duo candelabra de sedecim marcis. — Hist. Elicen. a D. Gale edita. p. 623. In the Inquisition of Serjancies and Knights Fees within the Counties of Essex and Hertford, Anno 12 & 13 R. Joh. — Petrus filius Petri Picot, tenet medietatem Heydene per Serjantiam serviendi de Bacinis, i. e. by the Service of holding the Bason, or waiting at the Bason, on the Day of the King's Coronation. Lib. Rub. Scaccar. fol. 137. See Baccinium.

Backberinde. See Bacherinde.

Baco, A Hog, a fat Hog, a Bacon-Hog. The Word very oftens occurs in our Charters, and other Muniments.

Bacille, A Candle-stick, properly so called, when formerly made ex baculo, of Wood, or a Stick. — Hugo Episcopus Dunelmensis fecit in Ecclesia coram Altari tria ex argento bacilla — in quibus lumina die noctuque perpetuo ardentia lucent. Coldingham, Hist. Dunelm. apud Warton Ang. Sac. P. 1. p. 723.

Badger, Cometh from the French Bagage; that is, Sarcina, a Bundle or Fardel; and thence is derived Bagagier, a Carrier of Bundles: It is used with us for one that is licensed to buy Corn, or other Viſuals in one Place, and carry them to another to sell; and such an one is exempted in the Statute made in the 5 and 6 of Ed. 6. c. 14. from the Punishment of an Ingrosser within that Statute. See Crompton's Justice of Peace, fol. 69, 70.

Badiza, Badecresser. See Bath.

Baga, A Bag, or Purse. — Carta Decani Ecclesie Litchfield, in Mon. Angl. tom. 3. p. 237. excentas marcas pecunie in quadam Baga de Whalley. Bagabel. Edw. 1. by his Charter granted to the Citizens of Exeter, a Collection of a certain Tribute upon all Manner of Wares brought to that City to be sold, towards the Paving the Streets, Repairing the Walls, and Maintenance of the City, commonly called in old English Bagabel, Wethugabel and Chipping-gabel. Antiq. of Exeter.

Bahadum is mentioned in Fleta, lib. 2. cap. 21. and signifies a Chest or Coffin.

Baiardour, A Carrier, or Bearer of any Weight or Burden; Lat. Bajulator. Whence our Badgers or Carriers of Corn from one Market to another.—offerebant duos Incisores in sua lapidicina, & caviagium petre usque ad naum, & de navi usque duos Baiardours servituros ad Ecclesiam. Petr. Bles. Contin. Hist. Croyland. p. 120.

Bail, (Ballium, plesina, mancaptio) Cometh of the French (bailier, tradere). It is used in our Common Law properly for the freeing or Setting at Liberty of one arrested or imprison'd upon Action, either Civil or Criminal, under Surety taken for his Appearance at a Day and Place certainly assigned. Bract. lib. 3. tract. 2. cap. 8. num. 8 & 9. The Reason why it is called Bail, is, because by this Means the Party restrained is delivered into the Hands of those that bind themselves for his Forth-coming: There is both Common and Special Bail; Common Bail, is in Actions of small Concernment; and is called Common, because any Sureties in that Case are taken: Whereas upon Causes of greater Weight, or apparent Specialty, Special Bail or Surety must be taken, as Subduty-men at the least, and that to the Value. Manwood in his Forest-Laws, Part 1. p. 167. maketh a great Difference between Bail and Mainprize, saying, He that is mainprised, is always said to be at large, and to go at his own Liberty out of Ward, after that he is let to Mainprize, until the Day of his Appearance, by Reason of the said Common Summons, or otherwise; but it is not so, where a Man is let to Bail, by four or two Men, by the Lord Chief Justice in Eyre of the Forest, until a certain Day; for there he is always accounted by the Law, to be in their Ward and Custody for the Time: And they may, if they will, keep him in Prison, or Ward during that Time. So that he who is so bailed, shall not be said by the Law to be at large, or at his own Liberty. See Lam. Eiren. lib. 3. cap. 2. pag. 330. Bail is also a certain Limit within the Forest, according as the Forest is divided into the particular Charges of several Foresters, Crompt. in the Oath of Bow-bearer, fol. 201. See Mainprize, and 4 Inst. fol. 178.

Bailiff, (Ballivus) Cometh from the French Word Bailiff, that is Præfatus Provincie, and as the Name, so the Office it self in ancient Time was answerable to that of France and Normandy: For as in France there be several Parliaments, which being Courts, from which lies no Appeal, and within the Precincts of the several Parts of that Kingdom, that belong'd to each Parliament, there be several Provinces, unto which, within themselves, Justice is ministred by certain Officers called Bailiffs. So in England, we see many several Counties or Shires, within which Justice hath been ministred to the Inhabitants of each County, by the Officer whom we call Sheriff or Viscount: The one of which Names descends from the Saxons, the other from the Normans. And though I cannot expressly prove, that this Sheriff was ever called a Bailiff; yet it is probable, that might have been one of his Names, because the County is many Times called Balliva, a Bailivick: As in Return of a Writ, where the Person is not arrested, he saith, Inframinatus A. B. non est inventus in Balliva mea. Kitchin Ret. Brev. f. 287. And again, in Bracton, lib. 3. tract. 2. cap. 33. num. 3. and 5 Eliz. 23. and 14 E. 3. Stat. 1. c. 6. And in the Sheriff's Oath the County is called his Bailivick. And, I think the Word Bailiff used cap. 28. of Magna Charta, compriseth as well

Sheriffs as Bailiffs of Hundreds, whom the Saxons called Seyrmans. So 14 E. 3. Stat. 1. cap. 9. But as the Realm is divided into Counties, so every County is again divided into Hundreds, within which it is manifest, That formerly the King's Subjects had Justice ministred to them by the several Officers of every Hundred, which were called Bailiffs. See Lupanus de Magistrat. Francor. lib. 2. cap. Ballivi. And the Grand Customary of Normandy, cap. 1. And the Truth hereof Bracton attests, lib. 3. tract. 2. cap. 34. num. 5. Where it appeareth, That Bailiffs of Hundreds might hold Plea of Appeal and Approvers. But since that Time, these Hundred-Courts, (certain Franchises excepted) are by the Statute of 14 E. 3. Stat. 1. c. 9. dissolv'd in the County-Courts, as you read in County and Hundred. And the Bailiffs Name and Office is grown into such Contempt, that now they are only Officers to serve Writs, and do such base Offices within their Liberties. Crompt. Just. of Peace, fol. 49. a. Yet is the Name still in good Esteem otherwise, for the chief Magistrates in divers Towns be called Bailiffs; as in Ipswich, Yarmouth, Colchester, and other Places: And there be others, to whom the King gives the Custody of his Castles, which are called Bailiffs, as the Bailiff of Dover Castle.

These ordinary Bailiffs are of two Sorts; Bailiffs Errants, and Bailiffs of Franchises: Bailiffs Errants, Bailivi Itinerantes, be those which the Sheriff maketh and appointeth to go hither and thither in the County to serve Writs, to summon the County, Sessions, Assizes, and such like. Bailiffs of Franchises, Bailivi Franchisarum aut Libertatum, be those that be appointed by every Lord within his Liberty, to do such Offices within his Precincts, as the Bailiff Errant doth at large in the County. Of these, read Sir Thomas Smith, De Rep. Angl. lib. 2. cap. 16. There be also Bailiffs of the Forest. Manwood, part 1. p. 113. There be likewise Bailiffs of Husbandry, belonging to private Men of great Substance, who seem to be so called, because they dispose of the Under-Servants, every Man to his Labour and Task, check them for misdoing their Business, gather the Profits to their Lord and Master, and deliver an Account for the same at the Year's End, or otherwise, as it shall be called for. The Office or Duty of a Bailiff of a Manor, or Household, (which in ancient Time seemeth to have been all one) Fleta well describeth, lib. 2. cap. 72, 73. This Word is also used in the Canon Law, cap. Dilecto de sent. Excom. in sexto, &c. 1 de pœnis in Clement. where the Glossographer saith, it is a French Word, signifying as much as Prepositus; and Balliva and Ballivatus is used among our Interpreters of the Civil and Canon Law for Provincia, as Balliva here with us in England, is taken for a County or Shire. The Word Balivus is derived from Baal, i.e. Dominus; quia Balivi dominantur suis subditis, quasi eorum Magistri & Domini.

Bailiff of a Commote (in Wales Balivus Commoti) seems to have some Power of Judicature within the Precincts of the Commote. For thus we read in Stat. Wallie, Balivi autem Commotorum de cetero teneant Commotos suos, & justiciam faciant & exercent inter litigantes.

Bailiff of the Moor. See Moor.

Bailment, Is a Delivery of Things, whether Writings, Goods, &c. to another, sometimes to be delivered back to the Bailor; that is, to him that so delivered it; sometimes to the Use of the Bailee, that is of him to whom it is delivered; and and sometimes also it is delivered to a third Person: This Delivery is called a Bailment.

Bainbriga, An iron Armour which covered the Legs in Time of War.

Bairman, A poor insolvent Creditor left bare and naked. — Stat. Will. Reg. Scot. cap. 17. Bairman, qui debet fieri, jurabit in Curia quod nihil habet ultra 5 solidos & 5 denarios.

Balance of Trade, A Computing the Value of all Commodities which we buy from Foreigners, and on the other Side, the Value of our native Productions, and Over-plus of foreign Goods, which we export into Neighbour-Nations. And the Difference or Excess between the one Side and the other of such Account or Reckoning, is called The Balance of Trade. Which Excess can be answered by us in nothing but our Coin or Bullion. The Overplus of Goods brought from our Colonies in America, and other foreign Parts, with which we supplied our Neighbours, did in Time of Peace at least Balance our Trade.

Balcenifer for Baldakinifer, i. e. a Standard-bearer; 'tis mentioned in Matt. Paris. Anno 1237. viz. ea die Balcenifer, qui ut alii, qui ceciderunt, cruentissimum de se reliquit hostibus victoriam, &c.

Baldakinus, The richest Cloth, now called Brocade, made with Gold and Silk: Tumbe sancti Alborni obtulit optimum Baldakinum. Matt. Westm. Anno 1260. Dominus Rex veste deaurata facta de pretiosissimo Baldakino sedens. Matt. Paris. Anno 1247. See Baudekun, so called, because it was formerly brought from Babylon, which in Latin was called Baldacus.

Bale, A Pack, or Quantity of Goods or Merchandise; as a Bale of Silk, Cloth, &c. The Word is used in 16 R. 2. cap. 1. and still in Use.

Balenger, By the Statute of 28 H. 6. cap. 5. seems to be a Kind of Barge, Boat, or Water-Vessel.

Balenger rather signifies a Man of War, tandem pene solus fugiens in Balingario. Walsingb. in R. 2. Hostes armaverunt quinque vasa bellica qualia Balingarios appellamus. Idem.

Baleuga, A Territory or Precinct. — Cum tali libertate, quod per totam Baleugam possit capere forisfactum suum. Charta Hen. 2. Recorded in the Dutchy-Office. See Bannum & Banleuca.

Baleys, A Rod: Ferens in manu virgam quam vulgo Baleys appellamus. Mat. Paris. Anno 1252.

Balistarius, A Balister, or Cross-bow Man; Gervard de la Wair is recorded to have been Balistarius Domini Regis. 28, 29 Hen. 3. n. 25. So Walterus de Moseley. Com. Sur. tenet terras per Serjantiam existendi Balistarius Domini Regis in exercitu suo, per xl dies. Anno 32 H. 3.

Balibis. In the Statute of Marlbridge, 52 H. 3. cap. 2. it is said, — ubi Balivum habeat vel Jurisdictionem. Here Baliva is well expounded by the Statute it self; for in this Place it signifies Jurisdiction. Co. Inst. fol. 105.

Balivum amovendo, Is a Writ to remove a Bailiff out of his Office, for want of sufficient living in his Baliwick. Reg. Orig. fol. 78.

Balkers or Balkers. See Conders.

Ballarr. This Word is found in Fleta, and signifies sopis expurgare.

Balliva, A Baliwick; from the French Bailler, to deliver, or commit. Balivus was the Person to whom an Authority or Trust was committed within such a District. Balliva was the whole District, within which the said Trust was to be executed. A whole County was so called, in respect of the Sheriff, infra Balliviam tuam. A whole Barony, in respect of the Lord or Baron; a Hundred in respect of the Chief Constable; a Manor, in respect of the Steward: A Circuit of Villages and Hamlets, with respect of the Capital Manor.

Ballium, Bail, or Delivery out of the Hands of a proper Bailiff or Keeper, of the Goods so delivered. — Catalla Felonum per visum & ballium Coronatorum tradantur. Cart. 3 Ed. 1. ex Cartular. Radings, MS. f. 156. b. Ballium signifies also a Sort of Fort or Bulwark: Eam civitatem cum exteriori Ballio castribellatorum suorum insulibus occupavit. Matt. Westm. Anno 1265.

Balla. It hath been sometimes the English Custom to cast Lots by Balls. As A. D. 1593. 14 Apr. Decanus Ecclesie Wellensis & Canonici Residentiarii miserunt Sortes pro Beneficiis, communiter nuncupat. Balls. Registr. Cartar. penes Decan. & Capit. Well.

Ban or Bans, Bannum signifieth a publick Notice given of any Thing. The Word is ordinary among the Feudists, and grown from thence to other Uses; as to that which we here in England call a Proclamation, whereby any Thing is publickly commanded or forbidden: Vincent. de Franchef. de jef. 251, & 360. Hostianum verbo Bannus, in verbis Feudalibus, saith, That there is both Bannus and Bannum, and that they signify two divers Things. But in England we use this Word Bans, especially in publishing matrimonial Contracts in the Church, before Marriage, That if a Man can say ought against the Intention of the Parties, either in respect of Kindred, Precontract, or otherwise, they may take their Exception in Time. And in the Cannon Law, Banne sunt Proclamationes Sponsi & Sponse, in Ecclesiis fieri solite, cap. 27. Extra de spons. &c. Yet our Word Banning seems to come from thence, being an Exclamation against, or Cursing of another. Byatton in one Place mentions Bannus Regis, for a Proclamation, or Silence made in Court by the Cryer, before the Meeting of Champions to a Combate, Lib. 3. tract. 2. cap. 21. In terra ditionis sue Bannum, id est, interdittum misit, quod est Prohibitio, quod nullus fur aut latro esset, &c. Histor. Norman. Edit. 1619. fol. 85. b.

Bancalia, Cushions, or like Coverings of Ease and Ornament, for Benches or other Seats. — Prior Eliensis contulit unum dorsale magnum & pulchrum, cum tapetis & bancalibus ejusdem secte — de quibus jam sunt pro magno Altari & Altari in Choro, & bancalia super formas in Choro sternenda in Festis principalibus. Histor. Elien. apud Whartoni Ang. Sacr. P. 1. p. 649. And we find it mentioned in several Places in the Monasticon, as in 1 Tom. pag. 222. Septem scannorum tegmina, vulgo Bancalia, &c.

Bancus, A Stall, a Bench or Table, on which Goods are exposed to Sale. As Lib. Doomf-day, — In Eboraco Civitate — Comes de Moritonro habet ibi xiv manfones, & duos bancos in macello, & Ecclesiam Sancte Crucis.

Banooe, A Musical Sort of Instrument with Strings, first invented by John Rose Citizen of London, living in Bridewell, the 4th of Queen Elizabeth. See Stow Annal. p. 869.

Bane, Proceeds from the Saxon Bana, a Murderer, and signifies the Destruction or Overthrow of any Thing. Braff. lib. 3. tract. 2. cap. 1. nu. 1. He which is the Cause of another Man's Death, is said to be le Bane, a Malefactor. So when when a Man receives a mortal Prejudice by any Thing, we commonly say, Such a Thing was his Bane.

Baneret, Bannerettus, Miles Vexillarius, in Mr. Skene's Opinion seemeth to be compounded of Banner and Rent. But Cambden in his Britannia, pag. 109. derives it from the German Bannerheymen. Sir Tho. Smith, lib. de Rep. Angl. cap. 18. saith, That a Baneret is a Knight made in the Field, with the Ceremony of cutting off the Point of his Standard, and making it as it were, a Banner: And accounted so honourable, that they are allowed to display their Arms in a Banner in the Field in the King's Army as Barons do. Others add, that Blood must be first drawn in the Field. These are Camden's Words, loco supra citato; Banneretti, cum Vassalorum nomen jam deserat, à Baronibus secundi erant; quibus inditum nomen a Vexillo: Concessum illis erat Militaris virtutis ergo quadrato Vexillo (perinde ac Barones) uti, unde & Equites Vexillarii à nonnullis vocantur, &c. Of creating a Knight Baneret, read Mr. Segar Norrey his Book, lib. 2. cap. 10. That they be next to Barons in Dignity, appears by the Statute, 14 R. 2. 11. and by 5 R. 2. Stat. 2. cap. 4. It may be conjectured, That they were anciently called by Summons to the Court of Parliament. And 13 R. 2. Stat. 2. cap. 1. we find, That a Baneret for praying a Pardon for a Murderer, contrary to the Statute, is subject to all one Punishment with a Baron. Henry the Seventh made divers Banerets upon the Cornish Commotion, Anno 1495. And William de la Pole was created a Baneret by Edward 3. by Letters Patent Anno regni sui 13. Memb. 13. Those Banerets who are created sub vexillis Regis in exercitu regali, in aperto bello, & ipso Rege personaliter presente, explicatis, take Place of Barons, as appears by the Letters Patent for Creation of Barons. See further Selden's Titles of Honour, fol. 799. and Co. Inst. 4. fol. 6.

Bangoz. See Bonium.

Bannishment, Exilium, abjuratio, Cometh of the French Word Bannissement, and hath a Signification known to every Man: But there be two Kinds of Bannishment in England; one voluntary, and upon Oath, whereof you may read Abjuratio; the other upon Compulsion, for some Offence or Crime. As if a Lay-man succour him that having taken Sanctuary for an Offence, obstinately refuseth to abjure the Realm, he shall lose his Life and Member. If a Clerk do so, he shall be banished, Staundf. Pl. Cor. fol. 117. This Punishment is also of our modern Civilians called Bannimentum, which was anciently termed (deportatio) if it were perpetual, or (relegatio in insulam) if for a Time. Vincent. de Franchef. Pet. de Belluga in suo speculo, fol. 125. nu. 4.

Bank, Bancus, Cometh of the French Banque, i. e. Mensa. In our Common Law, it is most usually taken for a Seat or Bench of Judgment; as Bank le Roy, the King's Bench; Bank de Common Pleas, the Bench of Common Pleas; Kitchin, fol. 102. called also in Latin Bancus Regis, & Bancus communium Placitorum, Crompt. Just. fol. 67 & 91. Cambden also in his Brit. calls them Bancum Regium, & Bancum Communem: There is another Sort of Bank, which signifies a Place where a great Sum of Money is let out to Use, returned by Exchange, or otherwise disposed to Profit. Jus Banci, or the Privilege of the Bench, was anciently allowed only to the King's Judges qui summam administrant justitiam; for inferior Courts, such as Court-Barons, and Hundred-Courts were not allowed that Privilege since at this Day the Hundred-Court at Freebridge in Norfolk is held under an Oak at Geywood; and that the Court for the Hundred of Woolsey in Herefordshire is held under an Oak near Aston in that County, which is called, The Hundred-Oak. See Free-Bench.

Bankers. The Usurers and mony'd Goldsmiths first got the Name of Bankers, in the Reign of Ch. 2. as by the Words of an Act of Parliament, Anno 22, 23 Car. 2. Whereas several Persons, being Goldsmiths, and others, by taking or borrowing great Sums of Money and lending out the same again, for extraordinary Hire and Profit, have gained and acquired to themselves the Reputation and Name of Bankers, &c.

Bankrupt, Quasi Bancus ruptus, or Bankrupt; because when the Bank or Stock is broken, or exhausted, the Owner is said to be a Bankrupt. The Composition of the French Word, I take to be this; Banque, that is, Mensa, and Route, that is, Vestigium, metaphorically taken for the Sign left in the Earth, of a Table once fastened into it, and now taken away. So that the Original seemeth to be drawn from those Roman Mensarii, which, as appeareth by many ancient Writers, had their Tabernas & Mensas in certain publick Places, where they fled, and deceived Men that had put them in Trust with their Money, they left but the Signs or Carcasses behind them. But Bankrupt with us signifies his or her Act, that having gotten other Mens Goods into his Hands, hideth himself in Places unknown, or in his own private House, not minding to restore to his Creditors what is due to them. In the Statute made 34 H. 8. c. 4. the French Word Banque Route faire, is literally translated to make Bankrupt. And by 1 Jac. c. 15. a Bankrupt is thus described: All and every such Person using, or that shall use the Trade of Merchandise, by Way of Bargaining, Exchange, Bartery, Chevisance, or otherwise in Gross, or by seeking his, her, or their Trade of living, by Buying and Selling; and being a Subject born within this Realm, or any of the King's Dominions, or Denizen, who at any Time since the first Day of this present Parliament, or at any time hereafter shall depart the Realm, or begin to keep his, her, or their House or Houses, or otherwise to absent him, or her self, or take Sanctuary, or suffer him or her self willingly to be arrested for any Debt or other Thing not grown or due, for Money delivered, Wares sold, or any other just or lawful Cause, or good Consideration or Purpose, or hath, or will suffer him or her self to be outlawed, or yield him or her self to Prison, or willingly or fraudulently hath, or shall procure him or her self to be arrested, or his, or her Goods, Money, or Chattels to be attached or sequestred, or depart from his or her Dwelling-house, or make, or cause to be made any fraudulent Grant, or Conveyance of his, her, or their Lands, Tenement, Goods or Chattels, to the Intent, or whereby his, her or their Creditors, being Subjects born, as aforesaid, shall, or may be defeated, or delayed for the Recovery of their just and due Debts; or being arrested for Debt, shall after his or her Arrest, lye in Prison six Months, or more, upon that Arrest, or any other Arrest or Detention in Prison for Debt, and lye in Prison six Months upon such Arrest or Detention, shall be accounted and adjudged a Bankrupt, to all Intents and Purposes. But the later Act, 14 Car. 2. cap. 23. hath provided, That no Person whatsoever, who shall adventure in the East-India, or Guinea Company, or in the Royal Fishery Trade, shall be esteemed a Merchant or Trader within any Statute of Bankrupt, or liable to the same.

Banleug: See Bannum.

Bannatus foris, In the same Sense as Bannitus, Outlawed, or judicially banished. — Ego David Filius Leolini concessi Domino Henrico Regi Anglie — quod de cetero non receptabo Utlagos, vel Forisbannatos ipsius Domini Regis, vel Baronum suorum. Pat. 25 Hen. 3. apud Brady Hist. Angl. Append. p. 196.

Banni Mutilales, The Barns of Matrimony. — Benedictus de Hertelpool, presentatur ad Ecclesiam de Rungeton per Priorem & Cono. Dunelm. 3 Id. Novemb. 1274. per emotionem Johannis de Baulton, qui Matrimonium contraxit cum Isabella de Aslakeby, Bannis editis in facie Ecclesie, ut moris est de Goldberg. Ex Regist. Wilt. Giffard. Archiep. Ebor.

Bannum, The Form of Expulsion of any Member, from the University of Oxford, by affixing the Sentence in some publick Places, as a Denunciation or Promulgation of it.

Bannitus, An Outlaw, or Banished Man — Vobis precipimus quod eidem Cancellario ad inferendum, arrestandum & capiendum dictos Malefactores & Bannitos, &c. Pat. 15 Ed. 3. Part. 3. dorf. 8.

Bannum, vel Banleuga, The utmost Bounds of a Manor or Town, so used 47 Hen. 3. Rot. 44. Carta Canuti Regis Censibus Thorreie. Notum facio, me elemosynam nostram Christo concessisse & omnibus Sanctis suis, &c. viz. primo Terram illam a Twiella usque Thorney, ubi Bannum nostrum cessat. Banleuca de Arundel is used for all comprehended within the Limits or Lands adjoining, and so belonging to the Castle or Town. Seld. Hist. of Tiches, pag. 75.

Baratoz. See Barrator.

Barberries, (Oxyantha) A Thorny Shrub, known to most Men to bear a Berry or Fruit red, and of a sharp Taste. These Berries, as also the Leaves of the said Tree, are medicinale, as Gerard sheweth in his Herbal, lib. 3. cap. 21. you find them mentioned among Drugs to be garbled. Anno 1 Jac. cap. 9.

Barbican (Barbicanam) A Watch-Tower, Bulwark, or Breast-Work. Mandatum est Johanni de Kilmington Custodi Castri Regis & Honoris de Pickering, quoddam Barbicanum ante portam Castri Regis predicti muro lapideo, & in eodem Barbicanum quandam portam cum ponte versatili, &c. de novo facere, &c. T. Rege, 10 Aug. Claus. 17 Ed. 2. m. 39. Fontem etiam duplici muro circumdatum habentem barbicanum novem turribus circumseptum. Rand. de Diceto, Anno 1181.

Barbicanage; (barbicanagium) Money given to the Maintenance of a Barbican, or Watch-Tower. Carta 17 Ed. 3. m. 6. n. 14. 'Tis a Tribute towards the Repairing or Building a Bulwark: 'Tis mentioned in the Monasticon. 1 Tom. p. 976. De kalagio, muragio, pagagio, barbicanagio, & de operibus castorum, &c.

Barca, a Bark; Navis mercatoria, & que merceres exportat. Gloss. Sax. Ælfrici. A Flotkip.

Barcaris, Barcaria, A Barkary, or Tan-house, or Place to keep Bark for the Use of Tanners. New Book of Entries, Tit. Assise, Corp. Polit. 2.

Barcarium, Barcaria, A Berghery, a Sheep-coat, and sometimes a Sheep-walk. See Bercaria. Bercarii, or rather Berquarii, May be taken for Shepherds; for we usually say, Berecarium a Shepherd, and both seem to come from the French Word Bergerie.

Bard alias Bard. See Clark.

Bar-fee, Is a Fee of 20d. which every Prisoner, acquitted of Felony, pays to the Gaoler. Crompt. Just. of Peace, fol. 158.

Baruain and Sale, As it seemeth by West. Symb. Par. 1. Lib. 2. Sect. 436. is properly a Contract made of Manors, Lands, Tenements, Hereditaments, and other Things, transferring the Property thereof from the Bargainor to the Bargainee; whereto the Author of the New Terms of Law addeth, That it ought to be for Money; saying withal, that it is a good Contract for Land, &c. and that the Fee-simple passeth thereby, tho' it be not said in the Deed, To Have and to Hold the Land to him and his Heirs: And though there be no Livery and Seisin, made by the Vendor, so it be by Deed indented, seal'd and inroll'd, either in the County where the Land lies, or within one of the King's Courts of Records, at Westminster, within six Months after the Date of the Deed, according to 27 H. 8. cap. 16. Such Bargain and Sale may be made by Lease and Release, without Livery or Enrolment.

Bargaret, Is an obsolete Word signifying a Shepherd, from the French Berger.

Barghmasser. See Berghmasser.

Barillus, Barillum, A Barrel. — Et propter hanc donationem predictus Thomas dedit unum barillum vini, &c. Cartular. Hen. de Oilly, temp. Hen. 2. See Barrel.

Baron, (Baro) Is a French Word, and hath divers Significations here in England. First, It is taken for a Degree of Nobility next unto a Viscount. Bract. lib. 1. cap. 8. num. 4. saith, Sunt & alii Proceres sub Rege, qui dicuntur Barones, quasi robore Belli. And in this Signification it is borrowed from other Nations, with whom Baronie be as much as Provincia. Petr. Belluga in specul. Princip. fol. 119. So that Barons seem to be such, as have the Government of Provinces, as their Fee holden of the King; some having greater, some lesser Authority within their Territories: Yet it may be probably thought, that of old Times here in England, they were called Barons that had such Signiories, as we call Court-Barons, as they be at this Day in France called Seigneurs; that have any such Manor or Lordship. And the Learned in Antiquities have affirmed, That soon after the Conquest, all such came to the Parliament, and sat as Peers in the Upper-House. But when by Experience it appeared, That the Parliament was too much thronged by such Multitudes, it was in the Reign of King John ordain'd, that none should come, but such as the King for their extraordinary Wisdom, Interest, or Quality, thought good to call by Writ; which Writ also then ran (hac vice tantum). But then Men seeing this Estate of Nobility to be but casual, and to depend merely upon the Prince's Pleasure, they obtained of the King Letters Patent, to settle such Honour upon them, and their Heirs Male, and these were intitled Barons by Patent, or Creation, whose Posterity be now by Inheritance, and true Descent of Nobility, those Barons that be called Lords of the Parliament, of whom the King may create at his Pleasure. Yet nevertheless, there are Barons by Writ, as well as by Letters Patent, and they may be discerned by their Titles; because the Barons by Writ are those that to the Title of Lord, have their own Surname annexed, whereas Barons by Letters Patent are named named by their Baronies. These Barons which were first made by Writ, may now justly be called Barons by Prescription, for that they have continued Barons by themselves and their Ancestors, beyond the Memory of Man. The Original of Barons by Writ, Canibden in his Brit. Pa. 109. referreth to Henry the Third. Barons by Letters Patent, or Creation (say our Antiquaries) commenced in the Time of Richard II. For then John Beauchamp was created Baron of Kedderminster. The Manner of whose Creation, read in Stow's Annals, p. 1121. Selden's Titles of Honour, fol. 637. Fryne's Glory of Generosity, p. 125, 126. Skene de verb. sign. Tit. Baro. And Sir Tho. Smith, lib. 1. de Rep. Ang. cap. 17. saith, That none in England is created a Baron, unless he can dispend 1000 li. per an. or at least 1000 Marks. To these Segar (by Office Norrey) lib. 4. c. 13. Of Honour Civil and Military, addeth a third Kind of Barons, calling them Barons by Tenures; and those be the Bishops of the Land; all which, by Virtue of Baronies annexed to their Bishopricks, have always had Place in the Upper-House of Parliament, and are termed Lords Spiritual. But in former Days all Men were called Barons: 'Tis certain the King's Tenants were so called: Si quis Baronum meorum, vel comitum, vel aliorum, qui de me tenuit, mortuus est. Mat. Paris. an. 1110. Fecit notificari per totam Angliam, ut Baro quisquis terram tenens de Rege in capite, &c. Matt. Westm. pag. 317. Afterwards it signified only Noblemen: Nam si illi Barones post mortem Peipini, sic sano consilio egerunt, ut pax inter fratres Regis & inter regni Primores ac populum esset. Du Fresne: Where 'tis plain that Barones and Primores have the same Signification.

Baron in the next Signification, is an Officer, as Barons of the Exchequer, of whom the Principal is called Lord Chief Baron (Capitalis Baro) and the three other (for so many there be) are his Assistants in Causes of Justice, between the King and his Subjects, touching Matters appertaining to the Exchequer and the King's Revenue. The Lord Chief Baron is the Chief Judge of the Court, and in Matter of Law, Information and Plea, answereth the Bar, and giveth Order for Judgment thereupon. He alone in the Term-Time sits upon Nisi prius, that come out of the King's Remembrancer's Office, or out of the Office of the Clerk of the Pleas, which cannot be dispatched in the Mornings for want of Time. He taketh Recognizances for the King's Debts, for Appearances and observing of Orders. He taketh the Presentation of all Officers in Court under himself, and of the Mayor of London, and sees the King's Remembrancer give them their Oaths: He taketh the Declaration of certain Receivers Accounts of the Lands of the late Augmentation made before him by the Auditors of the Shires; and gives two Parcel-makers Places by Virtue of his Office. The Second Baron, in the Absence of the Lord Chief Baron, answers the Bar in Matters aforesaid. He also taketh Recognizances for the King's Debts, Appearances and observing of Orders: He giveth yearly the Oath of the late Mayor and Escheator of London, for the true Account of the true Profits of his Office: He taketh a Declaration of certain Receivers Accounts. He also examineth the Letters and Sums of such Sheriffs foreign Accounts, as also the Accounts of Escheators and Collectors of Subsidies and Fifteenths, as are brought unto him by the Auditors of the Court. The Third Baron, in the Absence of the other two, answereth the Bar in Matters aforesaid, and taketh Recognizances as the Former. He giveth yearly the Oath of the late Mayor and Gawger of London for his true Accounting. He also taketh a Declaration of certain Receivers Accounts, and examineth the Letters and Sums of such of the former Accountants as are brought unto him. The Fourth Baron is always a Curfitor of the Court, and hath been chosen of some one of the Clerks of the Remembrancers Offices, or of the Clerks of the Pipes Offices: He at the Day of Prefixion, takes Oath of all High-Sheriffs, and their Under-Sheriffs, and of all Escheators, Bailiffs, and other Accountants, for their true Accounting. He taketh the Oath of all Collectors, Controulers, Surveyors, and Searchers of the Custom-Houses, that they have made true Entrances in their Books. He appoeth all Sheriffs upon their Summons in open Court: He informeth the Rest of the Barons of the Course of the Court in any Matters concerning the King's Prerogative: He likewise, as the other Barons, taketh the Declaration of certain Receivers Accounts, and examineth the Letters and Sums of such of the former Accountants as are brought unto him.

These Barons of the Exchequer are ancient Officers, for I find them named, Westm. 2. cap. 11 an. 13 E. 1. and they be called Barons, because Barons of the Realm were wont to be employed in that Office. Fleta, lib. 2. cap. 24. Sir Tho. Smith saith of them, That their Office is to look to the Accounts of the Prince, and to that End they have Auditors under them, as also to decide all Causes appertaining to the King's Profits, coming into the Exchequer by any Means. This is proved in Part by the Statutes of 20 E. 3. cap. 2. 27 E. 3. Stat. 2. cap. 18. 5 R. 2. Stat. 1. cap. 9. & 12, & 14 R. 2. 11. And hereupon they have of late been Men learned in the Common Laws of the Realm, whereas in ancient Time they were others, viz. Majores & discretiores in Regno, siue de Clevo essent, siue de Curia. Ockham in his Lucubrations, De Esca Regii ratione. Horne's Mirror of Just. saith, That the Barons were wont to be two, and they Knights. Cap. de la place l'Eschequer.

There are also Barons of the Cinque-Ports; 31 E. 2. 3. 2. & 33 H. 8. cap. 10. which are two of every the seven Towns of Hastings, Winchelsea, Rye, Rumney, Hythe, Dover, Sandwich, that have Places in the Lower House of Parliament. Crompt. Jur. fol. 28.

Baron in the Third Signification, is used for the Husband in Relation to his Wife, which is so ordinary in all Law Books written in French, that it would be vain to mention any one.

The Chief Magistrates of London were also called Barons, before they had a Lord Mayor, as will appear by the City-Scal, as also by several ancient Charters, particularly one of H. 3. in these Words, Henricus Rex. Sciatis nos concessisse & hac presenti Charta nostra confirmasse Baronibus nostris de Civitate London, quod eligant sibi Mayor de seipsis singulis annis, &c. See Spelman's Gloss. at large upon this Word.

Barones regis were either of the King's Family, or those who held their Lands immediately of him.

Baroner, Baronetus, Is a Dignity or Degree of Honour, and hath Precedency before Baronets, Knights of the Bath, and Knights Batchelors, excepting only such Baronets as are made sub Vexillis Regis in aperto Bello, & ipso Rege personaliter presente.

This Order was erected by King James, 1611. as may appear in Rot. Part. 10. Jac. Par. 10. m. 8. & 14. Jac. Part. 2. m. 24. with an Habendum sibi & Hæredibus masculis. Therefore we may believe, that where the Word Baronets is mentioned in our Old Statutes, and ancient Authors, it is Mistaken for Baronets. 2 Inft. fol. 667. And Selden's Titles of Honour, fol. 736.

BARONY, (Baronia, Baronagium.) Is that Honour that gives Title to a Baron, under which Notion are contained not only the Fees and Lands of Temporal Barons, but of Bishops, who have two Estates, one as they are Spiritual Men, by Reason of their Spiritual Revenues and Promotions, as was the Tribe of Levi among the Israelites, being sustained only by the First-Fruits and Tenths of the other Tribes. Josb. cap. 13. ver. 14. The other grew from the Bounty of our English Kings, whereby they have Baronies at the least, and by that are Lords of Parliament. In ancient Times thirteen Knights Fees and a Quarter made up a Tenure per Baroniam, which amounted to 400 Marks per annum. This Barony (according to Bract. lib. 2. cap. 34.) is a Right invisible, and therefore if an Inheritance be to be divided among Coparceners, though some capital Messuages may be divided, yet, Si capitale Messuagium sit caput Comitatus, vel caput Baronie; he faith, they may not be parcelled. The Reason is, Ne sic caput per plures particulas dividatur, & plura fura Comitatum & Baroniarum deveniant ad nihilum, per quod deficiat regnum, quod ex Comitatibus & Baronibus dicitur esse constitutum. There are other Barons which bear that Title to this Day, but are no Barons of Parliament. Such were those constituted by Hugh Lupus Earl of Chester, in the County Palatine there; as the Baron of Malpas, the Baron of Kinderton, &c. The Manor of Burford in the County of Salop was found by Inquisition capit. 40 Ed. 3. teneri de Rege ad inveniendo 5 homines pro Exercitu Wallie, & per servitium Baronie; and the Lord thereof (Sir Gilbert Cornwall) is called Baron of Burford; but is no Baron of Parliament.

The Baronies belonging to Bishops are, by some, called Regalia, because ex sola liberalitate Regum eis olim concessa & a Regibus in feudum tenentur; and those Royalties did not consist in one Barony alone, but in many; for Tot erant Baronie quot majora predia. Stubbs, writing of the Archbishops of York, tells us, That Rex iratus tres Baronias. Archiepiscopatus Eboracensis ex antiquo collatas & eidem annexas seisciri fecit.

Barr, Barra, Cometh of the French (Barre) or Barriere, that is, Repagulum, Obex, Væstis. In the Legal Sense, it denotes a peremptory Exception against a Demand or Plain, and is by the Author of the Terms of the Law said to be such a Plea, as is sufficient to destroy the Action of the Plaintiff for ever: And is divided into a Barr to common Intendment, and a Barr Special, A Barr to common Intendment, is an Ordinary or General Barr that ordinarily disableth the Declaration or Plea of the Plaintiff. A Barr Special, is that which is more than Ordinary, and falleth out in the Case in Hand, upon some Special Circumstance of the Fact. Plews. Com. Colbirt's Case, fol. 26. a. b. As for Example, An Executor being sued for his Testator's Debt, pleaded, That he had no Goods left in his Hands at the Day the Writ was taken out against him: This is a good Barr to common Intendment; or (prima facie). But yet the Case may so fall out, that more Goods might fall to his Hands since that Time; which if the Plaintiff can shew by way of Replication, then except he have a more especial Plea or Barr to be alledged, he is to be condemned in the Action. See also Plews. in casu supra citato fol. 28. and Bro. Tit. Barr, num. 101. and Kitchin, fol. 215.

Barr also in the same Signification, is divided into Barr Material, and Barr at large. Kitchin, fol. 68. A Barr Material, as it seemeth, may be otherwise called a Barr Special: As when one in Stop of the Plaintiff's Action, pleadeth some particular Matter, as a Descent from him that was the undoubted Owner, a Feoffment made by the Ancestor of the Plaintiff, or such like. A Barr at large is, when the Tenant or Defendant, by way of Exception, doth not traverse the Plaintiff's Title, by Pleading Not guilty, nor confess or avoid it, but only making to himself a Title in his Barr. As if in an Affize of Novel Disseisin, the Tenant plead a Feoffment of a Stranger unto him, and gives but a Colour only to the Plaintiff; of this, there may be an Example found, 5 H. 7. fol. 29. Barr is also in regard of the Effect, divided into Barr perpetual, and Barr pro tempore: Perpetual is that, which overthroweth the Action for ever. Barr pro tempore is that, which is good for the Present, and may fail hereafter. See Brook, Tit. Barr, nu. 23. where he faith, That to plead Plene administravit is good, until it may appear, that more Goods came to the Executor's Hands afterwards: Which also holdeth for an Heir, that in an Action of his Ancestor's Debts, pleadeth Riens per descent. This Word is also us'd for a Material Barr, as the Place where Sergeants at Law or Counsellors stand to plead Causes in Court, or Prisoners to answer to their Indictment; whence our Lawyers, who are called to the Barr, or licensed to plead (in other Countries called Licentiatii) are termed Barraffers. 24 Hen. 8. c. 24. See Blank Barr,

Barra Auri, vel Argenti: A Barr of solid Metal.

Barraia, A Hedge or Fence for a Barrier, or Mound in Land — dedimus quietantiam Fratribus S. Johannis Jerusalem, de purpessura inter metas Haie de Halewode, in Nottingham sita apud Winkelbiri, de viis, arvis & dimid. & de situ Barraie sue, & de vasti Communis bosci. — Cart. Ric. Reg. 1.

Barraffer (Barraferius, Repagularius Causidicus.) See Utter Barraffer.

Barriator, or Barretor, (Barredator, French Barateur, a Deceiver;) is a common Mover or Maintainer of Suits, Quarrels or Parts either in Courts, or elsewhere in the Country; and is himself never quiet, but at Brawl with one or other, Qui cum Terentiano Dasso omnia perturbat: To this Effect you may read Lamb. Eiren, p. 342. who faith also, That Barator may seem to be derived from the Latin Barator; or Balatro, that is, a vile Knave, or Unthrif; and by a Metaphor a Spot in a Common-wealth. See the Statute of Champerty, 33 Ed. 1. Stat. 2. cap. unico, and West. 1. c. 32. An. 3 E. 1. Mr. Skene de verb. signif. Tit. Barrastry, faith, That Barrators be Symonists, so called of the Italian Word Barrastraria, signifying Corruption or Bribery in a Judge, giving a false Sentence for Money; whom you may read more at large, as also Hortensius Cavalcanus in his Tract. de Brachio Regio, p. 5. nu. 66. See also Egidius Bossius in practica criminali, Tit. de Officialibus corrupti. &c. nu. 2, & 6. & Co. lib. 8. fol. 36; 37.

Barrel, Is a Measure of Wine, Oil, &c. containing the eighth Part of a Tun, the Fourth of a Pipe, and the Second of a Hoghead, that is, thirty-one Gallons and an half. 1 R. 3. cap. 13. But this Vessel seemeth not to contain any certain Quantity, but differeth according to the Liquor: For a Barrel of Beer containeth thirty-six Gallons, and a Barrel of Ale but thirty-two. Anno 23 H. 8. cap. 4. and by 12 Car. 2. cap. 25. The said Mife of thirty-two Gallons of Mune-Miscure, which is about twenty-eight Gallons of Old Standard, well packed, containing in every Barrel usually a Thousand full Herrings at least, &c. and shall be taken for good, true, and labour Mife of Herring Barrels. Anno 13 Eliz. c. 11.

Barriers, Cometh of the French Word Barres, and signifieth with us that which the Frenchmen call Feu de Barres, i. e. Palestra, a Martial Sport of Exercise of Men armed, and fighting together with short Swords, within certain Bars or Lists, whereby they are separated from the Spectators: It is well grown out of Use here in England.

Barrow, A large Hillock or Mount of Earth, raised or cast up in many, especially the Western Parts of England, which may seem to have been a Mark of the Roman Tumuli, or Sepulchres of the Dead. From the Saxon Beorg, a raised heap of Earth: Or rather from Bearu, Beora, which was commonly taken for a Grove or Toft of Trees on the Top of a Hill. See Mr. Kennet's Glossary to Paroch. Antiq. in the Word Barrow.

Barter, May probably be derived from the French Barater, Circumvenire. It signifieth in our Books, Exchange of Wares for Wares. An. 1 R. 3. cap. 9. And so the Substantive Bartry, 13 Eliz. cap. 7. The Reason may be, because they that chop and change in this Manner, do endeavour for the most Part, one to over-reach and circumvent the other.

Barton, Is a Term used in Devonshire, and other Parts, for the Demesne Lands of a Manor; sometimes for the Manor-House it self; and in some Places for Out-houses and Fold-Yards. In the Stat. 2. and 3 E. 6. cap. 12. Barton Lands and Demesne Lands, are used as Synonyma's. See Berton.

Bas Chevaliers, Low or inferior Knights by Tenure of a bare Military Fee, as distinguished from Baronets and Banerets, who where the Chief or Superior Knights. Hence we now call our bare simple Knights, inferior to Baronets, &c. Knight-Bachelors, i. e. Bas Chevaliers, which in all Likelihood gave Name to the Academical Degree of Bachelors, as a Quality lower than that of Masters and Doctors. So in France they call the Suburbs the basse Ville, or the inferior Town. See Mr. Kennet's Glossary to Paroch. Antiq. in voce.

Basardi, Qu. whether Pattens, or Clogs, or Slop-shoes. — Inter Injunctiones Philippi Repingdon Episcopi Lincoln. datas Vicariis, Ludimagistris, &c. An. 1410. — Item quod dicti Vicarii & Clerici quicunque & precipue cum fuerint recessiti, inonestis togis suis cum longis manicis, quae vulgariter Pokes nominantur, non utantur — ac etiam basardos & calapodia deponant, quae in Ecclesia strepitum faciunt & generant malum sonum. Reg. Repingdon Episc. Linc.

Base Court, Is any inferior Court, that is not of Record, as the Court-Baron, &c. Of this read Kitchin, fol. 95, 96, &c.

Base Fee. Vide Bas Estate.

Base Estate, Is in true French Bas Estat. It signifies that Estate which Base Tenants have in their Land. Now Base Tenants, be they (according to Lambard, in his Explication of Saxon Words, verb. Paganus), which perform to their Lords Services in Villenage. The Author of the Terms of the Law, saith, That to hold in Fee Base, is to hold at the Will of the Lord. Kitchin, fol. 41. makes Base Tenure and Franck Tenure, to be Contraries, and puts Copyholders in the Number of Base Tenants; whence it may probably be conjectured, that every Base Tenant holdeth at the Will of the Lord, but yet that there is a Difference between a Base Estate, and Villenage; which Fitzh. in his Nat. Brev. fol. 12. seemeth to intermingle. For to hold in Villenage, is to do all that the Lord will command. So that a Copyholder hath but a Base Estate; not holding by doing every Commandment of his Lord, he cannot be said to hold in Villenage. And I will not undertake to determine, whether Copyholders by Custom, and Continuance of Time, have shaken off that extream Servitude, wherein they were at first created, altho' Fitz. loco citato, saith, Tenure by Copy hath grown but of late Years.

Basels (Baselli) a Sort of Coin abolished by Hen. 2. Anno 1158. This Year the King altered his Coin, abrogating certain Pieces called Basels. Hollinsh. pag. 67.

Baselard, or Basillard, in the Stat. 12 R. 2. cap. 6. signifies a Weapon; which Mr. Squeight, in his Exposition upon Chaucer, calls Pugionem vel sciam, A Poniard; Areyt Basillardo transfixit Jack Straw in gutture. Knighon, lib. 5. Cum alio Basillardo penetravit latera ejus. Idem, pag. 2731.

Basellers, A. D. 1180. Novae Moneta currit in Anglia post Basellers, circa Festum Sancti Martini. Annal. Waverl. sub Anno 1180.

Basileus, i. e. a King. 'Tis mentioned in several of our Historians, and seems peculiar to the Kings of England. Monasticon, Tom. 1. pag. 65. Ego Edgar totius Anglia Basileus confirmavi. So in Page 84, 93, 102, 140, 218, 236. and 2 Tom. pa. 328, 340, 341. Flor. Worces. pag. 617. Ingulphus, pa. 384. Malmes. 58. Mat. Paris. 156, 157. Hovedon, p. 426, 433.

Basnetum, A Basnet, or Helmet. By Inqu. 22 Ed. 3. after the Death of Lawrence de Hastings Earl of Pembroke thus: — Quod quidem manerium (i. e. Aston Cantloue) per se tenetur de Domino Rege in capite per servitium inveniendi unum hominem peditem cum arcu sine chorda, cum uno basneto, sive cappa per xl dies sumptibus suis propriis, quotiens fuerit guerra in Wallia.

Basia Tenura, Base Tenure, or holding by Villenage or other Customary Service, as distinguished from Alta Tenura, the Higher Tenure in Capite, or by Military Service, &c. Manerium de Cheping Farendon, cum pertinentiis, est de antiquo domino corone Domini Regis, unde omnia praedicta tenementa sunt parcella, & de basia tenura ejusdem manerii. Consuetud. Domus de Farendon, MS. f. 44.

Basle, A Collar for Cart-Horses, made of Straw, Sedge, Rushes, &c. A. D. 1425. The Burfars of the Priory of Burcester Com. Oxon. account — in tribus coleris, uno basle, cum tribus capistris v. fol. x. den. ob. Paroch. Antiquities, p. 574. Hence the Base for kneeling in Churches.

Bassinet a Skin with which the Soldiers covered themselves; from the Saxon, Basfang, Oblamy.

Bastard, Bastardus, From the British Bastard, that is Nothus or Spurius; Is one that is born of any Woman not married; so that his Father is not known by Order of Law, and therefore is called Filius Populi, the Child of the People.

Cui pater est populus, pater est sibi nullus & omnis: Cui pater est populus, non habet ipse patrem.

The Learned Spelman very rationally derives the opprobrious Name of Bastard, from the Norman bas, and Saxon steort, Rife or Original; as a Person of a base and vile Extrard. The like Termination and Sense remain in Upstart, a Fellow of a new and late Rife. Such Bastard cannot inherit Land, as Heir to his Father, nor can any but the Heir of his Body take Land as his Heir. Littleton, sect. 401. If a Child be begotten by him that marries the Mother after the Child's Birth, yet it is in the Judgment of Law a Bastard, tho' the Church holds it legitimate. Stat. 20 H. 3. 9. and 1 H. 6. 3. Co. on Lit. 244. If a Man take a Wife who is great with Child by another, who was not her Husband; yet the Child, tho' born but one Day after the Marriage, shall be Heir to the Husband. So if one marry a Woman, and never bed her, but die before Night, and she have a Child after, yet it seems he shall be accounted his Child, and legitimate. See the English Lawyer, 117. If a Man or Woman marry a second Wife or Husband, the first Living, and by that second have Issue, such Issue is a Bastard. 39 E. 3. 14. 7 H. 4. 49. 18 E. 4. 26. If a Woman elope with a Stranger, and hath a Child by him, yet if the Husband be infra quatuor Maria, he is legitimate, and shall inherit the Husband's Lands. 44 Ed. 3. 10. 7 H. 4. 10. For the Punishment of the Mother and reputed Father of a Bastard, see 18 Eliz. cap. 3. He that gets a Bastard in the Hundred of Middleton in the County of Kent, forfeits all his Goods and Chattels to the King. M. S. de temp. Ed. 3. Before the Stat. 2 & 3 Ed. 6. cap. 21. one was adjudged a Bastard quia filius sacerdotis. Plac. de temp. Job. Regis, Lincoln 22.

Bastard, Barstardium, signifies likewise a Kind of Weapon. Abque armis, gladiis & barstardiis, &c. Clauſ. 17 R. 2. verso.

Bastardy, (Barstardia) Cometh of the French Word Bastard, and signifies a Defect of Birth, objected to one begotten out of Wedlock. Bract. lib. 5. cap. 19. How Bastardy is to be proved, or enquired into, if it be pleaded; see Rastal's Entries, Tit. Bastardy, 104. and Kitchin, fol. 64. who mentions Barstardy Special, and Bastardy General: Bastardy General is a Certificate from the Bishop of the Diocese to the King's Justices, after just Enquiry made, that the Party enquired of is a Bastard, or not a Bastard, upon some Question of Inheritance. Bastardy Special is a Suit commenced in the King's Court, against him that calleth another Bastard; so termed, because Bastardy is the principal and Special Cafe in Trial, and no Inheritance contended for. And by this it appeareth, that in both these Significations Bastardy is rather taken for Examination or Trial, whether a Man's Birth be legitimate or not, than for Bastardy it self. See Bro. Tit. Bastardy, n. 29. and Dr. Ridly's Book pag. 203, 204.

Baston, Is a French Word signifying a Staff or Club, and by the Statutes of our Realm, denotes one of the Wardens of the Fleet's Servants or Officers, that attendeth the King's Court with a painted Staff, for the taking into Custody such as are committed by the Court; and so it is used in 1 R. 2. 12. 5 Eliz. cap. 23. See Trayle Baston, and Tippstaff.

Basus. Per basum tolnetum capere, To take Toll by Strike, and not by Heap; per basum being opposed to in cumulo vel castello. — Tolnetus ad molendinum sit secundum consuetudinem regni — mensura per quas tolnetus capi debet sint concordantes mensuris Domini Regis, & capiatur tolnetus per basum, & nichil in cumulo vel castello. — Consuetud. Domus de Farendon, MS. fol. 42.

Debatable Ground, Was the Land lying between England and Scotland, heretofore, when the Kingdoms were distinct, in Question to whom it belonged. 23 H. 8. 6. and 32 H. 8. 6. The Word seems as if we should say Debatable Ground, or Land about which there is Debate, according to the Opinion of Skene. See Lamb. Brit. Tit. Cumberland.

Bath, called by the Britons Badiza, and Aqua solis by the Saxons. See Aqua solis, Acamannes Caester, Bathan-cesster, Bathon. Lat. Acamanni Civitas, i. e. the City of sick Men who resort thither. Now called Bath, in Somersetshire.

Battoria, i. e. a Fulling-Mill. 'Tis mentioned in the Monast. 2 Tom. p. 832. viz. Usque ad stagnum molendini ipsius Willielmi cum Buttorio, (for Battorio) & a gardino suo ubique, &c.

Batwaine, Sax. Bar, a Boat, and Swaine a Servant; a Mariner, or Boatswain. Domesday.

Battel, Duellum, Signifies in our Common Law a Trial by Combat: The Manner whereof, because it is long, full of Ceremonies, and now totally disused, the better to understand, I refer you to Glanville, lib. 2. cap. 3, 4, 5. Bract. lib. 3. tract. 2. c. 21. fol. 140. Brit. c. 22. And Sir Tho. Smith de Rep. Ang. lib. 2. c. 7. & lib. 2. cap. 3. See Combat.

Battery, (from the French Batre, to strike, or the Saxon Batte, a Club,) is a violent Striking or Beating any Man; for which, in regard it tends to the Breach of the Peace, the Party injur'd may either indict the other at the Sessions, or have his Action of Trespas of Assault and Battery against him, and recover what the Jury will give him; which Action will lie as well before as after the Indictment. But if the Plaintiff made the first Assault, the Defendant shall be quit, and the Plaintiff shall be amerced to the King for his false Suit. In some Cases a Man may justify the moderate Beating of another, as the Parent his Child, the Master his Servant or Apprentice, &c. This Battery the Civilians call Injuriam personalem, quia persona infertur per verbera, &c. Wesemb. par. 11 de injur. & fam. libell.

Battle, Battelus, A little Boat. In the Reign of Edw. III. every great Ship landing at Billinggate in London, paid for Standage two Pence; every little Ship with Orelocks, a Penny: The lesser Boat, called a Battle, a Half-penny. See Stow's Survey of Lond. f. 225.

Batus, A Boat, and Batellus, a little Boat. Concessit etiam eidem Hugo Wake, &c. quod Præd. Abbas, &c. de Croyland habeant tres Batellos in Harnolt, &c. Cart. E. 1. 20 Jul. 18. Regni. See Liberia Batella. Hence we have an old Word Batfweynes, for such as now we call Boatswains, vulgarly vulgarly the Bosen of a Ship. It is a very frivolous Conjecture of Dr. Skinner. — Nefcio an nostrum Boat ortum sit a Teutonico Bott, Nuncius, q. d. Cymba intervenientia classis. It is more certain the Latin Batus, Hisp. Batel, Ital. Batello, came from the Saxon Bat, and that from the old Brit. Bád, which in present Welsh and Irish is a Boat. Hence a Bottom, which is still a common Word for a marine Vessel: Whence Bottomry, when the Master of a Ship borrows Money upon the Credit of his Bottom.

Baubels, (Baubella) Is an old Word signifying Jewels. Ro. Hoveden. part. poster. suor. Annal. f. 449. b. Tres partes thesauri sui & omnia Baubella sua amisit.

Baudetyn, Cloth of Gold, or Tissue upon which Figures in Silk, &c. were embroidered. — In die S. Johannis Evangelista (Anno 1285.) Antonius Episcopus Dunelm. Ecclesiam ingressus duas Baudetyns historiam Nativitatis dominica continentes obtulit, & eas ad ornandum magnam Altare in Festo Natalitii assignavit. Hist. Dunelm. apud Whartoni Ang. Sacr. Par. 1. p. 747. Baldicum & Baldekimon, anno 4 Hen. 8. cap. 6. erat pannus auro rigatus, plumatque opere intertextus. Yet some Authors account it Cloth of Silk only.

Bay or Pen, Is a Pond-head, made up of a great Height to keep in Store of Water, so that the Wheels of the Furnace, or Hammer belonging to an Iron Mill, may be driven by the Water coming thence through a Passage or Flood-gate, called the Penstock. Also a Harbour where Ships ride at Sea near some Port. The Word is mentioned An. 27 Eliz. cap. 19. Buhun. in his Hist. Scot. fol. 7. writes it Bei, and expounds it by Sinus Maris.

Beacon, A kind of Saxon Word betokening a Signal: It is well known. 8 El. cap. 13. Beaconage (Beaconagium) Money paid towards the Maintenance of a Beacon, and we still use the Word to Becken, to give Notice unto. See the Stat. 5 H. 4. and Dorf. Pat. 28 H. 6. part. 2. m. 21. Pro Signis, Anglice Beacons, & Vigiliis. And Pryn's Animad. on 4 Inst. f. 134. and 135. See Firebore.

Bead, or Bede, (Sax. Bead, Oratio). So that to say Our Beads, is to say Our Prayers. They were most in Use before Printing, when poor People could not go to the Charge of a manuscript Prayer-Book. These are mentioned in 27 H. 2. c. 26. and 3 Jac. c. 5.

Beam is that Part of the Head of a Stag where the Horns grow; from the Sax. Beam, i. e. Arbor; because they grow out of the Head as Branches out of a Tree.

Bearding, alias Barding, of Wooll. See Clack.

Beauroz, — Justices of Assize shall enquire, hear, and determine of Maintenance, Bearers, and Conspirators, and of those that commit Chambrary, &c. Anno 4 Ed. 3. cap. 11. Such as bear down or oppress others; Maintainers.

Beasts of the Forest, (Fere sylvestres) Are those that are otherwise called Beasts of Venery, and are five: The Hart, the Hind, the Hare, the Boar, and the Wolf: Antiquitas Britannie, written before the Conquest, fol. 43. Holinsh. Description of England, p. 206. b. 30. Book of St. Albans, f. 30. Budaus, lib. 2. de Philologia, and divers others.

Beasts of Chase, (Fere campestres) Also are five; viz. The Buck, the Doe, the Fox, the Marten, and Roe. Manwood's Forest Law. Part. 2. cap. 4. num. 2.

Beasts and Fowl of Warren, Are only these, the Hare, the Coney, the Pheasant, and the Partridge, as appears by the Register of Writs. f. 95. in brevi de transgressione, F. N. B. fol. 86, 87. Co. on Lit. 233.

Beastials. See Bestials.

Beaupleader, (Pukbre Placitando) Is made of two French Words Beau, Formosus, Pulcher, and Plaider, Disputare, Causum agere; and signifies in Common Law a Writ upon the Statute of Marlbridge, 52 H. 3. c. 11. whereby it is provided, That neither in the Circuit of Justices, nor in Counties, Hundreds, or Court-Barons, any Fines shall be taken of any Man for Fair Pleading, that is, for not pleading fair, or aptly to the Purpose; upon which Statute this Writ was ordained, against those that violate the Law herein. See F. N. B. fol. 270. whose Definition is to this Effect: The Writ upon the Statute of Marlbridge, for not Fair Pleading, lieth where the Sheriff, or other Bailiff, in his Court, will take Fine of the Party, Plaintiff or Defendant, for that he pleadeth not fairly. And it was as well in respect of the vicious Pleadings, as of the Fair Pleadings, by way of Amendment. 2 Part. Inf. fol. 122.

Befrals, or Bid-ale, Was a friendly Assignation made for Neighbours to meet, and drink at the House of new married Persons, or other poor People, and then for the Guests to contribute to the Housekeepers. See Bidale.

Bedel, Bedellus, Is derived from the French Word Bedeau, which signifies a Messenger, or Apparitor of a Court, that cites Men to appear, and answer. It is also an inferior Officer of a Parish or Liberty, well known in London and the Suburbs. Manwood in his Forest-Laws, cap. 21. saith, That a Beadle is an Officer or Servant of the Forest, that doth make all Manner of Garnishments for the Courts of the Forest; and also all manner of Proclamations, as well within the Courts of the Forest as without, and also to execute all the Process of the Forest: He is like unto a Bailiff Errant of a Sheriff in his County. Edgarus interdicat omnibus Ministris, id est, Vicecomitibus, Bedellis, & Balivis in patria Girovorum, — ne introeant fines & limites distri marisci. Ingulph. Hist. Croyl. The Word Bedel, properly a Crier, was Sax. Bydel from Bydde, to publish or declare: As to bid and forbid the Banns of Matrimony, bidding of Prayers, &c. Hence the Uicerfity Bedels, the Bedel of Beggars; the Church Bedels, which we now call Summoners and Apparitors.

Bede-house, An Hospital, or Alms-house for Bedes-men, or poor People, who prayed for their Founders and Benefactors, from Sax. Biddan, to Pray.

Bedelary, Bedelaria, is the same to a Bedel, as Baliva, a Balivick, is to a Bailiff. Litt. lib. 3. c. 5. Will. filius Ade tenuit Bedelariam Hundredi de Macclesfield, &c. Ex Rot. Antiq.

Bederepe, or Bidrepe (from the Sax. biddan to entreat or pray, and repe, to reap Corn.) This Customary Service of inferior Tenants, was call'd in the Latin of that Age, Precaria, bedrepium, &c. Signifying a Service, which some Tenants were anciently bound to perform, as to reap their Landlords Corn in Harvest, in Imitation of which, some are yet tied to give one, two, or more Days-work, when commanded, called in some Places, Boon-days. Debent venire in Autumno ad precariam quæ vocatur a le Bederepe, Pla. in Craft. Pur. 10 H. 3. Rot. 8. See Magna Precaria and Precaria.

Bedeweri are those which we now call Banaiti, profligate and excommunicated Persons. The Word is mentioned in Mat. Paris. Anno 1258. Sicque facta est pax dispersis praconibus quos Bedeweros vocant.

Belerium, the same with Antiovestum.

Belgae i. e. the Inhabitants of Somersetshire, Wiltshire, and Hampshire.

Bellama flubius, Rhebel, in Lancashire.

Belundita, for Widowit, i. e. an Amerciament for shedding Blood. Leg. H. 1. c. ult. Qui vulnus alicui faciet, in cooperto, in rudo, pro singulis uncis 10 denar. Et remaneat de ceteris istibus Et belunditis, Et vita domino deciderit, si sanguis deciderit.

Benefice, Beneficium, Is generally taken for all Ecclesiastical Livings, be they Dignities, or other. And Anno 13 R. 2. Stat. 2. cap. 8. Benefices are divided into Elective, and of Gift. In the same Sense it is used also in the Canon Law. Duarenus de Beneficiis, lib. 2. c. 3. The Portions of Land, and other immoveable Things, granted by the Lords to their Followers, for their Stipend or Maintenance, were at first called Munera, while revocable at the pure Pleasure of the Lord: They were after called Beneficia, while Temporary, or held for some limited Time, which was commonly one Year. But when by Degrees these Tenures from an arbitrary Condition became perpetual and hereditary, then they left their former Name of Beneficia to the Livings of the Clergy, (they being Temporary for Term of Life) and retained to themselves the proper Names of Feuds, whereby they were produced to perpetual and hereditary. Vid. Spelman of Feuds, cap. 2.

Beneficia primo ecclesiastico habendo, Is a Writ directed from the King to the Chancellor or Lord Keeper, to bestow the Benefice that first shall fall in the King's Gift, above or under such a Value, upon this or that Man. Reg. Orig. fol. 307. b.

Beneficium was an Estate in Land at first granted for Life; and it was called Beneficium, because it was held ex mero Beneficio of the Donor. These Tenants were bound to swear Fealty to the Donor, and to serve him in the Wars: They were only Usufructuaries at first, and no more; and most commonly such Estates were given to military Men, that they might be more firmly bound to perform Military Services. At length, by the Consent of the Donor or his Heirs, these Estates were continued to the Posterity of the Donee, subject to the same Services as before. And those which were given by Kings, were called Regalia Beneficia. But sometimes such Benefices were given to Bishops and Abbots, subject also to the like Services, viz. to provide Men to serve in the Wars; and when they, as well as the Laity, had obtained a Property in these Lands, they were called Regalia, which upon the Death of a Bishop returned to the King till another was chosen. Thus we read in Randolphus de Diceto, Anno 1093. viz. That W. 2. commanded that the City of Canterbury, which Archbishop Lanfrank held of him in Beneficio, and that the Abbey of St. Albans, which was enjoyed by him and his Predecessors, should for the Future be held by Archbishop Anselme in Alodium Ecclesie Cantuariæ perpetuo jure. And thus began Feodatory Estates, which we now call Fee-simple.

Benefit of the Clergy. See Clergy.

Benererly, Was a Service which the Tenant rendered to his Lord, with his Plough and Cart. Lamb. Itin. p. 412. and Coke on Littleton, p. 86. a. Sometimes called Benvryden, and Benvryden.

Benvolentier, Benevolentia, is used both in the Chronicles and Statutes of this Realm, for a voluntary Gratuity given by the Subjects to the King. *Stow's Annals, pag. 701. By the Statute Anno 1 R. 3. cap. 2. it is called a new Imposition, and in that respect found Fault with. But Stow. p. 791. saith, The Invention grew first from Edward the Fourth's Days: You may find it also An. 11 H. 7. c. 10. to have been yielded to that worthy Prince, in regard of his great Expences in Wars and otherwise: See Coke's 12 Rep. fol. 119, 120. It is also mentioned, and excepted out of the Pardon, 1 E. 6. cap. 15. Other Nations call it Subsidium Charitativum, given sometimes to Lords of the Fee by their Tenants, sometimes to Bishops by their Clergy. *Mattheus de afflictis desicis, 136. Cassan. de consuet. Burg. p. 134, 136. Baldus, consilio, 120. vel. 6. p. 230. Of this Menochius makes Mention, lib. 2. cent. 2. cap. 178, and 179. Also by Act of Parliament, 13 Car. 2. cap. 4. it was given to King Charles the Second.

Benevolentia Regis habenda, The Form in ancient Fines and Submissions to purchase the King's Pardon and Favour, in order to be restor'd to Estate, Title or Place. — Thomas de S. Walerico dat Regi mille marcas, pro habenda Benevolentia Regis, Et pro habendis terris suis unde Disseisus fuit. Paroch. Antiquities, p. 172.

Benones. High Crofs.

Benrip, Tenentes de Whitborn in Com. Heref. debent pro quadam consuetudine qua vocatur Benrip, viz. pro quinque operationibus in Terminis Beati Michaelis, 5d. Lib. niger Heref. See Bedrepe.

Berbicage, (Berbiagium) Natio Tenentes Manerii de Calstoke reddunt per an. de certo redditu vocat. Berbicage, ad le Hokeday 19s. M. S. Survey of the Dutchy of Cornwall.

Berbicaria, a Sheep-Down, or Ground to feed Sheep. Leges Aluredi, cap. 9. Et quod de Berbicaria, &c. Sometimes 'tis written Bercheria, as in Mon. Angl. Tom. 1. pag. 308.

Bercaria, Berqueria, Berceria, a Sheep-fold, Sheep-cote, or Sheep-pen, or other Enclosure for the safe keeping of Sheep. Abbreviated from Barbicaria, from Berbez, detorted from Vervex. Hence the Middle-aged Latin Berbicus, a Ram, Berbica, an Ewe; Caro Berbecina, Mutton. Berbicarius, Bercarius, Fr. Berger, a Shepherd. A. D. 1218. James le Bret of Brigenball, gave four short Ridges or Butts of Land to the Priory of Burcester, — ad faciendam Berkeriam, pro quicquid eis melius placerit. — Paroch. Antig. p. 187. John de Charlton, and Christian his Wife, gave to the Abbey of Osney, a Piece of Land in Hokenorton, upon which stood the Berchery of Sutton, Ibid. p. 348. In Domesday Book it is written Berqueria. Co. 2 Inst. fol. 476. Mandatum est Roberto de Lexington, quod Abbati de Miraval faciat unam Bercariam in pastura de Fairfield ad oves custodiendas. Claus. 9 H. 3. m. 12. Dedit sexaginta acres terre ad unam Bercariam faciendam. Mon. Angl. tom. 2. fol. 599. where it seems to signify a Sheep-walk or Pasture.

Berefellartij, i. e. Permerdati. There were seven Churchmen, so called anciently, belonging to the Church of St. John of Beverley. — Sed quia eorum turpe nomen Berefellorum patens ritui remanebat, dictis septem de cetero non Berefellarii sed sed Personas volumus nuncupari. Pat. 21 Ric. 2. par. 3. m. 10. per Infex.

Berefreit, or Berefreed, a great wooden Tower. Videns autem Rex se non ut disposuerat proficere, ligneam turrim, quam Berefreit vocant, erexit. Si-meon Dunelm. anno 1123.

Beregasol, i. e. a Tribute of Barley; from the Sax. Bere, hordeum, and Gasol, tributum.

Berewicha; Iste sunt Berewichæ ejusdem manerii. Domesday. Villages or Hamlets belonging to a Manor. See Berwica.

Berewis. See Berwica.

Berghmapster, vulgarly Barmafter and Barmer (from the Sax. berg, Mons; quasi, Master of the Mountain) Præfatus seu Curator fodine. A Bailiff or chief Officer among our Derbyshire Miners, who among other Parts of his Office, does also execute that of Coroner among them. — Juratores dicunt, quod in principio quando Mineratores veni- unt in campum mineras quærentes, inventa minera, venient ad Balivum qui dicitur Berghmapster, & petent ab eo duas Metas, si sit in novo campo, & habebunt unam, scil. pro inventionem, & aliam de jure Minerato- rum, & unaquæque meta continet quatuor Particatas, & ad foveam suam septem pedes, & unaquæque Particata erit de 24 pedibus, &c. Esc. de An. 16 E. 1. num. 34. See Bergmote, and Sir J. Pettus his Fodina Regales. The Germans call a Mountaneer, or Miner, a Bergman.

Bergmote or Berghmote, vulgarly Barmote. — Juratores dicunt etiam quod Placita del Bergmote debent teneri de tribus septimanis in tres septimanas super mineram in Peco. Esc. 16 Ed. 1. ut supra. This Bergmote or Berghmote, comes from the Saxon berg, i. e. Mons, and mote or gemote, conventus: Quasi, the Court held upon a Hill, for deciding Pleas and Controversies among the Derbyshire Miners; of which, thus Mr. Manlove, in his ingenious Treatise of their Customs.

Beria, Berra, Berie, Berry. Most of our Glof-fographers in the Names of Places, have con-founded the Termination of Berie, with that of Berry, and Borough, as if the Appellative of ancient Towns. Whereas the true Sense of the mention'd by Mat. Paris, ab. an. 1174, is not to be taken for the Town, but for the adjoining Plain. To these and other his Remarks on that Word, may be added, That many flat and wide Meads, and other open Grounds, are still called by the Name of Beries, and Berie-fields. So the spacious Mead between Oxford and Isley, was in the Reign of King Atthelstan called Bery. B. Twine, MS. c. 2. pag. 253. As now the largest Pasture-Ground in Quarendon, Com. Buck. is known by the Name Berry-Field. And such indeed were the Berie Meadows, which tho' Sir Henry Spelman interprets to be the Demefine-Meadows, or Manor-Meadows, yet were they truly any flat open Meadows, that lay adjoining to any Vill or Firm. The same with Berras, in that Plea between the Bishop and Prior of Carlisle, 18 E. 1. & quod Rex in foresta sua predicta, (scil. de Inglewood) potest Villas edificare, Ecclesias construere, Berras assartare, & Ecclesias illas cum decimis terrarum illarum pro voluntate sua cuiusque voluerit conferre; where berras assartare, must be to assart or plough up the plain open Heaths, or Downs. Hence the Termination of many Places, situate in a more open Campagne; as Mixberie, Cornberie, &c.

Berkshire. See Atrebatii.

Bernagium. See Brenagium.

Bernef, (Incendium from the Sax. byrnan, to burn) is one of those Crimes, which, by Henry the First's Laws, cap. 13. emendari non possunt: It signifies Domus combustio, according to MS. Bibl. Cotton. Tit. Vitellius. C. 9. Sometimes it signifies any capital Offence. Leges Canuti apud Brompt. c. 90. Leg. H. 1. c. 12. 47.

Berofure, in Domesday is used for Berkshire.

Berquarta. See Berbicaria and Bercaria.

Berquarii and Bercarii, Shepherds. Domesday. See Bercaria.

Berra, A plain open Heath. Berras assartare, to grub up such barren Heaths. Pet. in Parl. 18 Ed. 2. See Beria.

Berrithatch, In the Court-Rolls of the Manor of Chaton, in Com. Somers. is used for Litter for Horses.

Quia volumus quod Castrum nostrum Gloucestræ, necnon & Tina & Bertona Glouce. corpori dicti Comitatus nostri Glouc. annectantur, &c.* Clauſ. 32 E. 1. m. 17. It comes from the Saxon Bere, which signifies Barley, and from thence comes Bern, a Barn, i. e. Bere-ern, a Place for Barley; and Berefor, a Barn-floor; and so Barton, which signifies a Farm, and is always distinct from a Manor.

Bertonarii. — Cum Bertona terris & tenementis, que Bertonarii modo tenent ad voluntatem. Charta Johannis Episc. Exon. dat. 24 Dec. Anno 1337. Doubtless these were such as we now call Farmers, or Tenants of Bertons, Husbandmen, that held at the Will of the Lord. In Devonshire they call a great Farm or Mansion, a Berton; a small Farm, a Living.

Berwica, A Hamlet, or Village appurtenant to some Town or Manor; often found in Domesday; from the Sax. Berewica, a Corn-Farm: Manerium minus ad majus pertinet; non in gremio Manerii, sed vel in confinio vel dijunctius interdum situm est. Spelman. So in the Donation of Edward the Confessor, Totbills is called, The Berwick of Westminster. Cam. Brit. fol. 846.

Berwick upon Tweed. See Berevicus and Tuesis.

Bery or Bury, The Vill or Seat of a Nobleman, a Dwelling-house, a Mansion-house, or Court, a chief Farm. From the Sax. Bærg, which signifies an Hill or Castle; for heretofore their Seats were Castles situate on Hills, of which we have still some Remains. The chief House of a Manor, or the Lord's Seat, is still so called in some Parts of England; as in Herefordshire there are the Beries of Stockton, Luslon, Hope, &c. Anciently used also for a Sanctuary.

Besale, Proavus, is borrowed of the French Byssayeule, (i. e. Pere de mon Pere-grand) the Father of my Grandfather. In the Common Law it signifies a Writ, that lieth where the Great Grandfather was seised in his Demefine as of Fee, of any Lands or Tenements in Fee-simple, the Day that he died; and after his Death, a Stranger abateth or entreth the same Day upon him, and keepeth out his Heir, &c. The Form and Use of this Writ is more at large to be read in F. N. B. fol. 221.

Besla, a Spade or Shovel; derived from the French bescher, federe, to dig. Hence perhaps Una bescata terre inclusa. Mon. Ang. p. 2. fol. 642. may signify a Piece of Land usually turned up with a Shovel or Spade, as Gardiners use to fit their Grounds, to sow and plant in.

Bestials, Cometh of the French Bestials, which is pecus, Beasts of any Sorts. Anno 4 E. 3. cap. 3. it is written Bestayle, and taken to denote all Kinds of Cattle, purvey'd for the King's Provision. It is also mentioned, to signify all Kinds of Cattle, in 12 Car. 2. c. 4.

Betaches, — Et Hibernicos sic admissos ad legem predictam more Anglicorum pertractari mandamus jure nostro & aliorum dominorum in bonis & cattallis Nativorum, qui vulgariter in illis partibus Betaches nominantur, i. e. Laymen using Glebe-Lands. Par. 14 Ed. 2. p. 2. m. 21 intos.

Bethugabel. See Bagavel.

Beverches, Bed-works, or Customary Services done at bidding of the Lord by his inferior Tenants. — Inter Servitia customaria Tenentium in Blebury, de dominio Abbatis & Conventus Rading — predictus Abbas habebit de eis duas precarias carucarum per annum, que vocantur Beverches, & cum quolibet qualibet carruca duos homines qualibet die ad prandium Abbatibus. Cartular. Rading. MS. f. 223.

Bidale, or Bidraß, Is the Invitation of Friends to drink at some poor Man's House, who thereby hopes to receive some assistant Benevolence from the Guests for his Relief; still in Use in the West of England, and falsely written by some Bisdale, and mentioned 26 H. 9. c. 6. The same is used also in the County Palatine of Chester by some Persons of Quality, towards the Relief of their own or Neighbours poor Tenants.

Bidding of the Bread, Was a Charge or Warning that the Parish Priest gave to his Parishioners at certain special Times, to say some particular Prayers, or do other Acts of Devotion, in behalf of some deceased Friend's Soul; in Imitation of which, the Ministers of the Church of England are commanded by the Canons on the Sunday precedent, to give Notice of or bid the Festivals in the following Week, that the Parishioners may the better observe them; this is mentioned 27 H. 8. c. 26. we may easily find *bid*ding in the Sax. Words bidden, to pray or desire; and head, a Prayer.

Bidenter, Two Yearlings, Tags or Sheep of the second Year — Will. Longesp. A. D. 1234. granted to the Prior and Canons of Burcester. — Pasturam ad quinquaginta bidentes, cum dominicis bidentibus meis ibidem pascendis. Paroch. Antiq. p. 216. The Wool of these Sheep being the first sheering, was sometime claimed as a Heriot to the King, on the Death of an Abbat.

Bidiye, Bidripa. See Bederpe.

Biduana: i. e. a Fasting for the Space of two Days. 'Tis mentioned in Matt. West. p. 135, and in Flor. of Worcester p. 631. Biduanae faciunt omnes Episcopi & Monachi, &c.

Biga, Bigata, Properly a Cart with two Wheels, and not as some have offered, a Chariot drawn with coupled Horses; these Words have it sufficiently, Et quod eant cum Bigis & carris cum ceteris pbalentis, &c. super Tenementum suum, &c. Mon. Angl. f. 256. b. This Biga, or Cart with two Wheels, was drawn sometimes with one Horse, a more express Refutation of the above-mentioned Conjecture. King Hen. 3. confirmed to the Priory of Repingden Com. Derb. unam bigam cum uno equo semel in die in bosco suo de Tikenhall errantem, ad sociale ad usus suos proprios portandum. Mon. Angl. tom. 2. pag. 280.

Bigamus, Is any Person that hath at several Times married two or more Wives, successively after each other's Death, or a Widow; as appears by the Statutes, 18 E. 3. c. 2. 1 Ed. 6. c. 12. 2 part. Co. Inst. fol. 273.

Bigamy, Bigamia, Signifies a double Marriage, being a compound Greek Word; it is used in Common Law, for an Impediment that hindreth a Man to be a Clerk, by reason he hath been twice married, 4 E. 1. 5. which seems to be grounded upon the Words of St. Paul to Timothy, Epist. 1. c. 5. vers. 2. Oportet ergo Episcopum irreprehensibilem esse, & unius uxoris virum. The Canonists have founded their Doctrine upon this, That he that hath been twice married may not be a Clerk: And him that hath married a Widow they reckon to have been twice married. Both which they do not only exclude from Holy Orders, but also deny them all Privilege that belongs to Clerks. But the Author of the new Terms of the Law saith, This Law is abolished by 1 E. 6. 12. and to that may be added, 18 Eliz. c. 7. which alloweth to all Men that can read as Clerks, tho' not within Orders, the Benefit of Clergy, even in Case of Felony, not especially excepted by some other Statute. So is Brook, Tit. Clergy, plac. 20. to the same Purpose.

Bigot is a Compound of several old English Words, and signifies an obstinate Person, or one who is wedded to this Opinion. Rolls, the first Duke of Normandy, refused to kiss the King's Foot, unless he held it out to him for that Purpose; it being a Ceremony used in Token of Subjection for that Dukedom, with which the King at that Time invested him: Those who were present taking Notice of the Duke's Refusal, advised him to comply with the King's Desire, to which he answered them, Nese Bigot, upon which he was in Derision called Bigot; and the Normans are still so called.

Biglaines. See By-Laws.

Biglantis deferendis, Is a Writ directed to a Corporation, for the carrying of Weights to such a Haven, there to weigh the Wools that such a Man is licensed to transport. Reg. Orig. fol. 270. a.

Biglatus, or rather By-Laws, Lat. Biglaines. So called by the Goths, the Swedes, the Danes and Saxons; from By, which in all those Languages signifies a Town; and Lagh or Laghen, which signifies Laws; as Gravimus, Suecus, and our Saxon Authors testify: And though Fernandes, a Spanish Goth writeth it after the Spanish Corruption, Beilagines: Yet we in England keep the very Radical and Word it self By-Laws. Vid. Spelman. of Feuds. c. 2. Bylaws are Laws made oliter, or by the By; such as are made in Court-Leets, or Court-Barons, for the peculiar Good of those that make them, farther than the Common or Statute Law doth bind. The like are generally allowed by Letters Patent of Incorporation to any Guild or Fraternity, for the better Regulation of Trade among themselves, or with others. Co. vol. 6. f. 63. a. Kitchin, fol. 45. 79. These in Scotland are called Burlaw or Birlaw. Skene de verb. signif. verb. Burlaw, Which, saith he, are Laws made and determined by Consent of Neighbours, elected and chosen by common Approbation in the Courts called Birlaw-Courts, where they take Cognisance of Complaints between Neighbour and Neighbour; which Men so chosen, are Judges and Arbitrators to the Effect aforesaid, and are called Birlaw-men; for Baur or Bawrman in Dutch is Rusticus, and so Birlaw is no other, but Leges Rusticorum. By 14 Car. 2. cap. 5. the Wardens and Assistants for making and regulating Norwich Stuffs, are empowered to make By-Laws. See 20 Car. 2. c. 6.

Biglutus, In general is a Man of a double Tongue; but in a legal Sense, is used for a Jury that passeth in any Case between an Englishman and an Alien, whereof Part ought to be Englishmen, and Part Strangers. 28 E. 3. c. 13. This we call vulgarly a Party-Jury; but in proper Language, it is a Jury de medietate lingue. See Medietas Lingua.

Bill, Billa, Hath several Significations in Law. First, according to West. Symb. p. 1. lib. 2. sect. 146. It is all one with an Obligation, saving that it is commonly called a Bill, when in English; and an Obligation, when in Latin. But now by a Bill we ordinarily understand a single Bond, without a Condition; by an Obligation, a Bond with a Penalty and Condition: West. part. 2. Symbol. Tit. Supplications, sect. 52. Secondly, a Bill is a Declaration in Writing, that expresseth either the Wrong the Complainant hath suffered by the Defendant, or else some Fault that the Party complained of hath committed against some Law or Statute of the Common-wealth. Such Bill is sometimes exhibited to Justices Itinerant, at the General Assises, by way of Indictment, or Information; but more especially to the Lord Chancellor or L. Keeper, for unconscionable Wrongs done. Sometimes it is preferred to others having Jurisdiction, accordingly as the Law, whereupon they are grounded, doth direct. It containeth the Fact complained of, the Damages thereby suffered, and Petition of Process against the Defendant for Redress. See more in West. Symb. part 2. Tit. Supplications.

Billā vera, Is a Term of Art in the Common Law: For the Grand Inquest impanelled, and sworn before the Justices in Eyre, &c. indorsing a Bill, whereby any Crime punishable in that Court, is presented unto them, with these two Words, which do signify thereby, That the Presentor hath furnished his Presentment with probable Evidence, and worthy of farther Consideration: And thereupon the Party presented, is said to stand indicted of the Crime, and so bound to make Answer unto it, either by confessing or traversing the Indictment: And if the Crime touch the Life of the Person indicted, it is yet referred to another Inquest, called the Jury of Life and Death; who, if they find him guilty, then he stands convicted of the Crime, and is by the Judge to be condemned to Death. See Ignoramus. See also Indictment.

Billeta, Billetus, A Bill or Petition exhibited in Parliament. — Sic responsum fuit ad billetam quam proposuimus in Parlamento London. Consuetud. domus de Farendon. MS. f. 48. So Tenor Billeti porrecti coram Concilio Domini Regis, supplicat Abbas de Bello loco Regis, &c. Ib. fol. 43.

Bill of Stofz, Is a Kind of Licence granted at the Custom-house, to Merchants, to carry such Stores and Provisions as are necessary for their Voyage, custom-free.

Bill of Sufferance, Is a Licence granted at the Custom-house to a Merchant, to suffer him to trade from one English Port to another, without paying Custom. An. 14. Car. 2. cap. 11.

Billets of Gold, Are Wedges or Ingots of Gold: The Word is derived from the French Billot, Massa Auri. 27 E. 3. Stat. 2. c. 14.

Billot, Billo, Billonis, Bullion of Gold or Silver in the Mass before it is coin'd. — Volumus quod utrumque argentum billonis, & transmarinum ematur ad libram Scaccarii, retentis ad opus nostrum pro custibus & expensis, & firma nostra sexdecim denariis de argento de Gandavo. Mem. in Scaccar. Term. Mich. 9 Edw. 1. by Sir John Maynard.

Billus, A Stick or Staff, which in former Times was the only Weapon for Servants. Leg. H. 1. cap. 70. Si liber servum occidat, reddat parentibus 42 missas & unum billum mutilatum domino servi pro manibotā: And cap. 78. Si quis in servum transieat, in signum hujus transitionis billum vel strubulum, vel deinceps ad hunc modum servitutis arma suscipiat, & in manum Domini mittat.

Bind of Cels. See Stick of Eels.

Binithenenden. This is enumerated among the Privileges granted to the Monastery of Glastonbury — Soc & Sac, bordes, bovenseden, & binithenenden, on Strond and on Streame. Cartular. Abbat. Glaston. MS. f. 87. a.

Binnarium, Binna, Benna, A Stew, or Water penn'd up for feeding and preserving Fish. — Expense in piscē ad infraurandum binnarium empto xii s. Vid. consuetud. Dom. de Farendon, MS. f. 29. — Provisum est quod nullus magnus vel parvus currat in parvo alieno, aut pisetur in alterius binnario. — Stat. Ed. 1. Anno Regni tertio, apud West.

Binnyp Depper, Anno 1 Jac. cap. 19.

Binobium. Bimchester.

Biothanetus, One who deserves to come to an untimely End: Ordericus Vitalis, writing of the Death of Will. Rufus, who was shot by Walter Tyrrell, tells us, That the Bishops considering his wicked Life and bad End, thought him Eclesiastica veluti Biothanetum absolutione indignum. Lib. 10. p. 782.

Bipertijocum. See Focus partire.

Birlatu. See Bilaw and Byrlaw.

Birretus, The Cap or Coif of a Judge, or Serjeant at Law. The honourable Use of it is thus described by Fortescue, De Laud. Leg. Angl. cap. 50. In signum quod omnes Justiciarii ibi taliter extant graduati, quilibet eorum semper utitur, dum in Curia Regis sedet, Birreto albo de serico, quod primum & precipuum erat de Insignibus Habitus quo Servientes ad Legem in eorum creatione decorantur. Nec Birretum istud Justiciarius, sicut nec Serviens ad Legem, unquam deponet, quo caput suum in toto discooperiet etiam in presentia Regis, &c. Spelman.

Bisacuta, An iron Weapon cutting on both Sides: Fecit eidem unam plagam mortalem de quadam bisacuta. Flea. Lib. 1. cap. 35.

Bisaunt, Bisantin, Besant, Bizantine, Bisantius: A Piece of Money coined by the Western Emperors at Bizantium or Constantinople; of two Sorts, Gold and Silver, Bizantius aureus & albus: Both which were current in England. Chaucer represents the Gold Besantine or Besant, to have been equivalent to a Ducat. The Silver Besantine was computed generally at two Shillings.

Bistrot. 9 Edw. 3. At a Sessions of Sewers held at Wigenhale in Norfolk, it was decreed, That if any one in those Parts of Marchland, should not repair his Proportion of the Banks, Ditches and Cawleys, by a Day assigned, 12 d. for every Perch unrepaired (which is called a Bilaw) should be levied upon him. And if he should not by a second Day given him, accomplish the same; then he should pay for every Perch 2 s. which is called Bistrot. Hist. of Imbanking and Draining, fol. 254. a.

Billa, a Gall. Bische, Cervā major, A Hind. — deciman venationis nostre, sil. de cervis billis, damis, porcis & lais. Mon. Angl. vol. 1. fol. 648. a.

Bisextilis, Bisextilis, Vulgarly call'd Leap-year, because the sixth Day before the Calends of March is twice reckon'd, viz. on the twenty-fourth and twenty-fifth of February: So that the Bisextile-year hath one Day more than other Years, and happens every fourth Year: This intercalation of a Day was first invented by Julius Cesar, to make the Year agree with the Course of the Sun. And to prevent all Ambiguity that might grow thereupon, it is ordain'd by the Statute De Anno Bisextili, 21 H. 3. That the Day increasing in the Leap-year, and the Day next before, shall be accounted but one Day. Britton. fol. 209. and Dyer 17 Eliz. 345.

Bisus, Bisus, Mica Bifa, Panis bisus; Gall. Pain-bis, Angl. Brown-bread, a Brown-loaf. —

Abbas & Conventus Osen. concedunt Petro de Sibberford quilibet septimana septem parvas albas micas (i. e. seven small white Loaves) & septem bifas micas (i. e. seven brown Loaves) & quinque galones & dimid. melioris cervisie Anno 1341. — Cron. Osen. Bib. Cotton, Vitell. E. 15. f.

Black-mail, Is half English, half French; for in French Mail signifieth a small Piece of Money. It denotes in the Counties of Cumberland, Northumberland, Westmorland, and the Bishoprick of Durham, a certain Rate of Money, Corn, Cattle, or other Consideration, paid unto some inhabiting near the Borders, being Men of Name and Power, ally'd with certain Moss-troopers, or Persons known to be great Robbers, and Spoil-takers within the Counties; to the End, to be by them protected, and kept in Safety, from the Danger of such as do usually rob and steal in those Parts. Anno 43 Eliz. cap. 23. See Mayh. These Robbers are of late Years call'd Moss-troopers, and several Statutes made against them.

Black-mail also signifies the Rents formerly paid in Provisions of Corn and Flesh.

Black-rents (redditus) the same with Black-mail.

Black-rod, or Gentleman Usher of the Black Rod, is Chief Gentleman Usher to the King. He is called in the Black-Book, fol. 255. Lator virga nigra, and Hofiarivius; and elsewhere Virgi-bajulus: His Duty is Ad portandam Virgam coram Domino Rege ad Festum Sancti Georgii infra Castrum de Windsor. He hath also the keeping of the Chapter-house Door, when a Chapter of the Order of the Garter is sitting; and in the Time of Parliament, attends on the House of Peers.

He hath a like a Habit with the Register of the Order, and Garter King of Arms; which he wears at the Feast of St. George, and all Chapters. He bears a Black Rod, on the Top whereof sits a Lion, Gold; which Rod is instead of a Mace, and hath the same Power and Authority. His Fees is now 30*l.* per Annum. This Officer hath been antiently constituted by Letters Patent under the Great Seal.

Bladarius, Used in our Records for a Corn-Monger, Meal-Man, or Corn-Chandler. Pat. 1 Edw. 3. par. 3. m. 13. See Puleterius.

Blade (Bladum, Fr. Bled) Nostro foro, de segete tantum intelligitur, presertim etiam in herba. Spel. But the Saxon Blad signifies more generally Fruit, Corn, Hemp, Flax, Herbs, &c. or the Branches or Leaves of Trees or Herbs, whilst they grow. Universis — Will. de Mohun salutem, Sciatis me relaxasse & quietum clausasse Domino Reginaldo de Mohun fratrem meo totum Manerium meum de Tor — Salvo mihi insauro meo & blado, &c. (sine dat.) i. e. Excepting my Stock and Corn on the Ground. Hence Bladier is taken for an Ingrosser of Corn or Grain. Sciatis — quod ego Willielmus Alreton, consensu & voluntate Beatricis uxoris mee, Dedi — Agatha Gille pro duabus Marcis Argenti & una mensura bladi, duas solidatas redditus in villa Leominstr. illas scil. quas Walterus de Luda solebat mihi reddere pro quadam terra que est inter solidas Ade Talcuretis & Feodum Johannis Reading. habend, &c. (sine dat.) Ex libro Chartar. Priorat. Leominstr.

Bladus, A Sky-colour. Mon. 3 Tom. pag. 170.

Blanch firmes, In old Times the Crown-Rents, were many Times reserved in Libris Albi, or Blanch Firmes. In which Case the Buyer was holden Dealbare firmam; that is, his base Money, or Coin worse than Standard, was molten down in the Exchequer, and reduced to the Fineness of Standard-Silver; or (instead thereof) he pay'd to the King twelve Pence in the Pound, by way of Addition. Vid. Lownde's Essay upon Coin, p. 5.

Blanda. See Landa.

Blanhornum, i. e. A little Bell, or rather Ticinium, viz. Pecoris ticinium, & canis oppa & blanhornum, horum trium singulum est unum solidum valens: From the Saxon Blan, cessans, & Horn, cornu. Leg. Adelftan. cap. 8.

Blank Bar is the same with what we call a Common Bar, and is the Name of a Plea in Bar, which in an Action of Trespas is put in to compel the Plaintiff to assign the certain Place where the Trespas was committed: It is most used by the Practisers in the Common Bench, for in the King's Bench the Place is commonly ascertained in the Declaration. Croke, 2 Part. fol. 594.

Blank farm, A white Farm; that is, where the Rent was paid in Silver, and not in Cattle.

Blanks, French Blanc, that is Candidus, white; It signifies a kind of Money coined in the Parts of France by Henry V. that were subject to England, the Value whereof was eight Pence. Stow's Annals p. 586. These were forbidden to be current within this Realm. 2 Hen. 6. ca. 9. The Reason why they were called Blanks, may be, because, at the Time these were coined in France, there was also a Piece of Gold coined, which was called a Salus, of the Value of 1*l.* 2*s.* from which this Silver was distinguished by the Colour.

Blasatus, an Incendiary.

Blatum, Bulneft, in Cumberland.

Ble with a single e signifies Sight, Colour, &c. With a Double e, it signifies Corn. At Boughton under the Blee. Ob. fol. 54.

Blench, Is the Title of a Kind of Tenure of Land, as to hold Land in Blench, is by Payment of a Sugar-Loaf, a Bever-Hat, a Couple of Capons, and such like; if it be demanded in the Name of Blench, id est, nomine albe firme. See Alba firma.

Blethum, Old Town, in Herefordshire.

Bleta, French Bleche: Pete, or combustible Earth, dug up and dried for burning.

Minister & Fratres of Knares-borough, petunt quod ipsi & eorum Tenentes fodiant turbas & bletas, in Foresta de Knares-borough. Rot. Parl. 35 E. 1.

Blinks, Boughs broken from Trees, and cast in a Way where Deer are likely to pass.

Blissom. This is when a Ram goes to the Ewe: From the Teuton. Bletz, the Bowels or from Bleten, to accommodate. 'Tis corruptly called Blissom to this Day.

Bloated Fish or Herring (Anno 18 Car. 2. c. 2.) are those that are half-dry'd; perhaps from the Sax. Blatan, to kill and offer in Sacrifice.

Blockwood. See Logwood.

Blodous, Sax. Blod, deep red Colour. Hence bloat and bloated, i. e. Sanguine and high-coloured; which in Kent is called a Blousing Colour, and a Blouse is there a Red-faced Wench. The Prior of Bureford, A. D. 1425, gave his Liveries of this Colour. — Et in blodeo panno enipso pro Annigeris & Valettis Prioris de Johanne Bandye, de magna Tue. Paroch. Antiq. p. 576.

Blodius, a Sky-colour. Mon. Angl. Tom. 3. pag. 170.

Blumary, Is one of the Forges belonging to an Iron Mill, through which the Iron passeth before before it cometh to the Finary. Of this you may read at large, 27 Eliz. cap. 19.

Blondus, see Blundus.

Bloodshed, Blood-wit, or the Fine imposed for shedding Blood.—Mich. 7. H. 7. Williclmus Lucy Miles, remittit Domui & Ecclesie de Thelcsford Toll, Quick, Stallange, & Bloodshed. Ex Cartular. Dom. de Thelcsford. MS.

Bloodwit, or Bloodwite, Is a Compound from the Saxon Blod, Sanguis, and Wite, an old Englisch Word signifying Misericordia. It is often used in ancient Charters, and intends an Amerciament for Bloodshed. Skene de verbor. signif. writes Bluidwite. Which says he, is in Englisch as much as Injuria, or Misericordia. It being as the Scotchmen call it, an Unlaw for Wrong or Injury, as is the Effusion of Blood. For he that hath Bloodwit granted him, hath free Liberty to take all Amerciaments of Courts for shedding of Blood. *Fleta saith, Quod significat quietantiam misericordie pro effusione sanguinis, lib. 1. cap. 47. Si aliqui pugnantes ad invicem in Rudham, & extraxerint sanguinem, Prior habebit Bloodwit, i. e. Amerciamentum inde in Curia sua. Ex Reg. Priorat. de Cockesford. Sax. blod, Blood, and wit, a Fine or Penalty; for Blodewite was a customary Fine paid as a Composition and Atonement, for the shedding or drawing Blood: For which the Place was answerable, if the Party were not discovered. And therefore a Privilege or Exemption from this Penalty was granted by the King, or Supreme Lord, as a special Favour. So K. Henry II. granted to all his Tenants, within the Honour of Wallingford, Ut quieti sint de hidagio, & blodewite & bredewite, — Paroch. Antiq. p. 114.*

Bloodp-hand. See Backberind. It signifies the Apprehension of a Trespasser in the Forest against Venison, with his Hands, or other Parts bloody, though he be not found chasing or hunting. Of which, see Manwood, c. 18. num. 9. In Scotland, in such like Crimes, they say, Taken in the Fath, or with the Red Hand.

Blissom, the same as Blissom, quod vide.

Blubber, A kind of Whale-Oil, so called because it is thorowly boiled; spoken of 12 Car. 2. cap. 18.

Blue, and Bludie, The Mark of a Wound or Bruise; what we now call Black and Blue, or, as red as Blood. Lat. Blodeus: Si quis verberando aliquem fecerit Blue & Bludie, iste qui fuerit Blue & Bludie, prius debet exaudiri. Leg. Burg. Scot. cap. 87.

Bluet, Blue. — Vestimenta autem dabunt mihi de Grifeng, vel balberget & pellibus agnitis, uxori autem mee ad carius bluet, & pellibus similiter, agnitis. Mon. Angl. tom. 1. f. 831.

Bookhozd, Is, as it were, Book-board, or a Hoard for Books, that is, a Place where Books, Writings, or Evidences are kept: We may term it in Latin Librorum horreum. It is derived from Sax. Bock, liber, and Hord, Thesaurus.

Bookland, Sax. quasi Bookland, terra hereditaria vel testamentaria; a Possession or Inheritance held by Instruments in Writing. Bookland vero ea possidendi transferendique lege correbatur, ut nec dari licuit nec vendi, sed hereditibus relinquenda erat, in scriptis aliter permitteretur; Terra inde Hereditaria nuncupata inter leges Aluredi, cap. 36. See Charter-land, Copyhold, Freehold, and Land-boc. See also Glossarium in decem Scriptores. This was one of the Titles by which the English Saxons held their Lands, and was always in Writing, and from hence called Bookland, which signifies Terram Codicillariam, or Librariam, Deed-land, or Charter-land. It commonly carried with it the absolute Inheritance and Propriety of the Land, and was therefore preserved in Writing, and possessed by the Thanes, or Nobler Sort, as Pradium Nobile, Liberum, & immune a Servitiis vulgaribus & servilibus: It was the very same as Allodium defendible (according to the common Course of Nations, and of Nature) unto all the Sons, and therefore called Gavel-kind; devisable also by Will, and thereupon called Terra Testamentales, as the Thane that possessed them, was said to be Testamento dignus. Vid. Spelman of Feuds, cap. 5.

Boies Politick. See Corporation.

Boia, Chains or Fetters, properly what we call Bernicles. Quidam a dolore capitis liberatus est, adjungens gena sua boias, quibus S. Brittanus ligatus fuit. Hist. Elien. apud Whartoni Angl. Sac. P. 1. p. 618.

Boilary, or Willary of Salt, a Salt-House, or Salt-pit, where Salt is boiled. Co. on Lit. fol. 4. b.

Bolarium. See Belerium.

Boldagium. See Bolbagium.

Bollis, a Bowl. Unum baculum processionale cum uno Bolle argenteo pro magna cruce imponenda. Mon. Angl. Tom. 2. pag. 666.

Bolmenz, Meßing Corn or Bread: From the Sax. Bold, Villa, and Mong, Miscella; because Countrymen eat this Sort of Bread.

Bolt, A Bolt of Silk or Stuff, seems to have been a long narrow Piece.—In the Accounts of the Priory of Buresfer. A. D. 1425—Et in bolt rubei Say, apud Stercerbrugge, propter anatam faciendam in fol. viii denar. Paroch. Antiq. p. 574.

Bolter. See Bultel.

Bolting, Is a Term of Art used in Grays-Inn, whereby they intend private arguing of Cases; the Manner of it is this, An Ancient and two Barrafers sit as Judges; three Students bring each a Case, out of which the Judges chuse one to be argued, which done, the Students first begin and argue, and after them the Barrafers. Bolting hath also a more common Acception, which Country Housewives say is the Sifting of the Meal or Flour thro' a Bag, to make it finer; which Bag they call a Bolter: And why may not the Law Term be drawn hence? Because the Bolting of Cases is the thorough sifting and debating of 'em. It is inferior to Mooting, and may be derived from the Sax. Bolt, an House; because done privately in the House for Instruction. In Lincoln's Inn, in Vacation-Time, Monday and Wednesday are the Bolting Days; Tuesday and Thursday the Mooting Days; But in Term-Time, contra.

Bona fide. We say, That is done Bona fide, that is done really, with a good Faith, without Fraud or Deceit. It is mentioned 12 Car. 2. 18. and 15 Car. 2. c. 5.

Bona gestura, Good Abearing, or good Behaviour.—Et si per furorem vel aliquos manutentores renuerit invenire sufficientem securitatem de sua bona gestura erga Ballivos & Comburgenses — a predicto burgo ejiciatur. Codex MS. de LL. Statutis & Consuetud. Burgi Villæ Montgomer. fol. 15.

Bonaght, or Bonaghty, An Exaction in Ireland, imposed at the Will of the Lord, for Relief of the Knights called Bonaght who served in the Wars. Antiq. Hib. p. 60. Camden in his Brit. Tit. Desmond says, that James E. of Desmond imposed upon the People those most grievous Tributes of Coin, Livery, Cocherings, Bonaghty, &c.

Bona notabilia, Are such Goods as a Party dying hath in another Diocese, than that wherein he dies, amounting to 5 l. at least, which, who so hath, his Will must be proved before the Archbishop of the Province; or unless by Composition or Custom, other Dioceses are authorized to do it, where Bona notabilia are rated at a greater Sum. Book of Canons. 1 Fac. can. 92, 93. Perkyn, sect. 489. See Probate of Testaments.

Bona Patria, An Assise of Countrymen, or good Neighbours: Sometimes called, Assisa bona Patria, when twelve, or more, are chosen out of the Country to pass upon an Assise; and they are called Juratores, because they swear judicially in Presence of the Party. Skene verb. Bona Patria. Vid. Assisori.

Boncha, A Bunch, or Bunch. The Prior and Burwar of Rister, Com. Oxon. An. 1425. account to the House, — Et in duabus bonchis allii vi den. — for two Bunches or Ropes of Onions 6 d. Fr. Junius derives it from the Danish Buncker, the Tops of Hills. It seems rather from the old Latin Bonna, Buenna, a rising Bank, for the Term or Bound of Fields. Hence the Word Bown is used in Norfolk, for Swelling or Rising up in a Bunch or Tumour, &c.

Bond, Bondage, and Bondmen. See Nativus. Bondmen in Domesday are called Servi, and differed from Villani. — Et de toto tenemento, quod de ipso tenet in Bondagio in Soca de Nortone cum pertin. Mon. Angl. 3 par. f. 609. a.

Bonda, a Matter of a Family.

Bonis Arrestandis is a Writ; which see in Arrestandis Bonis.

Bonis non amobendis, Is a Writ to the Sheriffs of London, &c. to charge them, that one condemned by Judgment in a Action, and prosecuting a Writ of Error, be not suffered to remove his Goods, until the Error be tried. Reg. Orig. fol. 131. b.

Bonium. Bangor in Flintshire.

Booting, or Boring Corn, Certain Rent Corn anciently so called; the Tenants of the Manor of H. in Com. B. heretofore paid the Booting Corn, to the Prior of Rocheſter, Antiquity of Purveyances, fol. 418. See Bote. Perhaps it was so called, as being paid by the Tenants, by way of Bote (Boot we still call it) or Compensation to the Lord, for his making them Leases.

Bozobritum, Berwick in Northumberland.

Bozd, a Jest, from the French Bourde, fabula.

Bozda, A Plank or Board. — Rex Vicecom. Ebor. Salutem. Facias publice proclamari ne quis — maeremium aliquid, seu Bordas aliquas aptas pro navibus faciendis, extra regnum nostrum ad partes externas ducat, vel caviari faciat. Rot. Claus. 10 Ed. 3.

Bozdacti, are Tenants that occupy Part of the Demefnes, which are called Bordlands.

Bordagium, The Tenure of Bordlands, which see; Item ordinatum est, quod omnes qui terras & tenementa tenent per Bordagium, habeant super singulis Bordagiis, que per predictum servitium tenentur, capitalem quandam mansiorem in loco ad hoc consueto. &c. Ordin. Just. Itin. in Insula de Jersey. This was a Sort of Tenure which subjected a Man to the meanest Services. He could not sell his House without Leave of the Lord.

Bozdare, Bordiare, Burdare, To exercise the Feats of Arms in Juits, Tournaments, or other Military Sports. — Nulli convenient ad turniandum, vel burdandum, nec ad alias quascunque aventuras. Assis. de Armis, An. 36 H. 3. Burdare was more properly burdonibus, seu fustibus dimicare, to play at Cudgels. Chaucer uses the Word Burdans, for larger Sticks or Cudgels: The old French bourdon, is a Pilgrim's Staff. Bordicia were the solemn Challenges and Encounters at Quarter-Staff, Cudgel-Play, Back-Sword, &c. — De torneamentis & bordiciis non tenendis. — Ne quis presumat torneare, vel bordiare. Lit. Claus. 28 E. 1. m. 17.

Bozdaria, a Cottage: From the Saxon, Bord, donus. Mon. Angl. 1 Tom. pag. 37. cum 18 servis, 16 villanis, & 10 Bordariis, cum 60 acris prati.

Bozdarii, or Bozduanni, often occur in Domesday; by some esteemed to be Boors, Husbandmen, or Cottagers; which are there always put after Villains. Dicuntur Bordarii vel quod in tuguriis (quæ Cottagia vocant) habitabant, seu villarum limitibus, quasi Bozderers. Spelm. Tenentes per servitia plus servilia quam villani, & qui tenent nisi paucas acras. MS. But see Bordlands. Some derive it from the old Gall. Bords, the Limits or extreme Parts of any Extent: As the Borders of a Country, and the Borderers, Inhabitants in those Parts; whence the Border of a Garment, and to Imborder, which we corrupt to Imbroider. But our old Bordarii, Bordmen, were rather so called from Sax. Bord, a House. The Bordarii often mentioned in the Domesday Inquisition, were distinct from the Servi and Villani, and seem to be those of a less servile Condition, who had a Bord, or Cottage, with a small Parcel of Land allowed to them, on Condition they should supply the Lord with Poultry and Eggs, and other small Provisions for his Bord, or Entertainment.

Bozdel, Lat. Bordellum. At first it signified any small Cottage, which growing infamous for a licentious Ale-house, and the common Habitation of Prostitutes; thence by Degrees a Bordel, or by Metathesis a Bozdel; Brothel and Brothel-house came to signify a lewd Place, a Stews. From which Femme-bordelier, a common Whore. Hence in Chaucer, a Borel-man, Contraction of Brothel-man, a loose idle Fellow; and Borel-folks, Drunkards, and Epicures, which the Scotch now call Burriel-Folk. In the Dialogue between Dives and Pauper, Printed in London 1493. — Dives. 'And 'I drede me that full ofttein by such feyres 'Gooddes House is made a Tavern of Gluttons, 'and a Bordel of Leychours.

Bozde-halfspenny, (Sax. Board, Tabula, and Halpenny, Obolus) is Money paid in Fairs and Markets for setting up Tables, Boards, and Stalls, for Sale of Wares. In antiquis Chartis multi immunes sunt ab ista solutione, says Spelman. It is corruptly written, Borthalpeny and Brodhalpeny in some Authors.

Bozdlands, the Lands which Lords keep in their Hands for the Maintenance of their Board or Table. Est Dominicum quod quis habet ad mensam suam & proprie, sicut sunt Bozdlands Anglice, i. e. Dominicum ad mensam. Bract. lib. 4. tract. 3. c. 9. num. 5. Which Possession was anciently termed Bordage. Sax. Diſt. verbo Bord. And the Bordarii (often mentioned in Domesday) were such as held those those Lands which we now call Demain Lands. See Antiq. of Purveyance, fol. 49.

Bordlode, The Firm, or Quantity of Food, or Provision, which the Bordarii, or Bord-men payed for their Bord-Lands. The old Scots had the Term of Burd, and Meet-Burd, for Victuals and Provisions; and Burden-Sack, for a Sack full of Provender. From whence probably comes our English Burden at first; only a Load of Meat and Drink: Which we seem still to retain in the Proverb, He has got his Burden, i. e. as much Drink as he can bear, or carry off. Bordlode was also a Service required of the Tenant to carry Timber out of the Woods of the Lord to his House.

Bord-Service is a Tenure of Bord-lands; by which some Lands in the Manor of Fulham, in Com. Middlesex, and elsewhere, are held of the Bishop of London, and the Tenants do now pay six Pence per Acre in Lieu of finding Provisions anciently for their Lord's Board or Table.

Borg-bryghel, or Burgh-Brych. The Breach or Violation of Suretyship, or Pledge or mutual Fidelity among the Saxons.

Borow or Borough. In Latin Burgus, Burgum; may be derived either from the French burg, i. e. pagus; or from the Saxon borhoe, pignus: It signifies with us a Corporate Town, that is not a City, 2 E. 3. cap. 3. namely, such as send Burgesses to the Parliament: whose Number you may see in Crompt. Jurisd. fol. 24. It may probably be conjectured, That anciently it was taken for those Companies consisting of ten Families, which were to be Pledges for one another. See Bract. lib. 3. tract. 2. cap. 10. See Head-borow, and Borow-head; and Lamb. Duty of Conf. pag. 8. Lyndewode upon the Provincial, (ut singula de sensibus) speaks to this Effect, Aliqui interpretantur Burgum esse castrum, vel locum ubi sunt crebra castra, vel dicitur Burgus, ubi sunt per limites habitacula plura constituta; but afterwards defines it thus, Burgus dici potest Villa quacunque, alia a Civitate, in qua est Universitas approbata. Some derive it from the Greek Word πορυς, that is, Turris. See Skene de verb. signif. Vergestan, in his Resolution of decay'd Intelligences, saith, That Burg or Burgh, whereof we take our Borough, metaphorically signifies a Town having a Wall, or some Kind of Closure about it. All Places that in old Time had amongst our Ancestors the Name of Borough, were one way or other fenc'd or fortified. Lit. fest. 164. Yet sometimes this Word is used for Villa insignior, or Country-Town of more than ordinary Note, not walled.

Borow-Engliffh, Is a Customary Descent of Lands or Tenements, whereby in all Places where this Custom holds, Lands and Tenements descend to the youngest Son; or if the Owner of Land have no Issue, then to the younger Brother: As in Edmuntton, some Part of Richmond, and other Places. Kitchin, fol. 102. And the Reason of this Custom, (says Littleton) is, for that the Youngest is presumed in Law to be least able to shift for himself.

Borow-head, alias Head-borough, Capitalis Plegius, made up of Borhoe, a Pledge, and Head. Lamb. Duty of Constables; where in the Explication of this and other Saxon Words of that Nature, he rehearseth some ancient Customs of England, during the Reign of the Saxon. This Borow-head was the Chief Man of the Decury, elected by the rest to speak, and do in their Behalfe those Things that concerned them. See Borow-holders.

Borow-holders, alias Borholders, be quasi Borhoe-ealders, and significth the same Officers that be called Borow-heads. Lamb. Duty of Conf. Bracton calleth them Borgby-Aldere, lib. 3. tract. 2. c. 10.

Borow Goods devisable, I find these Words in the Statute of Aston Burnel. 11 E. 1. c. unico: And suppose that as before the Statute of 32 & 34 H. 8. no Lands were devisable at the Common Law, but in ancient Baronies; so perhaps at the Making the Statute of Aston Burnel, it was doubtful, whether Goods were devisable but in ancient Borowus: For it seemeth by the Writ De rationabili parte bonorum, that anciently the Goods of a Man were partible between his Wife and Children.

Borel-folk, i. e. Country People, from the Fr. Bovre, i. e. Flocus: Because they covered their Heads with such Stuff. Chau. Eab. of the Apparitor, fol. 43.

Borholder, the same with Headborough, from the Sax. Borhee Ealder, i. e. Eidejussor primarius.

Borhtal-peny. See Bord-halpeny.

Borhtal-peny, The same Duty with Bord-peny in the Charter of Hen. 1. to the Church of St. Peter, York, Canonici & homines eorum sint quieti de Leyrwyte, Hengewyte, & Wardepeny, & Borwhalpeny, & de omnibus auxiliis Vicecomitum, &c. MS.

Boscage (Boscagium) is used for that Food which Wood and Trees yield to Cattle, Mast: From the Ital. Bosco, Sylva. Howbeit Manwood says, To be quit of Boscage, is to be discharged of paying any Duty of Wind-fall-Wood in the Forest; it may be derived from the Greek Word βόσκω, Pascere.

Bostaria, May be either Wood-Houses, from Bofcus; or Ox-houses, from bos. Ut ipsi possint domus & Bofcaria satis competentia edificare. Mon. Angl. 2. pa. fol. 302.

Bofcus is an ancient Word used in the Law of England, for all Manner of Wood. The Italians use Bosco in the same Sense, and the French, Bois. Bofcus is divided into High Wood or Timber, (Haut-bois), and Coppice or Under-Wood, (Sous-bois) High Wood is properly called Saltus, and in Fleta, Maevemium — Cum una Carceta de mortuo Bosco. Pat. 10. H. 6. par. 1. m. 4. per Inspect.

Bosinnus, A certain rustical Pipe: By Inquisition after the Death of Laurence Hastings, Earl of Pembroke. 22 E. 3. the Manor of Aston Cantlow, in Com. War. is returned to be held in Capite of the King, by these Words, Quod quidem Manerium per se tenetur de Domino Rege in Capite per servitium inveniendi unum hominem Peditem, cum quadam Aru sine Corda, cum uno Bosinno sine cappa, &c. Ex Record. Tur. Lond.

Bstir, i. e. an Ox-stall. 'Tis mentioned in Mat. Pavif. Anno 1234. and in Ingulphus, Fecit tum borrea, Bostaria, Ovilia, &c.

Bota, A Boot or Shoe, that was the particular Calceature of the Monks. In some astronomical Fragments of John de Wallingford, we see the Picture of the Author, with this Distich:

Tonsio larga coma, nigra vestis, Bota rotunda.

Non faciunt Monachum, sed mens a crimine munda.

MS. Cotton, Jul. D. 6.

Bote, Signifieth Compensation, Recompence, Satisfaction, or Amends. Lamb. Explicat. Sax. Words: Thence cometh Manbote, (alias) Monbote, that that is, Compensation or Amends for a Man slain, which was bound to another. In K. Ina's Laws, set out by Mr. Lambard, ca. 96. is declared what Rate was ordained for the Expiation of this Offence. Hence also comes our common Phrase, To give to Boot, that is, Compensationis gratia. See Skene de verb. signif. Tit. Bote. See also Hedge-bote, Plow-bote, House-bote, Theft-bote, &c. in their proper Places.

Botelless, In the Charter of Hen. 1. to Thomas Archbishop of York, it is said, That no Judgment or Sum of Money shall acquit him that commits Sacrilege; but he is in Englisch called Botelless, i. e. without Emendation. Lib. albus penes Cap. de Subnet. Int. Plac. Trin. 12 Ed. 2. Ebor. 48. We retain the Word still in common Speech. See Fridfol.

Botericia, Butterefs. — Rex — Sciatis quod concessimus — Johanni de Chiffuill, Decano S. Pauli London. Testaurario nostro qd' ipse & suc. sui Decani ejusdem Ecclesie, — in perpetuum habeant & teneant libere & quiete duas columpnas botericas, quas idem Decanus fieri fecit a parte australi Capella sua — 9 Jun. Pat. 35 H. 3. m. 14.

Botellaria, a Buttery or Cellar, in which the Butts and Bottles of Wine, and other Liquors are repositied. — Veniet ad Palatium Regis, & ibit in botellarium, & extrahet a quacunq; vase in dicta botellaria invento, vinum quantum viderit necessarium pro factura unius picberi clavetti. — An. 31 E. 3.

Bootha, A Booth or Tent to stand in, in Fairs or Markets. — Et duas mensuras libras ad Bothas suas faciendas. Mon. Angl. 2. Par. f. 132.

Bothagium, Boothage, or customary dues paid to the Lord of the Manor or Soil, for the Pitching and Standing of Booths, in a Market or Fair. — 19 H. 6. Rex concessit Rob. Broko — Picagium, Stallagium, Bothagium, & Tollagium, una cum assisa panis & cerevisie de Novo Mercato infra Villam de Burchester, Com. Oxon. Paroch. Antiq. pag. 680. For the Original of the Word, from the old Gallic bouts, Leather Jacks, see Mr. Kennet's Glossary.

Bothna, buthna, buthena, Seems to be a Park where Cattle are inclos'd and fed: Hector Beotius, lib. 7. ca. 123. n. 35. And Aul. Gell. lib. 11. cap. 1. Bothena also signifies a Barony, Lordship, or Sheriffrick. And Domini Bothena, are Lords of the Barony, Manor, &c. Skene, de verb. signif.

Botiler of the King, (Pincerna Regis, Anno 43 Ed. 3. cap. 3.) is an Officer that provides the King's Wines, who (according to Fleta. Lib. 2. cap. 21.) may by Virtue of his Office, out of every Ship laden with Sale-Wines, Unum dolium eligere in prova navis ad opus Regis, & aliud in puppe, & pro qualibet pecia reddere tantum 20 solid. Mercatori. Si autem plura inde habere voluerit, bene licebit, dum tamen pretium fide dignorum iudicio pro Rege apponatur.

Bottomry, or Bottomarp, (Fœnus nauticum, Anno 16 Car. 2. cap. 6.) is when the Master of a Ship borrows Money upon the Keel or Bottom of his Ship, and binds the Ship it-self, That if the Money be not paid by the Day assigned, the Creditor shall have the Ship. Ceo Bottomage est quand argent est borrow sur Keil del Neif, & le Neif oblige al payment de ceo. Viz. Si ne soit pay al temps, que l'auter averra le Neif. Latch's Rep. fol. 252. Scarborough's Case.

Others define it thus; when I. S. lends Money to a Merchant, who wants it to traffick, and is to be paid a greater Sum at the Return of the Ship, standing to the Hazard of the Voyage; and though the Profit be above the lawful Interest, it is not reckoned Usury.

Bovata terra is as much as one Ox can plough in a Year: Ofo bovata terra faciunt carucatam terre, ofo carucata faciunt unum Eodum Militis. 28 acra faciunt Bovatam terra. Mr. S. in notis in Statut. — Cujus singula Bovata sunt quindecim acra terra. Mon. Angl. par. 3. fol. 91. b. See Oxgang.

Bouche of Court, or (as the Vulgar call it) Budge of Court, is to have Meat and Drink scot-free there: For so is the Fr. Avoir Bouche a la Cour, to be in Ordinary at Court. Sometimes it is extended only to Bread, Beer, and Wine. And this was anciently in Use as well in the Houses of Noblemen, as in the King's Court; as appears by this Indenture.

CESTE Endenture fait parentre les Nobles hommes Monseur Tho. Beauchamp, Comte de Warwyke, d'une part, & Monseur Joh. Russell de Strengesham Chevalier d'autre part, tesmoigne, que le dit Monseur Johan. est demeure ove le dit Comte par terme de sa vie, pur la pees & pur guerre, & prendra pur la pees du dit Comte annuellement cynt livres, de la vie du dit Monseur Johan, del Manoir le dit Comte de Chedworth en le Countee de Gloucester, & pur la guerre quarant livres, & serra paie annuellement es termes de la Nativitee Seinte John ile Baptiste & de Nowel per ovels portiones des issues du dit Manoir de Chedworth, per les mains del gardein de mesme le Manoir, & avera le dit Monf. Johan ou son Atornie en celle partie en le dit Manoir de Chedworth destreindre pur les averrages de la dite rent, &c. Donne a nostre Chastel de Warwyke le xxix. jour del mois de Marcz l'an du regne le Roy Richard Second, puis le Conquest, fisme.

This Bouche of Court was also an Allowance of Diet, or Belly-provision from the King, or Superior Lord, to their Knights, Esquires, and other Retinue, that attended them in any military Expedition: From the French bouche, a Mouth; or rather from the Gall. boughs, Lat. bulga, Engl. budget, of British original; for the Welsh use bolgan, and the Irish bole, by Metaphor, for bellows. See Mr. Kennet's Glossary to Paroch. Antiq.

Boveria, or Boverium, An Ox-house, or Ox-stall, Loca ubi stabulantur boves; according to Gloss. in X Script. And Mon. Angl. 2. parn. f. 210. hath these Words, — Ad facien'um ibi boverias suas, & alias domos usibus suis necessariis. The Scotch now now call a Cow-house a byer, as in the Ballad of Christ. Kirk on the Green, — The bolt flew over the Byer.

Boberton, in Glamorganshire. See Bovium.

Bobium, The Town in Wales, so called by the Ancients, is now known by the Name of Boverton.

Bobertus, A young Steer, or Bullock, castrated. Unus bobertus mas, quatuor bovicule fœmina. Paroch. Antiq. p. 287.

Bovicula, An Heifer or young Cow, which in the East-Riding of Yorkshire they call a Whee, or Whey. — Possunt sustentari sexdecim vacca, & unus taurus cum boviculis. Paroch. Antiq. pag. 495.

Bound, or Boundary, (Bunda) — Secundum metas, meras, bundas, & Marchias Forestæ, 18 Ed. 3. Ilin. Pick. fol. 6. Sir Edward Coke, in 4 Inst. fol. 318. derives it from the Saxon Bunna, but the Saxon Dictionary affords no such Word.

Bow-bearer is an Under-Officer of the Forest, whose Oath will inform you the Nature of his Office, in these Words :

I Will true Man be to the Master of this Forest, and to his Lieutenant; and in their Absence I shall truly over-see, and true Inquisition make, as well of sworn Men as unsworn in every Bailiwick, both in the North Bail and South Bail of this Forest, and of all manner of Trespass done, either to Vert or Venison; I shall truly endeavour to attach, or cause them to be attached, in the next Court of Attachment, there to be presented, without any Concealment had to my Knowledge. So help me God. Crompt. Jurisd. fol. 201.

Bozones. See Bysones.

Braceletts, Hounds, or rather Beagles of the smaller and slower Kind. — Rex constituit J. L. Magistrum canum suorum vocatorum Braceletts, dans ei licentiam experiendi eosdem canes, necnon habendi & faciendi cum eis festas ad quascunque bestias infra forestas & chaceas suas prout sibi fore videbitur faciendum pro expeditione & informatione dictorum canum. — Pat. 1. Ric. 2. p. 2. m. 21.

Bracenarius, (Fr. Braconier) The Huntsman Master of the Hounds. — *Rex mandat Baronibus quod allocent Rob. de Chademoth Vicecom. Lincoln. lvi. s. vii. d. quos per preceptum Regis liberavit Joh. de Bellovento pro putura septem Leporarium, & trium falconum & Lanerar. & pro vadiis unius Bracenarii, a die S. Joh. Bapt. An. 14 usque ad vigil. S. Bracetus, Brachetus, Fr. Brachet. Braco Canis sagax, indagator Leporum. Fr. Brac. So as Braco was properly the large Fleet Hound, Brachetus was the Beagle or smaller Hound : Bracheta, the Bitch in that Kind. — Cart. Hen. 2. Reg. Ang. — Concedi eis duos leporarios, & quatuor bracetos ad leporem capiendum. Mon. Angl. tom. 2. p. 283.

Bracheta, Canis fœmina, quæ Leporem vel Vulpem ex ore persequitur, vulgo a Brache, Gal. Brachet. — Et duos Leporarios & quatuor Brachetas ad capiendum Leporem & Vulpem. Charta 11 Ed. 2.

Bracina, a Brew-house: MS. penes Wil. Dugdale, Mil.

Bracium, a Brewing: The whole Quantity of Ale brewed at one Time, for which Tolsester was paid to the Lord in some Manors.

Brage, Broughton in Hampshire.

Brampton. See Bremenium.

Brancaster. See Branodunium.

Brandy, a Kind of Spirit, or Strong-water, made chiefly in France, and extracted from the Lees of Wine or Cyder, mentioned in the A& 20 Car. 2. cap. 1. Upon an Argument in the Exchequer, Anno 1668. whether Brandy were a Strong-water or Spirit, it was resolved to be a Spirit. But 25 Novem. 1669. by a Grand Committee of the whole House of Commons, it was voted to be a Strong-water, perfectly made. See the Statute in Pursuance thereof. 22 Car. 2. cap. 4.

Branodunium, Brancaster in Norfolk.

Branogenium, Worcester.

Brasiare. Cujuscunque Uxor Brasiabat intus & extra civitatem Heref. dabat x denarios. Domesday. To Brew.

Brasiatrix, a She Brewer. Signa Brasiatrix brasiaverit Cersifiam, solvet Tolsester. Reg. Priorat de Thurgarton.

Brasina, or Beacina, and Brasnarina, a Brew-house.

Brasium, Malt. In the ancient Statutes Brasfator is taken for a Brewer, from the Fr. Brasseur; and at this Day also for a Malster or Malt-maker. It was adjudged, 18 Ed. 2. Quod venditio Brasii non est venditio Victualium, nec debet puniri sicut venditio Panis, & Cerveisie & hujusmodi contra formam Statuti. To make Malt (Inland Malt) was a Service paid by some Tenants to their Lord. In manerio de Pidington quilibet virgarius preparabit Domino unum quarterium Brasini per annum, si Dominus inveniet bokum ad fsecandum. Paroch. Antiq. p. 496.

Braston, Was a famous Lawyer of this Land, renowned for his Knowledge both in the Common and Civil Laws, as appeareth by his Books every where extant. He lived in the Days of Henry III. Staudr. pref. fol. 5. b. And as some say, was Lord Chief Justice of England.

Brathia, Sax. broth, Broth or Pottage. — Concessi totum feodum meum de pincernaria Glastoniae cum pertinentiis, ut in pane, vino, & cervisia, carne, pisce, sive alio quocunque genere companagii, sive leguminis, jus, brathia, & aliis quibuscunque ad feodum pertinentibus. Cartular. Abbat. Glaston. MS. f. 74. a.

Breach Carnium. By Breach Carnium, Thomas Crew, Master of the Hospital of St. John Baptist, without the North-gate at Chester, claims Quod omnes Tenentes sui infra eorum libertates residentes sint quieti de venditione carniū. Pla. in Ilin. apud Cest. 14 H. 7.

Bread of Treat or Crute, Panis Triciti, Is one of those Sorts of Bread mentioned in the Statute of Assise of Bread and Ale, 51 H. 3. Stat. 1. where you may read of Wastel Bread, Cocket Bread, and Bread of Treat, which may answer to three Sorts now in Use with us called White, Wheaten, and Household Bread. Heretofore in Religious Houses they distinguished Bread by these several Names; Panis Armigerorum, Panis Conventualis, Panis Puerorum, and Panis Famulorum. See Cocket.

Brecca, A Breach or Decay, or any other want of Repair. I have seen a Deed, with Covenant for Repairing, — Muros & breccas portas & fossatas castelli, sine dat. de brecca aquæ inter inter Wolwich & Greenwich supervidend. Pat. 16 R. 2. Dorf.

Brede, Signifieth broad; Bracton useth this Word, lib. 3. tract. 2. cap. 15. nu. 7. proverbially thus, Too large, and too brede; that is too long, and too broad.

Brede is also a Saxon Word, and signifies Deceit. Testimonium est & cognitio quod ibi Brede fit. Leges Canuti, Par. 2. cap. 22.

Bredgurna. What we now call Bridegroom.

Bredewite, Sax. bread, and Wite, a Fine or Penalty. So as Bredewite seems to have been the Imposition of Fines or Amercements for Defaults in the Assise of Bread. To be exempt from that Penalty, was a special Privilege granted to the Tenants of the Honour of Wallingford, by King Hen. II. Ut quieti sint de bidagio & blodewite, & bredewite. Paroch. Antiq. p. 114.

Brehon, The Irish call their Judges Brehones, and consequently the Irish Law is termed Brehon Law. See 4 Inft. fol. 358.

Breisna, Weather-Sheep. Concedo Deo & monachis 30 Breisnas singulis Annis. Monast. Tom. 1. cap. 406.

Briemenium, Brampton in Northumberland.

Briementuracum, Brampton in Cumberland.

Brenagium, the Payment in Bran, which the Tenant was to make to feed the Lord's Hounds.

Brentwood. See Cesaromagus.

Brotoyse, or Bretois : — Sciant—quod ergo Henricus de Penebrugge Dedi—Omnibus liberis Burgensibus meis Burgi mei de Penebrugge omnes libertates & liberas consuetudines secundum legem de Brotoyse mundinis & feriis appartin. secundum tenorem Chartæ Domini Henrici Regis quam habeo. Habendum, &c. Sine dat. Secundum legem de Brotoyse, must certainly signify Legem Marchiarum; or, The Law of the Britains or Welshmen : For Penebrugge (now Pembridge) is a Town in Heresfordshire, bordering upon Wales.

Brettenham. See Cambretonium.

Breve, Which haply may be so called from the Brevity of it, is any Writ directed either to the Chancellor, Judges, Sheriffs, or other Officers, whose Variety and Forms, you may see in the Register per totum. The Word is used in the Civil Law according to several Senses. See Skene de verb. signif. verb. Breve. And Bracton, l. 5. tract. 5. cap. 17. num. 2. Breve, quia breviter & paucis verbis intentionem proferentis exponit, &c. Any Writ or Precept from the King, was called Breve, which we still retain in the Name of Brief, the King's Letters Patent to poor Sufferers, for Collection.

Breve perquirere, To purchase a Writ or License of Trial in the King's Court, by the Plaintiff, qui breve perquisivit. Hence the present Usage of paying six Shillings and eight Pence, where the Debt is forty Pounds and ten Shillings, where the Debt is 100l. and so upwards, in Suits of Money due upon Bond.

Breve de Recto, A Writ of Right, or License for a Person ejected, to sue for the Possession of an Estate detained from him.

Brevibus & Rotulis liberandis, Is a Writ or Mandat to a Sheriff, to deliver unto the new Sheriff, chosen in his Room, the County, with the Appurtenances, una cum Rotulis, Brevibus; and all other Things belonging to that Office. Reg. Orig. fol. 295. a.

Bribery, Is a high Offence, viz. when any Man in a judicial Place, or any great Officer, takes any Fee, Pension, Gift, or Reward, for doing his Office, of any Person, save the King only. Fortescue, cap. 51. and 3 Inft. fol. 145.

Bribors, Cometh of the French Bribeur, i. e. Mendicus : It seemeth in a legal Signification one that pilfereth other Mens Goods, as Cloaths out of a Window, or the like. Anno 28 Ed. 2. Stat. 1. cap. unico.

Bricheminis. Idem quod Chinine, Anglice a Way, in piscariis & maricis in Bricheminis & semitis. Du Cange.

Brucollis, an Engine, by which they beat down Walls.

Briff (Breve) signifies a Writ, whereby a Man is summoned or attached to answer any Action; or (more largely) any Writ in Writing, issuing out of any of the King's Courts of Record at Westminster, whereby any Thing is commanded to be done in order to Justice, or the King's Command, and is called a Brief, or Breve : Quia Breviter & paucis verbis intentionem proferentis exponit & explanat, sicut regula juris rem que est Breviter enarrat, says Bracton, lib. 5. Tract. 5. cap. 17. num. 2. Also Letters Patent, or a Licence from the King or Privy Council, granted to any Subject to make a Collection for any publick or private Loss, is commonly stiled a Brief. See Writ.

Briga, French Brigue, that is, Strife or Contention. Et posuit terram in Brigam, & intricavit terram; scilicet, per diversa fraudulenta feoffamenta. Ideo committitur Mareschallo, &c. Ebor. Hist. 18 Ed. 3. Rot. 28.

Brigandine, (Fr.) a Coat of Mail, or a Fashion of ancient Armour, consisting of many jointed and scale-like Plates, very pliant unto and easy for the Body, mentioned Anno 4 & 5 Phil. & Mar. cap. 2. Some confound it with Haubergeon; and some with Brigantine, (in Writing which there is only the d turned into t) which signifies a low, long, and swift Sea Vessel, having some twelve or thirteen Oars on a Side.

Brigantes, Yorkshire, Lancashire, Bishoprick of Durham, Westmorland, and Cumberland.

Brigbore, or Brigbotr, Est quietum esse de auxiliis dando ad reficiendum Pontes. Fleta. lib. 1. cap. 47. It is compounded of brig, a Bridge; and bote, a Compensation or Yielding of Amends. See Bote, and Bruckbote. Selden's Titles of Honour, fol. 622.

Brithol, King Hen. III. in a Charter to the Citizens of London, dated 16 Mart. An. Regn. XI. — Ad emendationem Civitatis London, eis concessimus, quod omnes sint quieti de Brithol, & de Childwite, & de Jerigne, & de Scolat, — Placit. temp. Ed. I. & Ed. II. MS. fol. 143. b. Penes Dom. Fountains.

Button, Was a famous Lawyer, that lived in the Days of King Edward the First, at whose Command, and by whose Authority, he Writ a Learned Book of the Law of this Realm : The Tenor runneth in the King's Name, as if it had been penned by himself, answerably to the Institutions which Justinian assumeth to himself, though composed by others. Staundf. prer. fol. 6, & 21. Sir Edward Coke saith, That this Britton writ his Book in the fiftieth Year of Edward the First. Lib. 4. fol. 126. a. & lib. 6. f. 67. a. Mr. Guin, in his Preface, to his Reading, mentioneth, That this John Britton was Bishop of Heresford.

Brocar, Is commonly taken for the Wages, Hire or Trade of a Broker. In 12 R. 2. cap. 2. it is taken for the Means used by a Spokefman. An. 1 Jac. cap. 21. it is written Brokerage. See also 11 H. 4. n. 28. not printed.

Brocella. — dedi unam brocellam vocatam Rahag. Reg. de Thurgaton. MS. Dr. Thorton interprets it a Wood. I have not elsewhere met with the Word, nor know I whence to derive it. (So Blount). The Word did properly signify a Thicket or Covert of Lushes, and Brush-wood; from the obsolete Lat. bruscia, brusca, terra bruscosa, brocia; French broce, brocelle. Hence our brouce, or brouse of Wood, and brousing of Cattle.

Brocha, An Awl, or large packing Needle, carried as a necessary Implement to mend Sacks, Saddles, and other Horse-geer. From the French broche, a Spit, which in some Parts of England is called a Broche. Whence to broach or pierce a Barrel: Lat. brocha, brochia, Gall. broches Armour. Broccen, were sharp wooden Stakes, which, as us'd upon the Sea-banks in Rouney-Marsh, are called Needles. It is true the Learned Spelman did conjecture the Word Brochia, or Brocha, to be a Sort of Can or Pitcher, to hold liquid Things, as Saccus to carry dry Things; as it is rendered in the following Word Brochia. But it seems much rather to signify, as I have before explained it, an Awl, or a Needle. It was certainly an Iron Instrument, as in this Authority, — Henricus de Havering tenet manerium de Morton, Con. Essex, per Serjantiam inveniendi unum hominem, cum uno equo, pret. x. s. & quatuor ferris eorum, & uno sacco de corio, & una brochia ferrea. — Anno 13 Ed. 1.

Brochia, (From the French Broc, quod lagenam majorem aut Cantharum significat) A great Can or Pitcher. Bracton, lib. 2. tract. 1. c. 6. hath these Words, Si quis tenet per servitium inveniendi Domino Regi, certis locis & temporibus, unum hominem & unum equum, & saccum cum brochia, pro aliqua necessitate vel utilitate exercitum suum contingente. By which it seems that he intends Saccus to carry dry, and Brochia liquid Things. See Saccus, and Brocha.

Broders This may take its Derivation from the French Brodeur, and that of Bordure, Fimbria, the Edge or Hem of a Garment, which we yet call Border, and that because it is usually distinguished from the Rest by some conceited or costly Work: He that worketh it, is known amongst us by the Name of an Embroiderer.

Brodhalpeny, In some Copies Broad-half-peny, and in others Bordhal-peny. It signifies a small Toll by Custom paid to the Lord of the Town, for setting up of Tables, Booths, or Boards in Fairs or Markets: And those that were freed by the King's Charter of this Custom, had this Word put in their Letters Patent; by Reason whereof at this Day, the Freedom it self, for Brevity of Speech, is called Broad-halfpeny. It seems to be derived of three Saxon Words, bret or bred, that is, a Board, and halve, that is in the behalf of, as we say in Latin (cujus rei gratia), and penning, a Toll, which in all makes a Toll in behalf of, or for a Board.

Woggers, from the Fr. Bragard, a gay, vain Person, who lives in Luxury, and that from the old French Word Braguerie, i. e. braving or swaggering.

Woggers. See Brokers.

Brok, An old Sort of Sword or Dagger, — Jurati dicunt super Sacramentum, quod Johannes de Monemine Miles per Robertum Armigerum suum, percussit Adam Gilbert Capellanum de Wilton, in gutture, quodam gladio, qui dicitur brok, per quod propinquior erat morti, &c. Rot. Parl. 35 E. 1.

Broke, Commonly called Sir Robert Broke, was a great Lawyer, and Lord Chief Justice in Queen Mary's Time. Crompt. Justice of the Peace, fol. 22. b. He made an Abridgment of the whole Law, from him intitled Broke's Abridgment.

Brokers, (Broccatores, Broccarii & Auxionarii) are of two Sorts; the one an Exchange-Broker, whose Trade is to deal in Matters of Money and Merchandise between Englishmen and Stranger-Merchants, by drawing the Bargain to particulars, and the Parties to Conclusion; for which they have a Fee or Reward. These are called Brogers, Anno 10 R. 2. c. 1. and in Scotland Broccarii, that is (according to Skene) Mediators or Intercessors in any Transaction, Passion, or Contract, as in Buying, Selling, or Contracts of Marriage. Brogers of Corn is used in a Proclamation of Queen Elizabeth for Badgers. Baker's Chron. fol. 411. He that would know what these Brokers were wont, and ought to be, let him read the Statute 1 Jac. cap. 21. The other is the Pawn-Broker, who commonly keeps a Shop, and lets out Money to poor and necessitous People upon Pawns, and not without Extortion for the most Part: These are more properly called Friperers or Pawn-takers, and are not of that Antiquity or Credit as the Former; nor does the said Statute allow them to be Brokers, though now commonly so called. The Original of the Word is Sax. viz. from Breacan, to break, and from thence comes Brocod, i. e. a Trader broken, or a Bankrupt, and that from Broc, which signifies Misfortune, which is often the true Reason of a Man's breaking; so that Broker came from one who was a broken Trader by Misfortune, and none but such were formerly admitted to that Employment, and they were to be Freemen of the City of London, and allowed and approved by the Lord Mayor and Aldermen for their Ability and Honesty, and they took an Oath to behave themselves faithfully.

Broffus, Bruised, or hurt with Blows, Wounds, or other Casualties. — Mandatum est a Domino Rege, ne quis macet broffas bestias in Oxonia — Clauf. 12 E. 3. P. 3. Dorf. 2.

Brothelshouses. King Henry 8. by Proclamation 30 March, the thirty-seventh Year of his Reign, suppressed all the Stews, or Brothel-houses, which long had continued on the Bank-side in Southwark, for that they were prohibited by the Law of God, and the Laws of the Land. 3 Inst. fol. 205. and Rot. Parl. 14 R. 2. n. 32.

Bruiarium and Bruiarium. — Sciatis quod ego Thomas de Eftleya miles dedi — totam terram meam de Morton, cum Bruiario quod vocatur le Chaleng. Ex M. S. penes Will. Dugdale Arm. Heath, or the Ground where Heath grows. See Bruiere.

Bruckbote, Is compounded of two German Words, Bruck, Pons, a Bridge, and Bote, Compensatio, a Reward: It signifies with us a Tribute or Duty, towards the mending or re-edifying of Bridges, whereof many are freed by the King's Charter; and thereupon the Word is used for the

the very Liberty or Exemption from this Tribute. See Pontage, and Brigbote.

Brudatus, Bordered, Embroidered. Ranulphus Episcopus Eliensis, contulit Monachis quoddam vestimentum croceum, cappam scilicet & casulam cum dorsali imaginibus brudato, & duas tunicas—Albam bonam brudatam cum imaginibus. Hist. Elien. apud Wharton Angl. Sacr. P. 1. p. 604.

Bruella, Perhaps a little Wood, or heathy Ground — In Dominicis Bosis Domini Episcopi, scil. in bruellis ex parte australi Regii itineris. Reg. Priorat. de Wermley, fol. 24.

Bruere, So we call that which the Latines Name Erica, and signifies Heath: Bruaria 2 leucarum longitudine & latitudine: Domesday. Hac autem appellatione forenses vocant steriles campos licet Ericam non edant. Spelman.

Brueris, Briars, Thorns, Brush, Heath; a Sax. Brar, Briar. A. D. 1434. Humphry Duke of Gloucester, acknowledges the Forester of Sbotore and Stowode, — tantum de arboribus & brueris, quantum pro vestura indiguerit — habebit. Paroch. Antiquit. p. 620. Hence Lat. Brolium, broilum, brulium, Brullum, a Hunting Chase, or Forest. Brullus, brogillus, a Wood, a Grove. Fr. Breil, breuil, breuille, a Thicket or Clump of Trees, in a Park or Forest. Hence the Abbey of Bruer, in the Forest of Wichwood, Com. Oxon. and Bruel, Brehul, or Brill, a Hunting Seat of our ancient Kings in the Forest of Bernwode. Com. Buck.

Bruneta, i. e. Died Cloth: Viginti tunica de bono bruneto: 'Tis sometimes wrote Burneta, viz. differentia inter brunum colorem & burnetam; brunus enim color potest fieri ex lana absque tinctura, viz. Russetur: Burnetum vero requirit tincturam & artificium hominis quoad colorem. Lyndewode.

Brunettum. See Burneta.

Bruicia, i. e. Burnetum. Charta nostra confirmamus centum acras tam de terra quam de Bruicia de manerio de Riveria. Monast. Tom. 1. pag. 773. Sometimes it signifies a Wood.

Brudatus, Brudatus, i. e. embroidered: Casulam unam per totum brudatam. Monast. 1. Tom. pag. 210. In some Books 'tis Brullatus and Brullatus, septem capas Brullatas, Thorn, Quinque capas sericas auro Brullatas. Monast. 301.

Brushwood (Charta Forestę, cap. 14.) Brushwood. Sciatis nos dedisse licentiam quatenus totam terram suam que sita est infra metas forestę de Rotelard, & quantum ibi habent Brullii possint excolere, & convertere ad terram arabilem. Monast. pag. 952.

Brusua and Brusula, Browse or Brushwood. Mon. Ang. 1. par. 7. 773.

Brupere (Fr. Bruyere, Lat. Bruyrium, erica, quasi erictum) Heath and Heath-ground. Pastura xi quartenarum & dimid. longitudine & latitudine. Bruaria 2 leucarum longitudine & latitudine. Domesd. Tit. Dorset. Eccles. Crenburn. Ingelingham. Hac autem appellatione Forenses vocant steriles camporum solitudines, licet ericam non edant, Heath-ground. Spelm.

Bucinus, A military Weapon for a Footman. — Petrus de Chetwode tenet — per Serjantiam inveniendi unum hominem peditem, cum una lancea & uno bucino ferro, per xi dies. Tenures p. 14.

Bucklarium, A Buckler. — Et quod malefactores nostrarum cum gladiis & bucklaris, ac aliis armis, &c. Claus. 26 Ed. 1. m. 3. intus.

Buckfall. — Et sint quieti de Chevagio, Hondpeny, Buckfall, & Tristris, & de omnibus misericordiis, &c. Privileg. de Sempingham. By the Statute 19 H. 7. ca. 11. It seems to be a Deer-hay, Toil, or great Net to catch Deer with; which by the said Statute is not to be kept by any Man that hath not a Park of his own, under Pain of 40*l.*

To be quit of Buckfalls, i. e. Ubi homines conveire tenentur, ibidem convenire ad stableam faciendam circa feras & ad easdem congregand. quietum esse de hoc servitio, quando Dominus chaceaverit. 4 Inst. f. 306.

Buckwheat (Mentioned in the Stat. 15 C. 2. c. 5.) is otherwise called French Wheat, and well known. In Essex it is called Brank; in Worcestershire, Crap.

Buoge, Lambs Fur.

Buge of Coart. See Bouche.

Bugetum. — A. D. 1313. 3. Kal. Jan. Episc. Bath. Well. concedit annuum pensionem duarum marc. cum tertia parte unius panni de secta Clericorum novorum, & una furura de bugeto, pro suertunica, & alia pro capcio. Regist. Joh. Drokenesford. Episc. Bath. Well.

Buggery, According to Co. Rep. 12 pag. 36. comes from the Italian Buggerare. It hath been defined to be Carnalis copula contra naturam, & hac vel per confusionem Specierum, sc. a Man or Woman with a brute Beast; vel Sexuum, a Man with a Man, or a Woman with a Woman; see Levit. 18. 22, 23. This Offence committed either with Man or Beast, is Felony without the Benefit of the Clergy, being a Sin against God, Nature, and the Law, 25 H. 8. revived, an. 3 Eliz. 17. It was brought into England by the Lombards, as appears Rot. Parl. 50 E. 3. num. 58. See F. N. B. 269. and Dalton. In ancient Times such Offenders were to be burned by the Common Law. This most detestable Sin was most justly excepted out of the Act of General Pardon, 12 Car. 2. c. 8. made after his Majesty's Happy Restoration.

Bulga, Bulgia, A Budget, Port-manteau, or any other Continent for portable Goods. — Bulgas & manticas eorum offerri, & expilari jussit. Will. Malmesbur. de Gestis Pontif. lib. 1. See Bouche of Court.

Bull, (Bulla, Ital. Bolla) was a Gold Ornament or Jewel for Children, hollow within, and made in Fashion of a Heart, to hang about their Necks; but now it is most usually taken for a Brief or Mandate of the Pope, or Bishop of Rome, from the Lead or sometimes golden Seal affixed thereto; which Matthew Paris, Anno 1237. thus describes. In Bulla Domini Papa stat imago Pauli a dextris Crucis in medio Bullę figurata, & Petri a sinistris. The Word is often used in our Statutes, as 28 H. 8. c. 16. 1 & 2 Ph. & Mar. cap. 8. and 13 Eliz. cap. 2. Non solum sigillum significat imprimens & impressum, sed ipsas etiam literas bullatas & interdum schedulam seu Bullam. Mist quoq; Archiepiscopus (Cantuarię) Regi & Concilio suo schedulam sive Bullam, in hunc modum continentem, &c. Spelm. William de Brinkley recovered by Verdict against Otho, Parson of the Church of Boston, 101. Pro subtractione unius Bullę Papalis de Ordinibus, alterius Bullę de legitimatione, & tertie Bullę de veniam exorantibus pro animabus antecessorum suorum. Trin. 4 E. 3. Rot. 100. Bulla olim sigillum significans. Gloff. in in x Scriptores. Per hanc Chartam aurea Bulla muritam. Charta 15 Johannis, n. 31. intus. Polyd. Virg. De Invent. ver. lib. 8. says, that this Word seems to be derived from the Greek Βυλλή, confilium.

Bullenger. The Commons petition, that certain Commissions issued to Cities, for preparing Boats and Bullengers may be repealed, the Parliament not having consented thereto. Rot. Parl. 2 H. 4. n. 22. See Balenger.

Bullion, Cometh of the French Billon, the Ore, or Metal whereof Gold is made: It signifieth with us Gold or Silver in Mass or Billet. 9 E. 3. Stat. 2. cap. 2. And sometimes the King's Exchange, or Place whither such Gold in the Lump is brought to be tried, or exchanged. An. 27 E. 3. Stat. 2. cap. 14. 4 H. 4. 10. See Skene de verbor. signif. verb. Bullion. Gervase of Tilbury says, (writing of the Salt Springs in Worcestershire) That of old they called a certain Quantity of Salt, Bullion.

Bullitio Salis, As much Brine or Salt, as is made from one Boiling. What the Learned Du Fresne calls Bullio, and makes to be Mensura Salinaria, is no other than Bullitio, one Wealing or Boiling. So are the Bullones, in Mon. Angl. tom. 2. 256. — De quatuor summis salis continentibus quadraginta bullones, pro dimidia salina sua. — Restius in libro consuali apud Nantwich. — Offo putei salinarii reddebant Regi & Comitibus singulis veneris diebus sexdecim bullitiones. — The Measure seems uncertain, according to the Quantity of their Pits, Cisterns, &c. The last Ingenious Editor of Cambden thinks the Bullitio Salis might be the same with a Barrow, or Measure of twelve Gallons.

Bultel is the Refuse of the Meal after it is dressed by the Baker; also the Bag wherein it is dressed. I find the Word mentioned in Affisa panis & cervisie. An. 51 H. 3. Hence Bulted Bread, coarse Bread. This Word may be derived from the German Beutel, a Sieve, beutel, to bolt or to sift: Gall. Beluter and Bluter; which Menagius fancies to have Affinity with the Lat. Volutare: Hence the Lat. Bolendigarius and Bolengerius: Fl. Boulter, Fr. Boulenger, a Baker, or Maker of Bread.

Bunda. See Bounds.

Burcheta (from the Fr. Berche) A kind of Gun, mentioned in the Forest Records.

Burcifer Argis. (Pat. 17 H. 8. par. 1. m. 2.) A Purse-bearer, or Keeper of the King's Privy Purse.

Burdare, i. e. To jest or trifle: 'Tis mentioned in Knighth. viz. In tantum erat affabilis Regi, quod burdando petebat a Rege nundinas sibi concedi pro leporariis & canibus, &c. So in Matt. Paris. Adit. pag. 149. Quod nulli veniant ad turmandum, vel burdandum, nec ad alias quascunque Aventuras, &c.

Burells. King Henry the Third granted to the Citizens of London, that they should not be vexed for the Burels, or Cloath lifted according to the Constitution made for Breadth of Cloath, in the ninth Year of his Reign. See Stow's Survey of Lond. f. 297.

Burg, Burgus. See Burgh and Borough.

Burgage (Burgagium, Fr. Bourgage) is a Tenure proper to Boroughs, whereby the Inhabitants by ancient Custom, hold their Lands or Tenements of the King, or other Lord of the Borough, at a certain yearly Rent. It is a Kind of Socage, says Swinburn, p. 3. sect. 3. num. 6. Ad militiam non pertinet, habetur idem inter ignobiles tenuras. Mentioned 37 H. 8. cap. 20. Item non utimur facere fidelitatem vel Servitium forinsecum Dominis feodorum pro terris & tenementis nostris, nisi tantummodo redditus nostros de eisdem terris exuentes; quia tenemus terras & tenementa nostra per Servitium Burgagii, ita quod non habemus Medium inter nos & Dominum Regem MS. Codex de LL. Statutis & Consecutud. Burgi-villa Mountgomer. a temp. H. 2. Burgage was also anciently used for a Dwelling-house in a Borough-Town.

Sciant — Quod ego Editha filia Johannis de A-la in lege virginitate & potestate mea dedi — Deo & Beata Maria & omnibus Sanctis & Eleemosynaria Leominstr. pro salute Animæ meæ — In liberam, puram & perpetuam Eleemosynam totum illud Burgagium cum edificiis & pertin. suis quod jacet in Villa Leominstr. Ex libro chartarum Priorat. Leom.

Burgagium liberum was when the Tenants had paid their yearly Rent to the superior Lord, they were free from all other Services.

Burghote, Compounded of Burg, Castellum, and Bote Compensatio, signifies a Tribute or Contribution towards the Building or Repairing of Castles or Walls of Defence, or toward the Edifying a Borough or City; from this divers had Exemption by the ancient Charters of the Saxon Kings, whereupon it is usually taken for the Exemption or Liberty it self, Rast. Exposition of Words. Fleta, says, Significat quietantiam reparationis murorum Civitatis vel Burgi, lib. 1. c. 47.

Burg-Englisch. See Borow-Englisch.

Burglary, Burglaria, is compounded of two French Words, Bourg, Pagus, and Lar. in, furtum, or Laron, fur. Co. lib. 4. fol. 39. It is in the legal Sense defined to be, a felonious entring into another Man's Dwelling, wherein some Person is, or into a Church, in the Night-Time, to the End to commit some Felony, as to kill some Man, or to steal somewhat thence, or to do some other felonious Act, albeit he executes not the same. West, Symb. part 2. Tit. Indictments, sect. 56. Burglary in the natural Signification, is nothing but the Robbing of a House; but as it is Vox Artis, the Lawyers restrain it to robbing a House by Night, or breaking in with an Intent to rob or do some other Felony. The like Offence committed by Day, they call House-robbing, by a peculiar Name. How many ways Burglary may be committed, see Crompt. Just. of Peace, fol. 28, 29, 30. and 3 par. Inst. fol. 363. The Offenders shall not have Benefit of the Clergy. 18 El. 7.

Canon Religiozorum, A Book wherein the Religious of every greater Convent had a fair Transcript of the Rules of their Order, frequently read among them as their local Statutes; Which Book was therefore called Regula, and Canon. The publick Books of the Religious were these four. 1. Missale, which contained all the Offices of Devotion. 2. Martyrologium, a Register of their peculiar Saints, and Martyrs, with the Place and Time of Passion. 3. Canon or Regula, the Institution and Rules of their Order. 4. Necrologium or Obituarium, in which they entred the Death of their Founders and Benefactors, to observe the Days of Commemoration for them. But as the two first, so likewise the two later were sometimes joined in the same Volume. — Mr. Kennet's Glossary.

Canter (Canellum, velut quantillum) is that which is added above Measure. Nullum genus bladi vendatur per cumulum seu Canellum, prater Avenam, Braxum & farinam. Stat. de Pistor. cap. 9. It seems also sometimes to signify the same with that we now call Lump, as to buy by Measure, or by the Lump. See Polton, Temps H. 3. E. 1. or E. 2. cap. 4 & 9. It signifies also a Piece of any Thing, as a Canter of Bread, Cheefe, and the like.

Canterbury. See Dorobernia.

Canfred, Or rather Canfred, (Canfredus) signifies an Hundred Villages, being a British Word compounded of the Adjective Cant, i. e. an Hundred, and Tret, a Town or Village. In Wales the Counties are divided into Canfreds, as in England into Hundreds. The Word is used Anno 23 Hen. 8. cap. 3. See Commote. See also Mr. Kennet's Glossary, in Verbo Canfredum.

Capacity, Capacitas, An Ability, or Fitness to contain or receive: In Law it signifies, when a Man, or Body Politick, is able to give or take Lands, or other Things, or to sue Actions. As an Alien born, hath a sufficient Capacity to sue in any personal Action; but in a real Action, it is a good Plea to say, He is an Alien born; and pray, If he shall be answered. Dyer, fol. 3. pla. 8. If a Man enfeoffs an Alien and another Man, to the Use of themselves, or, &c. it seems that the King shall have the Moiety of the Land for ever, by Reason of the Incapacity of the Alien. Dyer, fol. 383. pla. 31. By the Common Law, no Man hath Capacity to take Tithes but Spiritual Persons, and the King, who is a Person mixt; our Law allowing him two Capacities, a Natural, and a Politick. In the first he may purchase Lands to him and his Heirs; in the later, to him and his Successors; and a Parson hath the like: But a Layman, who is not capable of taking Tithes, was yet capable to discharge Tithes in the Common Law in his own Land, as well as a Spiritual Person. See Co. lib. 2. fol. 44.

Cape de bona Speranza, Or the Cape of Good Hope: A Promontory that lies in Africa, within the Tropick of Capricorn. on the Edge of Ethiopia inferior, and first discovered by the Portuguese, under the Command of Bartholomew Dias, about the Year 1491. See Speed's Map of Asia, in his Theatr. Brit. It is mentioned in the Statute 12 Car. 2. cap. 18.

Cape, Is a Writ Judicial, touching Plea of Land or Tenements; so termed (as most Writs be) of that Word in it self, which beareth the chiefest End and Intention thereof. And this is divided into Cape Magnum, and Cape Parvum, both which (as is before said in Attachment) take hold of Things immoveable, and seem to differ between themselves in these Points: First, Because Cape Magnum, or the Grand Cape, lieth before Appearance, and Cape Parvum afterwards. Secondly, The Cape Magnum summoneth the Tenant to answer to the Default, and over to the Demandant. Cape Parvum summoneth the Tenant to answer the Default only; and therefore is called Cape Parvum, or in the French English Petit Cape. Old Nat. Brev. fol. 161, 162. Yet Ingham saith, That is called Petit Cape, not because it is of small Force, but for that it consisteth of few Words; Cape Magnum, in the Old Nat. Brev. is thus defined; This is a Judicial Writ, and lieth where a Man hath brought a Præcipe quod reddat of a Thing that toucheth Plea of Land, and the Tenant make Default, at the Day to him given in the Writ Original, then this Writ shall go for the King, to take the Land into the King's Hands, and if he comes not at the Day given him by the Grand Cape, he has lost his Land, &c. A Precedent and Form of this Writ, you may see in the Register Judicial, f. 2. b. It seemeth after a Sort to contain in it the Effect (missionis in possessionem & primo & secundo decreto) among the Civilians: For as the first Decree seizeth the Thing, and the second giveth it from him that the second Time defaulteth in his Appearance: So this Cape both seizeth the Land, and also assigneth to the Party a farther Day of Appearance; at which, if he come not in, the Land is forfeited: Yet is there Difference Difference between the two Courses of the Civil and Canon Law. First, For that missio in possessionem toucheth both Moveable and Immoveable Goods, whereas Cape is extended only to Immoveable. Secondly, That the Party being satisfied of his Demand, the Remanet is restored to him that defaulted; but by the Cape, all is seized without Restitution. Thirdly, Missio in possessionem is to the Use of the Party Agent, the Cape is to the Use of the King: Of this Writ, and the Explication of the true Force and Effect thereof, read Bracton. lib. 5. tract. 5. ca. 1. n. 4, 5, 6. See Cape ad valentiam.

Cape Parbum, In the Old Nat. Brev. fol. 162. is thus defined; This Writ lieth in Case where the Tenant is summoned in Plea of Land, and cometh at the Summons, and his Appearance is of Record; and after he maketh Default at the Day that is given to him, then shall go this Writ for the King, &c. The Difference between the Grand Cape and Petit Cape, (which in Effect or Consequence are alike) is that the Grand Cape is awarded upon the Defendant or Tenant's not appearing or demanding the View in such real Actions, where the original Writ does not mention the Parcels or Particulars demanded; and the Petit Cape after Appearance or View is granted. Of this likewise you may see the Form in the Register Judicial. fol. 2. Of both these Writs, read Fleta, lib. 2. cap. 44. test. Magnum & seq.

Cape ad valentiam, Is a Species of Cape Magnum, so called of the End whereunto it tendeth. In the Old Nat. Brev. fol. 161, 162. it is thus described, This Writ lieth, where any is impleaded of certain Lands, and I vouch to warrant another, against whom the Summons ad Warrantandum hath been awarded, and the Sheriff cometh not at the Day given, then if the Demandant recover against me, I shall have this Writ against the Vouchee, and shall recover so much in Value of the Land of the Vouchee, if he have so much; and if he have not so much, then I shall have Execution of such Lands and Tenements as descend to him in Fee-simple; or if he purchase afterward, I shall have against him a Re-summons; and if he can say nothing, I shall recover the Value. Here note, That this Writ lieth before Appearance. Of these Writs and their divers Uses, see the Table of the Reg. Judicial. verbo Cape.

Capilla, Before the Word Chapel was restrained to an Oratory, or depending Place of divine Worship, it was used for any Sort of Chest, Cabinet, or other Repository of precious Things, especially of Religious Relicks.—Regnante Stephano, Nigellus Episc. Eliensis, pro imminente sibi negotio auxilium Domine Imperatricis, & suorum colloquium requirendum petiit. Qui dum pergerit Homines Regis invadunt, absque miseratione bonis suis disoliant, Equos & indumenta, insuper Capellam optimam, quam Episcopus secum de Ecclesia tulerat, in contaminatis manibus rapiunt. Hist. Elien. apud Whartoni Angl. Sacr. P. 1. p. 622. The Institution and Dependence of Chapels, and their Capellanes, with the Dignities and Liberty of Mother-Churches, is discoursed at large in Mr. Kennet's Paroch. Antiq. p. 580.

Capella de floribus, A Chaplet, or Coronet, or Garland of Flowers for the Head.—Tanta varietas & lascivia apparet in familia Prelatorum multorum in vestibus paratis, & virgatis, capellis de floribus, & corrigiis deauratis, &c. Opuscul. Tripartit. apud Fasciculum Rerum, &c. Append. p. 225.

Capella lineata, A Head-piece lined, Abbas de Nevele tenet in com. Lincoln.—per servitium reddendi Domino Regi unam Capellam lineatam de Syndone, & unum Par calcarium deauratorum. Tenures, p. 64. An. 9 ED. 1.

Capellus, A Cap, Bonnet, Hat, or other Covering for the Head.—Capite discoperto, sine capello, cum una garlanda de latitudine minoris digiti sui. 15 Joh. Tenures, p. 32

Capellus Militis, A Helmet, or military Head-piece.—Quando moritur, dabit similiter relevium modo quo prius, nisi habuerit equum, & tunc bares ejus veniet ad curiam Domini cum equo meliori, sella, frano, & capello, gladio & calcaribus.—Consuetud. Domus de Farendon, MS. f. 21.

Capias, Is a Writ of two Sorts, one before Judgment, called Capias ad respondendum, in an Action Personal, where the Sheriff upon the first Writ of Distress in Personal Actions returns, Nil habet in balliva nostra, and the other is a Writ of Execution after Judgment, being of divers Kinds, viz. Capias ad satisfaciendum, Capias pro fine, Capias Utlagatum, Capias Utlagatum & Inquiras de bonis & catallis, &c.

Capias ad satisfaciendum, Is a Writ of Execution after Judgment, lying where a Man recovers in an Action personal, as for Debt or Damages, or Detinue in the King's Court; and he against whom the Debt is recovered, and hath no Lands nor Tenements, nor sufficient Goods, whereof the Debt may be levied. For in this Case, he that recovereth, shall have this Writ to the Sheriff, commanding him, that he take the Body of him, against whom the Debt is recovered, and he shall be put in Prison, until Satisfaction made.

Capias conductos ad proficiendum is an Original Writ, which lies by the Common Law against any Soldier that hath covenanted to serve the King in his Wars, and appears not at the Time and Place appointed, directed to two of the King's Sergeants at Arms, to arrest and take him wheresoever he may be found, and to bring him Coram Concilio nostro; with a Clause of Assistance. 4 Inst. fol. 128.

Capias ad satisfaciendum infinite, (22 & 23 Car. 2. Act for Relief of Soldiers.)

Capias in Withernamum de Averiis is a Writ lying for Cattle in Withernam. Reg. of Writs, fol. 82, & 83. See Withernam.

Capias in Withernamum de Homine is Writ that lies for a Servant in Withernam. Reg. fol. 79, & 80. See Withernam.

Capias pro Fine is where one, being by Judgment fined to the King upon some Offence committed against a Statute, does not discharge it according to the Judgment. By this therefore his Body is to be taken, and committed to Prison until he pay the Fine. Coke, lib. 3. fol. 12. Or where, upon a Non est factum pleaded, his Plea is by Evidence, or his own after Acknowledgement, not made out or verified, and the like.

Capias Utlagatum is a Writ which lies against him who is outlawed upon any Action Personal or Criminal; by which the Sheriff apprehends the Party outlawed, for not appearing upon the Exigent, and keeps him in safe Custody till the Day of Return, and then presents him to the Court, there farther to be ordered for his Contempt, who (if in the Common Pleas) was in former Times to be committed to the Fleet, there to to remain till he had sued out the King's Charter of Pardon, and appeared to the Action. At present, in the King's Bench, the Outlawry cannot be reversed, unless the Defendant appear in Person, and by a Present of Gloves to the Judges obtain their Favour to reverse it. And in the Common Pleas the Defendant (not being an Executor or Administrator) is now to give good Bail (which he is allowed to do by Attorney) to answer the Action, if the Debt or Damage demanded be 20*l.* or above, and to pay the Plaintiff's Charges, before the Outlawry be reversed. And by a special Capias Usilatum in the same Writ, the Sheriff is commanded, and may seize all the Defendant's Lands, Goods, and Chattels, for the Contempt to the King; and the Plaintiff may (after an Inquisition taken thereupon, and returned into the Exchequer) obtain a Lease of the Lands extended, and a Grant of the Goods, whereby to compel the Defendant to appear; which, when he shall so do, and reverse the Outlawry, are to be restored to him. See Old Nat. Brev. fol. 154. and Table of Reg. Judic. verbo, Capias.

Capitagium. See Chevage.

Capitale, i. e. The Thing which is stolen, or the Value of it. 'Tis mentioned in Leg. H. 1. cap. 59. viz. Si furtum redimendum, Capitale redimentis conjessent; i. e. If the Theft be redeemed, let the Thing stolen, or the Value of it, be returned.

Capitale vivens, i. e. Live Cattle. In Leg. Ethelsani. Reddam de meo proprio decimas Deo, tam in Vivente Capitali, quam in mortuis fructibus terræ.

Capitū, From Caput, the Head; and so Tenure in Capite, is to hold of the King, the Head of the Commonwealth. It is a Tenure that holds immediately of the King, as of his Crown, be it by Knights Service or Soccage, and not of any Honour, Castle, or Manor; and for this it is called a Tenure, which holds merely of the King: For as the Crown is a Corporation, a Signiory in gross, so the King, who possesses the Crown, is in the Eye of the Law perpetually King, never in his Minority. F. N. B. fol. 5. Yet a Man may hold of the King, and not in Capite; that is, not immediately of the Crown in gross, but by Means of some Honour, Castle, or Manor belonging to the Crown: Of this Kitchin, fol. 129. saith well, That a Man may hold of the King by Knight-Service, and not in Capite; because it may be he holds of some Honour by Knight-Service, that is in the King's Hands, by Descent from his Ancestors, and not immediately of the King, as of his Crown. And this Tenure in Capite is otherwise called, Tenure holding of the Person of the King. Dyer, fol. 44. Broke, Tit. Tenure, nu. 65, 99. But this Tenure is now abolished, and by 12 Car. 2. cap. 24. all turned into free and common Soccage. The ancient Tenure in Capite was of two Sorts: The one Principal and General, which is of the King; as Caput Regni, & Caput Generalissimum omnium Feudorum, the Fountain whence all Feuds and Tenures have their main Original: The other Special and Subaltern, which was of a particular Subject; as Caput Feudi, seu terre illius; so called, because he was the first, that created and granted that Feud or Land in such Manner of Tenure: Who was thereupon called Capitalis Dominus, & Caput terre illius; among the Feudists, Capitaneus Feudi illius. Vid. Spelman of Feuds, cap. 4.

Capitulum. See Chevage. 'Tis what we now call Poll-Money:

*Improba Romani poscunt a Rege tributa,
Cujus ad arbitrium disponitur omne tributum,
Et Capitalitium cogunt appendere summum.*
Du Cange.

Capitulum, A Covering for the Head. Sometimes it signifies a Collar of a Coat. 'Tis mentioned in the Stat. H. 4. Anno 1. Quod si aliquis miles, vel aliqua persona minoris status, det aliquam liberatam pauperi vel Capititiorum contra formam statuti, &c.

Capituli Agri, The Had-lands, or Head-lands, that lie at the Head, or upper End of the Lands or Furrows. — Canonici (Burcester.) concesserunt hominibus de Wrecheville duas acras prati pro capitibus suarum crostarum tenus rivulum versus molendinum, &c. Mr. Kennet's Paroch. Antiq. p. 157. See Havedelond.

Capitula Curasie, Clerical Assemblies, or Chapters held by the Rural Dean, and parochial Clergy within the Precinct of every distinct Deanery; at first every three Weeks, then once a Month, and more solemnly once a Quarter. Of which see the Practice at large, in Mr. Kennet's Paroch. Antiq. p. 640.

Capitain, Capitaneus, Is one that leadeth, or hath Command of a Company of Soldiers; and is either General, as he that hath the Governance of the whole Host; or Especial, as he that leads but one Band. There is another Sort of Captains, Qui Urbium prefecti sunt, quibus Plebs ab aliquo superiorum gubernanda committitur. So we have Captains of Castles here in England, as of Dover, the Isles of Jersey, Guernsey, Wight, &c.

Capitale. 'Tis mentioned in Leg. Ina, cap. 42. apud Brompton, and it signifies Cattle; viz. Rustici curtillum debet esse clausum estate simul & hyeme; si disclausum sit & introat alicujus vicini sui Capitale, &c. nihil inde recipiat. See Capitale.

Captio, (Captio) When a Commission is executed, and the Commissioners Names subscribed to a Certificate, declaring when and where the Commission was executed, that is called the Captio; which commonly begins thus; — Virtute istius Commissionis nos, &c. or, Executio istius Commissionis patet in quadam Scheda annexata, &c.

Captura, (Captura) The Taking of a Prey, a little Gain, in Arrest, or Seizure. Anno 14 Car. 2. cap. 14.

Capitagium, — In cujus facti memoriam etiam quatuor denarios de caputagio meo, sicut mos est secularibus talibus facere, super altare Dominicum predicti loci gratanter imponens. Dugdale Warwicksh. f. 193. a. Some think it may signify Head or Pole-Money, or the Payment of it. — But it is indeed the same with Chevagium, Chevage.

Caput anni, New-Years Day, upon which of old was observed the Festum Stultorum. So Caput Kalendarum Maii, May-day.

Caput Baronie is the Castle or Chief Seat of a Nobleman, which is not to be divided among Daughters, (if there be no Son), but must descend to the eldest Daughter, Ceteris filiabus aliunde satisfactis.

Caputis, (from Caput, the Head) is used for the Head, or Hade, of any Land; — Cum Caputis & Sidlingis prati. See Butum terra.

Caput Fejunii, Ash-Wednesday, being the Head, the Beginning or First Day of the Quadragesimal, or Lent Fast. Some annual Payments were assigned to be made in Capite Fejunii. Mr. Kennet's Paroch. Antiq. p. 132.

Caput loci, The End of any Place. Ad Caput Ville, at the End of the Town: The End or upper Head.

Car, and Char, The Names of Places beginning with Car and Char, signify a City; from the Brit. Caer, i. e. Civitas; as Carlisle, and many others.

Caravanna, A Caravan, or Joint-company of Travellers in the Eastern Countries, for mutual Conduct and Defence. — Egressa Caravanna nostra de Joppa versus exercitum veniebat onusta victualibus & aliis litellis necessariis. — Gaufrid. Vinelauf. Richardi Regis Iter Hierosol. lib. 5. cap. 52.

Cartan, Is sometimes expounded for a Pillory.

Cartannum, A Prison. LL. Canuti Regis.

Cartatus, Loaden; as a Ship with her Freight. — De corpore cuiuslibet magna navis Carcatæ cum rebus venalibus, 4 denar. Pat 10 R. 2. par. 1. m. 30.

Cartellagi, The Fees paid to a Goaler when the Prisoner is discharged.

Cartata and Cartata, (Sax. Cret, unde Cart.) a Cart, or Cart-load. — Faciunt precarias de Caruca & Carecta, i. e. De aratro & Carro. Customar. Prior. Lewes MS. — Quinque Carectas clausura, ad predictæ terre clausuram sustinendam. Mon. Angl. 2 par. f. 340. a.

Cartata Plumbi, A Pig, or Mafs of Lead, weighing 128 Stone, or 2100 Pounds. — Sacus lane debet ponderare 28 petras, & solebat ponderare summam frumenti, & sic sacus lane ponderat sextam partem carectatæ plumbi, scil. 20 petras, sexies viginti & octo petra faciunt carectatam plumbi London. summa librarum carectatæ London. duo mille & centum librae, scil. de Waterfothmalet, sex saci lane faciunt carectatam plumbi. — Ex Cartular. S. Albani, MS. Cotton. Tiber. T. 6. fol. 260.

Cartetarius & Cartetarius. A Carter. Sciant — quod ego Herewardus Prii Dedi — In liberam, puram & perpetuam Eleemosynam Deo & Altari B. Marie in Conventuali Ecclesia Leominstr. xii d. annui redditus provenientes de quodam Mesuagio in Mariso quod fuit Ricardi Cartetarii, &c. Sine Dat. Ex libro Chart. Priorat. Leominstr. See Carreta.

Carstia, Dearth, Scarcity, Dearnels, — Rex Majori & Vic. London, Salutem. Querela Archiepiscoporum, Comitum, — quod de Bobis, Vaccis, mulionibus, &c. magna & quasi intollerabilis est Caristia hiis diebus sub, &c. Pat. 8. Ed. 1. m. 14. intus.

Caritas, Ad Caritatem, Poculum Caritatis A Grace-Cup: Or an extraordinary Allowance of Wine, or other good Liquor, wherein the Religious at Festivals drank in Commemoration of their Founders and Benefactors. So among the Customs of the Abbey of Glasbury:

In diebus slemnibus quum fratres fuerunt in cappis, medonem habuerunt in iustis, & simulas super mensam, & vinum ad caritatem, & tria generalia, & quatuor vel quinque pietantias — & hæc est assisa quum pro cerevisia vinum debent habere, unusquisq; sci-

licet habere debet duas caritates in die. Cartular. Abbat Glaslon. MS. f. 29.

Carke, Seems to be a Quantity of Wool, whereof thirty make a Sarpier. 27 H. 6. cap. 2. See Sarpier.

Carlisle. See Luguvallum.

Carnarium, A Charnel-house, or Repository for the Bones of the Dead. — In carnario autem subtus dictam capellam Sancti Johannis (in civitate Norwicensi) constituto, ossa humana in civitate Norwic humata de licentia sacristæ qui pro tempore fuerit, qui dicti carnarii clavem & custodiam habebit speciale, ut usq; ad resurrectionem generalem honestius conserventur, a carnibus integre denudata reponi volumus, & observari. — Cartular. Fundationis Capellæ Sancti Johannis in occid. parte Eccl. Norwic. per Joh. Norwic. Epif. Dat. 4. Pon. Oct. 1316.

Caras, Seems to signify an Immunity or Privilege. Cromp. Jurisd. fol. 191. Prior de Melton se & homines suos immunes clamat ab omnibus America-mensis in Foresta & ab omnibus Geldis, Postgeldis, Buckshali, Tritis, Carno & Sumag, &c. Irin. Pick. f. 163. b. Tributum aliquod fundi domino debitum, says Spelman.

Carola, A little Pew, Closet, or other Safehold. — In correctionibus factis apud Kirkham A. 1279. Injunctum fuit ut Prior, vel Subprior sepius, vel saltem aliquoties in anno carolas Canoncorum in claustro & alibi in Monasterio faciat in sua presentia aperiri, & res inclusas oculis subiciat, ne per furrum ejusmodi operiatur facultas seu occasio delinquendi. Ex Registr. Will. Wickwane Archiepif. Ebor. f. 76. See Carvls.

Carpmcales, A course Sort of Cloth made in the North of England, mentioned 7 Jac. 16.

Carri, (Carrus.) In some Places it is a Kind of Cart with Wheels; in others a Sled, drawn and sliding on the Ground. — In loco, in quo sumetur quod opus fuerit ad reparationem domorum, carucarum, Cartorum, & ceterorum supellectilium domus. Charta Gaufredi de Lamay mil. Abbati de Burgo.

Carragium, The same with Cariagium, a Carriage.

Carat, or Carat. The Word was formerly used for any Weight or Burthen, tho' now appropriated to the Weight of four Grains in Diamonds.

Carretata terræ. See Carucata terræ. Quod cum ipsa teneat de ipso duas Carretatas terræ in Conningstone per homagium, unde duodecim carucate faciunt unum feodum militis. Co. Litt. Sect. 95. See Carretta.

Carreta, (alia Carretta) was anciently used for a Carriage, Wain, or Cart-load. Sciant presentes & futuri, quod ego Henricus de Ribesford Dedi, — Rogero filio Ade Pistoris pro Homagio & Servizio suo totum pratum meum de Wiggemore. Reddend. inde annuatim mihi & heredibus meis ipse & heredes sui unam Carretam feni rationabilem & bene servatam, &c. Sine dat. Penes Thio. Bridgewater, Gen.

Carrels, Closets, or Apartments for Privacy and Retirement. — 'Three Pews or Carrels, where every one of the old Monks had his Carrel several by himself, to which, having dined, they did resort, and there study: — these Pews or Carrels were finely wainscoted, and very close. Davies Mon. of Durham, p. 31. Vid. Carola.

Carrick, or Carrack, (Carrucha;) a Ship of great Burthen; so called of the Italian Word Carico, or Carco, a Burthen or Charge: Mentioned 2 Rich. 2. cap. 4. Wals. in R. 2. pag. 322. Obviat magnis coganibus, & sex Carricis referis vini specibus. And as they were used in Trade, so they were also in War; as Walsing. in H. 5. fol. 394. viz. Galli conduxerant classem magnarum navium Carricarum, &c. qua regnum Anglia molestant.

Carraway-seeds, alias Carraway-seeds, Is a Seed springing of the Herb so called, of whose Operation you may read in Gerard's Herbal lib. 2. cap. 396. It is reckoned among the Merchandize, that ought to be garbled, by 1 Fac. cap. 19.

Cartatus, Carcatius, The Word is used of a Ship, or Vessel laden with a Cargo of Goods. — Quandam navem Cestrie, qui in potestate vestra aplice cartata blado & aliis victualibus, arrestari fecistis. Claus. 25 H. 3. Brady Hist. Engl. Append. 193. Hence carcare to load, discarcare to unload a Ship.

Cartel. See Chartel.

Caruage, Caruagium. See Carucata.

Caruca, French Charrue, a Plough; from the old Gallic Carr, a Plough, which is the present Irish Word for any Sort of wheel'd Carriage. from whence the Sax. Carol, a Ploughman, the Northern Kurl, our Southern Churl, and in Corruption of Places Charl, as Charlton, Charlbury, &c. Carl in the Modern Wells, is a Rustick, or Clown.

Carucagium, Was a Tribute imposed on every Plough for the publick Service. Regi concessum est per totam Angliam Carucagium de qualibet caruca duo solidi argenti. As Hidage was a Taxation by Hides of Land, so Caruagium was by Carucats of Land, which at first was but 4d. for every Plough. — Dederunt S. Edmundo de qualibet Carucata terre in toto Episcopatu quatuor Denarii annui, quod usque modo, ea de causa, Carucagium est appellatum. Mon. Angl. 1 par. fol. 294. a.

Carucata, A Plough-land, Domesday, Mr. Agar. It is a certain Quantity of Land, by which the Subjects have been sometimes taxed; wherupon the Tribute levied upon a Carue of Land, was called Carucagium. Bracton, lib. 2. cap. 26. n. 8. & cap. 17. It may contain Houses, Mills, Pasture, Meadow, Wood, &c. Co. on Littl. sect. 119. It is sometimes used for a Cart-load, as Una carucata ligni in foresta nostra. Mon. Angl. 2 par. f. 311. Littleton cap. Tenure in Socage saith, That Soca idem est quod Caruca: Yet Stow in his Annals, pag. 271. makes me doubt, where he saith, The same King Henry took Caruag; that is to say, Two Marks of Silver of every Knight's Fee towards the Marriage of his Sister Isabella to the Emperor, where Caruag cannot be taken for a Plough-Land, except there were some other further Division, whereby to raise of every Plough-land so much, and so consequently of every Knight's Fee, that is, of every 680 Acres, two Marks of Silver. Rastal, in his Exposition of Words, saith, That Caruag is to be quit, if the King shall tax all the Land by Carues; that is, a Privilege, whereby a Man is exempted from Caruag. Skene de verb. signif. verb. Carucata terre, deriveth it from the French Charron (more truly Charrue) a Plough, and saith, That it contains as great a Portion of Land as may be tilled and laboured in a Year and a Day, with one Plough; which also is called Hilda, or Hida terre, a Word very fre- quently used in the Britain Laws. Lambard among his Precedents, towards the End of his Eirenarcha, translates carucata terre, a Plough-land. The Word Carue is mentioned in the Statute of Wards and Reliefs, made 28 E. 1. and in Magna Charta, cap. 5. See Co. on Littl. fol. 69. a. See Mr. Kennet's Glossary, in voce Carucata.

Carucata Boum, A Team or Draught of Oxen, for drawing or ploughing, which in some Western Parts of England is still called a Plough of Oxen. Gilbert Basset, Founder of Burcester Priory, grants to it — Pasturam in mea Dominica pastura ad tres Carucatas Boum trahentium una cum bobus meis trahentibus. Paroch. Antiquit. p. 135. They are called Boves de caruca, in a Charter of Aubery de Vere, to the Abbey of Notley. ibid. p. 155.

Carucarius, He that held Land in Caruage, in Socage, or Plough-Tenure. — Summa reddituum carucatariorum, si fuerint ad firmam xxii fol. — summa gallinarum carucatariorum & cotariorum cxiv gallina. Paroch. Antiqu. p. 354.

Cassatum and Cassata, (from the Ital. Casa, i. e. Domus;) Hab. taculum cum terra idonea ad unam familiam alendam; alias Calamentum: Saxonibus nostris Hide; Beda, Familia.

Ego Forterus, famulus famulorum Dei, pro redemptione anime mee, unum Cassatum dedi Aldberto Abbati, qua sita est juxta fluvium Elce, ad portam qua dicitur Bledenithe ad insulam parvam, & ad Ecclesiam beati Martini Confessoris, in propriam substantiam. Habendum, Donan: umque cuiunque voluerit. Qui hanc chartam infringere temptaverit, sciat seipsum a Communione Sanctorum separatam, & ab omnipotenti Deo. Ego Forterus confessi & subscripsi. Acta est autem hec donatio Anno DCCXII. Indictione prima. Ex Reg. Glaston. Canob. penes Rad. Sheldon. Arm.

Cassata is the same with Hida. Rex Angl. Ethelred. de 310 Cassatis unum trierem, &c. Hoveden, Anno 1008, and Henry Huntingdon, mentioning the same Thing, instead of Cassata writes Hilda. Du Cange.

Casslite is a Saxon Word, and signifies a Muilt; Si autem post Excommunicationem, &c. venerit, forisfacturam suam que Anglice vocatur Thierhy-nesse seu Cassilite, pro unaquaq; vocatione Episcopo reddat, &c. Du Cange.

Cassia fistula, Is a Tree that beareth black, round and long Cods, wherein is contained a Pulp soft and pleasantly sweet, serving for many Uses in Physick. This Tree, with the Virtues you may find described in Gerard's Herbal, lib. 3. cap. 77. The Fruit is mentioned in the Statute 1 Fac. cap. 19. among the Drugs and Spices to be garbled.

Cassia lignea, Is a sweet Wood, not unlike the Cinamon, whereof you may read in Gerard's Herbal, lib. 1. cap. 19. and comprised among Merchandize to be garbled.

Cassii, The Hundred of Caisbow in Hertfordshire.

Cassiterides, The Isles of Silly.

Cassel, or Casle, Casellum, Is well known. In the Time of Henry the Second, there were in England 1115 Cassles; every Casle contains a Manor; so that the Constable of a Casle, is the Constable of a Manor. 2 Part. Inst. fol. 31.

Castle-quard Rents, Are Rents paid by those that dwell within the Precincts of any Castle, towards the Maintenance of such as watch and ward the same. As for settling certain Rents in Trustees, 22 & 23 Car. 2.

Castlemard, Castlegardium, vel Wardum Castri, Is an Imposition laid upon such of the King's Subjects as dwell within a certain Compass of any Castle, towards the Maintenance of such as do watch and ward the Castle. Mag. Chart. cap. 20. and 32 H. 8. cap. 48. It is used sometime for the very Circuit it self, which is inhabited by such as are subject to this Service; as in Stow's Annals, p. 632. Et capere ibidem Castlemard, viz De qualibet districtione infra feodum ipsius ducis ad Castellum de Halton ducti, & ibidem una de causa, si per totam noctem pernoctaverit, quatuor denarios, Pl. apud Cestr. 31 E. 3. See Stagium.

Castellain, (French Chastellain.) The Lord, Owner, or Captain of a Castle, and sometimes the Constable of a Castle, or fortified House. Bracton, lib. 5. tract. 2. cap. 16. and lib. 2. cap. 32. num. 2. and used in like Sense. 3 Ed. 1. cap. 7. It is sometimes taken for him that hath the Custody of one of the King's Mansion-Houses, though not a Castle, or Place of Defence. 2 Part. Inst. fol. 31. Manwood, Part 1. pag. 113. saith, There was an Officer of the Forest Called Castellanus, who had the Command of all or Part of the Forest. Of the Use and Extent of this Officer in France, see Cotgrave's Dictionary, verbo Castellain.

Castellari, (Castellarium & Castellatus.) — Et unum Testum juxta Castellarium. Mon. Angl. 2 Par. f. 402. a. Comes Alanus habet in suo Castellatu 200 Maneria. Domelday. The Precinct or Jurisdiction of a Castle.

Castellatio, This was the Building any Castle without the Leave of the King; which it was unlawful to do. Hec mittant hominem in misericordia Regis, viz. Infrafractio pacis, infidelitas & proditio, despectus de eo, Castellatio sine licentia. Du Fresne.

Castellorum operatio, Castle-work, or Service and Labour done by inferior Tenants, for the Building and upholding Castles and publick Places of Defence: Toward which some gave their Personal Assistance, and others paid their Contribution. This was one of the three necessary Charges, to which all Lands among our Saxon Ancestors were expressly subject.

Liberi ab omni servitio, excepta trinoda necessitate — Pontis & Arcis constructione & expeditione contra hostem. After the Conquest an Immunity from this Burden was sometimes granted: So King Fohn to the Nunnery of St. Catherine without the City of Exeter, — quietus esse de operationibus Castellorum & Pontium. Mon. Angl. tom. 1. f. 503. b. So King Hen. II. to the Tenants within the Honour of Wallingford, — Us quieti sint de operationibus Castellorum. Paroch. Antiq. p. 114.

Caster and Chester, The Names of Places ending in Caster and Chester, are derived from the Sax. Caster, which signifies a City, Town, or Castle; or rather from the Latin Castrum: For the Names which end with this Termination were given by the Romans to those Places where they built Castles.

Castle. See Castel.

Castor and Castritius, A Weather Sheep. Castores enim bonis velleribus communii cum matribus bidentibus. Du Cange. Monasticon, pag.

888. 55 Acres terre & pasturam ad ducentas oves, octo Castritios & sexdecim boves, &c.

Casu consimui, Is a Writ of Entry granted where the Tenant by Curtesy, or Tenant for Term of Life, or for the Life of another, doth alien in Fee, or in Tail, or for Term of another's Life. And it hath the Name of this; for that the Clerks of the Chancery did, by their common Consent, frame it to the Likeness of the Writ, called In casu proviso, according to the Authority given them by the Stat. West. 2. cap. 24. which, as often as there chanceth any new Case in Chancery, something like to a former Case, and yet not especially fitted by any Writ, licenseth them to frame a new Form answerable to the new Case, and as like some former Case, as they may. And this Writ is granted to him in the Reversion against the Party to whom the said Tenant so alieneth to his Prejudice, and in the Life-time of the said Tenant. The Form and Effect whereof, read more at large in F. N. B. fol. 206.

Cassula, A certain Garment belonging to the Priests, quasi minor casa; because it covered him over. Sometimes 'tis taken for Cuculla; for both have the same Signification: Cucullam nos esse dicimus quam alio nomine Casulam vocamus. And from hence we call it a Cassock;

— Casulaque capax a fornice forma
Pest longas habitura plicas contracta ministris.

Casu proviso, Is a Writ of Entry given by the Statute of Gloucester, cap. 7. in Case where a Tenant in Dower alieneth in Fee; or for Term of Life, or in Tail, and lieth for him in Reversion against the Alienee, whereof read F. N. B. fol. 205.

Catala, alias Chattells, Catala, Cometh from the Normans; for in the Eighty-seventh Chapter of the Grand Customary, you shall find that all moveable Goods with them are called Chattels; the contrary whereof is Eisf. ibid. which we call Fee. But as it is used in our Common Law, it comprehends not all Goods moveable and immovable, but such as are in the Nature of Freehold, or Parcel thereof, as may be gathered out of Stannef. Prærog. cap. 16. And Anno 1 Eliz. cap. 2. Howbeit Kitchin, in his Chapter Catala, fol. 32. saith, That ready Money is not accounted any Goods or Chattels, nor Hawks nor Hounds; the Reason for Hawks and Hounds he gives, is because they are Fera nature; but why Money is not, tho' he set not down the Cause, yet it may be gathered to be, for that Money of it self is not of Worth, but as by Consent of Men for their easier Traffick, or Permutation of Things necessary for Life. It is reckoned a Thing rather consisting in Imagination, than in Deed. And here Note, That Chattels be either personal, or real: Personal may be so called in two Respects; one because they belong immediately to the Person of a Man; as a Bow, a Horse, &c. the other, for that being any way with-held injuriously from us, we have no Means to recover them but by personal Action: Chattels real be such, as either do not appertain to the Person, but to some other Thing by way of Dependency, as a Box with Charters of Land; the Body of a Ward, Apples upon a Tree, or a Tree it self growing on the Ground, Crompt. Justice of Peace, f. 33. b. or else such as are necessary, issuing out of some immovable immoveable Thing to a Person, as a Lease or Rent for Term of Years. And also to hold at Will, is a Chattel real. Terms de la Ley, verbo Chattel. The Civilians comprehend these Things, as also Land, of what Kind or Holds soever, under Bona; Bona autem dividuntur in mobilia & immobilia; mobilia vero in ea quæ se movent vel ab aliis moventur. V. Legem. 49. & L. 208. de verb. signif. & interpret. ibid. Bracton also cap. 3. lib. 3. n. 3, & 4. seemeth to be of the same Judgment. Chattels are bona quacunque mobilia & immobilia; 'propterea tamen ea honorum pars quæ in animalibus consistit; a quorum capitibus res ipse alias capita, alias capitalia diste sunt. Spelm.

Catalis captis nomine districtionis, Is a Writ that lieth within a Borough, or within a House, for Rent going out of the same, and warranteth a Man to take the Doors, Windows or Gates by way of Distress for the Rent. Old. Nat. Brev. fol. 66.

Catallis reddendis, Is a Writ which lieth where Goods being delivered to any Man to keep unto a certain Day, and be not upon Demand delivered at the Day. And it may be otherwise called A Writ of Detinue. See more of it Reg. Orig. fol. 139. and Old. Nat. Brev. f. 63. This is answerable to Actio Depositum in the Civil Law.

Catapanus, Catepanus, Catipanus, the same with Capitaneus, a Captain.

*Partibus Ausoniis Gallorum terror habetur
Ex quo Normannos Catapan abscedere fecit.*

Catapulta. — Edmundus Willoughby tenet unum messuagium & sex bovatas terre in Carleton, ut de manerio de Shelford per servitium unius catapultæ per annum pro omni servitio. Lib. Schedul. de Term. Mich. 14 H. 4. Notr. f. 210. — Some render it a Warlike Engine to shoot Darts, a Sling. — I rather take it for a Cross-bow.

Catascopus, signifies an Archdeacon: Adulfus Herefordensis Ecclesie Catascopus. Du Fresne.

Catchland, In Norfolk they have some Grounds where it is not known to what Parish they certainly belong, so as the Minister who first seizes the Tithe, does by that Right of Pre-occupation enjoy it for that one Year. The Land of this dubious Nature is there called Catch-land.

Catchpol, (Cacepollus and Cacepollus, quasi, one that catches by the Poll,) though now taken as a Word of Contempt, yet in ancient Times it was used, without Reproach, for such as we now call Serjeants of the Mace, Bailiffs, or any other that use to arrest Men upon any Action. An. 25 E. 3. Stat. 4. cap. 2. — Hospitalarii tenent in Hereford, unum messuagium quod Philippus filius Odonis tenuit per Serjantiam Cacepolli, quod eis legavit in puram elemosynam. Rot. de Serjantiis in Heref. temp. Hen. 3.

Cathedra marmorea. See Lapis Marmoreus.

Cathedral. See Church.

Cathedratic, Cathedraticum, Is a Sum of two Shillings pay'd to the Bishop by the inferior Clergy, In argumentum subjectionis, & ob honorem Cathedralis. See Hist. of Procurations and Synodals, p. 82.

Catticuchiani were the Inhabitants of Hertfordshire, Bedfordshire and Buckinghamshire.

Caturous, A Hunting Horle. — Willielmus filius Alani dat Regi duos bonos Caturoos, pro habendis duobus Feris apud Norton. An. 6 R. Joh. — Tenures, p. 68. Vid. Chacurus.

Cauda terre, A Land's End, or the Bottom or extreme Part of a Rigge or Furrow in arable Land. — due acra & dimidia ad caudam sex acrarum simul jacentium — item dimidia acra ad caudam unius acra. Cartular. Abbat. Glaston. MS. f. 117. b.

Cavers.

*And two great Courts of Berghmote ought to be
In every Year, upon the Minery,
To punish Miners that transgress the Law,
To curb Offenders, and to keep in Awe
Such as be Cavers, or do rob Men's Coes;
Such as be Pilferers, or do steal Men's Stoes.
Manlove's Poem on Derb. Mines.*

Caulceis, (Anno 6 Hen. 6. cap. 5.) Caucies, 1 Ed. 4. cap. 1.) It should probably be written Causeways, from the old French Word Cauz, now Caillou a Flint; and is well known to signify Ways pitched with Flint, or other Stone; for the Via Appia in Italy is a Causeway, made of black Flint-stones, — Pro ponte & calceto reparand. Pat. 18 H. 6. p. 2. m. 22. I have seen it written Calceya, Cafea, and Calsetum, in old Records: Perhaps from the Ital. Calzata.

Causines, Caccrini, Causini, Corsoni, Italian Merchants, so called from Causium, Caorin, a Town in Lombardy, where they first practised their Arts of Usury and Extortion: And thence spreading themselves, and their cursed Trade through most Parts of Europe, were a common Plague to every Nation where they came. Matthew Paris gives a Character of their odious Practices in England, under the Year 1237. And Math. Westm. sub. an. 1232. King Henry the Third banished them from this Kingdom, in the Year 1240. But being the Pope's Solicitors, Procurers, and Money-Changers, they were permitted to return in the Year 1250. but in very short Time were expelled for their intolerable Cheats and Exactions.

Causa Matrimonii prælocuti, Is a Writ which lies in Case where a Woman giveth Lands to a Man in Fee-simple, to the Intent he shall marry her, and he refuse to do so, in reasonable Time, being required thereunto by the Woman; the Form and other Use thereof, see Reg. Orig. f. 233. and F. N. B. 205.

Causam nobis significet, Is a Writ which lieth to a Mayor of a Town or City, &c. that formerly by the King's Writ, being commanded to give Seisin unto the King's Grantee of any Lands or Tenements, doth delay so to do, willing him to shew cause why he so delayeth the Performance of his Charge. Co. lib. 4. casu, Commonalty de Sadlers, f. 55. b.

Causea, the same with Calcea, Calseta, which we call a Causeway: Quotidie venerunt Franci ad Causeam, inire basiludium cum Anglis. Knighton. So in the Monasticon, 1 Tom. p. 275. Inceptum fuit Causetum novi vicii ante portas Abbatie.

Causenne. See Gausenne.

Cautione Admittenda, Is a Writ that lieth against the Bishop, holding an excommunicate Person in Prison for his Contempt, notwithstanding that he offereth sufficient Caution, or Pledges to obey the Commandments and Orders of Holy Church from henceforth. The Form and Effect whereof you may find in Reg. Orig. pag. 66. and F. N. B. f. 63.

Cap,

Cay, a Key or Water-lock. Sometimes it signifies an House; De quadam Caia & domo, &c. From the Brit. Cae; which is a Fence; and not from the Sax. Cæg, Clavis.

Capagium, A Toll, or Duty pay'd to the King for landing Goods at some Key or Wharf. King Edward I. grants by Charter to the Barons of the Cinque Ports, — Ut quieti sint de omni thelonio, & omni consuetudine, videl. ab omni lastagio, tallagio, passagio, cayagio, vivagio, sponsagio, & omni Wiree, &c. Placit. temp. Ed. I. & Ed. II. MS. penes Dominum Fountains.

Cappilde, A Word derived from the Saxon ceap, signifying pecus Cattle; and gild, solutio; that is, Solutio Pecudis or Pecudis seu Mercemonii restitutio: From this Saxon Word Gild, haply we may have our common English Word Yield; As, Yield, or Pay.

Celtra, A certain Measure among the Scotch, called by them a Chaldre: Whence our Chaldron of Scotch and Newcastle Coals. Rex Scotia honoris gratia, dedit (Episc. Sarisber. & Roucest. tunc in Scotia agentibus) octoginta Celtras frumenti, & sexaginta sex de brasio, & octaginta de avena. Cron. Mailros, sub an. 1209.

Celer Leat, The Top, Head, Teste, or Tester of a Bed. — Dedit ad cameram Prioris unum lectum, cum celere & curteis blodei coloris. Hist. Elin. apud Whartoni Angl. Sac. P. 1. p. 673.

Cellerarius, alias Cellarius, Officialis est in Monasterio qui fratrum stipendia servat & administrat. MS. In Monasteriis he was in Nature of a Steward, qui totius Abbatie curam gerebat. Cellerarius propter dignitatem Officii, secundus pater est in Monasterio. Mon. Angl. par. f. 302. a. In the Universities of England they are sometimes called Manciples, sometimes Caterers, and sometimes Stewards.

Cessrine a Sort of Sky-coloured Cloth, so called from cæruleo vel cælesti colore. 1 Ric. 3. cap. 8.

Cindru, Shingles, Shindles, Scandule, small Pieces of Wood, laid in Form of Tiles, to cover the Roof of a House. — Mandatum ad cendulas & lattas nostras caviandas de Paro ad domus reficiendas. Pat. 4. H. 3. P. 1. m. 10.

Cenegrid, This is an expiatory Mulct, paid by one who kills another, to the Kindred of the Deceased. From the Sax. Cinne Cognatio, and gild solutio. See Magbote and Kenegild.

Cernisse, Acorns; so called from the Oak, Fr. Chesne: Whence in our old Writings, Pessona cenellarum, is put for the Pannage of Hogs, or running of Swine, to feed on Acorns. — babeant xxx Porcos.

Cent monni. See Item.

Cento, The River near Tregony in Cornwall.

Cennuna, This is Notice given by the Buyer to the Seller, that the Thing sold is claimed by another, that he might appear and justify the Sale; from the Saxon Cennan tean, i. e. auctorem advocare: 'Tis mentioned in the Laws of Atthelstan apud Brompton, cap. 4. viz. Diximus de ignotis pecoribus ut nemo habeat sine Testimonio hominis hundredi, &c. & sit hoc bene credibile, & nisi alterum habeat, nolimus ei permittere Cennungam aliquam.

Cesta, A Farm, or House and Land, let ad censum, at a standing Rent. — Henricus Sturmy tenet maneria in com. Wilt. per servitium custodiendi ballivum totius foreste de Savernake, & censaria, que vocatur La Farme in foresta predicta, temp. Ed. III. Tenures, p. 88. Et debent habere mortuum boscum in Censaria de le Verre in foresta de Savorange, &c. Pet. Parl. Temp. Ed. 3.

Centarii — Domesday. Tit. Everwic. Actum — Ibi sunt nunc 14 Centarii, habentes septem Carucas. Farmers, such as might be taxed.

Censumothidus, i. e. A dead Rent like that which we call Mortmain: 'Tis mentioned in the Monasticon, 1 Tom. pag. 61. Sint omnino libera Cella Ecclesia cum redditibus & servitiis, debitis & Censumothidus.

Censure, or Custuma vocata Censure, (from the Lat. Census, which Hesychius expounds to be a Kind of personal Money, paid for every Poll) is, in divers Manors in Cornwall and Devon, the calling of all Resiants therein above the Age of sixteen, to swear Fealty to the Lord, to pay id. ter Poll, and id. per an. ever after; as Cert-money or Common Fine; and these thus sworn, are called Censers. — Item erat quedam Custuma que vocatur Censure, proven. de illis qui manent in Burgo de Lofreythiel. Survey of the Dutchy of Cornwall.

Century. See Hundred.

Ceols, A great Ship: 'Tis mentioned in Malmebury, lib. 1. c. 1. viz. Placido, ne ventorum favore, tribus longis navibus, quas illi Ciolas alias Ceolas vocant, Britanniam advehebantur.

Ceol, i. e. Churl. See Cheol: Rustici si Ceorli & femina pueros habent.

Cept cozzus, Is a Return made by the Sheriff, that upon a Capias, Exigent, or other Process, hath taken the Body of the Party. F. N. B. fol. 26.

Ceppagium, The Stumps or Roots of Trees which remain in the Ground after the Trees are felled: In Fleta, lib. 2. c. 41. par. 24. Qui forestarii ceperint coepertiones, ceppagia & escheatas quercum sive aliarum arborum, &c.

Ceragium, Ceraue, i. e. Waxscot, or a Payment to find Wax Candles in the Church. See Waxshot: 'Tis mentioned in Matt. Paris. viz. Si Ecclesia petat Ceragium vel herietum, &c.

Certificando or recognitionis scilicet, Is a Writ directed to the Mayor of the Staple, &c. commanding him to certify the Lord Chancellor of a Statute of the Staple, taken before him between such and such, in case where the Party himself detaineth it, and refuses to bring it in. Reg. Orig. fol. 152. b. In like Manner may be said of Certificando de statuto Mercatorio. Eod. f. 148. And de certificando in cancellariam de inquisitione de indemnitate nominis, fol. 195. And certificando quando recognitionis, &c. And certificando quid actum est de brevi super statutum mercatorium, f. 151. And certificando in loquela Warrantia, f. 13.

Certificat, Certificatorium, Is used for a Writing made in any Court, to give Notice to another Court of any Thing done therein. As for Example, a Certificate of the Cause of Attaint, is a Transcript made briefly, and in few Words, by the Clerk of the Crown, Clerk of the Peace, or Clerk of Assize, to the Court of the King's Bench, containing the Tenor and Effect of every Indictment, Outlawry, or Conviction, and Clerk attained, made or pronounced in any other Court. 34 H. 8. 14. Of this, see more in Critiq. d'Essey; Bro. f. 119.

Certification of Use of Noble Disfeisin, &c. Certificatio Assise Nova Disfeisine, &c. Is a Writ granted for the Re examining or Review of a Matter passed by Assise before any Justices, and is called Certificatio Nova Disfeisine. Old Nat. Breo. fol. 181. Of this, see also Reg. Orig. fol. 200. and the New Book of Entries, verb. Certificate of Assise. This Word hath Use, where a Man appearing by his Bailiff to an Assise brought by another, hath lost the Day, and having something more to plead for himself, as a Deed of Release, &c. which the Bailiff did not, or might not plead for him, desireth a farther Examination of the Cause, either before the same Justices or others, and obtaineth Letters Patent to them to that Effect. The Form of these Letters Patent, you may see F. N. B. f. 181. and that done, bringeth a Writ to the Sheriff, to call both the Party for whom the Affise passed, and the Jury that was empannelled upon the same, before the said Justices, at a certain Day and Place: And it is called a Certificate, because in it there is Mention made to the Sheriff, that upon the Parties Complaint of the defective Examination, or Doubts yet remaining upon the Affise passed, the King hath directed his Letters Patent to the Justices, for the better certifying of themselves, whether all Points of the said Affise were duly examined. See farther, Old Nat. Brev. and F. N. B. ubi supra. Of this you may also read Bract. lib. 4. c. 19. n. 4. in fine, & 5, 6. where he discusseth the Reason of this Point very learnedly. And lastly, Horne in his Mirror of Just. lib. 3. cap. final. sect. En Ayde des Memoires, &c.

CERT-MONEY, (quasi, Certain Money) Head-money or common Fine, paid yearly by the Reliants of several Manors to the Lords thereof, Pro certo Lete, for the certain keeping of the Leet; and sometimes to the Hundred. As the Manor of Hook in Dorsetshire, pays Cert-money to the Hundred of Egerdon. This in ancient Records is called Certum Lete. See Common Fine.

CERTIORARI, Is a Writ out of the Chancery to an inferior Court, to call up the Records of a Cause therein depending, that conscionable Justice may be therein administered, upon Complaint made by Bill, that the Party which seeketh the said Writ, hath receiv'd hard dealing in the said Courts. Termes de Ley. See the divers Forms and Uses of this, F. N. B. fol. 242. as also the Register, both Original and Judicial in the Tables, verb. Certiorari; Compton in his Justice of Peace, fol. 117. saith, That this Writ is either returnable in the King's Bench, and then hath these Words, Nobis mittatis; or in the Chancery, and then hath in Cancellaria nostra; or in the Common Bench, and then hath coram Justiciariis nostris de Banco. The Word certiorari is used divers Times in the Digest of the Civil Law: But our later Critics think it so barbarous, that they suspect it to be rather foisted in by Tribonian, than to be originally used by those Men of whose Works the said Digest is compiled: Præaus in suo Lexico.

CERURA, A Mound, Fence or Enclosure.—Willielmus de Lucey miles, dedit Thomæ Ministro Domus de Thelesford, licentiam domus & portas leuare, edificare, & cum ceruris, & muris includere viam que ducit ad Ecclesiam de Thelesford, sicut per muros dictorum Ministri & Fratrum juxta pontem extenditur. Cart. Prioratus de Thelesford, MS. Tho' possibly Cerura is here for Serrura, and is to signify a Water-lock.

CERVISARI, The Saxons had a Duty called Drinkelean or Drinkelean, i. e. Dona potationis honoraria, quibus scilicet prædiorum Dominus a Vassallo honoratur & excipitur. Whence those Tenants were in Domesday, called Cervisarii; from Cervisia, Ale, their chief Drink; though Cervisarius vulgarly signifies a Beer or Ale Brewer.

CERTABIT is a Writ that lies in divers Cases, as appears by Fitz. Nat. Br. fol. 280. upon this general Ground, i. e. That he against whom it is brought, hath for two Years neglected to perform such Service, or to pay such Rent as he is tied to by his Tenure, and hath not upon his Lands or Tenements sufficient Goods or Cattle to be distrained. See Fleta, lib. 5. cap. 34. sect. vija sunt. See Cessavit de Cantaria. Cessavit de feodo firma. Cessavit per biennium, in Reg. of Writs, f. 237, 238. and New Book of Entries, verbo. Cessavit. It lies not, but for annual Service, Rent, and such like, not for Homage or Fealty.

Cessis. By 22 H. 8. cap. 3. it seems to signify Assessment, or Taxes: Cesse or ceasse in Ireland is an Exaction of Vittuals, at a certain Rate, for the Deputy's Family, and the Soldiers in Garrison. See the Earl of Strafford's Trial.

Cessio, (Cessio), a Ceasing, Yielding up, or Giving over. Si un Parson ou Dean en Angleterre prist un Everisquary en Ireland, eo fait le premier Eglise void per Cession. Latch's Rep. f. 234.

Ratione vacationis Prioratus predicti, per Cessionem Fratris Rogeri de Wellington, ultimi Prioris, &c. Clauſ. 13 Ed. 3. p. 1. m. 38. Cession is also where an Ecclesiastical Person is created Bishop, or when a Parson of a Parsonage takes another Benefice without Dispensation, or otherwise not qualified, &c. In both Cases their first Benefices are become void, and are said to come void by Cession: And to those that he had who was created Bishop, the King shall present for that Time, whoever is Patron of them; and in the other Case the Patron may present.

Cessor, Lat. a Loiterer, or idle Fellow; but we use it for him that ceaseth or neglecteth so long to perform a Duty belonging unto him, as that by his cesse or cessing, he incurreth the Danger of Law, and hath or may have the Writ Cessavit brought against him. Old Nat. Brev. fol. 136. And Note, That where it is said in divers Places, The Tenant celesth, without any more Words, that is to be understood, the Tenant ceaseth to do what he might, or is bound to do by the Tenure of Land or Tenement.

Cessure, or Cesser, Is likewise taken to signify a Giving over, or giving of Place. West. 2. cap. 41.

Cessui qui vivit, Is in true French Cessui a vie de qui, that is, He for whose Life any Land or Tenement is granted. Perkins. Grants. 97.

Cessui qui vivit, (Uti cuius usus, vel ad cuius usum), is broken French, and this may be better modelled (Cessui a l'usage de qui) It is an ordinary Speech among Lawyers, signifying him to whose Use any other Man is infeoffed in any Lands or Tenements. See the New Book of Entries, verbo. Uses; and in Replevin, f. 508. col. 5. verbo. Trespass, fol. 606. & 123. col. 3. num. 7. And see 1 R. 3. cap. 1. and Co. lib. 1. 133. An. 12 Car. 2. cap. 30.

Cessui qui truss, Is he who hath a Trust in Lands or Tenements committed to him, for the Benefit of another. 12 Car. 2. c. 30.

Chace, the Way through which Cattle are drove to Pasture, commonly called in some Places a Drove Way, Uti si quis omnino viam obseruat vel chaceam per quam ingredi solet pastura. Bracton, lib. 4. c. 44. It is also taken for a Chafe, or Station of Game, more extended than a Park, and less than a Forest. Chace is sometime taken for the Liberty of Chasing, or Hunting within such a District. Bosum in quo Abbates Glastonie chaceam suam cum canibus suis & procuſum suum cum porcis suis habebant—Cartular. Abbat. Glaston.

MS. fol. 70. b. — Donec amabili compositione chasiam & communiam, quam dictus Abbas & Antecessores sui in boscis habuerant, quietum clamavit. Ibid.

Chaceare, ad Lepores, vel Vulpes; To hunt Hare or Fox. — Liet Abbati & suis chaceare ad lepores & vulpes, in manerio suo de Donham. Cartular. Abbt. Glaston. MS. f. 87.

Chacurum, A Horse for the Chase, or a Hunter, unless possibly it rather signify a swift Dog, or fleet Hound. — Willielmus de Brocfa dedit Regi octingentas marcas, tres dextrarios, quinque chacuros, quatuor censas, & decem leprarios. Anno 7 Job. — Tenures, pag. 134. See Dextrarius.

Chafetier, is an Officer in Chancery, that fitteth the Wax for the Sealing of the Writs, and such other Instruments as are there made to be sent out. This Officer is borrowed from the French, for there chafetiers cera sunt qui Regis litteris in cancellaria ceram imprimunt. Corasius.

Chafery, At the Iron-works, in every Forge or Hammer, there is two Fires; the one they call the Emery, the other the Chafery. At this Chafery they draw out the Anconies into finish Bars. It seems derived from the French Chausfer, to heat; whence to chafe, and our Chafing-dish.

Chaffers, Seem to signify Wares, or Merchandise, 3 E. 4. and we yet use Chaffering for Buying and Selling.

Chaldron, or Caldern of Coals, Contains thirty-six Bushels of Coals, heaped up, and according to the scaled Bushel kept at Guild-hall, London, for that Purpose. 16, 17 Car. 2. c. 2. It is written Chaldred, 9 H. 5. 10. and in Par. 10 R. 2. pag. 1. m. 13. Chaldre. It should weigh Two thousand Pound Weight.

Chalking. The Merchants of the Staple require to be eased of divers new Impositions, as Chalking, Ionage, Wharfage, &c. Rot. Parl. 50 Ed. 3.

Challenger, Calumnia, Cometh of the French Word Chalenger, that is, Sibi asserere; and in a legal Sense signifies an Exception, taken either against Persons or Things: Persons, as in Assise to the Jurors, or any one or more of them; or in a Case of Felony, by a Prisoner at the Bar. Smith, de Rep. Angl. lib. 2. cap. 11. Britton, ca. 52. Ballon, lib. 2. tract. 2. cap. 22. Against Things, as a Declaration. Old Nat. Brev. f. 76. Challenge made to the Jurors, is either made to the Array, or to the Polls: Challenge to the Array, is when the whole Number is excepted against as partially empanelled; Challenge to or by the Polls, is when some one or more are excepted against, as not indifferent. Termes de la Ley. Challenge to the Jurors is also divided into Challenge Principal, and Challenge pur cause; that is, upon Cause or Reason. Challenge Principal, (otherwise by Staudf plac. Cor. fol. 157, 158. called Peremptory;) is that which the Law allows without Cause alleged, or farther Examination. Lamb. Eiren. lib. 4. cap. 14. as a Prisoner at the Bar, arraigned upon Felony, may peremptorily Challenge to the Number of twenty, one after another, of the Jury empanelled upon him, alledging no Cause but his own Dislike, and they shall be still put off, and new taken in their Places. But in Case of High Treason, no Challenge Peremptory is allowed. 33 H. 8. 35. Fortescue saith, That a Prisoner in this Case may Challenge thirty-five Men, cap. 27. but that Law was abridged by 25 H. 8. c. 3. And here observe, That there is some Difference between Challenge Principal, and Challenge Peremptory; Peremptory being used only in Matters Criminal, and alledged without other Cause than barely the Prisoner's Fancy. Staudf. pl. cor. fol. 124. But Principal, in Civil Actions for the most Part, and with assigning some such Cause of Exception, as being found true, the Law alloweth, without farther Scanning: For Example, If either Party say, That one of the Jurors is the Son, Brother, Cousin, or Tenant to the other, or espoused his Daughter; this Exception is good, and strong enough, if it be true, without farther Examination of the Party's Credit: And how far this Challenge upon Kindred reacheth, you have a notable Example in Plowden, in the Case of Vernon against Manors, fol. 425. Also in the Plea of the Death of a Man, and in every Action real, as every Action Personal, where the Debt or Damages amount to 40 Marks, it is a good Challenge to any Man, that he cannot dispend forty Shillings by the Year of Freehold. 11 H. 7. c. 21. The Ground of this Challenge you may see farther in Fleta, lib. 4. cap. 8. Challenge upon Reason or Cause, is when the Party doth alledge some such Exception against one or more of the Jurors, as is not forthwith sufficient upon Acknowledgment of the Truth thereof, but rather arbitrable and considerable by the rest of the Jurors: As for Example, If the Son of a Juror have married or espoused the Daughter of the adverse Party. Termes de la Ley, verbo Challenge. This Challenge pur cause, seems by Kitchin, fol. 92. to be termed Challenge for favor; or rather, Challenge for favor is said there to be one Species of Challenge pur cause, where you may read what Challenges be commonly only accounted Principal, and what not. See the New Book of Entries, verbo Challenge, and the Old Nat. Brev. fol. 158, 159. That this Word Challenge is turned into Lat. by the Word Calumnia, appeareth by Bracton, lib. 3. tract. 2. cap. 18. & lib. 4. tract. 3. cap. 6. & lib. 5. cap. 6. See farther Fleta, lib. 1. cap. 32. Co. on Lit. 156, 157, &c. and Canrangium.

Chamberderkins, or Chamberdakins, Were Irish Beggars, which by the Statute of 1 H. 5. cap. 8. were by a certain Time, within the Statute limited, to avoid this Land. Termes de la Ley, fol. 114. Observe this Description of them. Anno 1413. Universitatem Oxoniensem vexabant flagitiosi quidam Chamberdekyns dicti, qui non alii erant, quam mendici quidam Hiberni, habitu Scholarium pauperculorum indanti, sub nullo autem presidio viventes. Iis solenne erat domi de die latitare, noctu vero circa cenopolia domosque infantes obvium quemque spoliare, vel etiam trucidare. Antiq. Oxoniensis, lib. 1. p. 207.

Chamber depint. Under this Name in our Parliament Rolls is often mentioned, the Room which was anciently St. Edward's Chamber, and is now the Painted Chamber.

Chamberer, Is used for a Chamber-Maid. 33 H. 8. cap. 21.

Chamberlain, Camerarius, Cometh of the French Chambellan: that is, Cubicularius vel Præfatus cubuli. It is diversly used in our Chronicles, Laws and Statutes; as Ld. Great Chamberlain of England, Lord Chamberlain of the King's House, the King's Chamberlain, (13 E. 1. c. 41. 17 R. 2. c. 16.) To whose Office it especially appertaineth to look to the King's Chambers and Wardrobe, and to govern vern the Under-Servants belonging to the same. Fleta, lib. 2. cap. 6, 7. Chamberlain of any of the King's Courts. 7. E. 6. 1. Chamberlain of the Exchequer. 51 H. 3. Stat. 5. 10 E. 3. 11. 14 E. 3. 14. 26 H. 8. 2. Chamberlain of North-Wales; Stow pag. 641. Chamberlain of Chester. Crompt. fur. fol. 7. Chamberlain of London. This Officer is commonly the Receiver of all Rents and Revenues belonging to that City whereto he is Chamberlain. Vide Fleta, lib. 2. cap. 70. To the Chamberlain of Chester, when there is no Prince of Wales and Earl of Chester, belongs the Receiving and Returning of all Writs, coming thither out of any of the King's Courts. The Lat. Word seemeth to expresse the Function of this Officer; for Camera dicitur a camera, i. e. Testudine sive fornice, quia custodit pecunias qua in cameris precipue reſervantur. Onuphrius de interpret. voc. Ecclef. It seemeth to be borrowed from the Feudists, who define the Word Camera thus: Camera est locus in quem theſaurus colligitur, vel conclave in quo pecunia reſervatur: Zafius de Feudis. par. 4. num. 7. And Peregrinus de jure Fiſci, lib. 6. Tit. 3. ſaith, That *Camera*rius, vel Chamberlingus (quem Quæſtorem antiqui appellaverunt) in rebus fiſci primum locum tenet, quia Theſaurarius & cuſtos est publica pecunia. There be two Officers of this Name in the King's Exchequer, who were wont to keep a Controulment of the Pells of Receipt, and Exits, and certain Keys of the Treasury and Records: They kept also the Keys of that Treasury, where the Leagues of the King's Predecessors, and divers ancient Books, as Domeſday, Black-Book of the Exchequer, remain. There is Mention of this Officer in the Stat. 34 & 35 H. 8. cap. 16. There be also Under-Chamberlains of the Exchequer, for which ſee in Under-Chamberlain.

Chamberlaria, Chamberlangeria, Chamberlainship, or Office of Chamberlain. — Commiffarius Civi noſtro Willielmo Joyner Chamberlariam noſtram London. Pat. 7 H. 3. Brady Hiſt. Angl. Append. pag. 168. — Jerem. del Ho & Radulphus de Coggeſhale, tenent ſedum del Ho in Rivandule per ſervitium Chamberlangeria, in Com. Devon. Anno xi H. 3. Tenures, p. 48.

Chambers of the King, (Regia Camera.) the Havens or Ports of the Kingdom, ſo called in our Records. V. Mare Clauſum, fol. 242.

Champerty, (Cambi-partia) al' Champerti, Seemeth to come from the French Champert, Veſtigal; and ſignifieth in our Common Law a Maintenance of any Man in his Suit depending upon Condition to have Part of the Things (be it Lands or Goods) when it is recovered. F. N. B. fol. 171. This ſeems to have been an ancient Grievance in our Realm; for notwithstanding the Statutes of 3 E. 1. 25. 13 E. 1. 49. 28 E. 1. 11. 32 E. 1. Stat. 2 & 3. and 1 R. 2. cap. 4. and a Form of a Writ framed unto them; yet Anno 4 E. 3. 11. it was again enacted, That whereas the former Statute provided Redreſs for this in the King's Bench only, (which at the Time followed the Court) from thenceforth it ſhould be lawful for the Juſtices of the Common Pleas likewise, and Juſtices of Aſſiſes, in their Circuits, to enquire, hear and determine this, and ſuch like Caſes, as well at the Suit of the King, as of the Party. How far this Writ extendeth, and the divers Forms thereof applied to ſeveral Caſes, ſee in F. N. B. f. 171. Reg. Orig. f. 183. and the New Book of Entries, verbo Champerty. Every Champerty implieth Maintenance. Crompt. fur. fol. 39. See also Crompt. Juſtice of Peace, fol. 155. 2. par. Inſt. fol. 208. But every Maintenance is not Champerty, for Champerty is but a Species of Maintenance, which is the Genus. The Word Champerty ſeems very ſignificantly to derive it ſelf from Campus, a Field, and Partitto, a Dividing; becauſe the Parties in Champerty agree to divide the Thing in diſpute.

*Champerto*z, Vel campi Participes, ſunt qui per ſe, vel per alios placita movent, vel moveri faciunt, & ea ſuis ſumptibus proſequuntur ad campi partem, vel pro parte lucri habenda. 33 E. 1. Stat. 2. Artic. ſuper Chart. cap. 11. Also it was ordained by the Stat. 33 H. 1. confirmed by 37 H. 8. 7. The Juſtices of Peace, at their Quarter-Sessions, ſhould have Authority as well by Oaths of twelve Men, as by the Information of any other Perſon, to enquire of the Offenders and Offences againſt the Laws and Statutes made and provided touching Champerty, Maintenance, &c. Termes de la Ley, fol. 114, 115.

Champion, (Campio) is taken not only for him that fights the Combat in his own Caſe, but for him alſo that does it in the Place or Quarrel of another. Braſton, lib. 3. tract. 2. c. 21. numb. 24. who alſo ſeems to uſe this Word for ſuch as held of another by ſome Services; as, Campiones faciunt Honagium Domino ſuo, lib. 2. cap. 35. Hottoman, de verbis feudalibus, defines it thus, Campio est Certator pro alio datus in duello, a Campo dictus, qui circus erat decertantibus deſignatus. And therefore it is called Champfight. See Combat, and Sir Edward Byſſhe's Notes upon Upton, where fol. 36. you will find, that Henricus de Fernberge, for 30 Marks Fee, did by a Charter under the Seal covenant to be Champion for Roger, Abbot of Glaſtonbury. Anno 42 H. 3. See 3 Inſt. f. 221.

And here it may not be improper to mention a few Things concerning Champions, which I find in our Law Books and Hiſtories, viz. they were uſually hired, and therefore they were accounted infamous Perſons. Braſton, Lib. 3. c. 18.

Monks, Eccleſiaſticks, and generally any Perſon might hire them, except Parricides, and thoſe who were accuſed of very great Offences; but Churchmen were firſt to have Leave of the Biſhop.

Before the Champion came into the Field, he was to ſhave his Head, and make Oath that he believed the Perſon who hired him was in the Right, and that he would defend the Cauſe to the utmoſt of his Power; which was always done on Foot, and with no other Weapon but with a Stick or Club, and a Shield. And before he engaged with his Adverſary he always made an Offering to the Church, that God might aſſiſt him in the Battle.

The Punishment of a Champion overcome in Battle, and likewise of the Perſon for whom he fought, was various: If it was the Champion of a Woman, ſhe was burnt, and the Champion hanged: If it was of a Man, and not for a capital Crime, he not only made Satisfaction, but had his Right Hand cut off; and the Man was to be cloſe confined in Priſon till the Battle was over.

Champion of the King, (Campio Regis), whoſe Office is at the Coronation of our Kings to ride into Weſtmiſter-hall, armed Cap-a-pe, when the King is at Dinner there, and throw down his Gauntlet by Way of Challenge, pronounced by a Herald, That if any Man ſhall deny or gainsay the King's Title to the Crown, he is there ready to defend it in single Combat, &c. Which being done, the King drinks to him, and sends him a gilt Cup, with a Cover, full of Wine, which the Champion drinks, and hath the Cup for his Fee.

This Office (ever since the Coronation of King Richard the Second, when Balwin Freuile exhibited his Petition for it) was adjudged from him to Sir John Dymocke, his Competitor, (both claiming from Marmion), as producing better Records and Evidence; and hath continued ever since in the worthy Family of Dymocke, who hold the Manor of Scrivelsbury in Lincolnshire, Hereditary from the Marmions, by Grand Serjeanty, viz. That the Lord thereof shall be the King's Champion, as above said. Camd. in part. Fin. Mich. 1 H. 6. Accordingly Sir Edward Dymocke performed this Office at the Coronation of his Majesty King Charles the Second, 23 April 1661.

Chancellor, Cancellarius, Cometh of the French Chancelier. Vincent Lupanus de Magistratibus Francorum, saith, That Cancellarius is no Latin Word, though he citeth Lat. Writers that use it: With him agreeth Petrus Pitheus. lib. 2. Adversariorum, cap. 12. And whereas Lupanus would derive it from the Verb Cancello, Pitheus thinks he hath some (though not sufficient) Colour for his Opinion; and therefore derives it from Cancelli, an inclosed or separated Place, a Chancel; or Place encompassed with Bars, to defend the Judges and other Officers from the Pres of the People. Cancellarius at first, as Lupanus thinks, signified the Registers in Court; Grapharios, scilicet qui conscribendis & excipiendis iudicium actis dant operam. But this Officer in late Times is greatly advanced, not only in our, but in other Kingdoms; for he is the chief Administrator of Justice, next to the Sovereign. All other Justices in this Kingdom are tied to the Law, but the Chancellor hath the King's absolute Power to moderate the written Law, governing his Judgment by the Law of Nature and Conscience, and ordering all Things juxta equum & bonum. Wherefore Staunderford (in his Prærog. c. 20. fol. 65.) says, The Chancellor hath two Powers; one absolute, the other ordinary; meaning, that though by his ordinary Power, in some Cases, he must observe the Form of Proceeding as other inferior Judges, yet in his absolute Power he is not limited by the written Law but by Conscience and Equity, according to the Circumstances of Matter. And though Polydore Virgil, an Alien, undertaking to write the History of England, supposed he did not mistake when he makes our William the Conqueror, the Founder of our Chancellors; yet our industrious Antiquary, Mr. Dugdale, can shew us his Error in the many Chancellors of England long before that Time, which are mentioned in his Origines Juridicales, and Catalogue of Chancellors, whose great Authorities under their Kings were, in all Probability, drawn from the reasonable Customs of Neighbour Nations, and the Civil Law.

He that bears this Magistracy is called The Lord Chancellor of England, (which is the highest Honour of the Long Robe,) being made so Per traditionem magni Sigilli sibi per Dominum Regem, and by taking his Oath. And by the Statute 5 El. c. 18. the Lord Chancellor and Keeper have one and the same Power; and therefore since that Statute, there cannot be a Lord Chancellor and Lord Keeper at one and the same Time; but before there might, and hath been. Yet see Keeper. See Plata, lib. 2. cap. 12, 13. and Coke's 4 Instit. fol. 78, 79. Divers inferior Officers are also called Chancellors; as,

Chancellor in Cathedral Churches. His Office is thus described in the Monasticon, 3 Tom. pag. 24. in the Statutes of Litchfield, viz. whether he is resident, or not, his Duty is Lectiones legendas in Ecclesia per se vel per suum vicarium auscultare, male legentes emendare, scholas conferre, sigilla ad causas conferre, literas capituli facere & consignare, libros servare, quotiescunque voluerit predicationes in Ecclesia vel extra Ecclesiam predicare, & cui voluerit predicationis officium assignare. Ibid. p. 339.

Chancellor of the Dutchy of Lancaster. (Anno 3 Ed. 6. cap. 1. and Anno 5 ejusdem, c. 26.) whose Office is principally in that Court, to judge and determine all Controversies between the King and his Tenants of the Dutchy Land, and otherwise to direct all the King's Affairs belonging to that Court.

Chancellor of the Exchequer. (An. 25 H. 8. c. 16.) whose Office hath been thought by many to have been created for the qualifying Extremities in the Exchequer: He sits in the Court, and in the Exchequer-Chamber; and, with the rest of the Court, orders Things to the King's best Benefit. He is always in Commission with the Lord Treasurer for letting the Lands that came to the Crown by the Dissolution of Abbies, or otherwise; and hath, by the Stat. of 33 H. 8. c. 39. Power with others to compound for the Forfeitures upon Penal Statutes, Bonds, and Recognizances, entered into to the King; he hath also a great Authority and Jurisdiction in the Manage and Dispose of the Royal Revenue, and concerning the First-Fruits, as appears by the Acts for uniting them to the Crown.

Chancellor of the Order of the Garter. Stow's Annals, p. 706. Chancellor of the Universities. an. 9 H. 5. c. 8. and Anno 2 H. 6. c. 3. Chancellor of the Court of Augmentations. 27 H. 8. c. 27. — 32 ejusdem, c. 20. & 33 ejusdem, c. 39. Chancellor of the First-Fruits. 32 H. 8. c. 45. Chancellor of Courts. 32 H. 8. c. 28. Chancellor of the Diocese, 32 H. 8. c. 15, &c. anciently called Episcopi Ecdicus.

Chance-medley, Signifies the casual Killing of a Man, not altogether without the Killer's Fault, though without an evil Intent. Staunderf. pl. cor. lib. 1. cap. 8. calls it Homicide by Misadventure, West. Symb. par. 2. Tit. Indictments, sect. 5. calls it Homicide mixt. It is also called Manslaughter by Misadventure, for which the Offender shall have his Pardon of Course as appears by the Statute of 6 E. 1. 9. But here is to be considered whether he that commits this Manslaughter by Chance-medley, was doing a lawful Thing: For if the Act were unlawful, it is Felony. As if two were fighting together, and a third Man comes to part them, and is killed by one of the two without any Malice fore-thought, or evil Intent in him that killed the Man; yet this is Murder in him, and not Manslaughter by Chance-medley, or Misadventure; because they two that fought together were doing an unlawful Act: And if they were met with prepened Malice, the one intending to kill the other, then it is Murder in them both. See Skene, de verb. signif. verb. Melletum, where he says this in Scotland is called Chaud-melle.

Chancery, Cancellaria, Is a Court of Equity and Conscience, moderating the Rigour of other Courts, that are strictly tied to the Letter of the Law, whereof the Lord Chancellor of England, is the Chief Judge. Crompt. Jur. fol. 41. Or else the Lord Keeper of the Great Seal. 4 Eliz. cap. 18. The Officers belonging to this Court, are the Lord Chancellor, or Keeper of the Great Seal, who is sole Judge here; the Master of the Rolls, (anciently called Gardein des Rolls), who in the Lord Chancellor's Absence heareth Causes, and gives Orders. 4 Inf. f. 97. Twelve Masters of the Chancery, who are Assistants, and sit by Turns on the Bench; the six Clerks, who have each of them about fifteen Clerks under them, in Nature of Attornies in the Court; two Chief Examiners, who have five or six Clerks a-piece; one Chief Register, who hath usually four or five Deputies; the Clerk of the Crown; the Warden of the Fleet, the Usher, Serjeant at Arms, and Crier of the Court; the Curfitors and their Clerks; the Clerks of the Petty-Bag; the Clerk of the Hanaper; the Controller of the Hanaper; the Clerk of Appeals; the Clerk of the Faculties; the Sealer, the Chafe-Wax; the Clerk of the Patents, Clerk of Presentations, Clerk of Dismissions, Clerk of Licences to alienate, Clerks of the Enrolments, Clerks of the Protections, Clerks of the Subpoena's, Clerks of the Affidavits, &c. Which see described in their several Places. See Coke's 4 Inf. fol. 82.

Changour, Is an Officer belonging to the King's Mint, mentioned in the Statute of 2 H. 6. cap. 12. where it is also written after the old way Changour, whose Business was chiefly to exchange Coin for Bullion, brought in by Merchants, or others.

Chantry. See Chauntry.

Chapel, Capella, Cometh from the French Chapelle, that is, Edicula; and is of two Sorts, either adjoining to a Church, as a Parcel of the same, which Men of Quality build, ut ibidem Familiaria Sepulchra sibi constituent; or else separate from the Mother-Church, where the Parish is wide, and commonly called A Chapel of Ease, because it is built for the Ease of one or more Parishioners that dwell too far from the Church, and served by some inferior Curate, provided at the Charge of the Rector, or of them that have Benefit by it, as the Composition or Custom is. Whence the Word is derived, the Canonists differ in Opinion, neither will we trouble our selves about it, since it makes not much to our Purpose. There is a Free Chapel, which seemeth to be such as hath Maintenance perpetual, towards the Upholding thereof, and Wages of the Curate, by some Lands charitably bestowed on it, without the Charge of the Rector, or Parish. 37 H. 8. cap. 4 An. 1. E. 6. c. 14.

Chapellain or Chaplain, Capellanus, Is he that performeth Divine Service in a Chapel; and therefore in the Common Law, it is used most ordinarily for him that is depending upon the King, or other Man of Worth, for the Instructing him and his Family, to pray and preach in his private House, where commonly they have a Chapel for that Purpose. See 27 H. 8. 13. where it is set down what Persons may privilege one or more Chaplains, to discontinue from their Benefices for their peculiar Service.

Chapelry (Capellania) is the same Thing to a Chapel, as a Parish to a Church, i. e. the Precinct and Limits of it. Mentioned in the Stat. 14 Car. c. 9.—Capellania Sancti Oswaldi, Mich. 32 E. 1. Corvus Reg. Glouc.

Chaperon, (Fr. in Lat. Humeralis and Caputium.) mentioned in the Stat. 1 R. 2. is the Hood anciently worn by the Knights of the Garter, being Part of the Habit of that Noble Order. Also the little Escutcheon fixed in the Forehead of the Horses that draw the Horse at a Funeral.

Chapiters, Capitula, cometh of the French Chapitre, i. e. caput libri: It signifies in our Common Law a Summary, or Content of such Matters as are to be enquired of, or presented before Justices in Eyre, Justices of Assize, or of Peace, in their Sessions: So it is used Anno 3 E. 1. cap. 27. in these Words. And that no Clerk of any Justice, Escheator, or Commissioners in Eyre, shall take any Thing for delibering Chapiters, but only Clerks of Justices in their Courts. And again Anno 13 E. 1. cap. 10. in these Words, And when the Come cometh the Justice shall certify the Chapiters before the Justices in Eyre, how many Writs he hath, and what, &c. Britton also useth the Word in the same Sense, cap. 3. Chapters, or Capitula, be now called Articles most ordinarily, and are delivered as well by the Mouth of the Justice in his Charge, as by the Clerks in writing to the Inquest; whereas in ancient Times, as appeareth by Bracton, and Britton, they were, after an Exhortation given by the Justices for the good Observation of the Laws, and the King's Peace, first read distinctly and openly in the whole Court, and then delivered in Writing to the Grand Inquest; which the Grand Jury or Inquest were likewise to answer upon their Oaths affirmatively and negatively, and, not as they do now, put the Judges to make long and learned Charges to little or no Purpose, who not remembering the Transgressors, against the Design of those Articles, do think their Oaths and Duty to God and the King, and their Country, well enough performed, if they only present those few, of many more, Misdemeanors, which are brought unto them by Way of Indictment. The same Order of Articles, Lambard wishes might still be observed. Eiren. lib. 4. cap. 4. pag. 393. Horne in his Mirror of Justices calleth them Articles, and expresseth what they were wont to contain, lib. 3. cap. de Articles in Eyre. An Example of these Chapters or Articles, you have in the Book of Assizes, fol. 138. num. 44. As also in Roger Hoveden, parte poster. sur. Annal. in Richardo Primo, fol. 423.

Chaplain. See Chapellain.

Chapter, Capitulum, Signifieth in our Common Law (as in the Canon Law, whence it was borrowed,) Congregationem clericorum in Ecclesia Cathedrali, conventuali, regulari vel collegiata; and in another Sense, Locum in quo sunt communes tractatus collegiorum. It hath other Significations, though not worth the Repeating in this Place, which you may read in Lyndeswode's Provincialis Gloss. in ca. Quia incontinentie, de constitutionibus verb. Capitulum. Such a Collegiate Company is metaphorically termed Capitulum, that is, a little Head, for such a Corporation is a Kind of Head, not only to rule, and govern the Diocese in the Vacation of a Bishoprick, but also in many Things to advise the Bishop, when the See is full, panormitan. in cap. Capitulum extra de Rescriptis. Ad Dedicaciones, ad Synodos, ad Capitula venientibus fit summa Pax. LL. Edwardi Confess. cap. 3.

Chareas, A Charr, Carr, or Cart.—Concellum est ut predicti Abbas & Conventus tradant Johanni & Agneti uxori sue, ac heredibus suis tres chareas claufura de subbofo suo annuatim per liberationem Ballivi vel Prepositi Itaque nec prefatus Johannes & Agnes uxor in pred. boscum cum carris suis de cetero aliquem ingressum habeant, nec effoverim boschie nisi tantum tres chareas annuatim, ut predictum est. Carrular. Abbat. Glaston. MS. f. 91. a.

Charks. Wood when char'd is properly Char-coal; the Pit-coal, when so charred or charked in Worcestershire is called Charks, as the Sea-coal so prepared about New Castle, is called Coke.

Charolare, i. e. To dance; Cogens quamplurimos viros & mulieres Anglicos mixtim Charolare nudos & psallere ante se. See Mat. Westm. Anno 1305.

Charre of Lead, A Charre of Lead consists of thirty Pigs, each Pig containing six Stone wanting two Pounds, and every Stone being twelve Pounds. La Charre de plumbo constat ex 30 fotinellis & qualibet fotinella continet 6 Petras, exceptis duabus libris, & qualibet Petra constat ex 12 libris. Assisa de ponderibus Rob. 3. R. Scot. cap. 22. sect. 2.

Charta, The Word was taken not only for a Charter or Deed in Writing, but any Signal or Token by which an Estate was held. As—

Willielmus filius Nigelii tenuit custodiam foreste de Bernwode, de Domino Rege per unum cornu quod est charta predicta foreste. Paroch. Antiq. p. 73.

Charta Magna contains several Privileges and Liberties which were granted to the Church and State by Edward the Confessor, and some which were granted by Henry I. but those were only relating to the feudal Laws which were imposed on the People by William I. so that nothing new was added by him.

King Stephen and King Henry II. confirmed the Magna Charta of Henry I. and Richard I. took an Oath at his Coronation to abolish all evil Customs, and to observe all just Laws; which was an implicit Confirmation of the Charter it self.

King John took the like Oath: But a Difference arising between him and Pope Innocent III. concerning the Election of an Archbishop of Canterbury, he was for the most Part of his Reign embroiled in Wars both at Home and Abroad; 'till at length at Roningmede (a Place between Windfor and Stanes) he confirmed the Charter; and soon after broke it; and thereupon the Barons took up Arms again; so that his Reign ended in Wars, and Henry III. an Infant, succeeded; in whose Reign it was several Times confirmed, and as often abrogated, even after the most solemn Engagement to observe it. As for Instance: In the 37th Year of his Reign he came to Westminster-Hall, and (there in the Presence of the Nobility, and of the Archbishop and Bishops in their Pontifical Habits, with lighted Candles in their Hands) the Charter was read, the King all that while laying his Hand on his Breast; and when it was read, the Bishops extinguished the Candles, and threw them on the Ground; and every one said, Thus let him be extinguished, and sink in Hell, who violates this Charter. Then the Bells rung, as a Sign that every one rejoiced, and approved what was done. And the King himself said, So help me God; I will faithfully and inviolably observe all these Things, as I am a Man, a Christian, a Soldier, and a King. And yet the next Year he invaded the Rights of the People. And at length the Barons took up Arms, and beat his Army at the Battle of Lewes in Sussex, and took him and his Son, Edward I. Prisoners. But the Prince escaping, he beat the Barons in a Battle at Evesham, and restored his Father to his Royal Dignity. And then the King, though Conqueror, confirmed this Charter, and the Charter of the Forest, in the Parliament of Marlbridge, in the 52d Year of his Reign, and died afterwards in Peace. And his Son Edward I. not only confirmed these Charters, but in the 25th Year of his Reign he made an Explanation of the Liberties and Privileges therein granted to the People; and added some which were new, and are called Articuli super Chartas. And thus Magna Charta was then confirmed, and more than thirty Times since. See Magna Charta.

Charta Pardonationis &c. defendendo, Is the Form of Pardon, for slaying another Man in his own Defence. Reg. Orig. fol. 287.

Charta Pardonationis Ultragatæ, Is the Form of a Pardon for a Man that is Outlawed. Reg. Orig. fol. 288, 388.

Charte, Charta, Paper, Parchment, or any Thing to write on; also a Card which Mariners use at Sea, mentioned 14 Car. 2. cap. 33. See Charter.

Chartel, A Letter of Defiance, or Challenge to a Duel, in Use heretofore, when Combats were in Practice, to decide difficult, and not otherwise to be determined, Controversies in Law.

Charter, Charta, French Chartre, that is, Instrumenta: It is taken in our Law for written Evidence of Things done between Man and Man; whereof Bracton, lib. 2. cap. 16. num. 1. saith thus, Fiunt aliquando donationes in scriptis, seu chartis, ad perpetuam rei memoriam propter breuem hominum vitam, &c. And a little after, num. 12. Et sciendum quod chartarum, alia Regia, alia privatorum, & regiarum alia privata, alia communis & alia universalis. Item privatorum alia de Feoffamento puro & simpliciter, alia de Feoffamento conditionali, & secundum omnia genera Feoffamentorum fieri potest. Item, privatorum alia de recognitione pura vel conditionalis. Item alia de quiete-clamantia; Item alia de confirmatione, &c. and so through the whole Chapter. Britton likewise in his Thirty-ninth Chapter, divideth Charters into the Charters of the King, and Charters of private Persons: Charters of the King, are those whereby the King passeth any Grant to any Person or more, or to any Body Politick, as a Charter of Exception, that a Man shall not be empanelled upon any Jury. Kitchin, fol. 114, & fol. 177.

Charterer, So in Cheshire they call a Freeholder. Ex pet. Leg. Antiq. p. 356.

Charter of Pardon, Whereby a Man is forgiven a Felony, or other Offence committed against the King's Crown and Dignity. Bro. Tit. Charter of Pardon.

Charter of fforest, wherein the Laws of the Forest are comprised, Anno 9 H. 3. Crompt. Jur. fol. 147. Pupilla oculi, par. 5. cap. 22. Manwood, par. 1. of his Forest Laws, fol. 1. where he setteth down the Charter of Canutus, and fol. 11. where he sets down that which was made 9 H. 3. with the Charter of the Forest which we use. Skene saith, That the Laws of the Forest in Scotland do agree, de verb. signif. verbo Venison. Char- ter of Land. Brooke, eodem titulo. That which we call a Charter, the Lombards, in libris Feudalibus, call Præceptum, Præceptionem. Hottoman, verbo Præceptum in verbo feudalibus. Of these Charters you have also a long Discourse in Fleta, lib. 3. cap. 14. who expoundeth every substantial Part of a Deed of Gift particularly in Order. See Magna Charta.

Charter-Land, Terra per Chartam, Is such as a Man holdeth by Charter; that is, by Evidence in Writing, otherwise called Freehold, Anno 19 H. 7. cap. 13. and Kitchin, fol. 86. And these in the Saxons Time were called Bockland which Lamb. in his Explication of Saxon Words, verb. Terra ex scripto, saith, was held with more commodious and easy Conditions than Folkland was; that is, Land held without Writing; and the Reason is, because that was Hereditaria, libera atque immunitis, whereas fundus sine scripto censum pensabat annum atque Officiorum quadam servitute est obligatus; proreum viri plebunque nobiles atque ingenui, posteriorem rustici fere & pagani possidebant. Ulam nos virgo Freehold & per chartam hanc ad voluntatem Domini appellemus. Thus far Mr. Lambard.

Charter-party, Charta partita, a Deed or Writing divided, is only a Pair of Indentures among Merchants and seafaring Men, containing the Covenants and Agreements made between them touching their Merchandize and maritime Affairs. 32 H. 8. 14. 12 Car. 2. c. 18. Latches Rep. f. 225. Ballo's Case, and 2 Inst. 637.

Chartis reddendis, Is a Writ which lies against him that hath Charters of Feoffment, delivered him to be kept, and refuseth to deliver them. Old Nat. Brev. fol. 66. Orig. fol. 159.

Chafe, Chacea, Cometh of the French Word Chasser, that is, Seffari Belluas: It signifies in the Common Law two Things, First, As much as Assus in the Civil Law, that is, a Driving of Cattle to or from any Place, as to chafe a Distress to a Fortlet. Old Nat. Brev. fol. 45. Secondly, It is used for a Place of Receipt for Deer, and wild Beasts, of a middle Nature, between a Forest and a Park, being commonly less than a Forest, and not having so many Liberties; as the Courts of Attachment, Swaïnemote, and Justice-seat; and yet of a larger Compass, and stored with greater Diversity both of Keepers and wild Beasts or Game than a Park. And Crompton in his Jurisdictiones, f. 148. saith, That a Forest cannot be in the Hands of a Subject, but it forthwith loseth the Name, and becometh a Chafe; yet fol. 197. he saith, That a Subject may be Lord and Owner of a Forest, which, though it seems a Contrariety, yet are both his Sayings in some sort true; for a King may give or alienate a Forest to a Subject, yet so, as when it is once in a Subject, it loseth the true Property of a Forest, because that the Courts, called a Justice-seat, the Swaïnemote, and Attachment forthwith do vanish; none being able to make a Lord Chief Justice in Eyre of the Forest but the King, as Manswoodwell sheweth in his Forest Laws, ca. 3 & 4. and yet it may be granted in so large a Manner, that there may be Attachment and Swaïnemote, and a Court equivalent to a Justice-seat, as appeareth by him in the same Chapter, num. 3. So that a Chafe differeth from a Forest in this, because it may be in the Hands of a Subject, which a Forest in its proper and true Nature cannot; and from a Park, in that it is not inclosed, and hath not only a larger Compass, and more Store of Game, but of Keepers also and Officers. See Forest.

Chaunce-medley. See Chance-medley.

Chaunderia. — Et si cervisiam putidam brassabit, amittere debet Chaunderium. & brassi valorem ad voluntatem Ballivorum. MS. de legibus liberi Burgi villæ de Montgomey.

Chauinter, Cantator, A Singer in the Quire. 13 Eliz. c. 10. At St. David's in Pembroke-shire, the Chauinter is next the Bishop, for there is no Dean. Camb. Britan.

Chauentry, (Cantaria), Ædes sacra; ideo instituta & dotata præditi, ut Missa ibidem Cantaretur pro anima fundatoris & propinquorum ejus. These were usually little Chapels, or particular Altars, in some Cathedral or Parochial Church, and endowed with Lands, or other Revenue, for the Maintenance of one or more Priests, to officiate as above-said. Mentioned 37 H. 1. cap. 4. — 1 Ed. 6. cap. 14. and 15 Car. 2. cap. 9. Of these Chauentries there were forty-seven belonging to St. Paul's Church in London; for which see Mr. Dugdale's History of that Church. Sciatis — quod ego Reginaldus Suard dedi — Wilhelmo Crumpe Capellano Cantariæ beate Mariæ de Tarpol unam parcellam pasturæ, &c. Dat. apud Leominstre die Martis prox. post Festum Sancti Hillarii, Anno 7 H. 6.

Chauentry-Rents, (22 Car. 2. cap. 6.) are Rents paid to the Crown by the Servants or Purchasers of Chauentry-Land.

Chaus, Manchet, white Bread. — Concesserunt mihi singulis diebus vite meæ unum fimenellum de Chaus, & unum surum michum & unum galonem de cervisia conventus, & alium de cervisia mixta. Cartular. Rading. MS. f. 103.

Chawopen of Sea-cuals. 9 H. 5. 10. See Chaldron.

Chetk-Roll is a Roll or Book containing the Names of such as are Attendants and in Pay to the King, or other great Persons, as their Household Servants. Anno 19 Car. 2. c. 1. It is otherwise called the Chequer-Roll, an. 24 H. 8. c. 13. an. 3 H. 7. c. 13. and seems to be a Word abstracted or derived from the Exchequer; which see. Clerk of the Check, see in Clerk.

Chekerelli Pannti, Cloth chequered, or variegated in the Weaving. — Henricus Prior & Conv. Eccl. Christi Cant. constituent Raymundum Eilium Raynoldi Procuratorem & Mercatorem suum ad emendum singulis annis ducentos pannos quos Frisones vocant, unde triginta erunt Chekerelli, & alii plani; & quilibet pannus continebit in longitudine quatuor ulnas, & in latitudine unam unam & dimidium ad minus. — dat. 13. Rul. Sept. 1313. Ex Registr. Eccl. Christi Cantuar. MS.

Chelindza, a Sort of Ship. Obligavit se imperator ad 100 Chelindras & 50 Galeas duendas ultra mare. Mat. Paris. Anno 1258.

Chelmsford. See Canonium.

Chemin. See Chimen.

Chence. See Amabyr.

Chen-

Chensers, Mentioned 27 H. 8. c. 7. are such as pay Tribute or Cense, Chief-Rent or Quit-Rent, for to the French Censier signifies.

Cherles Merding, the Curtilage of a Countryman or Clown.

Cherchez, a Sort of Tribute.

Cherlet. See Churcheffet.

Cherfetum, Any customary Oblation paid (at first perhaps in lieu of Church-fee or Corn) to the Parish Priest or Appropriators. — Inter servitium consuetudinaria Tenentium in Blebury de Dominio Abbatis & Convo. Rading. — Et solebant dare Cherfetum fil. tres gallinas & unum gallam. — Cartular. Rading. MS. f. 221.

Chesser. See Deva.

Chesbage, (Chevagium, from the Fr. Chef, i. e. Caput, Census Capitis) signifies a Tribute or Sum of Money formerly paid by such as held Lands in Villenage, or otherwise, to their Lords in Acknowledgment; and was a Kind of Head or Poll-Money; whereof Bracton, lib. 1. c. 10. says thus; Chevagium dicitur recognitio in signum subjectionis & Domini de capite suo. It seems also to be used for a Sum of Money, yearly given to a Man of Power, for his Countenance and Protection, as to their Chief Head or Leader. Lambard (lib. 2. c. 5. Eirenarch.) writes it Chivage: We now call it Chiefage. Est & apud Wallos Chevagii genus quod Arnabyz vocant, Principi Wallie pro maritandis filiabus, olim ab omnibus (ut asserunt) hodie a quibusdam (etiam liberis) persolutum, says Spelman on the Word Chevagium. See Coke on Littl. fol. 140.

That 'tis taken for a Sum of Money appears in a Charter of H. 3. Mandatum est quod predictum festum Sancti Edwardi vice Regia teneant & solenniter celebrent ad custum (the Costs) Regis & Capitulum Regis & Regine, &c. Du Cange, Additions.

The Jews, (whilst they were admitted to live in England) paid Chevagium or Poll-Money to the King; as appears by Pat. 8 Ed. 1. par. 1. m. 15. And it was 3d. for every Head, paid yearly at Easter, in Token of their Servitude. Stat. de Judaismo.

Chévantia, A Loan or Advance of Money upon Credit. Fr. Chavarice, Goods, Stock. — Idem Prioratus pene destructus, & possessiones sue ad plurimos terminos pro plurimis Chévanticiis alienata existunt. (Mon. Angl. 1 Tom. p. 629.) i. e. Are mortgaged out for Debts, or Sums of Money borrowed. — Rex Revert. in Christo Patri W. Archiep. Cant. — Nos super executione effectus predicti ceperimus propositum ad partes externas personaliter transmeare; & Nos advertentes huiusmodi propositum nostrum absque Chévantia competentis ad optatum finem commode deduci non posse — necnon qualiter dicta Chévantia quietius & citius fieri, ac creditoribus nostris in hac parte meliori & firmiori securitatis solutionum dari poterit. Summon. ad Parl. 5. R. c.

Chébatia, (Chevescium), the same with Chacea; Donationes etiam fecit Abbati, &c. de tota terra sua arabili cum Chevesciis. Mon. 2 Tom. p. 629.

Cheverillus, A young Cock or Cockling, a Cheveril. Mandatum est Vicecom. Southampton. quod in balliva sua perquiri faciat ad opus Regis contra infans Pasche quinquaginta gallinas & viginti Cheverills liberandos apud Clarendon Seneschallis nostris. — Eodem modo scribitur Vicecom. Wilts. de tot gallinis & tot Cheverillis. Pat. 15 H. 3.

Chévisance, (Fr. Chevisance), an Agreement or Composition made; an End or Order set down between a Creditor and a Debtor; or sometimes taken for an indirect Gain or Booty. Lord Vernlam in his H. 7. But in our Statutes it is most commonly used for an unlawful Bargain or Contract. As 37 H. 8. cap. 9. 13 El. ca. 5. & 8. and 12 Car. 2. cap. 13. In Rot. Parl. 21 Ed. 3. it is written Cheevances.

Chébitra and Chébitra, (Chevez) Hades at the End of plowed Lands. — Novem arvas terra cum Chevificis ad ipsas pertinentibus. Mon. Angl. 2 par. fol. 116. and Pat. 9 Ed. 2. Par. 2. m. 2.

Chief. See Capite.

Chiefage. See Cheage.

Chief pledge, (Plegius, vel vas capitalis). 20 H. 6. cap. 8. For the better Understanding of this Word, see Borrow-head.

Childwit, Sax. signifies a Power to take a Fine of a Bond-woman, unlawfully begotten with Child. Prior *habeat Gestum de Nativa sua impragnata sine licentia maritandi. Ex Registro Priorat. de Cokesford. Every reputed Father of a base Child, gotten within the Manor of Writtel, in Com. Essex, pays to the Lord for a Fine 5. s. 4. d. where it seems to extend as well to Free as Bond-women; and the Custom is there yet called *Childwit. Quicumque illam culpam fecerit, vo at Childwit, Archiepiscopus aut totam aut dimidiam emendationis partem habebit quietum esse de Childwit. Du Cange.

Chimin, French Chemin, Signifies in Law Phrase a Way: It is divided into two Sorts, The King's Highway, and a private Way. Kitchin, fol. 35. The King's Highway, Chiminus Regius, is that by which the King's Subjects, and all under his Protection, have free Liberty to pass, though the Property of the Soil on each side, where the Way lieth, may perhaps belong to some private Man. A Way private is that, by which one Man or more have Liberty to pass, either by Prescription or by Charter, through another Man's Ground. And this is divided into Chimin in Gros, and Chimin Appendant. Kitchin, fol. 117. Chimin in Gros is that Way which a Man holdeth principally and solely in it self: Chimin Appendant is that which a Man hath adjoined to some other Thing or Appurtenant thereto. For Example, If a Man hire a Close or Pasture, and covenant for Ingrefs and Egrefs to and from the said Close, through some other Ground, by which otherwise he cannot pass: Or Chimin in Gros may be that, which the Civilians call Personal; as when one covenanteth for a Way through another Man's Ground for himself and his Heirs: Chimin appendant, on the other Side, may be that which they call real; as when a Man purchaseth a Way through another Man's Ground, for such as do or shall dwell in this or that House, for ever, or be owners of such a Manor. See Co. on Lit. fol. 56.

Chiminage (Chiminagium) Signifies a Toll for Wayfarage through the Forest. *Crompt. Jurisd. fol. 189. Telsonium quod in Forestis exigebant Forestarii a plausfris & equis oneris causa eo venientibus. Charta Forestæ, cap. 14. Nullus Forestarius de catero, qui non sit Forestarius de Feodo, reddens nobis firmam pro balliva sua, capiat Chiminagium aliquid in Balliva sua, &c. — Et quadam Consuetudo vocat. The Feudists call it Pedagium. This in Pulton, fol. 8. is falsely printed Chimnage; and in a Record in the Tower I find Chimage.*

Chimnage, inter Reformel & Lestreithiel quondam ad xii d. per an. MS. Survey of the Dutchy of Cornwall.

Chimney-Money, Otherwise called Heartb-Money, by 14 Car. 2. cap. 12. Every Five-Heartb and Stove, &c. (except such as pay not to Church and Poor) shall be chargeable with Two Shillings per Annum at Michaelmas and Lady-day to the King, &c. See Smoke-Money, Heartb-Money, and Funge.

Chin, Chray, Chipping, signifies the Place to be a Market-Town: From the Sax. Ceapen, Cyp-pau, Enere; as Chippendale, Cheapside, &c.

Chippinggavel, rectius Cheapinggavel, Toll for Buying and Selling. See Bagavel.

Chirgemote, Chirgemote or Chirchgemot, A Saxon Word signifying Forum Ecclesiasticum; Quousque Chirgemote discordantes inveniet vel amore congreget, vel sequestret iudicio. Leg. H. 1. cap. 8. and 4 Inst. fol. 321.

Chirograph (Chirographum, or Scriptum Chirographum) signifies any publick Instrument of Gift or Conveyance, attested by the Subscription and Crosses of the present Witnesses, and was in the Saxon Times called Chirographum, which being somewhat changed in Form and Manner by the Normans, was by them stiled Charta. Of which Ingulph gives this good Account — Chirographorum confessionem Anglicanam, que antea usque ad Edwardi Regis tempora Fidelium presentium subscriptionibus cum crucibus aureis aliisque sacris signaculis firma fuerunt, Normanni condemnantes Chirographa Chartas vocabant, & Chartarum firmitatem cum cerea impressione per uniuscuiusque speciale sigillum sub institutione trium vel quatuor testimonium adiutantium consistere consuebant. Hist. Ingulph. edit. Gale, pag. 901. Anciently, when they made a Chirograph, or Deed, which required a Counter-part, as we call it, they engrossed it twice upon one Piece of Parchment contrary-wise, leaving a Space between, in which they wrote in great Letters the Word CHIROGRAPH; and then cut the Parchment in two, sometimes even, sometimes with Indenture, thro' the Middle of the Word, concluding the Deed with, — In cuius rei Testimonium utraq; pars mutuo scriptis presentibus, fide media sigillum suum fecit apponi. This was afterwards called Dividenda, because the Parchment was so divided or cut. And the first Use of these Chirographs was in Henry the Third's Time. See Indenture. Chirograph was also of old used for a Fine. — Promittens fideliter fide media sub iuramento prestiti, quod in adventu Justiciarii de proxi. errantium levavi faciam Chirographum de predicta Remissione, &c. Charta Nestæ de Stanley sine dat. in Regist. de Wormley. And the Manner of Engrossing the Fines, and cutting the Parchment in two Pieces, is still observed in that Office, which is called the Chirographer's Office. But as to Deeds, that was anciently called a Chirograph, which was described by the proper Hand-writing of the Vendor or Debtor, and delivered to the Buyer or Creditor; and it differed from Syngraphus, which was in this Manner; viz. Both Parties, as well the Creditor or Debtor, wrote their Names, and the Names of the Witnesses, and the Sum of Money borrowed, either in Paper, or on a Piece of Wood, and the Word Syngraphus in Capital Letters in the Middle; which Letters were cut in the Middle, and one Part delivered to each Party, that upon comparing them (if any Dispute should arise) they might tally, and so put an End to the Difference. When this prudent Custom had for some Time prevailed, then the Word Chirographum was appropriated to such bipartite Writings or Indentures. — Et in huius rei testimonium huic scripto in medium Chirographi confectio vicissim sigilla nostra apposuimus. Mr. Kennet's Paroch. Antiq. p. 177. — Ut autem ista conventio tuta & inconcussa perpetuo permaneat, presentis scripti serie & utriusque Monasterii sigilli testimonio una cum sigillis Abbatum diuino inter eos Chirographo confirmata est. Ibid. pag. 223. The Chirographs were called Chartæ Divise, Scripta per Chirographum divisa, Chartæ per Alphabetum divise, as the Chirographs of all Fines are at this Day.

Chirographer of Fines, Chirographus Finium & Concordiarum, Cometh of the Greek χειρὶς καρτα, (a Compound of χειρ, Manus, a Hand, and καρτα, Scribo, to write,) so that in plain English, it is a Writing of the Hand: It signifies in the Common Law, that Officer of the Common Pleas who ingrosseth Fines in that Court, acknowledged into a perpetual Record, after they be acknowledged and fully passed by those Officers by whom they were formerly examined, and that writeth and delivereth the Indentures of them unto the Party. 2 H. 3. ca. 8. and West. Symbol. par. 2. Tit. Fines, sect. 114, & 129. F. N. B. fol. 147. This Officer also maketh two Indentures, one for the Buyer, another for the Seller, and makes one other indented Piece, containing also the Effect of the Fine, which he delivereth over to the Custos Brevium, that is called The Foot of the Fine. The Chirographer also, or his Deputy, doth proclaim all the Fines in the Court every Term, according to the Statute; and then repairing to the Office of the Custos Brevium, there indorseth the Proclamations upon the Backside of the Foot thereof; and always keepeth the Writ of Covenant, as also the Note of the Fine.

Chitte, A Shift, Shirt, or Shroud. — Thomas Cumberworth Knight, of the Diocese of Lincoln, by his last Will made in the Year 1450. thus provides for his Self-denying Funeral. — 'Furst I gyff my Sawle to Gode my Lord and my Redemptur, and my wrechid Body to be beryd in a Chitte without any Kyste, (i. e. Coffin) in the North Yle of the Parych Kirke of Somersety, &c. Ex Reg. Marmaduc'i Lunley Episc. Linc.

Chibage. See Chevage.

Chibage, (Servitium militare) Cometh of the French Chavalier, and signifieth in our Common Law a Tenure of Land by Knight's Service: For the better Understanding whereof, it is to be known, That there is no Land, but is holden mediately or immediately of the Crown by some Service, and therefore all our Free holds that are to us and our Heirs are called Fenda or Foda, Fees; as proceeding from the Beneficence of the King, for some small yearly Rent, and the Performance of such Services as originally were laid upon the Land at the Donation thereof; for as the King gave to the great Nobles, his immediate Tenants, large Possessions, for ever, to hold of him for this or that Service or Rent: And they again in Time parcelled out to such others as they liked the same Lands, for Rents and Services, as they thought good. And these Services are by Littleton divided into two Sorts, Chivalry and Soccage: The former is martial and military, the other clownish and rustical; Chivalry therefore is a Tenure of Service, whereby the Tenant is bound to perform some noble or military Office unto his Lord; and is of two Sorts, either Regal, that is, such as may hold only of the King, or such as may hold only of a common Person: That which may hold only of the King is properly called Servitium or Serjeantia, and is again again divided into Grand or Petit, great or small; Great, commonly called Grand Serjeanty, is that where one holdeth Lands of the King by Service, which he ought to do in his own Person; as to bear the King's Banner or his Spear, or to lead his Host, or to find a Man at Arms to fight within the four Seas, &c. Littl. Tit. Serjeanty. Petit Serjeanty is where a Man holdeth Land of the King, to yield him annuall some small Thing towards his Wars, as a Sword, Dagger, Bow, &c. Littl. Tit. Petit Serjeanty. Chivalry that may hold of a common Person, is called Scutagium, Escuage, that is, Service of the Shield, and this is either uncertain or certain. Escuage uncertain is likewise two-fold, First, Where the Tenant is bound to follow his Lord, going in Person, to the King's Wars against his Enemies, either himself, or to send a sufficient Man in his Place, there to be maintained at his Cost so many Days, as were agreed upon between the Lord and his first Tenant at the granting of the Fee. And the Days of such Service seem to have been rated by the Quantity of the Land so holden; as if it extended to a whole Knight's Fee, then the Tenant was bound to follow his Lord forty Days, and a Knight's Fee was so much Land, as in those Days was accounted a sufficient Living for a Knight, and that was 680 Acres as some hold, or as others 800, or 15 Pounds per Annum. Camb. Brit. p. 110. Sir Thomas Smith saith, Census equestis is forty Pounds Revenue in free Lands. But if it extend to half a Knight's Fee, then the Tenant is bound to follow his Lord but twenty Days; If to a fourth Part, then ten Days. F. N. B. fol. 83, 84. The other Kind of this Escuage uncertain is called Castleward, where the Tenant by his Land is bound either by himself or some other, to defend a Castle as often as it shall come to his Courfe. Escuage certain, is where the Tenant is set at a certain Sum of Money to be paid in lieu of such uncertain Service; as that a Man shall pay yearly for every Knight's Fee twenty Shillings. Stow Annal. pag. 238. for half a Knight's Fee ten, or some like Rate: And this Service, because it is drawn to a certain Rent, groweth to be of a mixt Nature; not merely Sorage, for that it smelleth not of the Plough, and yet Sorage in Effect, being now neither personal Service nor uncertain. Lit. Tit. Sorage. This Tenure called Chivalry, hath other Conditions annexed to it, as Homage, Fealty, Wardship, Relief and Marriage, Bract. lib. 2. c. 35. which, what they signify look in their Places: Chivalry is either general or special. Dyer, f. 161. num. 47. General seemeth to be where it is only said in the Feoffment, That the Tenant holdeth per servitium militare, without any Specification of Serjeanty, Escuage, &c. Special, That which is declared particularly, what kind of Knight's Service he holdeth by. But there is a great Alteration made in these Things by the Statute, made 12 Car. 2. cap. 24. which saith, All Tenures by Knight's Service of the King or of any other Person, Knight's Service in Capite or Sorage; in Capite of the King, and the Fruits and Consequences thereof hapned, or which shall or may happen or arise thereupon, or thereby, are taken away and discharged: And all Tenures of Houses, Manors, Lands, &c. shall be construed and adjudged to be turned into free and common Sorage, &c.

Chop-church (Ecclesiarium permutatio) is a Word used 9 H. 6. cap. 65. a. By the Sense of which Book it was in those Days a Kind of Trade; for for the Judges say it was a lawful Occupation, and a good Addition: Yet Brook in his Abridgment calls it not an Occupation, but a Thing permissible by Law. It was (without Doubt) a Nickname given to those that used to change Benefices; for to chop and change is an usual Expression to this Day. I have also read Church-Chopper, for him that used to make such Changes, — Alii vero quorundam satorum zizanias, subverforum Jusitias, & inaudita abusonis inventorum, ut illis verbis utamur Choppe-Churches, communiter appellati, mediatione dolosa interveniente, execrabili ardore avaritiae, quandoque in subdolis permutationibus, hos nimia inaequalitate Beneficiorum, ac illis quandoque obtentis Beneficiis, fucatis coloribus totaliter destitunt & defraudant. Litera missa omnibus Episcopis suffraganeis Domini contra Choppe-Churches. An. 1391. Spelm. de Conc. vol. 2. fol. 642.

Choral, Choralis, Is such a Person of whom Mr. Dugdale in his Hist. of St. Paul's Church, p. 172. says, There were six, whom he calls Vicari Chorals, belonging to that Church, and signifies one that by Virtue of any of the Orders of Clergy, was in ancient Time admitted to fit and serve God in the Quire, which in Latin is termed Chorus.

Cloisepiscopi, Suffragan or Rural Bishops, delegated by the Prime Diocesan; their Authority was restrained by some Councils, and their Office by Degrees abolished. After whom the Rural Deans were so commissioned to exercise Episcopal Jurisdiction, till inhibited by P. Alexander III. and the Council of Tours. See Mr. Kennet's Paroch. Antiq. p. 639.

Chose, Fr. Thing: It is used with divers Epithets; as Chose Local is such a Thing as is annexed to a Place. For Example; a Mill is Chose Local. Chose Transitory seems to be that Thing which is moveable, and may be taken away or carried from Place to Place. Kitchin, f. 18. Chose in Action is a Thing incorporeal, and only a Right; as an Annuity, Obligation for Debt, a Covenant, Voucher by Warranty, and generally all Causes of Suit for any Debt or Duty, Trespas or Wrong, are to be accounted Choses in Action. And it seems Chose in Action may be also called Chose in Suspence; because it hath no real Existence or Being, nor can properly be said to be in our Possession. Brook, Tit. Chose in Action.

Chrism, A Confection of Oil and Balm consecrated by the Bishop, and used in the Popish Ceremonies of Baptism, Confirmation, and sometimes Ordination.

Chrismale, Chrismal, Chrism, Crysm, The Face-Cloth, or Piece of Linen laid over the Child's Head at Baptism, which of old was a customary Due to the Parish Priest. — Mulieres sequentes debent offerre Chrismalia Infantum, nec Chrismalia debent alienari, nec in aliquos usus mitti debent, nisi in usus Ecclesiae. — Statuta Aegidii Episc. Sarisbur. Anno 1256.

Chrismatis denarii, Chrism-Pence, Money paid to the Diocesan, or his Suffragan, by the parochial Clergy, for the Chrism consecrated by them about Easter, for the Holy Uses of the Year ensuing. This customary Payment being made in Lent near Easter, was therefore in some Places called Quadragesimalis, and in other Paschalis and Easter-Pence. The Bishops Exaction of it was condemned by Pope Pius III. for Simony and vile Extortion: And therefore the Custom was released and quit-claimed by some of our English Bishops.

Bishops. — As Robert Bishop of Lincoln, by express Charter. — Scilicet nos remississe Clericis omnibus infra Episcopatum Lincolnienem Paschalem consuetudinem quam Chrisimatis denarios vocant — Testibus Waltero Abbate de Kirkstede. Radulpho Abbate de Ludu. David Abbate de Barling. Magistro Gilberto de Sempringham. Cartular. Mon. de Berdeney. MS. Cotton.

Christianitatis Curia, The Court Christian or Ecclesiastical Judicature, opposed to the Civil Court or Lay Tribunal, or Curia Domini Regis. These Courts of Christianity were not only held by Bishops in Synods, and their Archdeacons and Chancellors in Consistories; but in the Rural Chapters, where the Rural Dean or Decanus Christianitatis presided, and the Parish-Priests were Assessors or Assistants. See Kemmer's Discourse of Rural Deans, in his Paroch. Antiq. p. 641. Hence Justitiam Christianitatis facere was to prosecute and censure a Criminal in the Ecclesiastical Court. As Anno 28 Ed. 1. — Alex. Linc. Episc. Guidoni de Charing Parochiano suo salut. Mando tibi & precipio ut cito reddas Ecclesie de Egnesham, & Waltero Abbati Eccl. suam de Meritona. Quod ni cito feceris, precipio ut Walterus Archidiaconus nobis justitiam Christianitatis faciat donec reddas. Ib. p. 90.

Chuepa, Chop or Change. — Dedi essarta de Dominio Patris mei & unam virgata[m] terra de Cheupa quam Andreas tenet. — Cartular. Radings. fol. 94.

Church. See Fabrick-Lands, and Matrix Ecclesia.

Church-reeve, Is the same with Churchwarden; Reve in the Saxon being as much as Guardian in the French, and signifies the Guardian or Overseer of the Church, as Shire-Reeve is the Gardain of Shire or County, and Port-Reeve of the Port or Haven, though afterwards it became a Name of Office. The Word is now out of Use, but used by Chaucer, speaking of the Jurisdiction of Archdeacons. See Churchwardens.

Churchwardens, Ecclesiarum Gardiani, be Officers yearly chosen, by the Consent of the Minister and Parishioners, according to the Custom of every several Place, to look to the Church, Church-yard, and such Things as belong to both, and to observe the Behaviours of their Parishioners for such Faults as appertain to the Jurisdiction or Censure of the Court-Ecclesiastical. These be a Kind of Corporation, enabled by Law to sue for any Thing belonging to their Church, or Poor of their Parish. See Lamb. Duty of Churchwardens.

Churchseet, Cirisceat, Chirset or Curset, A Saxon Word mentioned in Domesday, and interpreted by Mr. Agar, Quasi Semen Ecclesie, Corn paid to the Church. Fleta calls it Circsed, lib. 1. cap. 47. and thereof writes thus, It signifies a certain Measure of Wheat, which in Times past every Man on St. Martin's Day gave to the Holy Church, as well in Times of the Britains as of the English; yet many great Persons after the Coming of the Romans gave that Contribution, according to the ancient Law of Moses, in the Name of First-fruits; as in the Writ of King Canutus sent to the Pope is contained, in which they call that Contribution, Chirch-sed, as one would say Churchseed. Seld. Hist. Tithes, p. 216.

Churset, Church-set, or customary Oblations to the Parish-Priest: From which Duty the Religious had sometimes purchased an Exemption for themselves and their Tenants. — Ita quod ego Willielmus de Putot & Assignati mei in Effora evimus soluti & quieti de decimis mixtis prestandis & de Churset in villa de Neubold. — Cartular. domus de Thelesford. MS.

Churl, Ceorle, Carl, was in the Saxons Time a Tenant at Will, of free Condition, who held some Land from the Thane, or Condition of Rents and Services, which Ceorles were of two Sorts; one that hired the Lord's Out-land or Tenenentary Land, like our Farmers; the other that tilled and manured the Inland or Demains (yielding operam not censum, Work and not Rent) and were thereupon called his Sockmen or Ploughmen. Vid. Spelman of Fends.

Cilurnum, Colterford in Northumberland.

Cinnamon, Cinnamomum, Is a Tree whereof the Bark is known to be pleasant, and a comfortable and medicinal Spice, which you have described in Gerard's Herbal, lib. 3. cap. 142. This is reckoned among garbleable Spices Anno 1 Jac. cap. 19.

Cinque Ports, Quinque Portus, are those special Havens that lie toward France, and therefore have been thought fit by our Kings from Time to Time to be such as ought most vigilantly to be guarded against Invasion: In which respect the Places where they be, have an especial Governor or Keeper called, by his Office, Lord Warden of the Cinque Ports, and divers Privileges granted unto them, as a particular Jurisdiction, their Wardens having the Authority of an Admiral among them, and sending out Writs in his own Name. Crownpton in his Jurisdictions, f. 28. nameth Hastings, Rumney, Rye, Dover, Sandwich, Winchelsea and Hythe, whereof some, because the Number exceedeth five, must either be added to the first Institution by some later Grant, or be accounted as Appendants to some of the Rest. See Gardeine of the Cinque Ports, and the Statute 31 H. 8. cap. 48. See Quinque Portus, and 4 Inst. fol. 222.

Cinpus, A Pair of Stocks to put Offenders in. — Habeant, ne non Cippos & conclusoria in singulis villis, ad correctionem delinquentium. Mon. Ang. 2 par. f. 349. a.

Circas, i. e. a Watch: From which Circutor: Quatuor Circitores Monasterii quos alio nomine Circas vocant, juxta preceptum sancti Benedicti certis horis circuire debent Monasterii officinas. Du Cange.

Circada, a Tribute which was paid to the Bishop or Archdeacon for visiting the Churches. Du Fresne.

Circuit of Action, (Circuitus Actionis) Is when an Action is rightfully brought for a Duty, but yet about the Bush, as it were, for that it might have been as well otherwise answered and determined, and the Suit saved; and because the same Action is more than needful, it is called Circuitry of Action; as if a Man grant a Rent-charge of ten Pounds out of his Manor of Dale, and after the Grantee disfeizes the Grantor of the same Manor, and he brings an Assise, and recovers the Land and twenty Pounds Damages, which twenty Pounds being paid, the Grantee of the Rent sues his Action for ten Pounds of the Rent due during the Time of his Disfeisin, which if no Disfeisin had been, he must have had. This is called Circuitry of Action, because it might have been more shortly answer'd; for whereas the Grantor shall receive 20*li.* Damages, and pay 10*li.* Rent, he might have received but the 10*li.* only for the Damages, and the Grantee might have cut off, and kept back the the other 10 li. in his Hands, by way of Detainer for his Rent, and so thereby might have saved his Action.

Circumspecte Agatis, Is the Title of a Statute made 13 E. 1. Anno Domini, 1285. prescribing some Cases to the Judges, wherein the King's Prohibition lies not. Co. lib. 7. f. 44. lib. 5. f. 67. and 2 Par. Inst. fol. 487.

Circumstantibus, In English By-standers, Is a Word of Art, signifying the Supply or making up of the Number of Jurors (if any impannelled do not appear, or appearing, be challenged by either Party) by adding to them so many other of those that are present or standing by, as will serve the Turn. 35 H. 8. ca. 6. 5 Eliz. cap. 25.

Circumstiter. See Corvinum.

Ciriseat, (Sax. Ciric-seat, Vestigial Ecclesiasticum, frumenti tributum) Church-sot, a certain Portion, Tribute, or Payment, made to the Church, of Corn, Fruit, or any other Thing. Fleta called it Cirsed, quasi, Semen Ecclesia debuit. Fob. Southam ad Festum. S. Martini in Yeme debet 1 Gallinam (de redditu) & 5 Gallinas de Chiriseat. Custum. Monast. de Bello. fol. 87. a. This Tribute was anciently payable at the Feast of St. Martin, as appears by Domesday, and called by Sir Edw. Coke Church-seed. Coke on Littl. fol. 88. b. See Churchseet.

Cirluscus homo, a Churl, or Countryman.

Cismus, a Beast whose Skin was used to make rich Garments.

Cismus obrepit & vestitura potenter Marturis, & spolio non leviore Bever.

Citatio ad instantiam partis, (22 & 23 Car. 2. Stat. for laying Impositions on Proceedings at Law).

Citr. In the Lat. Urbs, Civitas, and Oppidum: It is named Civitas, in regard it is governed in Justice, and Order of Magistracy. Oppidum, for that it contains a great Number of Inhabitants; and Urbs, because it is in due Form begirt about with Walls. Civitas according to Aristotle, li. Politior, cap. 1. is defined to be a certain or uniform Government of the Inhabitants, & Cesar Civitatem vocat, populum eodem jure utentem. Camb. Brit. p. 310. But this is the general Definition of a Common-wealth, and not of a City, at least as we now-a-days take it. City is a Word which hath obtained since the Conquest: For in the Time of the Saxons there were no Cities, but all great Towns were called Burghs; and even London was then called Lunden Burgh, i. e. London Borough. And long after the Conquest the Word City is used promiscuously with Burgh, as in the Charter of Leicester 'tis called both Civitas and Burgus; which shews that my Lord Coke was mistaken, when he tells us that every City was or is a Bishop's See: Nor had Gloucester then any Bishop, tho' it is called a City in Domesday. And he himself observes in another Place that Cambridge was a City by ancient Record, viz. Mich. 7 R. 1. Rot. 1. tho' it never had a Bishop. And in the Stat. 11 H. 7. c. 4. 'tis called Cambridge Town.

So that though the Word City signifies with us such a Town Corporate as hath usually a Bishop and Cathedral Church, yet 'tis not always so. And Crompton reckoning our Cities, leaves out Ely, tho' it has a Bishop and a Cathedral Church.

Anno 35 Eliz. cap. 6. Westminster is called a City; and it appears by the Statute 35 H. 8. c. 10. that then there was a Bishop of Westminster. But by Letters Patent dated 21 May, 2 Eliz. (pursuant to an Act of Parliament of 1 Eliz. not printed) the Revenues of that late Monastery were vested in the Dean and Chapter of the Collegiate Church of Westminster, which hath caused Error in the Pleadings of some Cases, by styling it the Cathedral, for Collegiate Church of Westminster. Cassanau de Consuetud. Burgum. pag. 15. faith, That France hath within its Territories one hundred and four Cities; and gives his Reason, because there are so many Sees of Archbishops and Bishops.

Clack; as, to clack, force, or hard, alias beard, good Wool. Anno 8 Hen. 6. cap. 22. Whereof the first, viz. To clack Wool, is to cut off the Sheep's Mark, which makes it weigh less, and to yield the less Custom to the King. To force Wool, is to clip off the Upper and hairy Part of it. To bard or beard it, is to cut the Head and Neck from the rest of the Fleece. Noveris universitas vestra non vendidisse & concessisse. 62. saccos lanae de collecta monasterii nostri sine Clack & Lok God & Card nigra grilla vitem tuisen, &c. sine pelle. Du Cange.

Clades. See Cleia.

Cladus, Clades, Clada, Cleta, Clida, Cleia, From the Brit. Clie; the present Irish Clia, a Wattle or Hurdle, whence Dublin was formerly called Biurle Clie, i. e. Watlington, the Town of Hurdles. — A Hurdle for penning or folding Sheep is still in some Counties of England called a Cley. — Et in xii. Cladis ovilibus emptis de Nicolao Aleyn hoc anno xviii. den. & in solutis pro putatione & factura triginta Cladum ovilium apud parcum de Midlington hoc anno xix. den. — Paroch.

Antiq. p. 577.

Claga. See Cleia.

Claim (Clameum) is a Challenge of Interest in any Thing that is in the Possession of another, or, at least, out of his own, as Claim by Charter, Claim by Descent, &c. Old Nat. Br. fol. 11. Si Dominus infra annum Clameum qualitercumque apposuerit. Bracton, lib. 1. cap. 10. See the Definition and divers Sorts of Claim in Plowden. Casu Stowell, fol. 359. a.

Clamea Admittenda in itinere per Returnatum is a Writ whereby the King commands the Justices in Eyre to admit one's Claim by Attorney, who is employed in the King's Services and cannot come in his own Person. Reg. of Writs, fol. 19. b.

Clap-board (An. 35 Eliz. ca. 11.) is Board cut in order to make Casks or Vcels.

Clarentius. See Herald.

Claretum, A Liquor made of Wine and Honey, clarified or made clear by Decoction, &c. which the Germans, French, and English, called Hippocras. And it was from this, the red Wines of France were called Claret and Claret. — Ad hac etiam in tanta abundantia vinum hic videas, & siccam, pigmentum, & claretum, mustum & medonem. Girald. Cambr. apud Whartoni Angl. Sac. P. 2. p. 480.

Clarigarius Armozum, an Herald.

Clarion, a Trumpet. Statinque clangebant Clariones & Tuba. Knighton, Anno 1346.

Clasfarius, a Seaman, or Soldier serving at Sea — Omnesque ejus Capitaneos, Milites & Clasfarios. — Charta Caroli 5 Imperatoris Thomæ Comitii Surr. dat. in urbe Londinensi, 8 Junii, 1522.

Classicum,

Clasficum, a Ring of Bells. Propric est contentus omnium instrumentorum simul sonantium Campanis per totam civitatem ad Clasficum pulsantibus. Du Cange.

Claud. Brit. a Ditch. — Per illum riuolum usque ad quoddam Claud. iuxta Coitmaur. Carta Leuvellei Principis Wall. dat. An. 1198.

Claudere, To enclose, or turn open Fields into Closes and Enclosures. — Dedi & concessi totam culturam ad claudendum & faciendum quicquid in dictis Canonis placuerit. Paroch. Antiq. p. 236.

Claves Insulæ, i. e. the Keys of the Island. In the Isle of Man all ambiguous and weighty Cases are referred to twelve, whom they call Claves Insule.

Clavia, The Clovery, or Mace, or Club. In the Inquisition of Serjantes in the 12th and 13th Year of King John, within the Counties of Essex and Hertford — Boydin Aylet tenet quatuor libras terre in Bradwell, per manum Willielmi de Dona per Serjantiam Claviæ, i. e. by the Serjanty of the Club or Mace. See Dr. Brady's Appendix. to Introduction. to Eng. Hist. p. 22.

Clavigeratus, i. e. a Treasurer of a Church. Aliter Willielmus Wallingford Clavigeratus. Monast. 1 Tom. p. 184.

Clause Rolls, Rotuli Clausi, preserved in the Tower, and containing such Matters of Records as were committed to Clofe Writts.

Claustentum, Southampton.

Claustick, Claustike, The Claw-sickness, or Foot-rot in Sheep. — An. 1277. inuoluit generalis scabies ovium per universam regionem Angliæ quæ a vulgo dicebatur claustrick, per quam infecta sunt omnes terre, ad quarum scabiem abolendam adinventa est quadam unctio confecta ex vivo argento & uncto porcino. Annal. Warwerle, sub An. — We have not lost the Disease, nor found a better Receipt for it.

Clausura, Brush-wood for Hedges or Fences. — King Henry the Third, gave to the Prior and Canons of Chertwode, — quinque carucatas claustræ ad præd. terre claustrum sustinendam. Paroch. Antiq. p. 247. This Sort of Wood is in many Parts of England called Teenage, from Sax. Tynan, to enclose or shut; whence to Time the Door, i. e. to shut it. It also signifies an Enclosure, or that which fences it. In sepibus, in claustris, in communibus, &c. Mon. Angl. Tom. 2. fol. 409.

Clausum fregit, Signifies as much as an Action of Trespass; and so called, because in the Writ such a one is summoned to answer Quare clausum fregit, that is, why he did such a Trespass. Mr. Somner, in his Saxon Dictionary, conceives the Original of those much used Words in our Law-Pleading might come from the Saxon Eder-bryce, which signifies Hedge-breaking, the Boughs which close the Top of the Hedge being usually called Etherings.

Clausum Pasche, Stat. of Westm. 1. Lendemain de la Cluse de Pascha; that is, In Crastino clausi Pasche, or, in Crastino Oñabis Pasch. which is all one; viz. The Morrow of the Usas of Easter. 2 Part. Inst. f. 157. — Ad Curiam cum visi Franci Pleg. tent. apud Maurdin die Jovis prox. post Festum Clausi Pasche, anno 17 Ed. 4. Testatum fuit quod, &c. Clausum Pasche, i. e. Dominica in Albis; sic dictum, quod Pascha claudat.

de Maunclesfield, scil. clausura unius rode terre circiter hayam predict. Rot. plac. in itinere apud Cestriam. An. 14 H. 7. This clausura hey is no more than the Enclosure of a Hedge.

Claw, a Close, or small Enclosure. — Ego Adam Heleman Frater Willielmi Heleman pro amine mea salute dedi — Deo & Ecclesie beat. Apostolorum Petri & Pauli de Plimpton. — Unam domum cum horto in villa de Owerdene & unum clawm terre cum pertinentiis in terra de Owerden — que scilicet clawa terre sic jacet per partes. — Ex Registr. de Plimpton MS. Probably from the Saxon Clea, Angulus, A Nook of Land.

Cleia, Cleta, Clades, a Hurdle. Si murdrum inveniatur alicubi, custodiatur 7 diebus super Cletam. Leges H. 1. cap. 92. Item pro 18 Cladibus faciendis ad civile sex denar. Somner Gavel, f. 190.

Cleptor, a Thief or Rogue. Dum suum Dapiferum a manibus pessimi Cleptoris ne occideretur vellet eripere. Hoveden, Anno 946. Flor. Worc. pag. 604.

Clergy Clerus is diversely taken; sometimes for the whole Number of those who are De Clero Domini, of our Lord's Lot or Share, as the Tribe of Levi was in Judea; sometimes for a Plea to an Indictment or an Appeal, and is by Stauford (Pl. Cor. lib. 2. c. 41.) thus defined: — Clergy is an ancient Liberty of the Church, which hath been confirmed by divers Parliaments, and is when a Priest, or one in Orders, is arraigned of Felony before a secular Judge, he may pray his Clergy; which is as much as if he prayed to be delivered to his Ordinary, to purge himself of the Offence objected. And this might be done in Case of Murder. Coke, lib. 4. f. 46. a. This Liberty is mentioned in Articulis Cleri, An. 9 E. 2. c. 26. And what Persons might have their Clergy, and what not, see Stauford. Pl. Cor. lib. 2. c. 42, & 43. Yet there are many Statutes made since he wrote that Book, whereby the Benefit of the Clergy is abridged; as Anno 8 El. c. 4. — 14 ejusdem, cap. 5. — 18 ejusdem, c. 4, 6, 7. — An. 23 ejusdem, c. 2. — 29 ejusdem, c. 2. 31 ejusdem, c. 12. and 39 ejusdem, c. 9, & 15. Of this see Crompton's Justice of Peace, f. 102, & 105. and Lambard's Eiren. lib. 4. c. 14. And note, That the ancient Course of Law in this Point is much altered: For by the Statute of 18 El. ca. 7. Clerks are no more delivered to their Ordinaries to be purged; but now every Man to whom this Benefit is granted, tho' not in Orders, is put to read at the Bar after he is found guilty and convicted of such Felony, and so burnt in the Hand, and set free for the first Time, if the Ordinary's Commissioner or Deputy standing by do say, — Legit ut Clericus; or otherwise he suffers Death for his Transgression.

As to the Clergy in general, though they claim an Exemption from all secular Jurisdiction, yet Matthew Paris tells us, That soon after William the First had conquered Harold, he subjected the Bishpricks and Abbays who held per Baroniam, (and who till then were exempted from all secular Service,) that they should be no longer free from military Services; and for that Purpose he in an arbitrary Manner registered how many Soldiers every Bishprick and Abbey should provide, and send to him and his Successors in Time of War; and having placed these Registers of Ecclesiastical Servitude in his Treasury, those who were aggrieved, departed out of the Realm.

But the Clergy were not till then exempted from all secular Service; because by the Laws of King Edgar they were bound to obey the secular Magistrate in three Cases, viz. Upon any Expedition to the Wars, and to contribute to the building and repairing Bridges and Castles for the Defence of the Kingdom.

'Tis probable that by Expedition to the Wars, it was not intended that they should personally serve, but contribute towards the Charge. One they must do; as appears by the Petition to the King Anno 1267, viz. Ut omnes Clerici tenentes per Baroniam vel feudum laicum, personaliter armati procederent contra Regios adversarios; vel tantum Servitium in expeditione Regis invenirent, quantum pertineret ad tantam terram vel tenementum. Their Answer was, That they ought not to fight with the Military, but with the Spiritual Sword, that is, with Prayers and Tears; that they ought to maintain Peace, and not War, and that their Baronies were founded in Charity, for which Reason they ought not to perform any military Service.

Clerico admittendo, Is a Writ directed to the Bishop, for the admitting of a Clerk to a Benefice upon a Ne admittas, tried and found for the Party that procureth the Writ. Reg. Orig. fol. 31.

Clerico rapto per Statutum Mercatorum, &c. Is a Writ directed to the Bishop, for the Delivery of a Clerk out of Prison, that is in Custody upon the Breach of a Statute-Merchant. Reg. Orig. fol. 147.

Clerico convicto commissio Carolæ in defectu ordinarii deliberando, &c. Is a Writ for the Delivery of a Clerk to his Ordinary, that formerly was convicted of Felony, by reason his Ordinary did not challenge him according to the Privileges of Clerks. Reg. Orig. fol. 69. a.

Clerico infra sacros Ordines constituto non eligendo in Offitium, Is a Writ directed to the Bailiffs, &c. That have thrust a Bailiwick, or Beadleship upon one in Holy Orders, charging them to release him again. Reg. Orig. fol. 143. a.

Clericus. The Word was used for a secular Priest, in Opposition to a Religious or Regular. King John in the Time of the Interdict, committed to William de Cornhill, and Gerard de Camvill, — Omnes terras & res Abbatum & Priorum, & omnium Religiosorum, & etiam Clericorum de Episcopatu Linc. Paroch. Antiq. p. 171.

Clericus Sacerdotis, A Parish Clerk, or inferior Assistant to the Parochial Priest, who usually took an Oath of Fidelity from this Servant. Before the Reformation, the Rector was sometimes obliged to provide and maintain his own Clerk; and sometimes the religious Appropriators were bound to find and support a Clerk, as a menial Servant to the Vicar. So in the Churches appropriated to the Abbey of Osney, — Canonici vero Clericum Vicario, & Ecclesie ministerio, & ejus obsequio devotum invenient, qui juramentum fidelitatis ipsi Vicario præstabit, — Ubi autem non fuerint Canonici residentes, Clericus, qui, ut supra dictum est, expensis eorum procurabitur, clavem eorum deferet in domo eorum, &c. Paroch. Antiq. p. 304. The Parish Clerks were formerly to be Men of Letters, and to teach a School in the Parish, and were sometimes elected by the Parishioners, two for each Church, as the Sacristan or Sexton and Clerk in our City Churches, being supposed to live upon the Alms and voluntary Contributions of their Electors. So John Peckham Archbishop of Canterbury, Anno 1280. ordained the Church of Banquel, and the Chapels annex to it, — Volumus insuper ibidem esse duos Clericos Scholasticos per Parochianorum, de quorum habeant vivere elemosynis, industriam eligendos, qui Aquam benedictam circumferent in Parochiam, ac capellis diebus Dominicis & Festis, in Divinis ministrant officiis, & profectis diebus disciplinis Scholasticis indulgentes. Mon. Angl. Tom. 3. p. 227. Parish Clerks were to be School-Masters in Country Villages, by the Constitutions of Alexander Bishop of Cowentry, Anno 1237, &c. Hence the School-House, or Place of Teaching was often in the Belfrey, in the Church-Porch, or some contiguous Building: And hence the profane Use of still teaching in the Chancels. It would however be of good Service to the Church and Nation, to restore this ancient Practice, especially in remote Country Villages, where the Clerk would do more to the Service of God, and the Benefit of the People, if he were able to instruct the Children in Reading and Writing, and understand the Church Carechism; thus they might be bred to some Sense of Christianity and good Manners.

Clerk, Clericus, hath two Significations; one as it is the Title of him that belongeth to the holy Ministry of the Church, that is (as we reckon) either Minister or Deacon, or what other Degree or Dignity soever; though according to former Times, not only Sacerdotes & Diaconi, but also Subdiaconi, Lectores, Acolythi, Exorcistæ, & Ortiarii, were within this Account, as they be at this Day, where the Canon Law hath full Power. And in this Signification a Clerk is either Religious (otherwise called Regular) or Secular. An. 4 H. 4. c. 12. This Word Clericus comprehends all Sorts of Priests, Deacons, and others in Holy Orders, either Secular or Regular; but more properly a Minister or Priest, or one who is more peculiarly called in sortem Domini. Poor Vicar's Plea, fol. 13. Yet Johannes Saxel Clericus Domini Regis, (scil. E. 1.) was supposed to signify Secretary or Clerk of his Council. Antiq. of Nottinghamshire, fol. 317. The other Signification of this Word noteth those that by their Function, or Course of Life, practise their Pen in any Courts, or otherwise; as namely the Clerk of the Rolls of Parliament; Clerks of the Chancery, and such like, whose peculiar Offices shall be set in Order.

Clerk of the Mts is an Officer of good Account in the Navy-Office, who receives and records all Orders, Contracts, Bills, Warrants, and other Businesses, transacted by the Lord Admiral and Commissioners of the Navy; and is mentioned in the Stat. 16 Car. 2. cap. 5. and 22 & 23 Car. 2.

Clerk of Assise (Clericus Assisarum) is he that writes all Things judicially done by the Justices of Assise in their Circuits. Crompt. Jurisd. fol. 227.

Clerk of the Bails, (22 & 23 Car. 2. c. 9. of impos. on Proceeding at Law) is an Officer belonging to the Court of King's Bench.

Clerk of the Check is an Officer in the King's Court, so called, because he hath the Check and Controlment of the Yeomen of the Guard, and all other ordinary Yeomen, belonging either to his Majesty, the Queen, or Prince; either giving Leave, or allowing their Absences or Defects in Attendance, or diminishing their Wages for the same. He also nightly, by himself, or Deputy, takes the View of those that are to watch in the Court, Court, and hath the setting of the Watch. This Officer is mentioned Anno 33 Hen. 8. cap. 12. Also there is an Officer of the same Name in the King's Navy, and mentioned Anno 19 Car. 2. c. 1.

Clerk of the Chest, (An. 16 Car. 2. c. 5.) keeps an Account of the Monies collected, and kept in a Chest, for the Use of sick and maimed Seamen and Mariners.

Clerk of the Crown (Clericus Corona) is a Clerk or Officer in the King's Bench, whose Function is to frame, read, and record all Indictments against Traitors, Felons, and other Offenders, there arraigned or indicted upon any publick Crime. He is otherwise termed Clerk of the Crown-Office. And Anno 2 Hen. 4. 10. he is called Clerk of the Crown of the King's Bench.

Clerk of the Crown in Chancery (Clericus Corona in Cancellaria) is an Officer there, who, by himself or Deputy, is continually to attend the Lord Chancellor, or Lord Keeper; writes and prepares, for the Great Seal of England, special Matters of State by Commission, or the like, either immediately from his Majesty, or by Order of his Council, as well ordinary as extraordinary, viz. Commissions of Lieutenancy, of Justices Itinerant, and of Assises of Oyer and Terminer, of Gaol-Delivery, and of the Peace, with their Writs of Association, and the like. Also, all General Pardons upon Grants of them, at the King's Coronation, or at the Parliament, where he sits in the Lords House in Parliament-time; into whose Office the Writs of Parliament, made by the Clerks of the Petribag, with the Names of Knights and Burgeffes elected thereupon, are to be returned and filed. He hath also the Making of all special Pardons and Writs of Execution upon Bonds of Statute-Staple forfeited, which was annexed to his Office in the Reign of Q. Mary, in Consideration of his continual and chargeable Attendance: Both these before being common for every Curfitor and Clerk of the Court of Chancery to make.

Clerk of the Deliveries is an Officer in the Tower, who takes Indentures for all Stores issued thence.

Clerk of the Errors (Clericus Errorum) in the Court of Common Pleas, does transcribe and certify into the King's Bench, the Tenor of the Records of the Cause or Action; upon which the Writ of Error (made by the Curfitor) is brought, there to be judged and determined. The Clerks of the Errors in the King's Bench, does likewise transcribe and certify the Records of such Causes in that Court into the Exchequer, if the Cause or Action were by Bill: If by Original, the Lord Chief Justice certifies the Record into the House of Peers in Parliament, by taking the Transcript from the Clerk of the Errors, and delivering it to the Lord Keeper, there to be determined, according to the Statutes 27 El. 8. and 31 El. 1. The Clerk of the Errors in the Exchequer does transcribe the Records, certified thither out of the King's Bench, and prepares them for Judgment in the Court of Exchequer, to be given by the Justices of the Common Pleas, and Barons there. See 16 Car. 2. cap. 2. and 20 Eiusdem, cap. 4.

Clerk of Effoins (Clericus Effionum) is an Officer belonging to the Court of Common Pleas, who keeps the Effoin-Rolls, and hath for every Execution to bar the Effoin, in Case where the Party hath omitted his Time, six Pence. He hath also the Providing of Parchment, and Cutting it out into Rolls, and Marking the Numbers upon them, and the Delivering out of all the Rolls to every Officer, the Receiving them again when they are written, and the Binding and Making up the whole Bundles of every Term; and this he doth as Servant to the Chief Justice. For the Chief Justice is at Charge for the Parchment of all the Rolls; for which he is allowed, as the Chief Justice of the King's Bench, besides the Penny for the Seal of every Writ of Privilege and Outlawry, the seventh Penny taken for the Seal of every Writ under the Green Wax, or Petit Seal, in the Court of King's Bench and Common Pleas respectively, the said Lord Chief Justices having annexed to their several Offices or Places, the Custody of the said Seals belonging to each Court.

Clerk of the Estreats (Clericus Extractorum) is a Clerk belonging to the Exchequer, who termly receives the Estreats out of the Lord Treasurer's Remembrancer's Office, and writes them out to be levied for the King. He also makes Schedules of such Sums estreated, as are to be discharged. See the Practice of the Exchequer, pag. 82.

Clerk of the Hamper, or Hanaper, (Clericus Hanaperii) is an Officer in Chancery (Anno 2 E. 4. cap. 1.) otherwise called Warden of the Hamper, in the same Statute, whose Function is to receive all the Money due to the King for the Seals of Charters, Patents, Commissions, and Writs; as also Fees due to the Officers for enrolling and examining the same, with such like. He is tied to Attendance on the Lord Chancellor, or Lord Keeper daily in the Term-Time, and at all Times of sealing, having with him leather Bags, wherein are put all Charters, &c. after they are sealed; those Bags, being sealed up with the Lord Chancellor's private Seal, are delivered to the Controller of the Hamper, who upon Receipt of them, doth, as you shall read in his Office. This Hanaper represents a Shadow of that which the Romans termed Esium, which contained the Emperor's Treasure.

The Exchequer was anciently so called, because in eo recondeventur Hanapi & scilicet ceteraque usque in censum & tributum persolvi solebant; thus we read in the Monst. 1 Tom. pag. 943. Rex, &c. Cum de gratia nostra speciali & pro quodam fine, &c. solut. &c. in Hanaperio nostro concesserimus: Or it may be so called, because the yearly Tribute which Princes received, was in Hampers or large Vessels full of Money.

Clerk of the Furies or Furata-Writs, (Clericus Furiarum) is an Officer belonging to the Court of Common Pleas, who makes up the Writs call'd Habeas Corpora and Distringas, for Appearance of Furies, either in Court, or at the Assises, after the Jury or Panel is returned upon the Venire facias. He enters also into the Rolls the Awarding of these Writs, and makes all the Continuances from the going out of the Habeas Corpora, until the Verdict be given.

Clerk Comptroller of the King's House, whereof there are two, is an Officer in the Court that hath Authority to allow, or disallow the Charges and Demands of Purveyants, Messengers of the Green-Cloth, or other like. He hath also the Oversight and Controlling of all Defects and Miscarriages of any the inferior Officers, and to sit in the Counting-House with the superior Officers, viz. The Lord Steward, Mr. Treasurer, Controller, and Cofferer, either for correcting, or bettering Things out of Order. This Officer is mentioned Anno 33 H. 8. c. 12.

Clerk Barthal of the King's House seems to be an Officer that attends the Marshal in his Court, and records all his Proceedings. Anno 33 H. 8. c. 12.

Clerk of the King's Silver, (Clericus Argenti Regis) is an Officer belonging to the Court of Common Pleas, to whom every Fine is brought, after it hath been with the Custos Brevium, and by whom the Effect of the Writ of Covenant is entered into a Paper-Book; and, according to that Note, all the Fines of that Term are also recorded in the Rolls of the Court. And his Entry is in this Form: He puts the Shire in the Margin, and then saith, A. B. dat. Domino Regi dimidium marcam (or more according to the Value,) pro licentia concordandi cum C. D. pro talibus terris, in tali villa, & habet chirographum per pacem admissum, &c.

Clerk of the King's Great Wardrobe (Clericus Magne Garderobe Regis) is an Officer of the King's House, that keeps an Account or Inventory in Writing, of all Things belonging to the King's Wardrobe. Mention'd Anno 1 Ed. 4. cap. 1.

Clerk of the Market (Clericus Mercati Hospitalis Regis) is an Officer of the King's House, (Anno 1 Ed. 4. cap. 1. and Anno 13 Ric. 2. cap. 4.) whose Duty is to take Charge of the King's Measures, and to keep the Standards of them, that is, the Examples of all the Measures that ought to be thro' the Land: As of Ells, Yards, Lagen, Quarts, Pottles, Gallons, &c. Of Weights, Bushels, and such like; and to see that all Measures in every Place be answerable to the said Standard. Fleta, lib. 2. cap. 8, 9, 10, 11, 12. Of which Office, as also of our Diversity of Weights and Measures, you may there find a Treatise worth the Reading. Briton also, in his 30 Chap. saith in the King's Person, to this Effect: We will that none have Measures in the Realm, but we our selves; but that every Man take his Measures and Weights from our Standards. And so goes on with a Treatise of this Matter, that well shews the ancient Law and Practice in this Point. Touching this Officer's Duty, you have also good Statutes, An. 13 R. 2. c. 4. and an. 17 Car. 2. cap. 19. See 4 Inft. f. 273.

Clerk of the Nichils or Nihilis (Clericus Nihilorum) is an Officer in the Exchequer, who makes a Roll of all such Sums as are nihilis by the Sheriffs upon their Estreats of Green-Wax, and delivers the same into the Lord Treasurer's Remembrancer's Office, to have Execution done upon it for the King. See the Stat. 5 R. 2. cap. 13. Stat. 1. and Practice of the Exchequer, pag. 101. See Nihil.

Clerk of the Ordinance is an Officer in the Tower, who registers all Orders touching the King's Ordinance.

Clerk of the Outlawries (Clericus Utlagarium) is an Officer belonging to the Court of Common Pleas, being only the Servant or Deputy to the King's Attorney General, for making out Writs of Capias Utlagatum, after Outlawry; the King's Attorney's Name being to every one of those Writs. And whereas seven Pence is paid for the Seal of every other Writ, betwixt Party and Party, there is but a Penny paid for the Seal of this Writ, because it goes out at the King's Suit.

Clerk of the Paper-Office is an Officer in the King's Bench.

Clerk of the Parcels is an Officer in the Exchequer.

Clerk of the Parliament-Rolls (Clericus Rotulorum Parliamenti) is he that records all Things done in the High Court of Parliament, and engrosseth them fairly in Parchment-Rolls, for their better Preservation to Posterity. Of these there are two, one of the Lords House, another of the House of Commons. Crompt. Jurisd. f. 4 & 1 Smith de Rep. Angl. pag. 38. See also Vowel's Book, touching the Order of the Parliament. See Fleta, lib. 2. c. 12. p. 31.

Clerk of the Patents, or of the Letters Patent under the Great of England, was erected 18 Jac.

Clerk of the Peace (Clericus Pacis) is an Officer belonging to the Sessions of the Peace. His Duty is, in the Sessions, to read the Indictments, to enrol the Acts, and draw the Procefs: To record the Proclamation of Rates for Servants Wages, to enrol the Discharge of Apprentices, to keep the Counterpart of the Indenture of Armour, to keep the Register-Book of Licences, given to Badgers and Laders of Corn, and of those that are licenced to shoot in Guns, and to certify into the King's Bench, Transcripts of Indictments, Outlawries, Attainders, and Convictions had before the Justices of the Peace, within the Time limited by Statute. Lambard's Eiren. lib. 4. cap. 3. fol. 379.

Clerk of the Pell (Clericus Pellis) is a Clerk belonging to the Exchequer, whose Office is to enter every Teller's Bill into a Parchment-Roll, (called Pellis Receptorum) and also to make another Roll of Payments, which is called Pellis Exituum, wherein he sets down by what Warrant the Money was paid: Mentioned in the Statute 22 & 23 Car. 2. for Subsidy. This Officer is called in ancient Records Clericus Domini Thesaurarii.

Clerk of the Pettibag (Clericus Parva bage) is an Officer of the Chancery, of which Sort there are three, and the Master of the Rolls their Chief. Their Office is to record the Return of all Inquisitions out of every Shire; to make all Patents of Customers, Gaugers, Controllers, and Aulnegers; all Comge d'Esquires for Bishops; all Liberate's upon Extents of Statute-Staples; the Recovery of Recognizances forfeited; and all Elegits upon them; the Summons of the Nobility, Clergy, and Burgesses to the Parliament; Commissions directed to the Knights, and others of every Shire, for assessing Subsidies; Writs for the Nomination of Collectors for Taxes; and all Traverfes upon any Office, Bill, or otherwise; to receive the Fees for Homages due to the Lord Great Chamberlain, of the Nobility, Bishops, &c. This Officer is mentioned 33 Hen. 8. cap. 22.

Clerk of the Pipe (Clericus Pipe) is an Officer in the Exchequer, who, having all Accompts and Debts due to the King, delivered and drawn out of the Remembrancers Offices, charges them down into the great Roll; and is called Clerk of the Pipe, from the Shape of that Roll, which is put together like a Pipe; formerly he was called, Ingrossator magni Rotuli, Contrarotulator Pipe, duplex ingrossator, and now Clerk of the Pipe; he also writes Summons to the Sheriff, to levy the said Debts upon the Goods and Chattels of the Debtors; and if if they have no Goods, then he draws them down to the Lord Treasurer's Remembrancer, to write Eſtreats againſt their Lands. The ancient Revenue of the Crown remains in charge before him, and he ſees the ſame answered by the Farmers and Sheriffs. He makes a Charge to all Sheriffs of their Summons of the Pipe and Green Wax, and ſees it answered upon their Accompts. He hath the drawing and ingroſſing all Leaſes of the King's Land. In Henry the Sixth's Time, he was called Ingroſſator Magni Rotuli.

Clerk of the Pleas (Clericus Placitorum) is an Officer in the Exchequer, in whole Office all the Officers of the Court (upon ſpecial Privilege belonging unto them,) ought to ſue, or to be ſued upon any Action, &c. See the Practice of the Exchequer, p. 86. and 4 Inſt. f. 107.

Clerk of the Privy Seal (Clericus Privati Sigilli) There are four of theſe Officers that attend the Lord Privy Seal, or (if none ſuch) the Principal Secretary, writing and making out all Things that are ſent by Warrant from the Signet to the Privy Seal, and are to be paſſed to the Great Seal; as alſo to make out (as they are termed) Privy Seals upon any ſpecial Occaſion of his Maſteſty's Affairs; as for Loan of Money, and ſuch like. Of this Officer and his Function, you may read the Statute 27 H. 8. c. 11. He that now is call'd the Lord Privy Seal, ſeems in ancient Time to have been called Clerk of the Privy Seal, and to have been reckon'd, notwithstanding, in the Number of the great Officers of the Realm. Read the Statute 12 R. 2. c. 11.

Clerk of the Rules, mention'd 22 & 23 Car. 2. is an Officer in the Court of King's Bench.

Clerk of the Sewers (Clericus Suerarum) is an Officer appertaining to the Commiſſioners of Sewers, writing all Things that they do by Virtue of the Commiſſion, for which ſee Sewers: And ſee the Statute of 13 Edic. cap. 9.

Clerk of the Signet (Clericus Signeti) is an Officer attendant continually on his Maſteſty's principal Secretary, who always hath the Cuſtody of the Privy Signet, as well for ſealing his Maſteſty's private Letters, as alſo ſuch Grants as paſs his Maſteſty's Hand by Bill ſigned. Of theſe there are four that attend in their Courſe, and have their Diet at the Secretary's Table. More largely you may read of their Office in the Statute made Anno 27 H. 8. ca. 11.

Clerk of the Superſedeas is an Officer belonging to the Court of Common Pleas, who makes out the Writ of Superſedeas, (upon the Defendant's appearing to the Exigent,) whereby the Sheriff is forbidden to return the Exigent.

Clerk of the Treasury (Clericus Theſaurarii) is an Officer belonging to the Common Pleas, who hath the Charge of keeping the Records of the Court, and makes out all the Records of Niſi Prius, hath the Fees due for all Searches, and hath the certifying all Records into the King's Bench, when a Writ of Error is brought: Alſo he makes all Exemplifications of Records being in the Treasury. He is taken to be the Servant of the Chief Juſtice, and removeable at his Pleaſure, whereas all other Officers are for Term of Life. There is alſo a Secondary or Under-Clerk of the Treasury for Aſſiſtant, who hath ſome Allowances. And likewiſe an Under-Keeper, who always keeps one Key of the Treasury-Door, and the chief Clerk of the Secondary another; ſo as the one cannot come in without the other.

Clerk of the Warrants (Clericus Warrantorum) is an Officer belonging to the Court of Common Pleas, who entrench all Warrants of Attorney for Plaintiff and Defendant, and inrols all Deeds of Indentures of Bargain and Sale, which are acknowledged in the Court, or before any Judges out of the Court. And he estreats into the Exchequer all Iſſues, Fines, and Amerciaments, which any way grow due to the King in that Court, and hath a ſtanding Fee of ten Pounds of the King, for making the ſame Eſtreats. See Fitz. Nat. Br. f. 76.

Cleronunus, i. e. An Heir: In the Monastiſcon, 3 Tom. pag. 129. we read, That K. Edgar gave another a certain Portion of Land for Life, with Liberty, that Post vita ſua terminum quibuscunq; Cleronymis impune derelinquat.

Clitæ, (Fr. Clays) Hurdles to fold or keep Sheep in. Tenentes de Hampton debent quævere ſex ſummas virgarum apud Boſcum de Haya juxta Hereford clatæa nundinarum faciendas. Lib. Niger. Herceſ. fol. 61.

Cliturn, Glouceſter.

Clitonius, Not only the Eldeſt, but all the Sons of Kings; we meet with it often in old Authors, viz. In the Charter of King Æthelred, in Matt. Paris. p. 158. Æthelſtanus Ecbyrth, &c. cum clitonibus Epitheto ſubſcribunt: So in Mr. Selden's Notes upon Eadmerus, Ego Edgar, &c. Ego Edmund Clito Legitimus præſati Regis, &c.

Clitæ, Cliti, The Names of Places beginning or ending with Clive or Cliff, ſignify a Rock, from the Sax. Clif, Rupes.

Clod-Salt, At Droitwich, Nantwich, &c. in their boyling or walling of Salt, once in twenty-four Hours, they take out a Cake, which ſticks to the Bottom of a Pan. This they call Clod-Salt; which if not taken timely out, would cauſe the Salt to melt. This Clod-Salt is the ſtrongeſt of all, and is therefore commonly uſed to ſalt Bacon or Neat-Tongues; and the Women of thoſe Parts put it into their Runnet-Pots, as the beſt Preservative of good Cheefe.

Clotter, A Priſoner, or Dungeon; I believe of ſome Britiſh Original, which might give Name to the old Latin Cloeria, which Du Freſne unaply conjectures to have been a Corruption of Clauſura, a cloſe Place of Reſtraint. The Dungeon, or inner Priſon in Wallingford-Caſtle, temp. H. II. was called Cloere Brien, i. e. Carcer Brieni, Fil. Com. Domini de Wallingford. Hence ſeems to come the Lat. Cloaca, which was originally the cloſeſt Ward, the naſtieſt Part of a Priſon. The old Cloacarius is interpreted in a MS. Gloſſary, Carceris Cuſtos. The preſent Cloacarius, or Keeper of a Jakes, is an Office in ſome Religious Houſes, impoſed on an offending Brother, or voluntarily choſen by him as an Exerciſe of Humility and Mortification; and in ſome of our Engliſh Convents beyond the Seas, this ſweet Officer is call'd Count of Holt.

Clotis, Is an unlawful Game, forbidden by the Statute, made in the 17th Year of E. 4. cap. 3. and is inhibited alſo by the Statute of 33 H. 8. c. 9. But there it is more properly called Clajo; for it is the throwing of a Bowl at nine Pins of Wood, or nine Shank-Bones of an Ox or Horſe; and it is now ordinarily called Kailes, or Nine-Pins. Termes de la Ley.

Clot of Rap. Anno 27 E. 3. Stat. 1. c. 4.

Clotpe, Is the two and thirtieth Part of a Weigh of Cheefe, that is, eight Pounds. 9 H. 6. cap. 8.

Clotches,

Cloves, Caryophylli, are a Spice known by Sight to every Man ; they are Flowers of a Tree gathered and hardned by the Sun : Of their Nature, you may read in Gerard's Herbal, lib. 3. cap. 144. This is comprised among such Spices as are to be garbled. I Fac. 19.

Clough, A Valey, Domesday-Book.

Clunch, Blew Clunch. At Wednesbury in Staffordshire, upon sinking a Coal-pit, near the Surface, they met first with Earth and Stone, then with a Substance called Blew Clunch, and thirdly with Coal.

Cluta, Fr. Clous, Shoes, Clouted-shoes : Most commonly Horse-shoes, and the Streakes of Iron with which Cart-wheels are shod. — In uno pari rotarum computo ii. fol. ii. denar. in eodem ferro ligando v. fol. iv. denar. in axibus emptis iv. den. in cluris, & clavis ad idem emptis, iv. den. ob. — Consuetud. domus de Farendon. MS. f. 16. Hence Clutarium.

Clutarium, Cluarium, a Forge, or Smithy, or Smith's Shop, where the Clous, or Iron-shoes are made, or applied. Tenuit duas carucatas terre de Domino Rege, in capite per tale servitium deferendo palefridum Domini Regis super quatuor pedes de cluario Domini Regis quotiescunque ad manerium suum de Maunsfeld venerit, & si inclaudet (if he lame) palefridum Domini Regis dabit ei palefridum quatuor marcarum. Mon. Angl. Tom. 2. p. 598.

Cnipulus, Knipulus, Knipus, Knivus, A Knife. — Thomas Martyr tam Cancellarium suum quam Notarios cunctos Sacramento constrinxit, quod valens Cnipulum Anglicum propter Literas a Nemine recipere. Giral. Cambren. apud Wartoni Angl. Sacr. P. p. 625.

Cora, Coquia, A Cogge or Boat. Vid. Coggle.

Corcum, Ribchester in Lancashire.

Corrings, An Exaction or Tribute in Ireland ; now reduced to chief Rents. See Bonaght.

Cocket or Coket, (Cockettum.) is a Seal belonging to the King's Custom-House. Reg. of Writs, fol. 192. a. Also a Scroll of Parchment sealed and delivered by the Officers of the Custom-house to Merchants, as a Warrant that their Merchandizes are custumed. An. 11 H. 6. cap. 16. Which Parchment is otherwise called Litera de Cocketto, or Litera testimonialis de Cocketto. Reg. f. 179. a. So is the Word used. An. 5 & 6 E. 6. c. 14. And 14 E. 3. Stat. 1. c. 21. None shall make Iduols to be Cocketted, but in the Name of him to whom the Iduols be. Anno 13 R. 2. c. 9. Inquisitio & Placitum contra quosdam qui lanas non Cocketatas custumatas extra regnum duxerunt. Inter Recorda de Reg. Seacc. Mich. 25 E. 3. Et Ballivi sui capiant ad Caput pontis de Berewyk omnes homines venientes cum lanis, coreis vel pellibus vendendis sine ligno quod vocatur Cocket. Pla. Paris. 21 Ed. 1.

Cocket is used for a Sort of Measure, as we may see in Fleta. Lib. 2. cap. 9. Panis vero integer quadrantaliter frumenti ponderabit unum Cocket & dimidium : It is also used for a Distinction of Bread in the Statute of Bread and Ale, made 51 Hen. 3.

The Words are, *When a Quarter of Wheat is sold for xii d. the Wastel-Bread of a farthing shall weigh vi l. and xvi s. but Bread-Cocket of a farthing, of the same Corn and Bultel, shall weigh more than Wastel by ii s. And Cocket-Bread made of Corn of lower Price, shall weigh more than Wastel by v s. Bread made in to a Sinnen, shall weigh ii s. less than Wastel : Bread made of the whole Wheat, shall weigh a Cocket and a half ; so that a Cocket shall weigh more than a Wastel by v s. Bread of Treet shall weigh two Wastels ; and Bread of common Wheat shall weigh two great Cockets. When a Quarter of Wheat is sold for xviii d. then Wastel-Bread of a farthing, white and well baked, shall weigh iv l. x s. When for ii s. iii l. viii s. &c. By which we may perceive that Wastel-Bread was the finest, Cocket-Bread next, then Bread of Treet, and lastly, Bread of Common Wheat ; as we now call the finest Bread, Wheaten, or French Bread, the second Sort white Bread, the third Brown, or Household Bread, &c. In Oxford anciently they had a coarse Bread called Tuteslyn, hoc est, Panem furfuraceum vel atrum. *Hist. Oxon. f. 158. b.

Cocket-head, Cocket. — Quando quarterium frumenti venditur pro xii. denariis, tunc panes quadrantes de wastello ponderabunt vi. libras, & xvi. sol. Panis autem de coket, de eodem blado & eodem bultello ponderabit plus wastello ii. fol. & de blado minoris pretii ponderabit plus wastello v. fol. Panis de Symenel ponderabit minus wastello ii. fol. Panis integer de frumento de quadrante ponderabit coket & dimidium Panis de Treyst ponderabit ii. wastellos, & panis de omni blado ponderabit ii. cokettes. Consuetud. domus de Farendon. MS. f. 42. I believe Cocket-bread or Cocket, was only hard Sea-bisket ; either so call'd, because coketted or mark'd with a peculiar Stamp or Cocket : Or also because made for the Use of the Cock-swains or Seamen. This is but my conjecture : For no Author has yet hit upon the Sense of the Word, or Derivation of it.

Cockettum, Cockett, Cocketum. The Custom-House or Office, where Goods to be transported, were first entred, and paid their Custom, and had a Cocket or Certificate of Discharge.

Rolandus Trentacoft ad custodiam coketti, ad novum Castrum super Tyram per societatem Lucanicam deputatur, postquam lana & pelles per preceptum Regis fuerunt arreftata, & transfractio earum inhibita. Mem. in Seaccar. 23 Ed. 1. by Sir John Maynard.

Cockettata Lana, Wool duly entred and coketted, or authorized to be transported. — Mandatum quod lana non coketattata, vel non custumata sub forisfactura capiantur. Fin. 16 E. 3. m. 37.

Cockets, i. e. The meanest Sort of Men, corruptly for Cosetts, that is, Cottagers : Villani vero vel Coseti, vel perdingi, vel qui sunt villes vel inopes persone, non sunt inter legum judices numerandi. Leges H. 1. c. 29.

Cocodones was a Sort of French Money, very bad : Prohibita est moneta alienigenarum surreptitia illegitima quam polardos, Cocodones & Rosarios appellabant, qui paulatim & latenter loco irrepsissent Sterlingorum. Walsingham in Ed. 1. 1300. See Pollard.

Cocetus, A Cock-swain, Coxon, Boat-man, or Seaman. Vid. Coggle.

Cocula, Coculum, A Cogge, or little Drinking-cup, in Form of a small Boat, used especially at Sea ; and still retained in a Cogge of Brandy.

Cocitil,

Codicil, (Codicillus), A Schedule or Supplement to a Will, or some other Writing: Some Writers, conferring a Testament and a Codicil together, call a Testament a great Will, and a Codicil a little one; and compare a Testament to a Ship, and the Codicil to the Boat tied to it.

Codicil is used as an Addition annexed to a Testament, when any Thing is omitted, which the Testator would add, explain, alter or retract; and is the same with a Testament, but that it is without an Executor. See Swinb. p. 1. sect. 1. and Touchstone of Wills, pag. 21, 22.

Coffee, Mentioned 15 Car. 2. cap. 11. A Kind of Drink, originally used among the Turks and Persians, and from them brought to us: It is thick, blackish and bitter, made from Berries of that Nature and Name, and now agreeably in Use as a wholesome Liquor.

Coffe, Cottages. See Domesday-Book, thus interpreted by Mr. Agar.

Cofferer of the King's Household, Is a principal Officer of his Majesty's Court, next under the Controller, that in the Counting-House, and elsewhere at other Times hath a special Charge and Oversight of other Officers of the House, for their good Demeanor, and Carriage in their Offices, to all which he pays their Wages. He is made mention of 39 El. cap. 7.

Cofra, A Coffer, Chest, or Trunk. — Custos Collegii & domus elemosynaria de Pontefracto, & Ministri ejusdem non sunt dotati quacunque dote temporali seu spirituali, vivente fundatore ejusdem. Sed fuerunt Stipendiarii capientes certam summam pecunie de Cofris dicti Fundatoris. Munimenta Hospit. SS. Trin. de Pontefracto, MS. f. 50.

Coggle. Upon some of the Sea-coasts in Yorkshire, a small Fishing-Boat is called a Coggle, i. e. a little Cogge; and in some Places by Corruption a Cobble. From the old Teuton, Kogge, a Ship: Whence the Lat. Coggo, Cogga, &c. Anno 1066. Venit ad hoc in Angliam (Rex Noricorum) trecentis Coggonibus advectus. Mat. West. sub ann. Preparatis cogonibus, galleis & aliis navibus onerariis — 600 navis, & 24 coggas bene preparatas. Mat. Par. sub ann. 1218. Hence our old Sax. Cockede, a Seaman; called in the Laws of King H. 1. c. 29. Cocseti, and cap. 81. Cotseti. The old Glossary to these Laws, made in the Reign of Edward III. interprets Cocade, by Cocarius, which Du Fresne seems to misunderstand for Coquus, a Cook: Whereas Cocarius is indeed a Coker, or Boat-man, from Coca, Coquia, a Boat: As with little Variation, a Coggesuane, a Cock-swain, now a Coggeson, or Coxon, is an Officer in a Ship. Hence the old Lat. Cogcio, Coccio, a wandering and begging Seaman; which Sir Henry Spelman (who rarely trifles) believes to have been so called, from the Greek κωκω Lugeo, Ploro. But the true Name and Original was Cogiones, Cog-men, or Boat-men, who after Shipwreck or Losses by Sea, travelled about to defraud the People, by begging and stealing, till they were restrained by many civil and good Laws. — ut isti Mangones & Cogciones, qui sine omni lege vagabundi vadunt per istam terram, non sistantur vagari, & deceptiones hominum agere. Vide Spelm. in voce, & Du Fresne.

Coggeshall in Essex. See Anfa.

Cognatione. See Cognage.

Cognitor or Conutor, Is he that passeth or acknowledged a Fine of Lands or Tenements to another. Cognissee or Consee, is he to whom the Fine is acknowledged. West. Symb. part. 2. Tit. Fines. sect. 2. 32 H. 8. 5.

Cognisance, Id est, Intelligentia, Cognitio, with us is used diversly; sometimes signifying a Badge on a Waterman or Serving-man's Sleeve, which is commonly the Giver's, whereby he is discerned to belong to this or that Master. Sometimes an Acknowledgment of a Fine, or Confession of a Thing done, as Cognoscens latro. Bract. lib. 3. tract. 2. cap. 3. 20. 32. Cognoscere se ad Villanum. Id. lib. 4. tract. 3. cap. 16. As also to make Cognisance of taking a Distress: Sometimes as an Audience or Hearing of a Matter judicially, as to take Cognisance. Sometimes a Power or Jurisdiction, as Cognisance of Pleas is an Ability to call a Cause or Plea out of another Court, which no Man can do but the King, except he can shew Charters for it: For such Cognisance lies not in Prescription. Manwood, cap. 3. num. 2. See the Terms of the Law, and New Book of Entries, verb. Conscience.

Cognitiones, Ensigns, Arms, or rather a military Coat painted with Arms: Cum viderunt hostes Christi armis, vexillis & cognitionibus picturatis, &c. Mat. Parif. 1250.

Cognitionibus mittendis, Is a Writ to a Justice, or other that hath Power to take a Fine, who having taken Acknowledgment thereof, deferreth to certify it into the Court of Common Pleas, commanding him to certify it. Reg. Orig. 68. b.

Cogs, (Cogones) seems to be a Kind of Vessel or Boat, upon the River Ouse and Humber, mentioned in the Stat. 23 H. 8. c. 18. Also a small Ship; for I find in Matth. Westm. An. Dom. 1066. — Venit ad hoc in Angliam (Rex Noricorum) trecentis Coggonibus advectus. About Scarborough they have still a Sort of small Vessels, which they call Cogges, the little Cogs.

Cogware, Seems to be a Sort of coarse Clothes made in the North of England, mentioned in the Stat. 13 R. 2. cap. 10. where there is Mention also of Cognien, that is, Buyers of, Makers or Dealers in such Cogware.

Cohua is a promiscuous Multitude of Men in a Market or Fair, and Cohuagium is a Tribute paid by those who meet there: Quietus ab omni Theloneo, passagio, Pontagio, Cohuagio, pallagio, &c. Du Cange.

Coif, (Coifa, Fr. Coiffe.) Our Serjeants at Law are otherwise called Serjeants of the Coif; from the Lawn Coif they wear on their Heads, under their Cap, when they are created, and always after. See Serjeant, and Matt. Parif. in an. 1259. and Fortescue de LL. Anglie, cap. 50.

The Use of it was to cover tonsuram Clericalem; otherwise called Corona Clericalis, because the Crown of the Head was close shaved, and a Border of Hair left round the lower Part, which made it to look like a Crown. See Tena.

Coin, Cuneus, vel cuna, Seems to come from the French Coigne, Angulus, a Corner; which probably verifieth the Opinion of such as hold the ancientest Sort of Coin to be cornered, and not round; of this Lawyers Substantive Cuna, comes their Verb Cunare, to Coin. Crompt. Just. of Peace, fol. 220.

Coinage, (Cunagium) Besides the general Signification, relating to Money, it is by a Law provided, That all the Tin in Cornwall, after it is cast and wrought, shall be weighed and marked by the King's Officer, with a Lion Rampant, which is called Coinage. Briton, f. 186. and anno 11 H. 7. cap. 4. Some Authors write it Cunage.

Cointresses are Garments made of Silk or fine Linen: Mille enim milits & amplius, vestiti serico ut vulgariter loquuntur Cointresses, in nuptiis ex parte Regis apparuerunt. Matt. Paris. 1252.

Coket. See Coker.

Cokettatio. The Coketting or taking Account of Goods to be transported, in order to receive the due Custom, and give the Ticket of Discharge.

— Ordinatio de cokettatione lanarum facta. Claus. 33 Ed. 3. m. 37.

Colbooke. See Pontes.

Colchester. See Colonia.

Collander-seed, or rather Coriander-seed, Semen Coriandri, Is the Seed of an Herb so called, medicinal and wholesome for divers good Purposes; which see in Gerard's Herbal, lib. 2. ca. 379. It is numbered among the Drugs that are to be garbled. An. 1. Fac. c. 19.

Colibertus, Colibertus, Cor. libertus. These Coliberts in Civil Law were only those Freemen, who at the same Time had been manumitted by their Lord or Patron. But the Condition of a Colibert in English Tenure, was (as Sir Edward Coke asserts) the same with a Sake-man, or one who held in free Socage; but yet was obliged to do customary Services for the Lord. The Word occurs in Domesday; though I think no Glossographer has cited it from thence. — Lib Domesday. Somerlet.

— Episcopus Winton tenet Fantone, ibi quater xx. villani, & quater xxii. bordarii, & lxx. servi, & xvi. Coliberti, & xviii. Porcarii.

So again, Gloucestrescire: — Britrie, filii Algari tenebat Turnebiri T. R. E. ibi xxiii. Bordarii, & x. Serui, & iv. Coliberti, ibi ii. molendini, &c. — They were certainly a middle Sort of Tenants, between servile and free, or such as held their Freedom of Tenure under Condition of such Works and Services; and were therefore the same Land-holders, whom we meet under the Name of Conditionales.

Libertate carens Colibertus dicitur esse. Du Fresne.

It seems also to be the same with Colonus, which see.

Collateral, Collateralis, Cometh of the Lat. Lateralis, that which hangeth by the Side: And in the legal Sense it differs not from the same Acceptation; for Collateral Assurance, is that which is made over and beside the Deed it self. For Example, If a Man covenants with another, and enters into Bond for the Performance of his Covenant, the Bond is termed Collateral Assurance; because it is external, and without the Nature and Essence of the Covenant. And Comp. Fur. fol. 185. saith, That to be subject to the Feeding of the King's Deer, is Collateral to the Soil within the Forest. In like Manner we say, That the Liberty to pitch Booths, or Standings for a Fair in another Man's Ground, is Collateral to the Ground. The private Woods of a common Person within a Forest, may not be cut without the King's Licence; for it is a Prerogative Collateral to the Soil. Manwood's Forest Laws, c. 8. num. 2.

Collateral Warranty. See Warranty.

Collation of Benefice, Collat'o Beneficii, Signifies properly the Bestowing of a Benefice by the Bishop that hath it in his own Gift or Patronage, and differeth from Institution in this, that Institution into a Benefice, is performed by the Bishop, at the Motion or Presentation of another who is Patron of the same, or hath the Patron's Right for the Time; yet is Collation used for Presentation. 25 E. 3. Stat. 6. And there is a Writ in the Register, 31. b. called De Collatione facta uni post mortem alterius, &c. directed to the Justices of the Common Pleas, commanding them to direct their Writ to the Bishop, for the admitting a Clerk in the Place of another, presented by the King, who died during the Suit between the King and the Bishop's Clerk; for Judgment once passed for the King's Clerk, and he dying before he be admitted, the King may give his Presentation to another.

Collation of Seals. This was, when upon the same appending Ribbon, or Thread, or Label, one Seal was set on the Back, or reverse of the other. — Ad majorem securitatem premissorum Sigillum discreti viri Officialis Domini Batho-Well. Episcopi filo medio per modum Collationis, Sigillo meo apponi procuravi. Cartular. Abbat. Glaston. MS. fol. 105. b.

Collatione facta uni post mortem alterius, Is a Writ directed to the Justices of the Common Pleas, commanding them to direct their Writ to a Bishop, for the admitting a Clerk in the Place of another presented by the King, who, during the Suit between the King and the Bishop's Clerk is departed this Life. For Judgment once past for the King's Clerk, and he dying before Admission, the King may bestow his Presentation to another. Reg. of Writs, f. 31. b.

Collatione Heremitage, Is a Writ whereby the King conferreth the Keeping of an Hermitage upon a Clerk. Reg. Orig. fol. 303, 308.

Collegiat Church, A Church built and endowed for a Society, or Body Corporate of a Dean, or other President and secular Priests, as Canons or Prebendaries in the said Church. There were many of these Societies distinguished from the Religious, or Regulars before the Reformation. And some are now established, as Westminster, Windsor, Rippon, Wolverhampton, Southwell, Manchester, &c.

Collisio. See Cilurum.

Collusion, Collusio, Is in our Common Law, a deceitful Agreement, or Compact between two or more, for the one Party to bring an Action against the other to some evil Purpose, as to defraud a third of his Right, &c. See the Terms of the Law, fol. 142. and Bro. Tit. Collusion. See also the Case of Collusion, Reg. Orig. f. 179. a. Westl. 2. ca. 32. and 8 H. 6. ca. 26. which gives the Quale Jus, and Inquiry in such Cases: Gifts made by Collusion. See 50 E. 3. c. 6.

Colonia, Colchester in Essex.

Colonus, An Husbandman or Villager, who was bound to pay yearly a certain Tribute; or at certain Times in the Year to plough some Part of the Lord's Land, and from hence comes the Word Clown: He was called by the Saxons Gebure, and by the Dutch Boure.

Colour, Color, Signifies in a legal Acceptation a probable Plea, but in Truth false, and hath this End, to draw the Trial of the Cause from the Jury to the Judges. As for Example, A. brings an Assise of Land against B. and B. saith, He himself did let the same Land to one C. for Term of Life, and afterwards did grant the Reversion to A. the Demandant; and afterwards C. the Tenant for Term of Life died, after whose Decease A. the Demandant claiming the Reversion by Force of the Grant (whereto C. the Tenant did never attorn) entred, upon whom B. entred, against whom A. for that Entry brings this Assise, &c. This is a good Colour, because the common People think the Land will pass by the Grant without without Attornment, where indeed it will not pass, &c. Also in an Action of Trespass, Colour must be given, of which there are an infinite Number; take this one for a Pattern of the Rest. In an Action of Trespass, for taking away the Plaintiff's Beasts, the Defendant saith, That before the Plaintiff had any Thing in them, he himself was possessed of them as of his proper Goods, and delivered them to A. to deliver to him again, when, &c. and A. gave them to the Plaintiff, and the Plaintiff supposing the Property to be in A. at the Time of the Gift, took them, and the Defendant took them from the Plaintiff, whereupon the Plaintiff brings an Action; that is a good Colour and a good Plea. See more hereof Doctor and Student. lib. 2. cap. 13. and Broke, Tit. Color, in Assise, Trespass, &c. fol. 104.

Colour of Office, Color Officii, Is always taken in the worst Part, and signifies an Act evilly done by the Countenance of an Office, and it bears a dissembling Face of the Right of an Office, whereas the Office is but a Vail to the Falshood; and the Thing is grounded upon Vice, and the Office is as a Shadow to it, it is but Colore Officii; when as Virtute Officii, by Virtue of the Office, is taken always in the best Part; and where the Office is the just Cause of the Thing, and the Thing is pursuing the Office. Plowd. in Dive and Manningham's Case, f. 64. a.

Colpare Trbores, To lop, or top Trees. — Poterant etiam colpare, & habere ramillam, (i. e. to lop, and to have the Lop, or Boughs cut off) & omnia genera arborum que in eodem maris. o fuerant. Contin. Hist. Croyland. p. 473.

Colpatura, Colpatura, Colpato, Lopping, or Topping of Trees; a Trespass with the Forest. — Qui autem forisfecerit in Foresta Regis de viridi sive per colpaturam, sive per eibrumataram, sive per foditionem turvarum, sive per esboriationem more, sive per culpationem sub nemore, &c. Assisa de forestis temp. Rich. 1. Rog. Hoved. p. 384.

Colp cum. — Hec charta chirographata testatur quod Dominus Willielmus de Herle dedit R. Peni servienti suo capitale messuagium de B. cum una carucata terre, & pastura ad octo boves infra boscum de W. salvo colpeis infra boscum predictum factis & in posterum faciendis, donec ad perfectionem pervenerint, quod se contra omnimoda animalia defendere possint. — I suppose by Colpeis is meant Samplers, or young Poles, which being cut down, make Leavers or Lifters, in Warwickshire called Colpices to this Day.

Colpo, A Crust, or rather a small Wax-Candle, a Copo de Cere; Hoveden tells us, that when the King of Scots came to the English Court, as long as he staid there, he had every Day, De Liberatione triginta sol. & duodecim Vassellos Dominicos, & quadraginta grossos longos Colpones de dominica Candela Regis, & octoginta Colpones de alia Candela. An. 1194.

Coltrops, Coltraps, an Instrument of three Iron Spikes, so contrived that when thrown out of Hand, one of the Spikes is always erect, invented to cast in the Road, for galling the Enemies Horse. They were used by the Romans, and called Marices.

Comatio, i. e. Cutting of the Hair: Si quis Dominum suum occidat, si capiat, nullo modo se redimat; sed de ejus Comatione, &c. damnatur. Leg. H. 1.

Combarones, The Fellow-Barons, or Commonalty of the Cinque-Ports: King Henry III.

grants to the Barons, or Freemen of the Port of Fewersham, — quietantiam de omni Theolonio, & consuetudine — sicut ipse & Antecessores sui, & Combarones sui de Quinque Portibus eam melius & plenius habuerunt tempore Regis Edwardi. — Placit. tempore Ed. 1. & Ed. 2. MS. penes Dom. Fountains. Now the Title of Barons of the Cinque-Ports is restrained from the common Inhabitants, to distinguish their Representatives in Parliament; the Word Combaron is now likewise used for a Fellow-Member, the Baron and his Combaron.

Combata, Duellum, Is a French Word signifying the same with certamen, praelium, pugna, and in our ancient Law was a formal Trial of a doubtful Cause or Quarrel, by the Swords or Basons of two Champions: Of this you may read at large both in divers Civilians, as Paris de Puteo de re Militari & Duello, Aliat. de Duello, Hotoman disputatio Feudalium, cap. 42. and others; and common Lawyers, namely Glanville, lib. 14. c. 1. Bract. lib. 3. Tract. 2. ca. 3. Britton, c. 22. Horne's Mirror of Justices, lib. 3. cap. Des Exceptions in fine prox. & cap. juramentum Duelli. Dyer, fol. 301. num. 41, 42. Camden in his Brit. fol. 319. mentions a Combata, between Alan de la Zouh, and John Earl of Warren, in the Year 1269. The last Trial by the Combata in England, was in the Sixth Year of King Charles the First, between Donald Lord Rey Appellant, and David Ramsay Elq; Defendant, both Scotchmen; but after many Formalities, the Matter was referred to the King's Will and Pleasure, whose Favour inclined to Ramsay. Baker's Chron. f. 500. See Co. on Little. f. 294. b. Origines Juridicales, fol. 65. and Spelman's Gloss. at large, verbo Campus.

Combata terra, and Cumba terra, does in some of our old Charters occur for a low Piece of Ground, from Sax. Cumbe, Brit. Kum or Cuum, Engl. Comb, a Valley, or low Place between two Hills; which is still so called in Devonshire and Cornwall. And many Villages in other Parts of England obtained their Name of Comb from their Situation. So Compton, Combwell, &c. See Mr. Kennet's Gloss. in voce Combe.

Combe in Domesday signifies a Valley, as Mr. Agar reports.

Combustio Pecuniar, The old way of trying mixt and corrupt Money, by melting it down upon Payments into the Exchequer. In the Time of King Henry II. the Bishop of Salisbury being Treasurer, considered, that though the Money did answer Numero & Pondere, it might be deficient in Value, because mixed with Copper or Brass. Therefore (consilio Regis, & Regis simul & publicae providere utilitati) a Constitution was made, called The Trial by Combustion. The Practice of which differed of little or nothing from the present Method of Assaying Silver. Vide Lownde's Essay upon Coin, p. 7. Whether this Examination of Money by Combustion was to reduce an Equation of Money only of Sterling, viz. a due Proportion of Alloy with Copper; or to reduce it to fine pure Silver without Alloy, doth not so easily appear. Vid. Hale of Sheriff's Accounts, p. 23.

Comin-seed, Semen Cumini, Is a Seed brought forth by an Herb so called, which you may see describ'd in Gerard's Herbal, lib. 2. c. 416. This is placed among the garbleable Drugs. f. Jac. 19.

Comitatu Commissio, Is a Writ, or Commission, whereby the Sheriff is authorised to take upon him the Command of the County. Reg. Orig. fol. 295. Co. Rep. lib. 3. fol. 72.

Comitatu & Castro Commissio, Is a Writ whereby the Charge of a County, together with the keeping of a Castle is committed to the Sheriff. Reg. Orig. f. 295. a.

Comitatus, a County. Inglulphus tells us that England was first divided into Counties by King Alfred, and Counties into Hundreds, and those again into Tithings; and Fortescue writes that Regnum Anglie per Comitatus ut regnum Francie per Balliatus distinguitur. Sometimes 'tis taken for the County-Court, as in Magna Charta, cap. 35. and Fleta, lib. 2. ca. 52. Nullus Comitatus teneatur nisi de mense in mensem. Sometimes 'tis taken for a Territory or a Jurisdiction of a particular Place, as in Mat. Paris. Anno 1234. Infra metas illas continentur quadam pradia & etiam Civitates & Castra, quas Comitatus suo assignare presumunt. So in Charta H. 2. apud Hoveden: Castellum de Nottingham cum Comitatu, &c. De frimis mortuis & debitis de quibus non est spes, fiat unus Rotulus, & intuletur Comitatus, & legatur singulis annis super Computum Vicecomitum. Claufr. 12 Ed. 1. M. 7. Dorfo.

Comitatus, Of dead Farms, and Debts despatched, whereof there is no hope, one Roll shall be made and intitled, Comitatus, and read every Year upon the account of Sheriffs. 10 E. 1. cap. unico.

Comitiva, i. e. a Companion or Fellow Traveller. 'Tis mentioned in Brompton in H. 2. viz. Allo suo mandavit ut sororem suam & Comitivam ejus reverenter susceperet. Sometimes it signifies a Troop or Company of Robbers, as in Walsingham, Anno 1366. Interpellaverunt auxilium Regis Anglie contra magnas Comitivas, &c.

Commandment, Preceptum, Is used diversly in the Common Law: Sometimes for the Commandment of the King, when, upon his meer Motion, and from his own Mouth, he sendeth any Man to Prison. Staudf. pl. cor. fol. 72. Commandment of the Justices. And this Commandment of the Justices is either Absolute or Ordinary. Absolute as when upon their own Authority, in their Wisdom and Discretion, they commit a Man to Prison for a Punishment. Ordinary, is when they commit one rather for safe Custody than Punishment: And a Man committed upon an Ordinary Commandment is bailable. Staudf. pl. cor. 73. Again, Commandment is used for the Offence of him that willett another Man to transgress the Law, or to do any Thing contrary to the Law, as Theft, Murder, and such like. Bract. lib. 3. traft. 2. cap. 19. Les Civilians appellant ee Commandment Angelus de maleficiis. Termes de la Ley, 145.

Commandry, (Preceptoría) was a Manor or chief Messuage, with Lands and Tenements appertaining thereto, belonging to the Priory of St. John of Jerusalem in England; and he who had the Government of any such Manor or House was called the Commander, who could not dispose of it but to the Use of the Priory, only taking thence his own Sustainance, according to his Degree, who was usually a Brother of the same Priory. New Eagle, in the County of Lincoln, was, and still is, called the Commandry of Eagle, and did anciently belong to the said Priory: So were Slebach in Pembroke-shire, and Shengay in Cambridge-shire, Commandries in the Time of the Knights-Templars, says Camden. — These in many Places of England are termed Temples; as Temple Bruere in Lincolnshire, Temple Newsum in Yorkshire, &c. because they formerly belonged to the said Templers. Of these read Anno 26 H. 8. c. 2. and 32 ejusdem, c. 24. See Preceptories.

Commeatura, A Commandry, Preceptory or Portion of House and Lands, for the Accommodation of some Religious, especially the Knights-Templars. — Dominis Ordinis Divo Maria Virginis (quas vulgo Fratrum Teutonorum vocant) certa bona temporalia ac redditus empti sunt — unde ex bonorum esse Praefectura ejus ordinis aliquot, (quas vulgo Ballivas, ac a commeatu ordini parando commeaturas vocant) distincta sunt & terminata per classes. — Append. ad Falcie. Rerum. Vol. 2. p. 363.

emmen. au. (Ecclesia commendata, vel custodia Ecclesie alicui commissa) Is a Benefice, or Church-Living, that being void, is commended to the Care of some sufficient Clerk, to be supplied, till it may be conveniently provided of a Pastor: And that this was the true Original of this Practice, may be read at large in Durandus de Sacris Ecclesie Ministeriis & Beneficiis, lib. 5. cap. 7. He to whom the Church is commended hath the Fruits and Profits thereof only for a certain Time, and the Nature of the Church is not changed thereby, but is as a Thing deposited in the Hands of him to whom it is commended, who hath nothing but the Custody thereof, which may be revoked. When a Person is made a Bishop, there is a Cession of his Benefice by the Promotion; but if the King gives him Power to retain his Benefice, he shall continue Parson, and is said to hold it in Commendam. Hob. Rep. fol. 144. Latches Rep. 237, 237. See Ecclesia commendata in Gloss. 10. script.

Commendatary (Commendatarius) is he that hath a Church-Living in Commendam; which see.

Commendatory Letters are such which are writ by one Bishop to another, in behalf of any of his Clergy, or other of his Diocese, travelling thither, that they may be received among the Faithful, or that the Clerk made be promoted, or that Necessaries may be administered to both. Several Forms of these Letters may be seen in our Historians, as in Bede. Lib. 2. ca. 18. Simeon of Durham, Anno 1125, &c.

Commendati Domini, Persons who by voluntary Homage, put themselves under the Protection of any superior Lord. For ancient Homage was either Predial, due for some Tenure; or Personal, which was either by Compulsion, as a Sign of necessary Subjection; or Voluntary, with a Desire of Protection. And those who by doing voluntary Homage put themselves under the Protection of any Man of Power, were said Commendare se in manus ejus, and were therefore sometimes called Homines ejus commendati; and sometimes simply Commendati, as often in Domesday-Book. Tho' we have lost the Meaning of the Phrase, yet we use it in this Complement, Commend me to such a Friend, which is no less than, Let him know I am his humble Servant. Vide Spelman of Feuds, cap. 20.

Commendati dimidi, Persons who depended on two several Lords, and were to pay one half of their Homage to this, the other to that. Subcommendati were such, as like Under-Tenants, were under Command of those who were themselves depending on a superior Lord. And again,

Dimidi;

Dimidii Subcommendati, who bear a double Relation to such depending Lords. — Lib. Domestday, Suffolk. — In parva Thornham duo liberi Homines, unus eorum fuit Commendatus Ulreua & alter Dimidius Subcommendatus Antecessori Maler.

Commendatus. In eadem Villa tenet Alloi Commendatus Antecessori (Maller) 60 Acres pro Manerio Domestday, Suffolk. One that lives under the Protection of a great Man. Differre videntur Vassallus, Affidatus, & Commendatus; Hic nempe Patrono teneri fide & obsequio, sine iuramento aut aliqua tenura; Ille fide & iuramento, sed itemque sine tenura; Vassallus autem his omnibus, says Spelman.

Commerciones, Commer-iones, those who live in the Confines or utmost Limits of a Place. Si quis inter Commerciones regni nostri roberiam faciat. Du Cange.

Communitate, or rather Communality, or Commonalty; Signifies the middle Sort of the King's Subjects, 2 Inst. fol. 539. Tout le Commune d'Angleterre, are such of the Commons as raised beyond the ordinary Peasants, come to have the managing of Offices, and by that Means are one Degree under Burgeses, which are superior to them both in Order and Authority, as in Companies incorporated, they are said to consist of Master, Wardens and Commonalty; the first two being the Chief, the middle Sort such as are usually called Of the Livery. See Communitas Regni. Blount says that this Word Commonalty includes all the King's Subjects. As in Articul. Super Chart. 28 Ed. 1. cap. 1. Tout le Commune d'Angleterre signifies all the People of England.

Communiary, Commissarius, is a Title of Ecclesiastical Jurisdiction, appertaining to such a one as exerciseth Spiritual Jurisdiction (at the least so far as his Commission permitteth) in Places of the Diocese so far distant from the chief City, as the Chancellor cannot call the Subjects to the Bishop's principal Consistory, without their too great Molestation. This Commisary is by the Canonists termed Commissarius, or Officialis forane us. Lyndewode's Provin. c. 1. de Accusat. &c. And he is ordained to this especial End, That he supply the Bishop's Jurisdiction and Office, in the Out-Places of his Diocese, or else in such Parishes as be peculiar to the Bishop and exempted from the Jurisdiction of the Archdeacon; for where either by Prescription or Composition, there be Archdeacons that have Jurisdiction within their Archdeacons, as in most Places they there have, this Commisary is superfluous, and most commonly doth rather vex and disturb the Country for his Luere, than of Conscience seek to redress the Lives of Offenders. And therefore the Bishop taking Protection-money of his Archdeacons yearly pro exteriori Jurisdictione, as it is ordinarily called, doth by supererogating their Circuit with a Commisary, not only wrong the Archdeacons, but the poorer Sort of Subjects much more, as common Practice too frequent teacheth.

Commission. Commisso, Is for the most Part in the Understanding of the Law, as much as Delegatio with the Civilians. (See Broke, Tit. Commission) and is taken for the Warrant, or Letters Patent, that all Men exercising Jurisdiction either ordinary or extraordinary, have for their Power to hear, or determine any Cause or Action. Of these, see divers in the Table of the Register Original, verbo Commissio; yet this Word sometimes is extended further than to Matters of Judgment; as the Commission of Purveyors. 11 H. 4. cap. 28. But with the Epithet (High) is used for the Honourable Commission-Court, instituted and founded upon the Statute 1 Eliz. cap. 1. but for divers Reasons utterly abolished and taken away by the Statute made 16, 17 Car. 1. cap. 10. and that again explained by another Act, 13 Car. 2. cap. 2.

Commission of Association, Mentioned 18 El. cap. 9. Is a Commission under the Great Seal, to associate two or more learned Persons, with the several Justices in the several Circuits and Counties in Wales.

Commission of Anticipation, Was a Commission under the Great Seal, to collect a Subsidy before the Day, Anno 5 H. 8. Co. 12. Rep. fol. 120.

Commission of Rebellion, Commissio Rebellionis, Is otherwise called A Writ of Rebellion, Breve Rebellionis, and issues when a Man (after Proclamation issued out of the Chancery or Exchequer, and made by the Sheriff, to present himself under Pain of his Allegiance to the Court by a certain Day) appears not. And this Commission is directed by the way of Command to certain Persons, to the End, that they, three, two, or one of them do apprehend, or cause to be apprehended the Party as a Rebel and Contemner of the King's Laws, wheresoever they find him within the Kingdom, and bring him, or cause him to be brought to the Court, upon a Day therein assigned. The true Copy of this Commission or Writ, you have in Crompt. Jurist. Court de Star-Chamber, as also in West. touching Proceedings in Chancery, sect. 24.

Commissioner, Commissionarius, Is he that hath Commission, as Letters Patent, or other lawful Warrant, to execute any publick Office, as Commissioners of the Office of Fines, and Licentes; West. Part. 2. Symbol Tit. Fines, sect. 106. Commissioners in Eyre, Anno 3 E. 1. c. 26. Commissioners of Sewers, 23 H. 8. 5. 12 Car. 2. ca. 6. with infinite other such like.

Considerer, Is he or they to whom the Consideration, or Ordering of any Matter is referred, either by some Court, or Consent of Parties to whom it belongeth. As in Parliament, a Bill being read, is either consented unto and passed, or denied; or neither of both, but referred to the Consideration of some discreet Men appointed by the House farther to examine it, who thereupon are called Committees: Committee of the King. West. Par. 2. Symb. Tit. Chancery, sect. 144. This Word seemeth to be something strangely used in Kitchin, fol. 160. where the Widow of the King's Tenant being dead, is called The Committee of the King; that is, one committed by the ancient Law of the Land to the King's Care and Protection.

Commoinant, Fr. a Fellow-Monk, that lives in the same Convent. 3 Part. 1rst. f. 15.

Common (Commune, i. e. Quod ad omnes pertinet) signifies that Soil or Water whereof the Use is Common to this or that Town or Lordship; as Common of Pasture, (Commune Pasturæ). Bracton, lib. 4. cap. 19, & 40. Common of Fishing, (Commune Piscariæ). Idem, lib. 2. c. 34. Common of Turbarry, (Commune Turbariæ, i. e. of digging Turves). Idem, lib. 4. c. 41. Common of Estover, (Commune Estoveriorum). Kitchin, f. 94, &c. Common is divided into Common in Gross, Common Appendant, Common Appurtenant, and Common per Cause de Vicinage.

Common in Gros is a Liberty to have Common alone, that is, without any Land or Tenement, in another Man's Land, to himself for Life, or to him and his Heirs; and it is commonly passed by Deed of Grant or Specialty. Old Nat. Br. f. 31, & 37.

Common Appendant and Common Appurtenant are in a Manner confounded, as appears by Fitz. Nat. Br. fol. 180. and are defined to be a Liberty of Common appertaining to, or depending on, such and such a Freehold; which Common must be taken with Beasts commonable, as Horses, Oxen, Kine, and Sheep, being accounted fittest for the Ploughman; and not of Goats, Geese, and Hogs. But some make this Difference, That Common appurtenant may be severed from the Land whereunto it appertains, but not Common Appendant; which (according to Sir Edward Coke, lib. 4. f. 37.) had this Beginning: — When a Lord enfeoffed another in arable Lands, to hold of him in Socage, the Feoffee, to maintain the Service of his Plough, had at first, by the Courtesy or Permission of his Lord, Common in his Waifes for necessary Beasts, to ear and compost his Land; and that for two Causes: One, for that it was tacitly implied in the Feoffment, by reason the Feoffee could not till or compost his Land without Cattle, and Cattle could not be sustained without Pasture; so by Consequence the Feoffee had, as a Thing necessary and incident, Common in the Waifes and Land of the Lord. And this appears by the ancient Books, Temp. Ed. 1. Tit. Common 24. and 17 Ed. 2. Tit. Common 23. and 20 Ed. 3. Tit. Admesurement 8. and by the Statute of Merton, cap. 4. The second Reason was, for Maintenance and Advancement of Tillage, which is much regarded and favoured by the Law.

Common per cause de Vicinage, (i. e. Common by reason of Neighbourhood) is a Liberty that the Tenants of one Lord in one Town have to Common with the Tenants of another Lord in another Town. Those that challenge this Kind of Common, (which is usually called Intercommoning) may not put their Cattle in the Common of the other Town; for then they are distrainable; but turning them into their own Fields, if they stray into the Neighbour Common, they must be suffered. Common of Pasture the Civilians call Fus compascendi.

Common Bench, (Bancus Communis, from the Sax. Banc. i. e. a Bank or Hillock, and metaphorically a Bench, High Seat, or Tribunal.) The Court of Common Pleas was anciently so called, An. 2. Ed. 3. ca. 11. because (saith Camden in his Britain, pag. 113.) Communia Placita inter subditos ex jure nostro, quod Commune vocant, in hoc disceptantur, that is, The Pleas or Controversies between common Persons are there tried. And the Justices of that Court in legal Records are term'd Jusficiarii de Banco. Coke on Littl. f. 71. b. See Common Pleas.

Common Day in Pleas of Land (Anno 13 Ric. 2. Stat. 1. cap. 17.) signifies an ordinary Day in Court, as Ostabis Hillarii, Quindena Pasche, &c. which you may see in the Statute of 51 Hen. 3. concerning general Days in the Bench.

Common Fine, Finis Communis: Of this Fleta, lib. 1. c. 48. sect. quibus, hath these Words, Quibus expeditis (speaking of the Business finished by Justices in Eyre) consequuntur Jusficiarii imponere villatis, juratoribus hundredis & toti comitatu conclamentum, & omnes separatim amerciare, quod videtur volun- tarium, cum de perjurio & conclamento non fuerint convicti, sed potius dispensandum esset cum eis quod animas in fratera posuerint pro pacis conservatione. And a little following he saith, Quod communes misericordie, vel fines comitatum amerciatorum in finibus itinerum Jusficiariorum, &c. Common Fine is a certain Sum of Money which the Resiants, within the View of some Leets, pay to the Lord thereof, called in divers Places Head-Silver, in others Cert-Money, or Certum Leta, and Head-Pence; and was first granted to the Lord towards the Charge of his Purchase of the Court-Leet, whereby the Resiants had now the Ease to do their Suit Royal nearer Home, and not to be compelled to go to the Sheriff's Turn: As in the Manor of Sheephead, in Com. Leic. every Resiant pays 1 d. per Poll to the Lord at the Court held after Micbaelmas, which is there called Common Fine. There is also Common Fine of the County; for which see Fleta, lib. 7. c. 48. and the Statute of 3 Ed. 1. cap. 18. But the Clerk of the Market shall take no Common Fine, Anno 13 R. 2. cap. 4. For Common Fine the Lord cannot distrain without a Prescription. Godfrey's Case, Coke's 11 Reports. See Cert-Money.

Commons House of Parliament is so called, because the Commons of the Realm, that is, Knights, Citizens, and Burgesses, representing them, do sit there. Crompt. Jurisd. 9.

Common Intendment is Common Understanding or Meaning according to the subject Matter, not strained to an exotick Sense. Bar to Common Intendment is an ordinary or general Bar, which commonly disables the Declaration of the Plaintiff. Of Common Intendment, a Will shall not be supposed to be made by Collusion. Coke on Littl. f. 78. b. See Intendment.

Common Law. After the Decay of the Roman Empire, three Sorts of the German People invaded the Britons, viz. the Saxons, the Angles, who were a neighbouring People, and the Futes: From the last came the Kentish Men, and the Inhabitants of the Isle of Wight; from the Saxons came the People called East, South, and West Saxons; and from the Angles came the East Angles, Mercians, and Northumbrians. As these People had different Customs, so they inclined to the different Laws by which their Ancestors were governed; but the Customs of the West Saxons and Mercians, who dwelt in the Midland Counties, being preferred before the Rest, were for that Reason called Fus Anglorum; but the particular Names were West Saxonlage, and Merbenlage; and by these Laws those People were governed for many Ages. But the East Saxons being afterwards subdued by the Danes, their Customs were introduced, and a third Law was substituted, which was called Dane-Lage.

The Danes being overcome by the Normans, Henry Bishop of Winchester, who was nearly related to the Conqueror, told our Historian Geoffrey of Tilbury, That upon due Consideration of all those Laws and Customs the Conqueror abrogated some, and established others; to which he added some of his Country Laws, which he adjudged most to conduce to the Preservation of the Peace, and the Quiet and Ease of the People. And this is what we now call the Common Law.

Not that this was the Original of the Common Law; for Ethelbert, the first Christian King of this Nation, who lived in the sixth Century, made the first Saxon Laws, which were published in English by the Advice of some Wise Men, whom he called to his Assistance, which continue to this Day. 'Tis true, King Alfred, who lived 300 Years afterwards, is called Magnus juris Anglicani Conditor: Not because he first made that Law, but because, being the first sole Monarch after the Heptarchy, he collected all the Saxon Laws (which were made in the Space of 300 Years) into one Book, that is, he collected the best, and rejected the rest, and commanding them to be observed through the whole Kingdom, which before affected only several Parts thereof, it was therefore properly called the Common Law, because it was common to the whole Nation; and soon after it was called the Folk Right, i. e. the People's Right. The Word Common Law hath three Significations: First, It is taken for the Laws of this Realm simply, without any other Law joined to it; as when it is disputed what ought of Right to be determined by the Common Law, and what by the Spiritual Law, or Admiral's Court, or the like. Secondly, For the King's Court, as the King's Bench or Common Pleas, only to shew a Difference between them and the bafe Courts, as Customary Courts, Court-Barons, County-Courts, Pipowders, and such like; as when a Plea of Land is removed out of ancient Demefn because the Land is Frank-fee, and pleadable at the Common Law, that is, in the King's Court, and not in ancient Demefn, or any other bafe Court. Thirdly, and most usually, by the Common Law, is understood such Laws as were generally taken and holden for Law, before any Statute was made to alter the same; as, neither Tenant for Life, nor for Years, were punishable by the Common Law for doing Waste till the Statute of Glouc. cap. 5. was made, which gives Action of Waste against them: But Tenant by Courtesy, and Tenant in Dower, were punishable for it before the said Statute. See Law, and Merchandise.

Common Pleas, Communia Placita, Is the King's Court now held in Westminster-Hall, but in ancient Time moveable; as appears by Magna Charta, cap. 11. and also 2 E. 3. cap. 11. & Pu-billa oculi, Part 5. cap. 22. But Mr. Guin in the Preface to his Reading saith, That until the Time that Henry the Third granted the Great Charter, there were but two Courts in all, called The King's Courts; whereof one was the Exchequer, the other the King's Bench, which was then called Curia Domini Regis, and Aula Regia, because it followed the King and Court: And that upon the Grant of that Charter, the Court of Common Pleas was erected, and settled in one certain Place, viz. Westminster. And because this Court was settled at Westminster, therefore after that, all Writs ran, Quod sit coram Justiciariis nostris apud Westmonasterium; whereas before it was, Coram me vel Justiciariis meis, simply without Addition of Place, as he well observeth out of Glanville and Bracton: The one writing in Henry the Second's Time, before the Court was erected; the other in the later Time of Henry the Third, who erected this Court. All Civil Causes, both Real and Personal, are or were in former Times tried in this Court according to the strict Law of the Realm. And by Fortescue, cap. 50. it seemeth to have been the only Court for real Causes: The Chief Judge of that Court is called The Lord Chief Justice of the Common Pleas, assisted with three or four Associates, which are created by Letters Patent from the King, and, as it were, installed or placed upon the Bench by the Lord Chancellor and Lord Chief Justice of the Court; as appeareth by Fortescue, cap. 51. who expresses all the Circumstances of this Admission. The rest of the Officers belonging to this Court, are, The Custos Brevium, three Prothonotaries, Chirographer, fourteen Filicers, four Exigentes, Clerk of the Warrants, Clerk of the Juries, or Jurata Writs, Clerk of the King's Silver, Clerk of the Treasury, Clerk of the Exchequer, Clerk of the Outlawries: whose distinct Functions look in their proper Places. See Common Bench, and 4 Inst. fol. 99.

Commote, (Br. Commotio, i. e. Provincia,) in Wales, is half a Cantred or Hundred, containing fifty Villages. Stat. Wallie, 12 Ed. 1. and 21 H. 3. c. 26. Wales was anciently divided into three Provinces, North Wales, South Wales, and West Wales, otherwise called Powysland; and each of these were again subdivided into Cantreds, and every Cantred into Commotes. Sir Jo. Dodridge's History of Wales, fol. 2. So Breknokshire is found to have three Cantreds, and eight Commotes. History of Wales. It signifies also a great Seignior, and may include one or divers Manors. Coke on Litt. fol. 5. 'Tis Sir Henry Spelman's Opinion, that a Commote is half an Hundred; but Syloester Giraldus, in his Itinerary of Wales, tell us 'tis but a Quarter of an Hundred, viz. Gruffino filio Regis unius Commoti solum, id est, quarta partis Cantredii, &c. Itinerar. lib. 1. c. 2.

Communance. The Commoners, or Tenants and Inhabitants, who had the Right of Common, or Commoning in open Fields, or Woods, were formerly called the Communance and Communance, Communa or Communia Pastura, the Common Pasture: And Communare, to enjoy the Right of Common.

Commune. See Comminality.

Commune Concilium Regni Angliæ, The Common Council of the King and People, assembled in Parliament. See Parliament.

Communia placita non tenenda in Staccatio is a Writ directed to the Treasurer and Barons of the Exchequer, forbidding them to hold Plea between Common Persons in that Court, where neither of them belong thereto. Reg. of Writs, fol. 187. b.

Communication, (Communicatio,) a Talking, Consultation, or Conferring with. Where there is only a Parley betwixt two, and no perfect Agreement, that is, no such Contract between 'em as on which to ground an Action, it is called a Communication.

Communi Custodia is a Writ that did lie for that Lord whose Tenant, holding by Knight's Service, died, and left his eldest Son under Age, against a Stranger that entered the Land, and obtained the Ward of the Body. Old Nat. Er. fol. 89. But this Writ is become obsolete since Wardships were taken away by the Stat. 12 Car. 2. cap. 24.

Communitas Regni. Tota terra communitas, Regni totius communitas. These Phrases have been of late Years thought to signify the ordinary People, and Freeholders; or at best Knights and Gentlemen, under the Degree of Barons, as if they were the Community of the Land, and had been always so esteemed. But anciently the Barons only, and Tenants in Capite, or Military Men, were the Community of the Kingdom, and those only meant, taken and reputed as such in our most ancient Historians and Records. See Dr. Brady's Glossary, at the End of his Introduction to Eng. Hist.

Comorth, (Comortha.) from the British Cymorth, (Subsidium) a Contribution; Subsidium a pluribus collatum. Anno 4 H. 4. c. 27. 26 Hen. 8. c. 6. prohibits the Levying any such in Wales, or the Marches, &c. It seems this Comorth was gathered at Marriages, and when young Priests said or sung their first Masses, and sometimes for Redemption of Murders or Felonies.

Companage, Fr. all Kind of Food, except Bread and Drink. Some Tenants of the Manor of Feskerton in Com. Nott. when they performed their Boons or Work-days to their Lord, had three Boon Loaves with Companage allowed them. Reg. de Thurgarton, cited in the Antiquity of Nottinghamshire. Yet the learned Spelman interprets it to be Quicquid cibi cum pane sumitur. But in the Cartular. Abbat. Glasfion. MS. pag. 74. we find In pane, vino, & cervisia, pisco, sive alio quocunque genere Companagii, sive leguminis.

Companion of the Garter, Is one of the Knights of that most Honourable Order. 24 H. 8. c. 15. See Garter.

Compellatibum, an Adversary or Accuser, Among the Laws of King Athelstan we read that the Bishop should in Compellativum adlegiationem docere ne quis alium perperam cogat jurejurando vel in ordalio.

Compertorium, A judicial Inquest in the Civil Law, made by Delegates, or Commissioners to find out, or relate the Truth of a Cause. — Et in carnisbus porcinis emptis pro Clericis Domini Archiepiscopi super Compertorium apud Buresfve. — Paroch. Antiq. p. 575.

Compositio mensurarum, Is the Title of an ancient Ordinance for Measures, not printed, and mentioned in the Statute of 23 Hen. 8. cap. 4.

Compositum, Compost, or Dung. Compostare, to lay on such Compost. — Walterus Archiepiscopus Cantuar. remisit H. Priori & Conventui Ecclesie Cantuar. manerium suum de Caldecote. — & Predicti Prior & Conventus terras predicti manerii saldabunt & compostabunt de exitu bestiarum ibidem. Dat. 15 Jul. 1326. Registr. Ecclesie Christi Cantuar. MS.

Comprint, Properly signifies to print together; but as it is used in common Speech among Dealers in Books, it intends a surreptitious Printing of another's Copy, to make a Gain thereby to himself. This is contrary to the Statute made 14 Car. 2. cap. 33. 16 Car. 2. cap. 6. & 16 & 17 Car. 2. cap. 7. and 17 Car. 2. cap. 4. apud Oxon.

Compromise, Compromissum. We usually say Compromise, is a mutual Promise of two or more Parties at Difference, to refer the Ending of their Controversies to the Arbitrement and Equity of one or more Arbitrators. West. par. 2. Symb. Tit. Compromise, sect. 1. defines it thus, A Compromise or Submission, is the Faculty or Power of pronouncing Sentence between Parties at Controversy, given to Arbitrators by the Parties mutual private Consent, without publick Authority.

Comptroller. See Controller.

Compurgator, one that by Oath justifies another's Innocence. See Law and Oath.

Computation, Is used in the Common Law for the true and indifferent Construction of Time, so that neither the one Party nor the other shall do Wrong, nor the Determination of Times referr'd at large, be taken one way or other, but computed according to the just Censure of the Law. As if Indentures of Demise are ingrossed, bearing

Date the eleventh Day of May 1669. To Have and to Hold the Land in S. for three Years from henceforth, and the Indentures are delivered the fourth Day of June, in the Year aforesaid: In this Case, From henceforth shall be accounted from the Day of the Delivery of the Indentures, and not by any Computation from the Date: And if the said Indenture be delivered at four of the Clock in the Afternoon of the said fourth Day, this Lease shall End the third Day of June, in the third Year; for the Law in this Computation rejects all Fractions, or Divisions of the Day, for the Incertainty, which always is the Mother of Contention; so where the Statute of Inrolments made Anno 27 H. 8. c. 16. is, That the Writings shall be inrolled within six Months after the Date of the same Writings indented; if such Writings have Date, the six Months shall be accounted from the Date, and not from the Delivery; but if it want Date, then shall it be accounted from the Delivery. Co. lib. 5. fol. 1. If any Deed be shewed to a Court at Westminster, the Deed, by Judgment of the Law, shall remain in Court all the Term in which it is shewed, for all the Term in Law is but as one Day. Co. lib. 5. fol. 1. If a Church be void, and the true Patron doth not present within six Months, then the Bishop of the Diocese may collate his Chaplain; but these six Months shall not be computed according to the twenty-eight Days to the Month, but according to the Calendar: And there is great Diversity in our common Speech in the singular Number, as a Twelve-Month, which includes all the Year, according to the Calendar; and Twelve Months, which shall be computed according to 28 Days to every Month. Co. lib. 6. fol. 61. b.

Computo, Is a Writ so called of the Effect, because it compelleth a Bailiff, Receiver, or Chamberlain, to yield his Account. Old Nat. Brev. fol. 58. It is founded upon the Statute of West. 2. cap. 2. Anno 13 E. 1. which, for your better Understanding, you may read. And it lieth also for Executors of Executors. 15 E. 3. Stat. de Provif. Viſual. cap. 5. Thirdly, Against the Guardian in Socage, for Waste made in the Minority of the Heir. Marlb. cap. 7. And see farther, where, how, and for what it lies. Reg. Orig. f. 135. Old Nat. Brev. ubi supra, & F. N. B. fol. 116.

Con, the same with Ken.

Conable, (Fr. Convenable, i. e. Convenient or Fitting.) — We ordain that there be made a Wache of Conabyll heythe, cressyd with Dikes of Herne, to fore the Entry of your Rechynne, that no Strange Droppille may enter with certain Clockets, aduised be you, and be your Steward to such Persons, as you and them think honest and Conabel. Artic. Decani & Capit. Sti. Pauli Priorat. S. Helenæ. Dat. 21 Junii, 1439.

Contagu, the Barony of Kendall.

Concealers (Concelatores) are such as find out concealed Lands, that is, such Lands as are privily kept from the King by common Persons, having nothing to shew for their Title or Estate therein. Anno 39 Eliz. cap. 22. and 21 Jac. cap. 2. They are so called from Concelando, as Mons from Movendo, per Antiphrasin. See 3 Part. Inst. fol. 188. where the Author calls them Turbidum hominum genus.

Concessi, A Word of frequent Use in Conveyances, creating a Covenant in Law; as Dedi makes a Warranty. Co. on Lit. fol. 384.

Concionator, A Common Council-Man, a M. t. Worth, a Freeman called to the Hall, or Assembly. — Quodam tempore cum convenissent Concionatores Angliæ apud Londoniam, &c. Histo. Elic. Edit. Gale, cap. 46.

Conclufion, Conclufio, Is when a Man by his own Aſt upon Record, hath charged himſelf with a Duty, or other Thing. As if a Freeman confeſs himſelf to be the Villain of A. upon Record, and afterward A. takes his Goods, he ſhall be concluded to lay in any Aſtion or Plea afterwards, that he is free, by Reaſon of his own Confeſſion. So if the Sheriff upon a Capias to him directed, returns that he hath taken the Body, and yet hath not the Body in Court at the Day of the Return; he ſhall be amerced, and if it were upon a Capias ad Satisfac. the Plaintiff may have his Aſtion againſt the Sheriff for the Eſcape; for by ſuch Returns the Sheriff hath concluded himſelf. And this Word Conclufion is taken in another Senſe, as for the End or laſt Part of any Declaration, Bar, Replication, &c. As where to the Bar there ought to be a Replication, the Conclufion of his Plea ſhall be, Et hoc paratus eſt verificare. If in Dower, the Tenant pleads, That he was never ſeized to render Dower, the Conclufion ſhall be, Et de hoc ponit ſe ſuper Patriam. And in what manner the Conclufion ſhall be, according to the Nature of ſeveral Aſſions, ſee Kitchin, fol. 219, 220.

Concord, Concordia, Is in the Common Law, by a peculiar Signification, defined to be the very Agreement between Parties, that intend the Levying of a Fine of Lands one to the other, how, and in what Manner the Land ſhall paſs: In the Form whereof, many Things are to be conſidered. Weſt. part. 2. Symb. Tit. Fines and Concords, ſect. 30. whom read at large. Concord is alſo an Agreement made upon any Trefpaſs committed between two or more, and is divided into a Concord executory, and Concord executed. See Plowd. fol. 5 & 6. Reniger and Fogaffa's Caſe, where it appeareth by ſome Opinions, That the one bindeth not, as being imperfect; the other abſolute, and ties the Parties: And yet by ſome other Opinions in the ſame Caſe, it is affirmed, That Agreements executory be perfect, and no leſs bind than Agreements executed, f. 8. b.

Concubaria, A Fold, a Pen, or Place where Cattle lie together. — Willielmus de Putot concedit Hospitali de Theleford unam dimidiam virgata terre in Eſſora — quiete & integre in viis, ſemitiis, terris, pratis, concubariis & paſturis, cum omnibus aſſamentis. — Cartular. de Theliſford. MS.

Concubinage Fr. ſignifies properly the keeping a Whore for one's own filthy Uſe: But it is uſ'd as an Exception againſt her who ſues for Dower, alledging thereby that ſhe was not Wife lawfully married to the Party, in whoſe Lands ſhe ſeeks to be endowed, but his Concubine. Briton, c. 107. Bracton, lib. 4. tract. 6. cap. 8. who tells us, That Concubinage may be lawful, Quoad heredem & hereditatis Succeſſionem; but not Quoad dotem, Lib. 3. c. 28. By which it muſt not be intended ſuch a Concubinage which tends to Fornication; but ſuch as was allowed in Scripture to the Patriarchs, viz. Secundum legem Matrimonii, infra dignitatem tamen uxoris ducitur.

Condate. Congleton in Cheſhire.

Condercum, Cheſter upon the Street, in the Biſhoprick of Durham.

Conders, May ſeem to proceed from the French Conduire, i. e. Gubernare; they be ſuch as ſtand upon high Places near the Sea-Coaſts, at the Time of Herring-fiſhing, to make ſigns with Boughs, &c. in their Hands unto the Fiſhers, which way the Shoale of Herrings paſſeth; for that doth appear better to ſuch as ſtand upon ſome high Clift on the Shore, by a Kind of blue Colour that the ſaid Fiſh cauſeth in the Water, than to thoſe that be in the Ships. Theſe be otherwiſe called Hewers, (probably from the French Huyer, exclamare) and Balkers, Directors, and Guiders, as appeareth by the Statute Anno 1 Jacobi, cap. 23.

Condi, a Ridge of Land: Quandam parcelam cuiusdam Condis juxta campum ipſorum. Du Fresne.

Condition, Conditio, Is a Reftraint or Bridle annexed to a Thing, ſo that by the not Performance, the Party to it ſhall receive Prejudice and Loſs, and by the Performance, Commodity and Advantage. Weſt. part. 1. Symb. lib. 2. ſect. 156. and Co. lib. 3. Pennant's Caſe, f. 64. Of theſe Conditions there are divers Kinds, Condition collateral, Condition in Faſt, Condition in Law, Condition expreſt, and Condition imply'd, &c. Condition collateral, is that which is annexed to any collateral Aſt, as that the Leſſee ſhall not go to Canterbury. Co. lib. 3. fol. 65. Condition in Faſt, is that which is expreſt in plain Words in any Feoffment, Leaſe or Grant: Condition in Law is imply'd, though not at all expreſt in the Grant. Alſo Conditions are either precedent, and going before the Eſtate, and are executed, or elſe ſubſequent and executory. Condition precedent, doth get and gain the Thing or Eſtate made upon that Condition, by the Performance of it. Condition ſubſequent, keeps and continues the Thing or Eſtate made upon Condition, by the Performance of it. Condition precedent is, when a Leaſe is made for Life to one upon Condition, That if the Leſſee will pay to the Lefſor 20 li. at ſuch a Day, then he ſhall have Fee-fimple: Here the Condition precedes the Eſtate in Fee-fimple, and upon Performance of the Condition, gains the Fee-fimple. Condition ſubſequent is, when one grants to J. S. his Manor of Dale in Fee-fimple, upon Condition, That the Grantee ſhall pay to him at ſuch a Day 20 li. or elſe that his Eſtate ſhall ceaſe; here the Condition is ſubſequent, and following the Eſtate in Fee, and upon the Performance thereof continues the Eſtate. See more of this in Co. lib. 3. f. 64. and in Lit. lib. 3. c. 5. and Perkins in the laſt Title Of Conditions.

Conc and Key. Bracton, lib. 2, c. 37. num. 3. Fœmina in tali etate, (i. e. 14 & 15 Annorum) poſteſt diſponere Domui ſuæ & habere Conc & Key, Colne, in the Saxons, ſignifies Calculus, Computus; and Key, Clavis. So that a Woman was then held to be of competent Years, when ſhe was able to keep the Accounts and Keys of the Houſe; And Glan. lib. 7. cap. 9. hath ſomewhat to the ſame Purpoſe.

Confederacy (Confœderatio) is when two or more confederate or combine themſelves to do any Damage to another, or to commit any unlawful Aſt. And tho' a Writ of Conſpiracy does not lie, if the Party be not indicted, and in lawful Manner acquitted, for ſo are the Words of the Writ; yet falſe Confederacy between divers Perſons ſhall be puniſhed, tho' nothing be put in Execution; which appears by the Book of 27 Aſſiſ

Placit. 44. where two were indicted of Confederacy, each to maintain other, whether their Matter were true or false; and tho' nothing were supposed to be put in Practice, the Parties were enjoined to answer, since the Thing is forbidden by Law. So in the next Article, in the same Book, Enquiry shall be made of Conspirators and Confederators, which bind themselves together, &c. This Confederacy, punishable by Law before it be executed, ought to have four Incidents: First, It must be declared by some Matter of Prosecution, as by making of Bonds or Promises the one to the other. Secondly, Malicious, as for unjust Revenge. Thirdly, It ought to be false, against an Innocent. Lastly, To be out of Court, voluntarily. Terms de la Ley.

Confession of Offence, Is, when a Prisoner is appealed or indicted of Treason or Felony, and brought to the Bar to be arraigned, and his Indictment is read unto him: And the Court demands what he can say thereto, then either he confesses the Offence, and the Indictment to be true, or estranging him from the Offence, pleads Not guilty, or else gives an indirect Answer, and so in Effect stands Mute. Confession may be made in two Sorts, and to two several Ends. The one is, He may confess the Offence whereof he is indicted openly in the Court, before the Judge, and submit himself to the Censure and Judgment of the Law, which Confession is the most certain Answer, and best Satisfaction that may be given to the Judge to condemn the Offender; so that it proceeds freely of his own accord, without any Threats, Force, or Extremity used: For if the Confession arise from any of these Causes, it ought not to be recorded. As if a Woman was indicted for the felonious Taking of Bread, to the Value of two Shillings, and being thereof arraigned, she confess the Felony, and said, That she did it by the Commandment of her Husband; and the Judges, in Pity, would not record her Confession, but caused her to plead Not guilty to the Felony; whereupon the Jury found, That she stole the Bread by Compulsion of her Husband, against her Will, for which Cause she was discharged. 27 Assis. pl. 50. The other Kind of Confession is, when the Prisoner confesses the Indictment to be true, and that he committed the Offence whereof he is indicted, and then becomes an Approver, that is, an Accuser of others, who have committed the same Offence whereof he is indicted, or other Offences with him; and then prays the Judge to have a Coroner assigned him, to whom he may make Relation of those Offences, and the full Circumstances thereof. There is also a third Kind of Confession made by an Offender in Felony, which is not in Court before the Judge, as the other two are; but before a Coroner in a Church, or other privileged Place, upon which the Offender, by the ancient Law of the Realm, was to abjure.

Confessor. Confessarius, a Confessionibus. The Priest, who received the auricular Confession, had the Title of Confessor. Though improperly; for he is rather the Confessee, being the Person passive, to whom the Confession is made, or at least the Confessary, who receives the Confession, or the Confessionary. This receiving the Confession of a Penitent, was in the old Engl. to shrove, or to shrive, Sax. Scrifan; whence the Party confessed was Bescriven; whence our Engl. Beskriv'd, or looking like a confessed or shriv'd Person, imputed some uneasy Penance; Hence to beskrive, is to imprecate, or denounce the Curse of Sin as Confession. The act of Confession was called Scrifde, whence possibly to shift or shuffle in Discourse, like People who are ashamed or afraid to tell all their Faults. The most solemn Time of confessing was the Day before Lent, which from thence is still called Shrove-Tuesday.

Confirmation, Confirmatio, Cometh of the Verb Confirmare, quod est firmum facere; and therefore it is said, That Confirmatio omnes supplet defectus, licet id quod actum est, ab initio non valuit. Co. on Lit. lib. 3. cap. 9. sect. 515. It is a Conveyance of an Estate or Right in esse, whereby a voidable Estate is made sure and unavoidable, or whereby a particular Estate is increased. Nay, it is a strengthening of an Estate formerly, and yet voidable, though not presently void. For Example, a Bishop granteth his Chancellorship by Patent, for the Term of the Patentee's Life; this is no void Grant, but voidable by the Bishop's Death, except it be strengthened by the Confirmation of the Dean and Chapter. Qualibet Confirmatio aut est perficiens, crescens aut diminuens. 1. Perficiens, As if a Feoffee upon Condition make a Feoffment, and the Feoffor confirm the Estate of the second Feoffee: So if Disfeisor confirm the Estate of the Disfeisor, or his Feoffee. 2. Crescens, Doth always enlarge the Estate of a Tenant; as Tenant at Will, to hold for Years; or Tenant for Years, to hold for Life. 3. Diminuens, As when the Lord of whom the Land is holden, confirms the Estate of his Tenant, to hold by a less Rent. See more of this, West. Symb. part. 1. lib. 1. sect. 2. 500. F. N. B. f. 169, 226, 271. and Lit. lib. 3. c. 9. Co. 9. Rep. Beaumont's Case.

Confiscate, Confiscatus, May be derived either from the Lat. Confiscare, or the French Confisquer; that is, in publicum aducere: All these Words are drawn from Fiscus, which (as Minsheu saith) originally signifieth a Hamper or Basket, but Metonymically, the Emperor's Treasure; because it was anciently kept in such Hampers. And tho' our King doth not put his Treasure in such Things; yet as the Romans have said, That such Goods as are forfeited to the Emperor, were Bona Confiscata; in like Manner do we say of such Goods as are forfeited to the King's Exchequer. And the Title to have these Goods is given to the King by such Law, when they are not claimed by some other. As if a Man be indicted, That he feloniously stole the Goods of another Man; when, in Truth they are the proper Goods of him indicted; and they are brought in Court against him as the Manner is, and he then asked, what he says to the said Goods, to which he disclaims; by this Disclaimer he shall lose the Goods, although that afterwards he be acquitted of the Felony, and the King shall have them as confiscate: But otherwise it is, if he do not disclaim them. The same Law is, where Goods are found in the Felon's Possession, which he disavows, and afterwards is attainted of other Goods, and not of them, there the Goods which he disavows are confiscate to the King; but had he been attainted of the same Goods, they should have been said to be forfeited and not confiscate, notwithstanding his Disavowment. So if an Appeal of Robbery be brought, and the Plaintiff leaves out some of his Goods, he shall not be received to enlarge his Appeal, and forasmuch as there is none to have the Goods so left out, the King shall have them as confiscate, according to the old Rule, Quod non capit Christus, capit Fiscus. And as in the Case aforesaid, the Law punishes the Owner for his Negligence, and Connivency; so also the Law abhors Malice in seeking the Life of any, without just Cause. And therefore if A. hath the Goods of B. by Delivery or Findings, and B. brings an Appeal against A. for taking them feloniously, and it is found, That they were the Plaintiff's Goods, and that the Defendant came lawfully by them: In this Case the Goods are not confiscate to the King, because of the false and malicious Appeal. See more in Stamdf. pl. cor. l. 3. ca. 24. 3 Inst. f. 227. Note, confiscare and forisfacere are Synonyma's; and Bona confiscata are Bona forisfacta.

Confratru, Confraternitas, A Fraternity or Brotherhood, as the Confratrie de St. George, or Les Chevaliers de la blue Garrier. Selden.

Confreres, Confratres, Brethren in a religious House, Fellows of one Society. 32 H. 8. c. 24.

Congeable, Cometh of the French Conge, that is, Venia; and signifies in our Common Law as much as lawful, or lawfully done, or done with Leave; as, the Entry of the Diffeise is congeable, and so Littleton uses it in his 410 Section and Cro. 2. par. fol. 31.

Conge d'Accorder, Signifies Leave to accord, or agree; it is mentioned in the Statute of Fines, 18 E. 3. in these Words, When the Original Writ is delivered in Presence of the Parties before the Justices, a Pleader shall say this, Sir Justice, conge d'Accorder; and the Justice shall say to him, What saith Sir R. and shall name one of the Parties, &c.

Conge d'Ellire, Venia Eligendi, Is French, and signifieth in our Common Law the King's Permission Royal to a Dean and Chapter, in Time of Vacation, to chuse a Bishop; or to an Abbey or Priory of his own Foundation to chuse the Abbot or Prior. F. N. B. f. 169, 170. Touching this Matter, Gwin in his Preface to his Readings, saith, That the King of England as Sovereign Patron of all Archbishopsricks, Bishopricks, and other Ecclesiastical Benefices, had of ancient Time free Appointment of all Ecclesiastical Dignities, whensoever they chanced to be void, investing them first, per Baculum & Annulum, and afterwards by his Letters Patent; and that in Process of Time, he made the Election over to others, under certain Forms and Conditions; as, that they should at every Vacation, before they chuse, demand of the King Conge d'Ellire; that is, Licence to proceed to Election, and then after the Election, to crave his Royal Assent, &c. And further, he affirmeth by good Proof, out of Common Law Books, That King John was the first that granted this, and that it was afterwards confirmed by West. 1. cap. 1. which Statute was made An. 3 E. 1. and again, by the Stat. Articuli Cleri, cap. 2. which was ordained, 25 E. 3. Stat. 3. It is certain all the Prelacies in England were conferred at the Pleasure of the Prince, and the Persons were invested by the King's Delivery of a Staff and Ring, till Archbishop Anselm denied this Royal Prerogative, and prevailed with Pope Paschal to abrogate this Custom by a solemn Canon. After which, the first Bishop who came in by a regular Election, was Roger Bishop of Salisbury, in 3 H. 1. An. 1102.

Congratru. 'Tis mentioned in Leg. Ina, c. 25. and signifies Joint-payment, or one who is a Companion with another in such a Payment or Tribute.

Congius, an ancient Measure of six Sextaries; which is about a Gallon and a Pint. Et reddat quinque Congios cera & unum Idromelli, & triginta Conjectari, To contribute. Warram & compositionem mortis Conjectare. In Legibus Alured, cap. 21, & 32.

Coningeria, A Cony-borow, or Warren for Rabbits.—Item dicunt, quod idem Dominus potest capere in duabus coningeriis quas habet infra insulam de Vecta 100 cuniculos pro annum, & valet quilibet cuniculus ii. den.—Inquis de Anno 47 Hen. 3. n. 32.

Conisance. See Cognizance.

Conisoz. See Cognisor.

Conjutare is where several confirm a Thing by Oath.

Conjuratio is an Oath; and Conjuratus is the same with Conjurator, viz. one who is bound by the same Oath. Ernaldus Marecallus juratus idem dicit per omnia quod filius Andree Conjuratus fuit, &c. Mon. 1 Tom. pag. 207.

Conjuratio, Conjuratio, Is a Compound of con and juro, and so it signifieth a Plot or Compact made by Men, combining themselves together by Oath or Promise, to do any publick Harm: But in our Common Law it is specially used for such as have personal Conference with the Devil, or evil Spirits, to know any Secret, or to effect any Purpose. Anno 5 Eliz. cap. 16. And the Difference between Conjuratio and Witchcraft seems to be this; That the one by Prayers and Invocations of God's powerful Names, compels the Devil to say or do what he commandeth him; the other dealth rather by a friendly and voluntary Conference and Agreement between Him or Her and the Devil, or Familiar, to have Her or His Desires, or Turns served, in lieu of Blood or other Gift offered unto him, especially of His or Her Soul. And both these differ from Enchantments or Sorceries, because they are personal Conferences with the Devil, as is already said; but these are but Medicines, and ceremonial Forms of Words, called commonly Charms, without Apparition.

Conseruator, A delegated Umpire, or standing Arbitrator, who as a third impartial Friend, was chosen or appointed a Guarantee to compose and adjust Differences, that should arise between two other Parties. — Ego Simon Rector Ecclesie de Heyford Warine—subjiendo me coercioni, seu compulsioni, civilibus Judiciis vel Delegatis, seu Conservatori, quem dicti Religiosi & eorum successores duxerint eligendum.—Paroch. Antiq. pag. 513.

Conferuator of the Truce and Safe-conducts, Conferuator Indu larum & salvozum Regis conductuum, was an Officer appointed in every Port of the Sea by the King's Letters Patent, and had 40 l. for his yearly Stipend at the least. His Charge was to enquire of all Offences done against the King's Truce and Safe-conducts upon the main Sea, out of the Liberties of the Civ. ne- Ports, as the Admirals customably were wont to do, and such other Things as are declared in 2 H. 5. cap. 6. touching this Matter; read also the Statute of 4 H. 5. c. 7.

Conferuator of the Peace, Conferuator vel Custos Pacis, Is he that hath an especial Charge, by Virtue of his Office, to see the King's Peace kept; which Peace Lambard in Effect defineth to be a With-holding or Abstinence from that injurious Force and Violence, which boisterous and unruly Persons are in their Natures prone to use towards others, were they not restrained by Laws, and Fear of Punishment. Of these Conferuators he farther saith thus, That before the Time of King Edward the Third, who first erected Justices of Peace, there were sundry Persons, that by the Common Law had Interest in keeping the Peace: Of those some had that Charge, as incident to their Offices which they did bear, and so included within the same, that they were nevertheless called by the Name of their Office only: Some others had it simply, as of it self, and were therefore named Custodes Pacis, Wardens, or Conferuators of the Peace. The former and later Sort he again subdivideth, which read in his Eirenarchia, lib. 1. cap. 2. The Corporation of the great Levee of the Fens, does consist of a Governor, six Bailiffs, twenty Conferuators and Commonalty, as by Act of Parliament, 15 Car. 2. cap. 17. appears. The Chamberlain of Chester is a Conferuator of the Peace in that County, by Virtue of his Office. 4 Inst. fol. 212. And Petty-Constables are by the Common Law Conferuators of the Peace, &c. Conferuators of the Privileges of the Hospitalers and Templers, &c. West. 2. cap. 45. 4 Inst. fol. 341.

Conferuatio Curie. 'Tis often mentioned in Law Pleadings; Ideo Conferuatum est per Curiam, i. e. 'Tis adjudged by the Court; for Conferuatio Curie is the Judgment of the Court, viz. as in Matt. Paris. Addit. pa. 97. Semper paratus est stare ad Conferuacionem parium suorum; and in the 2 Mon. pa. 221. Abstulit ei dictam terram per Conferuacionem Curie sue, &c.

Consideration, Consideratio, Is that with us which the Greeks called ὁ ἀλλοτρίωσις, that is the material Cause of a Contract, without which it would not be effectual or binding. This Consideration is either exprest, as if a Man bargain to give twenty Shillings for a Horse; or else implied, as when the Law it self enforceeth a Consideration; as if a Man come into a common Inn, and there staying some Time, taking both Meat and Lodging for himself and his Horse, the Law presumeth that he intends to pay for both, though nothing be farther covenanted between him and his Host. And therefore if he discharge not the House, the Host may stay his Horse. Falbeck's Parall. tract. Contrahis, fol. 6. Also there is a Consideration of Nature and Blood, and valuable Consideration: And therefore if a Man be indebted to divers others, and yet in Consideration of natural Affection, gives all his Goods to his Son or Cousin, this shall be construed a fraudulent Gift, within the Act of 13 El. c. 5. because this Act intends a valuable Consideration.

Consilium (Dies Consilii) was a Time allowed for the Accused to make his Defence, and answer the Charge of the Accuser. In alius querat accusatus Consilium, & habeat ab amicis & paribus suis, quod nullo jure debet defendi, &c. Leges H. 1. c. 46. And in the next Chapter, Si quis a iustitia Regis implacitatus ad Consilium exierit.

Consilio, a Magistrate so called; as, Testibus Rogero de Gant, Willielmo Consilitore Cestria, &c.

Consistorij (Consistorium) signifies as much as Pratorium, or Tribunal. It is commonly used for a Council-House of Ecclesiastical Persons, or the Place of Justice in the Court-Christian; a Session or Assembly of Prelates. Every Archbishop and Bishop of every Diocese, hath a Consistorij Court held before his Chancellor, or Commissary in his Cathedral Church, or other convenient Place of his Diocese, for Ecclesiastical Causes. See 3 Inst. fol. 338. — Sciatis vos omnes & ceteri Dei fideles, qui in Anglia manent, quod Episcopales Leges, quae non bene secundum Sanctorum Canonum praecepta, usque ad mea tempora, in Regno Anglorum fuerunt, communi Concilio Archiepiscoporum meorum & ceterorum Episcoporum & Abbatum & omnium Principum Regni mei, emendandas judicavi. Propterea mando & Regia Autoritate precipio, ut nullus Episcopus vel Archiepiscopus de Legibus Episcopalibus amplius in Hundret placitis teneant, nec causam, quae ad regimen animarum pertinet, ad iudicium secularium hominum adducant, &c. This Law, made by the Conqueror, seems to give the Ordeal of the Bishop's Consistorij, as it fits with us derived from the Hundred or County-Court, wherewith in the Saxon Time it was joined. And, in the same Law of his, is further added, Hec etiam defendo, ut nullus laicus homo de Legibus quae ad Episcopum pertinent, se intromittat, &c. Selden's Hist. of Tithes, p. 415, 414.

Consolidatio, Consolidatio, It is used for uniting two Benefices in one. Broke, Tit. Union, and Anno 37 H. 8. c. 21. This is taken from the Civil Law, where it signifies properly an Uniting of the Possession or Profit with the Property. For Example, if a Man have by Legacy Usam fructum fundi, and afterward buy the Property or Fee-simple of the Heir, Hoc casu consolidatio fieri dicitur. See Union and Unity of Possession, and the Stat. 22 Car. 2. cap. 11.

Conspiracy, Conspiratio, Though both in Latin and French it is used for an Agreement of Men, to do any Thing either good or bad; yet in Common Law it is always taken in pejorem partem. It is defined Anno 33 E. 1. Stat. 2. to be an Agreement of such as do confeder, and bind themselves by Oath, Covenant, or other Alliance, That every one of them shall bear and aid the other, falsely and maliciously to indict, or falsely to move or maintain Pleas, and also such as cause Children within Age, to appeal Men of Felony, whereby they are imprisoned, and so grieved; and such as retain Men in the Countries with Liveryes or Fees, to maintain their malicious Enterprises. And this extendeth as well to the Takers, as to the Givers. And Stewards and Bailiffs of great Lords, which by their Seigniorij, Office, or Power, undertake to bear or maintain Quarrels, Pleas or Debates, that concern other Parties, than such as touch the Estate of their Lords, or themselves. See 4 E. 3. cap. 11. 3 H. 7. c. 13. and also 1 H. 5. c. 3. and 18 H. 6. c. 12. and the New Book of Entries, verh. Conspiracy. In the Places before-mentioned, Conspiracy is taken more generally, rally, and is confounded with Maintenance and Champertry: But in a more special Signification, it is taken for a Confederacy of two at the least, falsely to indict one, or to procure one to be indicted of Felony. And the Punishment of Conspiracy, upon an Indictment of Felony, at the King's Suit, is that the Party attainted, lose his Frank Lure, to the Intent that he be not empannelled upon Juries of Assises, or such like Employments, for the testifying of Truth. And if he have to do with the King's Court, that he make his Attorney, and that his Lands, Goods and Chattels be seised into the King's Hands, his Lands estreated, his Trees rased, and his Body committed to Prison. 27 Ass. 59. Crompt. Just. of Peace, fol. 156. b. This is called Villanous Judgement. See Villanous Judgement. But if the Party grieved sue upon the Writ of Conspiracy, then see F. N. B. fol. 114, 115. Conspiracy may be also in Cases of less Weight, idem, fol. 116, &c. As Conspiracies made by Victuallers, touching selling of Victuals shall be grievously punished. See 37 H. 8. 23. and 3 part. Inst. fol. 143. See Frank-Law.

Conspiracione. Is a Writ that lies against Conspirators. F. N. B. fol. 114. d. Crompt. de Jurisd. d. f. 209. See also the Register, f. 134.

Conspiratores are (according to the Statute) Those that do conspire, or bind themselves by Oath, Covenant, or other Oathener, that every of them shall aid and bear the other falsely and maliciously to indict, or cause to indict, or falsely to move or maintain Pleas: And also such as cause Children, within Age, to appeal Men of Felony, whereby they are imprisoned, and sore grieved; and such as retain Men in the Country, with Liberties or Fees to maintain their malicious Enterprises: And this extendeth as well to the Takers, as to the Givers. And Stewards and Bailiffs of great Lords, which by their Ignorance, Office, or Power, undertake to bear or maintain Quarrels, Pleas, or Debates, that concern other Parties than such as touch the Estate of their Lords, or themselves. An. 33 Ed. 1. Stat. 2. — 2 Part. Inst. f. 384, and 362.

Constable (Constabularius) is a Saxon Word compounded of Cyning, or Cyng, and Staple, which signify the Stay and Hold of the King. Lamb. Duty of Constables, num. 4. But I have seen it derived from Comes Stabuli, which seems more probable; because we had this Officer, and many others, from the Cæsarean Laws and Customs of the Empire, as well as from the Saxons. But this Dignity, which originally was to take Care of the King's Stables, was afterwards made military; and the Comes Stabuli was then the chief General, called by our Saxon Ancestors Heretobii.

The Word is diversely used: First, for the Constable of England; of whose great Dignity and Authority we find many Proofs in our Statutes and Chronicles. His Function consists in the Care of the common Peace of the Land, in Deeds of Arms, and Matters of War. Lamb. ubi supra. With whom agrees the Statute of 13 R. 2. cap. 2. Stat. 1. which says, To the Court of the Constable and Marshal it appertains to have the Continuance of Contracts and Deeds of Arms and of War out of the Realm, and also of Thin's that touch War within, as Combats, Blasphemy of Arms, &c. But it may not meddle with Battle in Appeals, nor generally with any other Thing that may be tried by the Laws of the Land. See Fortescue, cap. 32. and 4 Inst. fol. 123. and especially Pryn's Animad. on 4 Inst. fol. 71. Anciently he was called Princeps Militie Domus Regis.

The Constable of England was first created by William the Conqueror, and continued till the 13 H. 8. It was an Hereditary Dignity, and descended to Females; and the Constable held several Manors of the King, as being Constable of England. But it being so powerful a Dignity, it became troublesome to the Crown, and therefore was laid aside by Henry VIII. and not created since, but upon particular Occasions.

Out of this High Magistracy of Constable of England, (says Lambard,) were drawn those inferior Constables, which we call Constables of Hundreds and Franchises; and first ordained by the Statute of Winchester, 13 Ed. 1. which appoints, for Conservation of the Peace, and View of Armour, two Constables in every Hundred and Franchise, who in Latin are called Constabularii Capitales, High Constables; because Continuance of Time, and Increase both of People and Offences, hath under these made others in every Town called Petit Constables, in Latin Sub-Constabularii, which are of like Nature, but of inferior Authority to the other. The making a Petty Constable belongs to the Lords of divers Manors, Fine Feudi. Of these read Smith de Rep. Angl. lib. 2. c. 22. Besides these, there are Officers of particular Places, called by this Name, as Constable of the Tower. Staundf. Pl. Cor. fol. 152. Anno 1 H. 4. c. 13. Constable of the Exchequer, Anno 51 H. 3. Stat. 5. Constable of Dover Castle, Cam. Britan. pag. 239. Constable of the Castle of Windsor; Constable of the Castle of Carnarvon; Constable of the Castle of Conway; Constable of the Castle of Hardlaigh, in the County of Merioneth; Constable of the Castle of Beaumaris; Constable of the Castle of Caernarthen; Constable of the Castle of Cardigan; Constable of the Castle of Lanceson; Constables of the Castles of Rothlan, Chester, and Flint, &c. Constable of the Castle of London, (for so Baynard's Castle was anciently called,) and Robert Fitz-Walter was Constable thereof, and Banner-bearer of that City by Inheritance. But these are Castellani properly, as Lambard notes, though confounded in Name with the other. See the Statute Anno 32 H. 8. cap. 38. — Manwood, par. 1. cap. 13. mentions a Constable of the Forest. And Henry Lord Beaumont was Constable of the King's Army. 10 E. 3. Baronage of England, 2 Part, f. 51 b.

Constar, Lat. is the Name of a Certificate, which the Clerk of the Pipe, and Auditors of the Exchequer, make at the Request of any Person who intends to plead or move in that Court, for Discharge of any Thing. Anno 3 & 4 E. 6. c. 4. and 13 Eliz. c. 6. The Effect of a Constar is the Certifying what does constare upon Record, touching the Matter in Question; and the Auditor's Fee for it is 13 s. 4 d.

A Constar is held to be superior to a Certificate; because this may err or fail in its Contents, that cannot; as certifying nothing but what is evident upon Record. Also the Exemplification under the Great Seal of the Inrolment of any Letters Patent is called a Constar. Coke on Litt. fol. 225. b. The Difference between a Constar, Inspeximus, and Vidimus, you may read at large in Page's Case. 5 Report.

Consuetudinarius, i. e. a Ritual or Book, containing the Rites and Forms of Divine Offices, or the Customs of Abbies and Monasteries. 'Tis men-mentioned in Brompton, who writing of Osmond, Bishop of Salisbury, tells us, that Compositum ordinalem Ecclesiastici officii quem Consuetudinarium vocant.

Consuetudinibus & Hereditis is a Writ of Right Close, which lies against the Tenant that deforceth his Lord of the Rent or Service due to him. Of this see more in Old Nat. Br. fol. 77. Fitz. Nat. Br. fol. 151. and Reg. of Writs, fol. 159.

Consuetudo, Dies de Consuetudine, A Day's Work to be done for the Lord, as a customary Service by the Tenant. — i. e. debent redditum & quinque dies de consuetudine — i. e. Five Days Work in a Year. Paroch. Antiq. pag. 229.

Consul, in our Law Books, signifies an Earl: For Bracton, lib. 1. cap. 8. tells us, that as Comes is derived from Comitatu, sive a Societate, so Consul is derived from Consulendo; Reges enim tales sibi associant ad Consulendum & regendum populum Dei. So in the Laws of Edward the Confessor, c. 2. Quod modo vocatur Comitatus, olim apud Britones temporibus Romanorum vocabatur Consulatus, & qui modo Vicecomites, tunc temporis Viceconsules vocabantur.

Consulta Ecclesia. A Church full, or provided for. — Abbas dicit quod praedicta Ecclesia est consulta de ipso Abbate & conventu qui eam tenent in propriis usus. — Cartular. Radings, MS. fol. 211. a.

Consultation, Consultatio, Is a Writ whereby a Cause being formerly removed by Prohibition from the Ecclesiastical Court, or Court Christian, to the King's Court, is returned thither again; for the Judges of the King's Court, if upon comparing the Libel with the Suggestion of the Party, they do find the Suggestion false, or not proved, and therefore the Cause to be wrongfully called from Court Christian, then upon this Consultation or Deliberation, they decree it to be returned again: Whereupon the Writ in this Case obtained, is called a Consultation. Of this you may read the Reg. Orig. 44, 45. usque ad 58. Old Nat. Brev. fol. 32. F. N. B. f. 50. See also the Statute of the Writ of Consultation, Anno 24 Ed. 1. and 1 Inst. fol. 105.

Contentment (Contentementum, as, — Salvo contentamento suo) signifies his Countenance, Credit, or Reputation, which he hath, together with and by reason of his Freehold. And in this Sense does the Statute of 1 E. 3. and 34 E. 3. c. 7. and Old Nat. Br. use it, where Contentance is used for Contentment. The Armour of a Soldier is his Countenance; the Books of a Scholar, his Countenance, and the like. Coke, 2 Part. Inst. f. l. 28. Bracton, lib. 3. Tract. 2. cap. 1. num. 3. And Sir Henry Spelman says, Contentementum est afirmatio & conditionis forma, qua quis in Repub. subsistit.

But I rather think that Contentment signifies that which is necessary for the Support and Maintenance of Men according to their several Qualities, Conditions, or State of Life: For in Magna Charta, cap. 14. you have these Words, A Freeman shall not be amerced for a small Fault, but after the Quantity of the Fault, and for a great Fault after the Manner thereof, saving to him his Contentment, or Freehold. And a Merchant likewise shall be amerced, saving to him his Merchandises; and a Villain, saving to him his Waynage. And Bracton, lib. 3. tract. 2. cap. 1. nu. 3. hath these Words, Et sciendum quod miles & liber homo non amercabitur nisi secundum mo-

dum delicti, secundum quod delictum fuit magnum vel parvum, & salvo contentamento suo, mercator vero non nisi salva Merchandisia sua, & villanus nisi salvo Waynagio: Which Mercy seemeth to have been learned from the Civil Law, where Executio non potest fieri in boves, aratra, aliae instrumenta rusticorum.

Contingent Use, Is such a Use as by the Limitation may, or may not happen to vest. Of which you may read to further Satisfaction in Cuddeleigh's Case. Coke, Rep. 1.

Continual Claim, It is a Claim made from Time to Time within every Year and Day, to Land or other Thing, which, in some respect, we cannot attain without Danger. As if I be disseised of Land, into which, though I have Right unto it, I dare not enter, for fear of Death or Beating. It becometh me to hold on my Right of Entry at the best Opportunity of me and mine Heir, by approaching as near it as I can once every Year, as long as I live; and so I save the Right of Entry to my Heir. Termes de la Ley. Again, If I have a Slave or Villain broken from me, and remaining any where within the ancient Demefne of the King, being in the Hands of the King, I cannot maintain the Writ De Nativio Habendo, as long as he continueth there; but if I claim him within the Year and Day, and so continue my Claim, until I can find him without that Compaſs, I may lawfully lay hold of him as mine own. F. N. B. fol. 7. 9. See more in Lit. verb. Continual Claim. And the New Book of Entries, [Tit. Eodem; and Fleta, lib. 6. cap. 53. See Litl. lib. 3. cap. 7. and Stat. 32 Hen. 8. cap. 33.

Continuance is as Prorogatio in the Civil Law: Example; Continuance until the next Assise. Fitz. Nat. Br. fol. 154. F. and 244. D. in both which Places it is said, If a Record in the Treasury be alledged by the one Party, and denied by the other, a Certiorari shall be sued to the Treasurer, and the Chamberlain of the Exchequer; who, if they certify not in the Chancery that such a Record is there, or that it is likely to be in the Tower, the King shall send to the Justices, repeating the Certificate, and will them to continue the Assise. In this Signification it is likewise used by Kitchin, fol. 202. and 199. and an. 11 H. 6. ca. 4. And Continuance of a Writ or Action is from one Term to another, in Case where the Sheriff hath not returned or executed a former Writ, issued out in the said Action.

Continuando is a Word used in a special Declaration of Trespass, when the Plaintiff would recover Damages for several Trespases in the same Action: For, to avoid Multiplicity of Suits, a Man may in one Action of Trespases recover Damages for forty or more Trespases; laying the first to be done with a Continuance to the whole Time in which the rest of the Trespases were done; and is in this Form, Continuando transgressionem praedictam, &c. a praedicto die, &c. usque tunc another Day, including the last Trespas.

Contrabanded Goods (from Contra, and the Ital. Banco, an Edict or Proclamation) are those which are prohibited by Act of Parliament, or the King's Proclamation, to be imported into, or exported out of this or other Nations.

Contracaufaroz. i. e. a Criminal, or one prosecuted for a Crime. 'Tis mentioned in Leg. H. 1. cap. 61.

Contract

Contratt, Is a Covenant, or Agreement with a lawful Consideration or Cause. West. Symb. part. 1. lib. 1. sect. 10. or else one Thing must be given for another, which is called Quid pro Quo; as if I sell my Horse for Money, or covenant to make you a Lease of my Manor of Dale, in Consideration of twenty Pounds; these are Good Contratts, because one Thing is given for another. But if a Man make Promise to me, That I shall have twenty Shillings, and that he will be Debtor to me thereof, and after I ask the twenty Shillings, and he will not deliver it; yet I shall never have an Action to recover, because the Promise was no Contratt, but a bare Promise; and, ex nudo Pacto non oritur Actio. But if any Thing were given for the twenty Shillings, tho' it were but to the Value of a Penny, then had it been a Good Contratt. Usurious Contratt is a Contratt to pay more Interest for Money than the Laws and Statutes of this Realm allow. It is a Devisavit in an Executor to pay a Debt upon an Usurious Contratt. Noy's Reports. f. 129.

Contrafactio, Counterfeiting. As Contrafactio Sigilli Regis, Counterfeiting the King's Seal.

Contra fornum Collationis, Is a Writ that lies, where a Man hath given Lands in perpetual Alms to any late Houses of Religion, as to an Abbot and Covent, or to the Warden or Master of any Hospital, and his Covent, to find certain poor Men, and do other Divine Service; if they alien the Land, then the Donor or his Heirs shall have the said Writ to recover the Lands. But this Writ shall be always brought against the Abbot, or his Successor, and not against the Alienor, altho' he be Tenant; but in all other Actions, where a Man demands Freehold, the Writ shall be brought against the Tenant of the Land. This is founded upon the Stat. of Westm. 2. c. 1. And of this see Reg. Orig. f. 238. and F. N. B. fol. 210.

Contra formam Feoffamenti, Is a Writ that lies for the Heir of a Tenant, incoffed of certain Lands or Tenements, by Charter of Feoffment of a Lord, to make certain Services and Suits to his Court, and is afterwards distrained for more than is contained in the said Charter. Reg. Orig. f. 176. Old Nat. Brev. 162. This Writ lies not for the Plaintiff, who claims by Purchase from the first Feoffee, but for the Heir to the first Feoffee.

Contramandatio Placiti. In Leg. H. 8. c. 59. It seems to signify a Respite or Giving the Defendant further Time to answer: An Imparlance or Countermanding what was formerly ordered.

Contramandatum is a lawful Excuse which the Defendant by his Attorney alledgeth for himself, to shew that the Plaintiff hath no Cause to complain. Si dies placiti sit Contramandatus. Leges H. 1. c. 59.

Contrapositio, a Plea or Answer. Si quis in placito per justitiam positum vel suorum causam injustis Conterminacionibus vel Contrapositionibus differret, hanc perdat. Leg. H. 1. c. 34.

Contrarians. Thomas Earl of Lan. after, taking Part with the Barons against King Edward the Second, it was not thought fit in respect of their Power, to call them Rebels or Traitors, but Contrarians: And accordingly we have a Record of those Times, called Rotulus Contravenientium.

Contratenere, To with hold. Si quis de inas contratenear. Leg. Alfredi apud Brompton, cap. 9.

Contributio, (Contribuales), Kindred, or Cousins. Si quisquam cognationis sue firmet eum postea, reus sit omnium que habebit erga Regem, & portet suam dam erga contribuales mortui; that is, Let him be accounted as an Enemy to the Kindred of the dead Man. Lamb. pag. 75.

Contributio facienda, Is a Writ that lieth where more are bound to one Thing, and yet one is put to the Burden. Fitz. Nat. Brev. fol. 162. bringeth these Examples, If Joint-Tenants, or Tenants in Common, hold a Mill pro indiviso, and equally take the Profits thereof, the Mill falling to decay, and one or more of them refusing to contribute towards the Reparation, the rest shall have this Writ to compel them. And if there be three Coparceners of Land that owe Suit to the Lord's Court, and the Eldest perform the Whole, then may he have this Writ to compel the other two to a Contribution of the Charge, or to one of them, if one only refuse. The Old Nat. Brev. frameth this Writ to a Case, where one only Suit is required for Land, and that Land being sold to divers, Suit is required of them all, or some of them by distress, as intirely as if all were still in one, fol. 103. See Reg. Orig. vol. 176.

Contratrolleur, Contratrolator, cometh of the French Contrerouleux, Antigraphus, which in Rome was us'd for him, Cui id muneris injunctum erat, ut observet pecuniam, quam in usum Principis vel Civitatis collegerunt exactores. Budæus in Annot. prio. in Pand. Tit. De Quæstoris Officio. In England we have divers Officers of this Name, as Contratroller of the King's House, Staudf. pl. cor. f. 52. & 6 H. 4. 3. Contratroller of the King's Navy, 35 El. cap. 4. Contratroller of the Customs. Crompt. Jurisd. f. 105. Contratroller of Calais. 21 R. 2. cap. 18. Contratroller of the Mint. 2 H. 6. 12. Contratroller of the Castle of Chester. Contratroller of North Wales. Contratroller of the Excise, &c.

Contratroller of the Hamper, who is an Officer in the Chancery, daily attending in Term-Time on the Lord Chancellor, or Lord Keeper, to take all Things sealed from the Clerk of the Hamper, to note the just Number and Effect of all Things so received, and to enter the same into a special Book, with all the Duties appertaining to his Majesty, and other Officers for the same, and so chargeth the Clerk of the Hamper thereof.

Contratroller of the Pipe, Contratrolator Pipe, is an Officer of the Exchequer, that writeth out Summons twice every Year to the Sheriffs, to levy the Farms and Debts of the Pipe; and also keepeth a Contratrollment of the Pipe.

Contratroller of the Pell, is another Officer of the Exchequer, of which Sort there be two, viz. The two Chamberlains Clerks, that do, or should keep a Contratrollment of the Pell of Receipts and Goings out. Sec. Eleta, lib. 1. cap. 18. and 12 E. 3. ca. 3. who say, This Officer was originally one that took Notes of any other Officer's Accounts of Receipts, to the Intent to discover him, if he dealt amiss; and was ordained for the Prince's better Security, however the same since may be in some Things otherwise apply'd.

Controuer, French Controuventur, He that of his own Head devises or invents false or feigned News. 2 Inst. f. 227.

Convenable, Fr. Agreeable, Suitable, Convenient, or Fitting. Anno 27 Ed. 3. Stat. 2. c. 21. and 2 H. 6. c. 2. See Convenable.

Cobennos Insula, Convey at the Mouth of the Thames.

Conventicle, (Conventiculum), a little private Assembly or Meeting for the Exercise of Religion; first attributed in Disgrace to the Schools of Wickliff in this Nation, above 200 Years since, and now applied to the illegal Meetings of the Non-conformists, and is mentioned in the Stat. 2 H. 4. c. 15. 1 H. 6. c. 3. 16 Car. 2. c. 4. & 22 ejusdem, cap. 1.

Conventio is a Word much used both in ancient and modern Law-Pleadings for an Agreement or Covenant. For Example take this pleasant Record :

Curia tenta apud Hatfield die Mercurii prox. post Festum — Ann. xi. Ed. 3.

Robertus de Roderham qui optulit se versus Johannem de Ithen de eo quod non teneat Conventionem inter eos factam, & unde queritur, quod certo die & anno apud Thorne convenit inter predictum Robertum & Johannem, quod predictus Johannes vendidit predicto Roberto Diabolum ligatum in quodam ligamine pro iii. ob. & super eo predictus Robertus tradidit predicto Jonanni quoddam obolum-earles (i. Earnest-Money) per quod proprietas dicti Diaboli commoratur in persona dicti Roberti ad habendam deliberationem dicti Diaboli, infra quartam diem prox. sequent. Ad quam diem idem Robertus venit ad prefatum Johannem, & petit deliberationem dicti Diaboli, secundum Conventionem inter eos factam; idem Johannes predictum Diabolum deliberare noluit, nec ad huc vult, &c. ad grave dampnum ipsius Roberti lxs. Et inde producit festum, &c. Et predictus Johannes venit, &c. & non desinit Conventionem predictam. Et quia videtur Curia quod tale placitum non jacet inter Christianos, Ideo partes predicti adjournantur usque in Infernum, ad audiendum judicium suum, & utraque pars in misericordia, &c. Per Wilhelmum de Scargell Senesciballum.

Convention, Is a Writ that lieth for any Covenant in Writing not performed. Reg. Orig. fol. 185. Old Nat. Brev. fol. 101. Fitzherbert calls it A Writ of Covenant. Nat. Brev. f. 145. where he divideth Covenants into Personal and Real, making a large Discourse of them both; as also how this Writ lieth for both.

Conventuals, Are religious Persons united together in a Covent, or House of Religion. See Fryer Observant.

Conventual Church. See Parish.

Conversers. The Jews here in England were formerly called Conversos, viz. because they were converted to the Christian Religion. Henry III. built an House for them in London, and allowed them a competent Provision or Subsistence for their Lives; and this House was called Domus Conversorum. 'Tis mentioned by our Historians Matt. Paris. and Matt. Westm. Anno 1244. But by Reason of the vast Expences of the Wars, and the Increase of these Converts, they became a Burthen to the Crown; and therefore they were placed in Abbies and Monasteries for their Support and Maintenance. But the Jews being afterwards banished, Edward III. in the fifty-first Year of his Reign, gave this House for the Keeping of the Rolls; and 'tis the same which is at this Time enjoy'd by the Master of the Rolls.

Convict, Convictus, Is he that is found guilty of an Offence by Verdict of the Jury. Staundf. pl. cor. f. 186. Yet Crompton out of Dyer, fol. 275. saith, That Conviction is, either when a Man is outlawed, or appeareth and confesseth, or else is found guilty by the Inquest. Cromp. Just. of Peace, f. 9. a. Conviction and Attainder are often confounded. See Attaint and Attainted.

A Convict Recusant, Is one that hath been legally presented, indicted, and Convict for refusing to come to Church to hear the Common Prayer, according to the several Statutes of 1 El. 2. 23 El. 1. and 3 Jac. 4. This Term is generally given to Papists, tho' any other refusing to come to Church in like Manner, are as properly Recusants. See Jury.

Convivium signifies the same Thing amongst the Laity, as procuratio doth amongst the Clergy; i. e. when the Tenant, by reason of his Tenure, is bound to provide Meat and Drink for his Lord once or oftner in the Year. Potentibus vero non causa convivandi, sed pro Monasterii utilitate quoties expenderit, obviandi intra infraque Monasterium licentiam habent. Selden in Eadmer. p. 150.

Convocation (Convocatio) is the Assembly of all the Clergy to consult of Ecclesiastical Matters in Time of Parliament: And as there are two Houses of Parliament, so are there two Houses of Convocation; the one called the Higher Convocation-House, where all the Archbishops and Bishops sit severally by themselves; the other The Lower Convocation-House, where all the rest of the Clergy sit; that is, all the Deans and Archdeacons, one Proctor for every Chapter, and two Proctors for all the Clergy of each Diocese: In all 166 Persons. *Anno 25 H. 8. c. 19. Coopertio Arborum, The Bark of Trees. — *Debent habere retro panagium a Festo Sancti Martini, usque ad Festum Purificationis Beate Mariæ, & omnes coopertiones de maeremio prostrato, (i. e. all the Bark of Timber-Trees felled) ad opus Domini Regis. Blount of Tenures, pa. 189. who by Mistake renders Coopertiones Coverings or Crops of Timber. The same Word occurs in the Additaments to Matthew Paris. — Inquiratur qui ceperint coopertiones, ceppagia & escaetas quercuum, sive aliarum arborum (i. e. the Barks, the Chumps, and the broken Wood) though Dr. Watts, in his Glossary, does unhappily interpret Coopertiones to be the Heads and Boughs of Trees. And the Elaborate Du Fresne is as much in the Dark for the Sense of this Word. Quercus discooperta, is an Oak debark'd.*

Coppyhold, Tenura per Copiam Rotuli Curie, Is a Tenure for which the Tenant hath nothing to shew but the Copy of the Rolls made by the Steward of his Lord's Court; for the Steward, as he inrolleth and maketh Remembrances of all other Things done in the Lord's Court; so he doth also of such Tenants as be admitted in the Court, to any Parcel of Land or Tenement belonging to the Manor; and the Transcript of this is called The Copy of the Court-Roll, which is all the Tenant taketh from him, and keeps as his only Evidence. Co. lib. 4 f. 25. b. This Tenure is called A Base Tenure, because he holdeth at the Will of the Lord, Kitchin, f. 80. cap. Coppyholds, F. N. B. f. 12. where 'tis said, That it is wont to be called Tenure in Villenage, and that of Coppyhold is but a new Name: yet it is not simply at the Will of the Lord, but according to the Custom of the Manor: So that if a Coppyholder break not the Custom of the Manor, and thereby forfeit his Tenure, he seemeth not so much to stand at the Lord's Courtesy for his Right, that he may be displaced at his Pleasure. These Customs of Manors be infinite, varying in one Point or other almost in every several Manor: First, Some Coppyholds are fineable at Will, and some certain: That which is fineable at Will, the Lord taketh at his Pleasure; but if it exceed two Years Revenue, the Chancery, King's Bench, Common Pleas, or Exchequer, may reduce them to Reason. That which is certain, is a Kind of Inheritance, and called in many Places Customary, because the Tenant dying, and the Hold being void, the next of Blood, paying the Customary Fine, as two Shillings for an Acre, or such like, may not be deny'd his Admission. Secondly, Some Coppyholders have by Custom, the Wood growing upon their own Land, which by Law they could not have. Kitchin, ubi supra. Thirdly, Coppyholders, some be such as hold by the Verge in ancient Demesne; and altho' they hold by Copy, yet are they in Account a Kind of Freeholders; for if such a one commit Felony, the King hath Annuit, Diem & Vastum, as in case of Freehold. Some other hold by Common Tenure, called Meer Coppyhold, and they committing Felony, their Land escheateth to the Lord of the Manor. Kitchin, f. 81. chap. Tenant per verge in ancient Demesne. Saxon Words, verbo Terra ex scripto. West. Symb. part. 1. lib. 2. sect. 646. defines a Copyholder thus; Tenant by Copy of Court-Roll, is he which is admitted a Tenant of any Lands or Tenements within a Manor, that, Time out of Mind, by Use and Custom of the Manor, have been demisable, and demised to such as will take the same in Fee, or Fee-tail, for Life, Years, or at Will, according to the Customs of the Manor; by Copy of Court-Roll of the said Manor, where you may read more of these Things.

Cozacle, A small Boat, used by the Fishermen upon the River Severn, near Rossal in Shropshire, of a Form almost oval, made of split Sallow Twigs interwoven, and on that Part next the Water covered with Leather, or Horse-hide, (the true British Fashion) in which one Man, being seated in the Middle, will row himself swiftly with one Hand, while with the other he manages his Net or Fish-Tackle: And coming off the Water, will take the light Vessel on his Back, and carry it Home.

Cozage, Is an Imposition extraordinary, growing upon some unusual Occasion, and seems to be of certain Measures of Corn. Bract. lib. 2. cap. 16. num. 6. uses Corus tritici, for a Measure of Corn; and in the same Chapter, num. 8. hath these Words. Sunt enim quadam communes, &c. In English thus, There are certain common Prestations, which are not called Services, neither do they arise from Custom, unless some necessary Occasion happen, or that the King comes. Such are Hidage, Cozage, and Carvage, and many others, which are performed in Cases of Necessity, by the common Consent of the whole Kingdom, and which appertain not to the Lord of the Fee; nor is he bound to acquit his Tenant thereof, unless he hath especially ty'd himself thereto by his own Deed.

Corbel-stones, Corbells, Corbels, Corbets. They seem to be the same with what Dr. Skinner calls Corbels, and from some Authority, expounds them to be Stones whereon Images stand. The old English Corbel and Corbettel, was properly a Nich in the Wall of a Church, or other Structure, in which an Image was placed for Ornament, or Superstition; and the Corbel-stones were the smooth and polished Stones, laid for the Front and Out-side of the Corbels, or Niches. These Niches remain on the Out-side of very many Churches and Steeples in England, though the little Statutes and Reliques of Foppery, are most of them broken down—& in *Solutis Johanni Chepyn Latio aptanti & facienti xviii. Corody, Corodium, Signifies in the Common Law a Sum of Money, or Allowance of Meat, Drink and Cloathing, due to the King from an Abbey, or other Houſe of Religion, whereof he is the Founder, towards the reasonable Sustainance of ſuch a one of his Servants, being put to his Penſion, as he thinketh good to beſtow it on. And the Difference between a Corody and a Penſion ſeemeth to be, That a Corody is allowed towards the Maintenance of any of the King's Servants that liveth in the Abbey; a Penſion is given to one of the King's Chaplains, for his better Maintenance in the King's Service, until he may be better provided of a Benefice. Of both theſe, read F. N. B. f. 230, 231, 233. who there ſetteth down all the Corodies and Penſions certain, that any Abbey, when they ſtood, was, bound to perform unto the King. There is Mention alſo of a Corody, in Staudf. Prærog. 44. And this appears an ancient Law; for in West. 2. cap. 25. it was ordained, That an Aſſiſe ſhall lie for a Corody: It is alſo apparent in the Statute 34 & 35 H. 8. cap. 26. That Corodies belonged ſometimes to Biſhops from Monasteries. And by the New Terms of the Law, That a Corody may be due to a Common Perſon, by Grant from one to another, or of Common Right, to him that is a Founder of a Religious Houſe, not holden in Frank-Almoine, for that Tenure was diſcharged of all Corodies in it ſelf: By which Book it appeareth alſo, That a Corody is either certain, or uncertain, and that it may be for Life, for Years, in Tail, or in Fee. See Termes de la Ley.

Corody ſeems to be ancient in our Laws; for in Westm. 2. c. 5. it is ordained that an Aſſiſe ſhall lie for a Corody. It is alſo apparent by the Statute 34 & 35 H. 8. c. 26. that Corodies belonged ſometimes to Biſhops and Noblemen from Monasteries. The old Villains, or thoſe who held in Villenage, were forbid Coronare Filios, i. e. to make their Sons Priests, to let them be ordained; becauſe Ordination changed their Condition, and gave them Liberty to the Prejudice of the Lord, who could before claim them as his Natives, or born Servants.—Homo Coronatus, was one who had received the firſt Tonſure, as preparatory to ſuperior Orders. Injuſtum mihi videbatur illa tam ſancta loca in quibus nutritus, & coronatus fueram, atque ad ultimum ordinatus, relinquere. Aſſer. de rebus geſtis Alfreði. p. 14. Coronatore eligendo, Is a Writ, which, after the Death of Diſcharge of any Coroner, is directed to the Sheriff out of the Chancery, to call together the Freeholders of the County, for the Choice of a new Coroner, and to certify into the Chancery, both the Election and Name of the Party elected, and to give him his Oath. See West. 2. cap. 10. and F. N. B. fol. 163. and Reg. Orig. fol. 177.

Coroner, (Coronator, a Corona) is an antient Officer of this Land, (for Mention is made of his Office in King Athelſtan's Charter to Beverley, an. 925.) and is ſo called, becauſe he deals wholly for the King and Crown. There are four of them commonly in every County, in ſome fewer, and in ſome Counties but one: They are choſen by the Freeholders of the ſame by the King's Writ, and not made by Letters Patent. Crompt. Jurisd. f. 126. This Officer, by the Statute of Westm. c. 10. ought to be a ſufficient Perſon, that is, the moſt wiſe and diſcreet Knight that beſt would and might attend upon ſuch an Office. There is a Writ in the Regiſt. Niſi ſit Miles, f. 177. b. whereby it appears it was ſufficient Cauſe to remove a Coroner choſen, if he were not a Knight, and had not an Hundred Shillings Rent of Freehold. The Lord Chief Juſtice of the King's Bench is the Sovereign Coroner of the whole Realm in Perſon, i. e. whereſoever he is. Lib. Aſſiſarum, f. 49. Coke, lib. 4. Caſe of Wardens, &c. of the Sadlers, f. 57. b. The Office of a Coroner eſpecially concerns the Pleas of the Crown: But what antiently belonged to him, read at large in Bracton, lib. 3. traſt. 2. cap. 5, 6, 7, & 8. Briton, ca. 1. Fleta, lib. 1. ca. 18. and Horn's Mirror, lib. 1. cap. del Office del Coroners. Corporal Oath. See Oath.

Corporation, (Corporatio), a Body Politick, or a Body Incorporate; so called, because the Persons are made into a Body, and of Capacity to take and grant, &c. And this Body Politick or Incorporate may commence and be established three Manner of Ways, viz. by Prescription, by Letters Patent, or by Act of Parliament. Every Body Politick or Corporate is either Ecclesiastical or Lay: Ecclesiastical is either Regular, as Abbots Priors, &c. or Secular, as Bishops, Deans, Archdeacons, Parsons, Vicars, &c. Lay, as Mayor, Commonalty, Bailiff, and Burgeses, &c. Also every Body Politick or Corporate is either elective, presentative, collative, or donative. And again, it is either sole or aggregate of many, which left is by the Civilians called Collegium or Universitas. Coke on Litt. f. 250. and 3 Inst. f. 202.

Corporation Spiritual, and of dead Persons in the Law, is where the Corporations consist of an Abbot, and Covent, which had Beginning of the King and the Pope, when he had to do here; Corporation Spiritual, and of able Persons in Law, is where it consists of a Dean and Chapter, a Master of a College or Hospital; and this had Beginning from the King only.

Corporation Temporal by the King, is where there is a Mayor and Commonalty. Corporation Temporal by Authority of the Common Law, is the Parliament, consisting of the King the Head; the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, the Body.

If Land be given to a Mayor and Commonalty for their Lives, they have an Estate by Intendment, not determinable: So it is, if a Feoffment be made of Land to a Dean and Chapter, without Mention of Successors. Release of a Mayor for any Sum of Money due to the Corporation in his own Name, is not good in Law, in case of a sole Corporation, as Bishop, Parson, Vicar, Master of Hospital, &c. No Chattel either in Action or Possession shall go in Succession; but the Executors or Administrators of the Bishop, Parson, &c. shall have them; but otherwise it is in case of a Corporation aggregate, as a Dean and Chapter, Mayor and Commonalty, and such like; for they, in Judgment of the Law, never die. Yet the Case of the Chamberlain of London, differs from all these; for his Successor may, in his own Name, have Execution of a Recognisance acknowledged to his Predecessor, for Orphanage-money; and the Reason is, because in this Case the Corporation of the Chamberlain is by Custom, which hath enabled the Successor to take such Recognisances, Obligations, &c. that are made to his Predecessor. And this Custom is founded upon great Reason; for the Executors or Administrators of the Chamberlain, ought not to intermeddle with such Recognisances, &c. which by the said Custom are taken in the Corporate Capacity of the Chamberlain, and not in his private.

Corpus Christi Day (being always on the next Thursday after Trinity-Sunday) is a Feast instituted in the Year 1264, in Honour of the Blessed Sacrament: To which also a College in Oxford is dedicated. It is mentioned in 32 H. 8. c. 21. By which Statute Trinity-Term is appointed for ever to begin the Morrow after this Feast.

Corpus cum causa, Is a Writ issuing out of the Chancery, to remove both the Body and the Record, touching the Cause of any Man lying in Execution upon a Judgment for Debt, into the King's Bench, &c. there to lie until he have satisfied the Judgment. Fitz. Nat. Brev. f. 251. e.

Corroder of the Staple, Is a Clerk belonging to the Staple, which writeth and recordeth the Bargains of Merchants there made. 27 Ed. 3. Stat. 2. cap. 22 & 23. The Romans called them Menfaries.

Corruption of Blood; (Corruptio Sanguinis) Is an Infection growing to the State of a Man attainted of Felony or Treason; for as he loseth all to the Prince, or other Lord of the Fee, as his Case is, so his Issue cannot be Heirs to him, or to any other Ancestor, of whom they might have claimed by him. And further, if he were Noble, or a Gentleman before, he and his Children are made Unnoble and Ungentile. But if the King will pardon the Offender, it will cleanse the Corruption of the Blood of those Children, which are born after the Pardon, and they may inherit the Land of their Ancestor purchased at the Time of the Pardon, or afterwards, but so cannot they who were born before the Pardon. But there are divers Limitations even in Treason, made by Statutes which save Corruption of Blood, though a Man be attainted. 27 Ed. 3. cap. 77. 13 H. 7. cap. 17. 5 Eliz. cap. 1. 11. 18 E. c. 1. 6 14. 31 Eliz. cap. 4. 1 Mar. cap. 12. 1 Jac. cap. 12.

Corslet, Is a French Word, signifying a little Body, in Lat. Corpusculum; we generally use it for an Armour to cover the whole Body, 4 & 5 P. & M. cap. 2. wherewith Pikemen, commonly set in the Front and Flanks of the Battle, are armed, for the better Resistence of the Enemies Assaults, and the surer Guard of the Gunners placed behind, who were more slightly armed for their speedier advancing and retreating to Fire. See Barret's Discourse of War, lib. 3. Dialog. 2.

Corsned Bread (from the Sax. Cors, Execratio and Nedde, compulsi.) was a Kind of superstitious Trial used by our Saxons, by a Piece of Barley-Bread, first execrated by the Priest, and then offered to the suspected guilty Person, to be swallowed in Way of Purgation: For they believed a Person, if guilty, could not possibly swallow a Mortel so accursed; or if he did, it would choke him. The Form was thus: We beseech thee, O Lord, that he who is guilty of this Theft, when the execrised Bread is offered to him in order to discover the Truth, that his Jaw may be shut, his Throat so narrow that he may not swallow, and that he may cast it out of his Mouth, and not eat it. Du Cange. These Pieces of Bread were consecrated or devoted by the Priest, to such religious Uses, of which the old Form, or Exorcismus panis bordeacei vel casei ad Probationem veri, is extant in Lindenbrogius, p. 107. In the Laws of King Canute, c. 6. Si quis altari ministrantium accusetur, & amicis destitutus sit, cum Sacramentales non habeat, vadat ad Judicium quod Anglice dicitur Corsned, & fiat sicut Deus velit, nisi super sanctum Corpus Domini permittatur, ut se purget. From which, and some other Authorities, I am apt to think that this Corsned was at first the very Sacramental Bread, consecrated and received with solemn Adjuration, and with devout Expectance it would prove mortal to those who had dared to swallow it with a Lie in their Mouth: Presuming on the continued Judgment of Sickness and Death to unworthy Receivers, mentioned by the Apostle, 1 Cor. 11. 29, 30. till possibly the Bishops and Clergy, vere afraid to prostitute the Communion Bread (especially when Transubstantiation required the more profound Respect) to such rash and conceited Ukes: But however to indulge the People to their superstitious Fancies, and beloved Customs, they did allow them to practise the same judicial Rite, in eating some other Morfels of Bread, or Cheese, blest or curst to the like Uses. There is a famous Story of the perfidious Godwyn Earl of Kent, in the Time of Edw. Confess. who abjuring the Death or Murder of the King's Brother, did appeal at last to his Confess. or imprecated Bread, which as a just Judgment of his solemn Perjury, stuck in his Throat, and choaked him. This Purgation Story is thus in short told by a contemporary Writer, Inglulph. — Cum Godwinus Comes in mensa Regis de nece sui fratris impetretur, ille post multa Sacramenta, tandem per buccellam deglutendam abjuravit & buccella gustata continuo suffocatus interiit. — This among other rude and barbarous Ways of Purgation, was often condemned, and by Degrees abolished. And yet we have still some Remembrance of this horrid Custom, in some of our usual Phrases of Adjuration, as I will take the Sacrament upon it, — May this Bread be my Poyson, — May this Bit be my last, &c.

Coffey, present (from the Fr. Corps presente, i. e. the Body presented) signifies a Mortuary, an. 21 H. 8. cap. 6. And the Reason why it was thus termed seems to be, that where a Mortuary after any Man's Death became due, the Body of the best or second Beast was, according to the Custom, offered or presented to the Priest, and carried along with the Corps.

IN nomine Patris, & Filii, & Spiritus Sancti, Ego Brianus de Brompton, Sen. Anno Domini MCCLXII. in vigilia Apostolorum Simonis & Judee secundo Testamentum meum. Volo corpus meum sepeliri in Priovatu Majoris Malvernia inter Prædecessores meos, & cum corpore meo Palefridum meum cum herneſio, & Equum summarium, cum lecto meo, &c. In codice MS. penes Gul. Dugdale, Mil.

Coffopitum, Morpeth in Northumberland.

Cortis, (Curtis), a Court or Yard before the House.

Cortularium, Certarium, Curtilagium, A Yard or Court, adjoining to a Country Farm. — Abbas Glaston. apud Gineledon, construxit — granarium, boverium, vacarium, stabulum, columbarium, & Cortularium, cum domo, dno molenaria, &c. Cartul. Glaston. MS. f. 42.

Cortuarii, i. e. Coblers, Qui corio veteri utuntur, viz. Prohibeo ut nec mercator nec institor nec permentarius nec Corvelarius, &c. volens emere vel vendere non vendat.

CORUS, a certain Corn-Measure heaped up, from the Hebrew Cera, which signifies a Hill: For eight Bushels of Wheat, in a Heap, are of the Shape of a little Hill; and probably a Corus of Wheat was eight Bushels. Decem Coros triciti sive decem quarteria. Braſton, lib. 2. cap. 16. par. 7.

Coffres, and Coffret, the same with Cottage.

Cossuna, the same with Custom or Tribute. In Curte vero de Foria habere solebat quinque solidos Cossuales in Anno. Mon. 1 Tom. pag. 562.

Cosnage, Cognatione, Is a Writ that lies, where the Tresayle, (that is, Tritavous, the Father of the Besayle, or of the great Grandfather) is seized in his Demelne, as of Fee, at the Day of his Death, of certain Lands or Tenements, and dieth, and then a Stranger entrench, and abateth; for then shall his Heir have this Writ of Cosnage; the Form whereof, see in F. N. B. f. 221. of this, read also Britton at large, cap. 89. Nor is there any Affinity or Cosnage between them. Stat. 4. H. 3. cap. 8.

Cosning, Is an Offence unnamed, whereby any Thing is done guilefully, in or out of Contracts, which cannot be fitly termed by any special Name. West. Symbol. part. 2 Tit. Indictments, sect. 68. It is called in the Civil Law, Stellionatus, of Stellio, a Beatt, which is Laertia genus versutissimum, as Cujacius in his Particulis calleth it: And Pliny, lib. 3. c. 10. says, Nullum animal invidet homini fraudulentius.

Coshring, In the Feudal Laws, as there were many Privileges inherent by Right and Custom, so were there several other grievous Exactions imposed by the Lords, by a Sort of Prerogative or Seigniorial Authority, as to lie and feast themselves and their Followers (called Coshring) at their Tenants Houses. Sir Henry Spelman of Parliament. MS.

Collinus; i. e. Clean.

Costard, an Apple, whence Costard-Monger, i. e. a Seller of Apples. — reddendo inde annuatim Nobis & heredibus nostris unum pomum Costard de forſtabulo ad Festum S. Michaelis. Cartular. Abbat. Radings. MS. f. 916.

Costers, Coast, Sea-Coast. — Per coſteram maris, & partium adjacentium in Comitatu Kantie. Ordinat. Marisc. Romney. — Ricardum Thoney ad custodiam coſteræ maris in Com. Essex, per literas nostras patentes assignavimus. Memor. in Scaccar. Pasch. 24 E. 1.

Costrellus, (Cofarez), a Flagon. Habebit de Cellerario 3 albos panes & Costrellos suos plenos Cervisie. Mon. 2 Tom. 550.

Cot, In the old Saxon signifies Cottage, and so still in many Places of England, as Verſegan testifies in his Reſtitution of decay'd Intelligences in Antiquities. It is also a Kind of refuse Wool, clung or clotted together, that it cannot be pulled asunder. Anno 13 R. 2. Stat. 1. cap. 9.

Cotage (Cotagium & Chota, from the Saxon Cote) is a House without Land belonging to it. Anno 4 Ed. 1. Stat. 1. And the Inhabitants of such Cottages are called Cotagers. By a later Statute of 31 El. c. 7. no Man may build a House, unless he lay four Acres of Land to it; so that a Cottage is properly any little House that hath not four Acres of Land belonging to it. — Dedit Chotam, & quendam campum junctum huic Chotæ. Mon. Angl. 1 par. f. 201. b.

Cotarius, a Cotager.

Cotarii Debent talliari ad voluntatem Domini; facere ſervitia incerta; nihil dare, nihil vendere, nihil proprium habere, nec poſſunt acquirere, niſi ad promotionem Domini ſui. Ex lib. irrot. Eccl. Christi Cantuar. f. 211.

Cote,

Cote, Cot, and Coat. The Names of Places beginning or ending with these Syllables signify a little House or Cottage; from the Sax. Cote, i. e. Casa.

Cotellus. A small Cottage. — Henricus Clericus tenet unum cotellum cum crosta, & reddit per annum octo denarios, — Consuetud. Domus de Farendon. MS.

Coterelli. (Fr. Cotereaux) This Word is used in our Records for Cotagers, quia Cotagia & Curtillagia tenebant; but they were antiently a certain Kind of peasantly Outlaws; a Sort of straggling Thieves and Plunderers, who seem at first to be Cotagers and Country-Fellows, like the Moss-Troopers on the Borders of Scotland — Afferentes igitur & affirmantes se cum Archiepiscopo loturos, cum pace & pro pace intrare velle, apertis januis intraverunt capsi circa decem super loricas, & hi Bragmani erant & Coterelli Flandrenses conducti. Girald. Camb. de vita Galfridi Archiep. Ebor. apud Wharton. Angl. Sacr. P. 2. p. 391.

Coterellus. Spelman and Du Fresnoie make Cotarius and Coterellus, to be both servile Tenants: But I think in the Domesday Register, and other ancient MSS. there doth appear a Distinction, not only in their Name, but in their Tenure, and Quality. The Cotarius had a free Socage Tenure, and pay'd a stated Firm in Provisions or Money, with some occasional customary Service; whereas the Coterellus seemed to have held in meer Villenage, and had his Person and Issue, and Goods disposed at the Pleasure of his Lord. — Edmund Earl of Cornwall, gave to the Bon-hommes of Asherugge, his Manors of Chesterton and Ambrosden. — una cum Villanis, coterellis, eorum catallis, servitiis, scetis, & sequellis, & omnibus suis ubicunque pertinentibus. Paroch. Antiq. p. 310.

Coteria. A Cot, House, or Home-stall. — N. Prior & Capitulum Ecclesie Christi Cant. concedunt Roberto le Herdman terram suam de feodo de Wodetone, & duas coterias juxta terram Burelli, & coteriam illam que fuit quondam Alani de Staple — mense Aprili 1245. Registr. Eccl. Christi Cant. MS.

Cotswold. Several Sheep Cotes, and Sheep feeding on Hills: From the Sax. Cote, Casa, i. e. a Cottage, and Wold, a Place where there is no Wood.

Cot-gare is a Kind of refuse Wool, so clung or clotted together, that it cannot be pulled asunder. An. 13 R. 2. Stat. 1. cap. 9. where it is provided, That neither Denizen nor Foreigner make any other Refuse of Wools but Cot-gare and Villein. So the printed Statute. But in the Parliament-Roll of that Year it is Cot-land and Villein. Cot or Cote signifies as much as Cottage in many Places, and was so used by the Saxons, according to Versteegan.

Cotland. Cot feilband, Land held by a Cottager, whether in Socage or Villenage — Dimidia a ra jacet ibidem inter Cotland, quam Johannes Goldering tenet ex una parte, & Cotland quam Tho. Webbe tenet ex altera. — Paroch. Antiq. p. 532. Lib. Ramf. Scit. 256. — Dedit predictus Abbas predicto Hugoni pro tota terra que tunc temporis a S. Benedicto idem Hugo tenebat, unam Cotfeithlandam cum libero servitio in villa que dicitur Slepe, & unum Maignagium in foro ejusdem villa, & predicti quidpiam ad eandem pertinent. Spelman. — De una Cotlando terre in Wathford. Pat. 9. Ed. 2. par. 2. m. 2.

Cotlanda and Cotlandum, the same with Cotagium. 'Tis mentioned in the Monasticon. 1 Tom. pag. 325. Item una Vingata terre, cum dimidio unius Cotlandi, &c.

Cotsethla, Cotsetle, The little Seat, or Mansion belonging to a small Farm. — Concessit illam cotsethlaam terre quam Petrus filius Jordani tenuit le me in Migeham. Cartular. Abbat. Radinges. MS. f. 53. a. — Ego Thomas filius Will. de Culern, dedi Deo & Ecclesie Malmesbury unam Cotsetle in Culern, cum omnibus pertinentiis. Cartular. Malmesbur. MS.

Cotsethus, A Cottager, or Cottage-Holder, who by servile Tenure, was bound to work for the Lord — As in the Services to be done by the Tenants in the Manor of Blebory, belonging to the Abbat and Convent of Rading. — Dicit etiam predictus Abbas, quod Henricus Boton & Agnes uxor ejus, &c. sunt Cotsethi ex quibus Antecessores eorum solebant operari quolibet die, excepto Sabbato, & diebus Festivis, a Festo S. Michaelis usque ad tempus salsationis pratorum, ab ortu Solis usque ad horam tertiam, omnimoda opera manualia, secundum quod Ballivus ejus voluerit injungere. Cartular. Radinges. MS. f. 221.

Cotsetti. (Cotmanni,) those who live in Cottages. Leg. H. 1. cap. 30. Villani vero vel Cotseti vel perdingi, vel qui sunt hujusmodi viles vel inopes persone, non sunt inter Legum judices numerandi.

Cottum, Cot, Coarse or Dag-wool, of which they made Cotta, or Cottos, i. e. coarse Blankets. Hence in making Hats, to cotten well, is when the Wool, &c. works well, and incorporates together — Novembris Nos teneri in centum fassis bone lane, & placabilis sine cot & gard, pro certa summa pecunie. Cartular. Rad. MS. f. 208.

Cotura, Coat-Armour. Ad arma proficiunt & milites quidem super armatura Coturas induerant vocat. Quarteleys. Walling. p. 114.

Cotuchan, Bores or Husbandmen. Domesday.

Cotther, or Courther, signifies a Factor that continues in some Place or Country for Traffick; as formerly in Gascoign, for buying Wines. Anno 37 E. 3. c. 16. Couther is also used for the General Book, in which any Religious House or Corporation register their particular Acts. An. 3 & 4 E. 6. c. 10.

Covenab e, (Fr. Covenable,) Fit, Convenient, or Suitable. — That every of the same three Sorts of fish be good and covenable, as in old Time hath been used. 31 Ed. 3 Stat. 3. cap. 2. Plowden, f. 472. a. Covenably endowed, that is endowed as is fitting. It is also written covenable. 27 E. 3. Stat. 2. c. 17. Plowden, f. 472. a.

Covenant. Conventio, Is the Consent of two, or more, to one Thing, to do or give somewhat. West. Symb. part. 2. lib. 1. sect. 4. It seemeth to be as much as Pactum Conventum with the Civilians, which you read oftentimes in Thly; Pactum conventum quod & vulgo vestitum vocant, opponitur nudo pacto, vel ut omni juris solemnitate destituit. Hujus exempla, &c. Oldendorpius. And Covenant in this Signification is either a Covenant in Law, or a Covenant in Fact. Coke lib. 4. Noke's Case, fol. 80. or Covenant Expressi, and Covenant in Law. Co. lib. 6. f. 17. a. A Covenant in Law is that which the Law intendeth to be made, though in Words it be not express; as if the Lessor do demise and grant, &c. to the Lessee for a certain Term, the Law intendeth a Covenant on the Lessor's Part, That the Lessee shall quietly enjoy his Lease for his Term against all Incumbrances. Covenant in Fact is, that which is expressly agreed between the Parties. There is also a Covenant merely Personal, and a Covenant Real. F. N. B. f. 145. And he seemeth to say, That a Covenant Real is, whereby a Man tieth himself to pass a thing Real, as Lands or Tenements; as a Covenant to levy a Fine of Land, &c. A Covenant merely Personal, of the other Side, is where a Man covenantheb with another by Deed to build him a House, or any other Thing, or to serve him, or to infeoff him, &c. See Convention. Covenant is also the Name of a Writ; for which see Convention, and New Book of Entries, verbo Covenant.

Fact

Noverint omnes presentes scriptum Chirographatum visur. vel auditur. quod xviii. die April. Temporis gratia MCCLX. ita convenit inter nos Hugonem de Okelesthorp & Adam filium Ade & Ce Thowes, generum ejusdem Hugonis, sc. quod ego Adam non dabo, impignorabo, vendam, nec alienabo aliquam partem tenementi mei de quo fui vestitus & seifitus predicto die, nec tenementi mihi contingentis nomine hereditatis, sine voluntate & assensu predicti Hugonis vel heredum suorum, Et quod amabiliter tractabo uxorem meam, filiam predicti Hugonis; Et nisi fecero, ibo per septem dies sabbati nudus per medium forum de Harwode quando plenus fuerit, secundum ordinationem dicti Hugonis. Omnia autem prescripta fideliter & sine fraude observanda pro me & heredibus meis, tactis sacrosanctis, juravi & affidavi; Et ne istud alicui hominum vertatur in dubium, nos predicti Hugo & Adam sigilla nostra partium hiis mutuis scriptis apposimus. Hiis testibus, Stephano Sterry, tunc Chirographar. Civitatis Ebor. Daniele de Tornie Clerico, Richardo de Waleys de Acculm, Ade de Northfolch, Thoma Edwyn Alletario de Ebor. & aliis. Ex MS. penes Gul. Dugdale, Mil.

Cobenant, (Fœdus), the late solemn League and Covenant, first hatched in Scotland, was a seditious Conspiracy too well known to need any Explication. It was voted illegal and irreligious by Parliament in May 1661. and Provision is made against it by the Statute 14 Car. 2. c. 4. where it is declared to have been imposed on the Subjects of this Realm against the known Laws and Liberties of the same.

Convent, Conventus, Signifies the Society of an Abbey or Priory, as Societas signifies the Number of Fellows in a College. Bract. lib. 2. cap. 35.

Couverture, Is a French Word signifying any Thing that covers, as Apparel, a Coverlet, &c. and deduced from Coverir, that is, tegere: In Law, it is particularly applied to the Estate and Condition of a married Woman, who (by the Laws of our Realm) is sub potestate viri, and therefore disabled to make Bargain with any, to the Prejudice of her self, or her Husband, without his Assent and Privy, or at the least without his Allowance and Confirmation. Bro. hoc Tit. per tot. And Bracton, lib. 2. cap. 15. saith, That Omnia que sunt uxoris, sunt ipsius viri, nec habet uxor potestatem sui, sed vir. And again, lib. 4. c. 24. Vir est caput mulieris. And also, lib. 5. tract. 2. cap. 3. That in any Law-Matters, sine viro respondere non potest. And in the same Book, tract. 5. cap. 23. Vir & uxor sunt quasi unica persona, quia caro una & sanguis unus; Res licet sit propria uxoris, vir tamen ejus custos, cum sit caput mulieris: And lib. 1. ca. 10 num. 2. Uxores sunt sub virga viri. And if the Husband alien the Wife's Lands, during the Marriage, she cannot gain say it during his Life. See Cui ante divorcium, and Cui in vita.

Comune, Covina, Is a deceitful Assent or Agreement between two, or more, to the Prejudice of another. As if a Tenant for Term of Life, or Tenant in Tail will secretly conspire with another, that the other shall recover against the Tenant for Life, the Land which he holds, &c. in Prejudice of him in the Reversion. It cometh from the French Verb Covenancer, that is depacisci, or rather convenir, id est, convenire. Dr. Skinner takes it to be a Corruption of the Lat. Conventum, and therefore writes it Coven.

Count, Signifieth as much as the original Declaration in a Process, tho' more used in real than personal Actions, as a Declaration is more applied to personal than real. F. N. B. a. 60. d. 71. a. 191. e. 217. a. Libel with the Civilians comprehends both. And yet Count and Declaration be sometimes confounded, as Count in Debt. Kitchin, f. 281. Count or Declaration in Appeal. Pl. cor. 78. Count in Trespass. Briton, c. 26. Count in an Action upon the Case for a Slander. Kitch. 252. The Word seemeth to come from France and Normandy, for in the Grand Customary, c. 64. Contours are taken for such as a Man retains to speak for him in any Court as Advocates; and c. 63. Pledeurs, he makes another Sort of Spokesmen in the Nature of Attornies, for one that is himself present, but suffereth another to speak in his behalf. But Contours by Horn's Mir. of Just. lib. 2. cap. Des Loyers, are such Serjeants, skilful in the Law, which serve the Common People to defend their Actions in Judicature for their Fee, whose Duty, if it be as is there described, and were observed, Men might have much more Comfort of the Law than they have.

Countee (Fr. Comté, a Comitando, because they accompany the King) was next to the Duke, the most eminent Dignity of a Subject before, as well as since, the Conquest: And those who in ancient Time were created Countees, were Men of great Estate and Dignity: For which Cause the Law gives them great Privileges; as, their Persons may not be arrested for Debt, Trespass, &c. (because the Law intends that they assist the King with their Counsel for the publick Good, and preserve the Realm by their Prowess and Valour); they may not be put upon Juries. If Issue be taken, whether the Plaintiff or Defendant be a Countee, or not, this shall not be tried by the Country, but by the King's Writ. Also the Defendant shall not have a Day of Grace against a Lord of the Parliament, because it is intended he attends the Publick. And of old the Countee was Præfectus, or Præpositus Comitatus, and had the Charge and Custody of the County, whose Authority the Sheriff now hath. Coke, lib. 9. fol. 46. and is therefore called Viscount. See Earl.

Countenance Seemeth to be used for Credit or Estimation. Old Nat. Brev. f. 111. in these Words; Also the Attaint shall be granted to poor Men, that will swear they have nothing wherof they may make Fine, saving their Countenance: So is it used 1 E. 3. Stat. 2. c. 4. in these Words, Sheriffs shall charge the King's Debtors with as much as they may levy with their Oaths, without abating the Debtor's Countenance. See Contentement.

Counter, Computatorium, may be derived from the Latin Computare, to account. But we use it for the Names of the two City-Prisons, common-ly ly called the Counters; whereinto, he that once slipperth, is like to account ere he can get out.

Countermand, Is where a Thing formerly executed, is afterwards by some Acts or Ceremony, made void by the Party that had first done it. As if a Man has made his last Will whereby he devises his Land to J. S. and then he enfeoffs another of the same Land; there this Feoffment is a Countermand to the Will, and the Will, as to the Disposition of the Land, is void. If a Woman, seised of Land in Fee, makes a Will in Writing, and devises, that if A. of B. survives her, then she devises and bequeaths to him and his Heirs her Land, and afterward she intermarries with the said A. of B. there by taking him to Husband and Coverture, at the Time of her Death, the Will is countermanded.

Counterplea is compounded of two French Words, Contre, i. e. contra, adversus; and Pleder, Causam agere; it signifieth properly in our Common Law, a Replication to Ayde Prier; for when the Tenant by Courtesy, or in Dower, prayeth in Aid of the King, or him in the Reversion for his better Defence; or else if a Stranger to the Action begun, desire to be received, to say what he can for the Safeguard of his Estate; that which the Demandant alledgeth against this Request, why it should not be admitted, is call'd a Counterplea. And in this Signification it is used 25 E. 3. Stat. 3. cap. 7. See also the Terms of the Law, f. 172. and the Statute 3 E. 1. cap. 39.

Counter-Rolls. Anno 3 E. 1. cap. 10. Sheriffs shall have Counter-Rolls with the Coronors, as well of Appeals, as of Inquests, &c.

Countours (Fr. Contours) have been taken for such Serjeants at Law, as a Man retains to defend his Cause, or speak for him in any Court for their Fee. Horn's Mirror, lib. 2. cap. des Loyers. And of whom thus Chaucer, — A Sheriff had he been, and a Contour,

Was ne where such a worthy Abalour.

They were anciently called Serjeant Countours. Coke on Littl. f. 17. a.

Counti, (Comitatus).—Quod modo vocatur Comitatus olim apud Britones temporibus Romanorum vocabatur Consulatus; & qui modo vocantur Vicecomites tunc temporis Viceconsules vocabantur. Leg. Edw. Confess. ca. 2. And even in the Confessor's Time a County was called Consulatus, viz. Fecit summoniri per universos Anglia Consulatus nobiles sapientes: & sua Lege eruditos. Leg. Edw. Confessor, cap. 1. It signifies the same with Shire, the one coming from the French, the other from the Saxon; both containing a Circuit or Portion of the Realm, into which the whole Land is divided, for the better Government of it, and more easy Administration of Justice: So that there is no Part of this Nation that lies not within some County; and every County is governed by a yearly Officer, whom we call a Sheriff. Fortescue, cap. 24. Of these Counties there are four of special Mark, which therefore are termed Counties Palatine, as Lancaster, Chester, Durham, and Ely. An. 5 Eliz. cap. 23. We read also anciently of the Counties Palatine of Pembroke and Hexam, An. 33 H. 8. ca. 10. (which last did belong to the Archbishop of York).—This Act, or any Thing therein contained, shall not extend to the County Paltine of Hexam, within the County of Northumberland, ne to the County Palatine of Ely, within the County of Cambridge, &c. But by the Statute 14 Eliz. cap. 15. this County Palatine of Hexam was stripped of its Privileges, and reduced to a Part of the County of Northumberland. The chief Governors of these Counties Palatine, by special Charter from the King, did heretofore send out all Writs in their own Names, and did all Things touching Justice as absolutely as the Prince himself in other Counties, only acknowledging him their Superior and Sovereign. But by the Statute 27 H. 8. cap. 24. this Power is much abridged; to which I refer the Reader, as also to Crompt. Jurisd. f. 137. and 4 Inst. f. 204, and 221.

Besides these Counties of both Sorts, there are likewise unto some Cities some Territory, Lands, or Jurisdiction annexed, as the County of Middlesex, by King Henry the First, to the City of London: The County of the City of York. An. 32 Hen. 8. cap. 13. Chester, an. 45 Eliz. cap. 15. Canterbury. Lamb. Eiren. lib. 1. cap. 9. Norwich, Worcester, Coventry, Exeter, &c. The County of the Town of Kingston upon Hull. 32 H. 8. cap. 13. Newcastle upon Tyne, &c. The County of the Town of Haverford West. 35 Hen. cap. 16. A County in another Signification, is used for the County-Court, which the Sheriff keepeth every Month within his Charge, either by himself or his Deputy. An. 2 E. 6. cap. 25. Crompt. Jurisd. f. 221. Bract. lib. 5. c. 7. & lib. 3. tract. 2 cap. 12. Of these Counties, there are reckoned in England forty, besides twelve in Wales, making in all fifty-two. The Word Comitatus, is also used for a Jurisdiction, or Territory among the Fenidists. See Comitatus.

Counting-House of the King's Household, Domus Computus Hospitii Regis, Is commonly called The Green-cloth, because the Table stands always covered with a Green Cloth: Here sit the Lord Steward, Treasurer of the King's House, Controller, Master of the Household, Cofferer, two Clerks of the Green-cloth, and two Clerks Controllers, for daily taking the Accounts of all Expences of the Household, making Provisions, and ordering Payment for the same; for the good Government of the King's Servants, and paying the Wages of those below Stairs. Vid 39 Eliz. cap. 7. and 4 Inst. fol. 131.

County-Court, Curia Comitatus, by Lambard is otherwise called Conventus, in his Explication of Saxon Words, and divided into two Sorts; one retaining the general Name, as the County-Court held every Month by the Sheriff, or his Deputy the Under-Sheriff, whereof you may read in Crompt. Juris. f. 231. The other called The Turn, held twice every Year; of which see more in its proper Place. And Crompt. Juris. ibid. This County-Court had in ancient Times the Cognizance of great Matters, as may appear by Glanville, lib. 1. cap. 2, 3, 4. by Bracton and Britton in divers Places, and by Fleta, lib. 2. cap. 62. but was abridg'd by the Statute of Magna Charta, c. 17. and much more by 1 E. 4. cap. 1. It had also, and hath the Determination of certain Trespasses and Debts under forty Shillings. Britton, ca. 27, 28. What Manner of Proceeding was of old used in this Court, see Fleta ubi supra.

Before the Courts at Westminster were erected, the County-Courts were the chief Courts of this Kingdom: Amongst the Laws of King Edgar, this is one, viz. Let the Hundred-Court be kept as anciently, anciently, &c. and let there be two County-Courts in a Year, in which County-Court there shall be a Bishop, and an Alderman or Earl, where one shall judge according to the Common Law, and the other according to the Ecclesiastical Law.

This is the Foundation of the united Power of the Bishop and Earl to sit and try Causes in one Court; the Conjunction of which Powers mutually to assist each other, is as ancient as the English Government it self; but these Powers were separated by William the Conqueror, and soon after all the Ecclesiastical Business was brought into the Courts, so called, and the Law Business into the King's Bench.

Couracier, A French Word signifying a Horse-Courser. 2 Inst. fol. 719.

Courtsout. See Curtior.

Court, Curia, Cometh of the French Court which signifies the King's Palace, or Mansion; but derived of the Latin Word Curia, which among the Romans, had divers Significations; and with us also hath Diversity of Senses: As the House where the King remaineth with his ordinary Retinue, and also the Place where Justice is judicially administered, of which you find thirty-two several Sorts in Crompton's Book of Jurisdictions well described, and of them most are Courts of Record, some be not; and therefore are accounted Base Courts, in Comparison of the Rest. Besides these, there are also Courts Christian, Smith de Rep. Angl. lib. 3. cap. 6. which are so called, because they handle Matters especially appertaining to Christianity, and such as, without good Knowledge in Divinity, cannot be well judged of, being held heretofore by Archbishops and Bishops, as from the Pope, because he challenged the Superiority in all Causes Spiritual; but since his Rejection, they hold them by the King's Authority, virtute magistratus sui, as the Admiral of England holds his; whereupon it proceedeth, that they send out their Precepts in their own Names, and not in the King's, as the Justices of the King's Courts do. And therefore as the Appeal from these Courts did lie to Rome; now by the Stat. 25 H. 8. c. 19. it lieth to the King in his Chancery.

Court of the admiralty, Curia Admiralitatis. It was erected, as some hold, by Edw. III. for deciding maritime Causes; and the Title of its Judge is, Suprema Curia Admiralitatis Anglia Locumtenens, Juxta five Presidens. For the Extent of its Jurisdiction, see Pryn's Animadv. on the 4 Institute.

Court-Baron, (Curia Baronis) is a Court which every Lord of a Manor, (who in ancient Times were called Barons) hath within his own Precincts. Barons, in other Nations, have great Territories and Jurisdiction from their Sovereigns; but here in England, what they are and have been heretofore, see in Baron. Of this Court, and Court-Leet, read Kitchin. Sir Edward Coke, lib. 4. among his Copyhold Cases, fol. 26. b. says, That this Court is Twofold after a Sort; and therefore, if a Man, having a Manor, grant the Inheritance of the Copyholders to another, the Grantee may keep a Court for the customary Tenants, and accept Surrenders to the Use of others, and make both Admittances and Grants; the other Court is of Freeholders, which is properly called the Court-Baron, wherein the Suitors, that is, the Freeholders, are Judges; whereas of the other, the Lord or his Steward is Judge. This therefore is more properly Curia Baronum, i. e. the Court of Freeholders, (for so Barones does also signify) over whom the Lord of the Manor presides. See Halimote and Thane.

Court of Chivalry, (Curia Militaris) otherwise called the Marshal-Court; the Judges of it are the Lord Constable of England, and the Earl Marshal of England: This Court is the Fountain of the Martial-Law, and the Earl Marshal is both one of the Judges, and to see Execution done. See Constable, and 4 Part Instit. f. 123.

Jehan, filz, frere, & oncle au Roys, Duc de Bedford, & d'Anjou, Comte Richemond & de Kendal, & Constable d'Angleterre, a nostre treschere Cousin Jean Duc de Norfolk, Marechal d'Angleterre salut. Nous vous mandons & chargeons qui vous facez arrester & venir devant nous ou nostre Lieutenant a Westminster a la Quinziesme du Saint Hillaire prochain venant William Cloptron du Councel de Suffolk Esquire, pour adunque respondre devant nous ou nostre Lieutenant, en la Cour de Chivalrie, a Robert Eland Esquire de Comte de Nichol de ce que le dit Robert adunque luy surmettra par voie de Armes, ad & apose le Seel de ces Armes a un faux & forge fait, as damages du dit Robert de C. l. &c. Donne soubz le seel du nostre office, &c.

Court Christian, (Curia Christianitatis), so called, because, as in secular Courts, the King's Laws do sway and decide Causes; so in Ecclesiastical Courts, the Laws of Christ should rule and direct; for which Cause, the Judges in those Courts are Divines, as Archbishops, Bishops, Archdeacons, &c. Lyndeswode's Words are these: In curia Christianitatis, i. e. Ecclesia, in qua servantur Leges Christi, cum tamen in foro regio servantur Leges mundi. 2 Part Inst. f. 488. See before in Court.

But under the specious Pretence of judging according to the Laws of Christ, there was a Complaint made against the Bishops long before the Reformation, That they had extended their Jurisdiction so far, that they had left very little Business for the secular Judges; for they assumed the Judicature over the Clergy, and every one who had Tonsure, and for that Purpose they would cause a great Number of Boys to be shaved: And though they had no legal Jurisdiction in criminal Cases, of the Clergy, but only in the Execution of the Sentence, which was Degradation; yet they judged likewise in those Cases, and in all Spiritual Causes whatsoever; in Cases of Tithes and other Profits arising to the Church; in Cases relating to the Faith and Sacraments; in Cases of Heresies; of any Violence done to the Church or to the Clergy; of Fornication and Adultery; of the Privileges of those who had taken upon themselves the Sign of the Cross; of all matrimonial Causes; of Bastardy and Legitimation; of last Wills and Testaments, and of Lands and Tenements which were given in Alms; of Usury, &c. Du Cange.

Court of Delegates is the highest Court for Civil Affairs that concern the Church; the Jurisdiction whereof was established by 25 Hen. 8. cap. 19. From the highest Court of the Archbishop of Canterbury, there lies an Appeal to this Court, and from this to no other. See Delegates.

Court of the Legate was a Court obtained by Cardinal Wolsey, of Pope Leo the Tenth, in the Ninth Year of Henry the Eighth, wherein he had Power Power to prove Wills, and dispense with Offences against the Spiritual Laws, &c. And was but of short Continuance.

Court of Peculiars (Curia Peculiarium) is a Spiritual Court, held in such Parishes as are exempt from the Jurisdiction of the Bishops, and are peculiarly belonging to the Archbishop of Canterbury, in whose Province there are fifty-seven such Peculiars.

Court of Pie-Powders. See Pie-Powders.

Court of Requests, (Curia Requisitionum) was a Court of Equity, of the same Nature with the Chancery, but inferior to it; principally instituted for the Relief of such Petitioners, as in conscientious Cases addressed themselves by Supplication to his Majesty. Of this Court the Lord Priory Seal was Chief Judge, assisted by the Masters of Requests; and it had Beginning about the 9 H. 7. according to Sir Julius Caesar's Treatise on this Subject. Mich. 40 & 41 El. in the Court of Common Pleas, it was adjudged upon solemn Arguments, That this Court of Requests, or the Whitehall, was no Court that had Power of Judicature, &c. See 4 Part Inst. f. 97.

Courtilage. See Curtilage.

Courts-Lands, Terre Curtiles, Demains, or Land kept in Demesne, i. e. in the Lord's own Hands, to serve his Family. See Curtiles Terre.

Courtesy of England. See Curtsey of England.

Cousinage. See Cosenage.

Coustangium, or Coustamentum; the same with Custantia: It signifies Costs.

Couturclaugh (from the Sax. Couth, sciens & Utlough, exlex) is he that willingly receives a Man outlawed, and cherishes or conceals him. In which Case he was, in ancient Time, subject to the same Punishment that the Outlaw himself was. Bracton, lib. 3. tract. 2. ca. 13. num. 2.

Cowela. A Cowel, or Coule, or Tub with two Ears, to be carried between two Persons on a Coult-Staff. A Cowl in Essex, is the Appellative for any Tub; whence a Cowler now pronounced, a Cooler, or Brewing Vessel. — Pro novo Cowele empto ix. den. Paroch. Antiq. pag. 549.

Craiera, A Vessel of Lading or Burden, a Hoy or Smaek — Richardus Rex, &c. Thomæ de Percy Admirallo nostro — in Parlamento ordinatum extitit — percipiendi de qualibet navi & craiera, ejusque; fuerit portagii, qua Mare transierit, infra dictum Admiratum eundo & redeundo pro viagio, de qualibet tonnetight sex denarios. Pat. 2. Ric. 2.

Cralls, or rather Crails, an Engine to take Fish.

Crantage, Cranagium, Is a Liberty to use a Crane, for the drawing up of Wares from the Vessels at any Creek of the Sea or Wharf, unto the Land, and to make Profit of it. It signifies also the Money taken, and pay'd for the same. New Book of Entries, fol. 3. col. 3. Anno 22 Car. 2. cap. 11.

Crannock, Crennoc: An old Measure of Corn. — Quilibet debet flagellare dimidium crannock frumenti ad senem, & duos bussellos frumenti contra Natale in firma sua. Cartular. Abbat. Glaston. MS. f. 39. a. — Rex mandat G. de Marisco Justiciario Hiberniæ, ut liberet Regi Manniæ singulis annis duo dolia vini, & sexies viginti crennoc bladi, pro homagio suo. Claus. 3. H. 3. m. 2.

Crappa, Anglice Crap: The Seeds of a Weed in Corn, Abjectio vero bladi & Crappa hujusmodi, quæ in Anno remanserit, recolligitur ac potius trietur. Fleta, lib. 2. c. 82.

Crappius, i. e. Piscis crassus, a Whale.

Crastino Sænti Vincentii, The Morrow after the Feast of St. Vincent the Martyr, being the 22d of January, is the Date of the Statute made at Merton, Anno 20. H. 3.

Cravare, i. e. To impeach, viz. Si homicida dividietur ibi vel Cravetur, fit vitam, &c. Leg. H. 1. c. 30.

Cravent or Craben. In a Trial by Battel. Upon a Writ of Right, the ancient Law was, That the Victory should be proclaimed, and the Vanquished acknowledge his Fault in the Audience of the People, or pronounce the horrid Word Cravent, in the Name of Recreantise, &c. and presently Judgment was to be given, and after this, the Recreant should Amittere liberam legem, that is, he should become infamous, &c. See 2 Part. Instit. 247, 248. If the Appellant join Battel, and cry Craven, he shall lose liberam legem; but if the Appellee cry Craven, he shall be hang d. 3 Inst. f. 221. We still retain this Word Craven, for a Coward.

Crayer seems to be a Kind of small Sea-Vessel or Ship, mentioned in the Statute 14 Car. 2. cap. 27. Et transitus Craerum & Batellorum cum vittualibus & aliis necessariis, &c. Pat. 6. R. 2. Part 2. m. 13.

Creamer, A foreign Merchant, a Pedlar, one who hath a Stall in a Fair or Market.

Creensot, Creditor, Cometh of the French Word Croyance, Persuasio, and significeth him that trusteth another with any Debt, be it in Money or Wares. This Word is used in the Old Nat. Brev. in the Writ of Audita Querela, f. 66. a. 38 Ed. 3. cap. 5.

Crest, Cress, Crista; Any Imagery, or carved Work, to adorn the Head, or Top of any Wain-scot, &c. like our Modern Cornish: The Word is now adopted by the Heralds, and apply'd to the Device set over a Coat of Arms. — Et Willielmo Hykkedon conducto in grosso ad mensam Domini ad dolandum & persciendum Le Crest, super cancellum Prioratus ibidem. — Mr. Kenner's Paroch. Antiq. p. 575.

Creche, A drinking Cup: 'Tis mentioned in the Monsifcon, 1 Tom. pag. 104. Vas vero quod Creche nuncupatur septem polices continet, viz. ad profunditatem a summitate unius usque ad profundum lateris alterius.

Creek, (Creca, Sax. Crecca) is a Part of a Haven, where any Thing is landed from the Sea. So that when you are out of the main Sea within the Haven, look how many landing Places you have, so many Creeks may be said to belong to that Haven. See Crompt. Jurisd. fol. 110. a. This Word is mentioned in the Stat. 4 H. 4. cap. 20. (where 'tis said, — in great Ports of the Sea, and not in Crykes or small Arrivals) 5 Eliz. cap. 5. and 14 Car. 2. ca. 28. and in Plow. Casu Renyer & Fogassa.

Crementum Comitatus. The Improvement of the King's Rents above the ancient Vicotiel Rents, for which Improvements the Sheriff answered under the Title of Crementum Comitatus, or Firma de cremento Comitatus, Hale of Sheriffs Accounts, p. 36.

Cremil, The same with Crimson.

Crepare oculum, To put out an Eye: Si quis alii crepat oculum solvat ei sexaginta sol. Leg. H. 1. cap. 93.

Cretinus, Cretena, a sudden Stream or Torrent — Crux lapidea constructa fuit — cujus quidem crucis corpus per cretinum aqua & tempestatem venti obrutum, & confractum existit. Hittor. Croyland. Contin. pag. 485. — Omnes inundationes & communes aquarum cretinas, sufficienter defendere possit. Ibid. p. 617.

Cro, Crop, signifies Marsh-Land: Et quia palustris hujus Croyland ut ipsum nomen indicat, nam crudam terram & ceterosam significat. Ingulphus, pag. 855.

Crowards, A Sort of Money, very base. See Pollards.

Croca Cowellet, i. e. Olla simul bullit, from the Saxon Crocca, i. e. Olla, and Fellen, bullire. Si plures aliqui faciunt homicidium quorum Crocca Cowellet, se velint simul componant. Leg. Hen. 1. cap. 78.

Crociolum. This perhaps is the only Word that exercised, and escaped the Sagacity of the very acute Sir Henry Spelman; who in his Glossary, expresses it to this Effect: I hear there is in Ireland a Charter of King Henry II. wherein he grants very ample Privileges to a certain Bishop, — exceptis Forestallis, thesauro invento, crociis, &c. What is meant here by crociis, I have endeavoured to find, but can make no Answer; if it be any Thing else than the Cro in the Scottish Law, that is, the Weregild, or Composition for Manslaughter. For though that Prince had taken away the Customs of Weregild from his Subjects, yet he left them entire among the Irish. — This Mistaken Sense of a Word, is yet rare in Spelman; but it is not so much a Wonder, that Du Fresnoie should not find the true Meaning of it, which yet seems very obvious. For Crocia was no more than the Crozier, or Pastoral Staff, which Bishops and Abbats had the Privilege to carry, as the common Ensign of their religious Office; as being invested in their Prelacies, by the Delivery of such a Crozier. Hence the Word Crociolum and Crocia, did sometimes denote the Collation or Disposal of Archbishopricks and Abbies, by the Donation of such Pastoral Staff. So as when the King granted large Jurisdiction, &c. exceptis Crociis, it is meant, except the Collation or Investiture of Episcopal Sees and Abbies.

Crociarius, The Crociary, or Cross-bearer, who, like our Virger, went before the Prelate, and bore his Cross. — Robertus de Wycumbe, Clericus Episcopi Dunelm. quem vulgo Crociarium ejus vocant. — Liber de Miraculis Tho. Cantilup. Episc. Heref. MS. sub Anno 1290.

Croco Calana, Ancafter in Lincolnshire.

Crost (Sax.) Crostus & Crosta, A little Close or Pittle, enclosed near a Dwelling-House, for any particular Use. Possunt etiam dicti Monachi de eisdem mariscis versus occidentem jacentibus, pro se & hominibus suis, includere Crostos, sive pratum juxta pontem separatim quantum illis placuerit. Ingulf. In some ancient Deeds Crusta occurs, as the Latin Word for a Crost; but cum Tosis & Crostis is most frequent. Crost is translated by Abbo Floriacensis, by Predium, a Farm. It seems to come of the old English Word Crease, which signify'd Handicraft, because such Grounds are for the most part manured, and extraordinarily dress'd by the Labour and Skill of the Owner.

Crotes (Cruce signati) is used by Briton, cap. 122. for Pilgrims, because they wear the Sign of the Cross upon their Garments. Of these, and their Privileges, read Bracton, lib. 5. part 2. ca. 2. and part 5. c. 29. and the Grand Customary of Normandy, c. 45. Under this Word are also signified the Knights of St. John of Jerusalem, created for the Defence of Pilgrims; and all those worthy Men of the Nobility and Gentry of England, who, in the Reigns of King Henry the Second, Richard the First, Henry the Third, and Edward the First, were Cruce signati, as dedicating and lifting themselves to the Wars, for the Recovery of Jerusalem and the Holy Land. Greg. Syntag. Lib. 15. cap. 13 & 14.

Croth, Crocus, Capillorum croci, Turning up the Hair into Curls or Croki; whence Crook, crooked, &c. — Rex Willielmo de Peretor, Salutem, Sciatis quod concessimus, & plenam potestatem vobis dedimus scindendi capillos Clericorum qui sunt de hospitio nostro, & familia nostra longos crines habentium, & comas interquentium, & ad crocos capillum suorum deponendos; & ideo vobis mandamus quatenus ad hoc modo debito diligenter intendatis, hujusmodi potestatem nostram vobis concessam taliter exequentes circa predictos capillos scindendos, & crocos deponendos, ne ad capillos vestros scindendos forcipes apponere debemus: Teste Meisso apud Clava. 11 die Sept. Pat. 21. H. 3.

Croppa. Sax. Croppas, A Crop of Corn, or the Product in Harvest. — Johannes, Prior & Conventus concedunt Radulpho de Hok, terram de Yorkherst — croppam autem de ipsa terra provenientem sepe dictus Radulphus, tempore messis in eadem terra debet reponere & custodire. Registr. Cant. Ecclesie MS. So also Croppus occurs in the same Sense. See Mr. Kennet's Paroch. Antiqu. pag. 298. Sax. Crop, the Top or Head of any Thing: Whence to crop or cut off the upper Part; Crop-ear'd, a Crop of Beef. In Sussex, they call Darnel Crop; and in Worcestershire, Buck-Wheat goes by the like Name of Crop. The old Lat. Cropa, was the Buttock of a Horse, whence Crupper.

Croster, the pastoral Staff of a Bishop, so called a similitudine crucis.

Crosses, It was usual in former Times for Men to erect Crosses on their Houses, by which they would claim the Privileges of the Templars or Hospitaliers, to defend themselves against their rightful Lords; this was condemned by the Statute W. 2. cap. 13. It was usual also in those Days to set up Crosses in Places where the Corps of any of the Nobility rested, as it was carried to be buried, that a Transseuntibus pro ejus animo deprecetur. Walsingham, Anno 1291.

Crustum was a Garment of Purple mixed with many Colours: Duas patenas argenteas auro ornatas, cum duobus unceolis & crusto aureo. Mon. 1 Tom. p. 210.

Crypta, A Chapel or Oratory under Ground: Egresso toto conventu, accepta absconsa si nox est. vadit per cryptam. Du Cange.

Cucherne, Canis Prodiarius, a Coucher, Setter, a Setting-Dog. — W. Primas Ebor — dilecto Priori de Birtall, Salutem, &c. Rogamus dilectionem vestram quatenus si placeat, cum celeritate qua poteritis, Nobis provideatis in partibus vestris transmarinis de duobus canibus prodiariis, sive cucheris, & vobis de pretio fideliter & plene respondebimus & de custu, hoc sicut Nos diligitis nullatenus omitatis; ita quod dictos canes habeamus circa Festum Beati Michaelis omnimodo. Dat. Beverlaci, 10 Kal. Sept. 1280. Ex Registr. Will. Wickwane, Archiep. Ebor.

Cuckingstool, or Cokestool, (Tumbrellum.) is an Engine invented for the Punishment of Scolds and unquiet Women, by ducking them in the Water, called in ancient Time a Tumbrel, and sometimes a Trebuchet. Lamb. Eiren. lib. 1. ca. 12. Bracton writes this Word Tymborella. Kitchin. (cap. Charge in Court-Leet, f. 13. a.) says, Every one having View of Frank-pledge, ought to have a Pillory, and a Tumbrel. This was in use even in our Saxons Time, by whom it was called Sealfingstole, and described to be Cathedra, in qua rixose mulieres sedentes aquis demergebantur: It was a Punishment anciently inflicted upon Brewers and Bakers transgressing the Laws, who were thereupon, in such a Stool or Chair, to be ducked and immersed in stercore, some muddy or stinking Pond. This I find also anciently written, Gogingstole. See Pandoxatrix. And in Domesday, it is called Cathedra Stercoris. Some think it a Corruption from Duckingstool; others from Choak ingstool; quia hoc modo demersa aquis fere suffocantur.

Cude, A Cude-cloth, a Chrysom, or Face-cloth for a Child; the Priest's Fee in Time of Roman Imposition. Probably Gude-cloth, i. e. God's Cloth, or the Holy Piece of Linnen, used in the Dedication of the Child to God.

Cudgrath, a Pledge or Surety.

Cudurlaugh. See Contibulauge.

Cui ante Divortium, Is a Writ, that a Woman divorced from her Husband, hath to recover Lands or Tenements from him, to whom her Husband did alienate them during the Marriage, because she could not gainfay it. Reg. Orig. fol. 233. F. N. B. f. 240.

Cui in Vita, Is a Writ of Entry, that a Widow hath against him, to whom her Husband aliened her Lands or Tenements in his Life-time, which must contain in it, That during his Life-time she could not withstand it. Reg. Orig. fol. 232. F. N. B. f. 193. See the New Book of Entries, verbo Cui in vita.

Cuillieurs des gentz, Whereas Murders, Cuillieurs des Gentz, Robberies, &c. are done and committed without Number, &c. Cotton's Abr. of Records, f. 62. 21 Ed. 3. 9.

Cunage. See Cunynage.

Culagium, Is when a Ship is laid up in the Dock, to be repaired. MS. Ar. Trezor. Arm. de plac. E. 3.

Culpatura, A smiting or cutting, from the Fr. Couper, to cut: Qui autem forisfaciat in foresta Regis de viridi, sive per Culpaturam, sive per Esbrancatam, sive per foditionem turbarum, sive per Excoriationem moræ, sive per culpationem sub nemore, sive per esurium, &c. Hoveden, p. 784.

Culpit is compounded of two Words, i. e. Cul and Prit, viz. Cul, which is the Abbreviation of Culpabilis, and is a Reply of a proper Officer in the Behalf of the King, affirming the Party to be guilty after he hath pleaded Not guilty, without which the Issue is not joined: The other Word Prit is derived from the French Word Prest, i. e. ready; and 'tis as much as to say, That he is ready to prove the Party guilty: And this we find to be often the Form of Pleading in civil Causes; as in Trespas, the Defendant pleaded Not guilty, the Plaintiff replied by his Counsel

Cretenus prest au que cy, viz. he was ready to prove him guilty.

Culreath, the same with Cudreath.

Cultura, A Parcel of arable Land: Dr. Thoroton in his Nottinghamshire, englishes it, a Wong. It often occurs in old Writings, as totam illam Culturam que vocatur Watercroft.

Culvertage, Culvoertagium, May be interpreted Cowardice, as Omnes cum equis & armis, jussit sub nomine Culvertagii convenire. Mat. Paris fol. 233. Culvertagium dictum puto a Columba timiditate, nam Culver idem est quod Columba. Spelm. in voce Niderling. Others fancy it a Culum vertendo, i. e. Running away. These are the Opinions of some Men, but without any Foundation; it rather signifies some base Slavery, or the Confiscation of Estate, viz. Rex Johannes brevi suo ad vicecomites jussit, ut nullus remaneat qui arma portare possit sub nomine Culvertagii & perpetua servitutis: And in another Place, Nihil magis quam opprobrium Culvertagii metuentes. Matt. Paris. Anno 1212. It seems therefore to be the same with Cowrir le feu, for when a Lord seizes his Vassal's Estate as forfeited, he is said Cowrir le feu, to cover or put out his Fire. Du Cange. Therefore the true Sense of the Word is not Cowardice, but Confiscation, or Forfeiture of Lands and Goods: It was a Norman Feudal Term for Lands of the Vassal escheating to the Lord: And sub nomine culvoertagii was under Pain of Confiscation.

Culward and Culberd, Salsa Summonitione de Culward. Charta Willielmi de Tabley temp. Ed. I. seems to be the same with Culvertage, or Cowardice.

Cuna. Domesday, Tit. Cestria. Quando Rex ita veniebat, reddebat ei unaqueque carruata cu. besas, & unam cunam plenam cervisia. So Customar de Hecham, p. 21. Omnis Lanceta & Toftman inveniet cunam, si habeat, ad cervisiam Domini faciendam—Thus Spelman reads the Word; but it truly is Cuon, Gall. Cuore, Angl. Keove, Keever, a Tub or Fat for Brewing.

Cuna Cervezie, a Tub of Ale. Domesday. See Rusta. And to this Day, in Cheshire, a brewing Vessel is called a Cump.

Cunage, (Cunagium) — De Cunagio Stanmerie & de emptione totius Stammi in Com. Devon. & Cornub. Rot. Pat. 21 Ed. 3. See Coinage.

Cunetio. Marlborough, or the Kennet.

Cuneum Monetae. Ortho tenet manerium de Lilliflon in Com. Midd. per Serjantiam custodiendi Cuneum Monetae Domini Regis, i. e. Sigillum ferreum quo nummus cuditur; the King's Stamp for Coinage. Hence comes our Word Coin, quasi, Cune. Sciatis quod concessimus venerabili Patri nostro Cicestr. Episcopo, quod habeat Cuneum suum in Civitate Cicestriz, &c. T. 29. Apr. Claus. 6. Joh. m. 3.

Cuneus, A Mint, or Place to coin Money, Mandatum est, &c. Sciatis quod concessimus venerabili Patri nostro Cicestr. Episcopo quod habeat Cuneum suum in Civitate Cicestriz, &c. T. 29. Apr. Claus. 6. Joh. m. 3.

Cunter Cuntey, Is a Kind of Trial, as appeareth by Bracton, in these Words, Negotium in hoc casu terminabitur per Cuntey Cuntey sicut inter cohæredes. Bract. lib. 4. tract. 3. cap. 18. And again in the same Place, In brevi de recto negotium terminabitur per Cuntey Cuntey. And thirdly lib. 4. tract. 4. cap. 2. Terminabitur negotium, per breve de recto, ubi nec duellum nec magna Assisa, sed per Cuntey Cuntey omnino, which in my Opinion is as much as by the ordinary Jury.

Cura:

Curagulus, One who taketh Care of a Thing: Ego Edmundus Rex Anglorum & Curagulus multarum gentium. Monasticon, 2 Tom. in a Charter of King Edmond.

Curia Monasterii, An Officer so called, who had the Charge of the Monastery: Curia cum ipfis remanente qui cum ipfis manducet. Du Cange.

Curfew, Cometh of two French Words, Couvir, that is, tegere; and Fen ignis, Fire: We use it for the Ringing of a Bell, by which the Conqueror willed every Man to take Warning for the Raking up, or Covering of his Fire, and the putting out of his Light. So that in many Places at this Day, where a Bell customably is rung towards Bed-time, it is said to ring Curfew. Stow's Annals, in vita Gul. Conquestor.

Curia, It was usual for the Kings of England to assemble the Bishops, Peers, and great Men of the Kingdom to some particular Place, at the chief Festivals in the Year, and this Assembly is called by our Historians, Curia; because there they consulted about the weighty Affairs of the Nation, and therefore it was sometimes called Solennis Curia, generalis Curia, augustalis Curia, and Curia publica, &c. This Word was sometimes taken for the Persons, or feudatary and other customary Tenants, who did their Suit and Service at the Court of the Lord: So in a Charter of Bernard de St. Waleey, Anno 30 H. 3. we find, Huius testibus, &c. & omni curia mea. Kennet's Paroch. Antiq. f. 139.

Curia advisare vult, Is a Deliberation which the Court sometimes takes, before they give Judgment in a Cause, wherein there seems to be any Point of Difficulty; for which, see the New Book of Entries on this Word.

Curia Baronum: See Court-Baron.

Curia Canonicorum, The Court-lodge, or Manor-House in a Lordship belonging to the Religious. Juxta Rivulum extra Curiam Canonicorum. Paroch. Antiq. p. 177.

Curia claudenda, Is a Writ that lieth against him who should fence and close up his Ground, if he refuse or defer to do it. Reg. Orig. fol. 155. F. N. B. fol. 127. See also The new Book of Entries, verbo Curia claudenda.

Curia Domini, The Lord's House, Hall, or Court, where all the Tenants, if Need require, were bound to attend every three Weeks, but generally at the Feasts of the Annunciation and St. Michael; from whence the Courts kept at those Times, were called Curia generales, the General, or more Solemn Court.

Curia adventus, The Day of coming to pay Suit and Service at the Court of the Lord: Reddit per annum ad terminum ipsius unam Marcam & unum adventum Curie; i. e. For the Rent of a Mark, and the Service of coming to the Lord's Court yearly. Paroch. Antiq. pag. 400.

Curialitas Angliæ. See Curtsey of England.

Curia Militum, A Court so called, anciently held at Carisbrooke Castle in the Isle of Wight.—Et idem Dominus Wilhelmus de Insula debet facere septem ad curiam Domini Castri de Carisbroc, de tribus septimanis in tres septimanas in Curia, que vocatur Curia Militum. Inq. de Anno 47 Hen. 3. n. 32.

Curia Penticularium, Id est, Curia in civitate Cestrie coram Vicecomite ibidem in Aula Penticie ejusdem Civitatis. Pl. in Itin. apud Cestriam, 14 H. 7. It is probable this Court was originally kept under a Pentice, or Shed covered with Boards, and thence took Denomination.

Curia Personæ, The Parsonage-House, or

Manse.—Omnes obventiones altaris & camere terii predictæ Ecclesiæ, & totam terram, & Curiam Personæ—crossam que jacet juxta Curiam Personæ.—Kennet's Paroch. Antiq. p. 205.

Curio, Corebridge in Northumberland.

Curnoek, Is four Bushels, or half a Quarter of Corn. Fleta, lib. 2. cap. 12.

Curriculus, the Year, or Course of a Year: Astum est hoc annorum Domini & incarnationis quatuor quinquagenis & quinquies, quinis lustis & tribus Curriculis, i. e. the Year 1028. for Four-times fifty makes 200. and 5 Times 200 makes 1000. 5 lustra are 25 Years, and 3 Curriculi are 3 Years.

Currier, Is one that dresses or liquors Leather, and is so called of the French Word Cuir, i. e. Corium, Leather: The Word is used in all the Statutes made for the good making of Leather, as 1 Jac. cap. 22.

Curser, Curser, A Courier: or Express Messenger of Haste.——H. Rex Angli. &c. L. Principi Aberfrawe Domino de Snoudon, Salutem, &c. Sit notum. Quia propter inundationes aquarum & viarum discrimina Nuncii nostri ad nos accedere non possunt, per Curser quendam literas presentes duximus destinandas. Cart. H. 3.

Curstoz, Clericus de curia, Is an Officer or Clerk belonging to the Chancery, that maketh out original Writs, 14 & 15 H. 8. cap. 8. They be called Clerks of the Course, in the Oath of the Clerks of the Chancery appointed 18 E. 3. Stat. 5. cap. Unico. There be of these twenty-four in Number, which have allotted to them several Shires, in which they make out such original Writs as are by the Subject required, and are a Corporation of themselves.

Cursones terræ.——Sciant quod ego Willielmus Crump, dedi—Henrico de Sweton unam dimidiam coram, & duos cursones terre mee in Lytton, &c. Dat. 14 Ed. 2. Seems to signify Ridges of Land.

Curtsey of England, (Jus Curialitatis Angliæ) is where a Man takes a Wife seized of Land in Fee-simple, Fee-tail general, or as Heir in Tail special, and hath Issue by her, Male or Female, born alive; if the Wife die, the Husband shall hold the Land during his Life, by the Law of England, and he is called Tenant by the Curtesy of England; because this Privilege is not allowed in any other Realm, except in Scotland, where it is called Curialitas Scotie.

I do not find any such Privilege before the Conquest, here in England; but it was a Custom before that Time used in Normandy, and probably derived from them; it was called in their Language, Veuvee, de quo sic jura & consuetud. Norman. cap. 121. viz. Consuetudo est in Normannia ex antiquitate approbata, quod si quis uxorem habuerit ex qua heredem aliquem procreaverit, quem natum vivum fuisse confiteretur, siue decesserit, totum feodum quod maritus possidebat ex parte uxoris sue tempore quo decesserit, ipse marito quamdiu ab aliis cesset nuptiis remanebit.

Curtayne, Curtana, Was the Name of King Edward the Confessor's Sword, which is the first Sword carried before the King of this Land at his Coronation. Mat. Paris. in Vita Henrici Tertii. And they say the Point of it is broken, which may seem therefore to be an Emblem of Mercy.

Curtilage, (Curtilagium) From the French Cour, Court, and Saxon Leagh, locus: A Yard, Back-side, or Piece of Ground lying near a Dwelling-house, where they sow Hemp, Beans, and such like. Perfokunt (deciman) Lactis, hortorum, Curtilagiorum, Lane, &c. Provinciale Angli. lib.

3. Tit. de Decimis. — Et si in Curtialagio allicujus bladum seminaretur, decimam garbam illius bladi, sicut in campis, percipiet. Inq. 36 Hen. 3. Mibi dici videtur Curtialagium (says Spelman) a Curtillum & ago, scil. locus ubi curtis vel curtilli negotium agitur. It is mentioned Anno 4 E. 1. cap. unico. Anno 35 Hen. 8. cap. 4. and 39 Eliz. cap. 2. See Coke, Vol. 6. fol. 64. a. and Bulstrode's Rep. 2 part. fol. 113. Cum quodam gardino & Curtialagio, 15 Edw. 1. nu. 34. by which it seems to differ from a Garden.

Curtiles terræ, Court-Lands. Among our Saxon Ancestors, those Thanes, who possessed Bockland, or Hereditary Lands, divided them into Inland and Outland. The Inland was that which lay most convenient for the Lord's Mansion-House; and therefore the Lords kept that Part in their own Hands, for Support of their Family, and for Hospitality. The Normans afterwards called these Lands Terras Dominicales, the Demens, or Lords Lands. The Germans Terras Indominicatas, Lands in the Lord's own Use. The Feudists Terras Curtiles, or Intra curtem, Lands appropriate to the Court or House of the Lord. Spelman de Feuds, c. 5. Turbare and Curbatus. See Cravare.

Custantia, The same with Costagium, which signifies Costs.

Custode ad mittendo, and Custode amovendo, Are Writs for the Admitting or Removing of Guardians. Reg. Orig. in Indice.

Custodes Libertatis Angliæ auctoritate Parliamenti, Were the Stile wherein Writs and other judicial Proceedings did run during the late Times of Trouble, viz. From the Murder of King Charles the First, till the Usurpation by Cromwell, mentioned and declared traitorous by the Stat. 12 Car. 2. cap. 3.

Custodiam dare, Was a Gift or Grant for Life: Tradidit autem Rex Willielmo filio Aldalmi civitatem Wexfordiæ in custodia, &c. Du Cange.

Custom, Consuetudo, Has all one Signification with our common Lawyers and Civilians, being by both accounted a Part of the Law: Consuetudo quancumque pro Lege servatur, saith Bracton, patribus ubi fuerit more utentium approbata; Longævi enim temporis usus & consuetudinis non est vili auctoritas, lib. 1. cap. 3. It may not unaptly be thus defined, Custom is a Law or Right not written, which being established by long Use, and the Consent of our Ancestors, hath been, and is daily practised. Our Ancestors, that is, Majores; and those of our Kindred that are ultra tritavum: So that allowing the Father to be so much elder than the Son, as Pubertas, or the Years of Generation do require; the Grand-father so much elder than him, and so usque ad tritavum; we cannot say, That this or that is a Custom, unless we can justify it hath continued so at least one Hundred Years. For Tritavus must be so much elder than the Party that pleaded it; yet because that is hard to prove, it is enough for the Proof of a Custom, if two or more Witnesses can depose, That they heard their Fathers say, That it was a Custom all their Time, and that their Fathers heard their Fathers also say, That it was likewise a Custom in their Time. If it is to be proved by Record, the Continuance of an Hundred Years will serve. Davies's Rep. fol. 32. Custom is either General, or Particular. General, I call that which is allowed through all England, whereof you may read divers in Doff. and Stud. lib. 1. cap. 7. very worthy to be known. Particular, is that which belongeth to this or that County, as Gavelkind to Kent; or to this or that Lordship, City or Town. Custom differeth from Prescription, for that Custom is common to more, and Prescription is particular to this or that Man. Again, Prescription asketh not that Length of Time to set it up as Custom doth, but is pleadable in a far shorter Time, viz. five Years, one Year, or less: Example of five Years Prescription you have in the levying of a Fine; for if a Fine duly levied of Lands and Tenements be not impugned within five Years, it excludeth all Claim for ever. And if a Man omit his continual Claim for a Year and a Day, then the Tenant in Possession pre- scribeb an Immunity against the Entry of the Demandant, and his Heir. F. N. B. fol. 79. Termes de la Ley, verbo continual Claim. Out of the Statutes you have greater Diversity, which see Collected in Cowell's Institute, Tit. De Usucap. & long. temp. prescript. So that Brissenius in his 14. lib. de verb. signif. saith truly; That Prescription is an Exception founded upon so long Time past, as the Law limiteth for the Pursuit of any Action. An Example may be taken from the Statute, 1 H. 8. cap. 4. which enacteth, That in all Actions popular, Information shall be made within three Years after the Offence committed, or else be of no Force. Of like Nature is the Statute 7 H. 8. cap. 13. which in some Cases makes one Years Prescription sufficient against Informations. Custom is also used for the Tribute, or Toll that Merchants pay to the King, for the Carrying in and out of Merchandise. 14 E. 3. Stat. 1. cap. 21. In which Signification it hath the Latin Name Custumæ. Reg. Orig. fol. 138. a. 129. a. 4 Infr. fol. 29. And lastly, for such Services as Tenants of a Manor owe to their Lord. New Book of Entries, verbo Custome.

Customary Tenants, (Custumarii, vel Tenentes per consuetudinem) are such Tenants as hold by the Custom of the Manor, as their special Evidence. These were anciently Bondmen, or those that held Tenua Bondagii: Et omnes illi qui tenuerunt in Bondagii tenua solebant vocari Custumarii. MS. de consuetud. man. de Sutton-Colfeild de An. 3 Edw. 2. See Windas and Coppyhold.

Custom-house, Is a House in several Cities and Port-Towns, as London, &c. where the King's Customs are received, and all Business relating thereunto transacted. See 12 Car. 2. cap. 4.

Customs and Services, Consuetudinibus & Servitiis, Is a Writ of Right Close, which lieth against the Tenant, that doforceth his Lord of the Rent or Service due to him. Of this, see more at large in the Old Nat. Brev. fol. 77. F. N. B. fol. 151. and Reg. Orig. fol. 156.

Custos Breuium, Is the principal Clerk belonging to the Court of Common Pleas, whose Office is to receive and keep all the Writs, and put them on Files, every Return by it self; and at the End of every Term to receive of the Protonotaries all the Records of Nisi prius, called The Postea; for they are first brought in by the Clerk of the Assise of every Circuit to the Protonotary that entered the Issue in that Matter for the Entering of the Judgment. And then do the Protonotaries get of the Court a Peremptory Day, for every Party to speak what he hath to alledge in Arrest of Judgment, which Day being past, he entrench the Verdict and Judgment thereupon into the Roll of the Court: And that done he doth at the End of the Term deliver over to the Custos Breuium all the Records of Nisi prius, which came to his Hand that Term; which received he bindeth into a Bundle, and bestoweth them in apt Place. The Custos Brevium also maketh Entry of the Writs of Covenant, and the Concord upon every Fine, and maketh forth Exemplifications and Copies of all Writs and Records in his Office, and of all Fines levied. The Fines after they be engrossed, the Parts thereof be divided between the Custos Brevium and the Chirographer; whereof the Chirographer keepeth always the Writ of Covenant and the Note; the Custos Brevium keepeth the Concord and Foot of the Fine; upon which Foot the Chirographer doth cause the Proclamations to be endorsed, when they be all proclaimed. This Office is in the King's Gift. There is also a Custos Brevium & Rotulorum in the King's Bench, who fileth such Writs as are there used to be filed, and all Warrants of Attorney, and transferbeth, or maketh out the Records of Nisi prius, &c.

Custos Pygnozum Regis. See King's Swanherd.

Custos Placitorum Coronæ. Brass. lib. 2. cap. 5. This seems to be all one with him whom we now call Custos Rotulorum. Of this Officer Mention is made in the Writ De Odio & Atia, Reg. Orig. fol. 133.

Custos Rotulorum, Is he that hath the Custody of the Rolls, or Records of the Sessions of Peace; and as some believe, of the Commission of the Peace it self. Lamb. Eiren. lib. 4. cap. 3. pag. 373. He is always a Justice of Peace and Quorum, in the County where he hath his Office; and by his Office is rather termed an Officer or Minister than a Judge, because the Commission of the Peace layeth by express Words this special Charge upon him. Quod ad dies & loca predicta, Brevia, Præcepta, Processus & Indictamenta predicta coram te & aliis Sociis tuis venire fac. Lamb. ibid. Where you may find a large Tract concerning this Officer. Who shall appoint the Custos Rotulorum in every County, see 31 H. 8. c. 1. and 3 & 4 E. 6. cap. 1. & 2 Inst. fol. 674.

Custos of the Spiritualities, Custos Spiritualitatis vel Spiritualium, Is he that exerciseth Spiritual or Ecclesiastical Jurisdiction, of any Diocese, during the Vacancy of the Sec. The Appointment of whom, by the Canon-Law, appertains to the Dean and Chapter; but at present with us in England, to the Archbishop of the Province by Prescription: Howbeit, divers Deans and Chapters, (if Gwein say truly in the Preface to his Readings) do challenge this by ancient Charters from the Kings of this Land.

Custos Temporalium, The Person to whose Custody a vacant See, or Abbey, was committed by the King, as supreme Lord: Who, as a Steward of the Goods and Profits, was to give Account to he Escheator, and he into the Exchequer. His Trust continued till the Vacancy was supplied by a Successor, who obtained the King's Writ De Restitutione Temporalium, which was commonly after Consecration, yet sometimes before.

Custos treugarum, Keeper of the Truce. Edward the Third constituted by Commission two Keepers of the Truce between him and the King of Scots, with Nos volentes Treugam fidei suffrentiam predictam quantum ad nos pertinet observari, &c. Rot. Scotiæ 10 Edw. 3. m. 36. intus.

Cutt, i. e. Cognitus, known.

Cutts, Flat-bottomed Boats, used in the Channel for transporting Horses. A. D. 1474. when King Edw. IV. came to Dover, the Duke of Burgundy, to help his Passage, sent 500 Boats of Holland and Zealand, called Cutts, which are flat and low, built very commodiously for transporting of Horses. Stow. Annal. p. 412.

Cutter of the Talleys, Is an Officer in the Exchequer, that provideth Wood for the Talleys, and cuts the Sum pay'd upon them, and then casteth the same into the Court to be written upon.

Cuba, Gall. Curve. Angl. Keew, Keever, A Tub or Brewing-veffel. Vid. Cuna. It also signifies the same with Cupa, a Cup.

Cupnagr, Is a Word used in the Statute of 11 H. 7. cap. 4. for the making up of Tin into that Fashion, as it is used to be framed, for the better Carriage of it into other Places.

Cyclas, A long Garment, close upwards, and open or large below: Matth. Paris. speaking of the Citizens of London, tells us, they were Serviciis Vestimentis ornati, cycladibus auri textis circumdati. Anno 1236.

Cynebot, The same with Cenegild.

Cypus. — Et debent habere americana de expeditione canum, mel & nices, & cyppos per totam forestam. — Rylo's Placit. Parl. fol. 652. Du Fresne, in his New Glossary, says it signifies Rete, a Net; but Quere. — I rather think, in the Authority before cited, it signifies a Sort of Berries; possibly Hips and Haws.

Cyreath, i. e. Fusjurandum electum, viz. Quod quis cum aliis conjuratoribus a majori numero electis præstat. We read it amongst the Laws of King Athelstane, cap. 15. viz. Et jurant quod illud pæcus intertium, (i. e. sequestrated) in peculo suo natum est, sine Rimath & stet. thes. Cyreath, i. e. Fusjurandum electum super 20 Den.

Cyrcobere, (Sax.) Irruptio in Ecclesiam LL. Eccl. Canoni Regis.

Cyrclestat, Is a Saxon Word, signifying a Tribute due to the Church, Vestigal Ecclesie, Ecclesie Censur. Primitias seminum quique; ex eo dato domicilio in quo ipse natali die Domini commemoratur. Spelm. de Concil. vol. 1. fol. 125. See Churcheffest. See the Original of this Custom, and the Continuance of it, historically delivered, by Mr. Kennet in his Paroch. Antiq. p. 603.

Cypus, Scirpus, Rushes. It was in old Times a common Practice, (and is still in some Places retained, more especially in Wales) to bring Rushes, and strew the Body of the Church, for the Convenience of Warmth and better Kneeling. And hence it was laid as a customary Service on some Persons, that they should find the Church with Straw in Winter, and with Rushes in the Summer. — In Ordinatione Domini Jocelini Episcopi Bath. super thesauraria Ecclesie Wellensis, facta An. 1226. — Ordinatum est ut thesaurarius inveniat cypros per æstatem. Reg. Dec. & Capit. Well. MS.

Daggerine, Daggardus, Gall. Dagne, Brit. Daga, Engl. Dagger. — Habentes cultellus, quos daggerios vulgariter dicunt. Henr. Knyghton in Ed. III.

Dagus. See Deis.

Dailus, Daila, Dalus, A certain Measure of Land, viz. Et totam Dailam mansici tam de rossa quam de prato, &c. Monasticon, 2 Tom. p. 211. In some Places 'tis taken for a Ditch or Vale, hinc Anglice, a Vale is called a Dale. Du Cange.

Dails.

Dais. See Deis.

Dakir, By the Stat. De Compositione Ponderum & Mensurarum, 51 H. 3. a Last of Hides consists of twenty Dakirs, and every Dakir of ten Hides: But by 1 Fac. cap. 33. a Last of Hides is twelve Dozen. See Dicker of Leather possea.

Dalmatica, A Garment with large open Sleeves, used at first only by Bishops, so called, because it first came from Dalmatia,

Fimbria neque erret huic sine lege laevis.*

Dalug, Dailus, Dayla, A Dale, a Valley, or low Place. — Et in eadem villa terram trium carrucarum, & tres dalos prati, & unum hulum. Mon. Angl. tom. 1. p. 680. & totam daylam marisei, tam de rossa, quam de prato. Mon. Angl. Tom. 2. p. 211. The Dali prati abovementioned, seem to be such Balcks or narrow Slips of Pasture, left between the ploughed Furrows in arable Land, which in some Parts of England are still called Doles, and Dools. The old British Dol, and Doldir was a Vale. And the present Welsh use the Word Dol, for a low Meadow by a River Side. This the original Name and Nature of Deal in Kent, where Cesar landed, and fought the Britains: Cesar ad Dole bellum pugnavit. Nennius.

Damag, Dammum, Generally signifieth any Hurt, or Hindrance that a Man taketh in his Estate; but in the Common Law it is a Part of that the Jurors be to enquire of, passing for the Plaintiff or Defendant in a civil Action, be it Personal or Real. For after Verdict given the principal Cause, they are likewise asked their Consciences touching Costs (which be the Charges of Suit, called of the Civilians, Expense Litis) and Damages, which contain the Hindrance that the Plaintiff or Defendant hath suffered, by Means of the Wrong done to him by the Defendant or Tenant. Co. on Lit. fol. 257. By the Statute 48 E. 3. 22. a Means for the Recovery of Damages was given to the Defendant in an Appeal, when he was acquitted of the Felony. And the Statute of Westm. 2. Anno 13 E. 1. cap. 12. gave a more expeditious Redress, than a Writ of Conspiracy against Procurers and Abettors. This Word Damag is taken in the Law in two several Significations; the one properly and generally, the other strictly and relatively; Properly, as it is in the Cases where Damages are founded upon the Statute of 2 H. 4. cap. 1. and 8 H. 6. cap. 9. where Costs are included within this Word Damages: For Damag in its proper and general Signification, is said a demande, when a Thing by Diminution is made worse; and in this Sense, Costs of Suits are Damages to the Plaintiff, for by it his Substance is diminished. But when the Plaintiff declares the Wrong done to him, to the Damage of such a Sum, this is to be taken relatively, for the Wrong which is passed before the Writ brought, and are assayed by Reason of the Trespas aforesaid, and cannot extend to Costs of Suit, which are future, and of another Nature. See Co. lib. 10. fol. 116, 117.

Damag clerre, Damna clericorum, Is now assayed by the tenth Part in the Common Pleas, and the twentieth Part in the King's Bench and Exchequer, of all Damages, (exceeding five Marks) recovered either by Verdict, Confession, or Judgment of the Court, in all Actions upon the Case, Covenant, Trespas, Battery, False Imprisonment, Dower, and all others, wherein the Da-mag<sup>e</sup>s are uncertain, which the Plaintiff must pay to the Prothonotary, or Chief Officer of that Court, wherein they are recovered, before he shall have Execution for them. This was no other originally than a Gratuity given to the Prothonotaries and their Clerks, for drawing special Writs and Pleadings, which afterwards grew to a Certainty; and was, as some have fancied, of old, a tenth Part of the Damages recovered: For it appears by ancient Records, that it hath been uncertain, sometimes a Sixth, and at other Times a Third Part. This is taken away by 17 Car. 2. cap. 6. from and after the 29th of Septemb. 1672. and till that Time was to be paid out of such Monies only as shall be actually levied, or otherwise paid by the Defendants, and only for the Proportion of the Money which shall be so levied or paid, and no more, or otherwise.

Damag tresant, That is, doing Hurt or Damage, and is when a Stranger's Beasts are in another Man's Ground, without License of the Tenant of the Ground, and there do feed, tread, and otherwise spoil the Corn, Grass, Woods, and such like: In which Case the Tenant, whom they damage, may therefore take, distrain, and impound them as well in the Night, as in the Day. But in other Cases, as for Rent and Services, and such like, none may distrain in the Night. Stat. de districtione Scaccar. An. 51. Hen. 3.

Damisella, A light Damocel, a Mifs. — Willielmus Hoppeshort tenet dimidiam virgatam terra in Bockhamton de domino Rege, per servitium custodiendi sex Damisellas, fill. Meretrices, ad usum Domini Regis 12 Ed. 1. i. e. by Pimp-Tenure. See Blount's Tenures, p. 39.

Dammum, Infra damnum suum, Within the Bounds or Limits of his own Property, or Jurisdiction. — Si quis invenerit in damno suo aucas, gallinas aut capras, &c. Braet. lib. 2. de Coron. ca. 37. — Animalia in Damnis dictorum Fratrum inventa. Mon. Angl. Tom. 2. p. 862. Hence a Dam, a Boundary or Confinement; to dam up, to dam out.

Dan, The better Sort of Men had the Title of Dan, as the Spaniards Don, from the Latin Domini.

Danegelt, or Dane-geld, (Self in Dutch signifies Money) was a Tribute laid upon our Ancestors of 1 s. after of 2 s. for every Hide of Land, through the Realm, for clearing the Seas of Danish Pirates, which heretofore greatly annoyed our Coasts. Camb. Britan. 142. King Ethelred being much distressed by the continual Invasion of the Danes, to procure his Peace, was compelled to charge his People with heavy Payments, called also Danegelt. As first, he paid 10000 l. then 16000 l. then 24000 l. after that 36000 l. and lastly 48000 l. to the Danes. This Danegelt was released by St. Edward the Confessor, but levied again by William the First and Second: Released by Henry the First, and finally by King Stephen. See Hoveden, par. post. Annal. fol. 344. a. Spelman's Glossarium, and Selden's Mare clausum. fol. 196. — Et sint quieti de Lene, Danegeld & Gaywithinte & de omnibus aliis consuetudinibus, &c. Charta Hen. 7. Danelaga. See Merchenlage.

Danger, Dangeria, A Payment in Money, made by the Forest-Tenants to the Lord, that they might have Leave to plough and sow in Time of Pannage, or Mast-feeding; in some Places called Lye-floer, and Lef-floer.

Danmonii,

Danmonii, Cornwall and Devonshire.

Danmonioquin promontorium, The Lizard in Cornwall.

Danum, Doncaster in Yorkshire.

Dapifer, A Dapes ferendo. At first a domestic Officer, like our Steward of the Household, or rather Clerk of the Kitchen; then by Degrees, any fiduciary Servant, especially the Chief Steward, or Head Bailiff of any Honour, Barony, or Manor. I think Dapifer Regis, is in most of our Records, to be taken for Steward of the King's Household.

Dardus, i. e. A Dart. In Wales an Oak is called Dar, and Dart is Telum.

Dare ad remanentiam, (Glansvil, lib. 7. cap. 1.)

To give away in Fee, or for ever. See Remainder.

Darreine Is a Corruption from the French Derrier, i. e. ultimus: and we use it in the same Sense; as Darreyne Continuance. See Continuance.

Darreyne Presentment, Ultima presentatio. See Assise of Darryene Presentment.

Dare, The ancient Deeds had no Dates, but only the Month and the Year, to signify that they were not made in Haste, or in the Space of a Day, but upon longer and more mature Deliberations; and the King's Grants began with these Words, Presentibus & futuris, &c. but the Grants of common Persons began with Omnibus presentes literas inspecturis, &c.

Davach, Davata Terra, A Portion of Land in Scotland so called. — Apud priores Scotos, one Davach of Land, quod continet quatuor aratra terre, quorum unumquodque trahitur octo bobus. Skene — Non fiet taxatio juxta numerum davacharum, seu baroniarum; sed secundum verum valorem honorum. Statut. David. Reg. Scot. cap. 48.

Day, Dies, Is sometimes used in the Law for the Day of Appearance in Court, either originally, or upon Assignment, and sometimes for the Returns of Writs. For Example, Days in Bank be Days set down by Statute, or Order of the Court, when Writs shall be returned, or when the Party shall appear upon the Writ served: And of this you may read the Statutes 51 H. 3. cap. 1, 2. Marl. cap. 12. 52 H. 3. and 32 H. 8. cap. 21. To be dismissed without Day, is to be finally discharged the Court. Kitchin fol. 193. He had a Day by the Roll, Id. fol. 197. that is, he had a Day of Appearance assigned him. Day, Year, and Waste. See Dies and Year.

Days-man, In some Northern Parts of England, any Arbitrator, Umpire, or elected Judge is commonly termed a Deies-man, or Days-man: Which reminds me of what Dr. Hammond, well observes, in his Annotations on Heb. 10. 25. That the Word Day, in all Idioms, doth signify Judgment. So 1 Cor. 3. 13. Ανθρωπιν ημμεος, is Human Judgment. And on this Occasion, it may not be improper to observe, (because no Notice has been yet taken of so small a Matter) that the Addition of Day or Day, to the Doom-book, or Liber Judicialis, the General Survey, in Time of Will. Conq. was not meant with any Allusion to the Final Day of Judgment, as most Persons have conceived: For Day does not augment the Sense of the Word, but only doubles, and confirms the same Meaning: I say, The Syllable day or Day, in that Composition, does not really signify the Measure of Time, but the Administration of Justice. So as Domesday-Book is but more emphatically, the judicial decisive Record, the Book of dooming Judgment, and decreeing Justice.

Daveria, The Dayrie, Dairy, It is derived by Dr. Skinner from the Fr. Derriere, as if the Dairy were on the back Part, or behind the rest of the House. The learned Fr. Juvius is no more happy, when he refers it to the Greek, Δαισις, & per Syncope, Δαίσις. *Hesychio expouitur Δαισις εστιαριον, & gnava, perita. Non enim ejusmodi est curare lacticiuia, sed a lacticiuiis edulie concinnatarum singulari rusticarum rerum experientia imbutum esse oportet. Omnino interim hoc pertinet, quod Galli Darole dicitur cibi genus, quod istem Gallis alias nuncupatur, Lacteron, vel Flan de Lait. Ac fortasse quoque Darnis ab eadem origine; Darere dictum est jentaculum, quod Septentrionales lacticiuiis jentare sunt soliti. Both these Conceits of Skinner and Juvius, are trifling Conjectures. And indeed nothing has more exposed the noble Studies of Etymology, than the Fancies and Flights of some great Men; who by indulging their Wit, and their Invention, have made such odd and far-fetched Allusions, as nothing but a like Heat of Fancy, could imagine or believe. But to return, the Word Deirie or Dairy is originally English, from Day, Deie, Sax. Dag; and signified at first the daily Yield of Milk-Cows, or the daily Profit made of them. As a Day-were of Land, was one Day's ploughing, which the French called Journal, Lat. Formale; and our Mid-land Farmers still call a Fourny. So in Loivain and Champaigne, they now use the Word Dayr, for the Meeting of the Day labouring Women to give an Account of their daily Work, and receive the Wages of it. Hence any young Artificer, who assists a Master Workman, is still called a Journey-man. As a Thresher, Hedger, &c. who works by the Day, is termed a Days-man. And I am apt to think, that the Woman hired by the Day, to help in the Kitchen, &c. usually called a Chair-woman, is no more than a Four-woman, or Fourne-woman. A Dairy in the North, is called The Milknefs; as the Dairy-maid, is in all Parts a Milk-maid: She is called Androchia by Fleta, lib. 2. cap. 87. Androchia pudica esse debet, & laboriosa daerie. — Computus Henrici Deye, & Johanne uxoris sue, de omnibus exitibus, & proventibus de Dayri Domini Prioris de Burncestre. Paroch. Antiq. p. 548. — *Computant de xxxv. solid. vii. den. receptis de dayeria de la Breche, Id. p. 570.

Daywere of Land, As much arable Ground as could be ploughed up in one Day's Work, or one Journey, as the Farmers still call it. —

acras, & sexdecim Daywere, de terra arabili. Cartular. Rading. MS. f. 90. a.

Daynyenne, — In manerio de Stiventon, Com. Berk. vigilarii fecerunt in Autumno per tres dies septimana, & tunc quilibet fecabit dimidium are, & vocatur Daynyenne. Placit. An. 9 Ed. 1.

Deadly Feud (Feuda & Faida) is a Profession of an irreconcilable Enmity, till we are revenged even by the Death of our Enemy. It is deduced from the German Word (ficed) which, as Hottoman, (in verbis Feudalibus) saith, Modo bellum, modo capitales inimicitias significat. It is used Anno 43 Eliz. c. 13. And such Enmity and Revenge was allowed by our ancient Laws in the Time of the Saxons, viz. where any Man was killed, if a pecuniary Satisfaction was not made to the Kindred, it was lawful for them to take up Arms and revenge themselves on the Murderer, and this is called Deadly Feud, and probably this was the Original of an Appeal.

Dead Pledge, Mortuum vadium. See Mortgage. Deafforsted, That is, discharged from being Forest, or exempt from the Forest-Laws, 17 Car. 1. cap. 16. Johannes Dei Gratia, &c. Archiepiscopus, Episcopus, &c. Sciatis nos omnino Deafforstasse Forestam de Brewood de omnibus que ad Forestam & Forestarios pertinent. Quare volumus & firmiter precipimus quod predicta Foresta & homines in illa manentes & heredes eorum sint Deafforstati imperpetuum, &c. Dat. apud Brug. 13 Martii Anno regni nostri 5.

Dean, (Gr. Διδων & a Δέω, decem) is an Ecclesiastical Magistrate or Dignitary, so called, because he presides over Ten Canons or Prebendaries at the least. We call him a Dean that is under the Bishop, and Chief of the Chapter, ordinarily in a Cathedral-Church; and the Rest of the Society or Corporation we call Capitulum, the Chapter. But how diversly this Word is used, read Lyndewode. Tit. De Constitut. cap. 1. verbo, Decani Rurales; where Rural Deans are said to be certain Persons that have Jurisdiction Ecclesiastical over other Ministers and Parishes near adjoining, assigned them by the Bishop and Archdeacon, being placed and displaced by them: Such are the Dean of Croyden in Surry, Dean of Battel in Suffex, &c.

As there are two Foundations of Cathedral-Churches in England, the old and the new, (the new are those which Henry the Eighth upon Suppression of Abbies transferred from Abbot, or Prior and Convent, to Dean and Chapter) so there are two Means of creating these Deans: For those of the old Foundation were exalted to their Dignity much like Bishops; the King first sending out his Conge d'Esire to the Chapter, the Chapter then chusing, the King yielding His Royal Assent, and the Bishop confirming him, and giving his Mandate to install him. Those of the new Foundation are by a shorter Course installed, by Virtue of the King's Letters Patent, without either Election or Confirmation. This Word is also applied to divers that are the Chief of certain peculiar Churches or Chapels, as the Dean of the King's Chapel, the Dean of the Archer, the Dean of St. George's Chapel at Windsor, &c. Nec Collegio alicui prefesti, nec jurisdictione ulla donati, nomine tamen velut honoris gratia insignes, says Spelman.

Deawarrennata, Diswarrenned; when a Warren was broke up, and laid in Common. King Henry III. in a Charter to the Citizens of London, dated 18 Aug. Anno Reg. II. grants to them, — quod tota Warrena de Stanes, cum pertin. suis sit

deawarrennata, & deafforestata in perpetuum —

Placit. temp. Edw. I. & Edw. II. MS. f. 144.

De bene esse, Are common Latin Words, but their Meaning is something more dark: As thus, To take or do a Thing de bene esse, is to allow or accept for the present, till it comes to be more fully examined, and then to stand or fall, according to the Merit of the Thing, in its own Nature, so that valeat quantum valere potest. So in Chancery, upon Motion for one of the less principal Defendants to be examined, the Court sometimes will order it de bene esse, that is, he may be examined, but so, that upon Hearing, and fully examining the Case, his Deposition may be allowed, or suppressed, as the Court shall think fit. See Langham's Case, Cro. 3 par. fol. 68. So also at Common Law, the Judges frequently take Bail de bene esse, that is, to be allowed or disallowed upon the Exception, or Approbation of the Plaintiff's Attorney; however in the Interim, they have a Well-being, or conditional Allowance.

Debenture was by a Rump-Act in 1649, ordained to be in the Nature of a Bond or Bill, to charge the Commonwealth (forsooth) to pay the Soldier-Creditor, or his Assigns, the Sum due upon auditing the Account of his Arrears. The Form of which Debenture, as then used, you may see in Stobell's Rump-Acts, Anno 1649, cap. 63. The Word is also mentioned in the Act of Oblivion, 12 Car. 2. cap. 8. Señ. 7. and is used in the Exchequer. See Auditor of the Receipts. In the King's House, Debentures are given usually to the King's Servants, for the Payment of their Wages, Board-Wages, and the like.

Debet & solet, Are Words frequently used by the Writers of the Common Law. For Example, it is said in the Old Nat. Brev. fol. 98. This Writ de setta Molendini, being in the debet & solet, is a Writ of Right, &c. And again, fol. 69. a Writ of Quod permittat, may be pleaded in the County before the Sheriff, and it may be in the debet & solet, or in the Debet without the Solet, according as the Demandant claimeth; wherefore Note, That those Writs that be in this Sort brought, have these Words in them, as formal Words, not to be omitted: And according to the Diversity of the Case, both debet and solet, or debet alone: That is, if a Man sue to recover any Right by Writ, whereof his Ancestor was disfeised by the Tenant, or his Ancestor, then he useth only the Word debet in his Writ; because solet is not fit, by reason his Ancestor was disfeised, and the Custom discontinued: But if he sue for any Thing that is now first of all denied, then he useth both these Words, debet & solet; because his Ancestors before him, and he himself usually enjoyed the Thing sued for, as Suit to a Mill, or Common of Pasture, until the present Refusal of the Tenant. The Like may be said of Debet & Detinet: As appeareth by the Reg. Orig. in the Writ De debito, fol. 140.

Debita, or De debito, Is a Writ which lieth, where a Man oweth to another a certain Sum of Money, upon an Obligation, or other Bargain, for any Thing sold unto him. F. N. B. fol. 119. This Writ is sometimes made in the Detinet, and not in the Debet, which properly falleth out, where a Man oweth an Annuity, or a Quantity of Wheat, Barley, or such like, which he refuseth to pay. Old. Nat. Brev. fol. 75. See before Debet & solet.

Deceit, (Deceptio, dolus) Is a subtil, wily Shift, or Trick; whereunto may be drawn all Manner of of Craft, Subtily, Guile, Fraud, Slight, Cunning, Covin, Collusion and Practise used to deceive another Man by any Means; which hath no other more proper or particular Name than Deceit, or Offence. West. pag. 2. Symbol. Tit. Indictments. Sect. 68. See Cofening, and new Book of Entries, verbo Disceit.

Decem tales. See Tales.

Decennas, and Decenniers. See Deciners.

Decennary (Decennaria) The Limits or Compaſs of ten Friburgs. See Deciners.

Decentum. See Faufetum.

Deceptione, Is a Writ that lieth properly againſt him, that deceitfully doth any Thing in the Name of another, for one that receiveth Damage or Hurt thereby. F. N. B. fol. 95. This Writ is either Original, or Judicial; as appeareth by the Old. Nat. Brev. fol. 50. where you may read the Uſe of both: For ſome Satisfaction, take the Words of that Book; This Writ of Deceit, when it is Original, lieth in Caſe where Deceit is uſed by one Man to another, by which Deceit he may be diſherited, or otherwiſe evil-intreated, as appeareth by the Register, &c. And when it is Judicial, then it lieth out of the Rolls of Record; as in Caſe where a Seire facias is ſent to the Sheriff, that he warn a Man to be before the Juſtices at a certain Day, and the Sheriff returns the Writ ſerved, whereas the ſaid Man was not warned, by which the Party that ſued out the Seire facias recovereth; then the Party which ought to have been warned, ſhall have the ſaid Writ againſt the Sheriff. In the Terms of the Law, verbo Deceit, it is ſaid, That the Original Writ of Deceit lieth, where any Deceit is done by a Man to another, ſo that he hath not ſufficiently performed his Bargain, or Promise: In the Writ Judicial, he concurrerh with the former Book. See Reg. Orig. fol. 112. and the Regiſt. Judicial, in the Table, verbo Deceptione.

Decies tantum Is a Writ that lies againſt a Juror, who hath taken Money for giving his Verdict; called ſo of the Effect, becauſe it is to recover Ten-times ſo much as he took. It lies alſo againſt Embracers that procure ſuch an Enquiry. Anno 38 Ed. 3. cap. 13. Reg. of Writs, fol. 188. F. N. B. fol. 171. New Book of Entries, verbo, Decies tantum.

Decime, Tithes: 'Tis well known what is meant by Tithes in the Old Teſtament, but 'tis not ſo plain in the New Law, when Tithes were firſt given to the Prieſts: Some are of Opinion that it was not long before the Time of Charles the Great; and particularly Father Paul, in his Italian Treatiſe Di materie beneficiali. But this muſt be a Miſtake; becauſe we find that in the ſecond Council of Matifcon, Anno 585. cap. 5. it was long before that Time, viz. Leges divina conſentes facerdotibus Eccleſiarum pro hereditatis portione omni populo præceperunt, Decimas fructuum ſuarum, &c. Unde Statuimus ut mos antiquus a fidelibus reparetur, & Decimas Eccleſiaſticis ſamulantibus ceremoniis populus omnis inferat, &c.

Decimation, Decimatio, The Punishing every tenth Soldier by Lot, was termed De imatio Legionis: It may be ſtretched to ſignify Tithing, or paying the tenth Part. There was another Sort of Decimation in the late Times of Uſurpation, which too many of his Maſteſty's Loyal Subjects have ſo much ſad Cauſe to remember, that I need not renew the Memory of it.

Decimis ſolvendis pro Poſſeſſionibus alienigenarum, Is a Writ, or Letters Patent, yet extant in the Register, which lay againſt thoſe that had farmed the Priors Aliens Lands of the King, for the Reſtor of the Pariſh, to recover his Tithes of them. Reg. Orig. fol. 179.

Deciners, alias Decenniers, alias Deſiners, Decennarii, Cometh of the French Dizene, i. e. Decas, Ten. It ſignifieth in the ancient Monuments of our Law, ſuch as were wont to have the Overſight and Check of Ten Frilwyrghs, for the Maintenance of the King's Peace; and the Limits or Compaſs of their Jurisdiction was called Decenna. Bract. lib. 3. tract. 2. cap. 15. Of whom you may alſo read Pleta, lib. 1. cap. 27. and Reg. Orig. fol. 98. b. Theſe ſeemed to have large Authority in the Saxons Time, taking Cogniſance of Cauſes within their Circuit, and redreſſing Wrongs by Way of Judgment, as you may read in the Laws of King Edward, ſet out by Lamb. num. 32. In later Times Mention is made of theſe; as in Britton, cap. 12. who ſaith in the King's Perſon (as he writeth his whole Book in that Manner) 'We will that all thoſe that be fourteen Years old, ſhall make Oath, that they will be ſufficient and loyal unto Us, and that they will neither be Felons, or aſſenting to Felons; and We will that all be en dozeine & plevis per dozeners, that is, profels themſelves of this or that dozeine, and make or offer Surety of their Behaviour, by theſe or thoſe Dozeniers, except religious Perſons, Clerks, Knights, and their eldeſt Sons, and Women.' Yet the ſame Author in his 29 Chapter, towards the End, doth ſay, That all of twelve Years old, and upwards, are puniſhable for not coming to the Turn of the Sheriff, except Earls, Prelates, Barons, Religious Perſons, and Women. Stauf. plac. cor. f. 47. out of Fitzherbert hath theſe Words, 'The ſame Law is, where the Dozeniers make Preſentment, that a Felon is taken for Felony, and delivered to the Sheriff, &c. And Kitchin, out of the Register, and Britton ſaith thus, Religious Perſons, Clerks, Knights, or Women, ſhall not be Deciners, fol. 33. From all which Premies may be gathered, That of late Times, this Word ſignifieth nothing but ſuch a one as by Oath of Loyalty to his Prince, is ſettled in the Combination or Society of a Dozein. And a Dozeine ſeemeth to extend ſo far as every Leet extendeth; becauſe in Leets only this Oath is miniftered by the Steward, and taken by ſuch as are twelve Years old, and upwards, dwelling within the Compaſs of the Leet, where they are ſworn. F. N. B. fol. 161. a. The particular of this Oath you may read in Bracton, lib. 3. tract. 2. cap. 1. num. 1. where he ſetteth down Fifteen Years for the Age of thoſe that are ſworn to the King's Peace; but lib. 3. tract. 2. cap. 11. num. 5. he nameth Twelve Years. See Inlaughe. From hence we may note the Diverſities between the ancient and preſent Times, in this Point of Law and Government, as well for the Age of thoſe that are to be ſworn, as alſo that Decennier is not now uſed for the Chief Man of a Dozen, but him that is ſworn to the King's Peace: And laſtly, That now there are no other Dozeins, but Leets; and that no Man ordinarily giveth other Security for the Keeping of the King's Peace, but his own Oath. And that therefore none answereth for another's Tranſgreſſion, but every Man for himſelf. See Frankpledge, and 2 par. Inſt. fol. 37.

Declaration, Declaratio, Is a Shewing in Writing the Grief and Complaint of the Demandant or Plaintiff, againſt the Defendant or Tenant, wherein wherein he is supposed to have done some Wrong. And this ought to be plain and certain, both because it impeaches the Defendant, and also compels him to answer thereto. Such a Declaration, in an Action Real, is termed a Count: Note, That the Count or Declaration, ought to contain Demonstration, Declaration, and Conclusion: In Demonstration are contained three Things: Quis queritur, contra quem, & pro qua causa. In the Declaration there ought to be comprised, Quomodo inter partes Actio accrevit, quando & qua die, anno & loco, & cui dabitur. And in the Conclusion, he ought to aver, and proffer to prove his Suit, and shew the Damages he has sustained by the Wrong done him. See Count.

Decretals, Decretales, Are a Volume of the Canon-Laws, containing the Decrees of sundry Popes; or else a Digest of the Canons of all the Councils, that pertained to one Matter under one Head.

Decretals are Instituta proprie Pape, praecepta vero Regum. They were compiled into one Body by Regino, Burchardus, Anselmus Bishop of Luca, and Ivo Bishop of Chartres; and afterwards by Gratian, who lived in the Pontificate of Eugenius the Third: And because his Compilation was generally received and approved by the Church, it was called The First Collection of the Decretals; of which you may read at large in Baluzius, in his Preface to the Dialogues of Anthony Augustine, &c. In this were contained the Decrees of Alexander the Third, to the Time of Celestine the Third.

The Second Collection of the Decretals was performed by Gilbertus and Alanus, and came out under the Name of Volaterran; who Twelve Years after the First Collection published this Second, containing not only the Decretals of former Popes, but those of Celestine the Third.

The Third Collection was begun by James Major Archdeacon of Compostella, and collected out of the Registers of Innocent the Third: It was called Romana Compilatio: But because there were many Things in it not generally received, therefore that Pope was prevailed on that by his Authority some Person might be appointed to make another Collection; and accordingly Petrus Beneventanus, a Notary, was appointed for that Work, which was the first Collection that was published by Authority.

The Council of Lateran, held under the same Pope Innocent, was the Occasion of publishing the fourth Collection: In which Council there were several Canons made, and reduced under Seventy-one Chapters. That Pope having, in the Space of five Years after the Publishing the third Collection, made many more Decrees himself, there were two Editions printed; one of the Canons of that Council, and another of his own Constitutions. And this was called The fourth Collection.

The fifth Collection consists of the Constitutions of Honorius the Third, collected by Taucred, Archdeacon of Bologna, and published by Innocentius Cyronus under the Name of that Pope. Du Cange.

Decuriare, i. e. To bring into Order: Si vero crimen, &c. procurator loci commiserit, agatur rationabiliter de eo, quod de Regis agitur Praeposito, (viz.) Ut eo vite Decuriato ac iusto ordine depulso, ille qui dignus sit Christo designetur. Mon. 1. Tom. 243.

Dedbanna, Sax. Dadbana, An actual Homicide, or Man-slayer; ex Dæd, Factum, & bana, Homicida. — Qui ad occidendum aliquem innoxium Redbanna, vel Dedbanna, fuerit convictus noxae, componat inde solus. Leg. Hen. I. cap. 85. That is, If any one be convicted of the Crime of killing another, either as Redebane, or Accessary by his Counsel, and Persuasion, or as Dede-bane, or Actual and Deed Committer of the Murder, then he shall himself alone compound for his Fine, or Satisfaction.

Debt Is a Warranty in Law, to the Feeffee and his Heirs: As if it be said in a Feeffment, A. B. hath given and granted, &c. It is a Warranty. Co. on Lit. 384. a.

Dedication-day, Festum dedicationis. The Feast of Dedication of Churches, or rather the Feast-Day of the Saint and Patron of a Church, which was celebrated not only by the Inhabitants of the Place, but by those of all the neighbouring Villages, who usually came thither; and such Assemblies were allowed by the King. Ad Dedicaciones, ad Synodos, &c. venientibus sit summa pax. It was usual for the People to feast and drink on those Days; and in many Parts of England they still meet every Year in Villages for this Purpose, which Days are called Feasts. See at large the History of the Institution and Observance of Wakes, or Feasts of Dedication, in Mr. Kennet's Paroch. Antiq. p. 610.

Dedimus Potestatem Is a Writ, whereby a Commission is given to a private Man, for the speeding of some Act appertaining to a Judge. The Civilians call it Delegationem: And it is granted most commonly upon Suggestion, that the Party which is to do something before a Judge, or in Court, is so feeble, that he cannot travel. It is used in divers Cases, as to make a personal Answer to a Bill in Chancery, to make an Attorney for the following of a Suit in the County, Hundred, Wapentake, &c. Old Nat. Breu. fol. 20. To levy a Fine, West. Symb. par. 2. Tit. Fines, Sect. 112. and divers other Effects, as you shall see by F. N. B. in divers Places. In what Diversity of Cases this Writ, or Commission, is used see in the Table of the Reg. Orig. verbo Dedimus Potestatem.

Dee Hibbr. See Deva and Seteia.

Deed, (Factum) is an Instrument written in Parchment or Paper, consisting of three Things, viz. Writing, Sealing, and Delivery, and comprehending a Contract or Bargain between Party and Party. Of which there are two Sorts, Deeds indented and Deeds Poll; which Names arise from the Form or Fashion of them, the one being cut in and out in the Top or Side, which we call Indented, the other being plain. A Deed indented is a Deed consisting of two Parts, or more, (for there are Tripartite, Quadrupartite, and Semtempartite Deeds; as that of Henry 7. concerning his Royal Chapel at Westminster;) in which it is expressed, That the Parties thereto have to every Part thereof interchangeably set their several Seals. The Cause of their Indenting is, that it may appear they belong to one Business or Contract. A Deed Poll, or polled (anciently called Charta de una parte, or Charta simplex;) is a plain Deed without Indenting; and is used, when the Vendor for Example only seals, and there is no Need of the Vendee's Sealing a Counterpart, by Reason the Nature of the Contract is such, as it requires no Covenant from the Vendee; unless in such Case the Vendor will, out of Caution or Curiosity, have a Counterpart, to see, upon any Occasion, what Covenants himself hath given. See Coke on Litt. fol. 35. b. See Date.

Deemsters, or Demsters, (from the Saxon Dema, i. e. a Judge or Umpire.) All Controversies (in the Isle of Man) are decided without Process, Writings, or any Charges, by certain Judges, whom they chuse from among themselves, and call Deemsters. Camb. Brit. Tit. Brit. Islands.

Deerfeld, (Sax. Deor, Fera, and Falda, Stabulum) occurrit apud Elfredum pro vivario cervino, vel sepimento quo includuntur damæ. A Park.

Deer-Pays, Are Engines, or great Nets, made of Cords, to catch Deer. Anno 19 Hen. 7. c. 11.

De essendo quietum de Telonio, Is a Writ which lieth for them, that are by Privilege freed from the Payment of Toll; of which read at large F. N. B. fol. 226.

De expensis Militum Is a Writ commanding the Sheriff to levy so much a Day for the Expences of a Knight of the Shire, and a like Writ to levy two Shillings a Day for every Citizen and Burgeis, called De expensis Civium & Burgenstium. 4 Inst. fol. 46.

De facto, A Thing actually done, done in very Deed.

Default, Defalta, Cometh from the French Default, and is an Offence in omitting that which we ought to do. West. Symb. par. 2. Tit. Indictment, sect. 2. Of this Bracton hath a large Discourse, lib. 5. tract. 3. By whom it appeareth, That a Default is most notoriously taken for Non-appearance in Court at a Day assigned. Of this you may read Fleta, lib. 6. cap. 14.

Defamation, Defamatio, Is when a Man speaks slanderous Words of another Man, of a Court of Justice, Magistracy, or Title of Land; for which the Party shall be punished, according to the Nature and Quality of the Offence. Sometimes by Action upon the Case for Slander; at other Times in the Ecclesiastical Courts; as if a Man contrive any false Lies against Prelates, Dukes, Earls, &c. then an Actio de Scandalis Magnatum will lie by the Statute 2 R. 2. cap. 5. But for Defamations in the Spiritual Courts to be determined, they ought to have three Incidences. First, To concern Matter merely Spiritual, and there triable; as to call a Man Heretick, Schismatick, Adulterer, &c. Secondly, That it concern Matter merely Spiritual. Thirdly, That is only for Punishment of the Fault, for the Soul's Health of him that offends. For the Slander or Defamation of a Title of Lands, see Co. lib. 4. fol. 18.

Defeasance, or Defeasance, (of the French Defaire, i. e. To undo, or defeat) signifies a Condition relating to a Deed, as to a Recognisance or Statute, which being performed by the Recognizor, the Deed is disabled and made void, as if it never had been done. The Difference between a Proviso or Condition in a Deed and a Defeasance, is, that those are inserted in the Deed or Grant, this is usually in a Deed by itself. Of which you may read West at large, par. 1. Symb. lib. 2. sect. 156.

Defence, — Rot. Parl. 21 Edw. 3. Cries and Defence was made throughout England, — i. e. Proclamations and Prohibition. — Salmones ponantur in defensione. West. 2. cap. 47. 1. Salmones are by that Act prohibited to be taken at certain Times therein mentioned. 2 Inst. 478.

Defence is also that which the Defendant ought to make immediately after the Count or Declaration made, that is, that he defends all the Wrong, Force, and Damage, &c. and then to proceed either in his Plea, or to imparl. See more, Termes de la Ley, verbo Defence.

Defend, (Fr. Defendre) signifies, in our Ancient Laws and Statutes, to prohibit or forbid: — Usuarius defendit quoque Rex Edwardus, ne remanerent in Regno. L.L. Edw. Conf. cap. 37. & 5 Rich. 2. cap. 7. Of which Words thus Chaucer:

Ulhere can you say in any manner Age,
That ever God defended Marriage.

In 7 Edw. 1. We have a Statute, entitled, Statutum de defensione portandi arma, &c. And it is defended by Law to disfranch on the Highway. Coke on Litt. fol. 161. Nay, in common Speech Men frequently say, God defend, instead of God forbid; and the Fence-Month is more properly the Defence-Month, that is, the forbidden Month, or tempus vetitum. Manwood's Forest-Law, cap. 15. num. 1. See Fence-Month.

Defendant, (Defendens) Is he that is sued in an Action Personal; as Tenant is he who is sued in an Action Real. See Impedient.

Defendimus Is an ordinary Word in a Feoffment or Donation, and hath this Force, that it bindeth the Donor and his Heirs to defend the Donee, if any Man go about to lay any Servitude upon the Thing given, other than is contained in the Donation. Bracton, lib. 2. cap. 16. num. 10. See also Warrantizabimus & Acquietabimus.

Defendere se, A Phrase in the Domesday Register, to be taxed for such a Quantity of Land. As the Manor of Brill. com. Buck. having been rated or assessed at twenty Hides, it is said, — Inde xx. hide se defendebant, Paroch. Antiq. p. 165.

Defendere se per corpus suum, To offer Duel, Combat, or Camp-fight, as a legal Trial, or Appeal. The Phrase occurs in Bracton l. 3. de corona, cap. 26, 32, &c. and many other of our English Writers.

Defendere unica manu, To wage Law, by denying the Accusation upon Oath: — Et si forte forisfactor ille factum negaverit, & forisfactor solus sit sine teste, ille debet se Defendere unica manu ad unam vocem rationabili die data in Curia Abbatis, & si unicum testem vel plures haberit, debet se defendere sexta manu, &c. Charta facta inter W. de Bray Mil. & Abb. & Convent. de Oseney, sine Dat. See Manus.

Defender of the Faith, Defensor Fidei, Is a peculiar Title given to the King of England by the Pope, as Catholicus to the King of Spain, and Christianissimus to the French King, and Advocatus Ecclesie to the Emperor. It was first given by Leo the Tenth, to King Henry the Eighth, for writing against Martin Luther in Behalf of the Church of Rome, then accounted Domicilium fidei Catholicae. Stow's Annals, pag. 863. The Bull for it bears Date Quinto Idus, Octo, 1521. and may be read at large in the Lord Herbert's History of Henry the Eighth, fol. 105.

Defensa, A Park, or Place fenced in for Deer, and defended as a Property, and peculiar for that Use and Service. — Idem Dux fecit instaurare predictum parcum de feris Defensæ Leicestrensis. Henr. Knyghton sub anno 1352. — Dux Lancastrie fecit magnam Convocationem magnatum Regni

Defensiva, The Lords or Earls of the Marches, the Wardens or Defenders of the Country.—Defensivæ locorum seu vicecomites locis statuentur statutis. Rad. de Dieto sub anno 1153.—In Marchia principales Defensivæ locorum, &c. ib. sub anno 1198.

In Defenso, That Part of an open Field that was for Corn and Hay, upon which there was no Commoning or Feeding, was said to be in Defenso. So any Meadow-Ground laid in for Hay. And so any Part of a Wood, where the Cattle had not Liberty to run, but was enclosed and fenced up to secure the Growth of the Under-wood.—Bosius de Nasske debet esse in Defenso dum durat pannagium, videlicet a Festo Michaelis ad Festum Sancti Martini. Mon. Angl. tom. 3. p. 306.

Defensum, An Inclosure, or any fenced Ground.—Si ego meos porcos in parco meo vel in hays, vel in aliquo alio Defenso, posuero.—Mon. Angl. tom. p. 2. 114.

Definitor, (Diffinitor.) a Visitor.

Deforcement, (Deforcementum.) Matt. Paris. f. 422. Qui unque deforcieraverit eis dotem, & de ipso deforcamento convicti fuerit, id est, per vim abstulerit. A With-holding Lands or Tenements by Force from the right Owner. See Deforceer, and Coke on Litt. fol. 331. b.

Deforciantur, (Anno 23 Eliz. cap. 3.) the same with Deforceor. See Difforiare.

Deforceor, Deforciator, Cometh of the French Forceur, expugnator: In the Sense of the Law it signifies one that overcometh, and casteth out by Force: And differeth from Disseisor first in this, because a Man may disseise another without Force: Which Act is called Simple disseisin, Britton, cap. 53. Next, because a Man may deforce another that never was in Possession. As for Example, If more have Right to Lands as common Heirs, and one entering, keepeth out the Rest, the Law saith that he deforceth them, though he doth not disseise them. Old Nat. Brev. fol. 118. And Littleton in his Chapter Discontinuance, fol. 117. saith, That he which is enfeoffed by the Tenant in Tail, and put in Possession, by keeping out the Heir of him in the Reversion, being dead, doth deforce him, though he did not disseise him, because he entred when the Tenant in Tail was living, and the Heir had no present Right. And a Deforceor differeth from an Intruder, because a Man is made an Intruder by a wrongful Entry only into Lands or Tenements void of a Possessor, and a Deforceor also is, by holding out the right Heir, as above said. Bracton, lib. 4. cap. 1. See more of this in Pulton de pace Regis, fol. 34. 35.

Deforciatio, A Distress, Distrain, or Seizure of Goods for Satisfaction of a lawful Debt.—Nos & heredes nostros distinguere possunt, per bona mobilia & immobilia & hominum nostrorum & Deforciationem tenere quousque plenarie fuerit satisfactum. Paroch. Antiq. p. 293.

Degrading. See Disgrading.

Dequattare, To baste Meat in Roasting by letting Butter, Fat, or Dripping, gutter or run by Drops upon it.—Nec minori tormento vexabantur, qui verubus transfixi, ad ignem affati Deguttabantur a demonibus ex metallis liquefactis. Mat. Par. sub anno 1153.

Deirotzum regnum, i. e. York, Lancaster, Westmorland, Cumberland, Northumberland, and the Bishoprick of Durham. From the Saxon Deer, Fera, because of the Multitude of wild Beasts.

Deis, or Dagis, The chief or upper Table in English Monasteries was so called.—Priore prandente ad magnam mensam quam Deis appellamus. Additam. ad Mat. Par. p. 148. Et sciendum quod non permittitur cibus cum pede in Refectorio nisi tantum in majori mensa, quam Deis appellamus. ib. These Tables had this Name from a Colth called Dais, with which the Tables of Kings were covered. Matt. Paris. in vita Abbat. Sancti Albani, p. 92.

Dei Judicium, The old Saxon Ordeal was so called, because they thought it an Appeal to God for the Justice of a Cause; and did believe the Decision was according to the Will and Pleasure of divine Providence.—Picot contradixit suum testimonium de Vilanis & vili plebe, & de prepositis qui volunt defendere per sacramentum, aut per Dei Judicium, quod ille qui tenuit terram, liber homo fuit.—Domedey in Cerdeson. See Dr. Brady's Introd. p. 272.

Delatura, i. e. An Accusation: In quibusdam locis juramenti vel antejuramenti multa est distantia, sicut in Delatura, & plurimis aliis. Leges H. 1. cap. 64. Sometimes 'tis taken for the Reward of an Informer. Leges Ina 20. apud Brompton. It differs from Freda, viz. Qui scrofas sex cum verberis furatus est, in triplum componat & Delaturam, f. 7. & in freda totidem. Du Cange.

Delegatus, The Stat. 26 H. 8. cap. 19. says, are Commissioners delegated or appointed by the King's Commission, to sit upon an Appeal to him in the Court of Chancery, and is granted in three Cases. First, when a Sentence is given in any Ecclesiastical Cause by the Archbishop, or his Official. Secondly, when any Sentence is given in any Ecclesiastical Cause, in Places exempt. Thirdly, when Sentence is given in the Admiralty in Suits Civil and Marine, by Order of the Civil Law. 4 par. Inst. fol. 339. Anno 8 Eliz. cap. 5.

Delit, (From the Saxon delsan, to dig, we still retain the Word Delove, for dig;) is a Quarry or Mine where Stone or Cole is digged. Anno 31 Eliz. cap. 7. And Cambden mentions a Charter of Edward the Fourth, wherein Mention is made of a Mine or Delfe of Copper.

Delgovitia. Godmundham in Yorkshire.

Deliberance. See Replegiare.

Demain or Demefne, (Dominicum, Gallis Domanium, Italīs Demanium) Is a French Word otherwise written Domaine, and signifieth Patrimonium Domini, as Hottoman saith in verbis feudalibus, verbo Dominicum, where by divers Authorities he proveth those Lands to be Dominicum, which a Man holdeth originally of himself, and those to be feodum which he holdeth of a superior Lord. And by the Word Domanium as Demanium, are properly signified the King's Lands in France, appertaining to him in Property. In like Manner do we use it in England, although we have no Land (that of the Crown only excepted) which holdeth not of a Superior, for all dependeth either mediately or immediately of the Crown, wherefore no common Person hath any Demains simply understood; for when a Man in pleading, would signify his Land to be his own, he saith, That he is or was seised thereof in his Demain, as of Fee, Litt. lib. 1. cap. 1. whereby he meaneth, that although his Land be to him and his Heirs for ever, yet it is not not true Demain, but depending upon a superior Lord, and holding by Service, or Rent in lieu of Service, and by both Service and Rent; yet these Words have been used in the King's Right. 37 H. 8. cap. 16. and 39 Eliz. 22. But the Application of this Speech to the King and Crown-Land is crept by Error and Ignorance of the Word Fee. Britton, cap. 78. sheweth, That this Word Demain is diversly taken, sometimes more largely, as of Lands and Tenements held for Life, &c. and sometimes more strictly, as for such only as are generally held in Fee. This Word sometime is used for a Distinction between those Lands, that the Lord of a Manor hath in his Hands, or in the Hands of his Lessee, demised upon a Rent, for Term of Years or Life, and such other Land appertaining to the said Manor, which belongeth to Free or Copy Holders. Howbeit, the Copyhold belonging to any Manor, is also in the Opinion of many good Lawyers accounted Demains. Bracton, lib. 4. tract. 3. ca. 9. num. 5. saith, Est autem Dominium, quod quis habet ad mensuram suam & propriam, sicut sunt Bordlands Anglice. Item dicitur Dominium Villenagium, quod traditur villanis quod quis tempore & intempore sumere possit pro voluntate sua & revocare. Of this Feita also writeth much after the same Manner. Lib. 5. cap. 5. sect. Dominium autem. And the Reason why Copyhold is accounted Demains, is because they that be Tenants to it, are judged in Law to have no other Right, but at the Will of the Lord; so that it is reputed still after a Sort to be in the Lord's Hands. And yet in the common Speech, that is ordinarily called Demeans, that is neither Free nor Copy. And here note, That Demain is sometimes used in a more special Signification, and is opposite to Frank-Fee. For Example, those Lands which were in the Possession of Edward the Confessor, are called ancient Demain, and others be called Frank-Fee. Kitchin, fol. 98. And the Tenants which hold any of those Lands be called Tenants in ancient Demain, the other Tenants in Frank-Fee. Kitchin, ubi supra. And also Tenants of the Common Law. West. Symbol. part. 2. Tit. Fines, sect. 25. The Reason is, because Tenants in ancient Demain cannot be sued out of the Lord's Court. Termes de la Ley, verbo Ancient Demaine. And such Tenants, though they hold all the Verge, and have none other Evidence, but Copy of Court-Roll, yet are they said to have Freehold. Kitchin, 81. See Ancient Demeasne. See more on this Subject in the learned Spelman, verbo Dominium, where he does not allow this Word to be written Demean or Demesne, but Demain only.

Demaine cart of an Abbot, Seems to be that Cart which the Abbot useth upon his own Demaine. An. 6 H. 3. c. 21.

Demando (Fr. Demande, i. e. Postulatio) signifies a Calling upon a Man for any Thing due. It hath also a proper Signification, distinguished from Plaint: For all Civil Actions are pursued either by Demands or Plaints; and the Pursuer is called Demandant or Plaintiff, viz. Demandant in Actions Real, and Plaintiff in Personal. And where the Party pursuing is called Demandant, the Party pursued is called Tenant; where Plaintiff, there Defendant. If a Man release to another all Demands, this is the best Release the Releasee can have, and shall enure most to his Advantage. Littl. fol. 117. a. There are two Manner of Demands; the one in Deed, the other in Law: In Deed, as in every Prescipe, there is express Demand: In Law, as in every Entry in Land, Distress for Rent, Taking or Seizing of Goods, and such like Acts, which may be done without any Words, are Demands in Law.

As a Release of Suits is more large than of Quarrels or Actions; so a Release of Demands is more large and beneficial than either of them. By a Release of all Demands, all Executions and all Freeholds and Inheritances executory are released: By a Release of all Demands to the Disfeisor, the Right of Entry in the Land, and all that is contained therein, is released. And he that releaseth all Demands, excludes himself from all Actions, Entries, and Seisures; but a Release of all Demands is no Bar in a Writ of Error to reverse an Outlawry. Coke, lib. 8. f. 153, 154.

Demandant, Petens, Is the Plaintiff in a real Action, so called, because he demandeth Lands, &c. Co. on Littl. fol. 127.

Demihaque. See Haque and Haquebuz.

Demise, Dimissio, is applied to an Estate either in Fee-simple, Fee-tail, or for Term of Life, and so it is commonly taken in many Writs, 2 par. Inst. fol. 483. The King's Death is in Law termed, The Demise of the King.

Demisters. See Deemsters.

Demurrer (from the Fr. Demeurer, i. e. Manere in aliquo loco, vel morari.) is a Kind of Pause or Stop put to the Proceedings of any Action upon a Point of Difficulty, which must be determined by the Court, before any further Proceedings can be had therein: For in every Action the Controversy consists either in Fact or in Law; if in Fact; that is tried by the Jury; if in Law, the Case is plain to the Judge, or so hard and rare, as it breeds just Doubt. We call that plain to the Judge wherein he is assured of the Law, though perhaps the Party and his Counsel yield not to it. And in such Case, the Judge with his Associates proceeds to Judgment without more to do; but when it is doubtful, then Stay is made, and a Time taken, either for the Court to consider further of it, and agree if they can, or else for all the Judges to meet together in the Exchequer-Chamber, and upon Hearing what Counsel can say on both Sides to determine what is Law. And whatsoever they conclude stands firm, without any farther Appeal. Smith de Repub. Angl. lib. 2. cap. 13. This Demurrer is in our Records expressed in Latin by Moratur in Lege. At the Common Law, the Defendant sometimes demurreth to the Plaintiff's Count or Declaration; and sometimes the Plaintiff demurs to the Defendant's Plea, by averring that it is not a sufficient Plea in Law, &c. In Chancery, the Defendant demurs to the Plaintiff's Bill, averring it is defective in such or such a Point, and demands the Judgment of the Court thereupon, whether he shall be compelled to make any further or other Answer therunto, &c. See Moratur in Lege.

Demps sanke ou Sanguer, Of the half Blood, is, when the Man marries a Wife, and hath Issue by her a Son or a Daughter, and the Wife dies, and then he takes another Woman, and hath by her also a Son or Daughter; now these two Sons or Daughters are after a sort Brothers or Sisters, as we usually term them half Brothers, &c. or Brothers of the half Blood, because they had both one Father; but are not Brothers by the Mother's side, as having several Mothers, and therefore cannot be Heirs one to another; for he that that shall claim as Heir to one by Descent, must be of the whole Blood to him from whom he claims.

Den, the Names of Places ending in Den signify the Situation to be in a Valley, or near Woods, as Tenterden, Biddenden, from the Sax. Den, Vallis: Loius Sylvestris.

Dena, Denna, a little Portion of woody Ground, commonly called a Coppice, De Silva octo denæ parvæ; in another Place, Et una parva dena sylvæ. Domesday, apud Spelm. And Thorn. Anno 826. tells us, that Dederunt Abbati terram 20 aratrorum & 13 Dennas glandes portantes, &c.

Den & Strond, Liberty for Ships or Vessels to run a Ground, or come a-shoar. K. Edw. 1. grants this Privilege to the Barons of the Cinque Ports.—Quod sint Wrecesfry & Wytefry & Lestagefry & Lonetofry & quod habeat Den & Strond apud Gernemuth.—Placit. temp. Ed. 1. & Ed. 2. MS. 410. penes Dom. Fountaines ex Æde Christi Oxon.

Denariata terræ. See Fardingdeal of Land.

Denarius, Precium rei quæ Denario constat; Mervis, redditus terræ. Siant—quod ego Willielmus filius Philippi de Colewal Dedi—Egidio de la Berne de Hereford pro quadam summa pecunie—Octo Denarios annui redditus, &c. Sine dat.

Denariatus terræ signifies as much Land as is worth a Penny by the Year. Sibylla Bartholot tenet unam acram & 5 Denarios terræ in eodem temento. And in another Place, Tenet dimidium vadam & 3 Denarios terræ in fine boreali messuagii Tab. Prioratus Lewes in Suffex. Du Cange.

Denarius, an English Penny. Stat. Ed. 1 De compositione Mensurarum, viz. Denarius Anglie qui nominatur Sterlingus rotundus sine torsura ponderabit 32 grana frumenti in medio spica, & 20 denarii faciunt unciam & 12 uncie faciunt libram.

Denari, A General Term for any Sort of pecunia numerata, or ready Money.—Solventur Hominibus de Hedington de denariis Domini singulis annis proximo die quo falcare incipient quinque solidi. Paroch. Antiq. p. 320.

Denarius tertius Comitatus. In the Fines and other Profits arising from the County-Courts, two Parts were reserved to the King, and a third Part or Penny to the Earl of the County, who either received it in Specie at the Assises and Trials, or had an equivalent Composition paid from the Exchequer. So Eubulo le Strange in Right of his Wife Alice, Daughter and Heir of Henry de Lacy Earl of Lincoln, had by Letters Patented Dat. 5 Ed. 3. Custodiam & Wardam castelli nostri de Lincoln cum balliva ibidem & viginti libratas annui redditus, pro tertio denario Comitatus. Paroch. Antiq. 418.

Denarius Dei, God's Penny, Arles or Earnest Money.—It. quod noster Mercatorum ab illo contractu possit discedere vel resistere, postquam Denarius Dei inter principales personas contrahentes datus fuerit & receptus. Cart. 31 Ed. 1. M. 4. Sec Argentum Dei.—The Occasion of this Earnest Money being called God's Penny, Denarius Dei, was this; in former Times the Piece of Money so given to seal the Contract was given to God, i. e. to the Church or the Poor, but the pious Use is now gone.

Denarii de Caritate. Whitfun-Farthings, or Pentecostals, the customary Oblations made to the Cathedral-Church about the Time of Pentecost, when the Parish-Priests and many of their People went in Procession to visit their Mother-

Church. This Custom of voluntary Honour was afterward changed into a settled Duc, and commonly charged upon the Parish-Priest; though at first but a Gift of Charity (Denarii de Caritate) or eleemosynary Present to help to maintain and adorn the Bishop's Secor Cathedral Church.—Et salvo, quod denarium S. Petri & denarios de caritate persolvant, quos hactenus persolvere consueverunt.—Cartular. Abbat. Glaston. MS. fol. 15.

Denarius S. Petri, Peter-Pence. See Rome-scot.

Dena terræ, A hollow Place between two Hills; you may find it in the Beginning of Domesday-Book. De Silva octo denæ parvæ & tres magnæ Domesdei.—una parva dena sylvæ, ib. Dederunt Abbati terram viginti aratrorum & xiii. Dennas glandes portantes. Will. Thorn. sub an. 826. Sax. den, a low Place which gives Termination to very many Names of Places, especially among the Woods, as in the Weald of Kent, Tenterden, Biddenden, &c. In some North Parts of England they keep the Word Dene for a Valley, as in the Bishoprick of Durham, they say, Skarris and Denes, i. e. Hills and Vales.

Denbera, A Place for the running of Hogs, a Swine-cumb, or low Valley for the Pannage or Feeding Swine. From the Sax. Den, a Vale, and Berg a Barrow, a Hog. In a Charter of King Ethelred granting the Manor of Mersham to the Church of Canterbury.—Hac sunt Pafua porcorum quæ nostra Lingua Saxonica Denbera nominamus.—And in a Charter of K. Offa to the said Church,—adjectis Denberis in communi saltu.—See Somner of Rom. Ports and Forts, pag. 110.

Dene, Dena, In the same Book signifies a Dale.

Denne, In the same Book stands for a Town.

Denelage, or Danelage, Denelagia, Is the Law that the Danes made here in England, out of which, and Merchenlage and West Saxon-lage, the Conqueror compounded certain Ordinances for his Subjects. Cambd. Brit. p. 94, & 183.

Denizen, From the French Donaison, i. Donatio, signifies in Law an Alien that is enfranchised by the King's Charter, and enabled in all respects almost to do as the King's native Subjects do, viz. to purchase and to possess Lands, and to be capable of any Office or Dignity; yet it is short of Naturalization, because a Stranger naturalized, may inherit Lands by Descent, which a Man made only a Denizen cannot. And in the Charter, whereby a Man is made Denizen, there is commonly contained some one Clause or other, that abridgeth him of that full Benefit which natural Subjects do enjoy. And when a Man is thus enfranchised, he is said to be under the King's Protection, or esse ad fidem Regis Angliæ, before which Time he can enjoy nothing in England. Bract. lib. 5. tract. 5. cap. 25. num. 3. Nay he and his Goods might be seized to the King's Use. Horne in his Mirror of Justice, lib. 1. cap. de la Venue de franpleige, and 2 par. Inst. fol. 741. See also the Statute 27 H. 8. cap. 24. and Co. lib. 7. Calvin's Case. It seems that Donaiso is the right Name so called, because his Legitimation proceeds ex donatione Regis, from the King's Gift.

Denstiring of Lands. To cast Parings of Earth, Turf, and Stubble into Heaps, and when dried, to burn them into Ashes, for a Compost on poor barren Land. This Method of Improvement is called Burn-beating, and in some Parts of Staffordshire they term it Denstiring of Land.

Dentrix, a Fish with many Teeth. Et sunt quieti de quibusque pristi caponum, columbarum, Dentricum, anguillarum & omnium aliorum piscium. Charta H. 6. pro Monaster. Ramesey.

Deodand, Deodandum, Is a Thing given or rather forfeited, as it were, to God, for the Pacification of his Wrath, in case of Misadventure, whereby any Christian Man cometh to a violent End, without the Fault of any reasonable Creature. For Example, If a Horse should strike his Keeper, and so kill him: If a Man in driving a Cart, and seeking to redress any Thing about it, should so fall as the Cart-wheel running over him, should kill him: If one should be selling a Tree, and giving warning to Company by, when the Tree was near falling, to look to themselves, and any of them should be slain nevertheless by the Fall of the Tree: In the first of these Cases, the Horse; in the second, the Cart-wheel, Cart and Horses; and in the third, the Tree, is a Deodand, and to be given to God; that is, to be sold and distributed to the Poor, by the King's Almoner, for an Expiation of that dreadful Event, though effected by unreasonable, yea senseless and inanimate Creatures. Stamiff. pl. cor. lib. 1. cap. 2. Bract. lib. 3. tract. 2. cap. 5. Britton. cap. 17. and West. Symbol. Tit. Indictments, sect. 49.

Omnia que movent ad Mortem sunt Deodanda.

What moves to Death, or kills him dead, Is Deodand, and forfeited.

Eleta says, this Deodand is to be sold, and the Price distributed to the Poor, for the Soul of the King, his Ancestors, and all faithful People departed this Life. Lib. 1. cap. 25. De Summis. Which Law seems to bear an Imputation of that in Exodus. c. 21. Si cornu perierit bos virum vel mulierem, ita ut moriatur, lapidabitur bos neque comedetur caro ejus, ac Dominus ejus erit innocens. This Word is mentioned in the Stat. De Officio Coronatoris, Anno 4 Ed. 1. See 3 Part. Inft. fol. 57. Since therefore by the Mosaic Law the Ox was to be stoned to Death, it seems reasonable that the Price of the Ox should be bestowed in pious and charitable Uses.

De deoneranda pro rata portione, Is a Writ that lieth where one is distrained for a Rent that ought to be paid by others proportionably with him. For example, a Man holds Ten Ox-gangs of Land by Fealty, and 10s. Rent of the King, and alienateth one Ox-gang to one, another to another in Fee; afterwards the Sheriff, or other Officer, cometh and distraineth only one of them for the Rent; he that is distrained may have this Writ for his Relief. F. N. B. f. 234.

Depalliare. See Detunicare.

Depart, or Departure, From a Plea, or Matter, is where a Man pleads a Plea in Bar of an Action, and being replied thereunto, doth in his Rejoinder shew another Matter contrary to his first Plea, that is called a Departure from his Bar, Plowd. Com. fo. 7, 8. Reniger and Fogassa's Case. It may also be applied to a Plaintiff, who in his Replication shews new Matter from his Declaration. Co. 2. par. f. 147. Bagshawe's Case. So if a Man plead a general Agreement in Bar, and in his Rejoinder alledge a special one; this shall be adjudged a Departure in pleading. So in Trespas, if the Defendant will plead a Difcent, and the Plaintiff, that after this the Defendant enclosed him; and the Defendant saith, this Enclosurement was upon Condition, for the Breach whereof he entred: This is a Departure, for it is new Matter. Of this, see divers Examples in Broke, Tit. Depart de son plea.

Departure in Displeight of the Court, Is, when a Tenant or Defendant appears to an Action and hath a Day over in the same Term, or is called after, though he had no Day given him, so that it be in the same Term; if he do not appear, but make Default, it is a Departure in Displeight of the Court, and therefore he shall be condemned. And here observe, That Departure in Displeight of the Court, is always on the Part of the Tenant or Defendant, and the Entry thereof is, Quod predictus A. licet solemniter exactus non venit sed, in contemptum curie recessit & defaultum fecit: And this is when in Judgment of the Law he is present in Court, and being demanded, departs in Displeight of the Court. This amounts to a Bar in respect of the Displeight and Contempt of the Court. See Co. lib. 8. fol. 62.

To Depart, To divide or separate a Gively. This Hill departed the Land of the Amorites from that of the Amorites. Bar upon Est. lib. 14. ca. 13. Men that divide and depart Fields. ib. cap. 50. So in Wickliffe's Translat. Gen. 1. 4. Depart the Lights from Darkness. And it was in that Age properly express in our old Office of Matrimony, till death us depart, now more intelligible to the Vulgar, till Death us do part. Hence the Departures of Gold and Silver were no more than the Dividers and Refiners of those Metals.

Departures of Gold and Silver. See Finers.

Depersonatus. See Dispersonatus.

Depopulation, Depopulatio, Is the laying Waste, destroying and unpeopling of a Place. Co. 12. Rep. f. 30. This is now the apparent Effect of enclosing Lordships and Manors, by which Means several good old populous Villages have been reduced from a great Number of sufficient Farms, to a few Cottages.

Depopulatores agrorum, Were great Offenders by the Common Law, as appears by the Statute 4 H. 4. 2. and were called Depopulatores agrorum, because by prostrating and ruining of Houses, they seemed to depopulate Towns, that is, leave them without Inhabitants. 3 part. Inft. f. 204. See also 13 El. 10. and 14 El. 11.

Deposition (Depositio) is the Testimony of a Witness, otherwise called a Deponent, put down in Writing by way of Answer to Interrogatories exhibited to that Purpose in Chancery, &c. And when such Witness is examined in open Court, he is said to be examined Viva voce. Deposition is also used for Death; as in Provin. Angl. lib. 2. Tit. De feriis. Ordinamus quod Testum Depositionis Sancti Johannis de Beverlaco, 7 die Maii, per Provinciam nostram antedictam perpetuis temporibus celebretur.

Deposition, Deprivation, Is a Bereaving or Taking away, as when a Bishop, Parson, Vicar or Prebend, is deprived or deposed from his Pre ferment for any Matter in Fact or in Law; as if a Schismatick, or meer Layman, be presented, admitted, instituted and inducted; this is good Cause

Cause of Deprivation. See other Causes of Deprivation. 13 Eliz. cap. 12. 21 H. 8. cap. 13. —

With the Lois of Deprivation of all the Spiritual Promotions, whereof, &c. An. 2 & 3 E. 6. cap. 20. Deprivation of Bishops and Deans. An. 39 Eliz. c. 8.

Deprivatio a Beneficio is when, for some great Crime, a Minister is wholly and for ever deprived of his Living.

Deprivatio ab Officio is when a Minister is for ever deprived of his Orders, which is also called Depositio or Degradatio, and is commonly for some heinous Crime meriting Death, and performed by the Bishop in a solemn Manner.

Deputy, is he that exercises in another Man's Right, either Office or other Things; and his Forfeiture or Misdemeanor shall cause the Officer, or him whose Deputy he is, to lose his Office: But a Man cannot make his Deputy in all Cases, except the Grant so be; as if it be with these, or such like Words, To exercise and use by himself, or his sufficient Deputy; or if the Words go farther, To himself, or his Deputy, or the Deputy of his Deputy; then he may make his Deputy, and his Deputy also may make a Deputy, or else not. As if the Office of a Parkership be granted to one, he cannot grant this over to another, because it is an Office of Trust and Confidence, and shall not be forfeited. And there is great Difference between a Deputy and Assignee of an Office; for an Assignee hath an Interest in the Office it self, and doth all Things in his own Name; for whom his Grantor shall not answer, unless in special Cases. But a Deputy hath not any Interest in the Office, but is only the Shadow of the Officer, in whose Name he doth all Things. And where an Officer hath Power to make Assigns, he may implicitly make Deputies, for cui licet quod majus est, non debet quod minus est non licere. And a Sheriff may make a Deputy, or Under-Sheriff, although he have not such express Words in his Patent.

Der. Names of Places beginning with Der signify they were formerly where wild Beasts herded together, from the Sax. Deor, Fera; unless the Situation was near some River.

Deraign or Dereyn, Disfrancare vel dirationare, may seem to come of the French Disarroyer, id est, confundere, to confound or disorder, or disranger, to put in Disorder; or of the Norman word Defrene, which signifies nothing but a Proof of the Denial of a Man's own Fact. In our Common Law it is used diversely. First generally, To prove, as Dirationabit jus suum heres propinquior. Glanville, lib. 2. cap. 6. And habeo probos homines, qui hoc viderunt & audierunt & parati sunt hoc dirationare. Id. lib. 4. cap. 6. And dirationavit terram illam in curia mea. Id. lib. 2. cap. 20. he proved that Land to be his own, &c. And pertinentiam eam dirationavit in vita sua, vel alio modo juste perquisivit. Id. lib. 6. cap. 12. And Bracton useth it after the same Sort, in these Words, Habeo sufficientem dirationacionem & probationem. Lib. 4. tract. 6. cap. 16. And so he useth Dirationare. Lib. 4. cap. 22. And so in Westm. 2. 13 E. 1. cap. 32. And to deraign the Warranty. Old. Nat. Brev. fol. 146. And to deraign the Warranty Paramount. 31 H. 8. cap. 1. And deraignen le Warranty in Plowden, Basset's Case, in fine 2. partis fol. 6, 7, 8. hath the same Signification. So it is used, Westm. 2. cap. 5. 13 E. 1. in these Words.

And when the Parson of any Church is disturbed, to demand Tithes in the next Parish by a Writ of Indicavit; the Patron of the Parson so disturbed, shall have a Writ to demand the Advowson of the Tithes, being in Demand; when it is deraigned, then shall the Plea pass in the Court-Christian as far as the same is deraigned in the King's Court. Bract. also 3. Lib. tract. 2. c. 3. num. 1. speaking of him that appealeth another for any Treason or Felony, hath these Words, Proponat accusans appellum suum in hunc modum, sc. debet dicere se interfuisse & vidisse certo loco, certo die, certa hora, & scivisse ipsum accusatum preloctum fuisse mortem Regis vel seditionem suam, vel exercitus sui, vel consensisse, vel auxilium & consilium impendisse, vel ad hoc auctoritatem prestitisse, & hoc ego juxta considerationem curia dirationare paratus sum. He useth it likewise as the Normans use Disfranchism, for him that offereth to justify his Denial, as Lib. 3. tract. 2. cap. 28. num. 1. in these Words, Rex consilio Episcoporum & bonorum misit propter comitem, ut statuto die veniret ad curiam, ad dirationandum vel defendendum se si possit. Lastly, in some Places the Substantive Deraignment is found used in the very literal Signification of the French Deraier or Disfranger, that is, turning out of Course, as Deraignment or Departure out of Religion, 31 H. 8. cap. 6. and Deraignment or Discharge of their Profession, 33 H. 8. 29. which is spoken of those religious Men which forsook their Orders, or Profession; as also 5 & 6 E. 6. cap. 13. So doth Kitchin use the Word, fol. 152. saying, The Lefsee entrench into Religion, and afterwards is deraigned. And Britton hath these Words, Semounse disrenable, for a Summons that may be challenged as defective, or not lawfully made, cap. 21. Of this you may read more in Skene de verb. signif. verbo Disfrancare where he confoundeth it with our waging and making of Law.

De Reboatione Parlamenti is a Writ for recalling a Parliament, as in 5 Ed. 3. the Parliament being summoned, was recalled by such a Writ before it met. See Pryn's Animad. on the 4 Inst. f. 44.

Deriventic, Audley upon Derwent in Yorkshire. Descent. See Descent.

De son tort demeste (Fr. Restius demene, i. e. a Plot, Motion, or Enterprize) are Words of Form, used in an Action of Trespas by way of Reply to the Defendant's Plea. For Example; A. sues B. in such an Action; B. answers for himself, That he did that which A. calls a Trespas by the Command of C. his Master: A. saith again, That B. did it de son tort demeste, sans ceo que C. luy commanda, modo & forma, that is, B. did it of his own Wrong without that, that C. commanded him, in such Form, &c.

Disputus, i. e. a contemptible Person. 'Tis mentioned in Ezra, lib. 4. c. 5. par. 4. viz. Ballivi & servientes Regis populum sibi subditum gravare consueverunt, ponendo in Assis & juratis homines languidos & Despitos, &c.

Distra. es. See Dextrales and Dextrarius.

Disubite, to weary one with continual barking, and then to bite, viz. Si caris hominem Desubiter, aut mordeat tacitus, in prima culpa reddantur sex fol. Leg. Alured. 26.

Detachiare, Dittachiare, by Writ of Detachment or other Course of Law, to seize or take into Custody another's Goods or Person.

Detinue, Detinendo, Is a Writ that lieth against him, who having Goods or Chattels delivered to him to keep, refuseth to deliver them again. See of this F. N. B. fol. 138. To this is answerable in some sort, Actio depositi in the Civil Law. And he taketh his Action of Detinue, that intendeth to recover the Thing delivered, and not the Damages sustained by the Detinue. Kitchin fol. 176. See the New Book of Entries, verbo Detinue.

Detractare, To be torn in Pieces with Horfes. Fleta, lib. 1. c. 37. Apostata, Sacrilegi, & hujusmodi, detractari debent & comburi.

Detunicare, To discover, or lay open. Et sic suas proprias prodiciones manifeste toto mundo Detunicavit. Mat. Westm. Anno 1240.

Deba, the River Dee in Cheshire.

Deba, or Debana, Chester, or West-Chester.

Devadiatus, Without Sureties or Pledges — Si homo in villa delinquit & Devadiatus fuerit, nil inde habet Prepositus Regis. Domesday Tit. Sudrei.

Devastabunt bona Testatoris is a Writ lying against Executors for paying Legacies and Debts without Specialties, to the Prejudice of the Creditors that have Specialties, before the Debts on the said Specialties are due: For in this Case the Executors are as liable to Action, as if they had wasted the Goods of the Testator riotously, or converted them to their own Use; and are compellable to pay such Debts by Specialty out of their own Goods, to the Value of what they so paid illegally. For the orderly Payment of Debts and Legacies by Executors, so as to escape a Devastation, or charging their own Goods, see the Office of Executors, c. 12.

Devenerunt Lat. is a Writ heretofore directed to the Escheator when any Tenant of the King, holding in Capite, died; and when his Son and Heir, within Age, and in the King's Custody, died, then this Writ went forth, commanding the Escheator that he, by the Oath of good and lawful Men, enquire what Lands and Tenements by the Death of the Tenant, came to the King. See Dyer, f. 360. Pl. 4. and Keilwey's Rep. fol. 199. a. Though this Writ, in the Sense aforesaid, be disused, yet a new Use of it is prescribed by Act of Parliament, 14 Car. 2. c. 11. entitled, An Act for preventing Frauds, and regulating Abuses in his Majesty's Customs.

Devest, (Devestire) is contrary to Invest; for as Investire signifies possessionem tradere, so Devestire is possessionem auferre. Ficud. lib. 1. cap. 7.

Devise, or Disvise, Cometh of the French Divider, separare, or Devise, to confer with. This Word is properly attributed in the Common Law, to him that bequeaths his Lands and Goods by his last Will and Testament in Writing, and he is called the Devisor, and he to whom the Devise is made, the Devisee. And here we are to observe, That the Laws of the Realm, and the Judges thereof, favour Wills and Testaments, and Devise, in yielding to them such a reasonable Construction as they think might best agree with the Mind of the Deceased, and are more favourably interpreted in Wills than in Deeds: We will set down some few Examples; as if one devise to J. S. by his Will all his Lands and Tenements; here not only all those Lands that he hath in Possession, but all those that he hath in Reversion, by Virtue of the Word Tenements pass. Again, if Lands be devise to a Man, to have to him for ever, or to have to him and his Assigns: In these two Cases the Devisee shall have a Fee-simple: But if it be given by Feoffment in such Manner, he hath but an Estate for Term of Life. — If one devise to an Infant in ventre matris sue, it is a good Devise; but otherwise by Feoffment, Grant or Gift; for in those Cases there ought to be one of Ability to take presently, or otherwise it is void. See 14 Eliz. Dyer 304. and Co. on Littl. fol. 111. And this favourable Allowance to Wills even the Heathens observed, as appears by these Verses.

Quod mandat, sterique jubet, parere necesse est.*

Law must be reverenc'd; and what ere is laid Upon us by a Will must be obey'd.

Devistere, The Word is used in Domesday-Book, Tit. Hereford, in the same Sense of devising by Will. Siquis morte preventus non devistisset quae sua erant, Rex habebit omnem ejus pecuniam.

Devoires of Calais (Anno 2 R. 2. Stat. 1. c. 3.) were the Customs due to the King for Merchandize brought to, or carried out of Calais, when our Staple was there. — Paying their Customs and Devoires to the King. Anno 34 Ed. 3. cap. 18. Devoir, in French, signifies Duty.

Devotice. See Divorce.

Detrarius. Willielmus de Breosa dedit Regi tres dextrarios, quinque Chavros, & viginti quatuor sensas pro habenda seipina castorum de Grosmund Skene-frith & Clanteli. Rot. Car. in turr. Lond. de Anno 7 Joh. n. 38. That is three light Horfes or Horfes for the great Saddle, from the Fr. Destrer, which signifies a Horse for Service.

Dextrarius, in another Sense signifies, To take the Right-hand of another, viz. Ordnatis igitur quae sunt in aplausibus hujusmodi, dextravit archiepiscopus Londinensis Episcopus, sinistravit Wintoniensis. Dicet. in Anno 1193.

Dextras dare, in Token of Friendship; which is used at this Day, by Shaking of Hands.

'Tis mentioned by Walsingham as a Giving up himself to the Power of another. Page 332.

Devneti Canes. — Willielmus Couch tenet duas carrucatas terra de Domino Rege apud Benham com. Berk. per serjantiam custodiendi unam mensam Deynestorum Canum, ad custom Domini Regis. Anno 12 Ed. 1. — Tenures, p. 38.

Diamicus, a very good Friend. Non est narratu facile quam efficax fuit in exhortando Diamicos & Discipulos. Malmf. in vita Aldkelmi, 1. c. 3.

Diaprasium, an EleQuary, Diaprasii Coloris is Green. Du Fresne.

Diatrium, Daily Food; as much as was sufficient for the Day. Constituit quadam Diaria dari scriptoribus. Du Cange.

Diaper. Diaper, or Linen variegated in the Weaving. — Henricus Abbas Glaston. tempore Regis Hen. 1. isti Ecclesie contulit ornamenta satis pretiosa, videl. pallas novem optimas, quarum quadam erant de Diapre, quadam de samito. — Charlular Abbas Glaston. MS. f. 12.

Diaperatus, Stained with many Colours. Sandalia cum caligis de rubeo sameto diaperato brendeta cum imaginibus Regum. Mon. 3 Tom. pag. 314.

Dica, A Tally for Accounts by Number of Tailles, Cuts, Marks, or Notches. — Et preter

hoc debet Magister Mariscalcia habere Dicas de donis & liberationibus que fuerint de thesauro Regis & de sua camera, & debet habere Dicas contra omnes officiales Regis ut testes per omnia. Lib. 6. Rub. Scacc. Angl. f. 30. — Institutum est ut diligenter per Dicam notetur quantum ex omni genere bladi vel leguminis expenditur in semine — Dica illa dividatur in duas, & una pars deputabitur custodie Hospitalis Fratris — altera Grangiariorum. Stat. ord. de Semplingham, pag. 748.

Dicker or Dicre of Leather is a Quantity consisting of ten Hides. The Word probably comes from the Greek δέκα, which signifies Ten. Civitas Gloucestria reddebant xxxvi. Dicras ferri, Domesday; i. e. 36 Dickers of Iron, 10 Bars to the Dicker. Gale's Hist. Brit. 766.

Dicra ferri, A Quantity of Iron consisting possibly of Ten Bars. — T. R. E. reddat civitas de Gloucestria xxxvi. Libr. numeratas, & xii. sextaria mellis ad mensuram Burgi, & xxxvi. Dicras ferri, & centum virgas ferreas duriles ad clavos navium Regis, & quasdam alias minutas consuetudines in Aula & in camera Regis, — Lib. Domesday Gloucest.

Dittores, Litium: The one is an Arbitrator; the other is the Arbitrament. Protulit Dictum suum & sententiam pro Rege Anglia. Maml. pag. 384.

Dictum de Kenelworth was an Edict or Award between King Henry III. and all those Barons, and others, who had been in Arms against him; and so called, because it was made at Kenelworth Castle, in Warwickshire, An. 51 H. 3. containing a Composition of five Years Rent for the Lands and Estates of those who had forfeited them in that Rebellion.

Diem clausit extremum Was a Writ that issued out of the Chancery to the Escheator of the County, upon the Death of any of the King's Tenants in Capite, to enquire by a Jury of what Lands he died seized, and of what Value, and who was the next Heir to him. Fitz. Nat. Br. fol. 251.

Dies, There are four Sorts of Days, A Day natural, and so the Scripture saith, The Evening and the Morning made the first Day. 2. A Day artificial, and that is a crepusculo matutino usque ad crepusculum vespertinum. 3. Dies astrologicus, an Astrological Day from Sun to Sun. 4. A legal Day, and that is of two Sorts, 1. Dies furidicus; and 2. Dies non furidicus. Dies furidici are all Days in Bank, Continuance, Effoin-days, and other Days given in Term to the Parties in Court. Dies non furidici are all Sundays in the Year; besides, in the several Terms particular Days, as in Easter-Term, festum ascensionis Domini; in Trinity-Term, festum sancti Johannis Baptiste; in Michaelmas-Term, festum omnium Sanctorum, & festum omnium animarum; and in Hilary-Term, festum Purificationis beate Mariæ Virginis. And this was the ancient Law of England, and yet in Use. 2 par. Inst. 264.

Dies. One Day's Entertainment, Farm, or Reception, — reddebat unam diem de firma, & valebat 9s. Libr. & 6. denar. Domesday, where there be many other Fee-Farm Rents, as we may call them, reserved to the King in so many Days or Nights Provision. Et reddebat dimidiam diem mellis, &c. Et unam diem de firma; that is, As much Honey as was sufficient for the King's Family for half a Day; and as much Provision as was enough for a whole Day. Domesday, apud Spelman.

Dies datus is a Day or Time of Respite, given to the Tenant or Defendant by the Court. Broke, Tit. Continuance.

Dies Marchiarum, The Day of Congress or Meeting between the English and Scotch, appointed annually to be held on the Marches or Borders, to adjust all Differences, and preserve the Articles of Peace. — Dux Lancastrie — pro Die Marchiarum (prout Moris est) tenenda inter Anglos & Scotos annis singulis, in partes concesserat boreales. Tho. Walsingham, in R. 2. p. 278. Conveniunt ad Diem Marchiarum, & conventum fuit inter eos pro commodo pacis, &c. Ib. p. 307.

Dicta, A Days-work. — Per servitium mendi bladum Domini per tres Dietas in Autumno ad cibum ipsius Domini ad primam dietam per quatuor homines, &c. Cartular. Rading. MS. pag. penult.

Dieta rationabilis is used in Bracton for a reasonable Day's Journey. Lib. 3. part. 2. cap. 16. And we find in Fleta, Omnis rationabilis Dieta constat ex viginti miliaribus. Lib. 4. cap. 28. par. 13. It hath in the Civil Law divers other Significations not needful here to be set down. Vide vocab. utriusque juris.

Dieu son ait, These are Words oftentimes used in our Law; and it is a Maxim, that the Ait of God shall prejudice no Man: And therefore if a House be beaten down by Tempest, or other Ait of God, the Lessee for Life or Years shall not only be quit in an Action of Waste brought against him, but hath by the Law a special Interest to take Timber to build the House again, if he will, for his Habitation. Co. lib. 4. 63. & lib. 11. 82. a. So, when the Condition of an Obligation consists in two Parts in the Disjunctive, and both are possible at the Time of the Obligation made, and afterwards one of them becomes impossible by the Ait of God; the Obligor is not bound to perform the other Part, for the Condition shall be taken beneficially for him. Co. lib. 5. 22.

Diffacere, To destroy. Si vero non compareat Charta, sed ab illo qui inservire vult Diffacta sit, (that is, Torn.) Du Cange.

Diffactio is a Maiming any one. In furto & murdo & eis que ad Diffactionem pertinent. Leg. H. 1. c. 64, 88, 92.

Difficere recum, To deny Justice, being required to do it. Si quisquam de proceribus regni. Difforciaverit Archiepiscopo vel Archiepiscopo de se suisque iustitiam exhibere, Dominus Rex debet eos justitiare. Mat. Paris. Anno 1164. Sometimes it signifies To take away; as Difforciare dotem. See Deforcement.

Dignitum, the Book of Pandects of the Civil Law; so called, because it contains Legalia precepta excellenter Digesta. Du Cange.

Dignitates, Dignitarii, Arc such as are advanced to any Ecclesiastical Promotion, as Dean, Archdeacon, Prebendary, &c. 3 par. Inst. fol. 155.

Dignity Ecclesiastical (Dignitas Ecclesiastica) is mentioned in the Stat. 26 H. 8. cap. 31, & 32. ejusdem, cap. 15. And is by the Canonists defined to be, Administratio cum jurisdictione & potestate aliqua conjuncta; whereof you may read Examples in Duarenus, de Sacris Eccl. Ministris & Beneficiis, lib. 2. cap. 6. Of Dignities and Prebends Canden reckons in England 544. Britan. p. 161.

Dilapidation (Dilapidatio) a wasteful Spending or Destroying; or the letting Buildings run to Ruin and Decay for want of due Reparation. An. 13 Eliz. c. 10. Money recovered for Dilapidations shall be employed in Repair of the same Houses. Anno 14 El. cap. 11.

Diligatus, i. e. Outlawed. De Lege ejus, viz. Si quis Diligatus legalem hominem accusat, fustem dicimus vocem ejus. Leg. Hen. 1. cap. 45.

Dilligrount, Potrage formerly made for the King's Table on his Coronation-Day. — Robertus Agyllon tenet unam carucationem terræ in Adington in com. Surr. per serjantiam faciendi unum ferculum in villa lutea in coquina Domini Regis die coronationis sue. Et vocatur Dilligrount, 39 H. 3. — Old Tenur. p. 5.

Dinwae, West-Wales; seil. Carmarthen, Pembroke, and Cardigan Shires.

Dimidiatas, The Moiety or one half — Sciatis quod Ego Matilda Filia Willielmi 1<sup>o</sup> Franceys dedi — Waltero de Stetton Dimidiatatem illius Burgagii, &c. sine diti. — Ex Libro Cart. Priorat. de Leominstre. —

Dimissory Letters; When a Candidate for Holy Orders has a Title in one Diocese, and is to be ordained in another, the proper Diocesan gives Letters dimissory to some other ordaining Bishop, giving Leave that the Bearer may be ordained to such a Cure within his District.

Dinarium. A Dinner, the Meal opposed to Prandium. Et variabit bladum per unum diem, & habebit tam ad dinarium quam ad prandium, panem, cervisiam, & carnes. Consuetud. domus de Farendon. MS.

Diocese, Diocesis, A Greek Word compounded of δία and ἐκκλησία, and signifies with us the Circuit of every Bishop's Jurisdiction; for this Realm hath two Sorts of Divisions; one into Shires or Counties, in respect of Temporal Policy; the other into Dioceses, in respect of Jurisdiction Ecclesiastical, of which last we reckon in England Two and twenty, besides four in Wales. At first it signify'd a Parish; Diocesis est proprie baptismalis Ecclesie territorium & Gubernatio. Dn Freine.

Dirationare. See Disfratationare.

Dirge, or Dyge, A mournful Ditty, or Song of Lamentation over the Dead; not a Contraction of the Lat. Dirige, in the Hymn Dirige gressus meos, as some pretend: But from the Teutonick Dyrke Laudare, to praise and extol: Whence it is possible their Dirke and our Dirge was a laudatory Song to commemorate and applaud the Dead.

Dirocheum, i. e. Duplex refectio, viz. Ipsiusque loci Abbas Regi deserviens gregem sibi commissum Dirocheo, i. e. Duplici pasto foveat. Morall. 1 Tom. p. 218.

Ditior, a Pecuniary Punishment.

Disability, Disabilitas, Is, when a Man is disabled of, or made incapable to inherit or take a Benefit which otherwise he might have done, which may happen four Ways, by the Act of the Ancestor, by the Act of the Party, by the Act of Law, and by the Act of God. 1. Disability by the Act of the Ancestor; as if a Man be attainted of Treason or Felony; by this Attainder his Blood is corrupt, and thereby himself and his Children disabled to inherit. 2. Disability by the Act of the Party himself; as if one Man make a Feoffment to another that then is sole, upon Condition, that he shall enfeof a Third before Marriage, and before the Feoffment made, the Feoffee takes a Wife;

he hath by that disabled himself to perform the Condition according to the Trust in him reposed, and therefore the Feoffor may enter, and oust him. Lit. sett. 357. So if I bind my self, that upon Surrender of a Lease, I will grant a new Estate to the Lessee, and afterwards I grant over my Reversion: In this Case, though I afterwards purchase the Reversion, yet I have forfeited my Obligation, because I was once disabled to perform it. Co. lib. 5. fol. 21. Also if a Man be excommunicated, he cannot during that Time sue any Action, but shall be thereby disabled. Co. lib. 8. fol. 69. and so in other Cases. 3. Disability by Act of Law, is properly when a Man by the sole Act of the Law is disabled, and so is an Alien born. And therefore if a Man born out of the King's Ligeance, will sue an Action, the Tenant or Defendant may say, That he was born in such a Country, out of the King's Ligeance, and demand Judgment if he shall be answered; for the Law is our Birth-right, to which an Alien is a Stranger, and therefore disabled to take any Benefit thereby. 4. Disability, by the Act of God, as to be Non compos mentis, or non sana memoria, which so disables him, that in all Cases where he gives or passes any Thing or Estate out of him, after his Death it may be disannulled and avoided. And here observe, That it is a Maxim in our Law, That a Man of full Age shall never be received to disable his own Person; and this Incapacity to disable himself, as to some, is personal, extending only to the Party himself; but as to others it is not personal, yet shall bind them as Privies. Now there are four manner of Privies, viz. Privy in Blood, as Heir. Privy in Representation, as Executors or Administrators. Privies in Estate, as Douce in Tail, the Reversion or Remainder in Fee, &c. And Privies in Tenure, as Lord and Tenant. Two of these may disable the Person of the Dead, which was Non sana Memoria, or, &c. and shall avoid his Grants or Feoffments, viz. Privies in Blood may shew the Disability of the Ancestor, and Privies in Representation the Infirmary of their Testator or Intestate. Co. lib. 4. f. 123, 124. See Lit. sett. 405. and Co. lib. 8. fol. 43.

Disadvocate, To deny, or not to acknowledge a Thing. 'Tis mentioned in Hengham Magna, cap. 4. viz. Et ipse reus dedit in pleno Comitatu ipsi petenti hujusmodi servitia petita, & ipsum Disadvocat pro Domino.

Disalt, Signifieth as much as to disable. Littleton in his Chapter of Discontinuanee.

Disboscate, A Turning Wood Ground into arable or Pasture, an Affaring. See Affart.

Disaligatus, i. e. Without Shoes. Dicentes nunquam debere Regem adire tales Disaligatos ribaldos. Walsgh. p. 248.

Discharge, Properly to unlade a Ship or Vessel by taking out the Cargo or Goods.

Et predictus Prior carcare & discarcare fecit ibidem Merchandis & Denariis quascunque. Piacit. Parl. 18 E. 1.

Discreit, see Deceit and Deception. See also the New Book of Entries, verbo Discreit.

Discent, Discentus, In the French Descent, signifies in the Common Law, an Order or Means whereby Lands or Tenements are derived unto any Man from his Ancestors; as to make his Discent from his Ancestors. Old Nat. Brev. f. 101. is to shew how, and by what Degrees the Land in Question came to him from his Ancestors; as first from his great Grandfather to his Grandfather, ther, from his Grandfather to his Father, and so to him; or in other such like sort. This Discent is either lineal, or collateral; Lineal Discent is conveyed downwards, in a right Line from the Grandfather to the Father, and from the Father to the Son, and from the Son to the Nephew, &c. Collateral Discent is springing out of the Side of the whole Blood, as Grandfather's Brother, Father's Brother, &c. If one die seised of Land, (in which another has Right to enter,) and it descends to his Heir, such Discent shall take away the other's Right of Entry, and put him to his Action for Recovery thereof. Stat. 32 H. 8. c. 33. Coke on Lit. f. 237.

Disclaim (from the Fr. Clamer, with the Privative Dis) is a Plea containing an expresse Denial, Renouncing or Disclaiming; as, If the Tenant sue a Replevin upon a Distress taken by the Lord, and the Lord avow, saying, That he holds of him as of his Lord, and that he distrained for Rent not paid, or Service not performed; then the Tenant, denying to hold of such Lord, is said to disclaim; and the Lord proving the Tenant to hold of him, the Tenant loseth his Land. Also a Man denying himself to be of the Blood or Kindred of another in his Plea, is said to disclaim his Blood. See Coke on Litt. fol. 102. and Fitz. Nat. Brev. fol. 197. If a Man arraigned of Felony disclaim Goods, being cleared, he loseth them. See Brooke and New Book of Entries, Tit. Disclaim, and Staundf. Pl. Cor. f. 186. In Chancery, if a Defendant by his Answer disclaim the having any Interest in the Thing in Question, this is also called a Disclaim.

Discontinuance, Discontinuatio, Cometh of the French Discontinuer, that is, cessare, and signifieth in the Common Law nothing else but an Interruption, or breaking off, and is twofold, Discontinuance of Possession, and Discontinuance of Process: The Effect of Discontinuance of Possession is this, That a Man may not enter upon his own Land or Tenements alienated, whatsoever his Right be unto them, of his own self, or by his own Authority; but must bring his Writ, and seek to recover Possession by Law; as, If a Man alien the Lands he hath in Right of his Wife; or if Tenant in Tail make any Feoffment, or Lease for Life, not warranted by the Stat. 32 H. 8. by Fine or Livery of Seisin; such Alienations are called Discontinuances: Which are indeed Impediments to an Entry, whereby the true Owner is left only to his Action. See the Terms of the Law, verbo Discontinuance. Institutes of the Common Law, c. 43. Co. Rep. lib. 3. Cafe Of Fines, fol. 85. The Effect of Discontinuance of Plea or Process, when the Instant is lost, and may not be regained, but by a new Writ to begin the Suit afresh: For to be discontinued, and to be put sine die, is all one, and nothing else but to be dismissed finally the Court. West. Symbol. part. 2. Tit. Fines, sect. 115. So Crompton in his Jurisdictions, fol. 131. useth it in these Words, If a Justice-Seat be discontinued by the not coming of the Justices, the King may renew the same by his Writ, &c. In this Signification Fitzherbert in his Nat. Brev. useth the Word divers Times, as Discontinuance of Corrody, fol. 193. To discontinue the Right of his Wife, 191, & 193. Discontinuance of an Assise 182, & 187. An. 31 El. c. 1. 12 Car. 2. ca. 4. 14. Car. 2. c. 10. Co. on Litt. 325.

Discuss, Discussus, A Desk or leaning Shelf. Super reparatione discorum, & stallorum in cancellis Ecclesia controversia orta est. Hist. Croyland. Contin. pag. 521. So Robert de Replingham Chancellor of the Ch. of York in his last Will proved 3 Kal. Sept. 1332. — Item Cathedram meam & descurm meum Cancellari. Ebor. Successori meo. Ex Collectan. Matth. Hutton. S. T. P. MS.

Disfranchise, To take away from any one his Privilege or Freedom. 14 Car. 2. cap. 31. It is contrary to Enfranchise, which see.

Disgracing, or Degrading, (Degradatio.) is the Punishment of a Clerk, who, being delivered to his Ordinary, cannot purge himself of the Offence, whereof he was convicted by the Jury; and it is the Privation or Devesting him of the Holy Orders which he had, as Priesthood, Deaconship, &c. Staundf. Pl. Cor. fol. 130, & 138. There is, likewise the Degrading of a Lord, Knight, &c. Sir Andrew Harcla, Earl of Carlisle, was convicted, degraded, and attainted of Treason. Hill. 18 E. 2. Coram Rege, Rot. 34, 35. When Judgment was pronounced against him, his Word broken over his Head, and his Spurs hewn off his Heels, Sir Anthony Lucy, the Judge, said to him Andrew, now art thou no Knight, but a Knave. And by the Stat. 13 Car. 2. c. 15. William Lord Monson, Sir Henry Mildmay, and others therein named, were degraded from all Titles of Honour, Dignities, and Preheminencies, and none of them to bear or use the Title of Lord, Knight, Esquire, or Gentleman, or any Coat of Arms, for ever after, &c. By the Canon Law there are two Sorts of Degrading; one summary, by Word only; the other solemn, by devesting the Party degraded of those Ornaments and Rights which are the Ensigns of his Order or Degree. See Selden's Titles of Honour, fol. 187.

In former Times the Degrading a Clerk was no more than a Displacing or Suspension from his Office: But the Canonists have since distinguished between a Deposition and a Degradation; the last being a greater Punishment, because the Bishop takes from the Criminal all the Badges of his Order, and afterwards delivers him to the secular Judge, who deprives him of the Title of a Clerk. There are many Forms of Degradation, too long to enumerate here. Du Cange.

Disherison (Fr. Desheritement) is an old Word, signifying as much as Disinheriting. It is used in the Statute of Vouchers, made 20 Ed. 1. Our Lord the King considering his own Damage and Disherison of the Crown, &c. And in 8. R. 2. cap. 4.

Disheritoz. — The Sheriff shall forthwith be punished as a Disheritor of our Lord the King, and his Crown. Anno 3 Ed. 1. cap. 39. One that disinheriteth, or puts another out of his Inheritance.

Disine quinquinal. See Quinquinal Disines.

Disnes, Decime, Are Tithes, and signifieth the tenth Part of all the Fruits of the Earth, or Beasts, or our Labour due unto God; and so consequently to him that is of the Lord's Lot, that is, our Pastor. It signifieth also the Tenths of Spiritual Livings, yearly given to the Prince, called a perpetual Disne, 2 & 3 E. 6. c. 35. which in ancient Time were paid to the Pope, till Pope Urbane gave them to Richard the Second, to aid him against the French King Charles, and those others that upheld Clement the Seventh against him. Polycor. Virgil. Ang. Hist. lib. 20. Lastly, It signifieth a Tribute levied of the Temporality. Holinshed in H. 2. f. 111. Tithes are of three Sorts, Predial, Personal, Mixt: Predial Tithes are of Things that come of the Ground only, as Corn, &c. Personal Tithes are paid of such Things as come of the Labour and Industry of Man's Person, as Baying and Selling, &c. Mixt Tithes are of Calves, Lambs, Pigs, and such like.

Disparagement, Disparagatio, Is in a legal Sense used especially for matching an Heir in Marriage under his or her Degree, or against Decency. See Cowell's Institutes, Tit. de Nuptiis, sect. 6. Co. on Litt. fol. 107. Lit. lib. 2. cap. 4.

Disparatio. When any Person by Reason of his Poverty, attested by his own Oath, or not being worth 5 l. his Debts being paid, is admitted to sue in forma pauperis, if afterwards before the Suit be ended, the same Party have any Lands, or personal Estate fallen to him, or that the Court, where the Suit depends, thinks fit for that or any other Reason, to take away that Privilege from him, then he is said to be disparaged, i. e. put out of the Capacity of suing in forma pauperis.

Dispensa, a Buttery. Habere debet uxor sub custodia sua claves Dispensæ suæ, archæ suæ & scrinii sui. Brañ. lib. 3. tract. 2. cap. 31. par. 9.

Dispersare, To disparage, or scandalize. Non es Depersonatus mihi ministrando cum sis filius Comitiss, ego Regis & Regina.

Disrationare, and irrationare, (Fr. Desrener.) To justify or make good the Denial of a Fact. Est contrarium ratio inando asserere, vel quod assertum est ratiocinando destruere. We now call it Traversare, or Traverse. Disrationare se has been used to clear one's self of a Crime. See Gloss. in decem Scriptor. and Deraign. Sciatis me dedisse Deo & Ecclesie & Roberto Episcopo Lincolnie 12 bovatas terre quas Radulfus Basset Disrationavit esse in Dominio meo. Mon. 3 Tom. p. 265.

Dissignari, To break open a Seal. Sepulto patre Testamentum dissignatum est. Neubrigenensis; lib. 2. c. 7.

Disseisin, Disseisina, Signifieth an unlawful Dispossessing a Man of his Land, Tenement, or other immovable or incorporeal Right, Institutes of the Common Law, cap. 15. And how far this extendeth, see Brañ. lib. 4. cap. 3. And therefore the Assises be called Writs of Disseisin, that lie against Disseisors in any Case, whereof some be termed little Writs of Disseisin, being Vuential, that is, sueable before the Sheriff, in the County Court. Old Nat. Brev. fol. 109. because they are determined by the Sheriff without Assise, Reg. Orig. fol. 198. b. as for Nufances of no great Prejudice: Disseisin is of two Sorts, either simple, committed by Day without Force and Arms, Brañ. lib. 4. cap. 4. Brit. cap. 42, 43, 44. where you shall find in what especially it is lawful, and in what not. Brit. ca. 53. And Disseisin by Force, for which see De forcoor, see Feoh disseisin, Red disseisin, and Post disseisin. See also Stene de verbor. signif. verbo Disseisina. How many ways it is committed, see Fleta, lib. 4. cap. 1. sect. 51. fit autem, &c. and when it is lawful, cap. 2. Wrongful Disseisin is no Descent in Law. 32 H. 3. cap. 33.

Disseisire, To Disseise, Eject, or turn out of Possession. Rex Richardus primus disseisivit Gerardum de Camvilla de Castello & vicecomitem Lincolnienf. Paroch. Antiq. p. 152.

Disseisor, Is he that putteth another out of his Land, and Disseisee is the Person so put out, 4 H. 4. cap. 7.

Disseisoreff, Is a Woman that disseiseth another: Co. on Litt. fol. 357. b.

Disseisin upon Disseisin, Is where a Disseisor is disseised by another.

Distress, Signifieth a Compulsion in certain real Actions, whereby to bring a Man to appear in Court, or to pay a Debt or Duty deny'd: The Effect whereof most commonly is to drive the Party distrain'd to replevy the Distress, and so to take his Action of Trespass against the Distrainger, or else to compound neighbourly with him for the Debt or Duty for which the Distress was made. In what Case a Distress is lawful, see New Terms of the Law. The Civilians call it Pignorum captio nem: There are divers Things not distrainable, as another Man's Gown in the House of a Tailor, or Cloth in the House of a Fuller, Sheerman, or Weaver: For they, being common Artificers, it is presumed such Things belong not to themselves, but to others. Viñual is not distrainable, nor Corn in Sheaves, unless they be in a Cart: For a Distress ought to be of such Things whereof the Sheriff may make Replevin, and deliver again in as good Case as they were at the Time of the Taking. A Man may distrain for Homage of his Tenant, or Fealty, Escuage, and other Services, and for Fines, and Amerciaments, assessed in a Leet, (but not in a Court-Baron,) and for Damage-feasant, &c. but not for Rent due for any Land, except upon the same Land charged therewith, &c. When one hath taken a Distress, it behoves him to bring it to the Common Pound, or he may keep it in an open Place, so that he gives Notice to the Party, that he (if the Distress be a Quick Beast,) may give it Food. See the Stat. De districtione Scaccarii. 51 H. 3.

Distress is by Briton, cap. 71. divided into Personal and Real, Distress, Personal is made by disseising a Man's moveable Goods, and seizing all the Profits of his Lands and Tenements, from the Teste or Date of the Writ, for the Defendant's Contempt, in not appearing to an Action brought against him, after he was summoned or attached; and the Issues so returned by the Sheriffs are forfeited to the King, and estreated into the Exchequer.

Distress Real is made upon immovable Goods: This differs from an Attachment; for that it cannot be taken by any common Person without the Compais of his own Fee; except it be presently after the Cattle, or other Thing, are driven or born off the Ground, purposely to avoid the Distress. Fitz. Nat. Br. fol. 904. See Attach, and the Statute 17 Car. 2. c. 7.

Distress is also divided into Finite and Infinite: Finite is that which is limited by Law, how often it shall be made to bring the Party to Trial of the Action, as once, twice, &c. Old Nat. Br. fol. 43. Distress Infinite is without Limitation, until the Party come; as against a Jury, which refuseth to appear upon Certificate of Assise, the Process is Venire facias, Habeas corpora, and Distress Infinite. Old Nat. Br. f. 113. Then it is divided into a Grand Distress, (An. 52. H. 3. c. 7.) which Fitzherbert calls Magnam Distractionem, and an Ordinary Distress. A Grand Distress is that which is made of all the Goods and Chattels that the Party hath within the County. Briton, cap. 26. fol. 52. But see whether it be not sometimes all one with a Distress Infinite. Idem, fol. 80. with whom also the Statute of Marlbridge seems to agree, An. 52. H. 3. cap.

cap. 7, 9, & 12. See Grand Distress and Attachment.

Distric (Districus) is the Place in which a Man hath the Power of Disfranching, or the Circuit or Territory wherein one may be compelled to appear. Briton, cap. 120. Where we say, Hors de son fée; others say, Extra districum suum.

Districiones, Disfrants, or Goods Disfrained, or Distresses, kept in Custody till Payment and full Satisfaction be made. — Postunt Nos & Successores nostros & predictas omnes terras disstringere ad solutionem memoratam, & districiones retinere quousque plenarie fuerit satisfactum. Paroch. Antiq. p. 344.

Disfringas is a Writ directed to the Sheriff, or any other Officer, commanding him to disfrain one for a Debt to the King, &c. or for his not Appearance at a Day. See great Diversity of this Writ in the Table of Register Fudic. verbo Disfringas. This was sometimes of old called Constringas, as appears by this Writ. Lib. Ramifi. sect. 227. Henricus Rex Anglia hominibus Abbatis de Rametis salutem. Precipio quod cito & iuste reddatis Abbati Domino vestro, quicquid ei debetis in censu, & firma, & debitis, & placitis, sicut iuste monstrare poteritis quod ei debeatis. Quod si nolueritis, ipse vos inde contringat per pecuniam vestram. Teste Cancellar. apud Gloucester. Per Pecuniam vestram, in those Days, was understood Bona & Catalla.

Divadiatus, i. e. a Thing given in Pledge. 'Tis often mentioned in Domesday, viz. Si abierit domum non apprehensus vel Divadiatus. Gale, 760. So in Leg. H. 1. c. 57. Nisi quis retentus vel Divadiatus sit vel plegiatus pro culpa sua, &c.

Divel on the Jack. A tormenting Engine formerly in use among the prosecuting Papists, to extort Confession and Apology from the Poor Lollards. It is thus described by Mr. Fox in his Acts & Mon. sub R. H. 8. Certain Strait Irons called the Divel on his Neck being after an horrible sort devised, striding and wrenching the Neck of a Man with his Legs together, in such sort as the more he stretcheth in it, the straiter it presseth him, so that within three or four Hours, it breaketh and crusheth a Man's Back and Body in Pieces.

Dividend in the Erchequer, Seems to be one Part of an Indenture. An. 10 E. 1. c. 11. & 25 E. 1. Stat. 3. c. 2.

Dividend in the University, Is that Share or Part which every one of the Fellows do justly and equally divide among themselves of their Annual Stipend.

Dividenda, The Word was anciently used for Indenture. Claus. 6. Ed. 2. in Dors. M. 24. and Stat. de Escheatoribus 29 Ed. 1.

Divisa signifies a Devise of Goods by a last Will, and sometimes a Will itself. Gerard. Doct. writing of the Will of Henry II. Anno 1182. tells us, Notum facio quod apud Walsbam feci divisam meam de quadam parte pecunie mee in hunc modum, &c. Sometimes 'tis taken for a Charity given by a last Will; as in Eadmerus, lib. 1. p. 8. Huic quadam vice solidi quinque de illis (ram) Divise per temporum vires conferbantur ex precepto ejus dati sunt, &c. Sometimes it signifies a Parcel or Portion of Land devised by a last Will, or set apart, Divisus Limitibus. Leg. Inq. cap. 44. Certe li habeant herbagium in Comuni, vel aliam compascualem terram vel Divisam claudicantem. Sometimes 'tis taken for the Bounds of a Place or Farm, as in Leg. H. 1. c. 57. Si inter compares vicinos utrin- que sint querele, convenient ad divisas terrarum. And sometimes it signifies an Award, as in Leg. H. 2. c. 9. Omnis causa terminetur vel in Comitatu vel divisas parium.

Divise, Divises or Bounds, Divisas perambulare, to walk the Bounds of a Parish. — Ut supra terram unde calumpniata fuit, ipsa cum suis, ego vero cum meis ad divisas perambulandas convenimus. Cartular. Rading. MS. f. 108. b. So is Devise used for the Borders or Limits of Division between Lands, Parishes, or Countries,

Sic usque Heibeburn inter Akemansfete inter divisas inter com. Oxon. & Buck. Paroch. Antiq. pa. 324. Hence the Divises, or Divizes, a Town in Wiltshire, situate on the Confine of the West-Saxon and Mercian Kingdoms.

Divise. See Devise.

Divorce (Divortium, a divortendo) is a Separation of two de facto married together; of which there are two Kinds; one a Vinculo Matrimonii; the other a Manu & Thoro. The Woman divorced a Vinculo Matrimonii, receives all again that she brought with her. This only arises upon a Nullity of the Marriage, through some essential Impediment, as Consanguinity or Affinity within the Degrees forbidden, Precontract, Impotency, &c. Of which Impediments the Canon Law allows fourteen, comprehended in these Verses:

Error, Conditio, Solutio, Cognatio, Crimen, Cultus, Disparitas, Vis, Ordo, Liganen, Honestas, Si sis affinis, Si forte coire nequibis, Si Parochi & duplicis desit presentia testis, Rapace sit mulier, nec parvi reddita tute.

Divorce is a Judgment Spiritual; wherefore, if there be Occasion, it ought to be reversed in the Spiritual Court. See Coke, lib. 7. Kenne's Case. Idem, lib. 3. f. 98. and on Littl. f. 235.

In the old Law, the Woman divorced was to have of her Husband a Writing (as St. Jerome and Josephus testify) to this Effect, I promise, that hereafter I will lay no Claim to thee; which was called, A Bill of Divorce.

Divitialis, as much Land as can be plowed in a Day with one Ox, an Acre of Land. In some Authors 'tis wrote Diviturna. Similiter concedi duas Diviturnas telluris.

Dobum, Gloucestershire and Oxfordshire, or the Inhabitants of that Part of Oxfordshire next Gloucestershire.

Docket, Is a Brief in Writing, Anno 2 & 3 P. & M. cap. 6. West. writeth it Dogget, by whom it seemeth to be some small Piece of Paper or Parchment, containing the Effect of a larger Writing. Symbol. part. 2. Tit. Fines, fol. 106.

Do do Latr, Facere Legem, Is the same with to make Law. 23 Hen. 6. cap. 14. See Make.

Doctor and Student, Is a Book containing certain Dialogues between a Doctor of Divinity, and a Student at the Common Law, wherein are contained Questions and Cases, as well of the Equity and Conscience used in the Common Law, as also a Comparison of the Civil, Canon, and Common Law together, very worthy the Reading. The Author is said to be one Saint German, and the Book was written in the Time of Henry the Eighth.

Dog-days are Sixty-four in all, a tertio Idus Julii usque in Idus Septembris.

Dog-draw, Is an apparent Deprehension of an Offender against Venison in the Forest. There be four of these mentioned by Manwood in his Forest-Laws, cap. 18. num. 9. viz. Stable-stand, Dog-draw, Ba-k-bear, and Bloody-band; where he saith, That, Dog-draw is where any Man hath stricken or wounded a wild Beast, by shooting at him either with Cross bow, Long-bow, or otherwise, and is found with a Hound, or other Dog drawing after him to receive the same.

Dogger, A Kind of a little Ship. Anno 31 Ed. 3. Stat. 3. cap. 1. All the Ships called Doggers and Landships, &c.

Dogger fish, (Ibidem, cap. 2.) Seems to be Fish brought in those Ships to Blackness-Haven, &c.

Doggers-Men, (25 Hen. 3. cap. 4.) Fishermen that belong to Dogger-ships.

Doguit. See Docket.

Doitkin, A base Coin prohibited by 3 H. 5. cap. 1. Hence probably we retain that Phrase when we would undervalue a Man, to say, He is not worth a Doit or Doitkin.

Dole (Dola, Sax. Dæl, Parr, portio, from Delan, Dividere, Distribuere) is a Part or Portion most commonly of a Meadow, so called to this Day; as Dole-Meadow, (Anno 4 Jac. cap. 11.) where several Persons have Shares. In le Duthmede (i. e. prato australi) habet Prior per sortem illam qua vocatur Crumdprest, tres Dolas, sicut fors illa cadit. Et in qualibet Dola, habet 4 Polas, sive octo andenas (i. e. Swaths) jacentes simul. Lib. Priorat. Dunstable, cap. 5. We still retain the Word to signify a Share, as to deal a Dole; he dealt his Dole among so many poor People, that is, he gave every one a Share or Part.

Dolefish, Seems to be that Fish, which the Fishermen yearly imploy'd in the North-seas, do of Custom receive for their Allowance. See the Stat. 35 H. 8. cap. 7.

Dolebot, A Recompence made for a Scar or Wound, Sax. Diction. Inter Leg. Aluredi Regis; cap. 23. legiter Dolebot.

Dom and Som, Words used in ancient Characters, signifying a Power of Judging, and Security in Possessing. See Doom.

Domboc, A Saxon Word signifying Liber Judicialis as appears by the Laws of King Edward the Elder, cap. 8. This was probably a Book of Statutes proper to the English Saxons, wherein perhaps the Laws of former Saxon Kings were contained: That Chapter seeming to refer to the Laws of King Ina, cap. 29.

Dome, or Dom, (Saxon Dom.) a Judgment, Sentence, Ordinance, or Decree. The Homager's Oath in the Black Book of Hereford, fol. 46. ends thus, — So help me God at his Holy Dome, and by my Troththe. See Doom.

Domesday, (Liber Judicarius, vel Censualis Anglie, from the Saxon Dom, i. e. Census vel Estimatio, not Domesdei, nor Domas Dei, as some Authors write it,) is a most ancient Record, made in William the Conqueror's Time, and now remaining in the Exchequer fair and legible, consisting of two Volumes, a greater and a less; the greater comprehending all the Counties of England, except Northumberland, Cumberland, Westmorland, Durham, and Part of Lincolnshire, which were never survey'd; and except Essex, Suffolk, and Norfolk, which three are comprehended in the lesser Volume, which concludes with these Words; Anno Millesimo Octogesimo Sexto ab Incarnatione Domini, vigesimo vero Regni Willielmi, facta est ista descriptio, non solum per hos tres Comitatus, sed etiam alios. It is called Liber Judicarius, quia in eo totius Regni descriptio diligens continetur, singulorumque fundorum valentia exprimitur. And Domesday, (as Geru. Tilbur. says,) Non quod in eo de præpositis aliquibus dubiis seratur sententia, sed quod a prædicto Judicio non liceat ulla ratione discedere. It was begun by five Justices, assigned for the Purpose in each County, in the Year 1081, and finished 1086. Camden calls it Gulielmi Librum Censualem, the Tax-book of King William. See more of it in Spelm. Gloss. and 4 Inst. fol. 269. The Dean and Chapter of York have a Register called also Domesday; so has the Bishop of Worcester: And there is an ancient Roll in Chester-Castle called Domesday-Roll.

Our Ancestors had many Dome-Books: We are told by Ingulphus, pag. 870. and 903. that King Alfred made Talem Rotulum qualem Gulielmus nobis, which he called Domesday; and sometimes the Winchester-Roll, because it was kept there.

The Domesday book made by Will. 1. referred to the Time of Edward the Confessor, as that of King Alfred did to the Time of Æthelred: For the Entries are thus made, C. tenet Rex Willielmus in dominico & valet, &c. ibi carucate, &c. T.R.E. valebat, &c. i. e. It was worth so much, tempore Regis Edwardi. And this Book is called Magna Rolla Winton.

The third Book, which differs from the other in Form more than in Matter, was made by the Command of the same King. The one being large, and in Folio, but this lesser, and in Quarto; it seems to be the more ancient of the two. 'Tis fairer written, and hath very few Rasures. See Monasticon, 1 Tom. pag. 272.

'Tis probable Ingulphus, though he lived near those Days, never saw these Books; for he writes of incorporating these Rolls, as if at that Time they had not been made in two Volumes: Of both which the Honourable Sir John Trevor, Master of the Rolls, hath a very fine and exact Copy.

There is a fourth Book kept in the Exchequer, which is called Domesday; and though a great Volume, is only an Abridgment of the other two. It hath many Pictures and gilt Letters in the Beginning, which refer to the Time of Edward the Confessor. And this led him, who made Notes on Fitzherbert's Register, into a Mistake, who, in fol. 14. tells us, that Liber Domesday factus fuit tempore Regis Edwardi.

There is a fifth Book kept in the Remembrancer's Office, which is the very same with the Fourth beforementioned.

'Tis generally known that the Question, whether Lands are ancient Demesne, or not, is to be decided by the Domesday of Will. 1. from whence there is no Appeal; nor is there any Averment to be made against it: And 'tis a Book of that Authority, that even the Conqueror himself submitted some Cases, wherein he was concerned, to be decided by it. What is contained in this Book appears by these old Verses.

*Quid deberetur fisco, quæ, quanta Tributa,
Nominè quid Census, quæ vestigalia, quantum
Quisque teneretur feudali solvere jure,*

*Qui sunt exempti, vel quos Angaria damnat,
Qui sint vel Glebe servi, vel Conditionis,
Quove nianumissus patrono iure ligatur.*

Domes-men, Judges, or Men appointed to doom and determine Suits or Quarrels.—

Qui infra libertatem seu hundredum de Irchenfeld com. Heref. faciunt sextam ad curiam Hundredi, ut minores lites dirimant, vocantur Domes-men, i. e. Judices seu Homines Judicarii. See Sil. Taylor of Gavelkind. p. 110. Hence falling of Domes is the Scotch Phrase for reversing of Judgment, or annulling of Decrees. Hence, Domes judicium, and ag-deme, I Deem or Judge.

Domicellus and Domicella, John of Gaunt, Duke of Lancaster, had by Katharine Swinford, before Marriage, four Illegitimate Children, viz. Henry, John, Thomas, and Joan; and because they were born at Beaufort in France, they were vulgarly called Henry de Beaufort, &c. John before 20 Rich. 2. was Knighted, and Henry became Priest. At the Parliament holden 20 Rich. 2. the King by his Charter did legitimate these Children. Rex. — Charissimis consanguineis nostris nobilibus vivis Johanni Militi, Henrico Clerico, Thoma Domicello ac dilecte nobis nobili mulieri Johanne Domicelle, Germanis precharissimi Avunculi nostri, Joh. Ducis Lanc. natis ligeis nostris, salutem, &c. Teste Rege apud Westm. 9. die Febr. per ipsum Regem in Parlamento. In this Act (says Sir Edward Coke, 4 Inst. fol. 37.) the said Thomas could not be called Esquire, and therefore had the Addition Domicello, which (says he) signifies a young Soldier not yet Knighted, or nobly born, &c. which is a Mistake: For there is no such French Word as Domicel, but Demoisel. Nor can Domicellus properly be derived from thence, but is an obsolete Latin Word, anciently given as an Appellation or Addition to the King's (Natural) Sons in France, and sometimes to the eldest Sons of Noblemen there; whence, doubtless, we borrow the Words. See Spelm. Gloss. verbo Domicellus. Tidemannus permissoe Divina Wigorn. Episcopus dilecto in Christo filio Johanni de Fulkwode nostre Dioc. Domicello, salutem.

Dat. 7 Febr. 19 Ric. 2. Here it is used to a private Gentleman, as Lord of a Manor.

Sed nos indiscrete de pluribus Dominis, quia Barones vocamus Domicellos, Angli vero nullum nisi natos Regum, &c. Hoveden, f. 347. n. 50.

But Domicelli are only the better Sort of Servants, as appears by Thorn. fol. 1748. Domicellus Abbas, and Domicelli & Servientes Monasterii, pag. 199.

Domigerium, Damage, Danger, — Vitam suam in laboribus variis dicens cum Domigerio magno mendicando. Hist. Elien. apud Whartoni Angl. Sac. P. 1. p. 652. Credebant Londonenses quod per hac dona Domigerium evassissent. Walsingham. 1392. E. molumentum Regi accrevit & Domigerium ad populum. Knighton, Anno 1352. In another Place 'tis taken for Power over another; Sub domigero alius vel manu esse. Braet. lib. 4. tract. 1. cap. 19. par. 2.

Dominis, A Title given properly to those honourable Women, who in their own Right of Inheritance held a Barony. So Maud the Daughter of Robertus de Oilly sen, who inherited the Honour of Walsingham, was therefore stiled Matildis Domina de Walsingham. Paroch. Antiq. p. 78.

Dominica in Ramis Palmarum, Is Palm-Sunday, so called, because on that Day they used to distribute Branches of Palm and other green Boughs in Commemoration of our Lord's Riding to Jerusalem, and the People cut Palm Boughs, &c. to strew in the Way, crying Hosanna. Md. quod ego Henricus de Erdington feci Homagium & Fidelitatem Domino Will. de Stafford apud Bromhulv in Com. Staff. die Mercurii prox. ante Dominicam in Ramis Palmarum, Anno Regni Regis Edw. xxviii. pro terris & tenementis quae teneo in Villa de Hunspan-sot in Com. War, &c.

Dominicum, Demain, or Demesne, Terra dominicalis. Lands not rented to Tenants, but held in Demesne, or in the Lord's own Use and Occupation. Antiquum Dominicum Regis, the King's ancient Demesne, are such Royal Manors as were reserved to the Crown, to yield Provision for the King's Household, and so let out in Socage for Farms or Vicuals, or in Serjeanty for some Domestic Services: but not disposed of to Barons or Knights to be held by any Feudatory or Military Service. See Demain.

Dominium, Right or Legal Power. — In silva dicti manerii sive Domini de Pidintona, aut infra praeinctum ejusdem, non habent aliqui extranei dominium aliquo modo in parte vel in toto se intromittere. Paroch. Antiq. p. 498.

Dominus, In ancient Times being prefixed to a Name, usually denoted him a Knight, or a Clergyman. For so we find it often in Charters, with His Testibus Domino Edwardo de Sancto Mauro, Willielmo, &c. Howbeit, I think sometimes that Title was given to a Gentleman of Quality, tho' not a Knight, especially if he were Lord of a Manor.

Domo Separanda, Is a Writ for one against his Neighbour, by the Fall of whose House he feareth Hurt to his own. Reg. Orig. fol. 153. In this Case the Civilians have the Action de damno infecto.

Domus Conversorum. See Rolls.

Domus Dei, The Hospital of St. John in Jerusalem. So called in Mon. Angl. 2 Part, fol. 440.

Dona, Any Sort of Property, Good or Endowment. — Per captionem & retentione averiorum nostrorum & aliorum Donorum quorumcumque ad nostrum Monasterium spectantium. Cartular. Abbat. Glaston. MS. f. 48.

Donative, Is a Benefice merely given and collated by the Patron to a Man, without either Presentation to the Ordinary, or Institution by the Ordinary, or Induction by his Commandment. F. N. B. fol. 35. Of this Petr. Gregor. de benefice, cap. 11. nu. 1. hath these Words, Si tamen capelle fundata per Laicos non fuerint a Diocessano approbata & (ut loquuntur) Spiritualizata, non censentur Beneficia, nec ab Episcopo conferrari possunt, sed sunt sub pia dispositione fundatoris. And Mr. Gwin in the Preface of his Reading, saith, That as the King might of ancient Times found a Free Chapel, and exempt it from the Jurisdiction of the Diocesan; so he might also by his Letters Patent license a common Person to found such a Chapel, and to ordain, that it shall be Donative, and not presentable, and that the Chaplain shall be deprivable by the Founder and his Heirs, and not by the Bishop; and this is most likely to be the Original of these Donatives in England. Fitzherbert saith, That there be some Chantryes which a Man may give by Letters Patent. Nat. Brev. 33. 42. All Bishopricks were in ancient Time Donative by the King. Co. lib. 3. fol. 75.

DONOR and DONEE, Donor, Is he who gives Lands or Tenements to another, and he to whom the same is given is the Donee.

DOOM or DOM, Saxon Dom, A Judgment, Sentence, Ordinance or Decree; also Sense or Signification. Substantiva quedam (says Mr. Somner) exercent in Dom, ubi compositionis gratia videtur appositum, & quandoque munus denotat vel Officium, item Ditionem & Dominium, ut in Kingdom, Earldom, &c.—Habeat Girtbriche & Forstal, & Dom, & Som, & Wreche in Mari. Mon. Angl. 1. par. fol. 284. a. See Oath.

DOZHESTER. See Durnovaria.

DOZBERNIA. Canterbury.

DOZLAK, A Cloth or Curtain, hanging in the Choir, so called because Sedenti ad dorsum appenditur.

Tresque dedit cappas, dorsalia plura, tapetas.

DOZFILE. See dorsale.

DOZTURE, Dormitorium, Anno 25 H. 8. cap. 11. is the common Room, Place or Chamber, where all the Friars of one Convent slept and lay all Night.

DOWENS, Streight Cloaths made in Devonshire, and so called in Rot. Par. 2 Hen. 5.

DOWALE, DOWALE, Hangings, Tapestry.—Dederat ei duo dorsalia bene facta. Rog. Hovenden sub ann. 954.—Dowale five tapefum—Mat. Par. in vit. Abb. S. Albani.

DOTE ASSIGNANDA, Is a Writ that lay for a Widow, where it was found by Office, That the King's Tenant was seised of Tenements in Fee or Fee-tail, at the Day of his Death; and that he held of the King in Chief, &c. In which Case, the Widow came into the Chancery, and there made Oath, That she would not marry without the King's Leave. Anno 15 Edu. 3. cap. 4. And hereupon she had this Writ to the Escheator, for which, see Reg. of Writs, fol. 297. and F. N. B. f. 263. These Widows are called the King's Widows. See Widow.

DOTE UNDE NIHIL HABET, Is a Writ of Dower, that lieth for the Widow against the Tenant, which bought Land of her Husband in his Lifetime, whereof he was seised solely in Fee-simple or Fee-tail, in such Sort as the Issue of them both might have inherited it. F. N. B. fol. 147. Regist. fol. 170.

DOTIS ADMEASUREMENT. See Admeasurement, and the Reg. Orig. fol. 171.

DOUBLE PLEA, (Duplex Placitum) Is that wherein the Defendant alledgeth for himself two several Matters in Bar of the Plaintiff's Action, whereof either is sufficient to effect his Desire, which shall not be admitted for a Plea. As, if a Man alledge several Matters, the one nothing depending upon the other, the Plea is accounted Double, and not admissible; but, if they be mutually depending each of other, then it is accounted single. Kitchin, fol. 223. See Brook, hoc sit. And Sir Tho. Smith gives this Reason why such Double Plea is not admitted by our Law; because the Trial is by twelve rude Men, whose Heads are not to be troubled with over many Things at once. Lib. 2. de Rep. Angl. cap. 13.

DOUBLE QUARREL, Duplex Querela, Is a Complaint made by any Clerk, or other, to the Archbishop of the Province against an inferior Ordinary, for delaying of Justice in some Cause Ecclesiastical, as to give Sentence, to institute a Clerk presented, or the like: The Effect whereof is, that the said Archbishop taking Knowledge of such Delay, directeth his Letters under his authentick Seal, to all and singular Clerks of his Province, thereby commanding and authorizing them, and every of them, to admonish the said Ordinary, within a certain Number of Days, namely, nine Days, to do the Justice required, or otherwise to cite him to appear before him or his Official at a Day, in the said Letters prefixed, and there to alledge the Cause of his Delay. And lastly, to intimate to the Ordinary, that if he neither perform the Thing enjoined, nor appear at the Day assigned, he himself will without further Delay proceed to perform the Justice required: And this seemeth to be termed a double Quarrel, because it is most commonly made against both the Judge, and him at whose Petition Justice is delayed.

DOUBLET, (Anno 14 H. 6. cap. 6.) Signify as much as Letters Patent, being a French Word made of the Latin Diploma.

DOBER: See Dubris.

DOUZE PEERS, Were twelve Peers in Henry the Third's Time, who were appointed at the Instance of the Barons, to be as Privy Counsellors to the King, or rather Conservators of the Kingdom.

DOW, To give, from the Latin, Do.

DOWAGER, (Dotissa) A Widow endowed, or that hath a Jointure; a Title or Addition, applied to the Widows of Princes, Dukes, Earls, and Persons of Honour only.

DOWRATES, The same with Dovecostes.

DOWER, (Dos and Dotarium) The first (Dos) properly signifies that which the Wife brings her Husband in Marriage, otherwise called Maritagium, Marriage-Goods: The other, (Dotarium or Doarium) that Portion of Lands or Tenements which she hath for Term of her Life from her Husband, if she out-live him. Glarville, lib. 7. cap. 1. Bracton, lib. 2. cap. 28. Briton, cap. 101. in Princip. Some Authors have for Distinction, called the First a Dowry, and the others a Dower, but they are often confounded. Of the former our Law-Books speak little, this only may be noted; That whereas by the Civil Law, Instruments are made before Marriage, which contain the Quantity of the Wife's Dowry, or Substance brought to her Husband, that he, having the Use of it during Marriage, may, after certain Deductions, restore it again to the Wife's Heirs or Friends, after the Marriage dissolved. The Common Law of England, whatsoever Chattels, Moveable or Immoveable, or ready Money she brings, makes them forthwith her Husband's own, to be disposed of as he will, leaving her at his Curtsey, to bestow any Thing or Nothing upon her at his Death: Only if she be an Inheritor, the Husband holds her Land but during her Life, except he have Issue by her; and then he holds it by the Curtsey of England, during his own Life. See Curtsey. Of the later, there are five Kinds, viz.

1. Dower per Legem Communem.
2. Dower per Consuetudinem.
3. Dower ex Assensu Patris.
4. Dower ad Optimum Ecclesie.
5. Dower de la plus Belle.

Dower by the Common Law is a third Part of such Lands, as the Husband was sole seised of in Fee, during the Marriage, which the Wife is to enjoy during her Life; for which there lies a Writ of Dower. Dower by Custom gives the Wife, in some Places, half her Husband's Lands, so long as she lives sole, as in Gavelkind: And as Custom may enlarge, so may it abridge Dower, and refrain it to a fourth Part: Ex Assensu Patris, ad Optium Ecclesie, the Wife may have so much Dower, as shall be so assigned or agreed upon, but it ought not to exceed a third Part of the Husband's Lands. Glanv. lib. 6. cap. 1. And if it be done before Marriage, it is called a Jointure. Dower de la plus Belle is when the Wife is endowed of the fairest or best Part of her Husband's Estate. See Coke on Littl. fol. 33. b. Romanis non in usu fuit uxoriibus Dotes retribuere, ideo verbo genuino cavent quo hoc dignoscitur; & rem ipsam in Germanorum moribus miratur Tacitus, Dotem (inquit) non uxor marito, sed uxori maritus offert. Spelm.

To the Consummation of Dower three Things are necessary, viz. Marriage, Seisin, and the Husband's Death. Bingham's Case, 2 Rep. If the Wife be past the Age of nine Years at the Death of her Husband, she shall be endowed. If a Woman elope, or go away from her Husband with an Adulterer, and will not be reconciled, she loseth her Dower, by the Stat. of West. 2. cap. 34. 2 Part. Inst. fol. 433.

Camden, (in his Brit. Tit. Suffex) relates this memorable Case, (out of the Parl. Records. 30 Edw. 1.) Sir John Camois, Son of the Lord Ralph Camois, of his own free Will, gave and demised his own Wife, Margaret, Daughter and Heir of John de Gatesden, unto Sir Will. Panell, Knight; and unto the same William, gave, granted, released and quit-claimed all her Goods and Chattels, &c. So that neither he himself, nor any Man else in his Name, might make Claim, or ever challenge any Interest in the said Margaret, or in her Goods and Chattels, &c. By which Grant, when she demanded her Dower in the Manor of Torpell, Part of the Possessions of Sir John Camois, her first Husband, then deceased, there grew a memorable Suit in Law, but where-in she was overthrown, and Judgment pronounced (in Parliament 30 Edw. 1.) That she ought to have no Dower from thence, upon the Stat. of West. 2. Quia recessit a marito suo in vita sua, & vixit in Adulterio cum predicto Gulielmo, &c. This Case is cited also in 2 Inst. fol. 435.

Of Dower, read Fleta, who writes largely and learnedly of it, Lib. 5. cap. 22. & seq.

Among the Jews, the Bridegroom, at the Time of the Marriage, gave his Wife a Dowry-Bill, the Form whereof you may see in Moses and Aaron, pag. 235.

Dowle and Deal, A Division; from the Brit. Dal, diviso, from the Sax. Delan, i. e. dividere, and from thence comes the Word Dealing. So the Stones which are laid to the Boundaries of Lands, are called Dowlestones, i. e. such which divide the Lands.

Dowseynes, A Sort of Kerseys made in Devonshire, in Length twelve Yards.

Dozen, Decenna, In the Statute for View of Frankpledge made 18 E. 2. one of the Articles for Stewards in their Leets to enquire of, is, If all the Doreins be in the Assise of our Lord the King, and which not, and who receive them. Art. 3. See Decimars. There is also a Sort of Devonshire Kerseys called Dorens, 5 & 6 E. 6. cap. 6.

Dzacca, A Drain. — Cum Triginta acris prati juxta dictum novum locum ex parte occidentali in Dracca juxta festatum de Redeclos jacentibus. — Contin. Hist. Croyland. p. 479. The Word is printed Dracca, but I think it a Mistake for Draua.

Dzaco Regis, The Standard, Ensign, or Military Colours bore in War by our former Kings, having the Figure of a Dragon upon them. — Cum Rex Angliæ fixisset signum suum in medio, & tradidisset Draconem suum Petro de Portellis ad portandum. — Rog. Hoved. sub anno 1191. See Watte's Glossary.

Dragum, Drag, A courser Sort of Bread-Corn. — Item reddit computum de duobus quarteriis avena de toto exitu grangie trituvatis per summam, & de xvii. quarteriis & tribus bussellis Dragii supra mixtis. — & trituvabit bussellos ordeii vel dragei avena. — Consuetud. Domus de Farendon MS. f. 11. In Staffordshire they now use a Sort of Malt made of Oats mixed with Barley, which they call Dreg-Malt. And in Essex, &c. they have a Grain called Dreg, of which Tho. Tusser in his Husbandry, p. 32.

Sow Barley and Dreg with a plentiful Hand,
Lest Weed sted of Seed overgroweth thy Land,
Thy Dreg and thy Barley go Thresh out to Malt.

Drags, Anno 6 H. 6. cap. 5. Seem to be Wood or Timber so joined together, that swimming or floating upon the Water, they may bear a Burden, or Load of other Wares down a River.

Dzana, A Drain, or Water-course to sew and empty wet Places. — Concessimus humum illam que est juxta dranam quam Walterus Filius Amfridi tenuit. Cartular. Abbat. Glaston. MS. f. 29. — Illud pratum in Thistlemor quod est intra vetus fossatum & nemus de Godeshall, & inter Dranam, & ripeviam de Avene cum tota crista dicti fossati. Cartular. Abbat. Radings. MS. f. 10. a.

Drastrus, Grains, or the Refuse of Malt after Brewing, called still in some Places Draines, and Drass. — Et prebendam quotidianam ad duos equos de granario nostro sumendam, unum cribrum fursuris, & majorem curiam de Dralco, i. e. a great Basket of Graius. Mat. Par. in Vit. Abb. S. Albani.

Draw-Gere, Any Harness or other Furniture of Cart-Horses for drawing a Waggon or other Carriage. — Pro factura de Draw-Gere per Walterum Carpenter de Langton III. Paroch. Antiq. p. 549. See Mr. Kennet's Glossary.

Drawlatches, Anno 5 E. 3. cap. 14. and Anno 7 R. 2. cap. 5. Lambard in his Eirenarcha, lib. 2. c. 6. calleth them Miching Thieves, as Walters and Roberts Men, Mighty Thieves, saying, That the Words be grown out of use.

Dreit-Dreit, Signifies a double Right, that is, Jus Possessionis & jus Dominii. Bract. lib. 4. cap. 27. & lib. 4. tract. 4. cap. 4 & 5. tract. 5. cap. 5. Co. on Lit. fol. 266.

Drenched, Is an obsolete Word, and signifies to overcome, from the German Tringen, co-gere.

Drenches or Drenges (Drengi) were Tenentes in Capite, says an ancient MS. Domesday Tit. Lestresle. Roger. Pictaviens. Neuton. Hujus Manerii aliam terram 15 homines, quos Drenches vocabant, pro 15 Maneriis tenebant. They were (says S'elnian) e genere vassallorum non ignobilium, cum singuli quidam in Domesd. nominantur, singula possederent Maneria. Such as at the Coming in of the Conqueror, being put out of their Estates, were afterward upon Complaint unto him restored thereunto; for that they being before Owners thereof, were neither in auxilio or consilio against him: Of which Number were Edwyne a Dane, Sharneburne of Norfolk, and others. Sir Edward Coke, on Littl. fol. 5. b. says, Drenchs are Free-tenants of a Manor: Misprinted doubtless for Drenches, and not well interpreted. See Baron. Anglie, fol. 118. a. In Cukency manebat quidam homo, qui vocabatur Gamilbere, & fuit verus Dreynge ante Conquestum, tenuit duas Caruncas terre de Domino Rege in Capite, pro tali servicio, de ferrando Palifridum Dom. Regis, super quatuor pedes de cluavio Dom. Regis quotiescunque ad Manerium suum de Mansfeld iacuerit, & si inculdet Palefridum Domini Regis, dabit ei Palefridum quatuor Mercarum. Mon. Drengage, (Drengagium, vel servitium Drengarii.) The Tenure by which the Drenches held their Lands, of which see Trin. 21 Ed. 3. Ebor. and Northumb. Rot. 191. Notandum est, eos omnes eorumve antecessores, qui e Drengorum classe erant, vel per Drengagium tenere, sua incoluisse patrimonia ante adventum Normanorum. Spelm.

Que Erchange. (Anno 3 Hen. 7. cap. 5. cambium sicum) seems to be a cleanly Term, invented for the disguising foul Usage; in which something is pretended to pass on both Sides, whereas in Truth nothing passeth but on the one Side, in which Respect it well may be called Dry. Of this Lud. Lopes, tract. de Contrah. & Negotiat. li. 2. cap. 1. Sect. Deinde postquam, writes thus, Cambium est reale vel sicum; Cambium reale dicitur, quod consistentiam veri Cambii realem habet, & Cambium pertrans, & Cambium minutum. Cambium autem sicum est Cambium non habens existentiam Cambii, sed apparentiam ad infiar arboris exsiccate, quæ humore vitali jam carens, apparentiam arboris habet, non existentiam.

Drye Rent, Rent-seeck. See Rent.

Drift of the Forest, (Agitatio animalium in Foresta) is an exact View or Examination what Cattle are in the Forest, that it may be known whether it be over charged or not, and whose the Beasts are; and, whether they are commenable Beasts, &c. When, how often in the Year, by whom, and in what Manner this Drift is to be made, see Manwood, Part 2. cap. 15. and 4 Inft. fol. 309.

Drinkran (Sax. Drinc-lean) in some Records written Potura Drinklean is a Contribution of Tenants towards a Potation, or an Ale provided to entertain the Lord or his Steward; a Scot-ale.

Drofcennus. — Quod Dominus debet habere Drofcennus arbores de crescentia xl. annorum & infra. Kanc. Pasch. 44 Edw. 3. quære. Drofcennus. Druf and Drotten, among our Saxons, signified a Grove, or woody Place, where Cattle were kept; and, the Keeper of them was called Drofinan. Domesday.

Drofland, or Dryfland, (from the Sax. Dryfene, i. e. Driven) was anciently a Quit-rent, or yearly Payment made by some Tenants to the King or their Landlords, for driving their Cattle through the Manor to Fairs or Markets. Mr. Phillips, Mistaken Recompence, fol. 39.

Droit, (Fr. Droit) In Law there are six Kinds of it, viz.

1. Fus recuperandi.
2. Fus intrandi.
3. Fus habendi.
4. Fus retinendi.
5. Fus percipiendi.
6. Fus possidendi.

All these several Sorts of Rights, following the Relations of their Objects, are the Effects of the Civil Law. Vide Coke on Littl. fol. 266. & 345. b. — Of meer Droit, and very Right, Anno 27 H. 8. cap. 26.

Dromones, Dromos, Dromunda, At first these Words signified high Ships, but afterwards those which we now call Men of War, and in this Sense 'tis used in Walsingham, Anno 1292, in Knighton Lib. 3. cap. 14. &c. Tres majores Naves subsequuntur; quas vulgo Dromones appellant: Galeæ vero leviores, & ad qualibet aptanda agiles precedunt. Gaufrid. Vincelaut. Ric. Regis Iter Hierosol. c. 60. Quam prospere versus Achon velicaret, 8 Idus Junii, apparuit ei navis quadam permaxima, quam Dromundam appellant, missa a Saladino. Mart. Paris. sub anno 1191.

Droba, A Drove, a Drift-way, or Common Road for driving Cattle. — Walterus Cantuar. Archiepiscopus concessit ad vitam Magistro Michaeli de Bercham pasturas de la Rede & Haute juxta Bercham, cum omnibus suis juribus & pertinentiis, drovis, viis, semitis & fossatis. Dat. 10. Kal. Sept. 1319. Ex Registr. Ecclesie Christi Cantuar. MS.

Druggeria, Drogeria, A Place of Drugs, a Druggster's Shop. — Quoddam Messuagium situm in vico Northblode inter tenementum quod fuit Wilhelmi de Sibestebury Capellani & tenementum proxime Druggeriam, quod quidem tenementum, &c. Chartular. Abbat. Glaston. MS. f. 125. a.

Duarium, Doarium, Dozarium, The Dowry or Jointure of a Wife settled on her in Marriage, to be enjoyed after her Husband's Decease. The Word Dowrie, is by Fr. Junius, rightly referred to the old English, to Dowe, i. e. to give, as Chaucer, To whom for evermore my Heart I dowe. See Mr. Kennet's Glossary.

Dubius. Dover.

Duces tecum, Is a Writ commanding one to appear at a Day in the Chancery, and to bring with him some Evidence, or other Thing that the Court would view. See the New Book of Entries, verbo Duces tecum. There is also another Kind of Duces tecum directed to a Sheriff, upon Return that he cannot bring his Prisoner without Danger of Death, he being adeo Languidus; then the Court grants a Habeas Corpus in the Nature of a Duces tecum licet languidus.

Duel, (Duellum) according to Fleta, Est singularis pugna inter duos ad probandam veritatem litis, & qui vicerit, probasse intelligitur, &c. Stat. de Finibus levatis, 27 Edw. 1. The Trial by Duel, Combat or Camp-fight, in doubtful Cases, is now diffused, though though the Law on which it was grounded be still in Force. See 3 Part Inst. fol. 221. and see Combat. Per libertatem habere Duellum, Johannes Stanley Arm. clamat, quod si aliquis placitaverit aliquem de libero tenemento in Curia sua de Aldford per breve Domini Comitis de recto patent. tenere & terminare predictum placitum per duellum, prout jus est per Communem legem. Plac. in Itin. apud Cestriam 14 Hen. 7.

Stephanus de Norbona omnibus. Sciatis me dedisse Willielmo filio Radulphi de Filungele pro homagio & servitio suo, & propter Duellum quod fecit pro me. Duas virgatas terra. Sine Dat. MS. penes Will. Dugdale, Mil.

Duke, Dux, In ancient Times among the Romans signified Ductorem exercitus, such as lead their Armies, who if by their Prowess they obtained any famous Victory, they were by their Soldiers saluted Imperatores, as Hotoman de verb. Feudal. verb. Dux, proveth out of Livy, Tully, and others: Since that they were called Duces, to whom the King committed the Government of any Province, Id. In some Nations to this Day the Sovereigns of the Country are called by this Name, as Florence, or the great Duke of Tuscany, Duke of Milan. In England, Duke is the next secular Dignity to the Prince of Wales. And (as Cambden says) Heretofore in the Saxons Times they were called Dukes without any Addition, being mere Officers and Leaders of Armies. After the Coming in of the Conqueror, there were none bore this Title till Edward the Third's Days, who made Edward his Son Duke of Cornwall. Since that there have been several made, whose Titles have descended by Inheritance to their Posterity; they were created with Solemnity per cinthuram gladii, cappeq; & circuli aurei in Capite impositionem. See Cambd. Brit. pag. 166. Zazium de feudis, pag. 4. num. 7. Cassan. de consuet. Burgund. pag. 6. 10. And Ferne's Glory of Generosity, 139. At this Day we have many of these created Dukes in England, whose Titles are very well known to every Body.

Dumetium, (Latin Dumetum;) a Ground full of Bushes and Brambles. I have seen a Deed, granting (inter alia) quoddam Dumetium in Dale.

Dum fuit infra ætatem, Is a Writ which lies for him, that before he came to his full Age, made a Feoffment of his Land in Fee, or for Term of Life, or in Tail, to recover them again from him, to whom he conveyed them. F. N. B. fol. 192.

Dum non fuit compos mentis, Is a Writ that lieth against the Alience or Lessee, for him that not being of sound Memory, did alien any Lands or Tenements in Fee-simple, Fee-tail, for Term of Life, or for Years. F. N. B. fol. 202.

Dun, Dune, A Mountain or open Place: Therefore the Names of Towns which end in Dun, were either built on Hills, or near Hills in open Places.

Duna, A Bank of Earth cast up, the Side of a Ditch—Faciet fossatum adeo forte & bonum prout voluit, ita quod fundum a retro Dunæ utriusq; fossati sit in fundo 14 pedum. Cartular. Glaston. MS. f. 75.

Dunio, A Sort of base Coin less than a Farthing, a Double.—Nec denarios invenimus præter offo Duniones qui sterlingos duos non valebant.—Gi-

Dunnarium,—Pateat—quod ego Johannes de Mobun miles dedi Abbati & Canonicis de Nettle parvam in omnibus brueris seu Dunnariis meis. Dat. 29 Ed. 3. Penes Decan. & Capit. Eccl. Cath. Christi Oxon. It seems to signify a Down, a Hill, or Heathy Ground.

Dunsetts, Those who dwell on Hills or Mountains, from the Sax. Dun, a Hill, and Sax. Data, an Inhabitant.

Dunstable. See Magioninium.

Dunum } A Down, In which Termination (a little, in some, varied into Don) and many Names of our Towns end, as Duna, Ashdown, Cleydon, &c. Domesd.

Duodena, A Jury of twelve Men. Robertus Tresilian Justiciarius—apud S. Albanum convocari fecit duodenam quam pridie auveraverat ad indictandum & prodendum Malefactores. Tho Walsingham, p. 276.

Duodena manu. See Friburgh, and Oath.

Duplicat Is used by Crompton, for a second Letters Patent, granted by the Lord Chancellor in a Case wherein he had formerly done the same, and was therefore thought void. Crompt. Jurisdid. fol. 215. Also a second Letter written and sent to the same Party and Purpose as a former, for Fear of Miscarriage of the First, or for other Reason, is called a Duplicat. Also any Copy or Transcript of a Writing is called a Duplicat. The Word is used 14 Car. 2. cap. 10.

Duplodes. See Gamberzon.

Duplum, A Sort of Bread so called, made for the Monks.

Durden, A Thicket of Wood in a Valley.

Dureffs (Duritia) is, where one is kept in Prison or restrained of his Liberty, contrary to the Order of Law, or threatened to be kill'd, maid'd or beaten: And if such Person so in Prison, or in Fear of such Threats, make any Specialty or Obligation by Reason of such Imprisonment or Threats, such Deed is void in Law: And in an Action brought upon such Specialty, the Party may plead, That it was made by Dureffs; and so avoid the Action. Broke, in his Abbridgment joineth Dureffs and Manasse together, i. e. duritiam & minas; Hardship and Threatnings.

Durnobarium, Dorchester.

Durolitum, Oldford upon Lee, in Essex.

Durstep, Blows without Wounding or Blood; vulgo Dry-blows, from the Germ. Durre, ficcus, and Sax. Slege, iustus.

Duffy-foot, or Duffy-Fatt, A Foreigner, Trader, Pedlar, or travelling Merchant, who has no settled Habitation. So called because their Feet in travelling are covered with Duff. Siquis extraneus Mercator transiens per regnum, non habens terram, vel mansionem infra Vicecomitatum, sed vagans qui vocatur Pie poudreux, hoc est Anglice Duffy-foot, &c. Hence the Court of Piepowder erected for Relief of such Foreigners. See Piepowder.

Dutchy.

Dutchy-Court Is a Court wherein all Matters appertaining to the Dutchy or County Palatine of Lancaster are decided by the Decree of the Chancellor of that Court: The Original of it was in Henry the Fourth's Days, who, obtaining the Crown by Deposing Richard the Second, and having the Dutchy of Lancaster by Descent, in Right of his Mother, was seized thereof as King, and not as Duke; So that all the Liberties, Franchises and Jurisdictions of the said Dutchy, passed from the King by his Great Seal, and not by Livery or Attornment as the Possessions of Everick, the Earldom of March, and such others did, which had descended to the King by other Ancestors than the King's; but, at last, Henry the Fourth, by Authority of Parliament, passed a Charter, whereby the Possessions, Liberties, &c. of the said Dutchy were severed from the Crown; yet Henry the Seventh reduced it to its former Nature, as it was in Henry the Fifth's Days. Crom. Jur. fol. 136.

The Officers belonging to this Court, are, the Chancellor, Attorney, Receiver General, Clerk of the Court, Messenger: Besides which, there are certain Assistants, as one Attorney in the Exchequer, one Attorney of the Dutchy in Chancery, four Persons learned in the Law retained of Counsel with the King in the said Court; whereof Gwin, (in the Preface to his Readings) speaks thus; It grew out of the Grant of King Edward the Third, who gave that Dutchy to his Son John of Gaunt, and endowed it with such Royal Rights, as the County Palatine of Chester had. And forasmuch as it was afterwards extinct in the Person of King Henry the Fourth, by reason of the Union of it with the Crown, the same King, (suspecting himself to be more rightfully Duke of Lancaster than King of England) determined to save his Right in the Dutchy, whatever should befall the Kingdom; and therefore he separated the Dutchy from the Crown, and settled it so in the natural Persons of himself and his Heirs, as if he had been no King or Politick Body at all; in which Condition it continued during the Reign of Henry the Fifth, and Henry the Sixth, that descended from him; but when Henry the Fourth had (by Recovery of the Crown) recontinued the Right of the House of York, he feared not to appropriate that Dutchy to the Crown again; yet so, that he suffered the Court and Officers to remain as he found them; in which Manner it came, together with the Crown, to Henry the Seventh, who, liking well of Henry the Fourth's Policy, (by whose Right also he obtained the Kingdom) made a like Separation of the Dutchy, and so left it to his Posterity, who still enjoy it.

Dwindle, i. e. consumed; thus we say, to dwindle.

Dyer Was a learned Lawyer, and Lord Chief Justice of the Common Pleas in Queen Elizabeth's Time: He writ a Book still much esteemed, called his Commentaries or Reports.

Dyke-reeder, An Officer that hath the Oversight of the Dykes and Drains in Deeping Fens, &c. mentioned 17 & 18 Car. 2. cap. 11.

Dyngel-thrift, An old Play or Sport, of which it is now hard to derive the Name, or to define the Thing. There is a Letter directed to the Official of the Archdeacon of Richmond, for censuring one William Baker, Chaplain of Ripon, upon several Articles exhibited against him, of which one runs thus; — Item fuit inventor principalis cuiusdam ludi pestiferi & a jure reprobati, qui in vulgari dicitur Dyngel-thrift, qui se Magistrum & Abbatem illius ordinis fecerat nominari, & pro tali se gessit, & quamplurimos tam Clericos quam Laicos apud Ripon illo ludo nexio & damno informavit. — Dat. 16 Kal. Nov. 1311 Collectan. Math. Hutton S. T. P. ex Reg. Grenefeld Archiepif. Ebor. MS. Optennum, Dixerunt, A Dittany, Ditty or Song. Whence venire cum toto ac pleno dyteno, was to sing Harvelt home, Homines de Hevingdon ad curiam Domini singulis annis inter festum S. Michaelis & S. Martini venient cum toto ac pleno dyteno sicut hactenus consueverunt. Paroch Antiq. p. 320.

E.

E Non solum est litera sed prepositio etiam & per se & in compositione significans Anglice (out) as e foro, out of Court; Ejicie, to cast out, and the like.

Eahalus, From the Saxon Eale, cervisia, and Hus domus, now called an Ale-house; a Word which we often find in the Laws of King Alfred.

Eahstapn, In the Saxon Laws of King Ethelred, cap. 6. — Et si Eahstapn occidatur, pertineat infractio Pacis intra curiam, vel adjacencies ejus. Eahstapn persolatur plena vera. Mr. Somner interprets Eahstapn to be eight Men, or such a Number, slain; but I suppose the Word is rather meant Heab Tain, a High Thane or superior Lord, the Penalty on whole Murder was augmented in Proportion to his Quality.

Ealdorman or Ealdorman, Aldermanus, Among the Saxons was as much as Earl among the Danes, Cambd. Brit. pag. 107. It is as much as an Elder or Statesman, called by the Romans Senator, who were rather Counsellors at large, than bestowed upon any particular Office, as Comites were See Countee. And that Signification we retain at this Day almost in all our Cities and Boroughs, calling those Aldermen that are Associates to the Chief Officer in the Common Council of the Town. 24 H. 8. cap. 13. Or sometime the Chief Officer himself, as in Stamford.

Ealhthorp, The Privilege of assising and selling Ale or Beer. As among the Liberties granted by Henry the Second, to the Abbey of Glastonbury — habeat quoque eadem Ecclesia solum & facam, on Stronde and on Streve, on Wode and on Felde, on Gritbbricke, on Burghbrich, Hundred. Sotene, Adda and Ortelas, Ellehordas, busa, berden, &c. Cartular, Abbat. Glaston. Ms. fol. 14.

Earle, Sax. Eorle, Lat. Comes and Consul: This was a great Title among the Saxons, and is the most ancient of any of the Peerage, there being no other Title of Honour used among the present Nobility, which was likewise in Use among the Saxons, except this Title of Earl. The Titles of Honour among the Saxons were originally three, viz. Etheling, Ealdorman, and Defen or Dane; the first comes from the Word Ethel, which signifies Noble, and was usually applied to the first of the Royal Line; the other two Words were applied to the rest of the Nobility; only the Thani were afterwards distinguished into Majores and Minores; the former were equal to our Peers, and the later to our Knights: But the Title Earl, in Lat. Comes, in ancient Times was given to those who were Associates to the King in his Councils and Martial Actions: And the Manner of their Investiture into that Dignity was, Per cincturam gladii Comitatus; without any formal Charter of Creation. See Dugdale's Warwick.

Warwickshire, fol. 302. But the Conqueror (as Camden notes) gave this Dignity in Fee to his Nobles, annexing it to this or that County or Province; and allotted them for their Maintenance, a certain Proportion of Money arising from the Prince's Profits, for the Pleadings and Forfeitures of the Provinces: For Example, he brings an ancient Record in these Words; Henricus 2. Rex Anglie his verbis Comitum creavit; Sciat is nos fecisse Hugonem Bigot Comitem de Norf. &c. de tertio denario de Norwic. & Northfolk; sicut aliquis Comes Anglie liberius Comitatum suum tenet. About the Reign of King John, and ever since, our Kings have made Earls by their Charter, of this or that County, Province or City; but of late, giving them no Authority over the County, nor any Part of the Profits arising by it; only some annual Fee out of the Exchequer, &c. The Manner of their Creation is by girding them with a Sword. Cam. p. 107. but see the Solemnity described more at large in Stow's Annals, p. 1121. Their Place is next to a Marquis, and before a Viscount. Comitatus a Comite dicitur, aut vice versa. See more on this Subject in Spelman's Gloss. verbo Comites; and in Selden's Titles of Honour, fol. 676. and see Countess, Consul and Earle.

Earls. See Arles.

Easement (Aisamentum, from the French Aise, i. e. Commoditas) Is a Service or Convenience which one Neighbour has of another by Charter or Prescription, without Profit; as a Way thro' his Ground, a Sink, or such like. Kitchin, fol. 105. which, in the Civil Law, is called Servitus prædii.—Præcipias R. quod iuste & sine dilatione permittat habere. H. Aisamenta sua in Bosco & in pastura de villa, &c. Breve Regium vetus apud Glanvil. lib. 12. c. 14.

Easter. From the Saxon Easter; which was a Goddess the Saxons worshipped in the Month of April; and so called, because she was the Goddess of the East.

Easterling, An Easterling, Sax. East-Tyne, Easterly Coast or Country. In the Laws of King Edward the Elder.—Si sit Eastintus, si sit Northintus, emendat sicut scriptura pacis continet—where I am apt to think. Eastintus was rather meant Eastinus, and Northintus, Northinus, i. e. whether he lived on the East Side of the River Tyne, or on the North.

Ebbs, Ebb, or low Tide.—Si extra regnum in peregrinatione fuerit, Dilationem habebit 40 dierum, & duorum flodorum & unius ebbæ, quia de ultra mare, &c. Brafton. lib. 4. tract. 1. cap. 5. In quibus essonitis dabitur dilatio ad minus 40 dierum & unius flud. & unius ebbæ. Ib. lib. 5. tract. 2. cap. 2.

Ebdomadarius, An Officer in Cathedral Churches, appointed weekly to supervise the regular Performance of divine Service and other Duties, and to prescribe the particular Office of each Person attending in the Choir, what Part he is to bear for that Week in reading, singing, praying, &c. To which Purpose the said Ebdomary or Weeks-man, at the Beginning of his Week, drew up a Form or Bill of the respective Persons and their several allotted Duties, called Tabula, and the Persons there entered were called Intabulati.—This appears particularly in the Statutes of the Church of St. Paul's digested by Ralph Baldok, Dean, anno 1295. MS. penes Joh. Episc. Norwic.

Ebedin, A Relief.

Eberemurder, Sax. Ebere mord, Apertum murdrum, was one of those Crimes which, by Henry the First's Laws, cap. 13. emendari non possunt. Hoc ex scelere geneve fuit, nullo pretio, (etiam apud Saxones nostros,) expiabilum, cum alia licuit pecuniis commutare. Spelman. Ex his placitis quedam emendantur centum solidis, quedam vera, quedam vita, quedam non possunt emendari que sunt Husbrech, i. e. Burglary, Bernet, i. e. Setting a House on Fire, Opentheft, i. e. Robbery, & Eberemurder. Leg. H. 1. cap. 12. See Aberemurder.

Ebzatum, York.

Ecclesia (Lat.) Is most used for that Place where Almighty God is served, commonly called a Church. But Fitzherbert says, By this Word Ecclesia is meant only a Parsonage; and therefore if a Presentment be made to a Chapel, as to a Church, by the Name Ecclesia, this does change the Nature of it, and make it presently a Church. Nat. Brev. 32. When the Question was, Whether it were Ecclesia aut Cappella pertinens ad matricem Ecclesiam? The Issue was, whether it had Baptisterium & Sepulturam? For if it had the Administration of the Sacraments and Sepulture, it was in Law judged a Church. Trin. 20 Edw. 1. in Banco, Rot. 177. 2 Inst. fol. 363. Ecclesia is also sometimes taken for the Image or Sculpture of a Church, which was often cut out or cast in Plate or other Metal, and preserved as a religious Treasure or Relick. As in the Visitation of the Treasury of the Church of St. Paul, anno 1295.

—Duo turribus argentea, exterius totaliter deaurata, cum opere gravato & levato, cum Ecclesiis & turribus & sexdecim campanellis argenteis appensis, & catenis albis argenteis, ponderis 11. marc. 20. den. &c. Mon. Angl. tom. 3. p. 309.

Ecclesiastical Persons, Are either Regular or Secular; Regular, are such as lead a Monastic Life, under certain Rules, and have vowed Obedience, perpetual Chastity, and wilful Poverty: When a Man is professed in any of the Orders of Religion, he is said to be a Man of Religion, a Regular or Religious; of this Sort are Abbots, Priors, Monks, Friars, &c. Secular, are those whose ordinary Conversation is among those of the World, and profess to take upon them the Cure of Souls, and live not under any Rule of Religious Orders: Such are Bishops, Parish-Priests, &c.

Eden-Water. See Eluna.

Eder, A Hedge. Eder-bræce, The Trespass of Hedge breaking. Sax. Eador-bryce, which occurs in the Laws of King Alfred, cap. 45.

Edrūta, —Sciant quod ego Adam de Mobaut commissi Domino Johanni de Barker pro servitio suo totam terram cum edctiis, & cum omnibus pertin. suis. Ex Register. Priorat. de Wormley. Perhaps from Aisamenta, Easements. Blount imagines that this Word comes from Edes, and is used for Buildings.

Edu, —Qualiter quoque onera incumben- tia Regi & Regno levius ad Ediam communis supportari poterunt. Henr. Knighton. lib. 5. The learned Du Fresne interprets it Aid, Auxilium. But it is indeed meant of Ease, from the Saxon Eath; and in Westminster they still say Eathy for Easy.

Edington. See Adurni Portus.

Edmund's Bury. See Villa Eaufini.

Edelesares, alias Edelebart, 25 H. 8. is the Fry or Brood of Eels.

Effugia

Efforcialiter, i. e. with Military Force. Tu ita Efforcialiter venis cum Equis & Armis. Mat. Paris. Anno 1213.

Efforciamentum, (Afforciamentum) a Distress or Inquisition. Abbas venit per aliquem liberum hominem attornatum suum, qualem presentare voluerit ad Efforciamentum Curie tantum. Monast. Tom. 1. p. 280. So in a Charter of E. 3. p. 832. E tribus virgatis terre quietis de festis Curie & adventibus & Afforciamentis.

Effradores, (Lat.) Burglars, that break open Houses to steal. Qui furandi causa domos effringunt, vel sese carere propiunt; etiam qui scrinia expoliant. MS.

Eltre Ways, Entries, Walks, or Hedges; From the Sax. Efter, Post.

Effusio sanguinis, The Mulct, Fine, Wite, or Penalty imposed by the old English Laws for the shedding of Blood, which the King granted to many Lords of Manors. As among the Privileges granted to the Abbey of Glasstonbury. — Abbas & Conventus habent namia vetita, butesum, levatum, & effusionem sanguinis. — Cartular. Abbat. Glasston. MS. f. 87. a.

Egilde, the same with Gildum.

Egyptians, Egyptiani, We commonly call them Gypsies, and by our Statutes, and the Laws of England, they are a counterfeit Kind of Rogues, that being English or Welsh People, accompany themselves together, disguising themselves in strange Habits, blacking their Faces and Bodices, and framing to themselves an unknown Language, wander up and down, and under Pretence of telling Fortunes, curing Diseases, and such like, abuse the Ignorant common People, by stealing all that is not too hot or too heavy for their Carriage. Anno 1 & 2 Phil. & Mar. cap. 4. and 5 Eliz. cap. 20. These are like those whom the Italians call Cingari, spoken of by Francisus Leo in suo thesauro fori Ecclesiastici, part. prim. cap. 13.

Eia, An Island, an Eyt, Sax. Eage. Hence the Names of Places which end in Ey, as Ramsay, is the Island of Rams; Sheppey, is the Island of Sheep. Mat. Paris. Anno 833. Hersey, the Island of Harts. Hence the French borrow their Eau, Water.

Ejesta, a Woman ravished or deflowered. Ejesta, a Whoremonger. Rex fundavit dictum hospitalem super decem leprosis, & dicunt quod dicti leprosi erant de Ejestibus Civitatis Lincoln. Mon. 2 Tom. pag. 388.

Ejectione custodiæ, Ejectione de gard, Is a Writ which lieth properly against him that casteth out the Guardian from any Land during the Minority of the Heir. Reg. Orig. fol. F. N. B. 139. Termes de la Ley, verbo Gard. There be two other Writs not unlike this; the one is termed Droit de gard, or Right of Ward; the other Ravishment de gard, which see in their Places.

Ejectione firmæ, Is a Writ which lieth for the Lessee for Term of Years, that is cast out before his Term expired, either by the Lessor or a Stranger. Reg. Orig. fol. 227. F. N. B. fol. 220. See Quare ejecit infra terminum, and the New Book of Entries, verbo Ejectione firmæ.

Ejectum, Ejectus Maris. Quod e mari ejicitur. Jer, Jestom, Wreck. — Et si de navi taliter periclitata aliquis homo vivus eonferit, & ad terram venerit, omnia bona & catalla in navi cum ista contenta remaneant, & sint eorum quorum prius fuerant & eis non debeantur nisi ejecit. — Si vero infra prædictum terminum nullus venerit ad exigenda catalla sua, tunc nostra sint, & hereditas nostrorum nomine ejecit, vel alterius qui libertatem habet ejecit habendi. Cart. Henrici Reg. Angl. Anno 1226.

Eigne, French, Aisne, Maximus natu, The first born, as Ballard Eigne, and Muler puiſne. Lit. sect. 399. See Mulier.

Eilesbury. See Ailshury.

Eniticia Is borrowed of the French Aisne, Primogenitus, and signifies in the Common Law Eldestship, Stat. of Ireland. 14 H. 3. Skene de verbor. significatione, verbo Eniticia, says, That in the Statute of Marlbridge, cap. 9. made in the Time of H. 3. It is called Enitia pars hereditatis: And likewise in another Place of the same King, Fus eniticia, that is, in proper Latin, Fus primogenitura. See Enitia pars, and Esney. Eynician filiam suam maritari, to marry his eldest Daughter.

Eire, alias Eyre, From the old French Word Eire, that is, Iter, a Journey, as a grand Eire, that is, Magnis itineribus. It signifies in Britten, cap. 2. the Court of Justices Itinerant. And Justices in Eyre are those only which Bracton in many Places calleth Jusficiarii itinerantes, of the Eyre, and Lib. 3. tract. 2. cap. 1. 2. faith, The Eyre also of the Forest is nothing but the Justice-seat otherwise called, which is, or should by ancient Custom be held every three Years by the Justices of the Forest, journeying up and down to that Purpose. Crompt. Jur. fol. 156. Manwood's Forest-Laws, cap. 24. Read also Skene de verb. signif. verbo Iter, whereby as by many other Places, you may see great Affinity between these two Kingdoms in the Administration of Justice and Government. See Justice in Eyre.

Election, Is, when a Man is left to his own free Will to take or do one Thing or another, which he pleases; as if A. covenants to pay B. a Pound of Pepper or Saffron before Whitsontide; it is at the Election of A. at all Times before Whitsontide, which of them he will pay; but if he pays it not before the said Feast, then afterwards it is at the Election of B. to have Action for which he pleases. Dyer, fol. 18. pl. 104. 21 H. 7. 19. Co. lib. 5. fol. 59. and lib. 11. fo. 51. In Case an Election be given of several Things, he who is the first Agent, and ought to do the first Act, shall have the Election. As if a Man make a Lease, rendring a Rent, or a Robe, the Lessee shall have the Election (as being the first Agent) by Payment of the one, or Delivery of the other. Coke on Littl. pag. 144. b.

Election de Clerk, Electione Clerici, is a Writ that lieth for the Choice of a Clerk assigned to take and make Bonds called Statute-Merchants, and is granted out of the Chancery, upon Suggestion made, that the Clerk formerly assigned is gone to dwell in another Place, or hath Hindrance to let him from following that Business, or hath not Land sufficient to answer his Transgression, if he should deal amiss, &c. F. N. B. fol. 164.

Elemosyna, Alms. Dare in piam & perpetualem elemosynam, to give in pure and perpetual Alms, or in Frank-Almoigne, as Lands were commonly given to religious Uses, and so discharged from military Services, and other secular Burdens.

Elemosyna carucarum pro aratris, i. e. Elemosyna aratri, (viz.) a Penny which King Æthelred ordered to be paid for every Plough in England towards the Support of the Poor. Leg. Æthelred. cap. 1. Ut detur de omni caru. a denarius vel denarium valens. So in Leg. Canuti, ca. 11. Sometimes 'tis called called Eleemosyna Regis, because it was at first appointed by the King. Thus Simeon Dunelm. Anno 887, writes, (viz.) Æthelrum comes Wintoniensis Eleemosynam Regis Ælfredi detulit Romam.

Eleemosynæ, i. e. the Possessions belonging to Churches. Quid est quod das quando honores Ecclesiarum, &c. quod se res Domino jure Eleemosynarum legitime consecrate sint, Ecclesiarum ejus sunt. Du Cange. Hanc Ecclesiam dedi Æthelwoldo quiete tenere sicut decet Ecclesiasticam Allocated. Mon. 3 Tom. pag. 46.

Eleemosynaria, The Place in a religious House, where the common Alms were repositied, and thence by the Almoner distributed to the Poor. In old English, the Aumerie, Aumbry, Ambry, which in the North they now use for a Pantry or Cup-board, as the Wells do Alinari; yet the Word Eleemosynaria was sometimes taken for the Office of Almoner, to which, as to other Offices, there were peculiar Rents allotted, as—Decima pr. dicti molendini Eleemosynariæ Sancti Augustini solvatur. Will. Thorne inter X. Scriptor. sub anno 1128.

Eleemosynarius, The Almoner, or peculiar Officer who received the Eleemosynary Rents and Gifts, and in due Method distributed them to pious and charitable Uses. There was such a chief Officer in all the religious Houses. The greatest of our English Bishops had their peculiar Almoners, as in the Council of Oxford, anno 1122. Stat. cap. 2. and Linswood's Provincial, lib. 1. Tit. 12. The Dignity and Duty of Lord Almoner to the Kings of England is described in Fleta, lib. 2. cap. 23.

Elegit, (So called from the Words in it Elegit sibi liberari) Is a Writ Judicial, and lieth for him that hath recovered Debt or Damages in the King's Court, or upon Recognizance in any Court, against one not able in his Goods to satisfy, and directed to the Sheriff, commanding him that he make Delivery of half the Party's Lands or Tenements, and all his Goods, Oxen and Beasts for the Plough excepted. Old Nat. Brew. fol. 152. Reg. Orig. 299, & 301. And the Table of the Register Judicial, which expresseth divers Uses of this Writ: In the New Terms of the Law it is said, That this Writ should be sued within the Year. The Creditor shall hold the Moiety of the Land so delivered unto him, till his whole Debt and Damages are satisfied, and during that Term he is Tenant by Elegit. Westm. 2. cap. 18. See Co. on Lit. fol. 289. b.

Elf-Arrows, Flint-Stones sharpened and jagged at each Side, in Shape of Arrow-Heads, made and used in War by the ancient Britains, of which several have been found in England, and greater Plenty in Scotland, where they call them Elf-Arrows, and do imagine they dropt from the Clouds.

Elke, A Kind of Ewe to make Bows of. B. 2 H. 8. cap. 9.

Elmsfeah, charitable Money, or Money given in Charity.

Elaine, In French Esloigner, To remove, banish, or send away. So the Word is used 13 E. 1. cap. 15. If such as be within Age be elained, so that they cannot sue personally, their next Friends shall be admitted to sue for them.

Elovement Is when a married Woman departs from her Husband, and dwells with an Adulterer; for which, without voluntary Reconciement to the Husband, she shall lose her Dower by the Statute of Westm. 2. c. 34. according to these old Verses.

Sponte vivum Mulier fugiens & Adultera facta, Dote sua careat, nisi sponso sponte retracta.

A Woman thus leaving her Husband is said to elope, and her Husband in this Case shall not be compelled to allow her any Alimony. See Alimony. I am persuaded the Word is taken from the Sax. Celeoran, i. e. To depart from one Place to dwell in another, the Saxon r being easily mistaken, for a p. Or from the Belg. Ee, matrimonium, and loopen, currere.

Emanfores, those who go out of the Monastery. Transfuge, & Emanfores, a Clauistro effrantes, vagi & sarabaita. Pet. Blesensis Ep. 11. 142.

Emblements, (from the Fr. Emblavence de bled, i. e. Corn sprung or put up above Ground) signify strictly the Profits of Land sown: But the Word is sometimes taken more largely for any Profits that arise and grow naturally from the Ground, as Grass, Fruit, Hemp, Flax, &c. If Tenant for Life sow the Land, and afterwards die, the Executor of the Tenant for Life shall have the Emblements, and not he in Reversion: But if Tenant for Years sow the Land, and before he hath reaped, his Term expires, there the Lessor, or he in Reversion, shall have the Emblements. See Co. lib. 11. fol. 51. And although it is commonly held, that if a Man Leases Lands at Will, and after the Lessee sows the Land, and then the Will is determined, that the Lessee shall have the Emblements; yet if the Lessee himself determines the Will before the Severance of the Corn, he shall not have the Emblements. See Co. lib. 5. fol. 116.

Emblers de Gentz, This Word occurs in Rot. Parl. 21 E. 3. n. 62. where divers Murders, Emblers de Gentz, Robberies, &c. It comes from the French Embler, to steal, and seems to signify stealing from or robbing the People.

Embraccor or Embrascor, 19 H. 7. 13. Is he that when a Matter is in Trial between Party and Party, comes to the Bar with one of the Parties (having received some Reward so to do) and speaks in the Case, or privily labours the Jury, or stands there to survey or overlook them, thereby to put them in Fear and Doubt of the Matter; the Penalty whereof is 20 l. and Imprisonment at the Justices Discretion by the aforesaid Statute. But Persons learned in the Law may speak in the Case for their Clients.

Embrattery is the Act or Offence of Embraccors. To instruct the Jury, or promise Reward for or before Appearance, is Embraccery. Noy's Rep. fol. 102.

Ember, or Embrizing-Days, (from Embers, Cineres,) either because our Ancestors, when they fasted, sate in Ashes, or strewed them on their Heads. Anno 2 & 3 Ed. 6. c. 19. They are those the ancient Fathers called Quatuor Tempora, and of great Antiquity in the Church, being observed on the Wednesday, Friday, and Saturday next after Quadragesima Sunday, Whit-sunday, Holy-road-day in September, and St. Lucy's Day in December. Our Saxons called this Fast Imbren. Et jejunia quatuor Tempora (quæ Imbren vocant) & cetera omnia, prout S. Gregorius Gentis imposuit Anglorum, conserventur. Spelm. de Concil. T. 1. f. 518. They are mentioned by Britton, cap. 53. and others. Co. in in his Insp. part. 3. fol. 203. faith, These Embring-Days are the Week next before Quadragesima; which must needs be a great Mistake in the Printer, for it is not possible that learned Man could be ignorant in any Thing so well known.

Emendals, Emenda, Is an old Word still used in the Accounts of the Inner Temple, where so much in Emendals at the Foot of an Account, signifies so much in Bank in the Stock of the House for the Supply of all emergent Occasions: Spelman says it is that, Quod tribuitur in restaurationem damni.

Emendare, Emendam solvere, To make Amends or Satisfaction for any Crime or Trespass committed. — Dominio Regi graviter emendare debent. Leges Ed. Confess. cap. 35. Hence a capital Crime, not to be attoned by Fine or pecuniary Composition, was said to be Inemendabile. Leges Kanuti, cap. 2.

Emendatic, The Power of amending and correcting Abuses, according to stated Rules and Measures. As Emendatio Panni, the Power of Alnage, Aulnage, Ulnage, or looking to the Assise of Cloth, that it be of the just Ell or due Measure. Emendatio panis & cervise, the Assising of Bread and Beer, or the Power of supervising and correcting the Weights and Measures of them; a Privilege granted by the King to Lords of Manors, which gave Occasion to the present Office of Ale-Taster, appointed in every Court-Leet, and sworn to look to the Assise of Bread, Ale, or Beer, within the Precincts of that Lordship.

Empanel, Impanellare vel Ponere in Assis, & Juratis, Cometh of the French Panne, i. e. Pellis, or of Paneau, which denotes as much as Pane with us, as a Pane of Glass, or of a Window: In Law it signifieth the Writing and Entering the Names of a Jury into a Parchment Schedule, or Roll of Paper, by the Sheriff, which he hath summoned to appear for the Performance of such publick Service as Juries are employed in. See Panel.

Emparance, Licentia interloquendi, Cometh of the French Parler, to talk, and in the Common Law signifieth a Desire or Petition in Court, of a Day to pause what is best to do. The Civilians call it Petitionem induciarum. And Kitch. fol. 200. interprets it in these Words, if he imparl, or pray Continuance; when praying Continuance is spoken interpretative. And fol. 201. he mentions Emparance general and Emparance special; Emparance general seemeth to be that which is made only in one Word, and in general Terms. Emparance special, where the Party requires a Day to deliberate, adding also these Words, Salvis omnibus advantageis tam ad jurisdictionem Curie quam ad breve & narrationem. — or such like. Bryton, cap. 53. useth it for the Conference of a Jury upon the Cause committed to them. And an Emparance or Continuance is thus entred, Et modo ad hunc diem, scilicet diem veneris, &c. ipso eodem Termino usque ad quem diem predictus A. habuit licentiam interloquendi, &c. See Imparance.

Emperoi is an ancient Title of the Kings of England. This appears by a Charter of King Ed- gar, viz. Ego Edgarus Anglorum Basileus, omniumque Regum insularum oceanii quæ Britanniam circumjacent, &c. Imperator & Dominus.

Empressi. See Impressi.

Emprovement. See Improvement.

Encenia, i. e. the Dedication of Churches, which was always on a Sunday. Enceniare, i. e. To begin a Thing, or to put on a new Thing, viz. Enceniavit in Wintonia urbe arduam turrin. Du Cange.

Encaustum, i. e. Ink. Que propter Encausti & chartæ vitium aboleri incipiebat. Fleta, lib. 2. c. 27. par. 5.

Encheson Is a French Word much used in our Law Books, as in that Statute 53 E. 3. cap. 3. and it signifies as much as the Occasion, Cause or Reason for which any Thing is done. So it is used by Staundf. lib. 1. cap. 12. in his Description of a Drolland. Skene de verb. signif. verbo Encheson, says, That Edward, the first King of England, Westm. 1. c. 6. Statutes and Ordains, That no Man shall be an Merchande, with an reasonable Encheson.

Encroachment, or Accroachment, Cometh from the French Word Accrocher, to pull or draw to, and it signifies an unlawful Gaining upon the Rights or Possessions of another: For Example, if two Mens Grounds lying together, the one presseth too far upon the other; or if a Tenant owe two Shillings Rent-Service to the Lord, and the Lord taketh three. See Co. 9. Rep. f. 33. Bucknall's Case. So it is said, That Hugh Spencer the Father, and Hugh Spencer the Son, encroached unto them the Royal Power and Authority. Anno 1 E. 3. in præm.

Endictman, see Indictment.

Endowment, Dotatio, Signifieth the giving or assuming of Dower to a Woman; for which see more in Dower: But it is sometimes by a Metaphor used for the Setting or Severing of a sufficient Portion for a Vicar towards his perpetual Maintenance, when the Benefice is appropriated; and so it is used in the Statutes, 15 R. 2. c. 6. and 4 H. 4. c. 12. See Appropriation.

Enolement de la plus belle part, Is where a Man dying seised of some Lands holden in Knight-Service, and other some in Socage, the Widow is sped of her Dower rather in the Socage-Lands, than those holden in Knight-Service, as being le plus belle part, the fairer Part, of which read Littleton at large, Lib. 1. cap. 5.

Emergument, i. e. Demoniacks, who despising the Catholick Doctrine, were seduced by the Illusions of the Devil. Concil. Carthag. 4. c. 91.

Enfranchise Is to make Free, to incorporate a Man into a Society or Body Politick, or to make one a free Denizen.

Enfranchisement Cometh of the French Word Franchise, libertas, and signifies the Incorporating of a Man into any Society, or Body Politick: For Example, He that by Charter is made Denizen of England, is said to be enfranchised; and so is he that is made a Citizen of London, or other City, or Burghs of any Town Corporate, because he is made Partaker of those Liberties that appertain to the Corporation, whereinto he is enfranchised: So a Villain is enfranchised, when he is made free by his Lord, and made capable of the Benefits belonging to Freemen. And when a Man is thus enfranchised into a City or Burrough, he hath a Freehold in his Freedom for his Life; wherefore, whatever shall be the Cause of his Disfranchisement, ought to be a Fact, and not only an Endeavouring or Enterprising. What shall be sufficient Cause to Disfranchise a Freeman, and what not; see in Co. lib. Rep. fol. 91. Bagg's Case.

Engletery, Enalechery, Englechiere or Englesirp, In Latin Englecria, Is an old Word, signifying nothing more than to be an Englisman. For Example, If a Man were privily slain or murdered, he was in old Time accounted Francigena, which Word comprehended every Alien, until Engletery were proved, that is, until it was made manifest that he was an Englisman. Bract. lib. 3. traft. 2. cap. 15. fol. 134. The Original whereof was this, Canutus the Dane being King of England, having fetled his Estate in Peace, at the Request of his Lords, discharged the Land of his Armies, upon Condition, That whoever should kill an Alien, should be liable to Justice; and if the Manslayer escaped, the Town where the Man was slain should forfeit sixty-six Marks to the King, and if the Town was not able, then the Hundred should pay: And further, that every Man murdered should be accounted Francigena, except Engletery were proved. And the Manner of proving him to be an Englisman was before the Coroner, by two Men or Witnesses who knew the Father, and by two Women who knew the Mother; and this was called Englecrie. See Horne's Mirrour of Just. lib. 1. cap. Of the Office of Coroners, and Fleta, lib. 2. cap. 30. This Engletery, for the Abuses and Troubles that were afterwards perceived to grow by it, was utterly taken away by 14 E. 3. c. 4. See Co. lib. 7. f. 16. Calvini's Case.

Enheritance. See Inheritance.

Enitia pars. See Esneey.

Enpleet Was anciently used for implead — May enpleet and be enpleeted in all Courts. Mon. Angl. vol. 2. f. 412. b.

Enquest, Lat. Inquisitio, Is the same with the French Word, and all one in Signification: Howbeit it is especially taken for an Inquisition by our Jurors, or a Jury, which is the most usual Trial of all Causes both Civil and Criminal within this Realm; for in Causes Civil, after Proof is made on either Side, of so much as each Party thinketh good for himself; if the Doubt be in the Fact, it is referred to the Discretion of twelve indifferent Men, empanelled by the Sheriff for that Purpose, and as they bring in their Verdict, so Judgment passeth; for the Judge saith, The Jury findeth the Fact thus, and the Law is thus: For the Enquest in Criminal Causes, see Fury, and Smith de Rep. Angl. lib. 2. cap. 19. An Enquest is either ex Officio, of Office, or at the Mife of the Party. Staundf. pl. cor. lib. 3. c. 12. This Word is used in the Statutes of 25 E. 3. c. 3. 28 E. 3. 13. and almost in all Statutes that speak of Trials by Jurors.

Enferber. See Inferuire.

Ensigne, French, Saigne, Blooded, let Blood.

— Si vicarius Ensigne fuerit, duas noctes solummodo habebit quietas, communionem non omittat. Stat. Ecclesiæ Litchfield. in Mon. Angl. tom. p. 244. The Word was likewise used substantively for Bleeding, or Blood-letting, as — Quod solum quatuor vicarii, videlicet duo ex utraque parte chori, quolibet mense solum Ensigne recipient in festis tam trium quam novem lectionum. — ib.

Entail, Fœdum talliatum, Cometh of the French Entail, i. e. incisus, and in the Common Law is used as a Substantive abstract, signifying Fee-tail, or Fee intailed: Littleton in the second Chapter of his Book draweth Fee-tail from the Verb Talliare, (an obsolete and superannuated Word, I am sure, if any,) whereas in Truth it must come from the French Taille, settura, or Tailler, scindere; and the Reason is manifest, because Fee-tail in the Law is nothing but Fee abridged, scantred or curtailed, or limited or tied to certain Conditions. Taille in France is metaphorically taken for a Tribute or Subsidy. Lupanus de Magistratibus Francorum, lib. 3. cap. Talea. See Fee, see Tail.

Entendment, Cometh of the French Word Entendement, intellectus, ingenium. In a legal Sense it signifies as much as the true Meaning or Signification of a Word or Sentence. See for this Kitchin, fol. 244. When a Thing is in Doubt, then sometimes by Entendment it shall be made out: As if an Inquisition be found before a Coroner, that a Man was murdered at A. which is a Liberty, and it is not said in the Inquisition at A. within the Liberty of A. yet it shall be good by Entendment; for peradventure the Liberty may extend beyond the Town. Co. lib. 5. fol. 121.

Enterpleder, Interplacitare, Is compounded of two French Words, Entre, that is, Inter, and Pleder, that is Disputare; and signifies in the Common Law as much as Cognitio prejudicialis in the Civil, that is, the Discussing of a Point incidently falling out before the principal Cause can take End: For Example, Two several Persons being found Heirs to Land, by two several Offices in one County, the King is brought in doubt to which of them, Livery ought to be made, and therefore first they must enterplede, that is, formally try between themselves who is the right Heir. Staundf. Prærog. cap. 12. & 11 Bro. Tit. Enterpleder, and Co. lib. 7. fol. 45.

Entleas, i. e. a Chest or Coffin. Venerabilis Odo corpus B. Wilfridi in editorio (hoc est) in majori altari quod in orientali presbyterii parte parietis contiguum de impositis lapidibus & cemento constructum erat, digniter collocaverit. Eadmerus de æde sacra Cantuariensi.

Entierty or Entierty, A Kind of French Word signifying Entireness; it is contradistinguished in our Books from Moiety, and denoting the Whole.

Entire Tenancy Is contrary to several Tenancy, signifying a sole Possession in one Man, whereas the other signifieth joint or Common in more. See Bro. Several Tenancy, and the New Book of Entries, verbo Entire Tenancy.

Entusion, Intrusio, Signifieth a violent or unlawful Entrance into Lands or Tenements, being utterly void of a Possessor, by him that hath no Right, nor Spark of Right unto them. Bract. lib. 4. cap. 2. For Example, If a Man step into any Lands, the Owner whereof lately died, and the right Heir neither by himself, or others, as yet hath taken Possession of them: The Difference between an Intruder and an Abator is this, that an Abator entrench into Lands void by the Death of a Tenant in Fee; and an Intruder enters into Lands void by the Death of a Tenant for Life, or Years. F. N. B. fol. 203. and Co. on Lit. fol. 277. yet the Book of Entries expresseth Abatement by the Latin Word Intrusionem, fol. 63. C. which the New Terms of Law calls Interpositionem aut introitionem per interpositionem. See Abatement, see Disseisin, see Britton, cap. 65. Intrusio is used also for the Writ brought against an Entruder, which see in Fitzb. Nat. Brev. 203. and Stat. of Marl. cap. ult.

Entrusion or gard Is a Writ that lies where the Infant within Age entered into his Lands, and held his Lord out: For in this Case the Lord shall not have the Writ de communi Custodia, but this. Old Nat. Brev. fo. 90.

Entry, (Fr. Entree, i. e. Introitus, Ingressus,) properly signifies the Taking Possession of Lands or Tenements. See Plowden, Assise of Fresh Force in London, f. 93. b. It is also used for a Writ of Possession; for which see Ingressus: And read West. pa. 2. Symbol. Tit. Recoveries, sect. 2, 3. who there shews for what it lies, and for what not. Of this Briton, in his 114th Chapter, writes to this Effect: The Writs of Entry savour much of the Right of Property; As for Example: Some are to recover Customs and Services, in which are contained these two Words (Solet & debet), as the Writs Quo Jure, Rationabilibus Divisib., Rationabili Estoverio, with such like. And in this Plea of Entry there are three Degrees: The first is where a Man demands Lands or Tenements of his own Seisin after the Term expired: The Second is where one demands Lands or Tenements, let by another, after the Term expired: The Third, where one demands Lands or Tenements of that Tenant who had Entry by one, to whom some Ancestor of the Plaintiff did let it for a Term now expired. According to which Degrees the Writs are varied. And there is yet a fourth Form, which is without Degrees, and in Case of a more remote Seisin, whereunto the other three Degrees do not extend. The Writ in the second Degree is called a Writ of Entry In le Per: in the third Degree a Writ of Entry In le per & cui; and in the fourth Form, without these Degrees, it is called a Writ of Entry In le post, that is, after Disseisin, which such a one made to such a one. And if any Writ of Entry be conceived out of the right Case, so that one Form be brought for another, it is abatable. In these four Degrees are comprehended all manner of Writs of Entry, which are without Certainty and Number. Thus far Briton, by whom you may perceive that these Words, Solet & debet, and these other, In le per, In le per & cui, and In le post, which we meet with many Times in Books shortly and obscurely mentioned, signify nothing but divers Forms of this Writ applied to the Case whereupon it is brought; and each Form taking its Name from the Words contained in the Writ. Of this read Fitz. Nat. Brev. fol. 193.

This Writ of Entry differs from an Assise, because it lies for the most Part against him who entered lawfully, but holds against Law, whereas an Assise lies against him that unlawfully dispossessed: Yet sometimes a Writ of Entry lies upon an Entrusion. Reg. of Writs, f. 233. b. See the New Book of Entries, verba Entre Brevis, fol. 254. col. 3. There is also a Writ of Entry in the Nature of an Assise. Of this Writ in all its Degrees, see Fleta, lib. 3. ca. 34. & seq. There are five Things which put the Writ of Entry out of the Degrees, viz. Intrusion, Succession, Disseisin upon Disseisin, Judgment and Escheat. 1. Intrusion is where the Disseisor dies seised, and a Stranger abates. 2. Succession is when the Disseisor is a Man of Religion, and dies, or is deposed, and his Successor enters. 3. Disseisin upon Disseisin is when the Disseisor is dispossessed by another. 4. Judgment is when one recovers against the Disseisor. 5. Escheat is when the Disseisor dies without Heir, or doth Felony, whereby he is attaind, by which the Lord enters as in his Escheat. In all these Cases the Disseece or his Heir shall not have a Writ of Entry within the Degrees of the Per, but in the Post; because in those Cases they are not in by Descent, nor by Purchase.

Entry ad Communem Legem, Is a Writ, which lies where Tenant for Term of Life, Tenant for Term of another's Life, Tenant by the Curtesy, or Tenant in Dower, aliens and dies, he in the Reversion shall have this Writ against whomsoever is in.

Entry in casu Probisio, Lies if Tenant in Dower alien in Fee, or for Term of Life, or for another's Life, living the Tenant in Dower, he in the Reversion shall have this Writ, which is provided by the Statute of Glouc. cap. 7.

Entry in casu consimili, Is a Writ that lies where Tenant for Life, or Tenant by the Curtesy aliens in Fee, he in the Reversion shall have this Writ by Westm. 2. cap. 24.

Entry ad terminum qui preterit, Lies where a Man leases Land to another for Term of Years, and the Tenant holds over his Term; the Lessor shall have this Writ.

Entry sine assensu Capitali, Lies where an Abbot, Prior, or such as has Covent or Common Seal, aliens Lands or Tenements of the Right of his Church, without the Assent of the Covent or Chapter, and dies, then the Successor shall have this Writ.

Entry causa Matrimonii prelocuti, Lies where Lands or Tenements are given to a Man, upon Condition, that he shall take the Donor to his Wife within a certain Time, and he does not espouse her within the limited Time, or espouses another; or otherwise disables himself, that he cannot rake her according to the said Condition, then the Donor and her Heirs shall have the said Writ against him, or against whoever else is in the said Land.

Enbypre. See Invoyce.

Enure, Signifieth to take Place or Effect, to be available. As a Release shall Enure by way of Extinguishment. Littleton, cap. Release. And a Release made to a Tenant for Term of Life, shall enure to him in the Reversion.

Eodordie is a Saxon Word, from Eodor, a Hedge, and Brice, Ruptura. It signifies Hedge-breaking. 'Tis mentioned in the Laws of King Alfred, cap. 45.

Eorle; It hath been a Question whether this Word is of Saxon or Danish Original. Wormius tells us that the ancient Danes called their Barons by the Name of Eorls: But Mr. Somner, in Gloss. Saxonico, is rather of Opinion that it is derived from the Saxons. Ethelward, lib. 4. c. 3. Consules ruunt quos illi Eorlas solent nominare, &c.

Episcopus, Papcastle in Cumberland.

Epimenia, i. e. Expenses, Tributes, or Gifts. 'Tis mentioned in Gildas De Excidio Britannie, viz. Item queruntur non assidue sibi Epimenia contribui, &c.

Episcopalia, Synods, Pentecostals, and other customary Payments from the Clergy to their Diocesan Bishop; which Dues were formerly collected by the Rural Deans, and by them transmitted to the Bishop. As in the Charter of Walter Bishop of Coventry and Litchfield, to the Abbey of Derley, ——— Concedimus etiam ut predictus Abbas aut quisque Successorum ejus sit Decanus de omnibus

Ecclie.

Ecclesiis — & tenent Capitulum — & Episcopalia reddat, vel reddere faciat de Ecclesiis diac-natus sui. Mon. Angl. tom. 3. f. 61. These customary Impositions were called Onus Episcopale, and were by special Privilege remitted to those free Chapels that were built upon the King's Demefne, and exempt from Episcopal Jurisdiction. See Mr. Kennet's Glossary in Episcopale onus.

Episcopus puerorum, It was a Custom formerly that some Layman about the Feast of Epiphany would plait his Hair, so that he might seem to have the Tonfure, and to put on the Garment of a Bishop, and in them to exercise Episcopal Jurisdiction, and to do several ludicrous Actions; for which Reason he was called the Bishop of the Boys. This Custom obtained here long after several Constitutions were made to abolish it: For in an Inventory of the Ornaments of a Church in York, Anno 1530. we read, Item una parva mitra cum petris pro Episcopo puerorum. And in another Place, Unus annulus pro Episcopo puerorum. Mon. 3 Tom. pag. 169.

Equus Auratus, Is taken to signify a Knight, and termed Auratus, because anciently none but Knights might beautify and gild their Armour, or other Habitments of War. Ferne's Glory of Generosity, pag. 102. Yet in Law we never use Equus Auratus, but Miles, and sometimes Chivalier. Co. 4 Inst. fol. 5.

Equilocus, i. e. an Equal. 'Tis mentioned in Simon Dunelm. Anno 882, viz. Elfred Rex Saxonum, audacissimus Ducum, navali praelio succultus, contra Paganicas naves congressus est, ex quibus ipse Equilocus duas potentes virtute naves exsuperavit, &c.

Equitatura, — Sciunt — quod ego Stephanus de Ebrocis dedi Ecclesie S. Leonardi de Pyonia — molendinum meum de Froma — & pradicti Fratres habeant Equitaturam & sacrum cum blado vel farina, &c. Reg. Priorat. de Wormley, fol. 22. a. penes Ed. Harley, Mil. Balm. And it seems to signify here, the Liberty of riding or carrying Grist and Meal from a Mill on Horseback. Miles cum equitatura, is taken for a Knight, with his Horse, Arms, and Furniture.

Equity, Equitas, Is of two Sorts, and those of contrary Effects, for the one doth abridge, and take from the Letter of the Law, the other doth enlarge, and add thereto. The first is thus defined, Equitas est correctio legis generatim lata, qua parte deficit. Equity is the Correction of the Law generally made in that Part wherein it fails, which Correction is much used in our Law: As for Example, when an Act of Parliament is made, that whosoever doth such a Thing shall be a Felon, and suffer Death; yet if a Madman, or an Infant that hath no Discretion, do the same, they shall not be Felons, nor suffer Death for it. Breaking of Prison is Felony in the Prisoner himself, by the Statute De Frangentibus Prisonam; yet if the Prison be on Fire, and they within break Prison to save their Lives, this shall be excused by the Law of Reason. So to save my Life, I may kill another that assaults me. The other Equity is defined to be an Extension of the Words of the Law to Cases unexpressed, yet having the same Reason; so that when one Thing is enacted, all other Things are enacted that are of the like Degree: As the Statute which ordains, that in an Action of Debt against Executors, he that doth appear by Distress shall answer, doth extend by

Equity to Administrators; for such of them as shall appear first by Distress, shall answer by Equity of the said Act, quia sunt in equali genere.

Equus Coopertus, A Horse with Saddle and Furniture on him. — Inveniendi pro quolibet feodo unum equum coopertum, vel duos discoopertos — Inqu. 16 Ed. 1. de Baronia de Dunbam-Massey.

Er, The Syllable Er, in the Middle of a Word, is contracted from the Saxon Wara, which signifies Inhabitants. Thus Canterbury was anciently called Canthwara-Burgh, i. e. the Inhabitants of a Borough in Kent.

Eremitizium, A Hermitage, or desert Place, for the Retirement of Hermes. — Eremitorium in bosco D. Ducis petiit, ubique domum hanc aliquanto tempore voluit. Henr. Knyghton, lib. 5. Locus Heremitorius — Radulphus Heremita locum Heremitorium de Musselwell edificavit. — Mon. Angl. tom. 3. p. 18. a.

Erius alias Jris, Is the Flower of Lys, whose divers Kinds you may read in Gervard's Herb. lib. 1. cap. 34. The Root of this is mentioned among Merchandise, or Drugs to be garbled. Anno 1 Jac. cap. 19.

Erminii, This Word is mentioned in our Historian Randolphus de Diceto, and others Mr. Sommer did not understand the Meaning of it; but 'tis very probable it signifies the People called Armenians.

Ermins seemeth to come of the French Word Ermine. It signifieth a Fur of great Price.

Erminstreet. See Walling-street.

Ern, The Names of Places ending in Ern signify a melancholly Situation: From the Saxon Ern, Lous Secretus.

Ernes, The loose scattered Ears of Corn that are left on the Ground after the Binding or Cocking of it. — Conducto ad preparandum usque ad caveſtam xxix. seliones ordeï cum les Ernes viii. den. Parochial Antiq. p. 576. From the old Teuton. Abre, an Ear of Corn, Ernde, Harvelt, Ernden, to cut or mow Corn. Hence to Ern, is in some Places to glean. See Mr. Kennet's Glossary, in Ernes.

Errant, Itinerant, May be derived from the old Word Erre, i. Iter: It is attributed to Justices that go the Circuit. Staundf. pl. cor. f. 15. and to Bailiffs at large. See Justices in Eyre and Bailiff. See also Eyre.

Erraticum, A Waif or Stray, erring or wandering Beast. — Si Erraticum quod vulgo dicitur Weredrif in curiam Sacerdotis vel Clerici qui in atrio manent, venerit, vel in elemosynam ejusdem Ecclesie, vel in atrium Episcopi erit. Constitut. Norman. A. D. 1080.

Error, Cometh of the French Erreur, and signifieth especially an Error in Pleading, or in the Process. Bro. Tit. Error. And thereupon the Writ which is brought for Remedy of this Oversight, is called a Writ of Error, in Latin Breve de Errore corrigendo, thus defined by Fitzb. in his Nat. Brev. f. 20. A Writ of Error is that properly which lieth to redress false Judgment given in a Court of Record, as in the Common Bench, London, or other City having Power by the King's Charter or Prescription, to hold Plea of Debt above twenty Shillings, or Trespas. See the New Book of Entries, verbo Error. This is borrowed from the French Practice, which they called Proposition de erreur, whereof you may read in Gregorius de appellacione, pellatione, pag. 36. In what Diversity of Cases this Writ lieth, see the Statute 27 El. c. 9. Register Original, in the Table, verb. Error corrigendo, and Reg. Jus. fol. 34. There is likewise a Writ of Error, to reverse a Fine, West. Symbol. part 2. Tit. Fines, 151. For preventing Abatements by Writs of Error upon Judgments in the Exchequer, see 16 Car. 2. cap. 2. and 20 Car. 2. cap. 4. And for Redressing and Prevention of Error in Fines and Recoveries, see the Stat. 23 Eliz. cap. 3. for in-rolling them.

Error Corrigendo. See Error.

Erimiotium, a Meeting of the Neighbourhood, viz. It was customary in former Days for the Neighbours to meet and compromise Differences among them by the Award of their Fellows, Ita ut ne damnum incurrat, &c. aliquando in divisi vel in Erimiotis, suum hominem ubique manuteneat, aliquando super ipsam terram. Leg. H. 1. cap. 57.

Esbranchatura, From the French esbrancher, to cut off the Branches or Boughs, — Qui autem forisfecerit in foresta Regis de viridi, sive per culpaturam, sive per Esbranchaturam, sive per caditionem turbarum, sive per esoriationem moris, sive per essartum, &c. erit in misericordia, &c.

Escaldart, To scald, as escaldare porcos, to scald Hogs. — In the Inquisition of the Serjeants and Knights Fees in the 12th and 13th Years of King John, within the Counties of Essex and Hertford, — Rogerus de Legburn, & Robertus de Sutton de eo, tenet Bures per serjantiam escaldandi porcos Regis. Lib. Rub. Scaccar. MS. fol. 137.

Escambio, Is a Licence granted to one, for the making over a Bill of Exchange to another over Sea. Reg. Orig. fol. 194. For by the Statute of 3 R. 2. cap. 2. No Merchant ought to exchange or return Money beyond Sea, without the King's Licence.

Escapre, Escapium, Cometh of the French Escapper, that is, effugere, to fly from, and signifies in the Law, a violent or privy Evasion out of some lawful Restraint. For Example, If the Sheriff, upon a Capias directed to him, take one, and endeavour to carry him to the Gaol, and he in the Way, either by Violence, or by Slight break from him, this is called an Escape. Staundf. pl. cor. fol. 70. The same Staundford in his Pleas of the Crown, lib. 1. cap. 26, 27. nameth two Kinds of Escape, the one Voluntary, the other Negligent: Voluntary is, when one arresteth another for Felony, or any other Crime, and afterwards letteth him go whither he listeth. In which Escape, the Party that permits it, is by Law guilty of the Fault committed by him that escapes, be it Felony, Treason or Trespas. Negligent Escape is, when one is arrested, and afterwards escapeth against his Will that arrested him, and is not pursued by fresh Suit, and taken again before the Party pursuing hath lost the Sight of him. Id. cap. 27. Of the Course of Punishment by the Civil Law in this Point, read in Practica criminali Claudii de B. attaindier, reg. 143. Read also Crompt. Jus. fol. 35, 36, 37. and Termes de lay Ley. There is likewise an Escape of Beasts, and therefore he that by Charter is Quietus de Escapio in the Forest, is delivered of that Punishment which, by Order of the Forest, lieth upon those whose Beasts be found within the Land forbidden. Crompt. Jurisd. fol. 196. See also Co. 3. Reports, Ridgeway's Case; Plowd. Com. Plats's Case.

Escavium, What comes by Hap, Chance, or Accident, — Ita quod nec dicti Abbas & Conventus vel eorum tenentes aliquid juris clamore possint in communia pastura seu in cursum canum suorum in ipso bosco, nisi forte per escapium eveniat. Carrular. Abbat. Glaston. MS. penes Dom. Clarges ex Aede Christi Oxon. f. 67. b.

Esceppa, A Scapp or Measure of Corn. — Richardus de Revesbia recepit unam bovatum in Sticefordia per idem servitium per annum, excepto quod Eschepra brassi quam debet habere, erit de avena. — Mon. Angl. tom. 1. p. 823. See Scappa.

Eschanderis, The Chandlary, or Chandry, the Office where Candles were deposited, and delivered out for Domestick Uses. — Willielmus de Bigod tenet terras & villam de Bures per serjeantiam Eschanderie & valet villæ centum solidos. 11 Hen. 3.

Eschange or Exchange, Escambium or Ex-cambium. Hanc terram cambiavit Hugo Bricuino quod modo tenet comes Moriton & ipsius Scambium valet Dulpum. Domesday, vide Exchange.

Escheat, (Eschaeta, from the Fr. Escheoir, i. e. cadere, accidere) signifies any Lands or other Profits, that casually fall to a Lord within his Manor, by way of Forfeiture, or by the Death of his Tenant, leaving no Heir general or special; Magna Charta, cap. 31. Fitz. Nat. Br. fol. 143. T. Escheat is also used sometimes for the Place or Circuit, in which the King or other Lord hath Escheats of his Tenants. Bract. lib. 3. tract. 2. ca. 2. Pupilla oculi par. 2. cap. 22. Escheat (thirdly) is used for a Writ, which lies, where the Tenant having Estate of Fee-simple in any Lands or Tenements holden of a Superior Lord, dies seised without Heir general or special. In which Case the Lord brings this Writ against him that possesseth the Lands after the Death of his Tenant, and shall thereby recover the same in lieu of his Services. Fitz. Nat. Br. fol. 144. In the same Sense as we say, The Fee is Escheated, the Feudists use Fendum Aperitur. See Coke on Littl. fol. 92. b. and the Civilians call these Forfeitures Bona Caduca. Sometimes the Word Eschaeta signifies a lawful Inheritance descending on the Heir, but then the Adjective Restia is usually added; as Restia Eschaeta, i. e. Legitima, or such as is cast on another by Law: Thus in Leg. H. 1. cap. 1. Salvo sibi & heredibus suis recto caduco, sive recta Eschaeta: Gervas of Tilbury, Lib. 2. writes, Eschaeta cum herede, viz. cum paterfamilias, &c. de rege tenens in capite, fata debita solveret, relictis tamen liberis quorum primogenitus minor est annis, redditus quidem ejus ad fiscum redeunt, sed hujusmodi non simpliciter Eschaeta dicitur, sed Eschaeta cum herede, de ipsa hereditate per officiales Regis tam bares quam ceteri liberi necessaria percipiunt. What we call Escheats are in the Kingdom of Naples called excadentia, or Bona ex cadentia; as, Baro locat Excadentias eo modo quo locata fuerint ab antiquo, ita quod nulla debita servitia minuantur, & non remittit Gallinam debitam. Jacob. de Franchisi in praesidiis ad feudorum usum.

Escheat of Wood: All the Appendages of Lop and Top, &c. that belonged to a Tree fell'd or fallen down. John de Grey Bishop of Norwich, gave Liberty to the Monks of his Church, that in his Wood of Thorpe, habebunt unam arborem cum ramis, cortice, cossellis, radice, & tota Eschaeta. Ex Reg. Eccl. Norwic.

Escheator (Eschaetor) was an Officer (appointed by the Lord Treasurer) who observed the Escheats, du due to the King in the County whereof he was Escheator; and certified them into the Chancery or Exchequer, and found Offices after the Death of the King's Tenants, which held by Knights Service in Capite, or otherwise by Knights Service: he continued in his Office but one Year, nor could any be Escheator above once in three Years. Anno 1 H. 8. cap. 8. & 3. ejusdem, cap. 2. See more of this Officer and his Authority, in Crompt. Just. of Peace. Fitzherbert calls him an Officer of Record, Nat. Br. fol. 100. because that which he certified by Virtue of his Office, had the Credit of a Record. Officium Escheatriæ is the Escheatorship. Reg. of Writs, f. 259. b. This Office, having its chief Dependence on the Court of Wards, is now out of Date. See 4 Inst. f. 225. There was also anciently an Escheator of the Jews. Claufr. 4 E. 1. m. 7.

Escheccum. Anno 24 Hen. 3. Inter Abbarem S. Albani & Galfridum de Childwic & alios, — quod habuerunt venationem illam vi aut permissione antecessorum predicti Abbatis vel per Escheccum. The Gloss. at the End of Matthew Paris, (where the Pleadings are to be seen at large, fol. 538, and 539.) interprets it inceptionem Abbatis, venationem & interruptionem: But Queve, if it may not rather signify by chance, from the Fr. Escheoir, to happen or fall out, and not of Right; as when S. J. starts a Hare in his own Lordship and pursues the Chace through another's, in which Case he needs no Permission, according to the Law of Huntsmen.

Escheccum, a Jury or Inquisition; Si habuerint venationem illam vi aut permissione antecessorum Abbatis vel per Escheccum. Matt. Paris. Anno 1240.

Eschepra. See Sceppa.

Eschequer, Scaccarium, May be derived from the French Word Eschequier, i. abacus, tabula Lusoria, and signifieth the Place or Court of all Revenues belonging to the Crown. Polyd. Virg. lib. 9. Hist. Ang. saith, That the true Word in Latin is Statarium; but it may with more Probability be taken from the German Word Schatz, denoting as much as Thesaurus or Eisus. Camden in his Britannia, pag. 113. saith, That this Court or Office took the Name from tabula ad quam assidebant, proving it out of Gervasius Tilburiensis, the Cloth which covered it being party-coloured or chequered. By the Grand Customary, it is brought from the Normans, cap. 56. where you may find it thus described, Tho Eschequer is called An Assembly of High Justiciars, to whom it appertaineth to amend that which the Bailiffs and other meaner Justiciars have evil done, and unadvisedly judged, and to do Right to all Men without delay, as from the Prince's Mouth. Skene de verbor. signif. verb. Scaccarium, hath out of Paulus Emilius these Words, Scaccarium dicitur quasi statarium, quod homines ibi in jure sistantur, vel quod sit stataria & pennis curia cum cetera curia essent indistincta, nec loco nec tempore stata. Also he addeth further, that it might be called Scaccarium a similitudine Ludi scacerum, from the Resemblance it has to the Game at Chefs; many Persons meeting and pleading their Causes there, as if they were fighting in an arrayed Battel. And Smith deduces it from an old Saxon Word S. ata, signifying Treasure, whereof Account is made in the Chequer. This Court consisteth, as it were, of two Parts, whereof one dealeth especially in the judicial Hearing and Deciding of all Causes appertaining to the Princes Coopers, anciently called Scaccarium computorum, as Okham testifies in his Lucubrations. The other is called The Receipt of the Exchequer, which is properly employed in the receiving and paying Money. Crompt. Jur. fol. 105. says, It is a Court of Record, wherein all Causes touching the Revenues of the Crown are handled: The Officers belonging to both these, you may read in Camden's Brit. cap. Tribunalia Anglia, to whom I refer you. The King's Exchequer now settled at Westminster, was in divers Counties of Wales. See 27 H. 8. cap. 5. but especially 26. and 4. par. Inst. fol. 103.

Escoziatio Moæ, Paying off the Turf of sedge or moorish Ground for burning. Qui autem forisfecerit in foresta Regis de viridi, five per culpam turbarum, five per escoriationem moris, five per culpationem de subnemore, &c. Rog. Hoveden. Annal. p. 784.

Esuag, Scutagium, Cometh of the French Escu, clypens, a Shield. In Law it signifieth a Kind of Knight's Service, called Service of the Shield, whereby the Tenant is bound to follow his Lord into the Scotch or Welsh Wars at his own Charge; for which see Chivalry. He who held a whole Knight's Fee, was bound to serve with Horse and Arms forty Days at his own Charge; and he who held Half a Knight's Fee was to serve twenty Days. But Note, that Esuage is either uncertain or certain: Esuage uncertain is properly Esuage and Knight's Service, being subject to Homage, Fealty, and (formerly) Ward and Marriage; and so called, because it is uncertain how often a Man shall be called to follow his Lord into those Wars, and what his Charge will be in each Journey. Esuage certain is, when a certain Rent is paid yearly in lieu of all Services, being no further bound than to pay his Rent, called a Knight's Fee, or the fourth Part of a Knight's Fee, according to his Land; and this loseth the Nature of Knight's Service, though it hold the Name of Esuage, being in Effect but Socage. F. N. B. fol. 8. But see the Stat. 12 Car. 2. cap. 24. for taking away the Court of Wards and Liveries, and turning all Tenures into Free and Common Socage. See Littleton, lib. 2. cap. 3. and see Capite.

Esuage also is sometimes taken for that Duty or Payment, which they who held Lands under this Tenure, were bound to make to the Lord when they neither went themselves to the Wars, nor provided one in their Place. Monasticon, 2 Tom. p. 99. Scutagium assuum per Regnum.

Esuage is sometimes called a reasonable Aid which was demanded by the Lord of his Tenants, who held Lands in Knight's Service, viz. Concesserunt Domino Regi ad maritandam filiam suam de omnibus qui tenent de Domino Rege in Capite de singulis scutis 20 solidos solvendo. Matt. Paris. Anno 1242. It was an uncertain Duty till it was known how much Money the Parliament would raise, but Esuage certain is called Socage.

Escurare, To scour or cleanse. — Proviso insuper quod quoties & quando necesse erit & opportunum dicta fossata nostra mundare, purgare, vel escurare, liceat nobis & successoribus nostris totam aquam dictorum fossatorum convertere & transferre. — Charta Thomæ Episcopi B. W. dat. 29. Octob. 4 Ed. 4. — Ex Collectancis Matth. Hutton, S. T. P. MS.

Eſneæ, the Kings of Kent, ſo called from Oebta, ſurnamed Eſe, the Grandfather of King Eſhelbert.

Eſketoſſer, From the French Eſher. — Dicunt etiam (Furatores) quod latrones & Eſketoſſes de terra de Morgannon intraverunt prædictam terram de Brekenhok. — Placit. Parl. 20 Ed. 1. Robbers or Deſtroyers of other Mens Lands or Fortunes.

Eſkenage, The Mayor and Alderman of Calais petition the King to grant them the Aſſiſe of Wine, Ale, Beer, and Bread, within the Jurisdiction of the ſame Town called la Eſkenage. Rot. Parl. 4 H. 4. —

Eſkippamentum. Clauſ. 1 Ed. 1. whereby the Sea-port Towns were to provide certain Ships

— Sumptibus propriis & duplici eſkippamento. Sir Robert Cotton englisheth it, double Skippage, i. e. double Tackle, or Furniture, as I ſuppoſe.

Eſkippeſon, Shipping or Paſſage by Sea. Ceſte Endenture faite parentre lui noble home Monſ. Thomas Beauchamp Comte de Warwyke d'une parte & John Ruſſel Eſcuiſer d'autre parte, Teſmoigne, &c. Et que le dit John aura Eſkypeſoun covenable pour ſon paſſage & repaſſage outre mer, as caſtages le dit Comte, &c. Done a Warwyke. 2 Jan. 50 Ed. 3. And Humphrey Earl of Bucks, in a Deed, (Dat. 13 Febr. 22. Hen. 6.) covenants with Sir Phil. Chitwind, his Lieutenant of the Caſtle of Calais, to give him Allowance for his Soldiers Skippeſon and Reſkippeſon, i. e. Paſſage by Ship, and Re-paſſage.

Eſnece, Eſneceia, Is a Prerogative given to the eldeſt Coparcener, to chuſe firſt after the Inheritance is divided. Fleta, lib. 5. cap. 10. ſect. in diſſenem. Salvo capituli Meſſuagio primogenito filio pro dignitate Eſneceia ſua. Glanvil. lib. 7. c. 3. Jus Eſneceia, jus Primogenitura. Skene de verb. ſig. Stat. Marl. c. 9. calls it Entia pars hereditatis. See Co. on Littl. f. 166. b.

Eſpealtare, Expeditare. To expeditate, which in a proper old Engliſh Term was called Laewing of Dogs, and was done two ſeveral Ways; either, firſt, by cutting off the three fore Claws of the Right Foot: Or ſecondly, by cutting out the Ball of the Foot; that ſo by either Way the Dogs might be diſabled from hunting or running hard. This Method of preventing Miſchief from Dogs neighbouring on a Foreſt, was invented by King Henry II. or atleaſt by him firſt in-joined in the Aſſiſe of Woodſtock, Artic. 6. — Nullus dominicus canes Abbatis & Monachorum eſpealtare cogat, verum canes hominum ſuorum intra foreſtam manentium Abbas & Monachi eſpealtari faciant. — Cartular. Abbat Glaſton. MS. ſenes Magiſt. Clarges, nuper ex Aede Chriſti, f. 7. See Expeditative.

Eſuices, Expletia, perhaps from Expleo, ſeem to be the full Proſits that the Ground or Land yieldeth; as the Hay of the Meadows, the Feed of the Paſture, the Corn of the Arable; the Rents, Services, and ſuch like Iſſues. The Proſits comprized under this Word, the Romans call properly Accessiones; nam acceſſiones ea generaliter omnia, quæ ex re de qua agitur orta ſunt, veluti fructus, partus & omnis cuſa rei & quæcunque ex re procedunt. And note, That in a Writ of Right of Land, Advowſon, or ſuch like, the Demandant ought to allege in his Count, that he or his Anceſtors took the Eſplees of the Thing in Demand; or otherwiſe the Pleading is not good. Termes de la Ley. Dominus Episcopos habebit omnia Expletia & proſpecta de Corona emergentia. Plac. Parl. 30 Ed. 1.

Sometimes it ſignifies the Farm or Lands themſelves, viz. Et pro eo quod prædicti homines, & eorum animalia, per terras & paſua mea & expleta eant & redeant abſque ullo ſervitio. Du Cange.

Eſpervritus and Eſparbertus, (Fr. Eſpervier) A Spar-Hawk, Char. Foreſtæ, cap. 14. — Reddit. ſolut. Willielmo Talboys Arm. ad Manerium ſuum de Kyne pro omnibus ſervitiis ſecularibus unum Eſpervarium vel 2s. per Annum ad Feſtum Sancti Mich. &c. Comput. Davidis Gefferon. Collect. Redd. de Wragby. Anno 35 Hen. 6. — Dicunt quod Ricardus de Herthull die quo obiit tenuit Manerium de Poley in Com. War. in Dominio ſuo ut de feodo per fidelitatem & ſervitium unius Eſpervarii vel 2s. ad Feſtum S. Jacobi, &c. Eſic. de Anno 19 Ed. 2. num. 53.

Eſpurnantia, The Office of Spizurnel, or Scaler of the King's Writs. The Word Spizurnellus, which Spelman and Du Freſne recite without interpreting, ſeems deſcended from the Saxon Sparran, to ſhut up or encloſe. Oliver de Staunſford, in 27 E. 1. held Lands in Nettlebed, Com. Oxon. per ſerjeantiam eſpurnantia in cancellaria Domini Regis. Paroch. Antiq. p. 292. See Mr. Kennet's Gloſſary, Ibid.

Eſquire, from the Fr. Eſcu, which ſignifies a Shield, from the Lat. Sutum, from the Greek Σαυτε, which ſignifies an Hide, of which Shields were anciently made, and afterwards covered; and here in the Time of the Saxons the Shields were covered with Leather, ſo that an Eſquire was originally he who attending a Knight in Time of War, did carry his Shield, whence he was called Eſcuier in French, and Scutifer or Armiger in Latin: Howbeit this Addition hath not of long Time had any reſpect at all to the Office or Employment of the Perſon to whom it hath been attributed, but been merely a Title of Dignity, and next in Degree below a Knight. Thoſe to whom this Title is now of right due, are, All the Younger Sons of Noblemen, and the eldeſt Sons of ſuch younger Sons; the eldeſt Sons of Knights, and their eldeſt Sons ſucceſſively: The Four Eſquires of the King's Body: Thoſe that ſerve the King in any Worſhipful Calling, (to uſe Cambden's Words) as the Serjeant Chirurgeon, Serjeant of the wry, Maſter Cook, &c. Such as are created Eſquires by the King with a Collar of SS. of Silver, as the Heralds and Serjeants at Arms. The Chief of ſome ancient Families are likewiſe Eſquires by Preſcription; thoſe that bear any ſuperior Office in the Commonwealth, as High Sheriff of any County, who (as ſome hold) retains the Title of Eſquire during his Life, in reſpect of the great Truſt he has had, of the Poſſ. Conitatus; he who is a Juſtiſe of Peace, has it, during the Time he is in Commiſſion, and no longer, if not otherwiſe qualified to bear it. Barriſters at Law in the late Acts of Parliament for Poll-Money, were ranked among Eſquires, and ſo many wealthy Men, (by reaſon they were commonly reputed to be ſuch) and paid accordingly. In Walſingham's Hiſtory of Richard the Second, we read of one John Blake, who is ſaid to be Furſis Apprenticius, and has the Addition of Scutifer there given him; but, whether intitled thereto by reaſon of his Profeſſion or otherwiſe, does not appear. See Cambd. Brit. f. 111. and 2 Inſt. f. 595.

OMnibus — Walterus de Pavely miles filius quondam Reginaldi de Pavely salutem. Noveritis me obligari Rogero Marmion filio quondam Philippi Marmion omnibus diebus vita sua in una Roba cum pellura de secta Armigerorum meorum annuatim ad Festum Nativitatis Domini percipiendam sine aliqua contradictione vel retractione mei vel heredum meorum aut assignatorum. Ad quam quidem solutionem Roba predicta cum pellura annuatim ad terminum supradictum fideliter persolvendum obligo me & heredes meos, bona & catalla nostra mobilia & immobilia, ubicunque fuerint inventa in maneris meis in Hundredo de Westbury existentibus vel extra, &c. sine dat. Ex codice MS. penes Gul. Dugdale Mil.

Camden in his Brit. fol. 111. having spoken of Knights, hath these Words of them, His proximi fuere Armigeri, qui & Scutiferi hominesque ad arma dicti, qui vel a clypeis gentilitatis qua in nobilitatis insignia gestant; vel qui principibus & majoribus illis nobilibus ab armis erant, comen traxerunt, &c. Hotoman in the sixth Chapter of his Disputations upon the Feods saith, That those which the French call Esquires, were a military Kind of Vassals, having Jus suti, that is, they bear a Shield, and in it the Ensigns of their Family, in Token of their Gentility or Dignity.

Estatum, Estatum, Estatum, Assart, or Woodland broke up or ploughed. — Placitum quoque Forestarum de Estatis, de casone, de combustione, de venatione. — Leg. H. 1. Reg. Angl. ca. 17. See Assart.

Exendi quietum de Tolonio Is a Writ that lieth for Citizens and Burgeses of any City or Town, that hath a Charter or Prescription to exempt them from Toll through the whole Realm, if it happen the same to be any where exacted of them. F. N. B. 226. Reg. Orig. fol. 258.

Essoine Essoinum, Cometh of the French Essoine or Exonomie, i. causarius miles, he that hath his Presence forborn, or excused upon any just Cause, as Sickness or other Impediment. It signifieth in the Common Law, the Allegation of an Excuse for him that is summoned, or fought for to appear, and answer to an Action real, or to perform Suit to a Court-Baron, upon just Cause of Absence: It is as much as excusatio with the Civilians. The Causes that serve to essoine any Man summoned, are divers, yet drawn chiefly to five Heads; whereof the first is, Ultra mare, whereby the Defendant shall have forty Days. The Second, De terra Sancta, where the Defendant shall have a Year and a Day, and these must be laid in the Beginning of the Plea. The Third, De malo veniendi, which is also called, The common Essoin. The Fourth is, De malo lecti. And the Fifth, De servitio Regis. For further Knowledge of these, I refer you to Glanville, in his whole first Book, and Bracton, lib. 5. tract. 1. per totum, and Britton, ca. 122, 123, 124, 125. and Horn's Mirror of Justices, lib. 1. cap. de Essoins, who maketh Mention of some more Essoins touching the Service of the King Celestial, and of some other Points not unworthy to be known. Of these Essoins you may read further in Fleta, lib. 6. cap. 8. & seq. And that these came to us from the Normans, is well shewed by the Grand Customary, where you may find in a Manner find all said that our Lawyers have spoken of this Matter. Cap. 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45.

Essoin de malo lecti is when the Defendant is sick in Bed,

Essoin de malo veniendi is when the Defendant is infirm in Body and not able to come.

Essoin per servitium Regis is when the Defendant is in the King's Service.

Essoin de malo vilæ is when the Defendant appears in Court the first Day, but departed without Pleading, and being afterwards surpriz'd by Sickness or any other Infirmary, cannot attend the Court, but sends two Essoiners, who openly protest in Court that he is detained by Sickness in such a Village that he cannot come, pro lucrari & pro perdere; and this must be admitted for full Proof, without any further Surety, for 'tis Incumbent on the Plaintiff to prove whether the Essoin is true or not.

Essoin de terra sancta Was an Expedition to the Holy Land, viz. to Jerusalem.

Essoin de ultra mare Was when the Defendant is beyond Sea.

Essoines and Proffers. Anno 32 H. 8. c. 21. Sep Proffer.

Essoin de malo lecti Is a Writ directed to the Sheriff, for the sending of four lawful Knights to view one that hath essoined himself de malo lecti Reg. Orig. f. 8. b.

Establishment of Dowry Seemeth to be the Assurance of Dowry made to the Wife by the Husband, or his Friends, before or at Marriage; and Assignment is the Setting it out by the Heir afterwards, according to the Establishment. Britton, cap. 102, & 103.

Etacq, Ceste endenture tesmoigne que cum il y avoit debate entre eux du foute on dit A. ad facit planter une Estache de pere & de merymo en Selby quater, &c. Ex Regist. de Selby, fol. 51. It comes here to be used for a Bridge or Stank of Stone and Timber, from the French Estacker, to fasten.

Estandart, or Standart, Cometh of the French Essendart, i. signum, vexillum. It signifies an Ensign in War as well with us as with them. But it is also used for the standing Measure of the King, to the Scantling, whereof all the Measures in the Land, are, or ought to be framed by the Clerk of the Market, AIneger, or other Officer, according to their Functions; for it was established by the Statute of Magna Charta, Anno 9 Hen. 3. cap. 9. That there should be but one Scantling of Weights and Measures through the whole Realm, which is since confirmed by 14 E. 3. c. 12. and many other Statutes; (one especially made 17 Car. 1. c. 29. which says, from henceforth there shall be one Weight, one Measure, and one Yard, according to the Standard of the Exchequer throughout all the Realm:) It is not without great Reason called a Standard, because it standeth constant and immoveable, and hath all Measures coming towards it for their Conformity: Even as Soldiers in the Field have their Standard or Colours, for their Direction in their March or Skirmish to repair to. Of these Standards and Measures, read Britton, cap. 30.

Standard of Money. The Standard and Allay of old Esterling, and the old right Standard of England, are to be understood thus: A Pound-Weight Troy of Gold was divided into Twenty-four Carats, and every Carat into four Grains of Gold. And a Pound-Weight of the old Sterling, or right Standard Gold of England consisted of Twenty-three Carats, and three Grains and a Half of fine Gold, and half a Grain of Allay; which Allay might be Silver or Copper. Again, a Pound-Weight Troy of Silver was then (as it has been ever since) divided into twelve Ounces, every Ounce into twenty Penny Weight, and every Penny-Weight into Twenty-four Grains; and every Pound-Weight of old Sterling, or right Standard Silver of England, consisted then (as it does now) of eleven Ounces and two Penny Weight of fine Silver, and eighteen Penny Weight Allay. Vid. Lovende's Essay upon Coins, pag. 18. For the Standard of Plate and Silver Manufactures, see the Stat. 6 Georg. cap. 11.

Estate May be deduced from the French Word Estat, i. Conditio, and signifieth that Title or Interest which a Man hath in Lands or Tenements; as Estate-simple, otherwise called Fee-simple; and Estate conditional, or upon Condition, which is as Littleton saith, lib. 3. cap. 5. either upon Condition in Deed, or upon Condition in Law: Estate upon Condition in Deed is, where a Man by Deed indentured infeofeth another in Fee, reserving to him and to his Heirs yearly a certain Rent payable at one Feast, or at divers, upon Condition, that if the Rent be behind, &c. that it shall be lawful to the Feoffor, and to his Heirs, to enter into the Lands or Tenements, &c. Estate upon Condition in Law, is such as hath a Consideration in Law annexed to it, though not specified in Writing: For Example, if a Man grant to another by his Deed the Office of a Parkership for Term of his Life, this Estate is upon Condition in the Law, or implied by Law, viz. if the Parker shall so long well and truly keep his Park. I read also of an Estate particular, which is an Estate for Life, or for Term of Years. Perkin's Surrenders, 581.

Estreth frumentij, An old Measure of Corn; perhaps the same with a Strike or Bushel. — Puke Lefeburch reddit in gabulo assiso xiii. lib. — Et quatuor summas Et duo estrethas frumenti, — Cartular. Abbat. Glaston. MS. penes Dom. Clarges. fol. 40. b.

Estreting. See Sterling.

Estoppel, From the French Estouper, opplare, obscipare, denotes as much as an Impediment, or Bar of an Action, growing from his own Fact that hath, or otherwise might have had his Action. For Example, a Tenant maketh a Feoffment by Collusion to one, the Lord accepteth the Services of the Feoffee; by this he debarreth himself of the Wardship of his Tenant's Heir. F. N. B. fol. 142. Divers other Examples might be shewed out of him, and Broke hoc titulo. Co. lib. 2. fol. 4. Goddard's Case, defineth an Estoppel to be a Bar or Hindrance unto one to plead the Truth, and restraineth it not to the Impediment given to a Man by his own Act only, but by another's also. Lib. 3. the Case Of Fines, fol. 88. There are three Kinds of Estoppel, viz. By Matter of Record, by Matter in Writing, and by Matter in Facts; of which see Co. on Littl. fol. 352.

Estovers, Estoverium according to Spelman is derived from the Fr. Estofse, i. c. Materia, and that from the Verb Estoffer, which is to supply with Necessaries; and in Law properly signifieth Nourishment or Maintenance. For Example: Bracton, lib. 3. tract. 2. cap. 18. num. 2. useth it for that Sustainance, which a Man committed for Felony, is to have out of his Lands or Goods for himself and his Family, during his Imprisonment. And the Statute made 6 E. 1. cap. 3. useth it for an Allowance in Meat or Cloth. It is also used for certain Allowances of Wood, to be taken out of another Man's Woods. So it is used Westm. 2. cap. 25. Anno 13 E. 1. West. Symb. part. 2. Tit. Fines, sect. 26. saith, That the Name of Estovers containeth House-bote, Hay-bote, and Plough bote; as if he have in his Grant the general Words, De rationabili Estoverio in bos, &c. he may thereby claim these three. In some Manors the Tenants have Common of Estovers out of the Lord's Woods, and pay a certain small annual Rent for the same. Rationabile Estoverium, vide antea, Alimony.

Estangers Are sometimes taken for those that are not Privies or Parties to the Levying a Fine, or making of a Deed. Sometimes for those that are born beyond Sea.

Estray, (from the old French Estrayer, Lat. Extrahere, Pecus quod elapsam e custodia campos perversat ignoto Domino) signifies any Beast not wild, found within any Lordship, and not owned by any Man; for in this Case, it being cried, according to Law, in the Market-Towns adjoining, if it be not claimed by the Owner in a Year and a Day, it is the Lord's of the Soil. See Britton, cap. 17. Vide etiam Estrays in the Forest, 27 H. 8. cap. 7. and New Book of Entries, verbo Trespass concernant Estray. The ancient Law of King Ira was, Diximus de ignotis pecoribus, ut nemo habeat sine testimonio Hundredi, sine hominum Decenna, that is, the Suiters at a Court-Leet. Spel.

Estreat, Extratum, Is used for the true Copy, or Duplicate, of an original Writing. For Example, Of Amerciaments or Penalties set down in the Rolls of a Court, to be levied by the Bailiff, or other Officer, of every Man for his Offence. See F. N. B. f. 57, & 76. and so also it is used, West. 2. c. 8.

Estreighboards, Eastern Boards, or Deal, or Fir brought from the Eastern Parts for Wainscot and other Uses. — Et in sex Estreighboards videl. Waynfots emptis apud Steresbregge 11. Sol. 11. den. Paroch. Antiq. p. 575.

Estrepe, French Estropier, mutilare: To make Spoil by a Tenant for Life in Lands or Woods, to the Prejudice of him in the Reversion.

Estrepement or Estrepament, Estrepamentum, from the French Word Estropier, mutilare: It signifies the Spoil made by Tenant for Life upon any Lands or Woods, to the Prejudice of the Reversioner, as namely in the Statute made Anno 6 E. 1. c. 13. and it may seem by the Derivation, that Estrepement is properly the unmeasurable Soaking or Drawing out of the Heart of the Land by plowing or sowing it continually, without manuring, or other such Usage as is requisite requisite in good Husbandry : And yet Estropier signifying mutilare, may not improperly be applied to those that cut down Trees, or lop them, farther than the Law will bear. This signifies also a Writ, which lieth in two Manners ; the one is, when a Man having an Action depending, (as a Formedon, or Dum fuit infra statum, or Writ of Right, or any other) wherein the Demandant is not to recover Damages, sueth to inhibit the Tenant for making Waste during the Suit. The other Sort is for the Demandant, that is adjudged to recover Seisin of the Land in Question, and before Execution sued by the Writ Habere facias seisinam, for fear of Waste to be made before he can get Possession, sueth out this Writ. See more in F. N. B. fol. 60, 61. Reg. Orig. fol. 76. and Reg. Jud. fol. 33. In antient Records we often find Vastum & extrepamentum facere ; and Spelman thinks Estrepamentum Gravis vasti genus designare.

Esumare, to excuse or escoin : Cum dies placiti, &c. venit, non potui, &c. adire, sed misi esumatores qui me esumaverunt apud Cantuar. Du Cange.

Esurium. Albrough.

Estate probanda. See Estate probanda.

Ethbrieh. See Esbrye.

Etheling or Atheling, is a Saxon Word signifying Noble, and among the English Saxons was as the Title of Prince among us, or as the King's eldest Son ; such was Edgar Atheling the designed Successor of Edward the Confessor. Cambden. Edgar Atheling, England's Darling.

Etocetum, The Wall in Staffordshire.

Evenings, The Delivery at Even or Night of a certain Portion of Grafs or Corn, or Underwood to a customary Tenant, who performs his wonted Service of cutting, mowing, or reaping for his Lord, and at the End of his Day's Work, receives such a Quantity of the Materials he works upon, to carry home with him, as a Gratuity or Encouragement of his bounden Service. So in the Manor of Burestef, Com. Oxon. — Virgata terre integra ejusdem tenure habebit liberam ad vespertas quæ vocatur Evenings, tantum sicut Falcator potest per falcem levare & domum portare per ipsum — Paroch. Antiq. pag. 401. — See Mr. Kennet's Glossary, at the End of that Work.

Eberwickshire, Yorkshire, Heretofore so called, haply derived from the Latin Eboracum, from which Eborac, and Everic or Everwick corruptly is no strange Variation ; and the Saxon Syrye, which signifieth Shire. Willielmus Rex Anglie Thome Archiepiscopo & Betramo de Verdon & Baronibus suis Francis & Anglis de Everwicscire, &c. Charta Will. Conq. It is also written Ewyrescire, in Rot. Magno, 30 Hen. 2. And elsewhere Eboracschira.

Eves; dappers Are such as stand under Walls or Windows by Night or by Day, to hear News, and to carry them to others, to make Strife and Debate among Neighbours : These are evil Members in the Commonwealth, and therefore by the Stat. West. 1. cap. 33. are to be punished. And this Misdemeanor is presentable and punishable in the Court-Leet. Kitchin. fol. 11.

Evidence, Evidentia Signifies generally any Proof, be it Testimony of Men, Records or Writings. Sir Thomas Smith useth it in both Sorts, lib. 2. cap. 17. in these Words, Evidence is authentic Writings of Contracts, after the Manner of England ; that is to say, written, sealed and delivered : And lib. 2. cap. 23. speaking of the Prisoner that standeth at the Bar to plead for his Life, and of those that charge him with Felony, He saith thus, Then he telleth what he can say ; after him, likewise all those who are at the Prisoners Apprehensions, or who can make any Proof, which we in our Language call Evidence, against the Malefactor. It is called Evidence because it makes the Issue evident to the Jury ; for Probationes debent esse evidentes & perspicue. Co. on Lit. fol. 283.

Euagium. Charta Regis Johannis Deo & B. Johanni & hominibus de Beverlaco, quod sint quieti de Theolonia, Scutagio, Passagio, Pesagio, Lascagio, Stallagio & de Wrec & de Logan, de Ewagio & de Lene, &c. Hill. 14 H. 3. In Thesauo Reg. Scacc. Ebor. Rot. 15. Euagium is the same with Aquagium, from the Fr. Eau, aqua, and signifies a Toll paid for the Passage of Water.

Ewbyter, Adultery, from the Saxon Ewe, conjugium, and bryce, fractio. The Word occurs in the Laws of King Edmund, Seft. 4. tho' in the Edition of Brompton, it is falsely wrote Ewice. From this Saxon Ewe, Marriage, we derive our present English Words to ewoo, a Wooer.

Ewe is a German Word, but it was used by the English Saxons, and signifies a Law ; 'tis mentioned in Leg. W. 1. viz. De malefactoribus qui vita periculum secundum Ewva Saxonum incurere debent.

Exaction Is a Wrong done by an Officer, or one pretending to have Authority, in taking a Reward or Fee for that which the Law allows not. The Difference between Exaction and Extortion is this, Extortion is, where an Officer extorts more than his due. Exaction is, where he wrests a Fee or Reward, where none is due. See Extortion.

Exactors Regis, The King's Exactors, sometimes taken for the Sheriff. And in this Sense the Black Book in the Exchequer, Part. 1. cap. ult. Tabulas, quibus Vicecomes censum Regium colligit Rotulum Exactorum vocat ; but generally Quicunque publicas pecunias, tributa, vectigalia & res fisco debitas exigit, proprie nominatur Exactor Regis.

Examiners in Chancery, Examinatores, Are two Officers that examine upon Oath, Witnesses produced on either side, upon such Interrogatories as the Parties to any Suit do exhibit, to that Purpose ; and sometimes the Parties themselves are by particular Order examined also by them. Heretofore there was such an Examiner in the Star Chamber, but the Court being abolished, the Office and Officer is extinct.

Exannual Roll, In the old Way of delivering the Sheriffs Accounts, the forma mortuæ vel obsoletæ, i. e. illevisable Fines and desperate Debts, were transcribed into a Roll called the Exannual Roll, which was to be yearly read to the Sheriff upon his Account, to see what might be gotten. Read Hale of Sheriffs Accounts, p. 67.

Excambiator Was anciently used for an Exchanger of Land, [such I suppose as we now call Brokers, that deal upon the Exchange between Merchants]. In libro chartarum Priorat. Leominst. de anno 2. Ed. 2. it is said, Ita quod unusquisque eorum qui damna sustinuit aliquo casu contingente, quod Excambiator refundat damna, &c.

Exception, Exceptio, Is a Stop or Stay to an Action, being used in the Civil and Common Law both alike, and in both divided into dilatory and and peremptory: Of these see Bracton, lib. 5. tract. 5. per totum, and Britton, cap. 91, 92.

Excelsior. See Iscia.

Exchange, Excambium vel Cambium, Hath a peculiar Signification in our Common Law, and is used for that Compensation which the Warrantor must make to the Warrantee, Value for Value, if the Land warranted be recovered from the Warrantee. Bract. lib. 2. cap. 16. & lib. 1. cap. 19. It signifieth also generally as much as Permutatio with the Civilians, as the King's Exchange. 1 H. 6. cap. 1, & 4. and 9 E. 3. Stat. 2 cap. 7. which is nothing else but the Place appointed by the King for the Exchange of Bullion, Gold, Silver, or Plate, &c. with the King's Coin. These Places have been divers heretofore, as appeareth by the said Statutes: But now there is only one, viz. The Tower of London conjoined with the Mint, which in Time past might not be, as appeareth by 1 H. 6. cap. 4.

Exchanged Are those that use to return Money beyond Sea, by Bills of Exchange, which by the Stat. 5 R. 2. ought not to be done without the King's Licence. See Escambio.

Exchequer. See Efchequer.

Excheater. See Ischeator.

Excise Is a Charge or Imposition laid upon Beer, Ale, Cyder, and other Liquors, within the Kingdom of England, Wales, and Berwick, by Act of Parliament made 12 Car. 2. cap. 13. during the King's Life, and according to the Rates in the said Act mentioned. See 13 Car. 2. cap. 13. and 17 Car. 2. cap. 4.

Exclusa, A Sluice for Water dam'd or pent up. — Et ripam Saverna in Foresta sua ad tenendam Exclufam piscaria vel molendini de Ettona.

Cart. Hen. 1. in Mon. Angl. tom. 1.

Exclusagium is of the same Import, as — Dedi in puram Eleemosynam — exclusagium & flagnum de piscaria & molendino de Wederballa.

Mon. Anglican. tom. 1. pag. 398. And nearer to our present English, Slusagium — ex dono Richardi Filii Luca slusagium unum super terram suam ad molendinum Monachorum fullericum, ib. p. 868.

Exclusagium was a Payment due to the Lord for the Benefit of having a Sluice. Et duo molendina in eodem manerio cum aquis Exclufagii, &c. Mon. 1 Tom. 398. 587.

Excommunication, 23 Hen. 8. cap. 3. Is in Law French, the same with Excommunication in English.

Excommunication, Excommunicatio, Is thus defined by Panormitan, Excommunicatio est nihil aliud quam censura a canone vel iudice Ecclesiastico prolata & inflicta, privans legitimam communionem Sacramentorum & quandoque bonorum. And it is divided in Majorem & Minorem; Minor est, per quam quis a Sacramentorum participatione conscientia vel sententia arretur: Major est, quae non solum a Sacramentis, verum etiam fidelium communione excludit, & ab omni actu legitimo separat & dividit. Venatorius de sentent. excom. The Form of an Excommunication was of old thus, Auctoritate Dei Patris Omnipotentis, & Filii & Spiritus Sancti & Beate Dei Genitricis Mariae, omniumque Sanctorum Excommunicamus, Anathematizamus & a limitibus Sanctae Matris Ecclesiae sequestramus illos Malefactores N. consentaneos quoque & participes, & nisi resipuerint & ad satisfactionem venerint, sic extinguatur lucerna eorum ante viventem in secula seculorum. Fiat, Fiat, Fiat, Amen. Ex emendat. Legum Will. Conquestoris in

lib. vocat. Textus. Roffensis. By the Ecclesiastical Laws an excommunicated Person was not to be buried, but the Body was usually flung into a Pit, or covered with an Heap of Stones which was called Imbloccare corpus. Hoveden, pag. 796, 773, 801, 810. Ordericus Vitalis, lib. 13. p. 908. And it was a common Opinion, That though the Body was exposed to the Weather, yet it never perished, but remained whole, as a terrible Example to all Posterity. Mat. Paris. p. 464.

Excommunicato capiendo Is a Writ directed to the Sheriff for the Apprehension of him who standeth obstinately excommunicated forty Days; for such a one not seeking Absolution, hath, or may have his Contempt certified into the Chancery, whence issueth this Writ, for the laying of him up without Bail or Mainprize, until he conform himself. F. N. B. f. 62. 5 El. c. 23. Reg. Orig. f. 65, 67, 70.

Excommunicato deliberando Is a Writ to the Under-Sheriff, for the Delivery of an excommunicate Person out of Prison, upon Certificate of the Ordinary of his Conformity to the Jurisdiction Ecclesiastical. F. N. B. fol. 65. and Reg. Orig. fol. 65, & 67.

Excommunicato recipiendo Is a Writ whereby Persons excommunicate, being for their Obstinacy committed to Prison, and unlawfully delivered thence, before they have given Caution to obey the Authority of the Church, are commanded to be sought for, and laid up again. Reg. Orig. f. 67.

Execution, Executio, In the Common Law signifies the last Performance of an A&T, as of a Fine or a Judgment. And the Execution of a Fine, is the obtaining Possession actually of the Things contained in the same by Virtue thereof, which is either by Entry into the Lands, or by Writ; whereof see at large West. part. 2. Symbol. Tit. Fines, sect. 136, 137, 138. Executing of Judgments and Statutes, and such like, see F. N. B. in indice 2. verbo Execution. Co. in his 6 Rep. Blomfield's Case, f. 87. maketh two Sorts of Executions, one final, another with a quosque tending to an End: An Execution final is that which maketh Money of the Defendant's Goods, or extendeth his Lands, and delivereth them to the Plaintiff: for this the Party accepteth in Satisfaction, and this is the End of the Suit, and all that the King's Writ commandeth to be done. The other Sort with a Quosque is tending to an End, and not final; as in the Case of a Capias ad satisfaciendum, &c. This is not final, but the Body of the Party is to be taken, to the Intent and Purpose to satisfy the Demandant, and his Imprisonment is not absolute, but until the Defendant do satisfy. Idem ibid.

Executione facienda is a Writ commanding Execution of a Judgment; the divers Uses whereof see in the Table of the Register Judicial.

Executione facienda in Witherannum is a Writ that lies for taking his Cattel, who formerly had conveyed out of the County the Cattel of another: So that the Bailiff, having Authority from the Sheriff to replevy the Cattel so conveyed away, could not execute his Charge. Reg. of Writs, f. 82. b.

Executor, Executor, is he that is appointed by any Man in his last Will and Testament, to have the Disposing of all his Substance, according to the Contents of the said Will. This Executor is either particular or universal; Particular, lar, as if this or that Thing only be committed to his Charge: Universal, if all. And this is in the Place of him whom the Civilians call Heredem designatum, or Testamentarium; and the Law accounteth him one Person with the Party whose Executor he is, as having all the Advantage of Action against Men that he had, so likewise being subject to every Man's Action as himself was. This Executor had his Beginning in the Civil Law, by the Constitutions of the Emperors, who first permitted those that thought good by their Wills to bestow any Thing upon godly and charitable Uses, to appoint whom they please to see the same performed: And if they appointed none, then they ordained, That the Bishop of the Place should have Authority of course to effect it. Lib. 28. cap. de Episcopis & Clericis. And hence probably grew the Use of Universal Executors, and also brought the Administration of their Goods, that die intestate, unto the Bishop.

Executoꝝ de son tois, Or Executor of his own wrong, Is he that takes upon him the Office of an Executor by Intrusion, not being so constituted by the Testator; nor for want thereof, appointed by the Ordinary to administer: How far he shall be liable to Creditors. See 43 El. ca. 8. Dyer, 166. and vide etiam libellum vocat. The Duty of Executors, cap. 14.

Exemplificatione Is a Writ granted for the Exemplification of an Original. See Reg. Orig. fol. 290.

Exemplification of Letters Patent, An. 13 El. cap. 6. Is a Copy or Duplicate of Letters Patent made from the Inrolment thereof, and sealed with the Great Seal of England; which Exemplifications are as effectual to be shewed or pleaded, as the Originals themselves. Nota, nothing but Matter of Record ought to be exemplified. 3 Inst. fol. 173. See Co. 5. Rep. Page's Case.

Exemplum, and Exemplata terra, the same with Affavit, and Landis Affavit.

Exemption Is a Privilege to be free from Service or Appearance; and therefore a Baron and Baroness, dignitatis causa, are exempted to be sworn upon any Enquest. Co. lib. 6. fol. 55. Also Knights, Clerks, and Women are exempted to appear at the Sheriff's Turn, by the Statute of Marl. cap. 10. And a Man may be exempted from being put upon Enquests and Juries by the King's Letters Patent, as the College of Physicians, London, were by Letters Patent of H. 3. Co. lib. 8. fol. 108.

Ereumum, a Reward or Gift, or any Payment in the Name of a Gift. Bracton, lib. 5. tract. 5. c. 4. Fleta, lib. 2. c. 71.

Exercitiale Vironis sive Baronis Regis, qui erit proximus ei, quatuor equi. LL. Edw. Conf. 1. — This demonstrates the Derivation of Heriot or Heregate from Here, Exercitus, because the old feudal Heriot was paid only in Arms or Military Accoutrements.

Exstrenuare, To break the Peace, to commit open Violence: From the Saxon Frede, Frith, Peace. Frithian, to protect. — Si quis proliat, & domum exfrediet, nec tamen aliquem percutiat, dimidio jurisfacto culpa consistat. — Reges H. 1. cap. 31.

Ex gravi Querela Is a Writ that lieth for him to whom any Lands or Tenements in Fee within a City, Town, or Borough, being devisable, are devised by Will, and the Heir of the Devisor entreth into them, and detaineth them from him. Reg. Orig. fol. 244. Old Nat. Brev. fol. 17. See F. N. B. fol. 198.

Exhennium, Exennium, A Gift, a Present, a Token, more properly a New-Year's Gift. — In expensis Domini Regis & exhennii, eidem factis a jud. Farendon centum fol. sex denar. in expensis Domine Regine ibidem pernoctantis & exhennii, eidem factis lxxv. Sol. — Ex Compoto domus de Farendon. MS. penes W. Kennet. fol. 31.

Exhibit, Exhibitum, When a Deed, Acquittance, or other Writing is in a Chancery Suit exhibited to be proved by Witnesses, and the Examiner writes on the Back that it was shewed to such a one at the Time of his Examination; this is there called an Exhibit. The Word is mentioned 14 Car. 2. cap. 14.

Exhibitio, An Allowance for Meat and Drink, such as the religious Appropriators made to the poor depending Vicar. So in all Churches appropriated to the Abbey of Osney. — Vicarius habebit sufficientem exhibitionem, sicut Canonici quoad victualia in mensa Canonicorum, ubi Canonici moram faciunt. — Paroch. Antiqu. pa. 304. The Benefactions settled for maintaining of Scholars in the University, not depending on the Foundation, are now called Exhibitions.

Exigendarum of the Common Bench, Exigendarius de Banco Communi, Is otherwise called Exigenter, 10 H. 6. c. 4. and is an Officer belonging to that Court, for which see Exigenter.

Exigent, Exigenda, Is a Writ that lieth where the Defendant in an Action personal cannot be found, nor any Thing within that County, whereby he may be attached or distrained; and is directed to the Sheriff, to proclaim and call him five County-Days one after another, charging him to appear under the Pain of Outlawry. Termes de la Ley. This Writ lieth also in an Indisment of Felony, where the Party indicted cannot be found. Smith de Rep. Ang. lib. 2. c. 19. It seemeth to be called an Exigent, because it exacteth the Party, that is required his Appearance, to answer the Law: for if he come not at the last Day's Proclamation, he is said to be Quinquies exactus, and then is outlawed. Crom. Jurisd. fol. 188. And this Manwood also setteth down for the Law of the Forest, c. 18. See the New Book of Entries, verbo Exigent.

Exigentur, Exigendarius, 18 H. 6. cap. 9. Is an Officer of the Court of Common Pleas, of whom there be four in Number: They make all Exigents and Proclamations in all Actions, where Process of Outlawry doth lie, and Writs of Superfedeas, as well as the Protonotaries, upon such Exigents as were made in their Offices. But the making Writs of Superfedeas is since taken from them by an Officer in the same Court, erected by King James by Letters Patent, towards the later End of his Reign.

Exilium, Waite, Destraction, as in the Statute of Marlebridge under Hen. III. c. 25. — Firmarii tempore firmarum suarum vastum, venditionem vel exilium non facient de domibus, boscis, vel hominibus — where exilium relating to Hominibus, seems to be the Injury done to an Estate in respect of the Tenants, by altering their Tenure or Condition, by ejecting, advancing, remitting, &c. And this indeed is the Sense that Fleta does expressly determine. Vastum & Destructione fere equipollent, & convertibilibus se habent in domibus, boscis & Gardinis, sed exilium dici poterit, cum servi manumittuntur & a tenementis suis injuriose ejiciuntur. Fleta, lib. 1. c. 11.

Exitus,

Erutus, Issue, Child or Children.—qui genuit Robertum de Alstretton Baronem— qui per Agnetem uxorem ejus habuit exitum Thomam filium & Heredem.— Mon. Angl. Tom. 2. p. 607. The Word is frequent in our old Law Writings, and in some Epitaphs, as on a Ground-stone in the Chancel of the Parish-Church of Amesden, in the County of Oxford. — Sepultus est hic Johannes Denton, filius primogenitus Johannis Denton & Magdalene uxoris ejus, nuptus Theodora Blondell uni filiarum Johannis Blondell, & moriebatur sine exitu e corpore ejus exente in vita predicti Johannis septimo die Septemb. 1566.

Erutus, Issues, the Rents or Profits of Lands or Tenements: Et sciat vicecomes quod redditus, blada in grangia, & omnia mobilia prater equitaturam, indumenta, & utensilia domorum continentur sub nomine exitum.— Stat. 11. Westm. cap. 43.

Erlegalitas, (Calumniari de Exlegalitate) is he who is prosecuted as an Outlaw. 'Tis mentioned in Leg. Edw. Confess. cap. 38.

Er mero motu Are Words formally used in any Charter of the Prince, whereby he signifieth, that he doth that which is contained in the Charter of his own Will and Motion, without Petition or Suggestion made by any other; and the Effect of these Words are to bar all Exceptions that might be taken unto the Instrument, wherein they be contained, by alledging, that the Prince in passing that Charter was abused by any false Suggestion. Kitchin, fol. 152. Co. lib. 1. fol. 45.

Er Officio, By Virtue of a Branch of the Stat. 1 Eliz. cap. 1. the Queen by her Letters Patent might authorise any Person or Persons, &c. to administer an Oath Ex Officio, so called, because the Ecclesiastical Judge did it ex Officio suo, whereby the supposed Delinquent was compelled to confess, accuse, or purge himself of any criminal Matter, and thereby be made liable to Censure or Punishment, &c. The Branch of which Statute relating to the said Oath is repealed, 17 Car. 1. cap. 11.

Eroneratione sectæ Is a Writ that lay for the King's Ward, to be disbursed of all Suit, &c. to the County, Hundred, Leet, or Court-Baron, during the Time of his Wardship. F. N. B. fol. 158.

Errossatus ager, A Field without Stones.

Erpalmare, To strike with the Palm of the Hand. Vide eum in borto ligatum, in atrio pontificis Expalmatum, i. e. Buffeted, Petr. Blesensis, Sermon. 18 de Christo.

Er Parte, (Lat.) Partly, or of one Part. In the Court of Chancery it hath this Signification: A Joint-Commission is that wherein both Plaintiff and Defendant join. A Commission ex parte is that which is taken out and executed by one Party only.

Er parte talis Is a Writ that lieth for a Bailiff, or Receiver, that having Auditors assigned to hear his Account, cannot obtain of them reasonable Allowance, but is cast into Prison by them. F. N. B. fol. 129. The Manner in this Case is to take this Writ out of the Chancery, directed to the Sheriff, to take the four Mainpennors, to bring his Body before the Barons of the Exchequer at a Day certain, and to warn the Lord, to appear at the same Time. Terms de la Ley, verb. Account.

Erpetant Is used in the Common Law with this Word Fee, and thus it is opposite to Fee-simple. For Example, Lands are given to a Man and his Wife in Feeak-marriage, to Have and to Hold to them and their Heirs. In this Case, they have Fee-simple: But if it be given to them, and the Heirs of their Body, &c. they have Tail and Fee erpetant. Kitchin, fol. 153. Matthæus de afflictis useth the Adjective Expetativa substantively in the same Signification, De fecis. 292. num. 2. pag. 412.

Erpedimentum, Bag and Baggage. Dixit se non habere literas præ manibus, quia miserat eas cum Expedimento ad Wintoniam.

Erpridatæ, (Expeditare vel Expealtare,) in the Forest-Laws, signifies to cut out the Ball of Dogs Forefeet, for the Preservation of the King's Game. Every one that keeps any great Dog, nor expeditated, forfeits three Shillings and four Pence to the King. The Ball of the Foot of Mastiffs is not to be cut off, but the three Claws of the Forefoot to the Skin. 4 Part. Inst. fol. 308.

Nullus Dominicos canes Albatris & Monachorum expealtari cogat. Charta. Hen. 3. Abbati de Rading, — Et sint quieti de Espeditamentis canum. Ex Magno Rot. Pipe, de Anno 9 Ed. 2.

I do not find this relates to Mastiffs only, but to every Man's Dog who lived near the Forest, and to the Dogs of the Foresters themselves. And this Expeditation was to be done once in every three Years. Du Fresne.

Erpridatæ Arboræ, Trees rooted up, or cut down to the Roots. — Inquiratur de querubus & aliis arboribus expeditatis in foresta — vel si aliquo ingenio alio dictas quercus cadere fecerint. — Fleta, lib. 2. cap. 41. Sect. 31.

Erpenditoris, Anno 37 H. 8. cap. 11. Seems to signify those that pay, disburse, or expend the Tax in the Statute mentioned, by Anno 7 Jac. cap. 2. Paymasters. — The Steward or Sworn Officer who supervises the Repair of the Banks and Water-courses in Romney Marsh, is now called the Expenditor.

Erpensis militum lebandis Is a Writ directed to the Sheriff for levying the Allowance for Knights of the Parliament. Reg. Orig. fol. 191.

Erpensis militum non leuandis ab hominibus de Dominico, nec a Patibis, Is a Writ to prohibit the Sheriff from levying any Allowance for the Knights of the Shire, upon those that hold in ancient Demesne, &c. Reg. Orig. fol. 261.

Erplees, see Esplees. Some are of Opinion, that because Esplees are the full Profits of the Land, therefore the Word must be derived from the Lat. Expleo: But rather Ex placito, eiz. from the Agreement made with the Lord to pay him so much ex proventibus terre. For Expletum signifies those Lands or Farms, the Profits whereof are taken by the Lord.

Erplitis, Erplitis, Erpleta, The Rents or mean Profits of an Estate in Custody or Trust.

Erplorator, A Scout, In memoriam Henrici Croft equitis aurati, Exploratoris in Hibernia Generalis, qui obiit anno 1609. where Explorator Generalis signifies Scout-Master-General. Sometimes also it is used for a Huntsman, as Idem Abbas habens exploratores suos (his Huntsmen) ponere fecit ratia, &c. In Itin. Pkiking, 8 Ed. 3. Rot. 4.

Ertales, The Entrails. Muros qui Extiales corrodunt. Petrus Blesensis, Epist. 100.

Erternd, Extendere, In a legal Sense denotes to value the Lands or Tenements of one bound by Statute, Statute, &c. that hath forfeited his Bond, to such an indifferent Rate, as by the yearly Rent the Creditor in Time be paid his Debt. The Course and Circumstances hereof, see in F. N. B. fol. 131. Brief de execution sur Statute-Merchant.

Extendi faciās Is a Writ ordinarily called a Writ of Extent, whereby the Value of Land, &c. is commanded to be made and levied in divers Cases, which see in the Table of the Register Original.

Extent, Extenta, Hath two Significations, sometimes signifying a Writ or Commission to the Sheriff, for the Valuing of Lands or Tenements. Reg. Judic. in Tabula. Sometimes the Act of the Sheriff, or other Commissioner of this Writ. Bro. Tit. Extent, fol. 313. 16 & 17 Car. 2. cap. 5. And it more frequently signified the Estimate or Valuation of Lands, which when done to the utmost Value, was said to be to the full Extent, whence our extended Rents or Rack-rents. Hec est Extenta terrarum — de terris & tenementis Prioris de Durburste — quantum valeant instaurare, & quantum deinstaurare. Mon. Angl. tom. 1. p. 548. and in 2 tom. fol. 521. Ad inquirendum Estimationem & extentam per probos viros. Fleta, lib. 2. cap. 71.

Extinguishment, In our Laws signifies, an Effect of Consolidation: For Example, If a Man have due to him a yearly Rent out of any Lands, and afterwards purchase the same Lands, now both the Property and Rent are consolidated or united in one Possessor; and therefore the Rent is said to be extinguished. In like Manner it is, where a Man hath a Lease for Years, and afterwards buyeth the Property; this is a Consolidation of the Property and the Fruits, and is an Extinguishment of the Lease. See Terms de la Ley. So if a Man have an Highway appendant, and after purchase the Land wherein the Highway is; then the Way is extinct: And so it is of Common appendant. But if a Man have an Estate in Land but for Life or Years, and hath Fee-simple in the Rent; then the Rent is not extinguished, but in Suspence for the Time; and after the Term, the Rent shall be revived. And if there be Lord, Mesne, and Tenant, and the Lord purchase the Tenancy, then the Mesnalty is extinct; but the Mesne shall have the Surplusage of the Rent, if there be any, as Rent-seck. Terms de Ley.

Extirpare, To spend or lose. In the Laws of Edward the Confessor, cap. 6. 'tis provided, That if a Thief take any Thing unlawfully, and is near at Hand, let him restore it; Et si illud penitus Extirpaverit, let him make the Owner full Satisfaction.

Extermination Is a Writ judicial, that lieth against him, who after a Verdict found against him for Land, &c. doth maliciously overthrow any House upon it, &c. and it is two-fold, one ante Judicium, the other post Judicium. Reg. Jud. fol. 15. 56. 58.

Extocare, To stock up, to grub Wood-land, and reduce it to arable or Meadow. — Dedi etiam eis pratum — quod Rogerus de Tochebam de grava quadam extocaverat. — Mon. Angl. tom. 2. p. 71.

Extorperur, for Extorperur.

Extortion, Extortio, Is an unlawful or violent wringing of Money or Money-worth from any Man: For Example, If any Officer, by terrifying any the King's Subjects in his Office, take more than his ordinary Duties or Fees, he committeth this Offence, and is indictable for it. To this (saith Mr. West) may be referred the Exaction of unlawful Usury, Winning by unlawful Games; and in one Word, all taking of more than is due, by Colour or Pretence of Right, as excessive Toll in Millers, excessive Prices of Ale, Bread, Victuals, Wares, &c. West. Symbol. part. 2. Tit. Indictments, sect. 65. Manwood saith, That Extortion is colore Officii, and not virtute Officii. Crompton in his Justice of Peace, fol. 8. hath these Words, Wrong done by any Man, is properly a Trespass, but excessive Wrong by any Man is called Extortion; and this is most properly in Officers, as Sheriffs, Mayors, Bailiffs, Escheators, and the like, that by Colour of their Office do great Oppression, and excessive Wrong unto the People, in taking excessive Rewards or Fees, for the Execution of their Office: Great Diversity of Cases touching Extortion, you may read in Crom. Justice of Peace, fol. 48, 49, 50. See the Difference between colore Officii and virtute vel ratione Officii, Plow. fol. 64. Dice's Case. This Word is used in the same Signification in other Countries; for Caval. anes de brachio Regio. part 5. num. 21. thus describeth it, Et extortio dicitur fieri, quando Juxex cogit aliquid sibi dari quod non est debitum vel quod est ultra debitum, vel ante tempus petit id, quod post administratam justitiam debetur.

Extra Curia, The Issues or Profits of holding a Court arising from the customary Dues, Fees, and Amercements. — Computant de tribus denariis receptis de extra Curia unius Curie tertia apud Burcester. — Paroch. Antiq. p. 572.

Extraordinary, for Extraordinary. See Extraordinary.

Extra-judicial Is when Judgment is given in a Cause or Case not depending in that Court, where such Judgment is given, or wherein the Judge has not Jurisdiction.

Extra-Parochial, Out of any Parish, privileged or exempt from the Duties of a Parish. Stat. 22 & 23 Car. 2. Of Subsidy.

Extraordinary, The same with Extraordinary.

Extravagante, These are certain Constitutions of Popes, and are so called, because they are Extra Corpus Canonicum Gratiani, five extra decretorum libros vagantur. Du Cange.

Extumæ, Relicks. — Abbas igitur & conventus accipientes eorum extumas cum gaudio in majorem transfulerunt Ecclesiam in mansuole nobiliter exculpto. — Cartular. Abbat. Glaston. MS. penes virum Rev. Dom. Clarges, f. 15.

Exuperare, To overcome. It sometimes signifies to apprehend or take; as, Exuperare alium circum vel mortuum. Leg. Edm. cap. 2. So in the Laws of King Alfred apud Brompton, cap. 7. Exuperetur & in Episcopi judicio reservetur.

Ey, Insula. An Island. Domesday.

Every of Hawks. See Aery.

Eyet, Insuletta, A small Island or Islet: It is corruptly called by the Moderns vulgarly an Eyght.

Eyjar, An Ey, Eyrie, Brood, Nest: Sir Thomas Haxyll his Son and Heir entred to the said ece. Acres of Pasture, which Thomas released his Title to the said Poor, to have 1111. Couples of Eyre Swannys (i. e. Brood-Swans) in the Water, with all Issue and Profits. — Munimenta Hospital. SS. Trinitat. de Pontefracto. MS. f. 53.

Eyre. See Eire.

F. Who

F.

F Whoever maliciously shall strike any Person with a Weapon in the Church or Church-yard, or draw any Weapon there with Intent to strike, shall have one of his Ears cut off; and if he have no Ears, shall be marked on the Cheek with a hot Iron, with the Letter F that he may be known for a Fighter, or Maker of Frays. 5 & 6 E. 6. cap. 4.

Fabricatura, i. e. Vessels made with Gold or Silver. Item undecim cippi argentei plani de una Fabricatura.

Fabrick Lands Are Lands given to the Rebuilding, Repair, or Maintenance of Cathedrals, or other Churches, and mentioned in the Act Of Oblivion, 12 Car. 2. cap. 8. In ancient Time every one almost gave by his Will, more or less, to the Fabrick of the Cathedral or Parish-Church where he lived. And these were called Fabrick-Lands, because given ad Fabricam Ecclesie reparandam. In Dei nomine Amen, &c. Die Veneris ante festum Nativitatis Sancti Johannis Baptiste, Anno Domini, 1423. Ego Richardus Smith de Bromyard condo Testamentum meum in hunc modum, Imprimis lego animam meam Deo & beate Marie & omnibus Sanctis, Corpusque meum sepeliendum in Cæmeterio Beate Edburgæ de Bradway. Item lego Fabricæ Ecclesie Cathedralis Hereford xii d. Item lego Fabricæ Capelle Beate Marie de Bromyard xl d. Item lego Fratribus de Woodhouse xx d. Restaturo vero bonorum, &c. These Fabrick-Lands the Saxons called Timber-Lands.

Facade, i. e. The Frontispiece of an House.

Facta Armorum, Feats of Arms, Jests, Tournaments.—Rex Richardus in Angliam transiens statuit Facta armorum quæ vulgo Torneamenta dicuntur, in Anglia exerceri.—Hist. Joh. Brompton in Ric. 1. p. 1261.

Factum, A Man's own Act or Deed.—

Predictus vero Willielmus postea per concordiam quietam clamavit libere & pacifice ab omni servitio dictam advocantiam—ut patet per factum suum. Mon. Angl. tom. 2. p. 246.

Faculty, Facultas, As it is restrained from the original and active Signification, to a particular Understanding in Law, is used for a Privilege, or special Power granted unto a Man by Favour, Indulgence and Dispensation, to do that which by the Common Law he cannot do; as to eat Flesh upon Days prohibited, to marry without Banes first asked, to hold two or more Ecclesiastical Livings; the Son to succeed the Father in a Benefice, and such like. And for the granting of these, there is an especial Court under the Archbishop of Canterbury called The Court of the Faculties, and the Chief Officer thereof the Master of the Faculties, Magister ad Facultates, whose Power to grant as aforesaid, was given by 25 H. 8. cap. 21. See 23 H. 8. cap. 16. and 4 par. inst. fol. 337.—Engl. Anno 4 E. 4. cap. 1.

Færbena, i. e. A Countryman.

Fæsting Men, i. e. Vassals. Nec Rex suum pactum requirat, vel habentes homines, quos nos dicimus Fæsting-men, nec eos qui accipientes portant vel Falcones, &c. Charta Cenuilphi Regis Merciorum in anno 821. In Monast. Anglican. tom. 1. p. 100. Du Fresne renders this Word Homines commendati Vassalli, ex Sax. Fæsting, commendatus & Man, homo: And says, habentes idem valet ac divites. But I rather think Fæsting Men and habentes homines mean rather Pledges, Sureties, or Bondsmen, which by Saxon Custom were fast bound to answer for one another's peaceable Behaviour.

Fag, i. e. A Knot or Exerefcency in Cloth. 'Tis used in this Sense in the Sat. 4 Ed. 4. cap. 1. From the Sax. Fece, Intervallum.

Faggot. A Badge wore in Times of Popery on the Sleeve of the upper Garment of those who had recanted and abjured what the then Powers called Heresy. For those poor terrified Wretches were not only condemned to the Penance of carrying a Faggot to such an appointed Place of Solemnity, but for a more lasting Mark of Infamy, they were to have the Sign of a Faggot embroidered on one, and sometimes each Sleeve. And the leaving off this Badge or Faggot was often alledged as the Sign of Apostasy.

Faida, i. e. Malice or deadly Feud. Et portet fractionem erga cognationem. Leg. H. 1. cap. 88. From the Sax. Fæhtb, Inimicitia.

Faint, alias Faint-Action, (Fr. Feint), is as much as Feigned Action, that is, such Action, as albeit the Words of the Writ be true, yet for certain Causes he has no Title to recover thereby. And a false Action is where the Words of the Writ are false. Coke on Littl. fol. 361. Yet sometimes they are confounded.

Faint-Deader (from the Fr. Feinte, falsus) signifies a false, covinous, or collusive Manner of Pleading, to the Deceit of a third Party. 34 & 35 H. 8. cap. 24.

Fairano, or Fairandman, i. e. A Vagrant. From the Sax. Faran, To go or wander.

Fair Pleading. See Beaupleader.

Faire, alias Fæyr, (Feria) Cometh of the French Foire, and signifies as much as Nundina with the Civilians, that is, a solemn or greater Sort of Market, granted to any Town by Privilege, for the more speedy and commodious Provision of such Things as the Subject needeth, or the Utterance of such Things as we abound in above our own Uses and Occasions; both our English and the French Word seemeth to come of Feria because it is always incident to a Fair by Privilege, that a Man may not be molested or arrested in it for any other Debt, than what was first contracted in the same, or at least was promised to be paid there. 17 E. 4. cap. 2. and 1 R. 3. cap. 6.

Fait, In Latin Factum, A Deed, which is a Writing sealed and delivered to prove and testify the Agreement of the Parties, whose Deed it is, and consists of three principal Points, Writing, Sealing and Delivery. By Writing is shewed the Parties Name to the Deed, their Dwelling-places, Degrees, Thing granted, upon what Consideration, the Estate limited, the Time when granted, and whether simply, or upon Condition, &c. 2. Sealing is a farther Testimony of their Consents, as appears by these Words, In Witness whereof, &c. In cujus rei testimonium, &c. without which the Deed is insufficient. In the Time of the Saxons our Ancestors they only subscribed their Names, commonly adding the Sign of the Cross, and in the End set down a great Number of Witnesses, not using any Kind of Seal, which Fashion continued until the Norman Conquest; whose Custom by little and little prevailing, brought in the Use of Seals. The first sealed Charter in England, is supposed to be that of Edward the Confessor to the Abbey of Westminster, which he being educated in Normandy brought thence: This Change is mentioned by Inculphus, who came in with the Conqueror, in these Words,

Normanni Chirographorum confectorem (cum crucibus aureis & aliis signaculis sacris in Anglia firmari solitam) in ceram impressam mutant, modum; scribendi Anglicum rejiciunt; but this Custom was at first used only by the Nobility, as appears in the History of Battel Abbey, where Richard Lucy Chief Justice of England, in the Time of Henry the Second, is reported to have blamed a mean Person for using a Seal, which (he said) pertained only to the Nobility; yet, in Edward the Third's Time Seals became very common, according to every Man's Fancy. 3. Delivery, though it be set last, is not the least; for after a Deed is written and sealed, if it be not delivered, it is to no Purpose: And therefore in all Deeds, Care must be taken that the Delivery be well proved.

Faitours (a French Word antiquated; for the modern French is Faisour, i. e. Factor) is used in the Stat. 7 R. 2. cap. 5. in the evil Part, signifying a bad Doer; or it may not improbably be interpreted an idle Liver, taken from Faitardise, which signifies a Kind of sleepy Dilease, proceeding of too much Sluggishness, which the Latins call Veterinus: For in the said Statute it seems to be synonymous with Vagabond.

Falang, A Jacket, or cloſe Coat.

Falcatura, One Day's mowing or cutting Graſs. Falcare prata, to cut or mow down Graſs in Meadows hay'd, or laid in for Hay, was a customary Service for the Lord by his inferior Tenants; Falcatura una, was the Duty of one Time mowing; Falcator was the ſervile Tenant, performing this Labour; Falcata was the Graſs fresh mow'd and laid in Swathes. See Mr. Kennet's Glossary, in Falcare.

Falco, A Falcon, Falconarius, a Falconer, Falco Gentilis, a Jer-falcon, Falco Spararius, a Sparrow-Hawk. King John, in the 14. of his Reign, granted to Owen Fitz-David, and Griffin Fitz-Rodher— tria cantreda tenenda per ſervitia ſubſcripta— unam motam canum per annum, & deum leporarios, & omnes accipitres & Falcones gentiles & Spararios dictorum trium Cantredorum— Pat. 14 Joh.

Falda, A Sheepfold, Et quod oves ſint levantes & cubantes in propria falda Canonorum prædictorum. Rot. Cart. 16 Hen. 3. m. 6.

*Falmotum, ſchalcheſmota, Folkmote, From Sax. folk, People, and mote or gemote, a Convention or Aſſembly; ſo as a Falmote was a general Word for a common Meeting or general Aſſembly of the People, and did extend to three ſeveral Kinds of popular Concourse. 1. It ſignified a Common Council of all the Inhabitants of a City, Town, or Borough, and was then otherwiſe called the Burgmote or Portmote, conven'd often by Sound of Bell, called Mote-bell, to the Mote-hall or Mote-houſe. Or, 2. It was applied to a larger Congreſs of all the Free Tenants within a County, called the Shire-mote, where formerly all Knights and Military Tenants did their Fealty to the King, and elected the annual Sheriff on Octob. 1. till this popular Election, to avoid tumultuary Riots, was devolved to the King's Nomination, Anno 1315. 3. Edw. 2. After which the City Folkmote was ſwallowed up in a ſelect Committee or Common Council, and the County Folkmote in the Sheriff's Turn and Aſſiſes. But 3. The Word Folkmote was ſometimes of a leſs Extent, and denoted any Kind of populous and publick Meeting, as of all Tenants at the Court-Leet or Baron of their Lord. So as to a Charter of Wido de Meriton, about 10 Hen. 2. Teſtes donationis ſunt Falco Sacerdos de Meriton, Luvelus de Hoſpath, & totum falmorum meorum hominum & ſuorum.—Paroch. Antiq. p. 120. See Folkmote.*

*Faſſe Claim Is, where a Man claims more than his Due: as the Prior of Lancaſter, by Reaſon of a Charter, had the Tenth of all the Veniſon, viz. In carne tantum ſed non in corio. And becauſe he made a Faſſe Claim, and ſaid, That he* he ought to have the Tenth of all Venison within the Forest of Lancaster, as well in Carne as in Corio; therefore he was in miseriordia de decima venationis sue in Corio non peripiendo. Manwood's Forest Laws, cap. 25. num. 3.

Falso Imprisonment, Falsum imprisonment, Is a Trespass committed against a Man by imprisoning him without lawful Cause: It is also used for a Writ which is brought upon this Trespass, F. N. B. fol. 86, 88. Vide Librum, and the New Book of Entries, verbo Falso Imprisonment.

Faule Prophecies. See Prophecies.

Falsitie Seems to signifie as much as to prove a Thing to be false. Pewkins, Dower, 383, 385. Also to say or do falsely; as to falsify, or counterfeit the King's Seal. *Rex—Vic. Lincoln. Scias quod dedimus Ade de Essex Clerico nostro, pro servitio suo omnes terras & tenementa que fuerunt Will. de S. rubby, cujus terras & tenementa sunt exacta nostra, per Feloniam quam fecit de falsificatione Sigilli nostri T. apud Linc. 28 Nov. &c. Falso Judicio Is a Writ that lieth for false Judgment given in the County, Hundred, Court-Baron, or other Courts, being no Courts of Record, being the Plea Real or Personal. Reg. Orig. fol. 15. F. N. B. fol. 17. And the New Book of Entries, verbo Falso Judgment.

Falso retorno Librum Is a Writ lying against the Sheriff, for false returning of Writs. Reg. Judic. fol. 43. b.

Famfaluca, and Famfoluca, i. e. Trifles.

Familia, i. e. all the Servants belonging to a particular Master; in another Sense 'tis taken for a Portion of Land, viz. As much as is sufficient to maintain one Family, viz. & confestim ei terram 70 familiarum largitur. Simcon Dunelm. So in Brompton, Dedit ei monasterium triginta familiarum in loco Du Cange. Pro hida, massa, mansa, carucata—Donavit terram quinquaginta familiarum ad construendum monasterium. Beda Hist. Eccl. lib. 4. cap. 3. This Term Hide is, by our Writers, sometimes called a Manse, sometimes a Family, sometimes Carucata, or a Ploughland; containing as much as one Plough and Oxen could cultivate in a Year. Cressy's Church Hist. fol. 723. b. Ubi Beda Familiam, Saxonice ejus interpret coactaneus passim hinc redderet, Anglo-Normanis Carucata terre. Gloss. in x. Script.

Fanaticke, Anno 13 Car. 2. cap. 6. Is used as a general Name for Quakers, Anabaptists, and all other Sectaries and factious Dissenters from the Church of England.

Fawning, Mensis Fanationis, the Fawning-Time or Fence-month in Forests, fifteen Days before Midsummer, and fifteen Days after; when great Care was taken that no Disturbance should be given to the Does or their young Fawns. See Mr. Kenne's Glossary in Fannatio. During this Time, by the Laws of the Forest, all Hunting is prohibited: Prohibendum est etiam ad placitum Forestæ ne aliqua carretta exeat chiminum in Foresta Regis; neque porci sint in Foresta Regis tempore solesun, viz. 15 diebus ante Nativitatem Sancti Johannis Bapt. & 15 diebus post idem Festum. Hoveden, f. 784. See Eoinesun.

Faunatio, (from the Fr. Faonner) A Fawning or bringing forth Young, as Deer do Fawns. Charta Ewreffe, cap. 8.

Fannatum frumentum, Wheat or Bread-Corn clean'd up or fann'd with a Wind-Fan or Knee-Fan. — Collevarius Mon. Wigornie recipit in septimana decem sextarios frumenti Fannatos, & decem mittas brasii. Mon. Angl. tom. 1. p. 136. b.

Farandman, (from the Sax. Faran, to Travel) According to the Interpretation of Skene de verbis. Signif. is a Merchant-Stranger, to whom, by the Laws of Scotland, Justice ought to be done with all Expedition, that his Business or Journey be not hindred.

Fardel of Land (Fardella terra) Is according to some Authors, the fourth Part of a Tard-land; yet Noy in his Complete Lawyer, pag. 57. will have two Fardels of Land make a Nook, and four Nooks make a Yard-land.

Farding-deal, (Sax. Feord, i. e. quarta, and Del, or Dole, pars) alias farundel of Land, Quadrantata terra, signifieth the fourth Part of an Acre, Crom. Jur. fol. 220. Quadrantata terra is read in Reg. Orig. fol. 1. b. where you have Denariata & Obolata, Solidata & Librata terra, which probably must arise in Proportion of Quantity, as an Half-penny, Penny, Shilling, Pound, rise in Value or Estimation; then must Obolata be half an Acre, Denariata an Acre, Solidata twelve Acres, and Librata twelve Score Acres: And yet I find Viginti libratas terra vel redditus. Reg. Orig. fol. 94. and fol. 248. whereby it seemeth, that Librata terra is so much as yieldeth twenty Shillings per annum, and centum solidatas terrarum, tenementorum & reddituum, fol. 149. And in F. N. B. fol. 87. are these Words, Viginti libratas terra vel redditus, which argueth it to be so much Lands as yields twenty Shillings per ann. fee Furlong. Others hold Obolata terra to be but half a Perch, and Denariata a Perch. See Spelm. Gloss. verbo Obolata terre, Sciatis, &c. me R. de J. dedisse Medietatem unius Feorwendel terre, de meo Dominio, &c. Mon. Angl. 2 par. fol. 913. b. At Monkland in Heresfordshire, they call it a Verndal of Land.

Farding, or farthing of Gold, Seemeth to be a Coin used in ancient Times, containing in Value the fourth Part of a Noble, viz. twenty Pence in Silver, and in Weight the sixth Part of an Ounce of Gold; that is, of five Shillings in Silver. This Word is used 9 H. 5. cap. 7. thus, Item, That the King do to be ordained good and just Weight of the Hottel, half Noble, and Farthing of Gold, with the Rates necessary to the same for every City, &c. By which Place it plainly appeareth to have been a Coin, as well as the Noble and half Noble. Knighton, in the Year 1345, saith, Eodem anno nobile & obolus & Forthing de auro ceperunt florere in Anglia.

Fare Signifies a Voyage or Passage, or according as we now use it, Money paid for passing by Water. 2 & 3 P. & M. cap. 16.

Farinagium, Et quod de cetero Molendinarius non capiat Farinagium, &c. Ordinationes Justini. in insula de Jersey, 17 Edw. 2. It seems to signify Toll of Meal or Flower.

Farley, or farleu, In the Manor of West Slapton in Com. Devon. if any Tenant die possessed of a Cottage, he is by the Custom to pay to the Lord Six-pence for a Farley; which I suppose may be in Lieu of a Heriot: For in some Manors Westward, they distinguish Farleu to be the best Good, as Heriot is the best Beast, payable at the Tenant's Death.

Farlingarii, Whoremongers, Adulterers, from the Sax. Forlicgean, Fornicari.

Farinarium, i. e. a Mill, ubi ex frumento mixto farina conficitur.

Farm, See Ferme, from the Sax. Feorm, i. e. Food, and this from Feorman, i. e. to feed. In the Laws of Canutus, in 67. Fearm, Mr. Lambard renders viatum, so reddere firmam annis octis, and reddebat unum diem de firma, is so much Provision for a Night and a Day; for about the Time of William the Conqueror, the Rents were reserved in Provisions, which was altered by H. 1. It is usually the chief Messuage in a Village or Town, whereto belongs great Demeans of all Sorts, and hath been used for Term of Life, Years, at Will. The Rent reserved upon such a Lease, is called Farm, and the Tenant or Lessee Farmer. See Ferme, and Spelm. Gloss. verbo Firma.

Farthing, in Sax. Feorthing, was the fourth Part of a Saxon Penny, and frequently in Use among them. See Penny.

Farthing of Land, (Sax. Færdling) Seems to be a great Quantity, and differs much from Farding-deal; for in a Book Of Survey of the Manor of West-Slapton in Com. Devon, there is an Entry thus made, A. B. holds fix Farthings of Lands at 126 l. per annum. See Fardel and Farding-deal. Farthing always imported the fourth Part. And therefore Quarter-Rials, or Pieces of Gold that passed for two Shillings fix Pence the fourth Part of a Rial current at ten Shillings, were called Rial-Farthings in an Indenture of the Mint. 1 Hen. 6.

Farundel, The same with Farding-deal.

Fasma, i. e. A Language, viz. A Latino Rhetorico fasmate in propriam vertit linguam volumina. Du Cange.

Fessus, A Fagot, Fr. Faisseau.—— Concessit Abbati duos fassos dorsales ramorum grossorum besii ipsius. Mon. Angl. tom. 2. p. 238.

Festman, i. e. Pledges, from the Sax. Fest, firmus, and Man, homo. De emptionibus sine fidei iuramentis quod Anglice vocant Fæstermannes. Leg. Edw. Confessor. cap. 33.

F, or Uass, Is a great wooden Vessel, which among Brewers and Malsters is ordinarily used at this Day to measure Malt by for Expedition, containing eight Bushels, or a Quarter, mentioned 1 H. 5. cap. 10. 11 H. 6. cap. 8. It is also a leaden Pan or Vessel for the Making of Salt at Droitwich in the County of Worcester, whereof the several Owners or Proprietors do claim Estates of Inheritance and Burgess-ship. Also a great brewing Vessel used by all Brewers to run their Wort into.

Fathwut, (LL. Hen. 1. cap. 70.) perhaps the same with the Sax. Fenth-wode, i. e. Factionum seu inimicitiarum multa seu compensatio.

Fatua mulier, A Whore. Cum quadam fatua muliere nudus in lecto cum nuda exitit deprebensus. Du Fresne.

Fauftrum, A Faucet, a musical Pipe or Flute.

Organum tamen & decentum, fauftrum & Pipeb omnino in divino officio omnibus nostris utriusque sexus interdicitur. Regul. Ordinis de Sempringham. p. 17.

Fautors, 16 R. 2. cap. 5. Are Favorers, Supporters or Abettors.

Failing of Record, Fayler de Record, Is, when an Action is brought against one, who pleads any Matter of Record, and avers to prove it by Record: And the Plaintiff saith, Nul tiel Record, whereupon the Defendant hath a Day given him to bring it in, at which Day if he fails, or brings in such a one as is no Bar to this Action; this is said to be a Failure of Record, &c. Terms de la Ley, 346.

faytours, Seemeth to be a French Word antiquated, or something traduced; for the modern French Word is Faiseuse, that is, Factor: It is used in the old Statute, 7 R. 2. cap. 5. and in the evil Part, signifying a bad Doer. It may not improperly be interpreted an idle Liver, taken from Faitardise, which signifies a Kind of Numbs or sleepy Difease, proceeding of too much Sluggishness, which the Latins call Veternus; for in the said Statute it seemeth to be a Synonymon with Vagabond.

feal, The Tenants by Knights-Service did swear to their Lord to be feal and leal, i. e. faithful and loyal. See Spelman of Parliaments, pag. 59.

fealty, Fidelitas, Cometh of the French Feaulte, that is Fides, and signifieth in our Common Law an Oath, taken at the Admittance of every Tenant, to be true to the Lord, of whom he holdeth his Land: And he that holdeth Land by this only Oath, holdeth in the freeest Manner that any Man in England under the King may hold: Because all with us that have Fee, hold per fidem & fiduciam, that is, by Fealty at the least. Smith de Repub. Angl. lib. 3. cap. 8. For Fidelitas is de substantia feudi, as Duarenus saith, de Feud. cap. 2. num. 4. And Mattheus de afflictis de fidei, 320. num. 4. pag. 465. saith, That Fidelitas est substantiale feudi, non servitium: The Particulars of his Oath, as it is used among the Feudists, you may read well exprest by Zafius, in his Treatate de feudis, part 7. num. 15, 16. which is worth the Comparing with the usual Oath taken here in England. This Fealty is also used in other Nations, as the Lombards and Burgundians. Cassanau de consuet. Burgund. pag. 419, 420. And indeed the very Creation of this Tenure, as it grew from the Love of the Lord toward his Followers, so did it bind the Tenant to Fidelity, as appeared by the whole Course of the Feods, and the Breach thereof is the Loss of the Fee. Duarenus in Commentariis feudorum, cap. 15. num. 4. & sequen. Antonius Contius in methodo feudorum, cap. quibus modis feudum amittitur. Hotoman in his Commentaries de verbis feudalibus, sheweth a double Fealty, one general, to be performed by every Subject to his Prince; the other special, required only of such as in respect of their Fee are tied by this Oath to their Landlords: We may read of both in the Grand Custumary of Normandy, being of Course performed to the Duke by all reliant within the Dutchy. This Fealty special is among us performed either by Freemen or Villains. The Form of both see in Anno 14 E. 1. Stat. 2. in these Words, When a Freeman shall do Fealty to his Lord, he shall hold his right Hand upon a Book and say thus, Hear you my Lord R. that I A. B. shall be to you faithful and true, and shall owe my Fealty to you, for the Land that I hold of you, and truly shall do you the Customs and Services that I ought to do to you at the Terms assigned: So help me God, and all his Saints. And shall Kiss the Book, but he shall not kneel. When a Villain shall do Fealty to his Lord, he shall hold his right Hand over the Book, and say thus, Hear you my Lord R. that I R. F. from this Day forth unto you shall be true and faithful, and shall owe you Fealty for the Land which I hold of you in Villenage, and shall be justified by you both in Body and Goods;

So help me God, and all his Saints. See Reg. Orig. fol. 302. a. Fidelitas (saith Spelman) est fidei, obsequii & servitii ligamen, quo generaliter subditus Regi, particulariter Vassallus, domino asstringitur.

It is usually mentioned with Hommage, but it differs from it; for Hommage consists in the Taking an Oath when the Tenant comes to his Land, and is done but once, and so is the Oath of Faalty, but that is an Obligation which is permanent, and binds for ever. These differ also in Manner of the Solemnity, for the Oath of Hommage is taken by the Tenant kneeling, but that of Faalty is taken standing, and includes six Things, which are comprised in these Words, Incolume, tutum, utile, honestum, facile, possibile; Incolume, that he do no bodily Injury to the Lord; Tutum, that he do him no secret Injury in any Thing which is for his Defence, as in his House or Cattle; Honestum, that he do him no Injury in his Reputation; Utile, that he do not damage him in his Possessions; Facile & possibile, that he make it easy and not difficult for the Lord to do any good, which otherwise he might do, nor make that impossible to be done which before was in his Power to do: All which is likewise comprised in Leg. H. 1. cap. 5. Omnis homo fidem det Domino suo de vita & membris suis & terreno honore & observatione consilii sui per honestum & utile, fide dei salva & terra principis salva.

fealtas. See Dedicate and Dedication.

For at first they annually came to pray to the Saint to whom the Church was dedicated, but afterwards only to eat and drink, and exercise themselves in Sports.

Fæda. Item sciendum est quod quatuor virgata terra & dimid. debent seminare & arare novem Secciones terre, in quibus seminant novem Trucas frumenti, quæ vocatur Fæda. Liber niger Heref. fol. 53.

Fæd. Fædum vel feodum, Cometh of the French Word Fief, i. prædium beneficiarium, vel res clientelaris, and is used in our Common Law to signify divers Things: As first, all those Lands which we hold by perpetual Right, as Hotoman well noteth verbo Feodum, de verbis feudalibus. Our ancient Lawyers have not expressed what they fully meant by it, but only say, that by this Name go all Lands and Tenements that are held by any Acknowledgment of Superiority to a higher Lord. They that write of this Subject, divide all Lands and Tenements where a Man hath a perpetual Estate to him and his Heirs, &c. into Allodium, & feodum. 1. Allodium they define to be every Man's own Land, &c. which he possesseth merely in his own Right, without Acknowledgment of any Service, or Payment of any Rent to another; and this is a Property in the highest Degree. 2. Feodum is that which we hold by the Benefit of another, and in the Name whereof we owe Service, or pay Rent, or both, to a superior Lord: And all our Land here in England (the Crown-Lands being in the King's own Hands, in the Right of his Crown excepted) is in the Nature of Feodum or Fief; for though many have Land by Descent from their Ancestors, and others have dearly purchased Land with their Money; yet is the Land of such a Nature, that it cannot come to any either by Descent or Purchase, but with the Burthen that was laid upon him, who had Novel Fee, or first of all received it as a Benefit from his Lord to him and to all such to whom it might defend, or any Way be conveyed from him. So that in Truth no Man hath directum Dominium, the very Property or Domain in any Land, but only the Prince in the Right of his Crown. Camb. Brit. pag. 93. For though he that hath Fee, hath jus perpetuum & utile Dominium, yet he oweth a Duty for it, and therefore it is not simply his own; which Thing, I take those Words, that we use for the expressing of our deepest Rights in any Lands or Tenements, to import: For he that can say most of his Estate, says thus, I am seised of this or that Land or Tenement in my Domain as of Fee, Seisitus inde in Domino meo ut de feudo, and that is as much as if he said, it is my Domain or proper Land after a Sort, because it is to me and my Heirs for ever; yet not simply mine, because I hold it in the Nature of a Benefit from another. Yet the Statute of 37 H. 8. 16. useth these Words of Lands invested in the Crown; but it proceedeth from the not knowing the Nature of this Word Fee; for Fee cannot be without Faalty sworn to a Superior, as you may read partly in the Word Faalty, but more at large in those that write de feudis, and in particular Hotoman both in his Commentaries and Disputations. And Note, that Land, &c. with us is termed Fee in two Respects, one as it belongeth to us and our Heirs for ever, the other as it holdeth of another. Britton, cap. 23. defineth it thus; Fee is a Right consisting in the Person of the true Heir, or of some other that by just Title hath purchased it. Fleta saith, Feudum est quod quis tenet ex quacunque causa sibi & heredibus suis, sive sit tenementum sive redditu qui non proveniunt ex camera, & alio modo dicitur feudum, sicut ejus qui feoffant, & quod quis tenet ab alio sicut dicitur, talis tenet de tali tot feuda per servitium militare. Lib. 5. cap. 5. sect. feudum autem. And all that write de feudis, hold, that feudatarius hath not an intire Property in his Fee. But the Definition of Sir Henry Spelman is most intelligible. A Feud is a Right which the Vassal hath in Land or some immoveable Thing of his Lord's, to use the same, and take the Profits thereof hereditarily, rendering unto his Lord such feudal Duties and Services as belong to military Tenure, the mere Propriety of the Soil always remaining to the Lord. Spelman of Feuds, cap. 1. The Divisions of Fee in divers Respects are many, and worthy to be known; but we divide them only into Fee absolute, otherwise termed Fee-simple; and Fee conditional, otherwise called Fee-tail. Fee-simple, feodum simplex, is that of which we are seised in these general Words, To Us and Our Heirs for ever. Fee-tail, feodum taliatum, is that whereof we are seised to Us and our Heirs, with Limitation, that is, the Heirs of our Body, &c. And this Fee-tail is either general or special: General is, where Land is given to a Man and the Heirs of his Body; the Reason whereof is given by Litleton, lib. 1. cap. 2. because a Man seised of Land by such a Gift, if he marry one or more Wives, and have no Issue by them, and at length marry another by whom he hath Issue; this Issue shall inherit the Land. Fee-tail special, is that, where a Man and his Wife be seised of Lands to them and the Heirs of their two Bodies. The Reason is given likewise by Littleton in the same Place, because in this Case the Wife dying without Issue, and he marrying another by whom he hath Issue; this Issue cannot inherit the Land, being specially given to such Heirs, &c. This Fee-tail hath the Original from the Statute of Westm. 2. cap. 1. made 13 E. 1. Yet see Bratton, lib. 2. cap. 5. num. 3. in his verbis, Item quadam absoluta & larga, & quadam stricta & coarctata sicut certis heredibus. To whom add Plowden, fol. 235. Willion's Case; for before that Statute, all Land given to a Man and his Heirs, either general or special, was accounted in the Nature of a Fee; and therefore held to be so firmly in him to whom it was given, that any Limitation notwithstanding, he might alien, and sell it at his Pleasure, much like that which the Civilians call Nudum preceptum, binding rather by Counsel and Advice, than Compulsion or Restraint. But this seeming unreasonable to the Wisdom of our Realm, that a Man meaning well to this or that Posterity of himself, or his Friends, might be forthwith deceived of his Intention; the said Statute was made for Redress of that Inconvenience, whereby it is ordained, That if a Man give Lands in Fee, limiting the Heir, to whom it shall descend, with a Reversion to himself or his Heirs, for Default, &c. that the Form and true Meaning of his Gift shall be observed: He then that hath Fee, holdeth of another by some Duty or another, which is called Service; and of this Service, and the Diversity thereof, see Chivalry and Service. Secondly, This Word Fee is sometimes used with us for the Compaſs or Circuit of a Manor or Lordship. Bratton, lib. 2. cap. 5. In eadem villa & de eodem feodo. Thirdly, It is used for a perpetual Right incorporeal, as to have the Keeping of Prisons in Fee. Old Nat. Brev. fol. 41. Foster in Fee, eod. fol. 6. Rent granted in Fee, eod. fol. 8. Sheriff in Fee, 28 E. 1. Stat. 3. cap. 8. Lastly, It is taken for a Reward or Wages given to one for the Execution of his Office, as the Fee of a Forester, of a Keeper of a Park, or of a Sheriff for serving an Execution, limited by 20 Eliz. cap. 4. And also for that Consideration given a Serjeant at Law or Counsellor, or a Physician, for their Counsel and Advice in their Profession, which, as it is well observed by Sir John Davis, in his Preface to his Reports, is not properly Merces, but Honorarium; yet in the Law Language it is called a Fee.

Fee-Expectant Is by the Feudists termed feudum expectativum, or expectativa substantively used. Mattheus de afflictiis discis. 292. nu. 2. pag. 417. See Expectant.

Fee-farm, Feudi firma, Is a compound of Fee, and ferme, pradium, and signifieth in a legal Sense Land held of another in Fee, that is, in Perpetuity to himself and his Heir, for so much yearly Rent as it is reasonably worth, more or less, so it be the fourth Part of the Worth, (Old Tenures. See Expofition of the Statute of Gloucester, Anno 6 E. 1.) without Homage, Fealty, or other Services, other than be specially comprised in the Feoffment; but by Fitzherbert in his Nat. Brev. fol. 210. it seemeth, that the third Part of the Value may be appointed for the Rent, or the Finding of a Chaplain to sing Divine Service, &c. And the Nature of it is thus, that if the Rent be behind and unpaid for the Space of two Years, then the Feoffor, or his Heirs, have an Action to recover the Lands as his Demesnes. Britton, cap. 66. num. 4. But observe, that West in his Symbol, part 1. lib. 2. sect. 463. says that the Feoffment may contain Services and Suit of Court, as well as Rent. And in Terms de la Ley, that Fee-farm oweth Fealty, tho' not expressed in the Feoffment, for that Fealty belongeth to all Kind of Tenures; this is near the Nature of that which, among the Civilians, is called Ager Vestigalis, qui in perpetuum licet i. hac lege, ut quamdiu pro eo Vestigal pendatur, tamdiu neque ipsi qui conduxerunt, neque is qui in locum eorum successerunt, auferri eum liceat. The Fee farm Rents remaining to the Kings of England from their ancient Demesnes, were many of them alienated from the Crown in the Reign of King Charles II. But how doubtful Men are of the Title to Alienations of any Nature, is evident from this, that whilst these Rents were expoid to Sale for Ready Money, scarce any would deal for them, and they remained unsold, till the Method of doubling Orders did a little help; but that which made Men earnest indeed to buy them, was the Stop upon some of his Majesties other Payments, which made Men to resort to this as the most eligible in that Conjunction. Vid. Reasonable Defence of seasonable Discourse, p. 27.

Feed alias Feud, Feida alias ſayda, Signifieth in the German Tongue, Gueriam, that is, Capitales inimicitias. Holoman Disput. De feudis, cap. 2. Lamb. in his Expofition of Saxon Words, writes it Feeth, and saith likewise, that it denotes Capitales inimicitias: And also that Feid now used in Scotland, and in the North Parts of England, is the same, that is, a Combination of Kindred, to revenge the Death of any of their Blood against the Killer, and all his Race. See Skene de verbor. Signif. verbo Affidatio.

Fetlus, A small Bundel, an Armful.

Omnes isti debent prata Domini falcare, levare & cavari, & habebunt unum multonem & unum casum, & quilibet habebit unum Fetlum de herba, & omnes homines ville debent singuli dimidium acram metere. Cartular. Abbat. Glaston. MS. f. 40. a.

Felagus, (quasi fide cum eo ligatus) A Companion, but particularly a Friend who was bound in the Decennary for the good Behaviour of another. So in Legibus Ine, cap. 15. 'tis said, if the Murderer could not be found, &c. the Parents of the Deceased should have fix Marks, and the King forty; if he had no Parents, then the Lord should have it: Et si dominum non haberet, Felagus ejus.

So in cap. 35. where a Man hath Liberty to dispose his Arms by his last Will to his Heirs; and if he had none, then the Lord should have them, if no Lord, then Felagus suus, if he had any such, but if none, then to the King. See LL. W. per H. Hunt. MS. fol. 199. a.

Feld is a Saxon Word, and signifies a Field, and therefore, Feld Cyric is a Country-Church, Feld Hufe is a Tent: In its Compound it signifies Wild, as Feld Huning is wild Honey, Feld Alyn, is wild Mint, &c.

Fele Homage, i. e. faithful Subjects, from the Sax. Fay, i. e. Fides.

Felo de se is he that commits Felony by murdering himself. See Crom. Justice of P. fol. 28. and Lamb. Eiren. lib. 2. cap. 7. The Saxons called him Self-banna, Self-bane.

Felony,

Felour, Felonia, Seemeth to come of the French Felonie, (i.) impetuositas. Felonia, saith Honorian, de verbis feudabilibus, non contumaciam vassalli in Dominum, huiusmodi in Vassallum perfidiam significat, verum quoddam capitale facinus. And again, Felonia Gothis & Longobardis dicitur quod Germanis hodie Schelmarey, Latinis Scelus. Sir Edward Coke says, Ideo dicta est felonia, quia fieri debet felleo animo. lib. 4. f. 124. Hoftiens in sua summa, Tit. de Fendis, and others write of it thus, Est culpa vel injuria propter quam Vassallus amittit feudum, &c. But we account any Offence Felony, that is in Degree next Petit Treason, and compriseth divers Particulars, as Murder, Theft, killing of a Man's Self, Sodomy, Rape, wilful burning of Houses, and such like, which are to be collected out of the Statutes, which have made many Offences Felony that before were not. Felony is differenced from lighter Offences in this, that the Punishment thereof is Death, yet not in all Cases: For Petit Larceny, which is the Stealing of any Thing under the Value of twelve Pence, is Felony, as appeareth by Broke Tit. Coron. num. 2. his reason is, because the Indictment against such a one must have these Words, Felonice Cepit; and yet this is not punished by Death, though it be Loss of Goods. Any other Exception I know not, but that a Man may call that Felony, which is under Petit Treason, and punished by Death. Before the Reign of H. 1. Felonies were punished by pecuniary Fines; but he was the first that ordered Felons to be hang'd, viz. about the Year 1108. Of Felonies there may be reckoned two Sorts, one lighter, that for the first Time may have the Benefit of the Clergy, another that may not. And these you may learn to know from the Statutes; for Clergy is allowed, where it is not expressly taken away. Of this read Stamds. pl. cor. lib. 1. from the End of the second Chapter to the thirty-ninth, and the Statutes. See also Lambard's Justice of Peace, lib. 2. cap. 7. in a Table drawn for that Purpose. And also lib. 4. cap. 4. pag. 404. And Crompt. Justice of Peace, fol. 32, &c. Felony is also punished by Loss of Lands not entailed, and Goods and Chattels as well real as personal; and yet by the 37 H. 8. cap. 6. a Difference is made in some Cases touching Land. This Offence ordinarily worketh Corruption of Blood, unless expressly provided against by Statute, as 39 Eliz. cap. 17. How many ways Felony may be committed, see Termes de la Ley, p. 357, 358. and Spelman's Glossary, and Mr. Kenner's Glossary, in Felonia.

Filtrum, A Course Hat, a Felt. See Filtrum. Feme-Cobert Is a married Woman, who is also said to be under Covert-Baron, 27 Eliz. 3.

Femella, i. e. a Woman. 'Tis mentioned in Fleta, lib. 2. c. 1. p. 17. De Femellis nubilibus maritos competentes recusantibus, &c.

France-month, Mensis vetitus, Is a Month wherein it is unlawful to hunt in the Forest, because in that Time the Female Deer do fawn. It being always fifteen Days before Midsummer, according to the Charter of the Forest, viz. In initio quindecim dierum ante festum Sancti Johannis Baptistæ, quando Asportatores nostri conveniunt pro feonatione bestiarum nostrarum; and it doth end fifteen Days after Midsummer, which is upon St. Cyril's Day: And here observe, That every common Month is but twenty-eight Days, but the Fence-month is thirty-one Days, Affisa Forestæ de Pickering, fol. 20. Serjeant Fleetwood in his Collection of the Forest-Laws, fol. 5. saith, That the Fence-month hath always been kept with Watch and Ward in every Bailiwick through the whole Forest since the Time of Canutus. Marewood's Forest-Laws, c. 23. and 20 Car. 2. c. 3. Some ancient Foresters do call this Month, The Defence-month, because then the Deer are to be defended from Scare or Fear. There are also certain Defence-months, or Seasons for Fish, as appears by Westm. 2. cap. 47. 13 E. 1. in these Words, All Waters where Salmons be taken shall be in Defence for taking of Salmons from the Natiuity of our Lady, unto St. Martin's Day, and likewise that young Salmons shall not be taken nor destroyed by Nets, &c. from the midst of April, to the Natiuity of St. John Baptist. See also 13 R. 2. Stat. 1. c. 19.

Fenceid, A Tax or Imposition exacted for the Repelling of Enemies. MS. Antiq. See Flint-wit.

Feod, The Learned Sir Henry Spelman gives this Definition: A Feud is a Right which the Vassal hath in Land, or some immoveable Thing of his Lord's to use the same, and take the Profits thereof hereditarily: Rendering unto his Lord such feudal Duties and Services as belong to military Tenure, the meer Propriety of the Soil always remaining unto the Lord. Spelman of Feuds and Tenures, c. 1.

Fief, Feodalis vel feudalis, Of or belonging to the Fee, Fee-farm, or Fee-simple. An. 12 Car. 2. cap. 24.

Feodalitas, Feodality or Fidelity paid to the Lord by his feudal Tenant. — fecit feodalitatem suam, prout deceat, dicto Domino. Cartular. Radings. MS.

Feodary, Feudary or Feudatarius, Feudatarius, Was an Officer in the Court of Wards, appointed by the Matter of that Court, by Virtue of the Statute 32 H. 8. cap. 46. to be present with the Escheator in every County at the finding of Offices, and to give in Evidence for the King as well for the Value as the Tenure: His Office also was to Survey the Lands of the Ward after the Office found, and to return the true Value thereof into Court; to assign Dower unto the King's Widow, to receive all the Rents of the Wards Lands within his Circuit, and to answer them to the Receiver of the Court. This Officer is mentioned 32 H. 8. cap. 46. and is wholly taken away by 12 Car. 2. cap. 24. And in some ancient Writings it appears, that Noblemen had their particular Feodaries. Humphrey Count de Stafford & de Perch Seigneur de Tunbridge & de Caux, a nostre Feodier en le Counte de Warwick, &c. Sachés que nous, &c. Dat. 17 H. 6. See Mr. Kenner's Glossary, in the Word Feodary.

Feodatary, The Tenant who held his Estate by feudal Service. These Grantees to whom Lands in Feud or Fee were granted from a superior Lord, were called generally in our Latin Characters, Homines, Men or Homagers, and in some other Writings are termed Vassals, Feuds, and Feudataries. At the first Institution of Beneficia, or Fees, (as they were afterwards called) they were revocable at the Will of the Lord, Patron, or Donor, when he pleased. Afterward they were granted for a Year, and then for the Life of the Feodatory or Vassal, then in Process of Time they became successive to the Heirs Male, and by Degrees hereditary to the Female. See Dr. Brady in his Glossary, p. 39.

Feodum Militis seu Militare. A Knight's Fee, which by vulgar Computation contained Four hundred and eighty Acres, as Twenty-four Acres made a Virgate, four Virgates a Hide, and five Hides one Knight's Fee, for which the common Relief paid to the King or other Lord was One hundred Shillings. Yet no doubt, the Measure was uncertain, and differed with Times and Places See Mr. Kennet's Glossary.

Feodum Laicium, A Lay-Fee, or Land held in Fee, from a Lay-Lord by the common Services to which military Tenure was subjected; in Opposition to the Ecclesiastical holding in Frank-almoigne discharged from those Burdens. See Mr. Kennet's Glossary.

De Feoffamento veteri a nobis, These Phrases began in the Reign of Hen. II. when those Knights or military Tenants who had been enfeoffed in any Fees or Parts of a Fee at or before the Death of King Henry I. were said tenere feoda de veteri Feoffamento. But those, who had been infeoffed in their Lands after the Death of the said King, were said tenere de novo Feoffamento.

Feoffment, Feoffamentum, By the Opinion of Sir Thomas Smith de Rebus Anglor. lib. 3. cap. 8. and West. parti. 1. Symb. lib. 2. sect. 280. is descended from the Gothic Word Feodum, which we interpret Fee, and signifieth donationem feudi: But (as the same West addeth) it signifieth in our Common Law any Gift or Grant of any Honours, Castles, Manors, Messuages, Lands or other corporeal and immoveable Things of like Nature unto another in Fee-simple, that is, to him and his Heirs for ever, by the Delivery of Seisin, and the Possession of the Thing given, whether the Gift be made by Deed or Writing: And when it is in Writing, it is called a Deed of Feoffment, and in every Feoffment the Giver is called the Feoffor, Feoffator, and he that receiveth by Virtue of the same, Feoffee, Feoffatus. And Littleton saith, That the proper Difference between a Feoffor and a Donor is, that the Feoffor giveth in Fee-simple, and the Donor in Fee-tail. Lib. 1. c. 6. It is the ancient and most necessary Conveyance, because solemn and publick; and also because it cleareth all Disfeins, Abatements, Intrusions, and other defeasible Estates, where the Entry of the Feoffor is lawful, which neither Fine, Recovery, nor Bargain or Sale by Deed indented and inrolled doth. Ephron enfeoffed Abraham, Gen. 23. See Co. on Lit. lib. 1. cap. 1. sect. 1.

Feoffor and Feoffter, Feoffor, is he that infeoffs, or makes a Feoffment to another of Lands or Tenements in Fee-simple. And Feoffee is he that is infeoffed, or to whom the Feoffment is so made.

Feorm, Among our Saxon Ancestors, those who held the Outlands of the Lord or Thane, as customary Tenants, rendred unto him a certain Portion of Viſuals and Things necessary for Humane Life. This Rent or Reribution they called Feorm, which Word in the Saxon, signified any Meat or Viſuals. And though we have ever since Hen. II. Time, changed this Reservation of Viſuals into Money, yet in letting our Lands, we still retain the Name of Farms and Farmers. See Spelman of Feuds, chap. 7.

Virgil. Æn. 8.

Ferdella tertæ Is ten Acres. See Virgata and Fardel.

Ferdendel. See Farding-dal.

Ferdfare (from the Sax. Fyrd, exercitus, and Fare, iter,) Significat quietantiam eundi in Exercitum. Fleta, lib. 1. cap. 47. — Et sint quieti de Fiftwite, Fleſtwite, & Ferdwite, & Hengewite, & Leirwite, &c. Charta 11 H. 3. m. 33. See Firdfare.

Ferdingel, the fourth Part of a Yard-land, i. e. five Acres, or a fourth Part of a Plough-land. Huius manerio pertinet consuetudo ista de Ferdingel 30 denar. Du Cange.

Ferdwit Significat quietantiam murdri in exercitu. Fleta, lib. 1. cap. 47. that is, to be quit of Murder committed in the Army, & sint quieti de Fiftwite, Fleſtwite, & Ferdwite, & Hengwite, & Leirwite, &c. Charta, 11 H. 3. m. 33.

Ferdwite was indeed a Fine or Mulſt imposed for not going forth in a military Expedition, to which Duty all Persons who held Land, were in Necessity obliged. And therefore a Neglect or Omission of this common Service to the Publick was punished with a pecuniary Mulſt of 120 s. called the Ferdwite; which Penalty was remitted, and Immunity from it granted by several Charters.

Ferdwourth, alias Fredwurth, quasi Firdworth: A Man of that Age, that he might go into the Army: From the Sax. Fird, exercitus, and worht, dignus. See Faldwerth.

Feretrum, a Coffin: Amici extrahunt mortuum deferentes in Feretrum. Leg. H. 1. cap. 36.

Feria secunda, Monday, or the second Day of the Week. Feria tertia, Tuesday, and so on to Feria sexta, Saturday. Hence the Week-Days, as distinguished from Sunday, the Profane from the Sacred, were called Dies FERIALES, as in this Charter. — Nos Willielmus Prior Ecclesie Elyen' & Conu. Concessimus Johanni Dunham Capellano Scholam nostram Grammaticalem — sub hac conditione — ut celebrabit per tres dies feriales in capella Ellemynaria nostra, & per alios tres dies feriales in capella S. Marie, diebus vero dominicis ubicunque voluerit celebrabit. — Dat. 28. Mart. A. D. 1448.

— Ex Cartular. Eccl. Elyens. MS. penes Joh. Episc. Norwic. f. 36.

Feris, A Fair, at first occasioned by the Resort of People to the Feast of Dedication, and therefore in most Places the Fairs (by old Custom, not by later Grants) are on the same Day with the Wake, or Festival of that Saint to whom the Church was dedicated, and for the same Reason kept in the Church-yard, till by Authority restrained. See Mr. Kennet's Glossary, in Feria.

Feriz, Furz, Sax. fyrs. — Item diximus per sacramentum quod non vidimus tempore Henrici & Ricardi quondam Regum Anglie, quod aliquis redderet decimas de feriis aut de degensibus aut de festis ubi prius fuerint demandata. — Conventio facta apud Rhotomagum inter Clerum & Barones, A. D. 1205. Fp

Ferial Days, (Dies FERIALES) Feria, (according to the Latin Dictionary) signifies Holy-days, or Days vacant from Labour and Pleading: But in the Stat. 27 H. 6. c. 5. and in Fortescu, de laudibus LL. Anglie, Ferial-days are taken for Working Days; for S. Silvester obtained, — Sabbati & Domini dies nonne retento, reliquos hebdomade Ferialium nomine distinctos, ut jam ante in Ecclesia vocari cuperant, appellari. So that Ferial-Days are properly all the Days of the Week, except Saturday and Sunday.

Firling Ferlingus, The fourth Part of a Penny, Quadrans. Quando quarterium frumenti venditur pro 12. denar. tunc panis Wastelli de Ferlingis ponderabit 5. lib. & 16. Sol. Affis. panis & cervisi. 51 H. 3. Cambden in his Brit. Tit. Huntingdon says, There were in this Borough four Firlings, that is, Quarters of Wards.

Ferlingata terræ, and Ferlingus, the fourth Part of a Yard-Land. Decem acra faciunt unam Ferlingatam, 4 Firlingatæ virgata, 4 Virgata bidam, & 5 Hide secundum militare. Efc. 12 E. 2. n. 18 Ebor. In ancient Records is used both Ferlingus & Ferdingus terræ. See Mon. Ang. 2. par. fol. 8. My Lord Coke tells us that Ferdingus terræ is the same as a Quarentine of Land, and that it contains thirty-two Acres. But I find a Quarentine is no more than forty Perches, which is but one Acre. Du Cange.

Ferm or farm, Firma, Cometh of the French Ferme, prædium, and signifieth with us House or Land, or both, taken either by Indenture of Lease, or Lease-parol. In this the North Parts is called a Tack, in Lancashire a Form-bolt, in Essex a Wike. We may conjecture, that both the French and English Word came from the Latin firmus; for I find locare ad firmum to signify with others as much as to set or let to Farm with us; the Reason whereof may be in respect of the sure Hold they have beyond Tenants at Will. Vide Vocabul. utriusque juris, verbo Affisus. In the Terms of the Law it is derived from the Saxon Fœrmian, which signifieth to feed or yield Viſtual. For in ancient Time the Reservations were as well in Viſtuals as Money: How many ways Farm is taken, see Plowden, fol. 195. Wriothesley's Case. See Fœrm.

Fermariy, an Hospital: Friars of the Fermariy: From the Sax. Fœrme, Vicinus.

Fermeholi. See Wyke.

Fermifona, (from the Sax. Fœrme, i. e. Food, or Feeding,) the Winter Season of Deer, as Tempus Pinguedinis is the Summer Season. Quod idem Hugo & heredes sui de cætero quolibet anno possunt capere in prædicto Parvo (de Blore) unam damam in Fermifona inter Festum Sancti Martini & Purif. Beate Marie, & unam damam in Pinguedine inter Festum Sanctæ Crucis in Mayo & Festum S. Crucis in Septembr. imperpetuum: Ita quod qualemunque bestiam tempore Pinguedinis vel Fermifonæ berſaverint, vel cum prædictis canibus ceperint, illa bestia eis remanebit; & si sit in Fermifona allocabitur eis pro dama, & si sit in Pinguedine, allocabitur eis pro damo, &c. Fin. Concor. in Curia Dom. Regis apud Litchfield coram Roger. de Turkibij, &c. inter Hugonem de Acovre quer. & Wil. de Aldetheley Defore. Penes Will. Dugdale, Mil. See Tempus Pinguedinis.

Rex — dilecto Ric. Cassel custodi Manerii de Brutwyk salutem. Cum mittamus dilectum Valletum nostrum Johannem de Fulham ad instantem Fermifonam in Parcibus nostris ibidem, prout vobis & sibi melius ad opus nostrum fore cideritis faciend.

capieud. Vobis mandamus, &c. Claus. 30 Ed. 1. m. 18.

Fernigo, A waste Place where Fern grows — Retentis Abbati Glastoniæ & ejusdem loci Conventui piscaria de fernigine & toto avundinetu ejusdem manerii. — Cartular. Abbat. Glaston. MS. fol. 536.

Ferramentum. Dedi autem potestatem dicto P. quod possit prædictum W. & heredes suos, vel quemcumque qui dictum molendinum tenuerit per Ferramenta dicti molendini, & per omnia averia sua, & per terras & tenementa pro prædicto redditu distringere, &c. Charta Gilb. Talbor Mil. sine dat. By Ferramenta are here meant the Iron Tools or Instruments of the Mill. Et reparare Ferramenta ad tres Carucas, i. e. The Iron Work of three Ploughs. Lib. niger Heresf.

Ferrandus, An Iron Colour attributed to Horses, which we still call an Iron Grey. — Ecce puer de foro veniens quæsit cujusmodi equum haberet ille Archidiaconi cliens, & cum audiret ferrandum, dixit se quendam salem equitatum vidisse. Girald. Camb. apud Whartoni Angl. Sacr. P. 2. pag. 494.

Ferruere, The shoeing of Horses. See Bouche of Court.

Ferschet, A Fare or Fare-shot, The customary Payment for a Passage over a River, or crossing a Ferry in a Ferry-Boat with Faring-Men, or Feres, or Passengers.

Fersperker, To speak suddenly. Nemo potest de seudo Domini sui placitare sine eo, nec cogi debet rectum ejus fersperken, (i. e. to speak suddenly,) nec ferspillam, (i. e. to give a hasty Account,) de omnibus causis communibus vel emendabilibus implicetur aliquis, si petierit debet habere terminum requirendi & habendi Dominum suum. Leg. H. 1. c. 61.

Festa in Cappis Were some chief Holidays, in which the whole Choir wore Caps. In Festis quæ in Cappis sunt & maxime precipuis. Vitæ Abbat. S. Alban. p. 80, 83.

Festingenen, Ut illud Monasterium sit liberatum ab illis incommodis, quæ nos Saxonica lingua Festingenen dicimus. Mon. Ang. 1. par. fol. 123. a.

The Saxon Festennon signifies Fidejussor, a Pledge; so that to be free of Festingenen, in all Probability is to be free of Frank-Pledge, and not to be bound for any Man's forth-coming, who should transgress the Law.

Festing-Penny, Earnest given to Servants when hired or retained, is so called in some Northern Parts of England, and in others it is termed Arles Penny, from the Saxon Festnian, to fasten or confirm.

Festum Properly signifies a Feast, but it is usually taken for a General Court which was formerly kept on the great Festivals in the Year. Thus we read in our Historians, that in such a Year the King kept his Christmas at Winchester, &c. that is, he kept a Court there at that Time, viz. Rex apud Winton maximum Festum & Convivium celebravit, tempore Natalis Domini, convocatis ibidem Principibus & Baronibus totius Regni.

Festum S. Michaelis Is that Day in which the Christians fought with the Infidels, and obtained a Victory by the Help of St. Michael, now called Michaelmas-Day.

Festum nativitatæ B. Mariæ Was thus instituted, viz. A melancholy Man, who led a holy Life, did every Year hear the melodious Harmony of Angels in Heaven: At which being wonderfully surprized, and being one Day very earnest neft in Prayer, an Angel told him that on that Day the Virgin Mary was born; and because the Day of her Birth was not known on Earth, therefore it was celebrated by the Angels. This being told to the Church, that Day was afterwards fet apart to commemorate her Birth. Hor. Auguftin. Lib. 3. cap. 16.

Feud, or Feed, (Feida, alias Faida.) fignifies in the German Tongue Guerram, i. e. Bellum. Lambard writes it Feeth, and faith it fignifies Capitales inimicitias. Feud is ufed in Scotland, and the North of England, for a Combination of Kindred to Revenge the Death of any of their Blood againft the Killer, and all his Race, or any other great Enemy. See Skene, verbo Affidatio, and 43 El. cap. 13.

Feudal. See Feodal.

Feodary. See Feodary.

Feud-bote Is a Recompence for engaging in a Feud or Faction, and the contingent Damages; it having been the Custom of ancient Times, for all the Kindred to engage in the Kinsman's Quarrel; according to that of Tacitus, De moribus Germanorum, fufcipere tam inimicitias feu patris, feu propinqui, quam amicitias necesse est.

Feugera. *Inter antiquas confuetudines Abbatie de Sancto Edmundo. — Tota pafitura brueræ de Herdwyk perinet ad Cellerarium, ut nullus poffit ibidem pafcere neque aliud quid facere aliquo tempore anni fine licentia Cellerarii, præter feugeram brueræ quæ perinet ad tenentes de Herdwike. Fifteenth, Decima quinta, Is a Tribute or Impoſition of Money laid upon a City, Borough, or other Town, through the Realm; not by the Pole, or upon this or that Man, but in general upon the whole City or Town, and ſo called, becauſe it amounted to a Fifteenth Part of that which the City or Town hath been valued at of old; or to a Fifteenth Part of every Man's Goods and perſonal Eſtate, according to a reaſonable Valuation. This is now impoſed by Parliament, and every Town through the Realm knoweth what a Fifteenth for themſelves doth amount to, becauſe it is perpetually the ſame. Whereas the Subſidy, which is raiſed of every particular Man's Lands or Goods, muſt needs be uncertain, becauſe the Eſtate of ſeveral Men is uncertain. And in that regard, a Fifteenth ſeems to be a Rate anciently laid upon every Town, according to the Landor Circuit belonging to it: Whereof Cambden in his Brit. makes frequent Mention, particularly pag. 168. of Wells in Somerſetſhire, thus, *Quo tempore ut teſtatur cenſualis Anglia liber, Epifcopus ipſum oppidum tenuit, quod pro quinquaginta hidis geldavit. And pag. 172. Of Bath, Geldabat pro viginti hidis, quando ſcibra geldabat. Thirdly, pag. 181. Old Sarum or Salisbury, pro quinquaginta hidis geldabat. And theſe Rates were taken out of Domeſday-Book in the Exchequer. So that in old Time this ſeemed to be a yearly Tribute in Certainty; whereas now, though the Rate be certain, yet it is not levied but by Parliament. See Tax and Quinzime.*

Fightwite, A Saxon Word, ſignifying a Mult of 120 Shillings, for making a Quarrel to the Diſturbance of the Peace. Filacer, Filazarius, Poſſibly derived from the Latin filum, a Thread, is an Officer in the Common Pleas (ſo called) becauſe he files thoſe Writs whereupon he makes Proceſs. There are Fourteen of them in their ſeveral Diviſions and Counties, they make out all original Proceſs, as well real as perſonal and mixt; and in Actions merely perſonal, where the Defendants be returned or ſummoned, there goeth out the Diſtreſs infinite until Appearance; if he be returned Nihil, there Proceſs of Capias infinite, if the Plaintiff will; or after the third Capias, the Plaintiff may go to the Exigent of the Shire, where his Original is grounded, and have an Exigent or Proclamation made. Alſo the Filacer maketh all Sorts of Writs of View, in Cauſes where the View is pray'd; and upon all Replevins or Reordare's, Writs of retorno habendo, Second Deliverance, and Witthernam. They enter all Appearances and ſpecial Bails upon any Proceſs made by them. They make the firſt Scire faciās upon ſpecial Bails; Writs of Habeas Corpus, Diſtringas Nuper vicecomitem vel Ballivum and Duces tecum, and all Superſedeas upon ſpecial Bail, or otherwiſe; Writs of Habeas corpus cum cauſa upon the Sheriff's Return, that the Defendant is detained with other Actions; Writs of Adjournment of a Term, in caſe of Peſtilence, War, or publick Diſturbance, and (until (until an Order of that Court made 14 Fac- which limited the Filacers to all Matters and Proceedings before Appearance, and the Protonotaries to all after) did enter Declarations, Imparlances, Judgments and Pleas, whereunto a Serjeant's Hand was not requisite; and made out Writs of Execution, and divers other Judicial Writs after Appearance. And in the King's Bench of later Times, there have been Filacers who make Process upon original Writs returnable in that Court, upon Actions contra pacem. The Filacers of the Common Pleas having been Officers of that Court before the Statute of 10 H. 6. cap. 4. wherein they are mentioned.

Filacium, The File or Thread upon which Writs or loose Papers are filed up together, to preserve them. — Ipsud breve est in Filaciis Mareschalli. Will. Thorn. Hence Custodes Filaciorum, or File-keepers in our Courts of Judicature, were called Filacers.

Fildale, quass, Field-Ale: A Sort of Drinking in the Field by the Bailiffs of the Hundreds; for which they gathered Money of the Inhabitants of that Hundred. It was prohibited in the Days of Bracton, lib. 3. fol. 117. According to Sir Edward Coke's 4 Inst. fol. 307. an Extortion Colore Compositionis. The true Word is Fild-ale, Quod Compositionis in Campis significat. See Scotale.

File, Filacium, Is a Thread or Wire, whereon Writs and other Exhibits in Courts and Offices are filed, for the more safe Keeping of them. File also signifies Attaint; from the Sax. Fylan, inquinare.

Filicetum, and Filicium, a Ferny Ground. 1 Inst. fol. 4. b. Ubi filices cresunt.

Filiolus is properly a little Son, also a Godson. Sciatis — quod ego Johannes Lovet Miles Dominus de Elmley-Lovet, Dedi Waltero le Blount fratri meo, & Johanni Filio suo, Filiolo meo, quinddecim solidos annui redditus, &c. Sine dat. Finis, Finis, Hath divers Applications in the Common Law, sometimes being used for a formal or ceremonious Conveyance of Lands or Tenements: Or as West saith, Tit. Fines, sect. 25. of any Thing inheritable, being in esse tempore finis, to the End to cut off all Controversies. The same West in his 2 par. Symbol, sect. 1. thus defines it, To be a Covenant made before Justices, and entered of Record. But Glauville more nobly thus, lib. 8. cap. 1. Finis est amicalis compositio & finalis concordia ex consensu & licentia Domini Regis vel justiciariorum. And lib. 9. cap. 3. Talis concordia finalis dicitur, eo quod finem imponit negotio, adeo ut neutra pars litigantium ab eo de cetero poterit recedere. And Bracton, lib. 5. cap. 28. num. 7. thus, Finis ideo dicitur finalis concordia, quia imponit finem litibus & est exceptio peremptoria. The Author of the New Terms of the Law defineth it to be a final Agreement, had between Persons concerning any Lands or Rent, or other Things whereof any Suit or Writ is between them hanging in any Court. See the New Book of Entries, verbo Fines, and 27 E. 1. Stat. 1. cap. 1. This Fine is of so high a Nature, that Bracton, lib. cap. 7. num. 3. saith of it thus, Item immediate pertinet ad Regem quærela finis facti in curia Domini Regis & non observati, & est ratio, quia nemo potest finem interpretare nisi ipse Rex, in cuius curia fines sunt. The Civilians would call this solemn Contract, Transactio-nem judicalem de re immobili, because it hath all the Properties of a Transaction, if it be considered in the original Use. Wesemb. parat. Tit. de Transact. For it appeareth by the Writers of the Common Law before recited, that it is nothing but a Composition or Concord acknowledged, and recorded before a competent Judge, touching some Hereditament, or Thing immovable, that before was in Controversy between the Parties to the same Concord: And that for the better Credit of the Transaction, being, by Impuration, made in the Presence of the King, because it is levied in his Court; and therefore doth it bind Women covert being Parties, and others, whom ordinarily the Law disableth to transact, only for this Reason, that all Presumption of Deceit or evil Meaning is excluded, where the King and his Court of Justice are supposed to be privy to the Act. Originally the Use of this final Concord was instituted and allowed, in regard that by the Law, and ancient Proceedings, no Plaintiff (giving real Security de clamore suo profequendo;) could agree without Licence of the Court: So as Fines have been anciently levied in personal Actions, and for no greater a Sum of Money than 11 l. But Subtily of Wit and Reason hath in Time wrought other Uses of this Concord, which in the Beginning was but one, viz. to secure the Title that any Man hath in his Possession against all Men; to cut off Entails, and with more Certainty to pass the Interest or Title of any Land or Tenement, though not controverted, to whom we think good, either for Years or in Fee: Inasmuch, that the Passing of a Fine, in some Cases, now is but mera fictio Juris, alluding to the Use for which it was invented, and supposing a Doubt or Controversy, where in Truth none is; and so not only to work a present Prescription against the Parties to the Concord or Fine, and their Heirs, but within five Years against all others, not expressly excepted (if it be levied upon good Consideration, and without Covin) as Women covert, Persons under one and twenty Years of Age, Prisoners, or such as be out of the Realm at the Time when it was acknowledged. Touching this Matter, see the Statutes, 1 R. 3. cap. 7. 4 H. 7. cap. 24. 32 H. 8. 36. and 31 El. 1. This Fine hath in it five essential Parts; 1. The Original Writ taken out against the Conusor. 2. The King's Licence, giving the Parties Liberty to accord, for which he hath a Fine called The King's Silver, being accounted a Part of the Revenue of the Crown. 3. The Concord it self which thus beginneth, Est est concordia talis, &c. 4. The Note of the Fine, which is an Abstract of the Original Concord, and beginneth in this Manner, sc. Inter R. Queventem & S. & E. uxorem ejus desorientes, &c. (where instead of Desorientes, anciently Impedientes was used.) 5. The Foot of the Fine, which beginneth thus, Hec est finalis concordia facta in curia Domini Regis, apud Westm. a die Pasche in quindecim dies, anno, &c. So as the Foot of the Fine includeth all containing the Day, Year, and Place, and before what Justice the Concord was made. Co. vol. 6. fol. 38, 39. Teye's Case. This Fine is either single or double. A single Fine is that by which nothing is granted or rendered back again by the Conusees to the Conusors, or any of them. A double Fine containeth a Grant or Render back again, either of some Rent, Common, or other Thing out of the Land, or of the Land it self to all, or some of the Conusors for some Estate, limiting thereby many Times Remainders to Strangers, which be not named in the Writ of Covenant. West. ubi supra, sect. 21. Again a Fine is of the Effect divided into a Fine executed, and a Fine executory. A Fine executed is such a Fine, as of its own Force giveth a present Possession (at the least in Law) unto the Conusee, so that he needeth no Writ of Habere facias seisinam for the Execution of the same, but may enter; of which Sort is a Fine sur cognizance de droit come ceo qui il ad de son done, that is upon Acknowledgment that the Thing mentioned in the Concord be Fus ipsius Cognizati ut illa que idem habet de dono Cognitoris. West. sect. 51. And the Reason of this seemeth to be, because this Fine passeth by way of Release of that Thing, which the Conusee hath already (at least by Supposition) by Virtue of a former Gift of the Conusor. Co. Rep. lib. 3. fol. 89. Case of Fines, which is in very Deed the surest Fine of all. Fines executory are such as of their own Force do not execute the Possession in the Conusees, as Fines sur Conusance de droit tantum, Fines sur dones, Grant, Release, Confirmation, or Render; for if such Fines be not levied, or such Render made unto them that be in Possession at the Time of the Fines levied, the Conusees must needs sue Writs of Habere facias seisinam, according to their several Cases, for the Obtaining of their Possessions except at the Levying such executory Fines, the Parties unto whom the Estate is by them limited, be in Possession of the Lands passed thereby: For in this Case such Fines do enure by way of Extinguishment of Right, not altering the Estate of Possession of the Conusee, but perchance bettering it. West. ubi supra, sect. 20. Touching the Form of these Fines, we must consider, upon what Writ or Action the Concord is to be made, and that is most commonly upon a Writ of Covenant; and then first there must pass a Pair of Indentures between the Conusor and Conusee, whereby the Conusor covenanteth with the Conusee, to pass a Fine unto him of such or such Things, by a Day set down: And these Indentures, as they are first in this Proceeding, so they are said to lead the Fine; upon this Covenant, the Writ of Covenant is brought by the Conusee against the Conusor, who hereupon yieldeth to pass the Fine before a Judge; and so the Acknowledgment being recorded, the Conusor and his Heirs are presently concluded, and all Strangers not excepted, after five Years once passed. If the Writ whereupon the Fine is grounded be not a Writ of Covenant, but of Warrantia Charta, or Writ of Right, or a Writ of Mesne, or a Writ of Customs and Services; for all these Fines may also be found, West (ubi supra, sect. 23.) then this Form is observed, the Writ is served upon the Party that is to acknowledge the Fine, and then he appearing, doth accordingly. See Dyer, fol. 179. num. 46. Fines are now only levied in the Court of Common Pleas at Westminster, in regard of the Solemnity thereof, ordained by the Statute of 18 E. 1. Before which Time they were sometimes levied in the County-Courts, Court-Barons, and in the Exchequer, as may be seen in Origines Juridicales & alibi. Plowden says there were Fines levied before the Conquest: Fulbe says he has seen the Exemplification of one of Henry the First's Time; Dugdale, none till Henry the Second. See Impediens. This Word Fine, sometimes also signifieth a Sum of Money paid for an Income to Lands or Tenements let by Lease, anciently called Gerfuma; sometimes an Amends, pecuniary Punishment or Recompence upon an Offence committed against the King and his Laws, or against the Lord of a Manor: In which Case a Man is said Finem facere de transgressione cum Rege, &c. Reg. Jud. f. 25. a. And of the Diversity of these Fines, with other Matter worth the Learning, see Crompton's Justice of Peace, fol. 141, 143, 144. and Lambard's Eiren. lib. 4. cap. 16. pag. 555. But in all these Diversities of Uses it hath but one Signification, and that is a final Conclusion, or End of Differences between Parties. And in this last Sense, wherein it is used for the Ending and Remission of an Offence, Bracton hath it, lib. 2. cap. 15. num. 8. speaking of a common Fine, that the County payeth to the King for false Judgments, or other Trespases to be assessed by the Justices in Eire before their Departure, by the Oath of Knights, and other good Men, upon such as ought to pay it, with whom agreeeth the Statute 3 E. 1. c. 18. There is also a Common Fine in Leets. See Kitchin, f. 13. Vide Common Fine. Eleta, lib. 1. c. 48. and Co. on Lit. f. 126.

Fine adnuellando leuato de Tenemento quod fuit de antiquo dominico. Is a Writ to the Justices, for the annulling of a Fine, levied of Lands holden in ancient Demesne to the Prejudice of the Lord. Regist. Orig. fol. 15.

Fine capiendo pro terris, &c. Is a Writ lying for one that, upon Conviction by a Jury, having his Lands and Goods taken into the King's Hands, and his Body committed to Prison, obtaineth Favour for a Sum of Money, &c. to be committed his Imprisonment, and his Lands and Goods to be redelivered unto him. Reg. Orig. fol. 142.

Fine Force Cometh of the French Adjective Fin, signifying sometimes Crafty, sometimes artificial or exact, and the Substantive Force, in Latin Vis; so that it signifies an absolute Necessity or Constraint not avoidable; as when a Man is constrained to do that which he can no way avoid, we say, He doth it de fine force, and in this Sense it is used, Old Nat. Brev. f. 78. and in the Statute 35 H. 8. c. 12, and in Perkins, Dower 321. In Mantell and Woodland's Case. Plow. f. 94. And in Eyton's Case, cited in Forley's Case. Co. 6. Rep. fol. 111.

Fine lebando de Tenementis tenitis de Rege in Capite, &c. Is a Writ directed to the Justices of the Common Pleas, whereby to licence them to admit of a Fine for Sale of Lands held in Capite. Reg. Orig. fol. 167.

Firmum facere, i. e. To compound, or make Satisfaction for a Crime. 'Tis mentioned in Leg. H. 1. c. 53. in Mat. Paris. p. 586. and in Walsingham, p. 180.

Fine non cavendo pro pultche placitando, Is a Writ to inhibit Officers of Courts to take Fines for fair Pleading. Reg. Orig. fol. 179. See Pleder.

Fine pro rediffessina capienda, &c. Is a Writ that lieth for the Release of one laid in Prison for Rediffessin, upon a reasonable Fine. Reg. Orig. fol. 222.

Fines for Alienação are reasonable Fines paid to the King by his Tenants in chief, for Licence to alien their Lands according to the Stat. 1 E. 3. cap. 112. But see the Statute lately made. 12 Car. 2. cap. 24.

Fines pro licentia concordandi. See 21 H. 8. cap. 1. See Fine.

Fine sur concessit is a Fine levied upon the Grant of an Estate for Years, to bar the Heir in Tail during the Term.

Finire, To Fine or Pay a Fine upon Composition. — Inquirendum est etiam que vidue non finirent pro se maritandis, & finis capiatur ad opus Domini Regis. Rog. Hoveden, p. 783. Finire is also the same with Finem facere in Brompton, pag. 1105. Quando Rex Scotia cum Domino Rege Finivit, &c. and in Hoveden, pag. 783.

Finisio, i. e. Death; so called, because Vita Finitur morte.

Finors of Gold and Silver Be those that purify and separate those Metals from other courser, by Fire and Water. Anno 4 Hen. 7. cap. 2. They be also in the same Place called Parters, sometimes Departers.

Finstuit, 'Tis mentioned in the Laws of H. 1. c. 3. and is the same with Fengeld. From the Sax. feod, Inimicus, and uite, Multa.

Fiola for Phiala, i. e. a Viol, or little Bottle. Mat. Paris. 146. In aurata Fiola cum vinum coloratum acceperis, time venena.

Firdfare, i. e. a Going into the Army, or Taking up Arms. From the Sax. Fird, Exercitus, and Fare, iter. 'Tis one of the Offences which properly belongs to the King's Determination, Qui Burghbotam, i. e. a Contribution towards building a Castle; Brigbotam, i. e. towards building a Bridge; vel Firdfare superfederit, i. e. is not gone into the Army. Leg. H. 1. cap. 10.

Firdferinga, i. e. a Preparation to go into the Army; which was another Offence immediately under the Cognizance of the King. Ibid.

Firdferunga, Furniture for the Army. See Firdthunga.

Firdfare. See Ferdfare.

Firdfole. See Fridfole.

Firdwite, A Mult or Penalty imposed on military Tenants for their Default in not appearing in Arms or coming to an Expedition. Militia detractate multa. LL. Canuti, par. 2. ca. 22. See Ferdwite.

Firdwerthi, Ferdwerthi, military Men, or Men worthy to take Arms, or mustred, or enrolled to appear upon any occasional Expedition. —

Volo ut Abbas & Fratres Ramefia habeant Sacam in omnibus super homines qui sunt Motwrtbi, Fredwrtbi, Ealdwrtbi, in isto hundredo & dimidio. Histor. Monasterii Ramefci. in Edit. Gale. cap. 103.

Firebare, Quod sine dilatione levavi & reparavi fac. signa & Firebares super montes altiores in quolibet Hundredo. Ita quod tota patria, per illa signa, quotiescunque necesse fuerit, pramuniri potest, &c. Ordinatio pro vigiliis observandis a Lynne usque Yarmouth. Temp. Ed. 2. Perhaps from the Saxon Fyretor, a Beacon or a High Tower by the Sea-side, wherein were continual Lights, either to direct Sailors in the Night, or give Warning of the Enemy.

Firebote, For the Composition of the Word, see Hay-bote. It signifieth an Allowance of Wood or Estovers, to maintain competent firing for the Use of the Tenants: Which by the Common Law any Man may take out of the Lands granted to him.

Fire-Ordeal, Our devout old Ancestors had a way of Purgation or Acquitting themselves from any Charge or Accusation of Crime, by an Appeal as it were to God himself, and therefore called it Dei judicium, or God's Ordeal. This was commonly of two Sorts, Fire-Ordeal and Water-Ordeal. This Fire-Ordeal, which was the Privilege only of Freemen, and the better Sort of People, was twofold, either first, by stepping bare Foot and Blindfold over nine Plough-shares red-hot, laid in length at equal Distance, which if the Defendant passed unburnt, he was judged Innocent, but if burnt, he was concluded Guilty. Or Secondly, By taking a Piece of red-hot Iron in the Hand, usually of one Pound Weight, which was called Simple-Ordeal, or of two Pounds, which was duplex, or of three Pounds Weight, which was triplex Ordallum. See Water-Ordeal.

Fitlot, a certain Measure of Liquids, something more than a Gallon. From the Sax. Feowes, Quatuor, and Lot, portio.

Firma, Ad firmam noctis, Was a Custom or Tribute paid towards the Entertaining of the King for one Night, according to Domesday. Comes Meriton T. R. E. reddebat firmam unius noctis; that is, Entertaining for one Night, or the Value of it. Firma Regis, anciently pro villa Regis, seu Regis Manerio. Spelman. By a Charter of King Edgar to Ely, it is limited to a Penalty, to pay one Night's Firme, if the Privileges be broken by any Man. See Domesday.

Firma is also used for Rent; as in this ancient Precept of William the Conqueror. Willielmus Rex Anglorum Willielmo de Cahannis salutem. Precipio pio tibi ut facias convenire Schiram de Hamtonia & judicio ejus cognosce, si terra de Iſham reddidit Firmam Monachis Sancti Benedicti, &c. Ex Regit. de Ramsey in Seacc. Land let apud altam firmam, i. e. at the Rack; and Firma alba, Rent paid in Silver, not in Cattle or Provision for the Lord's House. See Black Maile.

Firma is taken for a Banquet, Supper, or any Provision for the Table. Mandavimus Regi quod ad Firmam suam properans cibos salatos sufficientes inveniret. H. Huntingdon, lib. 6. p. 367. And Knighton, speaking of the same Thing saith, Ad festum suum properans. In Domesday the Word Firma is often mentioned, viz. Reddere Firmam unius noctis: Reddebat unum diem de Firma; de hoc manerio ablata terre que reddant Canonici T. R. E. Firmam quatuor septimanarum: That is, Firma noctis is a Supper, Firma diei a Dinner, and Firma quatuor Septimanarum is a Provision for so long Time. Du Cange. Sometimes 'tis taken for Money paid instead of Victuals. Habemus igitur de maneriis nostris 53 Firmas.

Firmaculum, a Button; sometimes Firmabulum: As, capum choralem dilaceravit, & Firmabulum quod vulgo morsus dicitur. Matt. Paris.

Firmatio, Firming or Holding to Firm. The Firmary's or Farmer's Right to the Lands and Tenements let to him ad firmam. — Canonici Firmarius — si firmæ solutionem per dies omiserit — a firmatione ejus, si firmam bracio vel camera solvere tenebatur, ipso facto sit amotus. — Statuta Eccl. Paulinæ. MS. f. 49. b. Hence antiqua firma was the old customary Rent. And affirmatus was farmed out, or let for such a certain Firm or Rent. See Mr. Kennet's Glossary in Ad firmam dare.

Firmatio, Firmationis tempus, Doe-season, as opposed to Buck-season. — Et sciendum est quod tempus pinguedinis hic computatur inter Festum beati Petri ad vincula & exaltationem Sanctæ Crucis; Et tempus firmationis inter Festum S. Martini & Purificationem beate Mariæ. 31 H. III.

Firmatio, a Supplying with Food: Si civilis homo forisbanniti Firmationis accusetur per suam ipsi quædam neget. Leg. Inæ, c. 34. i. e. accused of giving Victuals to a Fugitive.

Firmata, a Fortification or Castle well fortified: Et nimia festinatione Saxonum casas seu Firmatas subito introivit. Du Cange.

Firmum, Feorm, Food, Victuals, or Furnety given by the Lord to entertain his labouring Tenants. — Quilibet debet flagellare dimid. crannock frumenti ad semen, & duos bussellos frumenti contra Natale ad firma sua faciendam. Cartular. Abbat. Glaston. MS. f. 39. a. Rather perhaps Rent paid in customary Services.

Firmura, Will. de Cressi gave to the Monks of Blyth a certain Mill cum libera firmura of the Dam of it, — Reg. de Blyth. This Dr. Thoroton Englishes Free Firmage, but that is still a hard Word. I think it intends free Liberty to scour and repair the Mill-Dam, and to carry away the Soil, &c.

Firistalli, Culminis ruina.

Firistruit, or Annates, Primitie, Are the Profits of every Spiritual Living for one Year, given in ancient Time to the Pope through all Christendom. But by the Stat. 26 H. 8. cap. 3. translated to the King here in England; for the Ordering whereof, there was a Court erected 32 H. 8. cap. 45. but again dissolved Anno primo Mariæ, Sess. 2. cap. 10. And since that Time, tho' those Profits be reduced again to the Crown by the Stat. 1. El. c. 4. yet was the Court never restored but all Matters therein went to be handled, were transferred to the Exchequer. See Annates.

Firith, or rather Fyrht, a Ghost.

Firthinga, an Expedition, or military Progress, for Preparing for an Expedition. Du Cange.

Fiscalmus, a Villain.

Fifthgarth, (An. 23 H. 8. c. 18.) Dr. Skinner, in his Etymologicon, says, 'Tis an Engine to take Fish; but it seems rather to signify the Dam or Wear in a River, where these Engines are laid and used. For Garth in the North is still used for a Backside or Homestead.

Fistula, the Pipe which was put into the Cup out of which the Communicants sucked the Wine: Divisit Ecclesiis cruces, altaria, scrinia, &c. fistulas, fistulas & ornamenta varia. Flor. Wigorn. Anno 1087.

Fisth. See Furrere.

Fithwite, But more rightly Fithewite, From the Saxon Feoht, pugna, and Wite, multa; so that it is a Fine laid upon one for fighting and breaking the Peace: Si pugnaverint & percusserint se, quamvis sanguinem non extraxerint, Prior habebit inde Fithwite, that is, amerciamenta. Ex Registro Priorat. de Cokesford.

Fitzherbert Was a famous Lawyer in the Days of King Henry the Eighth, and was Chief Justice of the Common Pleas; he wrote two Books of great Reputation, one An Abridgment of the Common Law, another intitled; De Natura Brevium.

Flecta, A feathered Arrow, or fledged Arrow, a fleet Arrow. Radulphus le Fletcher tenet in Bradele com. Linc. per servitium reddendi per annum viginti flectas ad scaccarium Domini Regis — 9 Ed. 1. otherwise called Sagitta floctata. — Willielmus de Gresley tenet manerium de Drakclow, in com. Derb. & reddit unum arcum sine corda, & unam pharetram de Tatesbit, & duodecim sagittas floctatas. Ibid. p. 15.

Fledwite or flightwite, (Sax. Flyht, fuga, and Wite, multa) signifies in our ancient Laws, a Discharge or Freedom from Amerciements, when one, having been an outlawed Fugitive, comes to the Peace of our Lord the King, of his own Accord, or with Licence. Thus Rasfal. But Quere, whether it does not rather signify a Mult or Fine set upon a Fugitive, to be restored to the King's Peace?

Fleet, (Sax. Floet, i. e. a Place where the Water ebbs and flows, a running Water.) A famous Prison in London, so called, as it seemeth, of the River upon whose side it standeth. Cambd. Brit.

pag. 317. Unto this none are usually committed, but for contempt of the King and his Laws, or upon absolute Command of the King, or some of his Courts. Or lastly, upon Debt, when Men are unable, or unwilling to satisfy their Creditors.

Fogage, Fogagium, Fog, or Feg; Rank Grass not eaten in Summer. Leg. Forestar. Scot. cap. 15.

Folcland Was terra vulgi, the Land of the vulgar People, who had no Estate therein, but held the same under such Rents and Services as were accustomed or agreed, at the Will only of their Lord the Thane, and it was therefore not put in Writing, but accounted Prædium rusticum & ignobile. Vid. Spelman of Feuds, ca. 5.

Folcmote or Folkemote, Saxon Folkgemote, that is Conventus, populi, compounded of folk, populus, and Gemetan, convenire, signifies (as Lambard saith in his Exposition of Saxon Words, verbo Conventus,) two Kinds of Courts; one now called The Country-Court, the other, The Sheriff's Turn. This Word is still in use in the City of London, and denotes Celebrem ex tota civitate conventum. Stows Survey of London. But Manwood saith in his Forest-Laws, Folke is the Court holden in London, wherein all the Folk and People of the City did complain of the Mayor and Aldermen, for Misgovernment within the City. Sommer in his Saxon Dictionary saith, It is a general Assembly of the People, to consider and order Matters of the Commonwealth. Omnes proceres Regni & milites & liberi homines universi totius Regni Britannia facere debent in pleno Folcmote fidelitatem Domino Regi, coram Episcopis Regni. In Leg. Edw. Confess. c. 35. Et amplius non sit in Hustinge, Miskeninga, i. e. speaking amiss, neq; in Folkefmote neque in aliis placitis infra Civitatem. Charta H. 1. pro London. Du Cange. As to the Folk mote or Folk Gemot, Sir Hen. Spelman tells us it was a Sort of annual Parliament or Convention of the Bishops, Thanes, Aldermen, and Freemen, upon every May-Day yearly; where the Laymen were sworn to defend one another; sware Fealty to the King, and to preserve the Laws of the Kingdom, and then to consult of Common Safety, Peace and War, and publick Weal. But Dr. Brady from the Laws of our Saxon Kings, does infer that the Folk-Mote, was an inferior Court, before the King's Reve, or Steward; held rather every Month to do Folk-Right, or to compose smaller Squabbles, from whence Appeal should lie to the superior Courts of Justice. See Dr. Brady's Glossary, p. 48. When this great Assembly is made in a City, it may be called a Burgemote, when in the County a Shiregemot. Cum aliquod vero inopinatum & malum contra regnum vel contra coronam Regis, &c. emerferit, statim debent pulsatis campanis, quod Anglice vocatur amotbel, convocare omnes & universos, quod Anglice dicunt Folkmote, i. e. Convocatio populorum & gentium omnium, quia ibidem omnes convenire debent & ibi providere debent indemnitatibus Coronæ regni per commune consilium. Leg. Alfred, cap. 35. de Aldermannis.

Fold-course. Cro. 2. par. fol. 432. Vide Faldage.

Folgate, i. e. to be of some Decennary: Si quis ab una mansione ad aliam transire velit, fiat hoc testimonio Aldermanni, in cuius Comitatu prius folgavit. Leg. Alfred, c. 33.

Folgarit, Menial Servants. In Francoplegio debet esse omnis qui terram tenet & domum, qui dicuntur Hausfahene, Anglice, Houfe-keepers, & etiam alii qui aliis deservunt, qui dicuntur, Folgheres, quia nec debet quis repellere servientem suum antequam purgatus sit de omni calumnia unde prius fuit calumniatus. Bract. lib. 3. tract. 2. cap. 10. From the Saxon Folgere, famulus.

Folgheres or Folgeres, (From the Saxon Folger, i. e. to follow) are properly Followers; but Bracton (lib. 3. tract. 2. cap. 10.) saith, it signifies eos qui aliis deservunt. Vide LL. H. 1. cap. 9. Servants or Domesticks.

302bushor of Armour, (forbator) Si quis forbator arma alicujus suscepit, ad purgandum, &c. LL. Aluredi. MS. cap. 22.

Force, Viz. In our Common Law, is most usually applied in pejorem partem, signifying unlawful Violence. West thus defines it, Symb. part. 2. Tit. Indictments, sect. 65. Force is an Offence by which Violence is used to Persons or Things; where also he divideth it thus, Force is either Simple or Compound; Simple Force is that which is so committed, that it hath no other Crime adjoined to it; as if one by Force do enter into another Man's Possession, without doing any other unlawful Act. Mixt or Compound Force is that Violence which is committed with such a Fact, as of it self only is criminal: As if any by Force do enter into another Man's Possession, and kill a Man, or ravish a Woman there, &c. He farther divideth it into true Force, and Force after a Sort, and so proceedeth to divers other Branches worth the Reading, as forcible Entry, forcible Detaining, unlawful Assembly, Routs, Riots, Rebellions, &c.

Forceletum, A little Fort. Qui fugaverunt a- veria ad forceleta. Fleta, lib. 1. cap. 20. par. 119.

Forcible detaining or holding of Possession, Is a violent Act of Resistance by strong Hand of Men weaponed with Harnes, or other Action of Fear in the same Place, or elsewhere, whereby the lawful Entry of Justices, or others, is barred or hindered. West Symbol. part. 2. Tit. Indictments, sect. 65. Of this see Crompt. Just. of Peace, f. 58. usque ad 63.

Forcible Entry, Ingressus manu forti factus, Is a violent actual Entry into a House or Land, &c. or Taking a Distress of any Person weaponed, whether he offer Violence or Fear of Hurt to any there, or furiously drive any out of the Possession thereof. West Symbol. part. 2. Tit. Indictments, sect. 65. Crompt. Just. of Peace, f. 58, 59. usque ad 63. It is also used for a Writ grounded upon the Statute 8 H. 6. 9. whereof read F. N. B. fol. 248. See the New Book of Entries, verbo Forcible Entry. See Lamb. Eiren. lib. 2. c. 4. p. 145.

Ford, A Ford or Shallow, made by damming or penning up the Water — Non liceat alicui de cetero facere Dammas aut Fordas, aut alia impedimenta in aliquibus laudeis, watergangiis, fossatis sive aquagiis communibus in marisco predicto. Ordinatio Monasterii Ramefisensis, p. 69.

Fordalis, from the Sax. Ford, i. e. a River, vadum sive trajectum. 'Tis mentioned in the Monasticon. 1 Tom. pag. 651. Et tendit usque ad magnam aquam de Ayre, & Fordales ejusdem prati, &c.

Fordika, Grass or Herbage, growing on the Edge or Bank of Dikes or Ditches. See Forbailia.

Fordol, Fordalia — Concessit etiam eis omnia alia emolumenta de pradicta villa vel curia sua qualitercumque in villa vel in campis ejus surgentia, scilicet, waffis, birnis, forbalkis terre arabilis, Fordol prati, & fordikes suum molendinum & stagnum. Petr. Blesfen. Contin. Hist. Gayland, p. 116. Fordalis, in a like Sense, occurs in Mon. Angl. Tom. 1. p. 657. Et tendit usque ad magnam aquam de Agr. & Fordales ejusdem prati que percutiunt ex una parte super pratum Hospitalis. This later Word Des Fresne confounds with Forda, and thinks it implies some Relation to Ford or River. But it is indeed from the Sax. For, Fore or before, and dale, a Part or Portion. So as the Fordol, Fordolia, or Fordalis; was no more than a But or Headland that did shoot upon other Bounds.

Forecheapum, — Et non licebat iis aliquod Forecheapum facere Burghmannis, & dare Theolonium suum. Chron. Brompton. Col. 897, 898. de nave negotiali. & LL. Ethelredi c. 23. It signifies Præ-emption, from the Sax. Fore, ante, and Ceapan, nundinari, emere.

Forsengers were Purveyors otherwise called, Going before the King in Progress, to provide for him. An. 36 E. 3. c. 5.

Forfeign (Fr. Forain, Lat. Forinsecus) is in our Law joined with divers Substantives in Senses not unworthy the Exposition: As foreign Matter, that is, Matter triable in another County, (Pl. Cor. f. 154.) or Matter done in another County. Kitchin, fol. 126.

Foreign Plea Is a Refusal of the Judge, as incompetent, because the Matter in Question is not within his Jurisdiction. Kitchin, f. 75. An. 4 H. 8. c. 2. And 22 Ejusdem, c. 2. & 14.

Foreign Answer Is such an Answer as is not triable in the County where it is made. 15 H. 6. cap. 5.

Foreign Service Is that whereby a mean Lord holds over of another, without the Compass of his own Fee. (Broke, Tit. Tenures, f. 28, 95, 251. num. 12. & 28. Kitchin, f. 209.) or else that which a Tenant performs either to his own Lord, or to the Lord Paramount out of the Fee. Of which Services, thus Bracton, (lib. 2. cap. 16. num. 7. Item sunt quadam servitia, que dicuntur forinseca, quomodo sunt in Charta de Eocfamento expressa & nominata; & que ideo dici possunt forinseca, quia pertinent ad Dominum Regem, & non ad Dominum capitalem, nisi cum in propria Persona prefatus fuerit in servitio, vel nisi cum pro servitio suo satisfecerit Domino Regi quocunque modo, & sunt in certis temporibus, cum casus & necessitas e venerit, & varia habent nomina & diversa: Quandoque enim nominantur forinseca, large sumpto vocabulo, quoad servitium Domini Regis, quandoque Scutagium, quandoque Servitium Domini Regis, & ideo forinsecum dici potest, quia fit & capitur foris, sive extra servitium quod fit Domino capitali. Foreign Service seems to be Knights-Service or Escheque uncertain. Perkins's Reversion, 650. — Salvo forinseco servitio. Mon. Angl. 2 Par. f. 637. b.

Foreign Attachment Is an Attachment of Foreigners Goods found within a Liberty, or a City, for the Satisfaction of some Citizens, to whom the Foreigner is indebted. At Lemster (anciently Leominster) there is the Borough and the Foreign; which last is within the Jurisdiction of the Manor, but not within the Bailiff of the Borough's Liberty. So Foreign Court of the Honour of Gloucester. Clauf. 8 E. 2. m. 25. Foreign bought, and Foreign sold, is a Custom within the City of London, which being found prejudicial to the Sellers of Cattle in Smithfield, it was enacted 22 & 23 Car. 2. That as well Foreigners as Freemen may buy and sell any Cattel there.

Foreign Opposer or Apposer, (Forinsecarum Oppositor) is an Officer in the Exchequer, to whom all Sheriffs, after they are apposed of their Sums out of the Pipe-Office, do repair to be apposed by him of their Green Wax. He examines the Sheriff's Eitreaths with the Record, and apposeth the Sheriff, what he says to every particular Sum therein. Practice of the Exchequer, fol. 87. See 4 Inst. fol. 107. Chaucer useth the Word appose for interrogare.

Fozell, Foresta, Signifies a great or vast Wood, in French Lieu Forestier & Sauvage, in Locus sylvestris & saltuosus. Such as have written upon the Common Law, define it thus, Foresta est locus ubi fera inhabitant vel includuntur, with whom agree several others. Some do say it is called Foreste quasi ferarum statio vel iuta Manſio ferarum. Manwood in his Forest-Laws, cap. 1. num. 1. thus defineth it, A Forest is a certain Territory of woody Grounds, and fruitful Pastures, privileged for wild Beasts and Fowls of Forest, Chase, and Warren, to rest and abide in the safe Protection of the King, for his Princely Delight and Pleasure; which Territory of Ground so privileged, is meered and bounded with unremovable Marks, Meers and Boundaries, either known by Matter of Record, or else by Prescription, and also replenish'd with wild Beasts of Venery or Chase, and with great Coverts of Vert, for the Succour of the said wild Beasts to have their abode in; for the Preferuation and Continuance of which said Place, together with the Vert and Venison, there are certain particular Laws, Privileges and Officers belonging only to the same. The Manner of making Forests, as the same Author well setteth down, cap. 2. num. 2. is this, The King lends out his Commission under the Great Seal of England, directed to certain discreet Persons, for the View, Perambulation, meering and bounding of the Place he mindeth to be a Forest; which being returned into the Chancery, Proclamation is made throughout all the Shire where the Ground lieth, That none shall hunt or chase any manner of wild Beasts in that Precinct, without the King's special Licence; after which, he appointeth Ordinances, Laws, and Officers fit for the Preservation of the Vert and Venison; and so it becometh a Forest by Matter of Record. The Properties of a Forest are these in especial; First, a Forest, as it is truly and strictly taken, cannot be in the Hands of any but the King; the Reason is given by Manwood, because none hath Power to grant Commission to be a Justice in Eyre or the Forest but the King, cap. 24. num. 1. The second Property be the Courts, as the Justice-Seat every three Years; the Savainemote thrice every Year; and the Attainment one every forty Days. Idem, cap. 21. num. 1. The Third Property, are the Officers belonging to it, for the Preservation of the Vert and Venison: As first, the Justices of the Forest, the Warden or Keeper, Verderers, Foresters, Agitors, Regarders, Bailiffs, Beadles, and such like, which you may see, and their Duties, in Manwood, cap. 21. num. 1, 2, 3, 4. But the chief Property of a Forest both by Manwood, cap. 23. and Crompt. pag. 146. is the Savainemote, which, as they both agree, is no less incident to it, than a Court of Pye-powders to a Fair. Other Courts and Officers are not so requisite in those Forests that are in the Hands of Subjects, because they be not truly Forests. But if this fail, there remains nothing of a Forest, but it is turned into the Nature of a Chase. See Chase. The Norman Kings not only inclosed Forests, but punished those who hunted and killed any of the Beasts, with the greatest Severity. Brompton tells us, That William, called the Conqueror, caused the Eyes of the Man to be pulled out, who took either a Buck or Boar; and Knighton tells us, That his Son William Rufus would hang a Man for taking a Doe, and for a Hare he made him pay twenty Shillings, and ten Shillings for a Cony. Eadmerus, lib. 2. p. 48. mentions, That the same Rufus, caused fifty rich Men to be apprehended, and accused them of taking and killing his Bucks, which they denying, they were to clear themselves by the Fire Ordeal, &c. and Hen. 1. made no Distinction between him who killed a Man or a Buck, and punished those who destroyed the Game, (though not in the Forest) either by Forfeiture of their Goods, or Loss of Limbs: But Hen. 2. made it only Imprisonment for a Time: His Son, R. 1. revived the old Laws for punishing those who were convicted of Hunting in the Forest, (viz.) That they should be gelded, and have their Eyes pulled out; but that King afterwards abolished this Punishment, and appointed such Convicts to abjure the Realm, or be committed, or to pay a Fine. Ed. 1. appointed the same Punishment, but that they should be free both of Life and Limb.

The Historians of those Times tell us, That New Forest was raised by the Destruction of Twenty-two Parish-Churches, and many Villages, Chapels and Manors, for the Space of thirty Miles together; that this was so displeasing to God, that several of those Princes came to untimely Ends in that very Forest, and particularly that Rufus was there shot by Tyrrill; and before him, Richard, the Brother of Hen. 1. was there killed by a Soldier; and Henry, who was Nephew to Robert, the eldest Son of the Conqueror, did hang like Abſalom in the Boughs of the Forest.

Besides New Forest, there are Sixty-eight Forests in England, Thirteen Chafes, and more than Seven hundred eighty-one Parks. Foreftagium, (Et fuit quieti de Theoloneo & Pafagio, & de Foreftagio, & Theoloneo aquarum & vinorum foreftam meam contingentium. Charta 18 Ed. 1. m. 10. n. 30.) feems to fignify fome Duty or Tribute payable to the King's Forefters; as Chiminage, or fuch like. It may likewife be taken for a Right to ufe the Foreft, or a Payment for the Right, or rather a Taking of reasonable Eftovers there.

Foreftarius, The Forefter, or Keeper of a Foreft, affigned by the King as Head Forefter; or Warden of a whole Foreft; or elfe deputed by Knights and Barons who held Lands and Woods within the Bounds of a Foreft, as under Forefters —

Rex præcipit quod omnes illi qui boscos habent intra metas foreftæ Domini Regis, quod ponunt idoneos Foreftarios in boscos suis — item præcipit quod sui Foreftarii curam capiunt super Foreftarios militum & aliorum. Parochial' Antiq. p. 174.

Foreftal. See Foreftal.

Forefter, Foreftarius, Is a sworn Officer of the Foreft, appointed by the King's Letters Patent, to walk the Forefts both early and late, watching both the Vert and the Venifon, attaching and prefenting all Trefpaffes againft them within their own Bailiwick or Walk, whole Oath you read in Crompt. fol. 201. And though thefe Letters Patent be ordinarily granted but quamdiu fe bene gesserint; yet fome have it to them and their Heirs, and thereby are called Forefters in Fee. Id. f. 157, 159. By the fame Crompton in Latin, f. 175. Foreftarium feudi.

Forefudger, Forisjudicatio, Signifies a Judgment, whereby a Man is deprived, or put by the Thing in Queftion: It feemeth to be compounded of Fors, i. præter and judger, judicare. Braffon, lib. 4. traft. 3. cap. 5. hath thefe Words, Et non permittas quod A. capitalis Dominus feudi illius haberet custodiam heredis, &c. quia in curia nofta forisjudicatur de custodia, &c. So doth Kitchin ufe it, f. 29. and Old Nat. Breu. fol. 44. & 81. and the Stat. 5 E. 3. c. 9. and 21 R. 2. cap. 12. Forjudicatus, with Authors of other Nations, fignifieth as much as Banished, or as Deportatus in the ancient Roman Law, as appeareth by Vincentius de Franchis, de fclis 101. Matheus de afflicis, Lib. 3. Feub. Rub. 31. p. 625.

Forefudged the Court Is, when an Officer of any Court is expelled the fame for fome Offence, or for not appearing to an Aftion by Bill filed againft him; and in the later he is not to be readmitted, till he fhall appear. 2 H. 4. 8. He fhall lofe his Office, and be fore-judged the Court. Spelman fays, Forjudicare interdum est male judicare.

Forefchoke (Direftum) fignifies originally as much as forfaken in our modern Language. It is fpecially ufed in one of our Statutes, for Land or Tenements feifed by the Lord, for want of Services due from the Tenant, and fo quietly held and poffeffed beyond the Year and Day. As if we fhould fay, That the Tenant, who feeing his Lands or Tenements taken into the Lord's Hand, and poffeffed fo long, takes not the Courfe appointed by Law to recover them, does in due Prefumption of Law difavow or forfake all the Right he has to them: And then fuch Lands fhall be called Forefchoke, fays the Stat. 10 Ed. 2. cap. unico.

Foreftpeon, Caffatum.

Forefang and Forefeng, (From the Sax. Fore, ante, and Fangen, prendere) est captio obfcurorum, que in foris aut nundinis ab aliquo fit, priusquam Minister Regis ea ceperint que Regi fuerint neceffaria. Antecapitio vel preventivo. — Et fuit quieti de Wardwite, & de utlewe & Forfenge & Withfange, &c. Charta H. 1. Hofp. Sancti Barth. Lond. An. 1135. Fleta, lib. 1. c. 47. Forefeng quietantiam prioris præfe designat. So that Forefang is what we call Pre-emption, and is the Taking of Provisions from any one in Fairs or Markets before the King's Purveyors are ferved with Neceffaries for his Majesty.

Forefature, Forisfactura, Cometh of the French Word forfait, id est, felus; but in our Language fignifieth rather the Effect of tranfgreffing a penal Law, than the Tranfgreffing it felf, as Forfeiture of Eftecheats. 25 E. 3. cap. 2. Stat. de Proditionibus: How Goods forfeited, and Goods confifcate differ, fee Staunf. pl. cor. fol. 186. where thofe feem to be forfeited that have a known Owner, having committed any Thing whereby he hath loft his Goods; and thofe confifcate, that are difavowed by an Offender, as not his own, nor claimed by any other; but we may rather fay, that Forfeiture is more general, and Confifcation more particular, to fuch as forfeit only to the King's Exchequer. Read the whole Chapter. lib. 3. c. 24. Full 10. feiture, plena forisfactura, otherwife called Plena Wita, is Forfeiture of Life and Member, and all elfe that a Man hath. Manwood, c. 9. The Canonifts ufe alfo this Word. Forisfactura sunt pecuniaria pœna delinquentium.

Forfeiture of Marriage, Forisfactura Maritagii, Is a Writ which lay againft him, who, holding by Knights-Service, and being under Age, and unmarried, refufed her whom the Lord offer'd him without his Difparagement, and married another. F. N. B. fol. 141. Reg. Orig. fol. 163.

Fozilandum. — Et de duobus Forlandis xvi. denarios, sc. de Forlando Johannis Wauker, quod jacet ante terram Ecclesie, viii. denarios. Mon. Angl. 2 par. fol. 332. Land extending further, or lying before the Rest; a Promontory. For Cambriden expounds Cantium Promontorium, the Foreland of Kent.

Fozlet-land was such Land in the Bishoprick of Hereford as was granted or leased dum Episcopus in Episcopatu steterit, that the Successor might have it for his present Income: But now that Custom is disused, and the same Land granted, as others, by Lease, yet still retains the Name. Butterfield's Survey, f. 56.

Forma Pauperis, or In Forma Pauperis, is when any Person has Cause of Suit, and is so poor that he cannot dispend the usual Charges of suing at Law, or in Equity. In this Case upon his making Oath that he is not worth 5 l. his Debts being paid, and bringing a Certificate from some Lawyer, that he has just Cause of Suit, the Judge admits him to sue in Forma Pauperis, that is, without paying Fees to Counsellor, Attornies, or Clerk. And this had Beginning from the Stat. 11 H. 7. c. 12.

Formedon, Breve de forma Donationis, is a Writ that lies for him that hath Right to any Lands or Tenements, by Virtue of any Entail, growing from the Statute of Westm. 2. cap. 1. It lieth in three Sorts, and accordingly is termed Forma donationis, or Formedon in the Descender, Formedon in the Reverter, and Formedon in the Remainder: Formedon in Descender, lieth for the Recovery of Lands, &c. given to one and the Heirs of his Body, or to a Man and his Wife, and the Heirs of their two Bodies, or to a Man and his Wife, being Cousen to the Donor, in Frank-Marriage, and afterwards alienated by the Donee; for after his Decease, his Heirs shall have this Writ against the Tenant or Alienee. F. B. B. fol. 221. He maketh three Sorts of this Formedon in Descender. The first is the Manner now exprest. The Second is for the Heir of a Coparcener that aliens and dies, fo. 241. The Third he calls (infirmal tenuit) fol. 216. which lyeth for a Coparcener or Heir in Gavelkind before Partition, against him to whom the other Coparcener or Heir hath alienated, and is Dead. Formedon in the Reverter lieth for the Donor or his Heirs, where Lands entailed to certain and their Issue, with Condition, for want of such Issue, to revert to the Donor and his Heirs, against him to whom the Donee alienatech, after the Issue extinct to which it was intailed. F. N. B. fol. 219. Formedon in the Remainder lieth, where a Man giveth Lands in Tail, the Remainder to another in Tail; and afterwards the former Tenant in Tail dieth without Issue of his Body, and a Stranger abatech, then he in the Remainder shall have this Writ. Fitzb. Nat. Brev. fol. 217. See Reg. Orig. f. 238, 242, 243. Of this also see the New Book of Entries, verbo Formedon, and Co. on Lit. f. 326.

Foetis, i. e. Power, Dominion, or Jurisdiction. Non est eis imputandum, &c. si per omnia se allegent quod nec consilium eorum vel auxilium sit in Fortia ipsa.

Foetiare, or Infortiare placitum, is when many Judges are assembled to do it. Si iustitiam sine iudicio dimittant (iudices) sed summoneitis terrarum dominis infortietur placitum termino competenti. Leg. H. 1. cap. 29.

Fohtilic, Fohtilic, and Fohtelet, (Fortalitium, vel Forteleum, & Fortellescum,) Within the Towns and Fortilices of Berwick and Carlisle, (Anno 11 Hen. 7. cap. 18.) signifies properly a little fortified Houfe or Cattle, made rather to preserve the Person of the Owner and his Goods, than to endure a Siege.

Fohtlet, (Fr.) Signifies a Place of some Strength, Old Nat. Brev. fol. 45.

Fohtingles, Otherwise Farthendel, is the fourth Part of an Acre or Penny, &c. See Farthingdeal. See the Book of Domesday.

Fohtuna Is that which we call Treasure-Trove, i. e. Thesaurum ducente Fortuna invenire. Inquirendum est per 12 Juratores pro Rege, &c. quod fideliter presentant, &c. omnes Fortunas, abjuraciones, appella, &c. Stelman tells us it signifies Fortuito occisos: But this seems to be very fanciful. See Sacrobarræ.

Fohtunium, A Tournament or Fighting with Spears. In contemptum meum ipse Torneamento interfui, & forbisice illum Fortunium appellavi. Mar. Paris. Anno 1241.

Fohtenge. See Forslang.

Fohtth, A long Slip of Ground. — Una acra inter tenementum Aurifabri & terram Abbatis, & una Forurthe que se extendit a prædicta acra versus orientem iuxta cursum aquæ, & computatur pro una acra. Cartular. Glafon. MS. 6. 124.

Fossa, A Ditch, full of Water, where Women committing Felony were drowned, but Men hanged. Nam & ipsi in omnibus tenementis suis omnem ab antiquo legalem habuere iustitiam, videlicet ferrum, Fossam, Furcas, & similia. In another Sense 'tis taken for a Grave, as appears by these old Verses:

Hic jacent in Fossa Bedæ venerabilis ossa, Hic est Fossatus, qui bis erat hic cathedralis.

Fossa, Item diximus per sacramentum quod non vidimus tempore Henrici & Richardi quondam Regum Angliæ, quod quis redderet decimas de feriis aut de genestis aut de fossis ubi prius fuerint demofmatæ — Charta A. D. 1205. apud Scriptor. Normun. f. 1509. Du Fresnoy cites this Authority in the Word Proccus, and thinks it should be read of fressis, instead of de fossis, i. e. As he interprets waste and barren Ground: But he knows not what to make of demofmatis, unless it might be read domus dirute. To give Sense to these dark Words, I think rather fessis is to be taken for fossis, Fr. Poiffon, Grals cut or mowed for Hay; and demofmatis, for demoiffonatis, Fr. moiffoner, demoiffener, to mow or cut down; and then the Version will run thus: Also we have depozed upon Oath, that in the Time of Henry and Richard, Kings of England, we never saw that any one paid Tithe of Furz or Broom; or of Latter-math or After-Pasture, where the Grass or Hay had been once mowed before.

Fossa and Furca. See Furca.

Fossagium. See Fossatum.

Fossatum operatio, Fosse-work, or the Service of labouring, done by Inhabitants and adjoining Tenants for Repair and Maintenance of the Ditches round a City or Town: For which some paid a Contribution called, Fossagium. See Mr. Kennet's Glossary.

Fossatum, (Lat.) A Ditch, or a Place fenced with a Ditch or Trench, Ex dono Hen. Regis avi nostri unum Fossatum tam largum, quod naves possint ire & redire a flumine de Withonia usque ad Tunholme. Charta 20 Hen. 3. m. 9. where it seems to signify a (cut) River.

Fossatum, in another Sense, is taken for the Obligation of Citizens to repair the City Ditches.

Fossatura, The same with Fossatum.

Fossellum, Fossellum, A small Ditch, una virgata terra, cum pertinentiis in West-Pernard que vocatur la More, videl. quinquæ acras in Chæcroft simul cum prato & fossello in eadem crofta. Cartular. Glafon. MS. f. 117.

Fossellæ, (From Fossus, digged) was anciently one of the four principal Highways of England, so called, because supposed to be digged and made passable by the Romans, and having a Ditch upon one Side. See Watling-street.

Fosterland Is Land given, assigned or set forth for the Finding of Food or Viſuals for any Person or Persons; as in Monasteries, for the Monks, &c.

Fosterlean, Nuptial Gifts, which we call a Jointure. From the Sax. Foster-lean, Ciborum exhibitio, that is, a Stipend which the Wife hath for her Maintenance. Posses spondum est cui Fosterlean pertineat, vadit hoc Brigdunia, & plegient amici sui.

Fotther, or Fodder, (from the Teutonick Fuder,) is a Weight (of Lead) containing eight Pigs, and every Pig one and twenty Stone and an half, which is about a Tun, or a common Wain or Cart-load. Speight in his Annotations upon Chaucer. I find also, in the Book of Rates, Mention of a Fodder of Lead, which is there said to be 2000 Weight: At the Mines 'tis 22 hundred Weight and an half; among the Plumbers at London 1900 and an half.

Fotmel, A Weight of Lead of ten Stone or Seventy Pounds, as in this remarkable Authority, for the Menſuration of Lead. Saccus lane debet ponderare 28 petras, & solet ponderare summam frumenti, & sic saccus lane ponderat sextam partem carectate plumbi, scil. 50 petras, sex & viginti petre faciunt carectatam plumbi. London. Summa librarum carectata London, 2 mille & centum libra scil. de Waterforth-malet: Sex sacci lane faciunt carectatam plumbi, & quilibet saccus ponderat 5 fotmels plumbi. Et duas petras scil. 18. libr. & quatuor xx. duodecim Weyes, faciunt unum carectatam plumbi, quilibet Wey continet 26 petras, scil. 2 cuttes, fotmel, & 6 petras, quilibet petra continet vii. libras cera, & x. petras faciunt fotmel, ac fotmel ponderat 70 libr. & sic 31 fotmel & 2 petre faciunt carectatam plumbi, & sic de una carectata plumbi possunt 20 pedes in altitudine & etiam in longitudine totidem

idem co-operiri — Ex Cartular. S. Albani MS. Cotton Tiber F. 6. f. 260.

Fouage, (Fr.) See Fuager.

Fouber, A Grave for Burial of the Dead. In the Statutes of the Church of St. Paul in London, it was ordained in the Chapter, De servientibus Ecclesie — quod pro fovea faciendi in cimiterio per garciones suos non recipiant dicti servientes pro divite ultra iii. denar — pro mediocri, ii. den — cum per garciones eorum fit fovea, alioquin nihil percipiant. Liber Statutorum Eccl. Pauline London, MS. f. 29.

Foverare, To carry away Fodder, to forage. Inquiretur quantum pastura Regis Foverata fuerit, aut deteriorata, per animalia que exeunt a domibus. Fleta, lib. 2. cap. 41. par. 13.

Foundation, The Founding of a College or a Hospital, is called Fundatio, quasi Fundi-datio, or fundamenti locatio. Co. Rep. 10.

Founday. At the Iron Works in melting and preparing the Mine, every six Days they call a Founday; in which Space, they make commonly eight Tun of Iron, if you divide the whole Sum of Iron made by the Foundays: For at first they make less in a Founday, at last more. From the French Foundre, to melt. To Found, whence Bell-Founder, a Fount or Funt of Letters, &c.

Founder Is he that melteth Metal, and maketh any Thing of it, by casting it into a Mould, Anno 17 R. 2. cap. 1. derived from the Verb Fundere, to pour out. We also say, That whoever builds and endows a College or Hospital is the Founder.

Fourniære, To fawn as a Deer. Qui fecerunt vastum in foresta, maxime ubi dama solebant Fourniare. Fleta, lib. 2. cap. 41. par. 33.

Fourcher (Fr. Fourchir, i. e. Titubare lingua,) signifies a Putting off, Prolonging, or Delaying of an Action; for as by Stammering we draw out our Speech, not delivering that we have to say, in ordinary Time, so by fourching we prolong a Suit that might be ended in a shorter Space. In Westm. 1. cap. 42. you have these Words, Coparceners and Jointnants shall no more fourch, but only shall have one Effoin, &c. And Anno 6 Ed. 1. c. 10. it is used in the same Sense; The Defendants shall be put to answer without fourching, &c. Anno 23 Hen. 6. cap. 2. Sec 2 Part. Inst. fol. 250. In the Latin 'tis called Furcare; and signifies, where a Man and his Wife, or each of them, casts an Effoin, then 'tis called Furcare, because 'tis twofold. Caveat vir et mulier implacitati, quod semper in Effonio alterius alter compareat, quamdiu furcare possint; Et cum ultra non possint, concurrant eorum Effonia in suis locis; Alter autem eorum tantum unum Effonium de malo lecti habere potest. Hengham Mag. cap. 9.

Fourteld, or Footeld, (from the Sax. Fot, Pes, and Geldan, Solvere, q. Pedis Redemptio) signifies an Amercement for not cutting out the Balls of great Dogs Feet in the Forest. See Expeditate. And to be quit of Footgeld is a Privilege to keep Dogs within the Forest, unawled, without Punishment or Controul. Crompton's Jurisd. fol. 197. Manwood, part 1. pag 86. This Privilege was always allowed in Assise Forest. de Pickring, 10 Edw. 3.

Fowls of Warren. See Warren.

Fractura nabinum, Wreck.

Fragum, A Right of making Faggots in a Wood. Concessit eisdem Fragum, focalia, &c. Mon. Tom. 1. pag. 813.

Frampole Fences Are such Fences as any Tenant in the Manor of Wristle in Essex hath against the Lord's Demecans; whereby he hath the Wood growing on the Fence, and as many Trees or Poles as he can reach from the Top of the Ditch with the Helve of his Ax, towards the Repair of his Fence. I have heard the late Chief Justice Brampton, whilst he was a Justice and Steward of this Court, acknowledge he could not find out the Reason why these Fences were called Frampole. It may come from the Sax. Fremful, Profitable, or may be a Corruption of Franc-pole, because the Poles are free for the Tenant to take.

Franchilanus, (from the Fr. Franchi, i. e. Free) a Freeman. Sciatis me dedisse, cum villanis & Franchilano, nomine Hamone, & cum tenuis eorum, &c. Charta Hen. 4. 2. in m. Mon. Angl. 1 par. fol. 442. b. And in Domesday we find Francus homo used for a Freeman.

Franchife, Franchesia, Libertas, Is taken with us for a Privilege or Exemption from ordinary Jurisdiction, and sometimes an Immunity from Tribute: It is either personal or real, (Crompt. Jurisd. fol. 141.) that is, belonging to a Person immediatly, or else by Means of this or that Place, or Court of Immunity, whereof he is either Chief or a Member. In what particular Things a Franchife commonly consists, see Britton, cap. 19. Franchife Royal, 15 R. 2. cap. 4. and 2 H. 5. cap. 7. in fine, seemeth to be that where the King's Writ runs not, as Chester, Durham, &c. which are called Seigniories Royal, Anno 28 H. 6. cap. 4. and formerly Tyndal and Exanshire in Northumberland. The Author of the New Terms of the Law saith, That a Franchife Royal is, where the King granteth to one and his Heirs, that they shall be quit of Toll, or such like. See Franchife in the New Book of Entries. Bratton, lib. 2. cap. 5. See Sac. See also Old Nat. Brev. fol. 4.

Francigenæ Was the general Appellation of all Foreigners, unless they could prove themselves to be Englishmen. See Englesery.

Franchising, A Freeholder, Qui libere tenet. See l'ortefue de Laud. Leg. Angl. cap. 29.

Frank Was a French Gold Coin, worth about a French Shilling; but in Computation was twenty Sols, which is a Livre, or Pound; and about twenty Pence in our Money.

Frank-almoine, Libera Eleemosyna, In French Frank-aumone, signifies a Tenure or Title of Land or Tenements bestowed upon God, that is, given to such People as devote themselves to the Service of God, for pure and perpetual Alms; whence the Feoffors or Givers cannot demand any terrestrial Service, so long as the Lands, &c. remain in the Hands of the Feoffees. With this agreeth the Grand Customary of Normandy, cap. 32. Of this you may read at large, Bratton, lib. 2. cap. 5 & 10. See F. N. B. fol. 211. and the New Book of Entries, verbo Frank-almoine. Britton, in the forecited, makes another Kind of this Land, given in Alms, but not in free Alms. As if an Abbot, &c. holds Lands of his Lord for certain Divine Service to be done, as to sing every Friday a Mass, or do some other Thing; and if such Divine Service be not done, the Lord may distrain, in in such Case the Abbot ought to do Fealty to the Lord; and therefore it shall not be said a Tenure in Frank-almoine but a Tenure by Divine Service; for it cannot be Frank-almoine, if any certain Service be expressed.

Frank-bench. See Free-bench.

Frank Chase, Libera Chase, Is a Liberty of free Chase, whereby all Men having Ground within that Compass, are prohibited to cut down Wood, &c. without the View of the Forester, tho' it be in his own Demesnes. Crom. Jur. fol. 187.

Frank-fee, Libenum feudum, Is by Broke, Tit. Demesne, num. 52. thus expressed, That which is in the Hands of the King or Lord of any Manor, being ancient Demesne of the Crown, (viz. the Demesnes) is called Frank-fee, and that which is in the Hands of the Tenant is ancient Demesne only. See Reg. Orig. fol. 12. whereby that seemeth to be Frank-fee which a Man holds at the Common Law to himself and his Heirs, and not by such Service as is required in ancient Demesne, according to the Custom of the Manor. And again, in the same Book, fol. 14. there is a Note to this Effect, That the Lands which were in the Hands of King Edward the Confessor at the Making of Domesday-Book, is ancient Demesne, and that all the Rest of the Realm is called Frank-fee, wherewith Fitzherbert agrees in his Nat. Breu. fol. 161. So that by this Rule all the Land in the Realm is either ancient Demesne or Frank-fee. The Author of the Terms of Law defines Frank-fee to be a Tenure in Fee-simple of Lands pleadable at the Common Law, and not in ancient Demesne. Fachineus, lib. 7. cap. 39. makes Feudum francum esse pro quo nullum servitium prestatum Domino, with whom agrees Zasius de feudis, part 12. saying, That therefore it is Feudum improprium, quia ab omni servitio liberum. These Lands which were held in Frank-fee, were exempted from all Services, but not from Homage.

Frank-tenement, Firma Libera, Is Land or Tenement, wherein the Nature of Fee is changed by Feoffment out of Knights-service for several yearly Services; and whence neither Homage, Worship, Marriage, nor Relief may be demanded, nor any other Service not contained in the Feoffment. Britton, cap. 66. num. 3. See Fee-farm.

Frank-fold Is where the Lord hath the Benefit of folding his Tenants Sheep within his Manor, for the manuring his Land. Keil. Rep. fol. 198. a. Quod Vassallis olim & Usufructuariis denegatum, Manerivum & prædiorum Dominis solum competebat, says Mr. Somner. It is compounded of the Fr. Franc, i. e. Free, and the Sax. Fald, i. e. a Fold. See Faldage.

Frank-labour, Libera Lex. See Crompt. Just. fol. 156. where you shall find what it is by the Contrary; for he that for an Offence, as Conspiracy, &c. loseth his Frank-law, is said to fall into these Mischiefs; First, That he may never be impanelled upon any Jury or Assize, or otherwise used in testifying any Truth. Next, If he have any Thing to do in the King's Court, he must not approach thither in Person, but appoint his Attorney. Thirdly, His Lands, Goods, and Chattels must be seised into the King's Hands; and his Lands must be estreaped, his Trees rooted up, and his Body committed to Prison; for this the said Author citeth Lib. Assis. fol. 59. Conspiracy, 24 E. 3. fol. 34. See Conspiracy.

Frank-marriage, Libenum maritagium, Is a Tenure in Tail special, growing from these Words in the Gift comprised, Sciatis, &c. me M. H. de W. dedisse & concessisse & presentis Charta mea confirmasse J. A. filio meo & Margeriz uxori ejus, filia vero T. N. in libenum maritagium unum Messuagium, &c. West. Symbol. part 1. lib. 2. sect. 303. The Effect of which Words is, That they shall have the Land to them and the Heirs of their Bodies, and shall do no Fealty to the Donor till the fourth Degree. See Terms de la Ley. Glanvil, lib. 7. cap. 18. and Bract. lib. 2. cap. 7. num. 4. divideth Maritagium in libenum & servitio obligatum. See Marriage. Fleta gives this Reason why the Heirs do no Service until the fourth Descend. Ne donatores vel eorum heredes, per homagii receptionem, a reverfione repellantur. And why in the fourth Descend, and downward, they shall do Service to the Donor, Quia in quarto gradu vehementer presumitur, quod terra non est pro defectu verum Donatoriorum reverfura, lib. 3. cap. 11. All this appears very plain in Bract's Words, who tells us, That Maritagium liberum est ubi donator vult quod terra sic data erit quæta & libera ab omni seculari servitio quod ad dominium feodo possit pertinere, & ita quod ille cui data sit nullum omnino inde faciat servitium usque ad tertium heredem, & usque ad quartum gradum. And then he mentions how the Degrees shall be computed, viz. The Donee himself shall be in the first Degree, his Heir in the Second, his Heir in Third, and his Heir in the fourth Degree; and afterwards the Land was subject to all the former Services, because it was supposed then to revert to the Lord for Want of Heirs. So that it was exempted only usque ad quartum gradum.

The Lands which were given in Marriage & servitio obligata, were, with a Reservation of the Services, due to the Lord, which the Donee and his Heirs were bound to perform for ever; but neither he, or the next two Heirs were bound to do Homage; that was to be done when it came to the fourth Degree, and not before; and then both Services and Homage were to be performed.

Frank-pledge, Franci plegium, From the French Frank, liber, and pledge, i. fidejussor, signifies a Pledge or Surety for Freemen: For the ancient Custom of Freemen of England, for the Preservation of the publick Peace, was, That every Free-born Man at fourteen Years of Age, (Religious Person, Clerks, Knights, and their eldest Sons excepted) should find Surety for his Truth towards the King and his Subjects, or else be kept in Prison; whereupon a certain Number of Neighbours became customably bound one for another, to see each Man of their Pledge forthcoming at all Times, or to answer the Transgression committed by any gone away: So that whosoever offended, it was forthwith inquired in what Pledge he was, and then they of that Pledge either brought him forth within 31 Days to his Answer, or satisfied for his Offence. This was called Frank-pledge, and the Circuit thereof Decenna, because it commonly consisted of ten Households, and every particular Person, thus mutually bound for himself and his Neighbours, was called Decennier, because he was of one Decenna or another. This Custom was so kept, that the Sheriffs at every County-Court did, from Time to Time, take the Oaths of young Ones, as they attained the Age of fourteen Years, and see that they were comprised in some Dozen; whereupon this Branch of the Sheriffs Authority was filed Visus Franci Plegii, View of Frank-pledge. See the Statute for View of Frank-pledge, made 18 E. 2. See also Decennier, Leet, View of Frank-pledge, and Friborgh. That we borrowed this Custom of the Lombards, manifestly appears in the second Book of Fends, cap. 53. upon which read Hottoman, &c. What Articles were wont to be enquired of in this Court, see in Horn's Mirror of Justices, lib. 1. cap. de la veue des Frank-pledges; and what these Articles were in former Times, see in Fleta, lib. 2. cap. 52. and 4 par. Inst. fol. 73. In an ancient Charge of the Quest of Wardmote, in every Ward in London, it is said, And if there be any Person within the Ward that is not under Frank-pledge, that is to say, under Love and Law, &c. This may also be seen in Bracton, lib. 3. tract. de coronaz, cap. 10. viz. Omnis homo, sive liber sive servus, aut est vel debet esse in Franco Plegio, aut de aliqujus manupastu, nisi sit aliquis itinerans de loco in locum, qui non plus se teneat ad unum quam ad alium, vel quid habeat quod sufficiat pro Franco Plegio, sicut dignitatem, vel ordinem, vel liberum tenementum, vel in civitate rem immobilem, &c.

Fraxetum, A Wood or woody Ground. 1 Inst. fol. 4. b. I take it to be a Corruption of Fraxinetum, a Wood where Ashes grow.

Frateria, A Fraternity, Brotherhood, or Society of religious Persons who were mutually bound to pray for the good Health and Life, &c. of their living Brethren, and the Souls of those that were dead. In the Statutes of the Cathedral Church of St. Paul's in London, collected by Ralph Baldock Dean, 1295. there is one Chapter de Frateria Beneficiorum Ecclesie S. Pauli: And the Institution of it in that Church is thus recorded. Amo ab incarnatione Domini, M. C. xc. vii. in crastino ascensionis beate Mariae, auctoritate Radulphi de Diecto Ecclesie S. Pauli Londoniorum Decani, & assensu Fratrum Canoniorum institutum est ut in singulis annis quater in anno conveniant universi Officium pro defunctis Fratribus Societatis celebraturi, & quotquot erunt Sacerdotes ejusdem Societatis fratres eadem die missam celebrabunt, &c. Ex Libro Statut. Eccl. Paul. Lond. Script. ad mandatum Tho. Lyseaux Decani. MS. f. 24. b.

Frater Nutricius, a Bastard Brother; so Malinsbury uses it; and so I have seen it used in old Deeds.

Fratrueles, The Sons of two Brothers. Successit Fratrueles ejus in regnum, &c.

Fratruus, The Brother's Son.

Fratres conjurati Are sworn Brothers or Companions, Simeon Dunelm. pag. 81, 190, 203. and Hoveden, pag. 445. Sometimes they are so called who were sworn to defend the King against his Enemies. Leg. W. 1. cap. 59. Precipimus ut omnes liberi homines sint Fratres conjurati ad monarchiam nostram & regnum nostrum contra inimicos pro posse suo defendendum. Leg. Edw. cap. 35.

Fratres-pyes Were Friars wearing black and white Garments: They are mentioned in Walsingham. pag. 124. viz. In quodam cemeterio quod fuerat quondam fratrum quos Freres-pyes veteres appellabant.

Fratriagium Is that Part of the Inheritance which comes to the younger Brothers; for what ever they possess of the Father's Estate, they possess it ratione Fratriagii, and are to do Homage to the elder Brother for it, because he is bound to do Homage for the Whole to the superior Lord.

Bracton, lib. 2. cap. 35. Fleta, lib. 3. cap. 16. Par. 6, 7.

Frechencia, Fretchencia. Among the customary Services done by the Tenants in Chelesworth, a Manor belonging to the Abbey of St. Edmundsbury—prateria numeret ad firmam unam summam & dimidiam de brasio avene, & dimidiam summam de grano ordi, & dimidiam summam frumenti, & quartevium vacce & dimidiam Frechenciam pacabiles, & unam anciam, &c. Cartular. S. Edmundi, MS. f. 410.—unam summam frumentis & dimidiam vaccam & unam Frechenciam pacabiles, ib. where by Frechencia I think is meant a Porker or young Hog killed for Pork, not Bacon.

Fretatus, Navis Fretata, A Ship freighted, a laden Vessel—In Processu Placiti coram majore villa Bristol anno 18 Edw. 2. compertum est quod Magister Navis Sancti dominici de Placentia, & alii socii sui monstraverunt domino Regi quod fretati fuerunt cum vinis adducendis in Flandriam.

Freta, Fret-work, Frestatis, fretted, Frestatus. So Frestuna, a Fresse, or Fretture—Cassus operata sameto rubeo, cum frestis & scutis breudatis, praterquam in tergo. Mon. Angl. tom. 3. pag. 321. Unus pannus de viridi canopo, cum resulis inter freturas, ib. p. 326. Sandalia—cum caligis breudatis & Fresturis, de armis palatis & undatis, ib. p. 314.

Fredmit. See Fledwit.

Fredum Was a Composition paid by a Criminal, to be freed from Prosecution, of which the third Part was paid into the Exchequer, and that was called Fredum. See Delatura.

Free-bench, Free-bank, Francus bancus, that is, sedes libera, signifies that Estate in Copyhold Lands, that the Wife being espoused a Virgin hath, after the Decease of her Husband, for her Dower, according to the Custom of the Manor: (Kitchin, fol. 102.) As at Orleton in the County of Hereford, the Relict of a Copyhold Tenant is admitted to her Free-bench, that is, to all her Husbonds Copyhold Lands, during her Life, at the next Court after her Husband's Death. *Bracton, lib. 4. tract. 6. cap. 12. num. 3. hath these Words, Consuetudo est in partibus illis, quod uxores maritorum defunctorum habeant francum bancum suum de terris sockmannorum, & teneant nomine dotis. Fitzherbert calls it a Custom, whereby in certain Cities, the Wife shall have her Husband's whole Lands, &c. for her Dower. Nat. Brev. fol. 150. See Plowden, fol. 411. In the Case of Newis. Of the Free-bench, several Manors have several Customs, as at East and West Enborne in the County of Berks, if a customary Tenant die, the Widow, shall have her Free-bench in all his Copyhold Lands, dum sola & casta fuerit; but if she commit Incontinency, she forfeits her Estate: Yea if she will come into the Court riding backward on a black Ram, with his Tail in her Hand, and say the Words following, The Steward is bound by the Custom to readmit her to her Free-bench.*

Here I am

Riding upon a black Ram,

Like a Whore as I am;

And for my Crineum Crancum,

Have lost my Binkum Bankum;

And for my Tail's Game,

Have done this worldly Shame,

Therefore I pray you, Mr. Steward, let me have my Land again.

The like Custom there is in the Manor of Chadlesworth in the same County; in that of Torre in Devonshire, and other Parts of the West.

Freebord, Francbordus, in some Places they claim as a Freebord, more or less Ground beyond or without the Fence. In Mon. Angl. 2 par. fol. 241. it is said to contain two Foot and a half, viz. Et totum bosum vocat, Brendwood cum frankborda, Et duorum pedum & dimid. per circuitum illius bosci, &c.

Free Chapel, Libera Capella, In the Opinion of some is a Chapel founded within a Parish, for the Service of God, by the Devotion and Liberality of some good Man, over and above the Mother-Church, to which it was free for the Parishioners to come, or not to come, and endowed with Maintenance by the Founder, and thereupon called Free. Others with more Probability say, That those only are Free Chapels that are of the King's Foundation, and by him exempted from the Jurisdiction of the Ordinary; but the King may licence a Subject to found such a Chapel, and by his Charter exempt it from the Diocesan's Jurisdiction. That it is called Free in Respect of its Exemption from the Diocesan's Jurisdiction, appears by the Register of Writs, fol. 40, 41. These Chapels were all given to the King, with Chanteries, 1 E. 6. 14. Free-Chapel of St. Martin le Grand, 3 E. 4. cap. 4. and 4 E. 4. cap. 7.

Freehold. See Fridhold.

Freehold, Franktenement, Liberum tenementum, Is that Land or Tenement which a Man holdeth in Fee, Fee-tail, or at the least for Term of Life. Bract. lib. 2. cap. 9. In the Terms of the Law 'tis said, That Freehold is of two Sorts, Freehold in Deed, and Freehold in Law: Freehold in Deed is the real Possession of Land or Tenements in Fee, Fee-tail, or for Life. Freehold in Law is the Right that a Man hath to such Land or Tenements before his Entry or Seizure. It hath likewise been extended to those Offices which a Man holdeth either in Fee, or for Term of Life. Britton defines it to this Effect, Frank-tenement is a Possession of the Soil, or Services issuing out of the Soil, which a Freeman holdeth in Fee to him and his Heirs, or at the least for Term of his Life, though the Soil be charged with free Services or other, cap. 32. Freehold is sometimes taken in Opposition to Villenage. Bract. lib. 4. 37, 38. Lambard in his Explication of Saxon Words, verb. Terra ex scripto saith, That Land in the Saxons Time was called either Back-land, that is, holden by Book or Writing; or Fole-land, that is, holden without Writing. The former he reports was held with far better Condition, and by the better Sort of Tenants, as Noblemen and Gentlemen, being such as now we call Freehold. The latter was commonly in the Possession of Clowns, being that we now call Ad voluntatem Domini, At the Will of the Lord. The Register Judicial, fol. 68. and in divers other Places saith, That he which holds Lands upon an Execution of a Statute-Merchant, until he be satisfied the Debt, Tenet ut liberum tenementum sibi & assignatis suis. And fol. 73. the same may be read of a Tenant by Elegit, where the Meaning is not, that they be Freeholders, but as Freeholders for their Time, that is, until they have gathered Profits to the Value of their Debt. Freeholders in the ancient Law of Scotland were called Milites. Skene de verb. signif. verb. Milites. Doffor and Student, that the Possession of Land after the Law of England, is called Frank-tenement, or Freehold, fol. 97. a.

Fraxinetum, A Wood of Ashen Trees. Domesday.

Frementfreda. See Femenesfrith.

Frenchman, Francigena, was heretofore wont to be used for every outlandish Man. Bracton, lib. 3. tract. 2. cap. See 15 Engleferi.

Frendless Man Was the Saxon Word for him that we call an Outlaw, and the Reason might be, because upon his Exclusion from the King's Peace and Protection, he was denied all Help of Friends after certain Days. Nam forisfecit amicos. Bract. lib. 3. tract. 2. cap. 12. num. 1. whose Words are these, Talem vocant Angli (utlough) & alio nomine antiquitus solet nominari, sc. Frendlessman, & sic videtur quod forisfecit amicos, & unde si quis talem post Utlagariam & expulsionem scienter paverit, receptaverit vel scienter communicaverit aliquo modo, vel receptaverit, vel occultaverit, eadem poena puniri debet, qua puniretur utlagatus, ita quod careat omnibus bonis suis & vita, nisi Rex ei parcat de sua gratia.

Frendwite vel Infeng, Significat quietantiam prioris pise ratione convicii. Fleta, lib. 1. cap. 47. See Forfeng. I cannot apprehend what Fleta meant by this Exposition of the Word, I rather think it was a Mult exacted of him, who harboured his outlawed Friend: 'Tis derived from the Sax. Freond, amicus, and wite, multa.

Frisca, Fresh-water, or Rain, and Land-flood.

— Reddendo inde nobis duas marcas argenti pro omni servitio, nisi quod debet mallare secundum quantitatem illius terre intus & extra, tam contra salum, quam contra frescam, sicut ceteri, & curiam nostram sequi — Charta Antiq. in Somner of Gavelkind, p. 132.

Fresh Disseisin, Frisca disseisina, Cometh of the French Frain, i. recens and disseisir, a possessione ejicere: It signifies such a Disseisin as a Man may seek to defeat of himself, and by his own Power, without the Help of the King or Judges, Britton, cap. 5. and that such disseisin as is not above fifteen Days old. Bracton, lib. 4. cap. 5. whom you may read at large in this Matter, concluding that it is arbitrary, and so doth Britton, cap. 65. But cap. 43. he seemeth to say, That in one Case it is a Year. See him also, cap. 44.

Fresh fine Is that which is levied within a Year past. Westm. 2. cap. 45. Auro 13 E. 1.

Fresh force, Frifa fortia, Is a Force done within forty Days, as seems by F.N.B. fol. 7. For if a Man be disseised of any Lands or Tenements within any City or Borough, or deforced from them after the Death of his Ancestor, to whom he is Heir, or after the Death of his Tenant for Life, or in Tail; he may within forty Days after his Title accrued, have a Bill out of the Chancery, to the Mayor, &c. See the Rest there, and Old Nat. Brev. fol. 4.

Fresh Suit, Recens insecutio, Is such a present and earnest following of an Offender, as never ceaseth from the Time of the Offence committed or discovered, until he be apprehended. And the Effect of this in the Pursuit of a Felon is, that the Party pursuing shall have his Goods again, whereas otherwise they are the King's. Of this see Stamf. pl. cor. lib. 3. cap. 10 & 12. where you shall find handled at large what Suit is to be accounted fresh, and what not. And the same Author in his first Book, cap. 27. saith, That Fresh Suit may continue for seven Years. See Coke's Rep. lib. 3. Ridgeway's Case. Fresh Suit seemeth to be either within the View or without; For Manwood saith, That upon Fresh Suit within the the View, Trespassers in the Forest may be attached by the Officers pursuing them, though without the Limits and Bounds of the Forest. cap. 19. per totum.

Fretum Britannicum, The Streights between Dover and Calais.

Fretum, Freight-Money. — Acquietari facietis fretum navium secundum quod Marinelli earundem Navium probare possint quod erit debitum de Fretto — Claul. 17. Joh. m. 16.

Friar or Frier, (Lat. Frater, Fr. Frere) An Order of religious Persons, of which, these are reckoned the principal Branches, Anno 4 H. 4. cap. 17. viz. Minors, Grey Friars, or Franciscans, Augustins, Dominicans, or Black Friars, and White Friars, or Carmelites, from which the Rest descend. See Zacchius de Reipub. Ecclæs. pag. 380. and Lyndwode, Tit. de relig. Dominibus, c. 1. verbo, Sancti Augustini.

Friar observant, Frater observans, Is an Order of Franciscans, which are Minors, as well the Observants as the Conventual, and Capuchines. Zab. de Rep. Ecclæs. tract. de Regular. cap. 12. These we find mentioned Anno 25 H. 8. cap. 12. They be called Observants because they are not combined together in any Cloister, Convent or Corporation, as the Conventuals are; but only tie themselves to observe the Rites of their Order more strictly than the Conventuals do; and upon a Singularity of Zeal, separate themselves from them, living in certain Places, and Companies of their own chusing: And of these you may read Hastinian de Orig. & Progress. Monachatus, fol. 878. cap. 38.

Fritiburg alias Fritthorpe, (from the Saxon Friith, i. e. Pax, and Borge, i. e. Fidejussor) is the same with Frankpledge, the one being in the Saxons Time, the other since the Conquest; wherefore, for the Understanding this, read Frankpledge, and the Laws of King Edward, set out by Lambard, fol. 143. in these Words; Præterea est quadam summa & maxima securitas, per quam omnes statu firmissimo sustententur, viz. ut unusquisque stabilit se sub fidejussionis securitate, quam Angli vocant, (Freoborghes) soli tamen Eboræ enses dicunt eandem (Tienmannatale) quod sonat latine decem hominum numerum, &c. Every Man in this Kingdom was associated in a Decennary, that is, in a Company of ten Families, who were pledged or bound for each other to keep the Peace and observe the Laws, and if any Offence was done by one, the other nine were to answer it; that is, if the Criminal fled from Justice, they had thirty Days allowed to apprehend him; if he was not taken in that Time, then he who was the Fritiburg, (that is, the principal Pledge) of the Ten, should take two of his own Number, and the chief Pledges of three neighbouring Fritiburgs, with two others out of each of those Fritiburgs, in all twelve Men, whereof four were to be the Chief, and the other eight were to be of the better Sort, and those were to purge themselves and their Fritiburg, of the Forfeiture and Flight of the Criminal, which if they could not do, then the principal Pledge, with the other eight to whom he did belong, was to make full Satisfaction; but afterwards it became difficult to get the three neighbouring Fritiburgs to join with the other, and therefore those other nine made Oath that they were not Guilty, and that they would bring the Criminal to Justice as soon as he should be taken. Dracōn mentions Fridburgum, lib. 3. Tract. 2. cap. 10. in these Words, Archiepiscopi, Episcopi, Comites & Barones & omnes qui habent Soc & Sac, Tol & Team, & hujusmodi libertates, milites suos & proprios servientes, Armigeros, &c. Dapiferos, & pincernas, camerarios, coquos, piscores, sub suo Fridburgo habere debent. Item & isti suos Armigeros & alios sibi servientes; quod si qui forsiverint, ipsi Domini sui habeant eo ad rectum, & si non habuerint, solvant pro eis forsifacuram. Et sic observandum erit de omnibus aliis qui sunt de aliquo manupastu. Where we learn the Reason, why great Men were not combined in any ordinary Dozein; because they were a sufficient Assurance for themselves, and for their menial Servants, no less than the Ten were one for another in ordinary Dozeins. See Skene, verbo Freiborg. Fleta writes it Fritiburg, and useth it for the principal Man, or at least for one of the Dozein. Lib. 1. cap. 47. See Hoveden parte post. Annal. in Hen. 2. fol. 345. But Syelman makes a Difference between Friborg, and Fritthorpe, saying, The first signifies libera securitas, or fidejussio; the other pacis securitas.

Fritthorpe. See Fritthorpe.

Fridstoll and Fritthorpe, (from the Saxon Friith, pax; Stol, sedes, cathedra; Stoth, locus) A Seat, Chair or Place of Peace. In the Charter of Immunities granted to the Church of St. Peter in York, by Hen. 1. and confirmed, An. 5 H. 7. Thus, — Quod si aliquis, vesano spiritu agitatus diabolico anhu quemquam capere presumerit, in Cathedra lapidea juxta Altare, quod Angli vocant Fridstoll, i. e. Cathedra quietudinis vel pacis; hujus tam flagitiosi Sacilegii emendatio sub nullo Judio erit, sub nullo pecunia numero clauderetur, sed apud Anglos Borelee, hoc est, sine emenda, vocabatur. Of these there were many others in England, but the most famous at Beverley, which had this Inscription, Hæc sedes lapidea Freedstoll dicitur, i. e. Pacis Cathedra, ad quam reus fugiendo perveniens, omnimodam habet securitatem. Camb. It signifies also a Palace, which is usually a privileged Place.

Fritthorpe quasi Ferdwit: 'Tis a Mulct paid by him who deserted the Army: from the Saxon Fynd, expeditio, and Wite, Mulct.

Fritthorpe. A Freeman: from the Saxon Freob, liber, and Lassen, dimittere.

Fritthorpe, i. e. A Freeman: from the Sax. Freob, liber and Ling, progenies.

Fritthorpe, The mulct of a Freeman.

Fritthorpe Is deduced from the French Fripier, interpolator, one that scoureth up and cleanseth old Apparel to sell again: It is used for a Kind of Broker. Anno 1 Jac. cap. 21.

Fritthorpe, Uncultivated Land. Et de communia Pastura in Frisicis & dominis suis. Monast. 2 tom pag. 56.

Fritthorpe. See Fritthorpe.

Fritthorpe, A Wood, from the Sax. Friith, pax; for the English Saxons held several Woods to be sacred, and made them Sanctuaries.

Fritthorpe. See Free borgh.

Fritthorpe, Pacis violatio, the Breacking of the Peace. Leg. Ethelredi, cap. 6. See Frythe.

Fritthorpe, Inter Leges Presbyterorum Northumbrensum, cap. 48. Si superstitiosus ille conventus qui Fritthorpe dicitur, habitus fuerit in terra aliquis circa lapidem, arborem, fontem, &c. Mr. Somner thinks it a Sort of Fyebile, or Yearly Meeting for Peace and Friendship, from Sax. Friith, Peace, and Gear, a Year.

Frithgild, The same which we now call a Guild-Hall, or a Fraternity or Company.

Frithmannus, One who is of a Fraternity or Company.

Frithmote per Frithmote, J. Stanley Arm. clamat capere annuatim de villa de Oton que est infra feodum & Manerium de Aldford infra forestaria de la mer 10 sol. quos Comites Cestrie ante consecrationem curia predicta solebant capere. Pl. in Itin. apud Cestr. 14 H. 7.

Frithsorne and Frithsoke, (Frith, i. e. Pax and Socne, Libertas) Tuenda pacis Jurisdicatio; or (according to Fleta) Libertas habendi franci plegii; or, immunitatis locus.

Fritho2g or Freoburgh, (from the Saxon Freo, i. e. Free; and Borge, i. e. Fidejussor.) See Friburg and Frankpledge.

Frithmorte, rectius Freomortel, (from the Saxon Freo, Free; and Morph-dæd, Homicidium) An Immunity or Freedom granted for committing Manslaughter. Et concedo eis curiam suam de omnibus querelis, &c. & judicium suum pro Frodmortell, & quod homines sint credendi per suam Ya & per suum Na. Monast. 1 Tom. pag. 173.

Froyle, Among the Customs of the Abbey of Sainr Edmondsbury, solemnly declared by the Abbot, Prior, and Convent, 17 Kal. Novemb. 1280.

Quia multoties refectio Conventus in Refectorio propter defectum piscium tenuis habetur & exilis, de cetero cibarium illud quod dicitur Froyle certis diebus in refectorio tam pro seculo quam pro pitantiis prandentibus apponatur, ut ex eo melius reficiatur & recreentur. Cartular. St. Edmundi, MS. penes Joh. Epum Norwic. f. 102. By which we may conclude the old Conventual Froyle was plain Pancakes or Fritters, not fried with Bacon intermixt, as what we still call Froyle is now prepared.

Frumgild, Is an old Saxon Word, which signifies the first Payment made to the Kindred of a slain Person, in Recompence of his Murder. Leg. Edmundi, cap. ultimo.

Frumstol, Sedes primavia, The chief Seat or Mansion-House. Leg. Ine Reg. cap. 38.

Frusca terra, Uncultivated and desert Ground, Fundata fuit Ecclesiola in situ seu fundo continente 40 acras terre frusce quas quidem 40 acras sine aliquo seculari servitio, sine decimis alicui Ecclesiæ solvendis, sine subjectione, quia inanes erant & vacue donavit. Mon. Angl. tom. 2. pag. 327.

Fruscare terram, To break up new Ground and reduce it in frussuram, into new broke Land

Idem Galfridus concessit predicto Abbati decem acras terre ad frussandum cum viginti quatuor acris terre que frussate sunt in Baddebury. Salvo predicto Galfrido & heredibus suis communi pastura in predicta frussura post blada asportata. Cartular. Abbat. Glaston. MS. fol. 48. a. Frusfire terram in the same Sense, ibid. f. 90. and Frusretum for a Field new broke up, ibid. fol. 71.

frussetum, A Wood, or woody Ground. Domesday.

frussura, (from the Fr. Froissure) A breaking down or demolishing, also a plowing or breaking up, Dedi eis novam garbam tam in Frussuris, que de novo sunt, quam in, &c. Mon. Angl. 2 Par. fol. 394. b. Nec licebit eis aliquam partem pastura frussire, vel excolere sine licentia. Finalis Concord. in Curia Dom. Regis apud Litchfeld coram Roger. de Thurkilby, &c. Distant autem novam garbam dabimus ego & heredes mei in perpetuum tam in Frussuris que de novo sunt, & in Frussuris que de cetero sunt, &c. Monast. 2 Tom. pag. 394.

Frustrura Domozum, House-breaking. Reftatus de latrocinis & frustrura domorum. Gervas, Dorobern. Sub anno 1195. Frustrura terræ. New broke Land, or lately ploughed up. — Dictam autem nonam garbam dabimus, Ego & heredes mei in perpetuum, iam in frustruris quæ de novo fiunt, quam in aliis terris Domini mei prius cultis — Mon. Angl. tom. 2. p. 394.

Frustrum terræ, Or, according to Spelman, Frustrum, A small Piece of Land, Residuum quiddam præter acras numeratas vel campum mensuratum. Cum in Domesday Frustrum terræ accipitur pro ampla portione seorsum a campo villæ, Manerio jacenti. Domesday, Tit. Hantisc. Rex Abbedstone. In insula habet Rex unum Frustrum terræ unde exemit 61 Vomeret.

Frutectum, A Place where Shrubs, or great Herbs with big Stalks grow. — Damus etiam eisdem decimas de omnibus Novaliibus nostris, i. e. De terris quas de paludibus & de frutectis in terram arabilem traximus, per nummos vel per Kirssete. Mon. Angl. 3 Par. f. 92. a.

Fryth. Sir Edward Coke (on Litt. fol. 5. b.) expounds it, a Plain between two Woods, a Lawnd. Chaucer uses it for a Wood. Cambden (in his Britton) for an Arm of the Sea, or Streight between two Lands, from Fretum. — Maketh his Issue into the Estuary or Frith of Thames. Smith (in his England's Improvement) makes it signify all Hedge-wood, except Thorns. How to reconcile these, I know not; but am sure the Saxon Frith, signifies Peace, and that Fryth in our Records is often used for a Wood. Lector, tu tibi Oedipus esto.

Frythborgh, from the Sax. Frith, i. e. Pax, and Berge, sidejessor. — Et sint quieti de Frythborgh, & de Blodewite, Fithwite, & Ferdwyte, &c. 4 Pasch. 6 Hen. 4. Rot. 24. It might here signify a Freedom from giving Security of the Peace.

Frytting of Wheels, Perhaps what we now call the Rinding of Wheels, i. e. fitting and fastning the Fellows (or Pieces of Wood that conjointly make the Circle) upon the Spokes, which on the Top are let into the Fellows, and at the Bottom into the Hub. — In solutis pro fryttinge quinque rotarum hoc anno vii. denar. — Paroch. Antiq. p. 574.

Fuage or Focage, Derived a foco: In the Reign of Edward the Third, the black Prince of Wales having Aquitaine granted him, laid an Imposition of Fuage or Focage upon the Subjects of that Dukedom, viz. Twelve-pence for every Fire, called Herth-Money, Rot. Parl. 25 E. 3. 'Tis probable our Hearth-Money took its Original from hence.

Fuatium. See Sidlingi.

Fuer, Fuga, from the French Fuir, Fugere; Though it be a Verb, yet it is used substantively, and is two-fold; Fuer in fait (in facto) when a Man doth apparently and corporally fly, and fuer in ley (in lege) when being called in the County he appeareth not, until he be outlawed; for this is Flight in Interpretation of Law, Staund. pl. cor. lib. 3. cap. 22.

Fuga Catallozum, A Drove of Cattle. See Streteward.

Fugacia Signifies a Chase, and is all one with Chasea. Charta Matildis Imperatricis Miloni de Glouc. — Præcipio quod hæc omnia teneat de me — libere & quiete, in bosco & plano, in Forestis & Fugaciis, in pratis & pasturis, &c.

Fugare & refugare Catalla, To drive Cattle to and fro, forward and backward. Antiquit. of Nottinghamshire, fol. 462.

Fugare also signifies to Hunt: Prohibeo ne quis sine licentia mea Fugeret.

Fugatio, Pro fugandi actu, Hunting, or the Liberty or Privilege to hunt. Et Cives habeant Fugationes suas ad fugandum, sicut melius & plenius habuerunt Antecessores eorum, in Chiltre & Middlesex & Surr. &c. Charta Libertat. Hen. 1. Civibus London. Fugatio Forestæ, the Drift of the Forest.

Fugatores Carrucarum, Waggoners who can drive Oxen equally yoked, without beating or goading. Fleta, lib. 2. cap. 78. Par. 1.

Fugurium, (Fr. Fongiere) Fern. Liskiret. Item est ibidem quidam boscus vocat. Clynck, qui valet per annum, cum Pannagio, melle, fugerio & Fampno ejusdem, iii s. Survey of the Dutchy of Cornwall. Claus. 1 Ed. 3. Par. 2. M. 1. Dorso. In an old Forest Book of Sherwood, it is interpreted Gorst-grasse.

Fugitio, Pro Fuga: Condonavit omnes Felonias & Fugitiones. Knighoton, Anno 1537.

Fugerium. John Grey Bishop of Norwich grants to the Prior and Monks of his Cathedral Church this Privilege in his Woods at Thorpe. Omnes exitus de nemore communi provenientes aequaliter dividimus scil. herbagium pannagium, pasturam, bruerium, turbarium, fugerium, Subbosum, radices siccas, placita, forisfacturas, &c. Ex Reg. Eccl. Norwic.

Fugitibz Goods, Bona fugitivorum, Are the proper Goods of him that flieth upon Felony which after the Flight lawfully found, do belong to the King, or Lord of the Manor. Co. Vol. 6. fol. 109. See Waif.

Fuistallum, i. e. Vinaria dolia, viz. Et de decem junctis salis in wickie, cum duabus salinis & Fuistallo. Monast. 2. tom. pag. 89.

Fulgeria, i. e. Filix: Et passuagium in Foresta & herbam & Fulgeriam & juncos ad falcandum. Du Cange.

Fullum aquæ, A Stream of Water, a Fleam, such as comes from a Mill.

Fumage, Fumagium, Dung, or Manuring with Dung, Et sint quieti de fumagio & Maremio cariando, &c. charta R. 2. Priorat. de Hertland, Pat. 5 E. 4. part. 3. m. 13. But indeed Fumagium was properly Smoke-Farthings, or a customary Payment from every House that had a Chimney or Fire-Hearth.

Fumathoes or Fumadoes, 14 Car. 2. cap. 31. Our Pilchards garbaged, salted, hanged in the Smoke, and pressed, are so called in Italy and Spain, whither they are carried in great Numbers.

Fumatium, The same with Focagium, which see.

Fundator, The Founder of a Church, College, Hospital, or other publick Benefaction. This Title in the old religious Houses was equivalent to Patron: For it was not only given to the first actual Founder, but continued to those Barons and Knights, who held the Fee of the Site or Endowments of such Monasteries, and by such Tenure had the Patronage or Advowson of them. And if after the Extinction or long Intermision of this Title, any Person could prove his Descent from the first Founder, he was assumed by the Religious to the Name and Honour of their Founder. See Mr. Kennet's Glossary in Fundator.

Fundatores, Used for Pioncers, in Pat. 10 Edw. 2. M. 1.

Furagium, See Forrare. Ne Furagium capiatur ubique; in Con. Cantua ad equos sustentandos in Castello de Dover. Monast. 1 tom. 22.

Furtote, Furtote, Furbete, A Liberty granted by the Lord to his Tenant, to take Underwood for Fire, or Occasions of burning in his Family. — Habeant & in bosis meis bushote, & beybete, & furbote. — Cartular. Abbat. Glaston. MS. f. 36. b.

Furca, Seu Catefurca, & fossa, (i. e. Gallows and Pit.) In ancient Privileges it signified a Jurisdiction of punishing Felons, that is, Men with Hanging; Women with Drowning: Of which last, take this notable Example out of the Records of Rofter Church, in the Time of Gilbert Bishop there, who flourished under Richard the First, Anno 1200.

*Item due mulieres venerunt in villam de Suffiote, que fuvate fuerunt multos pannos in villa de Croindone, & secuti sunt eas homines ejusdem ville de Croindone, quorum pannos furtive asportaverunt, usque in villam de Suffiote, & ibi capti fuerunt & inarcerati, & habuerunt judicium suum in Curia de Suffiote, ad portandum calidum ferrum, quorum una fuit salva, & altera damnata, unde sobmersa fuit in Bikepole. Et hoc totum contigit tempore Gilberti Domini Episcopi, & in quolibet judicio fuerunt Coronarii Domini Regis. Et Paulus de Stanes fuit tunc Cacherellus de Hundredo de Aclane. Et per illud tempus Robertus de Hecham Monachus fuit custos de Manerio de Suffiote, & ad mulieres judicandas fuit Dominus Henricus de Cobham, & alii plures homines, discreti homines de Patria. Fassa is taken away, but Furca remains, says Sir Edward Coke in his 3 Inst. fol. 58. Skene de verbor. signifi. verb. Fossa, hath these Words concerning this Matter. *Ereſtio furcarum est veri imperii & alte Jusſtitia, & significat Dominum aeris, quia suspenſi pendunt in aere: Et merum Imperium consistit in quatuor, sicut sunt quatuor elementa: In aere, ut hi qui suspenduntur. In igne, quando quis comburitur propter maleficcium. In aqua, quando quis ponitur in culeo & in mare projectur ut pericula, vel in amnem immergitur ut Fovinus furti damnate. In terra, cum quis decapitatur & in terram proſternitur.

Mich. anno 2 Joh. Rot. 7.

Furcare, French Four-bar. — Caveant Vir & Mulier implacitati, quod semper in effonio alterius alter compaveat, quamdiu furcare possint, & cum ultra non possint, concurrent eorum effonia in suis locis. — Hec autem omnia dico de pluvibus Particulis, ubi terra impertita est, seu tenementum; videlicet, de furcatione effonii, & de defaltis preventibus. Radulf de Hengham. Magna cap. 9. See Fovr. b.

Furcare ad tassum, To pitch Corn, in loading a Wagon, or in making a Rick or Mow. Tenentes debent falcare, spargere, vertere, cumulare, curare in manerium Domini, & ad tassum furcare unam acram prati.

Furcare careſtam, I suppose to hang a Wagon or Cart, i. e. to fit the Body of it to hang right upon the Axle and Wheels. — Alloantur eisdem pro Richardo Plumbario furcantes careſtam per xii. dies iii. fol. — & pro Johanne Bowden furcantes careſtam per unam diem 3 d. — Paroch. Antiquit. p. 550.

Furchetum, That Part of the Breast where the Veins coming from the Liver are divided into Forks, that is, where the Breast is largest: Conceſſit eidem Comiti, &c. duos damos adomeos quolibet Anno de predicto parco, viz. de utroque damo quatuor membra & caput cum corio & Forchieto, &c. Dugd. War. pag. 664.

Furcuellus, Fardella, Ferlingus, A Furndal, Fardingel, Furndel, or Ferling of Land, i. e. the fourth Part of an Acre, which in Wiltshire is still called a Furdingale, and in some other Parts a Furkindale. Whence in the North, a Furndale or Furndel of Corn is two Gawns or Gallons, i. e. the fourth Part of a Bushel. See Mr. Kennet's Glossary.

Furigelum, A Muilt paid for Theft. Among the Laws of King Ethelred, made at Wantage, cap. 7. 'tis allowed they shall be Witnesses, qui nunquam Furigeldum reddiderunt, i. e. who were never accused of Theft or Larceny.

Furlong, Ferlingum terra, Is a Quantity of Ground containing in most Places forty Poles, every Pole sixteen Foot and an half in Length; eight of which Furlongs make a Mile, Anno 35 E. 1. cap. 6. It is otherwise the eighth Part of an Acre; yet an old Book printed in Henry the Eighth's Time, makes 600 Foot, by five-score to the Hundred, a Furlong. See Acre. In the former Signification, the Romans call it Stadium, in the later Fugerum: A Pole is in some Places called a Perch, and differs in Length according to the Custom of the Country. See Perch.

Furlong is sometimes used for a Piece of Land of more or less Acres. Omnibus Christi Fidel. — Johannes Blount de Eyre Arm. — Dedit Thome Croft & Francisfo Level Arm. unum Forlongum terra arabilis continen. per estimationem quatuor Acre, &c. Dat. 20 Jan. 3 Eliz.

Furnac, Furnagium, Est tributum quod Domino furni a ſectatoribus penditur ob usum furni. For in many Places the Tenants are bound to bake their Bread in the Lord's Oven. Est etiam lucrum seu emolumentum quod Pistori conceditur in Pistoris sumptus & mercedem, & tunc potest Pistor de quolibet quarterio frumenti lucrari 4 Den. & furfur. & duos panes ad furnagium. Affida panis & cerviziz. 51 A. 3. See Fornagium.

Furnarius, A Baker who keeps an Oven.

Furnare, To bake, or put any Thing in the Oven: Et invenimus eidem conventui domos competentes & necessarias ad brasandum & Furniandum. Matt. Paris. Anno 1258.

Furr, Furruva, Cometh from the French Furver, i. pelliculare, to line with Skins. The Statute 24 H. 8. cap. 13. mentions divers, as Sable, which is a rich Furr, of Colour between black and brown, being the Skin of a Beast called a Sable, of Bigness between a Polecat, and an ordinary Cat, and shaped like a Polecat; bred in Russia, but the most and best in Tartary. Lucernes is the Skin of a Beast so called, being near the Bigness of a Wolf, of Colour between red and brown, something mailed like a Cat, and mingled with black Spots; bred in Muscovia and Russia, and is a very rich Furr. Genet is the Skin of a Beast so called, of Bigness between a Cat and a Weezle, mailed like a Cat, and of the Nature of a Cat; bred in Spain, whereof there be two Kinds, black and grey, and the black the more precious Furr, having black Spots upon it hardly to be seen. Foynes is of Fashion like the Sable, bred in France for the most part; the Top of the Fur is black, and the Ground Ground whitish. Marterne is a Beast very like the Sable, the Skin something courser; it liveth in all Countries that be not too cold, as England, Ireland, &c. the best be in Ireland. Miniver is nothing but the Bellies of Squirrels as some say; as others, it is a little Vermin, like unto a Weezle, milk-white, and brought from Mesory. Fit-b is that which we otherwise call the Pole-cat here in England. Shanks are the Skin of the Shank or Leg of a Kind of Kid, which beareth the Furr that we call Budge. Calaber is a little Beast, about the Bigness of a Squirrel, of Colour gray, and bred especially in High Germany.

Furrura, i. e. Pellicium, viz. Longum Tabardum capium cum Furrura ad supertunicam & capucium. Monast. 2 Tom. pag. 646.

Furst and Fondong, i. e. Time to advise, or to take Counsel, viz. De quibusq; implicatur a-liquis Furst & Fondong habeat. Leg. H. 1. cap. 46.

Fustit, A Kind of Wood, which Dyers use, and is brought from Barbadoes, Jamaica, &c. Mentioned 12 Car. 2. cap. 18.

Furta, A Right or Privilege derived from the King, as prime Lord to try, condemn and execute Thieves and Felons within fixed Bounds or District of an Honour, Manor, &c. — clamat habere liberam warrenam & furtam in terris suis — quoad predictas furas dicit, quod Dominus

H. Rex concessit ei Infangenthes & utfangenthes in omnibus terris suis. Cartular. Abbat. Glaston. MS. f. 86. b. yet I rather think, it ought to be read Furca, and means directly a Gallows.

Fustibit. See Fistwit.

Fynderinga, An Offence or Trespas, for which the Fine or Compensation was reserved to the King's Pleasure, in the Laws of H. 1. cap. 10. Spelman would read it Fynderinga, and interprets it Treasure-trove, but indeed the Word is truly Fynderinga or Fyndering, and signified properly a Going out to War, or a Military Expedition at the King's Command, which upon Refusal or Neglect, was punished with a Fird-wite, or Mult at the King's Pleasure. See Fird-wite.

Fyrdthing, alias Fyrdung, A military Expedition.

Fyrdthwite, The same with Firdwit; viz. a Mult for deserting the Army.

G.

Gabel, (Gabella, Gablum, Gahlagium, Saxon Gafol, alias Gafel, i. e. Veſtigal) hath the same Signification among our old Writers that Gabelle hath in France: For Mr. Camden in his Brit. pag. 213. speaking of Wallingford, hath these Words, Continebat 276 Hagas, i. domos, reddentes novem libras de Gablo. And pag. 228. of Oxford these, Hæc urbs reddebat pro felonio & gablo, & aliis consuetudinibus, per annum, Regi quidem viginti libras & sex sectarios mellis, comiti vero Algaro decem lib. 15. Gabella, as Cassaneus defines it, de cons. Burgund. pag. 119. est veſtigal quod solvitur pro bonis mobilibus, id est, pro iis quæ vehuntur, distinguendo ita tributum, quia tributum est proprie quod fisco vel Principi solvatur pro rebus immobilibus. The Lord Coke, in his Comment upon Littleton, saith thus, lib. 2. cap. 12. fol. 213. Here note, for the better Understanding of ancient Records, Statutes, Charters, &c. That Gabel, or Gavel, Gablum, Gabellum, Gabelletum, Gabelletum and Gawillettum, do signify a Rent, Custom, Duty or Service, yielded or done to the King or any other Lord. But that Gablum did as well extend to Money, as to other Things in Kind, is very plain by that Record in Domesday-Book in Windsor in Berkshire, where 'tis said, Rex Willielmus tenet Windfores in Dominico, Rex Edw. tenuit ibi xx. bidas, &c. Et ab hic sunt in villa C. Hage V. minus; ex his sunt xxvii. quietæ de Gablo & de aliis excent xxx solid. And lastly, In the same Book in Somersetshire, it is thus expressed in the Title of Terra Regis, (which observe) Rex tenet cedre (I suppose it is that Chedder, so famous for its Cheele) Rex Edw. tenuit, nunquam Geldavit, nec scitur quot Hida sunt ibi, &c. in Dominico, &c. xx Bord cum xvii. Car. & vii. Gablatores redd. xvii. These seven Gablatores did pay seventeen Shillings, and from their paying of Rent were termed Gablatores: To me it seems probable, that this Gablum is to be distinguished from a Rent or Payment made upon Contract or Bargain, and hath Relation to such a one as was imposed by the Power and Will of the Lord. And these different Sorts of Payment are passed in Domesday-Book under several Expressions, according to the Nature of them; where sometimes it is written, That one Reddit to such a one so much, without any other Addition: And this, I believe, was Rent upon Agreement and Contract: Another Reddit de consuetudine so much, and a third Reddit de Gablo, so much. When Gabel is mentioned without any Addition, then it usually signifies the Tax on Salt propter excellentiam, but afterwards it was applied to all other Taxes, as Gabelle de Vins, &c.

Gaberdrine, A coarse Coat or Livery: From the Germ. Gave, because 'tis usually given to Servants every Year.

Gablatores, Those that paid Gabel, Rent or Tribute. Domesday.

Gablum, Gabulum, Gabula, The Head, or End, or extreme Part of a House or Building. The Gable-head, the Gable-end, &c. — Quandam particulam terre — extra gabulum molendini octo pedes in latitudine. Paroch. Antiquit. pag. 201.

— Qua domus sita est inter gabulum tenementi mei & gabulum tenementi Laurentii Kepeharne. Ibid. pag. 286. See Mr. Kennet's Glossary.

Gabranticozum, Portuosus sinus, Suerby in Yorkshire.

Gabriel's home. — Et Rikhl dit que le demandant en cest brief navera Judgement devant ceo que Gabriel nst flay son Corne. Plowden, fol. 358. a. That is, till the Day of Doom; never.

Gabzofentum, Gateshead in the Bishoprick of Durham.

Gabulus denariozum, Rent paid in Money. Selden of Tithes, pag. 321.

Gacrum, Lat. Remum vel rutabulum vocant. W. Thorn. pag. 2010. speaking of the Monastery of St. Austin in Canterbury, says de discis & plateis 3300 de gachis.

Gafoldagyd Is a Saxon Word, signifying the Payment or rendering of Tribute or Custom. Also it sometimes denotes Usury.

Gafol-land alias Gaful-land, Terra censualis, Land liable to Tribute or Tax. The Saxon Dictionary calls it Rented Land. See Gavel.

Gsaqr, Vadium, Signifies a Pawn or Pledge, and is derived from the French Gager, that is, pignori dare. Glanvil, lib. 10. cap. 6. saith, Quandoque res mobiles ponuntur in vadium, quandoque res immobiles; and a little after that, thus, Inradiatur res quandoq; ad

ad terminum, quandoque sine termino; Item quandoque invadiatur res aliqua in mortuo vadio, quandoque non. And from that Chapter to the End of the twelfth in the same Book, he handleth this one Thing; though the Word Gage be retained as it is a Substantive, yet as it is a Verb, Use hath turned the G. into a W. so as it is oftner written Wage, as to swage Deliverance, that is, to give Security that a Thing shall be delivered: For if he that distrained, being sued, have not delivered the Cattle that were distrained, then he shall not only avow the Distress, but gage Deliverance, that is, put in Sureties that he will deliver the Cattle distrained, F. N. B. fol. 74 & 67. yet in some Cases he shall not be tied to his Secnrity, as if the Cattle died in the Pound. Kitchin, fol. 145. Or if he claim a Propriety in the Cattle sued for. Terms de la Ley. To wage Law, see Law; and also see Mortgage.

Gager Deliverance. See Gage.

Gayle. See Gaul.

Gager del Ley. See Wage, and Wager of Law.

Gagers. See Gawgers. This Word is mentioned in 12 Car. 2. cap. 4.

Gaignage (Lat. Wainagium, i. e. Actus plausivi, vel plausivi apparatus, French Gaignage, i. e. the Gain or Crop of tilled or planted Grounds,) signifies the Draught-Oxen, Horses, Wain, Plough, and Furniture, for carrying on the Work of Tillage by the baser Sort of Sokemen and Villains; and sometimes the Land it self, or the Profit raised by cultivating it. Bracton, lib. 1. cap. 9. (speaking of Lords and Servants) says, Et in hoc legem habet contra Dominos, &c. ut si eos destruant, quod saluum non possit eis esse Wainagium suum. And again, lib. 3. tract. 2. cap. 1. Miles & liber homo non amerciaabitur nisi secundum modum delicti, secundum quod delictum fuit magnum vel parvum & salvo contentemento suo: Mercator non nisi salva Mercandisa sua, & Villanus non nisi salvo wainagio suo. For anciently, as it appears both by Mag. Char. cap. 14. and other Books, the Villain, when amerced, had his Wainage free, to the End the Plough might not stand still: And the Law, for the same Reason, does still allow a like Privilege to the Husbandman, that his Draught-Horses and Oxen are not in many Cases distrainable. This in Westm. 1. cap. 6. Anno 3 E. 1. is called Gaynure, and again, cap. 17. and in Magna Charta, cap. 14. it is called Gaignage. In the Old Nat. Brev. fol. 117. it is termed Gainor, in these Words, The Writ of Aiel was Præcipe, &c. quod reddat unam vocatam terræ & unam vocatam mariscis. And the Writ was abated for that the Oxgang is always of a Thing that lieth in Gainor. This Word was used only concerning arable Land, because they that had it in Occupation, had nothing of it, but the Profit and Fruit raised by their own Pains towards their Sustainance, nor any other Title, but at the Lord's Will. Gainor, again in the same Book, fol. 12. is used for a Soke-man, that hath such Land in his Occupation. In the 32 Chapter of the Grand Custumary of Normandy, Geigneurs be Agricole, qui terras elemosynatas possident. And Britton useth Gainor for to Plow or Till, fol. 42 & 65. West. Symbol. part 2. Tit. Recoveries, sect. 3. hath these Words, A Præcipe quod reddat lieth not in Bovata Mariscis. 13 E. 3. fol. 3. nor de felonie terræ, because of the Incertainty; for a Selson is a Piece of Land sometimes containing an Acre, sometimes half an Acre, sometimes more, sometimes less: it lieth not of a Garden, Cottage or Croft. 14 Aff. 13. 8 H. 6. 3. 22 Ed. 4. 13. de Virgata terre, &c. For they be not in Demefne, but in Gain, &c. Lastly, In the Statute of Distresses in the Exchequer, Anno 15 H. 5. are these Words, No Man of Religion, or other, shall be distrained by his Beasts that gain the Land. See Wainage.

Gainagium, or Wainagium, In the foregoing Account is indeed explained with too much Obscurity, Error and Confusion. For Gaynage or Waynage was properly no more than all the Plough-tackle, or Implements of Husbandry, without any respect to Gain or Profit; and the Equity of those Proviso's in Magna Charta, &c. lay in this Meaning of the Word. The Knight and Freeholder should be amerced, Salvo contentemento suo, i. e. saving his Free-Lands and Tenements, which were not to be touched by arbitrary Fine. The Merchant or Trader was to be amerced salvo Merchandisa sua, i. e. saving his Goods and Stock, which were necessary to carry on his Trade. And so likewise the Villain, the Country-Man, or Plough-Man should be fined or amerced for his Offences, but still salvo gainagio suo, i. e. saving all his Plough-geer, and necessary Implements of Husbandry, which if distrained or seized for such Fines or Impositions would disable him from carrying on his Employment of Agriculture; contrary to the fundamental Liberty of Subjects, which was so to be mulcted, or fined, or amerced, as should punish them, but not break them, or undo them.

Gainery, (Fr. Gaignerie,) Tillage or Tilling, or the Profit raised of Tillage, or of the Beasts used therein. I have seen an old Lease that demised Omnes terras, pratos & pasturas in M. vulgo vocat. le Gainerie, &c.

Gainure, West. 1. cap. 6 & 17. Signifies the same with gainery.

Galea, A Galley, or swift Ship. Mat. Paris calls it Liburna. See Hoveden, pag. 688, 692.

Armo caput Galea, pelagus percurro Galea.

Galege, Galice, Seemeth to come of the Fr. Galloches, which signifieth a Kind of Shoe worn by the Gauls in dirty Weather; and at present the Signification differs not much among us. The Word is used Anno 4 E. 4. cap. 7. And 14 & 15 H. 8. cap. 9. where it is written plainly Galloches.

Galilea, i. e. A Gallery or Church-Porch. Pryn. Lib. Angl. 3 Tom. pag. 668. Et insuper inveniam unum Sacerdotem missalem, de predicto Sancto, in Ecclesia memorata, in loco qui dicitur la Galiley.

Galigal Is a medicinal Herb, the Nature and Diversity whereof is expressed in Gerard's Herbal, lib. 3. cap. 22. The Root of this is mentioned for a Drug to be garbled. 1 Jac. 19.

Gallatium, Whelp-Castle in Westmorland.

Gallaba, Wallwick in Northumberland.

Gallena, Wallingford in Berkshire.

Galliti. Mr. Sommer was of Opinion that they were Viri Galeati; but Knighton doth not mention the Word in that Sense, &c. In quorum prima acie fuit dominus Galfridus, &c. cum multis Galleris, i. e. with many Welchmen.

Galligaskins,

Galligaskins, i. e. Wide Hose or Breeches, so called, because used by the Gifcoings.

Gallialpens Were a Kind of Coin which with Suskins and Dutkins were forbidden by the Statute of 3 H. 5. 1. They where a Genoa Coin, brought in by the Genoese Merchants, who trading hither in Gallies, lived commonly in a Lane near Tower-Street, and were called Galley-Men, landing their Goods at a Place in Thames-Street called Galley-Key, and trading with their own small Silver Coin called Galley Half-pence. See Stow's Survey of London, 137. Sir Francis Bacon writes them Gauls-Half-pence; and, 'tis like, more truly.

Gallinawtry, i. e. Meal given to Galley Slaves.

Gallivolatium, a Cockshoot or Cockglade. Dedi unam Gravam cum Gallivolatio. Charta Antiqua. And elsewhere I find volatium silvestre in the same Signification. Item sunt ibidem quatuor volatia silvestria, quæ valent per annum 2s. Inq. post. mortem Rog. Mortimer 22 R. 2.

Galloches. See Galee.

Galls Be a Kind of a hard and round Fruit like a Nut, growing upon the Tree, in Latin called Galla: The divers Kinds and Uses whereof Gerard expresseth in his Herbal, lib. 5. cap. 34. This is a Drug to be garbled. 1 Fac. 19.

Gambria, Gambria, Fr. Fambiere. Military Boots, or Defence for the Legs. — Sed utrum habere possunt Gambrias, & galeas in capitis, neque lege neque consuetudine invenimus. Nic. Upton de Militari Officio, l. 2. ca. 8.

Gambizon, (Gambesonum) (Pat. 15 Ed. 1. M. 13) a long Horseman's Coat used in War, which covered the Legs, Gamba. — Ego Johannes Becondo Testamentum. — fecit donec malme a Dies & mon Corps a ensevelir al Abbey de Kirkstede en le Chapel St. Maurice, que mon meleur Chival, pris de xl. Marks, mon Haubert de Guerre, mes Chancons, mes Couvertures de Fer, mon Gambeyson, ma Targe, que tout mon harnais de Guerre, q. a mon Corps appent, &c. Probatum 10 Cal. Martii, Anno 1303. Or rather a quilted Coat. Cento, vestimentum ex coactili Lana confectum, to put under the Armour to make it sit easy. Fleta, lib. 1. c. 24. Par. 12. See perpunctum.

Peñora tot coriis, tot Gambesonibus armant.

Gang-Tape, (Dies Lustrationis) LL. Athelstani Regis. See Rogation-Week. Gang-Week.

Gang-week. See Rogation-Week.

Gadol, Gadla, Cometh of the French Geol, i. Caveola, a Cage for Birds, but is metaphorically used for a Prison; thence cometh the Master of a Prison to be called Gasler, or Fayler.

Gara, A Measure or small Quantity of Ground. — Et in prato juxta Beresford sex acras & duas garas, & in prato de Atrefton sex acras & duas garas, &c. Mon. Angl. tom. 3. Par. 2. pag. 29.

Garbe Cometh of the French Word Garbe, alias Gerbe, i. fascis: It signifies with us a Bundle or Sheaf of Corn, Charta de Foresta, cap. 7. And Garba sagittarum is a Sheaf of Arrows, containing twenty-four, otherwise called Shaffa sagittarum. Skene, verbo, Garba. De omni annona decima garba Deo debita est. LL. Edvardi Conf. cap. 8. It is sometimes used for all manner of Corn and Grain that is usually bound in Sheafs, as Decime Garbarum.

Garba in some Places is taken for an Handful, viz. Garba aceris fit ex triginta pectis. Fleta, lib. 2. c. 12.

Garbles, Anno 21 Fac. cap. 19. Signifies the Dust, Soil, or Uncleanes that is severed from Spice, Drugs, &c.

Garbling of Wortstabs, Anno 1 R. 3. cap. 11. Is the Sorting or Culling out the Good from the Bad. As Garbling of Spice is nothing but to purify it from the Drofs and Dust that is mixed with it. It may seem to proceed from the Italian Garbo, that is Finensis, Neatness: Thence probably we say, when we see a Man in neat Habit. He is in a handsome Garb.

Garbler of Spices, 21 Fac. cap. 9. Is an Officer of great Antiquity in the City of London, who may enter into any Shop, Warehouse, &c. to view and search Drugs, Spices, &c. and to garble the same, and make them clean.

Garcinæ, The Word possibly is so printed by Mistake for Sarcina, however it so signifies, the Baggage of an Army. — Cum certam nostri elegissent Stationem — carragium quoque (quod Garcinas appellamus) a tergo locassent. Wallingham in R. 2. pag. 242.

Garcio, (Fr. Garcon) a Boy, a Stripling, a Groom. Pla. Cor. 21 Ed. 1. Garcio Stole, Groom of the Stole to the King, as I find it in a Record, where Stola does not signify a Clofestoole, as vulgarly surmised, but a Robe of Honour.

Garciones and Garcinæ, the Baggage of an Army, so called a garcionibus five militum famulis: Wallingham, pag. 242. For Garciones are those Servants which follow the Camp. Habeat Garcionem suo servitio semper attendantem. Ingulphus, pa. 886.

Garce, Garcio, Any poor servile Lad, or Boy Servant. Fr. Garcon. But it seems of old Galic, or British Original: For in the present Irish (if there be any Truth in Toland) Garson is an appellative for any menial Servant. See Mr. Kennet's Glossary.

Gard, (Fr. Garde, Lat. Custodia,) signifies a Custody or Care of Defence, but hath divers Applications; sometimes to those that attend upon the Safety of the Prince, called the Life-guard, and Yeomen of the Guard; sometimes to such as have the Education and Guardianship of Infants or Ideots; sometimes to a Writ touching Wardship; of which there were three Sorts, one called Droit de Gard, the second Ejectment de Gard, the third Ravishment de Gard. Fitz. Nat. Br. f. 139, 140. See Ward and Gardian.

Gardebrache, (Fr. Gardebrace) a Vambrace or Armor for the Arm. King H. 5. by Charter dated 10 Junii, 7 Regni, granted to Sir William Bourcheir, Comitatum de Ewe in Normandy — Reddendo dicto Regi & heredibus suis apud Castrum Rothomagi unum Gardebrache ad Festum Sancti Georgii singulis Annis, &c. Baronag. Angliæ. 2 Part.

Gardien de l'Éstrimar, (An. 17 Car. 1. c. 15) Warden of the Stannaries.

Garderoba. In a private House by Garderoba, was meant a Closet, or any small Apartment for hanging up of Cloaths. — Richardus Abbas & conventus S. Edmundi — concesserunt Johanni Fray totum messuagium — videl. unam aulam cum duobus solaris adjunctis eidem aule cum duobus garderobis ad eadem solaria, — unam parvam cameram cum una garderoba ad eandem. Cartular. S. Edmundi. MS. f. 294, D d

Gar

Garderobe. See Wardrobe, and 2 Inst. fol.

255.

Gardia, or Guardia, Is a Word used among the Fendits for the Latin Custodia; & Guardianus, seu guardio, dicitur ille, cui custodia commissa est. Lib. Feudor. 1. Tit. 2, & 11.

Gardien or Gardian, Custos, Cometh of the French Gardien, and yet the German Word Warden is nearer to it. It signifies generally him that hath the Charge or Custody of any Person or Thing; but more notoriously him that hath the Education or Protection of such People, as are not of sufficient Discretion to guide themselves and their own Affairs, as Children and Idcoats, being indeed as largely extended as Tutor and Curator, among the Civilians; for whereas Tutor is he that hath the Government of a Youth, until he come to fourteen Years of Age; and Curator he that hath the Disposition and Ordering of his Estate afterwards, until he attain to the Age of five and twenty Years, or he that hath the Charge of a frantick Person during his Lunacy; we use only Gardian for both these: And for the better Understanding of the Law in this Point, we are to observe, That a Tutor is either Testamentarius, or a Pratore datus ex lege Atilia; or lastly, Legitimus. So we have three Sorts of Gardians in England; one ordained by the Father in his last Will, another appointed by the Judge, the Third cast upon the Minor by the Law and Custom of the Land: Touching the First, a Man having Goods or Chattels, may appoint a Gardian to the Body or Person of his Child, by his last Will and Testament, until he come to the Age of fourteen Years, and so the Disposing and Ordering his Estate so long as he thinks meet, which is commonly to one and twenty Years of Age. The same he may do of Lands not holden in Capite, or by Knights-Service. But the ancient Law in this Case is very much altered by the Statute of 13 Car. 2. cap. 24. which ordains, that, "Where as any Person hath, or shall have any Child or Children under the Age of twenty-one Years, and not married at the Time of his Death, it shall be lawful for the Father of such Child or Children, whether born at the Time of the Decese of the Father, or at that Time in ventre sa Mere, or whether such Father be within the Age of twenty-one Years, or of full Age, by Deed executed in his Life-Time, or by his last Will and Testament in Writing, in the Presence of two or more credible Witnesses, to dispose of the Custody and Tuition of such Child or Children, for and during the Time, he, or they, shall remain under Age, or any lesser Time, to any Person or Persons in Possession or Remainder, other than Popish Recusants; and such Disposition shall be good against all Persons claiming such Child, as Gardian in Socage, or otherwise, &c." But if the Father order no Gardian to his Child, the Ordinary may appoint one to manage his Goods and Chattels, till the Age of fourteen Years, at which Time he may choose him another Gardian, accordingly as by the Civil Law he may his Curator; for we all hold one Rule with the Civilians in this Case, and that is Invito Curator non datur. And for his Lands the next of Kin on that Side, by which the Land cometh not, shall be Gardian, and was heretofore called Gardian in Socage. See more of the old Law in this Case. 28 E. 1. Gardiane or Guardian of the Spiritualities, Custos Spiritualium vel Spiritualitatis, Is he to whom the Spiritual Jurisdiction of any Diocese is committed, during the Vacancy of the See. 25 H. 3. 21. And the Guardian of the Spiritualities may either be Guardian in Law, or Jure Magistratus, as the Archbishop is of any Diocese within his Province; or Guardian by Delegation, as he whom the Archbishop or Vicar-General doth for the Time depute. 13 Eliz. cap. 12.

Gardian, or rather Warden of the Cinque-Ports, Gardianus quinque portuum, Is a principal Magistrate that hath the Jurisdiction of those Havens in the East Part of England, which are commonly called The Cinque-Ports, that is, the five Ports or Havens; who there hath all that Jurisdiction that the Lord High Admiral of England hath in Places not exempt. And the Reason why one Magistrate was assigned to so few Havens, was, because they, in respect of their Situation, anciently required a more vigilant Care than other Havens, being nearer, and more obvious to Enemies, by the Narrowness of the Sea in those Parts. Cambden in his Brit. pag. 238. saith, That the Romans, after they had settled themselves and their Empire here in England, appointed a Magistrate or Governor over those Eastern Parts, whom they called Comitem litoris Saxonici per Britanniam, having another that did bear the same Title on the opposite Part of the Sea, whose Office was to fortify and furnish the Sea-Coasts with Munition against the Incurfions and Robberies of the Barbarians; and farther signifieth his Opinion, That our Warden of the Cinque-Ports was first erected among us, in Imitation of that Roman Polity. See Cinque-Ports.

Gariofilli, But more truly Garyophylli, Is that Sort of Spice we call Cloves. There is a Reservation in a Charter of Hugh de Wygton, of the Priory of Leominster, anno 1283; in these Words, Salvo hereditibus meis post decessum meum uno clavo Gariofilli. in predictis festis sancti Mich. pro omni servitio seculari.

Garniamentum, Garnish, Trimming, or any way Adorning Cloaths, or wearing Apparel. — Et cuilibet eorum per annum tres ulnas tele — Et unum Garniamentum laneum quolibet anno. Mon. Angl. tom. 2. p. 321.

Garnish, As to Garnish the Heir, that is, to warn the Heir. 27 El. c. 3.

Garnisher Is taken for the Party in whose Hands Money is attached, within the Liberties of the City of London, so used in the Sheriff of London's Court, because he has had Garnishment or Warning not to pay the Money, but to appear and answer to the Plaintiff - Creditor's Suit.

Garnishment Cometh of the French Garnir, i. instruere, and in a legal Sense intends a Warning given to one for his Appearance, for the better furnishing of the Cause and Court. For Example, One is sued for the Detinue of certain Evidences and Charters, and saith, That the Evidences were delivered to him, not only by the Plaintiff, but another also, and therefore prayeth, that that other may be warned to plead with the Plaintiff, whether the Conditions be performed, yea or no; and in this Petition he is said to pray Garnishment. New Book of Entries, fol. 212. col. 3. and Termes de la Ley, Crompt. Jur. fol. 211. Which may be interpreted either warning of that other, or else furnishing of the Court with Parties sufficient thoroughly to determine the Cause, because until he appear and join, the Defendant is, as it were, out of the Court, F. N. B. fol. 106. and the Court is not provided of all Parties to the Action. With this agrees Britton, cap. 28. where he saith, That Contracts, some be naked and sans Garnement, and some furnished, or (to use the literal Signification of the Word) apparelled, but a naked Contract, Nudum Pactum, giveth no Action. And therefore it is necessary or needful, that every Obligation be apparelled, which ought to be with these five Sorts of Garnements, &c. Howbeit it is generally used for a Warning in many Places, particularly in Kitchin, fol. 6. Garnisher le Court, is to warn the Court; and reasonable Garnishment in the same Place intends reasonable Warning, and again, fol. 283. and many other Authors. And in the Stat. 27 El. cap. 2. upon a Garnishment, or two Nichils returned, &c. But this may well be thought a Metonymy of the Effect, because by the Warning of Parties, the Court is furnished and adorned.

Garniture, (Garnitura) a Furnishing or Providing; Garnitura Castri de Mountgomer.

Garlummint, A Fine or Amerciament. See Domesday; 'tis written in Spelman Gloss. Gersuma.

Garter, Garterium, In French Jartier, i. Périscelis; signifies with us, both in divers Statutes and otherwise, one especial Garter, being the honourable Ensign of a great and noble Society of Knights, called Knights of the Garter, and this is κα' ἐξ' ὧν, as being of all others the most excellent. This high Order, as appeareth by Mr. Camden 211. and many others, was first instituted by the famous King Edward the Third, in the 23d Year of his Reign, upon good Success in a Skirmish, wherein the King's Garter (as it is said) was used for a Token: 'Tis true, Polydore Virg. gives it a more slight Original, but his Grounds, by his own Confession, grew from the vulgar Opinion; however take it as it is. Edward the Third, King of England (says he) after he had obtained many great Victories, the Kings of France and Scotland being both Prisoners in the Tower of London at one Time: King Henry of Castile, the Bastard expelled, and Don Pedro restored by the Prince of Wales, did, upon no weighty Occasion, first erect this Order in 1350. viz. He dancing with the Queen, and other Ladies of the Court, took up a Garter that happened to fall from one of them, whereat some of the Lords smiling, the King said, That ere it were long he would make that Garter to be of high Reputation, and shortly after instituted this Order of the Blue Garter, which every Companion of the Order is bound daily to wear, being richly decked with Gold and precious Stones, and having these Words fixt on it, HONI SOIT QUI MAL Y PENSE, which is commonly thus interpreted, Evil to him that Evil thinketh; or rather thus, To him be it that Evil thinketh. Ferne in his Glory of Generosity, fol. 120. agrees with Camden, and more particularly sets down the Victories by which this Order was occasioned. We will not (it being none of our Work) insist upon the Cause of its Beginning, (but leave you for the Search thereof to an ingenious and most laborious Piece of Work concerning this Matter, given to the World by Elias Ashmole Esquire,) but how or whatever the Beginning was, the Order is inferior to none in the World, consisting of twenty-six Martial and Heroical Nobles, whereof the King of England is the Sovereign, and the rest be either Nobles of the Realm, or Princes of other Countries, Friends and Allies of this Kingdom: The Honour being such, as Emperors and Kings of other Nations have desired, and thankfully accepted. He that will read more, let him converse with Mr. Camden, Polydore, Ferne, and the foresaid Mr. Ashmole's Books. The Ceremonies of the Chapter proceeding to Election, of the Investiture and Robes, Infatallation, and Vow with all other Observations, see Mr. Segar's Honor Military and Civil, lib. 2. cap. 9. f. 65. and the same Mr. Ashmole. Garter also signifieth the Principal King of Arms among our English Heralds, created by King Henry the Fifth, Stow, pag. 584. and mentioned 14 Car. 2. cap. 33. See

Garth Signifieth a little Backside or Clofe in the North of England. Also a Dam or Wear in a River, for the catching of Fish, vulgarly call'd a Fishgarth. It seems to be an ancient British Word, for Gardd in that Language signifies Garden, the two d's being liquified in the Pronunciation like th.

Garthman, 13 R. 2. Stat. 1. cap. 19. & 17 R.
2. cap. 9. It is ordained, That no Fisher in Garth- man shall use any Nets or Engines to destroy the Fry of Fish, &c. whereby it seems to intend one that owns an open Wear where Fish are caught : We may haply derive it from the Scotch Word Gart, that signifies compelled or enforced, because the Fish are forced by the Wear to pass in at a Loop, where they are caught.

Gavel Signifies Tribute, Toll, Custom, yearly Rent, Payment or Revenue; of which we had of old several Kinds, Gavel-Corn, Gavel-Malt,
Oat-gavel, Gavel-Fodder, as you may read in Mr.
Fab. Philips's Book, stiled The Mistaken Recompence, f. 39, 40. And Taylor's History of Gavel-kind, pag.

whose Office was only temporary, and who had Jurisdiction over the Common People. Episcopus

Gatte, this Syllable in the Names of Places, signifies a Way or Path, from the Sax. Geat, i. e.
Porta, for which Reason it sometimes signifies a Gate.

Gavellet Is a special and ancient Kind of Cessavit used in Kent, where the Custom of Gavel- kind continueth, whereby the Tenant shall forfeit his Lands and Tenements to the Lord, of whom he holdeth, if he withdraw from him his due Rent and Services, which is due after this Manner. If any Tenant in Gavel-kind with-hold his Rents and Services, let the Lord seek by the Award of his Court from three Weeks to three Weeks, to find some Distress upon the Tenement until the fourth Court, always with Witnesses; and if within that Time he can find no Distress on that Tenement, whereby he may have Justice of his Tenant, then at the fourth Court let it be awarded, that he take that Tenement into his Hand in the Name of a Distress, as if it were an Ox or a Cow; and let him keep it a Year and a Day in his Hand without manuring: In which Time, if the Tenant come and pay his Arrearages, and make him reasonable Amends, let him re-enjoy it; but if he come not in that Time, then let the Lord go to the next County-Court, with his Witnesses of his own Court, and pronounce there his Process; and by the Award of his Court (after the Country-Court holden) he shall enter, and manure those Lands and Tenements as his own;
and if the Tenant come afterwards, and will re-have his Tenements, and hold them as he did before, let him make Agreement with the Lord according as it is anciently said.

Negheslith selde & negheslith geld, & v l. fo:

come healdor again.

Other Copies have the first Part thus written and expounded,

Nigonlith yeld & nigonlith geld.

Let him nine Times pay, and nine Times repay.

See hereof 10 H. 3. Fitz. cessavit 60. and the Statute of Gavelet, where it appeareth to be a Writ used in the Hustings at London. And Eleta says, It is used in other Liberties, lib. 3. c. 55.
In the Collection of Statutes, London 2. is Matter much tending to this Purpose, That by this Word Gavelet, the Lord shall have the Land for the ceasing of the Tenant. Mr. S. in his 31 page Of the History of Gavel-kind, hath these Words, Et postea per quandam consuetudinem que vocatur Gave- late, iustitiam in comitatu isto, (viz. Kanc.) de ter- ris & tenementis de Gavel-kind, pro redditibus &
servitiis que aretro fuerint de eisdem, per plures annos, devenierunt eadem terra in manus cujusdam Abbatis, &c. Now this Consuetudo of Gavelet (as he further adds) was not a Rent or Service, but betokeneth a Rent or Service with-held, denied, or detained, causing the Forfeiture of the Tenement to the Lord; with which agrees the Lord
Coke, where he says, Gaveletum is as much as to say, to cease, or to let to pay the Rent. Brevi de

Gabil-kind Is by Mr. Lambard in his Exposition of Saxon Words, verbo Terra de scripto, compounded of three Saxon Words, Gyfe, Eal, Cyn; Omniibus cognatione proximis data. But Vestegan in his Restitution of decayed Intelligence, c. 3. Calls it Gavel-kind, quasi, give all Kind, that is, give to each Child his Part. But Taylor in his History of Gavel-kind, would derive it from the British Gafael, a Hold or Tenure, and Cemeo or Cemedb, Generatio aut familia, and so Gavel-cenedb might signify Tenura generationis, pag. 92, & 132. But whatever is the true Etymology, it signifies in Law a Custom, whereby the Land of the Father is equally divided at his Death among all his Sons, or the Land of the Brother equally divided at his Death among all his Brethren, if he have no Issue of his own. Kitchin, f. 107.

*Tentonicis præcis patrios succedit in agros
Mafcula stirps omnis, ne foret ulla potens.*

This Custom is still in Force in divers Places of England, but especially in Kent, Urcensfield in Herefordshire, and elsewhere, though with some Difference; but by the Statute of 35 H. 8. c. 26. All Gavel-kind Land in Wales are made descendible to the Heirs, according to the Course of the Common Law. Camden in his Britannia, p. 239. saith in express Words, Cantiani ea lege Gulielmo Normanno se dederunt, ut patrias consuetudines illesas retinerent, illamque imprimis quam Gavel-kind nominant. Ha terra qua eo nomine censentur, liberis masculis ex æquis portionibus dividuntur, vel feminis, si masculi non fuerint, adding withal worth the Noting, viz. Hanc hereditatem cum quintumdecimum annum attingerit, adeunt, & sine Domini consensu, cuilibet vel dando vel vendendo, alienare licet. Hac filii parentibus furvi damnatis in id genus fundi, &c. It appears by 18 H. 6. c. 3. that in those Days there were not above thirty or forty Persons in Kent that held by any other Tenure, but it was altered afterwards in much Land in that County, upon the Petition of several Gentlemen there, by a Statute made 31 H. 8. c. 3. See Lambard's Perambulation of Kent, Somner's Discourse on this Subject, [Taylor's History of Gavel-kind.] Vide etiam Termes de Ley, and Gavellet. In Mon. Ang. 2. par. fol. 640. you may read thus, — Dedi totam terram, quam vendidit mihi Michael de Turnham sicut suum liberum Gavilinkind & Stoikind, ad fundandam ibi Domum Religionis, &c. — In Gavel-kind, though the Father be hanged, the Son shall inherit; for their Custom is, The Father to the Bough, the Son to the Plough. Doctor and Student, ca. 10. Co. on Litt. lib. 2. ca. 10. f. 165. and Co. 9. Rep. Shelley's Case. Our Ancestors held their Lands by Writing, or without. Those which were held by Writing were called Bockland, whose Owners were Men whom we now call Freeholders. That which was held without Writing was called Folcland, and the Owners were of servile Condition, and were possessed ad voluntatem Domini. But the Inheritance or Freehold did not in those Days descend to the eldest Son, but to all alike; which in Saxon was called Landes Systan, and in Kent, To shift Land; from whence came the Custom of Gavel-kind. And the Reason why it was retained in Kent, and no where else, is, because the Kentishmen were not conquered by the Normans: For Stigand, the Archbishop of Canterbury, and one Egelsine, an Abbot, who commanded the Forces in that County, ordered every Man to march with Boughs in their Hands, which they did, and met the Conqueror at Swaïnscob; where the Archbishop and Abbot acquainted him with their Resolution of standing and falling in Defence of the Laws of their Country; and he imagining himself to be encompassed in a Wood, granted that they and their Posterity should enjoy their Rights, Liberties, and Laws; some of which, as particularly this of Gavelkind, continues to this very Day.

Gabeltetter, (Sax.) Sextarius vestigialis; (Cervisia scilicet sextarius Manerii vel predii Domino ab usufructuariis cervisiam coquentibus, census vel vestigialis nomine, pendendus), is a certain Measure of Rent-Ale. Among the Articles to be charged on the Stewards and Bailiffs of the Church of Canterbury's Manors, this of old was one, De Gabeltetter cujuslibet braciini braciati infra libertatem Maneriorum viz. unam Lagenam & dimidiam Cervisia. We may find it elsewhere under the Name, of Tolcester thus, De Tolcester cervisia, hoc est, de quolibet braciino per unum annum lagenam de cervisia, and is without dispute the same. In lieu of which the Abbot of Abingdon, of Custom, received that Penny mentioned by Selden in his Dissertation annexed to Fleta, cap. 8. num. 3. and there (I believe) misprinted Colchefer Penny for Tolchefer Penny. Nor differs it (I think) from what in the Glossary, at the End of H. 1. Lawus, is called Oak gavel. Sax. Dicit. and see Tolchefer.

Gauger or Gager, Gaugeator, Comes of the French Gauchir, i. in gyrum torquere; and signifies with us an Officer of the King's, appointed to examine all Tuns, Pipes, Hogheads, Barrels, and Tertia's of Wine, Beer, Ale, Oil, Honey, Butter, and give them a Mark of Allowance, before they be sold in any Place. And because this Mark is a Circle, made with an Iron Instrument for that Purpose; it seems that from thence he taketh his Name. Of this Office you may find many Statutes, the first whereof is in 27 E. 3. commonly called the Statute of Proviſion or Purveyors, cap. 8. The others are 4 R. 2. cap. 1. 18 H. 6. 17. 23 H. 6. 16. 1 R. 3. 13. 28 H. 8. 14. And lastly, 12 Car. 2. cap. 4.

Geaspecias. In a Charter of the Privileges of New-Castle upon Tyne, renewed Anno 30 El. we read, viz. Sturgesones, Balanas, Cetas, Porpecias, (i. e. Porpoises), Delphinus, Riggos, Geaspecias, i. e. Grampois.

Geburſcip, Geburſcipa, Neighbourhood, or adjoining District. — vel jurjurandum inveniat, si possit, in quo repetenti satisfiat; si non possit, nominentur ei sex homines de eadem geburſcipa, in qua ille residens est. Leges Edw. Confel. c. 1. de Perjuris, p. 2.

Geburug, A Country Neighbour, or Inhabitant of the same Geburſcip, or Village. Sax. Gebure, a Carl, Ploughman, or Farmer.

Geld, Geldum, Among the Saxons signified, pecunia vel tributum, also the Compensation for a Crime: Hence, in our ancient Laws Wergeld was used for the Value of a Man slain, and Orsgeld of a Beast. Et sint quieti de Geldis, & Danegeldis, & Horngeldis & Forgeldis, & de Blodwita, & Fitwita, & Flitwita, & Leirwita & Heinwita, & Fremensfudo, & Werd-penny, & Awer-penny, & Toling-penny. Geldable. See Gildable.

Gemote Is a Saxon Word signifying Conventus, an Assembly: 'Tis used in the Laws of Edward the Confessor, cap. 35. for a Court, viz. Omnis homo pacem habeat eundo ad gemotum & rediens de gemoto, nisi probatus fur fuerit. See Note.

Genectum. — Percipiant decimas agnorum, lanae, — lini, canapi, geneſti, cirporum piſationum, paſture. — Charta Joh. Archiepiscopi Cant. apud Will. Thorm. p. 2112. Mr. Somner takes it for genista, Broom.

General Issue. See Issue.

Generatio, When a Mother-Abbey or old Religious House had spread it self into several Colonies or depending Cells, that Issue or Offspring, as it were, of the Mother-Monastery was called

Generatio, quasi proles & soboles Matricis Domus. Quaestio prioratus inter Abbatem de Waverle & Abbatem Furnessii terminatur hoc modo, videlicet quod Abbas de Furnessio habeat prioratum in tota generatione Elcemofynae in Anglia, & in generatione Saviniaci in Anglia tantum. Abbas autem Waverle habeat prioratum ubique tant in congregationibus Abbatum quae fuerint per Angliam, quam alias per ordinem universum. Annual. Waverl. 1232.

Generale. The single Commons, or ordinary Provision of the Religious were called Generale, as their general Allowance, distinguished from their Pietantiae or Pirances, which upon extraordinary Occasions were added as Over-Commons. Among the Observance of the Cluniac Monks, they are thus described, — Generale appellamus quod singulis in singulis datur festis: Pietantia quod in una scutella duobus. And among the Customs of the Abbey of Glaſtonbury, we have this Account. — In privatis diebus, videlicet, dominica die, die Martis, die Fovis, & Sabbato, tria generalia ad refectorem habuerant Fratres, & duas pietantias, ceteris vero diebus, scilicet, feria secunda, feria quarta, & sexta, duo generalia & tres pietantias. Chartular. Glaſton. MS. f. 10.

Generosa Seems of late to be a good Addition; for if a Gentlewoman be named Spinſter in any Original Writ, Appeal or Indictment, the may abate, and quash the same. 2 Inst. fol. 668.

Genesta, Broom. See Faun. Percipiant decimas agnorum, lanae, lini, canapi, Geneſti. Thorn. pag. 2112.

Genets alias Genets. See Furr.

Gentleman, Generosus, Is an irregular Compound of two Languages, the one from the French Gentil, that is, Honestus, vel honesto loco natus; the other from the Saxon Man, as if you say, a Man well born. The Italian followeth the very Word, calling those Gentilhuomini, whom we call Gentlemen. The Spaniard keepeth the Meaning, calling him Hidalgo or Hijo d'algo, that is, the Son of some Man, or of a Man of Reckoning: The French also call him Gentilhomme. So that Gentlemen be those, whom their Blood and Race doth make noble and known: In Greek they are Eὐγενεις, in Latin Nobiles. Smith de Rep. Ang. lib. 1. cap. 10. Under this Name are comprised all above Yeomen, so that Noblemen be truly called Gentlemen; but by the Course and Custom of England, Nobility is either Major or Minor; the greater contains all the Degrees from Knights upward, the Lesser, all from Barons downwards. Smith ubi supra, cap. 21. The Reason of the Name may grow from this, that they observe gentilitatem suam, that is, the Race and Propagation of their Blood, by giving of Arms, which the common Sort neither doth, nor may do; for by the Coat that a Gentleman giveth, he is known to be, or not to be descended from those of his Name, that lived many Hundred Years since. Gentiles homines, see in Tiraquel de Nobilitate, cap. 2. pag. 53. Cicero in his Topicks of this Matter, speaks thus, Gentiles sunt qui inter se eodem sunt nomine ab ingenuis oriundi, quorum majorum nemo servitutem servivit, qui capite non sunt diminuti. And in the first Book of his Tuſc. Quaest. he calleth Tullus Hostilius, one of the Kings of Rome, Gentilem suum. These Words, gentilis homo, for a Gentleman, was adjudged a good Addition. Hill. 27 E. 3. The Addition of Knight is ancient, but of Esquire or Gentleman rare before the First of H. 5. c. 5. Gerfuma, (Sax. Garfuma, i. e. Sumptus, præmium.) In ancient Charters it is used for an Income; as, Sciatis me A. pro tot libris, quas B. mihi dedit in Gerfumam, dedisse, concessisse, &c. Sometimes for a Fine for a Fault; as, Gerfumam capere de Natio vestra impregnata sine licentia vestra, quod dicitur Childwit. In Matth. Paris. it is written Gerfoma. Datis Abbati tribus marcis auri in Gerfoma, i. e. Pro Fine. And in Scotland Gressume. Sometimes 'tis taken for any Exaction or Demand; as, Abſque retinencia cuiuslibet conſuetudinis ſive ſervitii, iſ, ſive alicuius Gerfumæ, aut ſecularis exactionis. Mon. Ang. 2 Tom. pag. 973.

Gerfumatus, Finable, or liable to be mulct'd, fined or amerced at Discretion of the Lord. — In Berton parva — sunt tres Coſeles quorum quilibet operabitur ſemel in hebdomada & metet in Autumno unam acram de blado hiemali vel tres rotas ordi. Dominus habebit tres hederepes, ſi voluerit, ad cibum ſuum. Omnes ſunt Gerfumiani ad voluntatem Domini. Cartular. S. Edm. MS. f. 103.

Gerfumant, Assembled.

Geſt, (French Geſt.) A Lodging, or 'Stage of Reſt in a Journey or Progreſs. As in the Progreſs of E. 6. A. D. 1552. when the Geſts, (i. e. the Stages of his Majesty's Progreſs) were altered, Archbiſhop Cranmer entreated Cecil to ſend him the new reſolved — upon Geſts, that he might from Time to Time know where his Majesty was. Styve Memor. Gignaria, a School.

Gild, in Saxon, ſignifies a Fraternity or Company, and comes from the Saxon Word Gildan, which is To pay; becauſe every one was gildare, i. e. to pay ſomething towards the Charge and Support of the Company. And from thence come Gild-halls, that is, the Halls of the Society or Fraternity, where they meet and make Orders and Laws among themſelves. The Original was thus, viz. It was a Law amongst the Saxons that every Freeman of fourteen Years old ſhould find Sureties to keep the Peace, or be committed; whereupon certain Neighbours entered into an Aſſociation, and became bound for each other, to produce him who committed an Offence, or to make Satisfaction to the injured Party; which that they might the better do, they raiſed a Sum of Money among themſelves, which they put into a common Stock; and when one of their Pledges had committed an Offence, and was fled, then the other nine made Satisfaction out of this Stock by the Payment of Money, according to the Quality of the Offence. And becauſe this Aſſociation conſiſted of ten Families it was called a Decenary: And from hence came our Fraternities. But as to the direct Time, when theſe Gilds had their Origine in England, there is nothing of Certainty to be found, ſince they were in Uſe long before any formal Licences were granted to them for ſuch Meetings. Edward the Third, in the Fourteenth of his Reign, granted Licence to the Men of Coventry to erect a Merchant's Gild, and a Fraternity of Brethren and Siſters, with a Maſter or Warden, and that they might make Chancies, beſtow Alms, do other Works of Piety, and conſtitute Ordinances touching the ſame, &c. So Henry the Fourth, in the fourth Year of his Reign, granted Licence to found a Gild of the Holy Croſs at Stratford upon Avon. See Antiquities of Warwickſhire, fol. 119, & 522. Gild or Geld (according to Cambden) ſignifies alſo a Tribute or Tax, and the Statutes of 27 Ed. 3. Stat. 2. cap. 13. and 11 H. 7. cap. 9. uſed Gildable in the ſame Senſe with Taxable. Gild (according to Crompton in his Juriſdiction, fol. 191.) ſignifies an Amercement, a Foot-geld; and fol. 197. he interprets it to be a Preſtation within the Foreſt in theſe Words, To be quit of all manner of Gilds is to be diſcharged of all manner of Preſtations, to be made for gathering Sheafs of Corn, Lamb, and Wool, to the Uſe of Foreſters. The Word is alſo mentioned in the Statute 15 Hen. 6. cap. 6. and 15 Car. 2. cap. 7.

Gild is alſo a Compensation or Muſt for a Fault, Quicquid in amore in alterum ſuorum habent in duos Geldos componere faciat. From hence Were-geld is the Price of a Man, Orgeld the Price of Cattel, Angild the ſingle Value of a Thing, Twi-gild the double Value. There are likewiſe many Words which End with geld, and which ſhews the ſeveral Kinds of Payments, as Danegeld, Vadegeld, Senegeld, Hornegeld, Sozgeld, Penigeld, and many more.

Gild or Guild-Rents, are Rents payable to the Crown by any Gild or Fraternity, or ſuch Rents as formerly belonged to religious Gilds, and came to the Crown at the general Diſſolution, ordered for Sale by the Stat. 22 Car. 2. c. 6.

Gildale (from the Sax. Gild, i. e. Solutio, and ale, ale), a Contribution, where every one paid his Share. See Sotbale.

Gildable, or Geldable, (Geldabilis), Tributary, that is, liable to pay Tax or Tribute. Cambden, dividing Suffolk into three Parts, calls the firſt Gildable, becauſe liable to pay Tax, from which the

the other two Parts were exempt, because Ecclesia Donata. It is mentioned An. 27 Hen. 8. c. 26. But I find Gildable expounded in an old MS. to be that Land or Lordship which is Sub diffinitione Curie Vicecom. See 2 Par. Inf. fol. 701. *Inquisitio capta apud Atherston, &c. 5 H. 5. per Sacram. Will. Ginger, Zinziber, Is a Spice well known, being the Root of a Plant, that groweth in hot Countries, as Spain, Barbary, &c. The true Form whereof you have expressed in Gerard's Herbal, lib. 1. c. 38. This is a Spice whole Root is to be garbled. 1 Fac. 19.

Girnelled, quasi Wirneffer, i. e. Denied. From the Sax. Winnan, Denegare.

Gisarms, rectius Gisfarmes, (An. 13 Ed. 1. Stat. 3. cap. 6.) an Halbert. From the Lat. Bis Arma, because it wounds on both Sides. A Kind of Hand-ax, according to Skene. Heta miswrites it Sisarms, lib. 1. c. 14. Est armorum genus longo manubrio & porrecta cuspide. Spel.

Gladiolum, Sedge. Mariscus profert Gladiolum, cespites & alia ignis pabula. Mat. Paris. An. 1206.

Gladius (Jus Gladii) is mentioned in our Latin Authors, and in the Norman Laws, and it signifies a Supreme Jurisdiction. Camden, in Britannia, writes, Comitatus Flint. pertinet ad Gladium Cestria. And in Selden, Tit. of Honour, p. 640. Caviam suam liberam de omnibus placitis, &c. Exceptis placitis ad Gladium ejus pertinentibus. And 'tis probable from hence that at the Creation of an Earl, he is Gladio succinctus, to signify that he had a Jurisdiction over the County. See Pleas of the Sward.

We most commonly take it for Land belonging to a Parish-Church, besides the Tithe. Skene says, The four Acres of Land, quiblibet is given to the Ministers of the Evangel in Scotland, is called ane Gleeb, the quiblibet, suld be free fra Payment of any teinds.

Gleba, Giebam ferre. Anno 1335. Custos & Magister domus beate Marie Magdalene extra portam australem civitatis Exoniensis tulerunt glebam pro redditu excenta de quodam gardino extra portam orientalem civitatis predictæ, vocato Morley Shultesay, & hæc consuetudo vocatur Gleba. Isack's Antiquities of Exeter, p. 48. For it seems the ancient Custom of that City was, when the Chief Lord in Fee could not be answered of the Rent due to him out of his Tenement, and no Distress could be there levied for the same; then the Lord came to the Tenement, and there took a Turf or Stone, and brought the same to the Court seven Days successively: And this was called Gleba, ib. p. 50.

Good Abearing, Bonus gestus, Is, by a special Signification, an exact Carriage or Behaviour of a Subject to the King and his Liege People, whereunto Men upon their Evil Course of Life, or loose Demeanor, are sometimes bound: For as Lambard in his Eirenarcha, lib. 2. c. 2. saith, He that is bound to this, is more strictly bound, than to the Peace; for the Peace is not broken without an Affray, but this Surety de bono gestu may be forfeited by the Number of a Man's Company, or by his or their Weapons or Harnefs. Whereof see more in that learned Writer in the same Chapter, as also in Crom. Just. of Peace, fol. 119, 120, 121, 122, 123, 124, 125, 126, 127.

Goule, From the French Goulet, or the Latin Gula. In Anno 16 & 17 Car. 2. c. 11. is a Breach in a Bank, or Sea-wall, or a Passage worn by the Flux and Reflux of the Sea.

Gorge, Gourt, and Gooz. (from the Fr. Gort, i. e. a Wear,) Locus in fluvio convallatus, piscium capiendum gratia. A Wear. It is recorded, That all such Gorges, Mills, Weirs, Stanks, Stakes, and Kiddles, which be levied and set up in the Time of King Edward, the King's Grandfather, and after, whereby the King's Ships and Boats be disturbed, that they cannot pass in such River as they were wont, shall be out and utterly pulled down, without being renewed. Anno 25 Ed. 3. c. 4. Sir Edward Coke (on Littl. fol. 5. b.) seems to derive it from Gorges, a deep Pit of Water, and calls it a Gors or Gulf. But quere, if not a Mistake. For he says in Domesday it is called Gourt and Gort, the very French Word for a Wear. And I find in the Black Book of Hereford, fol. 20. Quid tres Gurgites in aqua de Monew attachiantur per homines de Grosso monte: Where Gurgites is used (though improperly) as a Latin Word for Gorges or Weirs.

In Easter-Term, Ascension-Day, in Trinity-Term St. John Baptist's Day, in Michaelmas-Term All-Saints Day, (and of late All-Souls Day) and in Hillary-Term the Feast of the Purification of our Lady, commonly called Candlemas-Day. And these are Dies non Furidici, no Days in Court.

Grand Distress, Magna districtio, Is so called for Quality and Extent thereof, for thereby the Sheriff is commanded. Quod distringat tenentem, ita quod ipse nec aliquis per ipsum ad ea manum apponet, donec habuerit aliud preceptum, & quod de exitibus eorumdem nobis respondeat, & quod habeat corpus ejus, &c. This Writ lies in two Cases, either when the Tenant or Defendant is attached, and so returned, and appears not, but makes Default; then a Grand Distress is to be awarded: Or else when the Tenant or Defendant hath once appeared, and after makes Default, then this Writ lies by the Common Law in lieu of a Petit Cape, 2 par. Inst. fol. 254. 51 H. 3. c. 9. Westm. 1. cap. 44. and Fleta lib. 2. c. 69. sect. penult. See Distress.

Grand Serjeanty. See Chivalry and Serjeanty.

Grange, Grangia, Is a House or Farm, not only where Corn is laid up, as Barns be, and Granaries, &c. but also Stables for Horses, Stalls for Oxen, Sties for Hogs, and other Things necessary for Husbandry: And by the Grant of a Grange such Places will pass. Provinc. Angl. lib. 2. tit. de Judiciis, cap. Item Omnis.

Grangarius, The Granger, or Grange-Keeper, an Officer belonging to religious Houses, who was to look after their Grange or Farm in their own Hands. — Grangerus, qui est unus Servientium de feodo ejus officii collatio spectat ad Abbatem, debet esse in curia Grangiarum — & ibi in omnibus commodis Cellerarii intendere — Ex Cartular. S. Edmundi. MS. fol. 323. He was otherwise called Grangarius, and in this he differed from the Granatarius, that this later was Keeper of the Granary or Corn-Chamber in a religious House, the other accounted for the Profits of a Country Grange. And therefore it was expressly provided that the same Person should not execute both Offices. — Nec sustineatur quod Præpositus sit Granatarius & Grangarius simul. Fleta, l. 2. c. 12. sect. 1.

Grangarius is he who has the Care of Places for all Manner of Husbandry. See Grange and Grangerus.

Grant. Concessio, Signifies a Gift in Writing of such a Thing as cannot aptly be passed or conveyed by Word only, as Rent, Reversion, Services, Advowsons in gross, Common in gross, Tithes, &c. Or made by such Persons as cannot give but by Deed, as the King, and all Bodies Politick, which Differences are often in Speech neglected, and then it is taken generally for every Gift whatsoever, made of any Thing by any Person; and he that granteth is named the Grantor, and he to whom it is made, the Grantee. West. Symbol. part 1. lib. 2. sect. 334. A Thing is said to lie in Grant, which cannot be assigned without Deed. Coke, lib. 3. fol. 63. Lincoln College Case.

Grant, A Devil, a Spectre, an Apparition, so called by our Fore-Fathers, and thus described by our Countryman Gervase of Tilbury, in his MS. Tra& De Otii Imperialibus: Lib. 3. cap. 64. Est in Anglia quoddam Demonum genus, quod suo idiomate Grant nominatur, ad instar pulli equini amniculi, tibis erectum, oculis scintillantibus. Istud Demonum genus sapissime comparat in plateis in ipsius diei fervore, aut circa solem occiduum, & quotiens apparet, futurum in urbe illa, vel vico, portendit incendium. Cum ergo sequente die vel nocte instat periculum, in plateis, discursu facto, canes provocat ad latrandum, & dum fugam simulat, sequentes canos ad insequendum spe vana consequendi innotat: Hujusmodi illusio conviciis de ignis custodia cautelam facit, & se officiosum demonum genus, dum aspicientes terret, suo adventu munire ignorantes solet. — I with some ingenious Citizen of York would enquire into the Appearances and Effects of the Bar-Guest, or Apparition which is said to haunt the Streets of that Place; and compare it with the Grant before described.

Grantz, for Grandeas, or great Men, in the Parl. Roll of 6 E. 3. n. 5, 6. Et les ditz Countz, Barons, & autre Grantz. Which Word is mis-translated by some Authors to signify Commons.

Grass-Hearth, Grasing, or turning up the Earth with a Plough, as we still say the Skin is grased or slightly hurt, and a Bullet grases on any Place, when it gently turns up the Surface of what it strikes upon. Hence the Customary Service for the inferior Tenants to bring their Ploughs, and do one Day's Work for their Lord, was within the Parish of Amesden in the County of Oxford, called Grass-hearth, and Grass-hurt. See Parochial Antiquities, p. 496, 497. and Mr. Kennet's Glossary annexed to that Work.

Grava, A Grove, a Coppice, a Thicket, a small Wood. — Salva nobis & Succ. nostris una grava continente circiter duas acras bosci jacentis juxta boscum nostrum in Balham, &c. Cart. Philippi Epi Elien. dat. 17 October 1435. Dedi eis unam Gravam, que dicitur Birzhecombe, & licentiam circumclaudendi, &c. Mon. Angl. 2 Par. f. 262. a. Unam Carucatum terra cum Gravibus & pasturis eidem pertinen. Ibid. f. 198. a. Sir Edward Coke, 1 Inst. fol. 4. b. says it signifies a little Wood; and Cambden agrees in it: But elsewhere I find it to signify a thick Wood of high Trees, a Grove. Dugd. Warwickshire, f. 503. b. And Greve in Old English signify'd a Bush. See Grana; see likewise Mr. Kennet's Glossary.

Gravare and Grabatio, an Accusation or Impeachment. See Cravare. Et qui permanet sine Gravatione & Calumnia. Leg. Ethelred. cap. 19.

Grabaria for Granaria. Mon. 2 Tom. p. 260. Ego, &c. concedo Ecclesiam istam liberam & omni consuetudine Gravariorum & Bernagiorum, &c.

Grabe,

Grave, the Names of Places ending in Grave come from the Sax. Graf, i. e. a Wood, Grove, or Thicket, Den, or Gave.

Graines, Grana Paradisi, alias Cardamomum, Is a Spice medicinable and wholesome, whereof you may see divers Kinds in Gerrard's Herbal. lib. 3. c. 148. These are comprised among Merchandise to be garbled by 1 Fac. 19.

Great Men Are sometimes understood of the Temporal Lords in the higher House of Parliament, as 43 E. 3. c. 2. and 8 R. 2. in Proem. and sometimes of the Members of the House of Commons, as 2 R. 2. Stat. 2. in principio.

Greath-breach or Ureath-breach, Is intended for a Breacking of the Peace by Saxon, in his Description of England, and Rassal, Tit. Exposition of Words, but mistaken for Grithbrech. See Grithbrech.

Gre Cometh of the French Word Gre, that is Good-liking, and in Law signifies Contentment or Satisfaction, as in 2 R. 2. cap. 15. To make Gree to the Parties, is to give them Contentment or Satisfaction for an Offence done unto them. So in 25 E. 3. cap. 19. That Judgement shall be put in dispençe, till Gree be made to the King of his Debt. See Agreement.

Green-Cloth. See Counting-House.

Greenbely Is all one with Vert. Manwood's Forest-Laws, c. 6. num. 5. See Vert.

Green Silver, Argentum Viride, By Custom in the Manner of Writtle in Essex, every Tenant having his Fore-Door opening to Greenbury, pays a Half-penny yearly to the Lord of the Manor, by the Name of Green Silver.

Green Wax Is a Word used in 42 E. 3. 9. and 7 H. 4. 3. and signifies the Estreats of Fines, Issues and Amerciaments in the Exchequer, under the Seal of that Court made in Green Wax, to be levied in the County. See Foreign Appoer.

Greffume. See Gersuma.

Grevia, The Sea - Shore, or Sand, or Beach. — Novem acras in greva maris — mensuratas pericia 20 pedum ad salinas faciendas. Mon. Angl. Tom. 2. p. 625.

Greve, Præpositus, Is a Word of Power and Authority, signifying as much as Comes, or Viccomes. Lamb, in his Exposition of Saxon Words, verbo Præfectus, makes it all one with Reve. The Saxon Word is Gerefa, of which we have divers Words compounded, as Sbyreve, Portreve, &c. which, by the Saxons, were written Scyregerefa, Portgerefa. See Shireve and Portreve. Hovedon, part. poster. annal. f. 346. saith, Greve dicitur, ideo quod jure debeat Grith, i. pacem ex illis facere qui patria inferunt ea, i. miseriam vel malum. From whence, but with less Power and Dignity, is derived the Word Reve, Bailiff, or Under-Officer of the Lord of a Manor.

Grybes, i. e. Iron Boots.

Gribridge. See Grithbrech: Habet Rex Forisfacturas hand socam Gribridge Foristel. Domesday, per Gale, 760.

Gills, (Anno 22 Ed. 4, cap. 4.) a Kind of small Fish.

Grisum, a Skin of a Beast very rich. Nunc non solum scarlatocum vario Griso, sed etiam purpura & Byllo vestiuntur. Du Cange.

Grithbrech, (Pacis fractio seu violatio) Is a Breach of the Peace, In causis Regiis Grithbrech 100 fol. emendabit. Leg. H. 1, c. 36. Charta Willielmi Conq. Eccles. sancti Pauli in Hist. ejusd. fol. 90. Grithbrech, i. e. Quod Prior tenebit Placita de illis qui frangunt pacem Regis vel libertatis ipsius Prioris. Ex Reg. Priorat. de Cokesford.

Guthstole, Sedes pacis, A Sanctuary. See Fred-mortell.

Grocers, by 37 E. 3. 5. Were Merchants that engrossed all Merchandise vendible; but now it is a particular and well known Trade, incorporated into a Company which is one of the Twelve, and have a very handsome Hall, from them stiled Grocers-Hall.

Gronna, A deep hollow Pit; a Bog, a miry Place. — Ipsius Hsroldi corpus effodere, & in gronnun projicere iussit. Roger Hoveden, pag. 438. So Grunna, in the Life of Saint Skidan Bishop of Fern in Ireland. Num. 10. Erat autem magna gronna inter eos 41. silvarum, per cujus circuitum via erat.

Groom, Vallettus, 33 H. 8. cap. 10. Is the Name of a Servant in some inferior Place. Vestegan in his Restitution of decayed Intelligence, saith, That he findeth it to have been in Times past a Name for Youths, who albeit they served, yet were they inferior to Men Servants, and were sometimes sent on Foot on Errands, serving in such Manner as Lackies do now.

Grossa, A Groat. Concessa est Regi una grossa, qua continet quatuor denarios de quolibet vivo & muliere. Henry Knyghton, sub an. 1378.

Grosse, In Grosse, Absolute, Independent; as formerly a Villain in grosse, was such a servile Person, as was not appendant or annexed to the Land or Manor, and to go along with the Tenure as an Appertinence of it: But was like the other personal Goods and Chattels of his Lord, at his Lord's free Pleasure and Disposall. So Advowson in grosse distinguished from Advowson appendant.

Grosse bois Is great Wood, and properly signifies such Wood as is either by the Common Law or Custom of the County, Timber. 2 par. Inst. fol. 642.

Grossome Signifies a Fine, and is corrupted from Gersum. For Plow. fol. 271. saith thus, Etle dit J. K. grant per mesme le indenture a payer en la fine de le dit terme de 10. Ans al dit W. N. deze Mille de tiles ou le value de eux en argent en nosme de Grossome; and in fol. 285. it is written Gressame. Abque aliquo Gressame vel fine pro præmissis solvend. See Gersuma.

Grossus, i. e. a Thing entire, not depending on another. Thus Villanus in Gresso was a Servant which did not belong to the Land, but immediately to the Person of the Lord: For an Advowson in Grosse is a Right of Patronage not annexed to the Fee or Manor, but it belongeth to the Patron himself, distinct from the Manor.

Groundage is a Tribute paid for the Ground on which a Ship stands in a Port.

Groundstall. See Pelf.

Groom, By 43 E. 3. cap. 10. Seems to be an Engine to stretch Woollen Cloth with after it is woven.

Growth Halfpenny, A Rate paid in some Places for Tithe of every fat Beast, Ox, or other unfruitful Cattel. Clayton's Rep. p. 92.

Guarii, Derived from the French Gruyer, signifies generally the principal Officers of the Forest; of whom you may read in the Forest Records.

Guta, Gruel, Broth, Pottage. In the Accounts of the Cathedral Church of St. Paul in London, about 5 Ed. II. Summa frumenti ad panem

185. quarter. Summa frumenti ad grutam 135. quarter. Summa ordei ad grutam 135. quarter. — Ex Libro Statut. Eccl. Paulinæ. MS. f. 73.

Grunna. See Gronna.

Gwadage or Gudage, (Gnadagium vel Gnidagium) Est quod datur alicui, ut tuto conducatur per terram alterius: That which is given for safe Conduct through unknown Ways, or a strange Territory. Sir Edw. Coke calls this an old legal Word. 2 Inst. f. 526.

Gualdum. See Waldum.

Guanagium. See Wannage.

Gueft-takers or Gist-takers. See Agistors.

Guidres, they are fo called because they lead Fish to the Net. Anno 1 Fac. cap. 23. See Conders.

Guidrigild. See Weregild.

Gulil. See Gild.

Gulda for Gulda, viz. Edricus cognomento Gulda, i. e. sylvaticus.

Guldhada Tufonicozum. See Gild.

Guinea-pepper, Piper de Guinea, Is otherwise called Indian Pepper, from the Place whence it cometh; the Nature, and farther Description whereof you have in Gerrard's Herbal, lib. 2. c. 66. This is mentioned among Drugs and Spices to be garbled, by 1 Fac. 19.

Gule of August. (Gula Augusti. West. 2. cap. 30. 27 E. 3. Stat. 3. cap. unico F. N. B. fol. 62. alias Goule de August. And Plowden, fol. 316. Case of Mines) is the very Day of St. Peter ad vincula, which was wont to be, and is still celebrated upon the first of August. And in Probability called The Gule of August, from gula a Throat. The Reason we have in Durand's Rationale Divinorum, lib. 7. cap. de facto sancti Petri ad vincula, where he saith, That one Quirinus a Tribune having a Daughter that had a Disease in her Throat, went to Alexander, then Pope of Rome, the Sixth from St. Peter, and desired of him to borrow, or see the Chains that St. Peter was chained with under Nero; which Request obtained, his said Daughter kissing the said Chain, was cured of her Disease, and Quirinus with his Family baptized. Tunc dictus Alexander Papa, saith Durand, hoc festum in Calendis Augusti celebrandum instituit, & in honorem beati Petri Ecclesiam in urbe fabricavit, ubi ipsa vincula reposuit, & ad vincula nominavit, & Calendis Augusti dedicavit. In qua festivitate populus ille ipsa vincula hodie osculatur. So that this Day that before was only called The Calends of August, was upon this Occasion termed indifferently either of the Instrument that wrought the Miracle, St. Peter's Day ad vincula; or of that Part of the Maid whereon the Miracle was wrought, the Gule of August. See Hospinian de origine festorum, fol. 85. Averagium festivale fieri debet inter Hock-Day & gulam Augusti: Rentale Manerii Regalis de Wye.

Gulium, Taxation, or pecuniary Imposition — Abbas & conventus sunt quieti de eschaviis latronum, bobus, de disseisina, guldus, theloniis, &c. Cartular. Galfston. MS. f. 87. a.

Gultruit Is an Amends for Trespas, according to Saxton, in his Description of England. cap. 11. But we may suppose it mistaken for Gyltruit, because no such Word is found either in Spelman's Glossary, the Saxon Dictionary, or ancient Records.

Gum Is a clammy or tough Liquor issuing out of Trees, and hardened by the Sun. Of these there be divers Sorts brought from beyond Sea, that are Drugs to be garbled, as appeareth by the Statute 1 Fac. 19.

Gumfus, Gumphus. The Hook upon which the Hinge turns. — In granario cooperiendo xxvi. fol. x. den. In offiis eidem faciendis cum gumfis & vertinellis (i. e. with Hook and Hinges) vii. fol. 4 denar. Computus Domus de Farendon. MS. fol. 18.

Gust, Hospes, Is used by Bracton for a Stranger or Guest, that lodges with us the second Night. Lib. 3. tract. 2. cap. 10. In St. Edw. Laws, published by Lamb. num. 27. it is written Gest. Of this see more in Unouth.

Guti, Gothi, and Gotti, (called sometimes Guta, by the Romans Geta, and by the English Goths; 'tis derived from the old Word Fat, which signifies a Giant) were one of those three Nations or People who left Germany, and came to inhabit this Island. In Leg. Edw. Confessor, cap. 35. we read, Gutti vero similiter, cum veniant, suscipi debent & protegi in isto regno, sicut conjurati fratres, sicut propinqui, &c.

Gutta, The Gout. Anno 1287. Quidam infirmitate quam Medici guttam vocant vexabatur, ut nec pedes nec manus absque dolore gravissimo movere possit. Liber de miraculis Tho. de Cantilupo Episcopi Hereford. MS. penes Willielmum Glynne Baronetum.

Gutters, A Gutter or Spout to convey the Water from the Leads and Roofs of Churches.

— Custos operis post singulas magnas pluvias faciat scrutari voltas superiores Ecclesie, & tunc similiter mundari faciat deambulatoria superiora circa Ecclesiam exteriori, ut pluvia liberum fluxum habeat per guttas, nec amplius, &c. Liber Staurorum Eccl. Paulinæ London. MS. f. 41. a.

Guttertile alias Comptile, Is a Tile made three corner-wise, especially to be laid in Gutters, and at the Corners of tiled Houses and Dove-houses, 17 E. 4. 4.

Gwasbermerched Is a British Word, signifying a Fine made to some Lords of Manors upon the Marriage of their Tenants Daughters, or otherwise upon their committing Incontinency. See Marchet and Lairwite.

Omnibus — Jacobus Baskerville Miles Dominus Manerii de Wyley (Com. Heref.) salutem. Noveritis me prefatum Jacobum remisisse Johanni apud John Hered. & assign. suis totum jus, titulum, &c. quod habeo de & in quibusdam serviciis aut redditibus exeunt. de tenemento quod predictus Johannes tenet de me in predicto Manerio, qua serviciis aut redditus sequuntur, viz. Moch-mesworyc, otherwise called Maffswine. Gwantegan Claimai, otherwise called Cowyeld. Cwabyr-merched, otherwise called Lairwite. Arian-Yhen, otherwise called Ox-Silver. Gwasanethen, otherwise called Work-Silver. And Deiliad-Moor, otherwise called Tenant in Meer. Ita quod nec ego predicti. Fac. nec heredes mei aliquid jus, &c. in predictis serviciis in futur. habere poterimus, &c. Dat. 16 Oct. 4. Ed. 6. Penes Joh. Stead Gen.

Gwalstow, (Gwalstowum from the Sax. Gwal, i. e. Patibulum, and stow, Locus) Locus Patibuli seu occidendorum. Omnia Gwalstowa, id est occidendorum loca, totaliter Regis sunt in foca sua. LL. Hen. 1. cap. 11.

Gwafp, Walf, Waivium, They were properly such Goods, as Felons or Thieves when pursued, cast down and left in the Highway, which became a Forfeiture to the King or Lord

Lord of the Manor, unless the right Owner did legally claim them within one Year and a Day.

Recognitum est Militibus & liberis hominibus, quod ad nos spectat le Gwayf, &c. ita & statim redditum est nobis le Gwayf de Ernot, scilicet duo porci cum quinque por illis. Paro. b. Antiq. pag. 16. Where the Word signifies only stray Cattel. See Waif and Stray.

Gylput. It was found by Inquisition upon an Ad quod Danum, 13 Ed. 3. n. 12. that there did belong to the Liberty or Hundred of Patbbew, in Com. War. a certain Court called Gylput held every three Weeks; but why or whence so called, Quere.

Episcopus. — Habcat, que ipse Episcopus (sc. Oswaldus Ep. Weorceastre,) omnesque sui successores ibi ad jus Ecclesiasticum, debita transgressionum & poenam delictorum, que nos dicimus Offense esse, & Gylde Wide, & omnia quaecunque Rex in suis Hundredis habet. Ex ipso Autographo Eadgari Regis Dat. Anno 964. Penes serenissimam Majestatem CAROLI II. Regis. A Compensation or Amends for Trespas or Fraud; Multa pro Transgressionem.

Gyvue, (Fr. Juif.) in Law French signifies a Jew. — Et que nul Gyvu de ceo jur en avant tel manere de detter. Provisions de Judaismo, 53 Hen. 3.

H.

Habeas Corpus Is a Writ which a Man indicted of a Trespas before Justices of Peace, or in a Court of any Franchise; and being apprehended and imprisoned for the same, may have out of the King's Bench to remove himself thither at his own Costs, and to answer the Cause there. F. N. B. fol. 250. And the Order in this Case is, first to procure a Certiorari out of the Chancery, directed to the said Justices, for the Removing of the Indictment into the King's Bench, and upon that to procure this Writ to the Sheriff, for the causing his Body to be brought at a Day, Reg. Jud. fol. Si. where you may find divers Cases, wherein this Writ is to be used.

Habeas Corpora Is a Writ that lies for the bringing in of a Jury, or so many of them as refuse to come upon the Venue facias, for the Trial of a Cause brought to Issue. Old Nat. Brev. fol. 157. See great Diversity of this Writ in the Table of the Register Judicial, verbo Habeas Corpora, and the New Book of Entries, verbo eadem.

Habendum Is a Word of Form in a Deed or Conveyance, every of which must have two principal Parts, viz. the Premisses and the Habendum. The Office of the Premisses is, to express the Names of the Grantor, Grantee, and the Thing granted. The Office of the Habendum is, to limit the Estate, so that the general Implication of the Estate, which, by Construction of Law passeth in the Premisses, is by the Habendum controlled and qualified. As in a Lease to two Persons, Habendum to the one for Life, the Remainder to the other for Life, altereth the general Implication of the Joint-Tenancy in the Freehold, which should pass by the Premisses, if the Haben- dum were not. Co. vol. 2. fol. 55. Buckler's Case. See Use.

Habentes homines. In a Charter of Censuif King of the Mercians, anno 821. Nec Rex suum pastum requirat, vel Habentes homines, quos nos dicimus Feastingmen, nec eos qui accipites portant vel falcones. Mon. Angl. Tom. 1. pag. 100. Du Fresne says, They are no more than Dioites, rich Men. But no doubt the Word implies a stricter Sense, and did import either the King's Guard or Retinue, who were at the King's Pleasure to be Feasting-men, or plentifully entertained at the Houses of his Tenants: Or rather those old Servants who were commended to the Religious by the King, and so fasted on them for Corrodies or Maintenance for Life. Or perhaps only the Pledges and Sureties, or Friborghs, who under their Chief or Principal the Tithing-Man, were to keep the King's Peace, and be accountable for the Breach of it.

Habentia In the singular Number signifies Riches: Animos eorum Habentia instruit; and in some old Charters, the Word Habentes signifies rich Men, viz. Nec Rex suum pastum requirat, vel Habentes homines quos nos dicimus Feasting-Men. Monast. 1 Tom. p. 100.

Habere facias seisinam Is a Writ Judicial, which lieth where a Man hath recovered Land in the King's Court, directed to the Sheriff, and commanding him to give Seisin of the Land recovered. Old Nat. Brev. fol. 154. See great Diversity thereof in the Table of the Register Judicial, verbo Habere facias seisinam. This Writ is sometimes issuing out of the Records of a Fine Executory, directed to the Sheriff of the County where the Land lieth, and commanding him to give to the Cognisee, or his Heirs, Seisin of the Land whereof the Fine is levied, which Writ lieth within the Year after the Fine, or Judgment, upon a Seire facias, and may be made in divers Forms, West. Symbol. 2 Tit. Fines sect. 156. There is also a Writ called Habere facias seisinam, ubi Rex habuit annum, diem & vasum, which is for the Delivery of Lands to the Lord of the Fee, after the King hath taken his Duc of his Lands that was convicted of Felony. Orig. fol. 165.

Habere facias vium Is a Writ that lies in divers Cases, as in Dower, Formedon, &c. where View is to be taken of the Lands or Tenements in Question. F. N. B. in Indire, verbo View. Brañon, lib. 5. tract. 3. cap. 8. & lib. 5. part 2. cap. 11. See View, Reg. Jud. fol. 1. 26, 28, 45, 49, 52.

Habereflus, A Sort of Fish, perhaps Haberdine, or a Sort of Cod-Fish dried and salted. — Sorwy rehit in gabulo assiso xiii. libras. — & v. de anguillis & II. de haberellis, & I. de parvis anguillis, vel tres solidos de piscaria. Cartular. Abbat. Glaston. MS. f. 39. a.

Habergeon, an Helmet or Head-piece, which covered the Head and Shoulders: From the Germ. Hals, Collum, and Bergen, tegere.

Habergetum. See Habergeon.

Haberjets or Haubergerets, Haubergeretta, A Kind of Cloth, of a mixt Colour; una sit latitudo pannorum tinctorum, russatorum & Haubergeretarum, scil. dua ulna infra listas. Mag. Chart. c. 25, 26. Et pupilla oculi, part. 5. c. 22.

Habilitments of War. 31 Eliz. cap. 4. Are Armour, Harness, and Provision of War of all Sorts, without which no War can be maintained. 3 Par. Inst. fol. 79.

Hables Is the Plural of the French Hable, signifying a Port or Haven of the Sea; whence Ships set forth into other Countries, and where they do arrive when they return from their Voyage: This Word is used 27 Hen. 6. 3. See Hafne.

Habundo, Abundance, Plenty. — Receptis de caso & butiro, & eo minus propter habundam casei maximam. Paroch. Antiquit. p. 548.

Hacche. A Hatch, a Gate or Door. Saxa, hæca, pessus, a Hatch or Bolt. — Idem tenetur tempore constituto obstruere le Hacche de mere, & capere glebam & clausuram in mora. Cartular. Abbat. Glaston. MS. fol. 42. b. Hence the Buttery Hatch, and several Houses situate on the Highway near a common Gate, are still called Hatches.

Hachegs. See Hatches.

Hachetta, A Hatchet or cutting Instrument of Iron. — Quidam Serviens ipsius Rogeri in presentia ipsius Episcopi percussit & vulneravit usque ad enormem per sanguinis effusionem Ricardum de ejusdem Episcopi conitiva, qui ceperat hatchettam quam tenebat quidam familiaris alius ejusdem Rogeri, versus Dominum Episcopum cum dicta hatchetta elevata veniens, quasi vellet eundem Episcopum percutere. Abbat. Glaston. Cartularium. MS. f. 66. a.

Hachia, A Hack, a Pick, or Instrument for digging. — Adam de Holt vendidit Henrico Scot quartam partem manerii de Beterton, & statim perrexerunt ad predictam quartam partem de felione in felionem, & ad ultimum felionem dictus Adam cum hachia solit quondam partem illam terræ, & tradidit illam dicto Henrico nomine seifina. Placita i Edw. III. MS.

Hachote Was a Recompence made for the Violation of Holy Orders, or Violence offered to Persons in Holy Orders. Saxon Dictionary.

Hade of Land, Hada terra; Sursum reddidit in manus Domini duas acras terræ continen' decem feliones & duas Hadas, Anglice, Ten Ridges, and two Hades, jacen' inter terr. &c. Rot. Cur. Maner' de Orleton, Anno 16 Jac.

Haderunga, Respect of Persons, Partiality, from Sax. had, Person, Degree, Quality; and arung, honouring, admiring. Hence in the Laws of King Ethelred. — Judicia debent esse sine omni haderunga, quod non parcatu diviti alicui vel egeno, &c.

Hadgonel, alias Haggonel. Item quando aliquis delegabit terram Burgagii in Eleemosynam conventus, terra illa solebat de cetero esse quæta de Hadgonel, & maxime Celerario. Mon. Angl. i par. f. 302. a. 9.

Hærede deliberando alii qui habet custodiam terræ, Is a Writ directed to the Sheriff, willing to command one, having the Body of him that is Ward to another, to deliver him to him, whose Ward he was by reason of his Land. Reg. Orig. fol. 161. This is now out of use by 12 Car. 2. cap. 24.

Hæred abrupto Is a Writ that lay for a Lord, who having the Wardship of his Tenant under Age, could not come by his Body, for that he was conveyed away by another. Old Nat. Brev. fol. 93. See Ravishment de Gard, and Hærede raptu in Reg. Orig. f. 163. but now of no Use.

Hæredipeta, the next Heir: Et nullus Hæredipeta suo propinquo vel extraneo periculosa sane Custodia committatur. Leg. H. c. 70.

Hæretare, To give a Right of Inheritance, or make the Donation hereditary to the Grantee and his Heirs. — Tandem usus consilio & patrocinio amicorum hæretavit Sanctum Paulum de quatuor bidis & dimidia. Hist. Eliensis, Edit. Gale. cap. 41.

Hæretico comburendo; It is a Writ that lies against him that is a Heretick, viz. that having once been convicted of Heresy by his Bishop, and having abjured it, afterwards falleth into it again, or into some other, and is thereupon committed to the secular Power. F. N. B. fol. 269. This Writ lies not at this Day, according to the Opinion of Sir Edward Coke in his twelfth Rep. fol. 93. This Writ is now utterly abolished by Stat. 29 Car. 2. cap. 9. Britton lib. 1. c. 17. Says, That, by the Common Law such as feloniously burn the Corn or Houses of others, Sorcerers and Sorceresses, Sodomitical Persons and Hereticks should be burnt.

Hafne Courts: Hafne is a Danish Word, and signifies with us a Haven or Sea-Port. Letters Patent of Richard, Duke of Gloucester, Admiral of England, 14 Aug. Anno 5 Ed. 4. have these Words. Uterius dicunt quod dicti Adbas & Conventus & predecessores sui habent & habere consueverunt per idem tempus in predictis villis (Bancaster & Ringstead) cum Hulmo quasdam Curias Portus, vocatas Hafne Courts, tenendas ibidem ad placitum Abbatiss, &c. Haven or Port Courts, 4 Inst. f. 147.

Haga, (Sax. Haga, Manſio) a House in a City or Borough. In Domesday, Tit. Suffex. Terra Rogeri, num. 11. Radulfus tenet unam Hagam de xii. Denar. Willielmus quinque Hagas de quinque Sol. &c. An ancient Anonymous Author expounds Haga to be Domus cum Shopa. Cum movem prefate Civitatis habitaculis, qua patria lingua Hagan appellari solent. Charta Etheldri Regis, in Auctuario Mart. Paris. fol. 240. Coke on Litt. fol. 56. b. See Haww. It also signifies an Hedge. In an old Book, some time belonging to the Abbey of St. Aufin in Canterbury, we find that King Stephen sent his Writ to the Sheriff and Justices of Kent in this Manner, Stephanus Rex Anglorum, Vicecomiti & Justiciariis de Kent, salutem, Precipio quod faciatis habere Ecclesie Sancti Augustini & Monachis hagam suam, quam Gosceold eis dedit, &c.

Haga. A Hedge. Sax. hæg, melted into Hey, whence Haia. — Quod totum dictam placeam includere possint fossato & haga, secundum assisam foreste. Mon. Angl. Tom. 2. p. 273.

Hagablum, the same with Gablum.

Hagbut. See Haque and Haquebut.

Hagia, and Haplia, A Hedge, and sometimes taken for a Park or Enclosure, Vallatum fuit, &c. Fossata Haja & Palatio. Braët. lib. 2. c. 40. num. 3. Hence Hajement for a Hedge-Fence. Rot. Ing. 33 E. 3. in Scac. de Foresta.

Hærebote Is an irregular Compound of the French Haye, i. Sepe, and the Sax. Bote, compensation, and used for a Permission to take Thorns or Fryth to make or repair Hedges. Or rather a Mulct for breaking Hedges. See Hædgebote.

Hærmstagen. See Hamsoca.

Hærbannum. See Hærebannum.

Hake, A Sort of Fish dried and salted, called commonly Poor John, in the Western Parts of England, Hacket, from Sax. Haecod. The Proverb obtains in Kent, as dry as a Hake — Et in tribus copulis viridis piscis cum uno viridi lynge, cum tribus congris, & cum una copula de Hake. Antiquit. Parochial. pag. 575. See Spelman's Glossary in Hakedus.

Haketon. See Jacket; a Military Coat: Indutus fuit Episcopus quadam armatura, quam Aketon vulgariter appellamus. Walf. in Ed. 3.

Halbergetus pannus. See Haubergetus.

Hallendral, the Moicity or one half.

Halls-liaque. See Haque.

Hall-mark, Dimidia Merke, Is a Noble. F. N. B. fol. 5. Where he saith, That in Case a Writ of Right be brought, and the Seisin of a Demandant, or his Ancestor, alledged, the Seisin is not traverfable by the Defendant, but he may tender or proffer the Half-Mark for the Enquiry of this Seisin; which is in plain Terms, that the Defendant shall not be admitted to deny, that the Demandant or his Ancestor, was seised of the Land in Question, and to prove his Denial; and that he shall be admitted to render half a Mark in Money, to have an Enquiry made, whether the Demandant, &c. were so seised or not. And in this Signification we find the same Words in the Old Eng. Nat. Brev. fol. 26. Know, that in a Writ of Right of an Advowson brought by the King, the Defendant shall not proffer the Half-Mark, &c. whereof Fitzherbert, ubi supra, giveth this Reason, because in the King's Case, the Defendant shall be permitted to traverse the Seisin; by Licence obtained of the King's Serjeant. To which Effect see F. N. B. fol. 31.

Half Seal Is used in the Chancery for the Sealing to Delegates, appointed upon any Appeal, either in Ecclesiastical or Marine Causes. 8 El. 5.

Half-Tongue. See Medietas Lingua.

Haligamot. See Halimote.

Halke, i. e. an Hole, seeking in every Halke. From the Sax. Heale, angulus.

Haliwozfolk, i. e. Holyworkfolk, or People who held Lands for the Service of repairing or defending a Church or Sepulchre, for which pious Labours they were excused from feodal and military Services. Hugo Episcopus Dunelmensis Homines de Episcopatu secum coegit ire in guerram Scotia, & cum redissent domi ab eo non licentiat, fecit eos apud Dunelmum incarcerationi. Quod ipsi graviter ferentes, fecerunt se partem contra Episcopum, dicentes se esse Haliwozfolk, & terras suas tenere ad defensionem corporis S. Cuthberti, nec debere se exire terras Episcopatus, scilicet ultra Tinam & Teyfam pro Rege vel Episcopo. Hist. Dunelm. apud Whartonii Ang. Sac. P. 1. p. 749.

Hall, Halla, the Saxon Word is Healle, and anciently denoted a chief Mansion-House or Habitation; which Word we retain in many Counties of England to this Day, especially in the County-Palatine of Chester, where every Gentleman of Quality's Seat is termed a Hall. In the Book of Domesday Tit. Chent. Terra Hugonis de Mountfort. In Newcastl Hundred ipse Hugo tenet nam terram quam Azor Rot tenuit de R. E. (Rege Edwardo) sine Halla, i. e. sine domo.

Hallage Is a Fee due for Cloaths brought for Sale to Blackwell-Hall in London. Co. vol. 6. fol. 62. b. Also the Toll due to the Lord of a Fair or Market, for such Commodities as are vended in the Common Hall of the Place.

Hallamale, The Day of All-Hallows, or All-Saints, Nov. 1. One of the cross Quarters of the Year was commonly so computed in ancient Writings from Halymas to Candlemas.

Hallamshire Is a Part of Yorkshire, in which the Town of Sheffield stands, 21 Jac. cap. 23.

Hallbard: The Danes when they invaded this Nation, had Hatchets with two Edges; the Saxons had a like Weapon so called: From the Germ. Hall. palatium, and Bard bipennis, which being adorned with Gold and Jewels, was carried by Noblemen, and from them the English had this Weapon, which is still used in Princes Courts.

Halmetus. Villani ne vendant, donent vel locent terras customarias, per cartam vel sine, concillanis vel Customariis, sine expresso consensu Eymariorum, & in plena curia vel Halmeto, ut per recordum Curie, &c. Statut. Eccl. Paup. London. MS. f. 456. See Halymote.

Halimote or Halimote, (From the Sax. Heale; i. e. aula, and Gemot, i. e. conventus) is that we now call a Court-Baron; and the Etymology is the Meeting of the Tenants of one Hall or Manor. Omnis causa terminetur vel Hundredo, vel Comitatu vel Halimote, socam habentium, vel dominorum Curia. LL. Hen. 1. cap. 10. The Names is still retained at Luston, and other Places in Herefordshire.

Hereford ?
Palatium § Ad Halimot ibidem tent. 11 die Off. Anno Regni Regis Hen. 6. 24. venit Johannes Garneison & Juliana Uxor ejus in plena Curia, &c.

It is sometimes taken for a Convention of Citizens in their Publick Hall, which was also called Folkmot and Halmot. As in London every Company hath a Hall, wherein they keep their Courts. 4 Inst. fol. 249. This Halmote and Halimote are often confounded, though originally they were two distinct Courts.

But the Word Halimote rather signifies the Lord's Court, or a Court-Baron held in the Manor, in which the Differences between the Tenants were determined: From the Sax. Heal, atrium, and Gemot, conventus. Omnis causa terminetur vel Hundredo vel Comitatu vel Halimote socam habentium: Leg. H. 1. cap. 9. So in W. Thorn, Anno 1176. Ipsi Thanetensibus afferentibus se ad Capitalem Curiam beat. Augustini Cantuar. placitandi causa, vel judicium sustinendi nullo modo debere accedere, sed in Halimoto suo in Thaneto omnia sua judicia exerceri.

Halsberga, a Coat of Mail: From the Saxon Hals, i. e. collum, and Bergan, cavere: It was properly a Defence for the Neck.

Halsfang. See Healsfang and Pillory.

Halymote, Properly an Holy or Ecclesiastical Court; howbeit there is a Court held in London by this Name, before the Lord Mayor and Sheriffs, for regulating the Bakers, and was anciently held on Sunday next before St. Thomas's Day, and therefore called the Halymote, or Holy Court: The Title thereof ran thus. Curia Sancti motus tenta in Guibalda Civitatis London, coram Majore & Vicecom. &c.

Halywerfolk. (Ranulphus Dei Gratia Dunelmensis Episcopus omnibus hominibus suis Francis & Anglis de Halywerfolk salutem. Mon. Ang. 1 Par. fol. 512. b.) did anciently signify such of the Province of Durham, as held their Lands, to defend the Corps of St. Cuthbert, and claimed the Privilege not to be forced to go out of the Bishoprick either by King or Bishop. Hist. Dunelm. And Durham in our Year-Books is called Franchise de Werk. Selden.

Ham, A House, also a Village or little Town: This is a Termination of many Towns in England, as Nottingham, Buckingham, Walsingham, &c.

Hambles. See Hables.

Hambling or Hameling of Dogs, Is the same, with expeditating; Manwood's Forest-Law, ca. 16. num. 5. says, This is the ancient Term that Foresters used for that Matter, and num. 12. he adds, Cnutus in his 31 Canon, doth call The Lawning of Dogs, Genu-scisso, which was a Kind of cutting or laming of Dogs in the Hams, which the old Foresters called Hambling. See Expeditate.

Hamlet, as also Hamel and Hampfel, are diminutives of Ham, which signifies Habitation. Camb. Brit. pag. 149 354. Kitchin hath Hamel in the same Sense, who also useth Hampfel for an old House or Cottage decayed, fol. 103. Hamlet, as Stow useth it in Edw. 3. seemeth to be the Seat of a Freeholder; for there he saith, The King bestowed two Manors and nine Hamlets of Land upon the Monastery of Westminster, for the Keeping of yearly Obits for his Wife, Q. Eleanor, deceased. Spelman making a Difference betwixt willam integram, willam dimidiam & Hamlettam, hath these Words, Hamlettam vero que medietatem friborgi non obtinuit, hoc est ubi quinque Capitales Plegii non sint deprehenfi. The Statute of Exon, 14 E. 1. mentions it thus, Lex nosmet de toutes les villes & Hamlets que sont en son Wapentake, &c.

Hamelus, A Hamlet. — Cum duobus solidis annui redditus in hamello de Chetbam. Will. Thorn.

Hamsfare Is by some taken to be the same with Hamfcone, i. e. the Freedom of a Man's House: From the Sax. Ham, Domus, and Frith, pax, and Hamfcone is from the Sax. Hani, Domus, and Socne, immunitas, but I rather think that Hamsfare is derived from the Sax. Ham, Domus, and Fare, iter vel progressio. So that Hamsfare is a Breach of the Peace in a House; and this appears by Brompton, in legibus H. 1. cap. 80. Si quis alium in sua vel alterius domo, &c. sagittet vel lapidet, vel colpem ostensibilem undequeq; faciat, Homiocne est vel Hamsfare, i. e. he is either guilty of a violent Entry into the House of another, or of the Breach of the Peace in his own House; For by the Definition it appears that the Offences are not the same.

Hammis, A Home-Close, a small Croft, or little Meadow. — Quoddam pratunculum quod vocatur Hamm. Paroch. Antiquit. pag. 135. quatuor acras prati in Gore juxta hamam Gilberti. ib. p. 176. Computant de sex solidis, octo denariis receptis de duobus hammis prati in campo de Wendleburg. ib. p. 572. in which later Citation hamma prati seems to be a narrow Skirt, Hem, or Edge of Meadow or Grass in the common Field. See Mr. Kennet's Glossary.

Hamma, Some Sort of Fishing-Tackle, perhaps the Poles with which they beat the Water, to drive the Fish into the Nets. For the Word Hamis in the Glossary of Du Fresne, is thus expounded from Johannes de Janua, fustis aucupabilis, scilicet, virgula, que sustinet rete, quo capiuntur fere, vel quod levat rete in quo capiuntur aves, & dicitur ab Hamus. However it is plainly some Instrument of Poching for Fish. — Nullus hominum de cetero ingressum habeat in piscariam ratione piscandi, sed omnia retia, le hammes, & alia instrumenta piscaria, deferantur ad curiam de Mere ad opus Piscatorum. Cartular. Abbat. Glaston. MS. f. 90. b.

Hampfel. See Hamel.

Hamsfoken. See Homesfoken. Stene de verbor. Signif. writeth it Hainsfoken; and deriveth it from Haim, a German Word, signifying a House, and Suchen, that is, to seek, search, or pursue: It is used in Scotland for the Crime of him that violently, and contrary to the King's Peace, assaulteth a Man in his own House, which, (as he saith) is punishable equally with Ravishing a Woman. Significat etiam quietantiam misericordie intrationis in alienam domum vi & injuste. Fleta, lib. 1. cap. 47. Our ancient Records exprefs Burglary under this Word Hamsfcone. In a Charter of Donation from King Edmund to the Church of St. Mary Glaston, we have these Words, Concedo libertatem & potestatem, jura, consuetudines & omnes forisfacturas omnium terrarum suarum, i. Burgwerth & Hundred-setena, Athas & Ordel & Infangtheofas, Hamsfcone & Fridebrice & Forestel & Toll & Team in omni Regno meo, &c. It signifies also a Franchise or Privilege so called, granted to the Lords of Manors, whereby they hold Pleas, and take Cognizance of the Breach of that Immunity.

Hamsborow, A Surety, a manual Pledge, that is, an inferior Undertaker; for Head-borow is a superior or chief Instrument. Spelm.

Hand in and Hand out, 17 E. 4. cap. 2. Is the Name of an unlawful Game.

Handful is four Inches by the Standard. Anno 33 H. 8. 5. &c.

Hand-grith, Peace or Protection given by the King with his own Hand. So among the Compacts of Alfred and Gudun, Sect. 1. Et hoc est primum Editum Ecclesie, pax inter parietes suos, ut Regis Hand-grith semper inconculsa permaneat. This is the Meaning of that Passage in the 13th Chapter of the Laws of King H. 1. Hac mittunt hominem in misericordia Regis, infractio pacis quam per manum suam dabit alicui. This is what we call Battery.

Hand-habend, A Thief apprehended in the very Fact, having the stolen Goods in his Hands — Ne forisbannitum, aut furem, hand-habendam, Francigenam vel Anglicum, ultra duodecim annis annum, & 8 denarios valentem, impunitum transseant. Leges Hen. 1. cap. 59. See Fleta, lib. 1. cap. 38. Sect. 1. and Bracton, l. 3. tract. de Conna. cap. 32. Sect. 2.

Hand-habend, (Sax. Hebbendre handa) Si quis hominem liberum latrocinium seu rem furatam seum deferentem, (quem Hebbendre handa vocant) apprehenderit, &c. Concil. Berghamsted, Anno 697. See Hond habend.

Hand gun Is an Engine prohibited to be used, and carried about, by the Statute 33 H. 8. 6. And though a Dag was invented of late Time, and after the Making of the said A&, and is not known by the Name of a Hand-gun, but by its own special Name; yet the carrying a Dag is within the said A&. See Co. lib. 5. fol. 71. 72.

Handsharp, A Kind of Cloth made at Cocksal, Bocking, and Braintree in Essex, and mentioned in the Statute, 4 & 5 Phil. & Mar. 5.

Hamsfare. See Hamsfare.

Hankwit alias Hangwite, (from the Saxon Hangan, i. e. suspendere, and Wite, nuda) Is (according to Rassal) a Liberty granted to a Man, whereby he is quit of a Felon or Thief, hanged without Judgment, or escaped out of Custody. We read it interpreted to be quit of laron pendu sans Serjeants le Roy, i. e. without legal Trial. And elsewhere, Multa pro latrone preter juris exigentiam suspensio vel elapsio. Q. Whether it may not also signify a Liberty, whereby a Lord challengeth the Forfeiture due for him, who hangs himself within the Lord's Fee? See Bloodwit. It seems to be so in consuetud. ex Domesday, by Dr. Gale, viz. Hangenwium faciens in civitate 10 s. dabit.

Hanok, Si aliquis inventus fuerit qui clamorem vocatum Hanok aliquo modo sine licentia nostra inceperit, morte punietur. Stat. H. 5. Du Fresne.

Hanper, or Hanper of the Chancery, (Anno 10 Ric. 2. cap. 1.) Seems to signify, as Fissus originally does in Latin. See Clerk of the Hanaper.

Hanse, According to Ortelius in the Index to his Additament to his Theatre, verb. Anstati, is an old Gothic Word: It signifieth a certain Society of Merchants combined together, for the good Usage and safe Passage of Merchandize from Kingdom to Kingdom. This Society was, and in Part yet is, endowed with many large Privileges of Princes respectively within their Territories. It had four principal Seats or Staples, where the Almain or German Merchants being the Erectors of this Society had an especial House, one of which was here in London, called Gildbalda Tenteniorum, or among us vulgarly the Steel-yard. — Et quod habeant Gildam mercatoriam cum Hansa, &c. Charta Hen. 7. Balivis & Burgens. Montgomer.

Hanse-Towns, So called, either because they lay near the-Sea, or from the old Gothic Word Anst, which signifies those who were the most noble and richest of the People; and from thence we may infer, that these Towns were the chiefest for Trade and Riches; or from the German Hansa, i. e. Societas, or a Company of Merchants, or Men excelling others in Trade: At first there were seven Towns so called, and afterwards 70.

Hantelode, i. e. An Arrest, from the German Hant, i. e. an Hand, and Load, i. e. laid, manus immisso. Qui manus immisionem resistit, quod Hantelode vocant, 40 sol. solvat in publico. Du Cange.

Hap, Cometh of the French Happer, i. Rapere, to snatch or catch: And signifies the same with us, as to Hap the Possession of a Deed-poll. Littleton, fol. 8. To hap the Rent, as if Partition be made by two Parceners, and more Land be allowed to one than the other, and she that has most of the Land charges it to the other, and she happeth a Rent, she shall remain an Assise without Speciality.

Haque Is a Hand-gun about three Quarters of a Yard long, 33 H. 8. cap. 6. and 2 & 3 E. 6. cap. 14. There is also the Half-haque or Demy-haque. See Haquebut.

Haquebut, (French) A Kind of Gun or Caliver, otherwise called an Arquebuse. Anno 2 & 3 Ed. 6. cap. 14. and 4 & 5 Ph. & Ma. cap. 2. Otherwise called a Hagbut. The Haquebut is a bigger Sort of Hand-gun; from the Teut. HaackBuyse.

Haratium, or Hararium (from the French Haras) signifies a Race of Horses and Mares, kept for Breed. Spel. Gloss. verb. Haratium. Et decimas de dominio suo, de pratis, de bladis, parvis, Haratis, molendinis & de Vivariis. Mon. Angl. part 1. f. 339.

Hardwic. See Herdwick.

Hardwoice. Domesday Tit. Glouec. Burg. Luncave. — In Wales sunt tres Hardwices, Lumechare, Potfichmet, & dimid. & in his sunt 8 carucata & 11 villani. Spelman seems to interpret it a hard Village, and Du Fresne falls into a perfect Blunder upon the Word. I rather think it meant Heord-wic, the Herdsman's Village, as Charlton, the Churli-town: Whence Herdwick and Charlton, are now the Names of very many Places.

Hariot alias Herior, Heriotum Is in the Saxon Tongue Heregate, which is derived from Here, exercitus, and Geat a Beast, and in the Saxons Time signified a Tribute given to the Lord for his better Preparation towards War. Lambard in his Explication of Saxon Words, verbo Hereotum: Erant enim Hereotum militaris supellectilis prestatio, quam, obiente vassallo, Dominus reportavit in sui ipsius munitionem, says, Spelman. And, by the Laws of Canutus, Tit. de Hereotis, it appears, that at the Death of the great Men of this Nation, so many Horses and Arms were to be paid as they were in their respective Life-times obliged to keep for the King's Service. It is now taken for the best Beast a Tenant hath at the Hour of his Death, due to the Lord by Custom, be it Horse, Ox, &c. and in some Manors, the best Piece of Plate, Jewel, or the best Good. The Name is still retained, but the Use is altered; for whereas by Lambard's Opinion, it did signify so much as Relief doth now with us: Now it is taken for the best Cattle that a Tenant hath at the Hour of his Death, due to the Lord by Custom.

Kitchin, fol. 133, 134, makes Heriot-Service and Heriot-Custom; for Interpretation whereof, you shall find these Words in Broke, Tit. Hariot, nu. 5. Hariot after the Death of the Tenant for Life is Hariot-Custom. Hariot-Service is after the Death of Tenant in Fee-simple. In the Book called Les Termes de la Ley, 'tis said, that Hariot-Service is often expressed in the Grant of a Man, that he holds by such Service to pay Hariot at the Time of his Death, that holdeth in Fee-simple. Hariot-Custom is, when Hariots have been paid Time out of Mind by Custom, and this may be after the Death of Tenant for Life. And for this the Lord may distrain or seise. See Plowd. fol. 95, 96. Bracton, lib. 2. cap. 36. Dact. and Stud. cap. 9. But of Right neither the Lord nor Officer should take Hariot, before it be presented at the next Court holden after the Tenant is dead, that such a Beast is due for a Hariot. If the Lord purchase Part of the Tenancy, Hariot-Service is extinguished, but it is not so in Hariot-Custom. Co. 8 Rep. Talbot's Case. If the Lord ought to have a Hariot when his Tenant dieth, and the Tenant deviseth away all the Goods; yet the Lord shall have his Hariot, for the Law preferreth the Custom before the Devise. Co. on Lit. lib. 3. cap. 3. pag. 185. See Dyer, fol. 199. num. 58. This in Scotland is called Herrezelda, compounded of Here in Dutch, in Latin Herus, that is, a Lord or Master; and Zeild a Gift, Tribute or Taxation. Skene de verb. signif. verbo Herrezelda. Heriots, or the delivering up of Arms at the Decease of a Tenant, did not obtain in England till the Sovereignty of the Danes, and are first mentioned in the Laws of Canute. The Book of Domesday, and generally all Monkish Writers have confounded Heriots and Reliefs: Whereas there was very great Difference between them. Heriot was often a Personal; Relief always a predial Service. Heriots were first contrived to keep keep a conquered People in Subjection, and to support the publick Strength, and military Furniture of the Kingdom. Reliefs for the private Commodities of the Lord, that he might not have inutilem proprietatem in the Signiory. Reliefs were a feudal Service, Heriots before any feudal Tenure. Vide Spelman of Fiefs, cap. 18. See Mr. Kennet's Glossary in Heriotum.

Harnet, From the German Hernisch, which signifies all War-like Instruments, a Word often used in our Histories, viz. Hoveden, pag. 725. Missas ab eo cum hernafo suo in Angliam: And in Matt. Paris. Vita Sancti Albani, pag. 98.

Haro, Harron, An Outcry, or Hue and Cry after Felons and Malefactors. Cubicularius Episcopi Eliensis Willielmum de Holm interfecit—Margareta soror interfecti secuta est Episcopum, clamore terribili vociferans Harro super te Thoma de Lyde, Harro, Harro super te, tu enim interfecisti Fratrem meum Willielmum de Holme, Harro super te, Harro. Hist. Elien. apud Wharton Angl. Sacr. Par. 1. p. 658. See the Original of this Clameur de haro among the Normans in la Coutume de Normandie, per M. Henry Basnage. Vol. 1. pag. 104.

Harquebus. The same with Haquebut.

Harretti canes, Harriers or Hounds for hunting the Hare. Johannes le Bay tenet duas hidas terra de Domino Rege in Bokhampton per servitium custodiendi unam mutam caniculorum harretorum, (i. e. one Pack of Beagles, or small Harriers) ad usum Domini Regis. Cart. 12 Ed. 1.

Hart is a Stag of five Years old compleat, Manwood's Forest-Laws, cap. 4. num. 5. which he hath out of Budeus de Philolog. lib. 10. And if the King or Queen do hunt him, and he escape away alive, then afterward he is called a Hart-Royal: And if the Beast by the King or Queen's hunting be chased out of the Forest, and so escape, Proclamation is commonly made thereabout, that in Regard of the Pastime, that the Beast hath shewed to the King or Queen, none shall hurt him, or hinder him from returning to the Forest; and then he is a Hart-Royal claimed.

Hartsh-penny, and Hartsh-Silber, and Hartsh-Spence. See Chimney-Money and Peter-Pence.

Haspas, The Hasp or Clasp of a Book. In the Statutes of the Cathedral Church of St. Paul in London, it was ordained. ut Servientes Ecclesie assentes & haspas librorum suis sumptibus reparari faciant, si per culpam illorum confringantur—Liber Statutorum Eccle. Pauline London. MS. f. 29. a. Sacrifica curet quod Libri bene ligentur & haspentur, &c. ib. 6. 39. b.

Hasta poci, A Shield of Brawn. Johanna de Musgrave tenet terras in Blechesdon de Domino Rege per servitium deferendi Domino Regi unam hastam porci pret. 11. den. cum fugaverit in parco suo de Cornbirie. Paroch. Antiquit. p. 450.

Hatches or Hatches, (mentioned in the Stat. 27 H. 8. 23. by the Name of Hatches and Tits) are certain Dams or Mounds made of Rubbish, Clay or Earth, to prevent the Water issuing from the Stream-works, and Tin-washers in Cornwall, from running into the fresh Rivers. And the Tenants of Balsfiske, and other Manors there, are bound to do yearly certain Days Works ad la Haches. Survey of Cornwall.

Habergetts. See Haberjets.

Haubergettum, The same with Halsberga. Fleta, lib. 1. cap. 24. par. 12. It otherwise signifies a Kind of Woollen Cloth. See Haberjets.

Habeldond, A Head-land, now commonly a Had-land, whence the Head-way or Had-way. Paroch. Antiqu. p. 587.

Haur (LL. Will. 1. cap. 16.) seems to be there used for Hatred; from the French, Hair to hate.

Hauthoner, Homo loratus, a Man armed with a Coat of Mail. Et faciendo servitium de Hauthoner, quantum pertinet ad predictam villam. Charta Galfridi de Dutton, tempore Hen. 3.

Haw, (from the Saxon Haga) A small Quantity of Land so called in Kent; as a Hemphaw, or Beanhaw, lying near the Houte, and enclosed for that Use. Saxon Dist. But I have seen an ancient MS. that says, Hawes vocantur mansiones sive domus. And Sir Edw. Coke (on Littl. fol. 5. b.) says, in an ancient Plea concerning Fewersham in Kent, Hawes are interpreted to signify Manfions. Camden says, That Harwib or Horwib signifies a green Plot in a Valley, as they use it in the North.

Haward. See Hayward.

Hauberke, Cometh of the French Haubert, Lorica, whereupon he that holdeth Land in France, by finding a Coat or Shirt of Mail, and to be ready with it when he shall be called, is said to have Hauberticum feudum; whereof Hotoman writeth thus, *Hauberticum feudum Gallica Lingua vulgo dicitur pro Loricatorum, i. datum vassallo ea conditione, ut ad edictum Loricatorum sive Cataphractus sit pressus. Nam ut Lorica Latinis proprie tegmen de loro factum quo majores in bello utebantur, &c. frequentissime autem pro anea armatura integra usurpatur; sic apud Gallos Haubert proprie Lorica annulis contextam significat, quam vulgus Cote de Maille appellat, Hotom. in verb. Feudal. verbo Hauberticum Feudum. Hauberke, with our Ancestors, seemeth to signify as in France a Shirt or Coat of Mail, and so it seemeth to be used, 13 E. 1. Stat. 3. cap. 6. Though in these Days the Word is otherwise written, as Halbert, and signifies a Weapon well enough known.*

Hawes, In Domesday-Book signifies Manfions or Dwelling-Houses.

Hawes, Small Vessels of Burden to carry Goods in the River Thames from Fewersham, &c. to London, such as are still called Hoyis, Anno 30 Edw. 1. Ante fundationem Abbatis de Fewersham fuit villa & manerium de Fewersham cum pertin. in manibus Regum Angl. quo tempore fuerunt in predicta villa triginta & duo mansiones, que vocabantur triginta & due hawes, que pro rebus & bonis suis in aqua statantibus fuerunt sostantes & lottantes cum ipsis de Dover in auxilium servitii sui viginti navium in quibus tenentur Domino Regi in guerris suis—Placit. temp. Ed. 1 & 2. MS. yet I rather think it meant of xxxii Haghe, Hagis, or Houses.

Hawkers Be a Sort of deceitful Fellows that go from Place to Place, buying and selling Brass, Pewter, and other Merchandise, that ought to be uttered in open Market: The Appellation seemeth to grow from their Uncertainty, like those that with Hawks seek their Game where they can find it; you may read the Word 25 H. 8. 6. and 33 H. 8. 4. We now call those Hawkers that go up and down the Streets crying News-Books, and selling by Retail; and those who sell them by Wholesale from the Press are called Mercury's.

Hay, (Haya, French Haye) An Hedge, an Inclosure, anciently fenced with Rails, as in Cank-Forest there were seven such, and one in most Parks; sometimes it is used for the Park itself, sometimes for an Hedge or hedged Ground. Universi Capitulum B. Petri Ebor. concessisse ad firmam totam Hayam nostram de Langerath cum solo ejusdem Haye, bruera, marisco, & omnibus aliis pertin. Reddendo annuatim nobis tempore pinguedinis unum damum, & fermisone tempore unam damam, &c. Dat. 13 Kaland. Jan. Anno 1279.

Hayam. The same with Haye.

Heyboot Is derived from the Saxon Hag, i. e. an Hedge; and Bote, i. e. a Molt or Recon- pence for Hedg-breaking, or rather, a Right to take Wood necessary for making Hedges, either by Tenant for Life, or for Years, though not expressed in the Grant or Lease. 'Tis mentioned in the Mon. 2 Tom pag. 134. Et concedo ei ut de bosco meo Heybot, &c. And in the same Place Husbote signifies a Right to take Timber to repair the House. John Fitz-Nigel, Forester of Bernwood, had, in Dominico Bosc Domini Regis, Husebote & Heybote pro custodia dicta Foresta. Paroch. Antiqu. pag. 209.

Hayward alias Halward, Is a compound of two French Words, viz. Haye i. Sepe, and Garde, i. Custodia, and signifies one that keepeth the common Herd of the Town; and the Reason may be, because one Part of his Office is to look that they neither break nor crop the Hedges of enclosed Grounds: He is an Officer sworn in the Lord's Court, and the Form of his Oath you may see in Kitchin, fol. 46.

Hazarders Are such as play at Hazard, a Game at Dice so called; Hazard or communis ludens ad falsos talos, adjudicatur quod per sex dies in diversis locis ponatur super Collifrigium. Inter plac. Trin. 2 H. 4 Suffex 10.

Headborow, Derived from the Saxon Head, id est, Caput, & Borge, i. Pignus, signifies him that is Chief of the Frank-pledge, and him that had the principal Government of them within his own Pledge. And as he was called Head-borow, so was he also called Burrow-head, Burgholder, Third-borow, Tithing-man, Chief-pledge or Burrow-elder, according to the Diversity of Speech in several Places. Of this see Lambard in his Explication of Saxon Words, verbo Centuria, and in his Treatise of Constables, and Smith de Rep. Angl. lib. 2. cap. 22. The same Officer is now called a Constable. See Constable. The Headborough was the Chief of the ten Pledges, the other nine were called Handboroughs or Plegii manuales, i. e. inferior Pledges. See Fribovrg.

Head-pence Was an Exaction of 40 li. or more, heretofore collected by the Sheriff of Northumberland, of the Inhabitants of that County twice in seven Years, that is, every third and every fourth Year, without any Account made to the King, which was therefore by the Statute of 23 H. 6. cap. 7. clearly put out for ever. See Common Fine.

Head-silver. See Head-pence.

Healfang or Halstanu, (Collifrigium) is compounded of two Saxon Words Hals, i. e. Collum, and Fang, Captura; pœna scilicet, quia alicui collum fringatur, (Collifrigium). See Pillory. But Healfang cannot signify a Pillory in the Charter of Canutus de Forestis, cap. 14. Et pro culpa solvat Regi decem solidos quos Dani vocant Halfehang. Sometimes 'tis taken for a pecuniary Punishment or Molt, to commute for standing in the Pillory, and is to be paid either to the King or to the Chief Lord, viz. Qui falsum Testimonium dedit, reddat Regi vel terra Domino Halfeang. Leg. H. 1. cap. 11.

Healgunot. See Halymot.

Heath-money. See Chimney-Money.

Hebbetman, A Fisherman below London Bridge, who fishes for Whittings, Smelts, &c. commonly at Ebbing Water, and therefore so called. Mentioned in Art. for the Thames Fury, printed 1632. Stow in his Survey of London, pag. 19. says, They are a Sort of Poachers, or unlawful, Catchers of Fish in the River of Thames.

Hebbethre. The Privilege of having the Goods of a Thief, and the Trial of him, within such a Liberty. In a Charter of Edward the Confessor to the Abbey of St. Edmund — illas rectitudines videl. Hamsokne, & Grithbrech, & Forktoll, & Ferdwite, & Hebbethre, & Frithwite — Cavallar. S. Edmundi. MS. fol. 103.

Hebbing-wears, (mentioned in 23 Hen. 8. cap. 5.) Are Wears or Engines made or laid at Ebbing Water, for taking Fish. Quere.

Hebdomarius, The Weeks-man, or Canon or Prebendary in a Cathedral Church, who had the peculiar Care of the Quire, and the Offices of it for his own Week — Garnaliel Clifton electus in Decanum Hereford, 5 Jul. 1529. Milo Ragon Prebendarius de Preston fuit tunc Hebdomadarius, eoque prætexit Capituli Presidens — Registrum Caroli Bothe Episcopi Hereford. MS. penes Johannem Episc. Norwic.

Hebdomas, A Week, derived from ἑβδομα, seven; as septimana from septem. Julius Caesar divided the Year into Twelve Months, each Month into four Weeks; and each Week into seven Days, according to the Number of the seven Planets. See more of this Matter at large, Skene de verbor. signif. verbo Hebdomas.

Hek is the Name of an Engine to take Fish in the River Ouse by York, Anno 23 Hen. 8. cap. 18. And Heccagium, which occurs in our Records, may be the Rent paid to the Lord of the Fee, for Liberty to use those Engines.

Heda, A Hithe, or Port, a Wharf, or landing Place. As in this Charter of Adelida, Wife of King Henry 1. — Sicant presentes & futuri quod Ego Adelida, Dei gratia Anglorum Regina, dedi Ecclesie de Radings unoquoque anno in Natali Domini centum solidos de heda mea ad faciendum anniversarium Domini mei Regis Henrici, & volo & firmiter precipio quod isti sint primi centum solidi qui singulis annis exierint & haberi poterint de predicta heda mea London, Test. &c. Cartular. de Radings. MS. fol. 5. a.

Hedagium, Toll or Custom paid at the Hithe or Wharf, for landing Goods, &c. from which customary Duties Exemption was granted by the King to some particular Persons and Societies. — Sintque Abbas & Monachi de Radinges & homines eorum & res ipsorum quieti de hedagii & theloneis & omnibus exactionibus & consuetudinibus per totam Angliam. Cartular. Abbatie de Radings. MS. f. 7. a.

Hegulwite, the same with Haybote.

Hela. See Hercia.

Heimineum. Salvo servitio quatuor hominum, quolibet tertio Anno per sex dies ad meum Heimineum faciendum, apud Dodelson. Charta Hugonis de Boydel. temp. H. 2. It signifies an Hayment, or Hedge-fence.

Hemfare. See Hinefare.

Heir, Heres, Though the Word be borrowed of the Latin, yet it hath not altogether the same Signification with us that it hath with the Civilians; for whereas they call Herodem, qui ex testamento succedit in universum jus Testatoris; the Common Law calls him Heir, that succeeds by Right of Blood in any Man's Lands or Tenements in Fee, for by the Common Law nothing passeth jure hereditatis, but only Fee; Moveables, or Chattels immovable, are given by Testament to whom the Testator listeth, or else are at the Disposition of the Ordinary, to be distributed as he in Conscience thinketh meet. Cassianus in consuetud. Burg. pag. 909. hath a Distinction of Heres, which, in some Sort, accordeth well with our Law; for he saith, There is Heres sanguinis & hereditatis. And a Man may be Heres sanguinis with us, that is, Heir apparent to his Father or Ancestor; and yet may, upon Displeasure, be defeated of his Inheritance, or at least the greater Part of it. Every Heir having Lands by Descent, is bound by the binding Acts of his Ancestors, if he be named: For Qui sentit commodum, sentire debet & onus. Co. on Lit. f. 7, 8.

Heir-Heir. See Last.

Hireloom, (of the Saxon Heier, i. e. Heres, and Leome, i. e. Membrum) The Word by Time hath a more general Signification than at first it did bear, comprehending all Implements of Household, as Tables, Presses, Cupboards, Bedsteads, Wainscot, and such like; which, by the Custom of some Countries, having belonged to a House certain Descents, are never inventoried after the Decesse of the Owner, as Chartels, but accrue to the Heir with the House it self by Custom. Spelman says of it, Omne utensile robustius quod ab adibus non facile revellitur, ideoque ex more quorundam locorum ad heredem transit, tanquam membrum hereditatis. And Co. on Lit. f. 18. says, Consuetudo Hundredi de Stretford in Com. Oxon. est quod heredes tenementorum infra Hundredam predictam existen. post mortem anteessorum suorum habebunt, &c. Principalium, Anglice an Heyre-loom, viz. de quodam genere catalorum, utensilium, &c. optimum plaurum, optimam carucani, optimum cybium, &c.

Hinefare alias Hinefare, Discesse famuli a Domino. The Word is compounded of Hine, a Servant, and Fare, an old English Word signifying a Passage.

Hegira, The Mahometan Era, or Computation of Time, beginning from the Flight of Mahomet from Rome, which was, July 16. Anno Christi 622.

Hena, Servitium, Inter placita de temp. Jo. Regis, Northampton 50.

Helsing, A Brass Coin among the Saxons, equivalent to our Half-penny.

Helm, Thatch or Straw. Inter antiquas consuetudines Abbatie de S. Edmundo in villa de Herdwike — Consumarius trituvabit & mundabit pro quolibet opere dimidium summum de quolibet geneve bladi per mensuram grangiarum — & habebit in recessu suo quando trituvrat ad grangias ad quodlibet opus quantum possit semel colligere de foragio tunc trituvratum rasello, & dicitur helm. Ex Cartular. S. Edmundi. MS. f. 321.

Helow-wall, The Hell-Walls, or End-wall, that covers and defends the Rest of the Building. From Saxon Helan, to cover or heal, whence a Thatcher, Slater, or Tiler, who covers the Roof of a House, is in the Western Parts called a Hellier. — In solentis eidem Domine pro quodam Helowe-wall unius domus apud Carthyngton annuatim 11 den. Paroch. Antiq. p. 573. The Hollen in the North is a Wall set before Dwelling Houses to secure the Family from the Blasts of Wind rushing in when the Heck or Door is open: To which most on that Side next the Hearth or Chimney is affixt a Screen of Wood or Stone. See Mr. Kennet's Glossary.

Hem, The Ovens wherein the Lapis Calaminaris, or Calamine is baked, have a Hearth made on one Side of the Oven, divided from the Oven it self by a Partition open at the Top, by which the Flame passes over, and so heats and bakes the Calamine. This Partition is called the Hem in Somersetshire.

Hengstman, Qui equo innititur bellicoso, From the German Hengst, a War-Horse: With us it signifies one that runs on Foot, attending upon a Person of Honour or Worship, Anno 3 Edw. 4. cap. 5. and 24 Hen. 8. cap. 13. It is written Henxman, Anno 6 Hen. 8. cap. 1.

Henedpeny, A customary Payment of Money instead of Hens at Christmas: From the Saxon Hen, Gallina, and Pennyng, denarius. Sint quieti de chevagio & Henedpeny, & Buckstall & tristrif, &c. Monast. 2 Tom. 827. In a Charter of Edw. 3. confirming many Privileges to the Priory of Pulston, 23 Edw. 3. — quieti sint de — fengeldis, bornegeldis, & perygeldis, & Thenedrypeny, Hundredispeny, & de Meskenyng, & de chevagio, & henedpeny, & Bucestall, & tristrif. Mon. Angl. tom. 2. pag. 327. a. Dr Fresne thinks it may be Hen-peny, gallinagium, or a Composition for Eggs. But possibly it is misprinted Hened-peny for Heved-peny, or Head-peny.

Henelewat. A Duty to the King in Cambridgeshire. Domesday.

Hensire, An Amerciament for Flight for Murder. Domesday.

Hengheu, (Saxon Hengen) A Prison, Gaol or House of Correction. Si quis amicis destitutus, vel alienigena, ad tantum laborem veniat, ut amicum non habeat, in prima accusatione ponatur in Hengen, & ibi sustineat donec ad Dei judicium vadat. LL. Hen. 1. cap. 65.

Hengbote, Significat quietantiam misericordie de Latrone suspensio absque consideratione. Fleta, lib. 1. cap. 47. See Hankwit.

Hordstift, The same with Hustfane, i. e. the Master of a Family: From the Saxon Heorðstæf, i. e. fixed to the House or Hearth: Non sit aliqua liberorum rectitudine dignus, sit Heordstæf, sit solgarus, sit in Hundredo & in Plegio constitutus. Leges Canuti, cap. 40. See Hurdereferst.

Heordpeny, Olim Romescot & postea Peter-Pence: From the Saxon Heorht, focus, and Pening, denarius. See Peter-pence and Romescot. — Omnis heordpeni reddat ad Festum S. Petri, & qui non persolveret ad terminum illum deferat eum Roma. Leges Edgari Regis, cap. 5. apud Bromptonum.

Herald, Hualt or Huald, Italian Heraldo, Fr. Herault, quasi herus altus. Versfegan thinks it may be derived from two Dutch Words, viz. Here, exercitus, and Healt, pugil magnanimus: As if he be called, The Champion of the Army. With us it signifieth an Officer at Arms, whose Business is to denounce War, to proclaim Peace, or otherwise be employed by the King in martial Messages, or other Business: The Romans called them plurally Fecciales. Polydore, lib. 19. describes them thus, thus, Habent insuper Apparitores ministros, quos Heraldos dicunt, quorum praefectus Armorum Rex vocatur; hii belli & pacis nuntii; ducebant, Comitibusque a Rege factis insignia aptant, ac eorum funera curant. Nay more, They are the Judges and Examiners of Gentlemen Arms, marshal all the Solemnities at the Coronations of Princes, manage Combats, and such like: There is one and the same Use of them with us and the French, whence we have their Name; and what their Office is with them, see Lupanus, lib. 1. de Magistr. Francor. cap. Herald. There be divers of them with us, whereof three being the Chief, are called Kings at Arms. And of them Garter is the Principal, instituted and created by Henry the Fifth, Stow's Annals, p. 584. whose Office is to attend Knights of the Garter at their Solemnities, and to marshal the Funerals of all the greater Nobility; as Princes, Dukes, Marquesses, Earls, Viscounts and Barons. And in Plowden, in Reniger and Fogassa's Case, we read that Edward the Fourth granted the Office of King of Heralds to one Garter, Cum feudis & proficiis ab antiquo, &c. fol. 12. The next is Clarentius, ordained by Edward the Fourth, for he attaining the Dukedom of Clarence, by the Death of his Brother George, whom he beheaded for aspiring to the Crown, made the Herald, which properly belonged to the Duke of Clarence, a King at Arms, and called him Clarentius; his proper Office is to marshal and dispose the Funerals of all the lesser Nobility, as Knights and Esquires, through the Realm, on the South Side of Trent. The third is Norroy, or North-roy, whose Office is the same on the North-side of Trent that Clarentius hath on this Side, as may well appear by his Name, signifying the northern King, or King of the North-parts. Besides these, there be six other properly called Heralds, according to their Original, as they were created to attend Dukes, &c. in martial Expeditions, viz. York, Lancaster, Somerset, Richmond, Chester and Windsor. Lastly, there be four other called Marshals, or Pursuivants at Arms, reckoned after a Sort in the Number of Heralds, and do commonly succeed in the Place of the Heralds, when they die, or be preferred; And those he Blue-mantle, Rouge-croix, Rouge-dragon and Portcullis. These Heralds are by some Authors called Nuntii sacri, and by the ancient Romans Feciales, who were Priests. Nam Numa Pompilius divini cultus institutionem in octo partes divisit, & ita etiam sacerdotum octo ordines constituit, &c. Septimam partem sacrae constitutionis collegio eorum adjecti, qui Feciales vocantur: Erant autem ex optimis domibus viri electi, &c. quorum partes in eo versabantur, ut fidei publica inter populos praesent, neque justum aliquod bellum fore censebatur, nisi id per Feciales esset indictum. Corasius Miscel. juris civilis, lib. 1. cap. 16. num. 12. Kings at Arms are mentioned in Stat. 14 Car. 2. 53. Of these, see more in Spelman's Glossary.

Herbager, Herbagium, Signifies the Fruit of the Earth, produced by Nature for the Bite or Mouth of the Cattle; but is most commonly used for a Liberty that a Man hath to feed his Cattle in another Man's Ground, as in the Forest, &c. Cramp. Fur. fol. 197. O. currit frequens pro jure depascendi alienum solum ut in Forestis, says the learned Spelman.

de Alfedemore cum pertin' Reddendo inde annuatim sex sagittas barbatas ad festum St. Mich. Salvo mihi & Marg. uxori meae, quod nos in predicta terra habebimus Liberum Herbagium ad cultum nostrum nobis & omnibus hominibus nostris de familia nostra transmittentibus; &c. Sine Dat. Penes Will. Dugdale Arm.

Herbagium anfering, The first Crop of Grass or Hay in Opposition to After-Math and second Cutting — Dicunt quod est communis via, & sua communis pastura, quum sanum & antevius herbagium amoveantur. Antiq. Parochial, pag. 459.

Herbery, An Inn: From the Saxon Her, Hic and Bergen, abfondere; or from Heve, exercitus, and Bergen, tegere; hinc Hereberga significat Castrum.

Herhengr, From the French Herberger, that is, Hospitio accipere, signifieth an Officer in the King's House, that alloteth the Noblemen, and those of the Household their Lodgings. Kitchin, fol. 176. uses it for an Inn-keeper.

Herbergagium, Peter de Marten gave the Monks of Blyth Abbey Timber to make Herbergagia, i. e. Lodgings to receive Guests in the Way of Hospitality, ut opinor.

Herbergatus, Volo etiam quod Burgeses mei molent omnia blada sua super terram de Altringham crescentia, vel in eadem Villa Herbergata, ad molendina mea, pro octavo de imo vase multura. Charta Hamonis de Mally, sine dat. i. e. Hospitio expensa, spent in an Inn.

Herbigere, Herbigere, To harbour, to entertain, from Heribergum, Heriberga. Saxon here berg, a House of Entertainment — Ballivi praecerunt civibus sufficientiam domorum ad herbigandum & ad hospitandum populum — in anno Jubilee apud Cantuariam 1420. Somner's Antiq. p. 248. Hence our Herbinger, or Harbinger, who provides Harbour or House-room, &c.

Herburgens, i. e. Inn-keepers.

Herce, A Harrow, Lat. Hercia. Fleta, lib. 2. cap. 77. Cavitas & Hercias reparare, and in Domesday, per Gale, fol. 760. Habet Rex, &c. unum jugum de ora & unum jugum de Herce.

Herciare, (from the French Hercer, to Harrow) Arabant & Herciabant ad Curiam Domini, i. e. They did plough and harrow at the Manor of the Lord. 4 Inst. fol. 270.

Hercia. The same with Herce; it signifies also a Candlestick set up in Churches, made in the Form of an Harrow; in which many Candles were placed. Die sepultura & die mensis, & pro corpore filio, i. e. Cenotaphium, cum Hercia, i. e. Candalabro in Hercia modum confecto, which was filled with several Candles, and placed ad caput Cenotaphii.

Herculis Promontorium, Hertly Point in Devonshire.

Herdemich or Herdemir, (Herdeuycha) a Grange or Place for Cattle and Husbandry. Et unam Herdeuycham apud Hethcotun in Peco, &c. Mon. Angl. 3 part. fol.

Herdwerch, Herdwerch, Herdsman's Work, or customary Labours done by the Shepherds, Herdsman, and other inferior Tenants at the Will of their Lord. — Cum autem in locis nostris aliqua succiderimus, licebit eis sine aliquo servamento vel aliquo usilio succibili intrare, & ramalia quae de toyvede remanserint, quae Anglice Spren dicuntur, colligere. Hac siquidem habent pro opere quod Anglice

Anglice Herdwerch dicitur, pro quo in Autumno metant per unamquamq; familiam aut dimidiam avam ordi aut virgatum & dimidiam frumenti, aut tantundem avenae. Anno 1166. Regist. Ecclesie Christi, Cant. MS.

Hercumba, Hercumba. Tresdecem acras & dimidiam terra versus hercumbam de dominico meo in hercumba de dominico meo xii. acras & dimidiam. Cartular. Abbat. Glaston. MS. fol. 36. a. It is in other Parts of the same Chartulary called Hercumba, and Hercumbalida.

*Hereditaments, Hereditamenta, Signify all such Things immovable, be they corporeal or incorporeal, as a Man may have to himself, and his Heirs, by Way of Inheritance; (See 32 H. 8. cap. 2.) or not being otherwise bequeathed, do naturally, and of Course descend to him which is next Heir of Blood, and fall not within the Compass of an Executor or Administrator as Chattels do. It is a Word of large Extent, and much used in Conveyances; for by the Grant of Hereditaments, Illes, Seigniories, Manors, Houses and Lands of all Sorts, Charters, Rents, Services, Advowsons, Commons, and whatever may be inherited, will pass. Co. on Lit. fol. 6. Hereditamentum est omne quod jure hereditario ad heredem transit. Hereditamenta corporea (according to Judge Doderidge) are Revenues local, and of annual Value. HEHAM. Anciently Hagustald and Hangustad, was formerly a County of it self, and a Franchise, where the King's Writ went not: But by the Statute of 14 El. cap. 13. Hexam and Hexamshire shall be within the County of Northumberland. See 4 Inst. f. 22. It was also of old a Bishoprick by the Name of Episcopatus Hagustaldensis. See Mon. Angl. 2 par. fol. 91. See Axelodunum.

Heypote. See Haybote.

Heylode. — Rogerus Prior & Conventus Ecclesiae Christi Cantuar. quietos clamant Magistrum & Fratres Hospitalis S. Mariae de Ospreng, & eorum Successores de consuetudinibus subscriptis, videlicet, de avura, de Hatewite, Risfelver, Wadelade, Heylode Averselver, Lambfelver, & tribus busellis ordeii, quae consuetudines nobis fieri solent in curia nostra de Adestham. — dat mense Febr. 1242. Registr. Ecclesiae Christi Cantuar. MS. penes Joh. Norwic. Episcopum, where Heylode seems to signify a customary Load or Burden laid upon the inferior Tenants for mending or repairing the Hays or Hedges.

Heymetus, A Net for catching Conies, a Hay or Hey-Net — Omnia Placita de leporibus, relictibus, Heymetibus, Tessonibus, vulpibus, murilegis & perdicibus, & omnia amerciamia de Escapiis animalium — temp. Edw. III. — M. Blount. — who confessed his Ignorance of the Meaning of Heymetus.

Hydage, or Hyddage. (Hydagium,) was an extraordinary Tax payable anciently to the King for every Hide of Land. Bracton, lib. 2. cap. 6. writes thus of it: Sunt etiam quaedam communes praestantiones, quae servitia non dicuntur, nec de consuetudine veniunt, nisi cum necessitas intervenerit, vel cum Rex venerit; sicut sunt Hidagia, Corogia, & Cirvagia, & alia plura de necessitate, & ex consensu communi totius regni introducta, & quae ad Dominum feudi non pertinent, &c. King Etheldred, in the Year of Christ 994. when the Danes landed at Sandwiche, taxed all his Land by Hides: Every 310 Hides of Land found one Ship furnished, and every 8 Hides found one Jack, and one Saddle, for Defence of the Realm. Willielmus Conquestor de unaquaque Hida per Angliam sex solidos accepit. Floren. Wigorn. in anno 1084. Sometimes Hydage was taken for the being quit of that Tax; which was also called Hydegylt.

Hide and Gail did anciently signify arable Land. Coke on Littl. fol. 85. b. For of old, to Gain the Land was as much as to till it. See Gainage.

Hydelands, (Sax. Hydelander.) Terra ad Hydum seu testum pertinentes.

Hide of Land, (Sax. Hyde-Lands, from Hyden, Tegere.) Tanta fundi portio quanta unico per annum colli poterat aratro; vel quae familiae uni sustentande sufficeret. A Plough-Land. In an old Manuscript it is said to be 125 Acres. Bede calls it Familiam, and says it is as much as will maintain a Family. Others call it Manfum, Manentem, Casatam, Carucatam, Sullingam, &c. Crompton, in his Jurisdici. f. 222. says a Hide of Land contains one hundred Acres, and eight Hides make a Knight's Fee. Hida autem Anglice vocatur terra unius aratri cultura sufficiens per annum. Henry Hunting. Hist. lib. 6. f. 206. b. But Sir Edw. Coke holds, That a Knight's Fee, a Hide or Plough-Land, a Yard-Land, or Oxgang of Land, do not contain any certain Number of Acres. On Littl. f. 69. The Distribution of England by Hides of Land is very ancient; for there is Mention of them in the Laws of King Ina, c. 14. Henricus I. maritanda filia sua gratia Imperatori, cepit ab unaquaque Hida Anglia tres sol. Spelman. And see Cam. Brit. fol. 158.

Hidel (Anno 1 H. 7. c. 6.) signifies a Place of Protection, or a Sanctuary.

Hydgild (in LL. Canuti R.) exponitur pretium redemptionis aut manumissionis servi. From the Sax. Hide, i. e. the Skin, and Gild, pretium, i. e. the Price by which he redeemeth his Skin, that is, redeemed it from being whipped. Si liber fessis diebus operetur, perdat libertatem; si servus, corium perdat vel Hidgildum, i. e. Let him be whipped; which was the Punishment for Servants. Vel Hidgildum, i. e. Let him pay for his Skin; by which Payment he is to be excused from Whipping. See Hudgild.

Hierloom. See Heirloom.

Hii testibus, These Words were anciently added in Deeds after the In cujus rei testimonium, and written with the same Hand as the Deed, which Witnesses were called, the Deed read, and then their Names entered: And this Clause of hii testibus in Subjects Deeds continued till the Reign of Hen. 8. but now is quite left off. Co. on Litt. fol. 6.

Hino

Hindeni homines, a Society of Men; from the Sax. Hindene, Societas: For in the Time of our Saxon Ancestors all Men were ranked into three Classes, the Lowest, the Middle, and Highest, and were valued according to the Class they were in; that is, if any Injury was done, Satisfaction was to be made according to the Value or Worth of the Man to whom it was done. The Lowest were those who were worth ten Pounds, or two hundred Shillings, and they were called Viri ducenti, or Twybindemen, and their Wives Twybinda's; the Middle were valued at six hundred Shillings, and were called Sixbindemen, and their Wives Sixbinda's; the Highest were valued at twelve hundred Shillings, and were called Twelfbindemen, and their Wives Twelfbinda's. Bromp. Leg. Alfredi cap. 12, 30, 31, 32. See Twybindi and Twelfbindi.

Hine, (Sax.) a Servant, or one of the Family: But it is now taken in a more restrictive Sense, for a Servant at Husbandry; and the Master-hine, he that oversees the Rest. Anno 12 R. 2. cap. 4.

Hinfare, or Hemfare, (from the Sax. Hine, a Servant, and Fare, a Going or Passage,) the Loss or Departure of a Servant from his Master. Si quis occidit hominem Regis & facit Hinfaram, det Regi xx s. &c. Domesday, Tit. Arcefeld. So in Domesday, Qui pacem Regis &c. centum sol. emendabat & tantundem dabat qui Forestell vel Hinfare faciebat. Hist. Angl. Scriptores, a Dr. Gale, fol. 772.

Hine-geld Significat quietantiam transgressionis illate in servum transgredientem. MS. penes Arth. Trezor, Arm.

Hlaford, the Benefit of the Law. From the Sax. Laga, Lex, and Socn, libertas.

Hloth, an unlawful Company, from seven to thirty-five. Qui de Hloth fuerit accusatus, abneget per centum viginti bidas, vel sic emendet; that is, He who is accused for being at an unlawful Rout, let him purge himself tot Sacramentatibus quot is qui 120 bidas estimatur; or, Let him clear himself by a Mulct, which is called Hlothbota.

Hlothbota, a Mulct set on him who is in a Riot. From the Sax. Hloth, Turma, and Bote, Compensatio.

Hogasthen, An ancient Gild or Fraternity at Newcastle upon Tyne, who dealt in Sea-coal, mentioned Stat. 21 Jac. 1. c. 3.

Hoblers, or Hoblers, (Hobelarii) Erant milites gregarii, levi armatura & mediocri equo, ad omnem motum agili, sub Edwardo 3. in Gallia merentes. Diñi (ut reor) vel ab istiusmodi equo, an Hobby appellato, vel potius a Gal. Hobille, Tunica. Tabula classis describentes in exercitu ejusdem Edwardi Caltem obidentes, Anno 1350. sic habent. Sub Comite Kildarie, Bannervets 1, Knights 1, Esquires 38, Hobblers 27, &c. These were Light Horsemen, or certain Tenants, who, by their Tenure, were bound to maintain a little light Nag for certifying any Invasion, or such like Peril, towards the Sea-side, as Portsmouth, &c. Of which you may read 18 E. 3. Stat. 1. c. 7. and 25 ejusdem, Stat. 5. cap. 8. and Cam. Britan. fol. 272. Duravit vocabulum usque ad etatem H. 8. says Spelman. Gentz dantes & Hobelours. See Prin's Animad. on 4 Inst. fol. 307. Hobeleries, Rot. Parl. 21 E. 3. Sometimes the Word signifies those who used Bows and Arrows, viz. Pro warda maris tempore guerra, pro Hoberariis sagittariis inveniens, &c. Thorn. Anno 1364. So in the Monasticon Pro munitione & apparatibus hominum ad arma Hobeliorum sagittariorum.

Hoccus salis, It seems to be a Hoke, hole, or lesser Pit of Salt. — In wibich habuit Rex Edwardus domus xi. & in v. plateis habebat Rex E. suam partem. In sepewick puteo Liv. saline & ii. hocco reddunt vi. fol. & viii. denar. In alio puteo Helperis xvii. saline. In tertio puteo Midelmic xii. saline & ii. partes de i. hocco reddebant vi. solidos & viii. denarios. — Ex Libro Domesday, Worcesterhire.

Hocketto, or Hocquetour, is an old French Word for a Knight of the Post, a decayed Man, a Basket-carrier. 3 Part Inst. f. l. 175. Que nul enquevelant neu respoignant ne soit surpris neu cheson per Hockettours, parent que la verite ne soit enue. Stat. Ragman.

Hock-Tuesday-Honey, Was a Duty given to the Landlord, that his Tenants and Bond-Men might solemnize that Day on which the English mastered the Danes, being the second Tuesday after Easter-Week. See Mr. Philip's Mistaken Recompence, fol. 39.

Hoga, Hoggia, Hogium, Hoch, a Mountain or Hill. From the Germ. Hogch, altus; or from the Sax. Hau, mons, the g being changed into n. Edwinus invenit quandam collem & Hogam petrosam, & ibi edificavit quandam villam quam vocavit Stanhogiam, postea Stanhow, i. e. Montem lapidosum. Du Cange.

Hogaster, a little Hog. In legibus Forestar. Scotie. cap. 7. Iste est modus pannagii, viz. De qualibet cindra, i. e. de decem porcis, Rex habebit meliorem porcum, & Forestarius unum Hogastrum. It signifies also Sheep. Tertium ovile pro Hogastris annatis & juvenibus. Fleta, lib. 2. cap. 79.

Hogenhine, rehtus, Agnehine, i. e. Servus proprius, i. e. Third Night own Servant, is he that comes Guestwise to an Inn or House, and lies there the third Night, after which he is accounted of his Family in whose House he lieth; and if he offend the King's Peace, his Host must be answerable for him. Bracton, lib. 3. tract. 2. c. 10. In the Laws of Ingulphus, set forth by Lambard, he is called Agnehine, where you may read more of this Matter. Vide Third-night-owne hine.

Hoggacius, Hoggaster, A Sheep of the second Year. — Agni primo computo postquam nati sunt Agni vocantur secundo anno Hoggastri. Et conjunguntur multones cum multonibus, & hirtardi cum hirtardis, & femelle cum ovibus. Regulo Computi domus de Farendon. MS. — Centum oves pascuntur, scilicet, multones cum multonibus, matricibus cum matricibus, hogacii cum hogaciis. Cartular. Abbat. Glaston. MS. fo. 48. a. And indeed in many, espe-especially the Northern Parts of England, Sheep after they lose the Name of Lambs, are called Hogs, as in Kent, Tags.

Hoghead Is a Measure of Wine, Oil, &c. containing Half a Pipe, the fourth Part of a Tun, or sixty-three Gallons. Anno 1 R. 3. c. 13. See Barrel.

Hogues, Hogietus, A Hog or Swine, beyond the Growth of a Pig. — Porcelli primo compoto postquam nati sunt vocantur, secundo compoto Hoggi vocantur. Regula Compositi domus de Farendon. MS. — solvent eodem die pro porco superannuato unum denarium, & pro hogietto dimidii anni unum obolum. Cartular. Radinges. MS. fol. 221. a.

Hokeday, Otherwise called Hock-Tuesday, Dies Martis, quam Quindenam Pasche vocant, the second Tuesday after Easter Week. A Day so remarkable in ancient Times, that I have seen a Leaf without Date, reserving so much Rent payable ad duos anni terminos, scilicet ad le Hokeday, & ad Festum Sancti Mich. Et ad Festum St. Mich. cum tenere voluerit Seneschallus Curie de la Hele, habebit de Celerario quinque albos paxes & Cofvrellos suos plenos Cervise, & ad idem Festum pro Curia de Kinnerdorse de privilegiis tenendis, habebit totidem, & ad le Hokeday totidem. Mon. Angl. 2 Par. f. 350. b. And in the Accounts of Magdalen-College in Oxford there is yearly an Allowance pro Mulieribus Hockantibus, in some Manors of theirs in Hampshire, where the Men hock the Women on Monday, and e contra on Tuesday. See Hock-Tuesday-Money. The Meaning of it is, that on that Day the Women in Merriment stop the Ways with Ropes, and pull Passengers to them, desiring something to be laid out in pious Uses.

Holderness. See Parish pop.

Holtes, Bailiffs of a Town or City. From the Sax. Hold, i. e. summus prepositus. Others are of Opinion that it signifies a General; for Hold in Saxon doth also signify summus imperator. Comitis Weregildum, i. e. Assimatio capitis, est 15 millia Thrymsa, Holdis & summi prepositi quatuor millia Thrymsa. Leges Alured. de Weregildis.

Holm, (Sax.) Hulmus, insula amica, a River-Island, according to Bede; or plain grassy Ground upon Water-sides, or in the Water, according to Camden. Cum duobus Holmis in campis de Wadone. Mon. Angl. 2 Par. fol. 262. b. Therefore where any Place is called by that Name, or where this Syllable is joined with any other in the Names of Places, it signifies a Place surrounded with Water; as the Flatholmes, the Stepholmes, near Bristol: But if the Situation of the Place is not near the Water, then it may signify a hilly Place; for Holm in Saxon, is in English an Hill or Cliff.

Holfstings. See Hustings.

Holt, A Wood or Grove, a Saxon Word: To which Holborn in London owes its Name — Johannes Holtham Episcopus Eliensis an. 1320. perquisivit ad augmentacionem Prioratus — Barkeres cum quodam Alneto vocato Lyth-gates Holt. Histor. Elien. apud Whartoni Angl. Sacr. Part 1. pag. 643.

Homage, Homagium, Probably derived from homo, because when the Tenant does this Service to his Lord, he says, I become your Man; It is also called Marbood. Co. on Litt. fol. 64. The French Word imports as much as Fides clientelaris; for in the original Grants of Lands and Tenements by way of Fee, the Lord did not only tie his Tenants to certain Services, but also took a Submission, with Promise and Oath, to be true and loyal to him as their Lord and Benefactor. This Submission was and is called Homage, the Form whereof you have in the Second Statute 17 E. 2. in these Words, "When a Freeman shall do Homage to his Lord, of whom he holdeth in chief, he shall hold his Hands together between the Hands of his Lord, and shall say thus", I become your Man, from this Day forth for Life, for Member, and for worldly Honour, and shall owe you my Faith, for the Land I hold of you, saving the Faith that I owe unto our Sovereign Lord the King, and to mine other Lords. And in this Manner the Lord of the Fee, for which Homage is due, taketh Homage of every Tenant as he cometh to the Land or Fee, Glanvil. lib. 9. cap. 1. except they be Women, who perform not Homage, but by their Husbands: Yet Fitzherbert in his Nat. Breo. fo. 157. saith the Contrary. The Reason of this, Skene giveth de verb. signif. verbo Homagium, because Homage specially concerneth Service in War. He saith also, That consecrated Bishops do no Homage, but only Fealty; and yet we find the Archbishop of Canterbury do Homage on his Knees to our Kings at their Coronation, and it hath been held, that the Bishop of Sodor, in the Uile of Man, is Homager to the Earl of Derby. And in the Reg. Orig. fol. 296. that a Woman taking Livery of Lands holden by Knights-Service, must do Homage, &c. Concerning the Homage of consecrated Bishops, read Fulbecke, fol. 20. in these Words. By our Law a religious Man may do Homage, but may not say to his Lord, Ego devenio homo vestre, because he hath professed himself to be only God's Man; but he may say, I do unto you Homage, and to you shall be Faithful and Loyal. See of this Britton, cap. 68. Homage is also taken in some Cases to signify the particular Place or District where the Services are to be performed, as thus, Henricus Rex, &c. si Abbas de Ramsey poterit monstrare quod nullus antecessorum operasset ad Hominium de Brampton. Bracon, lib. 2. cap. 35. par. 12. Fleta, lib. 3. cap. 16, 17. Homage is either new with the Fee, or Ancestral, that is, where a Man and his Ancestors, Time out of Mind, have held their Lands by Homage to their Lord, whereby the Lord is tied to warrant the Land unto his Tenant. This Homage is used in other Countries as well as Ours, and was wont to be called Hominium. See Hotoman de verbis feudilibus, verbo Homo. Skene divides it into Ligeum & non ligeum, de verbo signif. verbo Homage, for which see Liege; and Hotoman, disputatio de feudis tertia. Homage is sometimes used for the Jury in a Court Baron. Smith de Rep. Angl. lib. 2. cap. 27. The Reason is because it consisteth most commonly of such as owe Homage unto the Lord of the Fee; and these, by the Feudists, are called Parcs Curie. Of this Homage you may read in the 29th Chapter of the Grand Customary of Normandy, and others not used by us. See further in Hotoman Disputat. de feudis, p. 861. Of Homage in Scotland read Skene de verb. signif. Tit. Homagium, to whom you may also add a large Discourse in speculo Durandi, commonly called Speculator among the Civilians, Tit. De feudis. The Steward of the Lord may take Fealty, but not Homage. See the Stat. 12 Car. 2. cap. 24.

Homage Antient, Is, where a Man and his Ancestors, Time out of Mind, held their Land of their Lord and his Ancestors by Homage, and if such Lord have received Homage, he is bound to acquit the Tenant against all other Lords above him of every manner of Service, and if the Tenant hath done Homage to his Lord, and is impleaded, and vouches the Lord to Warranty, the Lord is bound to warrant him; and if the Tenant lose, he shall recover in Value against the Lord so much of the Lands as he had at that Time of the Voucher, or any Time after. To this Effect Littleton; upon which Coke says, In his Example here put, There must be a double Prescription both in the Blood of the Lord and the Tenant; and therefore I think, there is little or no Land at all at this Day holden by Homage Ancestrel. Yet (as one avers) in the Manor of Whitney in Herefordshire, whose Lord is of the same Name, and the Family has continued there many Ages, is one West a Tenant, who can prescribe to hold his Land of Thomas Whitney Esq; the present Lord, by Homage Ancestrel.

Homager, One that does, or is bound to do Homage: As the Bishop of Sodor, in the Use of Man, is said to be Homager to the Earl of Derby. See Homage.

Homagio respectuando Is a Writ directed to the Escheator; commanding him to deliver Seisin of Lands to the Heir that is of full Age, notwithstanding his Homage not done, which ought to be performed before the Heir have Livery, or his Lands; except there fall out some reasonable Cause to hinder it. F. N. B. fol. 269.

Homagium reddere, To renounce Homage, when the Vassal made a solemn Declaration of Disowning and Defying his Lord. For which, there was a set Form and Method prescribed by the feudatary Laws. — Item reddere poterit Domino suo homagium suum, simul cum tenemento, propter capitales inimicitias, ut liberius prosequatur Appel- lum suum, & sic dissolvitur homagium. Bracton, lib. 2. cap. 35. sect. 35. This is the Meaning of that Passage in Richardus Hugustaldensis de Bello Standard, p. 321. Itaque Robertus reddidit homagium quod ei fecerat — ad suos socios reversus est. And of Matthew Paris. sub anno 1183. tunc Rex Anglorum Regi Francorum fecit homagium, quia in principio hujus guerra homagium suum reddiderat Regi Francie.

Homesoken, rectius Hamsoken, & Hamsoca. (from the Sax, Ham, i. e. Domus, Habitatio, and Soke, Libertas, Immunitas.) is by Bracton, lib. 3. tract. 2. c. 23. thus defined: Homesoken dicitur in casu domus contra pacem Domini Regis, vel insulius factus in domo extra pacem Domini. It appears by Rassal, that in ancient Times some Men had an Immunity to do this. Si quis Hamsocam violaverit, jure Anglorum Regi emendet 5 libr. LL. Canuti, cap. 39. Hamsoken est quod Prior tenebat Placita in Curia sua de his qui ingrediuntur domum vel Curiam alienius ad litigandum, vel furandum, vel quicquid asportandum, vel aliquid aliud faciendum, contra voluntatem illius qui debet domum vel Curiam. Ex Reg. Priora. de Cokesford. See Hamsoken.

Homesoken is the Privilege or Freedom which every Man hath in his House; and he who invades that Freedom is properly said facere Homesoken. This I take to be what we now call Burglary, which is a Crime of a very heinous Nature, because 'tis not only a Breach of the King's Peace, but a Breach of that Liberty which a Man hath in his House, which, as we commonly say, should be his Castle, and therefore ought not to be invaded. Bracton, lib. 3. tract. 2. cap. 23. Du Cange.

It is also taken for an Impunity to those who commit this Crime, viz. Homsoken, hoc est, quietus esse de amerciamenis pro ingressu hospitii violenti & sine licentia, & contra pacem Regis, & quod tenentis placita de inijsmodi transgressione in Curia vestra. W. Thorn. pag. 2030. See Hamsoken.

Homicide, Homicidium, Is the Killing of a Man, and is divided into Voluntary and Casual: Homicide voluntary is that which is deliberate, and committed of a set Purpose to kill; Casual is done by Chance, without any Intention to kill. Homicide Voluntary is either with precedent Malice, or without. The former is Murder, and is a felonious Killing through Malice prepensed of any Person living in this Realm, under the King's Protection. West. par. 2. Symbol. Tit. Indictments, sect. 37. &c. usque 51. Where you may see diverse Subdivisions of this Matter. See also Glanvil, lib. 14. c. 3. Bract. lib. 3. tract. 2. cap. 4. 15 & 17. Britton, c. 5, 6, 7. See Murder, Manslaughter and Chancemeddy.

Hominatio, Domestay, Tit. Northampton Salomanni de Risden, — Idcirco Episcopus clamat Hominationem eorum. It signifies the Mustering of Men, according to Mr. Tate in MS. Also the doing of Homage.

Hominem eligendo ad custodiam preciam figill ppo mercatoribus editi is a Writ directed to a Corporation, for the Choice of a new Man to keep one Part of the Seal, appointed for Statutes Merchant, when the other is dead, according to the Statute of Aston-Burnel. Reg. of Writs, fol. 178. a.

Hominem replegando Is a Writ to bail a Man out of Prison: In what Cases it lies, see F. N. B. fol. 6. Reg. Orig. fol. 77. and the New Book of Entries, verbo Hominem replegando.

Hominem capto in Withernamium Is a Writ to take him, that hath taken any Bondman or Woman, and led him out of the Country, so that he or she cannot be repleved according to Law. Reg. Orig. fol. 79. See also Withernam.

Homines, A Sort of feudatary Tenants. They claimed a Privilege of having their Causes and Persons tried only in the Court of their Lord. When Gerard de Camoil in 5 R. 1. was charged with Treason and other high Misdemeanors, he pleaded, That he was Homo Comitiss Johannis and would stand to the Law or Justice of his Court. Parochial Antiquit. p. 152.

Homiplagium is used in the Laws of H. 1. cap. 80. for the Maiming a Man. Si quis in domo vel Curia Regis fecerit Homicidium vel Homiplagium.

Homistall, A Home-stall, or Mansion-house. As in a Charter granted about the 5 of Ed. 1.

Dedi tres obolos redditus — quos Henricus Malemeins consuevit annuatim solvere de uno itinere dicto Abbati & Conventui quod interjacet juxta domum Alani Sacrifice, & ducit versus Homistale. — Cartular. Radings. MS. fol. 39. b.

Hand-habend (from the Sax. Hand, Hand, and habens, having) signifies a Circumstance of manifest Theft, when one is deprehended with the Mainor or Mainover, i. e. the Thing stolen in his Hand. Bracton, lib. 3. tract. 2. cap. 3. 32, & 35. who also uses Handberend in the same Sense. Sc. Latro manifestus, see Handhabend. So in Fleta, lib. 1. c. 38. Furtum manifestum est ubi aliquis latro deprehensus seistus de aliquo latrocinio Hand-habind, & Back-berinde, & infectus fuerit per aliquem cuius cujus res illa fuerit, quæ dicitur Sachborgh, & tunc licet infectori rem suam petere criminaliter ut fuerat.

It also signifies the Right which the Lord hath of determining of this Offence in his Court.

Hond-Peny. Sint quieti de chevagio, Hond-peny, &c. Priveleg. de Semplingham. But there is no Declaration made, what is intended by it. Ideo Quære.

Honour is, besides the general Signification, used especially for the more noble Sort of Seignories, whereof other inferior Lordships or Manors depend, by Performance of some Customs or Services to those who are Lords of them; (though anciently Honour and Baronia signified the same Thing). Uti Munerum plurimis gaudet (interdum feudis, sed plerumque) tenementis, consuetudinibus, serviciis, &c. Ita Honor plurima completitur Maneria, plurima feoda militaria, plurima Regalia, &c. dictus etiam olim est Beneficium seu Feodum Regale, tentusque semper a Rege in Capite. Spelm. The Manner of creating these Honours, by Act of Parliament, may in Part be gathered out of the Statute of 33 H. 8. c. 37, 38. where Amptihl, Grafton, and Hampton-Court, are made Honours. And by 37 H. 8. c. 18. the King is empowered by Letters Patent to erect four several Honours, viz. Westminster, Kingston upon Hull, St. Oysthe, and Donnington, and as many other Honours as he will. In reading several approved Authors and Records, I have observed these following to have been likewise Honours, viz. The Honours of *Wigmore, Lancaster, Aquila, (formerly Pevensey), Clave, Tickhill, Wallingford, Nottingham, Bolaine, West and East Greenwich, Bedford, Berkhamstead, Plimpton, Crevecur, Haganet, Windsor, Beaulieu, Feverel, Skipton, Wirngay, Clun, Raleigh, Montgomery, Hutton in Herefordshire, Eye, Baynard's Castle, Gloucester, Arundel, Tremanton, Richard's Castle, Christchurch, Heveyngham, Cockermouth, Bullingbroke, Stafford, Barstall, Wetherelton in Yorkshire, Strigul, Toynes, Werk, (Rot. Pipæ 31 H. 2.) Cornayls, Caudicot, Theury, Oakhampton, (had 92 Knights-Fees belonging to it), Grenmesnil, Egremond, Oxford, Lincoln, Abergavenny, Dudley, Tamworth, Mowbray, Webley, Bononia, Middleham, Hawerden-Castle, Dover-Castle, (Trin. 33 Edw. 1. Linc. 46.) Caribroke, (Elt 9 Ed. 1.) Clifford-Castle, Kingston, Folkingham, Leicester, Hinkley, Whitchurch, Hertford, Newelme, Chester, Lovetot, Pickering, Maidston, Tutbury, Warwick, Bretnock, Brember, Halton, Gower; for John de Mowbray in Ed. 3. wrote himself Dominus Insule de Haxholm & de Honoribus de Gower & Brember. And in a Charter of 15 H. 3. I find Mention of the Honours of *Kaermardin, Cardigan, and Glamorgan.

Sciatis communiter, me — accepisse in manu mea & defensione totum Honorem Ecclesie de Ramescie, &c. Charta Guilielmi I. Abbati Ramescie. Sect. 174. See Cam. Britan. fol. 315, 407, 594, & 690. &c. Inquis. 10 Ed. 2. Coke's 4 Inst. f. 224. Mag. Charta, c. 31. Reg. Orig. fol. 1. Crump. Juris. fol. 115. Broke, Tit. Tenure, num. 26, &c. This Word is used in the same Signification in other Nations.

Honour-Courts are Courts held within the Honours aforesaid, mentioned 33 H. 8. 37, and 37 H. 8. 18.

Honourary Services are such as are incident to Grand Serjeanty, and annexed commonly to some Honour. See 12 Car. 2. cap. 29.

Hontfongenethf. Cum omnibus aliis libertatibus, tantummodo Hontfongenethf mihi retento. Charta

Wil. Comit. Marci. f. 124. This should have been written Hontfongenethf, and signifies a Thief taken with Hontfabend, i. e. Having the Thing stolen in his Hand.

Houcon Signifies a Valley in Domesday-Book; so too do Hope, Hawgh and Howgh.

Hora Auroræ, The Day-Bell, or Morning Bell, or what we now call the Four a Clock Bell, was called Hora Auroræ, as our Eight a Clock Bell, or the Bell in the Evening, was their Ignitgium or Coverfeu. See Savage Balliisfergus, p. 39.

Hordera, a Treasurer. From the Sax. Hord, Thesaurus. Et quicunque Hordera Regis vel prepositus furi confentaneus erit. Leg. Adelitan. cap. 2. apud Brompton. From whence we derive the Word Hord.

Horderesgeld — Nos H. Abbas de Nivenham & ejusdem loci Conventus remittimus — Abbat. Glaston' & Conventui — x. fol. de turno vicecom. & vi. fol. viii. den. de quodam redditu qui vocatur Horderesgeld, unde placitavimus prædictum Abbatem Glaston. per Breve Domini Regis. Cartular. Abbat. Glaston. MS. f. 36.

Horderium, A Hoard, a Treasure, a Spense, or Repository. As in the Laws of King Canute, c. 104. — Sed suum horderium, quod dicere possumus Dispersam, & cistam suam, & trage, id est firmitum suum, debet ipsa custodire.

Hordium palmale. Hæc Indentura testatur, quod Rob. Beaufitz dedit — unam virgatam terræ in Gillingham, — redd. inde qualibet anno ad Festum S. Mich. quatuor Bussellos ordi palmalis firmæ juxta melius precium per duos denarios in Quarterio, &c. Dat. 43 Ed. 4. penes Alington Paynter Arm. Doubtless this is meant of Beer-Barley, which in Norfolk is called Sprat-Barley, and Battledore-Barley, and in the Marches of Wales, Cymridge, it being broader in the Ear, and more like a Hand than the Common Barley, which in old Deeds is called Hordeum Quadragesimale.

Hornebeame Pollengiers are Trees so called, that have been usually lopped, and are about twenty Years Growth, and therefore not titiable. Plowden, f. 407. Soby's Case.

Horneseld is a Compound from the Saxon Word Horn, cornu, and geld, solutio, signifying a Tax within a Forest, to be paid for horned Beasts. Crompt. Juris. 197. And to be free thereof is a Privilege granted by the King unto such as he thinketh good. Idem ibid. & Rastall in his Exposition of Words, Quietum esse de omni collectione in Foresta de bestis cornutis assens. 4 Inst. fol. 369. Et sint quieti de omnibus Geldis, & Danegeldis, & Volgeldis, & Senegeldis, & Horngeldis, &c. Diploma H. 3. Canonici & Monialibus de Semplingham. See Subsidy.

Hornegium. Perhaps the same with Horneld, which see.

Horn with Horn, or Horn under Horn. The promiscuous Feeding of Bulls and Cows, or all horned Beasts, that are allowed to run together upon the same Common. As in the Constitution of Robert Bishop of Durham, 1276. Similiter de decimis quæ de vaccis proveniunt Statuendum duximus, quod ubicunque fuerit receptaculum earum, licet in vicinis parochiis Horn with Horn, secundum Anglicam linguam, pascua quærant, illi remaneant tota decima, ubi fuerit comitium & remanentia. Spelman; to which I need only add, that the Commoning of Cattel Horn with Horn, was properly when the Inhabitants of several Parishes let their common Herds run upon the same open spacious Common, (as now suppose on Otmore) that lay within the Bounds of several Parishes, and therefore that there might be no Dispute upon the Right of Tithes, the Bishop ordains, that the Cows should pay all Profit to the Minister of the Parish where the Owner lived, &c.

Wozs de son fee (Fr. i. e. out of his Fee.) is an Exception to avoid an Action brought for Rent issuing out of certain Land, by him that pretends to be the Lord, or for some Customs and Services: For if the Defendant can prove the Land to be without the Compass of his Fee, the Action falls. See Districit and Broke, hoc titulo.

Hortolagium. See Oriolagium.

Hofsters, (Fr. Hofstellers.) Anno 31 E. 3. cap. 2. Stat. 3. is used for Inn-Keepers. In some old Books the Word Hofsters occurs in the same Sense; and Free Hofsters were such as entertained Strangers gratis.

Hofres generalis, a Great Chamberlain. Item quod nullus se ipsum hospitare presumat, &c. Sed volumus, quantum ad hospitalia pertinet, omnes indifferenter nostro Hospitali generali obediant, sicut nobis, sub pœna, &c. Du Cange.

Hospitalares, Hospitalarii, were the Knights of a religious Order, so called, because they built an Hospital at Jerusalem, wherein Pilgrims were received. To these Pope Clement the Fifth transferred the Templers, which Order, by a Council held at Vienne in France, he suppressed for their many and great Offences. The Institution of their Order was first allowed by Pope Gelasius the Second, Anno 1118. and confirmed here by Parliament, and had many Privileges granted them, as Immunities from Payment of Tithes, &c. You shall find their Privileges reserved to them by Magna Charta, cap. 37. and you shall see the Right of the King's Subjects vindicated from the Usurpation of their Jurisdiction, by the Statute of Westm. 2. cap. 43. Their chief Abode is now in Malta, an Island given them by the Emperor Charles the Fifth, after they were driven from Rhodes by Solyman the Magnificent, Emperor of the Turks; and for that they are now called Knights of Malta. They are mentioned 13 E. 1. cap. 43. and 9 H. 3. cap. 37. Theo. Walsingham in Hist. Ed. 2 and Stow's Annals, ibid. All the Lands and Goods of these Knights here in England were given to the King, by 32 H. 8. cap. 34. See Mon. Ang. 2. par. f. 489.

Hospitium Is the same with Procuracion. Et nomine sue legationis cum excessivo numero Hospitia a cunctis per Angliam exegit monasteriis; minores vero domus, quae pondus Hospitii ferre non poterint, certa summa, id est, octo vel quinque marcarum, Hospitia redemerunt. Neubrigenfis, lib. 4. c. 14. Brompton, fol. 1193.

Hostagium. Has terras ego & heredes mei acquiescimus erga Regem de Scutagio & Hostagio & omni auxilio præter auxilia Vicecom. & Præpositi Hundredi, &c. Mon. Angl. 1 Par. fol. 348. b.

Hostagium Is the same with Hospitium. See Procuracion.

Hofstlagium, A Right to receive Lodging and Entertainment reserved by many Lords in the Houses of their Tenants. — Monachi Radigie habebunt hostclagium suum in predicto messuagio cum Merlebergam venerint. Cartular. Radigies. MS. f. 157.

Hofsterium, a Hoe, (Fr. Houe.) an Instrument used mostly by Gardiners, and well known. Et sint quieti de Aratro & Hofsterio, & segibus secundis, seu colligendo, & homagio faciendo, de averiis, & de pannagio & salicher, & omnibus aliis consuetudinibus. Charta Hamonis Massy.

Hofstler, Hostellarius, Cometh of the French Hofstler, i. Hofster, and signifieth with us those that otherwise are called Inn-Keepers. 9 E. 3. Stat. 2. cap. 11. We now usually term those, that in the Stable look to the Guests Horses in an Inn, Hofstlers.

Hofsthas, A Service to the King in Clefsbaev, says Domesday; but I think rather it should be written Hafsa, because it is supposed a Military Service.

Hofstia, Host-Bread, consecrated Wafers in the Holy Eucharist or Host. Isabel Countess of Albemarle confirmed to the Convent of Burcester five Quarters of Bread-Corn, — ad hostias faciendas in domo prædicta. Parochial Antiquit. pag. 270. From this Latin Hofstia Mr. Sommer deduces the Saxon Husel, the Lord's Supper, and Hustian to administer that Sacrament; kept long in our old Englisb, the Housel, and to Hausal. See Kennet's Glossary.

Hofstilarius, an Hospitaller.

Hofstilaria, Hofstilaria, A Place or Room in religious Houses, allotted to the Use of receiving Guests and Strangers, for the Care of which there was a peculiar Officer appointed, called Hofstilarius, and Hospitalarius. — Nos Willielmus Prior Elyen. & ejusd. loci Conventus ad rogatum — Henrici sexti Regis concessimus Johanni Norys Armigero officium Botillarii in Hofstilaria nostra Elyen. — Ex Cartular. Eccl. Elyen. MS. f. 34.

Hoftricus, Austercus, from Lat. Astur, a Goshawk. The Manner of Broughton com. Oxon. in the Reign of Edw. II. was held by John Mauduit — in capite per serjeantiam mutandi unam hoftricum Domini Regis, vel illum hoftricum portandi ad curiam Domini Regis. Paroch. Antiquities, pag. 569.

Hofthnot, In partem positio, (Fr. Hocbeput, a confused Mingle-mangle of divers Things jumbled and put together.) Among the Dutch it signifies Flesh cut into Pieces, and sodden with Herbs or Roots, not unlike that which the Romans called Farraginem. — Esfus. But Littleton saith, That literally it signifies a Pudding mixt of divers Ingredients, but by a Metaphor, signifieth a Commixture, or putting together of Lands of several Tenures, for the equal Division of them, fol. 55. For Example. A Man seised of thirty Acres of Land in Fee, hath Issue two Daughters, and gives with one of his Daughters, to a Man that marries her, ten Acres of the same Land in Frank-marriage, and dies seised of the other twenty Acres. Now if she that is thus married will have any Part of the twenty Acres whereof her Father died seised, she must put her Lands, given in Frank- marriage, in Hotchpot, that is, the must refuse to take the sole Profits of the Lands given in Frank-marriage, and suffer the Land to be commixt, and mingled together with the other Land whereof her Father died seized; so that an equal Division may be made of the Whole between her and her Sister, and thus for her ten Acres she shall have fifteen, else her Sister will have the whole Twenty of which her Father died seized. See Coke on Lit. lib. 3. cap. 12. and Britton, f. 119. There is also in the Civil Law Collatio bonorum answerable to this, whereby if a Child advanced by the Father, do after his Father's Decease challenge a Child's Part with the Rest, he must cast in all that formerly he had received, and then take out an equal Share with the others.

House, Domus. In a House four Things are necessary, 1. Habitatio hominis. 2. Delectatio inhabitantis. 3. Necessitas luminis. 4. Sublimitas aeris. For any Hurt or Hindrance to the First, Third, and Fourth of these an Action lieth: For Prohibetur ne quis faciat in suo, quod nocere possit alieno. The House of every Man is to him as his Cattle and Forticks, as well for his Defence against Injury and Violence, as for his Repose; according to the Maxim, Domus sua cuique est tutissimum refugium. See Co. 5. Rep. Semaine's Case. The Privilege that the Law gives to Houses for the Habitation of Men is great; for First, it ought to have the Precedency in a Præcipe quod reddat before Lands, Meadows, Pastures and Woods. Secondly, the House of a Man hath Privilege to protect him against an Arrest, by Force of a Process of the Law, at the Suit of the Subject. Co. Rep. 11. Bowle's Case. Thirdly, Those that dig for Salt-Peter, shall not dig in the Mansion-house of any Subject without his Assent; for then He, nor his Wife, nor Children, cannot be in Safety, nor his Goods preserved from Thieves. 4. He that kills a Man which will rob and spoil him in the House, shall forfeit nothing.

Housebold, and Harbold. Concessi etiam prædictis Burgenfibus meis Housebold & Haybold in omnibus botis. Charta Hamonis Massy line dat. It seems to signify Houseboot and Hedgeboot. The same Words also occur in Mon. Ang. 2. Par. fol. 633.

Housebote, A Compound of House and Bote, i. compensatio, signifies Estovers, or an Allowance of necessary Timber out of the Lord's Wood, for the Repairing and Support of a House or Tenement. [And this belongs of common Right to any Lessee for Years, or for Life: But if he take more than is needful, he may be punished by an Action of Waste.] Housebote says Co. on Lit. f. 41. is Two-fold, viz. Estoverium adificandi & ardendi.

House-robbing or House-breaking, Is the Robbing of a Man in some Part of his House, or his Booth or Tent, in any Fair or Market, and the Owner, or his Wife, Children or Servants being within the same; for this is Felony by 23 H. 8. cap. 1. and 3 E. 6. cap. 9. And since it is made Felony, though none be within the House, Booth, or Stall, by 39 Eliz. 15. See Burglary, and West, part 2. Symbol. Tit. Indictment, sect. 67.

Hredinge, i. e. Readily, or Quickly. Item diximus de illis latronibus, qui in Hredige nequeunt culpabiles inveniri, i. e. Could not readily be convicted. Leg. Adelfann. c. 16. From the Sax. Hredinge, i. e. Brevi, in a short Time.

sect. 20. It may be thought in that Place of Fleta to be misprinted for Hinegeld, which see, & quare. When a Villain or Servant had committed any Trespass, for which he deserved whipping or corporal Punishment, when he bought off his Penalty with Money, the Price of Exemption from such Chastisement was called Hudegeld, or Hidegeld, some fancy, Money given to save his Hide. See Fleta ubi supra.

Hue and Cry, Hutesum & clamor, Is derived of two French Words Huer and Crier, both signifying to shout or cry aloud. Mauwood in his Forest-Law, cap. 19. num. 11. saith, That Hue in Latin, [Est vox dolentis, as signifying the Complaint of the Party,] and Cry is the Pursuit of the Felon upon the Highway upon that Complaint; for if the Party robbed, or any in the Company of one robbed or murdered, come to the Constable of the next Town, and will him to raise the Hue and Cry [that is, make the Complaint known, and follow the Pursuit,] after the Offender, describing the Party, and shewing as near as he can which way he went; the Constable ought forthwith to call upon the Parish for Aid in seeking the Felon, and if he be not found there, then to give the next Constable Notice, and the next, until the Offender be apprehended, or at least until he be thus pursued unto the Sea-side. Of this Bracton, lib. 3. tract. 2. cap. 5. Smith de Rep. Anglor. lib. 2. cap. 20. and the Stat. 13 E. 1. of Winchester, cap. 3. & 28 E. 3. 11. & 27 Eliz. 13. The Normans had such a Pursuit with a Cry after Offenders, which they called Clamor de Haro, whereof you may read the Grand Customary, cap. 54. and it may probably be derived from Harrier, flagitare. Hue is used alone. 4 E. 1. Stat. 2. In the ancient Records this is called Hutesum & Clamor. See Coke's 2. Par. Inst. f. 172.

Mandatum est Guilielmo de Haverbul Thesaurario Regis, quod Civitatem London capiat in manum Regis, eo quod Cives ejusdem Civitatis non levaverunt Hutesum & Clamorem pro morte Magistri Guidonis de Aretio & aliorum interfectorum, secundum legem & consuetudinem Regni. Rot. Claus. 30 H. 3. m. 5. See Vociferatio.

But the Clamor de Haro was not a Pursuit after Offenders, but a Challenge of any Thing to be his own after this Manner, viz. He who demanded the Thing did with a loud Voice, before many Witnesses, affirm it to be his proper Goods, and demanded Restitution. This the Scots call Hutesum, and Skene de verb. signif. verb. Hutesum, saith, it is deduced from the French Oyez, i. Audire, (or rather Oyez) being a Cry used before a Proclamation; the Manner of their Hue and Cry he thus describeth, If a Robbery be done, a Horn is blown, and an Out-cry made, after which, if the Party fly away, and not yield himself to the King's Bailiff, he may be lawfully slain, and hanged upon the next Gallows. Of this Hue and Cry, see Crompt. Just. of Peace, fol. 160. and in Rot. Claus. 30 H. 3. m. 5. we find a Command to the King's Treasurer, to take the City of London into the King's Hand, because the Citizens did not, secundum Legem & consuetudinem Regni, raise the Hue and Cry for the Death of Guido de Aretio, and others who were slain.

Huissarium, Ships to transport Horses. 'Tis mentioned in Hoveden by the Name of Wissers. And Brompton, Anno 1190. calls them Uffers, viz. Rex Tancredus dedit Regi Anglie 4 magnas naves quas quas vocant Officers. It doth not appear by Vossius or Sommer, from whence this Word is derived. Some will have it from the Fr. Huis, i. e. a Door; because when the Horses are on Shipboard, the Doors or Hatches are shut upon them, to keep out Water.

Hulka, A Hulk, or small Vessel.

Commisit cum eis & cepit tres caricas, & unam hulka- mon, & quatuor Calingarias. Tho. Wallingham,
p. 394.

Hullus, A Hill. — Halendum & tenendum dictam pasturam in hullis & holmis, i. e. in Hills and Dales. Mon. Ang. tom. 2. p. 292.

Hulm, See Holm.

Humber in Yorkshire. See Abus astuarii.

Hundred (Hundredum, Centuria) is a Part of a Shire so called, either because of old each Hundred found 100 Fidejussors of the King's Peace, or 100 able Men for his Wars. But I rather think tis so called, because it was composed of an Hundred Families. 'Tis true, Brompton tells us that an Hundred contains Centum Villas; and Giraldus Cambrensis writes that the Isle of Man hath 343 Villas. But in these Places the Word Villa must be taken for a Country Family; for it cannot mean a Village, because there are not above 40 Villages in that Island. So where Mr. Lambard tells us that an Hundred is so called, a numero Centum boninum, it must be understood of an Hundred Men, who are Heads or Chiefs of so many Families. These were first ordained by King Alfred, the 29th King of the West-Saxons: Aluredus Rex, (says Lambard, verbo Centuria.) ubi cum Guthruno Daw-
sacrus inerat, prudentissimum illud olim a Fethrone
Moisi datum secutus consilium, Angliam primus in Satrapias, Centurias, & decurias, partitus est. Sa*trapiam*, Shyre, a Scyrian, (quod partiri significat,) nominavit Centuriam, Hundred, & Decuriam, Tothinghise Tienmantale, i. e. Decemvirale Collegium appellavit; atque isdem n. minibus vel hodie vocantur, &c. This Dividing Counties into Hundreds, for better Government, King Alfred brought from Germany: For there Centia, or Centena, is a Jurisdiction over an Hundred Towns. This is the Original of Hundreds, which still retain the Name, but their Jurisdiction is devolved to the County-Court, some few excepted, which have been by Privilege annexed to the Crown, or granted to some great Subject, and so remain still in the Nature of a Franchise. This has been ever since the Stat. 14 E. 3. Stat. 1. cap. 9. whereby these Hundred-Courts, formerly farmed out by the Sheriff to other Men, were all, or the most Part, reduced to the County-Court, and so remain at present. So that where you read now of any Hundred-Courts, you must know they are several Franchises, wherein the Sheriff has not to do by his ordinary Authority, except they of the Hundred refuse to do their Office. See West, Part. 1. Symbol. lib. 2. sect. 228. Ad Hundredum post Pascha, & ad proximum Hundredum post Festum St. Mich. Mon. Angl. 2 Par. f. 293. a. The Word Hundredum is sometimes used for an Immunity or Privilege, whereby a Man is quit of Hundred-Penny, or Customs due to the Hundreds. See Turn and Ward.

Hundreders, Hundredarii, Are Men empannelled, or sit to be empannelled on a Jury upon a Controversy, dwelling in the Hundred where the Land in Question lies, Crompt. Jur. fol. 217. and 35 H. 8. 6. It signifies also him that hath the Jurisdiction of a Hundred, and holdeth the Hundred Court, 13 E. 1. cap. 38. 9 E. 2. Stat. 2. & 2 E. 3. cap. 4. and sometimes it is used for the Bailiff of an Hundred. Horne's Mirror of Justices, lib. 1. cap. del Office del Coroner.

Hundreders Signifies the Hundred Court, from which all the Officers of the King's Forest were exempted by the Charter of King Canutus, c. 9. See Manwood; vide etiam Warscot.

Hundred-peny. Est autem pecunia quam subsidii causa vicecomites olim exigebat ex singulis Decuriis sui Comitatus, quas Tethingas Saxones appellabant. Hunnum, Sevenball in Northumberland.

Hurdereferst, see Heardseste, a Domestick, or one of the Family. From the Sax. Hyred, Famalia, and Fest, Firmus. Bis in anno conveniant in hundredum suum quicunque liberi tam Hurdereferst quam folgarii ad dignoscend. si Decania plena sint. Leg. H. 1. c. 8.

Hurrers, The Cappers and Hat-Merchants, being called Hurrers, were formerly one Company of the Haberdashers. Stow. Survey of Lond. p. 312.

Hurst, Hyrst, Herrst, Are derived from the Sax. Hyrst, i. e. a Wood, Plump, or Grove of Trees. There are many Places in Kent, Suffex, and Hampshire, which begin and end with this Syllable; and the Reason may be, because the great Wood called Andrefwald extended through those Counties.

Hurst-Castle is so called, because situated near the Woods. So Hurslega is a woody Place; and probably from thence is derived Hursley, now Hurley, a Village in Berkshire.

Hurtardus, Hurtus, A Ram, or Weather, a Male Sheep. Agni primo compoto postquam nati sunt Agni vorantur, secundo anno Hoggastri, & conjunguntur Multones cum multonibus, & Hurtardi cum Hurtardis, & famelle cum ovibus. Regula compotidomus de Farendon. MS. De multonibus 381. de hurtis & murcis 207. De bovis 121. & de agnis 100. Mon. Angl. Tom. 2. pag. 666.

Hus and Hant. Quidam Henricus Pinckpap capus per querimoniam Mercatorum Flandrie & imprisonatus, offert Domino Regi Hus & Hant in plegio ad standum recto, & ad respondendum predictis mercatoribus & omnibus aliis, qui versus eum loqui voluerint. Et diversè veniunt qui mancipiunt quod dictus H. P. per Hus & Hant venit ad summationem Regis vel Concilii sui in Curia Regis apud Shepweye, & quod stabit ibi recto, &c. Placita coram Concilio Domini Regis, Anno 27 H. 3. Rot. 9. Quere, an non sit commune plegium, sicut Jo. Do. & Ric. Ro. Sec 4 Inst. fol. 72.

Husbete Is what we now call Burglary. From the Sax. Hus, an House, and Brice, a Breaking.

Huscarle, (Sax.) a Domestick Servant, or one of the Family. Also the Domestick Gatherers of the Danes Tribute. The Word is often found in Domesday, where we find the Town of Dorchester paid to the Use of Huscarles one Mark of Silver. See Karles. It properly signifies a stout Man, or a Domestick, viz. Rex Hardeknutus suos Huscarles misit per omnes Regni sui provincias ad exigendum tributum. Du Cange.

Huscarle, Of the French Houveau, i. orez, a Kind of Boot, or somewhat made of coarse Cloth. and worn over the Stockings; a Buskin, or as the Vulgar call it a Spatterdash. It is mentioned in the Stat. 4 E. 4. c. 7.

Husfale signifies Hofe. From the Sax. Hofa, Caliga.

Husebote, Houfebote. From Saxon hus a House, and bote Amends or Repair. The Liberty allowed a Tenant to cut as much Timber and Wood upon the Premises, as was necessary for the Support and Repair of the Farm-house, and adjoining Buildings. See Mr. Kennet's Glossary.

Husfalle Is he that holdeth House and Land, Bracton, lib. 3. tract. 2. ca. 10. hath these Words Et in Franco plegio esse debet omnis qui terram tenet & domum qui dicuntur Husfalle, & etiam alii, qui illis deservunt & dicuntur Folgere, &c. Some have corruptly written it Hurdeseft & Hurdeseft, but more truly Heordeseft; which see in Gloss. in decem scriptor.

Husgabulum. Item tota illa terra qua est inter dictam Aulam & venellam, qua dicitur Swaincagalle & de terra S. Petri, & vocata Peterbordland, & sunt ibi modo tria Tofta, & quod reddit Husgabulum, aliter non geldabilis. Inq. capt. apud Ebor. Anno 1275. in Registro vocat le Whitebook. It seems to signify House-Rent, or some Tax or Tribute laid upon Houses.

Hustum, a certain Tribute paid to the chief Lord for every House of his Tenants.

Husseling People, The Parishioners of Leominster, in a Petition to King Edward VI. set forth that in their Town there were to the Number of 2000 Husseling People, &c. that is 2000 Communicants, for Hussel in the Saxon Tongue signifies the Holy Sacrament.

Husting, (Hustingum, from the Sax. Hus, Domus, and Thing, Causa, quæst. Domus causarum.) This was my Lord Coke's Opinion of the Derivation of this Word. But it comes from the Sax. Hustinge, which signifies Concilium, or Curia. And so 'tis called in Sax. Chron. An. 1012. viz. They took the Bishop, and led him to their Husting, i. e. to the Council. But Hustinga est antiquissima & celeberrima Londoniorum Civitatis Curia suprema, the principal and highest Court in London, 11 H. 7. cap. 21. and 9 Ed. 1. cap. unico. Of the great Antiquity of this Court, we find this honourable Mention in the Laws of King Edward the Confessor, Debet etiam in London, que est caput Regni & Legum, semper curia Domini Regis singulis septimanis die Lunæ Hustingis sedere & teneri. Fundata enim erat olim & edificata ad instar & ad modum & in memoriam veteris magnæ Troje, & usque in hodiernum diem Leges & jura & dignitates, libertates, regiasque consuetudines antiquæ magnæ Troje in se continet — & consuetudines suas una semper invariabilitate conservat. See Taylor's Hist. Gavelkind, pag. 55. This Court is held before the Lord Mayor and Aldermen of London. Error or Attaint lies there of a Judgment, or false Verdict in the Sheriff's Court, as appears by F. N. B. fol. 23. Other Cities and Towns also have had a Court of the same Names, as Winchester, Lincoln, York and Shepey, and others, where the Barons or Citizens have a Record of such Things as are determinable before them. Fleta, lib. 2. cap. 55. Stat. 10. E. 2. cap. unico. 4. Inst. fol. 247. and Gloss. in decem scriptores on this Word.

Hutulan. Terras quietas ab omni Hutulan & omni alia exaltione, & dimidium arcam in T. que tantum Hutulan reddit. Mon. Angl. vol. 1. fol. 586. b. q.

Hibernagium, The Season for sowing Winter-Corn, or Wheat and Rye, between Michaelmas and Christmas: As opposed to tremagium and estivagium, the Season for sowing Summer-Corn in the Spring of the Year. The Words were taken sometimes for the different Seasons, sometimes for the different Lands on which the different Grains were sowed, as Wheat and Rye on Fallow; Barley, Oats, &c. on Land of one Tith: And again sometimes for the different Corn, as hibernagium was applied to Wheat and Rye, which we still call Winter-Corn: And tremagium to Barley, Oats, &c. which we likewise term Summer-Corn. See Fleta, lib. 2. cap. 73. sect. 18. and lib. 2. c. 41. sect. 1. where it is called Thornagium. See Ibernagium.

Hyde of Land. See Hide.

Hyneapd, A Ransom paid to save one's Skin, viz. that it be not beaten. Also the same with Hideage.

Hyth, A Port or little Haven to lade or unlade Wares at, as Queen-hyth, Lamb-hyth, &c. New Book of Entries, fol. 3. — De tota Medietate Hythæ sue in, &c. cum libero introitu & exitu, &c. Mon. Angl. 2. par. fol. 142.

I.

I Hec litera est etiam verbum seu rectius pronomen, scilicet, Ego, unde derivatur possessivum (meum) ut ab altero pronome, (viz. tu, tuus) in English Mine and Thine; or as we use Meum and Thum, the proper Guides of Right; and whose being misunderstood, hath been the Ground of all Quarrels.

Jack (olim Wambasium) erat tunica, quod non ferro Solido, sed tunicis plurimo lino intextis nunebatur: A Kind of defensive Coat worn by Horsemen in War, not made of solid Iron, but many Plates fasten'd together; which some by Tenure were bound to find upon any Invasion.

Jamaica Is an American Island, lying on the South of Cuba; in Length from East to West Fifty Leagues, and in Breadth Twenty, the Middle under the eighteenth Degree of Northern Latitude: It was in Part taken from the Spaniard by the English in the Year 1655. and is mentioned in the Stat. 15 Car. 2. cap. 5.

Jamara-wood, mentioned 15 Car. 2. cap. 5. Is a Kind of speckled Wood, of which are made Cabinets, called there Granadillo. The Tree (as they say) is low and small, seldom bigger than a Man's Leg.

Jambour, Armour for the Legs. From Jambe, Tibia.

Jameta. See Thamesis.

Jempnum, Furz or Gorse; also a gorsy Ground, Co. 1. part. fol. 179. a Word much used in Fines, and the Name seems to derive it self from the French Faulne, i. Yellow, because the Blossoms of it are of that Colour. Co. on Lit. p. 5. says Fampna, signifies a waterish Place Manwood in his Forest-Law, c. 25. num. 3. says, No Man may cut down Furze or Whins, within the Forest without good Licence.

Jannum. Heath, Whins, or Furz.

Ernstius queritur quod homines falcabant Jannum in quadam bruera quam habet in Dunbeved. Placita 23 H. 3. Sumerfet. apud Prinnc. Collect. tom. 3. p. 93.

Jaque, a Sort of small Money used here. 'Tis mentioned by Stauford in his Pleas of the Crown. cap. 30.

Jar, (Span. Jarro, i. e. an Earthen Pot,) With us it is taken for an Earthen Pot or Vessel of Oil, containing twenty Gallons.

Jartock, (Anno 1 R. 3. c. 8.) is a Kind of Cork, or other Ingredient, which this Statute prohibits Dyers to use in dying Cloth.

Jaun (Fr. Jaune, i. e. yellow Colour). *Prateva concedit Abhati & Convi. & hominibus eorum de Starkal de se & de heredibus suis colligere Jaun & Feugere & breue & Genestam per terram suam sine impedimento, &c. Charta Will. de Bay, sine dat. Doubtless here Jaun is used for Furze or Gorse, which we now in Law Latin call Fampnum, and anciently Fannum; as, *Decimas illius Jauni in Dunbeved. Pl. Assis. 22 H. 3.

Ibernagium, Hibernagium, Ibernagium. Season for sowing Winter-Corn. — Et arabit unam acram, seminebit cum semine Domini, eandem herciabit, videlicet, dimidiam acram ad Ibernagium & dimidiam ad tremagium, & caviabit de feno Domini. Chartular. Abbat. Glasston. MS. f. 91. a.

Ic Dien. The Motto under the Arms of the Prince of Wales. Sir Henry Spelman judges it was Saxon le Thein, the Sax. D. with a Stroke traverse being Th. and signified, I serve, or am a Servant. As the Saxon Kings ministerial Lords were called Theins.

Icent, Suffolk, Norfolk, Cambridge, and Huntingdonshires.

Icch Dien Is the Motto of the Arms of the Prince of Wales. From the Germ. Ich-Dien. i. e. I serve. It was formerly the Motto of John King of Bohemia, who was slain in the Battel of Cressly by Edward the Black Prince, and taken up by him to shew his Subjection to his Father.

Icianos, Libborow in Norfolk.

Icons, (Iconia;) a Figure, Image, or Representation of a Thing. 'Tis mentioned in Matt. Paris. pag. 146. 491. in Hovedon, pag. 670. and in Brompton, pag. 1178.

Ictus orbis, Ictus cecus, A Bruise, a Swelling, any Hurt or Maim without breaking the Skin, which they called properly plaga, a Wound, and aperta plaga, an open Wound. — Si inveniuntur plaga aperta, vel bruisse per ictus orbis. Bratton, lib. 2. tract. 2. cap. 5. sect. 7. So Orbis was used for a black and blue Spot, or livid mark of Beating. — Ligna faciunt bruisse, orbis, & ictus, qui judicari non possunt ad plagam, ib. cap. 24. sect. 2. So Ictus cecus opposed to ictus cruentus and Ictus apparens. As in the Laws of H. 1. c. 94. — Si alius alium verberet cecis ictibus & non cruentis, sive ravatus ibi sit, vel non convictus, noxe vitam emendabat Domino, cujus hominem vulneravit.

Identicite nominis Is a Writ that lies for him, who upon a Capias or Exigent is taken and committed to Prison for another Man of the same Name; whereof see the Form, and farther Use in F. N. B. f. 267. See Reg. Orig. 194. Idempritate nominis maintainable by Executors, &c. an. 9 H. 6. cap. 4.

Ides, Idus, Are eight Days in every Month so called. In March, May, July and October, they begin at the eighth Day of the Month, and continue to the Fifteenth; in the Rest they begin at the Sixth, and End at the Thirteenth. But here observe, that only the last Day is called the Ides, the first being termed the eighth Ides, the Second, the Seventh, that is, the Eighth or Seventh before the Ides, and so of the Rest, and therefore when we speak of the Ides of such a Month, we must understand it of the Fifteenth or Thirteenth Day of that Month. See Calends.

Idiot Is a Word in Greek properly signifying a private Man, who has no publick Office. Among the Latins it is taken for illiteratus, imperitus, and in our Law for non compos mentis, or a natural Fool. The Words of the Stat. 17 E. 2. c. 9. are Rex habeat custodiam terrarum futurorum naturalium, whereby it appears he must be a natural Fool, that is, a Fool a Nativitate: For if he was once Wife, or became a Fool by Chance or Misfortune, the King shall not have the Custody of him. Staufd. Prarog. cap. 9. F. N. B. fol. 232. If one have Understanding to measure a Yard of Cloth, number Twenty, rightly name the Days of the Week, or to beget a Child, he shall not be counted an Idiot, or natural Fool, by the Laws of the Realm. See 4 Rep. Beverly's Case.

Idiota inquirendo vel eraminando, Is a Writ to the Escheator or Sheriff of any County, where the King hath Notice that there is an Idiot naturally born, so weak of Understanding, that he cannot govern or manage his Inheritance, to call before before him the Party suspected of Ideocy, and examine him: And also to inquire by the Oaths of Twelve Men whether he be sufficiently witted to dispose of his own Lands with Discretion or not, and to certify accordingly into the Chancery; for the King hath the Protection of his Subjects, and by his Prerogative the Government of their Lands and Substance: that are naturally defective in their own Discretion. Stat. de Prærog. Regis, edit. 17 E. 2. cap. 8. whereof read Staundf. Prærog. cap. 9. and of this Writ read F. N. B. f. 232. and Reg. Orig. fol. 267.

Idlemian. Item quod nullus manuteneat nec ducat Kernes nec gentes vocatas Idlemen, nisi in Marchiis suis propriis. Pat. 5 Ed. 3. p. 1. m. 25.

Idoneum se facere. Idoneare se, To purge himself by Oath of a Crime of which he is accused. Leg. H. 1. cap. 75. where the Word Idoneus is taken for Innocens.

Idumanus Fluvius, Blackwater in Essex.

Jejunium, (Purgatio per Jejunium.) 'Tis mentioned in Leg. Canoni cap. 7. apud Brompton, viz. Cum Sociis se purget, vel Jejunium ineat, si opus est, & applicetur ad consuetudinem, & fiat voluntas Dei.

Jelman, sometimes used for Yeoman. Sciant quod ego Johannes Smith de Bromyard in Com. Heref. Jeman dedi Ricardo Wigmore Arm. omnia terr. & Tenementa, &c. Dat. 10 Jan. An. 9 H. 6. This in Dutch signifies aliquis.

Jeofayle Is a Compound of three French Words j'ay faille, i. ego lapsus sum, and in a legal Sense denotes an Oversight in Pleading, or other Law-Proceedings; touching which you have a Statute 32 H. 8. 30. whereby it is enacted. That if the Jury have once past upon the Issue, though afterwards there be found a Jeofayle in the Pleading, yet Judgment shall likewise be given according to the Verdict of the Jury. See Bro. Tit. Repleader. The Author of the New Terms of Law saith, That a Jeofayle is, when the Parties to any Suit have in Pleading proceeded so far, that they have joined Issue, which shall be tried, or is tried by a Jury, and this Pleading or Issue is badly pleaded or joined, that it will be Error if they proceed: Then some of the said Parties may, by their Counsel, shew it to the Court as well after Verdict given, and before Judgment, as before the Jury be charged; the Shewing of which Defects, before the Jury charged, was often, when the Jury came into Court to try the Issue; then the Counsel which will shew it, shall say, This Inquest you ought not to take; and if it be after Verdict, then he may say, To Judgment you ought not to go: And because of this many Delays grew in Suits, for the Redress of which divers Statutes were made, viz. 32 H. 8. 30. before-mentioned, and others in Queen Elizabeth and King James his Days, viz. 18 El. 14. 12 Jac. 15. yet the Fault is little amended.

Jesse, A Branch, or large Candlestick of Brass branched into several Sconces, and hanging down in the Middle of a Church or Choir, to spread the Light to all Parts. This Invention was first called Arbor Jesse and Stirps Jesse, from the Similitude to the Branch or Genealogical Tree of Jesse. This useful Ornament of Churches was first brought over into England by Hugh de Flory, Abbot of St. Austins in Canterbury about the Year 1106. as thus recorded by the Historian of that Abbey. Pulpitum etiam in Ecclesia fecit, candelabrum etiam magnum in choro æreum, quod Jesse vocatur, in parvis emit transmaricinis. Chron. Will. Thorn. p. 1796.

Jessen, Jetson and Jotson; From the French Jetter, ejicere, is any Thing thrown out of a Ship, being driven in the Danger of Wreck and by the Waves driven to the Shore. See Jotson, Co. lib. 5. f. 106.

Jews, Judei. See Judaism. Anciently we had a Court of the Justices assigned for the Government of the Jews. See 4 Inst. fol. 254. Rex—Vic. Wigor. salutem. Precipimus tibi quod clamari & observari facias per totam Balliviam tuam, quod omnes Judei deferant in superiori indumento suo ubicunque ambulaverint vel equitaverint infra villam vel extra, quasi duas tabulas albas in pectore factas de lineo panno vel de pergameno, ita quod per hujusmodi signum manifeste possint Judei a Christianis discerni. T. comite apud Oxon, 30. Martii Claus. 2 H. 3. p. 1. 10. in Dorso.

Jfungia, i. e. the finest white Bread, formerly called Coked Bread.

Dic panem, lapidem, quoque dic Jfungia, Quare? Hoc quia de facili fungitur omnis bono.

Jgnis Judicium, Purgation by Fire, or the old judicial fiery Trial. See Ordeal.

Jignitegium, The eight a Clock Bell, so called (asin old Engl. Curfew, Corve seu, i. e. Cover-Fire,) because the Conqueror Will. 1. ordered his Subjects at that Hour upon the Signal of a Bell, or other Sound, to put out their Fires and Lights. When this Custom of extinguishing did by Degrees it self expire, yet the Ringing of a Bell at eight in the Evening, being still kept up, was long after called by the same Name. As in the Statutes and Customs of St. Paul's Church in London, collected by Ralph Baldock Dean, about the Year 1300. it is ordained, ut servientes officii Ecclesie claudant tempore yemali post initium pulsationis Complitorii ibidem, & tempore æstivali post initium pulsationis ignitegii, apud Sanctum Martinum. MS. Statuta Ecclesie Pauline.

Ignoramus Is a Word properly used by the Grand Inquest, impanelled in the Inquisition of Causes criminal and publick, and written upon the Bill, when they mislike their Evidence as defective, or too weak, to make good the Presentment; the Effect of which Word so written is, that all farther Enquiry upon that Party for that Fault is thereby stopped, and he delivered without further Answer. It hath a Resemblance of that ancient Custom of the Romans, where the Judges, when they absolved a Person accused, did write A. upon a little Table provided for that Purpose, i. Absolvimus; if they judged him guilty, they writ C. id est, Condemnamus; if they found the Cause difficult and doubtful, they writ N. L. that is, Non liquet. Asconius Redianus in oratione pro Milone, Alexander ab Alexandro. Genial. dierum, Lib. 3. c. 14.

Jinieta. Item apud Poulton xx boves, pretium bovis vi sol. viii boviculos, pretium cujuslibet ii s. viii jinietas, pretium cujuslibet ii s. 1 Affram v sol. Charular. Abbat. Glaston. MS. fol. 60. Let the Curious enquire, whether Jinieta signifies a Colt, a young Horse, a Jennet, or not rather a Heifer, a young Cow, which in some old Latin was Junix and Jinieta, quasi Junior Vacca.

Jkenid-ærrer Is one of the four famous Ways that the Romans made in England, called Stratum Icenorum, because it took Beginning at Icenis, which were the People that inhabited Norfolk, Suffolke, and Cambridgeshire. Cambd. Brit. f. 343. Leg. Ekw. Conf. c. 12. See Watling-street.

Illet, by Contract an Eight, i. e. a little Island.

Illebiale, That may or cannot be levied, and therefore Nihil is a Word set upon a Debt Illebiale.

Illuminare, To illuminate, to draw in Gold and Colours the initial Letters, and the occasional Pictures in Manuscript Books. — Ita ut ipse Episcopus libros scribere, illuminare, & ligare non fastidiret. Brompton, sub anno 1076. Those Persons who particularly practised this Art, were called Illuminatores, whence our Limners.

Imbargo, A Stop or Stay, most commonly upon Ships by publick Authority. 18 Car. 2. cap. 5.

Imbezle or Imbessil, To Waste, Scatter and Consume; as if a Person intrusted with Goods, waste and diminish them, we say, He hath imbezil'd the Goods. 14 Car. 2. c. 31.

Imblocare. See Excommunication.

Imbucary. See Embracery.

Imbren. Ember-Days. The four Ember-Weeks, or solemn Seasons for Ordination: First used as quarterly Fasts to pray for the Fruits of the Earth; they are mentioned in the Council of Enham, anno 1009. c. 16. and in the Laws of King Alfred. cap. 39.

Imbrebiare, (Stat. 37 Ed. 3. 4.) imbreviare: In Schedulam (quod breve vocant) rem conscribere, redigere: Scripto breviter mandare.

Imbrocus, A Brook, a Gut, a Water-passage. — Totum nostrum imbrocum de Blakeburn, five predictus brocus sit major five minor, cujus broci longitudo ex australi parte incipit ad partem de Oxenal, & ducit super aquam de Limenal. Somner of Ports and Ports, p. 43.

Impalare, To put in the Pound. Leg. Hen. 1. cap. 9.

Impanulare, To Impanel a Jury. A Privilege was sometimes granted, that a Person should not be impanelled, or returned upon a Jury. — Non ponatur nec impanelletur aliquibus Assis, Juratis, Recognitionibus, &c. Paroch. Antiquit. pag. 657. See Mr. Kennet's Glossary.

Imparlance, (Interlocutio or interloquela) is a Motion or Petition made in Court by the Tenant or Defendant, upon the Count of the Demandant or Declaration of the Plaintiff; whereby he craves Respite, or a farther Day to put in his Answer. See Brook, Tit. Continuance. Imparlance is general or special. Special is with this Clause, Salvo omnibus advantagiis, tam ad jurisdictionem Curie, quam ad Breve & Narrationem. Kitchin, f. 200. General is that which is made at large, without inserting that, or the like Clause. See Empanlance.

Imparsoner, As Parson imparsones, Persona imparsonata, is he that is inducted, and in Possession of a Benefice. Dyer, f. 40. num. 72. says a Dean and Chapter, are Parsons imparsones of a Benefice appropriate unto them.

Impeachment of Waste, Impeditio vasti, cometh of the French Empeschment, i. impedimentum, and signifies a Restraint from committing of Waste upon Lands and Tenements. See Waste. And therefore he that hath a Lease without Impeachment of Waste, hath by that a Property or Interest given him in the Houses and Trees, and may make Waste in them without being impeached for it, that is, without being questioned, or demanded any Recompence for the Waste done. See Co. lib. 11. Bowle's Case, f. 82.

Impechare, (French Empescher. Latin Impetere.) To impeach, to accuse and prosecute for Felony or Treason. — Et promissit Regi Navarra quod nunquam eum impecharet pro morte dicti Caroli de Hispania. Hen. de Knighton, sub anno 1256. Spelman and Somner tell us, That it is derived from the Lat. Impetere, which is to accuse, or in ius vocare, from whence impetio signifies an Accusation, viz. sine impetitione vasti, is without impeaching or accusing him of Waste.

Impediatus, Expeditatus, Impediati canes, Dogs lawed and disabled from doing Mischief in the Forests, and Purlicus of them. — Omnes canes infra foretam solebant esse impediati aut amputati sinistro ortello.

Impediens, Hec est finalis concordia facta in Curia Domini Regis apud West. in octabis Sancti Hillarii, Anno Regni Regis Henrici Filii Regis Johannis Septimo, coram Thoma de Multon, &c. Inter Willielmum de Mobun querentem & Will. Brewere impediendum de Manerio de Clynton, &c. Et unde Placitum de Escambio faciend. summonit. fuit inter eos in eadem Curia, &c. Where Impediendum seems to be used for Defendentem or Desercentem.

Imperialle, i. e. a Sort of very fine Cloth. Item tunica de Imperiali cum arboribus rubris & leonibus aureis, &c.

Impetatus, Impeached, accused, Burgenses & Piscatores Civitatis nostra London, super illicitis negotiationibus, &c. calumpniati essent coram nobis & impecati. Par. 18 Ed. 1. p. 1. m. 15. intus.

Impetio, Accusation or Impeachment. As sine impetitione vasti, or sine impedimento vasti, i. e. without Impeachment of Waste; the Party shall not be questioned or accused for any Waste.

Impetration, (Impetratio) an obtaining by Request and Prayer. It is used in our Statutes for the Pre-obtaining of Benefices and Church-Offices in England, from the Court of Rome, which did belong to the Gift and Disposition of our Lord the King, and other Lay-Patrons of this Realm. The Penalty whereof was the same with Provisors. 25 Ed. 3. See 38 Ed. 3. Stat. 2. cap. 1.

Impierment (Anno 23 H. 8. cap. 9.) signifies as much as impairing or prejudicing. For the Words of the Statute are, To the Impierment and Diminution of their good Name.

Implead, (From the Fr. Plaidier) to sue, arrest or prosecute by Course of Law.

Implements Cometh either of the French Word Employer, to employ; or the Latin Impleo, to fill up, and is used for all Things necessary for a Trade, or Furniture of a Household: And in that Sense you shall often find the Word used in Wills, and Conveyances of Moveables.

Impost Is a French Word signifying Tribute, and derived of the Verb Imposer, i. injungere, and signifieth the Tax received by the Prince, for such Merchandise as are brought into any Haven within his Dominions from Foreign Nations. 31 Eliz. 5. It may in some sort be distinguished from Custom, because Custom is rather that Profit the Prince maketh of Wares shipped out; yet they are frequently confounded.

Imprest-Money, i. e. Money paid at listing of Soldiers: From the Preposition In, and Fr. prest, paratus.

Impzetiabilis Is a Word often mentioned in Matt. Paris. and it signifies invaluable.

Impressum, A Print, Impression; also the Art of Printing, and likewise a Printing-house. Anno 4 Car. 2. cap. 23.

Imprius, Those who side with, or take Part with another, either in his Defence or otherwise: 'Tis often mentioned in Matt. Westm. viz. Juramentum ex parte Regis Anglorum fuerat violatum dum Imprius sui ob gravissimam redemptionem sunt redempti, pag. 282. so in another Place, omnes homines & Imprius Ludovici, &c. So in Matt. Paris. pag. 127. quod nos erimus Imprius ejusdem Regis, &c.

Imprisonment, Imprisonamentum, Is the Restraining of a Man's Liberty, whether it be in the open Field, or in the Stocks, or Cage in the Streets, or in a Man's own House, as well as in the Common Gaol. And in all these Places the Party so restrained is said to be a Prisoner, so long as he hath not his Liberty freely to go at all Times, to all Places whither he will, without Bail or Mainprise.

Impropriation, Of which there are in England 3845. It is properly so called, when it is in the Hands of a Layman, and Appropriation when in the Hands of a Bishop, College, or Religious House, though sometimes they are confounded. See Appropriation.

Improvement. See Approvement.

Impruare, To improve Land. Impruiamentum, the Improvement so made of it. — Nunquam liceat pr. dicto A. nec heredibus ipsius pasturam de averiis suis onerare, nec aliquid impruiamentum nostrum alicui in predicto manerio unquam impedire. Chartular. Abbat. Glaston. MS. fol. 50. a. Breve de nova disseisina super impruiamentis factis in moris de Sow — remisit omnem querelam pro xii. acris impruiandis in eadem mora. ib.

In alto & inu, The same with Alto and Basso, which see.

Inblaura, Profit or Product of Ground. — Quoddam messuagium cum uno ferdello terre in Manerio de Wrington — cum tota inblaura in perpetuum resignavit. — Chartular. Glaston. MS. f. 70.

Inbo: h & Outbo: h, Saxon. Vide Cambden's Britan. in Ottadinis, Where he says, speaking of Edelingham, the Barony of Patrick Earl of Dunbare, which also was Inborow and Outborow between England and Scotland, as we read in the Book of Inquisitions, that is, (as he believes) he was to allow and to observe in this Part the Ingress and Egress of those that travelled to and fro between both Realms; for Englismen in ancient Time called in their Language an Entry and Fore-Court or Gatehouse, Inborow.

Incastellare, To reduce a Thing to serve instead of a Castle; the Word is often applied to Churches, as in Gervaf. Dorob. Anno 1144. viz. Qui post mortem patris ecclesiam Incastellatam retinebat. So in Malmfbury. Ecclesiam B. Maria Genetricis Dei Lincoln. incastellaverat.

In casu consummi Is a Writ. See Casu consummi.

In casu prohibito Is a Writ. See Casu Prohibito.

Incaustum. See Encaustum.

Inchanter, Incantator, Is he that by Charms or Verses conjures the Devil. Qui carminibus vel cantuunculis Dæmonem adjurat. The Ancients called them Carmina, because in those Days their Charms were in Verse. 4 Par. Inf. fol. 44.

Inchantress, Incantatrix, Is a Woman that uses Charms and Incantations. See Inchanter.

Inchartare, To give any Thing by an Instrument in Writing: Concessit isti Comiti terram ipsam & inchartavit post aliquot annos, ut possessio sua se firmitus roboretur. Matt. Paris. Anno 1252.

Incident, Incidents, signifies a Thing necessarily depending upon another as more principal. For Example, a Court-Baron is so incident to a Manor, and a Court of Pypowders to a Fair, that they cannot be severed by Grant; for if a Manor or Fair be granted, these Courts cannot be severed. Kitchin, fol. 36. See Co. on Litt. fol. 151.

Inclaudare, 'Tis mentioned in the Monasticon, 2 tom. p. 598. and signifies to fetter a Horse, viz. Et si Inclaudet palefridum Regis dabit ei palefridum 4 marcarum, &c.

Inclausa, A Home-Close, or Inclosure near the House. — Dicunt per sacramentum suum, quod capitale messuagium valet per annum cum tota Inclausa. 11 fol. Paroch. Antiquit. pag. 31.

Incopolitus, A Proctor or Vicar: Prohibeo ne summonneas monachos, &c. ut eant ad Hundreda, nec ad frras, sed Incopolitos suos, vel unum ex hominibus suis mittant. Leg. H. 1. Monast. 1 Tom. pag. 1023.

Incrementum. — Dedi J. B. Quoddam Incrementum terre mee apud D. &c. by which is meant a Parcel of Land inclosed out of common or waste Ground. But the Word was more often used for Advance in Rent or other Payment. — Reddendo antiquam firmam & de incremento xis. Paroch. Antiquit. pag. 164. Taxatio Spiritualitatis una cum incremento per relaxationem. ibid. pag. 316. To which was opposed decrementum, Abatement, whence Decrements in the Buttery-Books, on Accounts of batteling in Oxford.

Encroach, Encrociare. See Encroachments. Admirals and their Deputies do encroach to themselves Jurisdictions, &c. 15 R. cap. 4.

Incumbent Is a Derivative from the Latin Verb Incumbo, to mind diligently, and is a Clerk Resident on his Benefice with Cure, Co. on Litt. f. 119. and called Incumbent of that Church, because he doth or ought to bend his whole Study to discharge his Cure. 10 H. 6. 7. and 1 & 2 P. & M. cap. 17.

Incurrmentum Is used in Rot. Vasc. 17 E. 1. M. 13. For incurring a Penalty, or becoming subject to a Fine or Amercement. So incurri alicui, to be liable to another's legal Censure or Punishment. As in the Stat. 2 Westm. c. 57. Statutum est quod ejusmodi Tenentes capitalibus Dominis aut Regi incurrantur.

Indecimable, Indecimabilis, That is not richable, or ought not to pay Tithe. 2 Par. Inf. 490.

Indefeisibile, That cannot be defeated, undone, or made void: As, A good and indefeisible Estate, &c.

Indefensus, One that is impleaded, and refuseth to Answer. Et predictus Judas nihil scisit dicere contra seclam dicti Ricardi, nec voluit ponere se in Inquisitionem aliquam. Consideratum est, quod tanquam indefensus sit in misericordia, &c. Communia de Mich. 50 Hen. 3. Rot. 4. intrus.

Indemnities: When a Church is appropriate to an Abbey or College, then the Archdeacon for ever loseth his Induction-Money, in Recompence whereof, he shall have yearly out of the Church so appropriate xii d. or ii s. more or less, for a yearly Pension, as it is agreed at the Time of the appropriating: And his Payments are called Pensions or Indemnities. MS. in Bibl. Cott. sub effigie Cleopatras. F. 1. fol. 84. a.

Indenture, (Indentura) Is a Writing comprising some Contract, Conveyance or Covenant between two or more, and being indented in the Top answerable to another Part, which hath the same Contents, it thence takes its Name; and differs from a Deed-Poll, which is a single Deed undented. Coke on Littl. fol. 229. I have seen a Deed of Agreement, (tempore Edw. 1.) concluding thus, In cujus rei testimonium alterius scripto in medio inciso Sigillum suum apposuit. This the Greeks call'd συνγραφή or συγγράμμα, which the Civilians have defined to be Scriptura inter creditorem & debitorem indentata, in cujus scissura literis capitalibus hac distinctio συνγραφή, or plurally τα συγγράμματα, scribitur; and it differs from συνγραφή, quia hoc manu unius tantum iuxta debitoris scribitur, & penes debitorem relinquitur. Præinc. constitut. de Offic. archidiacono. cap. prim. verbo in scriptis.

Judicabit Is a Writ or Prohibition that lieth for a Patron of a Church whose Clerk is Defendant in Court-Christian, in an Action of Tithes commenced by another Clerk, and extending to the fourth Part of the Church, or of the Tithes belonging to it; for in this Case the Suit belongeth to the King's Court by the Stat. Westm. 2. cap. 5. Wherefore the Patron of the Defendant, being like to be prejudiced in his Church and Advowson, if the Plaintiff obtain in the Court-Christian, hath this Means to remove it to the King's Court. Reg. Orig. fol. 35. See Old Nat. Brev. fol. 31. and Britton, cap. 109.

Judicatus, (Indictatus) When any one is accused by Bill or Declaration, and preferred to Jurors at the King's Suit, for some Offence, either criminal or penal, he is said to be indicted thereof. Item utitur quod si aliquis Comburgensium nostrorum sit indictatus semel, bis vel ter, aut pluries, in aliquo casu Corone, non obstante quod non sit convictus, inveniet sufficientem securitatem de bene gerendo se erga Balivos, &c. Quia dicitur in Communi Lege, quod tales sunt reprobati & attincti, & per Leges & Consuetudines dicti Burgi, tales non sunt accepti ad Placita, nec ad Judicium inter nos dandum, quia exeunt a Conditionibus nostris. MS. Codex de LL. Statutis & Consuetud. Burgi Villæ Mountgomer. a temp. Hen. 2. fol. 16.

Judicatio, The same with Indictment: Nonnumquam enim sunt Accusationes de Foresta, & Indictiones vulgariter sic appellatae. Du Cange. Sometimes it is taken for the Space of Fifteen Years.

Judicium, (Indictio, ab indicendo) The Space of fifteen Years, by which Account Charters and publick Writings were dated at Rome, and anciently in England too, every Year still increasing one, till it came to fifteen, and then returning to one again; which Account of Time began at the Diffinition of the Nicene Council, Anno 312. Facta sunt hac Anno Dominice Nativitatis 904. Indictione 8. Regni vero Eadgari Anglorum Regis sexto. Charta Eadgari Regis Ofwaldi Episcopo Wergeceastre. And a Charter of King Hen. 3. dated apud Chippingham, 18 die April. Indictione nona, Anno Domini 1266.

Indictment or Endictment, Indictamentum; cometh of the French Enditer, indicare; or according to Mr. Lambard, from the Greek ἐνδίκνυμι. Eirenar. lib. 4. cap. 5. pag. 468. It signifies in our Common Law as much as Accusatio in the Civil Law, though in some Points it differ. West. par. 2. Symb. Tit. Inditments, defineth it thus, An Indictment is a Bill or Declaration made in Form of Law (for the Benefit of the Commonwealth) exhibited as an Accusation of one for some Offence, either criminal or penal unto Jurors, and by their Verdict found and presented to be true, before an Officer having Power to punish the same Offence. It seems to be an Accusation, because the Jury that enquireth of the Offence, doth not receive it, until the Party that offereth the Bill appearing, subscribe his Name, and proffer his Oath for the Truth of it. It is always at the Suit of the King, and differs from an Accusation in this, that the Profferer is no Way tied to the Proof thereof upon any Penalty, if it be not proved, except there appear Conspiracy. See Smith de Rep. Angl. lib. 2. cap. 19. Stamd. pl. cor. lib. 2. cap. 23. 24. sic usq; ad 34. Enditments of Treason ought to be very exactly and certainly penned. Co. 7 Rep. Calvin's Case; and they must contain the Day, Year and Place. See 37 H. 8. cap. 8. and 3 par. Inft. fol. 134.

Indictor Is he that indicteth another for any Offence. 1 E. 3. cap. 11. And Indictee is he that is indicted. 21 Fac. cap. 1.

Indistanter, Without Delay. Matt. Westm. Anno 1244. Indistanter remeavit.

Indivisum Is used for that which Two hold in Common, without Partition. Kitchin, fol. 421. in these Words, He holds pro indiviso, &c.

Indolis, i. e. A studious young Man, or a Youth. Ego Edgar Indolis Clito consensu. Mon. Angl. 3 Tom. pag. 120.

*Nititur indolem claris parentibus ortum
Flectere cum precibus, &c.*

Indorsement, Indorsamentum, Is any Thing written on the Back of a Deed, as a Condition written on the Back of an Obligation is commonly called An Indorsement. West. Symbol. part 2. sect. 157. The Sealed and Delivered, &c. on the Back of an Indenture is called the Indorsement.

Induction, Inductio, A leading into: It is most commonly taken for the giving Possession to an Incumbent of his Church, by leading him into it, and delivering him the Keys, by the Commissary, or Bishop's Deputy, and by his ringing one of the Bells. Croke, Rep. 3 part. fol. 258.

In esse, 21 Fac. cap. 2. In Being: The Learned make this Difference between Things in esse, and Things in posse; as a Thing that is not, but may be, they say, Is in Posse, or Potentia; but a Thing apparent and visible, they say, Is in esse, that is, has a real Being eo instanti, whereas the other is casual, and but a Possibility. As, a Child before he is born, or even conceived, is a Thing in Posse, or which may be: After he is born, he is said to be in esse, or a real Being.

do, & de uno ingo de Northbnyge xii. denarios aut unum Inewardum & de Dena xviii. denarios, & de Garra unum Inewardum. Lib. Domeſday Chentli. Quando Rex venatui inſabat de unaqua; domo per conſuetudinem ibat unus homo ad ſtabilitatem in ſilva. Alii homines non habentes integras maſuras inveniebant inewardos, ad aulam quando Redierant in civitate. — Lib. Domeſday. Herefordſhire.

Inſalutatus: This Word occurs only in Ralph de Hengham, ſumma parva, cap. 3. vir commiſſi feloniam ob quam fui ſuſpenſus, utlagatus, vel alio modo morti damnatus, vel demembratus, vel apud Dover inſalutatus, vel apud Southampton ſubmerſus, vel apud Winton demembratus, vel decapitatus, ut apud Northampton: vel in mari ſuperundatus, ſicut in aliis partibus portuum. — Mr. Selden in his Notes on that Author, ſays thus, "It appears that ſeveral Cuſtoms of Places made in thoſe Days capital Punishments ſeveral. But what is inſalutatus? In Regard of its being a Cuſtom uſed in a Port-Town, I ſuppoſe it was made out of the French Word Faleſe, which is fine Sand by the Water Side, or a Bank of the Sea. In this Sand or Bank it ſeems their Execution at Dover was". The elaborate Du Freſne does condemn this Derivation and this Senſe of the Word, but yet gives no better. And therefore till we have more Authority, we may conclude that inſalutatus did imply ſome capital Punishment inflicted on the Sands or Sea-Shore: Perhaps Inſalutatio was Expoſing the Malefactor to be laid bound upon the Sands, till the next full Tide carried him away; of which Cuſtom if I forget not, there is ſome dark Tradition. However I believe the Penalty took Name from the Norman Faleſe, Faleſa, which ſignified not only the Sands, but rather the Rocks and Cliffs adjoining or impeding on the Sea-Shore. See the like Uſe of Faleſa in Mon. Angl. tom. 2. pag. 165. b.

Inſangtheſe, Winfangtheſe or Inſangtheof, Is compounded of three Saxon Words; the Prepoſition In, fang or ſong, to take or catch, and theſe, a Robber: It ſignifieth a Privilege or Liberty granted unto Lords of certain Manors to judge any Thief taken within their Fee. Bracton, lib. 3. traſt. 2. cap. 35. ſaith, Dicitur Inſangtheſe latro captus in terra alicujus de hominibus ſuis propriis, ſeiſtus Latrocinio. Uſangtheſe vero dicitur latro extraneus, veniens aliunde de terra aliena & qui captus fuit in terra ipſius, qui tales habet libertates, &c. In the Laws of King Edward the Confeſſor, ſet out by Mr. Lambard, cap. 26. you have it thus deſcribed. Inſangtheſe, juſtitia cognofcentis latronis ſua eſt, de homine ſuo, ſi captus fuerit ſuper terram ſuam: Illi vero qui non habent has conſuetudines coram juſtitia Regia rectum faciant in Hundreſis, &c. Inſangtheſ, i. e. Quod latrones capti in Dominio vel feodo Prioris, & de latrocinio convicti in Curia Domini Prioris priſentur, & ad farcas ejus ſuſpenduntur. Ex Reg. Priorat. de Cokesford. So that it was neceſſary the Thief ſhould be taken in his Lordſhip, and with the Goods ſtolen, otherwiſe the Lord had not Jurisdiction to try him in his Court; but by the Laws of Edward the Confeſſor, he was not reſtrained to his own People or Tenants, but he might try any Man who was thus taken in his Manor: The Definition hercof ſee alſo in Britton, fol. 90. and Reg. Howenden, part. poſter. ſuor. annal. fol.

345. And Skene de verb. ſignif. who writeth of it at large, reciting Diverſity of Opinions touching this, and Outſangtheſe. Fleta, lib. 1. cap. 47. ſays, Inſangtheſe (for ſo he writes it) dicitur latro captus in terra alicujus, ſeiſtus aliquo latrocinio de ſuis propriis hominibus. Anno 1 & 2 P & M. cap. 15.

Infant, Infans, Before the Age of one and twenty Years, a Man or Woman is called an Infant in the Law. Co. on Lit. lib. 1. cap. 21. & lib. 2. cap. 28. An Infant of eight Years of Age, or above, may commit Homicide, and be hanged for it, viz. if it may appear by hiding the Perſon, by excuſing, or by any other A& that he had Knowledge of Good and Evil, and of the Danger of the Offence, for here Malitia ſupplebit etatem; yet Co. upon Litt. feſt. 405. ſaith, That an Infant ſhall not be puniſhed till the Age of fourteen, which, ſays he, is the Age of Diſcretion.

Inſenſare Curiam, i. e. To inform the Court. Nec debet Juxdex facere ſe partem in aliquo placito, &c. niſi ad Inſenſandam Curiam, &c.

Inſideles, Heathens. Inter inſideles connumerare, to excommunicate. So Henry Biſhop of Wincheſter threatned Brien Fitz Count, Lord of Walingford, in the Reign of King Stephen. — Et vos (quod tamen mihi conſiteri grave eſt, nec cordi meo ſedet) niſi correvitit, inter inſideles Anglie connumerabo. Paroch. Antiquit. pag. 100. When the Popes of Rome gave empty Titles to ſome Biſhops, aſſigning them to remote and imaginary Sees, they were ſaid to be Biſhops in partibus Infidelium.

Inſirmarius: In Monafteries, there was an Apartment allotted for infirm or ſick Perſons; and he who had the Care or Cuſtody of this Infirmaria was called Inſirmarius. See Mat. Par. ſub anno 1252. Tho. Stubb, ſub anno 1285. Will. Thorne, ſub anno 1128, &c.

Inſoſcitare. See Aſſoſcitare.

In forma pauperis: When any Man that hath a juſt Cauſe of Suit either in the Chancery, or any other the Courts of Common Law, will come either before the Lord Keeper, Maſter of the Rolls, either of the Chief Juſtices, or Chief Baron, and make Oath, that he is not worth five Pounds, his Debts paid, either of the ſaid Judges will in his own proper Court admit him to ſue in forma Pauperis, and he ſhall have Counſel, Clerk or Attorney aſſigned to do his Buſineſs, without paying any Fees.

Information for the King, Informatio pro Rege, Is the ſame that for a common Perſon we call a Declaration, and is not always done directly by the King, or his Attorney, but ſometimes by another, qui ſequitur tam pro Domino Rege quam pro ſeiſſo, upon the Breach of ſome penal Law or Statute, wherein a Penalty is given to the Party that will ſue for the ſame; and may be either by Action of Debt or Information. See Indictment.

Informatus non ſum, or more truly Non ſum Informatus, Is a formal Answer made of Courſe by an Attorney, that is commanded by the Court to ſay what he thinketh good in Defence of his Client, who being not truſted to ſay any Thing material, ſays, He is not informed, by which he is deemed to leave his Client undefended, and ſo Judgment paſſeth for the adverſe Party. See the New Book of Entries, Tit. Non ſum informatus, and Judgment 12.

Inſormer,

Informar, Informator, Is any one who informs or prosecutes, in any of the King's Courts of Common Law, viz. Exchequer, King's Bench, Common Pleas, Assises or Sessions, those that offend against any Law, or penal Statute: These, in some Cases, are called Promoters; the Civilians term them Delatores.

Infortiatum Is one Part of the Digests of the Civil Law, and was so called by Robert Swapham, in a Chronicle of the Monastery of Peterborough who lived in the Reign of H. 3. who tells us That Benedict, an Abbot of that Monastery, who died in the Year 1194. described several Law Books, among the Rest, the Institutions of Justinian, with the Authentiks, the Infortiatum, the Old Digest, &c.

Initang Is derived from the Preposition, In, and Sax. Fræh, i. e. Free: 'Tis an Exemption from a Mulct for Manslaughter.

Infigare, To put to Flight: 'Tis mentioned in Leg. Canuti, cap. 32. viz. Qui foribannitum paraverit, vel ei firmationem aliquam exhiberit, emendet Regi 5 lib. nisi se adlegiet quod Infigatum eum nesciebat.

Infula Was the Garment of a Priest, like that which we now call a Cassock; sometimes it signifies a Coif.

Inge: This Syllable, in the Names of Places, signifies a Meadow or Pasture: From the Sax. Ing, i. e. pratium, and in the North, Meadows are still called the Inges.

Ingenium, An Engine, Instrument, or Device.

Exierunt enim jam sepius de castello, & ingenia ejus vel succidebant vel incendebant. Flor Wigorn, contin. sub anno 1138. — Ponant burucas suas & alia ingenia ubicunq; voluerint ad capiendos pisces. Cartular. Abbat. Radines. MS. f. 55. b. It is often taken for Instruments used in War, arte & ingenio confectum, from whence we derive the Word Engine. Ingenia vero & pararia Christianorum ita retro sessata erant, quod nullus ex parte adversa poterat eis nocere. Brompton. pag. 1166.

Ingenuitas, i. e. Liberty given to a Servant by Manumission. Leg. H. 1. cap. 89. Si quis per Chartam Ingeniis dimissus fuerit, & a quolibet homine ad servitium interpellatus fuerit, &c.

Ingenuitas franchi, Ingenii, Liberi & Legales Homines. Freeholders, Commonalty of the Kingdom. Not that the Word was restrained to Yeomen or Plebeians. For it was sometimes given to the Chief Barons, as in the Reign of Hen. 1. Anselmus Archiep. Cant. in Pascha Curiam venit, Regni Ingenuitatem praefens consulit, i. e. the great Lords and King's Common Council. Eadmer. Hist. Nov. fol. 70.

Ingor, A rude Mass of Gold or Silver before it is coined: From the Belgick Ingleten, insunderere.

Ingrabarr, To accuse. See Cravare.

Ingressu Is a Writ of Entry, whereby a Man seeketh Entry into Lands or Tenements: It lies in many Cases, and hath many several Forms. See Entry. This Writ is also called in particular, Præcipe quod reddat; because those be formal Words in Writs of Entry. The Writs, as they lie in divers Cases, are these, set down in the Old Nat. Brev. viz. Ingressu ad Terminum qui preterit, fol. 121. Reg. Orig. fol. 227. which lieth where the Lands or Tenements are let to a Man for Term of Years, and the Tenant holdeth over his Term. Ingressu dum non fuit compos mentis, Reg. Orig. 218. which lies when a Man selleth Land or Tenement, being out of his Wits, &c. Ingressu dum fuit infra ætatem, Old N. B. fol. 123. Reg. Orig. fol. 228. lies where one under Age sells his Lands, &c. Ingressu super disseisina in le quibus, Old N. B. 125. Reg. Orig. 229. lies where a Man is disseised, and dieth, for his Heir against the Disseisor. Ingressu in le Per. Old Nat. Brev. 126. Reg. Orig. fol. 229. Ingressu sur cui in vita, Vet. N. B. 128. Reg. Orig. 230. both which see in Entry. Ingressu causa matrimonii prelocuti, Vet. N. B. fol. 230. Reg. Orig. 233. which see in causa Matrimonii prelocuti, Ingressu in causa proviso, Vet. N. B. 132. Reg. Orig. 235. which see in casu proviso, Ingressu cui ante divorcium, Vet. N. B. fol. 130. Reg. Orig. 233. For which see Cui ante divorcium, Ingressu in casu consimili, for which see Casu consimili, Ingressu sine assensu capituli, Reg. Orig. fol. 230. It is a Writ given by the Common Law to the Successor of him that alienated sine assensu capituli, &c. and is so called from those Words contained in the Writ. Co. on Lit. fol. 325. And Ingressu ad communem Legem, Vet. N. B. 132. Reg. Orig. 234. which lieth where the Tenant for Term of Life, or of another's Life, Tenant by Curtesy, or Tenant in Dower, maketh a Feoffment in Fee, and dieth: He in the Reversion shall have the aforesaid Writ against whomsoever that is in the Land, after such Feoffment made.

Ingressus, The Relief which the Heir or Successor at full Age paid to the prime Lord, for entering upon the Fee, or Lands, which were fallen by the Death or Forfeiture of the Farmer Feudatary. This Relevium, Relevamentum or Relevatio, was sometimes called Ingressus, and sometimes Introitus, being but a customary Due (as at first only an honorary Present) to the Lord from his new Vassal, for his Entry or Ingress upon his Land or Fee.

Ingrossator magni Rotuli. See Clerk of the Pipe.

In gross Is that which belongs to the Person of the Lord, and not to any Manor, Lands, &c. As Villain in Gross, Advowson in Gross, &c. Co. on Lit. fol. 120.

Ingrosser, Ingrossator, From the French Grossier, that is Solidarius venditor, is one that buys Corn growing, or dead Victuals to sell again, except Barley for Malt, Oats for Oatmeal, or Victuals to retail; Badging by Licence, Buying of Oils, Spices and Victuals, other than Fish or Salt. Anno 5 E. 6. cap. 14. 5 Eliz. 14. 13 Eliz. 25. but West. Symbol. part 2. Tit. Inditements, Sect. 64. says, This Definition rather doth belong to unlawful Ingrossing, than to the Word in general. See Forefeiler, and 3 par. Inf. fol. 195. Ingrosser is also a Clerk that writes Records or Instruments of Law in Skins of Parchment: As in Henry the Sixth's Time, he who is now called The Clerk of the Pipe, was called Ingrossator Magni Rotuli; and the Comptroller of the Pipe, was called Duplex ingrossator. Spelm.

Ingrossing of a Fine Is making the Indentures by the Chirographer, and the Delivery of them to the Party unto whom the Cognisance is made. F. N. B. fol. 147.

Inheritance, Hereditas, Is a Perpetuity in Lands or Tenements to a Man and his Heirs: For Littleton, lib. 1. cap. 1. hath these Words 'This Word Inheritance is not only understood where a Man hath Inheritance of Lands and Tenements by Descent of Heritage, but also every Fee-simple or Fee-tail that a Man hath by his Purchase, may may be said by Inheritance, for that his Heirs may inherit after him. Several Inheritance is that which two or more hold severally; as if two Men have Land given them, to them and their Heirs of their two Bodies; these have joint Estates during their Lives, but their Heirs have several Inheritance. Kitchin, fol. 155. See Terms de la Ley, verbo Enheritance.

Inhermarus, One attending the King in Hereford and Cambridge Shires. Domesday.

Inhibition, Inhibitio, Is a Writ to inhibit or forbid a Judge from farther Proceeding in the Cause depending before him. See F.N.B. fol. 39. where he putteth Prohibition and Inhibition together. Inhibition is most commonly a Writ issuing out of a higher Court Christian to a lower and inferior, upon an Appeal. Anno 24 H. 8. cap. 12. and 15 Car. 2. cap. 9. And Prohibition out of the King's Court to a Court-Christian, or to an inferior temporal Court.

Injor, This Word was neither interpreted nor mentioned in any Glossary before the Edition of Mr. Kennet's Parochial Antiquities. It properly signifies, any Corner or Out-part of a common Field ploughed up and sowed (commonly with Oats or Tares) and sometimes fenced off with a dry foot Hedge, within that Year wherein the Rest of the same Field lies fallow and common. It is now called in the North an Intack, and in Oxfordshire a Hitchinne, or Hitching. It seems derived from Saxon Inge, a Field or Meadow, or rather from inne within, and hoke a Corner or Nook. The Making of such Inhoke, or separate Inclosure by any one Lord or Tenant, was a Prejudice to all who had a Right of Common.

Erater Walters Prior Berencesstria fieri fecit quoddam Inhoc in campo warabili utrinque Emicote in Muscrocroft, sub curia ejusdem Prioris, per quod Abbas Ofen dicebat se de communi pastura ibidem discessiri.—Paroch. Antiq. pag. 297. Noverit Universitas vestra nos fecisse quoddam Inhokium in campo de Dunthorp sine assensu & voluntate Prioris & Conventus de Cold Norton.—unde quorundam fratrum & aliorum Amicorum freti consilio predictum Inhokium volunt depascere. b. p. 298. This Trespas or Encroachment was expressly prohibited in some Charters.

—hac ratione quod Dominus bayam nec pasturam separabilem faciat ab hominibus infra campum warabilem. Ibid. pag. 496. And therefore no such Hitchinne is now made without the joint Consent of all the Commoners, who in most Places have their Share by Lot in the Benefit of it. Except in some Manors where the Lord has a special Privilege of so doing. See Mr. Kennet's Glossary.

Injunction, Injunctio, Is a Writ grounded upon an interlocutory Order in Chancery; sometimes to give Possession to the Plaintiff, for want of the Defendant's Appearance; sometimes to the King's ordinary Court, and sometimes to the Court-Christian, to stay Proceedings in a Cause upon Suggestion made, that the Rigour of the Law, if it take Place, is against Equity and Conscience in that Case. See West. Synb. part 2. Tit. Proceedings in Chancery, sect. 25.

Inwardus (Inwardus) Alii homines non habentes integras mfasuras inveniebant Inwardos ad Andam, quando Rex erat in Civitate Heref. Domesday, Tit. Heref.

Inlagary or Inlagation (Inlagatio) Is a Restitution of one outlawed, to the Protection of the Law, or to the Benefit or Liberty of a Subject.

From the Sax. Inlagiam, i. e. Inlagare. Et ex eo seipsum legis patrocinii adeo capacem reddat, ut ad compensationem admittatur. LL. Canuti Reg. Par. 1. cap. 2.

Inlagare, To restore to the Benefit of the Law.—Edgarus puer veniens ad eum a Scotia, & Rex eum inlagavit & omnes homines suos. Annal. Waverl. sub anno 1074.

Inlagh or Inlaugh, Inlagatus, vel homo sub lege, signifies him that is in some Frank-pledge, and not outlawed, of whom take Bracton's Words. Lib. 3. Traff. 2. cap. 11. Minor vero, & qui infra etatem duodecim annorum fuerit, utlagari non potest nec extra legem poni; quia ante talem etatem non est sub lege aliqua nec in decenna, non magis quam femina, quia utlagari non potest, quia ipsa non est sub lege, i. Inlaugh Anglice, sc. in franco plegio sive decenna sicut masculus duodecim annorum & ulterius, &c. Inlaughe significat hominem subiectum legi. Fleta, lib. 1. cap. 47.

Inland, Inlandum, Terra Dominicalis, Pars Mannerii Dominica, terra interior; For that which was let out to Tenants was called Umland. In the Testament of Brithericus, in limerar. Kantii; thus, To Wulfege, that Inland, to Elsfego that Umland, i. e. Lego terras Dominicales Wulfege, Tenementales Elfego. Thus Englisht by Lambard, To Wulfege (I give) the Inland or Demeans, and to Elsfey the Outland or Tenancy. Ex dono Wil. de Efton 50. Acres de Inlanda sua. Rot. Chart. 16 Hen. 3. m. 6. This Word is often found in Domesday. The Saxon Thanes, who possessed Boeland or hereditary Lands divided them according to the Proportion of their Estates into two Sorts, Inland and Outland. The Inland was that which lay next or most convenient for the Lord's Mansion-House, as within the View thereof, and therefore they kept that Part in their own Hands for Supportation of their Family, and Hospitality. The Normans afterwards called these Lands terras Dominicales, the Demeans or Lord's Lands: The Germans terras indomincatas: The Feudists terras curias ac intra curtem, Lands appropriated to the Court or House of the Lord. See Mr. Kennet's Glossary in Inlands, Inland-tithi,—Johannes Ingleby Prior domus Jesu de Bethlem de Shene & ejusdem loci Conventus, Patroni Ecclesie parochialis de Middleton Chendays in Com. Northampton, concedunt Jacobo Benett dicte Ecclesie Rectori omnes decimas.—in granis, videlicet, banc decimam qua mihi vulgariter nuncupatur Inland-tithe cum suis pertinentiis, sique sunt.—Dat. ultimo die Junii 1479. Ex Memorandis Thomæ Rotherham Episcopi Line. MS. f. 14.

Inlantal, Inlantale, Demesne or In-land, to which was opposed Delantal. Land tenanted or Outland.—Abbat & Conventus Glaston. concesserunt vicario de Sappiwiki decimas bladi omnium crostarum tunc existentium, duntaxat que non sunt Inlantal in tota parochia de Sappiwiki, eo quod omnes hee croste sunt Delantal. Chartular. Abbat. Glaston. MS. f. 115. b.

Inlascen, From the French Enlasi, intangled or inshared; the Word we may read in the Champion's Oath. Co. Inf. 2. par. fol. 247.

Inlegiate: When a Delinquent has satisfied the Law, and is again rectus in curia, he is said se inlegiare. Sunt alia quadam placita Christianitatis in quibus Rex partem habet hoc modo. Si Rex patitur ut qui in Ecclesia fecerit homicidium, ad emendationem veniat, primo Episcopo & Regi pretium natiuitatis sue reddat, & ita se inlegiet, deinde componat de pace Ecclesie 5 lib. 8sc. Leg. Hen. 1. cap. 11.

Inmaters,

Inmates Be those that are admitted to dwell for their Money jointly with another Man, tho' in several Rooms of his Mansion-house, passing in and out by one Door, and not being able to maintain themselves; which are inquirable in a Lect. Kitchin, fol. 45. where you may read who are properly Inmates. and who not, in Intendment of Law.

Inns of Court, Hospitii Curia, Are so called, because the Students therein do study the Law, to enable them to practise in the Courts of Westminster, or elsewhere; and also because they use all other gentle Exercises, as may make them more serviceable to the King in his Court. Forscuc, cap. 49. Of these there are four well known, viz. The Middle Temple, Innes Temple, Lincolns-Inn and Grays-Inn, which with the two Serjeants-Inns, and eight Inns of Chancery (as Sir Edward Coke says) make the most famous University for the Profession of Law only, or of any one human Science in the World; concerning which, see Dugdale's Origines Judiciales.

Inn, Hospitium, Common Inns are instituted for Passengers; for the proper Latin Word is Diversorium, because he that lodgeth there is quasi diversens se a via; and therefore if a Neighbour which is not a Traveller, as a Friend at the Request of the Inn-keeper lodge there, and his Goods are stolen, he shall not have an Action, for the Writ is Hospitandus homines per partes, ubi hujusmodi hospitia existunt transientes & in eisdem hospitantes. Co. 8 Rep. Caule's Case: Neither shall the Inn-keeper answer for any Thing that is out of his Inn, but only for such Things as are infra hospitium; the Words are eorum bona & catalla infra hospitia illa existentia. Any Person found tipping in any Inn or Ale-house, shall be adjudged within the Statute against Drunkennes, 21 Jac. and 1 Car. 1. cap. 4.

Innatum for penalium, i. e. A Pledge. Innama non capiuntur nisi per communem assensum. Du Cange.

Innaturalitas, Unnatural Usage. — Et ibidem Imperator coram omni populo congregato offendit & notificavit omnibus innaturalitatem & inobedientiam ac improbitatem, quam Rex Francie ei fecerat, & ibidem Regem Francie diffidabat, &c. Hen. de Knighton, in Edw. 3. p. 2572.

Innings, Lands recovered from the Sea by draining and braking. As in Romney Marsh, old Records make Mention of the Innings of Archbishop Becket, Baldwine, Boniface, and Beckham. At this Day Elderton's Innings, &c.

Innonia, An Inclosure: From the Saxon Innan, intus. In an ancient Charter mentioned in Spelman's Glossary we read; Sciatis me concessisse totum illud Melsuagium in Baron Benedich, & unum Crostum & duas Innonias aut inclosures, vocat. in-holmes, &c.

Innotescimus, Letters Patent so called, which are always of a Charter of Freedom, or some other Instrument not of Record; and so called from the Words in the Conclusion; Innotescimus per presentes. An Innotescimus and Vidimus are all one. See Page's Case, 5 Rep.

Innuendo, From Inno, To beck or nod with the Head, is a Word frequently used in Writs, Declarations and Pleadings, and the Office of it is only to declare and ascertain the Person or Thing which was named or left doubtful before; as to say, He (innuendo, the Plaintiff) is a Thief, where there was Mention before of another Person; but this innuendo must neither enlarge (the Sense of the Words, nor make a Supply, or alter the Case where the Words are defective. See Hutton's Rep. fol. 44.

Innociare, To clear one of a Fault, and make him innocent: Si quis favem innoxiare velit unum dretum in odio ponat. Leges Ethelredi, cap. 10. apud Brompton.

Inopcratio Is one of the lawful Excuses to exempt a Man from appearing in Court. In Leg. H. 1. cap. 61. Cause que ad excusationem sufficiunt, &c. hoc est, vel infirmitatis, vel domini necessitatis, vel contramandationis, vel Regis implacitationis, vel Inopcrationis causa, that is, on the Days in which all Pleadings are to cease, or in diebus non juridicis.

Inordinatus Is one who dies intestate: 'Tis mentioned in Matt. Westm. 1246. and in W. Tyrus. Lib. 12. cap. 25. viz. Ordinatus vel inordinatus, quod nos sine lingua dicimus, obierit.

Inpeny and Outpeny, In the Register of the Priory of Cokesford, pag. 25. Thus, De Inpeny & Outpeny consuetudo talis est in Villa de East Ratham, de omnibus terris que infra Burgagium tenentur; viz. Quod ipse, qui vendiderit vel dederit dictam tenuram alicui, dabit pro exitu suo de eadem tenura unum denarium, & simile pro ingressu alterius. Et si predicti Denarii aretro fuerint, Ballivus domini distringet pro eisdem denariis in eadem tenura. These Words and Custom are also mentioned in the Rolls of a Court there held, about the Feast of Epiphany, Anno 12 Ric. 3. Spelm.

Inpultit, Adherents or Accomplices. — Sciatis quod recepimus in gratiam nostram Gilbertum Marefchallum, & omnes qui fuerunt Imprius Richardi Marefchalli. — Claus. 18 H. 3. in Brady Hist. Engl. Append. p. 180.

Inquisition Is an Authority given to a Person or Persons, to enquire into something for the King's Advantage, which, in what Cases it lieth, see Reg. Orig. fol. 72, 85, 124, 265, 266, 267.

Inquisition, Inquisitio, Is a Manner of Proceeding in Matters Criminal, by the Office of the Judge, or by the great Inquest before Justices in Eyre. See Eyre, and the Places in Braffon and Britton there quoted. Hostenfis defines it thus, Inquisitio nihil aliud est quam alienius criminis manifesti ex bono & equo judicis competentis canonice facta investigatio. ca. qualiter de accusat. in the Decretals. Inquisition is also with us used for the King in temporal Causes and Profits, in which Kind it is confounded with Office. Stauniff. Prærog. fol. 51. See Office.

Inquisitores, Inquisitores, are Sheriffs, Coroners, super visum corporis or the like, who have Power to inquire into certain Cases. Statute of Marlbridge, cap. 18. Britton, fol. 4. and Westm. 1. Enquirors or Inquisitors are included under the Name of Ministri. 2 Par. Inf. fol. 211.

Inrollment, Inrotulatio, Is the Registring, Recording, or Entering of any lawful Act in the Rolls of the Chancery, as a Recognizance acknowledged, or a Statute, or a Fine levied, or in the Rolls of the Exchequer, King's Bench, or Common Pleas, or in the Hustings of London, or by the Clerk of the Peace in any County, as a Statute or Recognizance acknowledged, or a Deed of Purchase enrolled. See West. Symbol. part 2. Tit. Fines, sect. 133. and 27 H. 8. 16.

Inscriptiones Were those written Instruments of Charters by which any Thing was granted. In Conc. Cloveshoe Anno 800. His dictis prolate sunt Inscriptiones Monasterii, &c. terrarumque sibi adjacentium.

Inſectator, A Proſecutor or Adverſary at Law. Quod etiam ejus Inſectatores parvo poſt tempore duvaverunt, imo diva morte perierunt. Paroch. Antiq. p. 388.

Inſervire, To reduce to Servitude. Si ingenuus ancillam uxorem ceperit, & ſi ipſa poſtea fuerit Inſervita. Du Cange. So Inſervire tenementa is to ſubject them to Services. Braſton, cap. 54.

Inſetens, (Sax.) An Inditch. Item ordinaverunt quod Qualibet acra pro Wallis, Inſetenis & Watergangs emendetur pro 40 ſol. Ordinatio Romeneicniſis Mariſci, p. 73.

Inſidia, The ſame with Vigilia or Excubie. Fleta, lib. 2. cap. 4. par. 3. Inſidias autem nocturnas non tenetur facere, ſed ſingulis noctibus in crepuſculo Inſidias aſſidebit, &c.

Inſidiatores viarum, Waylayers, or ſuch as lie in wait, are Words which by 4 H. 4. cap. 2. are not to be put in Indiſcments, Arraignments, Appeals, &c.

Inſilium, Ill Advice, or pernicious Counſel. Rex Danorum Svanus per inſilium, in curiam & traditionem Normanniſ Conitis. civitatem Exceſſtram inſegit, ſpoliavit, &c. multaque Regi inſilia adverſus Anglos dederunt. Sim. Dunelm. ſub anno 1007. whence Inſiliarius, an evil Counſellor.

Filius Regis Eſthenſulpi cum omnibus ſuis conſiliariis imo inſiliariis, tantum ſcinius perpetrare auſi ſunt, ut Regem a regno proprio repellerent. Flor. wigorn. ſub anno 855.

Inſilium tenuit Is one Species of the Writ called a Formedon. See Formedon.

Inſinuation, Inſinuat, 21 H. 8. 5. Is a Covert, and cunning creeping into a Man's Favour. Inſinuation of a Will is, among the Civilians, the firſt Production of it, or the Leaving it Penes Regiſtrarium, in order to its Probate.

Inſeximus, Letters Patent ſo called, and is the ſame with Exemplification, which begins thus, Rex omnibus, &c. Inſeximus irrotulamentum quarund. literarum Patent. &c. It is called Inſeximus becauſe it begins after the King's Title, with this Word Inſeximus. See Page's Caſe, 5 Rep.

Inſtalement, A Settlement, or ſure Placing in, 20 Car. 2. cap. 2. Sometimes it is confounded with Abatement.

Inſtant, In Latin, Inſtans, and defined by the Logicians to be Unum indiviſibile in Tempore, quod non eſt Tempus, nec pars temporis, ad quod tamen partes temporis copulantur, and is much conſidered in Law; and though it cannot be aſually divided, yet in Conceit it may, and applied to ſeveral Purpoſes, as if they were ſeveral Times. Whereof ſee in Plowden's Commentaries, Fulmerſon and Stuard's Caſe, where the Statute of 31 H. 8. is expounded concerning an Abbot's letting of Lands, &c. and there it is debated, That when the Termor takes the ſecond Leaſe, he ſurrenders his former Term; and ſo at the ſame Inſtant of taking the ſecond Leaſe, the former is expired. And in the Caſe between Petit and Hales, he who kills himſelf, commits not Felony till he be dead, and when dead he is not in Being, ſo as to be termed a Felon; but he is ſo adjudged in Law eo inſtante, at the very Inſtant of this Faſt doing; and there are many other Cauſes in Law, where the Inſtant

Time, that is not dividable in Nature, in the Conſideration of the Mind is divided.

Inſtaurum Is uſed in ancient Deeds for a Stock of Cattle. Item Manerium illud nullum poteſt ſuſtinere Inſtaurum, quia nullum habet pratum. Mon. Angl. 1 part. f. 548. b. We read alſo in the ſame Senſe Staurum, Inſtauramentum, properly young Beaſts, Store or Breed. Et de Inſtauramento tria jumenta, i. e. three ſtore Cattle. Paroch. Antiq. p. 288. Inſtaurum was commonly uſed for the whole Stock upon a Farm, Cattle, Waggon, Ploughs, and all other Implements of Husbandry.

Inquirere debet de inſtauro in quolibet manerio exiſtente. Fleta, lib. 2. cap. 72. ſect. 7. So Inſtaurum Eccleſia is uſed for the Books, Plate, Veſtments, and all other Utenſils belonging to a Church, by the Synod of Exeter, Anno 1287. can. 12. 44, 53. So terra inſtaurata was Land ready ſtocked, or furniſhed with all Things neceſſary to carry on the Uſe or Occupation of a Farm. As in the Magna Charta of King John, Anno 1215. Et reddat heredi cum ad plenam etatem venerit, terram ſuam inſtauratam de carnis & omnibus aliis rebus. Inſtauratio in our Hiſtorians and MS. is taken in the ſame Senſe as Inſtaurum.

Inſtirpare, i. e. To plant or eſtabliſh: Non ſecurum eſt gentem externam & turbidam Inſtirpare. Brompton. pag. 935.

Inſtitution, Inſtitutio, Is, when the Biſhop ſays to a Clerk who is preſented to a Benefice, Inſtituo te Reſtorem talis Eccleſia cum cura animarum, & accipe curam tuam & meam. Every Redco conſiſts of a Spirituality and Temporality. As to the Spirituality, viz. Cura animarum, he is a compleat Perſon by Inſtitution. But as to the Temporalities, as Glebe-land, &c. he has no Franktenement therein till Induction. Co. 4 Rep. Digby's Caſe. The firſt Beginning of Inſtitutions to Benefices was in a National Synod held at Weſtmiſter by John de Crema, the Pope's Legate, Anno 1124. Which ſee in Saldon's Hiſtory of Tiſhes, pag. 375.

Inſuper Is a Word uſed by Auditors in their Accounts in the Exchequer, when they ſay ſo much remains inſuper to ſuch an Accountant, that is, ſo much remains due upon ſuch an Account. Anno 21 Jac. cap. 2.

Inſtakers Were a Sort of Thieves in Riddeſdale, in the fartheſt northern Parts of England, mentioned 9 H. 5. cap. 8. and ſo called, becauſe they dwelling within the Liberty, did take in and receive ſuch Booties of Cattle, and other Things, as their Confederates the Outpartners brought in to them from the Borders of Scotland. See Outpartners.

Inſtallare. See Taſſum.

Intendment of Law, Intellectus Legis, The Underſtanding, Intention, and true Meaning of Law. Co. on Litt. fol. 78. ſays, The Judges ought to judge according to the common Intendment of Law.

Intenſion Is a Writ that lies againſt him that enters after the Death of Tenant in Dower, or other Tenant for Life, and holds out him in the Reversion or Remainder; For which ſee F. N. B. fol. 202. And every Entry upon the Poſſeſſion of the King is called an Intenſion; as where the Heir of the King's Tenant enters after Office, and before Livery, this is called an Intenſion upon the King, as appears in Staundf. Prærog. fol. 40. &c.

Inter Canem & Lupum. M. filia N. de Okele appellat J. C. pro raptu & pace Regis fracta die Martis prox. &c. Inter Canem & Lupum, i. in crepusculo, scilicet, Anglice Twilight, i. inter diem & noctem, &c. Inter placita de Trin. 7 E. 1. Rot. 12 Glouc. — In placit. de domo combusta malitiose, hora vespertina, sc. Inter Canem & Lupum venerunt malefactores, &c. Plac. Cor. apud Novum Castrum. 24 E. 1. Rot. 6. This in Herefordshire, they call the Mock Shadow, corruptly the Mock Shade; and in the North, Day-light's Gate, others betwixt Hawk and Buzzard.

Intercommoning is where the Commons of two Manors lie together, and the Inhabitants of both have Time out of Mind depastured their Cattle promiscuously in each.

Interdicted of Water and Fire Were, in old Time, those who for some Crime were banished; by which Judgment, tho' not by express Sentence pronounced, yet by giving Order that no Man should receive them into his House, but deny Fire and Water; they were condemned, as it were, to a civil Death; and this was called Legitimum exilium. Livy.

Interdictio, (Interdictio, and Interdictum) has the same Signification in the Common, as it hath in the Canon Law, which thus defines it: Interdictio est censura Ecclesiastica prohibens administrationem divinorum. And so it is used 22 Hen. 8. cap. 12. & 25 ejusdem, cap. 25. Eodem Anno relaxatum est Interdictum Oxonia, quod auctoritate Domini Sub. Episcopi Linc. propter Clericidium & sacrilegia Anno proximo preterito fuit illatum. Walf. Hist. Anno 1557. So that an Interdict is a general Excommunication of a whole Country or Province: 'Tis mentioned in some of our Historians, viz. Knighon tells us, Anno 1208, That the Pope excommunicated King John, and all his Adherents, Et totam terram Anglicanam supposuit interdicto, which began the first Sunday after Easter, and continued six Years and one Month, during all which Time nothing was done in the Churches besides Baptism and Confessions of dying People: The Form of it is thus:

" In the Name of Christ, We (the Bishop) in
" the behalf of the Father, Son, and Holy Ghost, " and in behalf of St. Peter, the Chief of the " Apostles, and in our own Behalf, do excom" municate and interdict this Church, and all the " Chapels thereunto belonging, that no Man
" from henceforth may have Leave either of " God, or St. Peter, the Chief of the Apostles,
" to sing Mass, or to hear it, or in any wise to " administer any Divine Office, nor to receive " God's Tithes without our Leave. And who" ever shall presume to sing or hear Mass, or per" form any divine Office, or receive God's " Tithes, contrary to this Interdict, on the Part " of God the Father Almighty, and of the Son,
" and of the Holy Ghost; and on the Behalf " of St. Peter, and all the Saints, let him be " excommunicated and accursed, and separated
" from all Christian Society, and from entering " into Holy Mother Church, where there is " Forgiveness of Sins; and let him be Anathe" ma maran atha for ever with the Devils in " Hell. Fiat, Fiat, Fiat. Amen. Du Cange.

Interesse, Interest of Money, as distinguished from the Principal. — Socii Mercatores Senenses trahunt Elyensem Episcopum in causam coram Magistro Alexandro de Freniya Judice a Domino Papa Delegato, super trecentis marcis de sorte, & centum marcis de interesse. 40 H. 3. Prynnne Collect. tom. 2. pag. 560.

Interesse, Interesse, Is usually taken for a Term, or Chattels real, and more particularly for a future Term; in which Case, it is said in Pleading. That he is possessed de interesse termini: But ex vi Termini in a legal Sense, it extends to Estates, Right and Titles that a Man hath of, in, or to, or out of Lands; for he is truly said to have an Interest in them. Co. on Lit. fol. 345.

Interlocutory Order, Ordo interlocutorius, Is that which decides not the Cause, but only settles some intervening Matter relating to the Cause; as where an Order is made, by Motion in Chancery, for the Plaintiff to have an Injunction to quiet his Possession, till the Hearing of the Cause. This, or any such Order, not being final, is Interlocutory.

Interpleader. See Enterpleader.

Intertitri, i. e. To Sequester or put in a third Hand, viz. When any Thing is stolen, and sold to another, and afterwards demanded by the right Owner of him in whose Possession 'tis found; it was usual to sequester the Thing to a third Person, who was to keep it till the Buyer produced the Seller, and so on to the Thief. Leg. Inæ apud Brompton. cap. 27. 52. 29. Leg. Edw. Confessor. cap. 25.

Intestate, Intestati, There are two Kinds of Intestates, one that makes no Will at all; another that makes a Will, and nominates Executors but they refuse; in which Case he dies as an Intestate, and the Ordinary commits Administration. 2 par. Inst. fol. 397. See the Stat. 22 & 23 Car. 2. cap. 5.

In former Times, he who died Intestate was accounted damned, because (as Matt. Paris tells us) he was obliged by the Canons, to leave at least a tenth Part of his Goods to pious Uses, for the Redemption of his Soul, and therefore, who neglected so to do, took no Care of his own Salvation; they made no Difference between a Suicide and an Intestate, for as in the one Case, the Goods were forfeited to the King, so in the other they were forfeited to the Chief Lord.

But because it was accounted a very wicked Thing to die without making any Distribution of his Goods to pious Uses, and such Cases often happened by sudden Deaths, therefore by subsequent Constitutions, the Bishops had Power to make such Distribution as the Intestate himself was bound to do, and this was called Elemosynarationabilis. Thus in Matt. Paris, Anno 1190. we read, Si quis subitanea morte vel quolibet casu praoccupatus fuisset ut de rebus suis disponere non posset, distributio bonorum ejus Ecclesiastica fiebat auctoritate: And it was by this Means that the Spiritual Courts came first to have Jurisdiction in testamentary Cases.

Intingiri. See Wentash.

Intertie. See Intertie.

Intol & Utol, Toll or Custom paid for Things imported and exported, or bought in, and sold out. In the Charter of Hen. 1. to the Church of St. Peter in York — habebant Canonici in domibus & terris suis joccam & jaccam tol & theam intol & utol & Infangenthoof, &c. MS.

Intrare mariscum, To drain any low wet Marsh or Bog, and by Dikes, Walls, &c. to reduce it to herbage or pasture Ground, to inne or take in. Whence many of the lowest Grounds in Romney Marsh, are called the Innings. Vide Will. Thorn. sub anno 1281. Intrare terram, to inn Ground from the Sea.

Intrusion,

Intrusion, Intruso, Is when the Ancestor dies seized of any Estate of Inheritance, expectant upon an Estate for Life; and then Tenant for Life dies, between whose Death, and the Entry of the Heir, a Stranger doth interpose and intrude. Co. on Lit. fol. 277. lib. 5. cap. 8. sect. 475. Bracton, lib. 4. cap. 2. to the same Purpose defines it thus, Intrusio est ubi quis, cui nullum jus competit in re nec f. intilla juris, possessionem vacuam ingreditur, qua nec animo nec corpore possidetur, &c. with whom agreeeth Fleta, l. 4. c. 30. sect. 1 & 2. Eritton, c. 65. The New Book of Entries, verbo Entrusion. See Entrusion. See Disseisin. See also Abatement, and the Stat. 21 Jac. cap. 14.

Intrusion Is a Writ that lies against the Intruder. Regist. fol. 233.

Inviaduari, To engage Lands, to mortgage.—habenda sibi & heredibus — & cuicunque dare, vendere, inviaduari, assignare, &c. voluerint. Puroch. Antiq. p. 262.

Inviaduationes, Mortgages or Pledges, Confirmamus eis omnes alias donationes, venditiones & inviaduationes rationabiliter factas. Mon. Angl. 1 par. fol. 478.

Inviaduatius Is when one has been accused of some Crime, which being not fully proved, he is put sub debita fidejussione.

Invasiones. In the Inquisition of Serjeancies and Knights Fees in the 12 and 13 Years of King John, there be some Titles under the Character of Invasiones: And de Invasionibus, and Invasiones super Regem.

Inventiones, Treasure-trove, Money or Goods found by any Person, and not challenged by any Owner, which therefore by Common Law was due to the King, who granted the Privilege to some particular Subjects. As King Edw. 1. granted to his Barons of the Cinque Ports — quod habeant inventiones suas in mari & in terra. — Placit. temp. Edw. 1. & Edw. 2. MS. f. 89.

Inventory, Inventorium, Is a Description or Report, orderly made of all dead Mens Goods and Chattels, prised by four or more credible Men; which every Executor or Administrator is bound to exhibit to the Ordinary at such Times as he shall appoint. West. Symbol. part 1. lib. 2. sect. 696. where likewise you may see the Form. This Inventory proceeds from the Civil Law, for whereas by the ancient Law of the Romans, the Heir was obliged to answer all the Testator's Debts, by which means Heritages were more prejudicial to many than profitable; Justinian, to encourage Men the better to take upon them this charitable Office, ordained, that if the Heir would make and exhibit a true Inventory of all the Testator's Goods coming to his Hands, he should be no further charged than to the Value of the Inventory. Lib. ult. Cod. de jure deliberando, &c.

In ventre fa mere, French, in the Mother's Belly: Is a Writ mentioned in the Register; and Anno 12 Car. 1. cap. 24.

Invest, Investire, Is derived of the French Word Investre, and signifies to give Possession. Hotoman de verbis feudalis, verbo Investitura: Investitura barbarum nomen, barbaricam quoque rationem habet, nam ut ait feudista lib. 2. tit. 2. Investitura proprie dicitur quando hasta vel aliquod corporeum traditur a domino. We use likewise to invest the Tenants, by delivering them a Verge or Rod in their Hands, and ministering them an Oath, which is called Investing. Others define it thus, Investitura est in suum jus alienius introductio, a giving Livery of Seisin or Possession. In the Church it was the Custom of old for Princes to promote such as they liked to Ecclesiastical Benefices, and declare their Choice, and the Promotion of the Persons chosen, by Delivery of a Pastoral Staff and Ring, which was termed In uesting; after which they were consecrated by Ecclesiastical Persons.

At first Investitures were made by a Form of Words, afterwards by such Things which had most Resemblance to what was to be transferred; as Land passed by the Delivery of a Turf; and that the Trees and all which did grow on the Land might likewise be transferred at the same Time, it was usual to cut a Bough, which was delivered by the Grantor, to the Person to whom the Land was granted.

But in after Ages, the Things by which Investitures were made, were not so exactly observed: This appears by Ingulphus, pag. 901. viz. Conferebatur etiam primo multa predia nudo verbo, absque scripto vel Charta, tantum cum Domini gladio, galea vel cornu vel cratera, & plurima tenementa cum calcari, cum frugili, cum arca, & nonnulla cum Sagitta.

Hoveden, pag. 724. Tells us, That our King Richard, being taken by the Emperor, gave this Kingdom to him, and investit eum inde per pileum suum, and that the Emperor immediately afterwards returned the Gift: Et investivit eum per duplicem crucem de auro.

Walsingham also mentions, That John Duke of Lancaster was made Duke of Aquitain, per virgam & pileum. pag. 343. And Simeon of Durham lib. 3. De Ecclesia Dunelm. cap. 14. writes, viz. In cuius donationis signum etiam scyphum argenteum obtulit, qui in hac Ecclesia servatus eternam illius facti memoriam retinet.

Investiture, The Customs and Ceremonies of Investiture or giving Possession, were long practised with great Variety, and singular Oddness. Observe this Form of investing a Canon in the Cathedral Church of St. Paul in the Time of Ralph Baldock, Dean about the Year 1295. Cum fuerit quisquam prebenda investendus — induatur habitu Canonico & coram Decano & fratribus in Capitulo se presentet, & pane albo suspensio Regule Canonice in hoc volumine contenta, investiat eum Decanus vel Major presens Decano absente, Dicendo, Nos recipimus te in Canonicum & fratrem, & tradimus tibi regulis observantie formam in volumine isto contentam pro cibo spirituali, & in remedium laboris refectorem in pane corporalem. Panis autem ille committatur Elemosynario ad usus Pauperum. — Ex Libro Statutorum Ecclesie Pauline MS. penes Joh. Ep'm Norwic.

Invitatoria, Those Hymns and Psalms that were sung in the Church to invite the People to Praise God. As Venite Exultemus Domino, Jubilate Deo, &c. In the Statutes of the Church of St. Paul in London, it was ordained, ut vicarii de novo recepti, & in posterum recipiendi, singulis diebus infra annum probationis sue unum nocturnum Psalterii ita dicant attente & Impnarium ac communem Sanctorum Historiam, Invitatoria, & Venitarium adeo diligenter interea repetant quod ea corde tenus, &c. Liber Statutorum Ecclesie Pauline MS. penes Joh. Ep'm Norwic.

Investce, 12 Car. 2. cap. 34. Is a Particular of the Value, Custom and Charges of any Goods sent by a Merchant in another Man's Ship, and conconfigned to a Factor or Correspondent in another Country.

Enure Signifies to take Effect, as the Pardon inureth. Staud. prer. fol. 40. See Enure.

Jobber Is used for one that buys or sells Cattle for others. Stat. 22 & 23 Car. 2.

Jocalia. (Fr. Joyaux.) Jewels. Edward the First employed one Andewar, ad Jocalia sua impignora. Claus. 29 Edw. 1. Prætereā considerantes gratiam subventionem, quam præfati Abbas & Monachi (Rading) nobis fecerunt de magnis & preciosis Jocalibus ac aliis rebus suis in subsidium expensarum & sumptuum, quos circa præfens passagium nostrum versus partes transmarinas, &c. In Mem. Scac. de Anno 20 Edw. 3. Trin. Rot. 3. The Word is derived from the Lat. Focus, Foculus, and Focula, which seems to comprehend every Thing that delights us; but in a more restrained Sense, to those Things which are Ornaments to Women, and which in France they call their own, as Ear-Rings, Bracelets, &c. But Du Fresne tells us, that at Arvagon, in Spain, the Question was, whether a Woman's Cloaths would pass by the Devise of her Jewels? And that the Judge upon great Deliberation, and consulting with others, was of Opinion they did not pass.

Jocari, i. e. To contend with Pikes. Cristino die quidam milites Anglici strenue nimis & viriliter Jocabantur. Mat. Paris. Anno 1252.

Jocarius, A Jester. In a Deed of Richard, Abbot of Bernay, to Henry Love, sine dat. among the Witnesses to it was Willielmo tunc Jocariorum Domini Abbatis. But in Domesday 'tis said Berdie was Joculator Regis, the King's Jester.

Joculet, (Sax.) Prædolum, agri colendi portunculæ. A little Farm or Manor, in some Parts of Kent a Yoklet, as requiring but a small Yoke of Oxen to till it. Sax. Dist.

Jocus partitus. 'Tis so called when two Proposals are made, and a Man hath Liberty to choose which he will. Nec potest transigere, nec pacisci, nec Jocum partitum facere, nec aliud. Bracton, lib. 4. tract. 1. cap. 32. par. 2. Etiā si apparentibus partibus queruletur & respondeatur, sive loquela per non tenuram vel per quemcunque Bipertit Jocum cavilleter, &c. Hengham Magn. cap. 4.

Joinder Is the coupling or joining of Two in a Suit or Action against another. F. N. B. fol. 118, 201, 221. and in many other Places, as appearing in the Index, verbo Joinder.

Joining of Issue, Functio Exitus. See Issue.

Joint-tenants, Simul tenentes, or qui conjunctim tenent, Lib. Inventionum, Tit. Formedon in View, 3. be those that come to, and hold Lands or Tenements by one Title pro indiviso, or without Partition. Co. on Litt. lib. 3. cap. 3. sect. 277. These are distinguished from sole or several Tenants, from Parceners, and from Tenants in common; and anciently they were called Participes, and not Heredes: And these must jointly implead, and jointly be impleaded by others, which properly is common between them and Coparceners; but Joint-tenants have a sole Quality of Survivorship, which Coparceners have not; for if there be two or three Joint-tenants, and one hath Issue and dies, then he or those Joint-tenants, that survive, shall have the Whole by Survivorship. See Co. on Litt. ibid. sect. 180. See more of this Terms de la ley, verbo Joint-tenants.

Jointure, Functura, Is a Covenant whereby the Husband, or some other Friend in his Behalf, assureth unto his Wife, in respect of Marriage, Lands or Tenements for Term of Life, or otherwife. West. Symbol. part 2. lib. 2. Tit. Covenants, sect. 128. 27 H. 8. cap. 10. It is so called either because granted ratione juncture in matrimonio, or because the Land in Frank-marriage is given jointly to the Husband and Wife, and after to the Heirs of their Bodies, whereby the Husband and Wife be made Joint-tenants, during the Coverture. Co. lib. 3. Butler and Baker's Case, fol. 27. See Frank-marriage. Jointure is also used as the Abstract of Joint-tenants. Co. lib. 3. fol. 3. Marquest of Winchester's Case. Functura is also by Brañon and Fleta used for joining of one Bargain to another. Fleta, lib. 2. cap. 60. And therefore Jointure in the first Signification may be so called, in respect that it is a Bargain of Liveliness for the Wife, adjoined to the Contract of Marriage. See also the Terms of the Law, eodem verbo.

Jostum, Gistum. Agistment or commonly pronounced Juicement, feeding or pasturing of Cattel. — Ego Thomas Gybylan, Capellanus Elius Philippi Fil. Osberti de S. Edmundo. — confirmavi Deo & beato Edmundo — totum jus & clameum meum quod unquam habui vel habere potui in herbagio & josto in suburbio ville S. Edmundi, &c. — Cartular. S. Edmundi. MS. p. 242.

Jotton. See Jessen & Flotzon.

Journays Accompts, Dieta computate, Is a Term in the Law, to be thus understood: If a Writ is abated without the Default of the Plaintiff or Demandant, but merely by Default of the Clerk, either for false Latin, Variance, or want of Form; or by Default of the Sheriff, as for want of a good Summons; in all these Cases the Plaintiff may purchase a new Writ, which if it be purchased by Journays Accompts, that is, within as little Time as possible after the Abatement of the first Writ, (and the Space of fifteen Days has been held a convenient Time for the Purchase of it) then this second Writ shall be as a Continuance of the First. But where the first Writ abateth by the Default of the Demandant himself, as by mistaking the Name of the Tenant or of the Vill; or where it abateth for Non-tenure of the Whole; as it ought, because the first Writ was brought without any Manner of Cause; in all these Cases the Plaintiff shall not have a new Writ by Journays Accompts. This Writ must be brought in the same Court where the first Writ was, and of the same Quantity in that Writ contained: It must be between those who are Parties to the First, as where one of the Plaintiffs or Defendants dies; but in no Case where there is but one Plaintiff: Nor will it lie except where the first Writ is served and returned on Record. Vide Co. Rep. 6. fol. 9. Spencer's Case.

Journal, A Diary or Day-Book. Journals of Parliaments are not Records, but only Remembrances: And are neither of Necessity, nor have been of long Continuance. See Hab. Rep. fol. 109.

Journey-choppers, 8 H. 6. 5. Were Regrators of Yarn; whence the first Part of the Word is derived, is somewhat obscure: But Choppers are to this Time known to be Changers: As to Chop and Change is a familiar Phrase. See Chop-Chirch.

Journey-man Cometh of the French Word Journee, that is, a Day or Day's Work; so that properly properly it is one that wrought with another by the Day, though now by the Statute made Anno quinto Eliz. cap. 4. it be extended to those likewise, that covenant to work with another in his Trade or Occupation by the Year.

Irre ad largum, To go at large, to escape, to be set at Liberty, is a Term frequent in the Law.

Iron-moulds, Yellow Lumps or Clods of Earth, or softer Stone, found amongst Chalk in most Pits among the Chiltern Parts of Oxfordshire, which are indeed a Sort of indigested Iron Oar.

Irregularity, Irregularitas, Disorder: In the Canon Law it is taken for an Impediment, which hinders a Man from taking Holy Orders; as if he be base born, notoriously defamed of any notable Crime, maimed, or much deformed, or has consented to procure another's Death, and the like.

Irrepleviable or Irreplevisable, That neither may nor ought to be replevied or set at large upon Sureties, as the Distress shall be irreplevisable. 13 E. 1. cap. 2.

Ista Cammoniozum, Excester.

Ista flubius, the River Ex in Devonshire.

Ista Legio Angusta, Caveleton in Monmouthshire.

Iscalis, Ilchester.

Ishglafs, Gluten Piscium, A Kind of Fish-glue or Fish-gum brought from Island, and those Parts, and used in Medicines, and by some in the adulterating of Wines, but for that prohibited by a Statute made 12 Car. 2. c. 25.

Issue, Exitus, Cometh of the French Issue, i. emanare: It hath divers Applications in the Common Law, sometimes being used for the Children begotten between a Man and his Wife; sometimes for Profit growing from Amerciaments or Fines; and sometimes for Profits of Lands or Tenements. West. 2. 13 Ed. 1. cap. 39. Sometimes for that Point of Matter depending in Suit, whereupon the Parties join, and put their Cause to the Trial of the Jury: And yet in all these it hath but one Signification, which is an Effect of a Cause preceding, as the Children be the Effect of the Marriage between the Parents; the Profits growing to the King or Lord, from the Punishment of any Man's Offence, is the Effect of his Transgression; the Point referred to the Trial of Twelve Men, is the Effect of Pleading or Process. Issue in this Signification is either general or special; General Issue seemeth to be that whereby it is referred to the Jury, to bring in their Verdict, whether the Defendant have done any such Thing, as the Plaintiff layeth to his Charge. For Example, if it be an Offence against any Statute, and the Defendant plead Not guilty; this being put to the Jury, is called The general Issue. And if a Man complain of a private Wrong, which the Defendant denieth, and pleads no Wrong nor Dissession; and this be referred to the Jury, it is likewise the general Issue. Kitchin, fol. 225. See Doff. and Stud. fol. 158. The special Issue then must be that, where special Matter being alleged by the Defendant for his Defence, both Parties join thereupon, and so go either to a Demurrer, if it be questio juris, or to Trial by the Jury, if it be questio facti, 4 H. 8. 3. 18 Eliz. cap. 12. and the New Book of Entries, verbo Issue. See Exitus.

Isturtum, Aldborough in Yorkshire.

Itinerant, Itinerans, Travelling, or taking a Journey. Those were anciently called Justices itinerant, who were sent with a Commission into divers Counties to hear such Causes especially as were termed Pleas of the Crown, and the Justices themselves were called Iters. See Justices in Eyre.

Ituma, The River Eden in Cumberland.

Jubilee Was first instituted by Boniface VIII. in the Year 1300. who granted a Plenary Indulgence and Remission of Sins to all those who should visit the Churches of St. Peter and St. Paul at Rome in that Year, and stay there fifteen Days: And this he ordered to be observed once in every Hundred Years, which Clement VI. reduced to fifty Years in the Year 1350. and to be held upon the Day of the Circumcision of our Saviour. Urban the IVth, in the Year 1389, reduced it to every thirty-three Years, that being the Age of our Saviour. And that every Age might partake of this Benefit, Sixtus VI. Anno 1475. reduced it to every twenty-five Years.

One of our Kings, viz. Edward II. caused his Birth-Day to be observed in the Nature of a Jubilee, when he was fifty Years old, and not before or after: And this he did by releasing Prisoners; by pardoning all Offences, except Treasons; and by making good Laws, and granting many Privileges to the People. And because when a Jubilee was first instituted, it was ordered to be observed every Hundred Years; therefore Jubilæus signified afterwards a Man One hundred Years old, and likewise a Possession or Prescription for Fifty Years. Si ager non invenietur in scriptis inquiratur de senioribus, &c. Et si sub certo Jubilæo mansit, sine vituperatione maneat in æternum. Du Fresne.

Judaism, (Judaismus), the Custom, Religion, or Rites of the Jews: Also the Income heretofore accruing to the King from the Jews; for we find in several Charters, Judaismus nostrum Anglia. Also the Place or Street where the Jews live, as in Hister. Oxon. fol. 132. And Vetus Judaismus for the Old-Jury in London. The Word was often used by Way of Exception in old Deeds; as, Scient, Quod ego Rogerus de Morice dedi Willielmo Harding pro tribus marcis argenti, unum crostum, habend. de me & heredibus meis sibi & heredibus ejus, vel ejus assignatis & eorum heredibus cuicunque, quocunque vel quodocunque dictum Crostum dare, vendere, legare, invadiare, vel aliquo modo assignare voluerint, in quocunque statu fuerint, libere, quiete, integre, bene & in pace, excepta religione & Judaismo, &c. Sine dat. The Statute of Judaismo was made 3 Ed. 1. at which Parliament the King had a Fifteenth granted him pro expulsiōe Judeorum.

Judaismus was anciently used for a Mortgage. Pro hac autem donatione dederunt mihi dicti Abbas & Canonici sex Marcas Sterl. ad acquietandam terram predictam de Judaismo, in quo fuit impignovata per Rob. fratrem meum, &c. Ex magno Rot. Pipæ, de Anno 9 E. 2.

Here in England, in former Times, the Jews and all their Goods belonged to the chief Lord where they lived; and he had such an absolute Property in them, that he might sell them; for they had not Liberty to remove to another Lord without Leave. This appears in Mat. Paris. pag.

521, 606. where we read that Henry III. sold the Jews to Earl Richard his Brother for a certain Term of Years, that quas Rex excoriaverat, Comes evisceraret.

They were distinguished from the Christians both living and dying; for they had proper Judges and Courts, wherein their Causes were decided; and they wore a Badge on their outward Garments upon the Breast in the Shape of a Table, and were fined if they went abroad without such Badge. They were never buried in the Country, but brought up to London, and there buried without the Walls. But Henry I. gave Leave that they might be buried without the Walls of any other City.

Judaismus is also taken for the Mansion or Dwelling-place of the Jews in any Town; as Wigorniam cepit & intravit, & Judaismus evertit. Rishangor, pag. 668. And it sometimes signifies Ufury: as, Empta sunt grangia, &c. & Domus obligata in magnis debitis in Judaismo. Mon. 1 Tom. p. 834.

Judge and Judges, Judex & judices, All their Commissions are bounded with this express Limitation, Facturi quod ad justitiam pertinet secundum legem & consuetudinem Anglie. The Judge at his Creation takes an Oath, That he shall indifferently minister Justice to all them that shall have any Suit or Plea before him, and this he shall not forbear to do, though the King by his Letters, or by express Word of Mouth, should command the Contrary, &c. It is a Maxim in the Law, Aliquis non debet esse Judex in propria causa. King Henry the Fourth, when his eldest Son the Prince was by the Lord Chief Justice, for some great Misdemeanors, committed to Prison, thanked God that he had a Son of that Obedience, and a Judge so impartial, and of such undaunted Courage; the Story is well known, and may be read at large both in Stow and Daniel, in vita H. 5. Fortescue in his Book de Laudibus legum Anglie 53. speaketh of a Judge, complaining of a Judgment given against a Gentlewoman of Salisbury, who being accused by her own Man, without any other Proof, for murdering her Husband, was thereupon condemned and burnt: The Man, who accused her, being within a Year after convicted for the same Offence, confessed, That his Mistress was altogether Innocent of that cruel Fact. But this Judge (as the same Author Adds) sepius mihi fassus est, quod nunquam in vita sua animum ejus de hoc facto purgaret. In septimo H. 4. the King demanded of Gafoigne Justice, If he saw one in his Presence kill J. S. and another (which was not culpable) should be indicted of this before him, what he would do in this Case? To which he answered, That he ought to respite the Judgment against him, and to relate the Matter fully to the King to procure him a Pardon; for there he cannot acquit him, and give Judgment according to his private Knowledge. But where they have a judicial Knowledge, there they may and ought to give Judgment according to that. See the like Case determined by King James, in his Disputations at Oxford. Rex Plat. p. 109, 113, 114, 115. Plow. f. 83. Partridge against Sirange.

Judger. In Cheshire to be Judger of a Town is to serve at the Lord's Court on the Jury. Leicester's Anti. f. 302.

Judgment, Judicium, quasi juris dictum, Is the Censure of the Judges so called, and is the very Voice and final Doom of the Law; and therefore is always taken for unquestionable Truth. The ancient Words of Judgment are very significant, viz. Consideratum est per curiam, &c. because Judgment is or ought to be given by the Court, upon Consideration of the Record before them; and in every Judgment there ought to be three Persons, viz. Actor, reus & Judex: Of Judgments some be final, and some not final. See Co. on Lit. f. 39. and Co. 9. Rep. Downam's Case.

Judgment or Trial by the Holy Cross Was a Trial in Ecclesiastical Causes, in Use long since among our Saxons. See Cressy's Church History fol. 965.

Judicium Dei, The Judgment of God, so our Ancestors called those now prohibited Trials of Ordeal, and its several Kinds, Si se super defendere non possent Judiciio Dei, scilicet, Aqua vel ferro, fieret de eo justitia. Leges Ed. Conf. cap. 16. See Spelman's Gloss. on this Word, and Dr. Brady in his Glossary at the End of his Introduct. to Eng. History. See Suthdore.

Juncaria or Joucaria, (from juncus, the Latin Word for a Rush;) is a Soil or Place where Rushes grow. Co. on Lit. fol. 5. Cum Piscariis, Turbariis, Juncariis, & communibus pasturis ad messuagium predictum pertinet. Pat. 6 Ed. 3. p. 1. m. 25.

Juridical Days, (Dies juridici) Days on which the Law is administered, Days in Court. See Dies.

Jurisdiction (Jurisdiclio) Is an Authority or Power which a Man hath to do Justice in Causes of Complaint made before him. Of which there are two Kinds: The one which a Man hath by Reason of his Fee, and by Virtue thereof does Right in all Plaints concerning the Lands of his Fee: The other is a Jurisdiction given by the Prince to a Bailiff. Which Division I have in the Customary of Normandy, cap. 2. which is not unapt for the Practice of our Commonwealth; for by him whom they call a Bailiff, we may understand all that have Commission from the Prince to give Judgment in any Cause. See Sir Edw. Coke's Proemium to his 4 Inst. The Civilians divide Jurisdictionem into Imperium & Jurisdictionem, & Imperium in merum & mixtum; of which you may read several Tractates.

Juris utrum Is a Writ which lies for the Incumbent, whose Predecessor hath alienated his Lands and Tenements. The divers Uses whereof see in Fitz. Nat. Brev. f. 48.

Juroz, Jurator, Is one of those Twenty-four or Twelve Men, which are sworn to declare a Truth upon such Evidence as shall be given them touching the Matter in Question, of which see F. N. B. f. 165, and the Statute 16 & 17 Car. 2. For returning able and sufficient Jurors.

Jurnale, The Journal or Diary of Accounts in a religious House. — Ut patet per Jurnale hoc anno — ut patet per predictum Jurnale. Paroch. Antiq. p. 571. From the French Jour, a Day. Whence Journey was at first properly but one Days Travel. And our Ploughmen now use the Word in strict and original Sense; for they call one Day's Travel, or Work at Plough, a Journey or Journe. Hence a Journeyman is one who works by the Day, &c. See Jurnedum.

Jurnedum, A Journey, or one Day's Traveling. — Among the customary Duties done by the Tenants of Chebenkale. — Si opus fuerit & Dominus voluerit, ipse avertabit pannos suos cum cuballo suo ad Sanctum Edmundum, vel alias per unum Jurnedum semel in anno — Cartular. Sancti Edmundi MS. f. 401.

Jurr, Jurata, May be derived from the Latin Jurare, to swear, and signifies either Twenty-four or Twelve Men sworn to enquire of the Matter of Fact, and declare the Truth upon such Evidence as shall be delivered them, touching the Matter in Question. Of which Jury, who may, and who may not be impanelled, see F. N. B. f. 165. And here observe, That in England there be three Sorts of Trials, viz. one by Parliament, another by Battel, and the third by Assise or Fury. Smith de Rep. Angl. lib. 2. cap. 5, 6, 7. Of the two Former read him, and see Battel, Combat and Parliament. The Trial by Assise, (be the Action civil or criminal, publick or private, personal or real,) is referred for the Fact to a Jury, and as they find it, so passeth the Judgment; and the great Favour that by this the King shews to his Subjects, more than the Princes of other Nations, you may read in Glauvil, lib. 2. cap.

7. where he calls it, Regale beneficium clementis principis de consilio Procerum populis indultum, quo vite hominum & status integritati tam salubriter consulitur, ut in jure, quod quis in libero soli tenemento possidet, retinendo, duelli casum declinare possint homines ambiguum, &c. This Jury is not only used in Circuits of Justices Errant, but also in other Courts and Matters of Office, as if the Escheator make Inquisition in any Thing touching his Office, he doth it by Jury or Inquest. If the Coroner enquire how a Subject found dead, came to his End, he useth an Enquest. The Justices of Peace in their Quarter-Sessions, The Sheriff in his County and Turn, the Bailiff of a Hundred, the Steward of a Court-Leet or Court-Baron, if they enquire of any Offence, or decide any Cause between Party and Party, they do it in the same Manner: So that where it is said, All Things be triable by Parliament, Battel or Assise, Assise in this Place is taken for a Jury or Enquest, empanelled upon any Cause in a Court where this Kind of Trial is used; and though it be commonly supposed that this Custom of ending and deciding Causes proceeded from the Saxons and Britains, and was of Favour permitted to us by the Conqueror; yet I find by the Grand Customary of Normandy, cap. 24. that this Course was likewise used in that Country; for Assise is in that Chapter, defined to be an Assembly of wise Men, with the Bailiff, in a Place certain, at a Time assigned Forty Days before, whereby Justice may be done in Causes heard in the Court: Of this Custom also, and those Knights of Normandy, Johannes Faber maketh Mention in the Rubrick of the Title de militari testamento, in Institut. This Jury though it appertains to most Courts of the Common Law, yet it is most notorious in the half Year Courts of the Justices Errants commonly called the Great Assises; and in the Quarter-Sessions, and in them it is most ordinarily called a Jury, and that in civil Causes; whereas in other Courts it is termed oftner an Enquest and in the Court-Baron, a Jury of the Homage: In the General Assise, there are usually many Juries, because there be Store of Causes both civil and criminal, commonly to be tried; whereof one is called The Grand Jury, and the rest Petit Juries, whereof it seemeth there should be one for every Hundred. Lamb. Eirenarch. lib. 4. cap. 3. pag. 384. The Grand Jury consists ordinarily of Twenty-four grave and substantial Gentlemen, or some of the better Sort of Yeomen, chosen indifferently by the Sheriff out of the whole Shire, to consider of all Bills of Indictment preferred to the Court, which they do either approve by Writing upon them Billa vera, or disallow by indorsing Ignoramus: Such as they do approve, if they touch Life and Death, are farther referred to another Jury to be considered of, because the Case is of such Importance; but others of lighter Moment are, upon their Allowance, without more Work, fined by the Bench, except the Party traverse the Indictment, or challenge it for Insufficiency, or remove the Cause to a higher Court by Certiorari; in which two former Cases it is referred to another Jury, and in the later transmitted to a higher Court. Lamb. Eir. lib. 4. cap. 7. and presently upon the Allowance of this Bill by the Grand Inquest, a Man is said to be indicted; such as they disallow, are delivered to the Bench, by whom they are forthwith cancelled or torn. The Petit Jury consists of Twelve

Mer.

Men at the least, and are empanelled as well upon criminal as upon civil Causes: Those that pass upon Offences of Life and Death, do bring in their Verdict either Guilty, or Not guilty, whereupon the Prisoner, if he be found guilty, is said to be convicted, and so afterwards receiveth his Judgment and Condemnation, or otherwise is acquitted, and set free: Of this read Fortescue, cap. 47. Those that pass upon civil Causes real, are all, or so many as can conveniently be had, of the same Hundred, where the Land or Tenement in Question doth lie, being four at the least, and they upon due Examination bring in their Verdict either for the Demandant or Tenant. Of this also see Fortescue, cap. 25, 26 according to which, Judgment passeth afterward in the Court, where the Cause began: And the Reason hereof is, because these Justices of Assize are in this Case, for the Ease of the Country, only to take the Verdict of the Fury by Virtue of the Writ called Nisi prius, and so return it to the Court where the Cause is depending. See Nisi prius, and Lambard in his Explication of Saxon Words, verbo Centuria; His Words are these, In singulis centuriis Comitatu sunt, atque libere conditionis viri duodecim etate superiores, una cum Praeposito sacra tenentes, jurant, se adeo virum aliquem innocentem haud condemnaturus, sententiae absoluturos. See also the Customary of Normandy, cap. 69. Vide etiam Enquest. See Twelve Men, and Lambard's Eiren. lib. 4. c. 3. pag. 384. Mr. Sberingham, in his De Anglorum gentis origine, derives the Origin of our Jury from a great Antiquity: Quod autem Wodenus (Algaridia Rex) dicitur duodecim regni proceres sibi assumpsisse, indeque iurificandi in populum provinciam dedisse, hinc forte illa nunquam apud nos satis laudanda consuetudo invaluit, qua duodecim iuratis viris, quos patri sermone a Jury idcirco vocamus, tota iuris decernendi & litium expediendi potestas concessa est. P. 272. This Trial by Jury was anciently called Duodecim virale Judicium.

We read it likewise in the Laws of King Aethelred, made by him at Wantage, a Town in Berkshire, viz. Habeantur placita in singulis Wapentakiis ut exeant seniores duodecim Thyrni & praepositus cum eis jurent super sanctuarium quod eis dabitur in manus, quod neminem innocentem velint accusare vel noxium conelare. This true, this may seem to intend the Number of the Judges, and not of the Fury: But the Fury themselves in some Cases are Judges, that is, they are Judges of the Fact, and the Judge is bound to give Sentence according to their Verdict of the Fact.

fol. 10. So Mon. Angl. tom. 1. pag. 149. Percipiet etiam quilibet Fratrum—cotidie iustas duas de cerevisia. Whence it is plain, that Justa was some Por, or liquid Measure.

Justes (Fr. Juste, i. e. Decursus, Lat. Fuxta) were Contention between Martial Men and Persons of Honour, with Spears on Horseback, by way of Exercises, and singly. Anno 24. Hen. 8. cap. 13. Editum Regis Edw. 1. prohibendo sub forisfactura omnium qua forisfactura possint, quod non Torneant, Bodeant, Adventuras Quarant, Justas faciant seu ad arma praesumant sine Licentia Regis. Pal. 29 Edw. 1. Essex 101. See Tournament. And it differed from Tournaments as Species doth from Genus; because Tournaments were all Sorts of military Contentions, and consisted of many Men in Troops: But Justs were usually between two Men, and no more.

Justice, Justiciarius, Signifies him that is deputed by the King to do Right by way of Judgment; the Reason why he is called Justice and not Judex, is, because in ancient Times the Latin Word for him was Justicia, and not Justiciarius, as appeareth by Glanville, lib. 2. cap. 6. and Rog. Hoveden, part. poster. suor. annal. fo. 413. Another Reason why they are called Justiciarii, and not Judices, is, because they have their Authority by Deputation, as Delegates to the King, and not jure Magistratus, and therefore cannot depute others in their stead, the Justice of the Forest only excepted, who hath that Liberty especially given him by 32 H. 8. 35. for the Chancellor, Marshal, Admiral, and such like, are not called Justiciarii, but Judices: Of these Justices there are divers Sorts in England, of the Manner of whose Creation with other Appurtenances, read Fortescue, c. 51. These in Magna Charta, c. 12. and other Statutes, are called Justices.

Justice or Chief Justice of the King's Bench, (Capitalis justitia vel justiciarius de Banco Regis, vel ad placita coram rege tenenda) Is a Lord by his Office while he enjoys it, and the Chief of the rest; His Office especially is to hear and determine all Pleas of the Crown, viz. such as concern Offences committed against the Crown, Dignity, and Peace of the King; as Treasons, Felonies, Mayhems, and such like; which you may read in Bracton, lib. 3. tract. 2. per totam, and in Staudf. Pl. Cor. from the first to the 51. chap. of the first Book. He also, with his Assistants, heareth all personal Actions, and real also, if they be incident to his Jurisdiction. See Crompt. Jur. fol. 67. Of this Court Bracton, lib. 3. cap. 7. num. 2. saith thus, Placita vero civilia in rem & personam in Curia Domini Regis terminanda, coram diversis Justiciariis terminantur; & illarum curiarum habet unam propriam, sicut aulam Regiam, & Justiciarios capitales qui proprias causas Regis terminant & aliorum omnium per querelam vel privilegium sive libertatem; ut si sit aliquis qui implicari non debeat, nisi coram Rege. This Justice hath no Patent under the Great Seal, but is made by Writ in this short Form.

REX, &c. R. M. militi salutem. Sciatis quod constituimus vos Justiciarium nostrum Capitalem, ad Placita coram nobis tenenda, quamdiu vos bene gesseritis, &c. Teste, &c.

Of the ancient Dignity of this Chief Justice, thus, Liber niger fiscalis, cap. 4. In Scaccario residet, imo & praesidet, primus in regno Capitalis, scilicet, Justitia. In the Time of King John, and other of our our ancient Kings, it often occurs in Charters of Privileges, Quod non ponatur respondere, nisi coram nobis vel Capitali Justicia nostra. The Oath of the Justices, see in the Stat. 18 Ed. 3. Stat. 4. and in Origines Juridicales, a Catalogue of all the Lords Chief Justices of England. See King's Bench.

He had formerly that Power alone, which afterwards was distributed to three other great Magistrates, that is, he had the Power of the Chief Justice of the Common Pleas, of the Chief Baron of the Exchequer, and of the Master of the Court of Wards. He usually sat in the King's Palace, and there executed that Office which was formerly performed per Comitem Palatii: He determined in that Place all Differences which happened between the Barons and other great Men of the Kingdom, and likewise Causes both Criminal and Civil between other Men. And thus he did till the 9th Year of Henry III. or rather till the 17th of King John, when, at the Request of the Nobility, the King granted that Communia placita non sequerentur Curiam suam, sed in loco certo tenerentur.

He had that Prerogative to be Vicegerent of the Kingdom when any of our Kings went beyond Sea, and was usually chosen to this Office out of the greatest of the Nobility: But his Power was first diminished by Richard I. who made two other Justices, and assigned to each a distinct Jurisdiction, viz. to one the North Parts of England, and to the other the South. And thus it continued till the Beginning of the Reign of Edward I. who reduced them to one Court. And that wife King considering that some former Chief Justices made use of their Power in Prejudice to his Father and Grandfather, did farther diminish their Authority, both as to the Dignity of their Persons, and Extent of their Jurisdiction; for no more were chosen out of the Nobility as formerly, but out of the Common People, who were Men of good Morals, and skilful in the Laws. And now began the Study of the Common Law, and not before; and the Chief Justice was no longer stiled Capitalis Anglie Justiciarius, but Capitalis Justiciarius ad placita coram Rege tenenda, &c.

Justice or Chief Justice of the Common Pleas, Hath also the Title of Lord whilst he enjoys his Office, and is called Dominus Justiciarius Communium Placitorum, vel Dominus Justiciarius de Banco, who with his Assistants did originally, and do yet, hear and determine all Causes at the Common Law, that is, all Civil Causes, as well Personal as Real, between common Persons; wherefore it was called The Court of Common Pleas, in Distinction from The Pleas of the Crown, or the King's Pleas, which are special and appertaining to him only. This Court was appointed to be in a settled Place, and not as other Courts, to follow or attend the King's Court or Palace, as appears by the Stat. 9 H. 3. c. 11. Of its Jurisdiction, see 4 Inst. f. 99. The Justice's Oath, see 13 E. 3. Stat. 4. Thus Bracton, lib. 3. cap. 7. tells us, that Justiciariorum alii sunt perpetui certo loco habitantes sicut in Banco loquelas omnes, &c. terminantes, &c.

Justice of the Forest, Justiciarius Forestæ, Is also a Lord by his Office, and hears and determines all Offences within the Forest, committed against Vert or Venison: Of these there be two, whereof one hath Jurisdiction over all Forests on this side Trent, the other of all beyond. The chief Point of their Jurisdiction consisteth upon the Articles of the King's Charter, called Charta de Foresta, made Anno 9 H. 3. concerning which, see Cambd. Brit. pag. 214. See Protoforestarius. The Court where this Justice sits and determines, is called The Justice-Seal of the Forest, held once every three Years, as you may read in Manwood's Forest Law, cap. 24. He is also called Justice in Eyre of the Forest; and is the only Justice that may appoint a Deputy, by the Statute of 32 H. 8. 35.

Justices of Assise, Justiciarii ad capiendas Assisas, Are such as were wont by special Commission to be sent (as Occasion was offered) into this or that County, to take Assises for the Ease of the Subjects; for whereas these Actions pass always by Jury, so many Men could not, without great Damage and Charge, be brought up to London, and therefore Justices for this Purpose, by Commission particularly authorised, were sent down to them. For it seems, that the Justices of the Common Pleas had no Power to take Assises till the Stat. of 8 R. 2. cap. 2. for by that they were enabled to it, and to deliver Gaols. And the Justices of the King's Bench have by that Statute such Power affirmed unto them, as they had One hundred Years before. These Commissions ad capiendas Assisas, have of late Years been settled and executed only in Lent, and the long Vacation, when the Justices, and other learned Lawyers, may be at leisure to attend those Controversies; whereupon it also falls out, that the Matters that were wont to be heard by more general Commissions of Justices in Eyre, are heard all at one Time with these Assises, which was not so of old, as appears by Bracton, lib. 3. cap. 7. num. 2. Habeat etiam justiciarios itinerantes de Comitatu in Comitatum, quandoque ad omnia placita; quandoque ad quadam specialia, sicut Assisas, &c. & ad Gaolas deliberandas; quandoque ad unam vel duas & non plures. And by this Means the Justices of both Benches being worthily accounted the fittest of all others, and their Assistants, were employed in these Affairs. But no Justice of either Bench, or any other, may be Justices of Assise in his own County, Anno 8 R. 2. 2. and 33 H. 8. 24. And those who now are called Justices of Assise, and twice every Year go the Circuit, by two and two through all England, dispatch their several Businesses by several Commissions. Cromp. Jur. fol. 210. For they have one Commission to take Assises, another to deliver Gaols, another of Oyer and Terminer, &c. That Justices of Assise, and Justices in Eyre did anciently differ, appeareth by 27 E. 3. cap. 5. And that Justices of Assise, and Justices of Gaol-Delivery were divers, is evident by 4 E. 3. 3. The Oath taken by Justices of Assise is all one with that taken by the Justices of the King's Bench. Old Abridgement of Statutes, Tit. Sacramentum justiciariorum. See Oath.

Justices of Oyer and Terminer, Justiciarii ad audiendum & terminandum, Were Justices deputed upon some special or extraordinary Occasions, to hear and determine some peculiar Causes. Fitzherbert in his Nat. Breve saith, That the Commission on d'Oyer and Terminer is directed to certain Persons upon any great Assembly, Insurrections, heinous Misdemeanors, or Trespases committed. And because the Occasion of granting this Commission should be maturely weighed, it is provided by the Statute made 2 E. 3. cap. 2. That no such Commission ought to be granted, but that they shall be dispatched before the Justices of the one Bench or other, or Justices Errant, except for horrible Trespases, and that by the special Favour of the King. The Form of this Commission, see F. N. B. f. 110.

Justices in Eyre, Justiciarii itinerantes, Are so termed of the old French Word, Erre, lier, as (a grand Erre, i. magnis itineribus.) proverbially spoken. These in ancient Time, were sent with Commission into divers Countries to hear such Causes especially, as were termed Pleas of the Crown. And this was done for the Ease of the People, who must else have been hurried to the King's Bench, if the Case were too high for the County-Court: They differed from the Justices of Oyer and Terminer, because they (as we said before) were sent upon one or few special Causes, and to one Place, whereas the Justices in Eyre were sent through the Provinces and Counties of the Land, with more indefinite and general Commission, as appeareth by Bracton, lib. 3. c. 11, 12, 13, and Eritton, cap. 2. And again, because the Justices of Oyer and Terminer were sent uncertainly upon any Upvoer, or other Occasion in the County; but these in Eyre (as Mr. Gwin sets down in the Preface to his Reading,) were sent but every seven Years once, with whom agrees Horne in his Mirror of Justices, lib. 2. cap. queux poient estre a-chours, &c. Et lib. 2. cap. des peches criminals, &c. al luit del Roy, &c. And lib. 3. cap. de Justices in Eyre: Where he also declares what belongs to their Office. [But there is a Book intitled Orig-juridicales, which says, They went often.] These were instituted by King Henry the Second, as Cambd. in his Brit. witnesseth, pag. 104. and Hoveden par. post. suor. annal. fol. 313. hath of them these Words, Justiciarii itinerantes, constituti per Henricum Secundum, qui divisit Regnum suum in sex partes, per quarum singulas tres justiciarios itinerantes constituit, &c. In some respect they resembled our Justices of Assise at present, though their Authority and Manner of Proceeding much differed. Co. on Lit. f. 293.

Justices of Gaol-Delivery, Justiciarii ad Gaolas deliberandas, Are such as are sent with Commission to hear and determine all Causes appertaining to such as for any Offence are cast into the Gaol: Part of his Authority is to punish such as let to Mainprise those Prisoners that be not bailable by Law, nor by the Statute de finibus, cap. 3. F. N. B. fol. 151. These seem in ancient Time to have been sent into the Country upon this several Occasion; but afterwards Justices of Assise were likewise authorised to this. Anno 4 E. 3. cap. 3. There Oath is all one with other of the King's Justices of either Bench. Old Abridgment of Statutes, Tit. Sacramentum justiciariorum. See Oath.

Justicements, From Justicia, All Things belonging to Justice. Co. on Westm. 1. fol. 225. Also the Effects or Execution of Justice, or of Jurisdiction.

Justices of the Jews, (Justiciarii ad Custodiam Judaeorum assignati.) King Richard I. after his Return out of the Holy Land, Anno 1194. appointed particular Justices, Laws, and Orders, for preventing the Frauds, and regulating the Contracts and Uriury of the Jews. Hoveden, parte post. pag. 745. Claufr. 3 Ed. 1. M. 19.

Justices of Labourers Were Justices heretofore appointed to redress the Frowardness of Labouring Men, that would either be idle, or have unreasonable Wages. See 21 E. 3. c. 1. 25. E. 3. c. 8. and 31 E. 3. c. 6.

Justices of Nisi Prius Are all one at this Time with Justices of Assise, for it is a common Adjournment of a Cause in the Common Pleas, to put it off to such a Day, Nisi prius justiciarii venerint ad eas partes ad capiendas Assisas; and upon this Clause of Adjournment they are called Justices of Nisi prius, as well as Justices of Assise, by reason of the Writ or Action that they have to deal in. Their Commission you may see in Crompt. Jur. fol. 204. yet with this Difference between them, that Justices of Assise have Power to give Judgment in a Cause, but Justices of Nisi prius only to take the Verdict. But in the Nature of both their Functions, this seems to be the greatest Difference, that Justices of Nisi prius have to deal in Causes personal as well as real; whereas Justices of Assise, in strict Acceptation, meddle only with the possessory Writs called Assise.

Justices of the Pavilion (Justiciarii Pavilonis) Are certain Judges of a Pyepowder-Court, of a most transcendent Jurisdiction, held under the Bishop of Winchester at a Fair on St. Giles's Hill, near that City, by Virtue of Letters Patent granted by Richard the Second, and Edward the Fourth. Episcopus Wynton. & Successores suos, a tempore quo, &c. Justiciarios suos, qui vocantur Justiciarii Pavilonis, cognitiones placitorum & aliorum negotiorum eadem Feria durante, necnon claves portarum & custodiam predictae Civitatis nostre Wynton, pro certo tempore Ferie illius, & nonnullas alias libertates, immunitates & consuetudines habuisse, &c. See the Patent at large in Prynne's Animad. on 4 Inq. fol. 191.

Justices of the Peace (Justiciarii ad Pacem) Are those who are appointed by the King's Commission to attend the Peace of the County where they dwell; of whom some, for special Respect, are made of the Quorum, because Business of Importance may not be dispatched without the Presence or Assent of them, or one of them. See Quorum. The Office and Power of these is various, and grounded upon several Statutes, too long to recite. They were called Guardians of the Peace till the Thirty-sixth Year of Edward the Third, cap. 12. where they are called Justices. Lamb. Eiren. lib. 4. c. 19. pag. 578. See Shepherd's Sure Guide for Justices of Peace.

Justices of Peace within Liberties (Justiciarii ad Pacem infra Libertates) Are such in Cities, and other corporate Towns, as those others of the Counties; and their Authority or Power is all one within their several Precincts. Anno 27 H. 8. cap. 25.

Justices of Traile-bastan Were a Kind of Justices appointed by King Edward the First, upon Occasion of great Disorders grown in the Realm, during his Absence in the Scotch and French Wars. In the Old N. B. fol. 52. they are stiled Justices of Trial-bastan: But by Holinshed and Stow, Traile-bastan, so called (say they) of trailing, or or drawing the Staff of Justice : Or according to Co. 12. Rep. fol. 25. for their summary Proceedings, who says also, They were, in a Manner, Justices in Eyre, and their Authority founded on the Statute of Ragman. Their Office was to make Inquisition through the Realm, by the Verdict of substantial Juries, upon all Officers, as Mayors, Sheriffs, Bailiffs, Escheators, and others, touching Extortion, Bribery, and other such Grievances; as Intrusions into other Mens Lands, Barretors, and Breakers of the Peace, with divers other Offenders; by Means of which Inquisitions, many were punished by Death, many by Ransom, and the Rest lying the Realm; the Land was quieted, and the King gained great Riches towards the Support of his Wars. See Mat. Westm. in Anno 1305. In the Hist. Rossen. fol. 200, sub anno 1305, which may be said to be co-etaneous with these Justices, he gives the following Account of their Office. Circa hac tempora processit in publicum nova inquisitionis breve, quod anglie dicitur Trail-baston, contra Intrusores, Conductitios hominum vapulatores, conductitios seiscina captiores, pacis infractores, raptiores, incendiarios, murderatores, pugnatore. Multi hoc perempti, multi redempti, multi noxii, pauci innoxii sunt inventi. Adeo quidem rigide processit hujus costionis justitia, quod pater proprio filio non parceret, &c. ara multa. As to the Name Trail-baston, there are divers Opinions; some think that Baston signifies the Beam of a Pair of Scales, and so is metaphorically applied to the just poising of Recompence for Offences committed. Others think it may be derived from the French (Treilles, i. Cancelli) Bars or Lattices, a Grate with crofs Bars : Others from the Word Treille, i. Pargula, a Frame or Rail, such as Vines use to run upon; and Baston, a Staff or Pole, inferring, that the Justices employed in this Commission, had Authority to proceed without any solemn Judgment-Seal, but might without more work proceed wherever they could apprehend the Malefactors they sought for. If I may be admitted to give my Thoughts, I suppose, it may be derived from the Even h Word Trayl, i. to draw; and Baston, a Staff; and the Reason of this my Supposition, is, that the Kings of England having in those Times many Occasions in France, by Reason of their frequent Wars there; and observing that the Marshals of France had a large Power, with which they were invested by the Delivery of a Baston, (or as we call it a Battoon) the Ensign of their Office and Authority; when they returned and found strange Disorders grown here, in Imitation of that, erected these Justices, who (as they say) had a Baston delivered them as the Badge of their Office, so that whoever was brought before them was Traille al Baston, traditus ad Baculum; whereupon with Submission, may their Name easily be deduced, and they called Justices de Trail-Baston, or Justiciarii ad trabendum offendentes ad baculum vel baston. We find a Commission of Trail-baston, coram Rogero de Grey & Sociis suis Justic. apud S. Albanum, Anno Regni Regis E. 3. post conquestum, 5. See Spelman's Gloss. verbo Trail-baston.

Justiciar, (Fr. Justicier,) a Justice, or Justicier The Lord Bermingham, Justiciar of Ireland. Baker's Chron. Anglie, fol. 118.

Justiciarii ad Placita transgressionum Moneta audienda & terminanda. Claus. 7 Edw. 1. M. 6. de Judicis.

Justiciatus. Nos, quantum in ipsis est, de nostro Domino & alto Justiciatu, qua ibidem optine- re noscitur excludendo. Pat. 31 Edw. 3. Par. 1. M. 19. intus. Judicature, Prerogative, or Jurisdiction.

Justice-Seal Is the highest Court that is held in a Forest, and is always held before the Lord Chief Justice in Eyre of the Forest, upon warning forty Days before; and there the Judgments are always given, and the Fines set for Offences, that were presented at the Courts of Attachments, and the Offenders indicted at the Swainmotes, concerning which, see Manwood's Forest-Law, cap. 24.

Justices Is a Writ directed to the Sheriff, for the dispatch of Justice in some special Cause of which he cannot by his ordinary Power hold Plea in his County-Court. Hereupon the Writ de excommunicato deliberando, is called a Justices in the Old Nat. Brev. fol. 35. Also the Writ de homine replegiando, Ibid. fol. 41. And the Writ de secunda superoneratione pasture, Ibid. fol. 73. There are many Precedents of this in F. N. B. fol. 117. in Account, and fol. 152. in Annuity, and fol. 119. in Debt. Kitchin, fol. 74. says, That by this Writ of Justices, the Sheriff may hold Plea of a great Sum, whereas, of his ordinary Authority, he can hold no Pleas, but of Sums under Forty Shillings, with whom agrees Crompton, fol. 231. It is called a Justices, because it is a Commission to the Sheriff ad justiciandum aliquem, to do a Man Justice, and requires no Return, or any Certificate of what he hath done. Bract. lib. 4. tract. 6. cap. 13. num. 2. mentions a Justices to the Sheriff of London, in a Case of Dower. See the New Book of Entries, verbo, Justices.

Justificare. To pass Judgment. Et totam aliam terram habeat & terra habitatores sub se, & justificet. Bromton. Du Fresne.

Justification, Justificatio, Is an Affirming or Shewing good Reason in Court, why he did such a Thing as he is called to answer, as to justify in a Cause of Replevin. Broke, Tit. Replevin.

Justificatoris, (Justificatores.) Will. Rex Anglia H. Camerario & Justificatoribus suis, omnibus suis fidelibus Norf. salutem. Inquire per Comitatum quis justus hujusmodi forisfacturam haberet tempore Patris mei, sive Abbas Rameste sive antecessor W. de Albenio. Et si Comitatus concordaverit quod Abbas rectius predictam forisfacturam debet habere, tunc precipio ut C. solidi, quos Radul. Passel. implicavit, sine mora Abbati reddantur. T. Episcopo Dunelmensi. Sir Henry Spelman leaves it thus without Explication. Justificatores seem to signify Compurgatores, or those that by Oath justify the Innocency, Repute, or Oath of another, as in the Case of Waring Law. Also Jury-men, because they justify that Party on whose behalf they give their Verdict.

Justitia Was anciently used for a Judge, and sometimes for a Statute, Law, or Ordinance. Richardus Dei Gratia. Sciatis, Nos, de communi proborum virorum consilio, fecisse has Justitias subscriptas. Hoveden, p. 666.

Justitia is often taken for Jurisdiction, or the Office of a Judge. Leg. Edw. Conf. cap. 26. Justitia cognoscens Latronis sua est de homine suo.

Justitia, He who now is called Justitiarius was formerly called Justitia, i. e. a Judge. Leg. H. 1. c. 42. A Rege vel Justitia ejus, vel a Communi utrumque Domino submoneatur.

Justitias facere Is to hold Plea of any Thing. Mr. Selden, in his Notes upon Eadmerus, mentioning that Plea which was held at Pimenden between Archbishop Lanfrank and Odo Bishop of Bayeux, tells us, Huic placito interfuerunt Goisfredus Episcopus Constantiensis, qui in loco Regis fuit, & Iustitiam illam tenuit, Lanfrancus Episcopus qui ut dictum est placitavit & totum dirationavit, &c.

Iustitium, A Ceasing from the Prosecution of Law, and Exercising Justice in Places Judicial. The Vacation. LL. Canuti.

K.

Kalendar Month, Mentioned, 16 Car. 2. c. 7. consists of 30 or 31 Days, (excepting February, which never hath more than 28, unless in Leap-Year, and then but 29.) Twelve of which Months being those mentioned in the Kalendar make a Year, which we call vulgarly in the singular Number, A Twelvemonth. But if in the plural Number, we say Twelvemonths, then shall it be accounted a Month of Weeks, which is but 28 Days. See Co. lib. 6. f. 81. Catesby's Case. See Computation.

Kalendæ, Rural Chapters, or Conventions of the Rural Dean and Parochial Clergy; so called, because held on the Kalends, or first Day of every Month: As at first every three Weeks, and at last only once a Quarter, and by Degrees wholly intermitted, to the great Decay of Discipline. See Parochial Antiquities, by Mr. Kemet, p. 640.

Kalends, the Beginning of a Month.

Kantref. According to the Description of Mr. Humphrey Lloyd, out of the Laws and Ordinances of Howeldda, a Kantref had its Denomination from One hundred Towns, and signifies as much, under which were contained so many Commots, which the Welsh call Commot, and signifies Provincia or Regio, and consisted of Twelve Manors or Circuits, and two Townships. We find the Word mentioned in Mon. Ang. 1. part. f. 319. thus — Le premier Conquerer de trois Kantref de la terre de Brechnoch, eustreit Bernard de Nefmarch Norman. See Cantref.

Karite, Carite, The Religious called their best Conventual Drink, or their strong Beer, by this Name; because I presume, after Meals, they used to drink their Pocula Caritatis, or ad Caritatem, i. e. their Grace-cups, in this best Liquor.

— Willielmus Potveher Prior Ecclesie Cath. Elyen. & Conventus. — concessimus Magistro Petro Pentley Medico unum corrodium in domo nostra, videl. quolibet die duos panes de celario, unum album de pastu conventuali vocatum Household-loof & alium nigrum vocatum Black-white-loof, & unam mensuram cervisie bone, vocate Karite, ex eodem vase de quo Conventui ipsi eodem die deferretur. — Ex Cartular. Ecclesie Elyen. MS. penes Job. Episc. Norwic. MS. And unum Carite was used for one Grace-Cup, as William Prior of Ely, and the Convent, granted to Alice Appilten one doily Corody, videl. unam panem vocat. Black-white-loof, & unam mensuram cervisie melioris conventus, seu de dolio conventus, vocat. unum Carite per diem. Dat. 8 Ar. 1411. ib.

Karle (Sax.) a Man; and sometimes a Servant or Clown. Hence the Saxons called a Seaman a Burcarle, and a Domestic Servant Hufcarle. This Word is often found in Domesday, Selden's Mare Clausum, and other ancient Records. From hence, by Corruption, comes our modern Word Churle.

Karnie, Matthew Paris in the Lives of the Abbots of St. Albans, under Paul the fourteenth Abbot.

Anno 1077. pag. 52. — *Minutis autem qui de sua consuetudine passillis carnis vesciebantur, ejus subtraxit inordinatos, & pro carne, de allece & liborum edulcis congestum quoddam ferculum ipsi in communi cumularunt. Quod more Normannorum Karpie quasi Karempie sophistice nominavit. Dr. Watts confesses himself ignorant of the Meaning of this Word. Du Fresne thinks it was the same with Carpeia, which was a Part of Lenten Fare, or a Dish of salted or dried Fish, chopped and minced together with other Ingredients to make it more savoury, as we now dress a cold pickled Herring, or what is called by the barbarous Name of Salmagundy.*

Karrata sarni, (Mon. Angl. 1 Par. f. 548. b.) a Cart-load of Hay. See Carveta.

Karpus, i. e. Lent. Fr. Cavemes. (Lat. Quadragesima.)

Kay, (Kaia & Caya, Sax. Leg. Teut. Kay.) Area in littore onerandum atque exonerandum navium causa, e compactis tabulis trabibusque (clavium instar) firmata. A Wharf to land or ship Goods or Wares at. The Verb Caia, in old Writers, signifies (according to Scaliger) To keep in, or restrain; and so is the Earth or Ground, where Kays are made, with Planks and Posts. Nunc ille cursus aque per sordes & inundationes Tannatorum, & per varias perturbaciones in predicta aqua factas, & maxime per exaltationem Caye, & diversifionem aque, quam ipsi de Novo Templo fecerunt ad Molendina sua extra Castra Baignard, quod naves predictæ minime intrare possunt, sicut solebant. Pla. & Petitions in Parl. Anno 35 Ed. 1.

Kayage, (Kaiagium.) Portorium quod Kaiæ nomine exigit Telonarius. The Money or Toll paid for loading or unloading Wares at a Kay or Wharf. Rot. Pat. 1 Ed. 3. m. 10. and 20 Ed. 3. m. 1.

Kebbars, Cooper in his Thesaurus renders Oves rejicula by Kebbars or Chillers, drawn out of a Flock of Sheep. But where or why the refuse Sheep are thus called, is perhaps not worth enquiring.

Kedel. (Anno 12 Ed. 4. cap. 7.) See Kiddele.

Keelage. See Killagium.

Keep, A strong Tower in the Middle of any other Fort or Castle, wherein the besieged make their last Efforts of Defence, was called a Keep. Hence the inner Pile of Fortification within the Castle of Dover, erected by King Henry II. about the Year 1153. was called the King's Keep. So at Windsor, &c.

Keeper of the Forest, Custos Foresta, Is also called Chief Warden of the Forest, Manwood Forest Laws, part. 1. pag. 156. and hath the Principal Government of all Things, and the Check of all Officers belonging to the same; and when it pleaseth the Lord Chief Justice in Eyre of the Forest to keep his Justice-Seat, he sends out his Warrant, or general Summons, to him forty Days before, for the Warning of all Under-Officers to appear before him at a Day assigned in the Summons, which see in Manwood, ubi supra.

Keeper of the Great Seal, Custos magni sigilli, Is a Lord by his Office, and stiled The Lord Keeper of the Great Seal of England: He is one of the King's Privy Council; through whose Hands pass all Charters, Commissions, and Grants of the King under the Great Seal; without which Seal, all such Instruments by Law are of no Force. For the King is in the Interpretation of Law a Corporation, and passeth nothing firmly but but under the said Seal, which is as the publick Faith of the Kingdom in the high Esteem and Reputation justly attributed thereto. This Lord Keeper, by the Statute 5 Eliz. 18. hath the same Place, Authority, Preheminence, Jurisdiction, Execution of Laws, and all other Customs, Commodities, and Advantages, as hath the Lord Chancellor of England for the Time being. He is constituted by the Delivery of the Great Seal to him, and taking his Oath. Co. 4. Inst. fol. 87.

Keepers of the Liberties of England By Authority of Parliament. See Custodes Libertatis.

Keeper of the Privy Seal, Custos privati sigilli, Is a Lord by his Office, through whose Hands pass all Charters signed by the King before they come to the Great Seal, and some Things which do not pass the Great Seal at all: He is of the King's Privy Council, and was anciently called Clerk of the Privy Seal. 12 R. 2. cap. 11. Gardien del Privy Seal, in Rot. Parl. 11 H. 4. num. 28. And Lord Privy Seal, and one of the great Officers of the Kingdom, by 34 H. 8. 4.

Keeper of the Touch, 12 Hen. 6. 14. seems to be that Officer in the King's Mint, at this Day called The Master of the Assay. See Mint.

Kellus, In digging the Tin-Mines in Cornwall, next the Floor or Vein of Tin, there is a Lode which they call Spar, above which lies another Kind of Substance like a white soft Stone, which they call Kellus.

Keelp, Made of Sea-wrack or Weed laid on Heaps, dried and burnt, stirred to and fro with an Iron Rake till it condenses and cakes together; used chiefly in making Alom.

Kencheffer. See Arconium.

Kendall Barony. See Concagii.

Kengels, (Sax.) Spel. of Concil. 1 Tom. fol. 406. See Cenegild.

Kennets, A Sort of Coarse Welsh Cloth, mentioned Anno 33 H. 8. cap. 3.

Kenninga. See Cenninga.

Kerhere, — Inquisitio & extenta terrarum & tenementorum, quæ fuerunt Roberti de Monte-alto nuper defuncti, in Refens in Norf. facta die lune in crastino S. Fidis, videlicet, Regni Regis Edwardi tertio item de quadam consuetudine quæ vocatur Kerhere ad Festum S. Michaelis 12 denar. Ex bundello Escheat. anno 3 Ed. 1. Perhaps a Commutation for the customary Duty of Carrier, or Carriage of the Lord's Goods.

Kernellare domum, To build a House with a Wall or Tower, kernelled or crenelled, with Cranes or Notches, for the better Convenience of shooting Arrows, and making other Defence. Spelman derives it from the Sax. Cyrnel, a Seed or Kernel; from whence, says he, Cyrnelen, to rise in Knobs or Bunches. But Du Fresne justly reflects on this Violence done to the Word, and finds it to be quarnellus or quadranelus, a four Square Hole or Notch; ubiqueque patent quarnelli sive fenestra. This Form of Walls and Battlements for military Uses, and chiefly for shooting with Bows and Arrows, might possibly borrow Name from quadrellus, a four square Dart

It was a common Favour granted by our Kings, after Castles were, for preventing Rebellion, demolished, to give their chief Subjects Leave to fortify their Manor-Houses with kernelled Walls. Licentiam dedimus Johanni de Handlo quod ipse mansum suum de Boyfall juxta Brebhill in Com. Buck. muro de petra & cake firmare & kernellare possit. Dat. 12. Sept. 1312. Paroch. Antiq. pag. 353. Which Form of Work does now appear in that ancient Seat of Boyfall, Com. Buck. in the Possession of the very worthy Sir John Aubrey Baronet.

Kernellatus, (from the Lat. Crena, a Notch.) Et dux (sc. Lanc.) dicit, quod ipse clamat pro se & heredibus suis habere Castrum suum de Halton, Kernellatum. Pl. de quo Warr. apud Cestriam, 31 E. 3. Fortified or Embattelled. Roformel. Evat ibidem quoddam Castrum duplici muro Kernellatum, &c. Survey of the Dutchy of Cornwall.

Kernes, Idle Persons, Vagabonds Nec non de illis qui dicuntur Idle-Men, & Malefactoribus, qui etiam Kernes dicuntur. Pat. 5 E. 3. p. 1. m. 25 & Ord. Hibern. 31 Ed. 3. m. 11, 12.

Ketter, A Cover or Vessel used in a Dairy-House for Milk or Whey, — Computus Henrici Deye & Johanna uxoris de exitibus & proventus de Dayri. Allocatur pro novo Kevere emptio viii. den. Paroch. Antiq. pag. 386. In Devonshire a Keeve is the Butt or Fatt wherein they work their Beer.

Keyes or Keetes, (Ciuli or Cinles) A Kind of long Boats of great Antiquity, mentioned Anno 23 H. 8. c. 18. Longe Naves quibus Britanniam primo ingressi sunt Saxones. Spel.

Keyng — Robertus de Tuteshal, Episcopus Norwicheński, & Rogers de Monte-alto concesserunt, quod ipse ex tunc non caperent, aut per ballivos suos capi facerent, aliquod Theoloneum pro caseo & butiro super uncto leguminibus & hujusmodi nisi in grosso venderent, & quod non caperent aut capi facerent de quinque pellibus rubeis quæ vocantur Keyng nisi unum obolum tantum. Placit. Pavl. 18 Ed. 1. Whence it seems plain that a Keyng was five Fells or Pelts, or Sheep-Skins with their Wool on them.

Keyus, Keye, A Guardian, Warden, or Keeper. — Nolo etiam quod aliquis Seneschallus, Constabularius, Ballivus, Keys, sive Forestarius, Serviens, vel venator per terras eorum venientes, ab ipsis nec ab hominibus suis placatur. — Mon. Angl. Tom. 2. p. 71. In the Isle of Man, the 24 chief Commoners, who are as it were the Conservators of the Liberties of the People, are called the Keys of the Island.

Kichell, A Cake: It was a good old Custom for Godfathers and Godmothers, every Time their God-Children asked them Blessing, to give them a Cake; which was called a God's Kichell. It is still a proverbial Saying in some Counties, Ask me Blessing, and I will give you some Plumb-Cake.

Kidder, Anno 5 El. cap. 12. says, Every Person being a common Badger, Kidder, Lader or Carrier. Whereby it signifies one that badges, or carries Corn, dead Viſual, or other Merchandise, up and down to sell; called also Kyddiers, 13 El. cap. 25.

Kiddiers, (Anno 13 Eliz. cap. 25.) See Kidder.

Kiddle, Kidel, or Kedel, (Kidellus) a Dam, or open Wear in a River, with a Loop or narrow Cut in it, accommodated for the laying of Weels or other Engins to catch Fish. 2 Part. Inst. fol. 38. Angustias, machinas sive ingenia in fluminibus posita ad Salmones aliisque pisces intercepti-

piendo

piendos. Fishermen corruptly call them Kettles: The Word is ancient, for in Magna Charta, cap. 24. we read thus, Omnes Kidelli deponantur de cetero penitus per Thamefiam & Medeweeyam & per totam Angliam, nisi per costeram Maris. And in a Charter made by King J. bn. Power was granted to the City of London, De Kidellis amovendis per Thamefiam & Medeweeyam. Anno 1 H. 4. cap. 12. it was accorded, (inter alia) That a Survey should be made of the Wears, Mills, Sanks, Stakes, and Kidels, in the great Rivers of England. Inq. capt. apud Derv. 15 Nov. 1 Eliz. post mortem Tho. Fyndern, &c. Et fuit seistus de uno Kidello vocat. a Were, ac de libera piscaria in Potlok. Efc. Bundello, 3. They are now called Kettles or Kettle-Nets, and are much used on the Sea Coasts of Kent and Wales.

Kilderkin, the eighth Part of an Hoghead.

Kilketh, An ancient servile Kind of Payment, for in an old Manuscript 'tis thus written. Kilketh pro qualibet Hundreda, 2 denar.

Killagium, Keelage, Robertus de Brus habet apud Hertepole, portum maris, & capit ibi Killagium, scil. de qualibet navii cum Batello, applicante ibi, octo denar. & de qualibet navii sine Batello quatuor denar. Rot. Parl. 21 Ed. 1. Tit. Northumberland.

Killythallion Is where a Lord of a Manor was bound by Custom to provide a Stallion for the Use of his Tenants Mares. Spelm.

Kilth. Ac omnes annuales redditus de quadam consuetudine in Ewyas Lacy vocat. Kilth. Pat. 7 Eliz. pag. 7. Spelm. confesseth he did not know the Meaning of the Word.

King, Rex, Is thought by Cambden in his Brit. pag. 105. to be contracted from the Saxon Word Cuning for Coning, signifying him that hath the highest Power, and absolute Rule over the whole Land; and therefore the King is in Intendment of Law cleared of those Defects which common Persons are subject to; for he is always supposed to be of full Age, although never so young. Crompt. Jur. fol. 134. Kitchin, fol. 1. He is taken as not subject to Death, but is a Corporation in himself. Crompt. ibid. He is supra Legem by his absolute Power. Bract. lib. 1. cap. 8. Kitch. f. 8. And though for the better and more equal Course in making Laws, He do admit the three Estates, that is, Lords Spiritual, Lords Temporal, and the Commons, unto Council; yet this derogates not from his Power; for whatever they Act, He by his negative Voice may quash. See concerning this, Smith de Rep. Anglor. lib. 1. cap. 3. and Bract. lib. 2. cap. 16. num. 3. and Britton, c. 39. He pardoneth Life and Limb to Offenders against his Crown and Dignity, except such as he bindeth himself by Oath not to forgive. Staund. Pl. Cor. lib. 2. cap. 35. And Habet omnia jura in manu sua. Bracton, lib. 2. cap. 24. num. 1. He may alter or suspend any particular Law that seems hurtful to the Publick. Blackwood in Apologia Regum, cap. 11. For the King's Oath, see Bracton, lib. 3. c. 9. num. 2.

Again, the King's only Testimony of any Thing done in his Presence, is of as high Nature and Credit as any Record; whence it comes, That in all Writs or Precepts sent out for the Dispatch of Justice, He useth no other Witness than himself, always using these Words at the End. Teste Meipso. Lastly, He hath in the Right of his Crown many Prerogatives above any common Person, be he never so Potent and Honourable; whereof you may read at large in Staundford's Tractate upon the Statute thereof made 17 E. 2. Also in Bracton, lib. 2. c. 24. num. 1, & 2.

King of Heraldry, Rex Heraldorum, Is a principal Officer at Arms, that hath the Pre-eminence of the Society. See Herald and Garter. Among the Romans he was called Pater Patratus.

King of the Ministrals, at Tutbury in Com. Staff. His Power and Privilege appears by the following Charter.

Johan per la grace de Dieu, Roy de Castile & de Leon, Duke de Lancastre, a tous ceux, que cestu nos letres verront ou orront, Saluz. Confirmed by H. 6. 22 Feb. 21. Year of his Reign.

King's Bench, Bancus Regius, Is the Court or Judgment-Seat, where the King of England was sometimes wont to sit in his own Person; and therefore it was moveable with the Court or King's Household, and called Curia Domini Regis, and Aula Regia, as Gwin reports in the Preface to his Reading; and that therein, and in the Court of Exchequer, which were the only Courts of the King till Henry the Third's Days, were handled all Matters of Justice, as well Civil as Criminal. This Court of the King's Bench was wont in ancient Times to be especially exercised in all Criminal Matters, and Pleas of the Crown, leaving the Handling of private Contracts and Civil Actions to the Common Pleas, and other Courts. Glanville, lib. 1. cap. 2, 3, 4 and lib. 10. cap. 18. Smith de Rep. Ang. lib. 2. cap. 11. Co. 4. Inst. f. 70. and hath President of it, the Lord Chief Justice of England, with three or four Justices Assistants; or according to Fortescue, cap. 51. four or five, and Officers thereto belonging, the Clerk of the Crown, a Protonotary, and other inferior Ministers and Attornies. See Justice of the King's Bench.

Kingeld, Escuage, or Royal Aid. As in a Charter of King Henry II. to the Abbot and Monks of Mirevall. Volo & firmiter precipio, ut sint quieti per totam terram meam de theloneo & de scivis & de hundredit, & de Wapentabiis, & de Kingeld, & de Denegeld, & de Murdre. Mon. Angl. Tom. 1. p. 836.

King's Silver Is properly that Money due to the King in the Court of Common Pleas pro licentia concordandi, in respect of a Licence then granted to any Man for passing a Fine. Co. vol. 6. f. 39, & 43.

King's Swanherd, (Magister deductus Cignorum.) Pat. 16 R. 2. pars 1. m. 38. Radulphum Scot, Custodem Cignorum nostrorum, sive per alium quemcumque qui pro tempore Custos cignorum nostrorum predictorum fuerit. No Fowl can be a Stray but a Swan. 4 Inst. f. 280.

Kintal Is a certain Weight of Merchandise, most commonly of One hundred Pounds, or something under or over, according to the several Uses of divers Nations. Plowden, fol. 3. mentions 2000 Kintals of Wood in the Case of Reniger and Fogassa. Item duodecim denarios de qualibet cere Quintallo. Chart. 31 Ed. 1. m. 4.

Kipe, A Basket made of Osiers, broader at the Bottom, and narrowed by Degrees to the Top, but left open to both Ends, which they use for taking Fish; as particularly upon Otmore in Oxfordshire, where they call this way of treading the Water, and clapping down the Basket, and then groping for the Fish enclosed, Kipping and going to Kipe. From the Sax. Cypa, a Basket. It is strange to observe, That this very manner of Fishing with Baskets of the same Kind and Shape, is practised by the barbarous Inhabitants of Ceylon in the East-Indies, as appears in the Relation and Figure of it given by Mr. Knox in his Travels, p. 28.

Kipper-time, That no Salmon be taken between Gravefend and Henly upon Thames in Kipper-time, viz. between the Invention of the Cross (3 May) and the Epiphany. Rot. Parl. 50 Edw. 3.

Kirbyes Quest Is an ancient Record remaining with the Remembrancer of the Exchequer, the Meaning and Etymology whereof will appear by what follows. Memorandum, quod Anno Domini 1277. Anno Regni Regis Edwardi filii Regis Henrici quinto, misit idem Rex per totam Angliam Ballivos inquirere, sub juramento & in secreto de universis terris Anglie per Johannem de Kirby Thesaurarium suum, quisquis teneret & cuius fecdi, & quantum & cuius Regis tempore fecissent. Ex Regist. Glaston. Canonii penes Rad. Sheldon Ar. fol. 71.

Kirkmote, A Synod: Sometimes 'tis taken for a Meeting in the Church or Vestry.

Kitt-floor, A certain Bed in a Coal-Mine. As at Wednesbury in Staffordshire; the fourth Parting or Laming in the Body of the Coal, is called the Kitt-floor one Foot thick.

Knappa—Dedi unam virgatam de Knappa quam Adeas tenuit, & totam terram de Fernburst.—In another Charter, the same Donation is thus said—Dedi unam virgatam terre de Chueppa, quam Andreus tenet. Cartular. Abbat. Rading. MS. p. 94.

Knave, An old Saxon Word for a Man-Servant, and so is used in 14 E. 3. Stat. 1. cap. 3. And Verslegan in his Restitution of decayed Intelligence, cap. 10 believes it is borrowed of the Dutch Cnape, which signifies the same Thing. And that is some Kind of Officer or Servant, as Scild-knape was he that bore the Weapon or Shield of his Superior, whom the Latins call Armigerum; and the French Escuyer. Matt. 8. 6. Puer meus jacet in domo paralyticus, was in the Saxon Translation turned Myn Knawe. It was sometimes of old used as a titular Addition. Johannes filius Willielmi Couper de Denby Knave. ad satisfaciendum Regi de omni eo quod ad Regem pertinet, occasione cuiusdam Utlagarie in ipsum in placito transgressionis ad fecit Regi promulgata. Original. de Anno 22 H. 7. 36. Derby. There is a common Error, that Rom. 1. 1. is translated, Paul a Knave of Jesus Christ: It was occasioned by a Bible in the Duke of Lauderdale's Library, where the Word Knawe was writ in lesser Characters than the other, and a Rasure might easily be discerned; but in the Earl of Oxford's Library, Rev. 1. 1. 'tis said, to him Knight John. Fortesc. 42. See Strumpet. The Word is now perverted to the hardest Meaning, a false and deceitful Fellow. But it had a Sense of Simplicity and Innocence; it first signified a Child or Boy, Sax. Cnape, whence a Knave Child, i. e. a Boy distinguished from a Girl in several old Writers. —

A Knave Child between them two they gate. — Gower, Poem, f. 52. 106. And Wicliff in his old Engl. Translation, Exod. 1. 16. If it be a Knave Child, i. e. A Son or Male Child. Afterwards it was commonly taken for a Servant Boy, and by Degrees for any serving Man: As in the Vision of Piers Plowman, Cokes and her Knaves cryden hote Pyes hote, i. e. Cooks and their Boys, or Skallions.

Knight, (Sax. Cnyt. Lat. Miles, and Eques auratus, from the gilt Spurs he usually wore, and thence called anciently Knights of the Spur: The Italians term them Cavalieri, the French Chevaliers, the Germans Ruyters, the Spaniards Cavaleros, &c.) Knight in its Original properly signified a Servant; but there is now but one Instance where 'tis taken in that Sense, and that is Knight of a Shire, who properly serves in Parliament for such a County; but in all other Instances it signifies one that bears Arms, who, for his Virtue and martial Prowess, is by the King, or one having his Authority, exalted above the Rank of Gentleman to a higher Account or Step of Dignity. The Manner of making them, Cambd. in his Britan. thus shortly expresseth: Nostris vero temporibus, qui Equestrem dignitatem suscipit, flexis genibus leviser in humero percutitur, Princeps his verbis Gallie affatur; Sus vel fois Chevalier au nom de Dieu, i. e. Surge aut sis Eques in nomine Dei. This is meant of Knight Bachelors, which is the Lowest, but most ancient Degrees of Knighthood with us. By the Stat. 1 Ed. 2. cap. 1. all Gentlemen having a full Knight's Fee, and holding their Land by Knight's Service, might be compelled to be made Knights: But that is repealed by 17 Car. 1. ca. 20. The Privilege belonging to a Knight, see in Fern's Glory of Generosity, pag. 116. Of Knights, there are two Sorts; one Spiritual, so called by Divines in regard of their Spiritual Welfare; the other Temporal. Cassianus de gloria mundi, Par. 9. Considerat. 2. See Selden's Titles of Honour, fol. 770. Chief Justice Popham affirmed, he had seen a Commission granted to a Bishop, to Knight all the Persons in his Diocese. Godbolt's Rep. fol. 398. Of the several Orders, both of Spiritual and Temporal Knights, see Mr. Apsmole's Inst. of the Knights of the Garter. He who served the King in any Civil or Military Office or Dignity, was formerly called Miles: 'Tis often mentioned in the old Charters of the Anglo-Saxons, which are subscribed by several of the Nobility, viz. after Bishops, Dukes and Earls, per A. B. militem, where Miles signifies some Officer of the Court, as Minister was an Officer to Men of Quality. Thus we read in Ingulphus, De dono E. quondam militis Kenulfi Regis, fol. 860.

Afterwards the Word was restrained to him who served only upon some military Expedition, or rather to him who by reason of his Tenure was bound to serve in the Wars, and in this Sense the Word Miles was taken pro vassallo. Thus in the Laws of William the Conqueror. Manibus ei sese dedit, cuncta sua ab eo ut miles a Domino recepit.

And he who by his Office or Tenure was bound to perform any military Service, was furnished by the Chief Lord with Arms, and so adaptabatur in militem, which the French call adouer, and we to dub such a Person a Knight.

But before they went into the Service, it was usual to go into a Bath and wash themselves, and afterwards they were girt with a Girdle; which Custom of Bathing was constantly observed, especially at the Inauguration of our Kings, and then those Knights were made, who for that Reason were called Knights of the Bath.

Knights-Court Is a Court-Baron, or Honour-Court, held twice a Year under the Bishop of Hereford, at his Palace there; wherein those who are Lords of Manors, and their Tenants, holding by Knight's Service of the Honour of that Bishoprick, are Suitors; which Court is mentioned in Butterfield's Surv. fol. 244. If the Suitor appear not at it, he pays 2 s. Suit-Silver for Respite of Homage.

Knightsen-gild Was a Gylde in London, consisting of Nineteen Knights, which King Edgar founded, giving them a Portion of void Ground lying without the Walls of the City, now called Postoken Ward. Stow's Annals, pag. 151. This in Mon. Ang. 2. pag. fol. 82. a. is written Cnittene-geld.

Knights Baneret. See Baneret. John Coupland (for his valiant Service against the Scots) had the Honour of Baneret conferred on him and his Heirs for ever by Patent. 29 Edw. 3. part. 1. m. 2.

Knights of the Bath: See the Antiquity and Ceremony of their Creation in Dugdale's Antiquities of Warwickshire, fol. 531, 532. They are so called from their Bathing the Night before their Creation; their Place is before *Knights Bachelor*s, and after Baronets. This Order was re-established by his present Majesty King George in the Year 1725; who erected the same into a Regular military Order for ever, by the Name and Title of The Order of the Bath, to consist of thirty-seven Knight besides the Sovereign.

Knights of the Chamber, (Milites Camerae), Mentioned in 2 Inst. fol. 666. and in Rot. Pat. 29 Ed. 3. par. 1. m. 29. seem to be such *Knights Bachelor*s as are made in Time of Peace, because knighted commonly in the King's Chamber, not in the Field, as in Time of War.

Knights-fee (Feodum Militare) Is so much Inheritance, as is sufficient yearly to maintain a Knight with convenient Revenue; which in Henry the Third's Days was 15 l. Cam. Britan. pag. 111. But Sir Thomas Smith, in his Repub. Angl. lib. 1. cap. 18. rates it at 40 l. And by the Statute for Knights, 1 Ed. 2. cap. 1. such as had 20 l. per Ann. in Fee, or for Life, might be compelled to be Knights; which Statute is repealed by 17 Car. 1. cap. 20. Stow, in his Annals, p. 285. says, There were found in England, at the Time of the Conqueror, 60211 Knight-Fees, according to others, 60215; whereof the religious Houses, before their Suppression, were possessed of 28015 Os. Carvate terra fa iunt feodum unius militis. Mon. Angl. 2. par. fol. 825. a. Of this, you may read more in Selden's Titles of Honour, fol. 691. and Bracton, lib. 5. Tract. 1. cap. 2. See Coke on Littl. fol. 69. a. a Knight's Fee contained Twelve Plowlands, 2 Part. Inst. fol. 596. or 680 Acres. Virgata terre continet 24 Acres, 4 virgate terre make an Hide, and five Hides make a Knight's Fee, whose Relief is five Pounds.

Knights of the Garter, Equites Garterii, or Periscelidis, Are an Order of Knights first created by King Edw. the Third, after he had obtained many notable Victories, who, for furnishing of this Honourable Order, made a Choice out of his Realm, and all Christendom, of the best and most excellently renowned Knights in Virtue and Honour, bestowing this Dignity upon them, and giving them a blue Garter, decked with Gold, Pearl, and precious Stones, and a Buckle of Gold, to wear daily on the left Leg only, a Kirtle, Crown, Cloak, Chaperon, a Collar, and other stately and magnificent Apparel, both of Stuff and Fashion; exquisite and heroical to wear at high Feasts, as to so high and princely an Order was meet. Of which he and his Successors, Kings of England, were ordained Sovereigns, and the rest Fellows and Brethren, to the Number of Twenty-six. Smith de Rep. Anglor. lib. 1. ca. 20. This Honourable Society is a College or Corporation, having a common Seal belonging to it, and consisting of a Sovereign Guardian, which is the King of England, that always governs this Order by himself, or his Deputy; of Twenty-five Companions called Knights of the Garter, of Fourteen secular Canons that be Priests, or must be within one Year after their Admission; Thirteen Vicars, also Priests, and Twenty-six poor Knights, that have no other Sustainance, or Means of Living, but the Allowance of this House, which is given them in respect to their daily Prayer to the Honour of God and St. George. There be also certain Officers belonging to this Order, viz. The Prelate of the Garter, which Office is inherent to the Bishop of Winchester for the Time being; the Chancellor of the Garter; the Register, who is always Dean of Windsor; the Principal King at Arms, called Garter, whose chief Business is to manage and marshal their Solemnities at their yearly Feasts and Installations. Lastly, The Usher of the Garter, who is also the Usher of the Black-Rod. The Site of this College is the Castle of Windsor, with the Chapel of St. George, erected by Edward the Third, and the Chapter-House in the said Castle, and their Solemnity upon St. George's Day. Cambden saith, This Order received great Ornament from Edward the Fourth. Ferne's Glory of Generosity, pag. 120. And that most pious Prince Charles the First, as an Addition to their Splendor, ordered all the Companions of the Order to wear on the left Side of their upper Garment, the Cross of England encircled with the Garter and Motto, from whence round about are cast Beams of Silver like the Rays of the Sun in full Lustre. See Garter. I hear of a large Tract concerning this Order, written by Elias Ashmole Esq; which see for further Satisfaction.

Knights of the Order of St. John of Jerusalem. Milites Sancti Johannis Hierosolymitani, were an Order of Knight-hood, that began about the Year of Our Lord 1120. Honorius being Pope. They had their Denomination from John the charitable Patriarch of Alexandria, though vowed to St. John the Baptist their Patron; Ferne's Glory of Generosity, pag. 127. They had their Primary Abode at first in Jerusalem, and then in the Ile of Rhodes, until they were expelled thence by the Turks, Anno 1523. Since which Time their chief Seat is in the Ile of Malta, where they have done great Exploits against the Infidels, but especially in the Year 1595. They live after the Order of Friers, under the Rule of St. Augustine. Of whom Mention is made in the Statute 25 H. 8. cap. 2. and 26 H. 8. cap. 2. They had in England one general Prior that had the Government of the whole Order within England and Scotland, Reg. Orig. fol. 20. and was the first Prior of England, and sat in the Lord's House of Parliament. But towards the End of Henry the Eighth's Days, they in England and Ireland being found over-much to adhere to the Pope against the King, were suppressed, and their Lands and Goods given to the King, by 32 H. 8. 24. The Occasion and Propagation of this Order more especially described, you may read in the Treatise, entitled, The Book of Honour and Arms, lib. 5. cap. 18. written by Mr. Richard Jones.

Knights of Malta. See Knights of the Order of St. John of Jerusalem.

Knight Marshal (Marescallus Hospitii Regis) Is an Officer of the King's House, having Jurisdiction and Cognizance of any Transgression within the King's House, and Verge of it; as also of Contracts made within the same House, whereto one of the House is a Party. Reg. of Writs, f. 185. a. and 191. b. and Spelman's Gloss. in voce Marescallus.

Knights of Rhodes. 33 H. 8. 2. 24. See Knights of the Order of St. John of Jerusalem.

Knights of the Temple, Templarii, Otherwise called Templars, was an Order of Knighthood instituted by Pope Gelasius, about the Year of our Lord 1117. and so called, because they dwelt in a Part of the Building belonging to the Temple at Jerusalem, not far from the Sepulchre of our Lord. They entertained Christian Strangers and Pilgrims charitably, and in their Armour led them through the Holy Land, to view the sacred Monuments of Christianity, without fear of Infidels. This Order increasing and continuing by the Space of 200 Years, was far spread in Christendom, and namely here in England; but in Process of Time, some of them at Jerusalem being (as some Report) found to fall away to the Saracens from Christianity, or rather, because they grew too potent, the whole Order was suppressed by Clemens Quintus, 1309. and by the Council of Vienna, 1312. and their Substance given partly to the Knights of St. John of Jerusalem, and partly to other Religions. Cassan. de gloria Mundi, part 9. confid. 5. and Anno 1. cap. 24. These flourished here in England from Henry the Second's Days, till they were suppressed. They had in every Nation a very particular Governour, whom Bracton, lib. 1. cap. 10. calls Magistrum militia Templi. The Master of the Temple here was summoned to Parliament, 49 H. 3. m. 11. in Schedula; and the Chief Minister of the Temple Church in London is still called Master of the Temple. Of these Knights, read Dugdale's Antiquities of Warwickshire, 706. In ancient Records, they were also called Patres Militia Templi Solomonis. Mon. Ang. 2 part. fol. 554.

Knight-Service (Servitium Militare) Was a Tenure, whereby several Lands in this Nation were held of the King, which drew after it Homage and Service in War, Escheage, Ward, Marriage, &c. but is taken away by Statute 12 Car. 2. cap. 24. In Domesday-Book, some Land holden by Knights-Service is called Tainland, and Land holden by Socage, Reveland, fol. 86. a. Servitium militave nulli nisi Regi & Regni principibus debetur. Mat. Paris. Anno 1246.

Knights of the Shire, (Milites Comitatus) Otherwise called Knights of Parliament, are two Knights or Gentlemen of Worth, chosen upon the King's Writ, in pleno Comitatu, by the Freeholders of every County that can dispend 40 s. per Annum, Anno 1 Hen. 5. cap. 1. and 10 H. 6. cap. 2. who are in Parliament to consult in Behalf of the Commons of England, touching the publick Affairs of the Realm. These, when every Man having a Knight's Fee, was customarily constrained to be a Knight, were of Necessity to be Milites gladio cincti, for so runs the Writ at this Day. But now Custom admits Esquires to be chosen to this Office. Quod Milites Comitatus pro Parlamento extunc eligend. sicut Milites notabiles de eisdem Com. pro quibus sic eligentur, seu aliter Notabiles Armigeri, homines generosi de Nativitate de eisdem Com. qui sint habiles existere Milites, & quod nullus homo sit talis Miles, qui in gradu valetti & inferiori existit, prout in Statuto continetur, viz. 23 H. 6. In breve de Sum. ad Parl. Claus. 39 Hen. 6. in dorso. m. 41. For the Choice of these Knights, see the Statutes 7 Hen. 4. cap. 15. 23 Hen. 6. cap. 15. with others. Their Expenses are to be born by the Country, 35 H. 8. cap. 11. tho' now seldom or never required. They must have 500 l. per Annum.

Knop, A Knob, Nob, Bosse, or Knot.—Textus super Evangeliiis cum uno claspī habens ex uno latere quinq; Knopas argenteas, &c. Mon. Angl. Tom. 3. p. 365.

Known-men, The Lollards, or good Christians in England called Hereticks, for opposing the Corruptions and Errors of the Church of Rome before our happy Reformation, went commonly under the Name of Known-men, and Just Fast-men; which Title was first given them in the Diocese of Lincoln, under William Smith Bishop, 1500. See Fox Martyrol. Vol. 2. pag. 32. &c.

Kyddiers, 13 Eliz. cap. 35. See Kladder.

Kylyw.—Et sint quieti de pascu & Kylyw & omnibus aliis exactionibus, quas Forestarii & alii ballivi solent exigere. Mon. Angl. 1 par. fol. 722. Perhaps it may signify some liquid Thing, exacted by Foresters. See Scotale. We have to this Day in the North the Word Kyle, which the Country People use for liquid Victuals.

Kyffe, A Coffin or Chest for Burial of the Dead, Sir Tho. Cumberworth Kt. made this fanciful Will in the Year 1450.—Furst, I Gyffe My Sawle to God my Lord and my Redemptor, and my overbid Body to be Beryed in a Chitte without any Kyfte in the North yle of the Parvif-Kirke of Somersey.—But I will my Kyte be made and stand by, and at my Beveall Giff it to hym that fills my Grave. Ex Reg. Marnaduci Lumley Episc. Lincoln. MS.

L.

Label, The narrow Slip of Paper or Parchment affixed to a Deed or Writing, for an appending Seal, is called a Label. So any Paper annexed by Way of Addition or Explication to a Will or Testament, is called a Codicil or Label.

L 1

Labina,

Labina, Watery Land; in qua facile labitur: We read it in the Monasticum, 2 Tom. pag. 572. Jamque diversi Ligei juxta Hospitale noctanter transiunt in aquis & Labinis periclitantur.

Labozarius Is a Writ that lies against such as having not whercof to live, do refuse to serve, or for him that refuseth to serve in Summer where he served in Winter. Reg. Orig. fol. 189.

Lacerta Is a Word mentioned in Domesday-Book, and there signifies a Fathom.

Laches Cometh of the French Lascher, id est, Laxare; or Lasche, ignavus, and signifies Slackness or Negligence, as appears in Littleton, sect. 403 & 726. where Laches of Entry is nothing else but a Neglect in the Heir to enter; whereupon, I take Liberty to guess, that it may be an old English Word, as when we say, There is Laches of Entry, it is all one as if we should say, There Lack is of Entry, or there is Lack of Entry; and indeed it hath no other Signification for so is it used, Lit. fol. 136. and Old Nat. Brev. fol. 110. So where a Man ought to make or do a Thing, and he makes or does it not, I of his Laches cannot have an Assise, but must take an Action upon the Case. See Coke on Litt. fol. 246 & 380.

Lacta, A Defect in the Weight of Money: Affirm est de moneta quod vetus moneta currat, unde quilibet libra sit Lacta 2 s. 6 d. ad plus, & illa libra que plus latavit, & Denarii qui plus lactaverint, perforentur & reddantur, &c. From hence we derive the Word Lack. Du Fresno.

Lactodolum. Stony Stratford.

Lada, A Lade, Lath or Court of Justice, from Sax. Latbiam, to Convene or Assemble. Hence the annual Court at Dim-Church in Romney-Marsh held about Michaelmas, for the Election of a Bailiff and other Officers, is called the Lath, and Dim-church-lath. See Leits.

Lada, A Purgation by Trial, from Sax. Ladian, to purge by Submission to any legal Method of Acquittal. Hence the Lada simplex, and the Lada triplex, or Lada plena, among our Saxon Ancestors, mentioned in the Laws of King Ethelred, and of Hen. 1. See Spelman's Glossary.

Lada, A Lade, Lade, or Course of Water.

— Ex parte scilicet orientali navigii vel Ladæ usq; ad locum qui dicitur Gargessede. Histor. Rames. Edit. Gale, cap. 113. Where Navigium is properly Navigerium, and has the like Sense of a navigable River. And Spelman tells us, that Lada is a Canal to carry Water from wet Grounds, but it sometimes signifies a broad Way, viz. Unde placitum fuit inter eos, &c. viz. quod omnes Ladæ quas monachi fecerint in illo marisco obstupantur, excepta illa magna Lada qua vadit ad Wittlesmare, &c. per quam monachi adducunt Lapides ad constructionem Monasterii. Monast. 1 Tom. pag. 854.

Lade, Lode, i. e. the Mouth of a River; from the Sax. Ladian, purgare, because the Water is there clearer; from hence Cricklade, Lechblade, &c.

Lædozium, i. e. Reproach. Facetiam in sermone plurimam observant dum vel sales vel Lædoria nunc levi lingua nunc mordaci. Girald. in descrip. Cambd. cap. 14.

Lædorswick Is derived from the Saxon Hlaford Dominus, & twic præditio, Infidelitas erga Dominum, a Betraying our Lord and Master. In the Laws of Henry the First, cap. 13. Quædam Placita emendari, (i. e. Quædam crimina expiari) non possunt, Husbrech, Berner, Openthesfe, Ebermath, and Laforðswick, which Word is also found in Canutus's Laws, cap. 61. which some Authors have written corruptly Labor/sith.

Laga, Lex, The Law, Lagam Regis Edwardi vobis reddo, cum illis emendationibus, quibus Pater meus eam emendavit, says Magna Charta. Hence we deduce Saxon-lage, Mercen-lage, Dane-lage, &c.

Lagan, At first, was that Right which the Chief Lord of the Fee had to take Goods which were cast on the Shore by the Violence of the Sea; but afterwards it signified a Right which any one had to Goods which were Ship-wrecked, and floating in the Sea. Thus Brañton, viz. Quæ si in mare longius a littore inveniantur, ita ut constare non possit ad quam terram essent applicanda, tunc quicquid ita inventum fuerit, erit inventoris, adeo quod in nullius bonis esse dicantur, & dicitur a nantibus Lagan. Lib. 3. cap. 2. But now Lagan is taken for Goods sunk in the Sea, from the Sax. Liggan, cubare, & non a ligando. See Floresm.

Lagedayum, Laghdæ, A Law-day, or Time of open Court. — Una cum omnibus scitis Lagedayorum, quæ Prior de Ledes, & omnes alii eorum tenentes debuerunt ad Laghdæ a mera de Nemen-ton per tenementa quæ de ipsi tenent in Hundredis prædictis. Charta Almerici de Lucy apud W. Thorn sub anno 1280. — Sint quieti de festis illius Hundredis — excepto quod villani sui ter in anno venient ad la Laghdæ ad presentandum placita corona sine occasione. Mon. Angl. Tom. 1. p. 279.

Lageman, or Lahman, (Lagamannus) Homo legalis seu legitimus; Such as we call now Good Men of the Jury. I find the Word in Domesday, and in the Laws of Edward the Confessor, cap. 38. thus, Posse inquisisset Justitia per Lagamannos, & per meliores homines de Burgo, &c. But in Libro Albo de Suthwel, Ulvet the Son of Forno is said to have been Lagamann of the City of York. Where doubtless it signified some Chief Officer, as Judge or Recorder. My Lord Coke in his Comment on Littleton, sect. 73. was of Opinion, that a Lageman was he who had foram & facum super homines suos, i. e. who had a Jurisdiction over their Persons and Estates, and those were the Thaines or Barons of that Age; so that this Ulvet the Son of Forno might be one of the Barons who lived in York.

Somner and Lambard were of the same Opinion, that the Word signified the Thaines, called afterwards Barons, who sat as Judges to determine Mens Rights in Courts of Justice; as, in Senatus consult. de Monticulis Wallie, cap. 3. 'tis said, let 12 Lahmen, which Lambard renders Men of Law, viz. six English and six Welsh, do Right and Justice, &c.

Lagen, (Lagena) Fleta, lib. 2. cap. 8, 9. In ancient Time it was a Measure of six Sextarii. Hence perhaps our Flagon. Donatio insuper de sex Lagenis olei annuatim. Charta 2 Edw. 3. m. 25. n. 82. The Lieutenant of the Tower has the Privilege to take unam Lagenam vini, ante malum & retro, of all Wine-Ships that come up the Thames. Sir Peter Leycester, in his Antiquities of Cheshire interprets Lagena Vini, a Bottle of Wine. See Minsfel.

Lagon, or Lagan, Is such a Parcel of Goods as the Mariners in Danger of Ship-wreck cast out of the Ship, and because they know they are heavy and sink, they fasten to them a Buoy or Cork, that so they may find and have them again. If the Ship be drowned, or otherwise perish, perish, these Goods are called Lagan or Ligan, a ligando, and so long as they continue upon the Sea, they belong to the Admiral, but if they are cast upon the Land, they are then called a Wreck, and belong to him that hath the Wreck, as appears in Co. lib. 5. fol. 106.

Lahsitt, Laghsitt, Laghsitt, Transgressio Legis, A Breach of the Law, and sometimes the Punishment for breaking the Law. Si quis Dei relictiones per vim teneat, solvat Lahsitt cum Dacis, plenam Wytam cum Anglis. Leg. Hen. 1. cap. 13. Lamb. Explic. of Saxon Words, verbo Mulsta.

Lala, The same with Lada. Mon. Angl. 1 Tom. pag. 483. A broad Way in a Wood.

Lairwite, Lecherwite and Legegeldum, Pœna vel multa offensivum in Adulterio & Fornicatione, which Privilege did anciently belong to some Lords of Manors, in Reference to their Villains and Tenants, which Fleta, lib. 1. cap. 47. seems to infer. See Co. 4 Inst. fol. 206.

Laised Wits, Anno 1 R. 3. cap. 8.

Lambote, Manerium de Berton parva reddit aule Thomæ de Redgrave annuatim ad pascha, 1111. denar. & aule de Cnapwel de Tudenham annuatim, 11. Denar. eo quod le pisse molendini Domini debent jungere pastura de Tudenham, & habere in illa pastura Lambote. Ex Cartular. S. Edmundi, MS. f. 111.

Lammæs-War, (Anno 23 H. 8. cap. 4.) Is the First of August, and so called quasi Lamb-Mæst, because Lambs were not then fit to eat, they were grown too big; aliter, from the Saxon Hlafmæsse, q. d. Loaf-Mæst, because on that Day the English made an Offering of Bread made with new Wheat. On which Day, the Tenants that held Lands of the Cathedral Church of York, (which is dedicated to St. Peter ad Vincula) were bound by their Tenure to bring a live Lamb into the Church at High Mass on that Day. See Gule of August.

Lammesilver. Inter antiquas consuetudines Abbatis de Sancto Edmundo. Capiunt etiam quidam, ex prædictis Servientibus Glovesilver in festo S. Petri ad vincula, & habent eodem die, 1. den. ad Lammesilver, & qui unum capit unum denar. ad Glovesilver habebit eodem die 1. ob. ad Lammesilver. Ex Cartular. S. Edmundi, MS. p. 323.

Lana placabilis, Fine Wool. Noveritis nos tenere in centum saccis bone lane & placabilis sine cot. & gard. pro certa summa pecunia. Cartular. Radings. MS. f. 208.

Lancetragium. Willielmus de Blanchivill tenet novem acras in Polingeland, que fuerunt eschatra unde quatuor acra fuerunt libera & quinque acra Lancetragii. Johannes Filius Richardi tenet XX. acras per cartam que fuerunt Lancetragii de dono Gilberti de Alvendon. Cartular. S. Edmundi, MS. f. 401.

Lancetti Volo etiam quod habeant omnia americana hominum suorum, tam liberorum quam Lancelorum in Leta mea. Carta Will. de Albineo, Camobio Wimunham. These Lancetti were Agricola quidam sed ignota speciei. Spelm.

Lanu, Terra, In a general and legal Signification, includeth not only all Kinds of Grounds, as Meadow, Pasture, Arable, Wood, &c. but Houses and all Edifices whatsoever; but in a more restrained Sense it is taken only for Arable Ground. Co. on Litt. lib. 1. cap. 2. sect. 14. says, Terra est nomen Generalissimum & comprehendit omnes species terræ, but properly terra dicitur a tendo, quia vomere teritur; and anciently it was written with a single r, and in that Sense includes whatever may be plowed. The Earth hath in Law a great Extent upwards, for Cujus est solum ejus est usque ad cælum. Co. 9 Rep. Alured's Case.

Landa, A Lawnd, or open Field, without Wood. Robertus Comes Legecestræ Radulpho Pincerne & omnibus Baronibus & fidelibus suis salutem. Sciatis me dedisse servos Dei Malgero Monacho Eleemolynam parvam Landam, ad Mansiones & oratorium ibidem faciend. Testibus, &c. Sine dat.

Land-bor, A Charter, or Deed, whereby Lands or Tenements are given, or held. Sic Anglo-Saxones Chartas & instrumenta nuncupant, prædiorum Sessiones, jura & firmitates continentia, says the Learned Spelman; And we read in Con. il. Synodal. apud Clovejio, Anno Dom. 822. ut præfata Abbatissa prænominata terram & cum libris quos Angli dicunt Land boc, in perpetuum hereditatem traderet.

Land-theap, An ancient customary Fine, paid either in Cattle or Money at every Alienation of Land lying in some peculiar Manor, or the Liberty of some Borough. As at Malden in Essex, there is yet a Custom, that for certain Houses and Lands sold within that Borough, Thirteen Pence in every Mark of the Purchase-Money shall be paid to the Town; and this Custom of Land-theap they claim inter alia, by a Grant made to that Town by the Bishop of London, Anno 5 H. 4. Sommer in his Saxon Dictionary says, Land theap est fortasse pretium fundi pæcto datum vel debitum. The Word is also read in Spel. de concil. vol. 1. fol. 502.

Landes, A Ditch made near wet Lands, to receive the Water and carry it into the Sea: Vera judicia & aquarda faciunt de Vallis, Landeis & Watergangis.

Landefricus, (Sommer Landefricus) The Lord of the Soil, or the Landlord: From the Sax. Land, terra, and Rica, Rector. Et omnis erat sibi Lagam 12 Oris dimidium Landefricus, dimidium Wapentako. Leg. Ethelred. cap. 6. See Landricus.

Landragman Was one of the inferior Tenants of a Manor. Customarium genus seu inferiorum tenentium Manerii, says the Learned Spelman, who adds, Ocurrit vox in Customar. de Hecham.

Land-gable Is a Tax or Rent issuing out of Land, according to Domesday. Census prædialis vel tributum quod a prædiis colligitur; that is, says Spelman, a Penny for every House; the Welsh use Pridgavel for Langavel.

This Langavel or Landgable in the Register of Domesday, was a Quit-Rent for the Site of a House, or the Land whereon he stood, the same with what we now call Ground-Rent — Tochi Filius Onti habuit in Civitate XXX Mansiones præter suam Hallam & duas Ecclesias dimidiam — & super Mansiones habuit locationem, & præter hoc de unaquaque unum denarium, id est, Landgable. Domesday, Lincoln.

Land-mur. Est terre limes vel terminus. From the Sax. Gemara, i. e. Terminus, and from hence we say Meers.

Landmærs, Agri mensesores, Measures of Land so called of old.

Landrata, Those Services and Duties which in the Saxon Times were laid upon all that held Land, which were three Obligations called Trinoda necessitas, Expedition, Burghbote and Brigbote: Which Duties the Saxons did not call servitia, because they were not Feudal Services arising ling from the Condition of the Owners, but Lan-directa, Rights that charged the very Land whoever did possess it, Churchman or Layman. Vide Spelman of Feuds, cap. 10.

Land-man, Terricola, the Terre-Tenant.

Landezius, A Landlord.

Landezianus Is he that actually possesses the Land, or hath it in his manual Occupation. 14 E. 3. Stat. 5. cap. 3. 23 E. 3. cap. 1. 26 E. 3. Stat. 5. cap. 2. See Terre-Tenant, & 12 R. 2. cap. 4. 4 H. 4. cap. 8. it is joined with this Word Possessor, as Synonymon. Anno 1 H. 6. cap. 5. See Terre-Tenant.

Lanrectus, Quere an Lantectus. Homines tam extra burgum quam infra debent eadem libertate frui infra banlieucam præter Lantectos de Herdewyke & pares eorum — Cartular. S. Edmundi, MS. fol. 316.

Langelum. See Landgabilum.

Lannemanni. Item in ipsa Civitate erant 12 Lannemanni, i. e. Habentes Socam & Sacam. Domesday, Tit. Lincolnsire. Sir Edw. Coke writes them Lannemanni, and interprets them Lords of Manors, habentes Socam & Sacam de tenentibus & hominibus suis. 1 Inst. fol. 5. a.

Languolum, An under Garment made of Wool, formerly worn by the Monks, which reached down to their Knees; so called, because Lanea fit: We read it in the Monast. 1 Tom. pag. 419. ad vestiendum autem suscipiunt, &c. duo Languola & omnia Lanea.

Langerode, — In Collingham, — quolibet die bovate terra facient unum quarterium de braso orde, vel duo quarteria de braso avene, vel reddent 111. denar. in festo Apostolorum Petri & Pauli; item quolibet due virgate facient 1 Langerode, vel dabunt 1111. den. in eodem festo. — Ex Cartulario S. Petri de Burgo, Swafham dicto. MS. fol. 139.

Lanis de crescentia Mallas traducendis absque Customa, &c. Is a Writ that lieth to the Customers of a Port, for the permitting one to pass over Wools without Custom, because he hath paid Custom in Wales before. See the Register, fol. 279.

Lanteriorum, The Lantern, Cupole, or Top of a Sceptle. — Walterus Skyrilaw Episcopus Dunelmensis (obit 1405) magnam partem campanilis, vulgo Lanterii, Ministerii Eboracensis construxit, in medio cujus operis arma sua posuit. Angl. Sacr. P. 1. pag. 775.

Lano niger. — One Sort of base Coin. Rex misit Johannem de Gloucester ad monetam retonsam & conserctam — arrestandam — idemque Johannes ad Sandwic accedens, — invenit ibidem monetam quandam videlicet nigrum Lanonem in partibus illis communiter currentem — & inhibuit ne moneta illa de cætero curreret. Memorand. in Saccario. Mich. 22 E. 1. by Sir John Maynard.

Lapis Marmorius. Qui quidem Henricus de Cliff (Clericus Rotulorum) in magna Aula Westmin. apud Lapidem Marmorium in præstia Domini Cancellarii præstitit sacramentum, &c. Claus. 18 Edw. 2. in 1. Dorso. This Marble Stone is about 12 Foot long and 3 Foot broad, and remains to this Day at the upper End of Westminster-Hall, where there is also a Marble Chair placed at the Middle of it, in which our Kings anciently sat at their Coronation-Dinner, and at other Times the Lord Chancellor; but over this Marble Table and Chair, are now erected the Courts of Chancery, and Kings-bench. See Orig. Jurid. fol. 27.

Lapis pacis, The same with Osulum pacis: Ipsa quoque sacrifa, &c. recipiat ad fenestram aquam benedictam & lapidem pacis, &c. Du Cange.

Lapse, Lapsus, Is the Omission of a Patron to present to a Church, within six Months after voidable; by which Neglect, Title is given to the Ordinary to collate to the said Church: We say that Benefice is in Lapse, or lapsed, whereunto he that ought to present hath omitted or slipped his Opportunity. 13 Eliz. cap. 12. This Lapse happens, as well the Patron being ignorant of the Avoidance, as Privy, except only upon the Resignation of the former Incumbent, or the Depri- vation upon any Cause comprehended in the Statute of 13 Eliz. 12. Panor. in cap. quia diversitatem, num. 7. de concess. Præbend. &c. In which Cases the Bishops ought to give Notice to the Patron.

Larceny (Fr. Larcin, Lat. Latrocinium) Is a Theft of personal Goods or Chattels in the Owner's Absence; and in respect of the Thing stolen, it is either great or small. Great Larceny is when the Things stolen, though severally, exceed the Value of xii d. Petit Larceny is when the Goods stolen exceed not that Value. Of this, see more in Staundf. Pl. Cr. lib. 1. cap. 15, 16, 17. Inter minuta autem furta (says Spelman) quæ Forenses vocant Petty Larcenies, olim habebantur equi & bovis subtrahio, ut perspicuum est ex Assis Hen. 2. Clarendonia editis, ubi sic legitur. Hæc Assisa attinebit — in murther & prodicione & iniqua combustione & in omnibus predictis, nisi in minutis furis & roberis, que facta fuerunt tempore guerra, sicut de equis & bobus & minoribus rebus.

Lardarium, The Larder, or Place where the Lard and Meat were kept. — Tenentes de Pidington caviabunt saleem Domini de foro ubi emptus fuerit ad Lardarium Domini. Paroch. Antiquæ pag. 496. Whence Larderarius Regis, the King's Larderer, or Clerk of the Kitchen.

Larding-Money. In the Manor of Bradford in Com. Wilt., the Tenants pay to the Marquesses of Winchester, their Landlord, a small yearly Rent by this Name: Which I conceive to be for Liberty to feed their Hogs with the Mast of the Lord's Woods; the Fat of a Hog being called Lard. This was called Lardarium in old Charters, & decimam lardarii de Haga. Monast. 1 Tom. 321. And those were called Lardarii, who were the Chief of the Lardery, viz. Rogerus Lardarium suum. Eadmerus, lib. 3. pag. 66. Thus Mr. Blount, who seems mistaken in the Etymology: For I take it to have been rather a Commutation for some customary Service of carrying Salt or Meat to the Lord's Larder.

Lardose. In the Choir of the Cathedral of Durham, the High Altar and St. Cuthbert's Ferretory is all of the French Pierre curiously wrought, both inside and outside, with fair Images of Alabaster and gilt, being called in the ancient History, the Lardose. Davies Rites and Monum. of Durham, pag. 12.

Larons Is the French Word for Thieves. In the Statute for View of Frank-pledge made 18 Ed. 2. the fourteenth Article, to be given in Charge at a Leet, is of Petty Lavons, as of Geese, Hens, &c.

Lashlite, i. e. Legis violatio: From the Saxon Lah, lex, and sliet, raptio. Si quis decimam contrahenteat, reddat Lashlite cum Daci, Witam cum Anglis. LL. Eccles. Aluredi Regis. It denoted the Danish common Forfeiture, which was Twelve

Ores;

Ores; every Ore valuing about xvi d. or xx d. Sterling. Selden's Hist. of Tithe, pag. 203.

Lastings Is often mentioned in Walsingham, and signifies Affluences or Murders. Anno 1271.

Last, (Sax.) Hlestan, orerare, Leß, (Fr.) signifies a Burden in general, and particularly a certain Weight or Measure. As a Last of Pitch, Tar or Ashes, contains fourteen Barrels. 32 Hen. 8. cap. 14. A Last of Hides or Skins, Twelve Dozen. 1 fac. cap. 33. A Last of Cod-Fish, Twelve Barrels, 15 Car. 2. cap. 7. A Last of Herring, contains Twenty Cades, or Thousand; every Thousand, Ten Hundred; and every Hundred Six-Score. A Last of Cole Seed is Ten Quarters and a half; and the like of Oats. A Last of Corn, or Rape-Seed, is Ten Quarters; in some Parts of England, they reckon Twenty-one Quarters to a Last of Corn. A Last of Wool is Twelve Sacks. A Last of Leather is Twenty Dickers, and every Dicker Ten Skins. Of Unpacked Herrings, Eighteen Barrels make a Last. A Last of Pilchards is Ten Thousand. A Last of Powder is Twenty-four Firkins, every Firkin weighing a Hundred Pounds. A Last of Osmonds is four Thousand Weight. Sed cum discederet (mercatores) 4 denarios de unoquoque Leith habebant Rex & Comes. Sc. Celtrize. LL. Edw. Conf. apud Selden. Tit. Hon. f. 620.

Last also, in the Marshes of East Kent, signifies a Court held by Twenty four Jurats, and summoned by the two Bailiffs thereof, wherein they make Orders, lay and levy Taxes, impose Penalties, &c. for Preservation of the said Marshes. See the Hist. of Imbanking and Draining, fol. 54.

Lastage, Lastage, and Lasting, (Lastagium, from the Sax. Last, i. e. onus) A Custom exacted in some Fairs and Markets to carry Things bought where one will, (according to Rasfal.) But 21 Rich. 2. cap. 18. it is taken for the Ballast or Lading of a Ship. In a Charter of Henry the Third, to the Monastery of Semplingham, thus; Et sint quieti de theolonio, & pontagio, & passagio, & pedagio, & Lastagio & stallagio. Where it is to be understood in the former Signification. Omnes homines London. sint quieti & liberi & omnes res eorum per totam Angliam, & per portus maris, de theolonio, & passagio, & lastagio, & ab omnibus aliis consuetudinibus. Diploma Hen. 1. de Libertatibus London.

Lastage (says another Author) Is properly that Custom which is paid for Wares sold by the Last, as Herrings, Pit. b. &c.

Lastage Was also used for Garbage, Rubbish, or such like Filth, as appears by this Record; Et quod nullus de cetero aliqua hujusmodi immunda visceralia, exitus & intestina bestiarum, aut finos, fimarum, serquinia, sordes, muros, rubrosa, Lastagium, aut alia sordida in aqua Thamesis ponat vel projiciat, &c. Claus. 16 Rich. 2. Dorf. 11.

Last heire, Ultimus heres, Is he to whom Land comes by Elcheat, for want of lawful Heirs, that is, the Lord of whom they held in some Cases, but in others the King. Quippe Rex omnium heredium ultimus est, uti Oceanus omnium fluviorum receptaculum. Bract. lib. 7. cap. 17.

Lastum. See Lathe.

Latera, Side-men, Companions, Assistants. — Novit autem vestra discretio quod salus Ecclesie Anglicane, & etiam Regni, plurimum dependet a venerabili Patre Domino Archiep. Cantuar. quapropter necessa- ria sunt ei Latera non solum qua sapiant jura regni, sed & qua sapiant jura Dei — talibus lateribus junctur fulciatur Dominus Archiepiscopus. — Epist. Rob. Grothhead apud Append. ad Fasciculum. p. 388.

Laterari, To lie Side-ways, in Opposition to lying End-ways. — unam peciam prati apud Langemede que capitat ad Regiam stratum, & Laterat ad terras heredium Nicholai de Sandwyco militis — Dat. Anno 1317. Ex Registr. Eccl. Christi Cantuar. MS.

Lathe or Leßth, (Lastum, Leda) Sax. Lathe, Is a great Part of a County, sometimes containing three or more Hundreds or Wapentakes; as it is used in Kent. Suoque olim subaudiens Magistratui quem Ledgrevium appellabant. Et quod Anglice vocabant 3 vel 4 Hundreda, isti vocabant Trihinge. In quibusdam vero Provinciis, Anglice, vocabant Lath, quod isti dicunt Trihinge. Quod autem in Trillinge definitur non poterat, ferebatur in Scyram, i. e. in Curiam Comitatus: LL. Edw. Conf. cap. 35. Et sint quieti de festis comitatuum, Leth, Hundred, & auxiliis Vicecomitum. Pat. 1 H. 4. part 8. m. 8.

Latheve or Leidgreve, or Thrithingreve. An Officer under the Saxon Government, who had Authority over the third Part of the Country, or three or more Hundreds or Wapentakes: Whose Territory was thereupon called a Tithing, otherwise a Leid or Leithen, in which Manner the County of Kent is yet divided, and the Rapes in Suffex seem to answer the same; and perhaps the Ridings in Yorkshire being now corruptly so called for Tridings or Things. Those Matters that could not be determined in the Hundred-Court, were thence brought to the Trithing where all the principal Men of three or more Hundreds, being assembled by the Authority of the Latheve or Trithingreve, did debate and decide it; or if they could not, did then send it up unto the County-Court to be there finally determined. Vid. Spelman's Antient Government of England.

Latimer Seems to be used by Sir Edward Coke for an Interpreter. 2 Par. Inst. fol. 515. I suppose the Word is mistaken, and should be Latiner, because heretofore he that understood Latin, which, in the Time of the Romans, was the prevailing Language, might be a good Interpreter. Camden agrees, that it signifies a Truchman, or Interpreter, and says the Word is used in an old Inquisition. Britan. fol. 598. and may be derived or corrupted from the Fr. Latinier. q. d. Latiner.

Latinarus, An Interpreter of Latin; Godwinus accipitrarius, Hugo Latinarus. In Domesday.

Latin. False Latin shall not quash an Indictment, nor abate any Declaration; for although the original Writ shall abate for false Latin, yet judicial Writs, or a Fine, shall not be impeached for false Latin. See Co. 5. Rep. Lenz's Case. But if the Word be not Latin, nor a Word allowed by the Law, as Vocabulum artis, (as every Art and Science hath its proper Terms) but be insensible; and if it be in a material Point, this makes the Indictment insufficient, as Burglariter, murderum, felonice, and the like, be Terms of Art well known in the Law; and therefore if these Words, or the like, be mistaken in an Indictment, so that in a material Place there is an insensible Word, which is not Latin, nor any Word known in the Law, this will make the Indictment vicious and insufficient.

Latinar,

Latitat Is the Name of a Writ, whereby all Men in personal Actions are called originally to the King's Bench. F. N. B. fol. 78. And it hath the Name, as supposing that the Defendant doth lurk and lie hid; and therefore being served with this Writ, he must put in Security for his Appearance at the Day, for Latitare est se malitiose occultare, animo fraudandi creditores suos agere volentes. But the true Original of this Writ, was this; In ancient Time, while the King's Bench was moveable, and followed the King's Court, the Custom was, upon commencing of a Suit, to send forth a Writ to the Sheriff of the County where the Court lay, for the Calling him in, and if the Sheriff returned, Non est inventus in Balliva mea, &c. then was there a second Writ sued forth, that had these Words, cum testatum est quod Latitat, &c. and thereby the Sheriff commanded to attach him in another Place where he may be found. Now when the Tribunal of the King's Bench came to be settled at Westminster, the former Course of Writ was held for a long Time, first sending to the Sheriff of Middlesex to summon the Party, and if he could not be found there, then to apprehend him wheresoever; but afterwards upon Pretence of easing the Subject, and expediting Justice, it was contrived to put both these Writs into one, and so to attach the Party complained of, upon a Supposal or Fiction, that he was not within the County of Middlesex, but lurking elsewhere; and that therefore he was to be apprehended in any Place else, where he was presumed to lie hid, by a Writ directed to the Sheriff of the County where he is suspected to be. And by this Writ a Man being brought in, is committed to the Marshal of the King's Bench, in whose Custody, when he is, he may be sued upon an Action in that Court.

Latro, (Latrocinium,) He who had the sole Jurisdiction in a particular Place de Latrone. 'Tis mentioned in Leg. W. 1. viz. Sciatis quod Abbati Alstif socam, teloneum & Latronem habere concedo. So in Charta Hen. 1. apud Spelman, Sacam & Socam habere in totam terram suam & Latrocinium. This Word in old Charters is frequently used for the Liberty of Infangtheof, or Privilege of judging and executing of Thieves.

Lattia, A Lath. — Mandatum ad cendulas & Lattas nostras (i. e. our Shingles and Lattice,) cavendas a parvo ad domos nostras restiandas. Pat. 4. H. 3. P. 1. m. 10. Hence a Lattice made of Laths.

Lavatorium, A Laundry, or Place to wash in. There was in Cathedral Churches commonly a Lavatory in the Porch, or Entrance, where the Priests and other officiating Members were obliged to wash their Hands, before they proceeded, to divine Service. Hence in the Statutes of the Church of St. Paul in London, it was ordained, ut Sacrista Lavatorium in vestibulo per servientes frequenter mundari faciat. — Liber Statut. Eccl. Paul. London. MS. fol. 59. 6. But it was commonly an Ewer.

Lavatrix. Bowes upon Stannmore.

Laudare, To advise, or rather to persuade. Et Laudatum est Regi quatenus consuetudines justas non auferret. Leg. Edw. Conf. cap. 39. So in Jessery Memmouth, lib. 1. cap. 6. Laudo igitur ut ab eo filiam suam primogenitam pietatis Duci nostro conjugem, &c. So in Hoveden. pag. 729. Laus is taken for Advice, viz. Rex Anglie assignabat ei in terra sua ad Laudem & Consilium Regis Francie, &c.

Laudare Is also to Arbitrate. Knigh-ton, pag. 2527. and Laudator signifies an Arbitrator. Knigh-ton, 2526.

Laudum, i. e. An Arbitrament or Award. 'Tis mentioned in Nich. Trevett, Anno 1293. viz. Rex Anglie dicto eorum, &c. & Laudo sub certa obligatione se submitteret. 'Tis mentioned also in Walsingham, pag. 60. And in Cartular. Glasf. MS. fol. 83. b. Arbitrationi, Laudo, seu dicto venerabilis Patris Domini Cantuariensis Archiepiscopi alte & basse nos submittimus.

Labina for Labina, i. e. Watry Land, in qua quis facile Labitur. 'Tis mentioned in Monast. Angl. 2 Tom. pag. 372. In aquis, Labinis, & mariscis sapissime periclitantur.

Launcegar, (Anno 7 Rich. 2. cap. 13.) A Kind of offensive Weapons now diffused, and prohibited by the said Statute.

Labersbrazd. In Glamorganshire and some other Parts of Wales, they make a Sort of a Food of a Sea-plant, which seems to be the Oyster-green, or Sea Liverwort. This they call Laverbread. Near St. David's they call it Lhavan or Lhawan, which I think they interpret black Butter.

Luberdswike, Unfaithfulness to the Chief Lord.

Laurels. Those Pieces of Gold which were Coined in the Year 1619, with the King's Head Laureated, were thence commonly called Laurels, the Twenty Shilling Piece mark with xx, the ten Shilling Piece with x, the five Shilling Piece with v. Camdeni Annal. Jac. 1. MS.

Law, Lex, In the general Signification is plain, and by Bracton thus defined, Lex est sanctio justa, jubens honesta & prohibens contraria. And the divine Schoolman says, Lex humana est quoddam dictamen rationis, quo diriguntur humani Actus. This in our Land hath been variable. First, Mormutius's Laws, translated out of the British Tongue into Latin by Gildas, of which we find no obscure Remnants in our Laws now in Use. See Mag. Chart. cap. 1 & 14. Secondly, Merchenlage, mentioned in Camb. Brit. pag. 94. and Polyd. in Hist. Angl. lib. 5. Thirdly, West-Saxon-lage. And Fourthly, Danelage. The Laws called Merchenlage, or Mercian Laws, were composed by Martia Queen of the Britons; and from her there was a Province called Provincia Merciorum. Many Laws were published by Ethelred King of Kent, by King Ina, and Offa; But Alfred, who subdued the whole Kingdom, having revised all the Laws of his Predecessors, retained those which were most useful, and abolished those which were not, so that he was called Anglicarum legum Conditor; and these Laws were called Westenelagan. But this Kingdom being afterwards subdued by the Danes, they introduced another Law called Danelag, by which their People were governed; and they being afterwards destroyed, Edward the Confessor out of the former Laws composed that which we now call the Common Law; and therefore he is called by our Historians Anglicarum Legum restitutor. These Laws were only general Customs observed through the Nation, which for that Reason were called Common; and likewise, because Leges omnibus in Commune reddidit, to be observed by all, with such Amendments as were made by his Father.

William the First did not enact many new Laws, but confirmed the old, viz. St. Edward's Laws; and abrogated none which concerned any Compositions or Mults of Delinquents.

At present the Law of England is divided into three Parts. 1. The Common Law, which is the most ancient and general Law of the Realm. 2. Statutes, or Acts of Parliament. And 3. Particular Customs. I say Particular; for if it be the general Custom of the Realm, it is Part of the Common Law. Co. on Lit. fol. 15. b. Law hath an especial Signification also, wherein it is taken for that which is lawful with us, and not elsewhere: As Tenant by the Curtesy of England. 13 E. 1. 3. And again, to wage Law, Vadiare legem, and to make or do Law, Facere legem. Bracton, lib. 3. traft. 2. cap. 37. When an Action of Debt is brought against one, upon secret Agreement or Contract, as in an Action of Detinue for Goods, Money or Chattels, lent or left with the Defendant, the Defendant may wage his Law, if he will, that is, swear, and certain Persons with him, that he detains not the Goods, or owes nothing to the Plaintiff, in Manner and Form as he hath declared, which is intended by Law to be only in Case of the Plaintiff's want of Evidence, and when he cannot prove his Surmise by any Deed or open Act. When one wages his Law, he shall bring with him so many of his Neighbours as the Court shall assign, (Sir Edward Coke says Eleven,) to swear with him, That they think in their Consciences he hath sworn truly. And this Law is used in Actions of Debt, without Speciality: as also where a Man coming to the Court after such a Time, as his Tenements, for Default, be seized into the King's Hands, will deny himself to have been summoned. Glanvil, lib. 1. cap. 9 & 12. Kitchin, fol. 164. This is borrowed from Normandy, as appeareth by the Grand Customary, cap. 85. But Coke in his 4 Rep. fol. 95. Slade's Case, says, It springs originally from the Judicial Law of God, alledging for it the Twentieth Chapter of Exodus, verse 7. The Feudists call them that come to purge the Defendants, Sacramentales, lib. feud. Tit. 4. sect. 3. & Tit. 10 & 26. And the Civilians call them Purgatores. Spelman says, Legem vadiare est cautionem dare de perimpendo legis exigentiam in re litigata, ut de prestando Sacramento ad indicatam diem cum indicito sacramentalium seu conjuratorum numero. And this was a Custom anciently used among the Egyptians, as Boemus in his Treatise De moribus gentium, informs us. Antiently Laga was used as Latin for Law, as Lagam Regis Edwardi vobis reddo, &c. Magna Charta, H. 1. 1 R. 3. cap. 2. 31 H. 6. cap. 6. Our Common Law are properly and aptly termed Leges Anglie, because they are appropriate to this Kingdom of England, and have no Dependence upon any Foreign Law whatsoever. Co. 2 par. Inst. cap. 9. These are the Birth-right, and the most ancient and best Inheritance the Subjects have. Co. on Litt. lib. 2. cap. 12. sect. 213. and in his Preface to the sixth Report. All Books written in the Law are either Historical, as the Year Books; Explanatory as Staunderford's Treatise of the Prerogative: Miscellaneous, as the Abridgments; Or Monological, being of one certain Subject, as Staunderford's Pleas of the Crown, Lambard's Justice of Peace. See Fulbeck's Parallels, cap. 3.

Lawes Round Heaps of Stones, which were a Sort of rude Monument for the Dead, are in the Borders between England and Scotland called Lawes. As in Staffordshire Longbs or Lows from the Saxon Hilawe, a Heap of Earth or Stones.

Law of Arms, (Lex Armorum,) Is that which gives Precepts, how rightly to proclaim War, to make and observe Leagues, to Assault the Enemy, and to punish Offenders in the Camp.

Law-day (Lagedayam) Is otherwise called View of Frank-pledge, or Court-Lect. Anno 1 Ed. 4. cap. 2. it is used for the County-Court. Et quod terre eorum imperpetuum quiete sint de feftis Comitatum & Hundredorum nostrorum, de visu Franci-plegii & Lawdayorum, de Turno & auxilio Vicecomitum, &c. Charta 39 Hen. 3. m. 5. Una cum omnibus feftis Lagedayorum. x. Scriptor. This Law-day, or Lage-day was properly any Day of open Court, and commonly used for the more solemn Courts of a County or Hundred. Debet facere feftam ad Hundredum predictum ad duos Lagedaies per annum; unum ad feftum beati Martini, & alium ad le Hokedaie. Cartular. Abb. Glaston. MS. fol. 43. a.

Lawr, According to Domesday, by the Interpretation of Mr. Agar, of the Receipt in the Exchequer, signifies an Ascent, or easy Summit.

Lawing of Dogs. Mastiffs must be lawed every three Years. Crompt. Jurif. fol. 163. that is, three Claws of the Fore-foot shall be cut off by the Skin. Char. Forest, cap. 6. or the Ball of the Fore-foot cut out. See Expedite and Pellota.

Lawless-Court, On Kingshill at Rochford in Essex, on Wednesday Morning, next after Michaelmas-Day, at Cock-crowing, is held a Court, vulgarly called, The lawless Court. They whisper, and have no Candle, nor any Pen and Ink, but a Coal, and he that owes Suit or Service, and appears not, forfeits double his Rent every Hour he is missing. This Court belongs to the Honour of Ralegh, and to the Earl of Warwick, and is denominated Lawless, because held at unlawful or Lawless Hour: The Title of it in the Court-Rolls runs thus,

Kingshill in Rochford } ff. Curia de Domino Rege

Diffa sine lege,
Tenta est ibidem
Per ejusdem consuetudinem,
Ante ortum solis
Luceat nisi Polus,
Senescallus solus
Nil scribit nisi colis,
Toties voluerit
Gallus ut cantaverit,
Per cujus soli sonitus
Curia est summonita:
Clamat clam pro Rege
In Curia sine lege,
Et nisi cito venerint
Citius panituerint,
Et nisi clam accedant
Curia non attendat,
Qui venerit cum lumine
Errat in regimine,
Et dum sunt sine lumine,
Capti sunt in crimine,
Curia sine cura.
Furati de injuria.

Tenta ibidem die Mercurii (ante diem) proximi post Festum Sancti Michaelis Archangeli, Anno Regni Regis, &c.

This Court is mentioned in Cam. Britan. tho' imperfectly, who says, This servile Attendance was imposed on the Tenants, for conspiring at the like unreasonable Time to raise a Commotion. Fol. 441.

Laughelefs Man, (Sax. Laughelefs Man, exlex) is otherwise called an Outlaw. Pro exlege tenebitur, cum Principi non obediatur nec legi, & tunc utlagabitur sicut ille qui est extra legem, sicut Laughelefs Man. Bracton, lib. 3. de Corona, cap. 11.

Law of Harque, (Anno 27 Edw. 3. Stat. 2. cap. 17.) From the German Word March, i. e. Limes, a Bound or Limit; because they that are driven to make Use of this Law, do take the Shipping or Goods of that People of whom they have received Wrong, and cannot get ordinary Justice, when they can take them within their own Bounds or Precincts. See Reprisals.

Law-Merchant (Lex Mercatoria) Is become a Part of the Laws of this Realm; for if there be two Joint-Merchants of Wares, and one of them dies, his Executor shall have the Moiety; which is not so in the Case of others not Merchants. Co. on Litt. fol. 182. Anno 13 Edw. 1. Stat. 3. and 27 Edw. 3. cap. 8.

Charta Mercatoria, 31 Edw. 1. m. 4. grants this perpetual Privilege to Merchants coming into this Realm: Quod omnes Balivi, Ministri Feriarum, Civitatum, Burgorum & Villarum Mercatoriarum Mercatoribus antedictis comparantibus coram eis celebrationem fusticiam facient de die in diem sine dilatione, secundum Legem Mercatoriam, de universis & singulis que per eandem Legem poterunt terminari.

Lawnd. See Land.

Laws of Molmutius. See Molmutian Laws.

Laws of Oleron. See Oleron Laws.

Law-Silver. In Breton Parva omnes servientes Curia debent habere cothecas contra autumnum: Habebunt etiam die Sancti Petri ad vincula 1 denar. ad Law-Silver. Cartular. Sancti Edmundi, MS. f. 111.

Law Spiritual (Lex Spiritualis) Is the Ecclesiastical Law, allowed by the Laws of this Realm, which is not against the Common Law, (whereof the King's Prerogative is a principal Part) nor against the Statutes and Customs of the Realm. And regularly, according to such Ecclesiastical Laws, the Ordinary and other Ecclesiastical Judges do proceed in Causes within their Cognizance. Coke on Litt. 344. This was called Law Christian, and the Ecclesiastical Court, wherein this Law was administered, was called Curia Christianitatis; and the Rural Dean, who was Judge or President of the Court within his own District, was called Decanus Christianitatis: And in Opposition to this Law, the Common Law was called Lex mundiata, terrena, &c.

Law of the Staple (27 Ed. 3. Stat. 2. cap. 22.) Is the same with Law-Merchant. See 4 Inst. fol. 237, 238. and Staples.

Lawyer, (Legista, Legisperitus, Jurisperitus.) Our Saxons called him Labman.

Lawnd. See Land.

Latone or Lound, In Domesday signifies a Plain between Woods.

Layd-land, (Terra inculta, novale) Land that lies untilled.

Laystall, (Saxon) A Place to lay Dung, Soil or Rubbish in, mentioned in the Statute for the better cleansing and paving the Streets of London. Anno 22 & 23 Car. 2.

Lazzy: Of a servile Condition. The Saxons divided the People into three Ranks: The first were called Edbilinghi, which are now the Nobility: The next were called Frilingi, which are now the Gentry; for Friling amongst the Saxons was he that was born a Freeman, or of Parents which were not subject to any Servitude. The last were called Lazzy; and those were born to Labour. They were of a more servile Condition than our Servants, because they could not depart from their Service without the Leave of the Lord. They were fixed to the Land where they were born, and were in Nature of Slaves. And from hence we derive the Word Lazzy. Nithardus, lib. 4. De Saxonibus.

Leach-troughs, Leach-brine. At the Salt-works in Staffordshire, they take the corned Salts from the Rest of the Brine, with a Loot or Lute, and put it into Burrows, through which being let in the Leach-troughs, the Salt drains it self dry; which Draining they call Leach-brine, and preserve it to be boiled again as the best and strongest Brine. From Iceland is Latur, a Drain or Torrent; whence the Bucking Tub or Vessel to put Ashes in for Water to strain through them, to make a Lee or Lexivium for washing Cloaths, is in some Parts called a Latch or Leche, and in other Places a Luck. So in the Bishoprick of Durham a Leak or Leche is a Gutter: And in Yorkshire, any Slough or watry Hole upon the Road is so termed. Saxon leccian, to let out Water, to leak.

Leap Is a pure Saxon Word; for that which we now call a Seed-Leap; and Leap-Fulne is a Seed-Leap full of Corn.

Leap-Year. See Bissextile.

Lea of Barn. Stat. 22 & 23 Car. 2. cap. —) Every Lea of Yarn at Kidderminster shall contain 200 Threads, reeled on a Reel four Yards about.

Lease, Dimissio, From the French Laiffer, permittere, Is a Demise or Letting of Lands or Tenements, Right of Common, Rent, or any Hereditament unto another for Term of Years or Life, for a Rent reserved: And a Lease is either written, called a Lease by Indenture, or a Lease Parol. The Party that letteth this Lease is called The Lessor, and the Party to whom it is let is the Lessee: And a Lease hath in it six Points, 1. Words sufficient to import a Demise. 2. A Lessee named. 3. A Commencement from a Day certain. 4. A Term of Years. 5. A Determination. 6. A Reservation of Rent. Co. lib. 6. fol. 55. Knight's Case. Co. on Litt. lib. 1. cap. 7. sect. 56. Co. 5 Rep. Case of Leases.

Leat, A Mill-leat, corruptly Milleat. A Trench to convey Water to or from a Mill, mentioned in Stat. 7 Jac. 1. c. 19. But most peculiar to Devonshire, where in Conveyances the Word does frequently occur.

Leccator: A riotous debauched Person, a Lecher, a Whoremaster. Sciatur, quod ego Johannes Constabularius Cestrie dedi Hugoni de Dinton, & Heredibus suis Magistratum omnium Leccatorum & Meretricum totius Cestreshire sicut liberius illum Magistratum teneo de Comite. Salvo jure meo mihi & heredibus meis. Sine dat. sed circa annum 1220.

Lech, the same with Lath.

Lecherwite, alias Legerwite. See Lairwite.

Letaria. See Litera.

Letisternum, A Bed. Sometimes all that belongs to a Bed. Flr. Wor. pag. 631.

Lettrinum, i. e. A Pulpit. Chirothecas dum oraret super Letrinum posuit. Monastic. 3 Tom. pag. 243.

Lecturnum.

Lecturnium, Lectorium, The Desk, the Reading Place, or Pew in Churches.—Tunc Major presbyter redeat ad Lecturnium inepturus quod incumbit, &c. Statuta Eccl. Paul. Lond. MS. fol. 44.

Lectissum (LL. Gul. 1. cap. 6) Seems to signify a Fine or a Mult. From the Sax. Last, Onus.

Leda. See Lathe. It also is the same with Lada, which signifies a broad Way or Broad, viz. Tresdecim percas de Leed & 25 in longum de prato; i. e. Thirteen Perches in Breadth, and Twenty-five in Length.

Ledgrave, the Chief Man of the Lathe.

Ledo, (Ledona,) i. e. The rising Water, or Increase of the Sea. Ledo sex horas inundationis & totidem recessus habet, malina vero grandis per quinque horas ebullit, & per septem horas littorum docta reteggit. Du Cange.

Leet, Leta, visus Franci Plegii, Is otherwise called a Lawday. Smith de Rep. Angl. lib. 2. cap. 18. and seems to have grown from the Saxon Leo, which, as appears by the Laws of King Edward, set out by Lambar, numb. 34. was a Court of Jurisdiction above the Wapentake or Hundred: Many Lords, together with their Courts-Baron, have likewise Leets adjoined, and thereby do enquire of such Transgressions as are subject to the Enquiry and Correction of this Court; whereof you may read in Kitchin, from the Beginning of his Book to the fifth Chapter, and Britton, cap. 28. But this Court in whose Manor soever it be kept, is accounted the King's Court, because the Authority thereof originally belongs to the Crown. Kitchin, fol. 6. Dyer, fol. 64. saith, That this Leet was first derived from the Sheriff's Turn. And it inquireth of all Offences under High Treason, committed against the Crown and Dignity of the King, though it cannot punish many, but must certify them to the Justices of Assize, by the Statute of 1 E. 3. cap. ult. But what Things be only inquirable, and what punishable, see Kitchin in the Charge of a Court-Leet, from fol. 8. to fol. 20. See also the Statute 8 E. 2. and 4 Inst. fol. 261. Hec est Curia prisca illa, (saith Spelman) que inter Saxones ad Frisburgos, Decanias Tenementales pertinebat. The Jurisdiction of Bailiffs within the Dutchy of Normandy, in the Compass of their Provinces, seems to be the same, or very like our Leet, cap. 4. of the Grand Customary. Leet comes from the Sax. Let, i. e. Censura, arbitrium; or from Latan, Censere, estimare. Quid in hac olim Curia de damnis estimabatur inter vicinos emergentibus, ut patet in LL. Edw. Conf. cap. 20. See Sir William Dugdale's Warwickshire, fol. 2.

Leets or Leites, Meetings appointed for the Nomination or Election of Officers; a Word often used in Archbishop Spottswood's History of the Church of Scotland.

Legs, i. e. A Place. Hurflega, a Woody Place.

Lega and Lassa, Anciently the Alloy of Money was so called. Debita nummi temperies quam veteres Legam & Lassam (ni fallar) appellabant. Spelm.

Legabilis, What is not intailed as Hereditary, but may be bequeathed by Legacy in a Last Will and Testament.—Consecutio est in plerisque civitatibus & burgis quod una domus potest legari in Testamento & alia non, quia est de baronia, & illa non est legabilis, vel quia hodie potest esse legabilis, & cras non.— Articuli propofiti in Parlamento coram Rege 1234. Ex Registr. Will. Wickwane, Archiep. Ebor. MS.

Legare, Legatum, Is a particular Thing given by a last Will and Testament, and he to whom such Legacy is given, is called the Legatee. If a Man transfer his whole Right or Estate upon another, that the Civilians call Hereditas, and him to whom it is so transferred, they term Heres; but we call him Heir only, to whom all a Man's Lands and Hereditaments descend by Right of Blood. See Heir. See more in Devise.

Legalis Homo Is taken for him who stands Rectus in Curia, not outlawed, nor excommunicated, nor defamed: And in this Sense are those Words so often used, Probi & legales homines. Hence Legality is taken for the Condition of such a Man. Ipsa tamen malefactor, tradat fideiussorem de pace & legalitate tuenda, i. e. Sureties for his good Behaviour. LL. Edw. Conf. cap. 18. See Yeoman.

Legatary, (Legatarius,) He or she to whom any Thing is bequeathed; a Legatee. Spelman says, it is sometimes used pro Legato vel Nuncio.

Legate, An Ambassador, or other Representative of a Prince, especially of the Popes of Rome, who in England had the Archbishops of Canterbury for their Legatos natos; and upon extraordinary Occasions sent over Legates a latere. These Legates are often mentioned in our old Historians. The Difference between them is thus: Legatus a Latere was usually one of the Pope's Family, who was vested with the greatest Authority in all Ecclesiastical Affairs over the whole Kingdom where he was sent; and during the Time of his Legation, he might determine even those Appeals which had been made from thence to Rome. Legatus natus had a more limited Jurisdiction. 'Tis true, he was exempted from the Authority of the Legate a Latere; but he could exercise even his Jurisdiction in his own Province.

Legate Is the Person to whom a Legacy is bequeathed by a last Will.

Legatus, (Anno 27 Eliz. cap. 16.) The same with Legatary.

Legatum, In the Ecclesiastick Sense was a Soul-Seat, or Legacy given to the Church or accustomed Mortuary. In all Churches appropriated to the Abbey of Osney, the perpetual Vicars by Endowment were to have every second Legacy, if to the Value of Six-pence, and one half of it, if beyond that Value. Vicarius.— habebit secundum legatum ad valentiam sex denariorum, & quod ultra sex denarios fuerit, inter ipsum & Canonicos dividabitur. Paroch. Antiq. p. 304.

Per Regem Angliæ tenere. To hold by the Law or Curtesy of England. As when a Man is Tenant for Life to the Inheritance of his Wife deceased.—Henricus de Lacy Comes Lincoln. tenet manerium de Burcester ad terminum vite sue per legem Angliæ de Hereditate Margarete Uxoris sue. Paroch. Antiquit. pag. 361.

Legem facere, To make Oath. Legem habere, To be capable of giving Evidence upon Oath. Legem amittere, To lose the Privilege of being admitted as a legal Evidence. Minor non habet legem, i. e. is not capable of Testimonial Swearing. See Mr. Selden's Notes on Hengham, pag. 133.

Legergild, and Legerwit, (Legergildum.) The same with Lairwite. But in the Laws of Hen. 1. cap. 11, 12. it seems to have a different Signification. Si quis Dei fugitivum habet injuste, reddat eum ad rectum, & persolvat ei cuius erit, & Regi emendet seu undum Legergildum. But Legergild is not the same with Lairwite; 'tis a Mulct set on him who receives and lodges a Servant departing from his Service without Leave of his Master.

Legerpend. See Lespend.

Legiosus, Litigious, and so subjected to a Course of Law. — Inquisitio facta Anno 1411. de vicaria de Duntun in agro Norfolk. — ad quem vel ad quos ipsius presentatio pertinet & pertinere debeat ista vice, & an dicta vicaria sit Legiosa, personaria vel portionaria, & si sit, cui, vel quibus, &c. Munimenta Hospital. SS. Trinitatis de Pontefractio. MS.

Legitimation, (Legitimatio.) A making lawful, or legitimate.

Leta, The same with Lada; and sometimes it signifies the Branches of Trees cut to burn. Brancas etiam de Leia quantum necesse fuerit ad focum Monachorum. Du Fresne.

Leticiter. See Rate.

Letigere: He who had an Authority over a Leid, or Lath. See Lathree.

Leipa, A Departure from Service. Si quis a Domino suo sine licentia discedat, ut Leipa Emendetur & redire cogatur. Leg. H. 1. cap. 43.

Leine. See Exvadium.

Leina Occurs in Domesday, corruptly for Leura. Spelm. Gloss. verbo Leuca, which see.

Leit, Quadragesima, A set Time of Fasting and Abstinence for Forty Days next before Easter, mentioned in the Statute 2 & 3 E. 6. 19. and first commanded to be observed in England by Ercombert, seventh King of Kent, before the Year 800. See Baker's Chron. fol. 7.

Lep and Larc, Lep & Lassie, Is a Custom in the Manor of Whittle in Essex, that every Cart that comes over a Part thereof called Greenbury (except it be the Cart of a Nobleman) pays 4d. to the Lord of the Manor. This Greenbury is conceived to have anciently been a Market-place, and therefore had this Privilege granted. Tobias Edmonds, Gen. Senescal. ibid.

Lepa Is a Measure which contained the third Part of two Bushels. Et colligat in Boscis Domini de antibus tertiam partem unius mensure que vocat' Lepa, quod est tertia pars duorum Brissellorum, & valet quadrante. Du Cange. From hence we derive a Seed-Leap.

Leporarius, A Greyhound for the Hare. Concedo eis duos Leporarios & quatuor Braccatos ad leporem capiendum in Foresta nostra de Essexia. Mon. Angl. 2 Par. fol. 283. a. See Chatruvus.

Leporum, A Place where Hares are kept. Mon. Angl. 2 Tom. p. 1035. In turbariis, in vivariis & Leporiis, &c.

Leposo Amobendo Is a Writ that lies for a Parish, to remove a Lep or Lazar that thrusteth himself into the Company of his Neighbours, either in Church, or other publick Meetings, to their Annoyance or Disturbance. Reg. Orig. fol. 267. and F. N. B. fol. 423.

Leripoop. The old fashioned Shoes tipt with Horn, and tied up with Silk Ribbands, or Silver Chains to the Knees, were called Leripoops. Rog. Dodsworth, Collect. M. vol. 39. p. 120.

Le Roy le veut. By these Words the Royal Assent is signified by the Clerk of the Parliament to publish Bills, which gives Birth and Life to them which before were but Embrios; and to a private Bill his Answer is, Soit fait comme il est desire.

Le Roy's abistra. By these Words to a Bill presented to the King by his Parliament, are understood his absolute Denial of that Bill, in a more civil Way, and the Bill thereby becomes wholly nulled.

Leve Is a Saxon Word, and derived from Lesean, which signifies to divide.

Letis, A Leash of Greyhounds: The Term is now restrained to the Number Three, but was formerly double, or perhaps indefinite. — Archiepiscopus Cant. & succ. sui fenel in quolibet Anno, cum transferint per diastam Forestam (i. e. de Arundel) cum una letia de sex Leporariis sine aliis canibus & sine arcu, habeant unum cursum in curdo & alium redendum. Anno 43 H. 3. Reliq. Spelm. pag. 118.

Lespend, (Sax. Les-pegen, i. e. Baro minor.) Sint sub quolibet bonum quatuor ex mediocribus hominibus (quos Angli Lespend nuncupant, Dani vero Yoong Men vocant) locati, qui curam & onus tum vividis tum veneris suscipiant. Constitut. Canuti Regis de Foresta, Art. 2.

Letia Is a Legacy. Eleemosynas quas mei homines faciunt de suis de iniis, atque Letias de suis substantiis. From whence we derive the Word Lease. Monast. 1 Tom. pag. 562.

Lessor and Lesser, The Lessor is he that leases Lands or Tenements to another for Term of Life Years, or at Will: And he to whom the Lease is made is the Lessee.

Letia. See Lathe.

Letlage. See Lassege.

Letlagier, Letlage free, or exempt from the Duty of paying Ballast-Money. King Edw. 1. granted to the Barons of the Cinque Ports — Quod sint Wreckfry, Wyttfry, & Letlagiefry, & Lometofry, & quod habzant Den & Strand apud Gernemuth. — Placit. temp. Ed. 1. & Ed. 11. MS. 4to. penes Dom. Fountains ex Aede Christi Oxon.

Letitia. Among the Customs and Services done by the Tenants of Chelenebale to the Abbey of St. Edmund in Suffolk. — Arabit & hercabit ad duas precarias cum cibo predicto, metet autem uno die in Augusto & habebit cibum suum ad mensam cum pane & aqua, & habebit inter duos & duos peciam carnis & Letithiam casei, sero autem habebit unum panem & Letithiam casei, & portabit secum ad Domum. Cartular. S. Edmundi. MS. fol. 401.

Lures, or Letbes, Is a Word used in Domesday, to signify Pastures, and is still used in many Places of England, and often inserted in Deeds and Conveyances.

Letwuthiel. See Uzella.

Lethermite, 2 Infl. fol. 488. This is doubtless there mistaken, or false printed for Lecherwite. See Lairwite.

Letare Jerusalem. The old Duty of Quadragesimal, or the customary Oblations made on Midlent-Sunday, when the proper Hymn was, Letare Jerusalem, &c. by the Inhabitants within a Diocese to the Mother Cathedral Church; which old Custom of Procession and Oblation at that Time, was the Beginning of that Practice which is still retained among us, of Mothering or going to visit Parents on on Midlent-Sunday. But to return; these voluntary Offerings on that Sunday, were by Degrees settled into an annual Composition or pecuniary Payment, charged on the Parochial Priest, who was presumed to receive them from his People, and obliged to return them to the Cathedral Church; therefore in some Forms of Approbation, the subtle Religious took express Care to throw this among other Burdens upon the oppressed Vicars. As in the Ordination of the Vicarage of Erdele in the Archdeaconry of Huntingdon, made in the Year 1290. It is provided, Qui quidem Vicarius solvet Synodalia, Latere Jerusalem, & libros, Vestimenta & alia Ornamenta, luminare competens in cancellis, vinum, Oblatas, & Clericum idoneum & his similia inveniet & exhibebit— Ex Libro Institutionum Oliv. Sutton Episc. Lincoln. MS.

Letters of Absolution, or absolutorij Letters, (Litteræ Absolutoriae.) Were such in former Times, when an Abbot did release any of his Brethren, ab omni subjectione & obedientia, &c. and made them capable of entering into some other Order of Religion. The Form of which you may see in Mon. Faverhamense, pag. 7.

Letter of attorney, Litteræ Atornati, Is a Writing authorising an Attorney, that is, a Man appointed to do a lawful Act in our steads. West. Symbol. part 1. lib. 2. sect. 559. As a Letter of Attorney to give Seisin of Lands, to receive Debts, to sue a third Person, &c. See the Stat. 7 R. 2. 13. Anciently, a Letter of Attorney to give Seisin of Lands, ran thus:

Pateat universis per presentes quod ego Johannes Gour Dominus de Peodelestone Attornavi loco meo dilectum mihi in Christo Johannem Hendyng ad ponendum William Nasche & Rogerum Nasche in plena & pacifica seiscina in omnibus illis terris, & tenementis cum pertinentiis suis, quæ & quas habeo in Orleton prout in carta Feoffamenti dictis Will. & Rogero inde concessa plenius continetur. Ratum habens & gratum quicquid dictus Johannes nomine meo fecerit in præmissis. In cujus, &c. Dat. 43 Ed. 3.

Letter Claus, Litteræ Clausæ, Close Letters opposed to Letters Patent: These Clausæ Letters being commonly sealed up with the King's Signet or Privy Seal, while the Letters Patent were left open, sealed with the Broad Seal.

Letters of Marque. See Marque and Reprisals, 14 H. 6. 7.

Letters Patent, Litteræ Patentis, Are Writings sealed with the Great Seal of England, whereby a Man is authorised to do or enjoy any Thing, that otherwise of himself he could not, 19 H. 7. 7. And they be so termed of their Form, because they be open with the Seal affixed, ready to be shewed for Confirmation of the Authority given by them. Common Persons may grant Letters Patent, F. N. B. f. 35. but they are rather called Patentes than Letters Patents. Letters Patents to make Denizens. 32 H. 6. 16. yet, for Difference sake, those granted by the King are called Letters Patent Royal. 2 H. 6. 10. Letters Patent conclude with Teste me ipso, &c. Charters with Hiis testibus. 2 par. Inf. 78. They are sometimes called also Letters Overt. En Tesmoignage de quel chose nous avons fait faire ces lettres noz Letters Overtes. Pat. 23 Edw. 3. p. 2. m. 24. Letters Patent of Summons of Debt. Anno 9 H. 3. cap. 18. There is likewise a Writ Patent mentioned in F. N. B. fol. 1. &c.

Lebant and Couchant, Is, when Cattle have been so long in another Man's Ground, that they have lain down, and are risen again to feed; in Records in Latin, they say, Levantes & Cubantes. See Falda.

Lebanum, Leavened Bread. From the Lat. Levare, to make lighter.

Lebari facias Is a Writ directed to the Sheriff, for the levying of a Sum of Money upon Lands and Tenements of him that hath forfeited a Recognisance. Reg. Orig. fol. 298 & 300. and also F. N. B. 265.

Lebari facias damna de disseisitoribus Is a Writ directed to the Sheriff, for the Levying of Damages wherein the Disseisor hath formerly been condemned to the Disseisee. Reg. Orig. fol. 214.

Lebari facias restitutum debiti Is a Writ directed to the Sheriff, for the Levying the Remnant of a Debt upon Lands and Tenements, or Chattels of the Debtor, that hath in Part satisfied before. Reg. Orig. fol. 299.

Lebari facias, quando Wrecomes returnabit quod non habuit emptores, Is a Writ commanding the Sheriff to sell the Goods of the Debtor which he hath already taken, and returned that he could not sell them, and as much more of the Debtor's Goods as will satisfy the whole Debt. Reg. Orig. fol. 300.

Lebare sœnum, To make Hay, or properly to cast it into Wind-rows, in Order ad tassandum, to cock it up. — Homines de Hedingdon venient cum fureis suis ad dictum sœnum Levandum & tassandum. Paroch. Antiq. pag. 320. Hence una levatio sœni was one Day's Hay-making, a Service paid the Lord by inferior Tenants. — Alicia quæ fuit Uxor Richardi le Grey — faciet unam sœvulturam & unam Wedbedripam, & levationem sœni. ch. p. 402.

Leuca, Leuba, Leuga, Vise spatium. Spelm. Gloss. verb. Leuca, They are often used in Domesday for a Measure or Mile of Land. And Leunides hath the same Signification there. Quodam Parvo ibidem, continente in circuitu tres Leucas, & vocatur Keribulloc cum haya & muro incluso. Item. quadragesima Perticas ad quarantenam, & 12 quarantenas ad Leucam. MS. of the Dutchy of Cornwall. It seems here to be used for a Mile. See Burton's Comment. on Anton. Itinerary, fol. 29.

Leuca Is a Measure of Land, consisting of 1500 Paces. Ingulphus, tells us 'tis 2000 Paces, pag. 910. In the Monastic. 1 Tom. p. 313. 'tis 480 Perches.

Leucarum, Logbove in South Wales.

Leucata Is a Space of Ground, as much as a Mile contains. De bosco, &c. continente unam Leucatam in Latitudine & dimidium in Longitudine. Monast. 1 Tom. p. 768. And so it seems to be used in a Charter of William the Conqueror to Battle Abbey. Concedo etiam eidem Ecclesie Leucatam circumquaque adjacentem liberam & quietam de omni geldo Du Cange.

Levellus, A Level, even or upon the Level.

Anno 1240. venerunt Abbas S. Petri de Burgo & Radulphus de Basset de Pitbelle ad emendandum stagnum molendini de Pitbelle — concesserunt & providerunt — quod dictum stagnum humiliabitur per Levellum sicut ceterum pratum ex utraque parte — ita quod aqua non exeat de canali pro exaltatione dicti stagni nisi præ nimia inundatione cretine. — Cartular. Abbatie S. Petri de Burgo Swafham dictum. MS. f. 208.

Levy, (Levare) Signifies, To gather or exact; as, To levy Money: And is sometimes used, To erect or set up; as, To levy a Mill. Kitchin, fol. 180. Also, To raise or cast up; as, To levy a Ditch. Old Nat. Br. fol. 110. And, To levy a Fine, which is now the usual Term. But I have seen a Deed, wherein William St. George Esquire covenants to revere a Fine of the Manors of Brandon and Wyck-hampton. Dat. 17 Hen. 6.

Leuca, The same with Leuca.

Lex Is often taken for Judicium Dei. 'Tis the same as Lada amongst the Saxons, which is either a canonical or vulgar Purgation. In Leg. H. 1. cap. 62. Ab Adventu Domini usque ad octavas Epiphaniae, non est tempus Leges faciendi.

Lex amissa, or Legem amittere, viz. One who is an infamous, perjured, or outlawed Person. In Bracton, lib. 4. cap. 19. par. 2. Non est ulterius dignus Lege.

Lex Apostata, or Legem Apostatare, Is to do a Thing contrary to Law. 'Tis mentioned in Leg. H. 1. cap. 12. Qui Legem Apostatabit vera sua sit reus prima vice.

Lex Brethonia, The Brethon Law, was a Law peculiar to Ireland, overthrown by King John in the Twelfth Year of his Reign, and the English Laws settled instead thereof. See Brethon.

Lex Bretoyse, The Law of the Britains, or of the Marches of Wales, Lex Marchiarum. See Breytose.

Lex Deraisina, rectius Deraisina, Is the Proof of a Thing which one denies to be done by him, and his Adversary affirms it; defeating and confounding the Assertion of his Adversary, and shewing it to be without and against Reason or Probability. Juris membrum est Normannici, quod in prisco ejusdem Customario, cap. 126. sic definitur. Deraisina autem est Lex quaedam in Normannia constituta, per quam in simplicibus querelis infestus, factum quod a parte adversa ei obijctus, se non fecisse declarat. Vide plura ibidem & Doreyn.

Lex Judicialis Is properly Purgatio per Judicium Ferri. Sometimes 'tis called Judicium. Leg. H. 1. cap. 9, 45, 49.

Lex Sacramentalis, i. e. Purgatio per Sacramentum. Leg. H. 1. cap. 9. Si quid bello vel Lego Sacramentali, &c. repetatur.

Lex Terræ, i. e. The Law and Custom of the Land, distinguished by this Name from Lex Civilis, as Mr. Selden tells us in Dissertation. ad Fleetam, cap. 9. par. 3.

Lex Wallensis, The British Law, or Law of Wales. Statut. Wallie.

Lex, Lex. See Law. We also term Pasture by a frequent Name in several Countries, Leys, and so is it used in Domesday.

Lex, Lex, Lay, Whether in the Beginning or End of Names of Places, signify an open Field, or large Pastures. From the Saxon Leag, Campanus, Pasuum; as Ble.bingley, &c.

Lexpagaer, (Anno 1 Car. 1. cap. 3.) Wager of Law. See Law.

Libaninum, Instead of Libamen. Bibentes unum Libaninum in spoliacionem captivandorum. Knigh-ton, Anno 1270.

Libel, Libellus, Literally signifieth a little Book, but by Use it is the original Declaration of any Action in the Civil Law, 2 H. 5. 3. and 2 E. 6. 13. It signifies also, a criminous Report of any Man cast abroad, or otherwise unlawfully publish'd, and then called Famosus Libellus: And this is either in scriptis, aut sine scriptis: In scriptis is, when an Epigram or other Writing is composed or publish'd to another's Disgrace, which may be done Verbis aut Cantilenis: As where this is maliciously repeated or sung in the Presence of others; or else Traditione, when the Libel, or any Copy of it is delivered over to scandalize the Party. Famosus Libellus sine scriptis may be twofold; 1. Picturis, as to paint the Party in a shameful and ignominious Manner. Or, 2. Sigris, As to fix a Gallows, or other ignominious Signs at the Door of the Party, or elsewhere. Co. 5 Rep. de famosis Libellis.

Libello habendo. See Copia Libelli habenda.

Libera, A Livery or Delivery of so much Grats or Corn to a Customary Tenant, who cuts down or prepares the said Grats or Corn, and receives some Part or small Portion of it as a Reward or Gratuity. — Debet unam Wedbedripam.

— Et unam falcaturam, & habebit liberam ad vespuras que vocatur Glenyngs, tantum sicut falcator potest per falcem levare & portare domum. Paroch. Antiq. pag. 401. So the Livery of Hay and Oats, or the Giving out such a Quantity for feeding Horses. Whence Livery-Stable, &c.

Libera batella, A free Boat. Per Liberam batellam, hoc est, habere unam cymbam ad piscand. subter pontem Cestrie & supra Etonam, & ibidem cum omni genere retium. Plac. in Idin. apud Cestriam, 14 Hen. 7.

Libera chafsa habenda Is a Writ Judicial, granted to a Man for a Free Chafe belonging to his Manor, after he has by a Jury proved it to belong to him. Register of Writs Judicial, fol. 26, and 37.

Liberate Is a Writ issuing out of the Chancery, to the Treasurer, Chamberlains, or Barons of the Exchequer, or Clerk of the Hamper, &c. for the Payment of any annual Pension, or other Sums granted under the Great Seal. See Broke, Tit. Tayle d'Exchequer, num. 4. Reg. Orig. fol. 193. Or sometimes to the Sheriff, &c. Nat. Brev. fol. 132. For the Delivery of any Lands or Goods taken upon Forfeits of Recognition, see Co. lib. 4. fol. 64, 66, 67. Fulkwood's Case. It lies also to a Gaoler, for the Delivery of a Prisoner, that hath put in Bail for his Appearance. Lamb. Eirenar. b. lib. 3. cap. 2.

Liberatio, i. e. Whatever Money, Meat, Drink, or Clothes, is yearly, or at any set Times in the Year, given by the Lord to his Domesticks. Cum Rex Scotia ad Curiam Regis Anglia venerit, habebit quotidie de Liberatione 30 Soli, & 12 Wastellos dominicos, & 12 Simenellos dominicos, &c. Here 'tis mentioned as a Provision for a King; but in Brompton 'tis said: Et dedit unicuique vadia sua & Liberationem ab illo die usque ad proximum pascha sequent': From whence we derive the Word Livery.

Libera Mura. See Wara.

Libertas Ecclesiastica. This is a most frequent Phrase in our old Writers, to signify Church Liberty, or Ecclesiastical Immunities. The Right of Investiture extorted from our Kings by Force of Papal Power, was at first the only Thing challenged by the Clergy, as their Libertas Ecclesiastica: But by Degrees, under weak Princes and prevailing Factions, under the Title of Church Liberty, they contended for a Freedom of their Persons and Possessions from all Secular Power and Jurisdiction, as appears by the Canons and Decrees of the Councils held by Boniface Archbishop of Canterbury, at Merton, A. D. 1258. and at London, A. D. 1260. &c.

Libertate probanda Is a Writ that lay for such as were challenged for Slaves, and offer'd to prove themselves free, directed to the Sheriff, that he take Security of them for the proving of their Freedom before the Justices of Assize, and provide that in the mean Time they be quiet from the Vexation of those that challenge them. F. N. B. fol. 77. Villenage, and the Appendixes thereof, viz. Infranchisement, &c. Writs de Nativo habendo, Libertate probanda, &c. were of old great Titles in the Books, but now antiquated. See Nativo habendo.

Libertatibus allocandis Is a Writ that lies for a Citizen, or Burghs of any City or Borough, that contrary to the Liberties of the City or Town whereof he is, is impeached before the King's Justices, or Justices Errant, or Justice of the Forest, &c. to have his Privilege allowed. Reg. Orig. fol. 262. F. N. B. fol. 229.

Libertatibus evigendis in itinere Is a Writ whereby the King willeth the Justices in Eyre to admit of an Attorney, for the Defence of another Man's Liberty before them. Reg. Orig. fol. 19.

Liber taurus A free Bull. Compertum per Fur. quod Will. de Lofa fuit seifitus de libero Tauro habendo in Hamsted, &c. — Ideo consideratum est, quod predictus W. reciperet damna sua, que taxantur per Fur. ad iv s. pro imparcatione ejusdem Tauri, &c. Norff. 16 Edw. 1.

Liberty, Libertas, Is a Privilege held by Grant of Prescription; whereby Men enjoy some Benefit or Favour beyond the ordinary Subject. Liberties Royal, what they be, see in Bract. lib. 2. cap. 5. and Broke hoc titulo. See Bract. lib. 2. cap. 5. and Broke hoc titulo. See Bract. lib. 2. cap. 5. and Broke hoc titulo.

Librum Herbagium. See Herbagium.

Liblaci, The Manner of bewitching any one; or sometimes 'tis taken for a barbarous Sacrifice. De revivimus etiam de sortilegis & Liblaci & sortem dantibus. Leg. Athelstan. 6. So qui falsum juravit, vel Liblaci faciet, sit in aeternum e consorcio Dei segregatus. Leg. Edmundi edit. apud Lond. 6.

Lib. æ arse pensatæ & ad numerum: A Phrase which often occurs in the Domesday-Register and some other Memorials of that and the next Age. As Ailesbury in Buckinghamshire, the King's Manor.

— in totis valentis reddit Lvi libr. arsas & pensatas, & de Thelonio X libr. ad numerum, i. e. in the whole Value it pays Fifty-six Pounds burnt and weighed; and for Toll Ten Pounds by Tale. For they sometimes took their Money ad numerum by Tale in the current Coin upon content: But sometimes they rejected the common Coin by Tale, and would melt it down to take it by Weight when purified from the Dross and too great Alloy; for which Purpose they had in those Times always a Fire ready in the Exchequer to burn the Money, and then weigh it.

Libra pensæ, A Pound of Money in Weight; for it was usual in former Days, not only to tell the Money, but to weigh it; for several Cities, Bishops, and Noblemen, had their Mints and coined Money, and often very bad, and therefore though the Pound consisted of 20 s. they weighed it. Thus in Domesday, we read, reddit nunc 30 libras arsas & pensatas. Gale's Hist. of Brit. fol. 761.

Librata terræ Contains four Oxgangs, and every Oxgang 13 Acres. Skene, verbo Bovata

terræ; with us it is so much Land as is yearly worth xx s. For in Henry the Third's Time, he that had quindécim libras terræ, was to receive the Order of Knighthood. See Fardingdeal. Some are of Opinion, that as Money is divided into Pounds, Shillings, Pence, Half-pence and Farthings, the same Degrees are to be observed in the Division of Lands; and therefore as quadrans signifies a Farthing, so quadrantata is the fourth Part of an Acre, oblata is half, and denariata is a whole Acre, solidata is Twelve Acres, and librata is Twenty Times Twelve Acres, i. e. Two hundred and forty. Spelman is of another Opinion, who compares an Acre to a Mark in Money; and as in one there are One hundred and sixty Pence, so in the other there are One hundred and sixty Perches, which they divide into Halfs and Quarters: So that an Acre contains Three hundred and sixty Denarios; but some say, that Librata terræ is so much Ground as is worth yearly 20 l. of current Money.

Liburna. See Galea.

Licence to arise. Licentia surgendi, Is a Liberty given by the Court to a Tenant that is effoined de malo lecti, in a real Action: For the Law is, that in this Case he may not arise out of his Bed, or at least go out of his Chamber, until he have been viewed by Knights thereto appointed, and have a Day assigned him to appear: And the Reason of this is, that it may appear whether he caused himself to be effoined deceitfully or not; and therefore if the Demandant can prove that he was seen abroad before the View, or Licence of the Court, he shall be adjudged to be deceitfully effoined, and to have made Default. Of this, see Bracton, lib. 5. tract. 2. cap. 7, 10 & 12, and Fleta, lib. 6. cap. 10. and Horne's Mirrour of Justices, lib. 2. cap. des Effoyes.

Licentia Concordandi, 12 Car. 2. 12. See King's Silver.

Licentia surgendi Is the Writ whereby the Tenant effoined de malo lecti, obtaineth Liberty to rise.

Licentia transiretandi Is a Writ or Warrant directed to the Keepers of the Port at Dover, &c. willing them to let some pass quietly beyond Sea, who have formerly obtained the King's Licence thereunto. Reg. Orig. fol. 193.

LICINA Instead of Eu dina: Tubis cum licinis perserpentibus. Matt. Westm.

Lidioso Law Is a proverbial Speech, intending as much as to hang Men first, and judge them after. The like is said of Halifax in Yorkshire, I suppose because their Proceedings are summary.

Lieutenant or Lieutenant, Locumtenens, Is compounded of lieu, locus & tenir, tenere, and signifies him that occupieth the King's, or any other Person's Place, or representeth his Person, as the Lieutenant of Ireland, 4 H. 4. 6. So also it is used 2 & 3 E. 6. cap. 2. whence that Officer seems to take his Beginning.

Lieutenant of the Ordnance, 39 Eliz. cap. 7. We use the Word Lieutenant also for a military Officer, next in Command to the Captain, whose Place and Duty is so well known, that I need not here enlarge upon it.

Liege, Ligens, Is a Word borrowed from the Feudists, and hath Two several Significations in the Common Law, sometimes being used for Liege

Liege Lord, as 34 & 35 H. 8. cap. 1. and 25 H. 8. 3. and sometimes for Liege-man, as 10 R. 2. 1. and 11 R. 2. cap. 1. Liege Lord is he that acknow- ledgech no Superior. Duaremus in Commentar. de consuetud. feudorum, cap. 4. num. 3. Liege-man is he that oweth Allegiance to his Liege Lord. Skene de verbo Signif. verb. Ligeantia, saith, That it is de- rived from the Italian Word Liga, a Bond or Obligation: In whom read more of this Matter. See 8 H. 6. cap. 10. 14 H. 8. cap. 2.

The Word Ligus was used for pure, full, or perfect. As viduitas ligia was pure Widowhood.

Isabel Gargat filia mea in ligia viduitate & Libera potestate sua. Paroch. Antiq. p. 190. So Ligia potestas was free and absolute Power of Dis- posal. Ego Ela de Aldithleia in Libera vidui- tate mea & Ligia potestate. ib. p. 280.

Lieges and Liege-people, (Ligati), The King's Subjects, anciently so called, because they owe and are bound to pay Allegiance to him. Anno 8 Hen. 6. cap. 10. 14 Hen. 8. cap. 2. and divers other Statutes: Yet anciently private Persons had their Lieges.

Reinaldus Dei gratia Abbas Ramefie, Preposito & hominibus de Brancestre, & omnibus vicinis Francis & Anglis, salutem. Sciatis me dedisse terram Uff in De- pedene, (hodie Depedale) huic Boselino & uxori ejus Alfnia, ita bene sicut homines de Brancestre illum testi- ficant verum habuisse, ea conditione quod effecti sunt homines Liges. Lib. Rames. Sect. 244.

Omnibus, &c. Reginaldus Rex Insularum salutem. Sciatis quod deveni homo ligeus Domini Regis Anglia Johannis contra omnes mortales quamdiu vixero, & inde ei fidelitatem & sacramentum prestiti. Et in bur- jus rei testimonium hanc cartam meam inde feci. T. Domino F. Wint. Episcopo. MS. penes Wil. Dugdale Ar. See Ligeancy. Some are of Opinion that they are called Lieges from Ligando.

Cum foret Anglorum feodali jure ligati.

But others more probably derive it from Litis, which is a Man wholly at the Service of the Lord, whose Service is called Litium servitium, and who had such an absolute Dependence on him, that he was his Vassal, so that Litigius or Ligus is one wholly under his Power. This appears where the Word is used on other Occasions, viz. Leg. Edw. cap. 29. Judei sub tutela Regis ligea de- bent esse, that is, wholly under the King's Pro- tection: So in the Monastic. 2 Tom. pag. 10. Ego Juliana quondam uxor W. Brest in ligia potestate & viduitate, that is, in my absolute Power and Wi- dowhood.

Lieutenant. See Lieftenant.

Lieutenant of the Tower Seems to have been an Officer under the Constable.

Licet est multa adulteriorum. Fleta, lib. 1. cap. 7. It is used for a Liberty, whereby a Lord challengeth the Penalty of one that lieth unlaw- fully with his Bond-woman. See Legrwitha and Lotherswit.

Life-rent Is a Rent or Exhibition, which a Man receives either for Term of Life, or for Su- stentation of Life. Nota quod Eschaeta terrarum fe- lonis post annum & diem, (viz. his Life-rent) ipso vi- vente computatur inter bona mobilia. Skeneus ad Quon. Attach. cap. 18. vers. 5.

Ligeance, Ligeantia, Is a true and faithful Obe- dience of the Subject to his Sovereign; sometimes it signifies the Dominions or Territory of the Liege Lord, as 25 E. 3. Stat. 2. Children born out of the Ligeance of the King: Also the same with Ligeancy. See Co. on Lit. fol. 129. and 7 Rep. Catlin's Calc.

Ligeancy, Ligeantia, Is thus defined in the Grand Customary of Normandy, cap. 13. Ligeantia est, ex qua Domino tenentur Vassalli sui contra omnes homines qui mori possunt & vivere, proprii corporis pre- bere consilii & auxilii jumentum, & ei se in omni- bus innocuis exhibere, nec ei adversantium partem in ali- quo consovere, &c. This is otherwise called Legias. Caflan. de consuetud. Burgund. pag. 420, 421. This Word is often used in our Statutes, as 14 H. 6. cap. 2. and several others. It seems to be de- rived from the Ital. Liga, a League or Bond; *Vin- culum artius inter subditum & Regem utroque in- vicem connectens; hunc ad protectionem & justum regi- men, illos ad tributa & debitam subjectionem; and is such a Duty or Fealty, as no Man may owe or bear to more than one Lord; and therefore it is most commonly used for that Duty and Allegiance, which every good Subject owes to his Liege-Lord the King.*

Sovereigne Lord, I Henry Percy become your Sub- gette and Liege Man, and promit to God and you, that hereafter I Faith and Trowth shall bear to you, as to my Sovereign Liege Lord, and to your Heirs, Kings of England, of life and limme, and of erthly worshippe, for to live and die ayeinif all erthly People, and to you, and to your Commandments I shall be obeyfant, as God me help, and his Holy Evangelists. 27 Oct. 9 Edw. 4. Claus. 9 Edw. 4. m. 13. in dorso. See Lieges.

Lighter-Whens, (22 & 23 Car. 2. Act for clean- sing, &c. the Streets of London) Are those that carry away, by Water, Dung and Rubbish in Lighters, from the City of London.

Lignagium, The Right which one hath to cut Fuel in the Woods: Sometimes 'tis taken for that Tribute or Payment which is due for Cutting Wood.

Lignamina: Timber fit for Building: Et nunc est via qua traducuntur Lignamina & Lapides ad opus constructionis Monasterii, &c. Du Cange.

Ligula, A Copy, Exemplification, or Tran- script of a Court-Roll or Deed.—Adam de Stat- ton & Willielmus Filius Nigelli tunc Camerarii de Scaccario liberarunt Johanni de Berewic ad opus Ju- sticiariorum Domini Regis itinerantium in Com. Cornub. sub sigillo thesaurarie unam Ligulam de ultimo itinere G. de Berton, &c. Mem. in Scaccar. 12 E. 1. By Sir John Maynard.

Ligurito, a Flatterer. Ligurores mendaces, rapaces, Dei gravamen habeant. Leg. Canut. 29. Mr. Somner is of Opinion that it signifies a Glutton, from the Saxon Licera, i. e. Gulosus.

Limitation of Assise, Limitatio Assise, Is a cer- tain Time set down by Statute, wherein a Man must alledge himself, or his Ancestor, to have been seized of Lands, sued for by a Writ of Af- fize. See the Statute of Merton, can. 8. Anno 20 H. 3. and Westm. 1. cap. 38. 32 H. 8. 2. 1 M. 1. Par. cap. 5. Theobald's Digest of Writs, lib. 10. cap. 2. So it is used in Old Nat. Brev. fol. 77. in these Words, The Writ De consuetudinibus & servitiis lieth, where I, or mine Ancestors, after the Li- mitation of Assise were not seized of the Customs, &c. But before the Limitation of Assise, we were seized, &c.

Limogia: This is a Word which we often read in the Monasticum, and it signifies Enamelled; Opus de Limogia, is enamelled Work, una crux de opere limoceno, &c. Monast. 3 Tom. 331.

Linarium,

Linarium, A Place where Flax is sown, a Flax-plat. Et Messuagium quod est juxta cæmeterium, cum Linario, quod jacet juxta prædictum Messuagium. Pat. 22 Hen. 4. Par. 1. m. 33.

Lincaster Is a Place often mentioned in our Histories, being formerly a Bishop's See, now Holy Island.

Lindum, Lincoln.

Lino, A Linpin or Linspin, the Pin of Iron which fastens the Wheel upon the Axis.—In duobus paribus rotarum Empt. vi s. in eislem ferro Ligandis 111 s. 8 d. in coxibus & Linionibus 14 den. — Consuetudinarius domus de Farendon. MS.

Litteræ, (from the Fr. Litiere, al. Litiere; and that from Lectum, a Bed.) Was anciently used for Straw for a Bed, even the King's Bed—Finem fecerunt cum Rege pro terris quas dicitur Petrus tenuit—per Serjantiam inveniendi unum servientem cum Hambergello per 40 dies in Anglia, & inveniendi Literam ad Lectum Regis, sanum ad Palatium Regis quando jauerit apud Brokenest, &c. Fines Term. Hill. 1 Ed. 2. in Com. Wilts. Tres Cavañtatas Littere, for three Cart-loads of Straw or Litter. Mon. Angl. 2 par. fol. 33. b.

Litteratura, Literature; In old English, Ad Litteraturam ponere, to put out Children to School. Which Liberty without Consent of the Lord, was denied to those Parents, who were servile Tenants. So in the Lands at Bercestre, which were held in Villenage from the Priorets at Merkegate. — Quilibet custumarius non debet filium suum ad Litteraturam ponere, neq; filiam suam maritare sine licentia a voluntate Prioris. Paroch. Antiq. p. 401. This Julian like Prohibition of Educating Sons to Learning, was owing to this Reason, for fear the Son being bred to Letters, might enter into Religion or sacred Orders, and so stop or divert the Services which he might otherwise do, as Heir or Successor to his Father.

Literatus. We meet with this Word in the Monastic. 3 Tom. pag. 320. viz. Casula de sameto purpureo liganatum sanguine cum pectorali litigato, instead of Ligato, i. e. bordered round or lifted.

Litteræ ad faciendum attornatum pro secta faciendi. Reg. Orig. fol. 172. Litteræ de annua pensione, Ibid. fol. 266. & 307. Litteræ patens ad faciendum generalem attornatum quia infirmus, Ibid. fol. 21. Litteræ per quam Dominus remittit curiam suam Regi, Ibid. fol. 4. Litteræ de requestu, Ibid. fol. 129. Litteræ Canonici ad exercendam jurisdictionem loco suo, Ibid. 305. Litteræ Patentes ad conferendum Beneficia, Domino in remotis agente, Ibid. fol. 205, 206. Litteræ Regie deprecatoria pro annua pensione, Ibid. fol. 307. See these in their proper Places.

Litteræ solutorie Were magical Characters, supposed to be of such Force and Efficacy, that it was impossible to bind those Men who carried them: Comes qui eum tenebat mirari cepit quare ligari non posset, an vero litteras solutorias, de quibus fabula fuerunt, apud se haberet. Bede, lib. 4. cap. 22.

Lith of Puckering In the County of York, i. e. The Liberty, or a Member of Puckering, from the Sax. Lid. i. e. Membrum.

Litteræ, As Tres Carcellas Litteræ, Three Cart-loads of Straw or Litter. Mon. Ang. 2. par. fol. 33. b.

Littleborough upon Trent. See Ageloum.

Littleton Was a famous Lawyer living in the Days of King Edward the Fourth, as appeareth by Stauford. Prer. cap. 21. fol. 72. He wrote a Book of great Account, called Littleton's Tenures.

Liberty, Liberatura, Is derived from the French Livre, that is, insigne, gestamen, or else from Livere, id est, tradere, and accordingly hath Three Significations. In one it is used for a Suit of Cloth or Stuff that a Gentleman giveth in Coats, Cloaks, Hats or Gowns, with Cognizance or without, to his Servants or Followers; and is mentioned in 1 R. 2. 7. 20 R. 2. 1, 2. 7 H. 4. 14. 8 E. 4. 2. 13 E. 4. 3. 8 H. 6. 4. 3 H. 7. 1. 12. 11 H. 7. 7. 19 H. 7. 14. 3 Car. 1. cap. 4. In the other Signification, it betokened a Delivery of Possession to those Tenants which held of the King in Capite, or Knights-Service; for the King, by his Prerogative, hath primer Seisin of all Lands and Tenements so holden of him. Stauford. Prerog. fol. 12. & cap. 3. Liberty, in the third Signification, is the Writ which lies for the Heir, to obtain the Possession or Seisin of his Land at the King's Hands, which see in F. N. B. fol. 155. But by the Statute 12 Car. 2. cap. 24. All Wardships, Livories, &c. are utterly taken away, and absolutely discharged. Formerly great Men gave Liveries to several who were not of their Family or Servants, to engage them in their Quarrels for that Year: This was prohibited by the Statute 1 Hen. 4. viz. That no Man of whatsoever Condition, should give any Livory but to his Domesticks, to his Officers, or to his Counsel learned in either Law.

Liberty of Land. See Vadlat.

Liberty of Seisin, (Deliberatio Seisina) Is a Delivery of Possession of Lands, Tenements, or other corporeal Thing, (for, of Things incorporeal no Liberty of Seisin may be) to one that has Right, or a Probability of Right thereunto. For, (as Bracton says, lib. 2. cap. 18. num. 3.) Traditio debet esse vestita, & non nuda. It is a Ceremony used in Conveyance of Lands or Tenements, where an Estate in Fee-simple, Fee-tail, or a Freehold passeth: And it is a Testimonial of the willing Departure of him, who makes the Liberty from the Thing whereof Liberty is made. And the Receiving of the Liberty, is a willing Acceptance by the other Party of all that whereof the other hath divested himself. The common Manner of Delivery of Seisin, is thus: If it be in the open Field, where is no House nor Building, and if the Estate pass by Deed, one openly reads it, or declares the Effect of it, and after that is sealed, the Vendor takes it in his Hands with a Clod of Earth upon a Twig or Bough, which he delivers to the Vendee, in the Name of Possession or Seisin, according to the Effect of the Deed: But if there be a House or Building upon the Land, then this is to be done at the Door of it, (none being left at that Time within the House) and the Ring of the Door delivered to the Vendee, who enters alone, shuts the Door, and presently opens it again. If it be a House without Land or Ground, the Liberty is made, and Possession taken by Delivery of the Ring of the Door and Deed only. And where it is without Deed, either of Lands or Tenements, there the Party declares by Word of Mouth, before Witnesses, the Estate he parts with, and then delivers Seisin or Possession in Manner aforesaid: And so the Land or Tenement passeth as well as by Deed, and that by Force of the Liberty of Seisin. See West. Symbol. part. 1. lib. 2. sect. 196. and Coke on Littl. fol. 48. a. There was anciently a Pair of Gloves, a Ring, Knife, Ear of Wheat, &c. delivered in Sign or Token of Liberty and Seisin—quam donationem, per unum cultellum super Altare Sanctæ Mariæ optulit.

optuli, affante Priore, &c. Charta Rob. Comitiss Nottinghamia, An. 1142.

Lobbe, A great Kind of North-Sea Fish. Anno 31 E. 3. Stat. 3. cap. 2.

Local, Localis, Signifieth in a legal Sense as much as tied or annexed to a Place: For Example. The Thing is local, and annexed to the Freehold. Kitchin, fol. 180. And again, in the same Place, an Action of Trespas for Battery, &c. is transitory, not local, that is, not needful that the Place of the Battery should be set down as material in the Declaration, or if it be set down, that the Defendant should traverse it, by saying, he did not commit the Battery in the Place mentioned in the Declaration, and so avoid the Action. And again, fol. 230. the Place is not local, that is, not material to be set down in certain. The Guard of the Person, and of the Land differ in this, because the Person being transitory, the Lord may have his Ravishment de gard, before he be seized of him, but not so of the Land, because it is local. Perkin's Grants, 30.

Lockman. In the Ile of Man, the Lockman is an Officer to execute the Orders of the Governor or Deemsters, much like our Under-Sheriff. See King's Description of the Isle of Man, pag. 26.

Loculus is a Word mentioned in Simeon Dunelm. cap. 6. 10. and it signifies a Coffin, cujus corpus in loculo plumbeo translatus est.

Locus Partitus Signifies a Division made between two Towns or Counties to make Trial, in whether the Land or Place in question lies. Fleta, lib. 4. cap. 15. num. 1.

Locutorium, A Locutory or Parlour. The Religious after they had din'd in their common Refectory, had a withdrawing Room, where they met for Discourse and Conversation, which Room for that sociable Use, they called Locutorium a Loquendo, and Parlour a Fr. Parler. They had another Room which was called Locutorium forinsecum, where they might talk with Lay-Men. Interim viduali cum instrumentis clausum ingredienti de locutorio forinsecum Lapides molares levaverunt. Wallingham, p. 257.

Locumaneur Is the Hire of a Pilot for conducting a Vessel from one Place to another.

Lodemergee. Item en droit de Lodemergee dient les avantditz Jurez, que leur semble c'est case, ils ne sceyvent meilleur advise ne remedy, mais que ce soit desore user & fait per maner qu'est conteyne en le Ley D'Olcron. Pryn's Animadv. on 4 Inst. fol. 116. Chaucer expounds it to be the Skill or Art of Navigation.

Lodship, A Kind of Fishing-Vessel, mentioned 31 Edw. 3. cap. 2.

Lodeworks, (from the Sax. Lada, a Water-course) One of the Works belonging to the Stannaries in Cornwall; for which, see Stream-works.

Logatung, An unlawful Game, mentioned 33 Hen. 1. cap. 9. Now disused.

Logia, A Lodge or Lodgment. — Circa Abbatiam castra metati sunt, sicut gentes tentoria sua, & Logias facientes. — Quo audito annali illi qui in Logiis jam quindecim diebus Excubias fecerant, eadem Logias combusserunt, & recesserunt ad propria. Hist. Croyland Contin. p. 454. Logium, an Out-house or Hovel, still called a Lodge in Kent. Commentarii in opere fabricae Ecclesiae Eboracensis dormitandi tempus habent post novum in astate, dormiunt autem in Logio quo operantur, & non alibi — Anno 1371. Reg. Ebor. Hence Logges, Huts or Cottages for Lodging poorer Sort of People. — Presentatum fuit per Furratores quod Prior de Tynemuth levavit unam villam super ripam aquae, & Tyne apud Sholes ex una parte aquae, & Prior Dunelmia levavit aliam ex altera parte aquae, ubi nulla villa deberet esse, nisi tantummodo Logges de quibus Piscatores possent Hospitari. — Placit. Parl. 18 E. 1.

Logwood, Otherwise called Blockwood, brought from Campeche, and divers other remote Parts, and prohibited by the Statute of 23 Eliz. cap. 9. and 39 Eliz. cap. 11. but since by 14 Car. 2. cap. 11, the Importation and Use of it is allowed.

Loych or Loych Fish. (31 Edw. 3. Stat. 3. cap. 2.) And that no Fish called Loych Fish, be chosen or tried, but only in three Parts, that is to say, Lob, Ling and Cod.

Lollarde, (so called, from Walter Lollar, a German, first Author of this Sect, living about the Year 1315.) Were certain Hercticks (at least in the Opinion of those Times) that abounded here in England in the Days of Edward the Third, and Henry the Fifth, whereof Wicliff was the Chief in this Nation, according to Stow in his Annals, f. 425. They are mentioned Anno 2 Hen. 5. cap. 7. Against these Lollarde, much was decreed by Thos. Arundel, Archbishop of Canterbury, in a Council at Oxford. See their Tenets in Spotwood's History of Scotland, fol. 61. The High Sheriff of every County was anciently bound by his Oath to suppress them.

— You shall (says the Oath) do all your Pain and Diligence to destroy, and make to cease, all Manner of Heresy and Error, commonly called Lollarde, within your Bailiwick, from Time to Time with all your Power, &c.

The Intent of these Lollarde was, to subvert the Christian Faith, the Law of God, the Church, and the Realm; so said the Statute of 2 Hen. 5. cap. 7. which was repealed 1 Edw. 6. cap. 12. See 3 Inst. fol. 41. and Cawdrie's Cafe. Edw. Coke's Cafe, 1 par. fol. 25, &c. The Lord Keeper assembled all the Justices, and conceived that Clause in the Oath, touching suppressing Lollarde, should be omitted, because appointed by Statutes that are repealed. This is now held for the true Religion.

Lollarde and Lollery, (Anno 1 & 2 Phil. & Mar. cap. 6.) The Doctrine and Opinion of the Lollarde. Rogerus Aton miles pro Proditione & Lollaridia distrabatur & suspendatur, & sic suspensus pendeat ad voluntatem Regis. Middlesex Plac. Hill. 1 Hen. 5. Rot. 7. & Trin. 2 Hen. 5. Rot. 6.

London, formerly called Augusta.

Longibus Is a Word used in Thorn's Chronicle, and it signifies Speciem fraguli, it should be read Longelli angeantur 20 fragula, 5 coopertoria, 5 longelli, &c. i. e. five Coverlots.

Loquela. Petronilla de S. debet xx s. pro habenda loquela in curia Domini Regis contra W. de Fauconbridg. Rot. Pipa. 2. Johannis Linc. An Imparlance. Loquela sine die a Respite in Law, or a Denuer to an indefinite Time. — Si vir tenens fuerit infra aetatem, & uxor plena etatis, cum implicati fuerint, non remanebit loquela sine die propter minorem aetatem viri. Paroch. Antiquit. p. 201.

Loquericium. See Locutorium.

Lord, (Dominus, Sax. Hlaford, signifying a Bread-giver, Bountiful or Hospitable) Is a Word of Honour with us, and used diversly. Sometimes being attributed to those who are Noble by Birth or or Creation, and are otherwise called Lords of the Parliament, and Peers of the Realm: Sometimes to those so called by the Curtesy of England, as all the Sons of a Duke or Marquis, and the eldest Son of an Earl: Sometimes to Persons Honourable by Office, as Lord Chief Justice, &c. And sometimes to an inferior Person that hath Fee, and consequently the Homage of Tenants within his Manor; for by his Tenants he is called Lord, and in some Places, for Distinction-sake, Landlord: In which last Signification, it is most used in our Law-Books, where it is divided into Lord Paramount, and Lord Mesn. Lord Mesn is he that is Owner of a Manor, and by Virtue thereof hath Tenants holding of him in Fee, and by Copy of Court-Roll; and yet holds himself of a Superior Lord, called Lord Paramount, or above him. Old Nat. Brev. fol. 79. We likewise read of Very Lord and Very Tenant: Very Lord is he who is immediate Lord to his Tenant; and Very Tenant, he that holds immediately of that Lord: So that if there be Lord Paramount, Lord Mesn, and Tenant; the Lord Paramount is not Very Lord to the Tenant. Eroke, Tit. Heriot, numb. 1. See Langemanni.

Lord in Gross, F. N. B. fol. 3. Is he that is Lord, having no Manor, as the King in respect of his Crown, Ibid. fol. 5. and fol. 8. where is a Case wherein a private Man is Lord in Gross, viz. A Man makes a Gift in Tail of all the Land he hath, to hold of him, and dieth; his Heir hath but a Seigniorship in Gross.

Lorum, or Lorimers, May well be deduced from the Latin Lorum: They are one of the Companies of London that make Bits for Bridles, Spurs, and such like small Iron Ware. 1 R. 2. cap. 12.

Losinga, i. e. A Flatterer: We read it in Brompton's Chronicle, pag. 991. Herbertus losinga, that is, Herbert the Sycophant, Episcopatum, &c. Emit de Rege. Godwin writing of the Bishops of Norwich, mentions this Herbert; Surgit in Ecclesia Monstrum genitore Losinga. See Monast. 2 Tom. pag. 218.

Lot, or Loth, Is the Thirteenth Dish of Lead in the Derbyshire Mines, which belongs to the King, Pro Domino suo.—Presentatum est in Ragemannis per 12 de Alto Pecco, quod Rad. de Wyne fecit quandam Purpresturam in solo Domini Regis in Tatington & Prestelive, faciendo minevram plumbi, unde Rex solebat percipere le Lot mineris, i. e. Tertium decimum vas, &c. Rot. Rageman de quo Warranto de Itin. de Derbi. 9 Edw. 1. Et de minera lucrata in hujusmodi opere in feodo Domini Regis, Dominus Rex habebit pro Domino suo tertium decimum discum, qui dicitur le Loth. Eichaet. de Anno 16 Edw. 1. numb. 34. See Cope.

Lot. See Sot. Clameo quietum eis in perpetuum manerium illud quod se pro hida una defendebat, quietum dico & liberum de Scotto & Lotto, & Geldo & Danegeldo. Monastic. Tom. 1. pag. 779.

Lotherrwit, alias Leyerwit. Is a Liberty or Privilege to take Amends of him that defileth your Bond-woman without License, Rastal's Exposition of Words; so that it is an Amends for lying with a Bond-woman. Saxton in his Description of England, cap. 11. See Lairwit. Some think it should rather be written Legerwit, for Leger is the Saxon Word for a Bed; or Lecherwite, a Punishment for Lechery. See Blockquit and Leyerwit.

Lovenenny, Levenny in Brecknockshire.

Lourcurdus. A Ram or Bell-weather. Abbas habuit in fissuram multones 1630. matronas 2611. Loureurdos 32. Gredelings & bogastros 1162. Augus de anno primo 1276. summa ovium omnium per totum 6717.—Chartular. Glaston. MS. f. 54. a.

Lourgulary, (Fr. Lourderie, i. e. Inhumanitas, Incivilitas). In Statuto pro stratis London, Printed Anno 1573. Art. 45. Casting any corrupt Thing, or apportioning the Water, is Lourgulary and Felony. Some think it a Corruption of Burglary. See Gloss. in X. Scriptores, verbo Burglaria.

Loungers, 23 Eliz. cap. 10. Are such as go with Light and a Bell, by the Sight whereof Birds sitting on the Ground, become somewhat stupified, and so are taken with a Net. This Name is derived from the Word Lew, which in the Saxon, or old English, signifies a Flame of Fire. See the Antiquities of Warwickshire, pag. 4.

Loutror, A Recompence for the Death of a Man killed in a Tumult, or, as we say, by the Mob.

Ludi de Rege & Reginis, i. e. Playing at Cards, so called, because there are Kings and Queens in the Pack. Prohibemus etiam Clericis ne intersint Ludis inhonestis, &c. nec suscineant ludos fieri de Rege & Regina, &c. Du Cange.

Lugocallum, Carlisle.

Luminare, A Lamp or Candle set burning on the Altar of any Church or Chapel, for the Maintenance of which, Lands and Rent-charges were frequently given to Religious Houses, and Parish-Churches. See Mr. Kennett's Glossary to Parochial Antiquities.

Lunda, A Weight formerly used here. Lunda angularum constat de 10 sticis. Fleta, lib. 2. cap. 12. par. 7.

Lundres, A Sterling or Easterling, in a restrained Sense, signified nothing but a Silver Penny, which at first was about three Times as heavy as a Penny is now, and was once called a Lundres, because it was to be coined only at London, and not at the Country Mints. Vid. Lowndes's Essay upon Coins, p. 17.

Lupanatrix, A Bawd or Strumpet. Rex majori & Vic. London Salut. Quia intelleximus quod plures Robertia & Murdra perpetrantes per receptatores & receptatrices publicas Lupanatrices in diversis locis in Civitate nostra praedicta, &c. Clauf. 4 Ed. 1. p. 1. m. 16. dorso.

Lupinum caput gerere, To be outlawed, and so have One's Head expos'd like a Wolf's, with a Reward to him that shall bring it in. — Hugo filius Walteri Presbyteri utlegatus non comparuit, unde dictum fuit quod ex quo Hugo noluit comparere ad pacem Regis, quod gereret Lupinum caput, sicut prius fecit. — Placita Coronae 4. Joh. Rot. 2. in dorso.

Lupulicetum, A Place where Hops grow, a Hop-Garden. Co. 1 Inst. 4. b.

Lusernes. See Furr.

Lusgul. — In Scottis, & Geldis, & Danegeldis, & Lusgul, & Warpeni, & Nupeni, & de omnibus consuetudinibus quae ad me pertinent. Charta Hen. 2. G. G. n. 2. q.

Lusburghis, al. Luxenburghis, Was a base Sort of Money coined beyond Seas, to the Likeness of English Money, in the Days of Edward the Third, and brought in to deceive the King and his People. To avoid which, it was made Treason for any Man wittingly to bring in any such. Anno 25 Edw. 3. Stat. 4. cap. 2. 3 Part Inst. fol. 1. Knight, Anno 1347, tells us, That in eodem Anno defertur in Angliam per alienigenas & indigenas mercatores falsa moneta, quæ Lufiburn appellata est, unde apud Londoniam multi mercatores & alii plures sunt tracti & suspensi.

Luffrum. See Curriculum.

Lye-yeld, Lef-filber, A small Fine or pecuniary Composition paid by the Customary Tenant to the Lord for Leave to plow or sow, &c. Tenantes in Waldis non possunt arare terras suas ab equinoctio autumnali usque Festum beati Martini sine licentia, & ideo reddunt conjunctim dimidiam marcam ad Festum S. Martini, siue fuerit persona, siue non, & vocatur Lye-yeld. Sommer of Gavelkind, p. 27.

Lymputta: Extendens se a Lymputta juxta terram I. S. Liber niger Hereford. It signifies a Lime-Pit.

Lynelrode Was a Doctor both of the Civil and Canon Laws, and Dean of the Arches: He was Embassador for Henry the Fifth into Portugal, Anno 1422, as appeareth by the Preface to his Commentary upon the Provincials.

M.

M Is a Numeral Letter, and stands for a Thousand; also every Person convicted for Murder (Manlaughter) and admitted to the Benefit of his Clergy, must be marked on the Brawn of the left Thumb with an M by 4 H. 7. cap. 13.

Mace-utiele, alias Mace-greffs, Machecarii, Are such as willingly buy and sell stolen Fleish, knowing the same to be stolen, Britton, cap. 29. and Crompton's Justice of Peace, fol. 193. Vide Leges Inæ, cap. 20 de carnem furtivam tenente. De Maccegrariis carnes furtivas scientibus, vendentibus & ementibus. Stat. Walliæ.

Machecarius, A Butcher. — Cum autem dictum est, quod nullus hominum emeret absque plegiis animalium, clamaverunt Machecarii de civitatibus & burgis — quod unaquaque die oportebat eos animalia viva emere, occidere, & vendere. Leg. Edwardi Regis, cap. 39.

Machecollare vel Machecoullare (from the Fr. Maschecoullis) to make a warlike Device, especially over the Gate of a Castle, resembling a Grate, through which scalding Water, or offensive Things may be thrown upon Pioneers or Assaultants. 1 Inst. fol. 5. a.

Macio. A Mason. — Hæc cum Macione & matris necessariusque ministris reliquis in maceria recondidit. — Orderic. Vital. l. 6. — Accitis itaque artificibus — latomisque cum macionibus illic ad opus agendum profectus est. Ibid. cap. 12.

Madning-money, Old Roman Coins, sometime found about Dunstable, are so called by the Country-People; they seem to retain this Name from Magintum, used by the Emperor Antoninus in his Itinerary for Dunstable. Cambd.

Madungals Is an old Word, signifying Country Songs.

Madus, Maidstone in Kent.

Maeremum, and Merremum, Is derived from the old French Word Meresme, for Timber. It properly signifies any Sort of Wood fit for Building, seu quodvis Materiamen, from whence the Word is derived. See Materia.

Rex — dilecto — Rogero de Hoxley Constabulario Casfri sui de Baumburg, salutem. Mandamus vobis quod homines partium predictarum. nuper in Casfro predicto pro salvatione Corporum & rerum suarum contra aggressus Scotorum commorantes, Maeremum de logiis suis, necnon bona & catalla ac victualia sua in eodem Casfro, & in Fossato & Mota ejusdem existentia, sine impedimento, capere & caviare, & quo voluerint asportare, permittatis, &c. T. Rege apud Corwyk 12 Junii. Claus. 16 Ed. 2. m. 3.

Magbote or Waxbote, A Recompence for the Slaying or Murder of one's Kinsman; for anciently in this Nation, corporal Punishments for Murder, and other great Offences, were sometimes commuted into pecuniary Fines, if the Friends of the Party slain were so content. Leg. Canuti Regis, part 1. cap. 2.

Magi, Old Radnor.

Magiobinum, Dunstable.

Magister: In old Writings we find this Title often, as His testibus Magistro Johanne de Croft. It noted the Person had attained some Degree of Eminency in Scientia aliqua, presertim literaria. And in old Time those, who are now called Doctors, were termed Magistri.

Magistrate, Magistratus. He is Custos utriusque tabule, the Keeper or Preserver of both Tables of the Law; therefore if any Magistrate, or Minister of Justice, in Execution of their Office, or keeping of the Peace, according to the Duty of their Office, be slain, this is Murder, for their Contempt and Disobedience to the King and the Law, for it is contra potestatem Regis & Legis. Co. 9 Rep. Mackalbye's Case.

Magna Assisa eligenda Is a Writ directed to the Sheriff, to summon four lawful Knights before the Justices of Assise, there upon their Oaths to chuse Twelve Knights of the Vicinage, &c. to pass upon the Great Assise between A. Plaintiff, and B. Defendant, &c. Reg. Orig. fol. 8.

Magna Charta, The Great Charter, was granted the Ninth Year of Henry the Third, and confirmed by Edward the First. The Reason why it was termed Magna Charta, was either for that it contained the Sum of all the Liberties of Englad, or else because there was another Charter, called Charta de Foresta, establish'd with it, which was the less of the Two; or because it contained more than many other Charters, or more than that of King Henry the First, or of the great and remarkable Solemnity in the denouncing Excommunication, and direful Anathema's against the Infringers of it. We read in Holinshed, that King John, to appease his Barons, yielded to Laws or Articles of Government, much like to this Great Charter: But we have now no ancienter written Law than this, which was thought to be so beneficial to the Subject, and a Law of so great Equity, in Comparison of those which were formerly in use, that King Henry, for the Granting it, had the fifteenth Penny of all the moveable Goods, both of the Spirituality and Temporality throughout the Realm. Spelman in his Gloss. on this Word, calls it, Augustissimum Anglicarum libertatum diploma & sacra Anchora. It is Magnum in Parvo, and hath been above Thirty Times confirmed, says Coke upon Littleton, fol. 81. It is recorded, That when Hen. 3. confirmed it, he swore, on the Word and Faith of a King, a Christian, and a Knight, to observe it. See Charta Magna.

Magana preraria. A great or general Reap-day: The Lord of the Manor of Harrow in Con. Middlesex, had (in 21 R. 2.) a Custom, that by Summons Summons of his Bailiff upon a General Recap-day (then called Magna precaria) the Tenants should do 199 Days work for him; every Tenant that had a Chimney was to send a Man. Mr. Phillips of Purveyance, pag. 145.

Magnum Centum, Communem pasturam ad quadringentas oves per Magnum Centum cum tot agniti. Carta 20 Hen. 3. m. 1. This great Hundred is Six-score.

Magus Portus, Portsmouth.

Mahometia, The Temple of Mahomet, so called by Matt. Paris; and because the Gestures, Noise and Songs there used were ridiculous to the Christians, therefore they called antick Dancing, and every ridiculous Thing, a Momerie.

Maiden Kents Is a Noble paid by every Tenant in the Manor of Builth in Com. Radnor, at their Marriage, and it was anciently given to the Lord for his omitting the Custom of Marchetia, whereby some think he was to have the first Night's Lodging with his Tenant's Wife: But I rather suppose it to be a Fine for the Licence to marry a Daughter. See Marcheta.

Maidstone. See Vagniac.

Maidulst Urbs, Mahmsbury in Wiltshire. So called from Maidulfus, an Irish Scot, who built a Monastery there, in which Edelmus was the first Monk, and his intended Successor, who afterwards built a very fair Monastery in the same Place.

Maignagium, (from the Fr. Maignen, i. e. Faber ararius) a Brafter's Shop. Idem Hugo tenebat unum Maignagium in foro ejusdem ville. Eccl. Lib. Ramef. sect. 265. See Cotland. But others are of Opinion that it signifies an House, quasi Messuagium.

Maihem, or Mayhem, Mahemum, Maim, Wound, Hurt, cometh of the French Word Meaigne, and signifies a corporal Hurt, by which a Man loseth the Use of any Member, that is or might be any Defence unto him in Battel: As if a Bone be taken out of the Head, or broken in any other Part of the Body or Foot, or Hand or Finger, or Joint of a Foot, or any Member be cut, or by Wound the Sinews be made to shrink; or if any Eye be put out, fore-teeth broke, or any other Thing hurt in any Man's Body, whereby he is disabled to defend himself, or offend his Enemy. Glanville, lib. 14. cap. 7. See Bracton at large, lib. 3. tract. 2. cap. 24. num. 3. Britton, cap. 25. and Stannsf. Pl. Cor. lib. 1. cap. 41. and The Mirror of Justices, cap. de Homicide. But the Cutting off an Ear or Nose, the Breaking of the hinder Teeth or such like, was no Mayhem, it being rather a Deformity of Body, than Diminishing of Strength. But now by the Statute of 22 & 23 Car. 2. cap. 1. the Cutting off a Nose, or Cutting off or Disabling any Limb or Member, is made Felony without Benefit of Clergy: Mayhem is commonly tried by the Justices inspecting the Party: And if they doubt whether it be a Mayhem, or not, they use to take the Opinion of some able Chirurgion in the Point. The Grand Customary of Normandy, cap. 6. calls it Mahaigium, and the Canonists, Membri mutilationem; but all agree, that it is the Loss of a Member, or the Use thereof; and Membrum, Cassan. de Conf. Burg. pag. 168. defines thus, Est pars corporis habens destinatam operationem in corpore. See Skene de verborum significatione, verbo Machanium. See Co. on Lit. lib. 2. cap. 11. sect. 194. Homo Mahemiatas, a Man maimed or wounded. By the old English Law there lay an Appeal for Maihem or wilful Wounding: When it was laid to the Charge of the Defendant or Appellee, that he did it nequiter in feloniam, i. e. maliciously, and with an evil or felonious Intent: And the Appellant did offer disfranchiare verus eum, sicut homo mahemiatas prout curia Domini Regis consideraverit. Vid. Bracton, lib. 3. cap. 24. n. 1, 2.

Mail Inductio, An old May-game, or ludicrous Custom for the Priest and People in Procession to go to some adjoining Wood on a May-day Morning, and return in a Sort of Triumph, with a May-Pole, Boughs, Flowers, Garlands, and such-like Tokens of the Spring. There was thought to be so much heathen Vanity in this Practice, that it was condemned and inhibited within the Diocese of Lincoln, by the good old exemplary Bishop Grosthead.—Faciant etiam, ut audivimus, Clerici ludos quos vocant Inductionem Maii, & festum Autumni, & Laici scotales, quod nullo modo vos latere possit. Si vestra prudentia super hiis diligenter inquireret.—Rob. Grossetest, Episcopi Linc. Epist. apud Append. ad Fasciculum, p. 382.

Mail, Maule, a Coat of Mail; it is called Mail, from the French Maille, which signified a square Figure, or the square Hole of a Net. So Maille de haubergeons is a Coat of Mail, because the Links or Joins in it resembled the Squares of a Net. Maille, with a double ll, signifies a round Ring of Iron, from hence the Play of Pail-Mall, from palla a Ball, and the round Ring through which it is to pass.

Maille, Anciently a Kind of Money. Etiam latinus accipitur, nec tantum pro denariis pluribus, sed & portione aliqua rei frumentaria vel annonarie; hoc vero in plaga Anglia Boreali Blackmaile dicitur, ut pecuniario illo distinguatur. Inquis. capta post mortem Wil. de Coway, Anno 20 Edw. 3. n. 69. Lanc. Est in Ulverston quoddam proficuum vocat. Geefmales, & quoddam proficuum apud Plumpton, vocat. Cowmale. Spel. See Blackmaile.

Mailles, Silver Half-pennies. In 9 Hen. 5. by Indenture in the Mint, a Pound-weight of old Sterling Silver was to be coined into Three hundred and sixty Sterlings or Pennies, or Seven hundred and twenty Mailles, or One thousand four hundred and forty Farthings. Vid. Lowndes's Essays upon Coins, p. 38.

Matnad, A false Oath, Perjury. — Si nolit abjurare, emendat ipsum Mainad, id est, perjurium dupliciter.—Leg. Inæ Regis, cap. 34.

Maignepoyte, (in manu portatum) Is a small Tribute, (commonly of Loaves of Bread) which in some Places the Parishioners pay to the Rector of their Church, in Reconcompence for certain Tithes. See Waxshot. Vicaria de Wragby, (in Com. Linc.) consistit in toto Altaragio & in Ceragiis, vulgariter dict. Waxshot, in panibus vulgariter dict. Mainport, & in incremento denariorum Sancti Petri, vulgariter dict. Fire-harth. Spelman. This Main-port-Bread was paid to the Vicar of Blyth, as you may see in the Antiquities of Nottinghamshire, fol. 473.

Maimour, alias Maimour, alias Maimour, From the French Manier, i. manu tractare: In a legal Sense, denotes the Thing that a Thief taketh away, or stealeth. As to be taken with the Maimour, Pl. Cor. fol. 179. is to be taken with the Thing stolen about him: And again, fol. 194. it was presented, That a Thief was delivered to the Sheriff or Viscount, together with the Maimour:
N n 2 And

And again, fol. 186. If a Man be indicted, That he feloniously stole the Goods of another, where, in Truth, they be his own Goods, and the Goods be brought into the Court as the Mainour; and it be demanded of him, what he saith to the Goods, and he disclaim them; though he be quitted of the Felony, he shall lose the Goods: And again, fol. 149. If the Defendant were taken with the Manour, and the Manour be carried to the Court, they, in ancient Times, would arraign him upon the Manour, without any Appeal or Indictment. *Si dicti Servientes seu Balivi sui aliquem latronem pro aliquo furto ubicunque fuerit facto, eum Mannopere, infra feodum Domini sui predicti, ceperint seu attach. Et si ille latro feloniam illam coram quatuor villat. voluntarie cognoverit, tunc liceat dictis Servientibus seu Balivis suis dictum latronem decollare, Et dictus Dux, (Lanc.) tunc habebit omnia bona sua, &c. Plac. apud Cestriam, 31 Edw. 3. de Quo War. in Manner de Hatten. I find this Word used in the Old Nat. Brev. fol. 110. in this Sort: Where a Man maketh a Thing by Manour, or Levying or Estopping; in such Case he shall have an Assise; where it signifies handy Labour, and is but an Abbreviation of Mainovery.*

Mainpernable, That may be let to Bail, bailable. See the Statute of Westm. 1. cap. 15. made Anno 3 E. 1. what Persons be mainpernable, and what not.

Mainpernor, Manuceptores, Are those Persons to whom a Person is delivered out of Custody or Prison, and they become Security for him, either for Appearance or Satisfaction; they are called Manuceptores, because they do it as it were manu capere & ducere captivum e custodia vel prisona. And the Prisoner is said to be delivered to Bail, from the Words of the Bail-piece, viz. A. B. &c. traditur in Ballium J. D. & R. R. &c. See Mainprife.

Mainprife, Manuceptio, Is compounded of two French words, viz. Main, manus, Pris, captus: It signifies in our Law, the Taking or Receiving a Man into friendly Custody, that otherwise is or might be committed to Prison, upon Security given for his forth-coming at a Day assigned: And they that thus undertake for any, are called Mainpernors, because they do receive him into their Hands, Staudf. Pl. Cor. fol. 178. from hence comes the Word Mainpernable, which denotes him that may thus be bailed; For in many Cases a Man is not mainpernable, whereof see Bro. Tit. Mainprife per totum, and F. N. B. fol. 249. Manwood in his Forest Law, pag. 167. makes a great Difference between Bail and Mainprife; for he that is mainprised (saith he) is always said to be at large, and to go at his own Liberty out of Ward until the Day of his Appearance; but otherwise it is, where a Man is let to bail to four or two Men by the Lord Chief Justice in Eyre of the Forest, or any other Judge, until a certain Day; for there he is always accounted by the Law to be in their Ward and Custody for the Time: And they may, if they will, keep him in Ward or in Prison all that Time, or otherwise at their Will; so that he that is so bailed, shall not be said by the Law to be at large, or at his own Liberty: Thus far Manwood. The Mirror of Justice distinguishing between Pledges and Mainpernors, saith, That Pledges are more general, and that Mainpernors, are Body for Body, lib. 2. cap. de Trespas venial, and lib. 3. cap. des Pledges & Mainpernors. When Mainprises may be granted, and when not, see Crompt. Just. of Peace, fol. 136, and 141. and Lamb. Eiren. lib. 3. cap. 2. pag. 336, 337, 338, 339, 340. See also Britton, fol. 37. cap. des Pledges & Mainpernors. Lastly, The Mirror of Justice saith, That Pledges be those that bail or redeem any Thing but the Body of a Man, but Mainpernors are those that free the Body of a Man; and therefore that Pledges belong properly to real and mix'd Actions, and Mainpernors to personal.

Mainmugozn, In the North, signifies as much as forsworn. Brownl. Rep. 4. Hob. Rep. 8.

Mainmouz, 19 H. 7. 14. Is he that supports or seconds a Cause depending in Suit between others, either by disbursing Money, or making Friends for either Party towards his Help.

Maintenance, Manutentio and manutentia, Signifies the Upholding of a Cause or Person, either by Word, Writing, Countenance, or Deed; metaphorically drawn from succouring a young Child, that learns to go by one's Hand: In Law it is taken in the worst Sense, as appears by 32 H. 8. 9. And when a Man's Act in this Kind is by Law accounted Maintenance, and when not, see Broke, Tit. Maintenance, and Kitchin, fol. 202. and F. N. B. fol. 172. and Crompt. Jurisd. fol. 38. The Writ that lies against a Man for this Offence, is called Maintenance. See Co. on Lit. fol. 368. Special Maintenance, Kitchin, fol. 204. seemeth to be Maintenance, most properly so termed. Of this see Crompt. Justice of Peace, fol. 155. and the New Book of Entries, verbo Maintenance.

Mainure. See Minowery.

Maioz, A Mayor, doth not come from the Lat. Major, but from an Old English Word Maier, i. e. Potestas.

Mainnads, i. e. A Family, quasi Mansuata.

Maizon Dieu, (Fr.) An Hospital or Alms-house. See Maifon Dieu.

MS. fol. 314. A House, a Mansion, a Farm: From the Fr. Maifon, Domus. See Maifura.*

Majus-jus Is a Writ or Proceeding in some customary Manors in order to a Trial of Right of Land, and the Entry is — Ad hanc Curiam venit W. L. in propria Persona sua, & dat Domino ii. Sol. ad vidend. Rotulos Curie & petit inquirend. utrum ipse habet Majus-jus in uno Messuagio, &c. an N. T. & super hoc Homag. dicunt, &c. Ex libro MS. Vocat. Butterfield in Episcopat. Heref. de temp. E. 3. fol. 244. b.

Makt, Facere, Signifies to perform or execute; as to make his Law, is to perform that Law which he hath formerly bound himself to: That is, to clear himself of an Action commenced against him by his Oath, and the Oaths of his Neighbours. Old. Nat. Brev. fol. 161. Kitchin, fol. 192. Si Placitum debiti vel transgressionis vel aliquod Placitum fuerit inter vicinos, & defendentes negaverint & vadierint Legem versus Querentem, solebant facere Legem cum tertia manu, &c. (Inq. de Consecr. Manerii de Sutton Colfeld a tempore Athelstani Regis) i. e. The Defendants were to bring three Persons to swear with them. Which Law seemeth seemeth to be borrowed of the Feudists, who call those Men that come to swear for another in this Case Sacramentales. Of whom Hottoman saith thus, in verbis Feudali. Sacramentales a Sacramento, id est, juramento dicebantur ii, qui quavis rei de qua ambigebatur, testes non fuissent, tamen ex ejus, cujus res agebatur, animi sententia, in eadem que illi verba jurabant, illius videlicet probitate & innocentia confisi, &c. The formal Words used by him that makes his Law, are commonly these, Hear, O ye Justices, that I do not own this Sum of Money demanded, neither in all nor any Part thereof in Manner and Form declared. So help me God, and the Contents of this Book. To make Services or Customs, is nothing else but to perform them. Old Nat. Brev. fol. 14. To make Oath, is to take Oath.

Mala, A Male, a Porte-Mail, a Bag to carry Letters, Writings, &c. Among the Rules of the Order of the Knights Templar, cap. 40. Sacculus & mala cum firmatura non conceduntur.— I suspect the Word was originally British, because Mala or Maile is said in the Modern Irish to signify a Pouch, Satchel, or Bag.

Malandinus, i. e. A Thief or Pirate: 'Tis mentioned in Walsingham, pag. 388. viz. Brigantium more semivegetus gestans ad latus sagittas breves, qualiter utuntur equites Italie qui Malendrinum vocantur.

Malberge, i. e. Mons placiti, a Hill where the People assembled like our Assizes, which by the Scots and Irish are called Parly-Hills. Du Cange.

Malden. See Camelodunum.
Malcreditus, i. e. One who is suspected, who cannot be trusted; so in Fleta, lib. 1. cap. 38. par. 21. Recedet inde appellatus omnino quietus, dum tamen a suo visneto non fuerit Malcreditus, &c.

Malediction, (Maledictio), A Curse, which was of old usually annexed to Donations of Land, made to Churches and Religious Houses.

Si quis autem quod non optamus, banc nostram Donationem infringere temptaverit, perpeffus sit gelidus glaciurum flatibus & malignorum Spirituum; terribiles tormentorum cruciatus evasisse non quefcat, nisi prius in riguis penitentia genitibus, & pura emendatione emendaverit. Charta Regis Athelstani Monast. de Wilton. Anno 933.

Maletent, or Maletolte. Malum vel indebitum Telenium, In the Statute called The Confirmation of the Liberties, &c. 25 E. 1. cap. 7. Is interpreted to be a Toll of Forty Shillings for every Sack of Wool. Stow in his Annals calls it a Maletot, pag. 461. See also the Statute de Tallagio non concedendo, Anno 35 E. 1. Nothing from henceforth shall be taken of Sacks of Wool, by Colour of Maletot tion of Maletent. In France they had an extraordinary Tax called Maleteste, first exacted by Philip the Fair.

Malignare Signifies the same as to maim any one. Qui ordinatum occiderit vel Malignaverit emendet ei sicut reatum est. Leg. H. 1. cap. 11.

Malignus, i. e. Diabolus.

Prob Dolor, hunc populi propria de sede Malignus.

Paris. sub Anno 1216.*

Malveis pcurours, In Artic. Super Chart. cap. 10. is understood of such as use to pack Juries by Nomination, or other Practice, 2 Inst. fol. 561.

Man Sometimes signifies a Nag, from the Lat. Mannus: And therefore amongst the Laws of King Alfred we find Mantboef, i. e. an Horse-stealer.

Mana, i. e. An old Woman. We read it in Gervase of Tilbury, cap. 95. Mulieres agnosco Manas nostras que processerunt in diebus istis, &c.

Managium, (from the French Menage, a Dwelling or Inhabiting) A Mansion-house, or Dwelling-place.—Concessit capitale Managium meum cum pertinentiis.—Charta Nich. de Balsham sine dat. Managium ejusdem Hugonis cum campo adjacente. Mon. Ang. 2 Tom. pag. 82.

Manbote, Signifies a Recompence for Homicide, or a pecuniary Compensation to the Lord for the Slaughter of his Vassal. Spelman in his First Volume, comit. fol. 622. says, Manbote, i. compensatio Domino persolvenda pro homine suo occiso, Anglorum lege Regi & Archiepiscopo tres marcas de hominibus eorum propriis, sed Episcopo ejusdem comitatus & Consuli & Dapifero Regis, Viginti solidos, Baronibus autem aliis decem solidos, &c. See Lambard in his Explication of Saxon Words, verbo Æstimator, and Hoveden in parte postea. annal. suor. fol. 344. & Bote.

Manca, (Charta Regis Eadgari Eccles. Sancti Pauli, Anno 867. Indictione 15. Cum lato digno pretio, i. e. lx Mancas in auro purissimo,) Was a square Piece of Gold, commonly valued at Thirty Pence;

Pence; and Mancusa was as much as a Mark of Silver. Notes upon Canutus's Laws, (i. e. Mancusa, Coined with the Hand). So in the Laws of King Ina, cap. 69. Ex estimatione capitis viri, qui vicinis dum vixerat aestimatur solidis, subtrahantur 30 solidi ad compensandum domino mortem. But the Manca was not always of that Value, for sometimes it was valued at Six Shillings, Leg. H. 1. cap. 69. Manca sex solidis aestimetur: But the Shilling was then but Five Pence. And the Mancusa was a Sort of Money used by the English Saxons, equal in Value to our Half-Crown: For Thorn, in his Chronicle, tells us, That Mancusa est pondus duorum solidorum & sex denariorum. And with him agrees Du Cange, in verbo wita plena, where he says, that Twenty Manca make Fifty Shillings; for Manca and Mancusa are promiscuously used in the old Books for the same Money. But Spelman and Sommer say, that a Mancusa was equal to our Mark.

Menceiple, Manceps, A Caterer, An Officer anciently in the Temple, now called The Steward. Of whom our ancient Poet Jeffrey Chaucer, sometimes a Student there, thus writes,

*A Manciple there was in the Temple,
Of which all Gatoours might taken enemble.*

This Officer still remains in Colleges in the Universities.

Mancunum, Manchester in Lancashire.

Mandamus Is a Writ that lieth after the Year and Day, whereas in the mean Time the Writ called Diem clausit extremum hath not been sent out to the Escheator for the same Purpose for which it should have been sent forth. F. N. B. fol. 253. See Diem clausit extremum.

Mandamus Is also a Charge* to the Sheriff, to take into the King's Hands all the Lands and Tenements of the King's Widow, that against her Oath formerly given, marrieth without the King's Consent. Reg. fol. 295. See Widow.

Mandatar, Mandatarius, He to whom a Charge or Commandment is given. Also he that obtains a Benefice by Mandamus.

Mandate, Mandatum, Is a Commandment Judicial of the King, or his Justices, to have any Thing done for Dispatch of Justice, whereof you shall see Diversity in the Table of the Register Judicial, verbo Mandatum. The Bishop's Mandates to the Sheriff, 31 Eliz. 9.

Mandati dies, Mandie or *Maunday-Thurs*day, the Day before Good-Friday, when they commemorate and practise the Command of our Saviour, in washing the Feet of the Poor, &c. As our Kings of England have long practised the good old Custom on that Day of Washing the Feet of poor Men, in Number equal to the Years of their Reign, and giving them Shoes, Stockings, and Money.

De Mandato panes, Loaves or Bread given to the Poor upon *Mandey-Thurs*day.—Abbas autem Willielmus augmentavit tres panes de mandato de uno quarterio panis, ita quod sint equales panibus conventus. Chartular. Glaston. MS. f. 29.

Mandatum Is sometimes taken for a Report or Rumour, as in Mat. Paris. Anno 1242. Urgebant Regem Mandata ultramarinarum. Sometimes 'tis taken for that Part of a Monastery where Guests were entertained, viz. Fecit reparari & emendari domum Mandati ubi recipiuntur hospites & pauperes. Du Cange. See Mandate.

Mantenentes Was anciently used for Tenentes, or Tenants. Concil. Synodal. apud Clovesbo. Anno 822. Qui in solo alieno manent. And it was not lawful for them or their Children to depart without Leave of the Lord.

Mangorn, Mangorn, Mongorn, Mixt Corn, Mallin. Idem computat de uno quarterio & sex bussellis de Mancorn emptis vi Scl. viij Den.—Ex Compoto domus de Farendon. MS. f. 18.

Mangonare, To buy in the Market. Si venient ad mercatum qui Mangonant in cafeo & butiro. Leg. Ethelred. apud Brompton, cap. 24.

Mangonellus, A warlike Instrument, made to cast Stones against the Walls of a Castle. And it differs from a Petrard thus, viz.

Interea griffos Petrarva mittit ad intus, Assidue lapides Mangonellusque minores.

Manipulus Was an Handkerchief which the Priest always had in his Left-hand.

Manning, Manopera, A Day's Work of a Man; in some ancient Deeds there is a Reserve of so much Rent, and so many Mannings. Howbeit, Maninga (from the Saxon Manunge, i. e. Admonitio) signifies conventum ad causas disceptandas indictum. Et nominetur in Maninga singulorum preceptorum tot homines. Leg. Adelftan. apud Brompton, cap. 3.

Mannire Is where one is cited to appear in Court, and stand to the Judgment there. It differs from Bannire: For though both signify a Citation, yet one is a Citation by the Adversary, and the other by the Judge. Leg. H. 1. cap. 10. Du Cange.

Mangonyus, Manopera, Goods taken in the Hands of an apprehended Thief.—Facient iudicium in curia sua de latrone qui vocatur Infangenthief, cum contigerit talem latronem capi cum mannopere intra feodum ipsius, ita quod catalla talia latronis eidem P. & heredibus suis remaneant.—Chartular. Radings, f. 156.

Mannus, A Horse.—Latius itaque & alacer vir morarum impatiens iussit mannum preparari, simul cum his qui ad se venerunt ad infulam properans. Histor. Ramei. Edit. Gale. cap. 53. Matth. Paris. uses the same Word for a Pad or Saddle-Horse, sub Anno 1107. From Saxon Man, a Horse. In the Laws of Alfred, we find Manstheof, for a Horse-stealer.

Manoi, Manerium, Seems to be derived of the French Manoir, habitation, or rather from manendo, of abiding there, because the Lord did usually reside there. Est feodum nobile partim vassallis (quos Tenentes vocamus) ob certa servitia concessum; partim Domino in usum Familie sue, cum iurisdictione in vassallos, ob concessa pradia reservatum. Quae vassallis conceduntur, terras dicimus tenementales, quae domino reservantur, dominicales. Totum vero feodum dominium appellatur, olim Baroniam; unde Curia quae huic praestit iurisdictioni hodie Curia Baronis nomen retinet. Stene de verb. signif. saith, It is called Manerium quasi manurium, because it is laboured by Handy-work: It is a noble Sort of Fee granted partly to Tenants for certain Services to be performed, and partly reserved to the Use of his Family, with Jurisdiction over his Tenants for their Farms. That which was granted out to Tenants, we call Tenementales; those reserved to the Lord, were Dominicales: The whole Fee was termed a Lordship, of old a Barony; from whence the Court, that is always an Appendant to to the Manor, is called The Court-Baron. Touching the Original of the Manors, it seems that in the Beginning there was a Circuit of Ground granted by the King to some Baron, or Man of worth, for him and his Heirs to dwell upon, and to exercise some Jurisdiction more or less within that Compais, as he thought good to grant, performing such Services, and paying such yearly Rent for the same, as he by his Grant required, and that afterwards this great Man parcelled his Land to other meaner Men, enjoining them such Services and Rents as he thought good, and so as he became Tenant to the King, the Inferiours became Tenants to him. See Perkins's Reservations, 670. and Horne's Mirror of Justices, lib. 1. cap. de Roy Alfred, and Fulbeck, fol. 18. And according to this our Custom, all Lands holden in Fee throughout France are divided into Fiefs and arrieri fiefs, whereof the former are such as are immediately granted by the King; the second, such as the King's Fendataries do again grant to others. Gregorii Syntagm. lib. 6. cap. 5. num. 3. In these Days a Manor rather signifies the Jurisdiction and Royalty incorporeal, than the Land or Site. For a Man may have a Manor in gross, (as the Law termeth it) that is, the Right and Interest of a Court-Baron, with the Perquisites thereunto belonging, and another or others have every Foot of the Land, Kitchin, fol. 4. Broke, hoc titulo per totum. Bracton, lib. 4. cap. 31. num. 3. divideth manerium into Capitale & non capitale. See Fee. A Manor may be compounded of divers Things, as of a House, arable Land, Pasture, Meadow, Wood, Rent, Advowson, Court-Baron, and such like; and this ought to be by long Continuance of Time, beyond the Memory of Man. For at this Day a Manor cannot be made, because a Court-Baron cannot now be made, and a Manor cannot be without a Court-Baron, and Suitors or Freeholders. Two at the least; for if all the Freeholds, except one, escheat to the Lord, or if he purchase all, except one, there his Manor is gone causa qua supra, although in common Speech it may be so called.

Manpygarnon. Willielmus Walcote tenet manerium de Adington in Com. Sur. per servitium invenientium, ad Coronationem Regis, quoddam Potagium vocat. Manpygarnon.

Manse, (Manfus, vel Manfa), An Habitation or Farm: Also an Hide of Land; and the Possessors of such were called Manentes. Spelm.

Manser, i. e. A Bastard. The Difference of several Words which signify a Bastard, may be seen in these Verses:

*Manseribus Scortum, sed Mœcha nobis dedit ortum,
Ut seges a Spica, sic spurius est ab amica,
Sunt naturales qui nobis sunt speciales.*

Manfion, Manfio a manendo, According to the Definition of Bracton, lib. 5. cap. 28. num. 1. Is a Dwelling consisting of one or more Houses. It is most commonly taken for the Lord's chief Dwelling-house within his Fee, otherwise called The Capital Messuage, or chief Manor-place. Bracton, lib. 2. cap. 26. Manfion, amongst the ancient Romans, was a Place appointed for the Lodging of the Prince, or Soldiers in their Journey; and in this Sense we read Primam manfionem, &c. It is probable, That this Word Manfion doth in some Construction signify so much Land as Bede calleth Familiam in his Ecclesiastical History. For Lambard, in his Explication of Saxon Words, verb. Hida terre saith, That that which he calleth Familiam, others since call Manentem vel manfam. Manfus & manfum, you may read in the Fendiffs, and in Skene de verbor. significat. verbo Manfus. See Skene, verbo Manfus. The Latin Word Manfia, in the Charter granted by King Kennilpus to Ruchin, Abbot of Abingdon, and mentioned by Sir Edward Coke in his Report of Jure Regis Ecclesiasticis, seems to signify a certain Quantity of Land. Hida vel Manfia. Mat. Westm. in Anno 857. And in a Charter of Edw. Conf. it is written Manfa. Vide Hist. of Paul., fol. 189. Bracton, lib. 5. tract. 5. par. 1. Manfio esse poterit conftruata ex pluribus domibus vel una, qua erit habitatio una & sola sine vicino, etiam & si alia Manfio si vicinata non erit villa, quia villa est ex pluribus Manfionibus vicinata & collata ex pluribus vicinis. Fleta, lib. 6. cap. 51. Sometimes Manfio signifies a Family; as, Terram 50 Manfionum, &c. Concilium Cloveshoe, Anno 800. But that which in ancient Latin Authors was called Hida, was afterwards called Manfus, i. e. as much Land as one Plough could till in a Year.

Manflaughter, Homicidium, Is the unlawful Killing of a Man, without a preposed Malice. As when Two, that formerly meant no Harm one to another, meet together, and upon some sudden Occasion falling out, the one killeth the other, West. part 2. Symbol. Tit. Inditements, sect. 44. It differeth from Murder, because it is not done with foregoing Malice: And from Chance-Medley, because it hath a present Intent to kill. And this is Felony, but admitted to the Benefit of Clergy for the first Time. Staundf. pl. cor. lib. 1. cap. 9. and Britton, cap. 9. Yet it is confounded with Murder in the Statute, Anno 28 E. 3. cap. 11.

Manfium capitale, The chief Manfa, or Manor-house, or Court of the Lord. Henry de Oily gave to the Abbey of Osney — Capitale manfium meum in Weston — Paroch. Antiquit. p. 150. Called sometimes Curia capitalis — As Thomas de S. Waleri gave to the Abbey of Osney — totum manerium meum de Mizebury cum capitali Curia, ibid. p. 151. The Word Manerium was sometimes used in the same Sense, to denote the Court or Mansion of the Lord.

Manfura and Manfura Are used in Domesday, and other ancient Records, for Manfones vel habacula villicorum. But in Charta de An. 1 Ed. 3. n. 3. we read, De tribus Manfuris terræ in Wigornia. Quære.

Manfura, The same with Manfio.

Manfus, Anciently a Farm. Selden's Hist. of Tithes, pag. 62. The same with Hida.

Hæc Indentura testatur, quod Reginaldus Grey Dominus de Hastings, Weisford & de Rutbin tradidit Johanni Saunders Manfium Manerii de Bedworth, &c. Dat. 18 Hen. 6. Here Manfium Manerii is used for the Manor-House, or Manor-Place. Manfium capitale dicitur de ædibus Domini Manerii, quas Aulam vulgo nunciant. Manfium or Manfus is sometimes confounded with Messuagium. Spelman. There were in short Time conferred on the Monastery of Eversham 120 Manfes, says Cressey in his Church History, fol. 530. a. Which Manfes are in some Records latined Manentes. Sometimes a Hide of Land, and a Manfe are confounded. Ibid. fol. 653. a.

Mansus Presbyteri, The Manse or House of Residence for the Parish-Priest; the Parsonage or Vicarage-House. — Habet etiam dictus Vicarius (i. e. de Ambresdon) pro inhabitatione sua illum mansum in quo Presbyter Parochie dicte Ecclesie inhabitare consuevit, & duo cotagia eidem adjacentia. Paroch. Antiq. p. 431.

Mantica, Mantum, Mantellum, A Manteau, a Mantel. — Res inclutus mantica, &c. Mat. Paris. sub Anno 1188.

Mantile, Mantle, May be drawn from the French Word Manteau, and signifies with us a long Robe. Anno 24 H. 8. cap. 13.

Manualia Beneficia, The daily Distributions, or Portions of Meat and Drink allotted to the Canons and other Members of Cathedral Churches for their present Subsistence. — Consuetudinem qua in quibusdam partibus inolevit, qua Canonici & alii Beneficiati seu Clerici Cathedralium & aliarum collegiarum Ecclesiarum distributiones cotidianas, que alias manualia beneficia seu victualia nuncupantur, &c. Tho. Lyseaux Decani, Paulini Liber Statutorum Ecclesie Sancti Pauli, London. MS.

Manus Obsequentia, Sworn Obedience, or Subjection upon Oath. — Henricus de Teilsdale, Prior de Fincale & Rector Ecclesie de Gislewick fecit pro illis Domino Johanni Archiepiscopo Ebor. manuale obsequentiam die Synodi celebrare apud Ebor. 11. Kal. Maii 1295. — Collectan. Matthaei Hutton, S. T. P. ex Registris Ebor.

Manubrium, The Handle or Haft of a Sword or Dagger, fur. presentant quod A. de C. Aurifer 2 Junii, 2 Jac. apud S. pradiit. quoddam Manubrium Pugnis ferreum, Anglice, a Dagger-hilt of Iron, &c. apud Maidston.

Manucriptio is a Writ that lies for a Man, who, taken upon Suspicion of Felony, and offering sufficient Bail for his Appearance, cannot be admitted thereto by the Sheriff, or other having Power to let to Mainprise. F. N. B. fol. 249. See Mainprise. How diversely it is used, see the Reg. Origin. in the Table, and Pryn's Animadversiones, fol. 268.

Manuel, Manuelis, Any Thing whereof present Profit may be made, or that is employed or used by the Hand. Staundf. Prærog. fol. 54. As a Thing in the manuel Occupation of one, i. e. actually used or employed by him.

Manumission, Manumissio, Is the freeing of a Villein or Slave out of his Bondage: The Form of it, in the Conqueror's Time, Lambard in his Archeologia, fol. 126. setteth down in these Words, Si quis velit servum suum liberum facere, tradat eum Vicecomiti, per manum dextram in pleno Comitatu, & quietum illum clamare debet a jure servitutis sue per manumissionem; & ostendat ei liberas portas & vias, & tradat ei libera arma scilicet Lanceam & gladium, & deinde liber homo efficitur. Some also were wont to be manumitted by Charter. Vide Brooke, Tit. Villenage, fol. 305. The Terms of the Law make two Kinds of Manumission, one expressed, the other implied: Manumission expressed is, when the Lord makes a Deed to his Villein, to enfranchise him by this Word Manumittere, the Manner of which in old Time was thus: The Lord, in the Presence of other Persons, took the Bond-man by the Head, saying, I will that this Man be free, and thereupon shewed him forward out of his Hand. Manumission implied is, when the Lord makes an Obligation for Payment of Money to him at a certain Day, or such him, when he might enter without Suit; or granteth him an Annuity, or leasehold Land to him by Deed, for Years, or for Life, and such like. See Nief.

I shall here insert an ancient Charter of Manumission by John Peckham, Archbishop of Canterbury. — Novimus Universi prefens Scriptum visuri vel audituri quod nos Frater Johannes permissione divina Cant. Archiepiscopus totius Angliæ Primas presentis scriptura tenore manumittimus & ab omni jugo servitutis absolvimus perpetuæque libertatis titulo decoramus Robertum de Hempstede in Freintfeld quondam Nativum cum tota sequela sua procreata & procreanda. Ita quod idem R. & tota sequela sua prædicta cum omnibus bonis & catallis ejus liberi in perpetuum remaneant, & liberum statum plenamque & liberam administrationem eorundem bonorum & catallorum suorum sine calumpnia nostra vel successorum nostrorum optineant in futuro. In cujus rei testimonium & perpetuum facimentum presentis Scripto Sigillum nostrum duximus apponendum. Hiis Testibus Domino Tho. de Marines, Rogero de Leukenore, Rogero la Ware, Will. Mauke militibus, &c. Dat. apud Tenham 11 Kal. Apr. MCC. Officario octavo. Reg. Eccl. Christi Cant. penes J. Episcopum Norwic.

EDWARDUS Dei Gratia, Rex Angliæ & Franciæ, & Dominus Hiberniæ, omnibus ad quos presentes Literæ nostræ pervenerint, Salutem. Sciatis quod nos ex gratia nostra speciali & ex mero motu nostro Manumissimus & ab omni jugo servitutis liberamus Johannem Dedwiche de Orleton in Com. Heref. Husbandman, & Will' Dedwiche de eadem Husbandman Nativos nostros de Manerio sive Dominio nostro de Orleton prædicti. Cum omnibus bonis & catallis suis & tota eorum sequela & progenie de eorum corporibus procreatis sive procreandis. Ita quod nec nos nec Heredes nec Successores nec Assignati nostri aliquod Juris vel clamei ratione alicujus Villenagii in iisdem Johanne & Willielmo, seu de eorum progenie procreantis sive procreandis, seu de bonis & catallis suis, exigere vel vendicare poterimus in futuro, &c. In cujus rei testimon. has literas nostras sub sigillo nostro Comitatus nostri Marchia feri fecimus Patentes. Dat. vicesimo die Mensis Aprilis Anno Regni nostri octavo. Ex ipso autographo penes Johan. Colman Gen.

Manu opera, Stolen Goods taken upon a Thief apprehended in the Fact. See Manopera.

Manuopera, Cattle, or any Implements used in Husbandry. Ac etiam deodanda, thesaurum inventum, & omnia bona & catalla vocata Manuopera inventa, &c. Monast. 1 Tom. pag. 977. So in Fleta, lib. 2. cap. 52. par. 42. Probatores cum Manuopere capti, i. e. Fures catallorum. Et omnimoda Catalla vocata Manuopera, cum quacunque persona in eisdem capti. Pat. 13 Hen. 4. Par. 1. m. 14. See Mainer.

Manupastus. Sæpe obvenit in forensi dialecto, pro famulo & serviente Domesticæ. Spelman. Erat culpabilis tanquam de Manupasto, (Manwood, cap. 16. n. 6.) i. e. He shall be culpable, as of a Thing done by his own Hand, or by one of his Family. Gloss. in x. Scriptor. So that Manupastus signifies a Domestick: Si Manupastus alicujus accusetur de furto. Leg. H. 1. cap. 66.

Manupes, A Foot of full and legal Measure. — Dedimus quietantiam de ceciv acris mensuratis Anno Domini Regis Henrici Patri mei xxxij præcepto ipsius, per peticam xxv pedum per manupedem in Com. Ebor. — Chart. Ric. 1.

Manus,

Manus Was anciently used for an Oath, and for him that took it, a Compurgator; as we often find in old Records, Tertia, Quarta, Decima manu jurare; that is, the Party was to bring so many to swear with him, that they believed what he vouched was true; if he swore alone, it was propria manu & unica. So in the Visitation of the Diocese of London by Rob. Winchelsea, Archbishop of Canterbury, a Woman of Coggeshale in Essex accused of Adultery—Mulieri hoc neganti purgatio sexta manu extitit indicta, i. e. She was to vindicate her Reputation upon the Testimony of six Compurgators. Reg. Eccl. Christi Cant.

Manus mediæ & infimæ homines, Men of a mean Condition, of the lowest Degree.—Et plures mediæ manus quos ex iustis & rationabilibus causis Rex Pater exheredaverat. Radulphus de Diceto sub Anno 1112.—Inferioris & infimæ manus homo. Idem sub annis 1138, 1185.

Maintenance Is a Writ used in Cafe of Maintenance. Reg. Orig. fol. 182 & 189. See Maintenance.

Manworth, The Price or Value of a Man's Life or Head; for of old every Man was rated at a certain Price, according to his Quality, which Price was paid to the Lord in Satisfaction for killing him.

Mara, A Meer, Moor, Lake, Pool, Pond, or Place of Bog, Marsh, &c.—Cadens super lacum, quem usu quotidiano loquendi Maram vocamus.

—Will. Gemet. l. 2. c. 20.—Castrum & manerium de Bolyngbroke cum sike, mara & marisco.—Paroch. Antiq. pag. 418. Called sometimes Mera, from Brit. Mer, Sax. Mer, Water. Whence a Mere-Swine, a Dolphin; a Mear or Meer, a Moor or low Marsh; Mire or Dirt, Meers or Ditches; Mere-flangs, and Mere-stones, set for Land-marks, or Boundaries in open Fields. See Mera.

Marbotz Were a Sort of Spanish Gold Coin, formerly current here.

Marta Is now Thirteen Shillings and four Pence; but in the Reign of Henry I. it was only Six Shillings and a Penny in Weight; for the Shillings as well as the Pence were then weighed, or went by Weight; and some were coined, and some only cut in small Pieces. Now those that were coined were worth something more than the other. De Tibindi hominis occisi vera debent reddi, &c. 30 Sol. & 5 Denar. ad Manbotam, idem bodie 5 Marcæ de Tbesindo, i. e. Thaino 120 Sol. qui faciunt 20 Marcas. Leg. H. 1. See Mark.

Marcatu, The Rent of a Mark by the Year. Et unum Marcatum redditus de Newton. Mon. 1 Tom. pag. 341.

Marchers, or Lords Marchers, Were the Noblemen that lived on the Marches of Wales, or Scotland, who in Times past (according to Cambden) had their private Laws, & poteslatem vite & necis, like Petty Kings, which are now abolished by the Statute 27 H. 8. cap. 26. Of these Marchers, you may read Anno 2 H. 4. c. 18. 26 H. 8. c. 6. and 1 Ed. 6. cap. 10. where they are called Lords Marchers. And in old Records the Lords Marchers of Wales were called Marchiones de Marchia Wallie. See Marquis. See also 1 & 2 Ph. & Mar. cap. 15.

Marches (Marchia, from the Saxon Mearc, Signum Limitaneum) Are the Bounds and Limits between us and Wales, or between us and Scotland, Anno 24 H. 8. cap. 9. Which last are divided into West and Middle Marches. Anno 4 H. 5.

cap. 7. and 22 Ed. 4. cap. 8. The Word is used in the Statute 24 H. 8. c. 12 generally for the Precincts of the King's Dominions. So in Charta Divisionis imperii Caroli Magni, cap. 1. you will find that Nullus eorum fratris sui terminos vel regni limites invadere presumat neque fraudulenter ingredi ad conturbandum regnum ejus vel Marcas minuendas. Du Fresne Gloss.

Marchet, (Marchetum.) Consuetudo pecuniaria in Mancipiorum filiabus maritandis. Braet. lib. 2. Tit. 1. cap. 8. num. 2. Merchetum vero pro filia dare non competit libero homini. Extenta Manerii de Wivenho, 18 Dec. 40 Edw. 3. & alia 15 Edw. 3. Anno Dom. 1230. Rich. Burr tenet unum Mesuagium. E. debet Tallagium, Sextum Curia & Metchet hoc modo, quod si maritare voluerit filiam suam cum quodam libero homine extra villam, faciet pacem Domini pro maritagio, & si eam maritaverit alicui Custumario Ville, nil dabit pro maritagio. Merchetum, hoc est, quod Sochemanni & nativi debent solvere pro filiabus suis corruptis sive defloratis 5 s. 4 d. Reg. Abbatissæ de Burgo, in Bibl. Cotton. This Custom, with some Difference, is in divers Parts of England and Wales, as also in Scotland, and in the Isle of Guernsey. See Spelman at large on it. By the Custom of the Manor of Dinevor, in the County of Caermarthen, every Tenant at the Marriage of his Daughter pays Ten Shillings to the Lord, which in the British Language is called Gwabr-Merched, i. e. a Maid's Fee. See Maiden Rents, and Gwabr-Merched. See Marriage.

The Custom for the Lord to lie the first Night with the Bride of his Tenant was very common in Scotland, and in the North Parts of England: But it was abrogated by Makolme the Third, at the Instance of the Queen; and instead thereof a Mark was paid to the Lord by the Bridegroom. From whence 'tis called Marcheta Mulieris.

Marchiare, To adjoin or border upon—Sex acra terre cum prato adjacentes secundum quod marchiat ad pratum Prioris de Brecon.—Cartular. S. Johannis Brecon. MS. f. 74.

Marculus, A Hammer, a Mallet.—Dentesque caninos tanquam maculo ferro sive malleo confringamus. Girald. Cambren. Apud Whartoni Angl. Sac. Pars 2. p. 437.

Marerium. See Maeremium.

Marchal, Marchallus, Is a French Word, signifying as much as Tribunus militum with the ancient Romans, or παραμαρχ with the Greek, or παραρχ. Trinquel. de nobilitate, cap. 8. pag. 42. num. 17. The French Word may seem also to proceed from the German Marchalk, i. Equitum magister, which Hotoman in verbis feudalibus verbo Marchalkus, derived from the old Word March, signifying a Horse. Others make it of the two Saxon Words, Mar, i. equus, and Scalh, i. pre-fectus; or according to Versfegan, from Mare, the general Appellation of all Horses, (as Horse is now in English) and Scale, which in the ancient Teutonic, he affirms, to signify a Kind of Servant, as Scalo doth at this Day among the Italians. With us there be divers Officers of this Name, but one most Noble of all the Rest, who is called Lord or Earl Marchal of England, of whom Mention is made in divers Statutes, 1 H. 4. 7 & 14. and 15 R. 2. cap. 2. His Office consists especially in Matters of War and Arms, as well with us as in other Countries, whereof you may read Lupanus de magistratibus Francia, lib. 1. cap. Marchallus, and Tilius, lib. 2. cap. de Consuetabili

Constabili Mariscallo, &c. The next to this is the Marshall of the King's House, whose special Authority is (according to Britton, and Gwin in the Preface to his Readings) in the King's Place to hear and determine all Pleas of the Crown, and to punish Faults committed within the Verge, and to hear and judge of Suits between those of the King's Household, &c. Crompt. Jur. f. 192. of him you may read F. N. B. f. 241. & 18 E. 3. stat. 2. c. 7. and 27 E. 3. Stat. 2. c. 6. and 2 H. 4. 13. and diverse others. Whoever desires to know farther of this Officer, and his Duty, may find it in Fleta, lib. 2. c. 4. & 5. There be other inferior Officers of this Name, as Marshall of the Justices in Eyre, 3 E. 1. 19. Marshall of the King's Bench, 5 E. 3. c. 8. and this hath the Custody of the King's Bench Prison in Southwark. F. N. B. fol. 251. And these inferior Marshals be either ad placitum, or in Fee. Kitchin, fol. 143. Fleta also, lib. 2. cap. 15. mentions a Marshall of the King's Hall, whose Office is, when the Tables be prepared, to call out both those of the Household and Strangers, according to their Worth, and decently to place them, &c. There is also a Marshall of the Exchequer. 51 H. 3. stat. 15. to whom the Court comitteth the Custody of the King's Debtors during the Term-time, for securing the Debts. He also assigneth Sheriffs, Escheators, Customers, and Collectors, their Auditors, before whom they shall account. He hath all Inquisitions taken before Escheators virtute officii, delivered unto him, to be re-delivered by him to the Treasurer's Remembrancer in the Exchequer.

Marctum, (From the Fr. Maret, a Fen or Marsh) Marsh-Ground, where the Sea or great Rivers overflow. Co. 1 Inst. fol. 5. a.

Margidunum, Dover-Castle.

Marriage, or Marriage, Maritagium, Signifies not only the lawful Conjunction of Man and Wife, but also the Interest of bestowing a Ward or a Widow in Marriage. Magna Charta, cap. 6. and Bracton, lib. 2. cap. 3. And also it signifies Lands given in Marriage. Bracton, lib. 2. cap. 34, 39. And in this Signification the same Author saith, That Maritagium est aut liberum, aut servitio obligatum, lib. 2. cap. 7. num. 3, 4. Liberum maritagium dicitur, ubi Donator vult quod terra sit data quæta sit & libera ab omni seculari servitio, quod ad Dominum feudi possit pertinere, & ita quod ille, cui sic data fuerit, nullum omnino inde faciat servitium usque ad tertium Heredem & usque ad quartum gradum, &c. See Skene de verb. signif. verb. Maritagi-um, which (according to Glanvil, lib. 7. cap. 1.) is that Portion which the Husband receives with his Wife. See Dover. Recipuit Mariagi-um suum. So Ecclesiam sancti Nicolai cum adjacentibus juncto in Mariagi-um concessit. See Oswald's Law, viz. Marriage prohibited to Priests. Placita sub H. 3. Will. Maynard qui tenuit terras in Hurst cognoscit se esse Villanum Abbatis de Abingdon, & tenere de eo in Villanagio & per Villanas consuetudines, viz. per servitium 18 d. per Annum, & dandi Maritagi-um & marcbetum pro filia & socræ sua ad voluntatem Ab-batis, & faciendo omnes villanas consuetudines.

Mariounum, Caermarthen.

Marinarius, A Mariner, a Seaman. Marina-riorum Capitaneus, the Admiral or Warden of the Ports, which Offices were commonly united in the same Person; the Word Admiral not coming into Use before the later End of King Edward the First, before which Time the King's Letters run thus—Rex Capitaneus Marinariorum & eisdem Marinariis Salutem. Paroch. Antiq. pag. 322.

Mariola, A Shrine or Image of the Virgin Mary.—Hic quoque fere perfect pulcrum Mariolam cum pertinentiis.—Mat. Paris in vitis Abbatum S. Albani.—in australi Ecclesie parte, juxta no-bilem Mariolam. Ibid.

Mariscus Is a Word used in Domesday-Book, and signifies Palus, or locus paludosus, a marshy or fenny Ground.

Maritagio amisso per defaultam Is a Writ for the Tenant in Frank-Marriage, to recover Lands, &c. whereof he is deformed by another. Reg. fol. 171.

Maritagio forisfacto Is a Writ. See Forisfactura maritagi.

Maritagium, i. e. That Portion which is given with a Daughter in Marriage. So Glanvil; In alio modo accipitur dos secundum leges Romanas, secundum quas proprie appellatur dos, id quod cum muliere datur viro, quod vulgariter dicitur Maritagium. Lib. 2. c. 18.

Maritagium, or Marriage, Strictly taken, is that Right which the Lord of the Fee had to marry the Daughters of his Vassals after their Death: Others tell us, it was that Profit which might accrue to the Lord by the Marriage of one under Age, who held his Lands of him by Knight's Service. This seems plain by the Statute of Merton, cap. 7. Maritagium ejus qui infra etatem est de vero jure pertinet ad Dominum feodi.

Maritagium habere, To have the free Disposal of an Heiress in Marriage, a Favour granted by the Kings of England, while they had the Custody of all Wards or Heirs in Minority.—

Mandatum est Vice-Com. Oxon. quod habere faciat W. Com. Sarum, maritagium Filii Richardi de Camvil genita de Eustackia—ad opus Willielmi sui primogeniti. Paroch. Antiquit. pag. 182.

Maritima Anglie, The Emolument arising to the King from the Sea, which Sheriffs anciently collected; but was afterwards granted to the Admiral. Pat. 8 Hen. 3. m. 4. Richardus de Lucy dicitur habere Maritimam Anglie.

Mark, (Merca, from the Sax. Mearc, i. e. Signum.) In ancient Time I find a Mark of Gold was eight Ounces. Stow's Annals, pag. 32. and was valued at 6 l. in Silver. Rot. Mag. Pipe de Anno 1 Hen. 2. or, as others write, 6 l. 13 s. 4 d. Char. Reg. Joh. de dote B. Regina (quon-dam ux. R. Richardi.) Paten. 3 Joh. m. 17. n. 31. Assignavimus ei pro dote sua mille marcas argenti annuatim, 13 s. 4 d. computatis pro Marca. See Marca. 'Tis uncertain when it first came fixed to this particular Value. Matthew Paris tells us, that it was so early as the Year 1194, in the Life of Guarinus, Abbot of St. Alban. Skene de verb. signif. verb. Mark, saith, That in Tractatu de ponderibus & mensuris, a Mark signifieth an Ounce-Weight, or half a Pound, whereof the Dram is the eighth Part, as the Ounce is the eighth Part of a Mark, citing Cassianus de consuetud. Burg. Rub. prim. sect. 7. verb. Solz Turnoys. A Mark of Silver every Man knows is now Thirteen Shillings and Four Pence.

Market, Mercatus, May be derived from the French Marche, i. Emporium; it signifies with us the same Thing, and also the Liberty or Privilege whereby a Town is enabled to keep a Mar- ket. Old. Nat. Brev. fol. 149. So doth Braſton uſe it, lib. 2. cap. 24. num. 6. & lib. 4. cap. 46. where he ſhews, That one Market ought to be diſtant from another Sex Lucas & dimidium & tertiam partem dimidia. The Reaſon whereof both he and Fleta give in theſe Words, Quia omnes rationabiles dieta conſtant ex 20 milliaribus. Dividatur ergo Dieta in tres partes, prima autem matutina detur cunctibus verſus mercatum, ſecunda detur ad emendum & vendendum; que quidem ſufficere debet omnibus niſi ſint forte mercatores ſtatarii, qui merces depoſuerint & expoſuerint venales, quibus neceſſaria erit prolixior mora in mercatu, & tertia pars relinquitur redemptibus de mercatu ad propria. &c. lib. 4. cap. 28. ſect. Item Reſcript. By the Statute 27 H. 6. 5. all Fairs and Markets are forbidden to be kept upon any Sunday, or upon the Feaſts of the Aſcenſion of our Lord, Corpus Chriſti, or the Aſſumption of our bleſſed Lady; All Saints, or Good-Friday, except for neceſſary Viſuals, and in the Time of Harvelt. It was cuſtomary in former Times, that moſt Fairs and Markets were kept on Sundays; and in many Places they are ſtill kept in the Church-yard. This Cuſtom ſo far obtained, that though it was prohibited by ſeveral Kings, yet we ſee by the Statute before mentioned it continued till the Reign of Henry 6. This Cuſtom is mentioned in Mat. Pariſ. Anno 1200. Nundinas vero & Mercata Dominico die interdixit quod omnia quæ diebus Dominicis per Angliam fieri conſueverunt, &c.
ket,

Marketſeld, (reſtius Marketſeld.) Et valent per an. le Secreterward & le Marketſeld, xviii s. & ob. in omni terra pertineat ad Honorem de Haulton. Ex Cod. MS. in Bibl. Cotton. It ſignifies Toll of the Market, the Word Seld importing a Payment. I find it elſewhere written Marketſgald. Plac. apud Ceſtriam, 31 Edu. 3.

Et quod capiant marlam pro voluntate ſua ad terram ſuam marland*, &c. Reſſendo, &c. And elſewhere we may read Twenty Acres terra Marlata, that is, marled Land.

Marmonius Pannus, i. e. Cloth of many Colours. Tunica de quodam panno marmoreo ſpiſſo cum rotis & grisonibus, &c. Du Cange.

Marque, From the Saxon Meare, Signum: We uſe the Word in the ſame Senſe to this Day, when we ſay, Give ſuch a Thing a Mark or Sign; but in our antient Statutes it ſignifies as much as Reprimals, as Anno 4 H. 5. cap. 7. where Marque and Reprimas are uſed as Synonyma; and Letters of Marque are found in the ſame Signification in the ſame Chapter. See Reprimals, and ſee alſo Mar. heſ.

Marquis or Marqueſe, Marchio, Is now a Title of Honour next before an Earl, and next after a Duke; by the Opinion of Hotoman, verb. Marchio in verbis feudalibus, the Name is derived from the German March, i. Limes, ſignifying originally as much as Cuſtos limitis, or Comes & præfeſtus limitis. It was an antient Cuſtom among the Britains, and after them, of the Saxons, to give the Title of Reguli to all Lords that had the Charge and Cuſtody of Marches and Limitis. See Seldon's Mare Clauſ. lib. 2. cap. 19. From hence it was, that in the Time of Richard the Second, came up firſt the Title of Marqueſſes, which is a Governour of the Mar. heſ; for before that Time, thoſe that governed the Marches, were called commonly Lords Marchers, and not Marqueſſes, as Judge Doderidge hath obſerved in his Law of Nobility and Peerage, under the Title of Marqueſſes, pag. 31. Marchiones Wallie, viz. Rogerus de Mortuo mari, Jacobus de Audeley, Rogerus de Clifford, Rogerus de Leyburn, Hamo Extraneus & ille de Turhevillæ, cum pluribus aliis, qui de bello prædicto de Leves nuper fuerunt, &c. Matt. Weſtm. in Anno 1264. pag. 225.

Marrow Was a Lawyer of great Account in Henry the Seventh's Days, whoſe learned Readings are extant, but not in Print. Lamb. Eirenarch. lib. 1. cap. 10.

Marſhall. See Marſhal.

Marſhalſea, Mareſcalia, Is the Court or Seat of the Marſhal, of whom ſee Crompt. Jur. fol. 120. It is alſo uſed for the Priſon in Southwark; the Reaſon whereof may be, becauſe the Marſhal of the King's Houſe was wont perhaps to ſit there in Judgment, or keep his Priſon. See the Stat. 9 R. 2. cap. 5. and 2 H. 4. cap. 23. King Charles the Firſt erected a Court by Letters Patent under the Great Seal, by the Name of Curia Hoſpitiæ Domini Regis, &c. which takes Cogniſance more at large of all Cauſes than the Marſhalſea could; of which the Knight Marſhal or his Deputy are Judges.

Marſum, A Word uſed in Domeſday-Book, and interpreted by Mr. Agar of the Receipt of the Exchequer, to ſignify a Quantity of Coin, ſed Quere.

Marternes. See Furr.

Martial Law Is the Law of War, depending upon the Pleaſure of the King, or his Lieutenant: For though the King in Time of Peace never makes any Laws, but by common Conſent in Parliament; yet in War he uſeth abſolute Power, inſomuch that his Word is a Law. Smith de Repub. Anglor. lib. 2. cap. 4. See Law of Arms.

Marſtropy, Martyrologium, Martilogium, A Calendar or Register kept in our Religious Houſes, wherein they ſet down the Donation of their Benefactors, and the Days of their Death, that upon each Anniverſary they might commemorate and pray for them. And therefore ſeveral Benefactors made it a Condition of their Beneficence, to be inſerted in the Martyrology.—So Iſabel Gargate required from the Prior and Canons of Burceſter, for the Favours done to them them by her self and Mother. — Cum de hac vita migraverimus, facient nomina nostra scribi in Martyrologio suo. Paroch. Antiq. p. 189. See Mr. Kennet's Glossary.

Masagium, Anciently used for a Messuage. Et unum Masagium in villa de Maudone, &c. Pat. 16 Rich. 2. par. 1. m. 30.

Masser, A Priest.

Massere Is an English Saxon Word, and signifies a Merchant.

Masses-Priest. Anciently in England every Secular Priest, in Distinction from the Regulars, was called a Mass-Priest, who was to officiate in the Mass, or ordinary Service of the Church. Hence Messe-Priest in many of our Saxon Canons for the Parochial Minister; who was likewise sometimes called Messe-Theyne, because the Dignity of a Priest in many Cases was thought equal to that of a Thein or Lay-Lord. But when the Times of greater Superstition came on, the Word Mass-Priest was restrained to those Stipendiary Creatures, who were retained in Churches, or at particular Altars to say so many Masses for the Souls of the Deceased.

Massurus, For Massicus, that is, a great Eater: Non illitito Massicus delectabatur edulio. Leges H. 1. cap. 3.

Mass, Glans. Glandis nomine continentur glans, castanea, fagina, ficus & alia quaque quæ edi & pasci poterunt præter herbam. Bracton, lib. 4. p. 226. See Pessona.

Master of the Court ofWARDS and Liberties Was the Chief Officer of that Court, named and assigned by the King; to whose Custody, the Seal of the Court was committed, &c. Anno 33 Hen. 8. cap. 33. But this Court, with the Officers and Appurtenances thereof, is abolished by 12 Car. 2. cap. 24.

Master of the Faculties (Magister Facultatum) Is an Officer under the Archbishop of Canterbury, who grants Licences, and Dispensations; and is mentioned 22 & 23 Car. 2. Statute for laying Impositions on Proceedings at Law.

Master of the Horse Is he that hath the Rule and Charge of the King's Stable, being an Office of high Account, and always bestowed upon some Nobleman of great Merit, and is mentioned Anno 39 Eliz. cap. 7. and 1 Edw. 6. cap. 5. This Officer, under the Emperors of Rome, was called Comes sacri Stabuli.

Master of the Jewel House Is an Officer in the King's Household, of great Credit, having Charge of all Plate used for the King or Queen's Table, or any great Officer in Court; and of all Plate remaining in the Tower of London, of Chains and loose Jewels not fixed to any Garment. Anno 39 Eliz. cap. 7.

Master of the King's Household, (Magister Hospitalis Regis) Is otherwise called Grand Master of the King's Household, and is called Lord Steward of the King's most Honourable Household. Anno 32 Hen. 8. cap. 39. But Primo Mariae, and ever since, he is called Lord Steward of the King's Household; under whom there is a Principal Officer of the Household, called the Master of the Household, of great Authority, as well as Antiquity.

Master of the King's Buffers Is a Martial Officer in all Royal Armies, most necessary as well for maintaining the Forces compleat, well armed, and trained, as also for preventing of such Frauds as otherwise may exceedingly waste the Prince's Treasure, and extremely weaken the Forces, &c. mentioned 2 Edw. 6. cap. 2. And Master-Master-General, Anno 35 Eliz. cap. 4.

Master of the Mint, (Anno 2 Hen. 6. cap. 14.) Is now called the Warden of the Mint, whose Office is to receive the Silver of the Goldsmiths, and to pay them for it, and to oversee all the rest belonging to his Function.

Master of the Ordnance (Anno 39 Eliz. cap. 7.) Is a great Officer, to whose Care all the King's Ordnance and Artillery is committed.

Master of the Posts Was an Officer of the King's Court, that had the Appointing, Placing, and Displacing of all such through England as provide Post-Horses, for the speedy passing of the King's Messages, and other Business, in the thorough-fair Towns where they dwell; as also to see that they keep a certain Number of convenient Horses of their own, and when Occasion is, that they provide others wherewith to furnish such as have Warrant from him to take Post-Horses, either from or to the Seas, or other Borders or Place within this Realm: He likewise hath the Care to pay them their Wages, and make them Allowance accordingly as he shall think meet: This Officer is mentioned Anno 2 E. 6. 3. But by a Statute made 12 Car. 2. c. 34. One General Letter-Office or Post-Office is settled in London, the Master of which is appointed by the King by Letters Patent, with Rates and Rules prescribed in the Act for Carriage of Letters. But the said Rates and Rules have been since altered by Stat. 9 Ann. cap. 10.

Master of the Rolls (Magister Rotulorum) Is an Assistant to the Lord Chancellor of England in the High Court of Chancery, and in his Absence hearth Causes there, and gives Orders. Crompt. Jur. fol. 41. His Title in his Patent is, Clericus parvæ Baggæ, Custos Rotulorum, & Domus Converterorum; because the Place where the Rolls of Chancery are now kept, was anciently the Habitation of those Jews, who were converted to Christianity: But those Converts gave themselves up to all Sensuality and Wickedness, and therefore Edw. 3. Anno regni sui 51. suppressed them, and gave the House for the safe Keeping of the Rolls of all Patents and Grants which pass the Great Seal, and the Records of Chancery. He is called Clerk of the Rolls, Anno 12 Rich. 2. cap. 2. and in Forseſcne, cap. 24. And no where Master of the Rolls, until 11 Hen. 7. cap. 20. And yet, cap. 25. Ejusdem, he is called also Clerk. In which Respect, Sir Tho. Smith, lib. 2. cap. 10. says, he may not unfitly be called Custos Archivorum. He hath the bestowing the Office of the Six Clerks, and the Clerks of the Petty-Bag, Examiners of the Court, and the Clerks of the Chapel. Anno 14 & 15 Hen. 8. cap. 1. See Roll.

Master of the Temple, The Founder of the Order of the Templars, and all his Successors, were called Magni Templi Magistri, and probably from hence he was the Spiritual Guide and Director of the Temple. Ever since the Dissolution of that Order, he is called Master of the Temple.

Maſter Eccleſia, The Mother-Church, either a Cathedral Church, in reſpect of the Parochial within the ſame Dioceſe: Or a Parochial Church, in reſpect of the Chapels depending on it.

Maſter in Deed, and Maſter of Record, Are ſaid to differ thus: In Old Nat. Brev. fol. 19. Maſter in Deed ſeems to be nothing elſe but a Truth to be proved, though not by any Record: And Maſter of Record is that which may be proved by ſome Record: For Example, If a Man be ſued to an Exigent, during the Time that he was in the King's Wars; this is Maſter in Deed, and not Maſter of Record: And therefore he that will alledge this for himſelf, muſt come before the Scire facias for Execution be awarded againſt him, for after that nothing will ſerve but Maſter of Record; that is, ſome Error in the Proceſs appearing upon Record. Kitchin, fol. 216. maketh a Difference between Maſter of Record, and a Speciality, and nude Maſter; where he ſaith, That nude Maſter is not of ſo high a Nature as either Maſter of Record, or a Speciality, otherwiſe there called Maſter in Deed; whereby it ſeems, That nude Maſter is a naked Allegation of a Thing done, to be proved only by Witneſſes, and not either Record or other Speciality in Writing under Seal.

Maugre Is a Compound of two French Words, Mal and Gre, i. iniquo animo; ſo that it is as much as to ſay, with an unwilling Mind, or in Deſpite of another, and ſo it is uſed in Lit. Seſſ. 672. Where it is ſaid, That the Husband and Wife ſhall be remitted, maugre the Husband, that is, in Deſpight, or againſt the Will of the Husband.

Maum, A ſoft brittle Stone in ſome Parts of Oxfordſhire, which the Inhabitants call Maum. Dr. Plot's Nat. Hiſt. of Oxfordſhire, pag. 69. The Saxon Interpreter of Oroſius, uſes the Word Maumſtan, which Mr. Somner renders Soft ſtone. And in Northumberland they ſtil uſe the Word Maum or Moum, for ſoft and mellow.

Maund, A Kind of great Basket or Hamper, containing eight Bales, or two Fats. See the Book of Rates, fol. 3.

Maundy Thursday, The Thursday before Eaſter, ſo called from the Fr. Mande, Sportula, becauſe on that Day it was a Cuſtom to give larger Bounty to thoſe poor Men whoſe Feet the King waſhed.

Surrei per ſerjantiam faciendi unum ſerculum in olla lutea in coquina Domini Regis die coronationis ſue, & vocatur Dilligrout, & ſi fit Segm. (ſagimen) in illo ſerculo vocatur Maupigynnum.*—An. 39 H. 3. Mr. Blount of Tenures, p. 1.

Maxims in Law Are Poſitions and Theſes, being Concluſions of Reaſon, and univerſal Propoſitions, ſo ſure and perfect, that they may not be impugned or diſputed. For Co. upon Lit. ſaith, That Principia probant, non probantur, and therefore contra nequeſtem Principia non eſt diſputandum: It is another Maxim, That as no Eſtate can be veſted in the King, without Matter of Record, ſo none can be deſteſted out of him, but by Matter of Record. For Things are diſſolved as they are contracted. Co. Rep. 1. Cholmeyer's Caſe. Another, That an Obligation, or other Matter in Writing, cannot be diſcharged by an Agreement by Word. And Argumentum ab authoritate fortiffimum eſt in Lege. Co. on Lit. pag. 141. It is alſo a Maxim, That if a Man have Iſſue, two Sons by divers Venters, and the one of them pur-purchase Lands in Fee, and die without Issue, the other Brother shall never be his Heir, &c. See Co. on Litt. fol. 11. 144. And see also Doctor and Student.

Maj02 Is the Chief Magistrate of a City, and anciently among the Britains called Meyr, which is derived from the British Word Mivet; which signifies Custodire, to keep and preserve; and not from the Latin Major, greater. Anno 1189. Richard the First changed the Bailiff of London into a Mayor, and by that Example 1204. King John made the Bailiff of Kings Lyn a Mayor, while Norwich obtained not that Title till the Seventh of Henry the Fifth 1419. See more of this Word in Spelm. Gloss.

Mazere, Mazarum, A Drinking-bowl.—Ipsa Abbas reliquit—unum salarium argenteum, & picarium argenteum, item quatuor cibos de Mazere, videlicet, duos cum pedibus, &c. Cartular. Glaston. MS. fol. 54. a. What this Mazere was, of which the Bowls called commonly Mazers were made, is not agreed on by Authors. Somner thinks it Maple-wood; Du Fresnoy believes it Marhine-stone. I believe it was what we now call Porcellane.

Meale-rents Are certain Rents still so called, but now paid in Money, which heretofore, by some Tenants, in the Honour of Clun, were paid in Meal, to make Meat for the Lord's Hounds.

Meals, The Shelves of Sand or Banks on the Sea-Coasts of Norfolk, are called the Meals and the Males.

Mean, Medius, Signifies the Middle between two Extreams, and that either in Time or Dignity. For Example of the First, His Action was mean betwixt the Disciple made to him and his Recovery, that is, in the Interim, (or as we usually say, in the mean Time.) Of the Second, there is Lord Mean or Mefne, (mentioned in the Statutes of Amortifing Lands, made tempore E. 1.) and Tenant. See Mefne.

Mese, Messuagium, Seemeth to come from the French Maison, or rather Meix, which Word you read in Cassianus de Consect. Burgund. pag. 1195. and interpreted by him Manfus. What Manfus is, see Manfon: It signifies a Messuage or Dwelling-House. Kitchin, fol. 139. and F. N. B. fol. 2. Stat. Hibernie, 14 H. 3. and 21 H. 8. 13. In some Places called corruptly a Mife or Mise-place. See Mife, and Mese, and Messuage.

Mesne. See Mefne.

Mesnon-dieu, In French Maison de dieu, Domus Dei; A House of God, A Monastery, religious House, or Hospital; the Word is mentioned 2 & 3 P. & M. cap. 23. 39 Eliz. 5. and 15 Car. 2. 7.

Measure, Mensura, According to the 25th Chapter of Mag. Chart. And the Stat. 17 Car. 1. cap. 19. All Weights and Measures in this Kingdom ought to be the same, and according to the King's Standard. See 4 Inst. 273. and Mensura. See the Stat. 22 Car. 2. cap. 8. Which Standard is called in our Historians, Mensura Regalis, and was always kept in the King's Palace; and all other Measures were to be made after the same Manner, and in every City, Market-Town, and other Villages, it was kept in the Churches.

Measurer. See Almege.—Also that William Norton, common Meter of Woollen-Cloth, may be sworn to occupy his Office of Measuring truly and indifferently, upon Pain, &c. Articles exhibited to the Lord Mayor of London, &c. by the Commons of the City, tempore Hen. 8.

Measuring-Money, That certain Letters Patent, whereby some Person exacted of every Cloth made, certain Money, besides Alnage, called the Measuring-Money, may be revoked. Rot. Parl. 11 H. 4.

Meda, Northumberland.

Medena, A certain Measure or Quantity of Land, but how much non constat: 'Tis mentioned in Mon. Angl. 2 Tom. pag. 132.

Medertia, A Mead-House, or Place where Mead or Metheglin was made.—Robertus Abbas Glastonia tempore Hen. 2. remisit suis Monachis ceram & mel, que de mederia percipere solebant ejus Ante-cessores.—Cartular. Abbat. Glaston. MS. fol. 29. Hence Medarius, the Mead-maker.—Salva pensio decem marcarum, quas idem Prior tenebat solvere quatuor officialibus Glaston. videlicet Hospitalario, Infirmario, Gardinario, & Medario. Cartular. Abbat. Glaston. f. 29.

Medeter, The Saxon Dictionary interprets it to be a Bribe or Reward; it also signifies that Compensation given in an Exchange, where the Things exchanged are not of equal Value; as in 4 E. 3. Hoc scriptum fuit. 20 die Decemb. inter Dominum Hugonem de Courtenay ex parte una & Rich. Stanlake, & Johannam uxorem ejus, ex altera parte, testatur, quod idem Dominus Hugo in ex-cambium— remisit, &c. and at last it follows, Quod ipsi non dabant Medfec. See Aurura.

Medæ & infimæ manus homines, i. e. Men of a mean and base Condition, otherwise called Men of low Fortunes: Et plures mediæ manus quos ex justis causis Rex exheredaverat. Radulfus de Diceto. Anno 1112. So, Duos milites mediæ manus homines, &c. infimæ manus homo is a Man of an inferior Condition.

Mediamne, A little Island, i. e. in the middle of the Water:

Die Rivos, latices, puteos, die Stagna, paludes; Annis jungatur, a quo Mediamnis vocitatur.

Medianus, i. e. Of a middle Size, Medianus homo, a Man of a middle Fortune; Medianus Bos, an Ox of a middle Price.

Mediators of Questions, Anno 27 E. 3. Stat. 2. c. 24. Were six Persons authorized by that Statute, (who upon a Question risen amongst Merchants touching any unmarketable Wool, or undue Packing) might before the Mayor and Officers of the Staple, upon their Oath certify and settle the same; to whose Order therein the Parties were to live Credence without any Contradiction.

Medietas linguæ Signifies an Enquest empannelled, whereof the one Half consists of Natives or Denizens, the other Strangers; and is used in Pleas, wherein the one Party is a Stranger, the other a Denizen. See the Stat. 28 Edw. 3. cap. 13.—27 ejusdem, Stat. 2. cap. 8. and 8 Hen. 6. cap. 29. Before the First of these Statutes was made, this was wont to be obtained of the King by Grant made to any Company of Strangers. Staundf. Pl. Cor. lib. 3. cap. 7. and is called a Party-jury. Anno 14 Car. 2. cap. 11. Solomon de Stanford, a Jew, had a Cause tried before the Sheriff at Norwich, by a Jury of Sex probos & legales homines & sex legales Judæos de Civitate Norwici, &c. Norf. Pasch. 9 Edw. 1. Judæorum Rot. 4 & 5. in dorso.

Medio Acquietando Is a Writ Judicial, to distrain a Lord for the Acquieting a mean Lord from a Rent which he formerly acknowledged in Court not to belong to him. Reg. Jud. fol. 29.

Mediterranean Is that which passeth through the middle of the Earth. And for that Reason the Sea which stretcheth it self from West to East, dividing Europe, Asia, and Africa, is called The Mediterranean Sea; It is mentioned 12 Car. 2. in the Statute of Tonnage.

Medium Tempus Was of old taken to signify the mean Profits, as Annum, diem & medium tempus. See Flem.

Mendicite, Crom. Justice of Peace, fol. 193. Is that which Bracton calleth Medletum, lib. 3. tract. 2. cap. 35. It signifies Quarrels, scuffling or brawling, and to be derived from the French Meller, i. miscere. Culpa dicitur quam quis inopinate commiserit non vixando solum & pugnando, sed immiscendo se pacifice rei cuius vel negotio, faith Spelman. Hence our usual Phrase, To meddle with other Folks Business.

Mesoleta. Bracton, lib. 3. cap. 35. i. e. A sudden scolding at, and beating one another.

Mespypp, A Harvest-supper, or Entertainment given to the Labourers at Harvest-home. — In manerio de Stiveton Com. Berk. quando Tenentes metunt terras Domini habebunt convivium quod vocatur Medfpypp, & dabunt Dominus unum exbennium ide dualbus lagenis vini & una Luca — Placit. 9 Ed. 1.

Mesway. See Vaga. It was called Vaga by the Britons; the Saxons added Med.

Meer, Meerus, Though an Adjective, yet is used as a Substantive, to signify meer Right. Old Nat. Brev. fol. 2. in these Words. This Writ hath but two Issues, viz. joining the Mise upon the Meere, and that is to put himself in the Great Assise of our Sovereign Lord the King, or to join Battel. See Mise.

Mesbote. See Magbote.

Mesny, Menagium, French Mesnie, As the King's meiny. 1 R. 2. cap. 4. That is, the King's Family or Household Servants.

Melda, i. e. Manifestatio: From the Saxon Melda, i. e. proditor, peccator ticinium, Camis oppa, & bolan hornum, horum trium singulum est unum solidum valens, & unumquodque repetitur Melda, i. e. Manifestatio. Leg. Inq. cap. 20.

Meld-foot, The Reward and Recompence due and given to him that made the Discovery of any Breach of penal Laws committed by another. The Promoter or Informer's Fee. See the Saxon Dictionary.

Melings. See Tales.

Melius inquirenda Is a Writ that lieth for a second Inquiry of what Lands and Tenements a Man died seised, where partial Dealing was suspected upon the Writ of Diem clausit extremum. Fitz. Nat. Brev. fol. 255.

Memoria, Monuments or Sepulchres of the Dead. — Qui conveniunt ad vigilias noctis in vigilis Sanctorum ad eorum Ecclesias vel memorias vel ad equias defunctorum. Epist. Rob. Grossetest apud Append. ad Falsiculum, p. 315.

Memories Are some Kind of Remembrances or Obsequies for the Dead, in Injunctions to the Clergy. 1 E. 6.

Menagium, A Family: 'Tis mentioned in Trivet's Chronicle, pag. 677. and in Walsingham, pag. 66. Fidelitatem & Homagium, ratione terrarum quas in regno nstro tenebant & etiam ratione menagii, &c. vobis reddimus, &c.

Mendum In old Charters signifies Damage, fi fecerit aliquid unde mendum exire debeat, &c. Du Cange.

Menials, As menial Servants, (a Derivative from Mania, signifying the Walls of a House, or other Place,) are Household-Servants, that is, such as live within the Walls of their Master's House, mentioned in the Stat. 2 H. 4. 21.

Mensa, By this Word is comprehended all that Patrimony, or Goods and Necessaries for our Livelihood; Dominicum est propria terra ad mensam assignata.

Mensalia Were such Parsonages or Spiritual Livings as were united to the Tables of Religious Houses, and were called Mensal Benefices amongst the Canonists. And in this Sense it is taken when we read of Appropriations ad Mensam suam.

Mensis veritus, — Habuit in predicto bosco centum capras cum sua secta per totum annum tam in mense verito quam alio tempore, &c. Pla. Parl. 18 E. 1. See Fench-monet.

Mensura, In a legal Sense is taken for a Bushel, as Mensura Bladi, a Bushel of Corn. So in the Register of the Priory of Cokesford, it is used to the same Purpose, viz. Prior habet mensuras tam aridorum quam liquidorum signatas signo Domini Regis, & quod nullus debet vendere nec emere in foro nisi per eas.

Mensura Regalis, The King's Standard-measure, kept in the Exchequer, according to which all others are to be made. See 17 Car. 1. cap. 19. Vide Mesure.

Mer or Mere: Words which begin or end with those Syllables, signify fenny Places.

Mera noctis, Midnight. — Herlewinus Abbas Glasf. sacro unguine delibatus in mera noctis diem clausit extremum. Cartular. Abbat. Glasf. MS. fol. 10.

Mercandisa, All Goods and Wares exposed to Sale in Fairs or Markets. — In omnibus burgis & villatis nostris & etiam in singulis Niundinis & Mercatis nostris libere valeant emere & vendere omnes Mercandisas absq; ulla theloneo seu stallagio. Paroch. Antig. pag. 311. And therefore the Word Mercator was not restrained, as it seems now to be, to Merchants or Traffickers in Foreign Commodities, but extended to all Sorts of Traders, or Buyers and Sellers.

— Omnes homines & Mercatores honoris de Walingford. — ibid. p. 113. And therefore if the Scotch call their very Pedlars Merchants, they keep the primitive Use of the Word.

Mercennus, A Mercer. — Concessit & confirmavit Thomæ de Brandon Civei & Merceto London, tenementum, &c. 28 Edw. 3. — Munimenta Coll. SS. Trinit. de Pontefracto MS. fol. 27.

Mercennarius, A Hireling, a Servant. — Ego & haredes mei & libera familia mea ad capellam de Ascote oblationes deferemus; Mercennarii vero & Tenentes mei de Ascote & famuli eorum adiuvant ipsam capellam. Cartular. Abbat. Glasf. MS. f. 115.

Merehenlage Is one of those three Laws out of which the Conqueror framed our Common Laws with a Mixture of the Laws of Normandy, and was the Law of the Mercians, when they governed the third Part of this Realm. For Camden in his Britannia, pag. 94. &c. faith, that in the Year 1016. this Land was divided into three Parts, whereof the West Saxons had one, governing it by the Law called West-Saxonlage. and that contained these nine Shires, Kent, Sussex, Surrey, Berkshire, Hampshire, Wiltshire, Somerset, Dorset, and Devon Shires. The Second by the Danes, which was ruled by the Laws called Danelage, and that contained these Fifteen Shires, York, Derby, Derby, Nottingham, Leicester, Lincoln, Northampton, Bedford, Buckingham, Hertford, Essex, Middlesex, Norfolk, Suffolk, Cambridge, and Huntingdon. The Third was possessed and governed by the Mercians, whose Law was called Merchenlage, and held these Eight, Gloucester, Worcester, Hereford, Warwick, Oxford, Chester, Salop, and Stafford. Out of these three (which relate not at all to a different Law, Custom, or Usage, but to several Sorts of Amercements, Multis, and Fines, for the Transgression of one and the same Law,) as we said, with some Additions, was framed that which we now call, The Common Law of England.

Merchet, Merchetum, A Fine or Composition paid by inferior Tenants, to the Lord, for Liberty to dispose their Daughters in Marriage. No Baron, or military Tenant could marry his sole Daughter and Heir, without such Leave purchased from the King, pro Maritanda Filia. And many of our servile Tenants could neither send their Sons to School, nor give their Daughters in Marriage, without express License from the superior Lord. See Mr. Kempe's Glossary in Maritiagium. See Marchet.

Mercia is used in many Places in the Monastic for *Amerciamen*t.

Mercimoniatu Angliz Was of old Time used for the Impost of England upon Merchandise.

Mercy, Misericordia, Signifies the Arbitrament or Discretion of the King, Lord or Judge, in punishing any Offence, not directly censured by the Law: As to be in the grievous Mercy of the King. 11 H. 6. 6. is to be in Hazard of a great Penalty. See Misericordia.

Merennium, Merannum, Merrenium, Merezium, Merremium, Fr. la Merrien, and Marren, Any Timber or Materials of Wood for Building.

— In Marenno empto apud Curtlyngton cum carriagio ejusdem pro collistrigio apud Dadyngton de novo faciend. — Paroch. Antiq. p. 557. Vetus Merrenum was the refuse Wood, or old Pieces of Timber and Boards left among the Rubbish, after Building, or Repairing, or pulling down of Houses.

Mersum, A Lake, from the Saxon Mere, Lacus: Maneria, Molendina, Mersca, & Marisca. Ingulph. p. 861.

Merser-Marr, (Sax. Incola Paludum) So the Inhabitants of Romney-Marsh in Kent were anciently called.

Mersores, i. e. Divers. Matt. Paris. An. 1191. Tandem a Regis Richardi merforibus ipsam subitum aquam invadentibus, &c.

Mertlage Seems to be a Corruption of, or a Law-French Word for Martyrology. Vide Hill. 9 Hen. 7. fol. 14. b. For it being asked what was meant by Mertlage, the Book says, Ceo est Kalender Universal in l' Eglise de c' est Realm, lex queux Priests font lies d' observe & ne plus. A Church-Kalendar or Rubric.

Merschin. See Mischin.

Mese (from the Greek Μέσος, i. e. Medium, Lat. Aleptigium,) of Herrings is five Hundred, the Half of a Thousland. See Meafe.

Meskeninga. See Miskenning.

Mein or Medrasn, Medius, May be deduced from the French Maisne, i. minor natus, and signifies him that is Lord of a Manor, and so hath Tenants holding of him; yet himself holds of a superior Lord, and therefore not absurdly drawn from the French Maisne, because his Tenure is inferior and minor to that of which he holds.

Mesne Also signifies a Writ, which lieth where there is Lord, Mesne, and Tenant. The Tenant holdeth of the Mesne by the same Services, whereby the Mesne holdeth of the Lord; and the Tenant of the Mesne is distrained by the superior Lord, for that his Service or Rent which is due to the Mesne. Fitz. Nat. Brev. fol. 135. 13 E. 1. cap. 9.

Mesnalty, Medietas, Cometh of Mesne, and signifies nothing but the Right of the Mesne, as the Mesnalty is extinct. Old Nat. Brev. fol. 44. in the Mesnalty descend of the Tenant. Kitchin. fol. 147. For farther Understanding whereof, take these Words out of the Customary of Normandy, Medietate tenentur feuda, quando aliqua persona intervenierit Dominum & tenentes; Et hoc modo tenent omnes Possnati, mediante ante-nati.

Messarius, From Messe, is the chief Servant in Husbandry, now called a Bailiff in some Places, whose Office is to look into the Grounds to see that no Damage is done. We read it in the Monastic. 2 Tom. 832. concessit, &c. fratribus in Berford habere suum proprium imparcum & Messarium, &c.

Messarius Alio signifies a Mower or Harvester. Fleta, lib. 2. cap. 75.

Messinger of the Erchequer Is an Officer in that Court, of which there are four, who as Pursuivants attend the Lord Treasurer, to carry his Letters and Precepts. See Pursuivant.

Messe Thane Signifies a Priest. The Saxons called every Man Thane, who was above the common Rank; so Messe Thane was he who said Mass; and Worlde Thane, was a secular Man of Quality.

Messetwegen, i. e. Presbyter.

Messina, Reaping Time, Harvest. — Et qualibet hida terre debet in Autumno tres preces ad Messinam cum octo hominibus ad cibum Domini, & debent caviare quod metunt sine cibo. Cartular. Abbat. Glaston. MS. f. 40.

Messuage, Messuagium, Is properly a Dwelling-House, with some adjacent Land assigned to the Use thereof. West, part 2. Symb. Tit. Fines, Sect. 26. Bract. lib. 5. cap. 28. and Plowden, fol. 169, 170. Where it is said, That by the Name of a Messuage may pass also a Curtilage, a Garden, and Orchard, a Dove-House, a Shop, a Mill, a Cottage, a Toft, a Chamber, a Cellar, &c. yet may they be demanded by their single Names. Messuagium in Scotland, signifies the principal Place or Dwelling-House within a Barony, which we call a Manor-House. Skene de verbo. signif. verb. Messuagium; In some Places it is called the Site of a Manor. A Præcipe lies not de domo, but de messuagio. Coke on Littl. cap. 8.

Mestilo, Mesline, or rather Mesellane, That is, Wheat and Rye mingled together. — Et nonam garbam frumenti, mestilonis, siliginis & omnis generis bladi. Pat. 1 E. 3. par. 1. m. 6.

So Mestilum. — Dnas acras concessi de domini-co meo ejusdem manerii, sil. unam acram de frumento & alteram de Mestilum. Cartular. Abbat. Rading. MS. fol. 59. a.

Mett, A Measure, most likely a Gallon: Mettys, Measures.— Nos Henricus Burgh Prior Elien. & Conu. concessimus Johanni Downham Capellano septimanatim septem panes monachales, — & septimanatim septem Mettys optime cerevisie — Dat. ult. Mart. 1466. — Cartular. Elien. MS. fol. 88.

Mettefhep, Mettefchep, Mettenfcep, Some Rent or Acknowledgment paid in a certain Measure of Corn; for which an Equivalent was sometimes paid in Money. It seems to have been commonly a Fine or Penalty imposed on the Tenant, for his Default in not doing his customary Service of cutting the Lord's Corn. As in the Manor of Pidington, Com. Oxon. —

Qualibet virgata soluet per annum quinque solidos, quatuor dies de consuetudine, videlicet, unum diem ad pratum Domini falcandum, ad cibum Domini, vel domino dabit quadraginta denarios pro Metteshep. Paroch. Antiq. p. 495.

Mey, A Mow of Corn laid up in the Barn. — carabunt bladum per unum diem cum una carecta & invenient unum hominem per unum diem ad faciendum Meyas in grangia. Blunt of Tenures, pag. 130. See Mullones Feni. And to this Day in some Parts of England, they say, Mey the Corn, i. e. put it on a Heap in the Barn.

Miles. See Knicht.

Militare, i. e. To be Knighted, viz. Rex per Angliam fecit proclamari, &c. ut qui haberent unde militarent adessent apud Westmonasterium, &c. Mat. Westm. pag. 118.

Militia, The Furniture and Habiliments for War. 12 Car. 2. cap. 2.

Militia. In Militia approbatus, One who twice or oftner approved himself in Military Services: 'Tis found in Jeffrey of Monmouth, lib. 4. cap. 4.

Millgate, (Anno 7 Jac. cap. 19.) A Trench to convey Water to or from a Mill: Rektius, a Millent. An usual Word in Conveyances in Devonshire.

Mina, A Corn-measure or Measure of different Quantity, according to the Things measured by it. John de Westerbam, Prior of Ro. beafter about the Year 1320. gives this Account of it —

Mensura ad frumentum, & ad bladum, & ad pisa qua alio nomine Mina vocantur, continet 5 Eskippas de duro blado, & ista 4 minæ cum gata qua dicitur Gundulfi faciunt 3 jumæ — unde mina & gata faciunt 3 quarteria. Mina ad grutum recipiendum continet 7 Eskippas; Mina ad brasium continet 3 eskippas de duro blado. Mina ad farinam in pristino continet largiter 7 Eskippas & debet mensurari sicut sal & vadi. Hence Minagium, Minage, was a Toll or Duty paid for selling Corn by this Measure of Mines.

Minare, To mine, or dig Mines. Minator, a Miner. — Petunt Archiepiscopi, Episcopi, & Clerus Angliæ, ut Dominus Rex non sustineat Minatores, suos de stanno, plumbo, vel ferro minare vel evertere terras Ecclesiæ, &c. Annal. Burton. sub Anno 1236. pag. 291. Minera, Mineria, Minerator, — Furatores dicunt quod in principio quando Mineratores veniunt in campum mineriam quarentes, inventa minera venient ad Ballivum — Placita debent teneri super mineras in Pecco. 16 Ed. 1.

Minator Carucæ, A Ploughman. In the Table of Wages due to Servants and Labourers — In bieme Minatores carucarum, ventator, Subcarrectarius, quilibet eorum recipit xvi denarios. Computus Domus de Farendon. MS. f. 32.

Mineral Courts, Curie Minerale, Are peculiar Courts for regulating the Concerns of Lead-Mines, as Stannary Courts are for Tin.

Miniments, or Miniments, (Munimenta, from munio, to defend) Are the Evidences or Writings, whereby a Man is enabled to defend the Title of his Estate. 5 R. 2. 8. and 35 H. 6. 37. Wangford says, This Word Miniment includes all Manner of Evidence. See Miniment.

Ministri throni Extend to the Judges of the Realm, as well as to those that have Ministerial Offices. Co. 2. Inst. fol. 208.

Miniver. See Eurr.

Minor, One in Nonage, Minority, or under Age: More properly an Heir Male or Female, before they come to the Age of 21; during which Minority, their Actions are invalid, &c. Yet a Minor may present, as Patron, to an Ecclesiastical Benefice.

Minors, Ministers, The Franciscan Friars, so called by the Rules of their Order. Nullus vocetur Prior, sed generaliter omnes vocentur Fratres Minores, & alter alterius lavet pedes — Ex Regulis S. Francisci, cap. 6. — Sub his diebus Predicatores qui appellati sunt Minores, scientie Innocentio Papa, emergentes terram repleverunt. Mat. West. sub Anno 1207.

Minover, 7 R. 2. 4. Seemeth to be compounded of two French Words, Main, i. Manus, and Ouvrer, i. operari, and signifies some Trespas or Offence committed by a Man's Handy-work in the Forest, as an Engine to catch Deer: Bytton uses the Word Mainover, to occupy and manure Land. cap. 40. and cap. 62. Mainover for Handy-work. Our English Word Manure hath a great Similitude with it.

Minstrel, (Minstrellus & Menestralus, from the French Menestrier), A Musician, a Fidler or Piper; mentioned 4 Hen. 4. cap. 27 Pat. 24 April, 9 Ed. 4. Quod Marisalli & Minstrelli predicti per se forent & esse deberent unum Corpus & una Communitas perpetua, &c. Upon a Quo Warranto, 14 Hen. 7. Laurentius Dominus de Dutton clamat, quod omnes Minstrelli infra Civitatem Cestrie & infra Cestriam manentes, vel officia ibidem exercentes, debent convenire coram ipso vel Senescallo suo apud Cestriam, ad Festum Nativitatis S. Johannis Baptiste annuatim, & dabunt sibi ad dictum Festum quatuor Lagenas vini & unam Lan-eam; & insuper quilibet eorum dabit ei quatuor denarios & unum obolum ad dictum Festum, & habere de qualibet Meretrice infra Comitatum Cestrie, & infra Cestriam manente, & Officium suum exercente, quatuor Denarios per annum ad Festum predictum, &c. And where by the Statute of 39 Eliz. cap. 4. Fiddlers are declared to be Rogues, yet there is a Proviso therein, exempting those in Cheshire licensed by Dutton of Dutton. The Musicians of England, incorporated by King Charles 2. Anno 1670. V. Claus. 9 Edw. 2. M. 26. Dors. an Ordinance super mensuratione ferulorum & Menestralorum.

It was usual for these Minstrels, not only to divert Princes, and the Nobility, with sports, but also with Musical Instruments, and with flattering Songs, in the Praise of them and their Ancestors, which may be seen in these Verses:

*Principis a facie, cythara celeberrimus arte
Assurgit mimus, ars Musica quem decoravit,
Hic ergo chorde resonante subintulit ista:
Inclite Rex Regum, probitatis stemmate vernans,
Quem vigor & virtus extollit in aethera fama,
Indole virtutis qui vincis facta parentis.
Major ut Arides, patrem Neptunius Heros
Ægea, Pelides excedit Pelea, Jason
Esiona, nec prolem pudor est evincere patrem;
Corde rigas, agnus facie, Laertius asu,
Consilio Nestor, &c.*

The Office and Power of the King of the Minstrels, is mentioned in the Monastic. 1 Tom. pag. 355.

Mint Is the Place where the King's Coin is formed, be it Gold or Silver, which is at present, and long hath been the Tower of London, though it appear by divers Statutes, that in ancient Times the Mint hath been also at Calais, 12 R. 2. 16. 9 H. 5. Stat. 5. cap. 5. The Officers belonging to the Mint have not always been alike: At present they are these, The Warden, who is the Chief of the Rest, and is by his Office to receive the Silver of the Goldsmiths, and to pay them for it, and to over-see all the Rest belonging to this Function: His Fee is a Hundred Pounds per Annum. The Master-worker, who receiveth the Silver from the Warden, causeth it to be melted, and delivereth it to the Moniers, and taketh it from them again when it is made; His Allowance is not any set Fee, but according to the Pound-Weight. The Third is The Controller, who is to see that the Money be made to the just Assize, to over-see the Officers, and control them, if the Money be not as it ought to be; his Fee is a Hundred Marks per Annum. Then is The Master of Assay, who weigheth the Silver, and seeth whether it be according to the Standard; his yearly Fee is likewise a Hundred Marks: Then is The Auditor to take the Accounts. The Surveyor of the Melting, who is to see the Silver cast out, and not be altered after it is delivered to the Melter, which is after the Assay-Master hath made Trial of it. The Clerk of the Irons, who seeth that the Irons be clean, and fit to work with. The Graver, who graveth the Stamps for the Money. The Melters, that melt the Bullion before it comes to the Coining. The Blanchers, who do anneal, boil and cleanse the Money. The Porters, who keep the Gate of the Mint. The Provost of the Mint, who is to provide for all the Moniers, and to over-see them. Lastly, The Moniers, who are some to shear the Money, some to forge it, others to beat it broad; some to round it, and some to stamp or coin it. Their Wages are uncertain, according to the Weight of Money coined by them.

Mintner, To let Blood. Minutio, Blood-letting. This was a common old Practice among the Regulars, and the Secular Priests or Canons, who were the most confined and sedentary Men. In the Register of Statutes and Customs belonging to the Cathedral Church of St. Paul's in London, collected by Ralph Baldock, Dean about the Year 1300. there is one express Chapter De Minutione. Minuendi licentiam petant Residentes a Decano—debent notificare minutiones suas illis qui tabulam scribunt—post petitam licentiam minuendi aliorum opportunum extra civitatem se transferre licitum est, ut observent minutionem in aere graviore sanitatis causa.—MS.

Minute Tithes, Minuta sive minores Decima, Small Tithes, such as usually belong to the Vicar, as of Wool, Lambs, Pigs, Butter, Cheese, Herbs, Seeds, Eggs, Honey, Wax, &c. See 2 par. Inst. fol. 649. and Udal and Tindal's Case, Hill. 22 Jac. Where the Tithes of Wood was adjudged Minuta Decima. Cro. Rep. fol. 21. See Tithes.

Miracula, A superstitious Sport or Play, practised by the popish Clergy for Gain and Deceit: Prohibited by Bishop Groshead in the Diocese of Lincoln.—Faciunt etiam, ut audivimus, Clerici ludos quos vocant Miracula, & alios ludos quos vocant Inductionem Mali.—Miracula etiam & ludos supra nominatos & scotales omnino exterminatis—Rob. Groshead, Episcopi Linc. Epistola apud Append. ad Fasciculum, pag. 382.

Mirque for Mergus, A Water-Spaniel, or Diver. Fecit duos veteres, scilicet, Mirgos suspendi. Mat. Paris. Anno 1214.

Mis: This Syllable added to another Word, signifies some Fault or Defect; as, Misprison, Miscere, i. e. to scandalize any one; Miscere, i. e. to teach amiss. Si Presbyter populum suum miscereat.

Misa, A Compact or Agreement, a Form of Peace or Compromise.—Quousque pax inter Dominum Regem & Barones apud Lewes per formam cuiusdam Misa prelocuta compleretur.—Pat. 48 H. 3. in Brady's Hist. Engl. Append. pag. 238.

Misadventure or Misadventure, Infortunium, Has in Law a special Signification for the Killing of a Man, partly by Negligence, and partly by Chance. As if one thinking no Harm, carelessly throws a Stone, or shooteth an Arrow, &c. wherewith he killeth another: In this Case he commits not Felony, but only loseth his Goods, and hath Pardon of Courfe for his Life. Standa. PI.

Pl. Cor. lib. 1. cap. 8. Britton, cap. 7. distinguisheth between Adventure and Misaventure: Adventure he maketh to be meer Chance; as if a Man being upon or near the Water, be taken with some sudden Sicknes, and so fall in and is drowned, or into the Fire, and be burned to death. Misadventure he maketh, where a Man cometh to his Death by some untoward Violence, as the Fall of a Tree, or of a Gate, the Running of a Cart-wheel, the Stroke of a Horse, or such like: So that Misaventure in Staundford's Opinion is construed somewhat more largely than Britton understandeth it. West. Symbol. part 2. Tit. Inditement. Sect. 48. makes Homicide casual, to be merely casual or mixt. Homicide by meer Chance he defineth Sect. 49. to be, when a Man is slain by meer Fortune, against the Mind of the Killer; as if one hewing, the Ax fieth off the Haft, and killeth a Man, and this is all one with Britton's Misaventure; Homicide by chance mixt he defineth Sect. 50. to be, when the Killer's Ignorance or Negligence is joined with the Chance; as if a Man lop Trees by the Highway-side, by which many usually travel, and cast down a Bough, not giving Warning, &c. by which a Man passing by is slain.

Misbota for Mæbota. In Leg. Canuti, cap. 2.

Mischinus, i. e. a Youth or young Man: 'Tis mentioned in the Mon. Angl. 1 Tom. p. 74. Ex dono Alani de Percy le meschin; and in 2 Tom. p. 86. Willielmus FEVERELLUS le meschin.

Miscognisant, Ignorant, or not knowing. In the Stat. 32 H. 8. cap. 9. against Champerly and Maintenance, It is Ordained, That the Justices of Assise shall twice every Year, in every County, cause open Proclamation to be made of this present Act, to the Intent no Person should be ignorant or miscognisant of the Dangers and Penalties therein contained.

Discontinuance, Kitchin, fol. 231. Is the same with Discontinuance. See Discontinuance.

Mise, Misa, Is a French Word, signifying as much as Expensum in Latin, and the Latin Word Misa is used in Kitchin, fol. 144. and West. Symbol. part 2. Tit. Proceedings in Chancery. Sect. 21. This Word has divers Significations, as first, it is a Gift or customary Present which the People of Wales give to every new King or Prince of Wales, at their Entrance into that Principality. It was formerly given in Cattel, but when that Dominion was annexed to the English Crown, the Gift was changed into Money, and that is now 5000 l. or more, which happened to be thrice paid in King James his Reign. First at his own Coming to the Crown, and that Principality. Secondly, When Prince Henry was created Prince of Wales. And thirdly, When King Charles the First succeeded him in that Principality. Mise etiam dicuntur prestationes illæ quas ob fruendas pristinas immunitates Cestrie Palatinatus subditi nōcō unique Comitū impendant, that is, 3000 Marks for that County. And at Chester they have a Mise-Book, wherein every Town and Village in the County is rated what to pay towards the Mise. By 27 H. 8. It is ordained, That Lord-Mayors shall have all such Mises and Profits of their Lands as they have had in Times past, &c. See 2 & 3 E. 6. 36. 33 H. 8. 15. 4 & 5 P. & M. cap. 11. Sometimes Mises are taken for Taxes or Tailages. Anno 25 E. 1. 5. Sometimes for Costs and Expenses, as pro misis & custagiis, for Costs and Charge, ordinarily used in the Entries of judgments in personal Actions.

Mise is also vocabulum artis, appropriated to a Writ of Right so called, because both Parties have put themselves upon the meer Right to be tried by the Grand Assise, or by Battel. So as that which in all other Actions is called an Issue, in a Writ of Right is called a Mise, unless a collateral Point be tried, and there it is called an Issue. Co. on Lit. fol. 294. Lit. fol. 102. and Old Nat. Brev. fol. 2. 37 E. 3. 16. To join the Mise upon the Meer, is as much as to say, to join the Mise upon the clear Right; and that in more plain Terms, is nothing else but to join upon this Point, whether hath the more Right, the Tenant or Demandant. Lit. lib. 3. cap. 8. fol. 101. This Word is also sometimes used for a Participle, signifying as much as cast out or put upon. Co. 6. Rep. fol. 124. Saffin's Calc. And sometimes corruptly for Mease, a Messuage or Tenement, as a Mise-place in some Manors is taken to be such a Messuage or Tenement as answers the Lord a Heriot at the Death of its Owner, 2 Inst. fol. 283. which in our Law French is written Mees. Ceste Endenture temoigne que come Will. Tervye de Dounham tiegne de Johan. de Veer Counte d'Oxford un Mees & sjs acres de terre, &c. Dat. 14 Ed. 3. pences Wil. Andrew, Baronet.

Mise-money, Money given by way of Contract or Composition to purchase any Library, &c. — Custumarii infra honorem de Clun Com. Salop, Domino hereditatem inveniunt solvunt certam pecunie summam quæ vocatur Mise-money, ut quieti sint de finibus & amerciamentis. Mr. Blount of Tenures. p. 162.

Miserabatio, An unjust Accusation.

Miserere Is the Name, and first Word of the 51 Psalm, being most commonly that which the Ordinary gives to such guilty Malefactors as have the Benefit of Clergy allowed them by the Law, and is usually called the Psalm of Mercy.

Misericordia Is in Law used for an Arbitrary Amercement imposed on any for an Offence; for where the Plaintiff or Defendant in any Action is amerced, the Entry is Ideo in Misericordia. Bracton, lib. 4. tract. 5. cap. 6. hath these Words, Item si quis in Misericordiam incidit pro disseisina, non remanebit misericordia exigenda si ille qui amiserit, quæsi fuerit convictionem. Kitchin, fol. 78. out of Glanvil, saith thus, Est autem misericordia Domini Regis quæ quis per juramentum legalium hominum de vicineto eatenus amercandus est ne aliquid de suo honorabili contentamento amittat. See Glanville, lib. 9. cap. 11. Fitzherbert says in his Nat. Brev. fol. 75. That it is called Misericordia, because it ought to be very moderate, and rather less than the Offence, according to the Tenor of Magna Charta, c. 14. Therefore if a Man be unreasonably amerced in a Court not of Record, as in a Court-Baron, &c. there is a Writ called Moderata Misericordia, directed to the Lord, or his Bailiff, commanding them that they take moderate Amerciements, according to the Quality of the Fault. Sometimes Misericordia is to be quit and discharged of all manner of Amerciements that a Man may fall into in the Forest. See Comp. Jur. f. 196. Vide Amerciament, Mercy, and Moderata misericordia. He shall be in the great Mercy of the King. Westm. 1. cap. 15.

Misericordia in cibis & potu, Exceedings, or Over-commons, or any gratuitous Portion of Meat and Drink given to the Religious above their ordinary Allowance. — Hic quoque procuravit ut detestabiles ingurgitationes misericordiarum (in quibus profecto non erat misericordia) prohiberentur. Mat. Par. Vit. Abb. S. Albani, pag. 71. In some Convents they had a stated Allowance of these Over-commons upon Extraordinary Days, which were called Misericordia Regularis, as — In missionibus vero & misericordis regularibus duo & duo unam justam de cellario tam ad prandium quam ad cenam. — Monast. Angl. Tom. 1. pag. 149. b.

Misericordia Communis Is when a Fine is set on the whole County or Hundred. Mon. Angl. 1 Tom. pag. 976. Ac de murther ac de communi Misericordia quando contigerit, videlicet, Comitatus & Hundredi, coram nobis vel aliquibus Justiciariis nostris, &c.

Miserere, i. e. To succeed ill; as, where a Man is accused of a Crime, and fails in his Defence or Purgation. Et si compellat fit & in emendando misereatur, fit in Episcopi potestas. Lex Canut. 78. apud Brompton.

Misfeasance, Misdeeds or Trespases, — Fury to enquire of all Purprestures and Misfeasance. Cro. Car. f. 498. and Misfeasor, a Trespasser. Co. 2. Inst. f. 200.

Misferring. Est de estre quit de amerciemenz pur querels en aucun Courts devant qui que l'seyt, nent ordainment on proprement demonstre. MS. LL. Temp. E. 2. See Abisferring and Miskering.

Miskennius, (Meskenninga, from Mis, and Sax. Kennan, citare, LL. Hen. 1. cap. 12.) Iniqua vel injusta in jus vocatio; inconstanter loqui in Curia, vel invariare. Renovamus etiam & confirmamus Privilegia antiquorum Regum, atque ob reverentiam Domina nostra perpetua Virginis Maria Sanctique Benedicti, Sanctarumque Virginum, omnibusque futuris ibidem Abbatibus in tota possessione Monasterii, Sacham & Socham Theloneumque suum in terra & in aqua concedo, & Consuetudines, ut ab omnibus aperiis & plenius intelligantur, Anglice scriptas, scilicet, Mundbriche, Feardwite, Fitwite, Blodewite, Miskeninge, Frithfoke, Hamfockne, Forthfall, Forphange, Theifphange, Hangwite, Frithbriche, Utlepe, Infongenthesse, Supbriche, Tol & Tem, aliasque omnes leges & Consuetudines que ad me pertinent, tam plene & tam libere, sicut eas in manu mea habebam. Confirm. Foundationis Monast. de Ramsey per S. Edw. Conf. Mon. Angl. 1 par. fol. 237. Et in Civitate in nullo placito Miskennagium. — Charta H. 2. Civibus London. See Fokmote.

Miskering. Hoc est quietus esse pro querelis coram quibusque in transumptione probata. MS. LL. Rob. Cot. p. 262. See Misbering.

Misnomer. Compounded of the French Mes, which, in Composition, always signifies amiss, and nomer, i. nominare, it signifies the using of one Name for another, or Misnaming. See Broke, Tit. Misnomer.

Misprision, Mispriso, Cometh of the French Mespris, contemptus, and signifies in our Law, Neglect or Oversight. As for Example, Misprision of Treason or Felony, is a Neglect or light Account shewed of Treason or Felony committed, by not revealing it, when we know it to be committed. Staudf. Pl. Cor. lib. 1. cap. 19. Or by letting any Person committed for Treason or Felony, or Suspicion of either, to go before he be indicted. Misprision of Clerks, 8 Hen. 6. 15. is a Neglect of Clerks in writing, or keeping Records: By the Misprision of Clerks no Process shall be annulled or discontinued. 14 E. 3. cap. 6. Stat. 8. Misprision of Treason is the Concealment, or not disclosing of known Treason, for which the Offenders are to suffer Imprisonment during the King's Pleasure, lose their Goods, and the Profits of their Lands during their Lives. Crompt. Justice of Peace, cap. Misprision of Felony, fol. 40. West. Symbol. part 2. Tit. Indictments, sect. 63. in fine. Misprision of Felony is only finable by the Justices, before whom the Party is attained. Crompt. ibid. The Justices of the Common Pleas have Power to assess Fines and Amerciements upon Persons offending by Misprisions, Contempts or Neglects for not doing or misdoing any Thing in or concerning Fines. West. Symbol. part 2. Tit. Fines, Sect. 133. Justices of Assize shall amend the Defaults of Clerks misprision of a Syllable, or Letter, or Writing. Crompt. Jur. f. 20. But here we are to observe, That other Faults may be accounted Misprisions of Treason or Felony, because some later Statutes have inflicted that Punishment upon them, that of old were inflicted upon Misprisions, whereof you have an Example Anno 14 El. cap. 3. Of such as coin Foreign Coins, not current in this Realm, and of their Procurers, Aiders and Abettors. Misprision also signifies a Mistaking. 14 E. 3. Stat. 1. c. 6. Here note, That Misprision is included in every Treason or Felony; and where any Man hath committed Treason or Felony, the King may cause him to be indicted and arraigned of Misprision only, if he please. See more hereof. Staudf. lib. 1. cap. 39. Vide etiam 3 Inst. fol. 36. & 139.

Missa Presbyter, i. e. a Priest in Orders. Missal, Missale, Is a Book containing all Things to be daily said in the Mass, Lindw. Provincial lib. 3. Tit. De Ecclesiis adificandis, cap. 2. Parochiani Ecclesiarum tenentur invenire vel divina suppellestem, viz. Antiphonarium, Gradale, Psalterium, Missale, Manuale, &c. See Spelman's Glossary.

Mistaticus, A Messenger. — Quando Missatici Regis veniebant ibi, (i. e. ad Teller) dabant pro caballo transducendo tres denarios in hyeme, & duos in aestate. Lib. Domestay in Chenth.

Mistress. See Mise.

Misura, Singing the Nunc Dimittis, and performing the many other superstitious Ceremonies to recommend and dismiss a dying Person. In the Statutes of the Church of Pauls in London, collected by Ralph Baldock, Dean about the Year 1295. in the Chapter of Frateria, of the Fraternity or Brotherhood, who were obliged to a mutual Communication of all religious Offices, it is ordained — Ut fiat commendatio & misura & sepultura omnibus Sociis coadjuvantibus & assistantibus — Liber Statut. Ecclesie Pauline, MS. Penes Joh. Episcopum Norwic. f. 25.

Misurium, Misurium, A Dish or Platter for serving up Meat to a Table; whence a Messe or Dish, or Portion of any Dict. — King Ethelbert gave to the Abbey of St. Augustine in Canterbury — Misurium argentum, scapton aureum, iterum sellam cum freno aureo & gemmis exornatam. Chron. Tho. Thorn. p. 1762. & Mon. Angl. Tom. 1. pag. 24. Symondus is of Opinion, that from hence the Word Messe is derived; but Vossius tells us, 'tis quia dono mitti soleat a principibus.

Mistrial, A false or erroneous Trial. Cro. Car. f. 284. Delue's Case.

Misuser Is an Abuse of Liberty or Benefit; as he shall make fine for his Misuser. Old Nat. Brev. f. 149.

Mitred Abbots, Those Governors of religious Houses, who had obtained from the See of Rome the Privilege of wearing the Mitre, Ring, Gloves, and Crosier of a Bishop. It has been a vulgar Error, that these Mitred Abbots were all the same with those conventual Prelates, who were summoned to Parliament, as Spiritual Lords; whereas some of those summoned to Parliament were not Mitred: And some of the Mitred were not summoned. The Summons to Parliament not any way depending on their Mitres, but upon receiving their Temporals from the King.

Mitta Was an ancient Saxon Measure, in use before the Conquest; its Quantity does not certainly appear; some hold it to be the same with Corus, others with Modius, and others, that it was Menfura decem Modiorum. In Wich. falina redd. 30 mittas salis. Domesday, Tit. Wirec. f. 19. Ego Wulfrun, (uxor Ankerelli,) Singulis annis vite mee ad Festum S. Benedicli, quod est in astate, decem mittas de brasio & quinque de gruto, & quinque mittas farina tritici & 8 pennis, & 16 caseos & duas vaccas pingues de terra mea Hicheling pro respectu annuo eidem Ecclesie, (Ramefienfis) procurari decerno. Lib. Ramef. Sect. 58. Preterea concessi eis septem Mittas Salis quolibet Anno percipiendas apud Wiz. Mon. Angl. 2 Par. f. 262. b.

But Mitra, or Mit ba, was not only a Sort of Measure for Salt and Corn, but rather the Place where Caltrons were put to boil Salt. Calderias quoque ad Sal conficiendum cum propriis sedibus, (i. e. the Places where they were put) qua vulgo mitchæ vocantur. In the Monastic, it seems to be a Measure, viz. Dedi Canonici redditus 20 solidorum, &c. Et septem mittas salis, &c. And in Domesday, viz. Reddebat Vicecomes 2 mittas salis. Gale's Hist. Brit. fol. 767.

Mittendo manufcriptum pedis Anis Is a Writ Judicial, directed to the Treasurer and Chamberlains of the Exchequer, to search and transmit the Foot of a Fine acknowledged before Justices in Eyre, into the Common Pleas, &c. Reg. Orig. f. 14.

Mittimus Is a Writ by which Records are transferred from one Court to another: Sometimes immediately, as appears by the Statute, 5 R. 2. cap. 15. As out of the King's Bench into the Exchequer, and sometimes by a Certiorari into the Chancery, and from thence by a Mittimus into another Court, as you may see in 28 H. 8. Dyer, fol. 29. and 29 H. 8. Dyer, fol. 32. This Word is also used for the Precept that is directed by a Justice of Peace to a Gaoler, for the receiving and safe keeping a Felon, or other Offender, by him committed to the Gaol. Of diverse other Uses and Applications of this Word, see Reg. Orig. in the Table.

Mixt Tithes, Decima mixta, Are those of Cheese, Milk, &c. and of the young of Beasts, Co. 2. par. Inst. f. 649. See Tithes.

Mixtilio, Mestilo, Mixt-Corn, Mang-Corn, Masline.—Libera Eleemosynario nostro sex quartavie bladi mixtilionis inter pauperes Parochianos de Bolton Percy distribuenda—Anno 1312. Col- lectanea Matth. Hutton, S. T. P. ex Regitris Eccl. Eborac.

Mixtum: This Word is often mentioned in our Monkish Historians; it sometimes signifies a Breakfast, but always a certain Quantity of Bread and Wine: Qui missam majorem celebraverit duos, Lector vero & servatores unum duplum ad Mixtum recipiat. Du Cange.

Mokkadoes, A Kind of Stuff made in England, and elsewhere, concerning which see 23 Eliz. cap. 9.

Moderata misericordia Is a Writ for him that is amerced in a Court-Baron, or other, being not of Record, for any Transgression or Offence beyond the Quality of a Fault. It is directed to the Lord of the Court, or his Bailiff, commanding them to take a moderate Amerciament of the Party, and is founded upon Magna Charta, c. 14. Quod nullus liber homo amercietur nisi secundum qualitatem delicti, &c. The rest touching this Writ, see in F. N. B. fol. 75. See Misericordia.

Modiatio Was a certain Duty paid for every Tierce of Wine: Concedo eis in perpetuum Eleemosynam tres masuras terre quietas de omni censu, consuetudine & alia re, excepta sola Modiatione mea de vino. So in Mon. Angl. Tom. 2. p. 994. Reddendo sine contradictione sex modios de Modiatione Waenio; where the Word Modius signifies a liquid Measure of sixteen Quarts.

Modius; We take it usually to signify a Bushel, and it is a Measure, but various according to the Custom of several Countries, in some Places containing more, in some Places less.

Modius terræ vel agri—Sciendum est quod dedit Ilias pedum quatuor Modiorum agri circa se cum omni censu suo Ecclesie Landavia, &c. 3 Mon. fol. 200. This word was much used in the ancient Charters of the British Kings, and probably contained the same Quantity of Ground as with the Romans, viz. 100 Foot long, and as many broad. Modius Vini, a Hoghead of Wine.

Modius villæ, Donatio A Rthmal Regis Gwentie Landaveni Ecclesie circa Annum 896. Largitus est, &c. Villam Lann-Mihargel Licbrii cuntertia parte prati—Et 4. Modios Villa fistilat. MS. Cod. Landaven. f. 102. col. 2.

Modo a forma Are Words of Art in Process and Pleadings, and namely, in the Answer of the Defendant, whereby he denieth himself to have done the Thing laid to his Charge, modo & forma declarata. Kitchin, f. 232. It signifies as much as that Clause in the Civil Law, Negat allegata, prout allegantur, esse vera. Where modo & forma are of the Substance of the Issue, and were but Words of Course, see Co. on Lit. f. 281.

Modus Decimandi Is when either Land, a Sum of Money, or yearly Pension is given to the Parson, &c. by Composition, or Custom, as Satisfaction for his Tithes in Kind. See 2 Inst. fol. 490.

Moor: It is a Danish Word, signifying a Virgin or Maiden; the People of Norfolk in some Measure retain the Word to this Day. The Occasion of their first using it was this; Norfolk (which among other English Counties, was given by King Alfred to the Danes, Anno 876.) was totally inhabited by them, and their Customs, Laws, and Speech there used. Now they call Virgins and young Maids Moor, and accordingly (as Olafs Wormius testifies, Fest. Dan. lib. 1. cap. 6.) they named such as were excellent Singers of the worthy thy Deeds of their Heroes, Scaldmoer, id est, Virgines cantatrices; and those that by Valour won Reputation, Scioldmoer, that is, Scutiferas Virgines, by which Name they also signify the Amazons: But this, I confess, by the ignorant Rusticks is corrupted, they pronouncing instead of Moer, a Virgin, Metber, a Word well known to be of a different Nature.

Molietz, Medietas, Cometh of the French Molite, i. coquina vel media pars, and signifies the Half of any Thing. Lit. f. 125.

Molaria. — Et una Molaria, ubi molefodiunt. Domesday.

Molasses, or Melasses, (Ital. Melazzo, i. e. Sacchari spuma.) Anno 12 Car. 2. cap. 25. signifies the Lees or refuse Syrup in the boiling of Sugar; with which (by the said Statute) Wine is prohibited to be mingled or adulterated.

Molendinum Bladonicum, A Corn-mill. Ancient Charters have it Molendinum bladum and molendinum de blado. So a Fulling-mill hath several Latin Appellations, as Molendinum fullonicum, Molend. fullanicum, Molend. fullere, Molend. fullarium, &c. A Wind-mill, Molendinum ad ventum, vel ventriticum. A Water-mill, Molendinum aquaticum. A Horse-mill, Molendinum eequitum. A Grinding or Grist-mill, Molendinum molare. We read also for a Mill, Molinum and Molimus, Domesday, Tit. Sudsex. Terra Comitibus Rogeri, num. 11. Castrum Harundel. T. R. E. reddebat de quodam Molino 40s. & ibidem alibi T. R. E. reddebat Oxenford, — Comiti vero Algaro 10 libras adjuncto molino quem infra civitatem habebat.

Molendum, Corn sent to Mill, a Grist. — Solvent nomine decimarum molendini sex modios, alias sex styk bladi prout molendum obvenit eidem molendino. — Chartular. Abbat. de Rading. MS. fol. 116.

Molitura, Bulitura, Multura. It sometimes signified a Grist, or Sack of Corn brought to the Mill to be ground: But it was more commonly taken for the Toll or Molture paid for grinding. So Wido de Meriton in his Charter to the Knights Templar, for the Mill in Merton Com. Oxon — Concesserunt mihi Fratres unam libertatem ad suum molendinum, scilicet, molendini segetem pro multura reddenda pro segete qua est in tremuta, & meum brasium sine multura. Paroch. Antiq. p. 120. Molitura libera, Free grinding, or Liberty of a Mill, without paying Toll, a Privilege which the Lord generally reserved to his own Family — Salva mihi & heredibus meis molitura libera familia nostra queta in dicto molendino — ibid. pag. 236. This Toll for grinding was sometime called Molta, Fr. Moulte.

Molman, According to Spelman, signifies the Servants of a Monastery. Fideles Ecclesiarum Ministeriales, Prior Lewens. pag. 16. Item omnis Molman inveniet equum, sibi habuerit, ad privandum corrodium Prioris, &c. And again, pag. 21. Omnis Lanceta, omnis Toftman, & omnis Molman, (qui non sedet super Ogeland) debent spargere unam reiam de fiens, &c.

Molmutan or Molmutin Laws. The Laws of Dunawallo Molmutius, Sixteenth King of the Britains, (who began his Reign 444 Years before Christ) was famous in the Land, till William the Conq. Usurper's Primord. 126. He was the first that published Laws in Britany, and these Laws with those of Queen Mercia, were turned into Latin by Gildas out of the British Tongue.

Molneoa, Mulneoa, A Mill-Pool, or Pond Gilbert Basset, in his Foundation-Charter to the Priory of Worcester, gave Quoddam pratunculum quod vocatur Hamma, quod extenditur de crosta Scrice de Wrachmic per la Mulnedum usque illuc ubi novus rivulus ascendit in veterem rivulum, & ipsam mulnedam ad faciendum ibi molendinum. Parochial Antiquities, p. 135.

Molta, i. e. the Duty or Toll paid to the Lord by his Vassals, to grind Corn at his Mills. Concedo sancto Amando moltam suam & moltam similiter omnium Civium St. Amandi. Monastic. 2 Tom. p. 97.

Moltura, the same with Molta. Momnyng, Anno 1400. Quidam milites in die Epiphania coram Rege basiliid pacifica vocata le Momnyng, pacem tamen odientes, fecerunt publice proclamari, ut sic cum manu forti castrum invrantes, Regem incantum possent proditorie trucidare. Hist. Croyland. Contin. pag. 495. Whence it appears that Momnyng was a Sort of Mock-fight, from the Teutonic Mummen, to mimic, or to act a ludicrous Part. This military Sport is now turned into the Diversions of Peace and Plenty at Christmas, when some Antick Fellows in Disguise go round the Neighbourhood to sing and dance, and get Money or good Cheer. These Mimicks are called Mummers, and their Acting is still called Mumnyng, or Mumming.

Moneta is used for Money in Domesday, viz. Tit. Wincestre Burgenfes plures habuit & pro 15 bidis se defendit quando Moneta vertebatur, (i. e. mutabatur) quique monetarius dabat 20s. ad London pro cu-neis moneta accipiendis. See Siclus.

Monetagiun, Mintage, the Right and Propriety of coining or minting Money.

Money, Moneta, Peunia, is that Metal, be it Gold or Silver, that receives an Authority by the Prince's Impresa to be current: For as Wax is not a Seal without Print, so Metal is not Money without Impression. Co. on Lit. pag. 207.

Monetagiun Was a certain Sum of Money paid every third Year by the Tenant to the Lord, that he should not change the Money which he had coined; for it was lawful formerly for great Men to coin Money, (but not of Silver or Gold) which was current in their Territories. This was abrogated by Hen. 1. cap. 1. Monetagiun commune quod capiebatur in civitatibus & comitatibus, quod non fuit tempore Edwardi Reg. 1, hoc re amodo fiat omnino defendo.

Monger Seems to be a little Sea-Vessel which Fishermen use. Anno 13 Eliz. cap. 11. When the Word ends in Monger, as Ironmonger, Woodmonger, it signifies Merchant, from the Saxon Manger, Mercator.

Moners, or Monerores, Monetarii, Are Ministers of the Mint, which make and coin the King's Money. Reg. Orig. fol. 262. and 1 E. 6. 15. It appears in ancient Authors, That the Kings of England had Mints in several Counties of this Realm; and in the Traffate in the Exchequer, written by Ockham, I find, that whereas Sheriffs were usually obliged to pay into the King's Exchequer the King's Sterling Money, for such Debts as they were to answer; they of Cumberland and Northumberland were admitted to pay in any Sort of Money, so it were Silver: And the Reason is there given, because those two Shires Monetarios de antiqua institutione non habent—quod Ab- bas & monachi predicti habeant unum Monetarium & unum Cuneum apud Rading ad monetam ibidem, tam ad obolos & Sterlingos quam ad Sterlingos prout moris est fabricand. & faciend. Memorand. Seacc. de Anno 20 Edw. 3. inter Record. de Trin. Rot. Of later Days the Title of Monies hath been given to Bankers, that is, such as make it their Trade to deal in Monies upon Returns.

Monk, From the Greek Μοναχ. solus, because the first Monks lived alone in the Wilderness, and not in Cities. In Latin they were called Unales, for the same Reason affirmed. They were divided into three Ranks: Cœnobitarum, i. e. A Society living in Common under the Government of a single Person: These were under certain Rules, and were afterwards called Regulars. Anachoretæ, or Eremitæ, were those who lived in the Wilderness upon stale Bread and Water. St. Jerome tells us that of these, Paulus fuit Auctor, Antonius illustrator, Johannes Baptista princeps: But Scaliger was of Opinion, that Paul was the First. Sarabaitæ were Monks who lived under no Rule, but wandered in the World.

Monks' Cloth, A certain Kind of coarse Cloth, mentioned 20 H. 6. 25.

Monopoly May not improperly be derived from the Greek Μονο Solus, and πωλῶ Vendo, which signifies to sell alone, and so is a Privilege of the King (as some interpret it) by his Grant, Commission, or otherwise, to any Person or Persons, of or for the sole buying, selling, making, working, or using any Thing, whereby any Person or Persons are restrained of any Freedom or Liberty that they had before, declared against Law, by 21 Jac. c. 5. except in some particular Cases, concerning which see 3 Inst. fol. 181. All Monopolies against Magna Charta, &c. Co. 2 par. Inst. cap. 29. So then all Inclosing is a Monopoly, which is positively contradicted in Mores Rep. fol. 675. Darby and Allen's Case, because any Grant made by the King pro bono Publico is not a Monopoly. See Grotius de jure belli & pacis 233.

Monster, Monstrum, A Monster born within lawful Matrimony, that hath not human Shape, cannot purchase, much less detain any Thing; but if he have human Shape, he may be Heir, though he have some Deformity in any Part of his Body.

Monstrans de droit Is as much as to say, 'The shewing of Right; in a legal Sense it denotes a Writ issuing out of Chancery, for the Subject to be restored to Lands and Tenements, which he shews to be his Right, though by Office found to be in the Possession of another lately dead; by which Office the King is entituled to a Chattel, Freehold or Inheritance in the said Lands. And this Monstrans de droit is given by the Statutes 34 E. 3. cap. 14. and 36 E. 3. 13. See Statut. Prærog. cap. 21. and Broke, Tit. Petition, and Co. 4 Rep. fol. 54. Case of the Wardens and Commonalty of Sadlers.

Monstrans de faits ou Records, Shewing of Deeds or Records is thus, Upon an Action of Debt brought upon an Obligation, after the Plaintiff hath declared, he ought to shew his Obligation; and so it is of Records. And the Difference between Monstrans de fait and Oyer de faits, is this; He that pleads the Deed or Records, or declares upon it, ought to shew the same; and the other, against whom such Deed or Record is pleaded, may demand Oyer of the same.

Monstraverunt Is a Writ that lies for the Tenants in ancient Demesne, being distrained for the Payment of any Toll or Imposition, contrary to their Liberty which they do or should enjoy. See more in E. N. B. fol. 14.

Monstrum Is sometimes taken for the Box in which Relicks are kept. Item unum Monstrum cum ossibus St. Petri, &c. Monast. 3 Tom. pag. 173.

Monstrum Is also taken for what we call corruptly mustering Soldiers, viz. Assignavimus vos, &c. ad armandum & triandum homines ad arma & ad Monstrum sive Monstrationem eorundem. Du Cange.

Month or Moneth, Menſis, In Saxon Monath, is a Space of Time, containing by the Week 28 Days, by the Calendar sometimes 30, sometimes 31. See Co. lib. 6. fol. 61. and Kalendar-Month. Some have derived it from μῶν, menſis, and that from μῶν, Luna, but we suppose more truly from the German Mon or Man, one of their antique Deities and Kings, mentioned by Tacitus; Ex hoc, says the learned Spelman, masuliro (ut Hebrei) Lunam dicunt genere, Der Mon, dominamque ejus & amasiā e cujus aspectu alias languet, alias respicit, Die son quasi hunc Lunam, hanc solem. Hinc & Idolum Lune viri fingebant specie; non ut Verſtegan opinatur, famine, ex quo & vestem miram ad genua vix dimissam.

Moors. The Lord's Bailiffs in the Isle of Man, who summon the Courts for the several Sheadings, are called Moors, and every Moor has the like Office with our Bailiff of the Hundred. See Mr. King's Description of the Isle of Man.

Moot, Mota, Curia, placitum, conventus, From the Saxon Gemote, conventus, which may be deduced from the Saxon Motian, placitare. It is a Term well understood in the Inns of Court, to be that Exercise or Arguing of Cases, which young Students perform at appointed Times, the better to enable them for Practice and Defence of Clients Causes. The Place where Moot-Cases were argued, was anciently called a Moot-Hall. In the Inns of Courts there is a Bailiff or Surveyor of the Moots yearly chosen by the Bench, to appoint the Mootmen for the Inns of Chancery, and to keep Account of Performance of Exercises both there, and in the House. See Orig. Judiciales, fol. 212.

Moora Canum, A Pack of Dogs. — Abbas Glaston. admittus est, a quo statim exegit thesaurarius seodum Domini Regis, quod acciderat ei per mortem Abbatis, scil. Paleſfridum, Anulum & Mootam Canum — Et factus est ibi pro paleſfrido & Moota Canum novus finis viginti marcaram. Cartular. Abbat. Glaston. MS. f. 1046. Vide Muta.

Mouthouse-Court, So the Hundred-Court of Bingham in Nottinghamshire is called, and the Place where it stands, Mouthouse-Pit. Ant. Not. 71.

Mootmen Are those that argue Readers Cases (called also Moot-Cases) in the Houses of Chancery, both in Term-time, and also in Vacations. Coke's Rep. 3 par. in Præmio.

Moor, A Moor, or more barren and unprofitable Ground than a Marſh. 1 Inst. fol. 5. a. 'Tis derived from the Saxon Mor, i. e. Mons. It signifies also Marſhland. See Morusus. Uſque ad Moram, i. e. Mucroſam & humidam planitiem. Monast. 2 Tom. pag. 50, 52.

Mora, i. e. Heath. Item de pannagio herbagio, &c. & de omnibus exitibus bestiarum, Morarum, &c. Fleta, lib. 2. cap. 71.

Moræ-muffa— De quadam placea Moræ Muffæ & Vaffi in Villa de— Mon. Angl. 2 part. 306. b. A watry or boggy Moor; for fuch in Lancashire they call Moffes to this Time. Moræffa is alfo ufed in the fame Senfe. Mon. Ang. 3 part. 70. a.

Mozatum, A Sort of Drink formerly ufed here. Singulis vaffis vini, Morati, &c. H. Huntingdon, l. 6.

Mozatur, or Demozatur in Legre, Signifies as much as He demurs; becaufe the Party goes not forward in Pleading, but refts or abides upon the Judgment of the Court in this Point, who deliberate, and take Time to argue and advife thereupon. Whenfoever the Counfel Learned of the Party is of Opinion, that the Count or Plea of the adverfe Party is insufficient in Law, then he demurs or abides in Law, and refers the fame to the Judgment of the Court. Coke on Litt. fol. 71. b. See Demurrer.

Mozbium, Morsby in Cumberland.

Mozrtum Was a Sort of brown Cloth, mentioned by Matt. Paris, Anno 1258. with which they made Caps. Venit enim Londinum cum 20 equitaturis, cujus familia collateralis 8 capis, viz. 5 claufis & 3 manicatis de optimo Moreto Superbivoit redimita.

Mozgangina, From the Saxon Morgen, the Morning, and Gifan, to give, i. e. the Gift on the Wedding-Day. Si fponfa virum suum super-vixerit dotem & maritacionem suam, cartarum instrumentis, vel testium exhibitionibus ei traditam, perpetualliter habeat & Morganginam suam. LL. Hen. 1. cap. 70. i. e. Her Dowry. In some Books 'tis writ Morgangegiba. In Leg. Canuti apud Brompton, 'tis writ Morgagifa, cap. 99. In Leg. Hen. 1. cap. 11 & 70. 'tis Morgagiva. It signifies literally Donum matutinale; and it is what we now call Dowry-Money, or that Gift which the Husband presents to his Wife on the Wedding-Day, from the Saxon Morgen, Aurora, and Givan, Dare; and was usually the Fourth Part of his personal Estate; not here, but amongst the Lombards. Du Cange.

Moziam Is all one in Signification with the French Morien, i. Cassia, a Head-piece, and that seems to be derived from the Italian Morione. Anno 4 & 5 P. & M. cap. 2. now called a Pot.

Mozidunum, Seaton in Devonshire.

Mozina, Murrein, An infectious Distemper in Cattle.— Carnifex qui vendit carnes porcinas contaminatas, vel carnes de Morina, vel emat carnes a Judæis, & vendat Christianis, & super hoc convictus, primo graviter amercietur, secundo patiatur judicium pillorii, tertio incarcerationem, & redimatur, quarto abjuret willam. Consuetud. Domus de Farendon. MS. f. 43. Morina also signifies the Wool of Sheep dead with the Morin. Lana per se vendatur cum pellibus, Morina mortuorum, i. e. the Wool of sick Sheep, and of those dead with the Morin. Fleta, lib. 2. c. 79. par. 6.

Mozling, alias Moztling, Is that Wool taken from the Skin of a dead Sheep, either dying of the Rot, or killed. 4 E. 4. 2 & 3. 27 H. 6. 2. This is written Mozkin. 3 Fac. 18. Mozling or Storling. 3 E. 4. 1. and 14 Car. 2. 18. See Shorling.

Mozofus. See Mora. In viis & semitis per vallem quandam Morosam & aquosam. Monast. 1 Tom. pag. 648.

Mozpeth. See Corstopitum.

Mozfellum terræ, A small Parcel or Bit of Land.— Et unum Mozfellum terræ juxta Horreum suum. Carta 11 H. 3. Par. fol. m. 33.

Mozfellus terræ, A small Parcel of Land. Matt. Paris. pag. 438 and Mon. Angl. 2 Tom. pag. 82.

Mozfus, A Sort of Button so called, which was ufed in the Priests Garments.

Moztarnum, A Light or Taper set in Churches, to burn possibly over the Graves or Shrines of the Dead.— Walterus tenet duas acras terræ & dimidiam ibidem de feudo de Bockland ad inveniendum unum mortarium ardentem in Ecclesia de Cheping. Faringdon.— Consuetud. Domus de Farendon. MS. f. 48.

Moztdancestoz. See Affise of Mortdancestoz.

Mortgage, Mortgagium, vel mortuum vadum, Is compounded of two French Words, viz. Mort, i. Mori, and Gage, i. Pignus: In Law it signifies a Pawn of Land or Tenement, or any Thing moveable, laid or bound for Money borrowed, to be the Creditor's for ever, if the Money be not paid at the Day agreed upon; and the Creditor holding Land or Tenement upon this Bargain, is called Tenant in Mortgage. Of this we read in the Grand Customary of Normandy, cap. 113, which see. Glanville likewise, lib. 10. cap. 6. defineth it thus; Mortuum vadum dicitur illud, cujus fructus vel redditus interim percepti in nullo se acquiescant. So you see it is called a Dead Gage, becaufe whatsoever Profit it yieldeth, yet it redeemeth not it self by yielding such Profit, except the whole Sum borrowed be paid at the Day. See Skene de verbor. signif. verbo Mortgage. He that pledgeth this Pawn or Gage, is called The Mortgager, and he that taketh it, The Mortgagee. West, Symb. part 2. Tit. Fines, sect. 145. This, if it contain excessive Usury, is forbidden by 37 H. 8. cap. 9. But I rather think 'tis called Mortgage, becaufe, if the Money is not paid at the Day, the Land moritur to the Debtor, and is forfeited to the Creditor.

Mozth, Murder. Sax. North, Death. Morthblaga, a Murderer, or Man-slayer. Morth-lage Homicide, or Murder, &c.

Moztitibus, i. e. Dead of the Rot. Præterea concessi eis, &c. Omnes pelles agnorum de omnibus maneriis meis, &c. tam de his quæ eduntur quam de Mortitibus. Monast. 2 Tom. pag. 114.

Moztmaine, Manus mortua, Is compounded of two French Words, Mort, i. mori, & maine, i. manus: It signifies an Alienation of Lands and Tenements to any Guild, Corporation, or Fraternity, and their Successors, as Bishops, Parsons, Vicars, &c. which may not be done without the King's License, and the Lord of the Manor, or of the King alone, if it be immediately holden of him. The Reason of the Name may be deduced from hence, becaufe the Services, and other Profits due, for such Lands as Escheats, &c. should not without such License, come into a Dead Hand, or into such a Hand as it were Dead, and so dedicated unto God, or pious Uses, as to be abstractedly different from other Lands, Tenements, or Hereditaments, and is never to revert to the Donor, or any temporal or common Use. Magna Charta, cap. 36. and 7 E. 1. commonly called The Statute of Mortmaine, and 18 E. 3. cap. 3. and 15 R. 2. cap. 5. Polydore Virgil, in the Seventeenth Book of his Chronicles, mentions this Law, and gives gives this Reason of the Name, Et Legem hanc manum mortuorum vocarunt, quod res semel data collegiis sacerdotum, non utique rursus venderentur. velut mortui, hoc est, usui aliorum in vitalium in perpetuum adepti essent. Lex diligenter servatur, sic ut nihil possessionum ordini sacerdotali a quoviam detur, nisi Regio permissa: But the forementioned Statutes be in some Manner abridged by 39 Eliz. cap. 5. by which the Gift of Lands, &c. to Hospitals is permitted, without obtaining Licenses in Mortmain. Hotoman, in his Commentaries De verbis feudilibus, verbo Manus mortua, hath these Words; Manus mortua locatio est, quæ usurpatur de iis, quorum possessio (ut ita dicam) immortalis est, quia nunquam barem habere desinunt: Quia de causa res nunquam ad priorem dominum revertitur, nam manus pro possessione dicitur, mortua per antiphrasim pro immortalis, &c. Petrus Belluga in speculo principum, fol. 76. Finis anortizationis est licentia capiendi ad manum mortuam: To the same Effect read Cassan. de consuet. Burgund. pag. 348; 387, 1183. 1185, 1201, &c. Skene de verbis significat, Dimittere terras ad manum mortuam est idem atque dimittere ad multitudinem sive unicuersitatem, quæ nunquam moritur, idque per antiphrasim, seu a contrario sensu, because Commonalties never die. The President and Governors for the Poor within the Cities of London and Westminster, may without License in Mortmain, purchase Lands, &c. not exceeding the yearly Value of 3000 Pounds, &c. by the Statute made 14 Car. 2. cap. 6.

Mortreil, A Measure of Milk and Bread. Cuilibet fratrum pauperum in Hospitali S. Crucis prope Winton. dabatur cotidie panis bonus de frumento ad pensam sive pondus quinquæ marcarum, & una Lagera cum dimidia mediocris cervisia, potagium sufficiens, tria fercula in prandio, viz. Mortreil confectum de Washtell & lacte, unum solum carniæ, vel piscium; & unam pitantiam iuxta exigentiam diei. Anno 1373.— Ex Cartular. S. Crucis. MS. penes Hen. Wortley, Armig.

Mortuary, Mortuarium, rectius Mortuarium, Is a Gift left by a Man at his Death to his Parish-Church, for the Recompence of his personal Tithes and Offerings not duly paid in his Lifetime. A Mortuary is not properly and originally due to an Ecclesiastical Incumbent from any, but those only of his own Parish, to whom he ministers spiritual Instruction, and hath Right to their Tithes. But by Custom in some Places of this Kingdom, they are paid to the Parsons of other Parishes, as the Corps passes through them. See the Statute 21 H. 8. cap. 6. before which Statute Mortuaries, were payable in Beasts; the Best to the Lord for a Heriot; the Second for a Mortuary. Nor was it only of meliori Agerio, sed de meliori re. Mortuarium (says Lindevode) sic dictum est quia relinquitur Ecclesie pro anima defuncti. Custom did so prevail, that Mortuaries being held as due Debts, the Payment of them was enjoined as well by the Statute De circumspicte agatis, in 13 E. 1. as by several Constitutions, &c. A Mortuary was anciently called Sauiescat, which signifies Peunia Sepulchralis, or Symbolum animæ. After the Conquest it was called a Cors-present, (because the Beast was presented with the Body at the Funeral,) and sometimes a Principal. Of which, see a learned Discourse in the Antiquities of Warwickshire, fol. 679. And see Selden's History of Tithes, pag. 287. There is no Mortuary due by Law, but by Custom. 2 Part. Inst. fol. 491. See Spel. de Concil. Tom. 2. fol. 390. This is likewise proved out of Fleta, lib. 2. cap.

60. par. 30. Item si Rector petat Mortuarium ubi dari consuevit. See Nonagium and Principal, and Pretium sepulchri.

In the Irish Canons 'tis called Pretium sepulchri, and Sedatium, viz. Omne Corpus sepulchrum habet in jure suo vaccam & equum & vestimentum & ornamenta lecti sui, &c. Canon. Hibern. lib. 19. c. 6. And in another Place, Rogat principem loci, i. e. the Bishop, ut Basiliam ejus foderit, &c. & reddat amicum pretium ejus & sedatium commune.

The Word Mortuarium was sometimes used in a Civil, as well as an Ecclesiastical Sense, and was payable to the Lord of the Fee, as well as to the Priest of the Parish.— Debentur Domino (i. e. manerii de Wrechwyke) nominibus herioti & mortuarii due vacca pret. xii sol. Paroch. Ant. p. 470. Mosaic-work Properly Mosaic-work, Opus Musivum, Pavimenta tessellata, Pavements of curious little Pieces of Brick, or Tile, or Marble, about the Bigness and Form of Dice, with which the Romans generally paved the Place, where they fixt the Prætorium or General's Tent, of which several have been ploughed up in many Parts of England. Fran. Junius cites this Account of them from a Manuscript Saxon Glossary of Lawrence Noel— Musick-work, which is a Kind of Ornament made in Picture with little square Stones like Dies of all Colours, set together with certain fine Cement upon a Wall or Floor, so that the Forms of Things be there-with portrayed and expressed as though they were painted. Also it is more durable than any Kind of Painting, by reason that neither by Weather, wearing, nor washing, the Colour can be taken away, which hath the Thinness of the little Dies where-with this Work is made. Of this Kind of Work is little in England. Howbeit I have seen of it, especially upon Church-Floors before altars, as is to be seen before the High Altar at Westminster, although it be but gross. In Italy it is almost every where, and in most Churches to be met.

Mote, Moot, Motte, A rebellious Sort of Malefactors in the furthest Parts North of England, that live by Robbery and Spoil, not unlike the Tories in Ireland, or the Banditti in Italy, for whose Suppression were made the Statutes of 4 Jac. 1. c. 1. 7 Jac. 1. c. 1. and 14 Car. 2. cap. 22.

Motebell, The Bell so called, which was used by the English Saxons to call People together to the Court. Debent statim pulsatis campanis quod Anglice vocat Mot-Bell, convocare omnes & universos, quod Anglice dicunt Folemore, i. e. vocatio & convocatio populorum. Leg. Edw. Conf. cap. 35.

Mote, Mota, From the Saxon Gemote, Curia, placitum, conventus: As Mote de Hereford, i. Curia vel placita Comitatus de Hereford. In the Charter of Maud the Empress, Daughter of King Henry the First, we read thus; Sciat me fecisse Milonem de Glocest. Comitem de Hereford & dedisse ei motam Herefordiæ cum toto castello, &c. Hence Burgemote, curia vel conventus Burgi; Swaingemote, curia vel conventus ministrorum filii. Forreffe, &c. From this also we draw our Word Mote or Moot, to plead. The Scots say, to Mute, as the Mute-Hill at Scone, i. Mons placiti de Scona: We commonly apply the Word Moot to that Arguing of Cases used by young Students in the Inns of Court and Chancery. In the Charter of Peace between King Stephen and Duke Henry, afterwards King, it is taken to signifie a Fortreffe, as Turris de London, & Mota de Windsor. The Tower of London, and Fortreffe of Windsor, Mote also signifies a standing Pool or Water to keep Fish in, or a great Trench of Water encompassing a Castle, or other Dwelling-house. Hæc Indentura— dentura—— testatur, quod predictus Rogerus tradidit prefato Thome tria stagna & unam Motam piscariam existent. infra manerium Domini de Yeffyn, Hab. predicta tria stagna & predictam Motam cum tota piscatione in eisdem & cum incremento piscium in eisdem cum libero ingressu & egressu, &c. Dat. 18 Feb. 11 Edw. 4.

Motibiles, One who may be removed or displaced, or rather a Vagrant. In Carcere detenti, Canonici, vel alii Religiosi, Motibiles, Furiosi, &c. Convenire non poterunt, i. e. In iure convenire non possunt. Fleta, lib. 6. cap. 6. par. 22.

Motter, A customary Service or Payment at the Mote or Court of the Lord.—— Johannes Rex, &c. Sciatis nos clamasse quietum homines de Cornubia in perpetuum de quadam consuetudine vocata Motter, statuentes & firmiter precipientes quod nec in curia nostra, nec in curia alterutra, in partibus illis de cetero teneatur illa consuetudo.—— Teste, &c. Rot. Cart. 5 Joh. m. 9.

Mortworth, (the same as Faldwuth) One who was of Age to be of the Decennary; from the Sax. Mort, Conventus, and Weorth, Dignus.

Mounterium, Anno 20 H. 3. Placitum in curia Christianitatis coram Rogero Cov. & Litchf. Episcopo de 21 Libris, 16 Solidis, 4 Denariis, uno pari decretalium, una sella, uno freno parca meno, uno mouterio, duobus loculis de serico, una zona serica predictorum Prioris & Viarii, que non sunt de testamento vel matrimonio. Prynny, Collect. Tom. 3. S. 127.

Mounter, An Out-cry or Alarm to mount, and make some speedy Expedition.

Volumus insuper quod nullus cuiuscunque conditionis, ratione gradus vel dignitatis existat, clamores velurbationes facere audeat, quibus nos vel exercitum nostrum turbari contingat quovis modo, & specialiter illum clamorem quam Mowntee appellamus, vel aliquem alium clamorem irrationabilem.—— Statuta Hen. 5. Reg. Angl. tempore guerræ apud Nic. Uptonum de militari Officio. lib. 4.

Muchehunt. Habeant hi quatuor unam regalem potestatem (Salva semper nobis nostra presentia) quaterque in anno Generales Foreste demonstrationes & viridis & veneris legislationes quas Muchehunt dicunt. &c. Vide Leg. de Foresta R. Canuti, cap. 11.

Musflæ, Winter-Gloves made of Ram-skins. In Leg. H. 1. cap. 70. they are called Musflæ, and sometimes Musfla.

Mulier, As it is used in the Common Law, seems to be a Word corrupted, and used for Melior, or the French Melieur, and signifies the Lawful Issue (born in Wedlock, though begotten before) preferred before an elder Brother born out of Matrimony, Anno 9 H. 6. 11. Smith de Repub. Anglorum, lib. 3. cap. 6. But by Glanville, lib. 7. cap. 1. The lawful Issue seems rather Mulier than Melior, because he is begotten e Muliere, and not e Concubina; for he calls such Issue Filios mulieratos, opposing them to Bastards; and Britton, cap. 70. hath frere mulier, i. the Brother begotten of the Wife, opposite to frere Bastard. This appears to be used in Scotland also: For Skene de verbor. signific. says, that Mulieratus filius is a lawful Son, begotten of a lawful Wife. A Man hath a Son by a Woman before Marriage, that is a Bastard, and unlawful, and after he marries the Mother of the Bastard, and they have another Son; this second Son is called Mulier, that is to say, Lawful, and shall be Heir to his Father; but the other cannot be Heir to any Man, because in Judgment of Law he is said to be nullius filius, or filius populi, according to the old Verbes.

Cui pater est populus, pater est sibi nullus & omnis, Cui pater est populus, non habet ipse patrem.

And you always find them distinguished with this Addition, Bastard eigne and Mulier puiſue. See Co. Lit. fol. 170 & 243.

Mulier also was anciently used as an Addition; as, Omnibus—— Domina Johanna de Foresta, Mulier, salutem. Noverit universitas vestra, quod, &c. Dat. 3 Regis Edw. Filii Edw. Ex Autographo penes Authorem. By this it was doubted whether Mulier signified a Wife, or a Woman born in lawful Wedlock. But the following Deed clearly shews it the former, and is conformable to what Sir Edward Coke says, 2 Inst. fol. 434. That, of ancient Time, Mulier was taken for a Wife, and sometimes for a Widow.

Elizabeth Grendon filia & heres legitima Domini Hamonis Peshal mil. dem vixit, & Alicie uxoris sue filie quondam Roberti Harley & Johanne uxoris ejusdem Roberti, filii & heredis quondam Roberti Harley mil. & Margareta uxoris sue, pars appellans & actrix ex parte una, & Johanna Harley Mulier pars appellata & rea ex altera. And Henry the Sixth granted Letters Patent to some Persons (who undertook to perform the same, and to find out the Philosopher's Stone,) to free them from the Penalty of the Statute. Rot. Pat. 34 Hen. 6. m. 13. Co. 3. Inf. fol. 74.

Multitude, Multitudo, Mult, according to some Authors, consist of ten Persons, or more. But Co. on Lit. fol. 257. says, He never found it limited to any certain Number, but left to the Discretion of the Judges.

Multo fortior, Or a minori ad majus, Is an Argument often used by Littleton, and is framed thus. If it be so in a Feoffment passing a new Right, much more is it for the Restitution of an ancient Right, &c. Co. on Lit. fol. 253. and 260. a.

Multo, Multo, Molto, Muto, Mutto, Mutons or rather Weathers, quia testidulis mutilati. Several ridiculous Derivations are given of this Word: I suppose the Original was British; for Molt in the present Irish Tongue signifies a Ram, a Male Weather, to which the Latin Multo is always restrained, and does not extend to the Female Sheep or Ewe. — In fœuro sunt LII matres Oves, XXV multones, XII agni naves, & XIV agni feminales — And again — XXXII oves lactrices, III multones, XL oves otiosas; i. e. Thirty-two milch Ewes, three Rams or Weathers, Forty barren Ewes. Chartular. Glaston. MS. f. 39. De vacis 69, de bovetis 17, de boviculis 10, de Multonibus 381, de Huris & muricis 207, de Hogris 121, de Agnis 100, de Porcis 33, de Hogetis 126, & de Porcellis 80, &c. Inventor. bonorum Priorat. de Tichfield, Anno 1420. Item omnes Custumarii de Breymyard forinsecos debent falcare & levare de consuetudine de Overrum-pency annuatim & habebunt ab Episcopo unum Multonem pretii vii. d. Liber niger Episcopat. Heref.

Multones auri, Pieces of Gold Money imprinted with an Agnus Dei, a Sheep or Lamb on the one Side, and from that Figure called Multones. This Coin was more common in France, and sometimes current in England, as appears by a Patent 33 Ed. 1. cited by the learned Spelman, though he had not then considered the Meaning of it. — Rex tenetur Ottoni de Grandifono in de. eni milli bus multonum auri.

Multura. See Motta. Dabunt Multuram ad vicefinum vasculum quando ad molendinum meum nolere voluerint. Mon. Angl. 3 Tom. 91.

Multure, (Molitura vel Multura) Signifies the Toll that the Miller takes for grinding Corn. Et totam sequelam Custumariorum meorum qui ad dictum molendinum bladum suum molent, ad sextum decimum vas, & brasum suum sine Multura. Mon. Angl. 2 Par. fol. 825. a. And if that will crynd at his Milne, to grind at xxiii. vessel. And for their Male rogat give Multer, &c. An Award, Dat. 28 H. 6.

Mulbellus Is a Fish caught in the North of England in Summer. 'Tis mentioned in Fleta, lib. 2. cap. 12. par. 12. Dedit Mulvellum, Butyrum, &c.

Mundbrech, A Compound of the Saxon Mund, i. tutela, defensio, and Brice, fractio, violatio; si Rex Ecclesiam, monasterium, burgum, hominem aliquem vel societatem, eorumque res aut predia in suam suscepit protectionem, dicebatur hoc omne & ejusmodi quicquid in Regis esse mundi (in Saxon On Tynings munde), cujus violatio etiam Mundbrice dicta est q. protectionis violatio, aut data pacis fractio, que in Anglorum lege 5. libris placebatur. Spelman's Gloss. verbo Mund. Some would have Mundbrech to signify an Infringment of Privileges; others would that it denotes Monis fracturam, because Mund also is mons. But of later Time it is expounded clausurarum fractio, for Mund signifies Clausuram munitionis, the Fencing of Lands, therefore Mundbrech must be the Breaking of those Fences, which in many Parts of England we call Mounds; and we say, when Lands are fenced in and hedged, that they are wounded.

Mundbreche, i. e. a Breach of the Peace. Leg. H. 1. c. 37. 66.

Mundburde, (Mundeburdum, from the Sax. Mund, i. e. Tutela, and Borda, or Borh, i. e. Fidejussor.) Defensionis vel patrocinii fidejussio & stipulatio, a Receiving into Favour and Protection. Pippinus, — Aquitania Rex — ut omnes res ad scriptum Monasterium sub vestro Mundeburdo, vel immunitatis tuitione receperimus. Preuves de l'Hist. des Countes de Guyene, pag. 14.

Muniment-house, (Munimen.) In Cathedral and Collegiate Churches, Castles, Colleges, or such like, is a House or little Room of Strength purposely made for keeping the Seal, Evidences, Charters, &c. of such Church, College, &c. Such Evidences being called Muniments, corruptly Miniments, from Munio, to defend; because Inheritances and Possessions are defended by them. 3 Par. Inf. fol. 170.

Muniments, (Munimenta.) Mat. Paris. f. 311. Episcopus itaque cum Munimentorum inspectionem habere non potuit. Scripta, scilicet, authentica. Charta Donationum & Evidentiæ. See Miniments.

Munimina, (Munimentum) Are the Grants or Charters of Kings and Princes to Churches; so called because cum eis muniantur against all those who would deprive them of those Privileges.

Munus Ecclesiasticum, i. e. the consecrated Bread, out of which a little Piece is taken for a Communicant. Insuper & omne Sacrificium quod nos dicimus Munus Ecclesiasticum, &c. Mon. 2 Tom. pag. 588.

Murage, Muragium, Is a Toll or Tribute to be levied, for the Building or Repairing of public Walls. F. N. B. fol. 227. It is due to either by Grant or Prescription. Co. 2 par. Inst. fol. 222. Murage seemeth also to be a Liberty granted to a Town by the King, for collecting Money towards the Walling of the same. Anno 3 E. 1. cap. 30.

Muralis, the City-Wall. Huntingd. lib. 8. pag. 392. Resonabant colles, resonabant urbis Muralia.

Muratic, a Town or Borough surrounded with Walls. Ego vero de castris & murationibus meis securitatem talem duci, &c. consilio sanctæ Ecclesiæ feci. Brompton in the Life of King Stephen.

Murder, (Murdrum) From the Sax. Morth, which some will have to signify a violent Death; from whence the barbarous Lat. Mordrum and Murdrum. Sometimes the Saxons expressed it by Morthded, and Morthweorc, a deadly Work; in French Meurtre, in Spanish Muerte, in English Murder: A Word in Use long before the Reign of Canutus; but I cannot find that the Sax. Morth signifies a violent Death, but generally Mors. Amongst us 'tis taken for a wilful and felonious Killing another upon premeditated Malice. Bracton, lib. 3. tract. 2. cap. 15. num. 1. definieth it thus: Homicidium quod nullo presente, nullo audiente, nullo evidente clam perpetratur. Britton, cap. 6. is of the same Opinion, so is Fleta, lib. 1. cap. 30. adding besides, that it was not Murder, except it were proved the Party slain was English, and no Foreigner: But Stamf. Pl. Cor. lib. 1. cap. 2. says, The Law in this Point is altered by the Statute 14 E. 3. cap. 4. For now it is Murder, when a Man upon fore thought Malice kills another, whether privately or publicly, English Man or Foreigner living under the King's Protection, and this premeditated Malice is Two-fold; 1. Express, when it may be evidently proved that there was Ill-will. 2. Implied, when one killeth another suddenly, having nothing to defend himself, as going over a stile, or such like. Crompt. First. of Peace, cap. Of Murder, fol. 19. Per parol de Murder en grantis, le Grantee clama de aver amercement de Murderers. Broke, Tit. Quo Warrant. 2. But formerly it was taken only for a clandestine Killing; for amongst the Laws of H. 1. cap. 92. 'tis said, That Murdritus homo antiquitus dicebatur cujus interfector nesciebatur ubicunque, vel quomodo-eunque esset inventus, nunc adjunctum est, licet sciatur quis Murdrum fecerit, homicidium per prodicionem. So in Mat. Paris. Anno 1216. Arthurum nepotem propriis manibus per prodicionem interfecit pessimo mortigenere quod Angli Murdrum appellant. But now 'tis a wilful Killing another ex malitia premeditata.

Murencers Are two ancient Officers in the City of Chester, being two of the principal Aldermen, yearly elected to see the Walls kept in good Repair; for the Maintaining whereof they receive several Tolls and Customs.

Murillegus, a Cat. Knighon, lib. 3. fol. 253.

Murrena. See Morina.

Murozum operatic, The Service of Work and Labour done by Inhabitants and adjoining Tenants in Building or Repairing the Walls of a City or Castle. From which Duty some were exempted by special Privilege. So King Henry the Second granted to the Tenants within the Honour of Wallingford — Ut quieti sint de operationibus castellorum & murorum. Paroch. Antiquit. pag. 114. When this personal Duty was commuted into Money, the Tax so gathered, was called Murage.

Mus Mus. See Musfule.

Musicians. See Musfrels.

Mussa, (Lat.) a Moss or Marsh Ground. Interduram terram & humidam usque ad Mussam, & sic descendendo per Mussam illam usque ad vicum. Pat. 12 Ed. 2. p. 1. 22.

Musse, A Place where Sedge grows; a Place over-run with Moss. In terris cultis & incultis in bos, in moris & Mussis. Mon. 1 Tom. pag. 426.

Mussa for Mussa.

Muster Cometh of the French Moustre, i. specimen, exemplum, as Faire moustre Generale de tout son armee, is as much as lestrare exercitum. The Signification is well known to Master an Army. So mustered of Record, 18 H. 6. cap. 19. is to be enrolled in the Number of the King's Soldiers. Master of the King's Musters. 2 Ed. 6. 2. See in Master.

Muster-master General, Anno 35 El. c. 4. See Master of the King's Musters.

Muta Canum, (Fr. Meute de Chiens) a Kennel of Hounds. The King at a Bishop or Abbot's Decease had six Things: 1. Optimum equum sive Palvidum ipsius Episcopi cum sella & frano. 2. Unam Chlamydem sive Clecam cum capella. 3. Unum Citharum cum co-ortoria. 4. Unam pelvium cum lavatorio. 5. Unum Annulum aureum. 6. Necnon Mutam Canum que ad Dom. Regem ratione prerogative sue spectant & pertinent. Hill. 2. Ed. 2. in Stat. post mortem Episc. Bath. &c. Wellens. & Claus. 30 E. 1. m. 16.

Mutare, To mew up Hawks, in the Time of their molting, or casting their Plumets. The Manor of Broughton Com. Oxon. in the Reign of Edward II. was held by John Manduit — per servantiam mutandi unum bosfricum Domini Regis, vel illum bosfricum portandi ad aerium Domini Regis. Paroch. Antiqu. 569. Hence the Muta Regia, the Mews near Charing-Cross in London, now the King's Stables, formerly the Falconry, or Place for the King's Hawks.

Mutatorius, i. e. Change of Apparel. Fassit eum arctiori carcere, Mutatoria autem sua ei non subtrahit. Mat. Paris. Anno 1107. So in Gervase of Tilbury, Levioribus Rex mutatoris indutus ad mensam accedit.

Mutatus accipiter, A mewed Hawk. — Nicholaus de Audelegh redd't ad scaccarium unum spervarium mutatum per quod tenet de Rege in capite Egmunt. — Memorand. in Scaccar. Term. Mich. 21 Ed. 1. by Sir John Maynard.

Mute, Mutus, Speechless, dumb, or that refuses to speak; a Prisoner may stand Mute two manner of Ways, 1. When he stands Mute, without speaking of any Thing, and then it shall be enquired whether he stood Mute of Malice, or by the act of God; and if it be found that it was by the act of God, then the Judge of the Court ex Officio ought to enquire whether he be the same Person, and of all other Pleas, which he might have pleaded, if he had not stood Mute. 2. When he pleads, Not guilty, or doth not answer directly, or will not put himself upon the Enquest, to be tried by God and the Country. Co. 2. par. Inst. cap. 12. 32 H. 8. See Paine fort & dure. Mute also signifies a Kennel, or Cry of Hounds, as Bailler la meute & rovi a un Cerse, to follow after him with a full Cry. Spelman.

Spille-

Myllwell. A Sort of Fish, perhaps the same with what now in Lancashire is called Milwyn, which Spelman renders Greensib, but it was not strictly so, but another Sort of Cod or Salt-fish: For they are expressly distinguished in this Account — Et in tribus copulis viridis Piscis, & in quindecim copulis de Myllwell minoris fortis, x. sol. vi den. & in viginti Myllwell majoris fortis xii sol. Paroch. Antiquit. p. 575.

Mynneken. Sax. Mynecene, A Nun or veiled Virgin. Hence our Minnekin and Minneken Lass, to go mincing, &c.

Mysterium. Mysterium, Vita motus, A Trade or Occupation, derived from the French Mestier, i. ari, artificium.

N.

Nabu'm. Merces nautica. Spelman.

Nautilla. a Skiff, or Boat. 'Tis mentioned in Mat. Paris. viz. Transistum per Naecillas & alia usque preparavit.

Nacca. Nacca, A small Ship, a Yatcht, a Transport Vessel. — Tenet per servitutem de tenenda una corda in Nacca Domina Regina Angliæ quum contigit eam transfratere. Chartular. Abbat. Radinges. MS. f. 51. b. — Reddendo inde quantum pertinet ad quintam partem servantie de Pudde-worth, scilicet, de tenenda una corda in Nacca Regine transfratendo versus Pictaviam. Ibid.

Naam. or Nasam, (Namium, from the Sax. Niman, Capere.) Signifies the Taking or Distraining another Man's moveable Goods, and is either lawful or unlawful. Lawful Naam is a reasonable Distress proportionable to the Value of the Thing distrained for: And this Naam was anciently called either Vis or Mort, Quick or Dead, according as it is made of dead or quick Chattels. Lawful Naam is so either by the Common Law, as when one takes another Man's Beasts Damage Feasant in his Ground; or by a Man's particular Fact, as by reason of some Contract made, that for Default of Payment of an Annuity it shall be lawful to distrain in such or such Lands, &c. Horn's Mirror of Justices, lib. 2. cap. De Naam. See Witberniam; Non libet Naamium sumere vel vadimonium, nec averia sua impariari. Mon. Angl. 2 Par. fol. 256. b. Nemo Namium capiat in cenitatu vel extra Conitatum, priusquam ter in Hundredo suo rectum sibi perquisierit. LL. Canuti MS. c. 18. quod inscribitur de Namiis capiendis. Quod si redere noluerint (debitores) nec ad distracionandum venire, tunc cives, quibus debita sua debent, capiant in Civitate, Namia sua, vel de comitatu in quo manet, qui debetum debet. Char. H. 1. de Libertat. London. See Vetutum Namium.

Namatio. (Namatio) A Distraining or Taking a Distress. In Scotland it is used for impounding. Nemo veniens ad forum de Nottingham cum quadrupis & Summagiis suis a Vespere diei Veneris usque ad Vespere diei Sabbati Nametur nisi pro firma Regis (Carta H. 2. Burgens. de Nott.) i. e. shall not be distrained.

Namium vetitum Is an unjust taking the Cattel of another, and driving them to an unlawful Place, pretending Damage done by them. In which Case the Owner of the Cattel may demand Satisfaction for the Injury, which is called Placitum de Namio vetito.

Nanniamdum. Insuper obligavit eisdem Abbati & Conventui, nomine pignoris, totum Tenementum su- um quod est in parochia S. Edwardi, Oxon. ad ingredien-dum & Nanniamdum in eodem, &c. Charta Rogeri Bonivalet Cordwanarii Oxon. ad Otheventes, in Reg. Carnob. Osney, f. 118. Probably from the French Nantir, to give or gain Seisin or Possession of.

Napperie. (Anno 2 R. 2. c. 1.) From the Italian Napperia, i. linteamina domestica) we may call it Linen Clothery, or Houhold Linen.

Narrator, a Pleador or Serjeant at Law — Et sciendum quod quidam Willielmus Lovel miles bie in Curia in presentia & audientia Justic. animo impetuoso dixit cuidam Ade de Flit-ham Narratori predicti Petri in Assisa predicta placitandi, &c. Hill. 16 Ed. 5. in Seacc. Anciently Serviens Narrator was used for a Serjeant at Law. See Serjeant. So in Fleta, lib. 2. c. 37. Et ulterius in Curia Regis pro aliquo narrare non audietur, nisi pro semetipso, si Narrator fuerit.

Nase, or Nasse, (Anno 4 H. 7. cap. 21.) Seems to have been the Name of the Port at Orford in Suffolk. From the Saxon Nase, Promontorium.

Natale, i. e. the State and Condition of a Man. Si quis de homicidio accusetur, & idem se purgare velit secundum Natale suum. Leg. Hen. 1. cap. 64.

Nathwyte. Quod nec dictus Philippus de Avery, nec b. redies sui de cetero petere possint aliqua tallagia, nec etiam francum plegium, nec etiam aliam demandam, que vocatur Nathwyte. Charta 55 Hen. 5. m. 6. Perhaps from the Sax. Nath, i. e. Lewdness; and so it might signify the same with Lair-wite.

Nativi tenentes. Sunt (ipsi etiam liberi) qui terram tenent Nativam; hoc est, Nativorum servitiis obnoxiam. Spelm.

Nativi de Stipite. F. C. Nativus de Stipite quondam tenuit in villenagio ut de Stipite unum Mes-suagium in Rillaton, &c. Survey of the Dutchy of Cornwall; where there is also Mention of Nativi Conventionarii. The first were Villains or Bond-men by Birth or Stock: The other by Contract or Covenant. Servi enim alii natura, alii facti & alii emptione, alii redemptione, alii sua vel alterius datione. LL. Hen. 1. cap. 76. And in Cornwall it was a Custom, that if a Freeman married Nativam, and brought her ad liberum tenementum & liberum thorum, and had two Daughters, one of them was free, and the other a Villain. Bracton, lib. 4. cap. 21, 22.

Nativitas, i. e. Servitude. Si nativi regent Domino Nativitatem suam, sive Bondagium. The Word is often mentioned in the Laws of William the First.

Nativitas, Nativitas, Birth: Casting the Nativity, or by Calculation, seeking to know how long the Queen should live, &c. made Felony, 23 El. 2. Nativitas was anciently taken for Bondage or Villanage, Terram quam nativi sui tenuerunt de se in nativitate. Mon. Ang. 2. par. f. 643.

Natio. A Native Place. The Jurors of the Borough of Wallingford, return upon Oath — Quod nullus de Natione istius Burgi pro quocunque facto quod fecerit, debet suspendi, &c. Paroch. Antiquit. p. 258.

Nativum habendo Was a Writ that lay to the Sheriff, for a Lord, whose Villain claimed for his Inheritance, run from him, for the Apprehending and Restoring him to his Lord again. Reg. Orig. fol. 87. F. N. B. fol. 77. See the Character of Richard the Second, by which he manumitted red all in the County of Hertford. Wallingham, pag. 254.

Nativus, He that is born a Servant, and so differs from him that suffers himself to be sold, of which Servants there are three Sorts, Bondmen, Natives, and Villeins; Bondmen were those who bound themselves by Covenants to serve, and took their Name from the word Bond; Natives we spoke of just before; and Villeins were such who belonging to the Land, tilled the Lord's Demesnes, nor might depart thence without the Lord's Licence. Spelman's Gloss. Vide Chart. R. 2. qua omnes manumittit a bondagio in Com. Hertf. Wallingham, pag. 254. Quid si aliquis Nativus alicujus in prefato Burgo manserit, & terram in eorum venit, & fuerit in predicta Gilda & Hanfa & Loth & Scoth cum eisdem Burgenfibus nostris per unum annum & unum diem sine calumpnia, dein eps non possit repeti a Domino suo, ut in eodem Burgo liber permisceat. Carta H. 5. Burgenfibus Mungumery.

Naturæ Pudenda, Privities. — Pensandum autem est, per visum accusantibus visum concubitus proprius advertendum, ut, scilicet ipsas coentium naturas viderint commisseri. Leges Hen. 1 cap. 83.

Naturalization, Naturalizatio, Is when an Alien born, is made the King's natural Subject. See Denizen. And this saith Spelman, Regio diplomate & Senatusconsulto expetendum est. Potest autem virtute Regii Diplomatis denizatiorem, hoc est, Municipium consequi, quo pradia comparet, possideat, disponat, muniaque omnia subeat uti naturalis indigena; hæreditatem tamen nil adeat simpliciter nomine: Sed Naturalizationis pallio indutus omnem adipiscitur plenitudinem.

Navagium Was that Duty which was incumbent on the Tenant, to carry his Lord's Goods in a Ship: Liberi sint ab omni Caragio, Navagio, &c. Mon. 1 Tom. 922.

Navis, Navium, A small Dish to hold the Frankincense, before it was put into the Thuribulum, Censer, or smoking Pot. — Inter Ecclesiæ ornamenta — Thuribulum cum navi. Pavo b. Antiqui. pag. 598. It seems to be called from the Shape, resembling a Boat or little Ship, as a Cogue of Brandy for the like Reason. We have seen several of these Boat-cups in Silver, Earth, &c.

Navis Ecclesiæ, The Nave or Body of the Church, as distinguished from the Quire, and Wings, or Isles. It is that Part of the Church, where the Common People sit, which being the longest Part is so called: Quod camera ejus veluti Navium carina est. Du Cange.

Navitas, The same with Nativitas: Liberatus fuit a Navitate cum tota sequel. Flea, lib. 5. c. 5. par. 39.

Nisi admittas Is a Writ that lieth for the Plaintiff in a Quare Impedit, or him that hath an Adcion of Darein Presentment depending in the Common Bench, and feareth that the Bishop will admit the Clerk of the Defendant, during the Suit between them; which Writ must be sued within six Months after the Avoidance, because after six Months the Bishop may present by Lapse. Reg. Orig. f. 31. F. N. B. f. 37.

Neatland, Terra Villanorum, Land let or granted out to the Yeomanry. Ex vet. Charta.

Negative pregnant, Negativa pregnant, Is a Negative implying also an Affirmative: As if a Man being implicated to have done a Thing on such a Day, or in such a Place, denieth that he did it modo & forma declarata, which implieth nevertheless, that in some sort he did it: Or if a Man be said to have alienated Land in Fee, and he saith, he hath not aliened in Fee, this is a Negative pregnant; for though it be true that he hath not aliened in Fee, yet it may be, he hath made an Estate in Tail. Dyer, fol. 17. num. 95. And Brook hoc titulo, and Kitchin, fol. 232. and the Terms of the Law. We read also in some Civilians of Affirmativa pregnant, and that is, que habet in se inclusivam negativam, & hoc importare videntur dictiones (solum & tantum) que implicent negativam. Pacianus de probationibus, lib. 1. cap. 31. num. 16. fol. 93.

Neigildare, To claim Kindred. — non cogitur liber cum servo neigildare, nisi velit ei factionem facere, nec servus cum libero. Leges Hen. 1. cap. 70. The Laws of King Ina, Sect. 7, 8. thus expound the Word: Non cogatur liber cum servo cognationem solvere, nisi velit eum factione liberare.

Neiss, Natio, From the French Naif, naturalis, Is a Bond-woman. Anno 1 E. 6. 3. and 9 R. 2. cap. 2. But if she marry a Freeman, she is thereby made Free; and if she be once Free, and clearly discharged of all Bondage, she cannot be Neiss after, without some special Act done by her, as Divorce, or Confession in Court of Record; and that is in Favour of Liberty, and therefore a Free Woman shall not be bound by taking a Villain to her Husband; but their Issue shall be Villains as their Father was, which is contrary to the Civil Law, which says, Partus sequitur ventrem. See Manumission. 9 R. 2. cap. 2. See Nations. Anciently Lords of Manors sold, gave or assigned their Bondmen and Women, as appears by,

Sciatis quod ego Radulphus de Crombewel Miles Senior & Dominus de Lambeley dedi Domino Vicario de Dedeling Beatricem filiam Will. Harvey de Lambeley quondam Nativam meam, cum tota sequela sua cum omnibus cattallis suis perquisitis & perquirendis. Habend. & Tenend. predictam Beatricem cum tota sequela sua & omnibus cattallis suis & omnibus rebus suis perquisitis & perquirendis predicto Domino Roberto vel suis assignatis libere, quiete, bene & in pace imperpetuum, &c. In cujus, &c. hiis testibus — Dat. apud Lambeley die Sancti Laurentii Martyris. Anno 13 E. 3. See Manumission.

Writ of Neifty was a Writ whereby the Lord claimed such a Woman for his Neiss, wherein but two Neiss could be put; but it is now quite out of Use.

Nisi iuste heres Is a Writ that lies for a Tenant, who is distrained by his Lord for other Services than he ought to make, and is a Prohibition to the Lord in it self, commanding him not to distrain. The special Use of it is, Where the Tenant has formerly prejudiced himself, by performing more Services, or paying more Rent without Constraint than he needed; for in this Case, by Reason of the Lord's Seisin, he cannot avoid him in Assuery, and therefore is driven to this Writ, as his next Remedy. Reg. of Writs, fol. 4. Fitzb. Nat. Br. f. 10.

Neomagus. See Noviomagus.

Neophyte, A Learner in any Thing, Tyro; we call such a one a Noovice.

Neiss. (Anno 4 H. 7. c. 21.) See Nasse.

Neitherly upon Eske. See Æsica.

Ne Ticeramez, Colore mandati Regis, quoniam amoveat a possessione Ecclesie minus iuste. Reg. of Writs, fol. 61.

Nicol, Anciently used for Lincoln, In fasce Petitionum in Turri London, 30 Ed. 1. 7 E. 1. & saep alibi.

Niderling, alias Nidering, alias Nithing, Guliel. Malines, pag. 121. In the Life-time of William Rufus, hath these Words, Anglos suos appellat (Rex) & jubet ut compatriotas advocent ad obsequium venire, nisi si qui velint sub nomine nidering quod nequam sonat remanere; Angli qui nihil miserius putarunt quam hujusce vocabuli dedecore aduri, catervatim ad Regem confuunt, & invincibile exercitum faciunt. And Mat. Paris, in Anno 1088. p. 14. Ut ad obsequium veniant jubet, nisi velint sub nomine Nithing quod Latine nequam sonat recenseri, &c.

Nidus, Neath in Glamorganshire.

Nient compitit Is an Exception taken to a Petition, as unjust, because the Thing desired is not contained in that Act or Deed whereon the Petition is grounded. For Example, One desireth of the Court to be put into Possession of a House, formerly among other Lands, &c. adjudged unto him: The adverse Party pleadeth, That this Petition is not to be granted, because though he had a Judgment for certain Lands and Houses, yet the House, into Possession whereof he desireth to be put, is not contained among those for which he hath Judgment. See the New Book of Entries, Titulo Nient comprise.

Nient dedire, (Stat. 29 Car. 2. cap. —) To suffer Judgment to be had against one by Nient dedire, i. e. by not denying or opposing it, by Default.

Nisse, (Anno 3 Edw. 4. cap. 5.) Spelman hath it without any Explication: I suppose it a Corruption from nihil, and to signify a Toy, or Thing of small Value: for we yet say, (in some Parts of England,) Nilles and Trifles. Others think it comes from the Fr. Neuf, novus, q. d. Neufes, or News.

Niger Liber Is the Black Book in the Exchequer so called.

Nihil, or Nichil, Is a Word which the Sheriff answers, that is apposed concerning Debts illivable, and that are nothing Worth, by Reason of the Insufficiency of the Parties from whom they are due. 5 R. 2. Stat. 1. cap. 3. and 27 Eliz. cap. 3. Accounts of Nihil shall be put out of the Exchequer. 5 R. 2. cap. 13.

Nihil capiat per Breve Is the Judgment given against the Plaintiff, either in Bar of his Action, or in Abatement of his Writ. Co. on Littl. fol. 363.

Nihil dicit Is a Failing to put in Answer to the Plea of the Plaintiff by the Day assigned, which if a Man omit, Judgment passeth against him of Course by Nihil dicit, that is, because he says nothing in his own Defence, why it should not.

Nihil capiat per billam. See Nihil capiat per breve.

Nisi prius Is a Writ Judicial, which lieth in Case where the Jury is impanelled, and returned before the Justices of the Bank, the one Party or the other requesting to have this Writ for the Ease of the Country, whereby the Sheriff is willed to cause the Enquest to come to Westminster at a certain Day, or before the Justices in the same County at their Coming. See 14 E. 3. cap. 15. The Form of the Writ you have in the Old Nat. Brev. fol. 159. and in the Register Judicial, fol. 7 & 28 & 75. New Book of Entries, verbo Nisi prius. And it is called a Writ of Nisi prius, of these two Words, whereby the Sheriff is commanded to bring to Westminster the Men impanelled at a certain Day, or before the Justices of the next Assizes, Nisi die Luna apud talem locum prius venerint, &c. And the Justices of Nisi prius must be one of them before whom the Cause is depending in the Bench. F. N. B. fol. 240. which he taketh from the Statute of York, Anno 12 E. 2. See Westm. 2. cap. 30. 13 E. 1. and 27 E. 1. cap. 4. 2 E. 3. cap. 17. and 4 E. 3. cap. 11. and 14 E. 3. cap. 16. 7 R. 2. cap. 7. and 18 Eliz. cap. 12.

Nius, The lesser Hawk, or Sparrow-hawk. — In memore de Blideurd habebant Archiepiscopus & Canonici Ebor. proprios Forestarios suos & mei & areas accipitrum & nisorum & pasnagium. Cart. H. 3. Ex Registro Joh. Romane Archiep. Ebor. MS. fol. 91.

Nivicolini Britones, i. e. Welshmen, because they lived near high Mountains covered with Snow, especially in Caermarthenshire; they are so called in our Historians, cum adversus Nivicolinos Britones Regia esset expeditio. Du Cange.

Nobilitas, A Noble, an ancient Kind of English Money now not in use; the Value thereof, in the Thirty-fourth Year of Edward the Third, being 1360. appears in the Letters of John King of France, upon the Treaty of Peace between the same two Kings, where Art. 13. you have these Words, — Item accorde est que le Roy de France payera au Roy d'Angleterre trois millions d'escus d'or, dont les deux valent un Noble de la money d'Angleterre. We at this Day value a Noble at six Shillings eight Pence, but have no peculiar Coin of that Name.

Nobilitas, Nobility, compriseth all Degrees of Dignity above a Knight, so that a Baron is the lowest Order thereof. Smith, de Repub. Angl. lib. 1. cap. 17. Bartolus in his Trat. de Nobilitate, lib. 12. defines it thus, Nobilitas est qualitas illata, &c.

Noble: The Rose Noble was a Gold Coin current in England about the Year 1344, as Knighton tells us, viz. Anno 1344. Eodem tempore, Nobile & obolus, & Ferthing de auro ceperunt florere in regno, &c.

Nocata terra — Qui tenuit dimidium virgatum terræ vel Nocatum terræ vel Cottagium — Custumar. de Sutton Colfield. See Nook of Land.

Noctes & noctem de firma. We often meet in Domesday with Tot noctes de firma, or firma tot noctium, which is to be understood of Entertainment for so many Nights. See Domesday, Tit. Essex. Rex Hundred de Chemesford writelam tunc reddidit hoc manerium decem noctes de firma & 10 lib. &c. Drink, or Entertainment for so many Nights. In the Reign of the English Saxons, Time was computed not by Days, but by Nights, so we read in the Council of Cloveshoe, Anno 824. Et ibi finita & prescripte contentione coram Episcopo post 30 noctes illum juramentum ad Westminster deductum est. And so it continued to the Time of H. 1. Leg. c. 66, 76. and from thence 'tis usual at this Time to say a Sevenight or Fornight.

Nocturnum. See Nusance.

Noctys, alias Nedtri, Was a Word well known among the Saxons to signify necessary Fire, being derived from the Saxon Neb, that is, necessary, and fry, Ignis: But the learned Spelman is of Opinion from the old Saxon Nead, i. obsequium; so that Noctys were Fires made in Honour of the Heathenish Deities. Vide Proœmium Edgari Regis de Cœnobitis Regularibus introducendis, &c.

Noctus, Naufur, A Coffin of Wood. Siquis corpus in terra vel noſſo vel petra, ſub petra, vel pyramide, vel ſtructurâ qualibet poſtum effodere præſumpſerit.—Leges Hen. 1. cap. 83.

Nomen, Nominis impoſitio. It was uſual for the Romans to give Names to their Male Children when they were nine Days old, and to the Females, eight Days after their Birth. 'Tis probable that they derived this Cuſtom from the Grecians, who did the like; but amongst the Chriſtians the Name was not always given in Baptiſm, but ſome Time before. viz. credidit autem Tiſſimus cum omni domo ſua, & dato nomine proximo paſchate futuro baptizatus eſt. And here in England, we may learn the ſame Thing from Leg. H. 1. cap. 70. viz. ſi infans occidat vel occidatur, ſive nomen habeat ſive non habeat, plena vera conſectetur.

Nomenclator, One that enucleates and opens the Etymologies of Names. Spelman verbo Nomenclator, interprets it to be Theſaurarius.

Nominatio (Nominatio) Is taken for a Power that a Man, by virtue of a Manor, or otherwiſe, hath to appoint a Clerk, to a Patron of a Benefice, by him to be preſented to the Ordinary.

Nomina Villarum. King Edward the Second (Anno Reg. 9.) ſent Letters to the Sheriffs of England, commanding them to make an exact Return into the Exchequer of the Names of the Villages, and Poſſeſſors thereof in every County, which was accordingly done by them, and their Returns together are called Nomina Villarum, remaining ſtill in the Exchequer.

Nonalibit Is an Exception taken againſt the Plaintiff or Defendant, upon ſome Cauſe why he cannot commence Suit in Law, as Præmuriæ, Outlawry, Profeſſi in Religion, Excommunicate, or a Stranger born, which laſt holds only in Actions real and mixt, and not in perſonal, except he be a Stranger and an Enemy. The Civilians ſay, That ſuch a Man hath not Perſonam ſtandi in judicio. See Bro. hoc titulo, and F. N. B. fol. 35, 65. & 77.

Non admittas. See Ne admittas.

Nonæ & decimæ Were Payments made to the Church by thoſe who were Tenants of their Farms, where Nonæ was a Rent or Duty claimed for Things belonging to Huſbandry, and Decimæ were claimed in Right of the Church.

Nonage Is all that Time of a Man's Age, under One and twenty Years in ſome Caſes, and Fourteen in others, as Marriage. See Broke, Tit. Age. Vide Age.

Nonagium, i. e. The ninth Part of moveable Goods paid in Nature of a Mortuary, which formerly was the third Part of ſuch Goods, and therefore it was called Tertiagium: This was claimed by the Clergy upon the Death of thoſe of their Pariſh, but by a Bull of Clement the Sixth, it was reduced to the ninth Part; the Pretence for this Payment was, to diſtribute it to pious Uſes.

Non capiendo Clericum. See Clericum non capiendo.

Nonclaim Is the Omillion, or Neglect, of him that ought to challenge his Right within a Time limited, by which Neglect he is either barred of his Right, as at this Day upon Nonclaim within five Years after a Fine, and Right to him accrued, by the Statute of 4 H. 7. 24. Or of his Entry by his Deſcent, for want of Claim, within five Years after the Diſſeiſin made, by the Stat. 32 H. 8. 33. Vide Co. lib. 4. in Proœm. and Continual Claim.

Non compos Mentis Is a Man of no ſound Memory and Underſtanding, of which there are four Sorts: Firſt, An Ideot, who from his Nativity, by a perpetual Infirmary, is Non compos Mentis. Second, he that by Sickneſs, Grief, or other Accident, wholly loſeth his Memory and Underſtanding. Third, A Lunatick, that has ſometimes his Underſtanding, and ſometimes not, aliquando gaudet lucidis intervallis. Laſtly, He that by his own Act, for a Time, deprives himſelf of his right Mind, as a Drunkard; but that Kind of Non compos Mentis ſhall give no Privilege or Benefit to him or his Heirs; and a Deſcent takes a way the Entry of an Ideot, albeit the Want of Underſtanding was perpetual. Coke, lib. 4. Beverley's Caſe.

Non diſtinguendo Is a Writ comprizing under it divers Particulars, according to divers Caſes, which ſee in the Table of Reg. Orig. verb. Non diſtinguendo.

Nonæ, None, According to the Romans Account, were thoſe Days which at the Beginning of ſome Months had ſix, of others had four Days, according to the Verſes,

Sex Nonas Maius, Oſtober, Julius & Mars, Quatuor at reliqui, &c.

Thus the Nones in March, May, July, and Oſtober, are the ſix Days next following the firſt Day, or the Calends. In other Months they are the four Days next after the firſt; but the laſt of theſe Days is properly called Nones, and the other reckoned backward, according to the Number diſtant from the Nones, as the Third, Fourth or Fifth Nones. They are called Nones, becauſe they begin the ninth Day before the Ides. Dates of Deeds by Nones, Ides, or Calends, is ſufficient. 2 Inſt. fol. 675. Spelman in his Gloſſary interprets it for Meridies, Mid-day, Dinner-time, which we in Engliſh call Noon and Noon-tide, which is as much as if we ſhould ſay in Latin Horam nonam, id eſt, Pomeridianam tertiam, non meridiem, and as he infers, Ratio a Romanorum cœna ducta eſt, quæ hora diei nona eſt, nec ſolemniter ante comedebant.

Non eſt Culpabilis Is the general Plea to an Action of Treſpaſs, whereby the Defendant doth abſolutely deny the Fact imputed to him by the Plaintiff, whereas in other ſpecial Caſes the Defendant but alledgeth ſome Reaſon in his own Defence: And therefore when the Rhetoricians comprize the Subſtance of their Diſcourſes under three Queſtions, An ſit, quid ſit, quale ſit; this Answer falleth under the Firſt of the Three, and as it is the general Answer in an Action of Treſpaſs, that is, an Action criminal civilly proſecuted; ſo is it alſo in all Actions criminally followed, either at the Suit of the King, or other, wherein the Defendant denieth the Crime objected objected unto him. See the New Book of Entries, Tit. Non culpabilis, and Staudf. Pl. Cor. lib. 2. cap. 62.

Non est factum Is an Answer to a Declaration, whereby a Man denieth that to be his Deed, wherupon he is impleaded. Bro. hoc Tit.

Non implacitando aliquem de libero tenemento sine hiebi Is a Writ to inhibit Bailiffs, &c. from distraining any Man without the King's Writ, touching his Freehold. Register, fol. 171.

Non intromittendo, quando dicitur de Præcipe in Capite subdole impetratur, Is Writ directed to the Justices of the Bench, or in Eyre, willing them not to give one that hath, under Colour of intituling the King to Land, &c. as holding of him in Capite, deceitfully obtaining the Writ called Præcipe in Capite, but to put him to this Writ of Right, if he think good to use it. Reg. Orig. fol. 4. b. But this Writ had Dependence on the Court of Wards, and therefore is now become out of Use.

Non Mercandizando Victualia Is a Writ directed to the Justices of Assise, commanding them to enquire whether the Officers of such Towns do sell Victuals in gross, or by Retail, during their Office, contrary to the Statute, and to punish them if they find it true. Register of Writs, fol. 184.

Non molestando Is Writ that lieth for him which is molested contrary to the King's Protection granted him. Register of Writs, fol. 24.

Non obstante, (Which signifies Notwithstanding,) is a Clause frequent in Statutes and Letters Patent. All Grants of such Pensions, and every Non obstante therein contained, shall be void. 14 Car. 2. cap. 11. Croke's Rep. 3. par. fol. 196. and Plowd. Com. fol. 501, 502. In the Reign of King Henry the Third (first Sir Richard Baker) the Clause Non obstante (first brought in by the Pope) was taken up by the King in his Grants and Writings. See Prynne's Animadversions on 4 Inst. fol. 129.

Non omitt. popt. aliquam libertat. Is a Writ that lies where the Sheriff returns upon a Writ to him directed, that he hath sent to the Bailiff of such a Franchise, which hath the Return of Writs, and he hath not served the Writ, then the Plaintiff shall have this Writ directed to the Sheriff to enter into the Franchise, and execute the King's Process himself. Old Nat. Brev. fol. 44. Of this the Register Original hath three Sorts, fol. 82 & 151. and the Register Judicial one, fol. 5 & 56. Also the Sheriff shall warn the Bailiff, that he be before the Justices at the Day contained in the Writ, and if he come not, then all the Judicial Writs during the same Plea issuing, shall be Writs of non omittas, and the Sheriff shall execute the same. See Terms de Ley, hoc Tit.

Non Plevin. It was Enacted 9 E. 3. 2. That none thenceforth should lose his Land because of Non Plevin; that is, when the Land was not replevined in due Time. Ralph de Hengham gives this good Account of it — Caveat sibi reus deficiens, quod infra 15 dies terram suam captam in manum Domini Regis replegiat, quod si non fecerit, ad calumniarum potentis proximo die placiti amittet seisinam terre sicut per defaultam. Et ista defaulta vocatur Gallice Non plevine, & æquipolet naturaliter defaulta post defaultam. Hengham in Magn. cap. 8.

Non ponendis in Assis & Juratis Is a Writ founded upon the Statute of Westm. 2. cap. 38. and Articuli super Chartas, cap. 9. which is granted upon divers Causes to Men for the freeing them from Assises and Jurors, particularly by Reason of their old Age. See F. N. B. fol. 165. and the Register, fol. 100, 119, 181, 183.

Non procedendo ad Assisam Rege inconsulto Is a Writ to stop the Trial of a Cause appertaining unto one that is in the King's Service, &c. until the King's Pleasure be farther known. Register, fol. 220.

Non residentia pro Clericis Regis Is Writ directed to the Ordinary, charging him not to molest a Clerk employed in the King's Service, by Reason of his Non-residence. Reg. Orig. fol. 58.

Non-residence, 28 H. 8. 13. Is applied to such spiritual Persons as are not resident, but do absent themselves for the Space of one or two Months at several Times in one Year from their Benefices; for Personal Residence is required of Ecclesiastical Persons upon their Cures. See 2 Par. Inst. fol. 625.

Non sane Memoriæ, (Non sana Memorie) Is an Exception taken to any Act, declared by the Plaintiff or Demandant to be done by another, and whereon he grounds his Plaint or Demand: And the Effect of it is, that the Party that did that Act, was Mad or not well in his Wits when he did it, or when he made his last Will and Testament. See New Book of Entries, Tit. Non sane Memorie. See Non compos Mentis.

Non solvendo pecuniam, ad quam Clericus mulcatur pro non residentia, Is a Writ prohibiting an Ordinary to take a pecuniary Mult, imposed upon a Clerk of the King's for Non-Residency. Reg. of Writs, fol. 59.

Non-suit (i. e. Non est Persecutus, &c.) Is a Renunciation of the Suit by the Plaintiff or Demandant, most commonly upon the Discovery of some Error or Defect, when the Matter is so far proceeded in, as the Jury is ready at the Bar to deliver their Verdict. Anno 2 H. 4. cap. 7. See the New Book of Entries, verbo Non-suit. The Civilians term it Litis Renunciationem.

Non sum informatus. See Informatus non sum.

Non-tenure Is an Exception to a Count, by saying, That he holdeth not the Land specified in the Count, or at least some Part of it. 25 E. 3. Stat. 4. cap. 16. West Symbol. part 2. Tit. Fines, sect. 138. makes Mention of Non-tenure general, and Non-tenure special. See the New Book of Entries, verbo Non-tenure, where 'tis said, That special Non-tenure is an Exception, alledging that he was not Tenant the Day when the Writ was purchased. Non-tenure general, is when one denies himself ever to have been Tenant to the Land in Question.

Non-term, Non terminus, Is the Time of Vacation between Term and Term: It was wont to be called the Time or Days of the King's Peace. Lamb. Archaionom. fol. 126. and that these were in the Time of Edward the Confessor; see there. This Time, by the Romans, was called Festum or Feria, or dies nefasti; Feria appellari notum est tempus illud, quod forensibus negotiis & jure dicendo vacabat; eorum autem alie solennes erant, alie repentine. Briffon. de verb. signif. lib. 6. Wefenbee paratit. de feriis, num. 6.

Nook of Land, Noka terra. Universis pateat quod ego J. que sui uxor W. B. tradidi, &c. H. A. unum mess. & unam Nokam terram cum pertin. in villa de M. Dat. apud Sodynton. 5 E. 3. I have seen an old Deed of Sir Walter de Pedwardyn, wherein 12 Acres and an half were granted for a Nook of Land; but I think the Quantity was not certain. Illi qui tenuerunt dimidiam virgatam terræ, vel notatam terræ, vel cotagium de bondagii tenuerunt. Dugd. War. p. 665.

Noctencheco. Inter antiquas consuetudines Abbatis de Sancto Edmundo infra manerium de Herdwyke—Custumarius faciet si Dominus voluerit unam precariam in Autumno cum duobus hominibus ad cibum Domini ad duo repasta & ad Noon-scenche, & aliam precariam cum uno homine ad cibum Domini ad duo repasta & ad Noon-scenche, si Dominus voluerit. Ex Cartular. S. Edmundi. MS. fol. 322.

Nozroy, As much as to say, Northroy, that is, the Northern King: The Third of the three Kings at Arms, and his Office lies on the North Side of Trent, as Claventinus on the South: He is mentioned in the Statute of 14 Car. 2. cap. 33. See Herald.

Nozthintus, the North Country. Leg. Edw.

Nozthumberland. See Mease.

Nozth Wales. See Oradices and Venet.

Notary, (Notarius,) Anno 27 Edw. 3. cap. 1. Is a Scribe or Scrivener that takes Notes, or makes a short Draught of Contracts, Obligations, or other Instruments. Claus. Edw. 2. m. 6. Schedula confusa eidem memb. de Notariis Imperialibus non admittendis. At this Day we call him a Notary, or Public Notary, that attests Deeds or Writings, to make them authentick in another Country, but principally in Business relating to Merchants.

Note of a Fine, Nota finis, Is a Brief of a Fine made by the Chirographer, before it be ingrossed; the Form whereof see in West Symbol. part 2. Tit. Fines, sect. 117.

Not Guilty. See Non est Culpabilis.

Novale Seems to be Land newly ploughed, that without Memory of Man hath not been tilled. (Ex Cartulario Abbatis de Furnesse in Com. Lanc. in Officio Ducat. Lanc. fol. 41. b.)—Item nota quod Novale est ager nunc primum præcisus, ut extra verborum significationibus innovatus, ubi Glossa dicitur Novale, terra de Novo ad culturam redacta, cujus non extat memoria quod fuisse ibidem: Et quod Novale semel fuit, semper erit Novale, quoad decimarum retentionem vel solutionem.—Excerpta decima Novalium cujusdam terræ, quam de novo excoluerunt. Pat. 6 Edw. 3. pag. 1. m. 19. See Fructuum.

But Novale is not always taken to be Land newly converted into Tillage, for sometimes it signifies fallow Land, i. e. Land which hath been ploughed for two Years, and lieth fallow afterwards for one Year, or that which lies fallow every other Year, and 'tis called Novale, because the Earth nova cultura profinditur; or it lies fallow causa novandorum fructuum.

Novata Oblata. De Novis Oblatis Nichil scribitur in Rotulo annuali, nisi ea de quibus Viccomites respondent, & debita Inventa in Originalibus quæ videntur esse clara. Claus. 12 E. 1. m. Dorso. See Oblata.

Novel Assignment, Nova assignatio, Is an Assignment of Time, Place, or such like, otherwise than as it was before in the Writ assigned. Bro. Tit. Deputy, num. 12. See Novel Assignment of Trespas in a new Place, after Bar pleaded. Bro. Tit. Trespas 122. and Novel Assignment in a Writ de ejectione custodie, Tit. Ejectione custodie, num. 7. See Assignment.

Novelle. Those Constitutions which were made by Emperors after the Publication of the Theodosian Code, were called Novelle. Acursius calls the Julian Edition by that Name; and that barbarous Translation which was made in the Time of Bugains, he calls the Authenticks, which are Books of the Civil Law.

Novel Dissentin. See Assise of Novel Dissentin.

Noviomagus, Woodcote near Croyden in Surrey.

Nowche—Hæc ornamenta capelle sue delata sunt ad Ecclesiam suam Elyensem post obitum suum, (scilicet Johannis de Ketene Episcopi) una cappa rubra de Samythe bene brudata cum imaginibus in tabernaculis cum uno Nowche nobili de argento cum salutatione protrata in amayl saphiri coloris. Hist. Elien. apud Wharton Angl. Sacr. Part 1. p. 642.

Nowtgeld. So Cornagium was called. See Cornage.

Noyles, No Person shall put any Noyles, Flocks, Thrums, Hair, or other deceivable Thing into any broad Woollen Cloth, &c. 22 Jac. 18.

Nuces colligere, To gather small Nuts, or Hazle-nuts. This was one of the Works or Services imposed upon inferior Tenants.—Hominis de Hedingdon uno die colligent Noces nomine Domini in bosco qui vocatur Stowode—Hominis de Pydington per unum diem colligent Noces ad opus Domini in bosco suo cum uno homine.—Paroch. Antiq. pag. 495.

Nude Contract, Nudum pactum, Is a bare Promise of a Thing, without any Consideration; and therefore we say, Ex nudo pacto non oritur actio.

Nude Matter. See Matter.

Ad Numerum, Civitas Cant. reddit 24 l. ad Numerum, Domesday; that is, by Number or Tale, as 'tis called. And Libra Pensata vel Pandus, was by Weight. See Libra Arsa. Pecunia in numero, Ad numerum, numerata, was the ancient and usual Reservation, and supposed to be intended in all Grants, unless the contrary was expressed. Vide Hale of Sheriffs Accounts, pag. 25.

Numisiva Signifies the Stamp or Impression made on Money, and oftentimes Money it self, viz. Aureus Calix, & numerosum argenti Numisma.

Nummata terræ Is the same with Denariatus terræ, and thought to contain an Acre, Sciatis me (sc. Will. Longespee) dedisse & concessisse Ecclesie S. Marie de Wallingham & Canonice ibidem Deo Servientibus in perpetuum Elemosynam 40. Nummatas terræ in Wallingham, quæ fuit Archievel & Brining fratris ejus de socca Wibotane, libere, quiete & honorifice absque omni servitio & omni consuetudine. Spelman. This seems to be a Mistake, for Nummata signifies the Price of any Thing by Money, as Denariata doth the Price of any Thing by Computation of Pence, and Librata by Computation of Pounds.

Nummus, i. e. A Penny; 'tis mentioned in this Sense in Matt. Westm. Anno 1095. Tanta eis suppetebat copia ut aries uno Nummo, bos vix 12 nummis venderetur.

Nun, Nonna, Signifies a holy or consecrated Virgin, or a Woman that hath by Vow bound herself to a single and chaste Life in some Place and Company of other Women, separated from the World, and devoted to an especial Service of God by Prayer, Fasting, and such like holy Exercises.

Exercitūs. St. Hierom tells us, This is an Egyptian Word, as Hieronim recordeth of him in the Book De Origine & Progressu Monachatus, fol. 2.

Pruncius: We may call him an Apparitor, Sergeant, or Beadle.

Pruncuparibz Will. See Will.

Pruper writ Is a Writ that lies for a Coheir, being deforced by her Co-parcener of Lands or Tenements, of which the Grand-father, Father, Uncle, or Brother to them both, or any other their common Ancestor, died seised of an Estate in Fee-simple. See the Form of the Writ. Reg. Orig. fol. 226. &c. and Fitzh. Nat. Brev. fol. 197. But if the Ancestor died seised in Fee-tail, then the Coheir deforced shall have a Formedon, ibid. But where the Ancestor was once seised, and died not seised of the Possession, but in Reversion; in such a Case a Writ of Rationabili parte lies for the Party.

Nuisance (Nocumentum,) Cometh of the French Nuire, i. Noire, and signifies not only a Thing done, whereby another Man is annoyed in his Free Lands or Tenements, but the Affize or Writ lying for the same. F. N. B. fol. 183. And this Writ of Nocumento, or of Nuisance, is either simply de Nocumento, or de parvo nocumento, and then it is Vicountiel. Old Nat. Brev. fol. 108, 109. F. N. B. fol. 183, 184. Britton calls it Nofance, whom read, cap. 61, 62. Manwood in his Forest Lawes, cap. 17. makes three Sorts of Nuisance in the Forest: The first is, Nocumentum commune. The Second, Nocumentum speciale. The Third Nocumentum generale, which you may read there, (for I will not insist upon the Distinction) See Reg. Orig. fol. 197 & 199. Co. Rep. Williams's Case. Instead of this, now generally are brought Actions of Trespas, and upon the Case.

Nutgeld or Nutgeld. Carta Antiq. S. N. 29. A certain Tribute paid in Cumberland and Westmorland. It may be the same with Horngeld, for by Neut, Neat, is understood Cattle.—Richardus Rex, &c. Sciatis nos concessisse Gilberto filio Rogeri & heredibus suis quietantiam per totam terram suam de Westmorland & de Kendale de Nutgeld, &c. Cart. Ric. 1.

Nutmegs, Nuces muscatae, Is a Spice well known to all, described in Gerhard's Herbal, lib. 3. cap. 145. and mentioned among Spices that are to be garbled. 1 Fac. 19.

Nutritum, Breed of Cattle.—Quilibet Cusumarius Domina non debet vendere equum masculinum neque bovem de proprio nutrimento suo—Paroch. Antiq. p. 401.

O.

O. The seven Antiphones or alternate Hymn of seven Verses, &c. sung by the Quire in Time of Advent, was called O, from beginning with such Exclamation. In the old Statutes and Orders for the Church of St. Paul in London, in Time of Ralph de Diceto, Dean, there is one Chapter De faciendis O.—Debet etiam novus Residentarius contra Natale O suum intonare, & in domo sua post completorium totum Chorum invitare, &c. Liber Statutorum Eccl. Paul. London. MS. fol. 86.

Oale-Gabel. See Gavel-ster.

Oalehus, i. e. an Ale-house.

Oate-Gabel. See Gavel.

Oath, (Furamentum) Is a Calling Almighty God to Witnes, that the Testimony is true; therefore it is aptly termed Sacramentum, a Holy Band, a sacred Tie, or godly Vow. And it is called a Corporal Oath, because the Party, when he swears, toucheth with his right Hand the Holy Evangelists, or Book of the New Testament. Coke 3 Par. Inst. cap. 74. See the several Oaths of many of the Officers of this Kingdom in the Book of Oaths lately printed. In a Deed of William de Elmham, Knight, in French, Dat. 19 April, 49 Ed. 3. is this old-fashioned Oath, Promettant per lay foye de mon Corps & de Chivalerie, que si Dieu moy voille mesmez en savete, &c. jeo delivreray les avantditz sommes, &c. MS. Penes Will. Dugdale, Ar. and anciently at the End of a legal Oath was added, So help me God at his holy Dome, i. e. Judgment. Black Book of Heref. fol. 46. 'Tis called Canonica Purgatio, because allowed by the Canons to distinguish it from vulgari Purgatione, viz. by Bartel, or by Fire or Water Ordeal, which was always prohibited by the Church, and in small Matters which the Plaintiff could not prove, or if he could, and his Proof was disallowed by the Court, the Defendant might purge himself by his own Oath, and this was called Furare propria manu; but in greater Affairs he was to bring some other credible Persons, who were usually of the same Quality or Condition with the Plaintiff, and they were to swear, that they believed what the Defendant had sworn was true, and those were called Sacramentales, whose Number were more or less, according to the Quality of the Criminal, and to the Fault or Thing in Question. If the Defendant was accused of a very great Offence, of which there was no Proof, then he was to purge himself by the Oaths of Twelve such Witnesses; and this was called Furare duodecima manu. Leg. Hen. 1. cap. 64.

Our Ancestors did believe, that a Man could not be so wicked as to call God to witnes any Thing which was not true; but that if any one should be perjured, he must continually expect that God would be the Revenger. Such Instances are mentioned in our Historians. See Malinslib. 2. c. 6.

Oath of the King, Furamentum Regis, Is that which the King taketh at his Coronation, mentioned by Bracton, and divers others.

Oath of the King's Justices Is the Oath they take at the Entrance into their Office, mentioned Anno 18 Ed. 3. stat. 4.

Obba. Servientes infirmatorii & refectorii respondeant suis Magistris de cibis argenteis & maris, cochalibus argenteis, Obbis, salariis, Mappis & manutergis—Hist. Ingulphi. p. 104.

Obedientia Was a Rent, as appears out of Roger Hoveden, parte poster. annal. suor. pag. 430. in these Words, Ut ergo eis (sc. regularibus) adimatur opportunitas evagandi, prohibemus, ne redditus quos Obedientias vocant ad firmam teneant, &c. In the Canon Law it is used for an Office, or Administration of an Office; and thereupon the Word Obedientiales is used in the Provincial Constitutions, for those which have the Execution of any Office under their Superiors. Cap. prim. de Statu regulae. For thus saith Lindewode in his Gloss upon that Word, Hi sunt qui sub Obedientia suorum Prælatorum sunt & habent certa officia administranda interius vel exterius. It may be that some of these Offices called Obedientia, consisted in the Collection of Rents or Pensions, and that therefore those those Rents were by a Metonymy, called Obedientie quæ colligebantur ab Obedientialibus. Concil. Eboracens. Anno 1195. But Obedientia, in a general Acceptation of the Word, signified every Thing that was enjoined the Monks by the Abbot: And, in a more restrained Sense, the Cells or Farms which belonged to the Abbey, to which the Monks were sent, vi ejusdem obedientiæ, either to look after the Farms, or to collect the Rents, which were likewise called Obedientia. So in Matt. Paris. Anno 1213. In qualibet Balliva quas obedientias appellamus, &c.

Obit, A Latin Word, signifying a Funeral Solemnity, or an Office for the Dead, most commonly performed at the Funeral, when the Corps lie in the Church uninterred: Also the Anniversary Office. Cro. 2 par. fol. 51. Holloway's Cafe. It was held 14 Eliz. Dyer, 313. That the Tenure of Obit or Chantry Lands held of Subjects, is extinct by the Act of 1 E. 6. 14. See 15 Car. 2. cap. 9.

Obit, Obituary, The Anniversary of any Person's Death was called the Obit; and to observe such Day with Prayers and Alms, or other Commemoration, was called keeping the Obit. In religious Houses they had a Register or Kalendar, wherein they entered the Obits or Obituary Days of their Founders and Benefactors, which was thence called the Obituary.

Objurgatrices, Scolds or Railing Women.

Item, quia per Objurgatrices & meretrices multa mala in villa oriuntur, viz. lites, pugnae, seu verberationes, diffamationes, & tranquillitatis perturbationes, tam de nocte quam die, ac Scismata inter Vicinos Villæ seu Burgi nostri prædicti, ac inobedientia contra Ballivos & alios ministros suos, ac alia multa inquietationes per earum butefas & clamores. Igitur utimur de eisdem, quod cum capta fuerint, habeant judicium de le Gogyng-toole, & ibi fiant nudis pedibus, & suis crinibus pendentibus & dispersis, tanto tempore, ut aspici possint ab omnibus per viam transeuntibus, secundum voluntatem Ballivorum nostrorum Capitalium; Et post judicium factum, ducantur ad Gaolium, & ibi morentur quousque redemptionem fecerint pro suis offensioibus & delictis ad Voluntatem Ballivorum & Communiatum. Et si per tale judicium noluerint castigari, a villa ejiciantur, & hoc per Ballivos cum posse Communitatis, si non per se fuerit, propter plura mala discrimina & pericula, quæ per eas oriri possent, & nedum per illas, sed etiam per earum mantentores; Et si earum mantentores sint de nostris Comburchensibus, fiat de illis sicut de perjuriis & tranquillitatem villæ perturbantibus, & eo facto amittant libertatem. MS. LL. liberi Burgi villæ de Mountgomery a tempore Hen. 2.

Oblata, Properly Offerings: But in the Exchequer it signifies old Debts, brought together from precedent Years, and put to the present Sheriff's Charge. See the Practice of the Exchequer, pag. 78. Also Gifts made to the King by any of his Subjects, which were so carefully taken Notice of in the Reigns of King John and Henry the Third, that they were entered in the Fine Rolls, under the Title Oblata; concerning which see Mr. Philips his Book of the Antiquity and Legality of Royal Purveyance. Spelman's Glossary, and Pryn's Annus Reginae. See Nova Oblata.

Oblatæ, The consecrated Wafers or Hosts distributed to Communicants in the Mass or Sacrament of the Altar.—— And hence the Word was afterwards used for thin Cakes or Wafers baked in Iron Moulds, which the French still call Oblee and Oblie.—— A customary Treat in religious Houses. Item singulis diebus dominicis in quadragesima dimidium præbendarum frumenti de granario ad Oblatas, ad Cœnam, & dimidium similiter in Cœna Domini ad idem.—— Monast. Angl. Tom. 1. pag. 149.

Oblatione, Oblationes, Are thus defined in the Canon Law, Oblationes dicuntur, quæcumque a piis fidelibusque Christianis offeruntur Deo & Ecclesiæ, sive res soli sive mobiles sint; nec refert an tegerentur testamento, an aliter donentur. cap. Clerici 13. quæst. 2. Read more thereof in Duarenus de sacr. Eccl. Minister. ac benef. cap. tertio, 12 Car. 2. cap. 11.

Oblations of the Altar, Customary Offerings from the Parishioners to the Parish-Priest, which were solemnly laid upon the Altar: Of which the Mass or Sacrament-Offerings were usually three Pence at Christmas, two Pence at Easter, and a Penny at two other principal Feasts. Under the same Title were comprehended all the accustomed Dues for Sacramentalia, or Christian Offices, which in the Vicarage of Burceffer, about the Year 1212. were one Penny for a Burial, one Penny for a Marriage, one Penny for Churching a Woman. Among the Altar Oblations were also reckoned the little Sums paid for saying Masses and Prayers for the Souls of the Deceased. See Mr. Kennet's Glossary.

Oblationes funerales, The Soul-seat or Offering to expiate the Omissions or Defaults of the Party deceased in paying Tithes, or other Ecclesiastical Dues, was at first an Oblation at the Funeral, which was often the best Horse of the Deceased, led before the Corps, and delivered at the Church-Gate or the Grave, for the Use of the Parish-Priest. To this old Custom we owe the Original of Mortuaries, &c. If the Corps of the Deceased was carried from the Mother-Church to any other Place of Sepulture, the accustomed Offerings were due to the Parish-Priest where the Party died.—— At the Burial of the Dead, it was a Custom for the surviving Friends to offer liberally at the Altar, for the pious Use of the Priest, and the good Estate of the Soul deceased. The Relicks of this Custom do still obtain in North Wales, where at the Rails, which decently defend the Communion-Table, there is a Tablet or flat Board conveniently fixed, to receive the Money, which at most Funerals is offered by the surviving Friends, according to their own Ability, and the Quality of the Deceased: Which seems a providential Augmentation to some of those poor Churches. See Mr. Kennet's Glossary.

Oblationes quatuor principales, The four chief or principal Offerings to the Parish-Priest, which were made in the Feast of All-Saints, Christmas, Candlemas, and Easter.—— Ita tamen quod Sacramenta baptismi, sponsalium, purificationis, & quatuor principales Oblationes, videlicet in Festis omnium Sanctorum, Natalis Domini, purificationis beate Mariæ, ac Pasche, ac mortuaria omnium & singulorum ibidem sepulturam eligentium cum omnibus oblationibus ratione funeris oblatis & Ecclesiæ debitum——integre referuntur—— Munimenta Hospitalis S. S. Trinitatis de Pontefraeto, MS. fol. 51.

Obligation, Obligatio, Is a Bond containing a Penalty, with a Condition annexed, either for Payment Payment of Money, Performance of Covenants, or the like, and so differs from a Bill that hath no Penalty nor Condition; and yet a Bill may be obligatory. Co. on Litt. fol. 172. and West Synbol. part 1. lib. 2. sect. 146.

Obligatus Is he that enters into such an Obligation, and Obligee the Person to whom it is entered into. Before the Coming in of the Normans (as we read in Inglulibus) Writings obligatory were made firm with Golden Crosses, or other small Signs or Marks. But the Normans began the making such Bills and Obligations with a Print or Seal in Wax, set to with every one's special Signet, attested by three or four Witnesses. In former Time many Houses, and Lands thereto, passed by Grant and Bargain without Script, Charter, or Deed, only with the Landlord's Sword or Helmet, with his Horn or Cup; yea, and many Tenements were demised with a Spur or Curry-comb, with a Bow, or with an Arrow. See Wang.

Obolata tertæ, In the Opinion of some, contains half an Acre of Land, others but half a Perch. Thomasius says, Obolum terræ is ten Foot in Length, and five in Breadth. See Fardingdele and Spelman's Glossary more at large upon this Word. But, Dedi duas solidatas, tres denariatas & obolatam annui redditus, Charta Johannis de Strete, 26 Edw. 3. signifies two Shillings and six Pence Half-penny yearly Rent.

Obolus ceræ Seems to be, half a Pound of Wax. Leg. Canuti, cap. 14. Et fiat in Anno Synbolum lucis, i. e. a Contribution for Candles, viz. Primum in Vigilia Pasche Obolus ceræ de omni bida, &c. See Farthingdale.

Obellæ For Cistellæ. Brompton, pag. 1224.
Oblentions, (Oblentions, i. Offerings. 2 Inst. fel. 661. Also Rents, Revenue, properly of spiritual Livings. Anno 12 Car. 2. cap. 11. Margeria Marescalla Comitissa de Warewyke universis Sanctæ matris Ecclesiæ filiis, &c. dedi—Omnes Oblentions, tam in decimis majoribus & minoribus, quam in aliis rebus de assartis de Wigencoc, & decimam pannagii & venationis de Wigencoc & de Rinsell, &c. MS. penes Will. Dugdale, Mil.

Ocasio Is, according to Spelman, taken for an Impediment. In the Charter of Liberties of Henry the First, we have these Words, Quorum Regnum oppressum erat injustis occasioneibus & exacti-onibus; and in Chart. Forest. cap. 12. unusquisque liber homo de extero sine occasione faciat in bosco suo vel in terra sua—molendina, vivaria, &c. Ocasio is also taken for a Tribute which the Lord imposed on his Vassals or Tenants. Propter Occasiones bellorum vel aliarum necessitatum. And therefore,

Occasionare Signifies to be charged or loaded with Payments. Non propter hoc occasioneitur coram Domino Rege & Justiciariis. Stat. Ed. 2. Anno 21. So in Fleeta, Ita quod ipsi vigilatores non occasione-entur. Lib. 1. cap. 24. par. 7. Lib. 2. cap. 66. par. 18, 19. Stat. Marlbridge, cap. 11. and in the Monast. 2 Tom. pag. 916. Festi claudi faciant, quod averia mea non possint transire & si transierint inde non occasionebo.

Occationes, (in some Authors corruptly written Ocasiones) Are Assarts, whereof Manwood speaks at large; the Word is derived ab Occando, i. e. Harrowing or breaking Clods: See Spelman's Glossary, verbo Assartum. Assarta vulgo dicuntur que apud Isidorum Occationes nuncupantur. Lib. Nig-ger Scacc. par. 1. cap. 13.

Occupant, If Tenant pur terme de auter vie dies, living Cestuy que vie; he that first enters shall hold the Land during that other Man's Life, and he is in Law called an Occupant, because his Title is by his first Occupation; and so if Tenant for his own Life, grant over his Estate to another, if the Grantee dies, there shall be an Occupant. Co. on Lit. cap. 6. sect. 56. and Bullstro'd's Rep. 2 par. fol. 11, 12.

Occupation, Occupatio, Signifies the putting a Man out of his Freehold in Time of War, and is all one with Disseisin in Time of Peace, saving that it is not so dangerous. Co. on Lit. fol. 249. Also Use or Tenure. So we say, such Land is in the Tenure or Occupation of such a Man, that is, in his Possession. See Tenure-Tenant. Also Trade or Occupation, 12 Car. 2. cap. 18. But Occupations, in the Stat. de bigamis, cap. 4. are taken for Ufurpations upon the King, and is when one usurps upon the King, by using Liberties which he ought not. And as an unjust Entry upon the King into Lands or Tenements is an Intrusion, so an unlawful Using of Franchises is a Ufurpation. But Occupations in a larger Sense, are taken for Purprestures, Intrusions and Ufurpations. See 2 Inst. fol. 273.

Occupavit Is a Writ that lieth for him which is ejected out of his Land or Tenement in Times of War, as a Writ of Novel disseisin lies for one ejected in Time of Peace. Ingham, sect. Brief. de Novel Disseisin.

Octavi, Octava, The eighth Day following some peculiar Feasts. See Utias.

Ortoplatum Pzomontozium, St. David's Head in Pembrokeshire.

Osto tales. See Tales. See Bro. Tit. Osto tales.

Ostio & atia Is an old Writ mentioned in the Statute of Westm. 1. made 3 E. 1. cap. 11. And it was directed to the Sheriff, to enquire whether a Man committed to Prison upon Suspicion of Murder, be committed upon just Cause of Suspicion, or only upon Malice. Register, fol. 133. Bracton, lib. 3. part 2. cap. 20. And if upon Inquisition it were found, That he was not Guilty, then there came another Writ to the Sheriff to bail him. But now that Course is taken away by the Statute of 28 E. 3. cap. 9. as appears in Staundford, Pl. Cor. fol. 77. and Co. lib. 9. fol. 56. and Spelman, verbo Atia. Atia was anciently written Hatia, or Hatya, for Hate, from the Saxon Hatian, To wax hot, to rage, also to hate; not Atia, quia Malitia est acida, as Sir Edw. Coke has it in his 9 Rep. fol. 506. and in 2 Inst. fol. 42. See Spelman on Atia.

Odonarium for Donarium, i. e. Murus.

Oeconomus. This Word was used for the Executor of a last Will and Testament, as the Person who had the Oeconomy or fiduciary Disposal of the Goods of the Party deceased—Per testamentum suum constituerat—ut Oeconomus illius Dominus Georgius Winter testamentum suum violavit. Hist. Dunelm. apud Whartoni Angl. Sacr. Part 1. pag. 784. See Vicdomini. Sometimes the Word is taken for an Advocate or Defender; as, Summus secularium Oeconomus, & protector Ecclesiæ. Mat. Paris. Anno 1245.

Oferhynchide, and Oferhynchessa, In the Council holden at Winchester, in the Time of Archbishop Lanfranc, Anno 1076. we read, Si autem post excommunicationem & satisfactionem venerint, forsachuram suam, qua Anglice vocatur Oferhynchide

seu Cahllite, pro unaqueque vacatione Episcopo suo reddant. See Gloss. in 10. Scriptor. verbo Overhernessa.

Offertorium, A Piece of Silk or fine Linen, to receive and wrap up the Offerings or occasional Oblations in the Church. Hence in the Statutes of the Church of St. Paul in London, it was ordained, Ut Sacrificia curet quod corporalia, pale, vestimenta, Offertoria & abstersoria munda sint integra & nitida. — Ex libro Statut. Eccl. S. Pauli, Lond. MS. fol. 39. b. We are told by Onuphrius Panvinus, and from him by Ludovicus de Lacerda, Offertorium esse sindonem sericeam, seu Lintamen, in quo fidelium oblationes reponebantur. 'Tis a Word mentioned in a Visitation of the Treasury of the Church of St. Paul, London, Anno 1295. viz. Offertorium fragulum de rubro & viridi, &c. Sometimes 'tis taken for the Antiphona or Singing at the Time when the Sacrament is administered:

Affectum spondet Chorus Offertoria cantans.

And sometimes 'tis taken for the Offerings of the Faithful, and is the same with Oblatio.

Office, Officium, Doth signify not only that Function by Virtue whereof a Man hath some Employment in the Affairs of another, as of the King, or of another Person; but also an Inquisition made to the King's Use of any Thing by Virtue of his Office who enquireth. And therefore we oftentimes read of an Office found, which is nothing else but such a Thing found by Inquisition made ex Officio. And in this Sense it is used, 33 H. 8. 20. and in Staunf. Pervog. fol. 61. where to traverse an Office, is to traverse the Inquisition taken of an Office, and in Kitchin, fol. 177. To return an Office, is to return that which is found by Virtue of the Office. See also the New Book of Entries, Tit. Office pur le Roy, and this is by a Metonymy of the Effect. And there be two Sorts of Offices in this Signification issuing out of the Exchequer by Commission, viz. An Office to entitle the King to the Thing enquired of, and an Office of Instruction, for which see Co. 6. Rep. fol. 52. Page's Case. Office in Fee, is that which a Man hath to himself and his Heirs. 13 E. 1. cap. 25. Kitch. fol. 152. See Clerk.

Official, Officialis, Is a Word very diversly used; for sundry Civilians of other Countries, that write in these Days, apply it to such as have the Sway of temporal Justice. Egidius Bossius in pract. crim. Tit. De Officialibus corruptis, &c. But by the antienter Civil Law it signifies him that is the Minister, or Apparitor of a Magistrate or Judge, lib. 1. sect. si quis ultro. In the Canon Law, it is especially taken for him to whom any Bishop doth generally commit the Charge of his spiritual Jurisdiction, and in this Sense one in every Diocese is Officialis Principalis, whom the Statutes and Laws of this Kingdom call Chancellor, 32 H. 8. 15. The Rest, if they be more, are by the Canon Law called Officiales Foranei, Gloss. in Clem. 2. de Rescriptis, but with us termed Commissioners, Commissarii, or sometimes Commissarii Foranei. The Difference of these two Powers you may read in Lindevalde, Tit. de Jurestrata possess. cap. 1. verbo Officialis. But this Word Official in our Statutes and Common Law, signifies him whom the Archdeacon substituteth in the Executing of his Jurisdiction, as appears by the said Statute.

Officiariis non faciendis vel amovendis Is a Writ directed to the Magistrates of a Corporation, willing them not to make such a Man an Officer, and to put him out of the Office he hath, until Enquiry be made of his Manners, according to an Inquisition formerly ordained. Reg. Orig. fol. 126.

Officium Curtagii Pannorum, Granted to Will. Osborne. Extra. Fin. Cancell. 2 E. 2. m. 18.

Ofgang-fordell: Spelman thinks it should rather be read Ofgang for Ordal, i. transitus ad ordalium. Eantque (rei) ad triplex judicium quod Angli Ofgang-fordell vocant. Constit. Canuti Reg. de Foresta, cap. 11.

Ofle-town in Herefordshire. See Blestium.

Oleron laws, Or the Laws of Oleron, (Leges Ulavenfes) are so called, because made when King Richard the First was there, and have Respect to Maritime Affairs. Co. on Lit. fol. 260. This Oleron is an Island in the Bay of Aquitain, at the Mouth of the River Charent, now belonging to the French King. See Selden's Mare Clausum, fol. 222 & 254. and Pryn's Animadversions on Co. 4 Inst. fol. 126.

Ollata cerevisiæ. A Pot or Flaggon of Ale or Beer. — Et si brasient ad vendendum, dabit pro quolibet bracino unum denarium, vel ollatam cerevisiæ, tanti pretii pro tolno. — Consuetud. Domus de Farendon, MS. f. 9.

Olympiad, Olympias, The Space of five Years: Ethelred, King of the English Saxons, reckoned his Reign by Olympiads, as appears by a certain Charter of his, having these Words, Consentiens (inquit) signo sanctæ Crucis subscripsi in Olympiade 4. Regni mei. And this, by cotemporary Writers, seems to have been the sixteenth Year of his Reign, and the Year of our Lord 994. or thereabouts. Spelman.

Oncunne, i. e. Accused. From the Saxon Oncunnen, Accusatus. Si quis alium Godborgis oncunna & compellare velit, quod ei aliquid ipsorum non complevit perjuret, hoc in 4 Evangelis fiat. Leg. Alfred. cap. 29.

Oneath, i. e. the Knee.

Onerando pro rata portionis Is a Writ that lies for a Joint-tenant, or Tenant in Common, that is distrained for more Rent than his Proportion of the Land cometh to. Reg. Orig. fol. 182.

O. ni. In the Exchequer, as soon as a Sheriff enters into his Accounts, for Issues, Amerciaments, and mean Profits, they set upon his Head this Mark O. Ni. which denotes Oneratur, nisi habet sufficientem exoneracionem; and thereupon he forthwith becomes the King's Debtor, and a Debt set upon his Head, and then the Parties Perawyle become Debtors to the Sheriff and discharged against the King. Co. 4 Inst. fol. 116.

Onus importandi, The Charge of Importing, mentioned 12 Car. 2. Art. 28.

Onus probandi, The Burden of proving, spoken of, 14 Car. 2. cap. 11. and several other Statutes.

Open Latr, Lex manifesta seu apparens, Is making Law, which, by Magna Charta, cap. 21. Bailiffs may not put Men unto upon their own bare Assertions, except they have Witnesses to prove the Truth thereof. See Law.

Omentheof, Ouen Thref, That is, open Theft. Quadam placita vel crimina emendari non possunt quæ sunt Husbrech, Bernet, Open Thref, Ebercmord and Lafordswick. Leg. Hen. 1. cap. 13. Hoc in emendationibus Williel. pri. Ran dicitur, faith Spelman.

Operarii. In ancient Surveys and Accounts of Manors, we meet often with those Tenants which were called Operarii; they were those who had some little Portions of Land by the Duty of performing many bodily Labours, and other servile Works for their Lord, and were no other than the Servi, Natives, and Bond-men.

Operatio, One Day's Work performed by any inferior Tenant to the Lord.— Homines de Hedingdon facient Hugoni & bareddis suis pro quolibet viginti terre sexdecim Operationes, videlicet, uno die inter Festum, &c. Paroch. Antiq. p. 320.

Operti Canes, Dogs with whole Feet not lawed.— Et debent habere Canes Opertos (sen Operas) ex omni genere Canum, & non impeditatis. Culumar. de Sutton Colfield.

Opirus for Opijyrus, or Opius. Tritico deficiente panis eorum Opirus & nucidus, i. e. The Bread is coarse and musty. Matt. Paris. Anno 1248.

Oppa. See Blanbournum.

Opton. When a new Suffragan Bishop is Consecrated, the Archbishop of the Province, by a customary Prerogative, does Claim the Collation of the first vacant Dignity or Benefice in that See, at his own Choice, which is therefore called the Archbishop's Opton.

Orā. Ego frater Nigelus Dei gratia Abbas Bertonia, dedi, in Capitulo nostro, & omnes fratres mei mecum, terram de Ocovere, Ormaz, hac conventionē, ut unoquoque anno nobis xx Oras persolverat, & proinde factus est homo noster. Sine dat. This was Saxon Money or Coin, valued at sixteen Pence a-piece, (often found in Domesday), and sometimes, according to the Variation of the Standard, twenty Pence. Homines de Berkholt in Com. Suff. dicunt quod tempore Regis Hen. Avi domini Regis nunc, solebant habere talem Consuetudinem, quod quando maritare volebant filias suas, solebant dare pro filiabus suis maritandis duas Oras, quæ valent xxxii Denar. Pla. coram Rege, Mich. 37 H. 3. Rot. 4. It was the same with our Ounce, which is valued at twenty Pence. This was the Opinion of Spelman and Sommer. 'Tis a Word often mentioned in Domesday, viz. Tale manerium reddit 30 libras denariorum de 20 in Ora. In Leg. Canuti, fifteen Ora make a Pound, cap. 31.

Orando pro Rege & Regno. Before the Reformation, while there was no standing Collect for a sitting Parliament, as soon as the Houses were met, they petitioned the King that he would require the Bishops and Clergy to pray for the Peace and good Government of the Realm, and for a Continuance of the good Understanding betwixt his Majesty and the Estates of his Kingdom. And accordingly the Writ De Orando pro Rege & Regno was common in Edward the Third's Time. Mr. Nicholson's Engl. Histor. Libr. Part 3. p. 66.

Orarium, The Hem or Border of a Garment.— Richardus de Bury Episcopus Dunelm. dedit Ecclesie sue vestimentum de nigra cumica cum tribus capis ejusdem secte cum largis Orariis decenter ornatis. Hist. Dunelm. apud Whartoni Angl. Sacr. Part 1. p. 766.

Orbis, Anglice, A Bonney, a Swelling or Knot in the Flesh caused by a Blow. Braut. lib. 3. Tit. De Corona, cap. 23. num. 2.

Arma moluta plagam faciunt, sicut gladius, bisacuta & hujusmodi; Ligna vero & lapides faciunt Bruiuras, Orbis & istius qui judicari non possunt ad plagam.

Orchel, (Anno 1 Ric. 3. cap. 8.) Orchal, (Anno 24 Hen. 8. cap. 2. and 3 & 4 Edw. 6. cap. 2.) seems to be a Kind of Cork, or rather a Kind of Stone like Allum, which Dyers use in their Colours.

Ordeffe or Ordeffe, Effusio metalli, Is a Word derived from the Saxon Ore, Metallum, and Delfan, effudere, and often used in Charters of Privileges, being taken for a Liberty, whereby a Man claims the Ore found in his own Ground, but properly is the Ore lying under Ground: As also a Delfe of Coal, is Coal lying in Veins under Ground, before it is digged up.

Ordel, Ordalum, Is a Saxon Word, compounded of Or, magnum, and deat, alias dele, Judicium, or as others, from Or, which in that Language is privative, and del, part, that is, expers criminis, or not Guilty; but is used for a Kind of Purgation practised in ancient Times, and in the Canon Law called Purgatio vulgaris. There were of this two Sorts, one by Fire, another by Water. Of these see Mr. Lambard, in his Explication of Saxon Words, verbo Ordalum: Of this you may read likewise Hollingshed, fol. 98. and Hototum especially, Disput. de Feud, pag. 41. where, of five Kinds of Proofs, which he calleth Feudales probationes, he maketh this the Fourth, calling it Explorationem, & hujus furiosa probationis 6. genera fuisse animadvertit, viz. per flammam, per aquam, per ferrum candens, per aquam vel gelidam vel ferventem, per sortes & per corpus Domini, of all which he alledgeth several Examples out of History, very worthy the Reading. See Skene de verbor. significat. verbo Machinam. This seems to have been in Use in Henry the Second's Time, as appeareth by Glanville, lib. 14. cap. 1. 2. See also Versteegan, cap. 3. pag. 63. &c. See also Hoveden 556. This Ordalian Law was condemned by Pope Stephen the Second, and afterwards here totally abolished by Parliament, as appears by Rot. Paten. de Anno 3 Hen. 3. Memb. 5.

HENRICUS III. *Dei Gratia Rex, &c. dilectis & fidelibus suis Philippo de Ulecoet & Socii suis Jusficiariis itinerantibus in Comitatibus Cumberland, Westmorland, & Lancastrer, Salutem. Quia dubitatum fuit & non determinatum ante inceptiōem itineris vestri, quo judicio deducendi sunt illi qui reſtati sunt de Latrocinio, Muro, incendio, & hiis ſimilibus, cum prohibuit ſit per Eccleſiam Romanam Judicium Ignis & Aquæ; Proviſum eſt a Concilio noſtro, ad præſens, ut in hoc itinere, ſic fiat de reſtati de hujusmodi exceſſibus, viz. Quod illi qui reſtati ſunt de criminibus prædictis majoribus, & de eis habeatur ſuſpicio quod culpabilis ſint de eo unde reſtati ſunt (de quibus etiam licet Regnum noſtrum abjurarent adhuc ſuſpicio eſſet quod poſtea maleſacerent) teneantur in Priſona noſtra, & ſalvo cuſtodiantur, ita quod non incurrant periculum vita vel membrorum occasione priſone noſtre. Illi vero qui mediis criminibus reſtati fuerint, & quibus competeret Judicium Ignis vel Aquæ, ſi non eſſet prohibitum, & de quibus, ſi regnum noſtrum abjurarent, nulla fuerit poſtea maleſaciendi ſuſpicio, Regnum noſtrum abjurent. curos plegios inueniant de fidelitate & pace nostra conservanda, & sic dimittantur in terra nostra. Cum igitur nihil certius providerit in hac parte Consilium nostrum ad præsens, velinquimus discretioni vestra hunc Ordinem predictum observandum in hoc itinere vestro, ut qui personas hominum, formam delicti, & ipsum verum veritatem melius cognoscere poteritis, hoc Ordine secundum discretiones & Conscientias vestras in huiusmodi procedatis, &c. In cuius Rei Testimonium, &c.
Teste Domino P. Wintoniensis Episcopo apud West. 26 die
Jan. Anno regni nostri tertio. Per eundem & H. de Burgo Justiciarium. See Spelman at large upon this Subject, verbo Ordalium, Co. lib. 9. de strata Marcella, and the Saxon Dictionary. See Fire Or-dale, and Water Ordale.*

Ordels, Oaths and Ordels, Was Part of the Privileges and Immunities granted in old Charters, meaning the Right of administering Oaths, and adjudging Ordeal Trials within such a Precinct or Liberty. — Abbas & Conventus Glaston per omnes terras suas habent focam & sacum, hundred setene, Othes & Ordels, calde borders, &c. Chartu-lar. Abbat. Glaston. MS. f. 87. a.

Ordinale, A Book containing the Manner of performing Divine Offices; In quo ordinatur Modus, &c.

Ordinance of the Forest, Ordinatio Forestæ, Is a Statute made touching Forest Causes, in the Thirty-fourth Year of Edw. 1. See Affise.

Ordinance of Parliament, The same with Act of Parliament. And Acts of Parliament are called Ordinances of Parliament often in the Parliament-Rolls. If there be any Difference, it is, that an Ordinance is but temporary, and to be altered by the Commons alone. But an Act is a perpetual Law, and cannot be altered but by King, Lords, and Commons. See Par. Roll. 37 E. 3. num. 38.
Pryn's Animadver. in 4 Inst. 13. Yet the Oracle of the Law, Sir Edw. Coke, does with many Citations assert, that an Ordinance of Parliament is to be distinguished from an Act, inasmuch as the latter can be only made by the King, and a threefold Consent of the Estates, whereas the former is ordained with One or Two of them.

Ordinary, Ordinarius, Is a Civil Law-Term, and there signifies any Judge that hath Authority to take Cognisance of Causes in his own Right, as he is a Magistrate, and not by Deputation;
but in the Common Law, it is taken for him that hath exempt and immediate Jurisdiction in Causes Ecclesiastical, as appears in Co. lib. 9. fol. 36.
Hensloe's Case. And the Statute of Westm. 2. cap.
19. 31 E. 3. cap. 11. and 21 H. 8. cap. 5. Co. 2
Inst. cap. 19. See Broke, hoc tit. and Lindewode in cap. Exterior. Tit. De constitutionibus, verbo Ordinarii, scilicet, Ordinarius habet locum principaliter in Epifcopo, & aliis superioribus, qui soli sunt universales in suis jurisdictionibus, sed sub eo sunt alii Ordinarii, viz. quibus competit Jurisdictio ordinaria de jure, privilegio, vel consuetudine, &c.

Ordinatione contra servientes Is a Writ that lieth against a Servant, for leaving his Master against the Statute. Reg. Orig. fol. 189.

Ordines, A general Chapter, or other solemn Convention of the Religious of such a particular Order. — Et in solutis Fratibus Roberto Lawton et Willielmo Meriton pro suis expensis versus ordines existentes apud Hygham Ferras ante Festum
S. Michaelis hoc anno vii Sol. Paroch. Antiquit.
P. 576.

Ordines majores & minores, The Holy Orders of Priest, Deacon, and Sub-Deacon, any of which did qualify for Presentation and Admission to an Ecclesiastical Dignity or Cure, were called Ordines majores; and the inferior Orders of Chantor, Psalmist, Ostiary, Reader, Exorcist, and Accolyte, were called Ordines mi-nores: For which the Persons so ordained had their Prima Tonsura different from the Tonsura Clericalis.

Ordinum Fugitivi. Those of the Religious who deserted their Houses, threw off their Hab-bit, and so renounc'd their particular Order, in Contempt of their Oath and other Obligations.
The Favouring and Protecting such Fugitives was charged on Thomas, Earl of Lancaster —
Ordinum fugitivos, legisque transgressores, ne lege plecterentur, pertinaciter favore. — Paroch. Antiquit.
p. 388.

Ordo Is taken for that Rule which the Monks were obliged to observe. In Eadmer. vita S. An-selmi, cap. 77. Hac & his familia Novitius dicit, dum
Ordo imprimis illi gravis videtur.

Ordo Albus, The White Friars. These were of the Order of S. Augustine. The Cisterians also were White. Of the Black Monks I find it thus verified:

Sunt trix nigrorum quæ vastant res Monachorum, Renes & venter, & pocula sumpta frequenter.

Ordo niger, The Black Friars. Sub norma Be-nedicti famulantes; as Ingulphus tells us, pag. 851.
and Mat. Paris. pag. 321, 514. The Cluniacs also wore Black.

Ordovices, North Wales.

Orea. — Et unum Messuagium ad Orea sua facienda. Mon. Angl. 2 Vol. fol. 265. a.

Oressi, In the Charter of Henry the First, to the Church of St. Peter in York — Decanus &
Capitulum habebant curiam suam & justitiam cum focco & sacca, Thol & Theam & Infangentheof, &
Ufangenthef, Flemenesth, Ordel, & Orest infra
tempus & extra, cum omnibus aliis immunitatibus, &c. MS.

Ozeum, Horreum, a Barn — Et unum Mes-suagium ad Orea sua facienda, 2 Vol. Dug. Monast.
265. a.

Osgild, alias Chesageld, (from the Saxon
Orf, Pecus, and Gild, solutio vel Redemptio), Is a Delivery or Restitution of Cattle. But Lambard says, 'tis a Restitution made by the Hundred or County, of any Wrong done by one that was in Pledge. Archa. pag. 125. Or rather a Penalty for Taking away of Cattle.

Ostrais, (Aurifrisum, i. e. Vestis acupicta aureis filis), Frizled or embroidered Cloth of Gold, made and used in England, both before and since the Conquest, worn by our Kings and Nobility, as appears by a Record in the Tower, where the King commands the Templers to deliver such Jewels, Garments, and Ornaments, as they had of his in Keeping, among which he names Dalmaticum velatum de Orefreis, i. e. a Dalmatic, or Garment, guarded with Orfrais. And of old the Jacquets or Coat-armours of the King's Guard were also termed Orfrais, because adorn'd with such Goldsmith's Work.

Osgallous, But more truly Orguillous, that is, proud and high minded; derived from the French
Orgueil, i. e. Pride.

Osgers, 32 E. 2. Stat. 3. cap. 3. Is the greatest Sort of North-Sea Fish, (for the Statute lays they are greater than Lob-fish) which we now call call Organ-Ling, corruptly from Orkney Ling, because the best are near that Island.

Orgline, i. e. Without Recompence. The Meaning is, where no Satisfaction was to be made for the Death of a Man killed; that is, he was lawfully slain. Si hoc inuenerit, jaceat Orgilde.

Originalia. In the Treasurer's Remembrance Office, in the Exchequer, are Records or Transcripts sent thither out of the Chancery, and are distinguished from Records, which contains the Judgments and Pleadings in Suits tried before the Barons of that Court.

Oratorium, i. e. A Porch or Court-yard. Nisi in refectorio vel Oriolo pranderet. Mat. Paris. 1251.

Oragium, Horologium, A Dial. In competis Ecclesie S. Pauline, London—Custodi Orlagii per annum 1 Mar.—Ex libro Statut. Eccl. Paul. London. MS.

Orped. Some Orped Knight, i. e. A Knight whose Clothes shined with Gold.

Orpelli Is a Word used in the Book termed Pupilla oculi, cap. De Chart. Forest. part 5, cap. 22. and signifies the Claws of a Dog's Foot, being taken from the French Orteils des pieds, i. e. digitum pedum, the Toes.

Ortolagium.—Pro uno Ortolagio & Nonna garba totius Lucrationis de Domino de B. Monast. Angl. Tom. 1. A Garden-Plot.

Oryal, Oriolum.—Ordinatio pro victu Fratris Johannis Asheli dudum Prioris de Darente facta 22 Octob. 1420.—Habent cameram quandam in eodem Prioratu vulgariter appellatam ly Oryal.—Et habent annuatim 40 Sol.—Colleston. Marth. Hutton, S. T. P. Ex Registris Ric. Flemmyng, Ep. Line. MS.—Adjacet atrium nobilissimum, quod porticus vel Oriolum appellatur. Mat. Paris. in vitis Abb. S. Albani. We may justly presume that Oriel or Oryal College in Oxford took Name from some such Room, or Portico, or Cloister.

Osculum pacis. It was a Custom formerly in the Church, that in the Celebration of the Mass, after the Priest had consecrated the Wafer, and spoke these Words, viz. Pax Domini vobiscum, that the People kissed each other; and this was called Osculum pacis. Afterwards, when this Custom was abrogated, another was introduced, viz. That whilst the Priest spoke these Words, a Deacon or Subdeacon offered the People an Image to kiss, which was commonly called Pacem. We read it in Mat. Paris. Anno 1100. Regem duxerunt ad offerendum & iterum reduxerunt ad pacem.

Osmonds, or Osmunds, (Anno 32 Hen. 8. cap. 14. and I find in Spelman's Gloss. Mention of a Last of Osmonds.) Is a Kind of Ore, or Iron-stone, assuming the Nature of Iron, and it seems was anciently brought into England.

Ostension Was a Tribute paid by Merchants for Leave to shew or expose their Goods to Sale in Markets. Qui per terras ibant ostensionem dabant & teloneum. Leg. Ethelred. cap. 23.

Ostium Garionis, Yarmouth.

Oswald's Law, By which was meant the Ejecting marry'd Priests, and Introducing Monks into Churches, by Oswald Bishop of Worcester, Anno 964.

Oswald's Law Hundred Is an ancient Hundred in Worcestershire, so called of Oswald, Bishop of Worcester, who obtained it of King Eadgar, to be given to St. Mary's Church there. It comprehends 300 Hides of Lands, and is exempt from the Jurisdiction of the Sheriff. Cam. Brit. Tit.

Worcestershire. See the Charter in Spelm. Councils, 1 Tom. fol. 432. and the Leiger-Book of Worcester in Bibl. Cotton.

Oswestry, A Town in Shropshire, so called from St. Oswald, who was overcome in Battle, and killed there by Penda.

Otho Was a Deacon-Cardinal of St. Nicholas, in carcere Tulliano, a Legate for the Pope here in England, 22 H. 3. whose Constitutions we have at this Day. Stow's Annals, pag. 305.

Othobonus Was a Deacon-Cardinal of St. Adrian, and the Pope's Legate here in England, 15 H. 3. as appeareth by the Award made betwixt the said King and his Commons at Kennsward; his Constitutions we have at this Day in Use.

Ouch, 24 H. 8. 13. A Kind of Collar of Gold, worn by Women about their Necks. It is sometimes also used for a Bos or Button of Gold set with some rich Stone.

Owely of SerVICES Is Equality of Services; as, when the Tenant Paravail owes as much to the Mesn, as the Mesn does to the Lord Paramount. Fitz. Nat. Br. fol. 136. So Owely of Partition. Coke on Littl. fol. 169.

Over. Words which begin or end with Over, and are Names of Places, signify a Situation near the Bank of some River; in the Saxon Ofar, Ripa; as, St. Mary Over in Southwark, Brownsover in Warwickshire.

Overtupt Is a Saxon Word, and signifies a Person convicted of a Crime: From the Sax. Ofer, Super, and Cythan, offendere. 'Tis mentioned in the Laws of Edw. apud Brompton, p. 836.

Oberhermissa, i. e. A Contumacy or Contempt of the Court. Sometimes it signifies a Forfeiture for such Contempt. In the Laws of Adelstan, c. 25. it signifies Contumacy, viz. Si quis Gemotum adire superfedat, ter emendet Overhermissam. In a Council held at Winchester, Anno 1027, it signifies a Forfeiture for such a Contempt, viz. Si autem (tertio vocati) post excommunicationem ad satisfactionem venerint, forisfacturam suam que Anglice vocatur Overseweneffe seu Lashlite, pro unaquaque vocatione Episcopo suo reddant. See Leg. Ethelred. cap. 27.

Overlamella, Si quis furi obviaverit, & sine vocatione gratis eum dimiserit, emendet secundum Wicram ipsius furis, vel plena lada se adlegiet, quod cum eo falsum nesciuit: Si quis audito clamore supersedit, reddat Overlamella regis, aut plene se laidiat. Lib. rub. cap. 36. This seems to have been an ancient Penalty or Fine (before the Statute for Hue and Cry) laid upon those, who, hearing of a Murder or Robbery, did not pursue the Malefactor. 3 Inst. fol. 116.

Overt Act, Factum apertum, An open Act, Co. 3 Inst. fol. 12. which must be manifestly proved.

Overt Word, An open plain Speech, derived from the French Overt, open, Anno 1 Mar. Seff. 2. cap. 3.

Ouale for Ovile. Mat. Paris. sub anno 1354.

Ourlop, The Leirwite or Fine paid to the Lord by the inferior Tenant, when his Daughter was corrupted or debauched. Natioi in villa de Wridthorp—solvit quilibet pro filiabus suis maritandis gersem Domino, & Ourlop pro filiabus correptis, & Stoth & alia servitia & auxilium. Petr. Blef. Contin. Hist. Croiland, p. 115.

Oussed, Derived from the French Oser, to remove, as oused of the Possession, that is, removed or put out of Possession. Mich. 9 Car. 1. Cro. 3 Rep. fol. 349. Poke's Case.

Ouffer le maine, Amovere manum, Signifies to take off the Hand, though in true French it should be Ouffer la main; in a legal Sense, it denotes a Judgment given for him that traversed or sued a Monfrans le droit, and is indeed a Delivery of Lands out of the King's Hands; for when it appeareth upon the Matter discussed, that the King hath no Right or Title to the Thing seised, then Judgment shall be given in the Chancery, That the King's Hands be amoved, and thereupon an Amoveas manum shall be awarded to the Escheator, which is as much as if the Judgment were given, that he shall have again his Land. Staundf. Prærog. cap. 24. See 28 E. 1. Stat. 3. cap. 19. It was also taken for the Writ granted upon this Petition. F. N. B. fol. 256. It is written Outter le maine. 25 H. 8. 22. But now all Wardships, Liveries, Primer Seisins, and Ouffer le mains, &c. are taken away and discharged by 12 Car. 2. cap. 24.

Ouffer le mer, Ultra mare, Is a Cause of Exceuse or Essoin, if a Man appear not in Court upon Summons, for that he was then beyond the Seas. See Essoin.

Oufanght Is thus defined by Bracton, lib. 3. tract. 2. cap. 34. Ufangethese dicitur latro extraneus veniens aliunde de terra aliena, & qui capus fuit in terra ipsius qui tales habet libertates: But Britton hath it otherwise, fol. 91. It is a Compound of Three Saxon Words, viz. Out, extra; Fang, capio vel capus, and Thes, i. e. fur. It is used in the Common Law for a Liberty or Privilege, whereby a Lord is enabled to call any Man dwelling within his own Fee, and taken for Felony in any other Place, and to Judge him in his own Court. Rassall's Exposition of Words, and 1 & 2 Ph. & Mar. cap. 15.

Outland, The Saxon Thanes divided their Bocland or hereditary Estate into Inland, such as lay nearest to their own Dwelling, and which they conveniently kept to their own Use: And Outland, which lay beyond, or out from among the Inlands or Demains: And was granted out to any Tenant hereditarily, but (like our Copyholds of ancient Time, which had their Original from hence) merely at the Pleasure of the Lord. This Outland they subdivided into Two Parts, whereof one Part they disposed among such as attended on their Persons either in War or Peace, called Theodens or lesser Thanes. The other Part they allotted to their Husbandmen, whom they termed Ceorls (i. e. Carles or Churls). Vide Spelman of Feuds, cap. 5.

Outlaw, Utlagatus, One deprived of the Benefit of the Law, and out of the King's Protection, Eleta, lib. 1. cap. 47. calls him Bannitum extra legem, and Bracton, lib. 3. tract. 21. cap. 11. num. 1. & 3. says, Forisfacit utlagatus omnia que pacis sunt, quia a tempore quo utlagatus est caput gerit Lupinum, ita quod ab omnibus interfici possit & impune; maxime si se defenderit vel fugerit, ita quod difficultis sit ejus captio: But in the Reign of Edward the Third, all the Judges agreed, That none but the Sheriff only, having lawful Warrant therefore, should put to Death any Man outlawed. Co. on Lit. fol. 128. See Utlawry, and Capias utlagatum.

Outlawry, Utlagaria, Is the Loss of the Benefit of a Subject, that is, of the King's Protection. See Utlawry.

Outparters, (Anno 9 H. 5. cap. 8.) A Kind of Thieves in Riddefdale, that stole Cattel, or other Things without that Liberty: Some are of Opinion, That those which in the forenamed Statute are termed Outparters, are now called Outputers, being such as set Matches for the Robbing any Man or House. See Intakers.

Outriders, Are Bailiffs errant, employed by the Sheriffs, or their Deputies, to ride to the farthest Places of their Counties or Hundreds, with the more Speed to summon such as they thought good, to their County or Hundred Courts. 14 E. 3. Stat. 1. cap. 9.

Outwaile, i. e. A mournful Thing; as, Now am I made an unworthy Outwaile.

Owdel. See Ordel.

Owely Is, when there is Lord, Mesne, and Tenant, and the Tenant holds of the Mesne by the same Service that the Mesne holds over of the Lord above him; this is called Owely of Services. See Owely.

Oxgang of Land, Bovata terra. Six Oxgangs of Land, is so much as Six Oxen can plough. Crompt. Jur. fol. 220. But an Oxgang seemeth properly to be spoken of such Land as lieth in Gay-nour. Old Nat. Brev. fol. 117. Skene de verb. signif. verbo Bovata terra, saith, That an Oxengate of Land should always contain Thirteen Acres, and that Four Oxengates extend to a Pound Land. Spelman says, Bovatus terre est quantum sufficit ad iter vel actum unius bovis. Ox enim est bos & gang vel gate, iter. See Co. on Lit. fol. 69. In Lincolnshire they corruptly call it an Oskin of Land.

Oyer Seems to have been anciently used for what we now call Affises.—Come Hawise de Veer meij impleda devant Justices en le Oyer de Chelmisford par un brief de Novel Disseisin, &c. Anno 13 Edw. 1. See Affise de Novel Disseisin.

Oyer and Terminer, Audiendo & terminando: In true French, Ovir & Terminer, Is a Commission especially granted to some eminent Persons, for the Hearing and Determining one or more Causes: This formerly was used only upon some sudden Outrage or Insurrection in any Place, Crompt. Jur. fol. 131, 132. Westm. 2. cap. 29. 13 E. 1. by which you may see who might grant this Commission, and for the Form thereof, and to whom it may be granted, F. N. B. fol. 100. and Broke, hoc tit. A Commission of Oyer and Terminer is the first and largest of the Five Commissions by which our Judges of Affize do sit in their several Circuits. In our Statutes it is often printed Oyer and determiner. See 4 Inst. fol. 162.

Oyer de Record, (Audire Recordum), Is a Petition made in Court, that the Judges, for better Proof sake, will be pleased to hear or look upon any Reord. So likewise to demand Oyer of a Bond, Deed or Covenant.

Oyez, Corrupted from the French Oyez, i. e. Audite, Hear ye, is known to be used by our Cryers, as well in Courts as elsewhere, when they make Proclamation of any Thing.

P.

Paagium, Matt. Paris. fol. 767. Feit equos meos & homines restare donec Paagium extorisset. Spelman thinks it should be read Passagium sive telonium exactum pro transitu per alterius ditionem.

Pacabilis, Payable, passable.—Johannes de Elvice, Prior de Kirkham habet unum Palfridum & unum summarium pro se, ad quorum prebendam recipiet duodecim quarteria bone & pacabilis averie, & sufficientem sufficientem equitaturam pro Capellano suo. xj. Kal. Jun. 1510. Ex Regist. Grenfeld, Archiep. Ebor. MS.

Pacare, To pay. As, tolnetum pacare, to pay Toll. Mon. Angl. Tom. I. p. 384. Hence

Pacatio, Payment. — Pannos sericos & alia rapit sine pacationis retributione. Mat. Parif. sub Anno 1248.

Pacatur. Leg. Ina, cap. 45. Et recipiet Agenfrida corium ejus, & carnem, & pacatur de cetero; i. e. Let him be free or discharged for the Time to come.

Pacification (Pacificatio), Anno 17 Car. 1. c. 17. A Peace-making, Quieting, or Appeasing; relating to the Wars betwixt England and Scotland, Anno 1658.

Pack of Wool Is a Horse-load, which consists of Seventeen Stone, and Two Pound. Fleta, l. 2. cap. 12. See Sarplar.

Packers Are those that barrel, or pack up Herrings, and they are sworn to do it according to the Statute made 15 Car. 2. cap. 14.

Parking whites, A kind of Cloth so called, mentioned 1 R. 3. cap. 8.

Pannage. Idem quod Pannagium. Vid. Chartam Regis Hen. 1. Ecclesia S. Martini de Bello.

Pargments, A Frize Cloth, mentioned in the Journal-Book of the House of Lords, in a Statute made 1 Eliz. not printed.

Pagus. This Word in old Records signifies a County, viz. Natus est Alfred Rex Anglo-Saxonum in villa Regia que dicitur Wanadig (now Wantage) in illo pago qui nominatur Barscive (now Berkshire) qui pagus taliter vocatur a Barroc fluvio, ubi buxus abundantissime nascitur: Affer, de Reb. gest. Anglor.

Paiars, i. e. To pay. In Stat. W. 2. cap. 46. Homesius est quod Prælati paiant pro superiori indumento, quam exeunt.

Paine fort & dure, Pœna fortis & dura. It signifies an especial Punishment for those that being arraigned of Felony, refuse to put themselves upon the ordinary Trial of God and the Country, and thereby are mute by the Interpretation of the Law. Britton mentions it in his fourth Chapter, fol. 11. And Staundford in his Pleas of the Crown, founding it upon the Statute of Westm. 1. cap. 12. describes it thus:

He shall be sent back to the Prison whence he came, and laid in some low, dark House, where he shall lie naked on the Earth, without any Litter, Ruffs, or other Clothing, and without any Rayment about him, but only something to cover his privy Members: And he shall lie upon his Back with his Head covered and his Feet, and one Arm shall be drawn to one Quarter of the House with a Cord, and the other Arm to another Quarter; and in the same Manner let it be done with his Legs; and let there be laid upon his Body Iron and Stone as much as he may bear, or more; and the next Day following he shall have three Mowels of Barley-bread without Drink, and the second Day he shall have Drink three times, as much at each Time as he can drinke of the Water next unto the Prison, except it be running Water, without any Bread: And this shall be his Diet till he die.

This Kind of Punishment, called by the Law Paine fort & dure, is that which we vulgarly call Pressing to Death.

Pais, A County, or Region; Trial per Pais, which, Spelman in his Glossary saith, Non intelligit- dum est de quovis populo, sed de compagenibus, hoc est eorum qui ex eodem sunt comitatu, quem majores nostri pagum dixere & incolas; inde pais, g in i vel y converso.

Paisse, Pasnage, or Liberty for Hogs to run in Forests or Woods to feed on Mast — In Abbe-lieia 30 Acres terra & paissonem centum porcorum, & communem pasturam, &c. Mon. Angl. Tom. I. p. 682. See Pessina.

Palagium Is a Duty to the Lords, for exporting and importing Vessels of Wine in any of their Ports, viz. Quieti de omni teloneo & passagio, passagio, cobuagio, pallagio, &c. Du Cange.

Palatine. See County-Palatine; and read Cassan. de Consuetud. Burg. pag. 14.

Palfrey, Palfredus, Palafredus, Palefredus, Palifredus, Is one of the better Sort of Horses used by Noblemen or others, for State: And sometimes of old taken for a Horse fit for a Woman to ride. Camden says, That W. Fauconberge held the Manor of Cukeny in the County of Nottingham, in Sergeanty, by the Service of shoeing the King's Palfrey, when the King shall come to Mansfield. See Co. on Lit. fol. 149.

Palfrey Silver. Custumam ibidem (speaking of Belvoir Castle) vocat Palfrey Silver, que levare debet annuatim de villis de Batelsford, Normanton, Herdeby, &c. Etsæet. 23 E. 3. Post mortem Gel. de Roos de Hamlake.

Palices, a Park Pale. Q. Elizabeth granted Wigmore Park to Tho. Crompton, and others, cum omnibus palicis, muris, &c. Pat. 43 Eliz. p. 4.

Palingman (Anno 22 Ed. 4. c. 23. and 11 H. 7. cap. 23.) Seems to be a Merchant Denizen, one born within the English Pale. But Dr. Skinner judges it to signify a Fishmonger, or Merchant of Fish; and I find the Word mentioned in an ancient MS. touching the Customs of the City of London, under the Title De Salmonibus vendendis. Spelman mentions this Word, but leaves it without interpretation.

Pallas, A Canopy. — Custodibus vero quinque portuum pallam super Regem cum quatuor hastis supportantibus. Mat. Par. sub Anno 1236. The Word was oft taken for an Altar-cloth, as — Henricus Abbas Glaston. temp. Hen. 1. dedit Ecclesie isti ornamenta satis pretiosa, videl. pallas ix. optimas, quarum quedam evant de diaphra, quedam de sanito. Char-tular. Glaston. MS. f. 12.

Pallicia, Pales, or paled Fence. — Firmarii maneriorum Ecclesie S. Pauli, London, curare tenentur — ut maneria sufficienter circumclaudantur vel ambiantur muro, vel saltem fossatis & bagis vivis, si fieri possit, alioquin sepibus vel palliciis oportere renovandis. Statut. Eccl. Paul. Lond. MS. f. 44. b.

Pallio conerire. It was a Custom formerly, That where Children were born out of Wedlock, and their Parents afterwards intermarried, that those Children, together with the Father and Mother stood under a Cloth extended whilst the Marriage was solemnized, which was in the Nature of Adoption, and signified a Legitimation. This is mentioned in an Epistle of Robert Groshead, the famous Bishop of Lincoln, who tells us, That it was an old Report, that by such Custom the Children were taken to be legitimate; and that in signum legitimationis nati ante matrimonium consecrarentur poni sub pallio super parentes eorum extenso in matrimonii solemnizatione: Which Epistle is mentioned by Mr. Selden, in his Notes upon Fleta, who likewise tells us, That in the Reign of R. 2. the Children of John of Gault, Duke of Lancaster, which he had before his Marriage by Catherine ne

Swinford, tho' they were made legitimate by Act of Parliament, yet they were covered with the Pail at the very Time of the Marriage of their Parents.

Pallium Is in many Places taken for the Silk with which Garments were made: 'Tis a Word often mentioned in our old Historians, but little understood at this Time. Durandus, in his Rationale, tells us, that it is made of white Wool, viz. The Nuns of St. Agnes every Year, on the Feast-Day of their Saint, offer two white Lambs on the Altar of their Church, whilst they sing Agnus Dei in a solemn Mass; which Lambs are afterwards taken by two of the Canons of the Lateral Church, and by them given to the Pope's Subdeacons, who put them to Pasture till Shearing-time, then they are shorn, and the Pail is made with their Wool mixed with other white Wool. 'Tis a Garment of three Fingers Breadth, cut round, that it may cover the Shoulders: It hath two Strings on each Side, before and behind; that on the right Side is single, but that on the left is double. It hath likewise four purple Crosses on the Right and Left, before and behind; and 'tis fastened with three Pins made of Gold, whose Heads are Saphire. The Pail thus made, is carried to the Lateral Church, and there placed on the High Altar by the Deacons of that Church, on the Bodies of St. Peter and St. Paul: And after the usual Watching, 'tis carried away in the Night, and delivered to the Subdeacons, who lay it up very safe.

And because it was taken from the Body of St. Peter, it signifies the Plenitude of Ecclesiastical Power, and therefore it was the Prerogative of Popes, who pretend to be the immediate Successors of that Saint, to invest other Prelates with it, which at first was done no where but at Rome; but afterwards, by Procuration, in other Places in this Form, viz. Instantur, instantius & instantissime in Consistorio a summo Pontifice expetitur.

Palls, Pallia, 25 H. 8. 20. Are Vestures made of Lambs Wool, in Breadth not exceeding three Fingers; and having two Labels hanging down before and behind, which the Pope gives or sends to Archbishops and Metropolitans, who wear them about their Necks, at the Altar, above their Ornaments. The Pail was first given to the Bishop of Ostia, by Pope Marcus the Second, Anno 336. And the Preface to an ancient Synod here in England, wherein Odo, Archbishop of Canterbury presided, begins thus—Ego Odo humilis & extremus, divina largiente clementia, almi Praesulis & Pallii honore ditatus, &c. Selden's History of Tithes, pag. 17. See more of this in Spelman's Glossary, verbo Pallium. See Cressy's Church History, fol. 972. and the Book called Blamyr in the Prerog. Office; and Sir Rog. Twissden's Hist. Vindication, fol. 41.

Palmale Hordeum.—H. Anno 1287, Reg. Ecel. Christi Cant. MS. This Palm-Barley is the Sprat-Barley, called in some Parts Beer-Barley, in others Battled-Barley, and in the Marches of Wales, Cymridge: It is fuller and broader than common Barley.

Palmer Are such as used to go in Pilgrimage out of Devotion; but of late Time, he that can deceitfully cozen at Cards or Dice, by keeping some of them in his Hands unseen, we call a Palmer.

Palmystr, (1 P. & M. cap. 4.) A Kind of Divination, practised by looking upon the Lines and Marks of the Fingers and Hands. This was practised by the Egyptians, mentioned in the said Statute, and there misprinted Palmystry.

Panaqua, Quasi panis Syrac, Holy Bread. Reg. Eccles. Hereford differentias referens Orientalis Eccles. à Romana, Artic. 10. Item (dicunt Græci) panem nostrum Panagium.

Pandectæ Are the Books of the Civil Law, compiled by Justinian: They are mentioned in Beda, and several other Historians of this Nation: Tres Pandectas nova translationis de Roma attulerit. Bede, cap. 15.

Pandorante. Concessi etiam ei cum cacubo suo proprio Pandoxando & Lotrando ubicunque poterit. Carta Walteri Muchegros sine Dat. 1. Liberty to Brew and Wash in his own Kettle.

Pandoratrix. In a Manuscript Book concerning the Laws, Statutes, and Customs of the free Borough of Montgomery, from the Times of Hen. 2. fol. 12. b. we read these Words, Item utimur de Pandoxatricibus, quod nemo potest brassare sive pandoxare in Villa & Burgo nostro nisi per redemptionem aliquam factam ad voluntatem Comburgensium nostrorum; & si talis Pandoxatrix brassaverit, & assiam Domini nostri Regis in Burgo & Villa positam & proclamatum frugerit, debet capi per Ballivos, amercari ad voluntatem Ballivorum nostrum, & non per parvas suos primo & secundo; & si tertia vice assiam frugerit, debet capi per Ballivos capitales, & publice duci ad locum ubi sitatur le Gogingstole, & ibi debet efigere unum de duobus, viz. An velit le Gogingstole ascendere, An illud judicium redimere ad voluntatem Ballivorum. In Goldman's Dictionary Pandox is made to signify a Drunkard, and Pandoxatorium a Brew-house; but in this Place it seems to signify an Ale-wife, that both brews and sells Ale and Beer.

Panell, Panella, vel Panellum, so written both by Ertefue; in his Book De Laudibus Legum Ang. cap. 25. and Co. on Lit. pag. 158. who says, It denotes a little Part. But the learned Spelman, in his Glossary says, Hoc est minus congruè: It properly signifying Schedula, vel Pagina, or rather Pagella, a Schedule, or Page; and thence deduces g in n transeunte: Sic veteres quidam Manifestat pro Magnificat. Hence comes the Law-Term Impannellare, to impanel; and to impanel a Jury, that is, To write in a Schedule or Roll the Names of such Jurors as the Sheriff returns to pass upon any Trial. Reg. Orig. fol. 366. So we say, A Panel of Parc-

Parchment, and the Counterpane of an Indenture. See 8 H. 6. cap. 12; and Spelman, verbo Panella.

This was their coarser Bread, made for ordinary Guests, and distinguished from their Household-loaf, or Panis Conventualis, which was pure Manchet, or White Bread. See Karite.

Panis militaris, Hard Bisket, Brown George; Camp-Bread, coarse and black The Prior and Convent of Ely grant to John Grove a Corrody, or Allowance—ad sum vitiun quolibet die unum panem monachalem, i. e. A White Loaf, and to his Servant unum panem nigrum Militarem, i. e. A little Brown Loaf, or Bisket. Cartular. Elyen. MS. f. 47.

Panis fortis & durus, When a Felon upon his Trial stands mute, and obstinately refuses to plead, one of the Penalties imposed for Contempt of the Court, is to be condemn'd ad panem fortem & durum, i. e. To have only hard, dry Barley-bread, and Puddle-water, &c.

Pannage, or Pawnage, Pannagium, Which is that Food that the Swine feed on in the Woods, as Mast of Beech, Acorns, &c. which some have called Pawnage: It is also the Money taken by the Assisors, for the Food of Hogs, with the Mast of the King's Forest. Crompt. Jur. fol. 155. Westm. 2. cap. 25. Manswood in his Forest-Laws, cap. 12. says, It is most properly taken for the Mast of the Woods within the Forest, or the Money due to the Owner of the same for it. Lindewode defines it thus, Pannagium est pastus pecorum in nemoribus, & in sylvis, utpote de glandibus & aliis fructibus arborum sylvestrium, quarum fructus aliter non solent colligi. Tit. de Decimis; mentioned also 20 Car. 2. cap. 3. Quisquis villanus habens 10 porcos, eat unum porcum in Pannagio. Domesday. This Word is variously written, Pannunagium, Panagium, Patnagium, Patnaglum, Pannagium & Penagium; and sometimes Pasnagium, from the French Pasnag. Breve Regis *Henrici 1. Pannus, a Piece or Slice of any Thing. Sylvester Giraldo, cap. 21. Militis quoque Coxa ferro utrinque vestita uno securis istu cum Panno lorice præcisa.

Pannus, A Garment made with Skins, Statutum fuit quod nullus habeat Pannos decisos & laceratos. Ger. Dowb. Anno 1188. Fleta, lib. 2. cap. 14. Par. 2.

Pantoneria, A Sort of Purse: The Word is mentioned in Fleta, lib. 2. cap. 82. par. 2. It may be taken for Pannetaria.

Papir, or Popr, Papa, May with Ease enough be derived from the old Greek Word παππας, intending a Father, and was antiently applied to other Clergymen in the Greek Church, but by Usage is particularly appropriated in the Latin Church to the Bishop of Rome: A Name very frequent in our Year-Books, especially in the Times of those Kings who too much abandoning their Imperial Authority, and abasing themselves beneath their Estate, suffered an Alien, a Foreign Bishop, that dwelt a Thousand Miles distant, to deprive them of the Disposition of many Spiritual Promotions; sometimes by Lapse, sometimes by Provision, or otherwise: For Redress whereof, divers Statutes were made, while this Kingdom was of the Roman Communion: But his Power was not wholly taken away, till towards the latter End of King Henry the Eighth's Reign.

Paper-Office. All Acts of the Council-Board, Occasional Proclamations, Dispatches and Instructions for Foreign Ministers, Letters of Intelligence, and many other Publick Papers communicated to the King's Council, or the two Secretaries of State, are afterwards transmitted to the Paper-Office, wherein they are all disposed in a Place of good Security and Convenience within the King's Royal Palace at Whitehall. See Mr. Nicholson's Engl. Hist. Libr. Part III. pag. 9. Also an Office so called, belonging to the King's Bench.

Par, In Exchange of Money, is a certain Number of Pieces of the Coin of one Country, containing in them an equal Quantity of Silver to that in another Number of Pieces of the Coin of another Country, v. gr. Supposing 36 Shillings of Holland to have just as much Silver in them as 20 English Shillings. Bills of Exchange drawn from England to Holland at the Rate of 36 Shillings Dutch for each Pound Sterling, is according to the Par.—Mr. Lock's Considerations of Money, pag. 18.

Paracium, The Tenure that is between Parceners, viz. That which the youngest oweth to the eldest. Domesday.

Paradisus Is a square Court before Cathedrals, surrounded with Piazza's, or Walking-places, supported with Pillars. Matth. Paris calls it Parvisus, viz. Multis diebus scholas exercens, venditis in Parvisio libellis. Anno 1250.

Paragium, (Paragium) Equality of Name, Blood, or Dignity; but more especially of Land, in the Partition of an Inheritance between Co-heirs: Purparty. Coke's 1 Inst. fol. 166. b. Hanc terram tenere duo homines in Paragio. Domesday. See Parinary. Hence we have Disparagement, and To disparage.

Paragium, Parage, Peerage; commonly taken for the equal Condition betwixt two Parties to be contracted, or married. For the old Laws of England England did strictly provide that young Heirs should be disposed in Marriage cum Paragio, with Persons of equal Birth and Fortune, sine disparagacione, without Disparagement.

Paragaph, Paragaphus, Is the Division of one Matter from another in several Lines: It is said to be Scriptura diviso. Per Isid. Not. in Princip. Decretorum.

Paramount Cometh of two French Words, Par, that is, per, and Monter, ascendere: It signifies in our Law the Supreme Lord of the Fee; for there may be a Tenant to a Lord, that holdeth over of another Lord; the former of which is called Lord Mesne, and the second, Lord Paramount, F. N. B. fol. 135. And a Lord Paramount (saith Kitchin, fol. 289.) consisteth only in Comparison, as one Man may be great, being compared to a less; and little, being compared with a greater: So that none seemeth simply to be Lord Paramount, but only the King, who is Patron Paramount to all the Benefices of England. Doct. and Stud. cap. 36. See Paravaile, Manor, Mesne, and Fee.

Paranymph, Paranympus, A Bride-man, derived from ἄγ, i. juxta, and νύμφη, sponsa; as much as to say, Affidens sponse, Assistant to the Bride and Bridegroom. Vocabular. utriusque juris verbo Paranympus.

Paraphernalia, Or according to the Civil Law, Paraphernalia, from παρ, præter, and νηπι, dos, Are those Goods which a Wife, besides her Dower or Jointure, is after her Husband's Death allowed to have, as Furniture for her Chamber, wearing Apparel, and Jewels, if she be of Quality; which are not to be put into her Husband's Inventory, especially in the Province of York. See Touchstone of Wills, fol. 201.

Pararia, A great Gun, or Petarde: Ingenia vero & Pararia Christianorum ita retro fossata erant, ut nullus ex parte adversa poterat eos nocere. Brompton, 1166.

Parasitus, A Domestick Servant: Ad duobus Parasitis suis in via fecit enim subito strangulari. W. Gemeticensis, lib. 7. cap. 10.

Parathalassia, Walsingham in the County of Norfolk, so styled by Erasmus.

Paravaile Is a Compound of two French Words, Par, i. per, and Avayler, demittere: It signifieth in our Common Law the lowest Tenant, or him that is Tenant to one who holdeth his Fee over of another, and is called Tenant paravaile, because it is presumed he hath Profit and Avayle by the Land, 2 Inst. fol. 296. and Co. 9. Rep. Cony's Case: For the Use of this Word, see F. N. B. fol. 135.

Parcelle terræ, A small Piece of Land. Sciatis, &c. quod ego Stephanus Wington de Bromyard dedi, &c. Roberto de Dunapton pro triginta solidis argenti unam parcelam terræ mea cum pertin. jacen. in Bromyard, &c. Sine Dat.

Parcel-makers Are two Officers in the Exchequer that makes the Parcels of the Escheators Accounts, wherein they charge them with every Thing they have levied for the King's Use within the Time of their Office, and deliver the same to one of the Auditors of the Court, to make an Account with the Escheator thereof. See The Practice of the Exchequer, pag. 99.

Parceners, Quasi Parceners, i. Rem in parcel-las dividens. Parceners therefore are according to the Course of Common Law, or according to Custom: Parceners according to the Common Law are, where one seized of an Estate of Inheritance, hath Issue only Daughters, and dies, and the Lands descend to the Daughters; then they are called Parceners, and are but as one Heir. The same Law is, if he have not any Issue, but that his Sisters be his Heirs. Parceners according to Custom are, where a Man is seized of Lands in Gavelkind, as in Kent, and other Places franchised, and hath Issue divers Sons, and dies, then the Sons are Parceners by the Custom. See Co. on Lit. lib. 3. cap. 1. sect. 241. and see Coparceners.

Partiary, Participatio, Cometh of the French Partir, i. Dividuum facere, and signifies in a legal Sense a Holding or Occupying of Land pro indiviso, by Joint-Tenants, otherwise called Coparceners, of the French Parsonier, i. Particeps; for if they refuse to divide their common Inheritance, and choose rather to hold it jointly, they are said to hold in Partiary. Lit. fol. 56, 57. This, by the Feudist and Lombards is termed Adequatio vel paragium, and accordingly in Domesday it is said, Duo fratres tenebant in Paragio, quisque habuit autem suam, & potuerint ire quo vulerint. The antient Romans stiled such Particulationes; sic enim auctore Nonnio, a veteribus coheredes inter se dicebantur quod partes invicem facerent. Spigelius.

Parto fracto Is a Writ that lies against him who violently breaks a Pound, and takes out Beasts thence, which for some Treasons done were lawfully impounded. Reg. of Writs, fol. 166. and Fitz. Nat. Br. fol. 100. For the Word Parcus was more frequently used for a Pound to confine trespassing or straying Cattle: Whence Imparcare, To impound, and Imparcatio, Pounding, Imparcamentum, Right of Pounding, &c. The Word still keeps the original Sense in Ireland, where a Pound for Cattle is still called a Pairk.

Pardon, Pardamatio, Is a French Word, signifying as much as Venia, and used in the Common Law for the Remitting or Forgiving of a Felony, or other Offence committed against the King; and this is two-fold, one ex gratia Regis, the other per Course de la Ley, by Course of the Law. Stau. f. Pl. Cor. f. 47. Pardon ex gratia Regis, is that which the King, in some special Regard of the Person, or other Circumstance, affordeth upon his absolute Prerogative. Pardon by the Course of Law, is that which the Law in Equity affordeth for a light Offence; as Homicide casual, when one killeth a Man, having no such Meaning. West. Symb. part. 2 Tit. Indultments, sect. 46. See more of this in the New Book of Entries, verbo Pardon.

Pardoners. Anno 22 H. 8. were Persons that carried about the Pope's Indulgences, and sold them to any that would buy them: But we have none at present in England that are known.

Parentela; de Parentela se tollere. i. e. To renounce his Kindred; which was done in open Court before the Judge, and in the Presence of Twelve Men, who made Oath, That they believed it was done lawfully, and for a just Cause. We read it in the Laws of H. 1. cap. 88. Si quis propter fadum vel causam aliquam de parentela se velit tollere, & eam forisjuraverit, & de societate & hereditate & tota illius ratione se separet, si postea aliquis a parentibus abjuratis moriatur, vel o ciadatur, nihil ad eum de hereditate vel compositione pertineat, &c.

Parish, Parochia, Signifies the Precinct of a Parish Church, and the particular Charge of a Secular Priest; for every Church is either Cathedral, Conventual, or Parochial: Cathedral is where there is a Bishop seated, so called: Conventual consisteth of Regular Clerks, professing some Order of Religion, or of Dean and Chapter, or other ther College of Spiritual Persons. Parochial is that which is instituted for the saying of Divine Service, and ministring the Holy Sacraments to the People dwelling within a certain Compass of Ground near it. Our Kingdom was first divided into Parishes by Honorius, Archbishop of Canterbury, in the Year of our Lord 636. Cambr. Brit. pag. 104. whose Number at present is esteemed to be Nine thousand, Two hundred, Eighty-four; though many Authors differ much herein. See Hotoman in his Disputations, De Feudis, cap. 2. concerning this Word Parochia—— Ego Ceolwulfus, Dei gratia Rex Merciorum, rogatus a Werfritho, Episcopo Hwiccorum, ipsam libertatem donavi, ut tota Parochia Hwiccorum a vastu equorum Regis & eorum qui eos ducunt, libera sit, &c. Charta Ceolwulfi Regis, Anno 872. Parochia did antiently signify what we now call the Diocese of a Bishop. — T. Episcopus, congregatis omnibus Clericis totius Parochiae, &c. 30 Mon. fol. 205.

Parit populus, Holderness in Yorkshire.

Park, Parvus, from the French Parc, or Parque, locus conclusus: It signifies with us a Piece of Ground inclosed, and stored with wild Beasts of Chase, which a Man may have by Prescription, or the King's Grant. Crompt. Fur. fol. 148. Mannwood in his Forest Laws defines it thus, A Park is a Place for Privilege for wild Beasts of Venery and also for other wild Beasts that are Beasts of the Forest, and of the Chase, tam silvestres quam campestres; and such a Park differs from a Chase, or Warren, in that it must be inclosed, and may not lie open; for if it do, that is a good Cause of Seizure into the Hands of the King, as a Thing forfeited, as a free Chase is, if it be not inclosed: besides, the Owner cannot have an Action against such as hunt in his Park, if it lie open. See Foress, Chase, Warren. Guilielm. Conq. liberum fecit Ecclesiam de Bello, de opere parcorum. Spelman's Gloss. And Hen. 1. had a Park at Woodstock, where in were Lions, Leopards, Camels, &c. brought thither from foreign Parts. Stow. An. 1117. See 13 Car. 2. cap. 10.

Parkbote Is to be quit of enclosing a Park, or any Part thereof. Co. 4 Inst. fol. 308.

Parle Hill. Spelman in his Glossary gives us this Description of it, It is (says he) Collis vallo plerumque munitus, in loco campestri, ne insidii exoneratur, ubi convenire olim solebant centurie aut vicinie inlece ad lites inter se tractandas & terminandas; Scotis reor Gathail, q. mons pacificationis, cui Asyli privilegia concedebantur, & in Hibernia frequentes vidimus, the Parle and Parling Hills.

Parliament, Parliamentum, Is deduced from a French Ground, viz. Parler, to speak, and Ment, Mens, the Mind; and the Writ which summons it, says, Ad consulendum, &c. de arduis Regni negotiis. It is indeed a solemn Conference of all the States of the Kingdom summoned together by the King's only Authority, to treat of the weighty Affairs of the Realm. The antient Britains had no such Assemblies; for Tacitus avers, That although olim Regibus parebant, non per Principes factionibus & studiis trahuntur; nec aliud adversus validissimas gentes pro nobis utilius quam quod in commune non consulunt: Ravus, duabus tribusve civitatis ad propulsandum commune periculum, conventus; ita dum singuli pugnant, universi vincuntur. That the Saxons had something like it, will appear from King Ina's Laws, who flourished Anno 712. Confilio (inquit) & documento Censedi patris mei, Hædde & Erkenwaldi, Episcoporum meorum, omniumq; Aldermannorum meorum, & Seniorum sapientium populi mei, magna etiam servorum Dei frequentia. But to come a little nearer, William the Conqueror divided this Land among his Followers in such manner, That every one of them should hold their Lands of him in Capite; and they again distributed Part thereof among their Friends and Servants, who for the same were bound to do them Suit and Service in their Courts: The Chief of these were called Barons, who thrice every Year assembled at the King's Court, viz. at Christmas, Easter, and Whitsontide; amongst whom the King was wont to come in his Royal Robes, and his Crown on his Head, to consult about the Publick Affairs of the Kingdom: But this antient Custom (say some) was changed by Henry the First, who in the Sixteenth Year of his Reign summoned of the Commons to the great Council at Salisbury. But see Sir Walter Raleigh, in his Book of the Prerog. of Parliaments, and Cotton's Posthuma, fol. 15. and Co. 2 Inst. fol. 268. At this Day it is the greatest Assembly of the Kingdom, consisting of the King and the three Estates of the Realm, viz. The Lords Spiritual, the Lords Temporal, and the Commons, for the debating of Matters touching the Common-wealth, especially the making and altering of Laws. Smith de Rep. Anglor. lib. cap. 1 & 2. and Cambr. Brit. pag. 112. Concerning which, Co. on Lit. lib. 2. cap. 10. sect. 164. and in the fourth Part of his Institutes saith, Si venustatem spectes, est antiquissima; si dignitatem, est honoratissima; si jurisdictionem, est capacissima. This in an antient Charter of King John was called Commune Concilium Regni. — Nullum futipium vel auxilium ponam in regno nostro, nisi per commune concilium Regni nostri. But besides this Supreme Court, there are other inferior Parliaments: The Abbot of Croyland was wont to call a Parliament of his Monks, to consult about the Affairs of his Monastery: These are the Words in the Book of Croyland, Concessimus etiam tunc Serjentiam nostræ Ecclesiæ Semanno de Lek, qui veniens coram oronvntu in nostro publico Parlamento similiter juramentum præstitit, quod fides & fidelis nobis existeret, &c. And at this Day the Societies of the two Temples, or Inns of Courts, do call that Assembly a Parliament, wherein they consult of the common Affairs of their several Houses. See Crompt. Fur. fol. 1. See King, and Royal Assent.

Parliament de la Boudie, A Parliament so called in Edward the Second's Time, to which the Barons came armed against the two Spencers with coloured Bonds upon their Sleeves for Distinction. Dug. Bar. 2 part.

Parliamentum Dilecticum, So termed; was a Parliament held at Coventry, 38 H. 6. wherein Edward Earl of March (after King) and divers of the Nobility were attained. But the Acts then made were annulled by the next Parliament. Hol. Chron.

Parliamentum Indoctorum Was a Parliament held at Coventry, 6 H. 4. whereunto, by special Precept to the Sheriffs in their several Counties, no Lawyer, or Person skilled in the Law, was to come; and therefore it was so called. Walsing. pap. 412. n. 30. Rot. Parl. 6 Hen. 4.

Parliamentum infanum (so called in History) Was a Parliament held at Oxford, Anno 41 Hen. 3. MS. in Bibl. Cotton. sub tit. Vitellius, c. 9. And was so called (say our Chronicles) because the Lords came with great Retinues of armed Men to it, and many Things were then enacted contrary to the King's Pleasure, and his Royal Prerogative.

Parliamentum Religioſorum. In moſt Convents they had a common Room, into which the Brethren withdrew after Dinner for Diſcourſe and Converſation; from whence it was called Locutorium, the Parlor, or Talking Room: And the Conference there had was called Parliamentum, which was ſometimes forbidden to be held, becauſe it interrupted the more meritorious Duties of Silence and Meditation. As in the Statutes of the Black Canons, Anno 1249. Cum quidam poſt prandium prioniores ſint ad loquendum quod non poſſent.—Statutum eſt quod Parliamentum quod poſt prandium in quibuſdam clauſtris fieri conſuevit, penitus interdicitur, & loco iſtius vacetur uberius meditationibus & lectionibus repetendis. Mat. Paris Additament. pag. 170.

Par Lintheozum, Par Loianozum. Præcipimus tibi, quod facias habere Thomas Sturmy, Violetto noſtro, unam robam de ſcarletto, cum quadam penula de byſſis, & aliam robam de viridi vel burnetta, & unam ſellam, & unum Par Loianorum, & capam ad plumam, & unam culcitram, & unum Par Lintheorum, quoniam ipſe fiet Miles. Clauſ. 6 Johannis. Dorſo. M. 20.

Parmentarius. I have ſeen it uſed in our Records for a Sirname, as Johannes Parmentarius, perhaps as Latin for Taylor, from the old French Parmentier, which ſignifieth the ſame.

Parochianus, A Compellation given by a Biſhop to any Perſon living within his Dioceſe or Jurisdiction. Alexander, Lincoln. Epicoſus, Guidoni de Charing Parochiano ſuo. Paroch. Antiquit. p. 90. For the Word Parochia was more properly applied to a Dioceſe, or Epicoſpal Diſtrict, before it was confined to rural Limits, or what we now ſtrictly call a Pariſh.

Parol (Loquela), Is a French Word. Kitch. fol. 193. uſes it for a Plea in Court. It is ſometimes joined with Leaſe, as Leaſe-Parol, that is, Leaſe per Parol; a Leaſe by Word of Mouth, to diſtinguiſh it from a Leaſe in Writing.

Parpunctum, Perpunctum, A Coat of Mail: A Doublet lin'd and quilted for Deſenſive Armour. Armatus quidam erat more peditum ſatis competenter, ferro tegmine capite munito, lorica quoque, tunica etiam linea multiplici conſuta lineis interioribus difficile penetrandis, acu operante artificioſiter implicitis, unde & vulgo Parpunctum nuncupatur. Gaufr. Vincelauf. Iter Hieroſ. cap. 48.

Parſon (Perſona) Signifies the Reſtor of a Church. He is called Perſona, becauſe of his Office; for the Profits of the Church were to maintain magnam perſonam; or rather, becauſe he is bound by Virtue of his Office in propria perſona ſervire Deo. See Bereſtarii. See Fleta, lib. 9. cap. 18. Charta Hugonis Puſſac (alias Puſſey & de Puteaco) tempore Hen. 2. Hugo, Dei gratia Dunelmensis Epicoſus, omnibus Archidiaconis ſuis, Clericis & Lai- cis Epicoſus ſui ſalutem. Sciatis nos ad præſentationem Roberti Capellani in Eccleſiam de Wittefeld, qua in ſeudo ſuo ſita eſt. Canonice imperſonalle Robertum nepotem ſuum. Quare volumus & præcipimus quatenus idem Robertus habeat & teneat Eccleſiam prænominatam libere & quiete, tam in decimis quam in cæteris obventionibus, ſicut aliqui Clerici liberi & quietius in Epicoſpato noſtro Eccleſias ſuas tenent: Salvo in omnibus Epicoſpalibus conſuetudinibus. Teſti- bus, &c. Endorſed thus, Præſentatio Roberti de Wittefeld.

Parſonage. Perſonatus, Perſonagium, I ſometimes taken for a Dignitary in a Church, and ſometimes for the Beneſice it ſelf; viz. Nam poſt Epicoſos & Abbates in Eccleſia Anglorum, hic primus & dignior perſonatus habetur. And Lindewode 118. tells us, that Perſonatus & dignitas vere ſupponunt pro eodem, licet in aliquibus locis Reſtores Eccleſiarum vocentur perſona, & ſic habent perſonatum, non tamen dignitatem. And in Mon. Angl. 1 Tom. pag. 816. Pro illo novo adificio quod ipſe fecit in perſonagio de Daſeburg.

Imperſonare, to be put in Poſſeſſion of a Parſonage. In a Charter of Hugh de Puſſet, Biſhop of Durham, we read, Sciatis nos ad præſentationem Roberti Capellani in Eccleſiam de Wittefeld, que in ſeudo ſuo ſita eſt, Canonice imperſonalle Robertum nepotem ſuum.

Parſonage, or Rectory, Is a Spiritual Living, compoſed of Land, Tithe, and other Oblations of the People, ſeparated or dedicated to God in any Congregation for the Service of his Church there, and for Maintenance of the Miniſter, to whoſe Charge the ſame is committed. Spelm. De non temerandis Eccleſ.

Parſon impropriate, Perſona imperſonata, Is he that is in Poſſeſſion of a Church, whether appropriated, or not appropriated. For in the New Book of Entries, verb. Ayd in Annuity, you have theſe Words, Et prædictus A. dicit quod ipſe eſt perſona prædictæ Eccleſie de S. imperſonata in eadem ad præſentationem F. Patroniſſæ, &c. So that perſona ſeems to be the Patron, or he that hath Right to give the Beneſice, by Reaſon that before the Latteran Council he had Right to the Tithes, in reſpect of his Liberality uſed in the erecting and endowing the Church, Quaſi ſuſtineret perſonam Eccleſie; and perſona imperſonata, to be he to whom the Beneſice is given in the Patron's Right; for we may read in the Register Judicial perſonam imperſonatam, for the Reſtor of a Beneſice preſentative, and not appropriated, fol. 34. And Dyer, fol. 40. Num. 72. ſaith, That a Dean and Chapter be perſons imperſonæ of a Beneſice appropriated unto them; and fol. 221. expreſſly ſhews, That perſona imperſonata is he that is induſted, and in Poſſeſſion of a Beneſice. So that perſona ſeems to be termed imperſonata, in reſpect of the Poſſeſſion that he hath of the Beneſice or Rectory, be it appropriate, or otherwiſe, by the Act of another. Co. on Lit. fol. 300.

Parſon mortal, Parſon immortat. The Reſtor of a Church, inſtituted and induſted for his own Life was called Perſona mortalis; and any Collegiate, or Conventual Body, to whom the Church was for ever appropriated, were called Perſona immortalis. Præſatus Simon, Reſtor Eccleſie de Cumpſton, & omnes ſucceſſores eiſdem, ſive perſonæ fuerint mortales, ſive immortales. Chartular. Rading. MS. fol. 182.

Parters of Gold and Silber. See Emers. Partes ſinis nihil habuerunt, &c. Is an Exception taken againſt a Fine levied. Co. 3 Rep. fol. 88. The Caſe of Times.

Partirata terra. See Perticata terra.

Participatio Is the Charity ſo called, by which the Poor are made participes of other Mens Goods. We may read it in ſeveral Places in the Monast. 2 Tom. pag. 321. Et ad faciendum pro prædictis animabus tres participationes per annum, &c. quilibet eorum unum panem pretii unius quadrantis, & unum allee participationem unius miliaris pauperum, &c. ordinavit, &c. And in another Place: Relaxamus, &c. prædicta onera diſtarum trium participationum, &c. ita ut nunquam de cætero erogare teneantur, & volumus quod pro eiſdem participationibus faciant diſtributionem 13 ſolidorum.

Particus. The same with Park. Si fractura Partici fiat in Curia Regis, plena vita fit. Leg. H. 1. cap. 40.

Partition, Partitio, Is a Dividing of Land descended by the Common Law, or by Custom, among Cobeyrs or Parceners, where there are two at least; and this Partition is made four ways, whereof three are by Agreement, the fourth by Compulsion. The first Partition by Agreement is, when they themselves divide the Land equally into so many Parts as they are Coparceners, and each to chuse one Share, or Part according to Order. The second is, when they chuse certain of their Friends to make the Division for them. The third is, by drawing Lots thus, Having first divided the Land into as many Parts as there be Parceners, they write every Part severally in a distinct Scroll, and wrapping it up, throw each of them into a Hat, Bason, or such Thing, out of which each Parcener draws one, according to their Seniority, and so the Land is severally allotted. The fourth Partition, which is by Compulsion, when one or more of the Parceners, by reason of the Refusal of some other, sues out a Writ of Partitio facienda, by Force whereof they shall be compelled to part. In Kent, where the Land is of Gavelkind Nature, they call their Partition Shifting, from the Saxon Shifstan, to divide. In Latin it is called Hercifere. Partition also may be made by Joint-Tenants, or Tenants in common by Assent, by Deed, or by Writ. 31 H. 8. 1. 32 H. 8. 32.

Partitio facienda, Anno 31 H. 8. cap. 1. Is a Writ that lies for those who hold Lands or Tenements pro indiviso, and would sever to every one his Part, against him or them that refuse to join in Partition, as Copartners, Tenants in Gavelkind, &c. Old Nat. Brev. fol. 142. F. N. B. fol. 61. And New Book of Entries, verbo Partition. See Partition.

Dorset. Placita de Juratis & Assis. Anno 16 Ed. 1. Metingbam.

Edwardus Kaynel, Maria filia Roberti de Camma, Johannes Bereset, & Matilda uxor ejus, & Johanna soror ejusdem Matilde petunt versus Johannem Alfrith de Warham unum Testum cum pertin. in Warham, de quo Johannes Gerard, consanguineus pro dictorum Edwardi, Marie, Matildæ, & Johanne, cujus heredes ipsi sunt, fuit seiscitus in dominico suo, ut de feodo, die quo obiit, &c. unde di. uni, &c.

Et p. ad. Johannes venit & dicit, quod tenementa in Warham sunt partibilia inter masculos & femellas, & di it quod predictus Edwardus habet quassam Gammoram, Matildam, Christianam, Albretram, & Enseniam sorores & participes ipsius Edwardi & aliorum petentium, & que tantum jus habent in re petita sicut, &c. & que non nominantur in brevi, &c. & Edwardus & alii non possunt hoc deducere: Ideo consideratum est quod predictus Johannes eat inde sine die, &c.

Parricide, Parricida, Properly signifies him that kills his Father, and may be applied to him that murders his Mother.

Parties Are those which are named in a Deed or Fine, as Parties to it; as those that levy the Fine, and to whom the Fine is levied; So they that make any Deed, and they to whom it is made, are called Parties to the Deed.

Partlet Was some Part of the Attire, a Kind of Band, or Neck-kерchief, which in some Places still retains the Name: This Word is read in the Statute of 24 H. 8. cap. 13.

Partur, Partur, 14 Car. 2. cap. 11. See Medietas Lingua.

Parbise. See Pervise.

Parbissus. See Paradissus.

Parbo numento Is a Writ. See Nusance.

Pascha clausum, The Offaves of Easter or Low Sunday, which closes or concludes that Solemnity. Die (tali) post pascha clausum is a Date in some of our old Deeds: And the first Statute of Westminster, Anno 3 Edw. 1. is said to have been made lendesmain de la chuse de Pasche, i. e. The Monday after Easter Week.

Pascha floridum, Palm-Sunday, or the Sunday before Easter, when the proper Hymn, or Gospel sung, was Occurrunt turbe cum floribus & palmis, &c. Sex denarios & quatuor lagenas mellis ad duos terminos, scil. ad Pascha floridum quatuor lagenas mellis, & ad festum S. Michaelis sex denarios. Char. tular. Abbat. Glaston. MS. f. 75.

Paschal Rents Are Rents, or annual Duties paid by the inferior Clergy to the Bishop, or Archdeacon, at their Easter Visitation: They are also termed Synodals. See Synodals.

Pascula. See Pasture.

Pastuagium (Pascuagium, Fr. Pasceage) Grazing, Feeding, or Pasturing of Cattle. Et habere viginti porcos quietos de Pascuagio, & fualium ad panem suum & ad cibos coquendos, &c. Charta Ric. de Muntfcher Priorat. de Tremhale, in Mon. Angl. 2 Par. fol. 23. a. Also the same with Pannage.

Pasnage. See Pannage.

Passage, Passagium, Is a French Word, signifying Transitum: By the Statutes of 4 E. 3. cap. 7. and Westm. 2. cap. 25. it denotes the Hire that a Man pays for being transported over Sea, or over any River. In the Charter of Henry the First, of the Liberties of London, we find these Words, Et omnes res eorum per totam Angliam, & per portus maris, de thelonio, & passagio, & lafagio, & omnibus aliis consuetudinibus, per passagium clamat esse quiet. de omnibus in Com. Cestrie & Flint per omnibus caveitis, caviag. ejus servientibus, & summagiis suis oneratis. Pl. in Itin. apud Cestriam, 14 H. 7.

Passagium, A Voyage or Expedition to the Holy Land, when made by the Kings of England in Person, was called Passagium. Rex Archiepiscopo Cant. Salutem. Cum passagium nostrum juraverimus & statuerimus a Festo Nativitatis Beati Johannis Bapt. proxime venturo in quatuor annos, & D. Papa concesserit decimam proventuum Ecclesiasticorum ante idem passagium colligendam. Dat. 16 Maji, 36 H. 3. Pryn's Collect. Tom. 3. p. 767.

Passagio Is a Writ directed to the Keepers of the Ports, to permit a Man to pass over Sea that hath the King's Licence. Reg. Orig. fol. 193, 194.

Passator. Donationem insuper quam Hugo de Bradewardyn Passator filius Stephani Pont. per scriptum suum fecit eidem fratribus de Libero passagio apud Bradewardyn. Pat. 1 E. 3. Par. 3. M. 6. He that has the Interest or Command of the Passage of a River; for this Bradewardyn lies upon the River Wye in Heresfordshire.

Passator, i. e. The Lord to whom a Duty is to be paid for Passage. Donationem enim quam Hugo, &c. Passator fecit. Mon. 1 Tom. pag. 505.

Passaport, A Compound of two French Words, viz. of Passer, transire, and Port, portus, a Haven; It signifies a Licence made by any that hath Authority, for the safe Passage of any Man from one Place to another. 2 E. 6. cap. 2.

Paffagarius, A Ferry-Man. We meet with the Word in Tborn's Chronicle, viz. In Anno 1287. ſi monachus vel aliquis de familia Abbatis ad dictum portum ex quacunque parte fluminis veniens batellum dicti Paſſiagarii ibi preſentem invenerit, & Paſſiagarius vel ſui noluerint ipſum vel tardaverint tranſducere, &c.

Paſſus, i. e. The narrow Places in Highways. Dum per quoddam iter arctiſſimum, quod vulgaviter Paſſus dicitur, forent tranſituri. Matt. Paris. p. 443. So in Mat. Weſſm. Anno 1260. Emanavit a Cancellaria Breve Domini Regis ad omnes Vicecomites, in quorum Ballivis ſolebant viatoribus imminere pericula, ut omnes Paſſus periculoſos tam in caris viis & boſcis, & huius quam aliis pacis Regie perturbationibus, faciant videri, &c.

Paſſa, Paſte, or kneaded Dough before it is baked. A. D. 1445. Ordinatam erat per Thomam Lyſeaux, Decanum & Capitulum Eccleſie Sancti Pauli London. quod panis Canoniorum in paſta crudus debebat ponderare ad ſummum vii marcas. Liber Statuor. Eccleſie Pauline. MS. fol. 107. b.

Paſſitium, A Pasture Field. Caſtrum Arundel T. R. E. reddebat a quodam molino 40 s. &c. & de uno Paſſitio 20 s. Domeſday, per Gale 761.

Paſſoral Staff. The Form of it was ſtreight, which ſignified Rectum Regimen: All the Top Part of it was crooked, and the other Part ſharp: The crooked ſignified, that the Biſhop preſided over the People; and the ſharp ſignified, to puniſh the ſtubborn.

Curva trahit mites, pars pungit acuta rebelles.
See Croſſer.

Paſtura Is generally any Place where Cattle may feed; and it differs from Paſcua; for that is a Place ſet a-part on purpoſe to feed, and never plowed; ſo that it properly ſignifies a Meadow, or Pasture Ground. Nam Paſtura omne genus paſcendi ſignificat, ſive ſiat in pratiſ, ſive in ſtipula, ſive in agris, ſive in campis; ſed Paſcua eſt locus principaliter deputatus pecoribus paſcendis, ut puta in montibus, moris, marifcis & planis non cultis nec aratis. Lindewode, lib. 3. Provin. Angl. Tit. De Decimis, cap. 1. Quoriam.

Paſſus Is the ſame with Procuracion, or the Proviſion which the Tenants of the King, or other Lords are bound to make for them at certain Days or Seasons, or as often as they make a Progreſs to their Lands: And this in many Places was turned into Money. Hoc modo per annum liberabo a paſtu Regis & Regina. Monaff. i Tom. 123.

Patentee Is he to whom the King grants his Letters Patent. 7 E. 6. cap. 3.

Patents, Litera Patentes, Differ from Writs. Crompt. Jur. fol. 126. The Coroner is made by Writ, and not by Patient. See Letters Patent, and alſo Litera Patentes, in the Table of the Register, where you may find the Form of divers.

Patria Properly ſignifies the Country, but in the Law it denotes the Men of a Neighbourhood; ſo when we ſay Inquiratur per patriam, we mean a Jury of the Neighbourhood: In like Manner Aſſiſa vel recognitio per Aſſiſam, idem eſt quod Recognitio patrie.

Patriarch, Patriarcha, Is a Greek Word, ſignifying a chief Father, Anno 385. In the General Council holden at Conſtantinople, it was decreed, That the Biſhop of Conſtantinople ſhould for ever be called a Patriarch.

Patrimony, An hereditary Eſtate, or Right deſcended from Anceſtors. The legal Endowment of a Church or religious Houſe, was called Eccleſiaſtical Patrimony; and the Lands and Revenues united to the See of Rome, are called St. Peter's Patrimony.

Patrimus, Fidejuſſor in Baptiſmate, Anglice a Godfather, ut Paulus ſe dixit Oneſimum genuiſſe & Corinthios. We read in the Laws of Hen. 1. c. 79. Qui alicujus filium vel patrinum occiderit, &c.

Patron, Patronus, Is uſed in the Civil Law for him that hath manumitted a Servant, and thereby is both juſtly accounted his great Benefactor, and challengeth certain Reverence and Duty of him during his Life. See the Title De Jure Patronatus in the Digeſt, with the Feudſts pro authorore Feudi. Hotoman verbo Patronus, in his Comment. de Verbis feudali. Both in the Canon and Common Law it ſignifies him that hath the Gift of a Benefice; and the Reaſon is, becauſe the Gift of Churches and Benefices belonged unto ſuch good Men as either built, or elſe endowed them with ſome great Part of their Revenue. And Corafius in his Paraphraſe Ad ſacerdotiorum materiam, Part 1. cap. 2. and Part. 4. cap. 6. writes thus of them, Patroni in jure Pontificio dicuntur, qui alicujus Eccleſie extruende, aut alterius cuiuscunque fundationis eccleſiaſticae auctores fuerunt, ideoque preſtandi & offerendi clericum jus habent, quem Eccleſie vacanti præſteſſe, & in ea collatis redditibus frui velint. Acquirunt autem hoc jus qui vel fundant Eccleſiam, vel dotant, &c. See Mr. Kennett's Gloſſary in the Word Patronus. The King is Patron Paramount of all Eccleſiaſtical Benefices in England.

Pavage, (Pavagium) Money paid towards the Paving of Streets, or Highways. Rex (Edw. 1.) conceſſit pavagium Ville de Huntingdon per quinquennium. Pla. Parl. 35 Edw. 1.

Pavalarri Were Soldiers armed with Shields, which were called Pavaſti. The Word is uſed in Walsingham, in Edw. 3. and other Hiſtorians. Venientem contra eum cum 7 milibus electis armatorum aliisque armatis pavalarriſ, &c.

Pavimentum, A Pavement, or Paving with Stone. Item in pavimento pro ſchola in Hoſemullane viii Sol. Hiſt. & Ant. Oxon. lib. 2. fol. 11. b.

Paunton in Lincolnſhire. See Ad Pontem.

Paupr. See In Forma Pauperis.

Pavonagr. See Pannage.

Par, ad Pacem redire, i. e. To reverse an Outlawry, by which he is reſtored to the King's Peace. Rex poteſt dare quod ſuum eſt, hoc eſt, pacem ſuam quam utlegatus amiſit. Braſton lib. 3. cap. 11.

Par Dei. See Peace of God.

Par Eccleſie Dicitur, cum ſalva ſunt Eccleſie omnia privilegia, & immunitates, ſervi, famuli, miniſtri, &c. Vide Leg. Edw. Conf. cap. 8.

Par Regis, The King's Peace. Nam longe debet eſſe pax Regis a parte ſua, ubi reſidenti fuerit a quatuor partibus loci illius, hoc eſt, quatuor miliaria & tres quarentene & novem acra latitudine, & novem pedes, & novem palme, & novem grana bordei, &c. Leg. Ed. Conf. cap. 12. See Spelman.

Para, Mons, A Hill. Domeſday.

Peace, Pax, In the general Signification is oppoſite to War, or Strife: But particularly with us it intends a quiet and harmleſs Behaviour toward the King and his People. Lamb. Eirenarch. lib. 1. cap. 2. pag. 7. And if any Man goes in Danger of Harm, or bodily Prejudice from another, and makes Oath of it before a Juſtice of Peace, he ſhall be ſecured by good Bond, which is called Binding to the Peace. Lamb. Eiren. lib. 2. cap. 2. pag. 77. Crompt. Juſt. of Peace, f. 118 ad 129. And alſo Frank-pledge and Conſervator of the Peace.

Peace. Time of Peace is, when the Courts of Justice are open, and the Judges and Ministers of the same may by Law protect Men from Wrong and Violence, and administer Justice to all. Co. on Lit. fol. 249.

Peace of God and the Church, Pax Dei & Ecclesie, Was antiently used for that Rest and Cessation which the King's Subjects had from Trouble and Suit of Law between the Terms. See Vacation, and Pax Dei. Tempus dicitur cultui divino adhibendum, eaque appellatione omnes dies Dominici, Festi & Vigilie censentur. Spelman.

Peace of the King, Pax Regis, 6 R. 2. Stat. 1. cap. 13. Is that Peace and Security both for Life and Goods, which the King promisth to all his Subjects, or others taken to his Protection. See Suit of the King's Peace. This Point of Policy seemeth to have been borrowed by us from the Feudists, which in the Second Book of the Feuds, cap. 53. entituled, De Pace tenenda, &c. Hotoman proveth. Of this Hoveden setteth down divers Branches Par. poster. suorum Annal. in H. 2. fol. 144. and 330. There is also Peace of the Church, for which see Sanctuary. And the Peace of the King's Highway to be free from all Annoyance and Molestation. See Watling-street. The Peace of the Plough, whereby the Plough and Plough-Cattle are secured from Distresses; for which see F. N. B. fol. 90. So Fairs may be said to have their Peace, because no Man in them may be troubled for any Debt elsewhere contracted. See Fairs.

Pedagium. See Pesage.

Pethery. See Pithery.

Pecia, A Piece, or small Parcel of Ground.—Cum duabus peciis—dicta terra pertinentibus. Paroch. Antiquit. p. 240.

Pectorale. 'Tis uncertain what is meant by this Word, tho' we often meet with it in old Writings. Most Authors agree, that it is the same with that Garment call'd Rationale, which the High Priest in the old Law wore on his Shoulders, as a Sign of Perfection. 'Tis worn also by the High Priest of the new Law, as a Sign of the greatest Virtue. Qua gratia & ratione perficitur; for which Reason it is called Rationale. 'Tis by some taken to be that Part of the Pall which covers the Breast of the Priest, and from thence it is called Pectorale. But all agree that 'tis the richest Part of that Garment, embroider'd with Gold, and adorned with pretious Stones. Item capa cum pectorale optime brendato cum rotundis pectoralibus aurifrigiis, &c. humerali vineato de fino auro brendato, & lapidibus insertis, &c.

Pectorell, 14 Car. 2. cap. 3. Armor for the Breast, a Breast-plate, derived from Pectus, a Breast.

Peculiar, In French peculier, that is, proper, private, one's own. It signifies a particular Parish, or Church, that hath Jurisdiction within its self, for Probat of Wills, &c. exempt from the Ordinary, and the Bishop's Courts. The King's Chapel is a Royal Peculiar, exempt from all Spiritual Jurisdiction, and reserved to the Visitation and immediate Government of the King himself, who is Supreme Ordinary. It is an ancient Privilege of the See of Canterbury, that wherever any Manors or Advowsons do belong to it, they forthwith become exempt from the Ordinary, and are reputed *Peculiar*s; and of the Diocese of Canterbury, mentioned 22 & 23 Car. 2. Stat. for the Maintenance of the Ministers of London. See Canterbury.

Pecunia, Properly Money, but was antiently used for Cattle, and sometimes for other Goods as well as Money: So we find often in Domesday, Pastura ibidem ad pecuniam villa, that is, Pasture-Ground for the Cattle of the Village. And in Emendat. Willielmi Primi ad Leg. Edw. Conf. Intenti finis etiam ut nulla villa pecunia vendatur, aut emantur nisi infra civitates, & hoc ante tres fideles testes. And Leg. Ed. Conf. cap. 10. Qui habuerit 30 denariatus viam pecunie.

Pecunia Ecclesie Was antiently used for the State of the Church. See Tillsey's Animadv. on Selden's Tithe.

Pecunia Sepulchralis (L. L. Canuti fol. 102.) Was Money antiently paid to the Priest at the Opening the Grave for the Good and Behoof of the deceased Soul. This the Saxons call'd Saul-sead, Saulsoot, and Anima Symbolum. Spel. de Concil. T. 1. f. 517.

Pedagium, Pedagium, Signifies Money given for the Passing by Foot or Horse through any Country: Pupilla oculi, part. 9. cap. 7. Pedagia dicuntur que dantur a transeuntibus in locum constitutum a principe, says Spelman: Et capiens pedagium, debet dare saluum conductum, & territorium ejus tenere securum. So Baldus Cassan. De Consuetud. Bur. p. 118. hath these Words, Pedagium a pede dictum est, quod a transeuntibus solvitur, &c. And we find Edward the Third granted to Sir Nele Loring, Pedagium Sancti Macharii. Rot. Pat. 22 Edw. 3. M. 34. 'Tis mentioned likewise in Matt. Paris. Anno 1256. & pag. 515. Telonium quod vulgariter dicitur Pedagium.

Pedale, A Foot-Cloath, a Carpet, or Piece of Tapestry laid on the Ground to tread on for greater State and Ceremony.—Dedit etiam duo magna pedalia, leonibus intexta, ponenda ante magnum altare in festis principalibus. Ingulph. Hist. p. 41.

Pedis abscissio, Cutting off the Foot was a Punishment formerly inflicted here; as appears by the Laws of William the Conqueror, and by Ingulphus, and other Authors, viz. Interdiximus ne quis occidatur vel suspendatur pro aliqua culpa, sed eruantur oculi, abscindantur pedes, vel testiculi, vel manus. Leg. Will. cap. 7. So in Ingulphus, pag. 856. Sub pena perditionis dextri sui pedis. Flota, lib. 1. c. 38. Bratton, lib. 3. cap. 32. Monast. 1 Tom. pag. 166.

Pedones, i. e. Foot-Soldiers. Solidarius pedonibus & sagittariis multis milibus conduitis. Simeon of Durham, Anno 1085.

Pedules. When the old Hosen or Breeches reach'd down below the Calf of the Leg, the Stockings only covered the Feet, and came up to the Ankle, or just above the Shoe. These odd short Hose were called Vamps, and Vampays; whence to graft a new Footing to old Stockings is called Vamping. These Vamps which were more like our Socks than our present Stockings, were called Pedules and Pedana; as among the Customs of the Abbey of Glasgow.—De vestitu eorum ita est consuetudo—unusquisque fratrum duas cucullas, & duos fraccos, & duo flamina, & duo femoralia habere debet, & quatuor caligas, & pellicem novam, pedules vero decem, scil. ad festivitatem omnium Sanctorum iv. & ad festivitatem S. Martini iii. &c. Char. Abbat. Glasgton. MS. f. 10.

Peer (Pera, Fr. Pierre, Saxum, quod e saxis fieri solebat) Is a Fortrels made against the Force of the Sea, or great Rivers, for the better Security of Ships that lie at Harbour in any Haven. So is the Peer of Dover described in Cam. Britan. p. 259. Anno 14 Car. 2. cap. 27. The Haven and Peer of Great Yarmouth, mentioned 22 Car. 2. cap. 2.

Peers, Pares, Signify in our Common Law those that are impelled in an Enquest upon any Man, for the Convicting or Clearing him of any Offence for which he is called in Question; and the Reason thereof is, because the Course and Custom of our Nation is to try every Man in such a Case by his Equals, or Peers. Westm. 1. cap. 6. So Kitchin useth it, fol. 78. in these Words, Mais si le ameriement soit affirre per Pares. And this Word in this Sense is not in use with us only, but with other Nations also. For Pares sunt convassalli quorum sententia vasallus propter feloniam est condemnatus. Bartilayus de Regno, lib. 4. cap. 2. Et Pares sunt qui ab eodem Domino feudum tenent, lib. 1. Feudor. cap. 26. But this Word is most principally used for those that be of the Nobility of the Realm, and Lords of the Parliament. Stamdf. pl. cor. lib. 3. Cap. Trial per les Peers: The Reason whereof is, That altho' there be a Distinction of Degrees in our Nobility, yet in all publick Actions they are equal; as in their Votes of Parliament, and in passing Trial upon any Nobleman, &c. This Appellation seems to be borrowed from France, and from those Twelve Peers that Charlemaine instituted in that Kingdom; of whom you may read Vincent. Luperus de Magist. Francie, lib. 1. cap. Pares Francie. And tho' we have borrowed the Appellation, and applied it with some Reason to all Lords of Parliament, yet we have no set Number; for our Nobles may be more or less, as the King pleaseth.

Pepne fort & dure. See Paine fort & dure.

Pesa, antiently used for Pondus, Weight. See Pesage, and Weight.

Pesla, i. e. A Pound-weight. Super perceptione 10 Librarum, & 8 Peislarum casei. Thorn. Chron. pag. 2070.

Pela, A Peel, a Pile, a Fort. The Citadel or Castle in the Isle of Man, was by this Name granted to Sir John Stanley. Pat. 7. H. 4. M. 18.

Pelle. See Pille.

Pelste & Delftre (Pelfra) — *Tho. Venables Arm. clamat quod si aliquis tenent. sive resident. infra Dominium sine Manerium de Kinderton feloniam fecerit, & corpus ejus per ipsum Thomam super factum illud captum & corruict. fuerit, habere Pelfram; viz. Omnia bona & catalla hujusmodi seiscire: Et ea que Domino Comiti pertinent ad Castrum Cestrie presentare, & habere omnia invent. domestica, & de omni genere boum, vaccarum, boviculorum, juvenearum, porcorum, bidentium unum, viz. melius: Et si de aliquo genere non habuerit nisi unum, clamat habere illud unum, cum aliis minutis animalibus, ut gallis, gallinis, ancis, & hujusmodi, & omnes pannos talliatis & attanatos, & omnes carnes attanatas, & totum brasium infra unum quarterium, & omnia blada inventa infra unum quarterium; & de quolibet tasso bladi clamat habere Grounthal integrum cuiuscunque tassi, & totum plumbum extra fornacem, & omnia vasa lignea, omnes mappas, manutergia, & omnia ad lectum pertinent. linea & lanea, & omnes carrectas ferro non ligatas, & omnes caruccas cum tota apparatu, &c. Plac. in Intin. apud Cestriam, 14 Hen. 7. In Time of War the Earl Marshal is to have of all Preys and Booties all the gelded Beasts, except Sheep, Hogs and Goats, which is called Pelftre. *MS. S. Knyveton.

Pelia, i. e. Pellus, Batillus. So in the Monast. 2 Tom. pag. 528. Debet habere casum de melioribus domus, & plenam peliam salis.

Pellage (Rot. Parl. 11 H. 4.) The Custom or Duty paid for Skins, Pelts, or Leather.

Pellicia, A Pilch, Tunica vel indumentum pellicum; hinc super-pellicum, A Sur-pilch, or Surplice. Spelm.

Pellota, French Pelote, The Ball of the Foot. Charta de Foresta, cap. 7. Talis autem expeditatio (viz. canum) fiat per assiam communiter usitam, viz. quod tres ortelli abscondantur, sive pellota de pede anteriori. See Co. Inst. nar. 4. fol. 308.

Pelt-wool Is the Wool pulled off the Skin, or Pelt of dead Sheep. 8 H. 6. cap. 22.

Peluræ, i. e. Skins, or a Tribute paid for Skins. De expensis gavaroba in quibus emptiones pannorum, peluræ, &c. Fleta, lib. 2. cap. 14.

Pen Signifies an high Mountain, as Mr. Cambden tells us in his Britannia. It was so called by the Britains; and not only by them, but by the old Gauls: From whence those high Hills which divide France from Italy, are called the Apennines.

Penerarius, A Penon, or Ensign-Bearer. Hic jacet Johannes Parient, Armiger pro corpore Regis Ricardi Secundi, & penerarius ejusdem Regis. Epitaph. apud Digs-well in Com. Hertford.

Penicillus, Penicellus, A Penon, or Pendant, a Screamer, a Banner. Robertus de la Sale tenet duas virgatas tene in Nether Overton per serjantiam inveniendi in exercitu Domini Regis hominem portantem unum penicillum per xx dies sumptibus suis.

Penigeldum, Denarii alicujus ex quavis consuetudine pro facultate aliqua vel privilegio habendo, puta in foresta, aut alibi. Spelm. Gloss.

Pennings, A Kind of coarse, woollen Cloth, mentioned 43 Eliz. cap. 10.

Penne. See Bay.

Pennorcurium, Pankridge in Staffordshire.

Pennulatus, i. e. Furred. 'Tis the same with Foderatus. 'Tis mentioned in Forfeiture, De Landib. Leg. Angl. viz. Capicium ejus non alio quam minivero penulatur c. 51.

Penny-weight. Every Pound containing Twelve Ounces, each Ounce was divided into Twenty Parts, called Twenty Penny-weight. For at that Time Twenty Penny-weight weighed One Ounce; which tho' the Penny-weight be alter'd, yet the Denomination still continues. Every Penny-weight is subdivided into Twenty-four Grains.

Penon, 11 R. cap. 1. Is a Standard, Banner, or Ensign, carried in War: It is borrowed from France, for Penon in the French Language signifies the same Thing.

Pensa Salis, Casei, &c. A Wey of Salt, or Cheese, containing 256 Pounds. — Herveus Episc. Eliensis concessit Monachis quatuor pensas casei, & sex pensas salis. — Hist. Elien. apud Wharton Angl. Sac. P. 1. p. 617. The same Weight is called in old Writings Pisa, Pesa, Peis.

Ad Pensam, The ancient way of paying into the Exchequer as much Money for a Pound Sterling, as weighed Twelve Ounces Troy. Payment of a Pound de numero, imported just Twenty Shillings: Ad scalam, imported Twenty Shillings Six Pence; and ad pensam imported the full Weight of Twelve Ounces. Vid. Lowndes's Essay upon Coin, pag. 4.

Pensfon, Pensfo. That which in the Two Temples is called a Parliament, and in Lincoln's Inn a Council, is in Gray's Inn termed a Pensfon; that is, An Assembly of the Members of the Society to consult of the Affairs of the House. And in the Inns of Court, Pensfons are certain annual Payments of each Member to the House.

Pensioners, Pensionarii, Are a Band of Gentlemen so called, that attend as a Guard upon the King's Person: They were instituted Anno 1539, and have an Allowance of Fifty Pounds a Year, to maintain themselves and two Horses for the King's Service. See Stow's Annals, 973.

Pension-Writ. When a Pension Writ is once issued, none sued thereby in an Inn of Court, shall be discharged or permitted to come into Commons, till all Duties be paid. Order in Gray's Inn, wherein it seems to be a peremptory Order against such of the Society as are in Arrear for Pensions, and other Duties.

Pentecostals, Pentecostalia, Were certain pious Oblations made at the Feast of Pentecost, by Parishioners to their Parish-Priest, and sometimes by inferior Churches or Parishes to the principal Mother-Church. Which Oblations were also called Whitsen Earthings, and were divided into four Parts, One to the Parish-Priest, a Second to the Poor, a Third for Repair of the Church, and a Fourth to the Bishop. Stephens of Procurations and Pentecostals. See Mr. Kennet's Glossary in Pentecostalia.

Peny (Saxon Penig) Was our ancient current Silver. 2 Inst. fol. 575. — Et quod sint quasi de omnibus misericordias, & Warda, & Ward-peny, Aver-peny, Hundred-peny, Tithing-peny, & Borthal-peny, & de omnibus operibus Castellorum, Pontium, &c. Char. Hen. 7. Ab. & Conv. Ecclesi. S. Petri Westm. Anno 19 Regni. The Saxons had no other Sort of Silver Coin. It was equal in Weight to our Three-pence: Five of those Penies made one Shilling Saxon, and Thirty Penies made a Mark, which they called Mancuse, and weighed as much as Three of our Half Crowns. The English Peny called Sterling, is round, without clipping, and weighs 32 grana frumenti in medio spica; Twenty-pence make an Ounce, and Twelve Ounces make a Pound. Stat. Edw. 1. It was made with a Cross in the Middle, and broke into Half-pence and Farthings. Quia denarios findi in duas partes pro obolis & in quatuor partes pro quadrantibus consuevit, ordinatum fuit ad tollendam occasionem defalcationis monete quod rotundi essent denarii, oboli & quadrantes. Wallingham 1280. Mat. Paris 1279.

Penypise, Penny-weight. Fabricavit sibi stateram Abbat & Conventui postea dolosam & abominabilem, que dicitur Penypise, & cum illa triavit 20 Sol. in denariis antiquis ponderis maximi, cum quibus equa lance recipiebat denarios quorumcumque. Will. Thorn. Sabann. 1335.

Pepyer, Piper, Is a Spice well known, of whose Diversities and Nature you may read Gerard's Herbal, lib. 3. cap. 146. This is set among Merchandise to be garbled, Anno 1 Jac. cap. 19.

Perambulation of the Forest, Perambulatio Foresta, Is the Surveying or Walking about the Forest, or the Limits of it, by Justices, or other Officers thereto appointed, to set down the Metes and Bounds thereof, and what is within the Forest, and what without. 17 Car. 1. cap. 16. 20 Car. 2. cap. 3. 4 Inst. fol. 30. See Purview.

Perambulatione facienda Is a Writ that is sued out by two or more Lords of Manors lying near one another, and consenting to have their Bounds severally known. It is directed to the Sheriff, commanding him to make Perambulation, and to set down their certain Limits. F. N. B. fol. 133. See Rationalibus divisis. See Reg. Orig.

fol. 157. and the New Book of Entries, verbo Perambulatione facienda.

Peraria for Petraria. Perarii suis & aliis machinis bellicis paratus. Brompton, Anno 1173.

Peravail. See Paravail.

Perca for Pertica, A Perch. Et unam acram prati per majorem Percam. Monastic. Tom. 2. pag. 87.

Percapura, A Weir, or Weer, or Place in a River made up with Banks, Damms, &c. for the better Convenience of preserving and taking of Fish. Of which Kind there were several artificially contrived in most Waters and Streams. Widow de Meriton granted to the Knights Templars. — Omnem percapuras quas Arantes inceptunt versus me in faciendo passagium faum. Paroch. Antiq. p. 120.

Percb, Pertica, Is used with us for a Rod or Pole of Sixteen Foot and a Half in Length; whereof Forty in Length, and four in Breadth make an Acre of Ground. Crompt. Jur. fol. 222. Yet by Custom of the Country it may be longer, as he there saith; and several Counties differ herein, for in Staffordshire it is Twenty-four Foot, in the Forest of Sherwood Twenty-five. In Herefordshire a Perch of Walling is Sixteen Foot and a Half: A Perch of Ditching Twenty-one Foot: In the Forest of Cank Twenty-five: In the Forest of Clarendon Twenty, &c. Skene de verbis. signif. verbo Particata terre, saith, that Particata terre is a Rood of Land; and a little after to this Effect, Three Barley-corns without Tails set together in Length make one Inch; of the which Corns, one should be taken off the middle Ridge, another off the Side of the Ridge, and one off the Furrow: Twelve Inches make a Foot of Measure, Three Foot and an Inch make an Eln, Six Elms make one Fall, which is the common lineal Measure, and Six Elms long and Six broad make a square and superficial Fall of Land measured. And it is to be understood, that one Rod, one Raip, one lineal Fall of Measure, are all one, each of them containing Six Elms in Length; Howbeit a Rod is a Staff or Pole of Wood, a Raip is made of Tow or Hemp, and so much Land as falleth under the Rod or Raip at once, is called a Fall of Measure, or a lineal Fall, because it is the Measure of the Line or Length only; like as the superficial Fall is the Measure of Length and Breadth. Itey, Ten Falls in Length and Four in Breadth make a Rood, Four Roods make an Acre, &c. This is the Measure of Scotland. A Pole of betted or densheired Ground is Twelve Foot; of Wood, Twenty-one Foot. See Skene, verbo Particata terre. In Honore de Montgomeri terra asertanda per Perticam Regis 24 Pedum. Claus. 11 Hen. 3. m. 6. In Foresta de Cank, Pertica 25 Pedum. Int. Plac. MS. in Thefauro Regis de vastis arentatis 32 Ed. 1. f. 3. See Pes Foresta.

Perchers, The Pavis Candles used formerly in England were so called. See Stow's Survey of London, pag. 71. The Reason I presume was this, The larger Sconces or Candlesticks for the Tapers or Lights on the Altar were called Perticae, Perches: Hence the bigger Candles, especially of Wax, that were commonly set upon the Altars, were were called Peribers. — Insufer & in capella beate virginis superius in australi Ecclesia latere preparata, duas perticas pro superponendis cereis decenter ordinatas. Hist. Croyl. Contin. sub Anno 1405.

Per cui et poss. See Entry.

Perdings. 'Tis mentioned in Leg. H. 1. c. 29. and it signifies the Dregs of the People, viz. Men not worth a Farthing.

Perdonatio uslagariæ Is a Pardon for him, who for Contempt in not coming to the King's Court, is outlawed, and afterwards, of his own Accord, yieldeth himself to Prison. Reg. Judicial, fol. 28. Leg. Edw. Confes. cap. 18. & 19.

Perere & pite, In the Constitution of Canutus concerning the Forest, cap. 17. we have these Words, Si quis autem contra primarium pugnaverit, in placito emendet secundum pretium sui ipsius, quod Angli Perere & pite dicunt, & solvat primario 40 fol. Retius autem Were & Wite. Sax. See Were.

Peremptory, Peremptorius, Cometh of the Verb perimere, to cut off, and joined with a Substantive (as Action or Exception) signifies a final and determinate Act, without Hope of renewing or altering. So Fitzherbert calleth a Peremptory Action. Nat. Brev. fol. 55, 58, 104, 108. and Non sinit peremptory, Idem. fol. 5. 11. A peremptory Exception. Bracton, lib. 4. cap. 20. Smith de Rep. Anglor. lib. 2. cap. 13. calleth that a peremptory Exception, which makes the State and Issue in a Cause.

Perinde valere Is a Term that belongs to the Ecclesiastical Law, and signifies a Dispensation granted to a Clerk, that being defective in his Capacity to a Benefice, or other Ecclesiastical Function, is de facto admitted to it; and it hath the Appellation from the Words, which make the Faculty as effectual to the Party dispensed with, as if he had been actually capable of the Thing for which he is dispensed with at the Time of his Admission. 25 H. 8. cap. 21. It is called a Writ.

Perindinare, To stay, remain, or abide in a Place. Patri qui tunc Londinii perindinavit nutritus divigens. Mat. Westm. Anno 1016. Fortescue, cap. 35, 36.

Perjury, (Pejurius,) Est mendacium cum juramento firmatum, Is a Crime committed, when a lawful Oath is minished by any that hath Authority to any Person in any judicial Proceeding, who swears absolutely and falsely in a Matter material to the Issue, or Cause in Question, by their own Act, or by the Subornation of others. And if a Man call me Perjured Man, I may have my Action upon the Case; but it must be intended contrary to my Oath in a judicial Proceeding: But for calling me a Forsworn Man, no Action lies; because the Forswearing may be Extra-judicial. Coke's Inst. 3 part. fol. 163. 23 Hen. 8. cap. 3. Excepted out of the Act of General Pardon, 12 Car. 2. cap. 11. How punished in Wales; Anno 26 Hen. 8. cap. 4. and 5 Eliz. cap. 9.

Perkins was a learned Lawyer, a Fellow and Benchor of the Inner Temple, that lived in the Days of Edward the Sixth, and Queen Mary. He wrote a very excellent Book upon divers Points of the Common Law.

Permentarius, i. e. Qui vestes parat, i. e. Ornatus. 'Tis a Word often mentioned in the Monastic. viz. 1 Tom. pag. 987. Ut nec mercator nec institutor nec Permentarius nec conversarius non vendat, &c.

Permutatione Archidiaconatus & Ecclesiæ eidem annexæ cum Ecclesiâ & Rectoria, Is a Writ to an Ordinary, commanding him to admit a Clerk to a Benefice, upon Exchange made with another. Reg. Orig. fol. 307.

Pernoz of Wôste, (derived of the French Preneur, a Taker or Receiver) Is he that takes or receives the Profits, as Pernor of Profits. 1 H. 7. 1. Pernor of Profits, and Cessary que use, is all one. Co. Rep. 1. fol. 123. Chudley's Calc. See 21 R. 2. cap. 15. and Co. on Lit. fol. 589. b.

Per my & per tout. A joint-tenant is said to be seised of the Land he holds jointly Per my & per tout, i. e. He is seised by every Parcel, and by the Whole. Litt. sect. 288. Totum tenet & nihil tenet, sc. totum conjunctim & nihil per se separatim. Bract. lib. 5. 430.

Perpars, A Part or Share of the Inheritance, See Fleta, lib. 2. cap. 54. par. 19. viz. Tanquam terram que sibi descendit in perpartem de hereditate, &c.

Perpundum, The same with Gambiso, i. e. a quilted Doublet, viz. quilted with Wool, Ac perpuncta, on which they put their Armour, to make it set easy. See Mandat. H. 3. super jurat ad arma Addit. Mat. Paris. viz. Ad Centum solidatas terra unum Perpundum, capellum ferreum, gladium, &c. See Gambeson.

Per quæ servitia Is a Writ judicial, issuing from the Note of a Fine, and lieth for Cognissee of a Manor, Seignior, chief Rent, or other Services, to compel him that is Tenant of the Land at the Time of the Note of the Fine levied, to attorn unto him. West. Symbol. part 2. Tit. Fines, sect. 126. Old Nat. Brev. fol. 155. New Book of Entries, verbo Per quæ servitia.

Perquisite, Perquistum, Is any Thing gotten by a Man's own Industry, or purchased with his own Money, different from that which defends to him from his Father or Ancestor; and so Bracton uses it, when he says, Perquistum facere, lib. 2. cap. 30. num. 3. & lib. 4. cap. 22.

Perquisites of Court Be those Profits that grow to a Lord of a Manor, by Virtue of his Court-Baron, over and above the certain yearly Profits of his Land, as Fines of Copyholds, Harlots, Amerciements, Waifs, Strays, &c. Perkins, fol. 20, 21.

See Parson.

Personable, Personabilis, Signifies as much as enabled to maintain Plea in Court: As for Example, the Defendant was judged personably to maintain this Action. Old Nat. Brev. fol. 142. And in Kitchen, fol. 214. The Tenant pleaded, that the Wife was an Alien born in Portugal, without the Legiance of the King, and Judgment was demanded. whether the should be answered: The Plaintiff saith, she was made personable by Parliament, that is, as the Civilians would speak it, Habere personam standi in judicio. Personable is also as much as to be of Capacity to take any Thing granted or given. Plowden, fol. 27. Colthrip's Case.

Personal, Personalis, Being joined with the Substantives, Things, Goods or Chattels, as Things personal, Goods personal, Chattels personal; signifies any moveable Thing belonging to a Man, be it quick or dead: So it is used in West. Symbol. part 2. Tit. Enditements, sect. 58. in these Words,

Theft

Theft is an unlawful felonious Taking away another Man's moveable personal Goods, so also 61. And Kitchin, fol. 139. saith, Where personal Things shall be given to a Corporation, as a Horse, a Cow, Sheep, or other Goods, &c. And Stamms, pl. cor. fol. 25. Contrattatio rei aliena, is to be understood of Things personal; for in Things real it is not Felony, as the Cutting of a Tree is not Felony. See Chattels.

Personal Tithes Are Tithes paid of such Profits as come by the Labour of a Man's Person, as by buying and selling, Gains of Merchandise and Handycrafts, &c. See Tithes.

Personalty, Personalitas, Is an Abstract of Personal. The Action is in the Personalty. Old Nat. Brev. fol. 92. that is to say, it is brought against the right Person, or the Person against whom in Law it lies. In vocabulario utriusque juris, I find the Word Impersonalitas; For says that Author, Personalitas significatur per has dictiones, (tu mihi, ego tibi) cum alio significato quod probabiliter concluditur, & si nullo modo concludatur tunc est impersonalitas.

Persona personata, Rot Quo War. 3 Edw. 3. See Parson imparsonne.

Persons ne Prebendaries ne seront chargee as quinquemes, &c. Is a Writ that lies for Prebendaries, or other spiritual Persons, being distrained by the Sheriff, or Collectors of Fifteens, for the Fifteenth of their Goods, or to be contributory to Taxes. F. N. B. fol. 176.

Perticata terræ Is the fourth Part of an Acre, which in the whole Superficies contains Forty Perticas. See Perches.

Perticulas. The King granted to Luke Marguin de insula de Man Scholaris, quandam elemosynam vocatam Perticulas ad sustentationem ejusdam pauperis Scholaris de insula predicta ad exercend. Scholas, per progenitores nostros, quandam Reges Angliæ datam & concessam. Pat. 5. Hen. 4. m. 16.

Pertinens Was anciently used for a Kinsman or Kinswoman, Si quis cum pertinente sua jaceat, emendet hoc secundum cognationis modum, sit Wera, sit Wita, sit omni pecunia, non est æquale, si quis cum sorore sua concubuit, & fuerit de longe pertinens. Leg. Canuti Regis, cap. 48.

Pertum for Perca, or Pertica, i. e. a long Pole. 'Tis mentioned in Knighton, Anno 1391. Corvenerunt in Curia sua multe turme Atomorum & Muscarum & maximam stragem fecerunt, adeo ut scopis & pertis mudarent locum de interfectis, i. e. they cleared the Place with Poles and Brushes.

Parbise or Parbise, Parvisus, Parvisia, Is derived from the French Le Parvis. Fortescue de laudibus legum Angliæ, cap. 51. pag. 124. hath these Words, Sed tunc placentes (i. post meridiem) se divertunt ad pervium & alibi consulentes cum servientibus ad legem & aliis consiliariis suis. Of which Chaucer thus, Prolog. 9.

A Serjeant at Law, that ware and wife,
That often had been at the Parvise.

Nam ibi legis periti convenere ut clientibus occurrerent, non ad tyrocinia juris, quas motas vocant exercenda, says Spelman. Selden in his Notes on Fortescue, pag. 56. says, it signifies an Afternoon's Exercise or Moot, for the Instruction of young Students, bearing the same Name originally with the Parvise in Oxford. Mr. Somner says, Parvise signifies Palatii Atrium vel Atrium illa a fronte Aule Westm. hodie, the Palace-yard. See his Gloss. in 10 Scrip-tores, verbo Triforium. And see Wood's Hist. of Oxford, 2 Par. fol. 6. See Paradisus.

Peter-men, Those who used unlawful Arts and Engines for catching Fish on the River Thames. See Stow's Survey of London, pag. 19.

Peter-Pence, Denarii, Sancti Petri, otherwise called in the Saxon Tongue Romefeoh, the Fee of Rome, or Due to Rome; and also Romefeot and Rome-penny was a Tribute given by Inas King of the West Saxons, being in Pilgrimage at Rome in the Year of our Lord 720. which was a Penny for every House. Lamb. Eplication of Saxon Words, verbo Nummus. And the like given by Offa, King of the Mercians, through his Dominions, in Anno 794. not as a Tribute to the Pope, but in Sufentation of the English School or College there; and it was called Peter-Pence, because collected on the Day of St. Peter ad Vincula, which was a Penny for every House. Spelm. de Concil. Tom. 1. fol. 3. 2. And in St. Edward's Laws, num. 10. where we may read these Words, Omnes qui habent 30. denariatus vice pecunia in dono sua de suo proprio, Anglorum lege dabit denarium sancti Petri, & lege Danorum dimidiam marcam; Iste vero debet summoniri in solemnitate Apostolorum Petri & Pauli & Collegii ad festivitatem que dicitur ad vincula, ita ut ultra illum diem non detineatur, &c. See also King Edgar's Laws, fol. 78. cap. 4. which contain a sharp Constitution touching this Matter. Stow in his Annals, p. 67. saith, That he who had Twenty Pennyworth of Goods of one Sort in his House, was to give a Penny at Lammas yearly. See Romefeot.

Petition (Petitie.) Signifies in general a Supplication made by an Inferior to a Superior, and especially to one having Jurisdiction. Anno 13 Car. 2. cap. 5.

Petit Cape. See Cape.

Petit Larceny. Parvum Latrocinium. See Larceny.

Petit Serjeanty, Parva Serjeantia. To hold by Petit Serjeanty, is to hold Lands or Tenements of the King, yielding him a Knife, a Buckler, an Arrow, a Bow without a String, or other like Service, at the Will of the first Feoffor; and there belongs not Ward, Marriage or Relief. And here observe, that none can hold by Grand or Petit Serjeanty, but of the King. But see the Statute 12 Car. 2. c. 24.

Petit Treason. Parva prodition. In French Petit trahison, i. prodition minor, Treason of a lesser or lower Kind; for whereas Treason in the highest Kind, is an Offence done against the Security of the Commonwealth. West. Symbol. part 2. Tit. Indictment, sect. 65. So is Petit Treason, though not so expressly. Petit Treason is, if a Servant kill his Master, a Wife her Husband, a secular or religious Man his Prelate. 25 E. 3. cap. 2. whereof see more in Stamdf. Pl. Cer. lib. 1. cap. 1. Crompton's Justice of Peace, fol. 2. And for the Punishment of it, see the Statute 22 H. 8. 14. and Crompt. ubi supra.

Petrozira. The same with Petraria.

Petra is a Sort of Weight, we call it a Stone, but differing in many Places of England; somewhere consisting of 16, other-where of 14, 12, or 8 Pounds. — Una libra sepi ad candelas valet obolum, & sic valet petra vi den. una libra sepi fust ad mortarium valet obolum quadrantem, & sic valet petra ix den. Regule compoti domus de

Pickards, No Person shall use any Iron Cards or Pickards in wearing any Woolen Cloth, upon Pain to forfeit the same, and 20s. for every Offence, Anno 3 & 4 E. 6. cap. 2.

Picella alias Wightell, Picellum, A small Parcel of Land inclosed with a Hedge, which the common People of England do in some Places call a Pingle, and may perhaps be derived from the Italian Word Picciola, i. parvus.

Picus, Pica, Pico, An Iron Instrument for digging and pecking. A Pick, a Pick-ax. — Videtur Lathomum insitatum, marros, picas, sulcas bajulantem, terram fodientem, lapides scindentem, &c. Vita Rob. Bertun Epi. Hereford apud Whartoni Angl. Sac. P. 2. pag. 302.

Pie-powder Court, Curia pedis pulverizati. From the French Pied, i. pes, and Pouldrenx, i. Pulve-

Pulverulentus; is a Court held in Fairs, to yield Justice to Buyers and Sellers, and for Redress of all Disorders committed in them; and so called, because they most usually are in Summer, and the Suitors commonly are Country-People with dusty Feet; or from the Expedition intended, in the Hearing of Causes proper thereunto, before the Dust goes of the Plaintiffs or Defendants Feet; it is held De hora in horam. Skene de verbor. signific. verbo Pede-pulverosus, says the Word signifies a Vagabond; especially a Pedlar, which hath no Place of Dwelling, and therefore must have Justice summarily administered to him, viz. within Three Ebbings and Three Flowings of the Sea. Bracton, lib. 5. tract. 1. cap. 6. num. 6. calleth it Justitiam pependens. Of this Court, read the Statute 17 E. 4. cap. 2. Co. 4 Inst. fol. 272. and Crompt. Jur. fol. 221. See Justices of the Pavilion. This among our old Saxons was called Seapung-gemot, i. e. A Court for Merchandise, or handling Matters of buying and selling. 'Tis mentioned in Doffor and Student, cap. 5. who tells us, 'tis a Court incident to Fairs and Markets, to be held only during the Time that the Fairs are kept.

Pies (Anno 3 & 4 Edw. 6. cap. 10.) Are reckoned among the Books prohibited by that Statute, but I could never learn what they were.

Pies, Freres pies, Were a Sort of Monks; so called, because they wore black and white Garments like Maggies. They are mentioned by Walsingham, pag. 124. In quodam veteri cœmeterio, quod fuerat quondam fratrum, quos Freres pies veteres appellabant.

Pittantia, Pitantia, A Pittance, a small Largess, an allotted Portion of Meat and Drink distributed to the Members of some collegiate Body, or other People, upon a high Festival, a stated Anniversary, or such like Solemnity. The Design of their Institution is thus delivered in the Statutes of Ralph Baldock Dean of Pauls, A. D. 1298. Pitantie sunt antiquitus vel noviter instituta propter solemnitatem Festorum augmentanda per presentiam multorum quorumcunque graduum scil. eundem habitum gestantium, & Officium seu obsequium certo die festivo seu anniversario peculiariter exercentium. Ex Libro Statut. Eccl. Paul. London. MS. See Pittance.

Pittantiarius, The Pittancer or Officer in Collegiate Churches, who was to distribute the several Pittances at such Times, and in such Proportions as the several Founders or Donors had appointed.

Pig of Lead. See Fether.

Pigmentum, An old potable Liquor made of Honey and Wine, and Spices. Ad hæc etiam in tanta abundantia vinum hic videas & siceram pigmentum & claretum, mustum, &c. Girald. Camb. apud Whartoni Angl. Sacr. P. 2. pag. 480.

Pike or Picke. See Polein.

Pila is that Side of Money which we call Pile, because it was the Side on which there was an Impression of a Church built on Piles. Heta, lib. 1. cap. 39. He who brings an Appeal of Robbery or Theft against another, must shew the certain Quantity, Quality, Price, Weight, Number, Measure, Valorem & Pilam, where Pilam signifies figuram Monetæ.

Pilatus, In the Assize of Arms, Anno 36. E. 3. Omnes alii qui possunt habere arcus & sagittas, extra forestam habeant; qui vero in foresta, habeant arcus & pilatos. Dr. Watts in his Glossary on this Word, is guilty of a plain Mistake: For, says he, In statuto nostro, Anno 13 Ed. 1. cap. 6. Anglice vertitur bolt, sed viderint ipsi Legales annon potius pro sagittis ferro spiculis vox sit accipienda. Nam sagitta spiculum the Pile adhuc dicimus. Bolts sunt sagitta catapultarum tota lignea & obtusa quibus aves ferimus. The Word is properly rendered Bolts, i. e. Blunts, or blunted Arrows. For Persons without the Bounds of a Forest, might shoot with sharp or pointed Arrows; but within the Forest, to preserve the Deer, they were to shoot only with Blunts, or Bolts, or Piles. For what Mat. Paris calls Pilatus, is termed a Pile in the Statutes of William King of Scotland, c. 23. de venientibus ad guerram, sect. 5. & omnes ubiq; qui habere poterunt, habeant arcum & sagittas extra forestam, & infra forestam arcum & Pile. Hence Sagitta pileata was opposed to Sagitta barbata; this latter, the bearded Arrow, was made for sharp and deeper Execution, but the piled Arrow had a Pile or Button fixed near the Point, to hinder the Entrance of it. As Blunts opposed to Sharps in Rapiers. Cum intrant predictam forestam ad bersendum Forestarii non portabunt in bosco sagittas barbata sed pileatas Anno 31 H. 1.

Pilettus, Et quod Forestarii sui non portabunt sagittas barbata sed Pilettas. Carta Rogeri de Quincy, 31 H. 3. Such Arrows as had a round Knob a little above the Head, to hinder them from going too far into the Mark, from the Latin Pila, which signifies any round Thing like a Ball.

Pileus suppositionis, A Cap of Maintenance. Pope Julius sent such a Cap with a Sword to Hen. 8. Anno 1514. Holling. pag. 827. but there is Mention made of such a Cap by Hoveden, pag. 656. at the Coronation of Richard the First, where it is said, Deinde venerunt Godofridus de Luci portans pileum Regium, & Johannes Marefcallus juxta eum portans duo calcarea aurea, &c.

Pille of Foddraz or ffouldrey, In the County Palatine of Lancaster, Anno 2. H. 6. cap. 5. seems to be a Defence built on a Creek of the Sea, and called Pille by the Idiom of the Country for a Pile. This Pile was erected there by the Abbot of Fornesse, in the first Year of Edw. 3. Cam. Brit. Rex. Dedimus Henrico Comiti Northumberland insulam, castrum, Pelam & Dominium de Man, &c. Rot. Pat. 1 Hen. 5. m. 6.

Pillory (Collistrigium, q. Collum stringens; Pilloria, from the French Pilleur, i. e. Depeculator;) is an Engine made of Wood to punish Offenders, well known. By the Statute of 51 Hen. 3. you may see who were then subject to this Punishment. In the Laws of Canutus, cap. 42. It is called Halfange. Sir Henry Spelman says, 'tis Supplicii Machina ad ludibrium magis quam pœnam. Item utimur tenere Statuta Pistorum omnino sicut antecessores nostri tenuerunt, viz. Quod si Pistor in male agendo puniatur per tres vices, & si post tertiam motionem culpabilis inveniatur, Balivi Capitales, si ipsum poterint invenire, ipsum capiant, & pro toto penant, & habebit vile & odibile Judicium de Collistrigio, i. e. the Pillory. MS. Codex de LL. & Consuetud. Burgi-villæ Montgoni. a temp. Hen. 2. fol. 12. b. See Halfang.

Pila terrea, A Pill, a small Piece or Slip of Ground. Noveritis me dedisse quatuor casus terre U u Et unam piltam prati vocatam Walske pille infra parochiam predictam. — Cart. Thomæ Episc. Batho Well. Dat. 4 Nov. 4 E. 4.

Pinna bibere, The old Custom of Drinking brought in by the Danes, was to fix a Pin in the Side of the Wassel-bowl or wooden Cup, and so to drink exactly to the Pin, as now in a sealed Glass, &c. This provoking Art of Drunkenness was forbid the Clergy, in the Council at London, Anno 1102. Presbyteri non eant ad potationes, nec ad pinnas bibant. Du Fresne cites this Constitution in the Word Pinna, and betraying his Ignorance in English Matters, would correct the Word; Forse (inquit) legendum pilas, i. e. tabernas.

Pinnochieum, A Bake-house, Locus pinfandi ubi panes conficiunt. The Book of St. Albans in the Life of Paul the fourth Abbot there, says, Iste hanc Ecclesiam cateraque adificia, præter Pistrinam & Pinnochieum, reedificavit ex Lapidibus & tegulis veteris civitatis Verolamii, &c. by which it seems that many of the Ruins of that ancient City remained until that Abbot's Time, who died Anno 1093.

Pioneers Cometh of the French Pionier, i. feller, and signifyeth such Labourers, as are taken up for the King's Army, to cast up Trenches, and undermine Forts. 2 & 3 E. cap. 20.

Pipe, Pipa, Is a Roll in the Exchequer, otherwise called The great Roll, Anno 37 E. 3. cap. 4. See Clerk of the Pipe. It is also a Measure of Wine or Oyl, containing half a Tun, that is, Six-score and six Gallons. 1 R. 3. 3.

Pirata, A Pirate, is now taken for one who maintains himself by Pillage and Robbing at Sea. But in former Times, the Word was used in a better Sense, being attributed to such Persons to whose Care the Mole or Pier of a Haven was intrusted. And sometimes for a Sea-Soldier, according to the learned Spelman. The Word is mentioned in 13 Car. 2. cap. 6. and the Punishment of them in 28 H. 8. cap. 115. Asser. Menevens. Episc. in vit. Ælfredi. — Rex Ælfredus jussit cymbas & galeas, i. longas naves fabricari per Regnum, ut Navali prelio hostibus adventantibus obviaret: Impossitque piratis in illis, vias maris custodiendas commisit.

Pisa: The same with Pies, a Pound-Weight; Tres pisas caseorum. Will. Thorn. pag. 1777, 1931.

Piscary (Piscaria, from the Fr Pescherie, i. e. Piscatio.) Is a Liberty of Fishing in another Man's Waters: In Law-French, Pecherie. Vide Ryly's Plac. Parl. 646.

Piscenarius Is used in our Records for a Fish-monger. Pat. 1 Ed. 3. Pars 3 M. 13. See Puleterius.

Pit, It is a Hole wherein the Scots use to drown Women Thieves. Skene.

Pit and Gallow. See Fossa and Furca.

Pitance, Pitancia, a small Repast of Fish or Flesh. Rot. Char. de Anno 1 Reg. Joh. pag. 2. num. 115. Johannes Dei Gratia, &c. Novemint, &c. nos assensum nostrum præbuisse, &c. de Manerio de Milde-Hall, quod Manerium sancto Edmundo sicut jus suum concessimus, &c. ita quod, qui pro tempore Sacrista fuerit, 12 s. de redditu altaris annuatim persolvat Hospitali S. Salvatoris quod est extra muros Sancti Edmundi, &c. in usus pauperum, &c. & 40 s. ad refectionem Monachorum qui illis diebus Officia divina pro defunctis celebrabunt, quæ reſectio pitania vocatur. See Spelman verbo Pitanciarium.

Pitanciarium Was an Officer in the Monasteries, whose Business it was to provide and distribute the Pitances of Herbs and Meat amongst the Monks. 'Tis mentioned in the Monast. 1 Tom. pag. 148.

Pitching pence, (commonly a Penny) Is that Money which is paid for pitching or setting down every Sack of Corn, or Pack of any other Merchandise in Fairs or Markets.

Pitell alias Nightrell. See Picle.

Pitiffare for Potare: Inter labia sua sonitum pitiffando faciat. Eadmerus in vita Anselmi. cap. 15.

Placard, Anno 2 & 3 P. & M. cap. 7. Is a Licence whereby a Man is permitted to shoot in a Gun, or use unlawful Games: In French it signifies a Table, where Orders are written, and hung up; and Placard in Dutch is an Edict or Proclamation. See 33 H. 8. 6.

Placeta seems to signify a Piece or Parcel, if of Lands; and a Place, if of a House or Messuage; as Placeta Messuagii, Placeta Prati, and Placeta Pasture.

Placita, Pleas, or Pleadings, or Debates and Trials at Law. Placita is a Word often mentioned in our Histories and Law-Books: At first it signified the publick Assemblies of all Degrees of Men where the King presided, and where they consulted about the great Affairs of the Kingdom; and these were called Generalia Placita, because Generalitas universorum majorem tam Clericorum quam Laicorum ibidem conveniebat. This was the Custom in our neighbouring Nation of France, as well as here, as we are told by Hincman, De Ordine palatii, cap. 29. And by Bertinian, in his Annals of France in the Year 767.

Some of our Historians, as Simeon of Durham, and others, who wrote above 300 Years afterwards, tell us, that these Assemblies were held in the open Fields; Nullam enim oportet Regem in literis assignare Curiam, quia ubi Rex judicat in aperto; ibi est Curia sua. Some are of Opinion, that these Placita generalia, and Curia Regis, were what we now call a Parliament: 'Tis true, the Lords Courts were so called, viz. Placita generalia, but oftner Curia generales, because all their Tenants and Vassals were bound to appear there.

We also meet with Placitum nominatum, i. e. the Day appointed for a Criminal to appear, and to make his Defence. Leg. H. 1. cap. 29, 46, 50. Placitum fractum, i. e. when the Day is past. Leg. H. 1. cap. 59. My Lord Coke tells us, that the Word is derived from Placendo, quia bene placitare super omnia placet: This seems to be a very fanciful Derivation of the Word; I rather think it derived from the German Platz, or from the Latin Plateis, i. e. Fields or Streets where these Assemblies or Courts were first held. But this Word Placita did sometimes signify Penalties, Fines, Mulcts, or Emendations, according to

Gervase

Geruase of Tilbury, or the Black Book in the Exchequer, Lib. 2. Tit. 13. Placita autem dicimus pœnas pecuniarias in quas incident Delinquentes. So in the Laws of Hen. 1. cap. 12, 13. Hence the old Rule of Custom, Comes habet tertium denarium Placitorum, is to be thus understood; the Earl of the County shall have the third Part of the Money due upon Mults, Fines, and Amercia-ments, imposed in the Assizes and County-Courts.

Placitare, i. e. Ligare & causas agere, To plead. Mos placitandi ante Conquestum fuit coram Aldermano & Proceribus, & coram Hundredariis, sc. Baronibus, Majoribus, Melioribus, Senioribus, & Urbanis. MS. in Bibl. Cotton. sub Tit. Vitellius, cap. 9.

Placitator, A Pleader. Ralph Flambard is recorded to be totius Regni Placitator, in William the Second's Time.

Plaint, Querela, Is used for the propounding or exhibiting of any Action personal or real in Writing, and so it is used, Bro. Tit. Plaint in Assise; and the Party making this Plaint, is called The Party Plaintiff. Kitchin, fol. 231.

Planchia, A Plank of Wood. Concessi præterea Materiam in bosco meo de Forma ad prædictum Molendinum reparandum extra plançias. Carta Stephani Devereux Mil. 1. All Materials of Wood except Planks.

Planchæ, The same with Casula; which see.

Plate, A Hoy, or Water Vessel so called, Anno 13 Eliz. cap. 15.

Plaustrata fœni, A Cart-Load of Hay.—Concessi unam Plaustratam fœni apud Malmesbur. Reg. Priorat. de Wormesley, fol. 64.

Plea, Placitum, (from the Saxon Pleo, or Pleob, i. e. Juris actio) Signifies that which either Party alledgeth for himself in Court, which was wont to be done in Even. b from the Conquest until Edward the Third, who ordained them to be done in Engliſh in the Six and thirtieth Year of his Reign, cap. 15. These are divided into Pleas of the Crown and Common Pleas. Pleas of the Crown of Scotland be Four, viz. Robbery, Rape, Murder, and wilful Fire. Skene de verb. signifi-verbo Placitum. With us they be all Suits in the King's Name, against Offences committed against his Crown and Dignity. Staundf. Pl. Cor. cap. 1. or against his Crown and Peace. Smith de Rep. Angl. lib. 2. cap. 9. And those seem to be Treasons, Felonies Misprisions of either, and Maimhem. Co. 4 Inst. cap. 10. Edward the First enfeofed Walter de Burgo in the Land of Ulster in Ireland, excepting the Pleas of the Crown, to wit, Rape, Hostial, wilful Firing and Treasure-trove. Cambd. Tit. Ireland. Common Pleas be those that be held between common Persons, yet by the former Definitions they must comprise all other, though the King be a Party. Plea may farther be divided into as many Branches as Action; which see, for they signify all one. Then there is a Foreign Plea, whereby Matter is alledged in any Court, that may be tried in another. As if one should lay Bastardy to another in a Court-Baron. Kitchin, f. 75. The Word Placitum is used by the Commentators upon the Fuods in the same Signification that Pleas be with us, and placitare with them is Ligare & Causas agere. Hotom. in verbo Feudal. verbo Placitare.

Pleadings Are all the Sayings of the Parties to Suits after the Count or Declaration, to wit, whatever is contained in the Bar. Replication and Rejoinder, and not in the Count it self; and therefore Defaults in the Matter of the Count are not comprised within Mispleading, or insufficient Pleading, nor are remedied by the Statute of Jeofailers, 32 H. 8. but only the Mispleading or insufficient Pleading committed in the Bar, Replication and Rejoinder; but those are now remedied also by 18 Eliz. cap. 13.

Pleas of the Sword, Placita ad gladium: Ranulph the third Earl of Chester, in the second Year of Henry the Third, granted to his Barons of Cheſhire an ample Charter of Liberties, Exceptis placitis ad gladium meum pertinentibus. Rot. Pat. in archiepis Regis infra castellum Cestrie, 3 E. 4. m. 9. The Reason was, because King William the Conqueror gave the Earldom of Chester to his Kinsman Hugh, commonly called Lupus, Ancestor, to this Earl Ranulph, Tenere ita libere per gladium, sicut ipse Rex Willielmus tenuit Angliam per Coronam. And consonant thereunto in all Indictments for Felony, Murder, &c. in that County-Palatine, the Form was anciently, Contra pacem Domini Comitis, Gladium & dignitates suas, or Contra Dignitatem Gladii Cestrie. These were the Pleas of the Dignity of the Earl of Chester. Sir P. Leicester's Hist. Antiq. fol. 164. See Gladius. Or Placita Ensis, i. e. Alta justitia, or Sovereign Authority and Jurisdiction.

Plebana, Plebanales Ecclesie, A Mother-Church, which has one or more subordinate Chapels.—

Radulphus de Salopia Episcopus Bathon. & Well. univit Ecclesiam plebanalem de Chywe mensæ sue Episcopalis. Whartoni Angl. Sacr. P. 1. pag. 569.

Plebanus, A Rural Dean, because the Deaneries were commonly affixed to the Plebani, or chief Mother-Churches within such a District, at first commonly of Ten Parishes.—

Joh. Peckham Archbishop of Cant. ordained that the Church of Terrings and Chapel of Paschings in the Diocese of Chester should be two several Parish-Churches.—Volumus igitur ut in Ecclesia de Terryng cum capellis suis de Duryngton & Hyen unus tantummodo presideat Rector in posterum, & curam habeat illarum animarum, que etiam Ecclesia suum habebit vicarium perpetuum residentem, qui Plebani sive Decani fungens officio jurisdictionem ordinariam, quam eidem vicarie & officio anneximus, perpetuo in clero & populo ipsius Ecclesie parochie cum dictis capellis, & etiam in parochia de Palchying, habeat & exerceat secundum canonicas SanTiones.—

Ecclesia de Terryng alium Rectorem suum curam animarum habentem optineat in futurum, qui etiam vicarium sub se perpetuum habeat, qui teneatur ibidem personaliter & continue residere & subesse in mandatis canonicis Plebano sive decano de Terryng.—

Dat. 4 Febr. 1257. Reg. Eccles. Christi Canuar. MS. Yet I believe from this, and other Authorities, it might be inferred, that Plebanus was not the usual Title for every Rural Dean, but only for such a Parish-Priest in a large Mother-Church, exempt from the Jurisdiction of the Ordinary, who had therefore the Authority of a Rural Dean committed to him by the Archbishop, to whom the Church was immediately subject.

Pledger, Plegius, May be derived from the Fr. Pleige, fidejussor, as Pleiger avcum, i. e. fide-jubere pro aliquo; in the same Signification is Plegius used by Glauvil, lib. 10. ca. 5. and Plegiatio for the Act of Suretiship in the Interpreter of the Grand Customary of Normandy, cap. 60. Plegii dicuntur persone, que que se obligant ad hoc, ad quod qui eos mittit, tenebatur; And in the same Book, cap. 89, 90. Plegiatio is used in the same Sense with Glanville, so alvi plegii be used for plegii, Pupil. oculi part 5. cap. 22. Charta de Foresta. This Word plegius is used also for Frankpledge sometimes, as in the End of William the Conqueror's Laws, set out by Lambard in his Archæionom. fol. 125. in these Words, Omnis homo qui voluerit se teneri pro libero, sit in plegio, ut plegius eum habeat ad justitiam, si quid offenderit, &c. And these be called Capital Pledges. Kutbin, fol. 10. See Frank-pledge, and Co. 4 Inst. fol. 180.

Pledgery or Pleggery, (French Pleigerie, Latin Plegium,) Suretiship, an Undertaking or Answering for. Also the Appellant shall require the Constable and Mareschal to deliver his Pledges, and to discharge them of their Pleggery; and the Constable and Mareschal shall ask Leave of the King to acquit his Pledges, after that the Appellant is come into the Lists to do his Devoir. Orig. Fur. ex vetusto Codice MS. in Bibl. Seldeniana. Quod si contingat dictos fidejussores meos aliquod dampnum incurvere, occasione Plegiarii mei. — Charta R. Hurtesley, sine dat.

Plegius acquietandis is a Writ that lies for a Surety, against him for whom he is Surety, if he pay not the Money at the Day. F. N. B. fol. 137. Regist. of Writs, fol. 158.

Pleissicium, A Park or Wood enclosed with Hedges: 'Tis mentioned in Orderic. Vital. lib. 5. pag. 583. Tunc etiam dedit totam decimam de norum propriumque pleissicium & partem silve, &c.

Plena satisfactura & plena wita. See Forfeiture.

Plenary Is an Abstract of the Adjective Plenus, and is used in the Common Law in Matters of Benefices, where Plenary and Vacation are direct Contraries. Staudf. prærog. cap. 8. fol. 32. Westm. 2. cap. 5. Institution is a good Plenary against a common Person, but not against the King without Induction. Co. on Lit. fol. 344.

Plevin, Plevina, From the Fr. Plevine, a War-rant or Assurance. See Replevin.

Plight Is an old English Word, signifying sometimes the Estate with the Habit and Quality of the Land, and extends to Rent-charge, and to a Possibility of Dower. 1 Inst. fol. 221. b.

Plita tertæ, A Plight, a Plightel, a small Portion or Spot of Ground. — Dicunt per sacramentum suum quod tempore Willielmi de Butrone quondam Reſtoris Ecclesie de Sowry tota decima de plita que vocatur Levide — Medo caviata fuit apud Sowry. Cartular. Abbat. Glaſton. MS. fol. 76. b.

Plite of Law, Anno 3 E. 4. cap. 5. Seems to be a Measure then in Use, as a Yard or an Ell now.

Plonketæ, 1 R. 3. cap. 8. A Kind of coarse woollen Cloth, otherwise called Veriſe.

Plow-Alms, Eleemosyna arvales. Anciently every Plow-Land paid a Penny to the Church, — De qualibet caruca juncta inter Pascham & Pentecosten, unum denarium, qui dicitur Plow-Almes. Mon. Angl. 1 par. fol. 256.

Plow-Land, Carucata terre, The same with a Hide of Land, which see.

Plurality, Pluralitas, 21 Hen. 8. cap. 13. The having more than one, chiefly applied to some Churchmen, who have Two, Three or more Benefices. Selden in his Titles of Honour, fol. 687. mentions Triality and Quadrality.

Pluries Is a Writ that goeth out in the third Place, after Two former Writs have had no Effect; for first the original Capias issues, and if that speed not, then goeth out the ſicut Alias, and if that also fail, then the Pluries. See Nat. Brev. fol. 33. in the Writ De Ex. om. capiendo. See in what Diversity of Cases it is used in the Table of the Original Register.

Pluviale, A Garment which covered the whole Body, and defended it from the Rain; and for that Reason a Cap was so called, because it defended Caput a Pluvia.

Pocket of Wool Is half a Sack. 3 Inst. fol. 96. See Pack of Wool.

Podius, A Country-House: 'Tis mentioned in Mon. Angl. 3 Tom. pag. 194. Abbatis filius septem, patre junctis vir magnæ pietatis nutritio eo, & ad studium literarum misit quos in podo suo dimisit.

Pokes, Side-Gowns, or long sleeved Gowns, which Fashion grew so affected and extravagant, that the Wearing of them was prohibited by Philip Repingdon Bishop of Lincoln, in his Injunctions Anno 1410. — Item quod dicti vicarii & Clerici quicumque & precipue cum fuerint reveſtiti, inhonestis togis suis cum longis manicis vulgariter Pokes nuncupatis non utantur. Ex Collectan. Matt. Hutton. S. T. P. MS.

Pole. See Porch.

Poledrabis, A Kind of coarse Canvaſs used by the Sailsmen in making up their Ware. 1 Fac. cap. 24.

Poledrus, i. e. A Colt: Sed & poledrum denario, vitulum obolo redimant.

Poleine Was a Sort of Shoe, sharp or pick-ed, and turned up at the Toe; they first came in Fashion in the Reign of William Rufus, and by Degrees came to be of that excessive Length, that in Richard the Second's Time they were tied up to the Knees with Gold or Silver Chains, according to the Dignity of the Wearer: They were forbidden by Edward the Fourth, in the Fifth Year of his Reign, under a great Penalty, to be worn so long: But were not utterly laid aside till the Reign of Henry the Eighth. Malmſbury, in the Life of the fore-mentioned William Rufus, speaking of the Excesses of those Times, hath these Words, Tunc fluxus crinium, tunc luxus vestium, tunc usus calceorum cum arcuatis aculeis inventus est.

Poletarius, i. e. A Master, Poletarii qui bradium curant & faciunt. Will. Thorn, pag. 2206.

Poletria, i. e. A Stud of Colts: 'tis mentioned in Fleta, Lib. 2. cap. 87. Item ejus est facere Butyrum, curamque de Poletria obtinere.

Pollhachetum, A Pole-Hatcher, a Pole-Ax. — Walterus de Blanchey implicatur eo quod Dominum suum in capite cum quodam pollhacheto felonice percussit. Placit. 12 Ed. 2.

Policy of Assurance, Aſſecuratio, Is a Course taken by those who do adventure Wares or Merchandise to Sea, whereby they, unwilling to lose the whole Adventure, do give unto some other a certain Rate or Proportion, as Ten in the Hundred, or such like, to secure the safe Arrival of the Ship, and so much Wares at the Place

Place agreed upon; so that if the Ship and Wares do miscarry, the Assurer maketh good to the Adventurer so much as he promised to secure; if the Ship arrive safely, he gaineth that clearly which the Merchant compoundeth to pay him. And for the more even dealing between the Merchant and the Assurer in this Case, there is a Clerk or Officer ordained to set down in Writing the Sum of their Agreement; and this is called Pollicy, to prevent any Difference that might after happen between them. This is mentioned 47 Eliz. cap. 12. and 14 Car. 2. cap. 23. And is now many Times used to insure Mens Lives in Offices, who have paid great Sums of Money for the Purchase thereof, and are insured from that Adventure by a certain Company of Merchants or Citizens, for Three or Four per Cent. subscribing or under-writing the Agreement, Pollicy or Insurance, who do among them share the Premium or Money given, and run the Hazard of it. Such Assurances or Policies are not seldom also used in other Matters, where Loss or Damage is feared.

Pollard, A Sort of spurious Coin, which with Crocards were long since prohibited. Mat. Westm. in Anno 1299. pag. 413. Pollards, Crocards, Staldings, Eagles, Leemines and Steepings, were heretofore several Sorts of Money used in England, but long since disused. 2 Inst. fol. 577. We also call those Trees Pollards or Pollengers, which have been usually cropt, and therefore distinguished from Timber-Trees. See Plowden, fol. 469. b. In Walsingham and Knighton, Anno 1301. Prohibita est moneta alienigenarum surreptitio & illegitima, quam Pollardos & Cocodones atque Rosarios appellabant, qui paulatim & latenter loco irreperunt Sterlingorum, hanc monetam primo Rex Edwardus jussit valere obolam, deinde omnino exterminavit.

Poller, Properly signifies the Thumb, but metaphorically it signifies an Inch, Pollex in omni mensura debet mensurari ad radicem unguis, & debet stare ex longitudine trium granorum hordei boni sine caudis. Spelm.

Polliticoz, The Embalmers of dead Bodies, such as prepare them for their Funeral and Interment. Ulp. de Inst. Ad. l. quicumque. Si libitinaris inquit servum pollinctorem habuerit, isque mortuum spoliaverit, dandam in eum quasi actionem infertorianam.

Poll-money, Capitatio, Was a Tax ordained by Act of Parliament, 18 Car. 2. cap. 1. and 19 Car. 2. cap. 6. By the First of which every Subject in this Kingdom was assessed by the Head or Poll, according to his Degree, viz. every Duke 100 l. every Marquess 80 l. &c. Baronets 30 l. Knights 20 l. Esquires 10 l. &c. and every single Person 12 d. &c. And that this is no new Tax, appears by former Acts of Parliament, where Quilibet tam conjugatus, quam solutus utriusque sexus pro capite suo solvere cogeratur. Parliam. Anno 1380. Walsingham Ypod. 534. There was anciently (says Camden in his Notes upon Coins) a personal Tribute called Capitatio (Poll-stover) imposed upon the Poll or Person of every one, of Women from the Twelfth, of Men from the Fourteenth Year of their Age.

Potvquatus Is he that is married to Two, or more Wives together. 3 Inst. fol. 18.

Pomulum, Properly a round Ball set on the Top of any Building, a pomii similitudine, Fr. Pommeau, Pommelle, Angl. Pommel or Pammel. Ecclesia S. Pauli London. continet in longi- tudine DCLXXXX pedes, in latitudine CXXX pedes — altitudo fabricæ lapideæ campanilis ejusdem Ecclesiæ continet a plana terra CCLX pedes, altitudo fabricæ lignæ continet CCLX pedes, atamen in toto non excedit quingentos XX pedes. Item pomellum ejusdem campanilis continet in sua concavitate, si fuerit vacuum, X buffellos bladi, cujus rotunditas diametri continet XXXVI uncias quo faciunt tres pedes, &c. Ex Chronico Ecclesiæ Salisber. Cotton. Cleopatra. B. 4.

Pomeranium, i. e. An Orchard. In Mon. Angl. 2 Tom 129. Concedo etiam eas duas partes decimarum totius fœni mei & Pomeranci & totius pannagii mei.

Pondage. See Poundage.

Ponderare. It was a Custom formerly to weigh sick Children at the Tomb of a Saint, and to balance the Scales with Wheat Bread, or with any Thing which they were willing to offer either to God or his Saints, but always with some Money, and by this the Cure was performed. Ad sepulchrum Sancti nummo se ponderabat.

Pondus, Poundage, Which Duty with that of Tonnage, was anciently paid to the King according to the Weight and Measure of Merchants Goods. — Rex majori & civibus Winton. & omnibus has literas inspecturis salutem. Sciatis quod dedimus dilecto & fideli nostro Britoni Balistario pondus civitatis nostre Winton. & portum borealem ejusdem civitatis cum omnibus ad predictum pondus & portum pertinentibus. — Pat. i H. 3. m. 10.

Pondus fœgis, The Standard-Weight appointed by our ancient Kings — *Anno 35 Edw. 1. Præceptum fuit Majori & Vicecom. Lond. Cum inter ceteros Articulos quos Rex per Cartam pro se & heredibus suis concessit Mercatoribus extraneis & alienigenis, cum bonis & mercandis suis infra regnum & potestatem Regis venientibus, ordinaverit quod in qualibet villa mercatoria & feria infra idem regnum & potestatem Regis Pondus Regis in certo loco ponatur; & ante ponderationem statueret in presentia emptoris & venditoris vacua videatur, & quod brachia ejusdem statere sint equalia, & extunc ponderator ponderet in equali, & cum stateram posuerit in equali amoveat manus suas, ita quod remaneat in equali, per quod Dominus Rex pluries præcepit quod eisdem Mercatoribus ordinationem Regis predictam — facerent in omnibus inviolabiliter observari. — Ac ipsi Major & Vicecom. concessionem Regis predictam reprobando Regi significarunt quod modus ponderandi averia ponderis ad civitatem London. venientia a tempore quo non extat memoria talis extitit & adhuc existit, quod statera semper trahat meliorem, hoc est, versus rem emptam, & eodem modo venduntur dicta averia Archiepiscopis, Episcopis, Comitibus, Baronibus, &c. Dominus Rex eis adhuc præcepit firmiter injungens quod ordinationem Regis predictam inviolabiliter observari facerent, & Pondus Regis in certo loco ponerent. Ex libro Placitorum temp. Regum Ed. 1. & Ed. 2. MS. fol. 159. From this good Authority it seems easy to infer that what we call Troy-Weight was this Pondus Regis or le Roy Weight, with the Scales in equilibrium, as we now say Gold-Weight. Whereas the Aver du pois was the fuller Weight with a declining Scale, which had been the common Use within the City of London.*

Pone Is a Writ, whereby a Cause depending in the County, or other inferior Court, is removed to the Common Bench. Old Nat. Brev. fol. 2. See Table of the Reg. of Writs.

Donendis in Affises Is a Writ founded upon the Statute of Westm. 2. cap. 38. and upon the Statute of Articuli super Chartas, cap. 9. which Statutes do shew what Persons Sheriffs ought to impanel upon Affises and Juries, and what not; as also what Number, which see in Reg. Orig. fol. 178. F. N. B. fol. 165.

Donendum in Ballium, Is a Writ, commanding a Prisoner to be bailed in Causes bailable. Reg. Orig. fol. 133.

Donendum sigillum ad exceptionem Is a Writ, whereby the King willeth the Justices, according to the Statute of Westm. 2. to put their Seals to Exceptions laid in by the Defendant against the Plaintiffs Declarations, or against the Evidence, Verdict, or other Proceedings before the Justices.

Done per Madum Is a Writ commanding the Sheriff to take Surety of one for his Appearance at a Day assigned. Of this see Five Sorts in the Table of the Register Judicial, verbo Pone per Vadium.

Pontage (Pontagium,) Is a Contribution towards the Maintenance or Re-edifying of Bridges. Westm. 2. cap. 25. It may also signify Toll taken to this Purpose of those that pass over Bridges. Anno 1 Hen. 8. cap. 9. 22 Hen. 8. cap. 5. and 39 Eliz. cap. 24. Per Pontagium clamant esse quiet. de operibus pontium. Plac. in Itin. apud Cestriam 14 Hen. 7. This was accounted one of the Three publick Charges on the Nation, from which no Person of what Degree soever was exempted, viz. from the Charge of an Expedition to the Wars, from building of Castles, and from building and repairing Bridges: And this was called Trinoda necessitas; from which Ingulphus tells us, nulli possunt laxari. And Mr. Selden, in his Notes upon Eadmerus, writes, that ne quidem Episcopi, Abbates & monachi immunes erant. And Mat. Paris, Anno 1244, tells us, that in all the Grants of Privileges to Monasteries, these three Things were always excepted, propter publicam regni utilitatem, that the People might the better resist the Enemy.

Ponters, Colebrook in Buckinghamshire.

Pontibus reparandis, Is a Writ directed to the Sheriff, &c. willing him to charge one, or more, to repair a Bridge, to whom it belongeth. Reg. Orig. fol. 153.

Ponticus. See Porticus.

Pozca, A Ridge of Land. See Ridge of Land.

Pozcarv, (Porcaria, according to Fleta,) A Swine's Sty: But Porcheria elsewhere occurs.

— Ex dono Simonis de Costen quandam placeam in bosco de Costen ad quandam Porcheriam faciendam, &c. Mon. Angl. 1 par. fol. 475. b. & fol. 363.

Pozpissum. See Purpissum.

Pozter in the Circuit of Justices Is an Officer that carries a white Rod before the Justices in Eyre, so called a Portando virgam, Anno 13 Edw. 1. cap. 41. See Vergers. There is also a Porter bearing a Verge before the Justices of either Bench.

Pozter of the Door in the Parliament House, Is an Officer belonging to that High and Honourable Court, and enjoys the Privileges accordingly. Crompt. Jurisf. fol. 11.

Poztgreve, Portgreivus, In Saxon Portferefe, that is, urbis vel portus prefectus; Signifies with us a Magistrate in certain Sea-Coast Towns; and as

Camden in his Brit. pa. 325. saith, the chief Magistrate of London was so called, as appears by a Charter of King William the Conqueror to the same City in these Words.

Charta Willielmi Conquestoris Civitat. London.

William King, Greete William Bishop and Godfrey Portgreve, and all the Burgeis within London, French and English: And I grant you, That I will that you be all your Lawworth that ye were in Edwardis Days the King: And I will that each Child be his faders Cyer, and I will suffer, that any Man you any Wrongys beed. And God yu keep. Ex libro perveculo.

In whose Stead Richard the First ordained Two Bailiffs, but presently after him King John granted them a Mayor for their yearly Magistrate. And the same Camden speaking of Maidstone in Kent, says, Immunitates plurimas Regina Elizabetha fert acceptas, qua maiorem summum Magistratum instituit pro Portgrevio quem primum habuit, &c.

Portiforium, The Ecclesiastical Ensign or Banner provided of old in all Cathedral, and most Parochial Churches, to be solemnly carried in the Front of any Procession, &c. — Magnum Portiforium ex parte Decani vocatum Standard propter vetustatem fuit nimis defectivum. — Articuli in visitat. Eccl. Ebor. Anno

Porticulus, A little Porch or Arch built over the Tombs of dead Men. Leg. H. 1. cap. 83. Si quis corpus in terra vel nostro vel petra sub piramide vel structura qualibet positum sceleratus infamationibus effodere vel spoliaré presumpserit, &c. In some Authors 'tis called Ponticus, because arched in the Shape of a Bridge.

Portion, (Portio,) Is that Allowance or Proportion which a Vicar commonly has out of a Rectory or Impropriation, be it certain or uncertain. Stat. 27 H. 8. cap. 28.

Portioner, (Portionarius,) — Pateat universis quod ego Johannes Botelere, Porconarius secundæ portionis Ecclesiæ de Bromyard, dedi — dat. 17 R. 2. Where a Parsonage is served by Two, or sometimes Three Ministers alternately, as Bromyard supra Burford, in Shropshire, &c. the Ministers are called Portioners, because they have but their Portion or Proportion of the Tithes or Profits of the Living.

Portmen. Anno 13 Eliz. cap. 24. The Twelve Burgeses of Ipswich are so called. So also are the Inhabitants of the Cinque Ports, according to Camden.

Portmote Is a Compound of Porte, portus, and Gemot, conventus, and signifies a Court kept in Haven-Towns, as Swaainmote in the Forest. It is called the Portmote Court, 43 Eliz. cap. 15. Curia portmotorium est curia in civitate Cestrie coram majore in aula Motorum tenenda. Pl. in Itin. ibid. 14 H. 7.

Portmannimote, The Portmote, or Portmens Court, held not only in a Port or Haven Town, as the Word Portmote is ignorantly rendered, but in any City, Town, or Community.

Portoos. See Portuas.

Portofale, Anno 35 H. 8. cap. 7. Is the Sale of Fish, as soon as it is brought into the Haven.

Portsmouth. See Magnus Portus.

Portokke, The Soke or Liberties of any Port, i. e. City, or Town. King Henry 3. by Charter dated 16 Mart. Anno Regni 11. grants to the Citizens of London, —

Quietantiam murdri infra urbem & in Portokke, i. e. within the Walls of the City, and the Liberties without the Walls. Placit. temp. Edw. 1. & 21. MS. fol. 143. penes Dom. Fontaine.

Portfoka, The Suburbs of a City, or any Place within its Jurisdiction; from the Saxon Port, which is Civitas, and Soca, Firisdistio. Concessi quod nullus de Civitate vel Portfoka sua capius, &c. Somner's Gavelkind, pag. 135.

Portuas, (Anno 3 & 4 Ed. 6. cap. 10.) Is reckoned amongst Books prohibited by that Statute, perhaps it may be the same which Chaucer calls a Porthole, and which is elsewhere written Porteos & Portuos. It is the Book we now call a Breviary, for thus Chaucer :

For on my Porthose I make an Oath.

See Sir Lewis Clifford's Will, verbo Will: And see Skene, verbo Portuos.

Portse Is an infinitive Mood, but used substantively to signify a Possibility, as we say, such a Thing is in posse, that is, such a Thing may possibly be; but of a Thing in Being, we say it is in Esse.

Portse Comitatus. See Power of the County.

Possession, Possessio, Is two-fold, actual and in Law: Actual Possession is, when a Man actually enters into Lands and Tenements to him descended. Possession in Law is, when Lands or Tenements are descended to a Man, and he hath not as yet actually entred into them. Staundf. Pl. Cor. fol. 198. As for Example, Before or until an Office be found of Lands escheated by an Attainder, the King hath only a Possession in Law, and not in Deed. Staundf. Prærog. fol. 54, 55. There is also a Unity of Possession, which the Civilians call Consolidationem. See an Example of this in Kitchin, fol. 124. If the Lord purchase the Tenancy held by Heriot-service, then the Heriot is extinct by Unity of Possession, that is, because the Scignior and the Tenancy be now in one Man's Possession. Many other Divisions of Possessions you may read in Bracton, lib. 2. cap. 17. per totum.

Possibilitas Is taken for an Act wilfully done, and impossibilitas for a Thing done against our Will. Si autem oculos asnasset reddat veram ejus, & possibilitatis accusetur in eo facto, where factum possibilitatis is a wilful Act. Leg. Alfred. cap. 38. So in the Laws of Canutus, cap. 66. Et si quis agat impossibilitate, non est omnino simile si voluntarie faciat. Leg. Sax. Ed. Senior. cap. 88.

Post. See Per.

Post, In French Poste, a swift or speedy Messenger, Sic dictus (saith Spelman) quasi postus, quod in via publica ponitur ad stationem debitam decurrendum.

Post Conquestum Was first inserted in the King's Title by Edward the First, but not constantly used till Edward the Third's Time. Claus. 1. Edw. 3. in Dorso. M. 33.

Post Diem Is a Fee by Way of Penalty upon a Sheriff for his Neglect in returning a Writ after the Day assigned for its Return; for which the Custos Brevium hath Four Pence, whereas he hath nothing, if it be returned at the Day: Sometimes taken for the Fee it self.

Post Discessum, Post Discessina, Is a Writ given by the Stat. of Westm. 2. cap. 26. and lies for him that having recovered Lands or Tenements by Præcipe quod reddat, upon Default or Reddition, is again disseised by the former Disseisor. F. N. B. fol. 190. See the Writ that lies for this in the Register, fol. 208.

Postea Is the Return of the Proceedings by Nisi prius into the Court of Common Pleas after a Verdict, and there afterwards recorded. See Plowden, fol. 211. Saunder's Case. See also an Example of it in Coke's Reports, vol. 6. fol. 41, 42. See Custos brevium.

Postilena, for Postilena; i. e. A Crupper of a Saddle.

Posteriority, Posterioritas, The Coming after or being behind, is a Word of Comparison, and Relation in Tenure, the Correlative whereof is Priority; for a Man holding Lands or Tenements of Two Lords, holdeth of his ancienter Lord by Priority, and of his later Lord by Posteriority. Staundf. Prærog. fol. 10, 11. When one Tenant holdeth of Two Lords, of the one by Priority, of the other by Posteriority, &c. Old Nat. Brev. fol. 94. Co. 2. Inst. fol. 392.

Postern, Or Back-door: 'Tis mentioned in Fleta, lib. 2. cap. 73. par. 21. Potestas habere Posternas in omni curia penitus inhibetur; sed unicus sit ingressus, &c.

Post-fine Is a Duty belonging to the King, for a Fine formerly acknowledged before him in his Court, which is paid by the Cognisee, after the same is fully passed, and all Things performed touching the same; the Rate thereof is so much, and half so much as was paid to the King for the Fine, and is collected by the Sheriff of the County, where the Land, &c. lies, whereof the Fine was levied; to be answered by him into the Exchequer. 22 & 23 Car. 2. An Act for better Recovery of Fines and Forfeitures, &c.

Postillas and Postillare, Marginal Notes, or to make Annotations on a Book. Trivet in his Chronicle, speaking of Stephen Langton, Archbishop of Canterbury, tells us, that super Bibliam postillas fecit, & eam per capitula quibus nunc utuntur moderni distinxit; and that Alexander, Bishop of Chester, super psalterium Postillas scripsit; and Knighton, another of our Historians, writing of one Hugh, a Dominican and Cardinal, tells us, that Totam Bibliam postillavit.

Postnati. In the Seventh Year of King James, after many Arguments and long Debates, it was by all the Judges resolved, that such as were born in Scotland after the Descent of the Crown of England to King James, were no Aliens in England: But the Antenati, that is, such as were born before that Descent, were Aliens in Regard of the Time of their Birth. Co. 7 Reports, Calvin's Case.

Postnatus Is a Word often mentioned in Bracton, Glanville, Fleta, and other Law-writers, and it signifies the second Son. So in Brompton, Lib. 2. cap. 35. Est consuetudo in quibusdam partibus quod postnatus præferatur primogenito.

Post

Post-Poned, (Post-Pene) Set or put after another. 22 & 23 Car. 2. Subsidy Act.

Post-term, Post terminum, Is a Return of a Writ, not only after the Day assigned for the Return thereof, but after the Term also, for which the Custos brevium takes the Fee of Twenty-pence: Sometimes also it is taken for the Fee it self.

Postulatio, A Postulation made upon the unanimous Voting any Person to a Dignity or Office, of which he is not capable by the ordinary Canons or Statutes, without special Dispensation. So a Chapter postulated a Bishop actually possessed of another Sec. And the Religious postulated a Prelate to be taken from another Convent, from which he could not pass by the ordinary Rules of the Society. By the old Customs, an Election could be made by a Majority of Votes, but a Postulation must have been Nemine contradicente.

Pot, A Head-piece for War. 13 Car. 2. cap. 6.

Pot-Ashes, Are made of the best Ashes. Amo 12 Car. 2. cap. 4. and are used in making of Soap; some are made in England, but the Best are brought from beyond Sea.

Potionatus, Poisoned, Vita MS. Vulgigi 3. Abbatis S. Albani.— Possea in brevi migravit ab incolatu hujus mundi, ut dicitur potionatus, cum odio concensus & maledictione.

Pound, Parcus, Signifies a Place of Strength to keep Cattel in that are distrained, and put there for any Trespass done, until they be replevied or redeemed; and this is called a Pound Overt, or open Pound, and because it is built upon the Lord's Waste, the Lord's Pound. See Kitchin, fol. 144. It is divided into open and close: An open or overt Pound, is not only the Lord's Pound, but a Back-side, Court-Yard, Pasture-Ground, or whatever Place else, whither the Owner of the Beasts impounded may come to give them Meat and Drink, without Offence, for their being there, or his coming thither. A close Pound is contrary, whither the Owner cannot come for the Purposes aforesaid, without Offence; as some House, Castle, Fortrefs, or such like Place.

Poundage Is a Subsidy to the Value of Twelve-pence in the Pound, granted to the King, of all Manner of Merchandise of every Merchant, as well Denizen as Alien, either exported or imported; and of such Subsidies see the Statutes 1 & 2 Edw. 6. cap. 13. and 1 Jac. cap. 33. 12 Car. 2. cap. 4. and 14 Car. 2. cap. 24.

Poundagium, The Liberty of pounding Cattel.— In ameriamentis transgressionum, separationibus fossatorum, & poundagiis animalium, possessionem continuavit. Hist. Croyland. contin. pag. 519.

Pound-breach. See Poundbrech.

Pound in Money: From the Saxon Pund, i. e. Pondus: It consisted in those Days of 240 Pence, as it doth now, but a Penny then was equal in Weight to almost Five Pence now, and afterwards to Three Pence; and 240 of those Pence weighed a Pound, but 720 scarce weigh so much now; this appears by the Silver Penny coined in the Reign of King Ethelred. Lanbaird, 219.

Pourallée. See Purlieu.

Pour fair proclamer, que null insect fines ou ordres en fosses, ou rivières mes Citées, &c. Is a Writ directed to the Mayor, Sheriff or Bailiff, of a City or Town, commanding them to proclaim, that none cast Filth into the Ditches or Places near adjoining, and if any is cast already, to remove it. This is founded upon the Statute, 12 R. 2. 13. F. N. B. fol. 176.

Pourparty, Propars, Propartis, Probartia, Is contrary to pro indiviso: For to make Pourparty, is to divide and sever the Lands that fall to Parceners, which before Partition they hold jointly, and pro indiviso. Old Nat. Brew. fol. 11.

Pourpresture, Pourprestura, From the French Pourpris, confectum, an Inclosure: It is thus defined by Glanville, lib. 9. cap. 11. Pourprestura est proprie quando aliquid super Dominum Regem injuste occupatur; ut in Dominicis Regis, vel in viis publicis obstructis, vel in aquis publicis transversis a recto cursu, vel quando aliquis in civitate super Regium plateam aliquid edificando occupaverit, & generaliter quoties aliquid fit ad nocumentum Regii tenementi vel Regie vie vel civitatis. Crompton in his Jurisd. fol. 152. defines it thus, Pourpresture is properly when a Man taketh unto himself, or incroacheth any Thing that he ought not, whether it be in any Jurisdiction, Land or Franchise; and generally when any Thing is done to the Nuisance of the King's Tenants. See Kitchin, fol. 10. and Mandwood's Forest Laws, cap. 10. Skene de verbor. signif. verbo Purpresture, makes three Sorts of this Offence, one against the King, a second against the Lord of the Fee, the Third against a Neighbour by a Neighbour. See Co. 2 Inst. fol. 38 & 272. Et Lib. nigr. in Scacc. fol. 37 & 38. That against the King happens by the Negligence of the Sheriff or Deputy, or by the long Continuance of Wars, inasmuch as those who have Lands near the Crown-lands, take or enclose Part of it, and lay it to their own.

Pourpresture against the Lord is when the Tenant neglects to perform what he is bound to do for the chief Lord, or in any wise deprives him of his Right.

Pourpresture against a Neighbour is of the same Nature: 'Tis mentioned in the Monast. 1 Tomp. pag. 843. and in Thorn, pag. 2625. Et de purprestura quam Bercarius Abbas purprebendit super predictum Heliam.

Pour seisir terres la femme que tient en Dowry, &c. Was a Writ whereby the King seised upon the Land which the Wife of his Tenant that held in capite, deceased, had for her Dowry, if she married without his Leave; and was grounded upon the Statute of the King's Prerogative. Cap. 3. See F. N. B. fol. 174.

Poursuivant, From the French Poursuivre, i. e. persequi, signifies the King's Messenger attending upon him in his Wars, or at the Council-Table, Exchequer, in his Court, or his Chamber, to be sent upon any Occasion or Message; as for the Apprehending of a Person accused, or suspected of any Offence: Those that be used in martial Causes are called Pursuivants at Arms, 24 H. 8. 13. whereof there be Four of special Names, which see in the Word Herald. And Stow speaking of Richard the Third's Death, pag. 784. hath these Words. His Body was naked to the Skin, not so much as one Clout about him, and was trussed behind a Pursuivant at Arms like a Hog, or a Calf, &c. The Rest are used upon other Messages in Time of Peace, and especially in Matters touching Jurisdiction. See Herald. Nicholas Upton, in his Book De militari officio, viz. Lib. 1. cap. 11. mentions the ancient Form of making these Pursuivants, and tells us, that they were called Militis linguaves, because because their chief Honour was in Custodia lingue, and he divides them into Curiores equitantes, and Profectores, which is likewise comprehended in these Verses.

*Cinctorio scutum dexte deferre pedinum,
Sic equitis dignum fuit scapula dextera signum.
Sed humero laevo detulit profector ab avo,
Ac Heraldorum stat pectore fons titulorum.*

Pourveyance Is the providing Corn, Fuel, Victual, and other Necessaries for the King's House. By 12 Car. 2. cap. 24. it is provided, That no Person or Persons, by any Warrant, Commission or Authority, under the Great Seal, or otherwise, by Colour of buying or making Provision or Purveyance for his Majesty, or any Queen of England for the Time being, or that shall be, or for his, their, or any of their Household, shall take any Timber, Fuel, Cattel, Corn, Grain, Malt, Hay, Straw, Victual, Cart, Carriage, or other Thing whatsoever of any the Subjects of his Majesty, his Heirs or Successors, without the full and free Consent of the Owner or Owners thereof, had or obtained without Menace or Enforcement, &c. See the Antiquity of Pre-emption and Purveyance, &c. and 3 Inst. fol. 82.

Pourvoir, Provisor, Derived from the French Purvoir, i. providere, signifies an Officer of the King or Queen, or other great Personage, that provideth Corn and other Victual for their House. See Mag. Charta, cap. 22. and 3 Ed. 1. cap. 7 & 31. & anno 28. ejusdem, Articuli super Chartas, 2. and other Statutes. The Name of Purveyor was so odious in Times past, that by Statute 36 Edw. 3. 2. the heinous Name of Purveyor was changed into Buyer; but the Office is restrained by Stat. 12. Car. 2. c. 24. See Purveyance and Achat.

Powchias, A Pouch, a Poke, a Sheath, a Scabbard. — Etiā ex transverso ventris sub umbilico habentes cultellos, quos daggerios vulgariē vocant, in Powchis desuper impositis. Will. Thorn sub anno 1248.

Powder of the County, Posse Comitatus, In the Opinion of Lambard in his Eirenarchia, lib. 3. cap. 1. fol. 309. containeth the Aid and Attendance of all Knights, Gentlemen, Yeomen, Labourers, Servants, Apprentices, and all others, above the Age of Fifteen Years within the County, because all of that Age are bound to have Harness by the Statute of Winchester: But Women, Ecclesiastical Persons, and such as are decrepit, or labour of any Infirmary, shall not be compelled to attend. And the Statute of 2 H. 5. cap. 8. says, that Persons able to travel, shall be assistant in this Service, which is used where a Possession is kept upon a Forcible Entry, or any Force, or Rescue used, contrary to the Command of the King's Writ, or in Opposition to the Execution of Justice.

Powledavis. See Poledavis, 1 Fac. 24.

Poyning's Law Is an Act of Parliament made in Ireland by Hen. 7. and so called, because Sir Edward Poyning was Lieutenant there when it was made, whereby all the Statutes in England were made of Force in Ireland, which before that Time were not, neither are any now in Force there which were made in England since that Time. See Coke's 12 Rep. fol. 190. Hill. 10 Fac.

Preceptorie. See Commandry.

Preceptorie (Preceptorie, Anno 32 Hen. 8. cap. 24.) Were Benefices in a Kind, and so termed, because they were possessed by the more eminent Sort of the Templers, whom the chief Master by his Authority created and called Preceptores Templi. Stephens de Jurisd. lib. 4. cap. 10. num. 27. Others say, they were here in England as Cells only, subordinate to their principal Manſion, the Temple in London. Of these Preceptorie, I find Sixteen recorded, as anciently belonging to the Templers in England, viz. Cressing-Temple, Balsſhal, Sbengay, Newland, Yeveley, Witham, Temple-bruere, Willington, Rotbeley, Ouenington, Temple-Combe, Trebigh, Ribſlane, Maunt S. John, Temple-Newsum, and Temple-burſt. Mon. Angl. 2 par. fol. 543. But there were more.

Preceptum in Capiti, (Magna Charta, cap. 24.) Was a Writ issuing out of the Court of Chancery, for a Tenant holding of the King in Chief, as of his Crown, and not of the King, as of any Honour, Cattle or Manor. Regist. of Writ, fol. 4. b.

Preceptum quod reddat Is a Writ of great Diversity, both in its Form and Use, for which see Ingressus and Entry. This Form is extended as well to a Writ of Right, as to other Writs of Entry or Possession. Old Nat. Brev. fol. 13. And Fitz. Nat. Brev. fol. 5. And it is sometimes called A Writ of Right Close, when it issues out of the Court of Chancery Close; sometimes A Writ of Right Patent, as when it issues out of the Chancery Patent and open, to any Lord's Court, for any of his Tenants deſorced against the Deſorcer, and must be determined there. Of which read more at large in Fitz. Nat. Brev. cap. 1.

Preſtipitaria, i. e. A battering Ram: 'Tis mentioned in Mat. Paris, pag. 396. viz. Muros & caſtra Civitatis marconellis, petrariis & Præcipitariis undique erectis, &c.

Preſtipitium Was a Punishment by caſting a Man from some high Place or Rock. Malmſ. lib. 5 pag. 155.

Preſtatus Willelmi Is the same as Præpoſitus Villa. i. e. the Mayor of a Town. In Leg. Edw. Confeſſor. cap. 28.

Preſtine (22 & 23 Car. 2. Stat. for laying Impositions on Proceedings at Law,) Is that Fine which is paid upon suing out the Writ of Covenant. Vide 2 Inst. See Postfine.

Preſtorator, In Mat. Paris, pag. 392. the Attorney General is called Proſtorator Domini Regis.

Preſumptum Is taken either for a Writ so called, or for the Offence whereupon the Writ is granted; the one may be understood by the other. Heretofore the Church of Rome, under Pretence of her Supremacy, and the Dignity of St. Peter's Chair, took upon her to bestow most of the Bishopricks, Abbathies, and other Ecclesiastical Livings of Worth here in England, by Mandates, before they were void; pretending therein a great Care to see the Church provided of a Successor before it needed. Whence it arose, that these Mandates or Bulls were called Gratia Expectativa, or Provisiones, whereof you may read a learned Discourse in Duarenus, de Beneficiis, lib. 3. cap. 1. These Provisiones were so rife with us, that at last, King Edward the Third not digesting so intolerable an Encroachment, made a Statute in the Twenty-fifth Year of his Reign, Stat. 5. cap. 22. and another Stat. 6. cap. 1. and a Third, Anno 27. against those that drew the King's People out of the Realm, to answer Things belonging to the King's Court; and another Anno 28 Stat. 2. cap. 1, 2, 3 & 4. whereby he greatly restrained this Liberty of the Pope; who notwithstanding still adventured to continue the Provisions; inſomuch as King Richard the Second likewiſe made ſeveral Statutes againſt them, but moſt expreſly that of 16 R. 2. 5. which appoints their Punishment to be thus, That they ſhould be out of the King's Protection, attached by their Bodies, and loſe their Lands, Tenements, Goods and Chattels. After him King Henry the Fourth in like Manner aggrieved at other Abuses, not fully met with in the former Statutes, in the Second Year of his Reign, cap. 3 & 4. adds certain new Cafes, and lays upon the Offenders in them the ſame Punishment; whereto I refer you; as likewiſe to Anno 9. ejusdem cap. 8. and 3 Hen. 5. cap. 4. and Smith De Republ. Angl. lib. 3. cap. 9. Some later Statutes do caſt this Punishment upon other Offenders, as namely that of 1 Eliz. cap. 1. upon him that denies the King's Supremacy the ſecond time; and 13 Eliz. cap. 2. upon him that affirms the Authority of the Pope, or refuſeth to take the Oath of Supremacy: And 13 Eliz. cap. 1. upon ſuch as are ſeditious Talkers of the Inheritance of the Crown, or affirm the Queen to be an Heretic. And the Stat. 13 Car. 2. cap. 1. upon ſuch as affirm the Parliament begun at Westminster 3 Nov. 1640. is not yet diſſolved, or that there is any Obligation by any Oath, Covenant or Engagement whatſoever, to endeavour a Change of Government, either in Church, or State; or that both, or either Houſe of Parliament have, or hath a legislative Power without the King. And the Word is applied moſt commonly to the Punishment firſt ordained by the Statutes before-mentioned, for ſuch as tranſgreſſed them: For where it is ſaid that any Man for an Offence committed, ſhall incur a Premunire, it is meant, that he ſhall incur the ſame Punishment as is affixed on thoſe that tranſgreſs the Statute 16 R. 2. cap. 5. commonly called the Statute of Premunire, which Kind of Reference or Application is not unuſual in our Statutes. As to the Etymology of the Word, it proceeds from the Verb Premovere, being barbarouſly turned into Premunire, To forewarn, or bid the Offender take heed. Of which a Reaſon may be gathered from the Words of the Statute, 27 Edw. 3. cap. 1. and the Form of the Writ, in Old Nat. Br. fol. 143. Premunire facias preſatum prepoſitum, & F. R. procuratorem, &c. quod tunc ſint coram nobis, &c. Which Words can be referred to none but Parties charged with the Offence. See 3 Inſt. fol. 110.

Prepoſitus Eccleſiæ. See Church-reeve.

Prepoſitus Villæ Is uſed ſometimes for the Conſtable of a Town, or Petit-Conſtable. Crompt. Jurisd. fol. 205. Howbeit the ſame Author, fol. 194. ſeems to apply it otherwiſe; for there Quatuor homines prepoſiti are thoſe Four Men, that for every Town muſt appear before the Juſtices of the Foreſt in their Circuit. It is ſometimes uſed for an Head, or Chief Officer of the King in a Town, Manor, or Village, or a Reeve. See Reeve. Animalia & res inſepte coram ipſo (Prepoſito) & Sacerdote ducenda erant. LL. Edw. Conf. cap. 28. This Prepoſitus Villa in our old Records does not answer to our preſent Conſtable, or Headborough of a Town; but was no more than the Reeve, or Bailiff of the Lord of the Manor, ſometimes called Serviens villa. By the Laws of Hen. 1. the Lord answer'd for the Town where he was reſident; where he was not, his Dapiſer or Senſchal, if he were a Baron: But if neither of them could be preſent, then Prepoſitus & quatuor de unaquaque villa, i. e. The Reeve, and Four of the moſt ſubſtantial Inhabitants were ſummoned in. See Dr. Brady's Gloſſary to Introduct. to Engl. Hiſt. p. 97.

Præcipium, i. e. A high Bank. Si quis alium fugiens præcipio vel alio morietur. Leg. H. 1. c. 88. Some read it Præcipio, vel Præcipio.

Præſentare ad Eccleſiam Originally denotes the Patron's ſending or placing an Incumbent in the Church, and is made only for repræſentare, which in the Countail of Lateran, and elſewhere, occurs alſo for præſentare. Selden of Tiſhes, p. 390.

Præſidere Signifies to neglect, or omit: In Conc. Cloveſhoe, Anno 746. cap. 3. Ut ſingulis annis uniſque Episcopos Parochiam ſuam pertranſeundo, &c. ſpeculandoque viſitare non præſideat, &c.

Præſidium, Warwick.

Præſumptio, In Leg. H. 1. cap. 11. is taken for an unlawful Seizing any Thing, viz. Affultus, roberia, ſterbrech, præſumptio terra vel pecunia Regis, theſaurus inſepte, &c.

Præſtorium, Patrinton in Yorkſhire.

Pratum falcabile, A Meadow, or Ground fit for Mowing: Juratores dicunt quod prædicta placea a tempore quo, &c. fuit pratum falcabile uſque ad prædictum annum quod W. prædictus illud aravit. Trin. 18 Ed. 1. in Banco Rot. 50.

Mata terræ, A certain Quantity or Measure of Ground.—Sunt quinquaginta acra terra in Cornub. in Camwaret, qualibet acra de xx pratis in longitudine, & in pratis in latitudine, & qualibet prata de xvi pedibus in longitudine, quæ acra jacent, &c. Fines Anno 8 Ric. 1.

Præp in Vid. See Aid.

Preamble, Proœmium, Takes Name from the Prepoſition præ, before, and ambulo, to walk; as if we would ſay, To walk before: And hereof the Beginning of an Act is called The Preamble, which is as a Key to open the Intent of the Markers of the Act, and the Miſchiefs which they would remedy by the ſame. As for Example, The Statute made at Westminster the Firſt, chap. 37. which gives an Attain: The Preamble is thus, Forasmuch as certain People doubt very little to give falſe Verdicts, or Oaths, which they ought not to do, whereby many People are diſherited, and loſe their Right. It is provided, &c.

Præbend, Præbenda, Is the Portion which every Member, or Canon of a Cathedral Church receiveth in the Right of his Place for his Maintenance: So Canonica portio is properly uſed for that Share which every Canon or Prebendary receiveth yearly out of the common Stock of the Church; and Præbenda is a ſeveral Benefice, riſing from ſome Temporal Land, or Church appropriated, towards the Maintenance of a Clerk, or Member of a Collegiate Church, and is commonly ſurnamed of the Place whence the Profit groweth. And theſe Præbends be either ſimple, or with Dignity. Simple Præbends be thoſe that have no more but the Revenue towards their Maintenance: Præbends with Dignity are ſuch as have Jurisdiction annex'd to them according to the divers Orders in every ſeveral Church. Of this, ſee more in the Decretals, Tit. De præbendis & dignitat.

Præbenda, ſtriſtly taken, is that Maintenance which daily prebetur to another; but now it ſignifies the Rents and Profits belonging to the Church, divided into thoſe Portions called Præbenda, and it differs from Canonica, which is a Right obtained in the Church, by being received into the Cathedral, dral, or College: Et per assignationem stallum in choro & locum in capitulo. But Præbenda is a Right of receiving the Profits for the Duty performed in the Church, sufficient for the Support of the Person in that Divine Office where he resides; and it proceeds from Canonica as a Daughter from a Mother.

Corpus Præbenda is that which is received by a Prebendary, over and above the Profits which are always for his daily Maintenance.

Præbenda and Probenda were also in old Deeds used for Provision, Provand, or Provender.—Pro equo suo unum Buschel Avenarum pro Præbenda capienda. Coucher Book in Dutchy-Office, Tom. 1. fol. 45. See Coroçy. Ad præbendos equos suos & hospitium suorum. Monastic. 1 Tom. 649.

Præbendary (Præbendarius) Is he that hath such a Prebend; so called, not a præbendo auxilium & consilium Episcopo, but from receiving the Prebend.

The Golden Prebendary of Hereford, otherwise called Præbendarius Episcopi, Is one of the Twenty-eight minor Prebendaries there, who has ex Officio the first Canon's Place that falls, was antiently Confessarius of the Cathedral Church, and to the Bishop, and had the Altarages; whereby, in respect of the Gold and other rich Offerings formerly made there, he had the Name of Golden Prebendary.

Præcarie Are Days-Works, which the Tenants of some Manors are bound, by Reason of their Tenure, to do for the Lord in Harvest; and in divers Places are vulgarly called Bind-days for Widen-days, which in the Saxon Dies precarias sonat: For Widen is To pray, or intreat. This Custom is plainly set forth in the great Book of the Customs of the Monastery of Battell, Tit. Apelderham, fol. 60. Johannes Aylmer tenet per irrotulamentum Curie, unum Mess. & unam Virgatam terra, &c. & debet invenire unum hominem, &c. & etiam debet venire, quolibet anno ad duas precarias carucae cum caruca sua si habeat integram carucam, vel de parte quam habeat carucae unum habet, si carucam non habeat integram, & tunc arare debet utroque die quantum potest a mane usque ad meridiem, & uterque lentor, viz. Caruca & fugatorum habeant unum passum solemperem utroque die prædictarum præcariarum, &c. & debet invenire ad 3. precarias in Autumno 2. homines, &c. See more in Spelman's Glossary, verbo Præcaria. See Bederepe.

Præcarium nomen, A Præcarious Title at Will and Pleasure of the Lord, — Hanc terram teneo de permissione & sola gratia Walteri Crispin Camerarii Glasfoniae quamdiu sua sederit voluntati nomine præcario & nullo juris titulo. Chartular. Glatton. MS. fol. 122. b.

Præce partium Is when a Suit is continued by the Prayer, Assent, or Agreement of both Parties. Anno 13 E. 1. cap. 27.

Præceptum, Præceptum, Is diversly taken in Law, as sometime for a Commandment in Writing, sent out by a Justice of Peace, or other like Officer, for the bringing of a Person or Records before him; of which you have divers Examples in the Table of the Register Judicial. And in this Sense it seems to be borrowed from the Customs of Lombardy, where præceptum signifieth scripturam vel instrumentum. Hotom. in verb. Fudal. & lib. 3. Commentar. in libros feudor. in præfatione. Sometimes it is taken for the Provocation, whereby one Man incites another to commit a Felony, as Theft, Murder, &c. Staundf. pl. cor. fol. 105. Bracton, lib. 3. tract. 2. cap. 9. calls it Præceptum, or Mandatum. Whence we may observe Three Diversities of offending in Murder, Præceptum, Fortia, Consilium; Præceptum being the Instigation used beforehand; Fortia the Assistance in the Fact, as to help to bind the Party murdered, or robbed; Consilium, Advice either before, or in the Fact. The Civilians use Mandatum in this Case.

Pures Has antiently been used in the same Sense with Præcaria. — Walterus de Haincourt universis, &c. excepto quod singulis annis pro eadem terra quinque solidos mihi dabunt, similiter & tres preces de una caruca, & tres preces in autumno; viz. prima cum uno homine, secunda cum duobus hominibus, tertio vero die cum tot hominibus, quot in eadem terra cotidie metentes invenerint, &c. Reg. Abbathie de Welbee, pag. 107. See Præcaria.

Præcontract, 2 & 3 Ed. 6. cap. 25. Is a Contract made before another Contract, but hath Relation especially to Marriages.

Prædial Tithes, Decima Prædiales, Are those which are paid of Things arising and growing from the Ground only, as Corn, Hay, Fruit of Trees, and such like. 2 E. 6. 13. See Co. Inf. fol. 649. See Tithes.

Præemption, Præemptio, Was a Privilege allowed the King's Purveyor, to have the first Buying of Corn, and other Provision, before others, for the King's House, which is taken off by a late Statute, made 12 Car. 2. cap. 24.

Prælate, Prælatus, We usually interpret to be an Archbishop, or Bishop: But Spelman in his Glossary says, Prælati Ecclesia vocantur nedum superiores ut Episcopi, sed etiam inferiores, ut Archidiaconi, Presbyteri, Plebani & Rectores Ecclesiarum; sic enim in Bulla Privileg. apud Mat. Par. in Hen. 3. sub anno 1246. Innocentius, &c. universis tam Cathedralium quam aliorum Prælatis, nec non Patronis Ecclesiarum clericis & laicis per Regnum Anglie constitutis, Salutem. &c. pag. 476.

Præmisses. See Habendum.

Præmium, Præmium, A Reward: Amongst Merchants it is used for that Sum of Money which the Ensured gives the Ensurer for ensuring the safe Return of any Ship or Merchandise. Anno 19 Car. 2. cap. 1.

Prænder Is the Power or Right of taking a Thing before it is offered; from the French prendre, i. e. accipere: It lies in Render, but not in Prender. Co. Rep. 1 par. Sir John Peter's Case.

Prænder de Bazon Signifies literally to rake a Husband; but it is used as an Exception, to disenable a Woman from pursuing an Appeal of Murder against the Killer of her former Husband. Staundf. pl. cor. lib. 3. cap. 59.

Præpensed, Præpensus, Fore-thought; as Malice præpensed, Malitia præcogitata, when a Man is slain upon a sudden Quarrel; yet if there were Malice præpensed formerly between them, it makes it Murder; or, as it is called in the Statute 12 H. 7. c. 7. Præpensed Murder. See Murder, and 3 Inst. f. 51.

Præpositus Ecclesiæ. See Church-Reeve.

Prærogative Court, Curia prerogativa Archiepiscopi Cantuariensis, Is the Court wherein all Wills be proved, and all Administrations taken that belong to the Archbishop by his Prærogative; that is, In Case where the Deceased had Goods of any considerable Value out of the Diocese, wherein he died; and that Value is ordinarily 5 li. except it be otherwise by Composition between the said Archbishop, and some other Bishop, as in the Diocese of London it is Ten Pounds: And if any Contention grow between Two, or more, touching any such Will or Administration, the Cause is properly debated and decided in this Court

The Judge whereof is termed Judex Curie Prærogativæ Cantuariensis, the Judge of the Prærogative Court of Canterbury. The Archbishop of York hath also the like Court, which is termed His Exchequer, but far inferior to this in Power and Profit. 4 Inft. fol. 335.

Prærogative of the Bishop of Canterbury, or Book, Prærogativa Archiepiscopi Cantuariensis five Eboracensis, Is an especial Pre-eminence that these Sees have in certain Cases above ordinary Bishops within their Province, of which whoever desires to receive more full Information, may read the Book intituled De Antiquitate Britannicæ Ecclesiæ, & nominatim de Privilegiis Ecclesiæ Cantuariensis historia, and especially in the eighth Chapter of that Book, pag. 25.

Prærogative of the King, Prærogativa Regis, Derived from præ, ante, and rogare, to ask, or demand; is that special Power, Pre-eminence, or Privilege, which the King hath over and above other Persons, and above the ordinary Course of the Common Law, in the Right of his Crown. Potest Rex ei, lege sua dignitatis condonare, si velit, etiam mortem promeritam. Leg. Edw. Conf. cap. 18. And the Civilians use this Word Prærogative in the same Sense: Among the Feudists it is termed, Fus Regalium, Fus Regaliorum; vel a nonnullis Fus Regaliarum. And as the Feudists, Sub Jure Regalium; so our Lawyers, Sub Prærogativa Regis, do comprise all that absolute Height of Power that the Civilians call Majestatem, vel Potestatem, vel Jus Imperii, subject only to God. Which Regalia the Feudists divide into Two Sorts, Majora & minora Regalia: For to use their own Words, Quædam Regalia dignitatem, prærogativam & Imperii præ-eminentiam spectant; quedam vero ad utilitatem & commodum pecuniarium immediate attinent, & hæc proprie fiscalia sunt, & ad jus fisci pertinent. Peregr. de Jure Fisci, lib. 1. cap. 1. num. 9. See also Arnoldus Chapmanus, De Arcanis Imperii, l. 1. c. 11. By which it appears, That the Statute of the King's Prærogative, made 17 E. 2. contains not the King's whole Prærogative, but only so much thereof as concerns the Profit of his Coffers, growing by Virtue of his Regal Power and Crown; for it is more than manifest, That his Prærogative extends much further, yea even in the Matters of his Profit, which that Statute especially consisteth of: For the King hath many Rights of Majesty peculiar to himself, which the Learned in the Law term Sacra sacrorum, that is, Sacred, and individua, inseparable, because they cannot be severed, which are many and various: And if you would satisfy your self therein, read Staundf. Prærog. the Stat. Prærogativa Regis, 17 E. 2. Plowden in the Case of Mines, F. N. B. f. 31. 31 H. 8. cap. 15. Co. lib. 10. tit. 1. The learned Spelman calls it Lex Regiæ dignitatis.

Presbyter, A Priest. Isidore, lib. 7. orig. c. 12. tells us, That Presbyter, græcè, latine Senior interpretatur, non pro ætate, vel decrepita senectute, sed propter honorem & dignitatem quam acceperunt, Presbyteri nominantur; unde & apud Veteres iidem Episcopi & Presbyteri fuerunt.

Presbyteratus Æcclesiæ totius Angliæ Was a Temporal Office in H. 3. Time, being the Custos Rotulorum, or Controllership of the Exchequer, for the Jews. Scaccarii Judæismi nostri. Claus. 27 H. 3. pars 13. M. 3.

Presbyterium, The Presbytery; i. e. The Quire or Chancel so called, because it was the Place appropriated to the Bishop and Priests, and other Clergy, while the Layty were confined to the Nave, or Body of the Church. — Crux se subito

evellens, cum ad medium Presbyterii venisset, versus altare se vertens, retro ad terram cecidit — capite versus introitum Presbyterii, & pedibus ad altare porrectis. Girald. Cambrensis apud Wharton Angl. Sacr. P. 2. pag. 428. Presbyterium is that Part of the Church where Divine Offices are performed. Virgini Mariæ orientale altaris Presbyterium dedicans. Monasticum, 1 Tom. pag. 243. Continebat hic murus monachorum chorum, Presbyterium altare, magnam. Gervas. Dorob. De Combustione Ecclesiæ Dorobern.

Prescription, Prescriptio, Is a Title, taking its Substance of Use, and Time allowed by the Law, which is beyond the Memory of Man. Kitchin, fol. 104. saith thus, Prescription is, when for Continuance of Time, ultra memoriam hominis, a particular Person hath particular Right against another particular Person; with whom agrees Co. lib. 4. fol. 32. and Co. on Lit. fol. 140. But as in the Civil Law, so likewise in the Common: Prescription may be in a shorter Time, at least in some special Cases: As for Example, Where the Statute 1 H. 8. cap. 9. saith, That all Actions popular must be sued within Three Years after the Offence committed: And the Stat. 7 H. 8. 3. That Four Years being past after the Offence committed in one Case, and one Year in another, no Suit can be commenced. And the Stat. 31 Eliz. cap. 5. saith, That all Actions, &c. brought upon Statute, the Penalty whereof belongs to the King, shall be brought within Two Years after the Offence committed, or else be void. And the Stat. 39 Eliz. cap. 1. 2. saith, That Actions brought after Two Years by any common Person, or after Three Years by the King alone, for Decay of Husbandry, shall be of no Force: Whoever offendeth against any such Statute, and escapes unquestion'd for Two Years, or Three, of the Two later of the Three forementioned Statutes, may justly be said to have prescribed against that Action. The like may be said of the Statute made 23 Eliz. cap. 1. which saith, That all Offences comprised in that Statute, made in the Thirteenth Year of Eliz. cap. 2. are inquirable before both Justices of Peace and Juices within a Year and a Day after the Offence committed: Also the Title that a Man attaineth by the Passing of Five Years, after a Fine acknowledged of any Lands or Tenements, may justly be said to be obtained by Prescription: And whereas the Statute made 8 R. 2. cap. 4. saith, That a Judge, or Clerk, convicted for false Entering of Pleas, may be fined within Two Years; the Two Years being past, he prescribeth against the Punishment of the said Statute: And whereas the Statute 11 H. 7. says, That he which will complain of Maintenance or Embracery, whereby Perjury is committed by a Jury, must do it within Six Days, those Six Days ended, the Parties prescribe; and divers other Statutes have the like Limitation of Time, whence may arise a like Prescription. See Action perpetual and temporal. See Lam. Eiren. lib. 4. cap. 5. pag. 469. Crompt. Just. of Peace, fol. 173. Of this Prescription, and the Learning touching the same, see Co. Rep. 4. Lutterell's Case, fol. 84. Prescriptio est jus quoddam, ex tempore congruens, autoritate legum vim capiens, pœnam negligentibus inferens, & finem litibus imponens — Quadragesimalis prescriptio omnem prosum actionem excludat. Reform. Leg. Ecclesiæ. pag. 246. See 2 Inft. fol. 653. Staundf. Prærog. cap. 8. and Co. 7 Rep. Baskerville's Case.

Presentation, Presentatio, Is used properly for the Act of a Patron, offering his Clerk to the Bishop, shop, to be instituted in a Benefice of his Gift; the Form whereof see in Reg. Orig. fol. 322. And Presentor Is the Clerk that is so presented by the Patron. In the Stat. 13 R. 2. cap. 1. Mention is made of the King's Presentee, that is, He whom the King presents to a Church.

Presentia, Presents, so called, because they are given presenti. And they differ from Munera; for those are Gifts sent to the Person. Mat. Paris. Anno 1170. Cui cum Abbas St. Albani in esculentis & poculentis nobile misisset zenium, regatians Episcopus dixit, Accipio ejus presentias.

Presentment Is a meer Denunciation of the Favors themselves, or some other Officer, as Justice, Constable, Searcher, Surveyor, &c. (without any Information) of an Offence inquirable in the Court whereunto it is presented. Lamb. Eiven. lib. 4. pag. 467.

President, Praeses, In a legal Sense denotes the King's Lieutenant in a Province, or Function; as the President of Wales, York, Berwick, or of the King's Council. 22 H. 8. cap. 8. and 24 H. 8. 3, 14. President of the Weavers of Kidderminster Stuffs. 22 & 23 Car. 2. cap. 1.

Pret Is used for a Duty in Money, to be paid by the Sheriff, upon his Account in the Exchequer, or for Money left, or remaining in his Hands. 2 & 3 Ed. 6. cap. 4.

Prestation-Money (Praestatio, A paying or Performing) Is a Sum of Money paid by Archdeacons yearly to their Bishop pro exterioris jurisdictione — Est sit quieti a praestatione Muragii. Cart. H. 7. Bagenf. Mount-Gomer. Praestatio was also antiently used for Purveyance. See Mr. Philip's Book on that Subject, pag. 222. And see Spiritualities.

Prest-Money Is so called of the French Word Prest, that is, promptus, expeditus, for that it binds those that receive it, to be ready at all Times appointed, being meant commonly of Soldiers. 18 H. 6. 19. 7 H. 7. 1. 3 H. 8. 5. and 2 E. 6. 2.

Presumption, Praesumptio, Is of Three Sorts; 1. Violent, Which is many times a full Proof; as if one be killed in a House, and a Man is seen to come out of the House with a bloody Sword, and no other Person was at that Time in the House; this, tho' but Presumption, is as a Proof. 2. Probable, Which hath but a small Effect. 3. Levis, seu temeraria, Which is of no Prevalence at all: So in Case of a Charter or Feoffment, if all the Witnesses to the Deed be dead; the violent Presumption, which stands for a Proof, is continual and quiet Possession. Co. on Lit. lib. 1. cap. 1. sect. 1. Praesumptio stat in dubio, it is doubted of, yet accounted Veritatis Comes, quatenus in contrarium nulla est probatio, ut regula se habet, stabitur praesumptio donec probetur in contrarium. Presumption was antiently taken for Intrusion — Assultus, Roberia, Sterbrech, praesumptio terre vel pecuniae Regis, Thesaurus inventus, &c. Leg. Hen. 1. cap. 11. De his quae sunt de jure Regis.

Prentended Right, or Title, Fus praesensum, Is where one is in Possession of Lands or Tenements, and another who is out; claims it, and sues for it: Here the pretensed Right and Title is said to be in him who doth so claim and sue.

Pretium sepulchri Are those Goods which accrue to the Church in which a Corps is buried. In the Irisi Canons, lib. 19. c. 6. Omne corpus sepulchrum habet in jure suo vaccam, & equum, & vestimentum, & ornamentum lecti sui, nec quidquam horum redditur in alia debita, quia corpori ejus tanquam vernacula debentur. See Heriot, and Selutium, and Mortuary.

Prævaricate, Prævaricare, Is when a Man falsely and deceitfully seems to undertake a Thing, ea intentione, that he may destroy it, Dicitur prævaricator, quasi varicator, a varia certatione, quia adversam partem adjuvat prodita sua propria causa, dum huic insit corpore ex una parte & illi mente & corde ex altera parte. Vocabul. utriusque Juris, verbo Prævaricatores.

Price, See Value.

Pricked Bread — Molendinatio septem panes de conventu, & septem panes de Pricked Bread. Monast. Angl. 1 par. fol. 498.

Prize-gavel, In the Lordship of Rodeley, in the County of Gloucester, is used and paid unto this Day, as a Rent to the Lord of the Manor by certain Tenants, in Duty and Acknowledgment to him, for their Liberty and Privilege of fishing in the River Severn for Lamprays; Prid, for Brevity, being the last Syllable of Lamprid (as they were antiently called) and Gavel, a Rent, or Tribute. Taylor's History of Gavelkind, cap. 9. fol. 112, 113.

Pride Is sometimes joined to an Accusative, and sometimes to a Genitive Case, Pride Calendaras, and Pride Calendarum, is the Day before the Calends, that is, The last Day of every Month.

Primage Is a Duty due to the Mariners and Sailors, for the Loading of any Ship at the setting forth from any Haven, Anno 32 H. 8. cap. 14. which, in some Places, is a Penny in the Pound; in others Six Pence for every Pack, or Bale; or otherwise, according to the Custom of the Place.

Primierus, The first of any Degree of Men; but sometimes it signifies the Nobility. Primierus totius Angliae were the Nobility of England. Mon. 1 Tom. pag. 838.

Primier seisin, Prima seissina: The first Possession, or Seisin was heretofore used as a Branch of the King's Prærogative, whereby he had the first Possession; that is, The intire Profits for a Year of all the Lands and Tenements, whereof his Tenant (that held of him in Capite) died seised in his Demesne as of Fee, his Heir then being at full Age, until he do his Homage, or if under Age, until he were of Age. Staundf. Prærog. cap. 3. and Bracton, lib. 4. tract. 5. cap. 1. But all the Charges arising by Primier seissins are taken away by the Statute made 12 Car. 2. cap. 24.

Primities, First-Fruits, Are properly the first of our Increase offered to God; but in our Law, are the Profits after Avoidance of every spiritual Living for one Year. See 26 H. 8. cap. 3. 32 H. 8. cap. 45. 1 Mar. Seff. 2. cap. 10. and 1 Eliz. cap. 4. See First Fruits.

Primna, i. e. A Ship. Ibi construnt classem; primna dant ventis, volant vestra ad Anglicas Partes. Du Cange.

Primo Beneficio: See Beneficio.

Primogeniture, Primogenitura, The Title of an Elder Brother in Right of his Birth: The Reason of which, Co. upon Lit. says, is, Quia prior est tempore, potior est jure; affirming moreover, That in King Alfred's Time, Knights Fees descended to the Eldest Son; for that by the Division of such Fees between Males, the Defence of the Realm might be weakened. And Judge Dodderidge in his Treatise of Nobility saith, pag. 119. It was antiently ordained, That all Knights Fees should come unto the eldest Son by Succession of Heritage, whereby he succeeding his Ancestors in the whole Inheritance, might be the better enabled to maintain the Wars against the King's Enemies, or his Lords And that the Socage should be partible among the Male Children, to enable them to increase into many Families, for the better Furtherance in and Increase of Husbandry.

Prince, Prineps, Is sometimes at large taken for the King himself, but more properly for the King's Eldest Son, who is Prince of Wales, as the Eldest Son to the French King is called Dauphine, both being born Princes. Ferne's Glory of Generosity, pag. 138. Before Edward the Second, who was born at Carnarvon, and the first English Prince of Wales, the King's Eldest Son was titled Lord Prince. Staunf. Prærog. cap. 22. fol. 75. See 27 H. 8. c. 26. and 28 H. 8. 3. And Stow's Annals, p. 303. But Prince was a Name of Dignity long before that Time in England; for in a Charter of King Offa, after the Bishops had subscribed their Names, we read, Brordanus patritius, Binnanus Princeps; and afterwards the Dukes subscribed their Names. And in a Charter of King Edgar, in Mon. Angl. Tom. 3. pag. 302. Ego Edgarus Rex rogatus ab Episcopo meo Deorwolfe, & Principe meo Aldredo, &c. And in Mat. Paris. pag. 155. Ego Halden Princeps Regis pro viribus assensum præbeo, & ego Turketillus Dux concedo.

Principal, Principium, A Heirloom; which see. It was also sometimes used for a Mortuary, or Corse-present—Item lego equum meum vocatum le Bay-Gelding, ut offeratur ante corpus meum in die sepultura mee, nomine Principali. Ult. volum. Johannis Mavelesfeld. 9 Hen. 5. In Urchensfeld, in the County of Heresford, certain Principals, as the best Beast, the best Bed, best Table, &c. pass to the Eldest Child, and are not liable to Partition. Heredes tenementorum infra Hundredam de Stretford post mortem antecessorum suorum habebunt Principalia Angl. an Heir-loom, videl. de quolibet genere catallorum, utensilium, &c. optimum plastrum, optimam camicam, optimum cybium, &c. Bridall Speculum Juris Anglicani, p. 90. where it is falsely wrote Principabium, for Principium. Also the chief Person in some of the Inns of Chancery is called Principal of the House. See Ancient.

Principality of Chester, Anno 21 Rich. 1. c. 9. See County Palatine, and Crompton's Divers Jurisdictiones, fol. 137.

Præior Was he who was first in Dignity next to the Abbot. Servata in omnibus reverentia Abbati, Prior qui & præpositus in regula nominatur, honorabilior est reliquis ministris domus Dei, ipse solus ceterorum ministrorum primum sui partis locum habet in choro, in capitulo, in refectorio, &c.

Præiority, Prioritas, Signifies an Antiquity of Tenure, in Comparison of another not so ancient; as To hold by Priority, is to hold of a Lord more anciently than of another. Old Nat. Brev. fol. 94. So, To hold by Posteriority, is used in Staunf. Prærog. cap. 2. fol. 11. And Crompton in his Jurisd. fol. 117. useth this Word in the same Signification. The Lord of the Priority shall have the Custody of the Body, &c. And fol. 120. If the Tenant hold by Priority of one, and by Posteriority of another, &c. To which Effect see also F. N. B. fol. 142. Bartolus in his Tractate De infantiis & armis, useth these Words, Prioritas & posterioritas, concerning Two that bear one Coat-Armor.

Præior perpetual, or Dative and removable, Anno 9 Rich. 2. cap. 4. and 1 E. 4. cap. 1. Lord Prior of St. John's of Jerusalem, who was primus Baro Anglie. 26 H. 2. cap. 2.

Præiores alieni, Priores alieni, Were Religious Men born in France, and Governors of Religious Houses, erected for outlandish Men here in Eng- land, which were by King Henry the Fifth, after his Conquests in France, thought no good Members for this Land, and therefore suppressed; whose Livings afterwards were by King Henry the Sixth given to other Monasteries and Houses of Learning. Stow's Annals, pag. 582. and 1 H. 5. c. 7. but especially to the Erecting of those Two famous Colleges, called the one King's College in Cambridge, the other Eaton. 2 par. Inst. fol. 554.

Prisage Is that Custom or Share that belongs to the King, out of such Merchandize as are taken at Sea by way of lawful Prize. Anno 31 El. cap. 5. Prisagium est jus prisas capiendi, vel ipse actus.

Prisage of Wines. Anno 1 H. 8. cap. 5. Is a Word almost out of Use, being now called Butlerage (because the King's chief Butler receives it). It is a Custom whereby the Prince challengeth out of every Bark laden with Wine, containing less than Forty Tun, Two Tun of Wine; the one before, the other behind the Mast, at his own Price, which is Twenty Shillings a Tun; yet this varies according to the Custom of the Place: For at Boston, every Bark laden with Ten Tuns of Wine, or above, pays Prisage. See Butlerage, and Calthrop's Reports, f. 20. and 4 par. Inst. f. 30.

Memorandum, Quod Rex habet ex antiqua consuetudine de qualibet Nave mercatoris vini 6. carcat. applicat. infra aliquem portum Anglie de viginti dolis, duo dolia, & de decem dolis unum de prisæ Regis pro quodam certo ab antiquo constituit. solvend. P. Rec. 20. R. 2.

Prise Prisa, From the French Prendre, capere, signifies in our Statutes the Things taken of the King's Subjects by Purveyors, Anno 13 E. 1. cap. 7. and 28 E. 1. stat. 3. cap. 2. It signifies also a Custom due to the King, 25 E. 1. cap. 5. Reg. Orig. f. 117. In foraneis paginis antiquis (says the learned Spelman) prise plerumque intelliguntur de annone rei que frumentaria captionibus, aliis etiam necessariis, ob alenda, instruendaque castrorum præsidia, necnon & regiam familiam minori quam justo pretio agrivolis arreptis, &c. In Referipto quodam, Anno 3 E. 1. Norfil.

—Rogerus de Monte alto qui sororem & heredem Hugonis de Albeney, &c. desponsaverat, clamat habere libertates has subscriptas, viz. Castellum suum de Rifsinge cum prisæ 40 dierum, &c. Ubi clausulam, cum prisæ 40 dierum, intelligo de libertate capiendi victualia que vocant ad sustentationem prædiiarii militis castri sui, ita quod pretium reddat infra 40 dies. See 12 Car. 2. cap. 24.

Prisio, i. e. A Prisoner taken in War. Hoveden, pag. 541. Prisones vero qui cum Domino Rege finem fecerunt ante factam pacem.

Prisio, Prisio, Is a Place of Restraint for the safe Custody of a Person to answer any Action personal or criminal: And here we are to note, That this salva custodia must only be custodia, non pæna; for carcer ad homines custodiendos, non ad puniendos dari debet. Co. on Lib lib. 3. cap. 7. sect. 438.

Prisonier, Prisonarius, captivus, From the French Prisonnier; signifies a Man restrained of his Liberty upon any Action civil or criminal, or upon Commandment: And a Man may be a Prisonier upon Matter of Record, or Matter of Fact. Prisonier upon Matter of Record is he, which being present in Court, is by the Court committed only upon Arrest, he it by the Sheriff. Constable, or other. Staunf. pl. cor. lib. 1. c. 32. f. 34. & 35.

Prisitation, Privatio, A Bereaving, or Taking away, most commonly applied to a Bishop or Rector of a Church, when by Death, or other Act they are deprived of their Bishoprick, or Benefice. See Co. on Lit. f. 329.

Prisitation

Privatus Signifies a Friend, or Familiar. Et ideo ad hoc venit ut inter eos Privatus mediator extiterem :

Qui nimis est privatus, eum vitare necesse est.

Privilege, Privilegium, Is defined by Cicero in his Oration pro domo sua, to be lex privata homini irrogata. It is, says another, fus singulare, whereby a private Man, or a particular Corporation is exempted from the Rigour of the Common Law. It is sometimes used in the Common Law for a Place that hath any special Immunity. Kitchin, fol. 118. Privilege is either personal, or real : A personal Privilege is that which is granted to any Person either against, or beyond the Course of the Common Law : As for Example, A Member of Parliament may not be arrested, nor any of his Servants, during the Sitting of the Parliament ; nor for a certain Time before and after. A Privilege real is that which is granted to a Place, as to the Universities, that none of either may be called to Westminster-Hall, upon any Contract made within their own Precincts, or prosecuted in other Courts : And one belonging to the Court of Chancery cannot be sued in any other Court, certain Cases excepted ; and if he be, he may remove it by Writ of Privilege, grounded upon the Statute 18 E. 3. See the New Book of Entries, verbo Privilege. Privilegium est fus singulare, hoc est, privata lex, que uni homini, vel loco, vel Collegio, & similibus aliis conceditur.

'Tis an ancient Privilege for Men to be exempted from Arrests in or near the King's Palace where he is resident ; because in such Cases Quarrels often happen, and the Peace ought to be kept there. In Leg. H. 1. cap. 16. Longe debet esse pax Regis a porta sua ubi residens erit, a quatuor partibus illius loci, hoc est, quatuor miliaria, & tres quadrantone, & novem a ra latitudine, & novem pedes, & novem palme, & novem grana borderi, nullus enim respectus esse debet, ac multa diligentia, ne quis pacem Regis infringat, maxime in ejus vicinia.

Privity, Privitas, Private Familiarity, Friendship, inward Relation : If there be Lord and Tenant, and the Tenant holds of the Lord by certain Services, there is a Privity between them in respect of the Tenure. See Privy.

Privy Seal, Privatum sigillum, Is a Seal that the King useth to such Grants, or other Things, as pass the Great Seal : First they pass the Privy Signet ; then the Privy Seal ; and lastly, the Great Seal of England. The Privy Seal is sometimes used in Things of less Consequence, that never pass the Great Seal. No Writs shall pass under the Privy Seal which touch the Common Law. 2 Inst. f. 555.

Privy, Derived of the French privee, i. familiaris, Signifies him that is Partaker, or hath an Interest in any Action, or Thing ; as Privies of Blood, Old Nat. Brev. fol. 117. be those that are linked in Consanguinity ; every Heir in Tail is privy to recover the Land intailed. Id. fol. 147. No Privity was between me and the Tenant. Littleton, fol. 106. If I deliver Goods to a Man, to be carried to such a Place, and he, after he hath brought them thither, doth steal them, 'tis Felony ; because the Privity of Delivery is determined, as soon as they are brought thither. Stamund. pl. cor. li. 1. c. 15. f. 25. Merchants-privy be opposite to Merchants-strangers, 2 E. 3. 9 & 14. The Author of the New Terms of the Law maketh divers Sorts of Privies, viz. Privies in Estate, Privies in Deed, Privies in Law, Privies in Right, and Privies in Blood ; where you may read Examples of each of them in the Word Privy. See Perkins 831, 832, 833. and Co. l. 3. fol. 23. Walker's Case, and lib. 4. fol. 123, 124. mentions Four Kinds of Privies, viz. Privies in Blood, as the Heir to his Father ; Privies in Representation, as Executors, or Administrators to the Deceased ; Privies in Estate, as he in the Reversion, and he in the Remainder, when Land is given to one for Life, to another in Fee, for that their Estates are created both at one Time : The fourth is Privy in Tenure, as the Lord by Escheat, that is, When the Land escheateth to the Lord for Want of Heirs. See Co. on Lit. lib. cap. 8. sect. 161.

Prümen Was the Name of the Seal of King Arthur, on which the Virgin Mary was painted. 'Tis mentioned in Geffrey of Monmouth, l. 7. c. 2.

Prübare, in Leg. Canuti, cap. 44. apud Brompton signifies To claim a Thing as his own. Et nemo illud probare debeat ante sex menses postquam furatum est.

Probate of Testaments, Probatio Testamentorum, Is the Exhibiting and Proving Wills and Testaments before the Ecclesiastical Judge, delegated by the Bishop, who is Ordinary of the Place where the Party dies. And the Ordinary is known by the Quantity of the Goods that the Deceased had out of the Diocese wherein he departed ; for if all his Goods be in the same Diocese, then the Bishop of the Diocese, or the Archdeacon (according as their Composition or Prescription leads) hath the Probate of the Testament : But if the Goods be dispers'd in divers Dioceses, so that there be any Sum of Note (as Five Pounds ordinarily) out of the Diocese where the Party lived ; then is the Archbishop of Canterbury (or York) the Ordinary, by his Prerogative. See Prerogative of the Archbishop. This Probate may be made in Two Sorts, in common Form, or per testes. The Proof in common Form is only by the Oath of the Executor, or Party exhibiting the Will, who sweareth upon his Belief, That the Will exhibited by him, is the last Will and Testament of the Deceased. The Proof per testes is, when over and besides his own Oath he also produces Witnesses, or makes other Proof to confirm the same, and that in the Presence of such as may pretend any Interest in the Goods of the Deceased, or at least in their Absence, after they have been lawfully summoned to see such a Will proved, if they think good. And the later Course is taken most commonly, when there is Fear of Strife, or Dispute about the Deceased's Goods. For some hold that a Will proved in common Form only, may be called in Question any Time within Thirty Years after. And where a Will disposes of Lands and Tenements of Freehold, it is now frequently proved by Witnesses in Chancery.

Probatore, An Accuser, or Approver, or one who undertakes to prove a Crime charg'd upon another. The Word was strictly meant of an Accomplice in Felony, who to save himself confess'd the Fact, and accus'd any other Principal or Accessory, against whom he was bound to make good the Charge by Duel, or Trial by the Country, and then was pardoned Life and Members, but yet to suffer Transportation. — Cum Probator perfecterit quod promissit, tenetur ei conventio, scilicet ut vitam habeat & membra. Sed in regno remanere non debet, etiamsi velit plagis inovenire. Bracton. Vid. Fleta, lib. 2. cap. 52. §. 42. 44.

Procedendo Is a Writ whereby a Plea or Cause, formerly called from a base Court to the Chancery, King's Bench, or Common Pleas, by Writ of Privilege or Certiorari, is released or sent down again to the same same Court, to be proceeded in there, after it appeareth that the Defendant hath no Cause of Privilege, or that the Matter comprised in the Bill be not well proved. Bro. hoc Titulo, and Co. Vol. 6. fol. 63. In 21 Rich. 2. cap. 11. in fine; Letters of Procedendo granted by the Keeper of the Privy Seal. See in what divers Manners it is used in the Table of the Original and Judicial Writts, Anno 21 Jac. cap. 23.

Processus, Processus, From procedendo ab initio usq; ad finem, is the Manner of proceeding in every Cause, being the Writs and Precepts that go forth upon the Original upon every Action, being either Original or Judicial. Britton, fol. 133. wherein there is great Diversity, as you may see in the Table of F. N. B. verbo Processus, and Broke hoc Tit. Sometimes that only is called The Process, by which a Man is called into the Court, because it is the Beginning or the principal Part thereof, by which the Rest of the Business is directed, according to that Saying of Aristotle, ἡ ἀρχὴ μὲν τὸν τῶν πραγμάτων. Divers Kinds of Process upon Indictments, see in Crompt. Just. of Peace, f. 133, 134, 135. and Lamb. in his Treatise of Processes, adjoining to his Eirenarchia. Special Process is that which is especially appointed for the Offence by Statute, for which he refers his Reader to the Eighth Chapter of his Fourth Book. The Difference between Process and Precept, or Warrant of the Justices, is this, The Precept or Warrant is only to attach and convent the Party before any Indictment or Conviction, and may be made either in the Name of the King or the Justice. But the Process is always in the King's Name, and usually after an Indictment. Co. 8 Rep. Blackmore's Case.

Procession, In Cathedral and Conventual Churches, the Members had their staled Processions, wherein they walked Two and Two, in their most ornamental Habits, with Hymns, Musick, and other suitable Expressions of Solemnity and Respect to the Occasion. In every Parish there was a customary Procession of the Parish-Priest, the Patron of the Church, with the chief Flag, or holy Banner, and the other Parishioners in Affension Week, to take a Circuit round the Limits of the Manor, and pray for a Blessing on the Fruits of the Earth. To this we owe our present Custom of Perambulation, which is still in most Places called Processioning, and going in Procession, though we have lost the Order, and almost the Devotion, as well as the Pomp and Superstition of it.

Processum continuando Is a Writ for the Continuance of a Process, after the Death of the Chief Justice, or other Justices in the Writ of Oyer and Terminer. Regist. Orig. fol. 128.

Prochein amv, (Proximus amicus, vel propinquior, the next Friend); is used in the Common Law for him that is next of Kin to a Child in his Nonage, and is in that Respect allowed by Law to deal for him in the managing his Affairs, as to be his Guardian, if he hold any Land in Scage, and in the Redress of any Wrong done to him. Stat. Westm. 1. cap. 48. and Westm. 2. cap. 15. and is in the Prosecution of any Action at Law per Guardianum, where the Plaintiff is an Infant; & per proximum amicum, where the Infant is Defendant. See Co. 2 Inst. fol. 261.

Proclamation, Proclamatio, Is a Notice publicly given of any Thing, whereof the King thinks fit to advertise his Subjects, and so it is used. 7 Rich. 2. cap. 6.

Proclamation of Rebellion Is a publick Notice given by the Officer, that a Man not appearing upon a Subpoena, nor an Attachment in the Chancery, shall be reputed a Rebel, unless he render himself by a Day assigned in this Writ. Crompt. Jur. fol. 92. See Commission of Rebellion.

Proclamation of a Fine Is a Notice openly and solemnly given at all the Affises held in the County, within one Year after the engrossing it. And these Proclamations are made upon Transcripts of the Fine, sent by the Justices of the Common Pleas to the Justices of Affise, and the Justices of Peace. West. Symb. 2 par. Tit. Fines, sect. 132. where also you may see the Form of the Proclamation, Proclamare est valde & palam clamare. F. N. B. fol. 85. says, That the King's Proclamation is sufficient to stay a Subject from going out of the Realm. See the Strength of Proclamations. Anno 31 H. 8. cap. 8. See also Proclamations in divers Cases. New Book of Entries, verbo Proclamations.

Pro confesso Is, when upon a Bill exhibited in Chancery, the Defendant appears, and is in Contempt for not answering, and is in Custody; upon a Habeas Corpus, (which is granted by Order) to bring him to the Bar, the Court assigns him a Day to answer, which being expired, and no Answer put in, a second Habeas Corpus is granted, and a further Day assigned; by which Day, if he answers not, the Bill, upon the Plaintiff's Motion, shall be taken pro confesso, unless Cause be shewed by a Day, which the Court usually gives; and for Want of such Cause shewed, upon Motion, the Substance of the Plaintiff's Bill shall be Decreed, as if it had been confessed by the Defendant's Answer. As it was in the Case of Filmore and Denny, Hill. 1662. Or after a Fourth insufficient Answer to the Bill, the Matter of the Bill not sufficiently answered unto, shall be taken pro confesso.

Procurator, Is he who undertakes to manage another Man's Cause in any Court of the Civil Law or Ecclesiastical, for his Fee. Qui aliena negotia gerenda suscipit.

Procuratores Were those who were called Justices in Eyre, or Justiciarii Errantes, in England. Illustris comes Legecestria Robertus modesto Proconsulatum gerens apud Britannias. Joh. Sarisburiensis, lib. 5. Policrat. cap. 15.

Proctors of the Clergy, Procuratores Cleri, Are those who are chosen and appointed to appear for the Cathedral, or other Collegiate Churches; as also for the Common Clergy of every Diocese at the Parliament, to sit in the Lower House of Convocation; and this is the Manner of their Election. First, The King directeth his Writ to the Archbishop of each Province, for the Summoning of all Bishops, Deans, Archdeacons, Cathedral and Collegiate Churches, and generally of all the Clergy of his Province, assigning them the Time and Place in the said Writ: Then the Archbishops proceed according to Custom: One Example shall serve for both. The Archbishop of Canterbury upon his Writ received, directeth his Letters to the Bishop of London, as his Dean Provincial: First, citing himself peremptorily, and then willing him to cite in like Manner all the Bishops, Deans, Archdeacons, Cathedral and Collegiate Churches, and generally all the Clergy of his Province to the Place, and against the Day prefixed in the Writ; but directeth withal, that one Proctor be sent for every Cathedral or Collegiate, and two for the Body

Body of the inferior Clergy of each Diocese: And by Virtue of these Letters authentically sealed, the said Bishop of London directeth his like Letters severally to the Bishop of every Diocese of the Province, citing them in like Sort, and commanding them not only to appear, but also to admonish the said Deans and Archdeacons personally to appear, and the Cathedral or Collegiate Churches, as also the common Clergy of the Diocese to send their Proctors to the Place at the Day appointed; and also willeth them, to certify to the Archbishop the Names of all and every so warned by them, in a Schedule annexed to their Letter certificatory. The Bishops proceed accordingly, and the Cathedral and Collegiate Churches, and also the Clergy make Choice of their Proctors; which done, and certified to the Bishop, he returneth all at the Day. These Proctors of the Clergy had heretofore Place and Suffrage in the Commons House of Parliament, as appears by the Statute 21 R. 2. cap. 2 & 12. See Prolocutor and Convocation, and see 4 Inst. fol. 4.

Procuracy, (Anno 7 R. 2. Stat. 1. cap. 3.) See Procurator.

Procurations (Procuraciones) Are certain Sums of Money which Parish-Priests pay yearly to the Bishop or Archdeacon, ratione Visitationis. They were anciently paid in necessary Victuals for the Visitor and his Attendants; but afterwards turn'd into Money: For Procuratio, in a strained Sense, signifies a Diet, and is thus defined by Vallenfis, to be Necessarium sumptuum exhibitio, quæ ratione Visitationis debetur ab Ecclesia vel Monasterio ei cui ex officio incumbit jus & onus visitandi, sive is sit Episcopus, sive Archidiaconus, sive Decanus, sive Legatus summi Pontificis. Anno 1290. Md. quod die Mercurii in Festo Sancti Luce Ewang. Dominus Episcopus cepit Procuracionem suam in cibis & potibus apud Bordesley, & pernoctavit ibidem. Giff. fol. 226. b. See an Historical Discourse of Procurations and Synodals, printed Anno 1661. These are also called Proxies; as, Archidiaconus Glouc. valet clave in Proxis, Cenag. & Pentecostal. per annum 64l. 10s. 00d. Ex Record. Primitiar. 26 Hen. 8. See Dyer, fol. 375. b. and Claus. Rot. 31 Edw. 1. m. 15. verso. See Habitium and Convivium.

Complaints were often made to the Pope of the excessive Charges of the Procurations, which were prohibited by several Councils and Bulls. That of Clement the Fourth, mentioned in the Monasticon, 2 Tom. pag. 165. is very particular; wherein that Pope tells us, that Complaint had been made to him that the Archdeacon of Richmond, visiting the Diocese, travelled with One Hundred and three Horses, Twenty-one Dogs, and Three Hawks, and did so grievously oppress a Religious House with that vast Equipage, that he caused the Monks to spend in an Hour as much as would have maintained them a long Time. See Indemnities.

Procurator, One who has a Charge committed to him by another. So the Proxies of Lords in Parliament are in our Law Books called Procuratores. It signifies also a Vicar or Lieutenant; one who acts instead of another. In Petrus Blesensis, Ep. 47. we read of a Procurator Regni. So Procurator reipublicæ is a publick Magistrate. There are also Procuratores Cleri sent to the Convocation; and the Bishops sometimes are called Procuratores Ecclesiarum. And from this Word comes the common Word Proctor, in the Civil Court. It is also used for him that gathers the Fruit of a Benefice for another Man. Anno 3 Rich. 2. Stat. 1. cap. 3. and Procuracy for the Writing or Instrument, whereby he is authorized. Procuratores are at this Day in the West Parts called Proctors.

Procuratores Ecclesiæ Parochialis, The Churchwardens, who were to act as Proxies and Representatives of the Church, for the true Honour and Interest of it. ————— Johannes Peris sen. & Johannes Bailly Procuratores Ecclesiæ parochialis de Acle. Paroch. Antiquit. pag. 562.

Procuratorium. The Procuratory or Instrument by which any Person or Community did constitute or delegate their Proctor or Proctors, to represent them in any judicial Court or Cause.

Procurator Monasterii, The Advocate of a Religious House, who was to solicit the Interest, and plead the Causes of the Society. See Provisor Monasterii.

Procurator. See Malveis Procurator.

Procurus Is the Genealogy of a Man. Cum a quodam clerico & perito originem & procurum Regis Ludovici quæreret. Mat. Paris. Anno 1130.

Prodes Homies; This is a Title often given in our old Books to the Barons or other Military Tenants, who were called to the King's Council, and was no more than Discreti & Fideles Homines, discreet Liege-men, who, according to the Best of their Prudence and Knowledge, were to give their Counsel and Advice.

Prodnarius Canis, A Lurcher, a Setting-Dog. W. Primas Ebor. &c. dilecto Priori de Birstall Salut. ————— Rogamus dilectionem vestram, quatenus si placeat cum celeritate qua poteritis Nobis provideatis in partibus vestris transmarinis de duobus canibus prodnariis seu cuberis & vobis de pretio fideliter & plene respondebimus & de cultu: Et hoc sicut Nos diligitis nullatenus omittatis, ita quod dictos canes habeamus citra Festum beati Michaelis omni modo. Dat. Beverl. 10 Cal. Sept. 1280. Collectan. Matth. Hutton. S. T. P. MS.

Proest, alias Prode Is used for an Inquest, Anno 28 Ed. 3. cap. 13.

Proffer, (Profrum vel proferum, From the French Proferer, i. producere, edicere, allegare) Is the Time appointed for the Accounts of Sheriffs, and other Officers in the Exchequer, which is twice in the Year. Anno 51 H. 3. Stat. 5. which may be gathered also out of the Register, fol. 139. In the Writ De Attornato Vicecomitis pro proffro faciendo. We read also of proffers, 32 H. 8. 21. in these Words, Trinity-Term shall begin the Monday next after Trinity-Sunday, whensoever it shall happen to fall, for the keeping of the Effoins, Proffers, Returns, and other Ceremonies heretofore used and kept. In which Place proffer signifies the Offer or Endeavour to proceed in an Action by any Man concerned so to do. See Britton, cap. 28. fol. 50, 55, 80. and Fleta, lib. 1. cap. 38. sect. Uilegati, &c. Præterea idem Henricus de Haltinggis, & antecessores sui solebant capere & de jure habere rationabiles expensas suas versus Scaccarium singulis annis, pro duobus Proffris faciendis & uno computo reddendo per annum, &c. Escaet. Anno 30 Ed. 1. n. 19. See Riley's Pla. Parl. fol. 201. de Anno 22 Ed. 1.

Proffer the hall-mark. See Hall-mark.

Proffert in Juria Is, in Case where the Plaintiff declares upon a Deed, or the Defendant pleads a Deed, he must do it with a Proffert in Curia, ria, to the End that the other Party may at his own Charges have a Copy of it; and until he hath at his Request and Charges gotten a Copy of the Deed, he is not bound to answer it. Pract. Reg. 2 Vol. fol. 382.

Profer Vicecomitis, Though the certain Debt of the Sheriff could not be known before the Finishing of his Account, yet it seems there was anciently an Estimate what this constant Charge of the annual Revenue amounted to, and what the constant Allowances amounted to, according to a Medium; and these Sums were paid into the Exchequer at the Return of the Writ of Summons of the Pipe; and they were, and are to this Day called Profer Vicecomitis. But although these Proffers are paid, yet if upon Conclusion of the Sheriffs Accounts, and after the Allowances and Discharges had by him, it appears that he be in Surplusage, or that he is charged with more than indeed he could receive, he hath his Proffers paid or allowed to him again. Vide Hale of Sheriffs Accounts, pag. 52.

Profession (Professio) Is used particularly for the entering into any Religious Order; (New Book of Entries, verbo Professio), by which a Monk offered himself to God by a Vow of Three Things, viz. Obedience, Chastity, and Poverty, which he promised constantly to observe. And this was called Sanctæ Religionis Professio, and the Monk a Religious Professed.

Programma, i. e. A Letter sealed with the King's Seal. Spec. Sax. lib. 3. art. 34. Profits appendic. See Prendre.

Prohibition, Prohibitio, Is a Writ to forbid any Court, either Spiritual or Secular, to proceed in any Cause there depending, upon Suggestion that the Cognizance thereof belongeth not to the same Court. F. N. B. fol. 39. But is now most usually taken for that Writ which lieth for one that is impleaded in the Court Christian, for a Cause belonging to the temporal Jurisdiction, or the Consuance of the King's Court, whereby as well the Party and his Counsel, as the Judge himself, and the Register, are forbidden to proceed any further in that Cause. In what Cases this lieth, see Bro. hoc Tit. & F. N. B. fol. 93. Of this Prohibition, Brañton, lib. 5. tract. 5. cap. 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12. faith, that it lies not after Sentence given in any Cause: And the Statute of 50 E. 3. ordains, that there should lie no more than one Prohibition in one Cause. See the Diversity of Prohibitions in the Table of the Register Original, and the New Book of Entries, verbo Prohibition, and F. N. B. fol. 39.

Prohibitio de basso directa parti Is a Writ Judicial directed to the Tenant, prohibiting him from making Waste upon the Land in Controversy, during the Suit. Reg. Judic. fol. 21. It is sometimes made to the Sheriff; the Example whereof you have in the same Book next following.

Pro indiviso Is a Possession or Occupation of Lands or Tenements, belonging to Two or more Persons, whereof none knows his several Portion, as Coparceners before Partition. Brañton, lib. 5. tract. 2. cap. 1. num. 7. See Pourparty and Partitione faciendâ.

Proles, In English Progeny, Is properly such as proceed from a lawful Marriage; tho' if the Word be taken at large, it may well denote the Issue of an unlawful Bed.

Prolocutor of the Convocation House, Prolocutor Domus Convocationis, Is an Officer chosen by Persons Ecclesiastical, publickly assembled by Virtue of the King's Writ for every Parliament; and as there be Two Houses of Convocation, so there are Two Prolocutors, one of the Lower, and one of the Higher House. He of the Lower House, presently upon the first Assembly, by the Motion of the Bishops, being chosen by the Members of the said Lower House, is presented to the Bishops for Prolocutor, that is, the Person by whom they intend to deliver their Resolutions to the Higher House, and to have their own House especially ordered and governed. His Office is to cause the Clerk to call the Names of such as are of that House, when he sees Cause, to read all Things propounded, gather Suffrages, and the like.

Promissæ, Promissio, Is, when upon a valuable Consideration, we bind our selves by our Words to do or perform such an Act as is agreed upon and concluded, upon which an Action may be grounded; whereas, if it be without Consideration, it is called Nudum pactum, ex quo non oritur actio.

Promoters, or rather Promoters, Promotores, Are those who in popular and penal Actions do prosecute Offenders in their own Name and the King's, having Part of the Fines or Penalties for their Reward; these, among the Romans were called Quadruplicatores or Delatores. They belong especially to the Exchequer and King's Bench. Smith de Rep. Angl. lib. 2. cap. 14. Coke calls them Turbidum hominum genus. 3 Inst. fol. 191.

Promulge a Law, Promulgare Legem, Is first to make a Law, and then to declare, publish, and proclaim the same to publick View, and so

Promulged, Promulgatus, is published, proclaimed, 6 H. 8. 4.

Procurator, or Prothonotary, (Protonotarius, i. e. Primus notarius) Is a chief Clerk of the Common Pleas, and King's Bench, whereof the first hath three, the other one; for the Pronotary of the Common Pleas (Anno 5 Hen. 4. cap. 14.) is termed a chief Clerk of that Court. He of the King's Bench records all Actions Civil, as the Clerk of the Crown-Office does all Criminal Causes in that Court. Those of the Common Pleas, since the Order of 14 Jac. upon an Agreement made betwixt the Prothonotaries and Es-lacers of that Court, (who before did enter all Declarations and Pleas, whereunto a Serjeant's Hand was not required,) do enter and enrol all Manner of Declarations, Pleadings, Assises, Judgments, and Actions. They make out all Judicial Writs, except Writs of Habeas Corpus and Disfringas Jurator, for which there is a particular Office, not much beyond the Memory of Man erected, called The Habeas Corpora Office. They also make out Writs of Execution, and of Seisin, Writs of Privilege, for removing Causes from other inferior Courts of Record, in Case where the Party hath Cause of Privilege. Writs of Procedendo, of Scire facias in all Cases, and Writs to enquire of Damages; and all Process upon Prohibitions, and upon Writs of Audita Querela, and false Judgment, cum multis aliis. They enter and enrol all common Recoveries; and may make Exemplifications of any Record in the same Term, before their Rolls are made up, and brought into the Treasury of Records in that Court.

¶Probat*, Probatio: Bracton says, There is Probatio duplex, viz. viva, as by Witnesses, viva voce; and Mortua, by Deeds, Writings, &c. A Wife cannot be produced either against or for her Husband, quia due sunt anime in carne una, and it might be a Cause of irreconcilable Discord, and a Means of great Inconveniences. Co. on Lit. lib. 5. cap. sect. 1.

¶Propriety*, Proprietas, Is the highest Right that a Man hath, or can have to any Thing, and no Ways depending upon any other Man's Courtesy. And this none in our Kingdom can be said to have in any Lands or Tenements, but only the King in the Right of his Crown; because all the Lands throughout the Realm are in the Nature of Fee, and hold either mediately or immediately of the Crown. This Word nevertheless is used for that Right in Lands and Tenements that common Persons have, because it importeth as much as Utile Dominium, though not directum. See Fee. And there are Three Manner of Rights of Property, that is, Property absolute, Property qualified, and Property possessory. Of which see at large, Co. lib. 7. fol. 17. Case of Swans.

¶Prophecies*, Prophetia, Are by our Statutes taken for foretelling of Things to come in dark and ambiguous Speeches, whereby great Commotions have been often caused in this Kingdom, and great Attempts made by those to whom those Speeches promised good Success, though the Words are mystically framed, and point only at the Cognizance, Arms, or some other Quality of the Parties. Anno 3 E. 6. cap. 15. and 7 Ejusd. cap. 11. and 5 Eliz. cap. 15. But these for Distinction sake are called false, false and fantastical Prophecies. 3 Inst. fol. 128.

¶Propositor*, Skene de verbor. signif. latins it Propositor assise, The Declaration or Deliverance of an Assise, otherwise called Veredictum Assise, the Verdict of an Assise, because the Assisors are sworn to declare the Truth, and therefore are called Juratores, Jurors.

¶Propositor*. This Word is mentioned in Mon. Angl. 1 Tom. pag. 534. Et unam partem hosi nostri, sicut Efflata propositant, i. e. as far as the Ditches reach.

¶Proposition*. See De onerando pro rata portionis. Propositum, Purport, Intention or Meaning. Secundum Proportum disti Cyrographi inter eos Confecti. Carta Rogeri de Quincy, 51 H. 5.

¶Propounders*. The 85 Cha. of Coke's 3 Institutes is intitled, Against Monopolists, Propounders and Projectors; where it seems to be used only as a Synonyma to Monopolists.

¶Proprietarii Monachi* Were those Monks who had any Goods or Substance of their own. They are often mentioned in Mon. Angl. 3 Tom. p. 307. & in Addit. ad Matt. Paris. pag. 115. Monachi Proprietarii excommunicantur ab Abbatibus, & si in morte proprietarii inventus fuerit, Ecclesiastica caveat sepultura, &c.

¶Proprietary*, Proprietarius, Is he that hath a Property in any Thing, que nullius arbitrio est obnoxia; but was heretofore chiefly used for him that hath the Fruits of a Benefice to himself, and his Heirs or Successors, as in Time past Abbots and Priors had to them and their Successors. See Appropriation.

¶Proprietate probanda* Is a Writ that lies for him that would prove a Property before the Sheriff. Reg. Orig. fol. 83, 85. For where a Property is alleged, a Replegiare lieth not. Broke, Property 1.

¶Pro rata*, That is, pro portione, 16 Car. 2. cap. 6. — Pro rata portionis. See Onerando pro rata portionis.

¶Prologue*, Prologare, To prolong, or put off to another Day, Anno 6 H. 8. cap. 8. The Difference between a Prorogation and an Adjournment, or Continuance of the Parliament, is, That by the Prorogation in open Court there is a Session, and then such Bills as passed in either House, or both Houses, and had not the Royal Assent to them, must at the next Assembly begin again; for every Session of Parliament is in Law a several Parliament, but if it be but adjourned or continued, then is there no Session, and consequently all Things continue in the same State they were in before the Adjournment. 4 Inst. fol. 27. This Distinction and Difference betwixt Prorogation and Adjournment, has not been long in Use; for anciently they were used as Synonyma's. Prorogaret Curia de hora in horam quousque Placitum terminetur. MS. de LL.

¶Prosecutor* Is he that follows a Cause in another's Name. See Promoters.

¶Protection*, Protestio, Hath a general and a special Signification: In the General it is used for that Benefit and Safety which every Subject, Denizen, or Alien, especially secured, hath by the King's Laws, and so it is used. 25 E. 3. 22. Protection in the special Signification, is used for an Exemption or Immunity given by the King to a Person against Suits in Law, or other Vexations, upon reasonable Causes him thereunto moving, which is a Branch of his Prerogative. And of this Fitzherbert in his Nat. Brev. fol. 28. maketh Two Kinds; the first he calls a Protection cum clausula Volumus, whereof he mentions four Particulars: 1. A Protection quia protestur, for him that is to pass over Sea in the King's Service. 2. A Protection quin moraturus, for him that is abroad in the King's Service upon the Sea, or in the Marches. 7 H. 7. cap. 2. 3. A Protection for the King's Debtor, that he be not sued or attached till the King be paid his Debt. This some Civilians call Moratorium. And 4. A Protection in the King's Service beyond the Sea, or in the Marches of Scotland, Anno 1 R. 2. cap. 8. Reg. Orig. fol. 23. and Britton, cap. 123. The second Form of Protection, is cum clausula Nolumus, which is granted most commonly to a Spiritual Company for their Immunity, from taking of their Cattel by the King's Ministers: But it may be granted also to one Man Spiritual or Temporal. Reg. Orig. fol. 22, 23. None of these Protections extend to Pleas of Dowry, Quare impedit, Assise of Novel Disseisin, Darrein Presentment, and Attaints and Pleas before Justices in Eyre. See the Terms of the Law, verbo Protection, and New Book of Entries of this Word.

¶Prothonotary*. See Pronotary.

¶Provisor*, Provisarius Was he whom our King heretofore made Chief of Windfor Forest, to hear all Causes of Death or Malibem there. Camb. Y y 2

Erit.

Brit. pag. 213. A Kind of a Lord Chief Justice in Eyre.

Protesti, Protestari, Hath two divers Applications; one is by Way of Caution, to call Witnesses (as it were) or openly affirm, That he doth either not at all, or but conditionally yield his Consent to any Act, or unto the Proceeding of a Judge in a Court, wherein his Jurisdiction is doubtful, or to answer upon his Oath further than by Law he is bound. See Plowden, fol. 676.

Greshbrook's Case, and Reg. Orig. fol. 306. The other is by Way of Complaint, to protest a Man's Bill. For Example. If I give Money to a Merchant in France, taking his Bill of Exchange to be repaid in England by one whom he assigneth; if at my coming, I find not my self satisfied, but either delayed or denied, then I go to the Exchange, or open Concourse of Merchants, and protest, That I am not paid; and thereupon if he hath any Goods remaining in any Man's Hands within the Realm, the Law of Merchants is, that I be paid out of them to my full Satisfaction.

Protestation, Protestatio, Is (as Justice Walsb defines it) a Defence or Safeguard to the Party which maketh it from being concluded by the Act he is about to do, that Issue cannot be joined by it. Plowd. fol. 276. whereof see Reg. Orig. fol. 326. And see Protesti. It is a Form of Pleading, when one does not directly affirm, or directly deny any Thing that is alledged by another, or which he himself alledgeth.

Prove. See Profe.

Prover, Probator, Anno 28 E. 1. and 5 H. 4. cap. 2. See Approvers, and 3 par. Inst. fol. 129. A Man became an Approver, and appealed Five, and every of them joined Battel with him: Et duellum percussum fuit cum omnibus, & probator devicit omnes quinque in duello, quorum quatuor suspendebantur, & quintus clamabat esse clericum & allocatur, & probator pardonatur. Mich. 39 E. 3. coram Rege. Rot. 97. Suff.

Providentia, Provision of Meat or Drink. Hilaritas dapum & poculentorum omnibus venire volentibus & refecti cupientibus semper parata erat quamdiu ibi moram traxit, & talem providentiam ibi fecerat, quod tota curia mirabatur. — providentia vini ante adventum suum in cellaria sua erat centum doliorum. Hen. Knyghton sub anno 1354.

Province, Provincia, Was used among the Romans for a Country without the Limits of Italy, gained to their Subjection by the Sword: Whereupon that Part of France next the Alps was so called of them, and still retains the Name: But with us a Province is most usually taken for the Circuit of an Archbishop's Jurisdiction, as the Province of Canterbury, and the Province of York, 32 H. 8. 23. and 35 H. 8. 31. yet it is also divers Times used in our Statutes for several Parts of the Realm, and sometimes for a County. In placit. Agnetis qua fuit uxor Radulphi de Buttiller versus priorem de Repindon, pro terra in Pykinton, Prior dicit, quod nulla villa est in Provincia illa qua sic vocatur. Placit. de Juratis & Affiliis apud Derby Paich. 53 H. 3. Rot. 2.

Provincial, Provincialis, Is a Chief Governor of a Religious Order of Friars, &c. 4 H. 4. 17.

Provision, Provisio, Is used with us as in the Canon Law, for the providing of a Bishop, or any other Person, an Ecclesiastical Living, by the Pope, before the Incumbent be dead: It is also called Gratia expectativa, or Mandatum de providendo: The great Abuse whereof you may read not only in Duarenus de sacris Ecclesia Ministeriis & Beneficiis. lib. 3. cap. 2. but also in divers Statutes of this Realm, viz. 35 E. 3. 22 stat. 4 & 5. commonly called the Statute De provisionibus, & 27 E. 3. cap. 1. & 38 E. 3. stat. 2. cap. 1, 2, 3, 4. & 2 Ric. 2. cap. 7. 3 R. 2. cap. 3. 7 R. 2. 12. 12 R. 2. stat. 2. cap. 2, 3, 4. & 3 H. 5. cap. 4. See Premunire.

Provisions, The Acts to restrain the exorbitant Abuse of arbitrary Power made in the Parliament at Oxford, 1258. were called Provisiones by Rishanger, who continued Matt. Paris. Anno 1260. Rex autem quia juraverat cum Edwardo primogenito suo & Baronagio Provisiones Oxonienses se inviolabiliter servaturum, &c. being to provide against the King's Absolute Will and Pleasure. See Matt. Paris. sub annis 1244. & 1258.

Provisiones Were also the same with Providentie, i. e. Provisions of Victuals.

Gratissime dari provisio jubemus.

Proviso Is a Condition inserted into any Deed, upon the Observance whereof the Validity of the Deed depends: Sometimes it is only a Covenant. Co. 2 Rep. Lord Cromwel's Case. It hath also another Signification in Matters Judicial, as if the Plaintiff or Demandant desist in prosecuting an Action by bringing it to a Trial: The Defendant or Tenant may take out a Venire facias to the Sheriff, which hath in it these Words, Proviso quod, &c. to this End, that if the Plaintiff take out any Writ to that Purpose, the Sheriff shall summon but one Jury upon them both: In which Case we call going to Trial by Proviso. See Old Nat. Brev. fol. 159. in the Writ Nisi prius.

Provisor Is he that sues to the Court of Rome for a Provision, which is called Gratia expectativa according to Spelman. See also Old Nat. Brev. fol. 143. they were prohibited by Proclamation 42 Hen. 3. Anno 1258. Hill. pag. 259. It is sometimes also taken for him that hath the Care of providing Things necessary, a Purveyor. See Provisio. Provisores dicuntur, qui vel Episcopatum vel Ecclesiasticam aliam Dignitatem in Romana Curia sibi ambiebant de futuro, quod ex gratia expectativa nuncuparent, quia usque dum vacaret expectandum esset. Spelm.

Provisor Monasterii, The Treasurer or Steward of a Religious House, who had the Custody of Goods and Money, and supervised all Accounts. — Abbas Turketulus — Dominum Egelricum tunc Proviforem suum, Statum Domus tam in Thesauris, quam in localibus aliis jussit ostendere. — Vasa vero aurea & argentea multa, que omnia integra in repositum Monasterii sui Proviforis & Procuratoris custodia deputaverat conservanda. Erant enim ambo Egelrici cognati sui secundum carnem. — Fratres secundum Deum religiosissimi, alter Monasterii Provifor, alter Procurator: Provifor in temporalibus tractandis prudentissimus; Procurator vir Socraticus, & omnium literarum scientia profundissima imbutus. Ingulph. Hist.

Provisor Artium, The King's Purveyor, who provided for the Accommodations of his Court, is so called in our Historians.

Provisor Barthali, An Officer in the King's Navy, who hath Charge of the Prisoners taken at Sea. 13 Car. 2. cap. 9. and is sometimes used for for the like Purpose at Land, or to seise or arrest any within the Jurisdiction of his Place or Office.

Purpore. See Senage, Haply it may be the Payment of Proxies or Procurements, sed quere.

Purpores Are yearly Payments made by Parish-Priests to their Bishop or Archdeacon, rati- one visitationis. See Procurements, and the Case between the King and Sir Ambrose Forth, 2 Jac. in the Exchequer. See also Sir Jo. Davis, Rep. fol. 4.

Purk Seems to signify an old fashioned Spur with one Point, not a Rowel, and is a Kind of Service or Tenure. — Nicholas filius & heres Nich. de Longford Chivalier, tenet 4. Messua- gia, 40 Acres terra, 10 Acres prati & 60 s. redditus cum pertinentiis in Kinwaldmersh de Rege in Capite, per servitium inveniendi unum equum, unum saccum & unum Purk in Guerra Wallie quancunque con- tigerit Regem ibi guerare. Mich. Fines, 1 Rich. 2. Derb. fol. 204. I find in Henry the Eighth's Time, Light Horsemen in War were called Prickers, be- cause they used such Spurs or Purks to make their Horses go with Speed; and to this Day Horsemen say, Prick on, when they would have one ride faster.

Publick Faith, Fides publica, 17 Car. 1. cap. 18. Was a Rebellious Cheat to get Money from the seduced People, upon (as they called it) The pub- lick Faith of the Nation, to make a most horrid and causeless Rebellion against a most Religious and Gracious Sovereign, which began about the Year 1642.

Puellage, Pucellagium, French Pucelage, Vir- ginity. — Quod tenuit eam, dum idem B. abstulit pucellagium suum vel quod concubuit cum ea. Braet. lib. 3. tract. 2. cap. 28. num. 2, 3, & 5. In an ancient MS. it is written Puellagium. In placito pro raptu sic continetur — quod ipsam de puellagio suo felonice & totaliter defloravit. Inter Placit. Mich. 19 E. 3. London, 159.

Puchia, A Bag, a Purse. — Die Luna proxime post Festum circumsionis Domini anno 1332. in capi- tulo Eccles. Pauline ordinatum est — quod si omnes Stagiarii a civitate fuerint abest, tunc Sacrista cum uno de Cardinalibus chori, amoto sigillo Canonici puchia peunia apposta, pecuniam necessariam liberent Custodi, & puchiam reconfignent — Ex Libr. Statutorum Eccles. Pauline. MS. penes Rev. Joh. Episc. Nor- wic.

Pudheper, Si Pudhepec, (i. nemoris læsio) parco Regis vel Forestæ fiat 30 marc. emendetur, nisi propo- sitio propensior amplius exigat. Leg. Hen. 1. cap. 38. But the learned Spelman thinks it is miswritten, for the Saxon Pudhepec, i. Wudhepec; and the cu in that Character being like the p in ours.

Pudzels, The same with Woodgeld. Co. on Lit. fol. 233. And haply the like Mistake in the first Letters of this as of the former Word.

Punier, (Fr. Punje) Younger, Puny, born af- ter. See Mulier.

Puileterius, — Rex Majori & Vic' London Sa- litem, quia acceptissimus quodpistores, Tabernarii, Molend- inarii, Coci, Puileterii, Piscenarii, Carnifices, Brasatores Eladarii & alii de diversis Officiis & Mysteriis, &c. Par. 1 E. 3. M. 13. seems to signify a Poulterer. Pullarius.

Punata, i. e. an Handful: Spelman thinks it ought to be read Pumata, viz. Lanceta qui pro sale ierit habeat unum panem & unam pumatam salis. i. e. an Handful of Salt.

Purkes of a Woman's Gown, From the French Word Pourfleur, 33 H. 8. 5. A Sort of Trim- ming for Womens Gowns then in Use; it was made of Tinsel or Gold Thread, and was also called Paudkind-work. So Camden, Tit. Ireland, speaks of a Mantle or Shag Rug, with a deep fringed purfle.

Purchase, (Purchacia, from the Fr. Pourchaf- ser) Is to buy Lands or Tenements with one's Money, or otherwise gain them by one's Indus- try, contradicting what from that which comes to one by Descent from his Ancestors. Gausfridus de Mandevilla Comes Essexie fundator Cænobii Sancti Jacobi Waldensis in Charta prima — Contuli, &c. omnes Ecclesias inferius annotatas, tam de Dominio meo, quam de emptis & Purchasis, &c. Joint Purchase (conjunctum perquisitum.) Reg. of Writ, fol. 143. b. is where two Persons or more join in the Purchase of Lands.

Purchactum, Purchase, or pecuniary Acqui- sition opposed to hereditary Right. — Hec sunt ædificia que idem Abbas Glaston. suo tempore eleganter per eandem Abbatiam consummavit, & caru a quas suo tempore de appuramentis & purchacio suo a- gmentavit. Chartular. Abbat. Glaston. MS. fol 42. a.

Purcation, Purgatio, Is the clearing a Man's self of a Crime whereof he is generally suspected, and of the me accused before a Judge. Of this there there was great Use in England touching Matter of Felony, imputed to Clerks in former Times, as appeareth by Staudf. Pl. Cor. lib. 2. cap. 48. See Clergy and Westm. 1. cap. 2. It is still observed for Matters pertaining to the Ecclesiastical Court, as Suspicion, or common Fame of Incontinency, or such like. And here note, That Purgation is either Canonical, Canonica, or Vulgar, Vulgaris. Canonical is that which is prescribed by the Canon Law; the Form whereof is usually thus in the Spiritual Court, The Man suspected takes his Oath, That he is clear of the Fault objected, and brings so many of his honest Neighbours, being not above Twelve, as the Court shall assign him, to swear upon their Consciences and Credulity, That he sweareth truly. Vulgar Purgation was by Fire, or Water, or by Combat, used both by Infidels and Christians, till by the Canon Law abolished. But Combat may be still practised by the Laws of the Realm in Causes doubtful; and where there is a want of Evidence, or other Proof, if the Defendant chuse rather the Combat than other Trial. See Ordel and Combat. See Suthdure.

Purgare mulierem, i. e. To defile a Woman.

Purificatio beatæ Mariæ Virginis, Anno 32 H. 8. c. 21. See Candlemas.

Purlieu Man, Is he that hath Ground within the Purlieu, and being able to dispend Forty Shillings by the Year of Freehold, is upon these two Points licensed to hunt in his own Purlieu. Manwood's Forest Law, p. 151, 157. But what he must observe in his hunting, see the same Page 180, 181, 186. and cap. 20. num. 5, 8, 9, &c. See Purlieu.

Purlue or Purlieu, From the French Pur, i. purus, and Lieu, locus, is all that Ground near any Forest, which being made Forest by Henry the Second, Richard the First, or King John, was, by Perambulation, granted by King Henry the Third, severed again from the same, and became Purlieu, i. e. pure and free from the Laws and Ordinances of the Forest. Manwood's Forest Laws, cap. 20. And he calleth this Ground either pouvallee, i. perambulationem, or purlieu, purlay, which he saith, are Mistaken for pouvallee, ibid. num. 3. And with our first Derivation it may confid, because such Things as were by those forementioned Kings subjected to the Laws and Ordinances of the Forest, are now cleared and freed from the same. And as the Civilians call that purum locum, qui sepulchrorum Religioni non est obstrictus; so our Ancestors called this purlieu, i. purum locum, because it was exempted from that Servitude that was formerly laid upon it. And whereas Manwood and Crompton call it Pouvallee, we may derive it from pur, purus, and allee, ambulatio, because he that walketh or courseth within that Circuit, is not liable to the Laws or Penalties incurred by them which hunt within the Precincts of the Forest. See the Statute 33 Edw. 1. Stat. 5.

Purpart, Fr. Pourpart, pro parte. Purparty, That Part or Share of an Estate, which being first held in common by Copartners, is by Partition allotted to any of them. — Inquisitio de hereditate Margareta & Elizabethæ — liberes habenda in purpartem ipsius Elizabethæ. — Paroch. Antiquit. p. 502.

Quadragesima Sunday Is the first Sunday in Lent, so called, because it is about the Fortieth Day before Easter: The Three preceding Sundays are, Quinquagesima, Sexagesima, and Septuagesima; all which see in their proper Places.

Quadragesimalia. Denarii Quadragesimales. In the former Days of Superstition, it was the Custom for People to visit their Mother-Church on Midlent-Sunday, and to make their Offerings at the high Altar; as the like Devotion was again observed in Whitsun-week. But as the Processions and Oblations at Whitsuntide were sometimes commuted into a rated Payment of Pentecostals, or Whitsun-farthings, so likewise the Lent Devotion was changed into a customary Rate called Quadragesimalia, and Denarii Quadragesimales, and sometimes Latare Jerusalem, because that Hymn was sung on Midlent-Sunday. It is farther observable, That the now remaining Practice of Mothering, or going to visit Parents upon Midlent-Sunday, is really owing to that good old Custom. Nay it seems to be called Mothering from the Respect so paid to the Mother-Church, when the Epistle for the Day was with some Allusion. Galat. 4. 21. Jerusalem Mater omnium; which Epistle for Midlent-Sunday we still retain, tho' we have forgot the Occasion of it.

*Quadrans, A Farthing, a fourth Part of a Penny. Observe, That before the Reign of Ed. 1. the smallest Coin was a Sterling or Penny, marked with a Cross or Traversed Strokes, by the Guidance whereof a Penny upon Occasion might be cut in Halves for a Half-Penny, or into Quarters for Farthings, or fourth Parts: Till to avoid the Fraud of unequally cutting, King Ed. 1. coined Half-pence and Farthings in round distinct Pieces. See Matth. Westminster sub anno 1279.*

Quadrantata terræ Is the fourth Part of an Acre. See Denariata terræ and Obolata. Item Fardel of Land.

Quadrarium, A Quarry or Stone-Pit — Concessit eisdem liberam viam ultra pasturam meam de quadrario suo usque ad predictam ripam ad stagnum dicti molendini emendandum. Paroch. Antiqu. p. 208. Hence the old Word a Querrou, or Digger of Stones. The Word was originally Carrarium, Carraria. Hence the Irish retain the primitive Word a Carrie, and the French un Carrier.

Quadrilli, A Sort of Bullets used in great Guns for battering Walls: In Matt. Paris. p. 592. they are called Quarelli; they were short, thick and square, and from thence they were called Quadrilli.

Nec tamen interea cessat balista vel arcus, Quadrellos hac multiplicat, pluit ille sagittas.

Quadrizibium, The Center of Four Ways, or where Four Roads meet and cross each other. Hence Cairfax in Oxford. It is called the Wence, and Four Wence in Kent.

Quadrugata terræ, a Teem-Land: Quæ quatuor equis agitur. — Willielmus Prior de Tuttebur, & omnes Monachi ejusdem loci concesserunt Ormo de Accore & heredibus suis unam Quadrugatam terræ quæ attinet ad Man. de Malefeld solum & quietam sicut tenuit in diebus Henr. de Ferr, &c. pro octo sol. redd. per per ann. ad Festum S. Martini, &c. Sine dat. MS. Will. Dugdale Ar.

Quæ servitia Is a Writ. See Per que servitia.

Quæ plura Was a Writ that lay where an Inquisition had been made by an Escheator in any County, of such Lands or Tenements as any Man died seized of, and all that was in his Possession was imagined not to be found by the Office; the Form whereof see in Reg. Orig. fol. 293. and in F. N. B. fol. 255. It differs from the Writ called Melius inquirendum, according to the same Fitzherbert, because this is granted, where the Escheator formerly proceeded by Virtue of his Office; and the other, where he found the first Office by Virtue of the Writ named Diem clausit extremum. See the New Book of Entries, verbo Quæ plura. The Form see in Reg. of Writs, fol. 293. and in Fitz. Nat. Br. f. 255. This Writ is now made useless by taking away the Court of Wards and Offices post mortem. Anno 12 Car. 2. c. 24.

Quæsta, An Indulgence, or Remission of Penance, exposed to Sale by the Popes of Rome, who by this Craft had their great Gain; the Retailers of them were called Quæstuarii.—Circa quæstuarios Predicatores habent Brevia quæ relinquunt in singulis Parochiis in quibus continentur tot indulgentiæ—emant illas quæstas pro modico pretio—Opus Tripartitum apud Fascic. Rerum. Append. pag. 227. So Quæstionarii in Matth. Westminster sub anno 1240.

Querens non inbenit vlegium Is a Return made by the Sheriff upon a Writ directed to him, with this Condition inserted, Si A. fecerit B. securum de clamore suo prosequendo. F. N. B. fol. 38.

Quæstionarii Were those who carried Indulgences from Door to Door, desiring Charity either for themselves on others. Matth. Westm. Anno 1240. tells us, that the King terram suam per papales Quæstionarios depauperari, &c. permittit.

Quæstus Is that which a Man hath by Purchase, as hereditas is what he hath by Descent: 'Tis so in Glanville, lib. 7. cap. 1. Aut habet hereditatem tantum, vel quæstum tantum, aut hereditatem & quæstum.

Quale jus Was a Writ judicial, that lay where a Man of Religion had Judgment to recover Land, before Execution was made of the Judgment; for this Writ did go forth to the Escheator, between Judgment and Execution, to inquire whether the religious Person had any Right to recover, or whether the Judgment was obtained by Collusion between the Demandant and the Tenant, to the Intent, that the true Lord were not defrauded. See Westm. 2. cap. 32. The Form of this Writ you have Reg. Judic. fol. 8, 16, 17, & 46. And in the Old Nat. Brev. fol. 161. See the New Book of Entries, verb. Quale jus.

Quam diu se bene gesserit Is a Clause often used in Letters Patent of the Grant of Offices, as in those to the Barons of the Exchequer, which must be intended only as to Matters concerning their Office; and is nothing but what the Law would have implied, if the Office had been granted for Life. Co. 4 Inst. fol. 117.

Quantum meruit, That is, How much he has deserved, Is an Action of the Case so called, grounded upon a Promise to pay a Man for doing any Thing, so much as he should deserve or merit.

Quarantine. See Quarentine.

Quare eiecit infra terminum Is a Writ that lieth for a Lessee, where he is cast out of his Farm before his Term be expired, against the Feoffee or Lessor that ejected him: And it differs from the Ejectione firme, because this lies where the Lessor, after the Lease made, infeoffeth another, which ejecteth the Lessee: And the Ejectione firme lieth against any other Stranger that ejects him. But the Effect of both is all one, that is, to recover the Residue of the Term. F. N. B. fol. 197. Reg. Orig. fol. 227. and the New Book of Entries, verbo Quare eiecit infra terminum.

Quare Impedit Is a Writ that lies for him that hath purchased a Manor, with an Advowson thereto belonging, against him that disturbs him in the Right of his Advowson, by presenting a Clerk thereto when the Church is void: And it differs from the Writ called a Darrein Presentment, Alissa ultime presentationis, because that lies where a Man, or his Ancestors, formerly presented; and this for him that is the Purchaser himself. See the Expositor of the Terms of the Law. Old Nat. Brev. fol. 27. Braet. lib. 4. tract. 2. cap. 6. Britton, c. 92. and F. N. B. f. 32. and Reg. Orig. f. 30. And here note, That where a Man may have an Assise of Darrein Presentment, he may have a Quare Impedit, but not contrariwise. See the New Book of Entries on this Writ. Braet. lib. 4. Tract. 2. c. 6. F. N. B. fol. 30. and Westm. 2. cap. 5.

Quare incumbat Is a Writ that lieth against the Bishop, who, within six Months after the Vacation of a Benefice, conferreth it upon his Clerk, while Two others are contending in Law for the Right of presenting. And here note, This Writ always lies depending the Plea. Old Nat. Brev. f. 30. F. N. B. g. 48. and Reg. Orig. f. 32.

Quare intrusit matrimonio non satisfacto Is a Writ that lay for the Lord against his Tenant being his Ward, who after convenient Marriage offered him, marries another, and enters nevertheless upon his Land, without Agreement first made with his Lord and Guardian. But all Wardships being taken away by the Statute 12 Car. 2. cap. 24. this Writ is become useless.

Quare non admittit Is a Writ that lies against a Bishop, refusing to admit his Clerk that hath recovered in a Plea of Advowson. F. N. B. f. 47. and Reg. Orig. f. 32. See the New Book of Entries, verbo Quare non admittit.

Quare non permittit Is a Writ that lies for one that has Right to present for a Turn against the Proprietary. Fleta, lib. 5. cap. 6.

Quare, Quærela, a querendo, and extends not only to Actions personal, but also to mixt, and the Plaintiff in them is called Querens, and in the most of the Writs it is said Queritur; so that if a Man release all Quærels, (a Man's Deed being taken most strongly against himself) it is as beneficial as all Actions, for by it all Actions real and personal are released. Co. lib. 8. fol. 153. and Co. on Lit. lib. 3. c. 8. sect. 511.

Quarentine, Quarentina, Is a Benefit allowed by the Law of England to the Widow of a Man dying seized of Land, whereby she may challenge to continue in his capital Messuage, or chief chief Mansion-house, (so it be not a Castle) by the Space of Forty Days after his Decease. Bracton, l. 2. c. 40. And if the Heir, or any other attempt to eject her, she may have the Writ De quarentina habenda. F. N. B. f. 161. Maneat vidua in Capitali Messuagio mariti sui per quadraginta dies post obitum mariti sui, infra quos dies assignetur ei dos, nisi prius assignata fuerit, vel nisi dominus illa sit castri. Magna Charta, c. 7. See Britton, c. 103. and Fleta, lib. 5. cap. 23. Skene de verborum signific. verb. Quarentena viduarum, derives this Word from the French Quaresme; who also have this Custom called La quaresme des veuves, granted to Widows after the Decease of their Husbands. Quarentena also signifies a Furlong, being a Quantity of Land containing Forty Perches, and so haply derived from the French Quarente, Forty. In a Charter of Withlase, King of the Mercians, mentioned by Ingulpbus, we have these Words. — Quatuor carucatas terre arabilis continentes in longitudine 8. quarentenas, & 8. quarentenas in latitudine. Quarentine is also the Space of Forty Days, wherein in any Person, coming from Foreign Parts, infected with the Plague, is not permitted to land, or come on Shore, until so many Days are expired.

Quarentina habenda Is a Writ that lies for a Widow to enjoy her Quarentine. Reg. Orig. fol. 175.

Quare obstruit Is a Writ that lies for him, who having a Liberty to pass through his Neighbour's Ground, cannot enjoy his Right, for that the Owner has so strengthened it. Fleta, lib. 4. c. 26. sect. Item si minus.

Quareria and Quarerra, a Quarry of Stone. — Præterea dedi eis Turbariam, & Petariam & Quareriam, ubicunque invenire poterint in territorio villa de Hepp, &c. Mon. Ang. Par. 2. fol. 595. b.

— In toto illo bosco cum Querera in illo contenta, una cum quadam placea bosci, qua eo atitur, &c. Reg. Prior. de Wormesly, fol. 43.

Quartellois, Surtoots or Upper-Garments, with Coats of Arms quartered on them, the old Habit of our English Knights, in their military Expeditions. — Milites quidem super armatura coticas induerunt vocatas quartellois: Armigeri vero indumenta bandas habuerunt. Tho. Walsingham in Ed. 2. p. 114. See Cotica.

Quarter, Quarterium, Eight Bushels striked make the Quarter of Corn. Anno 15 Ricb. 2. cap. 4.

Quarterisoz, To be quartered, or cut into Four Quarters in Execution. — Fecit decollari & membratim dividi, & quarterisari, & caput & ejus quarterias ad regni certas civitates transmitti jussit. Artic. Richardi Scrope Archiep. Ebor. apud. Angl. Sacr. P. 2. p. 266.

Quarterium Is a Measure of Corn, consisting of Eight Bushels. Fleta, lib. 2. c. 12. Quarterium frumenti constat ex octo Bessellis.

Quarterium Anni Is the fourth Part of a Year. Matt. Westm. Anno 1259. Decimas de Ringeldon, &c. sequerantur, & per unum fere Quarterium Anni intestas retinebat.

Quarterization Is Part of the Punishment of a Traitor, by dividing his Body into Four Parts. Walsingham in R. 2. Auditum & confessum turpissima scelera, tractioni, suspendio, decollationi, exenterationi & quarterizationi, ut usu vulgari loquar, adjudicavit.

Quarter-Sessions Is a Court held by the Justices of Peace in every County once every Quarter of a Year. How far the Jurisdiction thereof extendeth, see Lamb. Eiren. lib. 4. and Smith de Repub. Anglor. lib. 2. cap. 19. To which you may add the several Statutes of this Realm, by which its Power is greatly increased: Originally it seems to have been erected only for Matters touching the Peace, but now it extends much farther. The holding these Sessions quarterly, was first ordained by the Statute 25 Ed. 3. Stat. 1. c. 8.

Quartilatus Is a Word used in Heraldry, and signifies quartering of Arms, or dividing them into Four Parts. Knighon, Anno 1347. Vexilla Regis Angliae quartilata de armis Angliae & Francie elevantes.

Quash, Quassare, Cometh of the French Word Quasser, id est, casum facere, to overthrow or annul. Bracton, l. 5. tract. 2. c. 3. nu. 4. As if the Bailiff of a Liberty return any out of his Franchise, the Array shall be quashed. And Co. on Lit. fol. 156. An Array returned by one that hath no Franchise shall be quashed.

Quasi modo Sunday, Low Sunday, or the next after Faster anciently so called from the first Words of the Introit or Hymn for Mass on that Day. It occurs often in the Date of old Records. — Carta Gilberti Prioris de Eynsham Priori de Sherburn dat. postidie Festi Quasi modo geniti, Anno 1255. This solemn Time in some Deeds was expressed by the initial Letters, Q. M. S.

Quaternio, Quaternus, A Book, or Volume, properly in Quarto, or with each Sheet folded into Four Leaves. — Anselmus præcepit quaternus quaterniones in quibus ipsum opus conieceram, destrue penitus rem. — notatis verbis ejus quaternones ipsos destruxi, iis quibus scripti erant alii quaternionibus primo inscriptis. Eadmeri Liber de vita Anselmi apud Wharton Angl. Sacr. P. 2. pag. 182.

— Cum Evangelio Johannis manibus propriis scribendo operam daret. — ad Ecclesiam nec clauso quaterno nec folio completo festinavit. Girald. Cambren. ibid. pag. 635.

Plurima hic præsul patravit signa suspendis, Quæ nunc in chartis scribuntur vite quadratis.

So in Petrus Blesensis Epist. 19. Quinque hujus novi operis quaternos mitto.

Quaternies of Wines; Fr. Quatriesme, a fourth Part, it being a Tax of the fourth Penny for all Wines retailed.

Quebord, Anno 17 E. 4. c. 2. A kind of Game prohibited by the same Statute. Perchance the same with that we now call Shovel-board: And it may be Quecorde quasi Quickbord, because the Pieces wherewith they play run upon the Table with great Celerity.

Queen, (Regina) Is either she that holds the Crown of this Realm by Right of Blood, or she that is married to the King, which last is called Queen Consort. In the former Signification, she is in all Contridiction the same that the King is, and has the same Power in all Respects: In the later she is Inferior, and a Person exempt from the King; for she may sue, and be sued in her own Name: Yet what she hath is the King's, and what she loseth the King loseth. Stannoff. Prærog. cap. 2. fol. 10. and Coke, lib. 4. Copyhold Cases, fol. 23. b. The Word is derived from the Saxon Cwen, i. e. uxor, or the Wife of any one, but propter excellentiam the Wife of the King only, and therefore she was anciently called the King's Queen;

Queen; for the West-Saxons had no other Name for a Queen than the King's Wife. Affer de Ælfredi rebus, &c. pag. 3. Mart. Westm. Anno 854.

She was also called Lady from the Sax. Hlafdia, as may be seen in several Saxon Charters, and particularly in Two of Queen Edyth, which are now in the Church of Wells, viz. Edyth, the Lady to great Earl Harold my Brother; and in Huntingdon, Lib. 5. Edelfleda Merice Domina Rex vocatur, ad laudem & excellentiam mirificationis sue.

O Elfleda potens, O terror virgo virorum, Vidrix nature, nomine digna viri.

Queen Gold, (Aurum Regina) Is a Royal Duty or Revenue belonging to every Queen-Consort, during her Marriage to the King of England, both by Law, Custom and Prescription, payable by sundry Persons in England and Ireland, (upon divers Grants of the King) by way of Fine or Oblation, amounting to Ten Marks or upwards; to wit one full tenth Part above the entire Fine, as Ten Pounds for every Hundred Pounds Fine, upon Pardons, Contracts or Agreements; which becomes a real Debt and Duty to the Queen, by the Name of Aurum Regina, upon the Party's bare Agreement with the King for his Fine, and recording it, without any Promise or Contract for this tenth Part exceeding it. Lib. Nig. Scac. pag. 43, 44. Coke's 12 Rep. fol. 21, 22. and Pryn's Treatise on this Subject, per tot.

Que Estate, Translated verbatim, signifies Quem statum: In our common Law it is a Plea, whereby a Man intitling another to Land, &c. saith, That the same Estate he had, he hath from him: For Example, in a Quare Impedit, the Plaintiff alledges, That such Four Persons were seized of Lands whereunto the Adwoslon in Question was appendant in Fee, and did present to the Church, and afterward the Church became void que estate del, &c. that is, which Estate of the Four Persons he has now during the Vacation, by Virtue whereof he presented, &c. Bro. Tit. Que Estate, f. 175, 176. New Book of Entries. verb. Que Estate, and Co. on Lit. fol. 121.

Que est mesme Signifies Verbatim, Whi h is the same Thing, but is used in a legal Sense as a Word of Art in an Action of Trespas, or such like, for a positive Justification of the very Act complained of by the Plaintiff as a Wrong. For Example, in an Action upon the Case, the Plaintiff says, That the Lord threatened his Tenants at Will in such sort, that he forced them to give up their Tenures. The Lord for his Defence pleaderth, That he said unto them, That if they would not depart, he would sue them at Law: This being the same threatening that he used, or to speak artificially, que est le mesme, the Defence is good. Of this, see Kutbin, cap. Que est le mesme, fol. 236.

Quem redditum reddat Is a Writ Judicial, that lies for him to whom a Rent seek or Rent-charge is granted, by Fine levied in the King's Court against the Tenant of the Land that refuseth to attorn to him, thereby to cause to attorn. Old Nat. Brev. fol. 126. West Symbol. part 2. Tit. Fines, sect. 156. and the New Book of Entries, verb. Quem redditum reddit.

Querela, An Action preferred in any Court of Justice, in which the Plaintiff was Querens or Complainant, and his Brief, Complaint or Declaration, was Querela, whence our Quarrel against any Person. Quietos esse a querelis was to be exempted from the customary Fees paid to the King or Lord of a Court, for the Purchase of Liberty to prefer such an Action. But more usually to be exempted from Fines and Amercements, imposed for common Trespases and Defaults. So King Henry 2. to Bernard de S. Walery terra sua sint quieti de omnibus placitis & querelis exceptis murthero & latrocinio. Paroch. Antiquit. pag. 123. See Mr. Kennet's Glossary.

Querela fressce foztiz Is a Writ of fresh Force. See fresh Force.

Querela coram Rege & concilio discutienda & terminanda, Is a Writ whereby one is called to justify a Complaint of a Trespas made to the King himself, before the King and his Council. Reg. Orig. f. 124.

Queruta, Chorista, a Chorister, Querister, or Boy that sings in the Quire. — In secundo vero gradu subitus stent Vicarii, Diaconi — item in tertia forma pueros & queristas precipimus colloari. — Pryn Coll. Tom. 3. p. 321.

Questia, A Quest, or Inquest, Inquisition or Enquiry upon the Oaths of an impanelled Jury. — Nec regnaverunt in diebus suis Perjuratores in questis & assis sicut nunc. Joh. Capgrave de vita Hen. Spenser Episc. Norwic. apud Angl. Sacr. P. 2. pag. 360.

Questus, Or rather Quæstus, A quæro, to seek or get, is taken for that Land which does not descend to us by Hereditary Right, but is gained by our own Labour and Industry; this we call Purchased Lands. In Lib. Ranus sub Stephano Rege conscript. sect. 140. sub Tit. Quæstus Ednothi qui foruit tempore Reg. Æthelredi, We read thus, Erant illis diebus quidam Ælstanus habens duas bidas apud Stapleford, quas frater Ednothus numeratis eidem centum solidis argenti, reliquis questibus suis in possessionem Ecclesie Remensis adjunxit. Glanville, lib. 7. cap. 1. speaking of Lands, saith, Aut habet hereditatem tantum, aut questum tantum, aut hereditatem & questum.

Questus est nobis Is the Form of a Writ of Nusance, which by the Statute 13 E. 1. cap. 24. lies against him to whom the House, or other Thing that breeds the Nusance, is alienated, whereas before the Statute, this Action lay only against him that first levied the Thing to the Annoyance of his Neighbour. See the said Statute.

Quia impossibile Seems to be a Superfedeas granted in the Behalf of a Clerk of the Chancery, sued against the Privilege of that Court in the Common Pleas, and pursued to the Exigent, or in many other Cases where a Writ is erroneously sued. See Dyer, f. 33. n. 18.

Quid iuris clamat Is a Writ Judicial, issuing out of the Record of the Fine, which remaineth with the Custos brevium of the Common Pleas, before it be engrossed; and it lies for the Grantee of a Reversion or Remainder, when the particular Tenant will not attorn. West Symbol. part 2. Tit. Fines, sect. 118. Reg. Judic. 36, 57. and the New Book of Entries on this Writ.

Quid pro quo Signifies verbatim, what for what, and is an artificial Speech, signifying as much as the Greek συνάλλαγμα among the Civilians, which is a reciprocal Performance of both Parties to a Contract; and thereupon the giving of one Thing of a Value, for another Thing of like like Value, as 10 li. for a Horse, &c. Kithin, fol. 184.

Quietantia Assisarum super Assisam.—Per hec verba Johannes Stanley clamat quod ipse & tenentes & residentes sui non ponantur in Assis, Jurat. nec magnis Assis. Plac. in Itin. apud Cestr. 14 H. 7.

Quietantia secz, Hundredi & Clichmote.—Per hec verba Johannes Stanley Arm. clamat quod ipse & tenentes sui non teneantur venire ad curiam istam. Plac. ubi supra. See Acquietantia.

Quietantia, Acquietantia, A Quittance, Acquittance, or testimonial of Receipt.

Quitare, To quit, acquit, or discharge, or save harmless. The common Form in old Deeds of Donation or other Conveyance. — De prædictis Nos & hæredes Nostri quietabimus dictos, &c.

Quiete clamare, To quit claim, or renounce all Pretension of Right and Title. Quieta clamatio, Such Quit-claim or Act of Renunciation. De una virgata terre in Mixebury — Richardus & Aldreda remiserunt & quiete clamaverunt de se & hæredibus Aldreda prædicti Abbati (de Ofenei) & Successoribus suis — pro hac autem remissione quiete clamazione & concordia idem Abbas dedit — xxx fol. — Paroch. Antiq. p. 220.

Quietus, Quiet, freed, acquitted, Is a Word used by the Clerk of the Pipe, and Auditors in the Exchequer, in their Acquittances or Discharges given to Accountants; usually concluding with an abinde recessit quietus, which is called a Quietus est, and mentioned in the Act Of General Pardon. 12 Car. 2. 11. and 14 Car. 2. cap. 21. A Quietus est granted to the Sheriff, shall discharge him of all Accounts due to the King. 21 Jac. cap. 5.

Quietus redditus A Rent-quit, or small Acknowledgment paid in Money, so called because such Payment did acquit the Tenant from all other Service or Duties to the Lord. It was sometime called White-Rent, because paid in Silver, or ready Money. See Quit-Rent.

Quinquagesima Sunday Is that we call Shrove-Sunday, and was so named, because it is about the Fiftieth Day before Easter. The Reason of the Name you may find in Durandi rationali Divinorum, capit. de quinquagesima; and we mention it here, because they are frequently spoken of in our ancient Law Writers, as Britton, 33. and divers others.

Quinque Portus, The Cinque Ports; which are, 1. Hastings, 2. Romney, 3. Hythe, 4. Dover, and 5. Sandwich. To the first, Winchelsea and Rye belong, which are reckoned as Part, or Members of the Cinque Ports. — Servitium quod Barones Quinque Portuum præscriptorum recognoscunt facere ad summationem Regis per Annum, si contigerit per 15 dies ad custum eorum proprium; ita quod primus dies computatur a die quo velis navium exeruerint, usque partes ad quas tendere debent, vel ulterius quamdiu Rex voluerit ad custum ejus. See Cinque Ports.

Cambden tells us, that Kent is accounted the Key of England, and that William the Conqueror was the first who made a Constable of Dover Castle, and a Warden of the Cinque Ports, which he did to bring that County under a stricter Subjection to his Government; but King John was the first who granted the Privileges to those Ports, which they still enjoy: However, it was upon Condition that they should provide Eighty Ships at their own Charge for Forty Days, as often as the King should have Occasion for them in the Wars, he being then under a Necessity of having a Navy for passing into Normandy to recover that Dukedom which he had lost. And Thorn tells us how many Ships each Port was to provide, viz.

Hastings Twenty-one, and in each Ship Twenty-one Men, cum sarcenis ad quem pertinent tanquam membra unus vicus in Sesford, Pevensey, Hedney, Winchelsea, Rye, Hamne, Wakesborn, Creneth and Forthcliffe.

Romney, Five Ships with Cordage, and in each Ship Twenty-four Seamen, ad quem pertinent, Brombal, Lyde of Marstone, Dingemures, & vicus Romenhale.

Hythe Five Ships, and in each Twenty-one Seamen, ad quem pertinet Westmethe.

Dover the like Number as Hastings, ad quem pertinent Folkston, Feverham, Margate.

Sandwich the like Number with Hythe, ad quem pertinet Fordwice, Raculver, Servee, Dale. See a Catalogue of the Lord Wardens of the Cinque Ports at the End of Mr. Somner's Treatise of the Roman Ports and Forts in Kent, 8vo, Oxford 1693. in which Discourse there are many Authorities and Observations relating to the Antiquities and Customs of the Cinque Ports.

Quinquaginta signifies a Tenth of all Goods for Five Years successively.

Quinzieme or Quinzime, (Decima Quinta) is a French Word, signifying a Fifteenth; with us it is a Tax, so called, because it is raised after the Fifteenth Part of Mens Lands or Goods. Anno 10 R. 2. c. 1. and 7 H. 7. c. 5. See Fifteenth and Tax. It is well known by the Exchequer Roll, what every Town throughout England is to pay for a Fifteenth. Sometimes this Word Quinzieme or Quinzime, is used for the Fifteenth Day after any Feast, as the Quinzime of St. John Baptist. Anno 13 E. 1. in the Preamble. See Fifteenth. It is a Mistake that this was a Tax of the Fifteenth Part of all Lands, for it was of the Goods only, and it was first granted by the Parliament, 18 Ed. 1. viz. Compositus quinta decima Regi, Anno 18. per Archiepiscopos, Episcopos, Abbates, Priores, Comites, Barones & omnes alios de regno, de omnibus bonis suis nobilibus concessit: The City of London paid this Year for the Fifteenth, 2860l. 13s. 8d. and the Abbot of St. Edmonds 666 l. 13 s. 4 d. which was by Composition, and thereupon had all his temporal Goods, and the Goods of his Convent discharged of the Fifteenth: The way of Collecting it was, by Two Assessors appointed in every County by the King, and they appointed Twelve in every Hundred, who made a true Valuation of every Man's personal Estate, and then caused the Fifteenth Part to be levied.

Quinta, i. e. a Mile: Sometimes 'tis called Quintum milliare; Civitatem Cenomanensem possidente cum tota quinta libere & pacifice. Pryn, in Lib. Ecclesiæ Angliæ. 3 Tom. p. 35.

Quintal, Quintallus, A Weight of Lead, Iron, and common Metals, usually one Hundred Pounds, at Six-score per Cent. — Unus quintallus ferri vel acri qui continet ix petras & dimid. lib. valet ix s. & sic valet qualibet petra xii den. qualibet libra i. den. — Regulæ Compositi domus de Farendon. MS.

Quintane, Quintana, French Quintayne & Be-sant, a Kind of Exercise that young Men did, and still do use in some Places of this Nation, ro

The Sum of the whole Quit-Rent is — 8s. 11d.

Quod Clerici beneficiati de Cancellaria Is a Writ to exempt a Clerk of the Chancery from the Contribution towards the Proctors of the Clergy in Parliament. Reg. Orig. f. 261.

Quod Clerici non elegantur in Officio Ballivi, &c. Is a Writ that lies for a Clerk, which, by reason of some Land he hath, is made, or in doubt to be made Balliff, Beadle, Reeve, or some such like Officer. See Clerico infra sacros, &c. Reg. Orig. fol. 187. & F. N. B. fol. 261.

Quod ei Deforceat Is a Writ that lies for the Tenant in Tail, Tenant in Dower, or Tenant for Term of Life, having lost by Default, against him that recovered, or against his Heir. See Broke, loc Tit. Reg. Orig. f. 171. and the New Book of Entries, verb. Quod ei Deforceat.

Quod non permittat. See Consuetudinibus & Servitiis.

Quod permittat Is a Writ that lies for the Heir of him that is disseised of his Common of Pasture against the Heir of the Disseisor being dead. Termes de lay Ley, 526. Britton, cap. 8. says That this Writ lies for him, whose Ancestor did seised of Common of Pasture, or other like Thing annexed to his Inheritance, against the Deforcior. See Bro. hoc titulo, Reg. Orig. fol. 155. and the New Book of Entries, verb. Quod permittat.

Quod Persona nec Prebendarii, &c. Is a Writ that lies for spiritual Persons that are disseised in their spiritual Possessions, for the Payment of a Fifteenth with the rest of the Parish. F. N. B. fol. 176.

Quo Jure Is a Writ that lies for him that has Land, wherein another challengeth Common of Pasture Time out of Mind: And it is to compel him to shew by what Title he challenges it. F. N. B. fol. 128. and Britton more largely, c. 59. Reg. Orig. fol. 156. and the New Book of Entries, verbo Quo jure.

Quo minus Is a Writ that lies for him that hath a Grant of House-bote and Hay-bote in another Man's Woods, against the Grantor, making such Waste as the Grantee cannot enjoy his Grant. Old Nat. Brev. fol. 148. and Kirchin, fol. 178. This Writ also lies for the King's Farmer in the Exchequer, against him to whom he selleth any Thing by way of Bargain touching his Farm, or against whom he hath any Cause of personal Action. Perkin's Grants, 5. For he supposeth by the Vendee's detaining any Due from him, he is made less able to pay the King's Rent. And under this Pretence, any one who pays the King a Fee-Farm Rent, may have this Writ against any other Person for any Debt or Damage, and bring the Cause to Trial in the Exchequer.

Quorum Is a Word often mentioned in our Statutes, and much used in Commissions both of Justices of the Peace, and others, and so called from the Words in the Commission, Quorum A. B. unum esse volumus: As for Example, Where a Commission is directed to Seven Persons, or to any Three of them, Whereof A. B. and C. D. to be Two, there A. B. and C. D. are said to be of the Quorum, because the rest cannot proceed without them; so a Justice of the Peace and Quorum, is one without whom the rest of the Justices in some Cases cannot proceed. Anno 3 H. 7. cap. 3. and 32 H. 8. cap. 43.

Quorum nomina. In the Reign of H. 6. the King's Collectors and other Accountants were much troubled in passing their Accounts, by new extorted Fees, and forced to procure a late invented Writ of Quorum nomina, for Allowance of the Barons of the Cinque Ports, and their suing out their Quietus at their own Charge, without Allowance from the King. Chron. Anglia.

Quo Warranto Is a Writ that lies against him that usurps any Franchise or Liberty against the King, as to have Waif, Stray, Fair, Market, Court-Baron, Leet, or such like, without good Title. Old Nat. Brev. f. 149. Or else against him that intrudeth himself as Heir into Land. Bracton, lib. 4. tract. 1. cap. 2. num. 3. Bro. hoc Tit. 18 E. 1. Stat. 2 & 3. E. Anno 30. ejusdem. And the New Book of Entries, verb. Quo Warranto.

Quota, A Tax or Imposition to be levied in equal Manner. — Et quod nulle impositiones, contributiones, taxa, quotæ, tallagia vel auxilia ipsi taxquam alienigenis aliquo modo imponantur. — Carta R. 2. in Mon. Angl. Tom. pag. 538.

Dupke was anciently used for a living or quick Beast, as appears by the Will of John Bracebridge of Kinnerbury Esq; dated 7 H. 8. wherein it it is appointed, That his best Quayke should be taken in the Name of his Mortuary.

The Murre of a Boar Is the Hounds Fee, but what Part it is we are unsatisfied : but if we may guess, we think it may denote the Heart. And then doubtless a Word corrupted from the French Coeur. Skynner's Etymologicum Ling. Angl.

Radius Is mentioned in Eleta, lib. 2. cap. 73. par. 12. and it signifies a Furrow.

Rad-Knights. See Rod-Knights.

Radman, Domesday, Tit. Herefscire, 15. Bordar. Praepositus & unus Radman, &c. It seems to be the same with Rodeknight, unless peradventure it be derived from Read Counsel, and so Readmans signifies Counsellors.

Radnoz. See Magi.

Raffinage, i. e. A Refining.

Ragaleia terræ, i. e. A single Furrow of Land ploughed in a frair Line.

Rageman Is a Statute so called of Justices, assigned by Edward the First, and his Counsel, to go a Circuit through all England, and to hear and determine all Complaints of Injuries done within Five Years next before Michaelmas, in the Fourth Year of his Reign.

Ragloza Is a Word mentioned in the Charter of Edward the Third, whereby he made his Eldest Son Edward Prince of Wales in Parliament at Westminster the Seventeenth Year of his Reign, recited by Selden in his Titles of Honour, pag. 597.

— Cum Forestis, Parcibus, Chasetis, Boscis, Waremis, Hundredis, Comotis, Ragloriis, Ringeldiis, Wodewardis, Constabulariis, Ballivis, &c. Davis in his Dictionary says, That Rhaglaw among the Welsh signifies Seneschallus, Surrogatus, Praepositus.

Raglozius, i. e. A Steward. Selden, Tit. of Honour, f. 597. Cum hundredis, commotis, ragloriis, Rengeldis, &c.

Ragman's Roll, (redivus Ragimund's Roll.) so called from one Ragimund, a Legat in Scotland, who, calling before him all the beneficed Persons in that Kingdom, caused them, upon Oath, to give in the true Value of their Benefices, according to which they were after taxed in the Court of Rome. This Roll, among other Records, being taken from the Scots by our King Edward the First, was re-delivered to them in the Beginning of Edward the Third's Time. Ragemans and Blanks to be burnt. Cott. Records, fol. 364. Sir Richard Baker in his Chronicle, f. 127. saith, That Edward the Third surrendered, by his Charter, all his Title of Sovereignty to the Kingdom of Scotland, restored divers Deeds and Instruments of their former Homages and Fealties, with the famous Evidence called Ragman's Roll.

Rainhundt. In the Constitutions of King Canutus, touching the Forest, Art. 30. 'tis said, Item de canibus quod Rainhundt vocant, a Dog which will watch in the Rain. De Frestis in Verbo canis.

still say, when a Man takes away the Goods of another by Violence, he hath taken all he could Rap and Ran. Rap, from rapio, to snatch.

Range, From the French Ranger, to order, dispose of. It is used in the Forest Laws both as a Verb, as to Range; and a Substantive, as to make Range, Charta de Foresta, cap. 6. To Range also signifies to wander and stray about.

Ranger Is a sworn Officer of the Forest, of which there are Twelve, Id. cap. 7. whose Authority is in Part described by his Oath set down by Manwood, part 1. pag. 56. but more particularly part 2. cap. 20. num. 15, 16, 17. His Office chiefly consists in Three Points, To walk daily through his Charge, to see, hear and inquire, as well of Trespasses as Trespassers in his Bailiwick; To drive the Beasts of the Forest both of Venery and Chace out of the deafforested into the forested Lands: And to present all Trespasses of the Forest at the next Court holden for the Forest. This Ranger is made by the King's Letters Patent, and hath a Fee of Twenty or Thirty Pounds paid yearly out of the Exchequer, and certain Fee-Deer. Ranger of Foresta de Whittlewood. Pat. 14 R. 2. m. 3.

Ransom, Redemptio, Is derived of the French Rancon or Rencon, redemptio signifies properly the Sum that is paid for the Redeeming one that is taken Prisoner in War: But it is used also for a Sum of Money paid for the Pardoning some great Offence, as in the Statutes of 1 H. 4 cap. 7. 11 H. 6. 11. and 23 H. 8. cap. 3. where Fine and Ransom are joined together: But here note, That when one is to make a Fine and Ransom, the Ransom shall be treble to the Fine. Crompt. Just. of Peace, fol. 142. and Lamb. Eiren. lib. 4. cap. 16. pag. 556. Horne in his Mirror of Justice makes this Difference between Amerciament and Ransom, that Ransom is the Redemption of a corporal Punishment due by Law to any Offence. Lib. 3. cap. De Amerciament taxable. See Co. on Litt. fol. 127.

Rape, Rapa and Rapus, Is a Part of a County, being in a Manner the same with a Hundred, and sometimes contains in it more Hundreds than one. As all Staffex is divided into six Rapes only, viz. Of Chichester, Arundel, Brember, Lewes, Pewsey and Hastings; every of which, besides their Hundreds, hath a Castle, River and Forest belonging to it. Cambd. Brit. pag. 225, and 229. These, in other Countries, are called Hundreds, Tyttings, Latkes and Wapentakes. Smith de Rep. Angl. lib. 2. cap. 16.

Rape, Raptus, Is a Felony committed by a Man, in the violent deflouring of a Woman against her Will, be she old or young. Britton, cap. 1. West. Symbol. part 2. Tit. Indictments, sect. 54. hath these Words, Copulation violent is termed a Rape or Ravishment of the Body of a Woman against her Will, which is carnal Knowledge had of a Woman, who never consented thereunto before the Fact or after. And this in Scotland ought to be complained of the same Day or Night that the Crime is committed. Skene de verbor. signif. verb. Raptus, and his Reason is, quia lapsus diei hoc crimen prescribitur. Co. on Litt. lib. 2. cap. 11. sect. 190. says, If the Woman conceive, it is no Rape; for she cannot conceive, unless she consent. This Offence is Felony both in the Principal and his Aiders. 13 R. 2. stat. 2. cap. 1. 11 H. 4. cap. 13. 1 E. 4. cap. 1. and Westm. 2. cap. 13. and shall not be allowed the Benefit of Clergy. 18 Eliz. cap. 7. And Fleta says, The Complaint must be made within Forty Days, or else the Woman may not be heard, lib. 3. cap. 5. sect. Præterea. And carnal Knowledge of a Woman under Ten Years old is Felony. 8 Eliz. 6. Of the Diversity of Rapes, see Crompt. Justice of Peace, fol. 43, 44. The Offender is called Raptor, a Ravisher, and in Bracton's Time was punished with the Loss of his Eyes and Stones, Que calorem supri induxerunt, 3 Inst. fol. 60. See Ravishment. The Civil Law useth Raptus in the same Signification, And rapere virginem vel mulierem est ei vim inferre & violare. See Dyer, Term. Mich. 13 & 14 Eliz. pag. 304.

Rape of the Forest, Raptus Foresta, Is reckoned among those Crimes, whose Cognizance belongs only to the King. Violentus concubitus, Raptus Foresta, revelationes baronum suorum, &c. Leg. Hen. 1. cap. 10. Trespass committed in the Forest by Violence.

Rapine, Rapina, To take a Thing in private against the Owner's Will, is properly Theft; but to take it openly, or by Violence, is Rapine, 14 Car. 2. cap. 22. and 18 Car. 2. cap. 3.

Raptu hæreditis Is a Writ lying for the Taking away of an Heir holding in Socage; of which there are Two Sorts, one when the Heir is married, the other when he is not; of both these, see the Reg. Orig. fol. 163.

Rase, Raseria. It seems to have been a Measure of Corn now disused. Toll shall be taken by the Rase, and not by the Heap or Cantel, Ordinance for Bakers, Brewers, &c. cap. 4. Debentur ei annuatim decem & octo Raseria avena, & sex Raseria hordei, &c. Spelman. Et de uno Ralario frumenti in unoquoque mense ortolano, & ad natale Domini de uno Ralario Brasii de Masphemalt, de ordeo & avenis, & dimidium Ralarii de Grethmalt. Pat. 12 Edw. 3. pag. 1. m. 4.

Rasus alleozum, A Rase of Onions, thus computed in Fleta, lib. 2. cap. 12. sect. 12. Rasus alleozum continet xx stones, & qualibet flonis xxv. capita.

Rastall Was an eminent and learned Lawyer, that lived in Queen Mary's Days, and was a Justice of the Common Pleas; he made an Abridgment of the Statutes, which bears his Name to this Day. He was also the Author of the New Book of Entries.

Ratæ, Leicester.

Rate-tithe Is, when Sheep, or other Cattel are kept in a Parish for less Time than a Year, the Owner must pay for them pro rata, according to the Custom of the Place. F. N. B. fol. 51. Broke, Dismes 26. Pro rata dicimus, pro proportione vel proportionaliter. Lindewode.

Ratification, Ratificatio, A ratifying or confirming. It is used for the Confirmation of a Clerk in a Prebend, &c. formerly given him by the Bishop, &c. where the Right of Patronage is doubted to be in the King. See Reg. Orig. fol. 304.

Ratio, Properly signifies Reason; but we take it mostly for an Account, as reddere rationem, to give an Account, and so it is frequently used.

Ratio, i. e. A Cause, or Judgment given in a Cause, and ponere ad rationem is to cite one to appear in Judgment. Walsingham. 88.

Ratiobabibus distictis Is a Writ that lies where Two Lords, in divers Towns, have Seignories joining together, for him that findeth his Waste Waste by little and little to have been encroached upon, against the other that hath encroached, thereby to rectify their Bounds; in which Respect Fitzherbert calls it in its own Nature a Writ of Right. The Old Nat. Brew. says, That this is a Kind of Fusticies, and may be removed by a Pone out of the County to the Common Bench. See the Form and Use hereof in F. N. B. fol. 128. and Reg. Orig. fol. 157. and New Book of Entries, verb. Rationabilibus divisis. The Civilians call this Judicium finium regedorum.

Rationabili parte bonorum Is a Writ that lies for the Wife against the Executors of her Husband, denying her the third Part of her Husband's Goods, after Debts and Funeral Charges defrayed. F. N. B. fol. 222. who there cites the eighteenth Chapter of Magna Charta, and Glanville, to prove that according to the Common Law of England, the Goods of the Deceased, his Debt first paid, should be divided into Three Parts, whereof his Wife to have one, his Children the Second, and the Executors the Third; and this Writ lies as well for the Children as Wife, which appears by Reg. Orig. fol. 142. Yet it seems to be in Use no where, unless the Custom of the Country leads to it. See the New Book of Entries, verb. Rationabili parte bonorum.

Rationale Was the same with Pallium: It was worn by the High Priest of the old Law, as a Sign of the greatest Perfection, and by the Pope and Bishops, as a Token of the highest Virtue, qua gratia & ratione perficitur, and from hence 'tis called Rationale.

Rationibus Rubeus, The River Taffe in Glamorganshire.

Ravishment, Raptus, Signifies an unlawful Taking away either a Woman, or an Heir in Ward: Sometimes also it is used in the same Sense with Rape, which see.

Ravishment de gard Was a Writ that lay for the Guardian by Knights-service, or in Socage, against him that took from him the Body of his Ward. See F. N. B. fol. 140. See 12 Car. 2. cap. 24.

Ravisher, Raptor, He that deflours a Woman by Violence. See the Penalty for ravishing, or being ravished, afterwards consenting, in the Statute 6 R. 2. cap. 6. See Rape.

Rawe Is a Word mentioned Anno 4 E. 4. 1.

Rawunge and Rawinger. See Range and Range.

Rap Is a Word appropriated to Cloth never coloured or died. 17 R. 2. cap. 3. 11 H. 4. cap. 6. and 1 R. 3. cap. 8.

Rayth, Anno 6 Hen. 6. A Motion was made in Parliament against a certain Trial in Wales, called a Rayth, &c.

Read, i. e. Advice: From the Saxon Raed, consilium: Thus in our old Bibles, the Verse in the first Psalm is thus translated, viz. The Man is blest, that hath not bent—To wicked Read his Ear, i. e. to wicked Council.

Reafforested Is where a Forest hath been disafforested, and again made Forest, as the Forest of Deane, by the Statute of 20 Car. 2. cap. 3.

Realty Is an Abstract of Real, and contradistinguished from Personalty.

Reap-towel Rip-towel, The Gratuity or Reward given to customary Tenants, when they have reaped their Lord's Corn, or done their other customary Duties. — Homines minores de Inglesham habebunt, si operantur in Autumno, dimidiam acram frumenti non psecorati, & dimidiam acram dragei ad Rip-towel. — Confectud. domus de Farndon MS. f. 15.

Reasonable Ayder, Rationabile auxilium, Was a Duty that the Lord of the Fee claimed of his Tenants holding by Knights-service, or in Socage, to marry his Daughter, or make his Son Knight. Westm. 1. cap. 39. but taken away now. See the Stat. 12 Car. 2. cap. 24.

Reathen, i. e. hasty: From the Sax. Rath, cito, from whence we derive the Word Wrath.

Reattachment, Reattachiamentum, Is a second Attachment of him that was formerly attached and dismissed the Court without Day, as by the not coming of the Justices, or some such Casualty. Broke, hoc titulo, where he makes Re attachment General and Special: General, is where a Man is reattached for his Appearance upon all Writs of Assize lying against him. Bro. ibid. num. 18. Then Special must be for one or more certain. Reg. Judic. fol. 35. and New Book of Entries, hoc verbo.

Rebellare Signifies to Fight. Ad rebellandum se suoy; transivisse capit. Vita Offe Regis.

Rebellion, Rebellio, Is a French Word, or rather Latin, signifying the Taking up of Arms traiterously against the King, be it by natural Subjects, or by others once subdued: Among the Romans it denoted a second Resistance of such as formerly being overcome in Battel, yielded to their Subjection. The Word Rebel is sometimes attributed to him that wilfully breaks a Law. 25 E. 3. 6. and 31 E. 3. stat. 3. cap. 2. Sometimes to a Villain disobeying his Lord. 1 R. 2. cap. 6. Commission of Rebellion. See in Commission.

Rebillionous Assembly Is a gathering together of Twelve Persons, or more, intending or going about, practising or putting in Ure, unlawfully of their own Authority, to change any Laws or Statutes of this Realm; or to destroy the Enclosure of any Park or Ground inclosed, or Banks of any Fish-pond, Pool or Conduit, to the Intent the same shall remain void; or to the Intent unlawfully to have Common, or Way in any of the said Grounds; or to destroy the Deer in any Park, or any Warren of Conies, or Dove-houses, or Fish in any Ponds; or any House, Barns, Mills, or Bayes, or to burn Stacks of Corn, or to abate Rents, or Prices of Victuals. Anno 1 Mar. 12. & 1 Eliz. 17. See West. Symbol. part 2. Tit. Indisiments, sect. 65. and Crompt. Just. of Peace, fol. 21.

Rebelleum, A Rejoinder, a Replication, an Answer in a Court of Equity. — Cum constaret nobis diem & locum esse constitutos prefato Roberto ad respondendum Rebello in causa predicta sibi porrecto. — Cartular. Abbot. Glaston. MS. f. 108.

Rebinandum, Noveritis me teneri per presens scriptum ad warestandum & Rebinandum cum semine meo proprio, tam cum semine yemali, quam cum semine quadragesimali, totam terram arabilem R. B. &c. Charta Nic. Dubbe dat. 3 Edw. penes Henr. Milburn, Arm.

Rebinate Was to plow the Ground the third Time. Tempus rebinandi erit post festum Nativitatis Sancti Johannis Baptiste cum terra pullaverit post carucam. Fleta, lib. 2. cap. 73. par. 10.

Rebinare terram, To give a Second stirring or ploughing to arable Land that lies fallow, in Order der to prepare it for sowing Wheat, &c. Die Sabbati post Festum omnium Sanctorum Anno 1322. ordinatum est in Capitulo Ecclesie Pauline, quod firmæ Ecclesiarum de Willestone, Sancti Pancratii, &c. que sub nomine gratie Fratribus Stagiariis ad firmam per Capitulum secundum residentie sue cursum tradi solent quovunque tempore anni vocaverint in Festo Sancti Petri ad vincula realiter dimittantur, & tunc primum libere ingrediantur Fratres succedentes. Si quas vero terras warectaverit vel rebinaverit defunctus, sumptus appositos Executoribus defuncti vivus succedens solvere teneatur. — Ex Libro Statutorum Ecclesie Pauline per Tho. Lyseaux Decanum collect. MS. penes Rev. Joh. Episcopum Norwic. — Concessi quod cum araverint, vel warectaverint, vel rebinaverint preditas terras suas, possint ducere & vertere carrucas suas super terram proxime jacentem absque impedimento. Cartular Abb. Radines MS. f. 71. a.

Rebutter, Cometh of the French Bouter, repeller, and signifies the same in the Common Law. For Example, A Man grants Land to the Use of himself, and the Issue of his Body, to another in Fee with Warranty. And the Donee leaseth out his Land to a Third for Years; the Heir of the Donor impleadeth the Tenant, alledging, that the Land was in Tail to him: The Donee comes in, and by Virtue of the Warranty made by the Donor, repelleth the Heir, because though the Land was intailed to him, yet he is Heir to the Warrantor likewise; and this is called a Rebutter. Bro. Tit. Barre, num. 23. And again, If I grant to my Tenant, to hold sine impetitione vasti, and afterward I implead him for Waste made; he may debar me of this Action, by shewing my Grant: And this also is a Rebutter. Bro. lib. num. 25. New Book of Entries, verb. Rebutter, and Co. on Lit. fol. 365.

Recaption, Recaptio, Signifies a second Distress of one formerly distrained for the same Cause, and also during the Plea grounded on the former Distress: It likewise signifies a Writ lying for the Party thus distrained; the Form and farther Use thereof, you may see in F. N. B. fol. 86. Reg. Judic. fol. 69. and the New Book of Entries, verbo Recaption.

Recept. See Receipt.

Receiver, Receptor, Is with us as with the Civilians, commonly used in the evil Part for such as receive stolen Goods from Thieves, and conceal them. But annexed to other Words, as the Receiver of Rents, &c. it signifies many Times an Officer of great Account belonging to the King, or other great Person. Crompt. Jur. f. 18. There is also an Officer called the Receiver of Fines, who receives the Money of all such as compound with the King upon original Writs in Chancery. West. Symbol. part 2. Tit. Fines, sect. 106. Receiver of all Offices accountable, 1 E. 4. cap. 1.

Receiver-General of the Dutty of Lancaster Is an Officer belonging to the Dutty Court, that gathers in all the Revenues and Fines of the Lands of the said Dutty, and of all Forfeitures and Assessments, or what else is thence received. Anno 39 Eliz. cap. 7.

Receiver-General of the Court of Wards and Liberties Was an Officer belonging to that Court; but the Court being taken away by the Stat. 12 Car. 2. cap. 24. that Officer is also out of Doors.

Receiver-General of the Muster-Rolls, Anno 35 Eliz. cap. 4.

Recheffa Are Things of little Value. See Servitorium.

Rechatra. See Chacea.

Rechatum, King Edw. 1. grants a Charter to the Barons of the Cinque Pors. — Ut quieti sint de omni thelonio & de omni consuetudine, videlicet, ab omni lastagio, tollagio, passagio, cayagio, rivagio & omni wrecco & de omni venditione, a hato & rechatato suo super totam terram & potestatem nostram. Placit. temp. Edw. 1. & Edw. 2. MS. 4to penes Dom. Fountains ex Aede Christi Oxon.

Recitbare, To relapse after a Recovery. 'Tis mentioned in Petrus Blesensis, Epist. 131.

Recumum for Ratiocinium.

Recluse, Reclusus, Is one that by Reason of his Order in Religion, is shut up, and may not stir out of the House or Cloister, of whom Littleton speaks, sect. 434.

Recognizance, Recognitio, Cometh of the French Reconnaissance, and is as a Bond or Obligation of Record, testifying the Recognitor to owe to the Recognisee a certain Sum of Money, and is acknowledged in some Court of Record, or before some Judge, Master of the Chancery, or Justice of Peace, &c. 23 H. 8. 6. and those that be meer Recognisances are not sealed but enrolled, and Execution by Force thereof is of all the Recognisor's Goods or Chattels (except draught Beasts and Implements of Husbandry) and the Moiety of his Lands. West. Symbol. part 1. lib. 2. sect. 149. and Reg. Orig. fol. 146. 151, & 252. See also Statute-Merchant and Statute-Staple. Recognisance hath yet another Signification, as appears by these Words in the Statute, Westm. 1. cap. 36. For it is there provided and agreed, That if any Man be attainted of Disseisin, done in the Time of the King that now is, with Robbery of any Manner of Goods or Moveables, by Recognizance of Assise of Novel Disseisin, the Judgment shall be, &c. where it is used for the Verdict of the Twelve Men impanelled upon an Assise, which Twelve are also called Recognitors of the Assise. Lit. fol. 72. So also Bracton names them, lib. 5. tract. 2. cap. 9. num. 2. and lib. 3. tract. 1. cap. 11. num. 16. See the Stat. 20 E. 1. Stat. 4. and New Book of Entries, verbo Recognisance.

Recognisee Is he to whom one is bound in a Recognisance, 11 H. 6. cap. 10.

Recognition, (Recognitio) An Acknowledgment. It is the Title of the First Chapter of the Statute 1 Jac. whereby the Parliament acknowledged the Crown of England, after the Death of Queen Elizabeth, to have rightfully descended to King James. See Scene de verbor. signif. verb. Recognition.

Recognitio adnullanda per vim & duritiam facta Is a Writ to the Justices of the Common Bench, for the sending of a Record touching a Recognisance, which the Recognitor suggests to have been acknowledged by Force and Duress, that if it be so, it may be annulled. Reg. Orig. fol. 183.

Recognitors, Recognitores, Is a Word frequently used for the Jury impanelled upon an Assise: The Reason why they are so called, is, because they acknowledge a Disseisin by their Verdict. Bracton, lib. 5. tract. 2. cap. 9. num. 2. & lib. 3. tract. 1. cap. 11. num. 16.

Reconciliare. A Church is said Reconciliari when it is consecrated again, after it hath been polluted, or in the Possession of Pagans or Heretics. Mat. Paris. Anno 1152. Mat. Westm. Anno 1015.

Record, Recordum, Cometh of the Latin Recordari, to remember, and signifies an authentick and uncontrollable Testimony in Writing, contained in Rolls of Parchment, and preserved in Courts of Record, and they are said to be Vetustatis & veritatis uestigia. Coke's Preface to his 8 Rep. Britton, cap. 27. and Lamb. Eiren. lib. 1. cap. 13. An Act committed to Writing in any of the King's Courts, during the Term wherein it is written, is alterable, being no Record; but that Term once ended, and the Act duly enrolled, it is a Record, and of that Credit, that admits no Alteration or Proof to the contrary. Bro. Tit. Record, num. 20, 22. yet see Co. 4 Rep. Rawlin's Case, fol. 52. The King may make a Court of Record by his Grant. Glanville, lib. 8. cap. 8. Britton, cap. 121. As Queen Elizabeth by her Charter, dated the 26. of April, in the Third Year of her Reign, made the Consistory Court of the University of Cambridge, a Court of Record. Bro. Tit. Record, seems to insinuate that no Court Ecclesiastical is of Record; yet we see that Bishops certifying Bastardy, Bigamy, Excommunication, a Marriage, Divorce, or the like, are credited without farther Inquiry. Fleta, lib. 6. cap. 39, 40, 41, 42. Lamb. Eiren. lib. 1. cap. 13. Glanville, lib. 7. cap. 14, 15. Reg. Orig. fol. 5. Bracton, lib. 5. traçt. 5. c. 20. num. 5. Britton, cap. 92, 94, 106, 107, & 190. Doct. & Stud. lib. 2. cap. 5. And a Testament shewed under Seal of the Ordinary is not travelable. 36 H. 6. c. 31. Perkins's Testament 491. Fulbeck's Parallels, f. 61. The Reason of which Opinion may be, because by the Civil or Canon Law, no Record is held so firm but that it may be checked by Witnesses able to depose it to be untrue; whereas in our Common Law against a Record of the King's Court, after the Term wherein it is made, no Witness can prevail. Britton, cap. 109. Co. lib. 4. fol. 71. Hind's Case. Lib. Ass. fol. 227. nota 21. We reckon Three Sorts of Records, viz. A Record Judicial, as Attainder, &c. A Record Ministerial upon Oath, as an Office or Inquisition found. And a Record made by Conveyance and Consent, as a Fine or Deed enrolled, or the like. Co. lib. 4. fol. 54. b. Ognell's Case.

Recordare facias, or Recordari facias, Is a Writ directed to the Sheriff, to remove a Cause depending in an inferior Court, as Court of ancient Demesne, Hundred or County to the King's Bench or Common Pleas. F. N. B. fol. 72. Where, and in what Cases this Writ lies, read Broke, Tit. Recordare & Pone. It seems to be called a Recordare, because it commands the Sheriff to Whom it is directed to make a Record of the Proceedings by himself and others, and then to send up the Cause. See the Table of the Reg. Orig. verbo Recordare. See also Certiorari, and Accedas ad Curiam.

Recorder, Recordator, Is he whom the Mayor, or other Magistrate of any City or Town Corporate having Jurisdiction, or a Court of Record within their Precincts, by the King's Grants, doth associate to him for his better Direction in Matters of Justice and Proceedings according to Law: And is therefore for the most part a Man versed and experienced in the Law. What they call a Recorder in other foreign Parts, see in the Customary of Normandy, cap. 107, & 121.

Recordo & procelu mittendis Is a Writ to call a Record, together with the whole Proceeding in the Cause, out of an inferior Court into the King's Court: Which see in the Table of the Reg. Orig. how diversly it is used.

Recordo utlagariæ mittendo Is a Judicial Writ, which see in Reg. Judic. fol. 32.

Recobare Is a Word mentioned in Mut. Westm. Anno 1216. viz. Iste sunt terre quas Rex Joh. amisit, qui nihil horum recovavit usque ad diem mortis sue. It signifies to recover.

Recovery, Recuperatio, May be extracted from the French Recouvrer, i. recuperare, And signifies in a legal Acceptation, an obtaining any Thing by Judgment or Trial of Law, as Evictio doth among the Civilians. And here note, That there is a true Recovery, and a feigned one. A true Recovery is an actual or real Recovery of any Thing, or the Value thereof by Judgment; as if a Man sued for any Land, or other Thing moveable or immoveable, and have a Verdict and Judgment for him. A feigned Recovery is (as the Civilians call it) Quedam fictio Juris, a certain Form or Course set down by Law, to be observed, for the Better assuring of Lands or Tenements unto us; and the End and Effect thereof is (according to West. Symbol. part 2. Tit. Recoveries, sect. 1.) to discontinue and destroy Estates-tail, Remainders and Reversions, and to bar the Intails thereof. And in this Formality are required Three Persons, viz. The Demandant, Tenant and Vouchee. The Demandant is he that brings the Writ of Entry, and may be termed the Recoverer. The Tenant is he against whom the Writ is brought, and may be termed the Recoveree. The Vouchee is he whom the Tenant voucheth, and calls to Warranty for the Land in Demand. A Recovery with double Voucher is, where the Tenant voucheth one, who voucheth another, or the common Vouchee. And a Recovery with treble Voucher is, where Three are vouched. But to explain this Point a little more: A Man that is desirous to cut off an Estate-tail in Lands or Tenements, to the End, to sell, give, or bequeath it, causeth (by the Contrivance of his Counsel or Attorney) a feigned Writ of Entry sur disseisin en le Poit, to be brought for the Lands of which he intends to cut off the Intail, and in a feigned Count or Declaration thereupon made, pretends he was disseised by him, who by a feigned Fine or Deed of Bargain and Sale, is named and supposed to be the Tenant of the Land. This feigned Tenant, if it be a single Recovery, is made to appear and vouch the Bagbearer of Writs for the Custos brevium in the Common Pleas, (for there only can such Recoveries be suffered) who makes Default. Whereupon the Land is recovered by him that brought the Writ, and a Judgment is by such Fiction of Law entered, that the Demandant shall recover, and have a Writ of Seisin for the Possession of the Lands demanded, and that the Tenant shall recover the Value of the Lands against the Lands of the Vouchee. Bagbearer, a poor unlanded and illiterate Person, which is feigned to be a Satisfaction to the Heir in Tail, though he is never to have or expect it. This feigned Recovery is also called a Common Recovery, because it is a beaten and common Path to that End for which it is appointed, viz. to cut off the Estates above specified. See New Book of Entries, verbo Recovery. But a true Recovery is as well of the Value, as of the Thing: For Example, If a Man buy Land of another with Warranty, which Land a Third Person afterwards by Suit of Law recovereth recovereth against me, I have my Remedy against him that sold it me, to recover in Value, that is, to recover so much in Money as the Land is worth, or so much other Land by Way of Exchange. F. N. B. fol. 134. To recover a Warranty. Old Nat. Brev. fol. 146. is to prove by Judgment, that such a Man was his Warrant against all Men for such a Thing.

Recoire, From the French Recoirer, to cut again; also to reply quickly and sharply to a peremptory Demand; we use it to defalk or discount. As if a Man hath Ten Pounds issuing out of certain Lands, and he disseises the Tenant of the Land in an Assise brought by the Disseisee, the Disseisor shall recoire the Rent in the Damages.

Recreant, (French.) Cowardly, Faint-hearted. See Creant. Recreant was so reproachful a Word, that Glanville would not describe it. But Fleta, lib. 3. tract. 2. cap. 34. tells us, That non sufficit quod appellatus cognoscit socium suum fuisse latronem vel aliquid simile ad recreantiam, nisi dicat verbum illud opprobriis quod recreantiam sit. And in Lib. 2. c. 2. Recreantios equos are dull and tired Horses.

Reclate, To cite a Criminal to Justice, or to accuse a Criminal. Quo iudicio deducendi sunt illi qui reclusi sunt de latrocinio, murdro, incendio, &c. Hoveden. pag. 655.

Recta prisca Regis, The King's Right to a Prize, or taking of one Butt or Pipe of Wine before the Mast, and another behind the Mast, as a Custom for every Ship laden with Wines. King Edw. 1. in a Charter of many Privileges to the Barons of the Cinque Ports, discharged them of this Duty. — Quod de propriis vinis suis de quibus negotiantur quieti sint de recta prisca nostra, videlicet, de uno dolio vini ante malum & alio post malum. — Placit. temp. Ed. 1. & Ed. 2. MS. penes Dom. Fountaines.

Rectatio, Claim of Right, or Appeal to Law for Recovery of it. — Titum Parochiam & decimam absque omni calumpnia & reclamatione concessit. Cartular. Radinges, MS. f. 193 a.

Rectatus, Spelman interprets it Suspectus, ad rectum vocatus. Officium Coronatoris edit. Anno 3 E. 1. — De thesauro invento debet Coronator inquirere qui fuerint inventores & similiter quis inde rectatus est, & hoc potest scire eo quod vixerit delicate, & tabernam frequentat, & diu si se habuit, pro tali suspitione attachiari debent, &c. See Bradon, 123. num. 8. where he uses rectum for accusatum.

Rectitudo, Rectitude, Rights, legal Dues. — Si quis Dei rectitudines per vim deforciat, emendet, i. e. If any one does violently detain the Rights of God, (Tithes and Oblations) let him be fined or amerced, to make full Satisfaction. Leges Hen. 1. cap. 6. — Nec ob securitatem pacis aleptam detinerent rectitudines vel servitia Dominorum suorum. Leg. Edw. Confess. cap. 30.

Recto, Require de recto, To cite one to Justice. Leg. Hen. 1. cap. 43.

Recto Is a Writ of Right, which is of so high a Nature, that whereas other Writs in real Actions are only to recover the Possession of the Land or Tenements in Question, which have been lost by our Ancestor or our selves; this aimeth to recover both the Seisin which some of our Ancestors or we had, and also the Property of the Thing whereof the Ancestor died not seised, as of Fee; and whereby are pleaded and tried both their Rights together, viz. as well of Possession as Property: So that if a Man once lost his Cause upon this Writ, either by Judgment, Assise or Battle, he is without all Remedy, and shall be excluded per exceptionem rei iudicata. Bradon, lib. 5. tract. 1. cap. 1. & seq. It is divided into two Kinds, 1. Rectum Patens, a Writ of Right Patent, and Rectum Clausum, a Writ of Right Close. This the Civilians call Judicium Pettitorum. The Writ of Right Patent is so called, because it is sent open, and is in Nature the highest Writ of all other, lying always for him that hath Fee-simple in the Lands or Tenements sued for, and not for any other. And when it lieth for him that challengeth Fee-simple, and in what Cases, see F. N. E. fol. 1. 6. where he speaks of a special Writ of Right in London, otherwise called a Writ of Right, according to the Custom of London. This Writ also is called Breve Magnum de Resto. Reg. Orig. fol. 9. and Fleta, lib. 5. cap. 32. s. 1. A Writ of Right Close, is a Writ directed to a Lord of Antient Demesne, and lieth for those which hold their Lands and Tenements by Charter in Fee-simple, or in Fee-tail, or for Term of Life, or in Dower, if they be ejected out of such Lands, &c. or disseised: In this Case a Man, or his Heirs may sue out this Writ of Right Close, directed to the Lord of the Antient Demesne, commanding him to do him Right, &c. in his Court. This is called Breve parvum de resto. Reg. Orig. fol. 9. and Britton, cap. 120. in fine, alio F. N. B. fol. 11. & seq. Yet note, That the Writ of Right Patent seemeth farther to be extended in Use than the original Intention; For a Writ of Right Dower, which lies for the Tenant in Dower, and only for Term of Life, is Patent, as appears by F. N. B. fol. 7. The like may be said in divers other Cases, of which see the Table of the Register Original, verbo Resto. This Writ is properly tried in the Lord's Court between Kinsmen that claim by one Title from their Ancestor. But how it may be thence removed, and brought either to the County, or to the King's Court, see Fleta, lib. 6. cap. 3. 4. & 5. Glanville seems to make every Writ, whereby a Man sues for any Thing due unto him, a Writ of Right, lib. 10. cap. 1. lib. 11. cap. 1. and lib. 12. cap. 1.

Sciant — Quod ego Jurdanus de Ludesford aljuravi, quietum claviavi & remis Roberti de Mappener & herediis suis de me & heredibus meis in presentia Domini Roberti de Mortuamari in Curia de Bureford claviatum meum & totum jus quod dicebam me habere, vel quod habere potui in villa de Butona cum pertinentiis suis, unde traxi dictum Robertum in placitum in eadem Curia de Bureford per breve Domini Regis Henrici filii Regis Johannis de Resto, &c. Sine dat. penes Edw. Harley Mil. Bai.

Recto de dote Is a Writ of Right of Dower, which lieth for a Woman that hath received Part of her Dower, and purposes to demand the Remainder in the same Town, against the Heir, or his Guardian, if he be a Ward. Of this see more in Old Nat. Brev. fol. 5. and Fitzherbert, fol. 7. Reg. Orig. fol. 3. and the New Book of Entries, verbo Drogt.

Recto de dote unde nihil habet Is a Writ of Right, which lies in Case where the Husband having divers Lands or Tenements, hath assured no Dower to his Wife, and she thereby is driven to sue for her Thirds against the Heir, or his Guardian. Old Nat. Brev. fol. 6. Reg. Orig. f. 170.

Recto

Writ de rationabili parte Is a Writ that lies always between privies of Blood, as Brothers in Gavelkind, or Sisters, or other Coparceners; as Nephews or Nieces, and for Land in Fee-simple. For Example, If a Man lease his Land for Term of Life, and afterwards dies, leaving Issue Two Daughters, and after that the Tenant for Term of Life dieth also, the One Sister entering upon all the Land, and so deforcing the other; the Sister so deforced shall have this Writ to recover Part. F. N. B. fol. 9. Reg. Orig. fol. 3.

Writ de quando Dominus remittit Is a Writ of Right, which lies in Case where Lands or Tenements that be in the Seigniorship of any Lord, are in Demand by a Writ of Right; for if the Lord hold no Court, or otherwise at the Prayer of the Demandant, or Tenant, shall send to the Court of the King his Writ, to put the Cause thither for that Time, (saying to him at other Times the Right of his Seigniorship) then this Writ issues out for the other Party, and hath the Name from the Words contained, being the true Occasion thereof: This Writ is lose, and must be returned before the Justices of the Common Bank. Old Nat. Brev. f. 16. Reg. Orig. f. 4.

Writ de Advocacione Ecclesie Is a Writ of Right, lying where a Man hath Right of Advocacion, and the Parson of the Church dying, a Stranger presents his Clerk to the Church, and he not having brought his Action of Quare impedit, nor Darrein Presentment within Six Months, but suffered the Stranger to usurp upon him. And this Writ he only may have that claimeth the Advocacion to himself, and to his Heirs in Fee. And as it lies for the whole Advocacion, so it lies also for the Half, Third or Fourth Part. Old Nat. Brev. fol. 24. Reg. Orig. fol. 29.

Writ de custodia terre & hæredis Was a Writ that lay for him whose Tenant holding of him in Chivalry, died in Nonage, against a Stranger that entered upon the Land, and took the Body of the Heir; but by the Statute of 12 Car. 2. cap. 24. it is become usefess as to Lands holden in Capite, or by Knights-Service, but not where there is Guardian in Seage, or appointed by the last Will and Testament of the Ancestor. The Form of it, see in F. N. B. fol. 139. and Reg. Orig. fol. 161.

Writ sur Disclaimers Is a Writ that lies where a Lord in the King's Court of Common Pleas avows upon his Tenant, and the Tenant disclaimeth to hold of him; upon which Disclaimer he shall have this Writ, and if the Lord aver and prove, that the Land is holden of him, he shall recover the Land for ever. Old Nat. Brev. fol. 150. which is grounded upon the Statute of Westminster. 2. cap. 2.

Writ de Is both Latin and English, signifying a Governor; and Rektor Ecclesie parochialis is he that hath the Charge or Cure of a Parish-Church, Qui tantum jus in Ecclesia parochiali habet, quantum Prælati in Ecclesia Collegiata: It has of late been over-ruled, that Rektor Ecclesie parochialis is he that hath a Parsonage where there is a Vicaridge endowed; and he that hath a Parsonage without a Vicaridge, is called Persona; but this Distinction seems to be new and subtle. Bracton certainly uses it otherwise, lib. 4. tra. 5. cap. 1. in these Words, Et sciendum quod rectoribus Ecclesiarum parochialium competit Assisa qui instituti sunt per Episcopos & Ordinarios ut Personæ; where it is plain, that Rektor and Persona be confounded. Observe also these Words there following, Item dici possunt Rectores Canonici de Ecclesiis Præbendis. Item dici possunt Rectores vel quasi Abbates, Priores & alii, qui habent Ecclesias ad proprios usus. See Vicar.

Rectory, Rectoria, Is taken for an entire Parish-Church, with all its Rights, Glebes, Tithes, and other Profits whatsoever. Speelman. The Word Rectoria was often used for the Rector's Manse, or Parsonage-House. See Paroch. Antiq. p. 549.

Rectum, Commune Rectum, A Trial at Law, or in common Courfe of Law. Stare ad rectum, to stand Trial. — Præterea præcepit, quod omnes alii qui capti fuerant, qui non erant retenti per commune Rectum comitatus vel hundredi, vel per appellationem, essent quieti; & illi qui per commune Rectum sunt retenti, si plegios invenire possunt standi ad rectum, siquis adversus eos loqui voluerit, libereventur. — si autem per appellationem retenti sunt, si fecerint pacem cum adversariis suis, redeant ad pacem. Hoveden Annal. Pars. poster. fol. 573.

Rectum, (Esse ad Rectum in Curia Domini), The same with Stare ad Rectum. Leg. H. 1. cap. 43. 55.

Rectum (Stare ad Rectum) Is to stand or abide the Justice of the Court. Si plegios standi ad rectum invenire possunt. Hoveden, pag. 655.

Rectum rogare, To petition the Judge to do Right. Si quis sibi Rectum roget coram aliquo seivmanno vel alio iudice, & habere non possit. Leg. Inæ, cap. 9.

Rectus in Curia Is verbatimim, right in Court, and signifies one that stands at the Bar, and no Man objects any Thing against him. Smith de Republ. Angl. lib. 2. cap. 3. We take it also, that when a Man is outlawed, he is extra legem positus; So when he hath reversed the Outlawry, and can participate of the Benefit of the Law, he is Rectus in Curia.

Reculver. See Regulbium. This was a Castle of the Romans.

Red Is an old Word, signifying Advice. From the Sax. Ræd, Consilium.

Redbana Is one who advised the Death of another. See Deadbona.

Red Book of the Exchequer, Liber rubens Scaccarii. A Manuscript Volume of several Miscellaneous Treatises, in the Keeping of the King's Remembrancer in the Office of Exchequer. It has some Things (as the Number of the Hides of Land in many of our Counties, &c.) relating to the Times before the Conquest. The Ceremonies used at the Coronation of Queen Eleanor, Wife to King Henry 3. are there at large. There is likewise an exact Collection of the Escuages under Hen. 2. Ric. 1. and King John, compiled by Alexander de Saverford, Archdeacon of Salop, and Treasurer of St. Paul's, who died in the Year 1246. 31 H. 3. See Mr. Nicholson's very useful Work, Hist. Library, Part 3. p. 100.

Reddenum Is used substantively for the Clause in a Lease, &c. whereby the Rent is reserved to the Lessor. Co. lib. 2. fol. 72. Cromwell's Case.

Redditarium, A Rental, a Book or Roll, wherein the Rents and Services of a Manor, or other Estate, are set down. — Memorandum quod in Reddito de Lyndhurst super redditu ballivæ de Goddeshall irrotulatur, &c. Cartular. Radings, MS.

Redditarius, A Renter, a Tenant. — Possit colligere & percipere totam præfatam pecuniâ secundum secundum quod extrahi fecimus de rotulo Redditiariorum nostrorum. Cartular. Abbat. Glaston. MS. fol. 92. b.

Reddition, A judicial Confession and Acknowledgment, that the Land or Thing in Demand belongs to the Demandant, or at least not to the Person so surrendering. Statute 34, 35 H. 8. cap. 24.

Rède, La Rède. Memorandum quod octo virgata terre integræ debent arare octo aras terre (pro Domino) & seminare proprio frumento, & herciare, quæ vocatur la Rède. Lib. Niger. Hereford, fol. 106.

Redetima, i. e. The Tenth of the Tenth. Decimationem omnium molendinorum in Anglia, & rededecimationem omnium caseorum suorum ubicunque fiant in Anglia. Monast. 2 Tom. fol. 199.

Redemptio, A Ransom, or Commutation. By the old Saxon Laws, a Man convicted of a Crime paid such a Fine, according to his Ability, or the Estimation of his Head, Pro redemptione sua, or ad redemptionem.

Redeable, i. e. Bound, or obliged to another for some Benefit received. From the Sax. Rede-voir, Debere.

Redon, Now Reading in Berkshire.

Redissein, Redisseina, Is a Dissein made by him, that once before was made and adjudged to have disseised the same Man of his Lands or Tenements; for the which there lies a special Writ, called a Writ of Redissein. Old Nat. Brev. fol. 106. F. N. B. fol. 183. New B ok of Entries, eodem verbo. The Punishment for Redissein, see in the Statute 52 H. 3. cap. 8. It is also taken for the Writ lying for a Redissein. Reg. Orig. 206, 207.

Redmans or Radmans, Domesday in fine Cestrescire, Tit. Lanc. Blackburne Hundret, Rex E. tenuit Penceverdant, Ibi 11 Car. sunt in Dominio & 6 Burgeses & 3 Radmans, & 8 vill. & 4 bovar. These Redmans may be the same with Radknights, who, by the Tenure or Custom of their Lands, were to ride with or for the Lord of the Manor, about his Business or Affairs.

Redubbers, or Adubbers. Are those which buy stollen Cloth, knowing it such, and change it into some other Form or Colour that it may not be known. Britton, cap. 29. Crompton's Vicount, fol. 193. and 3 Inst. fol. 134.

Re-entry May be deduced from the French Reutrer, i. versus intrare, to enter again, and signifies the Resuming or Retaking that Possession which we had lately forgone. For Example, If I make a Lease of Land or Tenement, I do therefore forego the Possession; and if I do condition with the Lessee, that for Non-payment of the Rent at the Day, it shall be lawful for me to re-enter; this is as much as if I conditioned to take again the Lands, &c. into mine own Hands, and to recover the Possession by my own Fact, without the Assistance of Judge, or other Process.

Reere-County. See Rier-County.

Re-entry Is a Second Extent made upon Lands or Tenements, upon Complaint made, that the former Extent was partially performed. Bro. Tit. Extents, fol. 313.

Reaf, To take away or rob. From the Sax. Reaf, Vestis, Lat. Roba, from whence we derive Robbery, i. e. qui Robam rapit. Leg. H. 1. c. 83. Si quis mortuum reafabit armis vel vestibus, &c. Reaf also in Saxon is Spolium.

Refectio, A Dinner or Supper. The Word is derived from Reficio, to refresh. Sometimes it is taken as a Duty incumbent to provide Suppers and Dinners, &c. Et terra ille a laboriosis operibus, ab omnibus tributis vel censurio, & ab omnibus refectioibus Regum vel principum sint libera. Du Cange.

Refectory, Refectorium, That Place in Monasteries where the Monks used to eat. So the Halls in Colleges and Inns of Courts may properly be called Refectories, Places wherein the Scholars and Students eat and refresh themselves.

Referendary, Referendarius, Is the same as the Masters of Request are to the King among us; they were so called by the old Saxons, as appears by the Charter of the Endowment of the Monastery of St. Peter and Paul in Canterbury, dated Anno Dom. 605. where it is thus endorsed, Ego Augemundus Referendarius approbavi. Ego Graphio Comes benedixi, Ego Tangisilus Regis optimas confirmavi, &c. And in another Charter of the same King, Testibus reverendissimo Patre Augustino Derobernensis Ecclesie Archiepiscopo Primo, &c. Edbaldo filio meo, Hamisigislo (Duce Landavi) Augemundo Referendario, Hocca comite, &c. See Spelman hoc verbo.

Refectorium for Refectorium. Inquirendum est etiam quantum vestura bosorum & refectorium valuit antequam afflata facta fuerunt. Fleta, lib. 2. cap. 41. par. 38.

Refortuncula, Walsingham in Ed. 2. Anno Dom. 1317. saith, In Refortuncula sua de Horton latens vicinis similem injuriam inferabat.

Refugium, A Sanctuary or Privilege of the Church. Cum omni sui libertate & refugio Ecclesie Sancti Petri de Landavia, &c. Monasticon, 3 Tom. pag. 122.

Reullus aque, High-Water, or Return of a Stream when it is dammed or stoped for the Use of a Mill. — Cum reduntatione aque, & octodecim pedes ultra refluxum aque, pro voluntate dictorum Monachorum. Mon. Angl. Tom. 2. pag. 913.

Refutatio, Refutatio, An Acquittance, or Acknowledgment of renouncing all future Claim. — De omnibus receptis nomine nostro refutantias seu quietantias faciat prout videtur expedire. Cartular. Abb. Glaston. MS. fol. 84. b.

Rega. See Reuga.

Regale, The King's Servants or Officers. Cujus temporibus in ole nullatenus per Regales appropriantur. Walsingham, Anno 1291.

Regal fishes (Anno 1 Eliz. cap. 5.) Are Whales and Sturgeons; some add Porpusses. The King by his Prerogative ought to have every Whale cast on Shore, or wrecked, in all Places within this Realm, (unless granted to Subjects by special Words,) as a Royal Fish. The King himself shall have the Head and Body to make Oil and other Things, and the Queen the Tail to make Whale-bones for her Royal Vestments. Pat. 1 Edw. 1. m. 25. dorso. See Tract. de Auro Regine, pag. 127.

Regalia Dicuntur jura omnia ad fscum spectantia, saith Spelman. The Royal Rights of a King, the Civilians reckon to be Six; 1. Power of Jurisdiction. 2. Power of Life and Death. 3. Power of War and Peace. 4. Masterless Goods, as Waifs, Estrays, &c. 5. Assessments. And 6. Minting of Money. See Royalties. Also the Crown, Scepter with the Cross, Scepter with the Dove, St. Edward's Staff, Four several Swords, the Globe, the Orb with the Cross, and other such such like Things used at the Coronation of our Kings, are called Regalia. See the Relation of the Coronation of King Charles the Second in Baker's Chronicle.

Regalia is sometimes taken for the Dignity and Prerogative of the King, viz. Qui impediunt Regem quo minus poterat exercere quæ ad Regaliam & prærogativam suam pertinent. Knighton in Rich. 2.

Regalia is also taken for those Rights and Privileges which the Church enjoys by the Grants and other Concessions of Kings. And sometimes it is taken for the Patrimony of the Church; as, Regalia Sancti Petri, &c.

It signifies also those Lands and Hereditaments which have been given by Kings to the Church, viz. Cepimus in manum nostram Baroniam & Regalia quæ Archiepiscopus Eborum de nobis tenet. Pryn. lib. Angl. 2 Tom. pag. 231.

These Regalia, whilst in the Possession of the Church, were subject to the same Services as all other temporal Inheritances; and after the Death of the Bishop they of Right returned to the King, until he invested another with them; which in the Reigns of William the Conqueror, and some of his immediate Successors, was often neglected or delay'd; and as often the Bishops complained thereof. This appears in Ordericus Vitalis, lib. 10. and in many other Writers in those Days. Neubrigenfis, lib. 3. cap. 26. tells us, they complained against Henry 2. for that Episcopatus vacantes & provenientia per iperet commoda, diu vacare voluit, & Ecclesiasticis potius rebus applicanda in fscum redegit. So in Malmshury, lib. 1. de Gest. pontificum, pag. 285. See Beneficium.

Regale Episcoporum, The Temporal Rights and legal Privileges of a Bishop. — Mandatum est Roberto di Burgate quod faciat habere Episcopo Norwicensi totum Regale quod ad Episcopatum suum pertinet. Claus. 9. Joh. Brady's Append. to Hist. of England, p. 108.

Regalia facere Is to do Homage or Fealty when he is invested with the Regalia, viz. Regalia pro more istius temporis faciens principi 7 Kalend. Octobris Cantuarie assedit. Malmshury, de gestis pontificum, pag. 219. de Anselmo.

Regalis Iusticia. — Item prefati Barones (scil. quinq; portuani) habere debent ut asservunt per chartam suam Regalem Iusticiam, in villa Gerne-muth, tempore feria una cum Ballivo seu Proposito villa predictæ, viz. cognitionem Assise panis, ulnarum, ponderum, & aliarum mensurarum, & similiter voyde strand & Denne secundum consuetudines suas usitatas, &c. Rot. Parl. 8 E. 2. num. 262.

Regard, Regardum and Rewardum, Is borrowed of the French Regard, i. Aspectus, Respectus; and though it hath a general Signification of any Care or diligent Respect, yet it hath also a special Acceptation, wherein it is only used in Matters of the Forest; and there Two Ways, One for the Office of Regarder, the other for the Compaſs of the Ground belonging to that Office. Crompt. Fur. fol. 175, 199. Touching the former, thus saith Manwood in his Forest Law, part 1. pag. 194, & 195. The Eyre, General Sessions of the Forest, or Justice-Seat, is to be kept every Third Year; and of Necessity before any such Sessions or Justice-Seat can be holden, the Regarders of the Forest must make their Regard, and this making of the Regard must be done by the King's Writ, and the Regarder is to go through the whole Forest, to see and inquire of the Trespases therein, viz. ad videndum, ad inquirendum, ad imbreuiandum & ad certificandum. Touching the Second Signification, the Compaſs of the Regarder's Charge is the whole Forest, that is, all the Ground which is Parcel of the Forest; for there may be Woods within the Limits of the Forest, that be no Parcel thereof, and those be without the Regard. Manwood, part 2. cap. 7. num. 4. Anno 20 Car. 2. cap. 3.

Henricus Rex Anglorum omnibus Forestariis suis de Gloucestershire, salutem. Sciatis me concessisse & presenti charta confirmasse Ecclesie S. Jacobi de Bristowa (in qua sepultus est Robertus Comes Glocestria avunculus meus) & Monachis ibidem Deo servientibus, pro salute mea, & pro anima ipsius Comitiss, quod terra ipsius Ecclesie, & Monachorum in ea Deo servientium de Ciseleia, & boscu ejusdem terre, sint quæta de Rewardo & decimationis exigentia pro Esartis. Et prohibeo ne inter Assarta amodo computetur. Teste Roberto Episcopo Winton.

Regardant, (Fr. seeing, marking, vigilant,) As Villain regardant was called Regardant to the Manor, because he had the Charge to do all base Services within the same, and to see the same freed of all Things that might annoy it. Co. on Lit. fol. 120. This Word is only applied to a Villain or Neif, yet in old Books it was sometimes attributed to Services, ibid.

Regarder, Regardator, Cometh of the French Regardeur, i. spectator, and signifies an Officer of the Forest. Crompt. Furisd. fol. 153. where it is thus defined. A Regarder is an Officer of the Forest, appointed to supervise all other Officers, and was ordained in the Beginning of King Henry the Second's Days. Manwood thus describes him, A Regarder is an Officer of the King's Forest, that is sworn to make the Regard of the Forest, as the same hath been used to be made heretofore: And also to view and enquire of all Offences or Defaults of the Foresters, and of all other Officers of the King's Forests concerning the Execution of their Offices. This Officer may be made either by the King's Letters Patent, or by any one of the King's Justices of the Forest, at his Discretion, in the General Eyre, or at such Time as the Regard is to be made, by Virtue of the King's Writ directed to the Sheriff of the County for that Purpose. More particulars of the Regarder's Office, how he is chosen, and the Form of his Oath, see in Manwood, pag. 188, 192, 193, 207. In a Charter of Henry the Third, to the Masters, Canons, Brethren, &c. of the Order of the House of Templeham, made in the Eleventh Year of his Reign, it is said, Et sint quieti tam ipsi quam homines eorum de misericordia forestæ & de esartibus, & de Rewardo & casto ubicunq; in mariſio de Restovene, &c.

Regenburgh Is a Word used in our Historians, and signifies Judges. Leg. Canuti, cap. 103. See Rachimburgii.

Regio Assensu Is a Writ whereby the King gives his Royal Assent to the Election of a Bishop or Abbot. Reg. Orig. fol. 294.

Register, The Writer and Keeper of a Registry; in Lat. Registrarius. Register is also the Name of a Book, wherein are expressed most of the Forms of Writs used at the Common Law, called the Register of Writs, or of the Chancery: Of which thus Spelman; Codex dicitur quo Brevia Regia, tam originalia quam judicialia formularunt inscribuntur; Hujus Codicis meminit Westminster. 2. cap. 24 &

25. This Register is one of the most antient Books of the Common Law, according to Coke on Littl. fol. 159.

Register of the Parish Church (Registrum Ecclesie Parochialis) Is that wherein Baptisms, Marriages, and Burials, are in each Parish every Year orderly registred. Which was laudably instituted by the Lord Cromwel in September, Anno 1538, while he was Vicar general to King Henry the Eighth.

Registry, Registrum, Is properly derived from an old French Word Gister, i. in lecto reponere, suo loco constituere. So that registrum is properly the same with repositorium, a Place where any Thing is laid up; and from hence publick Books, in which various Things are inserted, are properly termed Registers; and accordingly the Office, Books and Rolls, wherein the Proceedings of the Chancery, or any Spiritual Court are recorded. See Mr. Nicholson's very useful English Library, P. 3. pag. 83.

Regius Professor, (Anno 12 Car. 2. cap. 17.) Henry the Eighth founded Five Lectures in each University, viz. Of Divinity, Hebrew, Greek, Law and Physick; The Readers of which Lectures are called in the University Statutes, Regii Professores.

Regni Populi, Surrey, Suffex, and the Sea-Coasts of Hampshire.

Regratarius, Regratry, or selling out by Retail. — Johannes Rex statuit anno 1199. quod nullum vinum ematur ad regrateriam de vinis que applicuerint in Anglia. Annal. Burton. sub anno 1199.

Regratoz, Regratarius, May be deduced from the French Regrateur, and signifies him that buys Wares or Victuals, on purpose to enhance the Prices; formerly such as brought by Great, and sold by Retail, came under that Notion. 27 E. 3. Stat. 1. cap. 3. But now that Name denotes him that buys and sells any Wares or Victuals in the same Market or Fair, or within Five Miles thereof, whereof see the Stat. 5 E. 6. cap. 14. 5 Eliz. 12. and 13 Eliz. 25. In the Civil Law such is called Dardanarius, a Dardano quodam hujus sceleris auctore, saith Spelman. Heretofore both the Ingrosser and Regrator were comprehended under the Word Forefaller. 3 Inst. 195. and as such shall be punished. See Forefallers and Ingrossers.

Regula, The Word is often used for the Book of Rules or Orders, or Statutes in a religious Convent. Sometimes for the Martyrology, or Obituary.

Regulars, Regulares, Are such as profess to live under some certain Rule; such as Monks or Canon Regulars, who ought always to be under some Rule of Obedience.

Regulbrum, Reculver in Kent.

Regulus, Subregulus, Are Words often mentioned in the Councils of the English Saxons: The First signifies Comes, the other Viccomes. But in many Places they signify the same Dignitary; as in the old Book in the Archives of Worcester Cathedral; Ego Uthredus de Donante Regulus Wiccorum concessi fratribus, &c. Licentia Offe Regis Merciorum. In another Place the same Uthredus subscribes himself Subregulus Wigornie civitatis. In another Place Offa Rex Merciorum, Uthredus Regulus, Aldredus Subregulus, &c. See Subregulus.

Rehabere facias seisinam quando Vicecomes liberabit seisinam de maiore parte quam deberet,

Is a Writ Judicial. Reg. Judic. fol. 13, 51. There is another Writ of this Name and Nature, fol. 54.

Rehabilitation, Rehabilitatio, Anno 25 H. 8. cap. 21. Is one of those Exactions mentioned in that Statute, to be claimed by the Pope heretofore in England, and seems to signify a Bull or Breve, for reinabling a spiritual Person to exercise his Function, who was formerly disabled, or a restoring to a former Ability.

Reia, French Raye, i. radius, linea, tractus. In English a Reu or Raw. Prior Lewens, pag. 21. Omnis Lanceta, omnis Toftman, & omnis Molman (qui non sedet super Ogeland) debent spargere unam reiam de fiens, &c. That is, saith Spelman in his Glossary, unum strigam, tractum vel versum stercoris, Anglice a Reu of Muck or Dung, ad stercorendum terras Domini.

Rejoinder, Rejunctio, Signifies an Answer or Exception to a Replication; for First the Defendant puts in an Answer to the Plaintiff's Bill, which is sometimes called an Exception. The Plaintiff's Answer to that is called a Replication, and the Defendant's to that a Rejoinder, especially in Chancery. West. Symbol. part 2. Tit. Chancery, sect. 56. The Civilians call it Duplication, of which Spigels hath these Words, Est autem rejunctio seu Duplicatio vel allegatio, que datur reo ad infirmendam replicationem actoris & confirmandam exceptionem rei.

Reipyns, Precium vidue emptæ Matrimonii causa. A quo forte (saith Spelman) lex nostra antiqua de maritagis viduarem sumferit initium, forma licet diversa. And it may seem to be derived from the Saxon Rippan vel rypan, i. metere, rapere, colligere, quasi id quod capitur vel colligitur ob maritandas viduas.

Reif, According to Skene, Leg. Alexandri R. C. 2. paragr. 3. signifies Robbery, and may be derived from the Saxon Reaf, rapina, Reafian, spoliare, as both from the Latin rapere.

Reins ver dissent Is a Form of Pleading, when an Heir is sued for a Debt of his Ancestor, and he hath not Assets in his Hand, nor any Lands liable to be extended.

Rekenens. Constit. Rob. Dunelm. Episc. Anno 1276. cap. 3. Porro huic Sanctioni adjicimus, quod si plures liberi proprium habentes, in parentum pariter familia vivant, ad denarios qui vocantur Rekenens minime arceantur, cum se communiter intrinsecis aluntur a parentibus, sic in extrinsecis ab eisdem latentur pariter se defendi.

Relation, Relatio, idem quod fictio Juris, To make a Nullity of a Thing from the Beginning (for a certain Intent) which had Essence. Co. lib. 3. fol. 28. Butler and Baker's Case: But more plainly thus, Relation is, where, in Consideration of Law Two Times, or other Things are considered so as if they were all one; and by this the Thing subsequent is said to take his Effect by Relation at the Time preceding. As if A. deliver a Writing to B. to be delivered to C. as the Deed of A. when C. hath paid a Sum of Money. Now when the Money is paid, and the Writing delivered, this shall be taken as the Deed of A. at the Time when it was first delivered. So Bills of Parliament, to which the King assents on the last Day of Parliament, shall relate and be of Force from the first Day of the Beginning of the Parliament, and so it is of divers other like Things.

Relaxation,

Relaxation, Release, or Discharge, and sometimes only Mitigation — Relaxation of an Attachment in the Court of Admiralty. Stat. 22, 23. Car. 2.

Release, Relaxatio, Is an Instrument whereby Estates, Rights, Tithes, Entries, Actions, and other Things, be sometimes extinguished, sometimes transferred, sometimes abridged, sometimes enlarged. West. Symbol. part 1. lib. 2. sect. 509. and there is a Release in Fact, and a Release in Law. Perkins's Grants, 71. A Release in Fact, is that which the very Words expressly declare. A Release in Law, is that which doth acquit by Way of Confequence or Intendment of Law; an Example whereof you have in Perkins ubi supra. How these are available, and how not, see Littletton at large, lib. 3. cap. 8. And of the divers Sorts of Releases, see the New Book of Entries, verb. Release.

Relegation, Relatio, A banishing, or sending away; as Abjuration is a forswearing of the Realm for ever, so Relegation is taken for a Banishment for a Time only. Co. on Littl. fol. 133.

Relief, Relevamen, But in Domesday, Relevatio, relevium, signifies a certain Sum of Money which the Tenant holding by Knights-Service, Grand Serjeanty, or other Tenure, for which Homage or legal Service is due; or by Socage, for which no Homage is due; and being at full Age at the Death of his Ancestor, paid unto his Lord at his Entrance. Mag. Chart. cap. 2. and 3. E. 1. stat. 1. Bracton, lib. 2. cap. 36. affirms, That it is called a Relief, quia hereditas qua jacens fuit per antecessoris decessum, relevatur in manus heredum, & propter factam relevationem, faciendi evit ab herede quaedam Praestatio qua dicitur relevium; and Britton, cap. 69. Of this also speaks the Grand Customary of Normandy, cap. 34. The Lord of the Fee ought to have Relief of the Lands, which are held of him by Homage, when those die of whom he had Homage. Hotman in his Commentaries, De verbis Feudalibus, verb. Relevium, defines it thus, Relevium est honorarium, quod nevis vassallus Patrono introitus causa largitur, quasi morte vassalli alterius vel alio quo casu feudum ceciderit, quod jam a novo sublevetur. What a legal and just Relief was in the Time of Hen. 2. appears partly from Glanville, lib. 9. cap. 4. Dicitur autem rationabile relevium alicujus juxta consuetudinem Regni, de feodo unius militis centum solidi, de Socagio vero quantum valet census illius focagii per unum annum; De Baronis vero nihil certum statutum est, quis juxta voluntatem & misericordiam Domini Regis solent Baronie capitales de Releviis suis Domino Regi satisfacere. But it was more certainly set out afterwards by Magna Charta in these Words, Si quis Comitum vel Baronum nostrorum, sive aliorum tenentium, de nobis in Capite per servitium militare mortuus fuerit, & cum decesserit heres ejus plene etatis fuerit, & Relevium nobis debeat, habeat hereditatem suam per antiquum relevium, scilicet. Heres vel heredes Comitum de integro Comitatu per centum libras; heres vel heredes Baronis de Baronie integra, per centum marcas; heres vel heredes militis de feodo militis integro, per centum solidos ad plus; & qui minus habuerit, minus det, secundum antiquam consuetudinem feodorum. See Old Nat. Brev. fol. 94. Kitchin, fol. 134. cap. Relief, and Glanville, lib. 7. cap. 9. See Heriot. Shene de verbor. signif. verb. Relevium, saith, Relief is a French Word, from the Latin relevare, which is to relieve, or take up that which is fallen; for it is given by the Tenant or Vassal that is of perfect Age, after the Expiring of the Wardship to his superior Lord, of whom he held his Lands by Knights-Service, that is, by Ward and Relief: For by Payment thereof he relieves, and, as it were, raiseth up again his Lands after they were fallen down into his Superior's Hands, by Reason of Wardship, &c. See him at large. See 12 Car. 2. cap. 24.

Relief is otherwise thus explained, viz. A feudatory or beneficiary Estate in Lands, was at first granted only for Life, and after the Death of the Vassal it returned to the Chief Lord, for which Reason it was called feudum caducum, viz. fallen to the Lord by the Death of the Tenant; afterwards these feudatory Estates being turned into an Inheritance by the Connivance and Assent of the Chief Lord, when the Possessor of such an Estate died, it was called hereditas caduca, i. e. it was fallen to the Chief Lord, to whom the Heir having paid a certain Sum of Money, he did then relevare hereditatem caducam out of his Hands; and the Money thus paid was called a Relief. This must be understood after the Conquest; for, in the Time of the Saxons, there were no Reliefs, but Heriots paid to the Lord at the Death of his Tenant, which in those Days were Horses, Arms, &c. and such Tributes could not be exacted of the English immediately after the Conquest, for they were deprived of both by the Normans; and instead thereof, in many Places, the Payment of certain Sums of Money was substituted, which they called a Relief, and which continues to this Day.

Relief reasonable: It is likewise sometimes called lawful and antient Relief, which is enjoined by some Law, or becomes due by Custom, and doth not depend upon the Will of the Lord, viz. In a Charter of King John, mentioned by Mat. Paris. pag. 178. Si quis Comitum vel Baronum nostrorum, sive aliorum tenentium de nobis in Capite, per servitium militare, mortuus fuerit, & cum decesserit heres suus plene etatis fuerit, & relevium debeat, habeat hereditatem suam per antiquum relevium: And what that was we may read in the Laws of William the Conqueror, cap. 22. and of Hen. 1. cap. 14. and before that Time, in the Laws of Canutus, cap. 97. viz. The Relief of an Earl was Eight War-Horses with their Bridles and Saddles, Four Loricas, Four Helmets, Four Shields, Four Pikes, Four Swords Four hunting Horses and a Palfrey with their Bridles and Saddles: The Relief of a Baron or Thane was four Horses, Two with Furniture, and Two without, Two Swords, Four Lances, Four Shields and an Helmet, cum lorica, and Fifty Marks in Gold. The Relief of a Vavasor was his Father's Horse, his Helmet, Shield, Lance and Sword, which he had at his Death. The Relief of a Villain or a Countryman was his best Beast, &c.

Religious Men, Religiosi, Are such as enter into a Monastery or Convent, there to live devoutly. In antient Deeds of Sale of Land, we often find the Vendee restrained from giving or alienating it Viris religiosis vel Judeis, to the End the Land might not fall into Mortmaine. See Judaism. Rex Ricco. &c. Praecipimus tibi quod clari facias sine dilatione per comitatum tuum quod nulli, sicut diligunt corpora & catalla sua, malum faciant vel dicant viris religiosis & clericis contra pacem nostram: Et si quem inde attingere possimus, ad proximam quercum cum suspendi faciemus. T. me ipso ipso apud Marlebergh, ix Apr. Clauſ. 9. Feb. m. 3.

Religious Houſes. Religioſa Domus, Are Houſes ſet a-part for pious Uſes, ſuch as are Monaſteries, Churches, Hopiſtals, and all other Places where Charity is extended to the Relief of the Poor and Orphans, or for the Uſe or Exerciſe of Religion. See Notitia Monaſtica, or a ſhort Hiſtory of the religious Houſes in England and Wales, by Thomas Tanner, Oſayo, who in an Alphabetical Order of Counties, has accurately given a full Account of the Founders, the Time of Foundation, the tutelar Saints, the Order, the Value at the Diſſolution, with Reference to printed Authors, and Manuſcripts that preſerve any Memoirs relating to each Houſe; with a learned and judicious Preface of the Inſtitution of religious Orders, &c.

Reliques, Reliquia, Are ſome Remains of Saints that are dead, preſerved by ſome living with great Veneration, as ſacred Memorials of them; forbidden to be uſed or brought into England by ſeveral of our later Statutes.

Remainder, Remanentia, Is an Eſtate limited in Lands, Tenements or Rents, to be enjoyed after the Expiration of another particular Eſtate. For Example, A Man may let to one for Term of his Life, and the Remainder to another for Term of his Life. Lio. cap. Attornment, fol. 133. And this Remainder may be either for a certain Term, or in Fee-ſimple, or Fee-tail, as appears by Broke, Tit. Donee & Remainder, fol. 245. and Glawile, lib. 7. cap. 1. where, towards the End, he hath theſe Words, Notandum quod nec Episcopus nec Abbas, quia eorum Baronie ſunt de Eleemoſyna Domini Regis & Antecellorum ejus, non poſſunt de Dominicis ſuis aliquam partem dare ad remanentiam ſine aſſenſu & confirmatione Domini Regis, where it appears, that Dare ad remanentiam is to give away for ever; and again, cap. 9. In like Sort doth Bratton uſe it, lib. 2. cap. 23. and lib. 4. traſt. 2. cap. 4. num. 4. and the New Book of Entries, verb. Remainder. The Difference between a Remainder and Reversion, according to Spelman, is this, That by a Reversion, after the appointed Term, the Eſtate returns to the Donor, or his Heirs, as the proper Fountain; whereas by Remainder it goes to ſome Third, or a Stranger.

Remanentes, Remanſi, Theſe Words are uſed in the Register of Domeſday, to ſignify pertaining or belonging. As de hominibus qui huc manerio remanſi ſunt, i. e. Of the Men or Tenants belonging to this Manor.

Remembrancers of the Exchequer, Rememorati- ves Scaccarii, Are Three Officers or Clerks there, one called The King's Remembrancer, 25 Eliz. cap. 5. The Second, The Lord Treafurer's Remembrancer, upon whoſe Charge it lies, to put the Lord Treafurer and the Reſt of the Judges of that Court in Remembrance of ſuch Things as are to be called on, and dealt in, for the King's Bechoof. The Third is called The Remembrancer of the Exch. Fruits. 5 R. 2. ſtat. 1. cap. 14, 15. Theſe in 37 E. 3. cap. 4. be called Clerks of the Remembrance. The King's Remembrancer Enters in his Office all Recogniſances taken before the Barons for any the King's Debts, or for Apperances, or for obſerving of Orders: He takes all Bonds for the King's Debts, for Appearance, or for obſerving Orders, and maketh out Proceſs for the Breach of them. He writes Proceſs againſt the Collectors of Customs, Subſidies, and Fifteenths, for their Accounts: All Informations upon penal Statutes are entred in his Office, and there all Matters upon Engliſh Bills in the Exchequer-Chamber remain: He makes the Bills of Compoſitions upon penal Laws, takes the Settlement of Debts, has delivered into his Office all Manner of Indentures, Fines, and other Evidences whatſoever, that concern the aſſuring of any Lands to the Crown: He every Year, in Craſſino animarum, reads in open Court the Statute for Eleſtion of Sheriffs, and gives them their Oath; and he reads in open Court the Oath of all the Officers of the ſame when they are admitted, beſides many other Things. The Lord Treafurer's Remembrancer makes Proceſs againſt all Sheriffs, Eſcheators, Receivers and Bailiffs, for their Account. He makes Proceſs of Fieri facias and Extent for any Debts due to the King either in the Pipe, or with the Auditors; makes Proceſs for all ſuch Revenue as is due to the King, by Reaſon of his Tenures: He makes a Record, whereby it appears, whether Sheriffs or other Accountants pay their Profers due at Eaſter and Michaelmas. He makes another Record, whether Sheriffs and other Accountants keep their Days of Preſixion. All Eſtreats of Fines, Iſſues and Amerciaments, ſet in any Courts at Weſtmiſter, or at the Aſſiſes or Seſſions, are certified into this Office, and are by him delivered to the Clerk of the Eſtreats, to write Proceſs upon them, &c. There are alſo brought into his Office all the Accounts of Cuſtomers, Controllers and other Accountants, to make Entry thereof on Record. See the Repertory of Records, fol. 121. The Remembrancer of the Fiſt-Fruits takes all Compoſitions and Bonds for Fiſt-Fruits and Tenth, and makes Proceſs againſt ſuch as do not pay the ſame.

Remitter, Remittere, To reſtore, in a legal Senſe intends a Reſtitution of one that hath Two Titles to Lands or Tenements, and is ſeiſed of them by his later Title, which proving defective, he is reſtored to the former and more ancient Title. F. N. B. fol. 149. Dyer, fol. 68. num. 22. In what Caſe this may be granted, ſee Bro. Tit. Remitter. And in Doſtor and Student, cap. 9. fol. 19. it is ſaid, that if Land deſcend to him that hath Right to that Land before, he ſhall be remitted to his better Title, if he will. See Terms de Ley on this Word, and the New Book of Entries, and Co. on Lit. lib. 3. cap. 12.

Renant, Anno 32 H. 8. cap. 2. But it may be ſuppoſed a Miſtake for Reniant, i. Negans, Principle of the French Verb Renior, negare.

Rendre Cometh of the French Rendre, i. red- dere, retribuere, and ſignifies with uſ the ſame Thing. For Example, this Word is uſed in levying of a Fine, which is either ſingle, whereby nothing is granted or rendered back again by the Cogniſee to the Cogniſor; or double, which containeth a Grant or Render back again of ſome Rent, Common, or other Thing, out of the Land it ſelf to the Cogniſor, &c. Wet. Symbol. part 2. Tit. Fines, ſect. 21. and 50. Alſo there be ſome Things in a Manor that lie in Prender, that is, which may be taken by the Lord or his Officer, when they chance, without any Offer made by the Tenant, as Eſcheats, and the like; and ſome that lie in Render, that is, muſt be delivered or answered by the Tenants, as Rents, Reliefs, Heriots, and other Services, ibid. ſect. 126. Alſo ſome Service conſiſts in Seilance, ſome in Render. Perkins's Reſervations 696.

Rendualis, Money which is paid every Year, Anglice Rent. Mille solidos Rendualium seu Annualium. Du Cange.

Renegate, Which we corruptly call Runnegate, is one who was a Christian, and afterwards negat Christum: It is mentioned in Hoveden, Anno 1192. by the Name of Reneez, viz. Et cepit in equitatione illa 24 paganos, & unum Reneez qui quondam Christianus fuerat, & Dominum Christum negaverat.

Reneez, A Renegado, is derived from the French Renier, renegare, and is a Title given to such who apostatize from Christianity to Mahumetism. Hoveden in Rich. 1. sub Anno 1122. Cepit (saith he) in equitatione illa 24 Paganos & unum Reneez qui quondam Christianus fuerat & Dominum nostrum Jesum Christum negaverat; & Rex posuit eum ad sagittandum & sagittatus est.

Renegard, Per Renegeld Johannes Stanley Arm. Clamat habere de qualibet bovata terra infra feodum de Alford 1 d. exceptis Dominicis terre, & tervis in feodo predicto infra Hundred de Macclesfield. Rot. Plac. in Itin. apud Cestr. 14 H. 7.

Renobant, From Renovo, to renew: The Parson sued one for Tithes, to be paid of Things Renobant, but his Horse being only for Labour and Travel would not renew, &c. Cro. 2 par. fol. 430.

Rent, Reditus, It is called redditus in Latin, from reduendo because as Fleta tells us, retrofit & quotannis redit. Lib. 3. c. 14. and it signifies with us a Sum of Money, or other Consideration issuing yearly out of Lands or Tenements. Ploeden, fol. 132, 138, 141. Browning's Case; of which there are Three Sorts, viz. Rent-service, Rent-charge, and Rent-se k. Rent-service is, where a Man holds his Lands of his Lord by Fealty and certain Rent, or by Fealty-service, and certain Rent. Lit. lib. 2. cap. 12. or that which a Man making a Lease to another for Term of Years, reserveth yearly to be paid him for them. In the Terms of the Law, this Reason is given for it, because it is at his Pleasure either to disstrain, or bring an Action of Debt. Rent-charge is, where a Man makes over his Estate to another, by Deed indented, either in Fee, or Fee-tail, or for Term of Life, yet reserves to himself, by the same Indenture, a Sum of Money yearly to be paid to him, with Clause of Distress for Non-payment. See Littleton ubi supra. Rent-seck, otherwise a dry Rent, is that, which a Man making over his Estate by Deed indented, reserveth yearly to be paid him, without Clause of Distress mentioned in the Indenture. Lit. ibid. See the Difference between a Rent and an Annuity in Doctor and Student, pag. 30. Dial. primo. See Metegavel.

Rentale Signifies Rent: Deinde petatur Rentale Burgi per quod firma peticarum terrarum levantur. Du Cange.

Rents of Assise, Redditus assise, de assisa, vel redditus assisus. The certain and determined Rents of ancient Tenants paid in a set Quantity of Money or Provisions; so called because it was assised or made certain, and so distinguished from redditus mobilis, variable Rent, that did rise and fall, like the Corn-Rent now reserved to Colleges.

Rents Resolute, Redditus resoluti, Are accounted among the Fee-farm Rents, to be sold by the Statute of 22 Car. 2. cap. 6. And are such Rents or Tenths as were anciently payable to the Crown, from the Lands of Abbies and religious Houses; and after their Dissolution, notwithstanding the Lands were demised to others, yet the Rents were still reserved, and made payable again to the Crown.

Renusiator, Et sunt Communes Latrones & Renusiatores hominum, &c. Trin. 28 E. 3. Ebor. 37. q.

Reparatione facienda Is a Writ which lies in divers Cases, whereof one is, where Three be Tenants in Common, or Join-tenants, or pro indiviso of a Mill or House which is fallen into Decay, and the one being willing to repair it, the other Two will not: In this Case the Party willing shall have this Writ against the other Two. F. N. B. fol. 127. Of the various Uses of it, read Reg. Orig. fol. 153.

Repastum, A Repast or Meal, unum repastum, one Meal's Meat given to servile Tenants, when they laboured for their Lord. — Tenet in bondagio, & debet unam wedbedrip pro voluntate Domini, & habebit unum repastum. Paroch. Antiq. pag. 401.

Repeal Cometh from the French Rappell, revocatio, and hath the same Signification among us; as the Repeal of a Statute is the Revoking it. Rafl. Tit. Repeal. Broke useth Repeallance in the same Sense.

Repleader, (Replacitare) Is to plead again that which was once pleaded before. Raflall, Tit. Repleader, and New Book of Entries, Eodem Tit.

Replegiare Is properly to redeem a Thing detained or taken by another, by putting in legal Sureties. See Replevin and Second Deliverance.

Replegiare de abertis Is a Writ brought by one whose Cattle are distrained, or put in the Pound, upon any Cause, by another, upon Surety given to the Sheriff to prosecute or answer the Action in Law. Anno 7 H. 8. cap. 4. F. N. B. f. 68. See the Register Orig. divers Sorts of this Writ in the Table, and also in the Register Judicial, fol. 58, 70. The New Book of Entries, verb. Replevin, and Dyer, fol. 173. num. 14.

Replevin, Plevina, Is a Derivation of Replegiare, to deliver to the Owner upon Pledges, and is the Bringing of the Writ called Replegiare facias by him that has his Cattle, or other Goods distrained, by another, for any Cause, and putting in Surety to the Sheriff, that upon Delivery of the Thing distrained, he will prosecute the Action against the Distrainer. Co. on Lit. lib. 2. cap. 12. sect. 219. We read of Canes replegiati, Hounds replevied, in a Case between the Abbot of St. Albans, and Geoffery Childwick. 24 Hen. 3. Goods may be replevied Two Manner of Ways, by Writ, and that is by the Common Law, or by Plaint, and that is by Statute Law, for the more speedy having again of their Cattle and Goods. Replevy is also used for the Bailing of a Man. Standaif. Pl. Cor. fol. 72, 74. and Westm. 1. cap. 11. & 15. Replegiare est repositore bona mobilia dato apud Præfectum quædæ fidei-jussore; sane & Anglis breve per quod bona ea repleverunt to Replevin, &c. Vossius de Vitiis sermonis, lib. 2. cap. 25. See Skene eod. verbo.

Replevisti, Replegiare, Is to let one to Mainprise upon Surety. Anno 3 E. 1. cap. 11.

Replication, Replicatio, Is an Exception of the Second Degree, made by the Plaintiff upon the first Answer of the Defendant. West. Symbol. part 2. Tit. Chancery, sect. 55. and Westm. 2. cap. 36.

It is also that which the Plaintiff replies to the Defendant's Answer in Chancery; and this is either General or Special. Special is grounded upon Matter arising out of the Defendant's Answer, &c. General is so called from the general Words therein used.

Report, Reportus, Is a publick Relation of Cases judicially argued, debated, resolved, or adjudged in any of the King's Courts of Justice, with the Causes and Reasons of the same delivered by the Judges. Co. on Lit. fol. 293. Also when the Chancery, or other Court, refer the Stating of some Case, or comparing an Account, &c. to a Master of Chancery, or other Referree, his Certificate therein is called a Report.

Reposition of the Forest, Repositio Forestæ, Was an Act whereby certain Forest Grounds being made Purlieu upon View, were by a Second View laid to the Forest again. Manswood, part 1. pag. 178.

Repositus, i. e. Secret or private: It is mentioned in Malmesbury, lib. 4. cap. 2. viz. Illud repositum propositum non ita vulgatur.

Reprisalia, (Reprisalia) From the French Reprise, i. e. Recaptio, vel captio rei unius in alterius satisfactionem) is all one in the Common and Civil Law. Reprisalia est potestas pignorandi contra quemlibet de terra debitoris data creditori pro injuriis & damnis acceptis. Vocabular. utriusq. juris. This among the ancient Romans was called Clavatio, of the Verb Clavigo, i. res clare repetere. It is named in the Stat. 27 E. 3. stat. 2. cap. 17. Law of Marque, because one for Defect of Justice in another Territory, redresseth himself by the Goods belonging to Men of that Territory, taken within his own Bounds.

Reprises Is commonly taken for Deductions and Duties which are yearly paid out of a Manor and Lands, as Rent-charge, Rent-sock, Pensions, Corvadies, Annuities, Fees of Stewards or Bailiffs, &c. Wherefore when we speak of the clear yearly Value of a Manor, we say it is so much per annum ultra reprises, besides all Reprises.

Reprize May be derived from the French Repris, that is taken back: So that to Reprize, is properly, to take back, or suspend, a Prisoner from the Execution and Proceeding of the Law for that Time.

Repsilber. Tempore quo villa S. Edmundi nomen & libertatem Burgi accepit, solebant Homines de singulis domibus dare Cellerario unum denarium in principio Augusti ad metendum segetes nostras, qui census dicebatur Repsilber. — Ex Cartular. S. Edmundi MS. penes Job. Episc. Norwic. fol. 316. From whence, and other Records, it is evident, that the servile Tenants were bound to reap for their Lord; and to be excused from that Labour, they paid some Acknowledgment in Money, as a Compensation for Discharge of the Work, and as a Mark of their former Tenure and Dependence. Which Money was called Repsilber, because paid for Exemption from the customary Duty of Reaping for the Lord.

Reputare, The same with Respectus, i. e. Respite or Delay. Sine Reputatione reddit debitum. Canon. Hibern. lib. 33. cap. 4.

Requiste, Civica requisitionum, See in Court. It is utterly taken away by Act of Parliament; but you may read of it in Gwin's Preface to his Readings, and elsewhere. The Place where this Court was held, was antiently called Camera alba. Rot. Parl. Anno 17 Ed. 3.

Rere County, — Writs shall be delivered in the full County, or Rere County. Statute 2 Edw. 3. cap. 5. — Et pro Fine Sette Curia vocat. Rere Counte. Comp. tem. Hen. 6. See Rier County.

Resceit, Receptio, Is an Admission, or Receiving a Third Person to plead his Right in a Cause formerly commenced between other Two. New Book of Entries, verb. Resceit. As if Tenant for Life or Years brings an Action, he in the Reversion comes in, and prays to be received to defend the Land, and to plead with the Demandant. See Bro. Tit. Resceit, f. 205. and Perkins's Dower, 448. The Civilians call this Admissionem tertii pro suo interesse. Resceit is also applied to an Admittance of Plea, tho' the Controversy be only between Two. See Broke, Tit. Estoppel, and Co on Lit. fol. 192.

Resceit of Homage, Receptio Homagii, Is the Lord's Receiving Homage of his Tenant at his Admission to the Land. Kitchin, fol. 148. See Homage.

Rescous, Rescussus, Comes from the French Rescousse, i. Liberatio, is a Resistance against lawful Authority; as if a Bailiff, or other Officer, upon a Writ do arrest a Man, and others by Violence take him away, or procure his Escape; this is a Rescous in Fact. So if one distrain Beasts for Damage-feasant in his Ground, as he drives them in the Highway towards the Pound, they enter into the Owner's House, and he with-holds them there, and will not deliver them upon Demand, this Detainer is a Rescous in Law. Co. on Lit. lib. 2. cap. 12. Cassanaus in his Book De Consuetud. Burg. f. 294. hath the same Word coupled with resistencia: It is also used for a Writ which lies for this Fact called Breve de Rescussu, whereof you may see both the Form and Use in F. N. B. fol. 101. Reg. of Writs, fol. 125. and New Book of Entries, verb. Rescous. This in some Cases, in Matters relating to Treason, is Treason; and in Matters concerning Felony, is Felony. Crompt. Just. fol. 54.

Rescussor Is he that commits such a Rescous. Cro. Rep. 2 par. fol. 419.

Rescuse, Rescuisse, Is a Taking again of Lands into the Hands of the King, whereof a general Livery, or Ouster le maine, was formerly mis-used, contrary to the Form and Order of Law. Staundf. Prærog. 26. See Resumption.

Reservation, Reservatio, A keeping or providing; as when a Man lets his Land, he reserves a Rent to be paid to himself for his Maintenance. Sometimes it signifies as much as an Exception; as when a Man lets a House, and reserves to himself one Room, that Room is excepted out of the Demise. See Perkins's Reservations per totum, and Terms de la Ley, eodem verbo.

Resset, Skene hath that in one Place, and Resetter in another Place; in both which he expounds it to signify the Receiving or Receiver of a proscribed or outlawed Person, and may be derived from our English Word Recet.

Resstance, Resstantia, Seemeth to come from the French Resstant or Resstant, Resident, and signifies a Man's Abode or Continuance in a Place. Old Nat. Brev. fol. 85. Whence also comes the Participle resstant, that is, continually dwelling or abiding in a Place. Kitchin, fol. 33. It is all one one indeed with Residence, but that Custom ties this only to Persons Ecclesiastical. Veteri autem jure nostro (saith Spelman) etiam & Scotico aliud significat, utpote morbum validum seu veteranum, quo quis exire de suis adibus prohibetur: Effonium agitur quod de malo lecti nuncupatur, hoc est excusatio quod ratione infirmitatis siftere se in foro non valeat, effonium nuncupant de relesantia. Glauville, lib. 1. cap. 11. Quandoq; intervenit (effonium) ex infirmitate de relesantia. Ubi in margine notatur, effonium de relesantia idem valet quod effonium de malo lecti. And all these seem to be drawn from the French, who say, Exoine de mal relescant. See Skene de verb. signif. verb. Relesantia.

Residence, Residentia, Is derived from the Latin Word Residere, and is peculiarly used both in the Common and Canon Law, for the Continuance or Abode of a Parson or Vicar upon his Benefice. The Default whereof (except the Party be qualified and dispensed with) is the Loss of Ten Pounds every Month. Anno 28 H. 8. cap. 13.

Residens Is a Tenant who is bound residere on his Lord's Lands, and not to go from thence. Leg. H. 1. cap. 43. Quantumcunque de aliis teneat, ei magis obnoxius est, & ejus residens esse debet cujus le gius est.

Resignation, Resignatio, Is used particularly for the giving up of a Benefice into the Hands of the Ordinary, otherwise by the Canonists termed Renunciatio. And though it signify all one in Nature with the Word Surrender, yet it is by Custom restrained to the yielding up a Spiritual Living, and Surrender to the giving up of Temporal Lands into the Hands of the Lord. And a Resignation may now be made into the Hands of the King, as well as of the Diocesan, because he hath Supremam Auctoritatem Ecclesiasticam, as the Pope had here in Times past Plowden, fol. 498. Grendon's Case.

Resort, or Resort, Is a Word properly used in a Writ of Tail or Cousinage, as Descent is in a Writ of Right. In French it signifies the Authority or Jurisdiction of a Court, Salvo tamen tam ressorto quam aliis jure nostro & etiam jure alieno. Lit. Pat. Phillippi le Hardy Reg. Francia, mentioned by Spelman in his Glossary. Dernier resort, last Refuge.

Respectu computi Vicecomitis habendo Is a Writ for the Respite of a Sheriff's Account, upon just Occasion; directed to the Treasurer and Barons of the Exchequer. Register, fol. 139 & 179.

Respicere, i. e. To consider. Knighton mentions it in a Judgment for High Treason, Anno 1331. viz. Omnes articuli superius de dicto Rogero attestati veri sunt & notorii, unde respiciatum & adjudicatum est quid pr dictus Rogerus ut proditor & inimicus Regis & Regni distractus sit & suspensus.

Respite, Respius, It is used for Delay, Forbearance, or Continuance of Time. Glauville, lib. 12. cap. 9. in breve Regis. Prapio tibi quod poni facias in respectum, usq; ad aliquem terminum competentem.

Respite of Homage, Respius Homagii, Is the Forbearing of Homage which ought first of all to be performed by the Tenant that holdeth by Homage; and it had the most frequent Use in such as held by Knights-service in Capite, who did pay into the Exchequer every Fifth Term some small Sum of Money, to be respited the doing of their Homage. See the Stat. 12 Car. 2. cap. 24.

whereby this is taken away as a Charge incident or arising from Knights-service, &c.

Respondere superioz, Where the Sheriffs are removable for Insufficiency, (as in London) respondat Superior, that is, the Mayor and Commonalty of London. Pur insufficiency del Bayliff d'un liberty, respondat Dominus libertatis. 44 E. 3. 13. 4 Inst. fol. 114.

Responsalis, Qui responsum desert. He who gives an Answer, is he that appears for another in Court at a Day assigned, concerning whom hear Glauville, lib. 12. cap. 1. Placita in superioribus exposita. Prosequi quis potest sicut alia qualibet placita civilia, tam per seipsum quam responsalem suo loco positum, &c. But Fleta make a Difference between attornatum, effoniatorem & responsalem, lib. 6. c. 11. sect. Officium. As if effonator came only to declare the Cause of the Party's Absence, whether Demandant or Tenant; and Responsalis came for the Tenant, not only to excuse his Absence, but also signify what Trial he meant to undergo, v. z. the Combat or the Country. A Man in ancient Time could not appoint an Attorney for him, without Warrant from the Court. Fleta, lib. 6. cap. 13. See Attorney. This Word is used in the Canon Law, & signifies Procuratorem vel eum qui absentem exusat.

Responsions, Responsiones, Seems to be a Word chiefly used by the Knights of St. John of Jerusalem, for certain Accounts made to them by such as held their Lands or Stocks. Anno 32 H. 8. cap. 24. In Rot. Parl. 9 Rich. 2. it is written Responsiones.

Responsum, i. e. Business: The Word is used in this Sense by Florence of Worcester, who tells us, That Pope Alexander sent two Persons to Edw. 1. pro Responsis Ecclesiasticis.

Restare, i. e. To stay or stop: It is mentioned in Matt. Paris. 515, viz. Equos & homines meos fecit restare, donec pagium extorisset.

Restitutio, Restitutio, Is the Yielding up again, or Restoring of any Thing unlawfully taken from another. But it is most frequently used in the Common Law for the setting him in Possession of Lands or Tenements that hath been unlawfully dispossessed of them; which when it is to be done, and when not, see Crompton's Justice of Peace, fol. 144. usq; ad 149.

Restitutio extracti ab Ecclesia Is a Writ to restore a Man to the Church, which he had recovered for his Sanctuary, being suspected of Felony. Reg. Orig. fol. 69.

Restitutio temporarium Is a Writ that lies where a Man being elected and confirmed Bishop of any Diocese, and hath the King's Royal Assent thereto, for the Recovery of the Temporalities, or Barony of the said Bishoprick: And it is directed from the King to the Escheator of the County, the Form whereof may be read in Reg. Orig. fol. 294. and F. N. B. fol. 169.

Resummons, Resummonitio, Is a Decomposition of Re, sub and mones, and signifies a Second Summons, and calling of a Man to answer an Action, where the First Summons is defeated upon any Occasion, as the Death of the Party, or such like. See Bro. Tit Resummons, fol. 214. Of these there are Four Sorts, according to Four divers Cases in the Table of the Register Judicial, fol. 1. and New Book of Entries, verb. Reattachment and Resummons.

Resumption, Resumptio, Is a Word used in the Statute of 31 H. 6. cap. 7. particularly to signify the Taking again into the King's Hands such B b b 2 Lands

Lands or Tenements as before, upon false Suggestion, or other Error, he had delivered to the Heir, or granted by Letters Patent to any Man. Bro. Tit. Repellance & Refumption, fol. 298. 31 H. 6. cap. 7. and 19 H. 7. cap. 10. See Reifeiser.

Retail, (Anno 3 & 4 Edw. 6. cap. 21.) Qui rem integram ementes, per miniores eam partes diftrahabant. Anglice, to buy by Great, and sell by Retail, i. e. by Parcels.

Retare, Arretare, Retiare, ad rectum vocare. To sue, implead, or prosecute. Idem Brianus quosdam retavit de foresta Domini Regis in eadem curia iudicium suum de furto, de quo primum retatus fuerit, recepturus fuit. Cartular. Radings. MS. fol. 176. a.

Retatio, The retting or ritting of Flax or Hemp, i. e. Expoling it to the Sun, or Steeping it in the Water, till it is ripened and made fit to run. Inter antiquas consuetudines Abbatis S. Edmundi Item Cellerarius solet accipere theoloneum de lino tempore retationis, scil. unam retam de qualibet cervia vel romula. Cartular. S. Edmundi. MS. fol. 314.

Retaining Fee, Merces retinens, Is the First Fee given to any Serjeant or Counsellor at Law, whereby to make him sure that he shall not be on the contrary Part: It is Honorarium seu premium caufidici pæcedanum, quo clienti suo obligatur ne adversarii causam agat.

Retainer, From the Latin retinere, signifies in a legal Sense a Servant, but not Menial or Familiar, that is, not continually dwelling in the House of his Master, but only wearing his Livery, and attending sometimes upon special Occasions. This Livery was wont to consist of Hats, (or Hoods) Badges, or other Suits of one Garment by the Year; and were many Times given by Lords and Great Men, upon Design of Maintenance and Quarrels, and therefore justly forbidden by several Statutes, as 1 R. 2. cap. 7. upon Pain of Imprisonment, and grievous Forfeiture to the King; And again, 16 R. 2. cap. 4. 20 R. 2. cap. 1. and 1 H. 4. cap. 7. by which the Offenders should make Ransom at the King's Will; and any Knight or Esquire thereby duly attainted, should lose his said Livery, and forfeit his Fee for ever, &c. Which Statute is further confirmed and explained by 2 H. 4. cap. 21. 7 H. 4. cap. 3. and 8 H. 6. cap. 4. And yet this Offence was so deeply rooted, that Edward the Fourth was necessitated to confirm the former Statutes, and further to extend their Meaning, as appears by 8 E. 4. cap. 2. adding a special Penalty of Five Pounds upon every Man that gives such Livery, and as much on every one so retained either by Writing, Oath or Promise, for every Month. These are by the Feudists called Affidati, sic enim dicuntur qui in alicujus fidem & tutelam recepti sunt. And as our Retainers are here forbidden, so are those Affidats in other Countries. But most of the above-mentioned Statutes are repealed by 3 Car. 1. cap. 4.

Retenementum, Restraint, Detainment, Withholding. A full and absolute Conveyance was anciently made in this Phrase, Sine ullo retenemento.

Retentis, for Retinentia, i. e. A Retinue.

Retepenny, A Rate-penny, or customary Due of One Penny for each Person to the Parish Priest. In the Synodal Statutes of Robert Bishop of Durham, Anno 1276. cap. 3. De rebus liberorum

decimandis, & mortuariis inde solvendis. Porro hoc Sanctioni adjicimus, quod si plures liberi proprium habentes, in parentum pariter familia vivant, ad denarios qui vocantur Rete-penis minime arceantur: Cum sicut communiter intrinsecus aluntur a parentibus, sic in extrinsecis ab eisdem letentur pariter se defendi.

Retinentia, Retinue, or Persons retaining to a Prince or Nobleman. Ad inquirendum de numero retinentiæ præfati Johannis ab ultimo adventu suo in Hiberniam, & de continuatione ejusdem retinentiæ. Pat. 14 Ric. 2. pag. 2. m. 8.

Retraetus aquæ, Ebb, or low Water, the Retreat of the Tide. The Expression occurs in Placit. coram Rege Pasch. 30 Edw. 1. apud Cantuar. Rot. 58.

Retrahit Is so called, because that Word is the effectual Word in the Entry, and is where the Plaintiff or Demandant comes in Person into the Court, and says, He will proceed no further. And this is a Bar of all other Actions of like or inferior Nature, Qui semel actionem renunciarit, amplius repetere non potest. Co. on Lit. lib. 2. cap. 11. sect. 288. The Difference between a Nonfuit and a Retrahit, is, that a Retrahit is ever when the Demandant or Plaintiff is present in Court; but a Nonfuit is upon a Demand made, when he should appear, and he makes Default. Retrahit (as we said) is a Bar, so is not a Nonfuit, for he may commence an Action of like Nature again.

Retropannagium, After-Pannage, or the Running of Hogs in a Forest or Park, when the Acorns or Malt is eaten, and little left, but Hips, Haws, &c. Et debent habere retropannagium a Festo S. Martini usque ad Festum purificat. Beate Marie Perit. in Par. temp. Ed. 3.

Return, Returna vel returna, Cometh of the French Retout, i. reverso, recursus, and in our Law hath Two particular Applications, the One is, the Return of Writs by Sheriffs and Bailiffs, which is only a Certificate made to the Court of that which he hath done, touching the Execution of their Writ directed to him. And this among the Civilians is termed Certificatorium; of Returns in this Signification speaks the Statute of Westm. 2. cap. 39. So is the Return of a Commission a Certificate or Answer to the Court of that which is done by the Commissioners, Sheriff, Bailiff, or other, to whom such Writs, Commissions, Precepts or Mandates are directed. Also certain Days in every Term are called Return-Days, or Days in Bank; and so Hillary-Term hath Four Returns, viz. Offabis Hillarii, Quindena Hillarii, Crastino Purificationis and Offabis Purificationis. Easter-Term Five, viz. Quindena Pasche, Tres Pasche, Mense Pasche, Quinq; Pasche, and Crastino ascensionis Domini. Trinity-Term Four, i. Crastino Trinitatis, Offabis Trinitatis, Quindena Trinitatis, Tres Trinitatis; and Michaelmas-Term Six, to wit, Tres Michaelis, mense Michaelis, Crastino animarum, Crastino Martini, Offabis Martini, Quindena Martini. See the Statutes of Days in Bank, 51 H. 3. 32 H. 8. cap. 21. and 17 Car. c. 6. The other Application of this Word is in Case of Replevin; for if a Man distrain Cattle for Rent, &c. and afterwards justify or avow his Act, so as it is found lawful, the Cattle before delivered unto him that was distrained, upon Security given to follow the Action, shall now be returned to him that distrained them. Bro. Tit. Returns d'avers & hommes, fol. 218. and F. N. B. in his Table verb. Return.

Returno

Retorno habendo Is a Writ that lies for him that has avowed a Distress made of Cattle, and proved his Distress to be lawfully taken, for returning to him the Cattle distrained, which before were replevied by the Party distrained, upon Surety given to prosecute the Action; or when the Plaintiff or Action is removed by Recordari, or Accedas ad Curiam, into the Court of Common Pleas, and he whose Cattle were distrained makes Default, and doth not prosecute his Suit.

Returnum avortivum Is a Writ Judicial, granted to one impleaded for the Taking the Cattle of another, and unjust detaining them contra vadum & Plegios, and appearing upon Summons, is dismissed without Day, because the Plaintiff makes Default; and it lies for the Return of the Cattle to the Defendant, whereby he was summoned, or which were taken for Security of his Appearance upon the Summons. Register Judicial, fol. 4. a.

Returnum irreplegiabile Is a Writ Judicial, sent out of the Common Pleas to the Sheriff, for the final Restitution or Return of Cattle to the Owner, unjustly taken by another, as Damageseant, and so found by the Jury before Justices of Assize in the County, or otherwise by Default of Prosecution. Reg. Judic. fol. 27.

Reve, alias Greve, From the Saxon Word Grefa, Præfectus. Lamb.'s Explication of Saxon Words, verb. Præfectus, signifies with us the Bailiff of a Franchise or Manor, especially in the Western Parts of England: Hence Shire-reeve for Sheriff. See Kitchin, fol. 43. See Greeve and Sheriff, and Vershegan, cap. 10. See also Church reeve.

Revelach, i. e. Rebellion, from Revellare, to rebell: Quicumque faciebat Revelach vel introitum vel violentiam fœmina in domo inferebat, 20 solidis emendabatur. Gale. Domesday, Tit. Cestrescire.

Reveland, Domesday-Book, Hereford.fo. Terra Regis. Hac terra fuit tempore Edwardi Regis Tainland, sed postea conversa est in Reveland. Et item dicunt Legati Regis, quod ipsa terra & census qui inde exit, fursum aufertur a Rege. The Land which is here said to have been Thaneland, T. E. R. and after converted into Reveland, seems to have been such Land as being reverted to the King after the Death of his Thane, who had it for Life, was not since granted out to any by the King, but rested in Charge upon the Account of the Reeve or Bailiff of the Manor, who (as it seemeth) being in this Lordship of Hereford like the Reeve in Chaucer, a false Brother, concealed the Land from the Auditor, and kept the Profit of it to himself, till the Surveyors, who are here called Legati Regis, discovered this Falshood, and presented to the King that fursum aufertur Regi. This Passage from Domesday Book is imperfectly quoted by Sir Edw. Coke, in his Institutes, sect. 117. who from these Words draws a false Inference, That Land holden by Knights-Service was called Thainland, and Land holden by Socage was called Reveland. Vide Spelman of Feuds, c. 24. See Teinland.

Revels Signify with us Sports of Dancing, Masking, &c. used in Princes Courts, the Inns of Court, or other Noblemens Houses, which are commonly performed by Night; and there is an Officer to order and supervise them, who is intitled Master of the Revels.

Revenue Is a French Word, signifying as Reditus, and denotes properly the yearly Rent that accrues to every Man from his Lands and Possessions.

Reverſion, Reverſo, A returning again; it is

Nomen verbale, and derived of the Verb Revertor. & apte dici non poteſt reverſio antequam revertatur in ſalſo; and therefore Co. on Lit. fol. 142. ſays, Reverſio terra eſt tanquam terra revertens in poſſeſſione Donatori ſive heredibus ſuis poſt donum finitum. It hath a double Acceptation in Law, the one is, ſus revertendi cum ſtatu poſſeſſionis deſcendit: And this is but an Intereſt in the Land when the Poſſeſſion ſhall fall. 2. When the Poſſeſſion and Eſtate which was parted with for a Time, ceaſeth, and is determined in the Perſons of the Alienees, Aſſignees, Grantees, or their Heirs, or effectually returns to the Donor, his Heirs or Aſſigns, whence it was derived. The Difference between a Reverſion and a Remainder, is, that a Remainder is general, and may be to any Man, but he that granteth or conveyeth the Land, &c. for Term of Life only, or otherwiſe. A Reverſion is to himſelf, from whom the Conveyance of the Land, &c. proceeded, and is commonly perpetual, as to his Heirs alſo. Lit. lib. 2, cap. 12. See Co. lib. 2, fol. 51. Sir Hugh Cholmley's Caſe; and yet a Reverſion is ſometimes conſounded with a Remainder. Co. lib. 2, fol. 67. Tooker's Caſe. Plowden, fol. 170. Hill's Caſe. What this Word Reverſion in a Deed does carry, ſee Littleton, lib. 2, cap. 12.

Reugia, A Ridge, or Rudge of arable Land. De dono Rogeri del Eſtre unum reugiam terre in Gernemath. Mon. Angl. Tom. 1, p. 515.

Reviſu, A Bill of Review in Chancery is, where a Cauſe hath been heard, and the Decree ſigned and enrolled; and ſome Error in Law appears upon the Decree, or new Matter diſcovered in Time after the Decree made, which Bill cannot be exhibited, but by Liſenſe of the Court. See Collection of the Chancery Orders, pag. 69.

Reviving Is a Word metaphorically applied to Rents and Actions, and ſignifies a Renewing of them after they be extinguished. Of which ſee divers Examples in Broke, Tit. Revivings of Rents, Actions, &c. fol. 223.

Bill of Revivor Is where a Bill hath been exhibited in Chancery againſt one, who answers, and before the Cauſe is heard, or if heard, before the Decree enrolled, either Party dies: In this Caſe a Bill of Revivor muſt be brought, that the former Proceedings may ſtand revived, and the Cauſe be finally determined.

Revocation, Revocatio, Is the Calling back of a Thing granted, of which you have divers in Reg. Orig. as Revocationem brevis de audiendo & terminando, fol. 124. Revocationem præſentationis, fol. 304, 305. Revocationem Protectionis, fol. 23. Revocationem ſpecialium Juſticiariorum quia, &c. fol. 205.

Reward. See Regard.

Rewey, Anno 43 Eliz. cap. 10. So as ſome Clothes being put in Water are found to ſhrink, Rewey, equally cockling, light and notable Faulty, &c. it is as much as unevenly wrought, and full of Rewes.

Rhandir Is a Part in the Division of the Country in Wales before the Conqueſt; as firſt a Cantref conſiſted of a Hundred Towns, under which were ſo many Commots, each Commote had Twelve Manors or Circuits, and Two Townſhips; there were Four Townſhips to every Manor, every Townſhip comprehended Four Gavels, every Gavel had Four Rhandirs, and Four Tenements were conſtituted under every Rhandir. This Word Rhandir admits not of any proper Significancy in Engliſh, but is by Dr. Davis rendered Pars ant forſi sors hereditaria, from the Verb, Rhannu, Partire, distribuire. Taylor's History of Gavelkind, pag. 69.

Rheuma, The Overflowing of the Sea, Florence of Worcester, Anno 1075. Inde rebus omnibus dispositis & ordinatis (Rheumate adveniente) festinanter Anboras sustulerunt.

Rhibei, A River in Lancashire. See Belsama.

Rhine, The River in Germany, from Rinnan, to flow; so called, because of its rapid Course, but rather from the Sax. Rein, which signifies Pure, from the Clearness of the Water: So among the Saxons, Ryne wetera, signified a Water-course: So in Somersetshire, they call the little Streams between the Moors, which rise high with Floods, Rhines.

Rhtunum, Routen in Shropshire.

Rhtupia, Rickborow near Sandwich in Kent.

Rial, A Piece of Gold current for Ten Shillings. In 1 H. 6. by Indenture of the Mint, a Pound-Weight Gold of the old Standard was coined into 45 Rials, going for Ten Shillings a-piece, or a proportionable Number of half Rials, going for Five Shillings a-piece, or Rial Farthings going for Two Shillings Six-pence. Vide Lowndes's Essay upon Coins, p. 38. The Golden Rial in 1 Hen 8. was to go at Eleven Shillings Three Pence. In 2 Eliz. Golden Rials coined at Fifteen Shillings a-piece, when a Pound-Weight of old Standard Gold was to be coined into 48 Rials. In 3 Jac. 1. Rose Rials of Gold at Thirty Shillings, and Spur-Rials at Fifteen Shillings.

Ribaud, Ribaldus, French Ribault, a Vagrant, luxurious Spend-thrift, a Rogue, Whoremonger, a Person given to all Kinds of Wickedness and Looseness. Petition against Ribauds and sturdy Beggars. Rot. Parl. 50 E. 3. num. 61.

Ribchester. See Cocceum.

Ric Is a Saxon Word, signifying as much as Regnum in Latin. Cambd. Brit. p. 346.

Riders-Roll. See Roll.

Riculus, For Curriculum, or Vehiculus: In Brompton, R. 1. Multitudo vero Riculorum & asinorum, onerarium sub numero non facile cadebant.

Ridge or Rig of Land, Riga, Terram quam e pluribus sulcis in aggerem efferunt arantes, ita ut sicca sedes frumenti habeatur, Romani strigam (atque inde agros strigatos) nos a Ridge of Land. Spelman. However it is sometimes called Porca terra. Yet I have seen in the Exemplification of a Writ of Partition. Anno 20 Eliz. Teste Jacobo Dyer Mil. — unam acram terra arabilis continen. quinque porcas terra, Anglice Ridges. So Sir Edw. Coke has it, 1 Inst. fol. 5. b.

Riding Clerk, One of the Six Clerks in Chancery, who in his Turn, for one Year keeps the Controlment Books of all Grants that pass the Great Seal that Year.

Ridings Are Names of the Divisions of Yorkshire, which are Three, viz. The East-Riding, the West-Riding, and the North-Riding, mentioned in the Statute 22 H. 8. cap. 8. and 23 H. 8. cap. 18. In Indictments in that County, it is requisite that the Town and the Riding be exprest. West. Symbol. part 2. Tit. Indictments, sect. 70.

Riens arrear Is a Kind of Plea used to an Action of Debt upon Arrearages of Account, whereby the Defendant does alleadge, there is nothing in Arrear.

Riens deins le gard Was a Challenge to a Jury or Enquest of London, for that Four sufficient Men, &c. were not impartial: But it is abrogated by the Stat. 7 H. 7. cap. 4.

Riens passe par le fait, i. e. Nothing passes by the Deed, is the Form of an Exception taken in some Cases to an Action. See Bro. Tit. Extranger al fait ou Record.

Riens per descent (i. e. Nothing by Descent) Is the Plea of an Heir, where he is sued for his Ancestor's Debt, and hath no Land from him by Descent. See 3 Part Croke's Rep. fol. 151.

Rier County, Retro-comitatus, Comes from the French Arrier, posterior, and in the Statute of 2 E. 3. cap. 5. is opposite to open County; and by comparing that Statute with Westm. 2. cap. 38. it appears to be some publick Place, which the Sheriff appoints for the Receipt of the King's Money after the End of his County. Fleta says, That it is Dies craftinus post comitatum, lib. 2. cap. 67.

Rissarr, To take away any Thing by Force: From the Sax. Riese, Rapina, from whence comes our English Word to Rise: Sepe etiam contingit ut hoc modo depositum pro furto & reistato, &c. postea fuit interitatum & ad hoc denique comprobatum. Leg. H. 1. cap. 57.

Ristum, A Coppice, a Thicket, a Spiney, a Place of Bushes and Thorns. — Siant presentes & futuri quod Ego Theobaldus de Castro relaxavi Dominis meis Roberto Abbati & Conventui de Burgo totum ristum meum, quod jacet inter bosum pradii Abbatis quod vocatur Tolhawe, & bosum Christiane Pye. — Cartular. S. Petriburg. vocat. Swafham, MS. f. 203.

Ristura, In a Form of Appeal in Bracton, lib. 3. cap. 23. upon felonious wounding against the Peace. — Et designandum erit, cujus longitudinis fuerit plaga & cujus profunditatis, & utrum sit plaga vel ristura, ad hoc quod procedat Duellum vel non procedat, ut sciri possit per factum, utrum sit injuria vel feloniam, i. e. And it shall be discovered, how long and how deep the Wound was, and whether it was a Wound, or the Flesh and Skin were only risted, or, as we now call it, ripped, (or a slight Scar) so as it might be determined whether the Duel should proceed or not, and that it might be known whether the Fact was a Trespass or Felony.

Riga, The same with Reuga, which see.

Right, Fus. In general Signification includes not only a Right, for which a Writ of Right lies, but also any Title or Claim, either by Virtue of a Condition, Mortgage, or the like, for which no Action is given by Law, but only an Entry. Co. on Lit. lib. 3. cap. 8. sect. 445. There is Fus proprietatis, a Right of Propriety; Fus possessionis, a Right of Possession, and Fus Proprietatis & Possessionis, a Right both of Propriety and Possession; and this is anciently called Fus Duplicatum: For Example, If a Man be disseised of an Acre of Land, the Disseisee hath Fus proprietatis, the Disseisor hath Fus possessionis; and if the Disseisee release to the Disseisor, he hath Fus proprietatis & possessionis. Co. on Lit. lib. 3. sect. 447. Fus est sextuplex. 1. Fus recuperandi. 2. Intrandi. 3. Habendi. 4. Retinendi. 5. Percipiendi. 6. Est possidendi. Co. 8 Rep. Edward Alibam's Case.

Right in Court. See ResUs in Curia.

Rime (Rima) Is taken for a mean Kind of Verse, commonly made by some unskilful Poetaster. Of a libellous and rebellious Rime, I have thought thought fit to insert this Abstract of an ancient and memorable Record.

Placita coram Domino Rege apud Ebor. de Termino Pasche Anno Regni Regis Richardi Secundi 16.

Quamplurimi de Cotingham & Villis circumjacentibus indicantur, quod ipsi aliquati fuerint quilibet ad alterum sustinendum & manutenendum omnes querelas suas versus quosunque: Et quod modo guerrino obsiderunt villam de Kington super Hull, & pontes circumjacentes diriperunt, ita quod nullus ire vel redire posset ad dictam villam, ac insuper fecerunt Rimam in Anglicis verbis, & dictam Rimam publice apud Beverly pro lamari fecerunt die, &c. qua Rima sequitur in hac verba.

In the Country hard was we,
That in our Soken shewes should be,
With all for to bake.
Among you friers it is for,
And other Morders many moe,
Whether they sleep or wake.
And yet will like man help up other,
And maintain him als his bother,
Both in wrong and right.
And also will in strand and shoure
Maintain our Neighbour
With all our might,
Like Man may come and goe
Among us, both to and fro,
Say you hekerly.
But hethyng will we suffer none,
Neither of Hob, noz of John,
With what may he merry be,
For unkinde we ware,
If we suffered lesse or mare.
Any villan hethyng.
But it were quite double again,
And accozd, and be ful faine
To byde dresling.
And on that purpose, yet we stand,
Who so doth us any wzing,
In what place it fall.
Yet he must als weele,
Als have I hap and heele,
Doe again us all.

Rine. See Rhine.

Rings, A military Girdle: From the Saxon Ring, i. e. annulus, circulus, because it was girt round the Middle. Brañon gives another Reason why it is so called. Lib. 1. cap. 8. Par. 3. Ringa enim dicuntur quod renes circumdant, unde dicitur accingere girdio.

Ringhead, (Anno 43 Eliz. cap. 10.) An Engine used in stretching Woollen Cloth.

Ringtoze. (Brit. Rhingylde) Rex omnibus, &c. quod nullus tenentium in Com. nostris predictis de cetero compellatur ad subeundum sive occupandum officium Ringildre. Carta Hen. 7. Comitatus de Anglesey, Carnarvon, & Merioneth, dat. 3 Mart. anno regni 22. A Kind of Bailiff or Serjeant, for so Rhingyl or Ringylb signifies in Welsh.

Riot, Riota & riotum, Derived from the French Riote, quod non solum rixam & jurgium significat, sed vinculum etiam, quo plura in unum, fasciculorum instar, colligantur, signifies the forcible doing of an unlawful Thing by Three, or more Persons assembled together for that Purpose. West. Symbol. part 2. Tit. Indictments, sect. 65. The Difference between a Riot, Rout, and unlawful Assembly, see in Lamb. Eiren. lib. 2. cap. 5. Stat. 1. Mar. cap. 12. and Kitchin 19. who gives these Examples of Riots, the Breach of Inclosures, Banks, Conduits, Parks, Pounds, Houses, Bains, the Burning of Stacks of Corn, &c. Lamb. ubi supra mentions these, to beat a Man, to enter upon a Possession forcibly. See Rout and Unlawful Assembly. See also in Cromp. Justice of Peace, divers Cases of Riots, Anno 17 R. 2. cap. 8. and 13 H. 4 cap. 7. See the Stat. 1 Geo. cap. 5.

Riparia, (from Ripa, a Bank,) In the Statute of Westm. 2. cap. 47. signifies the Water or River running between the Banks, be it salt or fresh. 2 Inst. fol. 478. The Word occurs also in Rot. Char. 9 Edw. 2. numb. 12. Volumus tamen, quod predictus A. cognitionem habeat de morte hominis & mabernio, in grossis navibus in medio filii grossarum Ripariarum, tam de portibus earundem Ripariarum mari magis propinquius, &c. Rot. Pat. 28 H. 8. pars 15. But in the Version of Magna Charta, cap. 15. Riparia is rendered a Bank or River.

Ripatica, i. e. Redditus & proventus ex ripis percepti. MS. Flea, lib. 2. cap. 66. par. 17.

Ripator. Juxta sonitum illius instrumenti quod a Ripatoribus vocatur Tabur, subito tercella quadam alarum remigio perniter evolarit. Rad. de Diceto & Matt. Paris. sub anno 1191. By this Word Ripator, Mr. Somner would understand a Ripper, or Reaper of Corn. And some others would interpret them to be Riflers or vagabond Thieves. But the Occasion of the Story, and the Scene of Action, seem plainly to imply, that Ripatores were Riparii, Fishermen or Rippers.

Ripiers, Riparii, Had their Name a fscella qua in devehendis piscibus utuntur, in English a Ripp, and are such as use to bring Fish from the Seacoast to the inner Parts of the Land. Cambd. Brit. pag. 234. In Wales they are called Treaters.

Risse, Orisa, Is a Kind of Corn growing in Asia and the Indies, of which you may read in Gerard's Herbal, lib. 1. cap. 52. This is mentioned among Spices to be garbled in the Stat. 1 Jac. cap. 19.

Rivagium, Rivage, Riverage, a Toll or Duty paid to the King in some Rivers, for the Passage of Boats or Vessels. King Edw. 1. grants a Charter to the Barons of the Cinque Ports ut quieti sint de omni theolonio & omni consuetudine videl. ab omni lastagio, tallagio, passagio, cayagio, rivagio, sponsagio, & omni wreec, &c. Placit. temp. Edw. 1. & Edw. 2. penes Dominum Fountains.

Riveare, To have the Liberty of a River for Fishing or Fowling. Rex dat licentiam Reginaldo filio Petri, quod riveare possit per totam ripariam nostram de Kenette, & in instanti seiscina aves capere & asportare. Pat. 2. Edw. 1. M. 6. Licentia pro Radulfo de Obendut quod riveare possit per ripariam de Kennet in Com. Berk. cum quodam Austurco. Pat. 18. E. 1. M. 40.

Rofestile, alias Cress-tile, Is that Tile which is made to lay upon the Ridge of the House. Anno 17 Edw. 4. cap. 4. Dr. Skinner says the true Name is Rose-tyle, from the French Tuile de la Rose.

Rogation-week, Dies Rogationum, Is a Time well known to all, and is so called, because of the special Devotion of Prayer and Fasting then enjoined by the Church to all Men, for a Preparative to the joyful Remembrance of Christ's Ascension, from which Time to Trinity-Sunday Matrimony is forbidden to be celebrated.

Rogur, Rogus, May be deduced from the Fr. Rogue, i. Arrogans, and signifies an idle Rurdy Beggar, who wandreth from Place to Place without License, after he hath been by Justices bestowed, or offered to be bestowed on some certain Place of Abode; who, for the first Offence, is called a Rogue of the first Degree, and punished by whipping and boring through the Gristle of the Ear with a hot Iron, an Inch in Compass. And for the Second Offence is termed a Rogue of the Second Degree, and put to Death as a Felon, if he be above Eighteen Years old. See the Stat. 14 Eliz. 5. 18 Eliz. 3. and 36 Eliz. 17. and Lamb. Eiren. lib. 4. cap. 4.

Rogus Is the Latin Word for a great Fire, and there it is congeries lignorum ad comburendum, Vocab. utriusq; juris. Sometimes it is taken only for a Pile or Stalk of Wood, as Mandatum est Constabulario castri de Ditis, &c. custodi foresta de Cippebam quod fieri fac. unum rogum in Foresta pradiit ad operationes castri pradiit, prout melius viderint expedire, &c. T. x. Maii. Claus. 54 H. 3. m. 8.

Roll, Rotulus, Signifies a Schedule of Paper or Parchment, which may be turned or wound up with the Hand to the Fashion of a Pipe. Staundf. Pl. Cor. fol. 11. of which there are in the Exchequer several Kinds. As the great Wardrobe Roll, the Coffers Roll, the Subsidy Roll, &c. Of which see the Practice of the Exchequer-Court, fol. 75.

Calves-head Roll Is a Roll in the Two Temples, wherein every Bench is taxed yearly at 2 s. every Barrister at 1 s. 6 d. and every Gentleman under the Bar at 1 s. to the Cook, and other Officers of the House, in Consideration of a Dinner of Calves-heads provided in Easter-Term. Orig. Jurisd. fol. 199. b.

Ridder-Roll, Noy's Rep. fol. 84. The Court Ex Officio, may award a Certiorari ad informandum conscientiam; and that which is certified shall be annexed to the Record, and is called a Ridder-Roll. Or a Ridder-Roll is a Schedule, or small Piece of Parchment, added to some Part of a Roll or Record,

Roll of Court, Rotulus Curie, The Court-Roll in a Manor, wherein the Names, Rents, and Services of the Tenants were copied and enrolled. Per Rotulum Curie tenere, by Copyhold. — Matildis le Tailleur tenet per rotulum Curie unum messuagium, &c. Paroch. Antiqu.

Rolls of Parliament, Rotuli de Parlamento. The Manuscript Registers or Rolls of the Proceedings of our old Parliaments. For before the Use of Printing, and till the Reign of Hen. 7. our Statutes were all engrossed in Parchment, and (by Virtue of the King's Writ to that Purpose) proclaimed openly in every County. — In these Rolls we have likewise a great many Decisions of difficult Points in Law, which were frequently in former Times referred to the Determination of this supreme Court by the inferior Ones of both Benches, &c. Mr. Nicholson's Hist. Library, P. 3. p. 47.

Rolls, Or the Office of the Rolls in Chancery-Lane, antiently called Domus Conversorum, is the House that was built by King Henry the Third, for Jews converted to the Christian Faith; but Edward the Third expelled them for their Wickedness, and deputed the Place for the Custody of the Rolls and Records of the Chancery, the Master whereof is the second Person in Chancery, and in the Absence of the Lord Chancellor, or Lord Keeper, sits as Judge, being commonly called, The Master of the Rolls, which see.

Romlot, Is a Saxon Word signifying, Nummum Rome datum, for Feob, in Saxon is Nummus, that is, Money in English. See Romescot.

Rompenenn, In Saxon Rompennig, i. Romæ denarius, for the Saxon Pening, is the same as Penny with us, or Denarius in Latin. See Romescot.

Romanizare

Romanizare Is a Word mentioned in our Historians; and it signifies to afflict or torment:

Roma manus rodit, quas rodere non valet, odit.

Roma-peditæ Were Pilgrims so called, because they travelled to Rome on Foot. It is a Word mentioned in Matt. Paris. Anno 1250, and in other Historians:

Hic Anglos, hic Romipetas enormiter angens.

Romefeoh, Rome-penny, (Sax. Romefeoh, i. e. Nummus Romæ datus; nam Feoh est nummus, pecunia, stipendium; Rompenning, Roma Denarius, Penning enim (boodie a Penny) est Denarius. Vide Rome-feot.)

Rome-frot (Romefeoh vel Romefee, Romepeny, alias Denarius Sancti Petri & Hearth-peny,) is compounded of Rome and Scot, from the Sax. Scot, Symbolum. Matt. Westm. says it was Consuetudo Apostolica, a qua neq; Rex, neq; Archiepiscopus vel Episcopus, Abbas vel Prior, aut quilibet in Regno immunis erat. It was an annual Tribute of one Penny from every Family, paid yearly to Rome at the Feast of St. Peter ad vincula, being the First of August. Camden in his Brit. says, Offa, the Saxon, first granted it; but others, that Ina, a King of the West Saxons, being in Pilgrimage at Rome, Anno 725. gave it as an Alms, and was first forbidden by Edward the Third. It amounted to Three Hundred Marks and a Noble yearly. See Leg. Hen. 1. cap. 12. Rog. Hoveden par. poster. suor. annal. fol. 344. in vita Hen. 2. and see Peter-Pence and Hearth-penny. This Payment was abrogated 25 H. 8. 25. restored 1 & 2 P. & M. but utterly abolished 1 Eliz. 1. See Spelman's Glossary, verbis Romefeoh, Romefeoh, Romepeny. This Mark of Slavery was a Burthen and a Scandal to the English Nation. Our free-born Ancestors often complained of it. It was one of the Complaints of Grievance in Parliament, 8 John. A. D. 1206. when the King issued out this Writ of Redress: Rex Archiepiscopis, Episcopis, Abbatibus, Archidiaconis & omni Clero apud Sanctum Albanum convocatis Salutem. Conquerente Universitate Comitum, Baronum, Militum & aliorum fidelium nostrorum, audivimus quod non solum in Laicorum gravem perniciem, sed in totius regni nostri intolerabile dispendium super Romscot præter consuetudinem solvendo — Mandamus — ne contra regni nostri consuetudinem aliquid novum Statuatis — Teste incipso apud Ebor. 26 die Maii, anno regni nostri 8 Cart. 8. Joh. m. 1.

Rood, Hoip Rood, i. e. Holy Cross.

Rood of Land, Roda terre, The Fourth Part of an Acre. 5 Eliz. cap. 5.

Rot, Among the Services and Customs of the Zochmen who held Lands of the Priory of Spalding — Debent tres carectas de Ros & tres de Byndinge carectandas in curiam Domini cibo Domini — which Dr. Brady renders, They ought to carry Three Loads of Thatch, and Three Loads of Byndinge to the Lord's Court, he finding them Viſuals. But I think rather, Ros is no more than Rushes, and the Duty was to carry Three Loads of loose Rushes, and Three Loads of any Sort, as bound Corn, or other Stuff bound up in Bands.

Rostum, A low watry Place of Reeds and Rushes. In the Endowment of the Vicaridge of Stokeland, within the Diocese of Bath and Wells, in the Year 1453. it is ordained. — Ut Vica- rius habeat omnes decimas roseti sive arundinum totius parochie. Reg. Eccl. Well. MS. — Salvo duntaxat dictis Religiosis decimis majoribus de tervis, pratis, purpresturis, & rosetis dominicis ipsius Johannis approviatis seu in posterum approviandis — Cartular. Glasfion. MS. fol. 107. b. Hence the covering of Houses with a Thatch made of Reeds and Rushes was called Rotetum — Hac omnia adificia egregie & opere saltem sumptuoso consummata lapide aut roseto, secundum quod loci opportunitas exigebat vel permittebat pro majori parte co-operiri faciebat, ib. p. 42. a.

Rossa For Mossa, i. e. Land over-run with Moss. Et totam Dailam maris tam de Rossa quam de prato. Monast. 2 Tom. pag. 211.

Rossland, V. Citation in MS. (Rossarium) Heathy Land, or Land full of Ling; also watery or moorish Land, from the Br. Rbos, i. e. Planities irrigua. 1 Inst. fol. 5. a. & Cam. Brit. fol. 190. Ros autem apud Scotos præmontorium significat. Euchan. Hist. fol. 6. b. n. 40.

Rother Beasts, (Saxon Hryther,) Under this Name are comprehended Oxen, Cows, Steers, Heifers, and such like horned Beasts. Anno 21 Jac. cap. 18. And in Hertfordshire the Dung of such Beasts is still called Rotherfoyl. J. B. Rangeator in Foresta de Whittlewood habet de dono Regis quatuor Rothros in Balliva de Wakefield. Pat. 14 R. 2. m. 13.

Rotulus Contrarientum. See Contrarientis.

Rotuli Placitorum, Court-Rolls, or Records upon Roll; the Register of Trials, Judgments, and Decrees in a Court of Justice. — Diffi homines præmissas conventiones in Rotulos Placitorum Domini Regis de anno supradicto ad majorem securitatem irrotulari procurarunt. Paroch. Antiq. pag. 321.

Rotulus Cancellariæ, Bracton, lib. 3. cap. 24. Omnia Brevia de pace (quæ sunt prohibitiones) irrotulari debent in Rotulo de Cancellaria. See M. P. in ann. 1110. p. 61.

Rotulus Wintoniæ, Domesday Book so called, because it was of old kept at Winchester. See Domesday. Spelman in his Glossary says, There was another Roll called Rotulus Wintonie, made long before that by King Alfred; concerning which, hear Inglulphus speaking of Domesday Book. Talem (says he) Rotulum & multum similem ediderat quondam Rex Alfredus, in quo totam terram Angliæ per Comitatus, Centurias, & Decurias descripserat, &c.

Rotagium for Rotagium, A Duty paid for mending the Highways worn out cum Rotis. It is in a Charter of Henry 2. In tallagio & Rovagio & feria & foro.

Robbers, i. e. Robbers. From the Sax. Reafian, i. e. To rob; and that from Reaf, a Garment.

Rouge Cross. See Herald.

Roundlet. See Runlet.

Rout, Routa, Turma, Cobors, A Company or Number, but in a legal Sense signifies an Assembly of Three Persons, or more, going forcibly to commit an unlawful Act, though they do it not. West. Symbol. part 2. Tit. Indictments, sect. 65. says, a Rout is the same which the German yet call Rot, meaning a Band, or great Company of Men gathered together, and going to execute, or indeed executing any Riot or unlawful Act. But the Statute of 18 E. 3. stat. 1. cap. unico, which gives Process of Outlawry against such as bring Routs into the Presence of the Justices, or in Aid of the People; and the Statute of 2

R. 2. cap. 6. that speaks of riding in great Routs to make Entry into Lands, and beat others, &c. do seem to understand it more largely. Bro. Tit. Riot 4, 5. So that a Rout seems to be an unlawful Assembly, and a Riot the disorderly Fact committed by such unlawful Assembly. Howbeit Two Things are common both to Riot, Rout, and unlawful Assembly. The one, That Three Persons at least be gathered together. The other, that being together, they do disturb the Peace, either by Words, Shew of Arms, turbulent Gesture, or actual Violence, &c. Lamb. Eiren. lib. 2. cap. 5. See Riot and unlawful Assembly.

Rotting of Clothes, 27 H. 8. 13. It may perhaps be derived from the French Rouer, versare, rotare, quia rota circumducta pannos complanare solent.

Royal Assent, Regius Assensus, Is that Assent which the King gives to a Thing formerly done by others, as to the Election of a Bishop by Dean and Chapter; which given, then he sends a special Writ for the Taking of Fealty. The Form of which you may see in F. N. B. fol. 170. And to a Bill passed in both Houses of Parliament. Crompt. Jur. fol. 8. which Assent in Parliament being once given, the Bill is endorsed with these Words, Re Roy le veut, i. It pleases the King; but if he refuse to agree to it, then thus, Le Roy s'avisera, i. The King will advise.

Royalties, Regalia vel Regalitates, Are the Rights of the King, Jura Regis, otherwise called The King's Prerogative. Some of these be such as the King may grant unto common Persons; some so high, that they may not be separated from his Crown privative, as the Civilians call it, though cumulative they may. See Bracton. lib. 2. cap. 5. and Mathew de afflicis, upon the Title of the Feuds, Que sint regalia, where he reckons up Twenty-five special Particulars of Royalties. See also Hotoman's Commentaries, in lib. 2. Feudor. cap. 56. and see Prerogative and regalia.

Royneſ, Streams, Currents, or other usual Passages of Rivers and running Waters. A Bill for opening the ancient Royneſ and Water-courses in Sedgmore in the County of Somerset, for rendering the said Moor more healthful and profitable to the Inhabitants. Votes of the House of Commons, 21 February 1698.

Rubbish, Dirty Stuff, Filth, Rubbish. Claus. 26 R. 2. Dors. 2. See Laffage.

Rudmas-Day, From the Sax. Rode, Cruce, and Mas-Day, i. e. Feast-Day; the Feasts of the Holy Cross; which are Two, viz. the 3d of May, the Invention of the Cross; the other is the 14th Day of September, called Holy-rode-Day; and is the Exaltation of the Cross.

Runcaria, (from Runca.) Land full of Brambles and Briars. 1 Inst. fol. 5. a.

Rudge washed Kerley Is that which is made of Fleece-wool, washed only on the Sheep's Back. 35 Eliz. cap. 10.

Rugi, Russians, Leg. Edw. Conf. Tit. De L. Noricorum. Aufugit ad regnum Rugorum quod nos melius vocamus Ruffiam; and afterwards speaking of Margaret the Sister of Edgar, and Queen of Scots, Ex parte vero matris, ex genere & sanguine regum Rugorum.

Runculus and Runcinus, Is used in Domestic (says Spelman) for a Load-Horse, Equus operarius colonicus, or a Sumpter-Horse; and sometimes for a Cart-Horse, which Chaucer, in the Seaman's Tale calls a Roun y.

He rod upon a Rowney as he could.

Rune, From the Sax. Rununge, i. a Course or Running, a Water-course, so called in the Marshes of Somersetsire: History of Imbanking and Draining, fol. 106.

Rungara. Inter antiquas consuetudines Abbatie S. Edmundi. In prato de Nomannes, Lond. quamdiu sanum fuerit in prato, debent Messor & Inlard esse in prato die & nocte ad custodiam sancti, & idcirco habebant sanum de cota sua, sed ipsum non debent adducere donec Cellerarius vel sui viderint si ninis apposuerint, vel non, quod si fecerint, mensurabitur & usque ad unum rungaram ad plus moderabitur, &c. Cartular. S. Edmundi, MS. fol. 318.

Runter, alias Roundlet, Is a certain Measure of Wine, Oyl, &c. containing Eighteen Gallons and a half. Anno 1 R. 3. cap. 3.

Ruoda, Leg. Saxonum, Tit. 2. sect. 1. Qui nobilem occiderit cccxl sol. componat. Roda quod dicitur apud Saxones cxx sol. & inter premium cxx ad Ruod veteri lingua Saxonica crucem significat. For it is most certain, that our Ancestors the Saxons called the Cross, Rode or Roode; hence came the Rode-loft, and we still call Diem Sanctæ Crucis, Holy-rood-Day.

Rupta Is the same with Routa, which see. Mat. Paris. in Anno 1199. uses it for a Troop of Soldiers. Qui duces fuerant caterva (quam Ruttam vocamus) militantes sub Comite Fo. fratre Regis Richardi equitationem facerent, &c.

Ruptarii, Milites, Soldiers. Mat. Par. in Anno 1198. Sed quoniam idem Episcopus (Belluacensis) contra ordinis sui dignitatem captus fuerat in armis, ut miles vel Ruptarius, non prius est abire permixtus donec 6000. argenti carucis ad pondus sterlingorum numeratis & fisco commendatis Regia concupiscentia satisfisset. Hollinthead, pag. 243. calls them Rutters, and pag. 98, 99. Ruptarii, i. e. Robbers, called also Rutarii; and Rutta was a Company of Robbers. Mat. Paris. Anno 1250. mentions the one, viz. Ubi est ille Ruptarius percussor impius, &c. And Newbrigenſis mentions the other, viz. Per stipendiarum militum quam Rutas vocant; from whence we derive the Word Rout, and Bankrupt. See Rout.

Ruptura, Arable Land, or Ground broke. Terram quoque tam in mansuris quam in rupturis totius parochia hominibus ibi hospitatis excolendam, reservato tantummodo campo concessit. Orderic. Vital. lib. 5. pag. 596.

Rural Deans, Decani rurales. Of whom Spelman gives this Account, Sunt Decani temporales ad aliquod Ministerium sub Episcopo vel Archiepiscopo exercendum constituti; qui nec habent institutionem Canonice secundum Doctores. And this Rural Dean he supposes to be the same, which in the Laws of Edward the Confessor, cap. 31. is called Episcopi Decanus. See Dean. Each Diocese hath in it one or more Archdeacons for Dispatch of Ecclesiastical Business, and every Archdeaconry subdivided into fewer or more Rural Deanries. Heylin's Cosmog. fol. 304. and he says, they were antiently called Arch-Presbyteri & Decani Christianitatis. See a Dissertation of the Institution and Authority of Rural Deans, by Mr. Kennet, in his Paro. b. Antiquities.

Rusta. Habuit Rex (Griffin) unum Mancernium Bisepſtreu, & in Dominio unam Carucam habebat, & homines ejus sex Carucas. Quando ipse Rex ibi veniebat, reddebat ei unaquaq; Caruca CC. Hellthas, unam

unam Cunam plenam Cervisia & unam butyri Ruscum. Domesday, Tit. Cestre. This Rusca butyri was a Tub of Butter, in Ireland still called a Ruskin. Rusca apum is a Hive of Bees. Hence Decima de Ruscis, was used for Tithe of Bees. Charta Will. de Bray mil. Canonis de Osney, temp. Hen. 3. See Heslra. Decimam de agnis, de caseis & velleribus, de vitulis, de Ruscis & de faldravis. Mon. 2. Tom. pag. 986.

Ruscaria, (from Ruscus.) The Soil where Kneeholm or Butchers-Broom grows, or where the Holly or Holm-Tree; for Ruscus Sylvestris signifies that Tree.

Rusche, Mellarium, alveare. For so it seems to signify in a Charter of Will. Bray Knight, made to the Canons of Osney—Ita tamen, ut tantum de apibus, quas ipse Will. & baredes qui & homines sui in Curia habebant, decimas percipiant, scil. de Ruscis. It may be derived from the French Ruche, that signifies in Latin Alveare.

Rustici, The Churls, Churls, Clowns, or inferior Country Tenants, who held Cottages and Lands by the Services of Ploughing, and other Labours of Agriculture for the Lord. The Land of such ignoble Tenure was called by the Saxons Gassolland, as afterwards Socage Tenure, and was sometimes distinguished by the Name of Terra Rusticorum. So Gilbert Basset gave to his Priory of Bur-ester.—Unam virgatum terra in Strattun collectam de terra Rusticorum, que data fuit in dote predicta Capelle. Paroch. Antiquit. pag. 136.

Rutarii, Stipendiary Forces, or Mercenary Soldiers, in the Service of our old English Kings, who came from Foreign Parts, especially from Germany—Anno 1216. 18 Cal. Febr. cepit Johannes Rex Anglie villam & castellum de Berwic. ubi cum Rutariis suis feroci supra modum & inhumani usus est tyrannide.—In veditu autem suo Rutarii sui Ministri Diaboli Abbatiam de Coldingebam expugnaverunt. Chron. Mailros. sub anno.

Rutupium, Sandwich in Kent.

Rymmers about, They seem to be Vagabonds, q. d. Roamers about. Skene, lib. De Crimin. Capital. Tit. 2. C. 14. Parag. 2. F. 135. pag. 2.

S.

Sabbatum, In Domesday, Tit. Sudsex, is used for Peace; Terra Will. Episcopi de Tetford, Bisces hundred, num. 18. Postquam Willielmus Rex advenit & sedebat in Sabbato, & Willielmus Mallet fecit suum mastellum de Eia, &c.

Sabellina pillee, i. e. Sables. It is mentioned in Hoveden, pag. 758. Petit ab Episcopo Lincolnien. singulis annis unum mantellum furratum de Sabellinis. So in Brompton, Anno 1188. Statutum fuit in Anglorum gente ne quis Escarleto, Sabelino vario, vel griseo utoretur. See R. Hagulfstad, pag. 328. and Neubrigensis, lib. 3. cap. 22.

Sables. See Furr.

Sabulonarium, A Gravel-pit, or the free Use of it, a Liberty to dig Gravel or Sand, or a Right to receive the Money paid by others for Leave to dig Gravel or Sand within such a Precinct.—Et debent habere Sabulonarium & chiminagium per totam censariam predictam.—Petit. Parl. temp. Ed. 3.

Sabulosa Terra, i. e. Sandy Ground. Eleta, lib. 2. cap. 76.

Sac, Saccha vel saucha. This Minheru renders to signify a Royalty or Privilege touching Plea, or Correction of Trespasses of Men within a Manor; and that the Word Sac in the Saxon Tongue properly signifies as much as (Causa with the Latines) Sake, whence we in English still retain the Expression, for whose Sake, &c. that is, for whose Cause: But in the Laws of Edward the Confessor, thus, Sacha est quod si quilibet aliquem nominatim de aliquo calumniatus fuerit, & ille negaverit, forisfactura probationis vel negationis (si eoverit) sua erit. I will also exhibit an Exposition both of Socba & Sacha out of a very ancient Manuscript Book, in which are registred several Donations to a Cathedral Church in England, being in the Custody of Silas Taylor Gent. where, after the Recital of a certain Charter, granted by Edward the Confessor to them, Cum Saka & cum Sokna, there follows an Exposition of them both in red Letters thus,

Sequitur expositio illorum Terminorum Soka & Saka.

The first is only the Suit of Court due by the Inhabitants of a Lordship or Manor; and Sac is the Liberty of holding Pleas, and imposing Mulcts and Forfeitures upon Transgressors in that Court. But Rassal, and some others, define Sac to be the Forfeiture it self. Bracton, lib. 3. tract. 2. cap. 8. quoted by Staundford in his Pleas of the Crown, lib. 1. cap. 23. uses the Word, but both of them leave the Signification undetermined. Skene de verbor. signif. verb. Sack, writes, That in some old Books it is called Placitum de transgressionibus hominum in curia vestra; see him at large, and Hoveden, part. suor. annal. fol. 345. See Keilway's Rep. fol. 145. Et Breve Hen. 2. Jusficiarius de Norfolk. Precipio ut sanctus Benedictus de Ramesia ita bene & libere habeat Socam & Sacam suam, &c. See Saka.

Sacaburh, alias Sacabere, or Sakeberr, Is he that is robbed, or by Theft deprived, of his Money or Goods, and puts in Surety to prosecute the Thief with fresh Suit; according to Selden, in his Titles of Honour, and Britten, cap. 15 & 29. With whom agrees Bracton, (lib. 3. tract. 2. cap. 32. n. 2.) Furtum vero manifestum est, ubi latro deprehensus sit furtum de aliquo latrocinio, sc. Hondhabend & Backberend, & insecutus fuerit per aliquem cujus res illa fuerit, qui dicitur Sacaburh, &c. It may come from Sac, or Saca, i. e. Lis, causa, prosecutio, and Burh, Pignus, hoc est, Furti Symbolum. Spelman. Sir Edward Coke says, Sacabere, or Sakeberr, is derived of Sac and Bere, that is, he that did bear the Bag. 3 Inst. fol. 69.

Saccini Were Monks so called, because they wore next their Skins a Garment of Goats Hair; for Saccus signifies coarse Cloth made of such Hair. They are mentioned by our Historian Walsingham, viz. Aliquos status de ordinibus predicatorum approbavit, aliquos reprobat ut Succinos, &c.

De Saccis, Fratres de Saccis. The Sackcloth Brethren, or the Penitential Order. Furati presentant quod Adam de Huriel tenuit ut escaetum sum. C c c 2

Domas

Domos quæ valent per annum 10 sol. quæ quondam fuerunt Fratrum de penitentia qui vocabantur Fratres de Saccis infra Aldemariam de Westgate in civitate Cantuar. Placit. 8 Ed. 2.

Sacrus cum Brochia Was a Service or Tenure of finding a Sack and a Brôach to the King, for the Use of his Army. Bracton, lib. 2. tract. 1. cap. 6. hath these Words, Si quis teneat per servitium inveniendi Domino Regi certis locis & certis temporibus unum hominem & unum equum & Sacrum cum Brochia, pro aliqua necessitate vel utilitate exercitum suum contingente.

Sacrobogh, alias Sikerbogh, Securus plegius vel pignus, A good Pledge or sufficient Caution. See Sacaburh.

Sack of Wool, Sacus Lana, Is a Quantity of Wool containing Twenty-six Stone, and every Stone Fourteen Pounds. 14 E. 3. stat. 1. cap. 2. See Sarplar. In Scotland it is Twenty-four Stone, and each Stone Sixteen Pounds. See Skene.

Satrafild Rents Are certain small Rents paid by some Tenants of the Manor of Chuton in Somersetshire, to Sir Charles Waldgrave Lord thereof; but he cannot tell why they are so called.

Sacramento recipiende, quod triua firs se non maritabit sine licentia Regis, Is a Writ or Commission to one, for the Taking of an Oath of the King's Widow, that she shall not marry without the King's Licence. Reg. Orig. fol. 228.

Sacramentum, An Oath: The common Form of all Inquisitions made by a Jury of free and legal Men—Qui dicunt super Sacramentum suum. Whence possibly the proverbial Offering to take the Sacrament in affirming or denying, was first meant of attesting upon Oath.

Sacramentum Altaris, The Sacrifice of the Mass, or what we now call the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper. For which Communion, in the Times of Popery, the Parish-Priest provided Bread for the People, and Wine for himself, out of the ample Offerings; and in appropriated Church this Burden was commonly laid upon the Vicar, because he received the customary Oblations.—Panem & vinum pro Sacramento Altaris Vicarius illius Ecclesie (i. e. de Meriton Com. Oxon.) propriis sumptibus exhibebit. Paroch. Antiqu. pag. 483.

Sacramentum plenum, Dictum reor (says Spelman) de completo numero ducenario, ut in Leg. Edw. Confes. ab Ingulpho datis, cap. 17.

Sacrilegium, Sacrilege, or an Alienation to Lay-Men, and to profane or common Purposes, of what was given to religious Persons, and to pious Uses. Our honest Fore-fathers were very tender of incurring the Guilt and Scandal of this Crime. And therefore when the Order of the Knights-Templars was dissolved, their Lands, &c. were all given to the Knights Hospitallers of Jerusalem, for this Sacred Reason.—Ne in pios usus erogata contra donatorum voluntatem in alios usus distraherentur—Paroch. Antiquit. p. 390.

Sæctiffa, (Lat.) In old Times called Sagerfon, and Sagifston; now Sexton.

Sacrobarra, Lib. MS. de Officio Coronatoris, Inquirendum est per 12 juratores pro Rege super Sacramentum suum quod fideliter presentabant sine ullo concealamento omnes fortunas, (i. fortasse occisos) abjuraciones, appella, mura, Sacrobarra, felonias factas, per quas & que, &c. Quere, saith Spelman, if Sacrobarra be not the same with Sacrilegia.

Safe Conduct, Salvus Conductus, Is a Security given by the Prince, under the Great Seal of England, to a Foreigner, for his quiet coming in and passing out of the Realm; touching which, read the Statutes, 15 H. 6. 4. 18 H. 6. 8. & 28 H. 8. cap. 1. and the Form of it, Reg. Orig. fol. 25.

Safe Guard. See Salva guardia.

Safe Pledge, Salvus plegius, Is a Surety given for a Man's Appearance against a Day assigned. Bracton, lib. 4. cap. 2. num. 2. where it is also called certus plegius.

Sageman, (Sax.) LL. Hen. 1. cap. 36. Seems to signify a Tale-teller, or secret Accuser. From the Sax. Saga, i. e. Fabula.

Sagibaro, alias Sachbaro, The same that at present is called Jusficiarius; for Sagibarones were causarum judices qui in publicis conventibus jus dicebant litetq; dirimebant, from whence also the Name may be derived; for Sac or Sag signifies Causam or litem, and Baro, virum vel hominem, as one would say, Vir causarum, a Judge.

Sagittæ Barbata, A bearded Arrow, such as we usually call A broad Arrow. Reddendo inde annuatim pro omni servitio sex Sagittas Barbatas ad Festum Sancti Michaelis, &c. Carta Hugonis de Logis, sine Dat.

Sagittaria, A Sort of small Vessels, or Ships with Oars and Sails. Exin pro varietate locorum vario desudans navigio, modo Sagittario, modo litre, nec tam utens remo quam velo. R. de Diceto, Anno 1176.

Sagmarinus equus, A Sumpter-Horse; from Sagma, orus.

Sailing Ware, Anno 1 R. 3. cap. 8. May be Canvas, or such other Cloth as Sails for Ships are made of.

Saio & Saiones, Fori vel Magistratus Minister, A Tiptaff or Serjeant at Arms, qui reos protrahunt in judicium. It may be derived from the Sax. Sagol, Eufis, because they use to carry a Rod or Staff of Silver.

Staufd. Pl. Cor. lib. 2. cap. 38. This seems to have taken Beginning from the Cities of Refuge, mentioned Exod. cap. 21. In Imitation whereof, first the Athenians, then Romulus, erected such a Place of Immunity, which they called Asylum. Polydor. Virgil. de inventione rerum, lib. 3. cap. 12. The like did the Roman Emperors, as appears, Cor. lib. 1. Tit. 15. But amongst all others, our ancient Kings of England attributed most to these Sanctuaries, permitting them to shelter such, as had committed both Felonies and Treasons, so that within Forty Days they acknowledged their Fault, and submitted themselves to Banishment; during which Time, if any Layman expelled them, he was excommunicated, if any Clerk he was made irregular: But after Forty Days, no Man might relieve them. Staufd. Pl. Cor. lib. 2. cap. 38. See of this the New Book of Entries, verb. Sanctuary, and Fleta, lib. 1. cap. 29. and how by Degrees they have been taken away, read 26 H. 8. 13. 28 H. 8. 7. 32 H. 8. 12. 33 H. 8. 15. 1 E. 6. 12. 2 E. 6. 2 & 33. 5 E. 6. 10. See Abjuratio. Of these there were many in England, but one more famous than the Rest at St. John's of Bewerley, which the Saxons called Fridstoll, which had this Inscription, Hac sedes Lapidea Freedstoll, dicitur, i. Pacis Cathedra ad quam reus fugiendo conveniens, omnimodo habet securitatem. So had St. Martins le Grand in London. 21 E. 8. cap. 16. Rippon had the like; for which see Froamortel. Croyland had the like, granted by Whitlase, King of the Mercians. St. Burien in Cornwall had the like, granted by K. Athelstan, Anno 936. ment at the same Time, or such like. New Book of Entries, verb. Saver de default.

Saunkneine May be derived from the French Sang, sanguis, and fin, finis; and is a Phrase used by Briton, cap. 119. for the Determination or final Race of a Descent of Kindred.

Saurus, i. e. A Hawk of a Year old. Per servitium unius aurtorii Sauri, vel unius Esparverii Sauri. Bracton, lib. 5. tract. 1. cap. 2. par. 1.

Sauvagina for Salvagina, or Silvagina, i. e. Beasts which live in the Woods. De tota Sauvagina & omnibus bestijs silvestribus cujusunque generis forent, &c.

Saronlage, Seaxenlaga, Lex Saxonum. See Merenlage.

Scabini, Wardens, was a Word used by the Wardens of Linne in Norfolk, in a Charter in these Words, Sciant presentes & futuri quod nos Richardus Bowghere Aldermannus, Edw. Baker, Joh. Browne, Rob. Some, & Will. Hall, Draper, Custodes five scabini & fratres fraternitatis five Gilde Mercatorie sancte Trinitatis ville Lenne Episcopi in Corn. Norf. pro quadam pecunia summa inter nos prefatum Aldermanum & custodes five scabinos, & fratres & Thomam Miller de Lenne predicta mercatorem concordati, tradidimus, divisimus & concessimus, &c. totum illud Messuagium nostrum, &c. Dat. 20 die Apr. Anno Reg. Regis, Hen. 8. 18.

Ad Scalam, The old Way of paying into the Exchequer Twenty Shillings and Six Pence for a Pound Sterling. Gervase of Tilbury reports, that King William the First, for the better Pay of his Warriors, caused the Arms, which till his Time had for the most Part been answered in Viſuals, to be converted in Pecuniam numeratam, and directed the Whole in every County to be charged on the Sheriff, to be by him brought into the Exchequer; adding, that the Sheriff should make the Payment Ad Scalam, hoc est (as the foresaid Author expounds it) solueret preter quamlibet numeratam libram sex denarios. For at that Time Six Pence super-added made up the full Weight, and near the intrinsic Value. Vide Lownd's Essay on Coin, pag. 4. This was agreed upon as a Medium to be the common Estimate or Remedy for the defective Weight of Money, thereby to avoid the Trouble of weighing the Money brought into the Exchequer. Vide Hale of Sheriff's Accounts, pag. 21.

Scalera, The same with Scaliera, i. e. a Quarry or Stone-Pit. Et inde sicut Regale Chiminum se extendit usque ad Scaleram que est super feodum Britii palmarii, & a dicta Scalera per quandam semitam, &c. Du Cange.

Scalinga, A Quarry or Pit for Stones, or rather Slates for covering Houses. French Escale-lie. Whence our Scales, and the scaling of Stones. — Communum pasturam totius more, cum liberis hominibus meis, & unam scalingam in competenti loco ultra Hertingburn. Mon. Angl. Tom. 2. pag. 130. in bosco, in plano, in pratis, in pascuis, in misset, & scalingis, &c. ib. p. 633.

Scalingæ. Rich. de Luci omnibus. Sciatis me dedisse Burgenſibus meis de Egremund & keredibus suis Gretefoh, cum omnibus pertinentiis suis, & terram de Ulecotes, &c. Et sciendum est quod possint Scalingas suas ponere in predicta terra juxta divisiones de Sinton inter Milneberch & Eken, ita quod nullus homo ibi manere debet ad focum & locum, preter pastores, &c. Penes Will Dugdale Mil. Of which Word thus a learn- a learned Person writes: "I have no where else met with your Sealing, and am as much to seek for the Meaning of it as your self. If I may contribute my Conjecture, I should guess by Sealing as meant Partitions or Divisions; as coming from the Saxon Seale, Distinctio, Separatio, whence their Verb Sylan, Distingere, separare. In which Sense the Dutch (as I learn from Kilian) use Scheelen." The Foot-grates at Church-yards are called Sealings. Scandalum Magnatum Is the special Name of a Statute, and also of a Wrong done to any high Personage of the Land, as Prelates, Dukes, Earls, Barons, and other Nobles; and also to the Chancellor, Treasurer, Clerk of the Privy Seal, Steward of the House, Justice of one Bench or other, and other great Officers of the Realm, by false News, or horrible or false Messages, whereby Debates and Discords betwixt them and the Commons, or any Scandal to their Persons might arise. Anno 2 R. 2. cap. 5. and hath given Name to a Writ, granted to recover Damages thereupon.

Scangium, for Exambium.

Scannum caducum, Scannum caducum, A Cucking-Stool, or Ducking-Stool — Debet mulier pro debili, i. e. mala cervix tertio vice pati iudicium corporale, scil. in scanno caduco, & tum cervix debet capi in manu Abbatis — Conferuudines Abbatie de Farrendon, MS. fol. 22.

Scapton for Scaptrum. Missurum etiam argenteum. Scapton aureum, item sellam cum freno aureo, &c. Mon. i. Tom. pag. 24.

Scatatus Signifies either Chequered or Scarlet. Caligis etiam rubris, etiam Saccatis, for Scatatis. Concilium Londinense, Anno 1342. cap. 2.

Scavage, Scavagium. It is otherwise called Schevage, Shewage and Scheauwing, may be deduced from the Saxon Seavian, offendere, and is a Kind of Toll or Custom exacted by Mayors, Sheriffs, &c. of Merchant-Strangers, for Wares shewed or offered to Sale within their Precincts, which is prohibited by the Statute 19 H. 7. 8. In a Charter of Henry the Second to the City of Canterbury, it is written Seewinga, and (in Mon. Ang. 2. per. fol. 890. b.) Seauwing; and elsewhere I find it in Latin Tributum Offensorum. The City of London still retains the Custom, of which in An old printed Book of the Customs of London, we read thus, Of which Custom halfe del appertaineth to the Sheriffs, and the other halfe del to the Hostys in whose Houses the Merchants been lodged: And it is to wiet that Scavage is the Shew by cause that Merchandises shewn unto the Sheriffs Merchandises, of the which Customs ought to be taken ere that any thing thereof be sold, &c.

Scabenaer, From the Belgick Scavan, to scrape. Two of every Parish within London and the Suburbs, are yearly chosen into this Office, who hire Men called Rakers, and Carts to cleanse the Streets, and carry away the Dirt and Filth thereof, mentioned 14 Car. 2. cap. 2. The Germans call him a Drecksimon, from one Simon, a noted Scavenger of Marpurg.

Sceap, A Measure of Corn. Latin Scapula. Scapula from Scapba, a Boat, or Skip, or Sciff. Sceppa salis, a Quantity of Salt. Mon. Ang. Tom. 2. pag. 284. — Eight Quarter and one Sceap of Wheat Paroch. Antiq. pag. 604. A Basket (and Baskets were formerly the common Standards of Measure) is now called a Skip or Skep in the South Parts of England; and a Bee hive is termed a Bee-skip.

Sceata, (From the Saxon Sceat, i. e. a small Part.) This was a brass Coin amongst the Saxons equal to Four Saxon Farthings; so that Five Sceats made Six Pence.

Serithman, (Saxon) A Pyrate or Thief. LL. Etheldredi, apud Brompton.

Sceppa salis, An ancient Measure of Salt, the Quantity (I think) now not known. Et quinque Sceppas salis per annum de salinis meis de Westnotum. Mon. Angl. 2. Par. fol. 824. b.

Scurum, A Barn or Granary. It is mentioned in Ingluphus, pag. 862. Cepit largiente domino bonis omnibus abundare ut tam in Theauris quam Scuris postmodum dupli ia redderentur.

Schaffa, A Sheaf, as Schaffa sagittaria a Sheaf of Arrows. See Skene de verbor. signif. eod. verbo.

Scharpenur, — Sampson Dei gr. Abbas S. Edmundi & Cono. salutem, &c. facta est compositio inter Nos & Burgenfes de villa S. Edmundi quod Prepositus ejusdem ville dabit singulis annis — denarios quos appellabant Resefilore, item denarios pro faldagio vaccarum ipsius ville quos nominabant Scharpenny, &c. Cartular. S. Edmundi, MS. fol. 247. From whence I think may be inferred, that some customary Tenants were obliged to pen up their Cattel at Night in the Pound or Yard of the Lord, for the Benefit of their Dung, or if they did not so, they paid a small Compensation call'd Scharpenny or Scharpenny, i. e. Dung-penny, or Money in Lieu of Dung. The Saxon Seearn signified Muck or Dung. In some Parts of the North they still call Cow-dung by the Name of Cow-Skern, and in Westmorland a Scarry Houghs, is a nasty dirty Dunghil-Wench. The same Duty above-mentioned was likewise called Schorpenny, nearer to the Original Seearn, Dung, and is thus plainly described in the same old Cartulary of St. Edmundsbury in Suffolk. — Burgenfibus villa S. Edmundi data est quantitas cujusdam consuetudinis qua dicitur Schorn-penny. — Solebat enim Cellerarius accipere unum denarium per annum de qualibet vacca hominum villa pro exitu, (i. e. their Dung) nisi forte essent vacca capellorum vel Seruientium Curia quas vaccas solebat impare. — ib. fol. 31.

Scharatus, The Officer who collected the Scavage-Money, which was sometimes done with Extortion and great Oppression. Richardus Episcopus Dunelmensis consecratus Anno 1311. Schavallos insurgentes in Episcopatu fortiter composuit. Aliqui suspensebantur, aliqui extra Episcopatum fugabantur. Hilt. Dunelm. apud Wharton. Ang. Sac. P. 1. p. 756. Rex nitebatur fratrem Episcopi capere, & in vindictam Schayvaldi vel Pradonis Johannis de Werdala a Servis Episcopi occisi in Insula sacra in mortem trahere. Ibid.

Scheren-silver, Shearing-silver, or a Payment of a small Sum of Money to the Lord by a customary Tenant for the Liberty of Shearing his Sheep. In the Manor of Berton Magna held of the Abbot and Convent of St. Edmund in Suffolk — Alexander Rason tenet unum messuagium & quinq; acras terra — Et si habeat bidentem vel vaccam dabit Scheren-silver sicut Rogerus de Holme. Cartular. S. Edmundi, MS. fol. 26. b. Though possibly it is the same with Schar-penny, or Money given for Dung of Beasts.

Schetes, The Commons pray that Order may be taken against the horrible Vice of Usury, then termed Schetes, and practised by the Clergy as well as the Laity. Rot. Parl. 14 Ricb. 2.

Schiffa,

Schilla, A little Bell which was formerly used in the Monasteries, and often mentioned in our Histories, viz. Sumpta in manibus chorda pro excitandis fratribus Schillam pulsantem. Eadmerus lib. 1. cap. 8.

Schilppenny, Tributum singulo scuto impositum, escuagium, feutagium, vide.

Schirman, (Sax. Scirman.) A Sheriff. LL. Ina Regis apud Brompton. See Shireman.

Scipfogunga, Apparatus navigii, Ship-tackle.

Skaracalla. It was especially given in Charge by the Justices in Eyre, that all Juries should inquire De hiis qui piscantur cum Kiddellis & Skaracallis. Co. 2 par. Inst. fol. 38.

Schirrensgeld, Schire-geld, A Tax paid to the Sheriffs for keeping the Shire or County-Court. In Berton Magna Wilhelmus Filius Johannis Marckaunt tenet partem messuagii & unam acram terra — & reddit quolibet tertio anno unum den. ad Ward-sker die S. Petri ad vincula & quolibet tertio anno 1 denar. Hundreds-geld & Schirrensgeld — temp. Ed. 1. Ex Cartular. Abbat. S. Edmundi. MS. fol. 37. b.

Scilly Jiles. See Silline Insule.

Scire facias Is a Writ Judicial, most commonly to call a Man to shew cause to the Court whence it issues, why Execution of a Judgment passed, should not be made out: This Writ is not granted until a Year and a Day be elapsed after a Judgment given. Old Nat. Brev. fol. 151. Scire facias upon a Fine lies not, but within the same Time after the Fine levied, otherwise it is the same with the Writ of Habere facias seisinam. West Symbol. part. 2. Tit. Fines, sect. 137. and 25 E. 3. Stat. 5. ca. 2. & 39 El. c. 7. Other Diversities of this Writ you may find in the Table of the Register Judicial and Original. See also the New Book of Entries, verb. Scire facias.

Scirewyte, The annual Tax or Prestation paid to the Sheriff, for holding the Assizes or County-Courts. — In solutiis pro quadam pensione vocata Scirewyte annuatim 10 sol. — Paroch. Antiqu. p. 573.

Scrite, 32 H. 8. cap. 20. See Site.

Scogilus, The Hilt or artificial Handle of a Sword. — Ensis Scogilatus, a Hilted Sword. — Si inter aliquos dissensio consurgat, ex quo aliquis eorum gladium scogilatum evaginet, non est etiam expectandum ut percutiat. Leg. Hen. 1. cap. 83.

Scot, (Sax. Sceat, i. e. a Part or Portion) is (according to Rassal) a certain Custom or common Tollage, made to the Use of the Sheriff or his Bailiffs. Scot (says Camden out of Matth. Westm.) illud dicitur, quod ex diversis rebus in unum aerarium aggregatur. Anno 22 Hen. 8. cap. 3. Bearing neither Scot, Lot, nor other Charges, &c. Anno 33 H. 8. c. 9. In Records it is sometimes written Scoth.

Scot and Lot (Anno 33 Hen. 8. cap. 9.) Signifies a customary Contribution laid upon all Subjects, according to their Ability. Hooeden (in principio Hen. 2.) writes it Anlote & Ansote. In the Laws of William the Conqueror, set forth by Lambard, you have these Words; (cap. 54.) Et omnis Francigena, qui tempore Edwardi propinqui nostri fuit in Anglia, particeps Consuetudinum Anglorum, quod ipsi dicunt Anhlote & Anlcote persolvat secundum legem Anglorum. Again; Rex omne injustum Scotum interdidit. Hoven. in Anno 1088. Scot, from the Sax. Sceat, ut supra; Lot, Sax. Llot, i. e. Sors.

Willielmus Rex Anglorum Herberto Norwicensi Episcopo & omnibus Baronibus suis de Norfolk & Suffolc salutem. Sciatis me dedisse Sanctæ Trinitati Norwicensi Ecclesie, rogatu Rogeri Bigoti, terram Michaelis de Utmonasterio & terram de Tancrham, quæ ad eandem terram pertinet, quietam semper & liberam ab omnibus Scotis & Geldis, & omnibus aliis Consuetudinibus. T. Eudone Dapifero apud Westm. &c.

See of the Bishop in Loisinga.

Scotal, or Scotalc, (Scottalla & Scotalium.) is a Word used in the Charter of the Forest, c. 8. Nihilus Forestarius vel Bedellus faciat Scottallas, vel Garbas colligat, vel aliquam Collectam faciat, &c. Manwood, Par. 1. pag. 216. defines it thus: A Scotal is where any Officer of the Forest keeps an Ale-house within the Forest, by Colour of his Office, causing Men to come to his House, and there to spend their Money for Fear of Displeasure. It is compounded of Scot and Ale; which by Transposition of the Words is otherwise called an Ale-shot, and by the Welshmen Cymmorth.

Memorandum, quod predicti tenentes (de South-malling) debent de consuetudine inter eos facere Scotalium de xvi denariis & ob. Ita quod de singulis sex denariis detur 1 denar. & ob. ad potandum cum Bedello Domini Archiepiscopi super predictum Pedum. Ex veteri Consuetudinario Manerii de South-malling Archivis Archiep. Cantuar.

Spelman derives it from Scot & Tallia, i. e. a Tribute. So that Scotalium is a Kind of Contribution of any Thing. And Brompton is of the same Opinion, viz. A Contribution towards the Charge of the Bailiffs. But in the English Councils it signifies a Drinking-bout. Communes potationes quas Scottallas mutato nomine caritatis appellant, detestantes. Concil. Lambeth. Anno 1206. c. 2.

Scottare. Those Tenants are said Scottare whose Lands are subject to pay Scot. Et de tota terra sua extra Burghum de Thetford de qua non Scottaverunt tempore Rogeri Bigot. Monsiack, 1 Tom. pag. 875. In a Charter of King Henry 1. to the Abbey of St. Edmund in Suffolk. — Et prohibeo ut Homines Sancti Edmundi & terre sue non aliter scottent quam tunc temporis fecerunt — Test. Roberto Malet apud Westm. Ex Cartular. S. Edmundi. MS. penes Joh. Episcopum Norwic. fol. 166.

Scrozars, Schozers, Wheels for some Carriage; they seem to have been Plough-Wheels, from Saxon Scot, Shoes and Erian to Plough or Ear. — Et in uno pari rotarum vocat. Schozers emptio ibidem vii sol. ii. den. — Paroch. Antiquit. p. 373.

Scrudland, A Saxon Word, and is Terra cujus proventus vestibus emendis assignati sunt. Land allotted for buying Apparel. See the Saxon Dictionary hoc verbo. Ita Eadssus quidam Presbyter in Charta sua Ecclesie Cantuar. data dedit etiam terram illam apud Orpedingunam in vita sua, pro anima sua, Deo in Ecclesia Christi servientibus in Scrudland, i. e. Eundum vestiarium. Sax. Dict.

Scutage (Scutagium, Sax. Scildpenig) Was a Tax or Contribution, raised from those that held Lands by Knights-Service, towards furnishing the King's Army, at One, Two, or Three Marks for for every Knight's Fee, for Henry the Third, for his Voyage to the Holy-Land, and a Tenth granted by the Clergy, and Scutage, Three Marks of every Knight's Fee by the Laity. Baronag. Anglia, 1 Part. fol. 211. b. This was also levied by Henry the Second, Richard the First, and King John. See Esfuage.

Scutagio habendo Was a Writ that lay for the King, or other Lord, against the Tenant that held by Knights-Service, to serve by himself, or else to send a sufficient Man in his Place, or pay, &c. where the King intended to make a Warlike Expedition against the Scots or French. F. N. B. f. 85. It is used in the Register Original, for him to recover Esfuage of others, that hath either by Service or Fine performed his own to the King, fol. 88. b.

Scutus, a French Gold Coin, value 3 s. 4 d. coined about the Year 1427. in the Reign of Henry V. It comes from the French Word Ecu, which signifies a Crown, or Gold Money. Katherine, Queen of England, had an Assurance made her of sundry Castles, Manors, Lands, &c. severally named, and valued to the Sum of Forty Thousand Scutes, every Two whereof were worth a Noble. Rot. Parl. 1 H. 6. n. 40. So the learned Fortescu, speaking of the Inns of Courts, says, In his enim Hospitiis nequaquam potest studens aliquis sustentari minoribus expensis in Anno, quam octoginta Scutorum, cap. 49.

Scutella, Scotella, From Scutum. Sax. Scutel, Scuttle, any Thing of a flat and broad Shape, like a Shield, especially a Plate or Dish, a shallow wooden Bowl or Platter is still called a Scuttle. And in Kent, the broader Shovel with which they turn Malt or Corn, is called the Skuttle. — Et in duabus scotellis manualibus emptis ibidem vii den. &c. Paroch. Antiquit. pag. 574.

Scutella elemosynaria, An Alms-Basket or Scuttle. Et praterea singulis futuris seculi tres parces de Scutella elemosynaria. Charta Wal. Mucbegros.

Scutum Armorum, A Coat of Arms — Noverint universi per presentes me Johannam nuper uxorem Will. Leigh de Knightley Dominam & ream heredem de Knightley dedisse, &c. Richardo Peshale filio Hunfridi Peshale scutum armorum meorum. Habend. & tenend. ac portand. & utend. ubique voluerit, sibi & heredibus suis in perpetuum; Ita quod nec ego nec aliquis alius nomine meo aliquod jus vel clamorem vel calumpniam in predicto scuto habere poterimus, sed per presentes sumus exclusi in perpetuum, In cuius, &c. Dat. apud Knightley. Anno 14 H. 6.

Scyldmilt, (Sax.) Multa detractatæ seu derelictæ militi. LL. H. 1. cap. 38. Or rather, a Mult for any Fault; from the Sax. Scilde, i. e. Delictum, and Wite, pœna, Si Scyldwite intra Burgum, & curiam fiat 30 denar. emendetur Regi & Thaynis. Leg. H. 1. c. 38.

Scyra. All the Tenants were bound to attend the Syregemot; and those who neglected were to pay a Mult or Fine, which was called Syra, viz. Si libera & quieta de Schyris & hundredis. Mon. 1 Tom. pag. 52.

Scyrcwitas, The Scire, Ward, or Division of a City. In Eboraco civitate T. R. E. præter scyram Archiepiscopi fuerunt sex scyræ, una ex his est vastata in castellis. Lib. Domest. dei.

Syregemot Is a mere Saxon Word, and signifies a Court held twice every Year (as the Sheriffs Turn is now) by the Bishop of the Diocese and the Ealdorman (in Shires that had Ealdormen) and by the Bishops and Sheriffs; in such as were committed to the Sheriffs that were immediate to the King, wherein both the Ecclesiastical and Temporal Laws, were given in Charge to the Country. Selden's Titles of Honour, fol. 520. See Conffitory. This Court at first was held Three Times in the Year, viz. Et habeatur in Anno ter Burgimotus & Scire-motus. Leg. Cannt. cap. 38. But Edward the Confessor, cap. 35. appointed it to be held Twelve Times, and Hundreda & Wapentachia duodecies in anno congregari.

Seal (Sigillum) Is well known: The first sealed Charter we find extant in England, is that of King Edward the Confessor upon his Foundation of Westminster Abbey. Dugdale's Warwickshire, fol. 148. b. Yet we read in the Manuscript History of Offa, King of the Mercians, — Rex Offa literas Regii Sigilli sui munimine consignatas eidem Nunio commisit defendendas. And that Seals were in Use in the Saxons Time, see Taylor's History of Gavelkind, fol. 73. See Wang. Anno 1536. Domini etiam atque Generis, relictis imaginibus equitum in Sigillis, posuerunt Arma sua in parvis Scutis. Chron. Joh. Rossi, in Bibl. Cotton. Md. quod Henricus de Pergount die Luna in crastino S. Mich. venit in Cancellaria apud Lincoln & publice dixit quod Sigillum suum amisit, & protestatur, quod si aliquod Instrumentum cum Sigillo illo post tempus illud inveniretur consignatum, illud nullius esse valoris vel momenti. Claus. 8 Edw. 1. m. 3. dorso. See Sigillum and Obligation.

It was usual in the Time of H. 2. and before, to seal all Grants with the Sign of the Cross; Has donationes & ordinationes confirmavit & cruce signarunt Henricus Rex & Mathildis Regina. Monast. 3 Tom. f. 7. and Odericus Vitalis tells us, That Archbishop Dunstan with his Suffragans, predictarum rerum donationem facto crucis in Charta signo corroboravit, lib. 4.

That most of the Charters of the English Saxon Kings were thus signed, appears by Ingulphus, and in the Monasticon, and that the Crosses were all Gold. But it was not so much used after the Conquest: Nam Chirographorum confessionem Anglicanam qua antea usque ad Edwardi Regis tempora fidelium presentium subscriptionibus cum crucibus aureis aliisque signaculis firma fuerunt, Normanni condemnantes Chirographa Chartas vocabant. Du Cange. See Sigillum.

Sea-Law. See Oleron.

Sealer, Sigillator, Is an Officer in Chancery appointed by the Lord Chancellor, or Lord Keeper of the Great Seal of England, to seal the Writs and Instruments there made in his Presence.

Seame, Saxon. See Seme.

Seane-fish, (1 Fac. Sess. 1. c. 25.) Seems to be a Sort of Fish which is taken with a very great and long Net called a Seane.

Seacher. See Alneger.

Searober, Anno 16 Car. 2. cap. 6. See Pirate.

Seaton See Moidunum.

Seatrebe in villis maritimis is est qui maritimam Domini jurisdictionem curat, litus illustrat, & ejectum maris (quod Wree appellatur) Domino colligit. Spelm.

Second Deliberance, Secunda deliberatio, Is a Writ that lies for him, who, after a Return of Cattel, replevied; adjudged to him that distrained them, by reason of a Default in the Party that replevied, for the Replevying of the same Cattel again, upon Security put in for the Redelivery of them in case the Distress be justified. New Book of Entries, verbo Replevin in Second Deliverance, fol. 522. See Dyer, fol. 41. num. 4, 5.

Second Marriage, Secunde Nuptia, Is when after the Decease of one, he marries a second Wife. This our Law terms Bigamus, and had so little Favour to, that it admitted not such to holy Orders.

Secretarium Is a House or Chamber near the Church, in which the Plate and Garments of the Priests were kept, and like that which we now call a Vestry.

Hic locus est veneranda penus quo conditur, & quo Promittitur alma sacri pompa ministerii.

Sometimes the Bishops and Priests sate together in these Vestries, to consult of the Affairs of the Church; and in Resemblance of that ancient Custom, the Minister, Churchwardens, and the chief Men of most Parishes do, even at this Time, meet in the Vestry, and consult of the like Matters.

Secretarius, A Secretis, A Secretary. The Word formerly signified any Confident, Favourite or Intimado. — Cuncta denique agenda sua ad nutum unius Secretarii sui passim committere. Paroch. Antiquit. pag. 388. The Title is now only given to him that is ab Episcopis, & scriptis secretis: As the Two Secretaries of State, &c.

Secta, A Suit of Cloaths. Ad Sectam, de Secta, according to such a Suit or Sort. As the Religious in the greater Convents gave Liveries ad diversas sectas, of different Suits or Kinds, according to the Condition and Office of those who received and wore their Livery. Henricus Prior Elien. & Conu. — Noveritis nos concessisse Joh. Breuode — annuatim unam robam pro seipso de secta Armigerorum, & aliam de secta Valettorum pro famulo suo — Dat. 14 Decemb. 16 H. 4. Cartular. Eccl. Elien. MS. f. 83.

Secta ad Curiam Is a Writ that lies against him who refuses to perform his Suit either to the County or Court-Baron. F. N. B. f. 158.

Secta ad iustitiam faciendam Is a Service which a Man is bound to perform by his Fee. Bracon, lib. 2. c. 16. num. 6.

Secta Curie, Suit and Service done by Tenants at the Court of their Lord — Homines de Hedington facient sectam curie Domini sex septimanis, & si Breve Domini Regis in dicta curia attachietur, tunc sectam illam facient de tribus septimanis in tres septimanas. Paroch. Antiquit. pag. 320.

Secta facienda per illam quæ habet ænitiam partem Is a Writ to compel the Heir, that hath the Elder's Part of the Co-heirs, to perform Service for all the Coparceners. Reg. Orig. fol. 177.

Secta Molendini Is a Writ lying against him that was wont to grind at the Mill of B. and after goes to another Mill with his Corn. Reg. Orig. f. 153. F. N. B. fol. 122. But it seems by him, that this Writ lies especially for the Lord against his Frank-tenant, who held of him by making Suit to his Mill. See the New Book of Entries on this Word Secta ad molendinum. And Affises of Nuisance are at present much turned into Trespases and Actions upon the Cafe. See Baldwinus ad titulum de servitutibus predictorum in Iustit.

Sectam potest esse testimonium legalium hominum qui contractui inter eos habito interfuerint presentes producere. Fleta, lib. 2. cap. 63, sect. Nullus. And secta is used for a Witness, Id. lib. 4. cap. 16. sect. final. Habes tamen sectam unam, vel plures, &c.

Secta Regalis, A Suit so called, by which all Persons were bound twice in a Year to attend the Sheriff's Tourn, that they might be informed in Things relating to the Peace of the Publick; and this Suit was called Regalis, because the Sheriff's Tourn was the King's Leet; and it was a Court held that the People might be bound by Oath to bear true Allegiance to the King; for all Persons above Twelve Years old were obliged to take the Oath of Allegiance in this Court.

Secta shirarum. Per sectam shirarum clamari esse quiet. de secta in Com. Cestrie & Flint. coram Justit. Domini Principis in communi aula Placitorum. Plac. in Itin. apud Cestriam, 14 Her. 7. See Kennet's Glossary in Secta Schirarum & hundredorum.

Secta unica tantum facienda pro pluribus hereditatibus Is a Writ that lies for that Heir that is distrained by the Lord to more Suits than one, in respect of the Land of divers Heirs descended unto him. Reg. Orig. f. 177. a.

Sectis non faciendis Is a Writ that lies for a Woman, who, for her Dower, ought not to perform Suit of Court. Reg. Orig. f. 174. It lay also for one in Wardship, to be freed of all Suits of Court during his Wardship. Reg. Orig. f. 173, but see 12 Car. 2. c. 24.

Secundary, Secundarius, That Officer who is the Second, or next to the chief Officer; as the Secundary of the Fine-Office; the Secundary of the Compters, who is next to the Sheriff of London in each of the two Compters; Secundary of the Office of the Privy Seal. Anno 1 Ed. 4. cap. 1. Secundaries of the Pipe, two: Secundary to the Remembrancers, which are Two Officers in the Exchequer. Cambd. p. 113.

Secunda superoneratione pasturæ Is a Writ that lies where Admeasurement of Pasture hath been made; and he that first surcharged the Common, doth again surcharge it, notwithstanding the Admeasurement. Reg. Orig. fol. 157. Old Nat. Breu. f. 73.

Securitatem inveniendi quod se non debet ad partes externas sine licentia Regis, Is a Writ that lies for the King against any of his Subjects to stay them from going out of his Kingdom; the Ground of which is, That every Man is bound to serve and defend the Commonwealth, as the King shall think meet. F. N. B. f. 85.

Securitate patris Is a Writ that lies for one who is threatened Death or Danger, against him that so threateth, and is taken out of the Chancery, and directed to the Sheriff; the Form and farther Use whereof, you may see in Reg. Orig. f. 88. & Fitz. Nat. Breu. f. 79.

Sedatium. See Mortuary; Sedatium Commune respui non debet, si modicum fuerit; si magnum, accipiendum usque pretium Vacce, &c.

Se defendendo Is a Plea for him that is charged with the Death of another, saying, He was necessitated to do that which he did in his own De-

Defence: The other so assaulting him, That if he had not done as he did, he must have been in Hazard of his own Life: But this Danger ought to be so great, that it seems inevitable. Staudf. Pl. Cor. lib. 1. c. 7. And though he justify it to be done in his own Defence, yet he is driven to procure his Pardon of courtes from the Lord Chancellor, and forfeits his Goods to the King, according to the same Author.

Seed-cod, A Basket, or other Vessel of Wood carried upon one Arm of the Husbandman, to bear Seed or Grain, which he sows with the other Hand. From Sax. Sed, Seed, and Codde, a Purse or such like Continent. Hence Codd in Westmoreland is a Bolster or Pillow, and in other Northern Parts a Cushion, as a Pin-cod, i. e. a Pin-cushion. A Horfe-cod, i. e. a Horfe-collar to guard his Neck. — The Cod of a Man or Beast, a Cod-piece, a Peefcod, &c. — Pro uno Seed-cod empto id d. Paroch. Antiquit. p. 549. See Kennet's Glossary in Seed-cod.

Seedee, A Seedsmán, or one who sows the Ground: From the Sax. Sedee, which signifies Seed or Seedsmán.

Segodunum, Seaton in Northumberland.

Seignior, Dominus, Is borrowed of the French Seigneur, and denotes in the general Signification as much as Lord; but particularly it is used for the Lord of the Fee, or of a Manor, even as Dominus or Senior among the Feudists is he who grants a Fee, or Benefic, out of the Land to another: And the Reason is, as Hotoman saith, because having granted the Use and Profit of the Land to another; yet the Property, that is Dominium, he still retains in himself. See Hotoman in verbis feudal. verb. Dominus & Senior.

Seigniorage, 9 H. 5. Stat. 2. cap. 1. Seems to be a Royalty or Prerogative of the King, whereby he challengeth Allowance of Gold and Silver brought in the Mals to his Exchange for Coin. By Seigniorage or Royalty out of every Pound-Weight of Gold, the King had for his Coin Five Shillings, out of which he paid to the Master of the Mint for his Work sometimes one Shilling, sometimes Eighteen-pence. Upon every Pound-Weight of Silver, the Seigniorage or Coinage answered to the King in the Time of King Edward 3. was Eighteen Penny-Weight pondere, which about that Time amounted to one Shilling, out of which he paid sometimes Eight-pence, sometimes Nine-pence to the Master. In the Time of H. 5. the King's Seigniorage of every Pound-Weight of Silver was Fifteen-pence. Vid. Hale of Sheriff's Accompts, p. 3.

Seignior, Dominium, Is borrowed from the French Seigneurie, i. dominatus, imperium, principatus; and signifies with us a Manor or Lordship, Seigniorie de Sokemans, Kitch. fol. 80. Seigniorie in gross, which seems to be the Title of him who is not Lord by Means of any Manor, but immediately in his own Person; as Tenure in Capite, whereby one holds of the King as of his Crown, is Seigniorie in gross. Kitchin, fol. 206. See Seignior.

Seignior in gross seemeth to be one that is a Lord, but of no Manor, and therefore can keep no Court. F. N. B. fol. 3.

Sellon. See Sellon.

Sellin, Seifina, From the French Seifine, possessio: So Primier Seifin is the first Possession, and to seife, is to take Possession. See Primier Seifin. Of the French Word Seifin, is made the Latin seifire, used both by the Canonists and Civilians. Seifin according to the Common Law is Twofold, Seifin in Fact, and Seifin in Law. Perkin's Dower, 369, 370. Seifin in Fact is, when a corporal Possession is taken; Seifin in Law, when something is done, which the Law accounteth a Seifin, as an Inrolment: And this Seifin in Law is as much as a Right to Lands and Tenements, though the Owner be by wrong disseised of them. Perkin's Tenant par le curtesie, 457, 458. And it seems by Ingham, That he who hath an Hour's Possession quietly taken, hath *Seifin de droit & de claim*e, whereof no Man may disseise him by his own Force or Subtilty, but must be driven to his Action, sett Briefe de Novel Disseifin. Coke, lib. 4. fol. 9. calls it Seifin in Law, or Actual Seifin. The Civilians call the one Civilem possessionem, the other Naturalem.

Selina habenda, quia Rex habuit annum, diem & Quatum, Is a Writ that lies for Delivery of Seifin to the Lord of his Lands or Tenements, after the King, in the Right of his Prerogative, hath had the Year, Day and Waste. Reg. Orig. fol. 165.

Sello, Selo-onis. Season, or stated Time. — Debet operari in qualibet septimana, a Festo S. Michaelis usque ad gulam Augusti quolibet die operabilis unum opus, pretium operis ob. quadr. & a Festo S. Petri ad vincula usque ad Festum S. Michaelis unum opus in quolibet die operabili t. den. ob. excepto sescione hyemali. Extent. Manerii de Garinges in Spelman, who leaves the Word unexplained.

Sel Signifies the Bigness of a Thing to which it's added, as Selwood, a great Wood.

Selins May be deduced from the Saxon Seloe, Seat or Stool. Affisa mensuratum, Anno 9 R. 1. apud Hovden. — Prohibemus ne quis mercator pretendat seldæ sua rubros pannos vel nigres vel fusta vel aliqua alia, per que visus emptorum facile decipitur ad bonum pannum eligendum. In Majoribus Chronicis ubi locus hic veritur. Spelman says, Selda is expounded for a Window: It signifies also a Shop, Shed, or Stall, Sciart, &c. quod ego Thomas Pencombe de Bromyard dedi, &c. Thomæ Forfenet vicario Ecclesie de Bromyard præd. unam seldam meam jacentem in Bromyard p. d. &c. Dat. &c. Anno 10 H. 6. — Et medietatem unius seldæ vocat. Le Unicorn in London. Mon. Ang. 2. par. fol. 322. Selda also signifies a Wood of Sal-lows, Willows, and Withies. Sir Edward Coke (on Littl. f. 4. b.) takes, or rather mistakes, Selda for a Salt-Pit.

Selion of Land, Selio terra, May be derived from the French Sellon, Ground rising between Two Furrows; in Latin Poræ, in Englsh a Ridge of Land, and contains no certain Quantity, but sometimes more, and sometimes less: Therefore Crompton in his Jurisdictions of Courts, fol. 221. saith, That a Selion of Land cannot be demanded, because it is a Thing uncertain: It may not without some Probability be deduced from the Saxon Sul or syl, i. aratrum; whence also the French Sailonner, id est, arare, to Plough. Charta vetus Achroniæ a maketh Six Selions and a Half to be but one Acre. Sciart — quod ego Margeria filia Willielmi de Ryleia dedi, &c. Emma filia mea pro homagio & servitio suo unam acram terre in campo de Camurth, scil. illas sex Seliones & dimid. cum forera & sepe & fossato qua jacent in Aldewic juxta terram, &c. See Hade, and Kennet's Glossary in Selio.

Sellunna. See Sellon.

Sellam portare. See Armifcare.

Sellitus. See Selion.

Seme, Summa. A Horse-load; A Seme of Corn is Eight Bushels. — Frates Predicator. (Heref.) pro 2. summagis vocat. Semes, de focali percipiend. quotidie de bosco de Heywood pro termino 20 annorum, 3 H. 5. par. 2. m. 18. See Senage — Habeunt etiam dum summas frumenti, pro pastellis, cum voluerint faciend. Mon. Ang. par. 2. fol. 935. Et sint quieti de summagis & murdro, & Tenniges, & Wapentake, & Auxiliis Vice-omitum. Ibid. fol. 201. a. — De quatuor Summis salis, continentibus quadraginta bullones pro dimidia salina sua. Ibid. f. 256. b. See Summa.

Semicinctum, A narrow Girdle: Vel nudus omnino vel in Semicinctis subsecens, &c. Pet. Blesensis, Epist. 102.

Seminarium, A Seed-Leap. — In corballis & seminario emptis iv den. ob. in tribulis & lignibus emptis vii den. Confectud. Domus de Farendon. MS. fol. 13.

Seminiverbius, A Preacher or Sower of Words, Pet. Blesensis sermo 43 Seminiverbius in Cathedra, Prelatus in Curia, Advocatus in missa.

Senagium (From Senatus, sometimes used for a Synod) is the same with Synodal, which see. Item quod perfolvant Procuratorem & Senagium Domino Archidiacono debitum. Ordinario Ric. Episc. Heref. Anno 1314.

Senator. In the Laws of Edward the Confessor we are told, That the Britons called those Senators whom the Saxons afterwards called Aldermen, and sometimes Senators; not for their Age, but for their Wisdom, for some of them were young Men, but very well skilled in the Laws. In Stamford's Pleas of the Crown, cap. 28. we read a Charter of Kentulph, King of the Merians, viz. Consilio & consensu Episcoporum & Senatorum gentis sue largitus fuit dicto Monasterio, &c. In those Days there were Two Men of Authority in every County, viz. The Alderman, whom the Normans afterwards called Earl, and the Shire-Reeve, whom they called Viccomes or Sheriff.

Sendal, Anno 2 R. 2. cap. 1. Seems to be fine Linen or Silk, or Cyprus Silk, from the Italian Zendalo; but Sandal is a Kind of Physical Wood brought from the Indies.

Senege. There goes out yearly in Proxege and Senege 33 s. 6 d. Perhaps Senege may be Money paid for Synodals, as Proxege for Proxies or Procurations.

Sencucia, Widowhood. If a Widow, having Dower after the Death of her Husband shall marry, vel filium, vel filiam in Sencucia peperit, she shall forfeit and lose her Dower in what Place soever in Kent. Tenen. in Gavelkind. Plac. Trin. 17 E. 3.

Senescallo & Marehalllo quod non regeant placita de libero tenemento, &c. Is a Writ directed to the Steward or Marshal of England, inhibiting them to take Cognisance of any Action in their Court that concerns either Freehold, Debt or Covenant. Reg. Orig. f. 185, 191.

Seneshal. Seneschallus, Is a French Word, but borrowed from Germany, being derived from Sein, a House or Place, and Schale, servus; we English it a Steward, and so doth Co. on Lit. f. 61. As the high Seneshal or Steward of England. Staunder. Pl. Cor. fol. 152. High Seneshal or Steward, and South Seneshal or Under-Steward, Kitchin, fol. 83. is understood of the Stewards or Under-Stewards of Courts; Seneshal de l'hôtel de Roy, Steward of the King's Household. Crompt. Juris. fol. 102. See 25 Ed. 3. Stat. 5. cap. 21. In Purificatione Beata Mariæ, fuit filius Regis Anglorum Parisiis & servavit Regi Francorum ad mensam ut Seneschallus Francie, Rob. de Monte in Anno 1170. pag. 649. See Kenet's Glossary.

Seney-days, Play-days, or Times of Pleasure and Diversion. — Dies recreationis vocati Anglice Seney-days petuntur a Residentariis Ecclesiæ Ebor. verbis Gallicis — Moy honorables Seirs, Je an cet temps vous emprise donez mez gores de Seney oment egunt glia este accustome a faire a un Canon Residentiar. — Regist. Eccl. Ebor. Anno 1562.

Senglarium, A Boar so called, Quia solus & singularis duobus primis Annis vagatur: Tis mentioned in the Monastic. 1 Tom. p. 841. Et pasturam ad 20 Vacas & ad unum senglarium, &c.

Senie, alias Sene, Sena, Is a medicinal Herb, the Use and Virtues whereof you may read in Gerard's Herbal, lib. 3. cap. 8. This is mentioned among other Drugs and Spices to be garbled. Anno 1 Jac. c. 9.

Senla, — Willielmus de Braja dedit Regi obtingentis marcas, tres dextrarios, quinque chabucos, viginti quatuor sensas, & decem Leporarios. Cart. 7. Joh. I don't know whether any Writer has mentioned this Word but Mr. Blount, and he confesses his Ignorance of the Meaning of it. I take them to be the more slow and sure-scenting small Hounds or Beagles.

Sennucum, a Land full of Brambles.

Septaria, Separaria, A several, or divided into Enclosure, severed or separated from other Ground. — Placia qua jacet juxta septariam Prioris & Conventus de Burncestre. Paroch. Antiq. p. 336.

Separation, Separatio, Is the living asunder of Man and Wife. See Mulier.

Septrigus, for Septigerius.

Seepilver, Seepilver, Among the Customs of the Manor of Cokefeld, belonging to the Abbey of St. Edmund in Suffolk. — Customarius debet frindere & caviare quatuor carattatas focalis apud Sanctum Edmundum ad eandem firmam pro tribus peribus — & dabit Seepilver, videlicet, pro quinque capitibus unum denarium, & quietus erit de uno opere pro Seepilver. Cartular. S. Edmundi, MS. fol. 338.

Septuagesima, Mentioned Westm. 1. c. 51. Is always the Third Sunday before Quadragesima exclusive, from which, until the Octaves after Easter, the Solemnizing of Marriage is forbidden by the Canon Law. It is called Septuagesima, as being above Seventy Days before Easter, as Sexagesima and Quinquagesima, because the first is accounted Sixty, the latter Fifty Days before the same Feast, and are Days appointed by the Church to Acts of Penance and Mortification, and are preparative to the Devotion of Lent then approaching. The Laws of King Canutus ordained a Vacancy from Judicature, from Septuagesima to Quindena Pasche. See Quinquagesima.

Septum, An Inclosure, a Close, and is so called, because it is encompassed cum sepe & fossa, with a Hedge and a Ditch, or at least with a Hedge.

Sepulchre, Sepulchrum, Is the Place where any dead Body lies interred; but a Monument is a Place where something is set up for the Memorial of the Deceased, though the Corps lie not there.

See

Sepultura Is an Offering made to the Priest for the Burial of a dead Body: 'Tis mentioned in Domesday, viz. Eisdem consuetudines debent illi, &c. prater exercitum & Sepulturam. Gale's Hist. Brit. fol. 765.

Sequatur sub suo periculo Is a Writ that lies where a Summons ad Warrantandum is awarded, and the Sheriff returns, That he hath nothing whereby he may be summoned; then goes out an Alias and Pluries, and if he come not at the Pluries, then goes out this Writ. Old Nat. Brev. f. 163. Co. on Lit. f. 101.

Sequela causæ, The Process, and depending Issue of a Cause or Trial.

Sequela Curiz, Suit of Court, ——— Et quod sint liberi a Sequela Curiz. Mon. Ang. 2. par. fol. 253.

Sequela molendini, The owing Suit to a particular Mill, or being bound to grind Corn in that only Place; which was a Duty and Service laid upon many Tenants. Concedere sequelam molendini, was to grant all the Toll and Profit arising from such Customary Rights. Sciant — quod ego Stephanus de Ebroys (i. e. Devereux) dedi — Ecclesie Sancti Lenardi de Pyonia — molendinum meum de Froma cum omnibus pertin. suis, fil. Motta, Sequela & Stagno — Reg. Priorat. de Wormley, f. 22. a.

Sequela Villanorum, All the Retinue and Appertinences to the Goods and Chattels of servile Tenants, which were at the arbitrary and absolute Disposal of the Lord. — William de Lonspe confirmed to the Priory of Burcester their Lands in Wrechebwick — Cum Villanis & eorum Sequelis & catallis. — Villanos cum villanagiis omnibus catallis & tota sequela ipsorum — Paroch. Antiq. pag. 216, 288.

Sequentia, A Jubilee, or Song of Rejoicing. Fecit Sequentiam illam in Festo Pentecostes. Brompt.

Sequefter Is a Term used in the Civil Law for renouncing, as when a Widow comes into Court, and disclaims to have any Thing to do, or to intermeddle with her Husband's Estate who is deceased; she is said to Sequefter.

Sequestration Sequestratio, Is the separating of a Thing in Controversy from the Possession of both those that contend for it: And it is of two Kinds, Voluntary or Necessary; Voluntary is that which is done by Consent of each Party: Necessary is that which the Judge doth of his Authority, whether the Parties will or not. It is used also for the Act of the Ordinary, disposing the Goods and Chattels of one deceased, whose Estate no Man will meddle with. Dyer, fol. 232. num. 5. & f. 256. num. 8. & fol. 260. num. 42. & fol. 271. num. 26. As also for the Gathering the Fruits of a Benefice void, to the Use of the next Incumbent. 28 H. 8. c. 11. Fortescue, c. 50. and in divers other Cases. See Kennet's Glossary in Sequestrare.

Sequestro habendo Is a Writ Judicial, for the dissolving a Sequestration of the Fruits of a Benefice made by a Bishop at the King's Command, thereby to compel the Parson to appear at the Suit of another; for the Parson upon his Appearance may have this Writ for the Discharge of the Sequestration. Reg. Judic. fol. 36.

Sequi, To prefer an Action, and prosecute a Suit or Cause, as Attorney or Proctor in a Court of Justice. Qui sequitur pro Rege, the King's Attorney.

Sergeant, or Serjeant, Serviens, Cometh of the French Serjeant; i. satelles, a Man of the Guard, so called, because he was sepe accitus ad res necessarias in exercitu peragendas, so Calpine. But Skene de verbo. signif. verbor. Serjeant, faith, It is, vox composita de ferrer, quod est includere, & Gent, quod pro gente, plebe vel populo usurpatur. This Word is diversely used in our Law, and applied to sundry Offices and Callings. First, a Serjeant at Law (or of the Coyf) is the highest Degree taken in that Profession, as that of a Doctor is in the Civil Law. And to these, as Men best learned, and most experienced of all others, one Court is set apart for them to plead in by themselves, which is the Court of Common Pleas, where the Common Law of England is most strictly observed; and though they have this Court to themselves, yet they are not restrained from pleading in any other Courts, where the Judges (who cannot have that Honour, till they have taken the Degree of Serjeant at Law.) call them Brothers, and hear them with great respect next to the King's Attorney and Solicitor General. These are made by the King's Mandate, or Writ, directed unto them, commanding them, upon a great Penalty to take upon them that Degree by a Day certain therein assigned. Dyer, fol. 72. num. 1. See Count. And of these is the King's Serjeant, being chosen commonly out of the rest, in respect of his great Learning, to plead for him in all Causes, especially in those of Treason. Staundf. Pl. Cro. lib. 7. cap. 1. And of these there may be more if it please the King. This, in other Kingdoms, is called Advocatus Regius, Cassan. de consuet. Burgund. pag. 850. With what Solemnity these Serjeants be created, read Fortescue, cap. 50. Cro 3. par. f. 1. and 2 Inst. fol. 213. These were called anciently *Servientes Narratores. Et predictus Thomas le Mareball dicit quod ipse est communis Serviens Narrator coram Justic. & alibi ubi melius ad hoc conduci poterit, & quod ipse in Placito prefate Assise coram prefatis Justiciariis stetit cum predicto Johanne, & de concilio suo fuit, &c. Trin. 25 Ed. 1. Coram Rege, Oxon 22 — Md. quod Termine Trin. Anno 26 Hen. 8. Tho. Willoughby, & Johannes Baldwin. Serjeants de Roy, fuerunt fairs Chevaliers, & que nul tiels Serjeants devant fuer. unques fait Chevaliers. Ex MS. Vocat. Spelman's Reports. In Edward the Sixth's Time, Serjeant Benbow wrote himself Solus Serviens ad legem. In seems for some Time there was none but himself.*

Mr. Selden tells us they were formerly called Doctores Legis; though others are of Opinion that the Judges are more properly Doctores Legis, and the Serjeants are Bachelors of Laws. However, Spelman writes, That though a Serjeant may be richer than all the Doctors in the Commons, yet a Doctor is superior in Degree to a Serjeant: For the very Name of a Doctor is Magisterial, but that of a Serjeant is Ministerial, for he is Serviens ad Legem, and the Doctors are seated and covered when they plead, but the Serjeants stand uncovered at the Bar, only they have a Coif on their Heads, which is signum status & gradus. This Word Serjeant is used in Britton for an Officer belonging to the County, and the same which Bracton in his Fifth Book, c. 4. num. b. calls Servientem Hundredi, and is in Truth no other than the Bailiff of the Hundred; and the Steward of a Manor is called Serviens Manerii. Coke, vol. 4. Copyhold Cases, fol. 21. a. The next is a Serjeant at Arms, or the Mace, (Serviens ad Arma) whose Office is to attend the Person of the King. Anno 7 Hen. 7. cap. 3. to arrest Traitors or Persons of Condition, and to attend the Lord High Steward of of England, sitting in Judgment upon any Traitor, and such like. (Pl. Cor. lib. 3. cap. 1.) Of these, by the Statute 13 R. 2. c. 6. there may not be above Thirty in the Realm. Two of them, by the King's Allowance, do attend on the Two Houses of Parliament, whose Office in the House of Commons is, the keeping of the Doors, and (as of late it hath been used) the Execution of such Commands, especially touching the Apprehension of any Offender, as that House shall enjoin him. Crompt. Jur. fol. 9. Another of them attends on the Lord Chancellor or Lord Keeper, in the Chancery: And one on the Lord Treasurer of England: One upon the Lord Mayor of London, upon extraordinary Solemnities; one attendeth upon the Lord President of Wales, and another upon the Lord President of the North, &c.

These Serjeants at Arms are in the old Books called Virgatores, because they carried Silver Rods gilt with Gold before the King. In eadem Curia Regis sunt Virgatores populum gravantes, gravia feda petentes. Fleta, lib. 2. cap. 38.

Another Sort of Serjeants are chief Officers, who execute several Functions or Offices within the King's Household; of which you may read many in the Statute of 33 H. 8. c. 12.

There is likewise a more inferior Kind of Serjeants of the Mace, whereof there is a Troop in the City of London, and other corporate Towns, that attend the Mayor or other Head Officer, chiefly for Matters of Justice. Kitchin, fol. 143. And these are called Servientes ad Clavem. New Book of Entries, verbo, Scire facias, in Mainpennors, cap. 3. fol. 558.

There was also a Kind of Servants in religious Houses, called Serjeants — Dedi praterea, & addidi ad eorum sustentationem & advenientium hospitium & pauperum & Serjantorum, quos constitui ad servendum eis — Charta Gundulfi Roß. Episc. in Bibl. Cotton. And in Cumberland the Governor of Gillingland, is called Land Serjeant. Cam. Anciently all the Justices in Eyre had certain Officers attending them, called Serjeants, (as appears by Westm. 1. cap. 30.) which Fleta calls Virgatores Servientes, and were in the Nature of our Tipstaffs.

Serjeants of Peace. — Et etiam habere ibidem (i. Dunham) sex servientes qui occantur Serjeants of Peace, qui servant Cur. Manerii & facient Attach. & executiones omnium Placitorum & querelarum in dicta Curia Placitorum, &c. Pl. de Quo Warranto apud Cestriam. 31 Ed. 3. The like Officer they have in the City of Chester.

Serjeanty, Serjeantia, Signifies in Law a Service that cannot be due to any Lord from his Tenant, but to the King only; and this is either Grand or Petit: The first is, where one holds Land of the King by Service, which he ought to do in his own Person; as to bear the King's Banner, Spear, &c. Petit Serjeanty is, where a Man holds Land of the King, to yield yearly some small Thing towards his Wars; as a Sword, Dagger, Bow, &c. of which read Bracton, lib. 2. cap. 16, & 37. & Britton, cap. 65. num. 1, 2. Inter feedalia servitii summum est & illusterrimum, quod nec Patronum aliquem agnoscit prater Regem, says the Learned Spelman. And Cambden, Tit. Suffolk, speaks of Baldwin le Pettour qui tenuit terras in Hemington in Com. Suffolk per serjantiam, pro qua debuit facere die natali Domini singulis annis coram Domino Rege Anglie Saltum, Sufflum & Pettum, alias unum saltum, unum sufflatum, & unum bom- bulum. And Sir Richard Rockesly held Lands at Seton by Serjeanty, to be Vantrarius Regis, the King's Fore-Footman when he went into Gasgoigne, Donec perusit fuit pavi soluturum precii 4 d. until he had worn out a Pair of Shoes of Four Pence Price. This Service, being to be performed when the King went to Gasgoigne to make War, is Knight's Service. Co. on Lit. fo. 69. See the Stat. 12 Car. 2. cap. 24. whereby all Tenures, &c. are turned into free and common Socage; but the Honorary Services of Grand Serjeanty are therein excepted. Johannes Freeman tenet unam Virgatum terre, per Serjantiam mensurandi Fossata & opera Domini Regis, ad castrum Domini Regis. Lib. niger Herefordiæ. Though Services or Tenures are now turned into Socage, yet it may be necessary to shew how they are described in our old Law Books, which see under the Word Servitium. See Skene de verbor. signif. and Kennet's Glossary.

Sermonium, An Interlude or Play acted by interlutory Persons. Before the Modern Improvements of the Stage, these ruder Sort of Farces were even a Part of the unreform'd Religion. The Inferior Orders of the Clergy, assisted by Boys and Children, used to act over some historical Comedy in the Body of the Church, suitable to the Solemnity of some high Procession-Day. — Anno Dom. 1483. 7 die Junii. Decanus Lincoln. cum Confratribus suis de processione Sancte Anne in proximo Festo ejusdem futuro per civis Lincolnienses, communicantes una decreverunt quod illud ludum sive sermonium de assumptione sive coronatione beate Marie erga dictum Festum de novo reparatum & preparatum habere voluerunt, ac ludificatum & offensum in processione predicta prout consuetum fuerat in navi disse Ecclesia. Collectan. Rev. Viri Matth. Hutton, S. T. P. Ex Registris Ecclesie Lincoln. MSS.

Serplice, A Mantle or upper Coat: From the Latin Superpellicium, it signifies rich Mantles and Furs, and Robes worn by great Persons.

Servage, (Anno 1 Rich. 2. cap. 6.) that is, when each Tenant, besides Payment of a certain Rent, finds one or more Workmen for his Lord's Service. Inq. 7 Ed. 1. Nott. Etiam est Religio illa ita posita in Servagio per Abbates Cistercienses, quod servitium Dei in hac parte impeditur. Pla. Parl. 33 E. 1. See Service. King John brought the Crown of England in Servage to the See of Rome. 2 Inst. 274.

Servi, Bond-men, or servile Tenants. Our Northern Servi had always a much easier Condition than the Roman Slaves. — Servis non in nostrum morem descriptis per familiam Ministerii utuntur. Suam quisque sedem, suos penates regit. Frumenti modum Dominus, aut Pecoris, aut Vestis, colono injungit, & Servus balneus parat. Tacitus de Moribus Germanorum. Which plainly describes the Condition of our Saxon and Norman Servants, Natives, and Villains; whose Servitude did more respect their Tenure, than their Persons. No Author to my Knowledge has fixt the Distinction between Servus and Villanus, though undoubtedly their servile State was different, for they are all along in the Domesday Book distinguished from each other. So in Bercestre there were — quinque Servi, & viginti octo Villani, &c. I suppose the Servi were those, whom our Lawyers have since called Pure Villanes, and Villanes in gross, who without any determin'd Tenure of Land, were at the arbitrary Pleasure of the Lord appointed to such servile Works, and received ved their Wages or Maintenance at Discretion of the Lord. The other were of a superior Degree, and were called Villani, because they were Ville & glebe adscripti, i. e. held some Cottage and Lands, for which they were burdened with such stated servile Offices, and were convey'd as a Pertinence of the Manor or Estate to which they belonged. See Kennet's Glossary. The Name and Quality of their Bondage do often occur in Domesday Register: And their Condition, no doubt, was worse than that of the Bordarii, or Cosseti, who perform'd likewise some servile Offices for their Lord, and yet as to their Persons and Goods were not obnoxious to Servitude, as the proper Servi were. These were of Four Sorts, 1. Such as sold themselves for a Livelihood. 2. Debtors that were to be sold for being incapable to pay their Debts. 3. Captives in War, retain'd and employ'd as perfect Slaves. 4. Nativi, such as were born Servants, and by such Descent belonged to the sole Property of the Lord. — All these had their Persons, their Children, and their Goods, at the Disposal of their Lord, incapable of making any Wills, or giving away any Matter.

Servitice, Servitium, Is that Service which the Tenant, by reason of his Fee, oweth unto his Lord. Hotoman thus defines it. Servitium est munus obsequii clientelaris, De verbis Feudal. It is sometime called Servage, as 1 R. cap. 6. Our ancient Law Books make many Divisions of it, as Bracton, lib. 2. cap. 16. And Britton, cap. 66. into Personal and Real, also into Military and Base, and Bracton, ubi supra, num. 7. into intrinsic and extrinsic. Servitium intrinsicum is due to the Capital Lord of the Manor: Forinsecum is that which is due to the King, and not to the Capital Lord. Service is also divided into Frank and Base, the one termed liberum servitium, the other Villanagium. It is also divided into continual or annual, and casual or accidental; the former is the Seisin of Rent, the other Seisin of Relief. Co. 4. Rep. fol. 9. Bevill's Case. See Copyhold. See Socage. Thomas Leigh Esq; at the Coronation of King Charles the Second, brought up to the King's Table a Mefs of Portage called Dillogrout, which Service had been adjudged him by the Court of Claims in Right of the Manor of Addington in Surrey; whereupon the Lord High Chamberlain presented him to the King, who accepted the Service, and afterwards Knighted him.

Service secular, Anno 1 Ed. 4. cap. 1. Is worldly Service, contrary to Spiritual and Ecclesiastical.

Servientibus Are certain Writs touching Servants and their Masters, violating the Statutes made against their Abuses, which see in Reg. Orig. f. 189, 190, 191.

Servitium feudale & pædiale Was not a personal Service, but only by reason of the Lands which were held in Fee. Bracton, lib. 2. cap. 16. par. 7.

Servitium forinsecum Was a Service which did not belong to the Chief Lord, but to the King: It was called Forinsecum and Foraneum, because it was done Foris, vel extra Servitium quod fit Domino Capitali. We read several Grants in the Monastic. 2 Tom. p. 48. of all Liberties with the Appurtenances, salvo forensii servitio.

Servitium generale, the same with Forinsecum.

Servitium intrinsicum Is that Service which was due to the Chief Lord alone from his Vassals. Bracton, lib. 2. cap. 16. Fleta, lib. 3. c. 14. par. 7.

Servitium liberum Was a Service to be done by the feudatory Tenants, who were call'd liberi homines, and distinct from Vassals; as likewise was their Service, for they were not bound to any of those base Services, as to plough the Lord's Land, &c. but only to find a Man and Horse to go with the Lord into the Army, or to attend his Court, &c. Sometimes it was called Servitium liberum armorum, as in an old Rental of the Manor of South Malling in Sussex, mentioned by Mr. Somner, in his Treatise of Garvelkind, fol. 56. viz. Godefridus Wallensis tenet 3 feodos militis in tenementis in Malling & quartam partem unius feodi apud Terri-ny per liberum servitium armorum suorum. Wilhelmus de Bransa tenuit apud Ailburton unum feodum militis per simile servitium.

Servitium ferrandi, The Service of shoeing Horses. See Palfrey.

Servitium usuale, Royal Service, or the Rights and Prerogatives that within such a Manor belong to the King, if Lord of it, which were generally reckoned to be these Six, 1. Power of Judicature in Matters of Property. 2. Power of Life and Death in Felonies and Murders. 3. A Right to Waifs and Strays. 4. Assessments. 5. Minting of Money. 6. Assize of Bread, Beer, Weights and Measures. All these entire Privileges were annex'd to some Manors in their Grant from the King, and were sometimes convey'd in the Charters of Donation to religious Houses. — Ecclesia Sancti Georgii data fuit Fratribus Osen. & habet ibidem visum Franciplegii & totum Regale servitium. Paroch. Antiquit. p. 60.

Servi Testamentales Were those which we now call Covenant Servants: They are mention'd in the Laws of King Athelstan, c. 34. Et secundum dispositionem, & per mensuram suam convenit, ut Servi Testamentales operentur super omnem scirum cui præest dominus.

Servitutis Acquietantis Is a Writ Judicial, that lies for one distrained for Services to A. who owes and performs to B. for the Acquittal of such Services. Reg. of Writs Judic. fol. 27. a. & 36. b.

Servitozum, A Chest: 'Tis called Servitorium in Fleta, lib. 2. cap. 73. par. 20. Cistas vel arcas vel alia Servitoria licite habent ad utensilia sua & recellas suas fideliter servandas.

Servitors of Bills Are such Servants or Messengers of the Marshals belonging to the King's Bench, as were sent abroad with Bills or Writs to summon Men to that Court; they are now more ordinarily called Tipstaves. Anno 2 H. 4. c. 23.

Sessur, (Anno 25 Ed. 3. c. 6.) Seems to signify the assessor or rating of Wages.

Session of Parliament, The passing any Bills, by giving the Royal Assent thereto, doth not make a Session; but the Session of Parliament continues till it be prorogued or dissolved. See 4 par. Inst. fol. 27. Sessio Parliamenti is the Sitting of the Parliament.

Sessions, Sessions, Is a Sitting of Justices in Court upon Commission, as the Sessions of Oyer and Terminer. Pl. Cor. fol. 67. Quarter-Sessions, otherwise called the General Sessions, 5 Eliz. 4. or Open Sessions, ibid. Opposite whereto are Especial, other-otherwise called Privy Sessions, which are procured upon some special Occasion, for the more speedy Dispatch of Justice. Crompt. Just. of Peace, f. 110. What Things be inquirable in Sessions, see ibid. f. 109. Petit Sessions or Statute Sessions, are kept by the High Constable of every Hundred for the placing of Servants. 5 El. 4. See Statute Sessions.

Set Clothes Are mentioned in the Statute made Anno 27 H. 8. c. 13. which see.

Setetia Ætuarium, The Mouth of the River Dee.

Setwell, Valeriana, Is a medicinal Herb; the Nature and divers Kinds whereof you have in Gerard's Herbal, lib. 2. cap. 424. The Root of this is mentioned among Drugs to be garbled. 1 Fac. 19.

Sebantly wovven, That is, well and honestly Wovven. Anno 35 El. c. 10.

Severall Tail, Tallium separatum, Is that whereby Land is given and entailed severally to Two. For Example, Land is given to Two Men and their Wives, and to the Heirs of their Bodies begotten; the Donces have joint Estate for their Two Lives, and yet they have several Inheritance, because the Issue of the one shall have his Moieties, and the Issue of the other the other Moieties.

Severall Tenancy, Tenura separabilis, Is a Plea or Exception taken to a Writ that is laid against Two as joint, which are several. Broke, Tit. Several Tenancy, fol. 273.

Severance Is the singling or severing of Two, or more, that are joined in one Writ. For Example, if Two join in a Writ of libertate probanda, and the one afterward be Nonsuit, here Severance is permitted; so that notwithstanding the Non-suit of the one, the other may severally proceed, F. N. B. fol. 78. and Bro. Tit. Severance and Summons, fol. 238. There is also Severance of the Tenants in an Affize, when as One or Two, or more Disseisors, appear upon the Writ, and not the other. New Book of Entries, fol. 81. And Severance in Attaints. Ibid. fol. 95. And Severance in Debt, where two, or more, Executors are named Plaintiffs, and the one refuses to prosecute. Ibid. fol. 220. Severance of Corn is the cutting and carrying it off from the Ground, and sometimes the Setting out the Tithes from the rest of the Corn, is called Severance. See Cro. Rep. 2. par. fol. 225. There is also Severance in Quare Impedit. Co. Rep. 5. f. 97.

Seward, One who guards the Sea-Coasts: 'Tis a Saxon Word; for Seaward in Sax. signifies Custos Maris.

Sewer, Severa and sewera, Et fossa in locis Palustribus ducta ad aquas ejiciendas, &c. A Passage or Gutter to carry Water into the Sea, or a River. 6 H. 6. cap. 5. and 12 Car. 2. cap. 6. And Commissioners of Sewers are such as by Authority under the Great Seal, see Drains and Ditches well kept and maintained in marshy and tenny Countries, for the better Conveyance of the Water into the Sea, and preserving Grass upon the Land for the feeding of Cattel. See the Statutes 15 Car. 2. cap. 17. and 17 Car. 2. cap. 11. touching the Draining the great Level in the Fens called Bedford Level, and the Authority of the Governor, Bailiff, &c. as Commissioners of Sewers.

Seragefima. See Septuagesima.

Sertary, Sextarius, Was an ancient Measure, containing about our Pint and a Half (according to our Latin Dictionary.) The Town of Leicester paid among other Things to the King yearly, Twenty-five Measures called Sextaries of Honey, as we read in Domesday. And in Claus. 4 E. 3. m. 26. We find Tresdecim sextarios vini. — Et unum sextarium salis apud Wainflete, Mon. Angl. 2. par. fol. 849. b. Decem Mittas brasii, quatuor Sextarios Avene ad prebendam. Idem. 1 par. fol. 136. b. where it seems to have been used for a much greater Quantity. A Sextary of Ale contained xvi Lagenas. See Tolfefer.

Sertery Lands (mentioned in the first Part of the Baronage of England, f. 324.) are Lands given to a Church or religious House, for Maintenance of the Sexton or Sacristan.

Serpyonius, Due Time or Season. — Tenentes terram in campis S. Edmundi debent unam rotam arare; debet arari medietas ad seysionem yemalem & alia medietas ad seysionem æstivalem. Cartular. S. Edmundi, MS. f. 321.

Shacke Is a Custom in Norfolk to have Common for Hogs from the End of Harvest till Seed-time, in all Mens Grounds without Contradiction. Co. 7. Rep. fol. 5. Corbet's Case: And in that Country, To go at Shacke, is as much as to go at large.

Shamellex, Scamelle, Shambles, or Stalls to sell Mear, &c. Prior de Tynemuth habet mercatum apud Tinemute & habet ibidem tunberellum, Shamelas conductivas ad carnifices & alios, & capit ibidem emendas panis & cervisia. Placit. Parl. 18 Ed. 1.

Shanke. See Fur.

Shares. See Plotzon.

Sharping Cozn Is a customary Gift of Corn, which, at every Christmas, the Farmers in some Parts of England give to their Smith, for sharpening their Plough-Irons, Harrow-tines, and such like, and exceeds not half a Bushel for a Plough-Land.

Shatford. — Et si le tenant ne veigne, on si il veigne & sache viens Dire, adonques Judgment sera que le dit recovera les tenemens quiteme a touze jours, selonque le Judgement appelle Shatford per Cusume de la Citie. MS. dez Customes de Court de Huttings en Londres. Tit. Gavelle.

Shaw, A Grove of Trees, or a Wood. 1 Inst. fol. 4. b.

Shawwaldris: This is a Word unknown to Mr. Somner, who could not tell what it was, unless Chevaliers, which may agree with the Signification, but not with the Sound of the Word, for 'tis more like Soldiers than Chevaliers. 'Tis mentioned in Knighthood, Anno 1318. Cumque in partes Scocie venisset, inculcavit eos Dominus Gilbertus de Middleton miles cum aliis elegantibus Shawwaldris & eas de omnibus suis spoliavit.

Sheppe. See Toliat.

Shreading, A Riding, Tithing, or Division in the Isle of Man, where the whole Island is divided into Six Shreadings, in each of which there is a Coroner or chief Constable appointed by Delivery of a Rod at the Tinewald Court, or annual Convention. See Mr. King's Description of the Isle of Man, p. 17.

Sherbet Is a compound Drink, lately brought into England from Turkey and Persia; and is made of Juice of Lemons, Sugar, and other Ingredients. Another Sort of it is made of Violets, Honey, Juice of Raisins, &c. Sherbet in the Persian Tongue Tongue signifies pleasant Liquor. 15 Car. 2. cap. 11.

Sherffee, So the Body of the Lordship of Cardiff in South-Wales is called, excluding the Members of it. Powel's Hist. of Wales, 123.

Shermanns Craft Is an Art used at Norwich; the Artificers whereof do Sheer as well Worsheds, Stamins, and Fustins, as all other woollen Cloth. It is mentioned Anno 19 H. 7. cap. 17.

Shermurd. — The King granted to Richard Earl of Arundel, a certain Rent in Surrey and Sussex called Sherringeld, to the yearly Value of 14 l. 19 s. 1 d. Rot. Parl. 50 Ed. 3. I believe miswritten for Shiriffgeld, a Rent formerly paid to or by the Sheriff; for it is there desired, that the Sheriff in his Account may be discharged thereof.

Shewing Is to be quit of Attachments in any Court, and before whomsoever in Plaints shewed, and not avowed. See Scavage.

Shield, from the Sax. Skyldan, to cover, or from the Greek σύνδος, a Skin, because anciently Shields were made with Skins.

Shilling, (Sax. Scilling) among our English Saxons, consisted but of Five Pence, Si in capillis sit cultus longitudinis unius Uncie V. denarii, i. e. uno solido, componatur. LL. H. 1. cap. 39. But afterwards it consisted of Sixteen, and often of Twenty Pence. This was about the Time of the Norman Invasion; for in Domesday, we read, That tale manerium reddit 10, 20 vel 30 libras denariorum; de 20 in ora. But the Penny in those Days was equal in Weight to our Three Pence, so that a Shilling then was worth Fifteen now; Illud enim scire licet aliam fuisse rationem solidorum etate Elfrici quam nostra; nam per ea tempora 30 denarii faciebant sex solidos, nostra vero duos tantum; but in the Reign of William the Conqueror, a Shilling was of the same Value as now.

Shilwite Est emenda pro transgressione facta in Nativam, emp. impregnando. MS. de Monast. Radigdis penes Tho. Wollscot, Arm.

Ship-Money Was an ancient Imposition that had lain dormant many Years, and was charged upon the Ports, Towns, Cities, Boroughs and Counties of this Realm; which was revived by King Charles the First, in 1635, and 1636. and by Stat. 17 Car. 1. cap. 14. was declared to be contrary to the Laws and Statutes of this Realm, the Petition of Right, Liberty of the Subject, &c.

Shipper Is a Dutch Word, signifying the Master of a Ship. Anno 1 Jac. Sess. 1. cap. 33. We commonly say Skipper, and use it for any common Seaman.

Shire (Comitatus) From the Saxon Scir, or Scyre, i. e. to part or divide) is well known to be a Part or Portion of this Land, called also a County. King Alfred first divided this Land into Shires, and those again into Hundreds and Tithings; of which Shires there are in England Forty, and in Wales Twelve. In privilegiorum Chartis ubi conceditur quietum esse a Shiris, intelligendum est de immunitate, qua quis eximitur a Secta vel clientela Curii Vicecomitum (quas etiam Shiras vocant) praestanda vel perscienda. The Assises of the Shire, or the Assembly of the People of a County, was called Scirgemot by the Saxons. This Division made by King Alfred was in Satrapias, which we now call Shires; in Centurias, which we call Hundreds, and in Decanias, which we call Tithings: The old Latin Word was Scyra, Qua Lege olim octo

Schira, id est, Provincie indicabantur. Brompton, pag. 956.

Shire-Clerk Is he that keeps the County-Court; his Office is so incident to the Sheriff, that the King cannot grant it. Milton's Case, 4 Rep.

Shirebeweke of Winchester and of Essex, (the Compals or Extent of a Sheriff's Authority) Anno 11 R. 2. cap. 10, & 11. Sherifwikes. Anno 13 E. c. 22.

Shire-Man, or Syrr-Man, Was anciently Judge of the County, by whom Trials for Land, &c. were determined before the Conquest. Lamb. Peramb. p. 442.

Shire-note. See shire and Turn.

Shirif or Sheret, (Vicecomes) quasi Shire-reve; Sax. Scire-geretha, i. e. Pagi vel Comitatus Praepositus, or rather from the Sax. Scyrian, i. e. to divide; this Officer being so called from the first Division of the Kingdom into several Parts, and he is now the chief Officer under the King in every Shire. Camd. in his Britannia, fol. 104. thus describes his Office.

Singulis vero annis, Nobilis aliquis ex incolis praeficitur, quem Vicecomitem, quasi Vicarium Comitatus, & nostra lingua Shyref, i. e. Comitatus Praepositum, vocamus: Qui etiam Comitatus vel Provinciae Quasstor recte dici potest. Ejus enim est publicas pecunias Provinciae suae conquirere, multas irrogatas vel pignori- bus ablatis colligere, & anavo inferre, Judicibus praesto adesse & eorum mandata eque, duodecim viros cogere, qui in causis de facto cognoscunt, & ad Judices referunt, (Judices enim apud nos Juris solum, non Facti sunt Judices) condemnatos ad supplicium ducere, & in minoribus litibus cognoscere, in majoribus autem jus dicunt Justiciarii, quos Itinerantes ad Assisas vocant, qui quotannis hos Comitatus bis adeunt, ut de Causis cognoscant, & carceratis Sententiam ferant. Henricus secundus hos Itinerantes instituit, vel potius restituit. Ille (ut inquit Matth. Paris) consilio filii sui & Episcoporum constituit Justiciarios, per sex partes Regni, in qualibet parte tres, qui jurarent, quod cuilibet jus suum conservarent illisum.

Of the Antiquity and Authority of this Officer, read Coke's Rep. l. 4. Milton's Case, and Spelman's Glossarium, verb. Vicecomes. The Sheriff was anciently chosen in the County-Court, by the Suffrages of the People, as Knights of Parliament yet are, but is now nominated by the King. See Forstersu, cap. 24. fol. 53. Vicecomes dicitur, quod Vicem Comitatus supplet in placitis illis quibus Comes ex sua dignitate ratione participat cum Rege. Niger lib. Scaccarii. The Form of his Oath, see in the Reg. of Writs, f. 531. b.

Shirifalty, (Anno 14 Car. 2. cap. 21.) The Time of one's being Sheriff.

Shirif-tooth, (contracted into steth) Per Shirif-tooth, Johannes Stanley Ar. clamat habere, de quolibet tenente infra feodum de Aldford, unum denarium & quadrantum per annum, exceptis Dominicis tervis propriis & terra in feodo & Manerio pradiete Maner. & Hundred. de Macclesfield. Rot. Plac. in Itin. apud Cestriam. 14 H. 7. Per Shirif-tooth, seems a Tenure by the Service or Duty of providing Entertainment for the Sheriff at his County-turns or Courts. In Derbysire the King's Bailiffs anciently took 6 d. of every Bovate of Land in Name of Shirif-tooth. Ryley's Placit. Parliam. fol. 653.

Shoccare, Schoccare, To shock Corn, or put it into Shock. Inter antiquas consuetudines Abbatie de Sancto Edmundo — in villa de Herdewyck

Operarius metet unam acram frumenti — Et quantum metet tantum ligabit & shoecabit, sed non caviabit. Ex Cartular. S. Edmundi. MS. fol. 322.

Shoe. See Polein.

Shopy, Shopa, Omnibus, &c. Johannes Horseret de Hereford Bockour salutem; Noveritis me prefatum Johannem dedisse, &c. Rogero Smith de Bromeyard, unam shopam cum pertin. suis in Bromeyard, predict. situat. in le Market-place, ibidem &c. Dat. 27 Feb. 9 E. 4. See Selda.

Shorling and Shorling Seem to be Words to distinguishing Fells of Sheep; Shorling signifying the Fells after the Fleeces are shorn off, and Morling, alias Mortling, the Fells head off after they be killed, or die alone. 3 E. 4. c. 1. 4 E. 4. c. 3. 12 E. 4. 5. and 14 E. 4. 3. Howbeit in some Parts of England they understand by a Shorling, a Sheep whose Fleeces are shorn off; and by a Mortling, a Sheep that dies. See Morling.

Shortford, Anno 1335. Adjudicatum fuit Decano & Capitulo beati Petri Exoniensis quoddam tenementum situatum in vico australi civitatis Exoniensis secundum consuetudinem civitatis predictae, & dicitur Shortford — Izacke's Antig. of Exeter, pag. 48. The ancient Custom of this City is, when the Chief Lord in Fee cannot be answered of the Rent due to him out of his Tenement, and no Distress can be there levied for the same, the Lord must come to the Tenement, and there take a Stone, or some other dead Thing of the said Tenement, and bring it before the Mayor and Bailiffs; and thus must he do Seven Quarter-Days successively; and this is called a Glebe. And if on the said Seventh Quarter-Day the Lord be not satisfied of his Rent and Arrears, then the said Tenement shall be adjudged to the said Lord to hold the same a Year and a Day; and this is called Gavelock. And then forthwith Proclamation shall be openly made in the Court, That if any Man pretends any Title to the said Tenement, that he appear within the Year and Day then next following, and satisfy the Lord of the said Rent and Arrears; but if no Appearance be made, and the Rent not paid, then shall the Lord come again to the said Court, and pray, that according to the said Custom, the said Tenement be adjudged to him in his Demesne as of Fee, according to the Intention of the Law in such like Cases, which is commonly called le cessavit per biennium. And this Custom here is called Shortford, and in French, Foreclose; and so the Lord shall have from thenceforth the said Tenement, with the Appurtenances, in Fee to him and his Heirs for ever.

Shot, From the Saxon sceat, signifying Pecuniam aut Vestigal. See Lambard's Explication of Saxon Words, verb. Primitia. It is still used among Alehouse-Keepers and Vintners; as to pay the shot, is to pay the Money due for the Reckoning.

Sic, a Ditch: From the Sax. Sic, lacuna. 'Tis mentioned in the Monasticon, 2 Tom. pag. 130, viz. Ad locum ubi Cambee cadit in Irthin & sursum per Cambee usque ad Sicam quae descendit de nigra quercu.

Sich, Sichetum & Sikettus, A little Current of Water, that ules to be dry in the Summer. Inter duos sikettos, &c. Mon. Ang. 2. par. f. 426. Also a Water-furrow or Gutter.

Sicha, the same with Sica.

Sichetus, the same with Sica.

Siclus Was a Sort of Money current among the old English, of the Value of Two-pence: We read it in Egbert, in Dialogo de Ecclesiastica institutione, pag. 98. viz. That if any of the Brotherhood did, contrary to the Canons, receive a Monk who left the Cloister, sine literis pacificis, &c. he was to pay Thirty Siclos, Fifteen to the Bishop, and the other Fifteen to the Abbot, whose Monk he so received without the Leave of the Prior.

Sicut alias Is a second Writ sent out, where the first was not executed. Co. lib. 4. fol. 85. It takes Name from those Words in it. As for Example, Carolus Secundus Dei Gratia, &c. Vicecom. Midd. salutem. Praecipimus tibi (sicut alias praecipimus) quod non omittas, &c. and so as in the Capias, Lambard in his Treat of Processes, in the End of his Eirenarcha.

Siremen, alias Questmen, Be those that are yearly chosen, according to the Custom of every Parish, to assist the Churchwardens in the Inquiry and Presenting such Offenders to the Ordinary, as are punishable in the Court Christian. See Synodales testes.

Sidling, Sidelings. Meers or Balles betwixt or on the Sides of arable Ridges or Lands. — Cum libertate faldæ & pastura & suarii in Sythlingis, (Sidlingis) & omnibus locis. Mon. Angl. Vol. 2. f. 275.

Sigillum, — Notum sit omnibus Christianis, quod ego Johannes de Gresley non habui potestatem Sigilli mei per unum annum integrum ultimo preteritum, jam notifico, in bona memoria & sana mente, quod scripta Sigillata Sigillo meo contradico & denego in omnibus a tempore predicto usque in diem restorationis Sigilli predicti. In cuius rei testimonium Sigillum Decanatus de Revingdon apposui. Testibus Domino Thoma Stafford milite. Johanne Arden, &c. Dat. apud Drakelew, 18 Rich. 2. See Seal and Tabellion.

Before the Time of William the Conqueror, the English did not seal with Wax, but they usually made a golden Cross on the Parchment, and sometimes an Impression on a Piece of Lead, which hanged to the Grant with a string of Silk; and this was held a sufficient Confirmation of the Grant it self, without Signing, or any Witnesses. Ingulphus, pag. 901. tells us, That Chirographorum confessionem Anglicanam, quæ antea usque ad Edwardi Regis tempora fidelium presentium subcripti-nibus cum crucibus aureis aliisque sacris signaculis firma fuerunt; Normanni condemnantes Chirographa chartas vocabant & chartarum firmitates cum cerea impressione per uniuscujusque speciale sigillum sub infillatione trium aut quatuor testium asstantium conficere consuebant.

The Colour of the Wax with which the King's Grants were sealed, was usually green, to signify Rem in perpetuo vigore permanjuram, and the Impression in Lay-Men's Seals was, a Man on Horseback with a Sword in his Hand, till the Year 1218. and then they began to engrave their Coats of Arms on their Seals; only the Archbishops and Bishops by a Decree of Cardinal Otto, who was Legate here in the Year 1237. were to have Sigillum, puta nomen dignitatis, officii, seu collegii, & etiam illorum proprium nomen, qui dignitatis vel officii perpetui gaudent honore, inscriptum notis & characteribus manifestis; sique sigillum authenticum habentur.

Sigla, a Sail: From the Sax. Segel, velum. In the Laws of King Ethelred, made at Wantage, cap. 24. Ad Billingsgate si venit una navicula, unus obolus thelonii dabitur, si major & habet siglas, 1 denarius, &c.

Signet Is 'one of the King's Seals, wherewith his private Letters are sealed, and is always in the Custody of the King's Secretaries: And there are Four Clerks of the Signet-Office always attending. 2 Inst. f. 556.

Significavit Is a Writ of Excommunicato capiendo, which issueth out of the Chancery upon a Certificate given by the Ordinary, of a Man that stands obstinately excommunicate, by the Space of Forty Days, for the laying him up in Prison without Bail or Mainprize, until he submit himself to the Authority of the Church. And it is so called, because the Word Significavit is an emphatical Word in the Writ. There is also another Writ in the Register, f. 7. directed to the Justices of the Bench, commanding them to stay any Suit depending between such and such, by reason of any Excommunication alledged against the Plaintiff, because the Sentence of the Ordinary that did excommunicate him, is appealed from, and the Appeal yet depends undecided. See F. N. B. De excommunicato capiendo, fol. 62, 66. where you may find Writs of this Name in other Cases.

Signum, A Cross prefixt to the Name of a subscribing Witness, as a sign of Assent and Approbation to a Charter, or other Deed, commonly used among the Saxons, and some of our first Normans, before the common Use of either affixed or appending Seals; when Subscriptions were in this Form — Signum Roberti Episcopi Lincol. — Signum Nigelli de Oily, &c.

Sikertus, the same with Sica.

Silchester. See Vindonum.

Silentiarius Is one of the Privy Council, for silentium formerly signified Conventus privatus. Radulphus de Diceto, and Matt. Paris. anno 1172. are taken in this Sense, Feria ante pascha in qua solet papa publice absolvere vel excommunicare, quibusdam Domini papa silentiarius ad aures nunciorum Regis preferentibus, devenit, quod papa eodem die decreverat in Regem Anglie nomina, &c. interdicti ferre sententiam.

Silina Is a Pound-weight; 'tis mistaken in Brompton for Salma, who mentions a silken Tent so large that 200 Soldiers might dine in it: Et 60 millia Silinas de frumento & totidem de hordeo. Hoveden mentions Solinas de frumento, which must be Salmas.

Silkhobolmer and Tholwesser. Anno 14 Car. 2. c. 15. Is a Trade or Mystery that winds, twists and spins, or throws Silk, so fitting it for Use, who are incorporated by the said Act; wherein there is Mention also of Silkwinders and Doublers, which are Members of the same Trade. See 20 Car. 2. cap. 6.

Silba cedua. See Sylva cedua.

Silures, South-Wales, or the Inhabitants of Brecknock, Radnor, Monmouth and Glamorganshires.

Simnell, Siminellus, From the Latin simila, which signifies the finest Part of the Flower; Panis similagenens, Simnel Bread. It is mentioned Assisa panis, (and is still in Use, especially in Lent,) Bread made into a Simnel shall weigh Two Shillings less than Wastell bread. Stat. 51 H. 3. See Cocket. It was sometimes called Simnellus, as in the Annals of the Church of Winchester, under the Year 1042. Rex Edwardus instituit & carta confirmavit, ut quatuor ipse vel aliquis Sacellorum suorum Regum Anglie diadema portaret Wintonie vel Wigornie vel Westmonasterii, Precentor loci recipient de fisco ipsa die dividiam marcam, & Conventus centum Simnellos & unum modium vini. But indeed the true Reading is Simnellos. The English Simnel was the purest white Bread, as in the Book of Battel Abbey. Panem regie mense aptum, qui Simencl vulgo vocatur.

Simony, Simonia, Venditio rei sacre, so called from Simon Magus: It was agreed by all the Justices, Trin. 8 Jac. That if the Patron present any Person to a Benefice with Cure, for Money, that such Presentation, &c. is void, though the Presentee were not privy to it; and the Statute gives the Presentation to the King. Co. 12 Rep. fol. 74. Simony may be by Compact between Strangers, without the Privy of the Incumbent or Patron. Cro. 1 par. fol. 331. Bawderoke's Case. Hob. Rep. fol. 165. Noy's Rep. f. 22. Pascall's Case. and 3 Inst. fol. 153. Some Authors mention Simoniaceum per munus triplex, and tell us of a Person who took off the Cap of Grosfulan, an Archbishop of Milan, and shaking it, told the People. Iste Grosfulanus qui est sub ista cappa (& non de alio dico) est Simoniaceus, &c. per munus a manu, i. e. by Bribery, per munus a lingua, i. e. by Favour and Flattery, per munus ab obsequio, i. e. by a sordid subjecting himself to the Patron.

Simplex. — Charta simplex, A Deed Poll, or single Deed — Richardus Mayhen de Sutton per Chartam simplicem hunc indenturam indentam, dedit, &c. Dat. 22 Edw. 3. Juriscarius simplex, was antiently used for any Judge that was not Chief in either Court. There is a Writ registred, beginning thus, I John Wood, a simple Judge of the Court of Common Pleas, &c.

Simplex Beneficium, A minor Dignity in a Cathedral or Collegiate Church, a Sine-Cure, a Pension out of a Parochial Church, or any other Ecclesiastical Benefice opposed to a Cure of Souls, and which therefore was consistent with any Parochial Cure, without coming under the Name or Censure of Pluralities.

Simplex Juriscarius, This Stile was antiently used for any puisne Judge, that was not Chief in any Court. There is a Writ registred beginning thus — I John Wood, a simple Judge of the Common Pleas, &c.

Simula, A Manchet, a white Loaf. — Among the Customs of the Abbey of Glastonbury. — In diebus solennibus cum Fratres fuerint in cappis, monachum habuerunt in iustis, & simulas super mensam, & vinum ad caritatem, & tria generalia. — Cartular. Abbat. Glaston. MS. f. 10.

Sine assensu capitali Is a Writ that lies where a Dean, Bishop, Prebendary, Abbot, Prior, or Master of an Hospital, aliens the Land holden in the Right of his House, without the Consent of the Chapter, Convent and Fraternity: In which Case his Successor shall have this Writ. F. N. B. fol. 195.

Sine die, Without Day: When Judgment is given against the Plaintiff, he is said to be in miseriordia pro falso clamore suo: But when for the Defendant, then it is said, Eat inde sine die.

Sinistravit, To walk on the Left Hand: Dextravit Archiepiscopus Londinensis Episcopus, Sinistravit Wintoniensis, &c. sic in sede sua solemniter collocatus est. Rad. de Diceto. Anno 1193.

Si non omnia Is a Writ of Association, whereby, if all in Commission cannot meet at the Day assigned, it is allowed, that Two or more of them, may finish the Business. See Association, and F. N. B. fol. 185, & 111. and Reg. Orig. fol. 202, 206, &c.

Sinofitas, For Famositas in Brompton.

Sireffocna Is what we now call a Hundred. Leg. H. 1. cap. 6. Comitatus in Anglia in Centurias & Sireffocna distinguuntur.

Si recognoscant Is a Writ that lies for a Creditor against his Debtor, for Money numbered, that hath, before the Sheriff in the County-Court, acknowledged himself to owe his Creditor such a Sum received of him in pecuniis numeratis. The Form of which Writ is this — Rex Vicemiti salutem Praec. tibi quod si A. recognoscat se debere R. 40. solid. sine ulterius dilacione, tunc ipsum distringas ad praedictum debitum eidem R. sine dilacione reddendum. Teste, &c. Old Nat. Brev. fol. 68.

Site or Scite, Situs, The Standing of any Place, the Situation of a Capital House or Messuage, a Territory, or Part of a Country, as the Site of the late dissolved Monastery of, &c. i. the Place where it stood: The Word is mentioned in the Statute 32 H. 8. cap. 20. and 22 Car. 2. cap. 11. and is there written Site, — Dedi situm loci in quo domus sua sita est. Mon. Ang. 2 par. fol. 278.

Sithundman. Such a Gentleman as had the Office to lead the Men of a Town or Parish. E classe nobilium erat, says Somner. Vir militaris. Spelm. In Sax. Sithundman signifies praepositus paganus, or a Man who had so much Land that he might be capable of Knights Service. Si homo Sithecundus terrarius superfedeat expeditionem, emendat 120 sol. & perdat terram suam. Leg. Inæ. cap. 56. Even the learned Spelman mistakes the Derivation and proper Meaning of this Word, which is truly from Sax. sithe, gesthe, a Division of a Shire or County, a Riding, Lath, Rape, or Hundred. For Dugdale in his Antiquities of Warwickshire, does observe that the Hundreds of Knighthlow, Kineton, and Hemlingford, in 16 Hen. 2. were called Sithescoca de Enuclelawa, Sithescoca de Chinton, Sithescoca de Humliford. So as Sithsundman, Sithcundman, Gestcundman, was only the Chief Officer within such a Division, the High Constable of the Hundred.

Sithflora, (Sax.) The Franchise or Liberty of a certain Company of Men; a Hundred. Rot. P. 16 Hen. 2. sometimes written Sipsoca. Curia libera legalium hominum.

Sitomagus, Thetford in Norfolk.

Sithindi Were Servants of the same Nature with Rod-Knights, viz. bound to attend their Lord where-ever he went, yet he was accounted among the English Saxons, as liber homo, because he had Lands in Fee, subject only to such Tenure, Si habeat 5 hidas est Sixhinde. Leg. Inæ. cap. 26. And in the Laws of H. 1. cap. 76. Servi alii casu, alii gentitura: Liberi alii Thygkindi, alii Sixhindi, alii Thyelfindi. See Hindeni.

Sizel, In the Fabrication of our milled Money, the Gold or Silver is cast out of the melting Pot into long flat Bars, which Bars are drawn thro' a Mill, (wrought by a Horse) to produce the just Thickness of Guineas, Crowns, &c. Then with forcible Engines, called Cutters, which answer exactly to the respective Sizes or Dimensions of the Money to be made, the round Pieces are cut out from the flat Bar shaped as aforesaid; after which, the Residue is called Sizel, and is melted down again. Vide Lowndes's Essay upon Coin, pag. 96.

Skaralla or Scarbella. — It was especially given in Charge by the Justices in Eyre, that all Juries should enquire de hiis qui piscantur cum Kiddellis & Skarkallis. Coke's 2 Part, l. 1st. fol. 38. But he does not declare the Meaning of it.

Skaw Is a Word mentioned in the Statute made 4 E. 4. cap. 1.

Skeletta, A little Bell. — Imponentes novam navim testis Ecclesia pro vetusta qua combusta fuerat, & pro veteri turri Ecclesia humile campanile, & duas Skelettas, quas Fergus Ararius de Sancto Botolfo nobis nuper contulerat, imponentes. Hist. Ingulsi, pag. 101. Hence our skilletts, commonly made of Bell-metal. Old Teuton. Schel, Latin Skella, a Bell.

Skella. See Scilla.

Skerda Is that which we now call a Scar or Wound: Si ossa extrahuntur a Capite & Skerda magna levetur, &c. Braht. lib. 3. cap. 24.

Skypunge (Anno 27 H. 6. cap. 2.) Signifies the Precincts of Calais.

Slade, Sax. Slad. A long flat Piece or Slip of Ground. — Pratum vocatum le Slade, from the long and narrow Form of it. Paroch. Antiq. pag. 465. Slade-furlong, ib. 537. See Kennet's Glossary in the Word Slade.

Slippa, A Stirrup, Stapes. Manerium de Hotun. com. Camb. tenetur per servitium tenendi slippam sella Domini Regis dum equum suum in castro suo Carleoli scanderit. — Cart. 5 H. 7.

Slough-silver, (Pat. 43 Eliz. pag. 11.) A certain Rent paid to the Castle of Wigmore, and is in Lieu of certain Days Work in Harvest, heretofore referred to the Lord from his Tenants.

Slusagium. See Exclusagium.

Slust, Exclusa, Is a Frame to keep or let Water out of a Ground.

Smaka, A small light Vessel, a Smack. — Naves quas haryas vocant, & galea propter vidualia transmissæ vi turbinum resolute perierunt — omnes etiam smakæ Regis & aliorum confractæ sunt, ex quarum materiis fecit Rex suas longas naves conficere. — Gaufridi Vinclaus. Rich. Regis Iter. Hieros. lib. 5. cap. 4. where by a gross Error, Snake is put for Smaka.

Smalt Is that of which Painters make blue Colour. Anno 21 Jac. cap. 3. and Pat. 16 Feb. 16 Jac. in Italian Smalto.

Smook farthings, The Pentecostals or customary Oblations offered by the dispersed Inhabitants within a Diocese, when they made their Processions to the Mother Cathedral Church, came by Degrees into a standing annual Rent, called Smook-farthings. For in the Year 1444. William Alneswyke, Bishop of Lincoln, issued out his Commission, — Ad levandum le Smook-farthings alias dist. Lincoln-farthings a nostris Archidiaconatus nostri Leycestriae subditis ad utilitatem nostre Matricis Ecclesie Cath. Lincoln. sponse nostre convertend. — dicta Smook-farthings conceduntur ad constructionem Campanilis Ecclesie prebendales S. Margareta Lei. est. Reg. Will. Alneswyk Episc. Linc.

Linc. MS. And about the Year 1470. John Bishop of Lincoln sent his Injunctions to John Gilbert, Doctor of Decrees, his Commissary-General within the Archdeaconry of Oxford, and George Ward L. L. B. to move the Curates or Parochial Clergy, to advise their People of their ancient and laudable Custom of Processions, and Oblations to the Mother Cathedral Church at Whitfontide.—Nec non ad exigendum, petendum, levandum & colligendum & recipiendum omnes & singulas oblationes hujusmodi, quadrantes Pentecostales alias Smock-farthings vulgaviter nuncupatis.

Smock-silver, Tenementum Neustede cum pertin. &c. in villa de Staplethirt in Com. Cant. tenetur de Manerio de Eastgreenwich per fidelitatem tantum in libero socagio. Per. Pat. Dat. 3 Feb. 4 Edw. 6. And by the Payment of Smock-silver to the Sheriff yearly the Sum of Six Pence. Notes for Lord Wooten's Office, 1628. There is Smock-silver and Smock penny paid to the Ministers of divers Parishes, and to be paid in Lieu of Tithe-wood; or it may, as in many Places at this Day, be a continued Payment of the Romescot or Peter-pence. See Chimney-money.

Snood. A smooth Roll or Bottom of Silk or Thread, from the Saxon Snod, a Fillet or Hair-lace with which Women smooth up their Hair, which in the North Part of England is now called a Snude, and in Scotland a Snod.—Et in octo Snoden de Packthead emptis ibidem pro quadam reti faciendi pro cuculis capiendis—Paroch. Antiqu. pag. 574.

Snottering silver. There was a Custom in the Village of Wylegh, that all the servile Tenants should pay for their Tenement a Duty called Snottering-silver, i. e. for each Tenement 1 den. ob. to the Abbot of Colchester. Placit. 18 Edw. 1.

Soc, Soca, According to Minsheu, is a Word signifying a Power or Liberty of Jurisdiction; whence our Law-Latin Word Soca, for a Seignior's enfranchised by the King, with Liberty of holding a Court of his Sockmen, or Socagers, i. h. his Tenants, whose Tenure is hence called Socage. Skene de verbor. Interp. says, Soc is called Socia de hominibus suis, in curia secundum consuetudinem Regni. See more there: And Bracton, lib. 3. tract. 2. cap. 8. mentions divers Liberties, as Soc and Sa, Toll and Thean, Infangthef & Ufingthef, & issi qui habent talem libertatem, possunt judicare in curia sua cum qui inventus fuerit infra libertatem suam, seissitus de aliquo latrocinio manifesto. The same Interpretation Lambard gives it in his Translation of the Sax. Laws: For among the rest in those of King Ina, (Leg. 24.) be Cyric socum, rendered, De immunitate fani: And in the Laws of Henry the First it is said, Nullus socnam habet impune peccandi, that is, none hath Liberty of sinning without Punishment. And in the same Sense it is used in Domesday, for in Essex, under the Title of Terra Rogeri Bigoti, it is thus recorded, Westnum tenet Hugo de Hofdene quod tenuerunt iv. liberi homines T. R. E. qui fuerant de socio Algari, &c. See Soc, Soke.

Socage or Socage, Socagium, May be derived from the French Soc, that is, Vomer, a Conter or Plowshare, and is a Tenure of Lands by, or for certain inferior Services of Husbandry to be performed to the Lord of the Fee. See Institutes of the Common Law, 31. Bracton, lib. 2. cap. 35. num. 1. describes it thus, Diu poterit socagium a socco, & inde tenentes qui tenent in socagio socmanni dici poterunt, eo quod deputati sunt, ut videtur, *tantummodo ad culturam, & quorum custodia & maritagia ad propinquiores parentes jure sanguinis pertinebunt. Et si aliquando inde facta capiatur homagium, quod plures contingit, non tamen habebit propter hoc Dominus capitalis custodiam & maritag. Quia non semper sequitur homagium, licet aliquando sequatur. Skene de verbor. signif. says, Socage, is a Tenure of Lands, when a Man is infeoffed freely, without any Service, Ward, Relief or Marriage, and pays to his Lord such Duty as is called Petit Serjeanty, &c. There is free socage, and base socage, otherwise called Villanage.—And according to Bracton, Socagium liberum est, ubi fit servitium in denariis Dominis capitalibus, & nihil inde omnino datur ad fut. m. & servitium Regis. This free socage is also called common socage. Anno 37 H. 8. cap. 20. Other Divisions there are in our Books, &c. Bracton, lib. 2. cap. 8. num. 3. Old Nat. Brev. vol. 94. and others. But by the Statute 12 Car. 2. cap. 24. all Tenures shall be adjudged and taken to be turned into free and common socage. See Konnet's Glossary in Socage. This was a Tenure of so large an Extent, that Littleton tells us, all the Lands in England, which were not held in Knight's Service, were held in Socage. So that it seems the Land was divided between these two Tenures, and as they were of different Natures, so the Descent of these Lands was in a different Manner; for the Lands held in Knight's Service descended to the eldest Son; but those held in Villanage or Socagio, equally among all the Sons; yet if there was but one Messuage, the eldest Son was to have it, so as the rest had the Value of that Messuage to be divided between them. Bracton, lib. 2. cap. 35, 36.*

Socmans, alias Sokemans, Socmanni, Are such Tenants as hold their Lands and Tenements by Socage Tenure, of which there are several Kinds, viz. Sokemans of Frank-tenure. Kitchin, fol. 81. Sokemans of Base-tenure. Ibid. and Sokemans of ancient Demeine, which last seem most properly to be called Sockmans. F. N. B. fol. 14. Britton, cap. 66. num. 2. Progenitores Simonis Bokenley omnia sua in Houston per liberum Socagium tunc tenebant, & quieti erant de Sctis Curiarum, Consuetudinibus, exactionibus & demandis. Lib.—S. Albani Tir. Houston, cap. 1. Liberi Sokemanni possunt dare aut vendere, sed ad voluntatem Domini; antenatus succedit in totum: averium masculum non vendere; filium non maritare, nisi dant Domino 3s. 4d. filium omnino facere Clericum. Ex libro irrotulament. Ecclesie Christi Cantuar. fol. 211. The Word Sokeman is found in the Statute of Wards and Relief. 28 Edw. 1. See Bracton, lib. 2. cap. 35. n. 1. Dugdale's Warwickshire, fol. 170.

Socmen, The Ceorls or Husbandmen among our Saxon Ancestors were of Two Sorts; one that hired the Lord's Outland or tenementary Land like our Farmers; the other that tilled and manured his Inland or Demeans (yielding operam not centum, Work, not Rent) and were thereupon called his socmen, or Plough-men. Spelman of Feuds, cap. 7. But after the Conquest, the proper Sockmanni, or Sokemanni, often mentioned in Domesday, were those Tenants who held by no servile Tenure, but commonly paid their Rent as a Soke or Sign of Freedom to the Lord, tho' they were sometimes obliged to customary Duties for the Service and Honour of their Lord.

Socna, In Saxon Socne, a Privilege, or Liberty, and Franchise, Volo ut ipsi sint eorum socæ

acæ & socnæ; Theolonii etiam & Teami (privilegiarum, filicet, & jurium sic appellatarum) digni infra tempus & extra tempus, &c. Charta Canuti Regis in Hist. Eccles. Cath. S. Pauli, fol. 189. See Soc.

Socome Signifies a Custom of grinding at the Lord's Mill; And there is Bond-Socome, where the Tenants are bound to it, and Love-Socome, where they do it freely out of Love to their Lord.

Socius, for Effoins.

Soka, Soc, Sok, Soke. The Words generally signify Liberty or Privilege of Tenants excused from customary Burdens and Impositions. Sometimes Soka or Soke, was the Territory or Precinct in which the Chief Lord did exercise his Sac, Sake, or Saka, his Liberty of keeping Court, or holding Trials within his own Soke or Jurisdiction. Sometimes it signified a Payment or Rent to the Lord for using his Land with such Liberty and Privilege, as made the Tenant a Socman or Freeholder, upon no other Conditions than a Quit-rent. As often in Domesday—1. Socman reddens Socam in manerio—i. e. One Socman or Free Tenant paying only Money or Rent.

Soke, Anno 32 H. 8. cap. 15. & cap. 28. Significat libertatem Curie tenentium quam socam appellamus. Fleta, lib. 1. cap. 47. scilicet Soke. Soke hoc est, quod Prior habet scilicet de Homagiis suis ad Curiam suam, secundum communem consuetudinem regni Anglie. Per Soke Will. Stanley in manerio suo de Knottsford clamat cognitionem placitorum debiti, transgressionis, conventionis & detentionis infra summam 40 sol. de aliis compaſſibus quibuscunque sine brevi. Pl. Itin. apud Ceftr. 14 H. 7. Soke, id est, aver fraunch Court de ses homes MS. See Soc.

Sokemanrie, Sokemanria, Free Tenure by Socage. Dicunt quod tenebant predicta de predicto Rege per Sokemanriam sine carta sive aliquo servitio eidem Domino Regi in guerra sua inde faciendo. Consuetud. domus de Farendon, MS. fol.

Soken, Soca. See Soc and Hamsoken.

Soke-reeve Seems to be the Lord's Rent-gatherer in the Soke or Soken. Fleta, lib. cap. 55.

Solar, (Anno 43 Eliz. cap. 10.) Putat mangonium aliquod ex colore aliquo adulterino pannis addito, ut pluvius veneant. Dr. Skinner.

Solarium, An upper Room, Chamber, or Garret, which in some Parts of England is called a Sollar. Istud cellarium & istud Solarium sita sunt intra domum meam. Paroch. Antiq. pag. 325. Pro duobus cellariis & duobus solariis ejusdem ad terminum vite traditis & concessis, ibid. pag. 448. Unum Solarium vocat. a Loft. Chart. Antiq. sine dat.

Solda. Pateat—quod nos Johannes Romayne senior de Leominstr. & Johannes Romayne junior de eadem remisimus. Johanni Meole vicario Ecclesie de Wygemore, Ricardo Boterel Constabular. Castri de Wygemore, & Fouke Sprengelose totum jus nostrum & cladium in una Solda cum pertinentiis in Leominstr. situata in alto vico inter Soldam quondam Ricardi Spicer & Soldam que fuit Philippi Cullinge, &c. Dat. 2 Octobris, 19 Rich. 2. It seems to be the same with Selda, a Shop or Shed.

Solet & debet. See Debet & Solet.

Soc-tenant, Solus tenens, Is he or she that holds only in his or her own Right, without any other joined: For Example, if a Man and Wife hold Land for their Lives, the Remainder to their Son; here the Man dying, the Lord shall not have Heriot, because he dieth not sole Tenant. See Kitchin, fol. 134.

Solicitor, Solicitor, Is a Man employed to take Care of, and follow Suits depending in Courts of Law or Equity; formerly allowed only to Nobility, whose menial Servants they were, but now, too frequently, used by others, to the Damage of the People, and the Increase of Champerty and Maintenance.

Solidata terra, As much Land as is yearly worth one Shilling: Terram de Riseburga que solabat reddere 30 solidos. Mon. 2 Tom. pag. 98. See Fardingdeal of Land. Solidata also signifies the Pay or Stipend of a Soldier, Et qui terram non habent arma habere possunt, illuc veniant ad capiendum solidatas nostras. Breve Regis Johannis Vicecomitibus Anglie, Anno 1213.

Solidarium In the Neuter Gender signifies that absolute Right or Propriety which a Man hath in any Thing, viz. Urbem Cantuariam quam Lanfrancus Archiepiscopus habuerat ex beneficio, isti Anselmo concessit ex solido. Malmsh. Lib. 1.

Solimus terra. In communi terra Sancti Martini sunt 400 acra & dim. que faciunt duos Solinos & dim. Domesday. In which Book, this Word is only used in Kent, and no other County. Septem Solini terre sunt 17 Carucate. 1 Inft. fol. 15. According to this Computation, solinus terra is about 160 Acres, and 7 solini are about 1120 Acres, which is less than 17 Carucate, for at the lowest Carucate terra is 100 Acres. But my Lord Coke was of Opinion, that it did consist of no certain Number of Acres. This Word Solimus was probably from the Sax. Sulk, a Plough, but what Quantity of Land this Solin, Sulling, or Swoling did contain, is not so easily determined. I believe it was commonly the same with a Plough-Land. So that in Domesday Book, Se defendit pro uno solino, is, it is taxed for one Carucate or Plough-Land.

Soller or Solar, Solarium, A Chamber or upper Room; Dedi—unam shopam cum solarium super edificato. Ex Vet. Carta.

Solvendo esse Is a Term of Art, signifying that a Man hath wherewith to pay, or as we say, is a Person solvent.

Solutione feodi militis Parlamenti, and Solutio feodi Wurgens. Parlamenti, Are Writs whereby Knights of the Shire and Burgeses may recover their Allowance, if it be denied. Anno 35 H. 8. cap. 11.

Soma, A Body. Mon. 3 Tom. pag. 117.

Sommons. See Summons.

Sona for Stolz, a Priest's Garment. Mon. 1 Tom. pag. 6.

Sontage Was according to Stow, pag. 284. a Tax of Forty Shillings laid upon every Knights Fee: In some Places the Word is used for coarse Cloth, as bagging for Hops, or the like. See Systema Agricultura.

Sortibudunum, Old Sarum.

Sortery, Sortilegium, Divination by Lots, which is Felony by 1 Fac. cap. 12. Sortilegus, quia utitur fortibus incantationibus Damonis. 3 Inft. fol. 44. Sortery & devinal sont Members de Herefy. Mirror, cap. 1. scilicet. 5. Sortilegi sunt divinatores, vel isti qui sub nomine fidei Religionis per quasdam, quas sanctorum vel Apostolorum vocant, fortis vel divinationes, sententiam vel scientiam prestantur; sive divinatione, aut quarumcumque; scripturarum inspectione futura promittunt. Vocab. utriusque juris. Excepted out of the Act of general Pardon, 12 Car. 2. cap. 11.

Sozrs,

Sors. In Sums of Money lent upon Usury, the Principal was called Sors, as distinguished from the Interest. Socii Mercatores Senenses Episcopum Elyensem trahunt in causam coram Magistro Alexandro de Erentyn Judice a Domino Papa delegato super trecentas marcas de sorte, & centum marcas de interesse. Anno 40 fl. 3. Prynn. Collect. Tom. 2. pag. 161.

Sorting Herkies, 3 Jac. cap. 16. A Sort of Cloth so called.

Sorvus Accipiter, A Sor or Soar-hawk. King John granted to Robert de Hese, Land in Berton of the Honour of Nottingham, to be held—
Per servitium Accipitris fori nobis reddendi singulis annis—Cartular S. Edmundi, MS. f. 113.

Sotshlr, Mistaken without Doubt for Scotale, yet in Bracton, lib. 3. tract. 1. cap. 1. it is written Sotbaile; and he says, it is so called Fictale, and was a Kind of Entertainment made by Bailiffs to those of their Hundred for Gain, which the same Bracton says was taken away in the Reign of Henry the Third. See Scotale.

Sothiaga Is an old Word, which signifies History: From the Sax. Soth, verum, and Saga, Testimonium; for all Histories should be true, or true Sayings; from hence we derive our English Word Southsayer.

Sovereign, A Piece of Gold current at Twenty-two Shillings Six-pence in 1 H. 8. when by Indenture of the Mint, a Pound-weight of Gold of the old Standard was to be coined into Twenty-four Sovereigns. In 34 Hen. 8. they coined Sovereigns at Twenty Shillings a-Piece, and half Sovereigns at Ten Shillings. In 4 Edw. 6. Sovereigns of Gold at Twenty-four Shillings a-Piece. In 6 Edw. 6. Sovereigns at Thirty Shillings. So in 2 Eliz.

Southampton. See Claufentum, and Trisantonis Portus.

Sowlegrove, An old Name of the Month February, so called by the Inhabitants of South Wiltshire, who have this Proverb, Sowlegrove sil lew, i. e. February is seldom warm.

Sowne Is a Word corrupted from the French Souvenue, i. remembered; for the Stat. 4 Hen. 5. cap. 7. in the Original French hath Des estreats nient souvenue, which by turning the Two us into aw, was first made Sowen, afterward Sown; and such Estreats and Casualties as are not to be remembered, run not in Demand, that is, are not leviable: It is a Word of Art used in the Exchequer, where Estreats that sowne not, are such as the Sheriff by his Industry cannot get, and Estreats that sowne, are such as he may gather. 4 Par. Inf. fol. 107.

Spadarius, For Spatharius, a Sword-bearer.

Spatz Placitum, Pleas of the Sword, or a Court Martial for the speedy Execution of Justice on Military Delinquents.—Item diximus per sacramentum nostrum quod vidimus Henricum & Richardum quondam Reges Anglia tenentes Placitum Spatz in civitate & banlevia Lexovii.—Cart. A. D. 1105. Brady Append. to Hist. of England, p. 45.

Spatularia Is numbred among the holy Garments in the Monast. 3 Tom. pag. 531. viz. Cum Alba, amictu, stola, Favone, Spatulariis & maniculariis, &c.

Speaker of the Parliament Is an Officer in that High Court, who is as it were, the common Mouth of the rest: And as that honourable Assembly consists of Two Houses, so there are Two Speakers, the one termed the Lord Speaker of the House of Peers, and is most commonly the Lord Chancellor, or Lord Keeper of the Great Seal of England. The other (being a Member of the House of Commons) is called The Speaker of the House of Commons; both whose Duties you have particularly described in a Book entitled, The Order and Usage of keeping the Parliament. See Parliament.

Specialitag, A Specialty is taken for a Bond, Bill, or such like Instrument. But it hath heretofore been taken for particular Acquaintance, as appears Inter Pl. coram Rege apud Ebor. Mich. 1 E. 3. Rot. 123. Presentatum fric per Fuvatores—quod quidam Johannes de Pratis habuit quandam uxorem amicabilem, de cuius specialitate Willielmus filius Henrici Molendinarii & similiter quidam alii malefactores fuerunt; ita quod predicti malefactores venerunt ad locum ipsius Johannis ubi jacebat, & ipsum traxerunt ab eadem, & ipsum abinde duxerunt & tenuerunt dum predictus Willielmus concubuit cum ea.

Special Matter in Evidence. See General Issue, and Bro. Tit. General Issue and Special Evidence.

Speleum, The Cell of a Monk, viz. Conbusta illio Eccllesia B. Marie, reclusa una Ufultata, qua speleum suum nec in tali necessitate deferendum putavit. Malmsb. Lib. 3. pag. 112.

Spigurnel. Galfridus Spigurnel was by King Henry the Third appointed to be Scaler of his Writs, and perhaps the first in that Office. Therefore in After-times, the Persons that enjoyed that Office were called Spigurnels. Pat. 11 Hen. 3. m. 7. & Claus. 4 Edw. 1. dorso m. 6. Johannes Boun Miles, Filius Domini Francisci Boun, & Johanna uxor ejusdem Johannis concedunt ad Roy serjeantiam suam ipsius capelle Regis, & officium Spigurnellorum ad ipsos spectans; qua de Rege tenent in Capite.—Memorand. in Scaccar. Mich. 14 Ed. 1. by Sir John Maynard.

Spikenard, Spica Nardi, vel Nardus, Is a medicinal Herb. whereof read Gerard's Herbal, lib. 2. cap. 415. The Fruit or Ear of this (for it brings forth an Ear like Lavender) is a Drug garbleable, by 1 Jac. cap. 19.

Spina, spenn near Newbury in Berkshire.

Spinacium Is that Sort of Vessel which we now call a Pinnace: It is mentioned by Knighton, Anno 1338. Redierunt Normanni cum galeis 12 & cum octo Spinaciis cum manu bene armata.

Spindux Were those Three Golden Pins which were used about the Pall, and from thence Spindulatus Signified to be adorned with the Archiepiscopal Pall, viz. Lanfrancus Episcopus in tabula plumbea ponderosa valde inventus fuit, in qua a prima die sepulture intactis Membriis mitratus, Spindulatus usque in hunc diem jacebat. Du Cange.

Spinster, It is the Addition usually given to all unmarried Women, from the Viscount's Daughter downward: Yet Sir Edward Coke says, Generosa is a good Addition for a Gentlewoman, and that if they be named Spinster in any Original Writ, Appeal or Indictment, they may abate and quash the same. 2 Inf. fol. 668.—Pollard Miles & Judic. habuit 11. filios gladiis incisos in tumulo suo & totidem filias suis depictas. Spelman in his Aspillogia says, —Antiquis temporibus ipse Regina

gine fufis ufa sunt, unde hodie omnes fœmine Spinfters dicta sunt.

Spiritualities of a Bishop, Spiritualia Episcopi
Are thofe Profits which he receives as a Bishop, not as a Baron of the Parliament. *Staundf. Pl.
Cor. fol. 132.* Such are the Duties of his Vifitation, his Benefit growing from ordaining and inftituting Priests, Prefatation-Money, that is, subfidium charitativum, which upon reasonable Cause he may require of his Clergy. *Johannes Gregor.
de Benefic. cap. 6. num. 9.* and the Benefit of his Jurisdiction. *Joachimus Stephanus de Jurisd. lib. 4.
cap. 14. num. 14.*

Spittle-Houfe, Mentioned in the Act for Subfidies, 15 Car. 2. cap. 9. Is a Corruption from Hofpital, and fignifies the fame Thing; or it may be taken from the Teutonic Spital, which denotes an Hofpital or Alms-Houfe.

Spoliatio, Spoilatio, Is a Writ that lies for one Incumbent againft another, in any Cafe where the Right of the Patronage cometh not in Debate; As if a Parfon be made a Bishop, and hath Difpenfation to keep his Rectory, and afterwards the Patron prefent another to the Church, which is inftituted and indufted. The Bishop fhall have againft this Incumbent a Writ of Speliation in Court Christian. *F. N. B. fol.
36.* See Benevolence, and Termes de la Ley, hoc verbo.

Sponfagium, In a Charter of Edw. 1. to the Barons of his Cinque-ports. — Quieti-fint de omni thelonio & omni confuetudine, videlicet, ab omni lafagio, tallagio, paffagio, canyagio, rivagio, Sponfagio, & omni wraco. — *Placit. temp. Ed.
1. & Ed. 2. MS. penes Dom. Fountains.*

Sponste oblatas: So antiently free Gifts and Prefents to the King were called.

Sportula Signifies Gifts, Gratuities, Salaries.
Ut nec Epifcopus nec Abbas pro juftitia facienda Sportulas contradictas (i. e. forbidden) accipiat. From hence St. Cyprian, (Epift. 70, 71, 90.) calls thofe
Clergymen Sportulantes fraters who received fuch Gifts for their Maintenance, which afterwards were called Præbende.

Spoufe-breach, Adultery, or Incontinence, oppofed to fimple Fornication. A. D. 1542. The Lady Katherine was accused to the King of incontinent living not only before her Marriage, but alfo of Spoufe-breach after her Marriage. *Fox Aft.
Mon. Vol. 2. pag. 540. b.*

Spullers of Barn Are Tiers of Yarn, to fee if it be well spun, and fit for the Loom. *Anno 1 eis ſine aliquo ferramento vel aliquo uſilio ſucibili in-trare, & ramalia qua de Wyvede remanſerint, qua

Anglice Spreyn dicuntur, colligere.* — Conventio inter Priorem & Convent. Cantuar. & Homines de Chertham facta anno 1166. — *Ex Registro Eccl.
Chrifti Cant. MS.*

Squally, Anno 43 Eliz. cap. 10. See Rewey.
It is a Note of Faultinefs in the Making of Cloth.

Squallarii for Scallarii, i. e. Stone-cutters. See Scalavia.

Squirrels. See Esquires.

Stabilis, It was a Custom in Normandy, that where a Man in Power claimed Lands in the Poſſeſſion of an Inferior, he petitioned the Prince that it might be put into his Hands till the Right was decided; and then he had a Writ which was called Breve de Stabilia. To this a Charter of Henry the First ſeems to allude, in Pryn, lib. Angl.
1 Tom. pag. 1204. viz. Et omnes decimas venationis prædictarum foreſtarum excepta decima illius venationis que capta fuerit cum Stabilia in foreſta de Windleſore.

Stabilitio venationis. Qui monitus ad Stabi-litionem venationis, non ibat, L. fol. Regi emendabat.

Domeſday. The driving Deer to a Stand, which is alfo called Driving the Wanlaſs. Omnes Burgenſes de Biſhops-Caſtle debent invenire unum hominem ter per annum ad Stabulamentum pro venatione capienda quando Epifcopus voluerit. Lib. niger. Heref. So in Leg. H. 1. cap. 17. In venatione ſi quis ad Stabilitationem non venit, i. e. He who doth not come to the Place where he ought to ſtand.

Stableſtand, (Stabilis ſtatio, or rather Stans in Stabulo) Is one of the Four Evidences or Pre-ſumptions whereby a Man is convicted, to intend the ſealing the King's Deer in the Foreſt. Man-wood, part 2. cap. 9. num. 9. The other Three are Dog-draw, Back-bear, and Bloody-hand. This Stableſtand is, when a Man is found in ſtabili ſtatione, at his Standing in the Foreſt with a Croſs-bow, or Long-bow bent, ready to ſhoot at any Deer, or elſe ſtanding cloſe by a Tree with Greyhounds in a Leath, ready to ſlip.

Stravulation for Tabulation, which ſee.

ſtarchia, An Eſtache, A Dam or Head made up of Stakes, Earth, Stones, &c. to ſtop a Water-courſe. — Abbas & Conventus Sancti Edmundi habent quoddam ſtagnum prope villam B. Edmundi quod vocatur Teyven — & Cellerarius S. Edmundi ligna (ibi tranſverſa) reparare volens fecit ibi venire Carpentarios, & apponere fecit ſtarchias ſubter ligna verſus aquam, &c. Ex Cartular. S. Edmundi, MS.
193. See Eſtache.

ſtadium Is in Domeſday-Book accounted for a Furlong of Land, which is the Eighth Part of a Mile.

ſtagiarius, A Canon Reſidentiary in a Cathedral Church. ſtagiaria, the Reſidence to which he was obliged. ſtagiari, to keep ſuch Reſidence. As in a Statute made in the Chapter of Paul's, 2 Id. Jul. Anno 1319. — Ortam de modo ſtagiariæ inter Feſtum S. Johannis Bapt. & Mich. in Eccleſia London. facienda Dilatationem volentes enotare; ad tollendum omnem conſcientie ſcrupulum antiquam conſuetudinem ſtagiandi in dicto termino ſeu quarterio nondum ſcriptam hac ſcriptura exprimere decrevimus, videlicet, quod antiquus ſtagiarius a die Sabbati, &c.

— *Ex Libro Statut. Eccleſiæ Paulinæ per Tho.
Lyſeaux Decanum, MS. fol. 56. b.* They commonly put this Diſtinction between Reſidentiarius and ſtagiarius; every Canon inſtalled to the Privileges and Profits of Reſidence was Reſidentiarius, and while he actually kept ſuch ſtated Reſidence he was ſtagiarius, or ſtagionarius. The Word ſtagium was likewiſe uſed for Reſidence, as *ſtagionarius poſtquam ſtagium ſuum in Domibus
Eccleſiæ vicinis incepit, &c.* Ib. fol. 44. a.

Pat. Anno 1 Hen. 3.*

ſtagneſs, ſtagna, Ponds, Pools, or ſtanding Waters, mentioned 5 Eliz. cap. 21.

ſtalboat, A Kind of Fiſhers Boat, Anno 27
Eliz. cap. 21.

ſtalkers,

Stalkers, A Kind of fishing Nets, mentioned 13 Rich. 2. stat. 1. cap. 20. & 17 Rich. 2. cap. 9.

Stallange, Willielmus Lucy miles remittit domui & Ecclesie de Thelesford, tolle, tak, Stallange, & Blodestede—anno 7 H. 7. Cartular. domus de Thelesford, MS.

Stallagi, (Stallagium, from the Sax. Stat. i. e. Stahulum, Statio.) The Liberty or Right of pitching or erecting stalls in Fair or Market, or the Money paid for the same. Quod si aliquis portaverit res suas ad forum & posuerit super Stallas, faciet redemptionem pro eis qualibet die Lunæ, vel semel pro toto anno. Ex Regist. Priorat. de Cokesford. See Savage. In Scotland it is called Stallange, and among the Romans it was termed siliquaticum a siliqua primo & minime omnium pendere a*ud illam nationem*. See Kennet's Glossary.

Stallarius. It is mentioned in our Historians, viz. in Simeon Dunelm. Hoeeden, Flor. Worcester, Anno 1068. and it signifies Præfectum stabuli. Sometimes it is wrote Stallare, which Spelman derives from the Saxon Stal, i. e. Stabulum, and Here, Dominus, and was the same Officer which we now call Master of the Horse. Eadnothus qui fuit Haroldi Regis Stallarius occurrit cum exercitu, &c. Sometimes it signifies him who hath a Stall in a Fair or Market. Fleta, lib. 4. cap. 28. par. 13.

Stallum. See Terletum.

Standardus, True Standard, or legal Weight or Measure.—Ricardus Abbas S. Edmundi & Conventus.—Salut.—Willielmus Tyllot.

—tenet de nobis quoddam messuagium—continet in latitudine quinque virgas Standardi, & in latitudine quatuor virgas Standardi, &c. Dat. 13 Jul. 15 Ed. 4.—Ex Cartular. S. Edmundi, MS. fol. 268.

Standard. See Estandard.

Standardum Londini. Vobis mandamus quod Standardum Londini de hujusmodi mensuris diligenter assari & probari, ac alias mensuras per dictum Standardum fieri ad singulos Comitatus Regni, &c. Clauf. 14 Ed. 2. m. 14. intus.

Standell Is a young store Oak-tree, which may in Time make Timber; Twelve such are to be left standing in every Acre of Wood at the Felling thereof. 35 H. 8. 17. and 13 Eliz. cap. 25.

Stanslar, A Stony Hill. Domesday.

Stannarie, Stannaria, Comes from the Latin stannum, Tin, and signifies the Mines and Works where this Metal is digged and purified; as in Cornwall, and other Places: Of this read Cambd. Brit. pag. 119. The Liberties of the Stannary-Men granted by Edward the First, before they were abridged by the Statute 50 E. 3. see in Plowden's Case of Mines, fol. 327. and Co. 12 Rep. fol. 9. And further, for the Liberties of the Stannary-Courts, see 17 Car. 1. cap. 15. Of which Courts there are Four in Devon and Four in Cornwall.

Stannum, In the Statutes of the Cathedral Church of St. Pauls it was ordained, ut Servientes capas cericas, libros, pannos sericos & lineos ac laneos, stanna, cathedras, pulvinaria & alia ornamenta Ecclesie a vestibulo in forum seu alibi in Ecclesiam deferant, &c. where I take Stanna to be the standing Candle-sticks, such as were sometimes called stataria and Cereo statua.

Staple, Stapellum, Signifies this or that Town or City, whither the Merchants of England were, by Act of Parliament, to carry their Wool, Cloth, Lead and Tin, and such like staple Commodities of this Land, for the Utterance of them by the Great. The Word may either be derived from the Saxon Staple, which signifies the Stay, or Hold of any Thing, according to Lamhard in his Duty of Constables, num. 4. because the Place is certain and settled; or else from the French Estape, i. forum rinarium, a Market of Staple for Wines; the chief Commodity of France; or rather from the German Stapelen, which signifies to gather, or, to heap any Thing together. And accordingly in a French Book we find it written.

—A Calais y avoit Estape de la laine, &c. which is as much as to say, as the Staple for Wools. You may read of many Places appointed for this Staple in our Statutes, according as the King thought fit to alter them, from the Second Year of Edward the Third, to the Fifth of Edward the Sixth, cap. 7. What Officers the Staples had belonging unto them, you may see in Anno 27 E. 3. stat. 3. cap. 21. The Staple Commodities of this Realm, are Wool, Leather, Wool-fells, Lead, Tin, Butter, Cheese, Cloth, &c. as appears by the Statute 14 Rich. 2. cap. 1. though some allow only the Five first. See 4 Last. fol. 238.

Star, Starrum. A Contraffion from the Hebrew Sbetar, which signifies a Deed or Contract. All the Deeds, Obligations, and Releases of the Jews, were anciently called Stars, written for the most Part in Hebrew alone, or else in Hebrew and Latin; one of which yet remains in the Treasury of the Exchequer, written in Hebrew without Pricks in King John's Reign, the Substance whereof is thus expressed in Latin just under it, like an English Condition under a Latin Obligation.—Isud Star fecit Hagius filius Margi de London Domino Ade de Stratona, de acquietancia de Stanmore de omnibus debitis in quibus Dominus S. de Cheyndut ei tenebatur. Ita quod idem Judeus nec heredes sui nihil exigere possint de predicto Ade, nec de heredibus suis, ratione terre de Stanmore de predictis debitis. See the Plea-Rolls of Pasch. 9 Edw. 1. Rot. 4, 5, 6, &c. Where many Stars, as well of Grant and Release as obligatory, and by Way of Mortgage, are pleaded and recited at large.

Stars, From Sextaria. Sex Staras vini, &c.

Star-Chamber, Camera stellata, otherwise called Chamber des estoyles, was a Chamber at Westminster so called (as Sir Tho. Smith de Rep. Anglor. lib. 2. cap. 4. conjectures,) because at first the Ceiling thereof was adorned with Images of gilded Stars. And in the 25 of Hen. 8. cap. 1. It is written the starred Chamber. Henry the Seventh, and Henry the Eighth, ordained by two several Statutes, viz. 3 Hen. 7. cap. 1. and 21 Hen. 8. cap. 2. That the Chancellor assisted by others there named, should have Power to punish Routs, Riots, Forgeries, Maintenance, Embraceries, Perjuries, and other such Misdemeanors as were not sufficiently provided for by the Common Law, and for which the inferior Judges are not so proper to give Correction: And because that Place was before set apart to the like Service, it was still used accordingly. Touching the Officers belonging to this Court, see Cambd. pag. 112, 113. But by the Statute 17 Car. 1. cap. 10. this Court commonly called the Star-Chamber, and all Jurisdiction, Power and Authority thereto belonging, are from and after the First of August, 1641. clearly and absolutely dissolved and determined, and so continues dissolved and determined to this Day.

Stapling

Starling. See Sterling.

Statera, i. e. Money. It is mentioned in Malmbury, in the Life of St. Aldhelm, cap. 9. viz. Wintonia praelatus Daniel qui esset ejusdem Regionis oriundus, & Staterarum non egenus, &c.

Stationarius, A Canon Residentiary in a Cathedral Church. See Stagiarius, Statio, Residence.

Statuarium, A Grave or Tomb adorned with Statues. Ac ejus sacro corpore terra illic inter multa alia Romana Statuarie commendato, &c. Ingulphus, pag. 853.

Statut de manerie, All the Tenants and legal Men within the Liberties of a Manor, met in the Court of their Lord, to do their customary Suit, and enjoy their Usages and Rights.—Apud curiam de Wreckwyke tentam in Festo S. Andree anno 17 E. 3.—omnis status de Wreckwyke elegerunt Hugonem Kyng ad officium Praposti, & juramentum suscepit. Proch. Antiq. p. 456.

Statute, Statutum, Has divers Significations; as first, it signifies an Act of Parliament made by the King and the Three Estates of the Realm, in which Sense it is either general or special. Co. lib. 4. Holland's Case, f. 76. Statute in another Signification, is a short Writing called a Statute-Merchant, or a Statute-Staple, which are in Nature of Bonds. Anno 5 H. 4. cap. 12. and are called Statutes, because made according to the Forms expressly provided by Statutes, which direct both before what Persons, and in what Manner they ought to be made. West. Symb. part 1. lib. 2. sect. 151. where he defines a Statute-Merchant thus, A Statute-Merchant is a Bond acknowledged before one of the Clerks of the Statutes-Merchant and Mayor, or chief Warden of the City of London, or Two Merchants of the said City for that Purpose assigned, or before the Mayor, chief Warden, or Master of other Cities or good Towns, or other sufficient Men for that Purpose appointed, sealed with the Seal of the Debtor and of the King, which is of Two Pieces; and the Greater is kept by the Mayor, chief Warden, &c. and the lesser Piece thereof by the said Clerks: The Form of which you may see in Flata, lib. 2. cap. 64. sect. 2. thus: Novimus universis me N. de tali Comitatu teneri P. in quadraginta marcis solvendis eidem ad festum Pasche Anno Regni Regis, &c. & nisi fecero, concedo quod currant super me & heredes meos districtio & poena provisa in Statuto Domini Regis Edito apud Westm. Dat. London, tali die Anno supradicto. The Fee for the Seal is, for Statutes acknowledged in Fairs, for every Pound a Half-penny, and out of Fairs a Farthing. The Execution upon a Statute-Merchant is, first to take the Body of the Debtor, if he be Lay, and can be found; if otherwise, upon his Lands and Goods, and is founded on the Statute made 13 E. 1. stat. 4. See the New Book of Entries, verb. Statute-Merchant.

Statute-Staple Is so called either properly or improperly. A Statute-Staple properly so called, is a Bond of Record, acknowledged before the Mayor of the Staple, in the Presence of one of the Two Constables of the same Staple, for which Seal the Fee is, of every Pound, if the Sum exceed not 100 li. an Half-penny, and if it exceed 100 li. a Farthing; and by Virtue of such Statute-Staple, the Creditor may forthwith have Execution of the Body, Lands and Goods of the Debtor: And this is founded upon the Statute 27 Edw. 3. ca. 9. A Statute-Staple improper is a Bond of Record, founded upon the Statute 23 H. 8. cap. 6. Of the Nature of a proper Statute-Staple as to the Force and Execution of it, and acknowledged before one of the chief Justices, and in their Absence, before the Mayor of the staple and Recorder of London. The Form of all these Bonds or Statutes, see in West. Symb. part 1. lib. 2. sect. 152, 153, 154, 155.

Statutes are also vulgarly taken for the Petit-Sessions, which are yearly kept for the Disposing of Servants in Service, by 5 Eliz. cap. 4. See Recognisance. And these Statute-Sessions, otherwise called Petit-Sessions, are a Meeting in every Hundred of all the Shires in England, where by Custom they have been used, whereto the Constables and others, both Housholders and Servants repair, for the Debating of Differences between Masters and Servants, the Rating of Servants Wages, and bestowing such People in Service as being fit to serve, either refuse to seek, or get Masters. Anno 1 Eliz. cap. 5.

Statuto-Strapula Is a Writ that lies to take his Body to Prison, and seise upon his Lands and Goods, that hath forfeited a Bond called Statute-Staple. Reg. Orig. fol. 151.

Statutum de Laboribus Is a Writ Judicial, for the Apprehending of such Labourers as refuse to work according to the Statute. Reg. Judic. fol. 27.

Statuto Mercatorio Is a Writ for the Imprisoning of him that has forfeited a Bond called Statute-Merchant, until the Debt be satisfied. Reg. Orig. fol. 146. And of these there is one against Lay-persons, and another against Ecclesiastical. Ibid. & 148.

Stabie-aker, Staphys agria vel herba Pedicularis, Is a medicinal Herb; the Kinds and Virtues whereof you have in Gerard's Herbal, lib. 1. cap. 130. The Seed of this is mentioned among Drugs to be garbled. Anno 1 Jac. cap. 19.

Staurum, Any Store, or Standing Stock of Cattle, Provision, &c. Matt. Westm. Anno 1259. Viginti insuper & quinque libras pro Stauro ejusdem loci. When formerly the Bishops occupied and stocked their own Demesne Lands, they were obliged to leave at their Death such a determined Quantity of Cattle for a Stock to their Successors; which Stock upon the Ground was called Staurum, and de Stauro, de Instaura.

Stealing Is the fraudulent taking away of another Man's Goods, with an Intent to steal them against, or without the Will of him whose Goods they be. The Civil Law judges open Theft to be satisfied by the Recompence of Fourfold; and privy Theft, by the Recompence of Double; but the Law of England adjudges both those Offences to Death, if the Value of the Thing stolen be above Twelve Pence.

Stellatus, The same with Stallatus, viz. one who sells Goods in a Stall. Bracton, lib. 4. cap. 46. Qua quidem sufficere debet omnibus nisi forte sint mercatores Stellati, qui merces deposuerint & exposuerint venales.

Stemnefreoh,—Necnon libertate multura sue in molendino ipsius Roberti, &c. quod sint Stemnefreoh & Cholfreoch. Mon. Angl. 2 par. fol. 293.

Stennery Is used for the same with Stannaries in the Statute of 4 H. 8. cap. 8. See Stannaries.

Stroxtiman. Si suis bonis spoliati, de navi compertum fuerit, reddat Storoxtiman, i. e. Navarchus, chus, bona sine pecunia illam. LL. Marine Ethelredi Regis apud Brompton. We yet retain the Name Steers-man, or Pilot. See Sturemannus.

Strach, alias Strebrech, Is the breaking, obstruſing, or making leſs of a Way. Strebrech eſt, ſi quis viam frangat, obſtruendo, avertendo vel ſolviendo. It may be derived from the old Engliſh Word Stre, i. Via, and Brech, i. Fractio; hence probably to go a Stray, or now as we write aſtray, that is, to go out of the Way.

Stercoris cathedra, Vir ſive Mulier falſam menſuram in civitate faciens deprehenſus in ſolidis emendabat, ſimiliter malam verſiſam faciens aut in cathedra ponebatur ſtercoris, aut quatuor ſolidos dabat Præſcriptis. Lib. Domeſdei, Ceſtreſeire.

ſtertilenſis, The ſame with Sterling.

Sterling, ſterlingum, Was and is the Epithet for Silver Money current within this Realm; and took Name from this, that there was a pure Coin ſtamped firſt in England by the Eaſterlings, or Merchants of East-Germany, by the Command of King John, and accordingly Roger Hoveden parte poſter. ſuor. annal. fol. 377. writes it Eſterling. See the Statute of Purveyors, cap. 13. By the Statute 31 Edw. 1. the Penny which is called the ſterling, round, and without clipping, weighs Thirty-two Grains of Wheat, well dried, and Twenty Pence make an Ounce, Twelve Ounces a Pound, and Eight Pound a Gallon of Wine, and Eight Gallons a Buſhel, which is the Eighth Part of a Quarter. 17 E. 2. cap. 19. The Word is not yet out of Uſe; for though we ordinarily ſay lawful Money of England, yet in the Mint, and the like, they ſay ſterling Money. (Sterling) When it was found convenient in the Fabrication of Monies, to have a certain Quantity or Proportion of baſer Metal to be mixed with the pure Gold and Silver; the Word Sterling or Eſterling was then introduced, and has ever ſince been uſed to denote the certain Proportion or Degree of Fineneſs, which ought to be retained in the reſpective Coins. Vide Lownd's Eſſay upon Coins, pag. 14. See Kennet's Gloſſary in Sterlingi.

Steward (Senecaſcallus) Is compounded of the Saxon Steda, i. e. Room, Place, or Stead, and Weard, i. e. a Ward or Keeper; as much as to ſay, a Man appointed in my Place or Stead; and alſways ſignifies a principal Officer within his Jurisdiction. The greateſt of theſe is the Lord High Steward of England, which was anciently the Inheritance of the Earls of Leiceſter, till forfeited to Henry the Third by Simon de Mountfort. But the Power of this Officer being very great, of late he has not uſually been appointed for any long Time, but only for the Diſpatch of ſome ſpecial Buſineſs, as the Arraignment of ſome Nobleman in Caſe of Treason, or ſuch like, which once ended, his Commiſſion expires. Of the Court of the High Steward of England, you may read 4 Inſt. fol. 59. There is the Lord Steward of the King's moſt honourable Houſehold, 24 H. 8. cap. 13. whoſe Name was changed to that of Great Maſter by 32 H. 8. cap. 39. But this Statute was repealed by 1 Mar. 2. Parl. cap. 4. and the Office and Name of the Lord Steward of the King's Houſehold revived, where you may read much concerning him, as alſo in F. N. B. fol. 241. Of his ancient Power, read Fleta, lib. 2. cap. 3. There is alſo a Steward of the Marſhalſea. Pl. Cor. fol. 52. and 33 H. 8. cap. 12. In brief, this Word is of ſo great Diverſity, that there is in moſt Corporations, and in all Houſes of Honour throughout the Realm, an Officer of this Name and Authority. What a Steward of a Manor or Houſhold is, or ought to be, Fleta, fully deſcribes, lib. 2. cap. 71, 72.

Stutes or Stuca, Are thoſe Places which were permitted in England to Women of proteſted Incontinency, and that for Hire would proſtitute their Bodies to all Comers. It is derived from the French Eſtoves, i. Therma, vel Balneum, becauſe diſſolute Perſons are wont to prepare themſelves for venereous Acts by Bathing. And that this is not new, Homer ſhews in the Eighth Book of his Odyſſy, where he reckons hot Baths among the effeminate Sort of Pleaſures. Of theſe read 11 H. 6. 1. But King Henry the Eighth about the Year 1546. prohibited them for ever.

Stica Was a braſs Coin amongſt the Saxons, and of the Value of half their Farthing, and Four of them made an Heſling.

Stick of Cells, (Stat compoſit. ponden. & meſſur.) Bind anguillarum conſtat ex decem ſticks, & qualibet ſtick ex 25. anguillis. Mon. Angl. Tom. 2. fol. 880. It is in ſome Records called brochus anguillarum.

Stickler, A ſmall Officer who cut Wood for the Priory of Edeſov within the King's Parks of Clarendon. Rot. Parl. 1 H. 6.

Stilpard, Guildbalda Teutonicorum, Anno 19 H. 7. cap. 32. 22 H. 2. cap. 8. and 32 H. 8. cap. 14. was a Place in London, where the Fraternity of the Eaſterling Merchants, otherwiſe called The Merchants of the Hanſe and Almaine. Anno 1 E. 6. c. 13. had their Abode. See Geld. It was at firſt fo denominated of a broad Place or Court where Steel was ſold, upon which Place that Houſe was founded. See Hanſe.

Stipula, Stubble, or Gratten left ſtanding on the Ground after the Corn is reaped and carried away. — Dedi unam careſtatam foragii, & duas acras ſtipulæ, &c. Cart. 2. E. 2.

Prateva conceſſit eidem Radulfo & heredibus ſuis habere octo animalia & ſex porcos in dominica paſtura mea, & in ſtipulis meis quiete de conſuetudine in perpetuum. Carta Sewalli de Oſevile, Anno 1205.

Stiremannus, Saxon Steor-man. A Pilot or Steers-man. — Quando Miſſaticus Regis veniebat ibi (i. e. ad Dover) dabant pro caballo tranſducendo 3 denarios in hyeme, & 2 in æſtate: Burgenſes vero inveniebant Stiremannum & unum alium Adjutorem. Lib. Domeſdei in Chenthi. See Sturemanus.

Stoc and Stovel, — Prateva ſi homines de Stanball diſti Abbatis inventi fuerint in boſco prædicti W. cum foriſactio ad ſtoc & ad ſtovel alias ſtovene, & aliquis quærens corporaliter in terram per eos ſeiſit. fuerit, malefactor pro delicto, qui taliter inventus fuerit, reddet tres ſolidos, — ſimiliter conſeſſum eſt quod ſi aliquis inventus fuerit cum brachiis quercum vel cum aliis minutis boſcis, cum foriſactio illo ad ſtoc & ad ſtoveli, Malefactor ille reddet ſex denarios. E. quadam Cart. Conventionum, inter Will. de Bray, & Abbat. & Convent. de Oſiney. Where Stoc ſignifies Sticks, and Stovel ſignifies Pabulum. So that the Forfeiture ad Stoc & Stovel, is where any one is taken carrying Stipites & Pabulum out of the Woods. See Zuche.

Stocking. See Gavelkind.

Sticke. This Syllable added to the Name of a Place, comes from the Sax. Stocce, i. e. Stipes, Truncus; as Woodſtock, Baſingſtoke, &c.

Stola Was a Garment which Matrons wore, and reached down to their Buttocks Ovid in his Second Book De Tristibus mentions the Word, Quas stola contingi vitæque sumpta vetat.

And Ulpian also of Auro & argento. Leg. 1. Vestis. Muliebris, inquit, sunt, veluti stola, pallia, tunice, &c.

Stola Was a Garment formerly worn by Priests, like those which we now call Hoods. Stephen Eddy, cap. 10. tells us, That circundata fuit collo ad interiora descendens, significat obedientiam filii Dei & jugum servitutis quod pro salute hominum super humeros portavit.

Plorat & exorat, veniam dum stiletibus orat, Deponendo Stolam quam toto tempore curam Anni portabat, quam sic vehementer amabat, Quod sublimatus, quod erat Levita creatus.

Sometimes it is taken for the Archiepiscopal Pall, viz. Et ut Romam ad Papam Urbanum pro Stola sui Archiepiscopatus exundi sibi licentiam daret. Eadmerus, cap. 188.

Stone of Wool, Petra Lana, Anno 11 H. 7. cap. 4. Ought to weigh Fourteen Pounds; yet in some Places it is more, and in others it is but Twelve and a Half, Le charre de plumbo constat ex 30 formellis & qualibet formella continet 6 petras exceptis duabus libris, & qualibet Petra constat ex 12 libris. Compositio de Ponderibus. A Stone of Wax is but Eight Pound, nor is the Stone of Beef at London any more. See Weights and Scales, and also Crompton's Justice of Peace, fol. 83.

Stony-Stratford. See Lastodorum.

Storium. It is mentioned in Hoveden, p. 670. for a Navy. Cum 30 magnis navibus, & erant pariter in eodem loco de Storio Regis Anglia 106 magnæ naves, &c.

Stotal.—Also moreover we have granted, in Amendment to the City, that they bin all quit of Brytachel, of Childwit, of Zerefgen, and of Stotall; So that no Sheriff of London, neither none other Bayly, make Stotal in the Francheis aforesaid, &c. This I find in an old printed Book, which delivers it (inter al.) as the Charter of Henry 1. to the City of London. But the Word is, without Doubt, mistaken for Sotale.

Stotarius Was he who had the Care of the Stud or Breed of young Horses. Leg. Alfredi, cap. 9. Et quod de herbicario, Stotario, & vaccario, fit, &c.

Stoth,—Nativi de Wridthorp—solvit quilibet pro filiabus suis maritandis gerson Domino, & Ourlop pro filiabus corruptis, & Stoth & alia servitia & auxilia. Petr. Bles. Contin. Hist. Croyland, pag. 115.

Stobens. See Zuche.

Stow, Either by it self, or added to a Word, signifies a Place; as Stow in the Wold, a Place near the Plains; from the Sax. Stow, Locus, and wold, i. e. Planities. Godstow, a Place dedicated to God.

Stowage, From the Saxon Stow, i. locus, villa, is the Place or Part where Goods are laid, or the Money that is paid for such a Place.

Stowe, According to Domesday Book signifies Villam, a Village.

Straits or Streits, Anno 18 H. 6. and 1 R.

3. cap. 8. A Sort of narrow Cloth or Kersey so called.

Strand, Sax. Strande. Any Shoar or Bank of a Sea or River. An Immunity from Custom and all Imposition upon Goods or Vessels by Land or by Water, was usually expressed by Strand and Stream. As King Henry 2. to the Church of Ro-bester,—Concedo & confirmo in perpetuum cum sacre & seke, strand & stream. Mon. Anglic. Tom. 3. pag. 4. So the same Prince granted to all Tenants and Traders within the Honour of Walsford, that—by Water and by Land, by Wood and by Strand, quieti sint de thelonio, passagio, &c. Paroch. Antiquit. pag. 114. Hence the Street in the West Suburbs of London, which lay next the Shoar or Bank of the Thames, is called the Strand. And G. Duglase mentions the Strandis of the Sea. See Strond.

Strander, (From the Saxon Strand, a Shore or Bank of the Sea, or any great River) is, when any Ship is either by Tempest, or ill Steerage, run on Ground, and so perishes, Stat 17 Car. 1. cap. 14. See Strond.

Stranger May be derived from the French Estranger, aliena. It signifies generally in our Language, a Man born out of the Land, or unknown; but in the Law it hath a special Signification, for him that is not Privy or Party to an Act. As a Stranger to a Judgment. Old Nat. Brev. fol. 128. is he to whom a Judgment doth not belong; and in this Sense it is directly contrary to Party or Privy. See Privy.

Strap. If any Beast do by Chance go astray, and come within the Liberty of the Prior, and shall be taken by his Bailiffs, it shall be carried to the Pinfold, and there kept a Year and a Day; if no Man claim it within that Time, then the Prior shall have it: But if any one come, and shall lawfully prove it to be his, he shall give for every Foot one Penny, and pay the Charges of keeping, and then he shall have his Beast again. Ex Regist. Priorat. de Cokesford. See Estray.

Stream-works, Is a Kind of Works in the Stannaries which you may find mentioned 27 H. 8. cap. 23. Concerning these, Cambden in his Britan. Tit. Cornwall, hath these Words, Horum stannariorum sive metallicorum operum duo sunt Genera: Alterum Lode-works, alterum Stream-works vocant, hoc in locis inferioribus est cum fossis agendis flanni venas sectantur & fuviorum alveos subinde defleunt; illud in locis editoribus, cum in montibus Puteos, quos shafts vocant, in magnam altitudinem defodiunt & cuniculos agunt.

Streeman, (Sax.) Id est, Robustus, vel Potens vir. Lelandi Coll. Vol. 2. pag. 188.

Street-gabel or Stræt-gabel, Quilibet tenens in Manerio de Cholington dabit 2 s. pro ita & reditu, MS. de temp. E. 4. Every Tenant of that Manor, (in Com. Suffex) paid yearly Two Shillings for his going out and returning into it, to the Lord of the Manor by the Name of Stræt-gavel. Mich. 4 E. 1. Coram Rege. Antiquity of Purveyance, fol. 222.

Streptus Judicialis, The Circumstances of Noise and Croud, and other turbulent Formalities at a Process or Trial in a publick Court of Justice. And therefore our wise Ancestors did in many Cases provide, that Right and Justice should be done in a more private quiet Manner, Sine strepitu judiciali. Arti uli seu Libelli petitione & quocumq; itrepitu judiciali compellere. Paroch. Antiq. p. 344.

Stretward Was an Officer like our Surveyor of the Highways, or rather a Scavenger. It is mentioned in the Monasticon, 2 Tom. pag. 187. Idem Comes dedit prefato Nigello constabulario le Stretward & Marketzeld.

Streteward. Pen Streteward Johannes Tanley, Ar. clamat quod Servientes pacis & Ministri sui infra Foodum de Aldford capere debent de qualibet fuga catalorum id d. Rot. Plac. in Itinere apud Celtriam, 14 H. 7. This Word is also found in several ancient Charters granted to the Bishops of Hereford, and registred in the Black Book there. See Marketzeld.

Strigiliare. See Torcere.

Strip, Streptus, Destruction, Mutilation, from the French Estrepius, i. Mutilare, streptum & vasum facere, i. To make strip and waste, or strop and waste. See Estrepiement.

Strond Is a Saxon Word, signifying a Shore or Bank of a Sea, or any great River. In a Charter of King Richard, dated at Canterbury the 4th of November, in the First Year of his Reign, we find these Words, *Richardus Rex, &c. Notum facimus vobis nos concessisse, &c. Deo & sancto Albano Ecclesie sue sancti Oswini de Tynemuth, cella sancti Albani & Monachis ibidem Deo servientibus omnes terras suas & omnes homines suos, cum saccha, foca, Over strond & streme, on wode & felde, Toll, Them & Gritthurge, Hamfone, Murdum & Forestall, Danegeld, Infangenethes & Utsfangenethes, Flemnesfreneth, Blodwit, Wreke, &c. And the Gloss. in 10. Scriptores interpreting the Words, *On strond & streme, on wode & feld, laith,—Voces Anglice veteres & in antiquioris avi chartis crebro reperta. Privilegium sapiunt, seu potius Privilegii latitudinem sive amplitudinem, & sic Latine legantur, in Littore, in Fluvio, in Sylva & Campo.

Strumper, Meretrix, Was heretofore used for an Addition, Fur. presentat, &c. quod Johannes de Mainwaring de Whatcroft de Com. Cest. Elg; Laurenstide de Warren de Davenham Elg; &c. Hugo de Sondebach, Yoman, Hopkin, Norman de Com. Cest. Husband-Knave, Willielmus le Birchwood de Clyve, Knave, cum plurimis aliis & Agnes Cawes de medio Wico de Com. Cest. Strumper, Tali die domum Ranulphi Madoke, vi & armis, &c. fregerunt, &c. Placit. apud Cest. 6 H. 6. m. 2. in Dorso.

Stryk, The Eighth Part of a Seam or Quarter of Corn, a Strike or Bushel.—Solvent nomine decimarum molendini sex modies, alias sex stryk bladi prout molendum obvenit eidem molendino. Cartular. Rading. MS. fol. 116. a.

Stud. Libere vendendi & emendi, tam in Cestria, quam in Comitatu & Wycis, ubi non fuit Lex ulla, omnia sine Toll & Stud, preter sal & equos, &c. Mon. Angl. 2 par. fol. 187. b. A Stud or Stode of Mares, is a Company of Mares kept purposely for breeding Colts; from the Sax. Stodmyra, i. e. Equa ad fetum.

Sturemannus. See Stiremannus.

Stuth.—Per Stuth clamat esse quiet. de exactione pecunie a singulis villis, Per Vicecom. Comit. Cest. Placit. in Itin. ibid. 14 H. 7. It is the same with Sheriffs-tooth; which see.

Subbarratt, i. e. Arrhabone uxorem sibi disponere:

Florence of Worcester tells us, that King Alfred subarravit & duxit a Noblewoman of Mercia, Anno 868

Subbarraton Is an ancient Officer in the Church: He is mentioned in the Apostolical Canons, viz. 42, 43. He was not made by Imposition of Hands, but by the Delivery of an empty Platter and Cup by the Bishop, and of a Pitcher, Basin, and Towel by the Archdeacon. His Office was to wait on the Deacon with the Linen on which the Body, &c. was consecrated, and to receive and carry away the Plate with the Offerings, and the Cup with the Wine and Water in it, &c. He is often mentioned in the Monkish Historians; and therefore I thought it proper to write so much of his Name and Office.

Subgruntæ, The Eaves of a House, Tegule propendentes extra tectum domus ad parietum defensionem, ne imbris corruptantur. Vocab. utriusque juris.

Subjugalis Is any Beast carrying the Yoke Ad caudam Subjugales traxerunt imaginem Crucis. Mat. Paris. Anno 1249.

Subjurnare, i. e. To stay or stop any Thing for a Day or more. Canes subjurnare, homines vel equos ire vel mittere in exercitum. Mon. 2 Tom. pag. 1045. Where Canes subjurnare signifies to feed Dogs for a Day.

Sublegrius, One who is guilty of Incest; from the Saxon Sylb, Cognatio, and Leger, Concubitus, or rather from the Saxon Sybleger, i. e. Incestus.

Submarshal (Submarecallus) Is an Officer in the Marshalsea, who is Deputy to the chief Marshal of the King's House, commonly called the Knight Marshal, and hath the Custody of the Prisoners there. Crompt. Jurisd. fol. 104. He is otherwise called Under-Marshal.

Subnerbare, To cut the Sinews of the Legs or Thighs, to Ham-string. It was a good old Custom in England, Meretrices & impudicas mulieres subnerbare. Vide Osbernium de vita S. Dunstani, apud Whartoni Angl. Sacr. P. Q. p. 146.

Subornation, Subornatio, A secret or underhand preparing, instructing, or bringing in a false Witness, or corrupting or alluring to do such a false Act. Hence Subornation of Perjury mentioned in the Act of General Pardon, 12 Car. 2. cap. 8. is the Alluring to Perjury, Subornation of Witnesses. 32 Hen. 8. cap. 9. and 3 par. Inst. fol. 167.

Subpœna Is a Writ, whereby all Persons under the Degree of Peccage are called into Chancery, in such Case only where the Common Law fails, and hath made no Provision; so as the Party who in Equity hath Wrong, can have no ordinary Remedy by the Rules and Course of the Common Law. West. Symbol. part 2. Tit. Proceedings in Chancery, sect. 18. But Peers of the Realm in such Cases are called by the Lord Chancellor's, or Lord Keeper's Letters, giving Notice of the Suit intended against them, and requiring them to appear. There is also a Subpœna ad testificandum, for the Summoning of Witnesses as well in Chancery as other Courts. There is also a Subpœna in the Exchequer, as well in the Court of Equity there, as in the Office of Pleas. And these Names proceed from the Words in the Writ, which Charge the Party summoned to appear at the Day and Place assigned, Sub pœna Centum Librarum. See Crompt. Juris. fol. 33. and Anno 15 Hen. 6. cap. 4.

Subsidium Cathedraticum. See Cathedratic.

Subsidy, Subsidium, Signifies an Aid, Tax or Tribute, granted by Parliament to the King, for the

the urgent Occasions of the Kingdom, to be levied of every Subject, according to the Rate of his Land or Goods, after Four Shillings in the Pound for Land, and Two Shillings Eight Pence for Goods. No History mentions that the Saxon Kings had any Subsidies after the Manner of ours at present, but they had both Levies of Money and personal Services towards the Building and Repairing of Cities, Castles, Bridges, Military Expeditions, &c. which they called Burghote, Brigbote, Herefare, Heregeld &c. But when the Danes harassed the Land, King Ethelred yielded to pay them for Redemption of Peace several great Sums of Money yearly. This was called Danegeld, for the Levying of which every Hide of Land was taxed yearly at Twelve Pence, Lands of the Church only excepted, and thereupon it was after called Hydagium, and that Name remained afterward upon all Taxes and Subsidies imposed upon Lands; for sometimes it was laid upon Cattle, and then was termed Horn-geld. The Normans called these sometimes Taxes, sometimes Tallages, other-whiles Auxilia & subsidia. The Conqueror had these Taxes, and made a Law for the Manner of their levying, as appears in Emendationibus ejus, pag. 125. sect. Volumus & firmiter, &c. Many Years after the Conquest they were levied otherwise than now, as every Ninth Lamb, every Ninth Fleece, and every Ninth Sheaf. 14 E. 3. stat. 1. cap. 20. Of which you may see great Variety in Rastall's Abridgment, Tit. Taxes, Tenths, Fifteenths, Subsidies, &c. and 4 Inst. fol. 26 & 35. Whence we may gather there is no certain Rate, but as the Parliament shall think fit. Subsidy is in our Statutes sometimes confounded with Customs. 11 H. 4. cap. 7. See Benevolence, and 15 Car. 2. cap. 7.

Substernium, Litter for a Horse. Gervase of Tilbury mentions one that was fed with Bread in a Silver Manger, and had a Cushion stuffed with Feathers pro Substernio. Du Cange.

Substitute, Substitutus, One placed under another to transact, or do some Business.

Suburbani Are Husbandmen. Mon. Tom. 2. pag. 969. Et terram duarum bercariorum quam pastores tenent, & sex Suburbanos cum alodis suis, &c.

Succinum Gemma est ex gummi arboris Gleffarie congelata, quam diximus appellari a Gracis electrum. Of which Juvenal.

In cujus manibus ceu pinguis Succina tritas Cernis Ephemeridas.

And Marzial, Inclust tenuem Succina gemma feram.

Succiones Arborum, The Croppings of Trees. Et prædicta G. habebit Succiones Arborum ad includendum prædictum Mesuagium, &c. Charta Jo. Bayly, dat. 2 H. 5.

Sucking, Per Sucking, hoc est fore quiet. de illis amerciamenis quando le Burlimen, id est, superiorem de Ringyord, id est clausus, que vocat. le Chiminildes vel Common Meddows, & præmonit. fuerint ad imparcand. & faciend. clausuras, illas simul cum vicinis suis, ille qui non venit ad talem præmonitionem, amerciatius erit ad pretium unius vomeris, Anglice a Sucke, pretii quatuor denarii & hoc quotiescung; præmonit. non venerit. Plac. in Itin. apud Cestriam, 14 H. 7.

Suda, i. e. A Ditch.

Suetta, Setta, Suit or Service done to a superior Lord. From the French Suivre, sequi, to follow. — Pro omnibus servitiis, curia scitis, succris, releviis, &c. Paroch. Antiquit. pag. 262.

Sufferentia pacis, A Grant or Sufferance of Peace or Truce — Pro quadam sufferentia pacis cum illis habenda per unum annum duratura. Claus. 16 E. 3. p. 2. m. 2.

Suffragani, Suffraganeus, Is a titular Bishop appointed to aid and assist the Bishop of the Diocese. Co. 2 Inst. fol. 79. calls him a Bishop's Vicegerent. Spelman says, Dicuntur Episcopi qui Archiepiscopo suffragari & assistere tenentur, & suffraganei dicuntur quia eorum suffragiis causa Ecclesiastica judicantur. It was enacted, (Anno 26 H. 8. cap. 14.) that it should be lawful for every Diocesan, at his Pleasure, to elect Two honest and discreet spiritual Persons, within his Diocese, and to present them to the King, that he might give the one of them such Title, Stile, Name, and Dignity of such of the Sees in the said Statute specified, as he should think convenient, &c. and that every such Person shall be called Bishop Suffragan of the same Sec, &c. Cambden in his Britan. Tit. Kent, speaking of the Archbishop of Canterbury's Suffragans, says, When the Archbishop is busied in weightier Affairs, they manage for him Matters that pertain to Order only, and not to the Episcopal Jurisdiction. Others call them Subsidary Bishops; whose Number is limited by the said Statute.

Suit or Sute, Setta, Signifies a following another, but in divers Senses. The First is a Suit in Law, and is divided into real and personal, and is all one with Action real and personal. Kitchin, fol. 74. Secondly, Suit of Court, or Suit-service, is an Attendance that Tenants owe to the Court of their Lord. 7 H. 7. cap. 2. Thirdly, Suit-Covenant is, when your Ancestor hath covenanted with mine to sue to his Court. Fourthly, Suit-Custom, when I and my Ancestors have been seized of your own and your Ancestors Suit, Time out of Mind. Fifthly, Suit real or regal, when Men come to the Sheriffs Turn or Leet. See Leet. Sixthly, Suit signifies the following one in Chace, as Fresh Suit. Westm. 1. cap. 46. Lastly, it signifies a Petition made to the King, or any great Person.

Suit of Court, That is Suit to the Lord's Court, is that Service which the Feudatory Tenant was bound to do at the Lord's Court. At first it was expressly mentioned in the Grant how often those Courts should be held. This appears by Fleta, lib. 2. cap. 71. par. 14. Qui faciant Settas ad Curiam Domini & quot Settas per Annum. Sometimes one or more, but never exceeding Three. Thorn mentions Two, viz. Et faciant settam ad Curiam Cantuariæ bis per Annum, scilicet, in festo Michaelis & Pasche. But all the Lord's Tenants were not bound to attend his Courts, but only those to whom their Estates were granted upon that Condition: But every Man was bound to attend the Sheriff's Turn twice in every Year; which see in Setta Regalis. And if the Inheritance, by Reason whereof the Tenant was bound to attend only at one Court, did descend to Co-heirs, he who had capitelem Partem was bound to attend the Lord's Court both for himself and all the Co-heirs.

Suit of the King's Deate, Setta pacis Regis, Is the Pursuing a Man for Breach of the King's Peace by Treasons, Insurrections, or Trespases.

6 R. 2. Stat. 2. c. 1. and 27 R. 2. c. 15. and 5 H. 4. cap. 15.

Suit-silver. See Sute silver.

Sulcus aqua, A small Brook or Stream of Water, called in some Places a Sike, in Essex a Doke.—In fine inferiore ipsius mora descendit quidam sulcus fluens inter medium de Standford-more, &c. Paroch. Antiqu. p. 531.

Sulherp, (from the Sax. Suth, i. e. Avatrum.)

Signifies a Plough-land. 1 Inst. fol. 5. a.

Sulinga, Sullinga, A Swoling, A Plough-land; from the Saxon Sul, a Plough. Offa Rex totius Anglia dedit Janiberto Archiepiscopo ad Ecclesiam Christi Doreborn. terram trium acrarum, quam Cantiani Anglice vocant tres Swolinges. Mon. Angl. Vol. 1. pag. 19.

Suliba, A Beam. From the Saxon Syl, Columna. It is mentioned about the Building Monasteries and Churches in many Authors; and is that which we call a Summer. Trabs Summaria, i. e. Præcipua.

Sullery Denotes a Plough-land, as Mr. Agar interprets it out of Domesday.

Sullingata, The same with Swolings. Et nunc defendebatur illud manerium pro una Sullingata terra. Thorn. pag. 1931.

Sullinga, By Sir Edw. Coke, (in 1 Inst. fol. 4. b.) are taken for Elders, but according to Mr. Agar's Interpretation, Sullings are in Domesday Book taken for Alders, i. e. Alni arbores. But quare; for Sullings are the same with swolings, which see.

Sumage, Sumagium & summagium, A Horse-load, also Toll for Carriage on Horseback. Crompt. Fur. fol. 191. For where the Charter of the Forest, cap. 14. hath these Words, For a Horse that bears loads every Half-year a Half-penny: The Book called Pupilla Oculi, useth these Words, Pro uno equo portante summagium, per dimidium annum obolum. Chart. E. 1. num. 7. It is otherwise called a Seame: And a Soame in the Western Parts is a Horse-load.

Summerhus-silver. Homines quoque de waldæ debent unam domum asivalem, quæ Anglice dicitur Summerhus, invenire, aut viginti solidos dare.—Customale de Newington juxta Sittingburn, MS. From whence it may be inferred, that the Lords or Owners of the Dens and Districts of Wood in the Weald of Kent, used to visit those Places in Summer Time, when for their better Accommodation, their Under-tenants were bound to prepare little Summer Huts or Houses for their Reception, or else pay a Composition in Money.

Summer del Rey. Perhaps the King's Sumpter-man. q.

Summa, Saugma, Sauma, French Saume, Somme. Properly any Load or Burden of a Horse. In old Charters we frequently find Sauma vini, and summa ligni, for a Horse-load of Wine or Wood. Mr. Sommer believes, that this Sort of Burden gave Name to a Sumpter-Horse, Latin Equus saumarius, French Somiere.—Summa frumenti, Sax. Seam and Seam-hyden, was the Quantity of Eight Bushels, or a Quarter, still called a Seam in Kent, and other South Parts. Summa frumenti, and Summa bladi, is frequent in our old Writings. Summa vini.—Md. quod Anno Domini 1242. sedata est discordia, quæ orta fuit inter Dominum Robertum le Wafre mil. ex parte una & Dominum Reginaldum Priorem Brecon. ex altera, super quodam angulo terræ de Hundret de— dabit unam Summam vini— Et si forte delinquens non habet unde solvat, jacebit in Carcere Domini sui per unum mensem, &c. A Seam or Horse-load of Wine.

Summa Regia, Summa media, &c. The different Measure of the Seam or Quarter of Corn, is thus usefully noted in the old Cartulary of Peterburgh called Swafham.—Summa Regia, per quam emitur & venditur in foro; Summa media, per quam Prepositi metunt apud Burgum. Summa de granario, per quam facta liberatio de exitu pistrini. Summa quarta, per quam datur Metecorn infra curiam. Summa Regia excedit veterem summam in tanta portione quod septem summæ Regiæ faciunt octo summæ veteres. Item septem summæ Regiæ faciunt duodecim summæ de granario. Swafham, MS. fol. 220.

Summage. See Sumage and Seme.

Summarius equus, (see Sagmaris, &c.) A Horse to carry Burthens. From Summa, Onus.

Summonceas Is a Writ Judicial, of great Diversity, according to the divers Cases wherein it is used, which see in the Table of the Register Judicial.

Summoner, Summonitor, Is a Petty Officer, that calls or cites a Man to any Court; these ought to be boni homines, that is, in Fleta's Judgment, Liberi homines & ideo boni, quia terras tenentes, quod sint coram talibus Justiciariis ad certos diem & locum, secundum mandatum Justiciariorum vicecomiti directum, parati inde facere recognitionem, lib. 4. cap. 5. sect. Et cum. Summonitores were properly the Summoners or Apparitors, who cited in Delinquents to appear at a certain Time and Place, to answer any Charge or Complaint exhibited against them. Two Persons were joined in this Office, who in Citations from a superior Court, were to be Peers or Equals of the Party cited. At least the Barons were to be summoned by none under the Degree of Knights. Hence Summonitores ordinarii, legales, boni, &c.—Summone ibidem per bonos Summonitores eundem Thomam quod sit coram nobis in crastino S. Johannis Baptiste responsurus ad hoc quod proponetur. Paroch. Antiqu. pag. 177. Hence in the Diocese of Canterbury, the Apparitors in each Deanery are called the Summoners, which was their Title, we know, in Chaucer's Time.

Summonitores Scaccarii. Those Officers who assisted in collecting the King's Revenues, by citing the Defaulters into the Court of Exchequer.—De scutagio quod per Summonitores scaccarii exigit. Paroch. Antiqu. p. 200.

Summons, Summonitio, is with us as much as Vocatio in jus, or citatio among the Civilians; And thence is our Word Summoner, which in French is Somoneur, i. e. vocator, monitor. Summons of the Exchequer. 3 Edw. 1. cap. 19. How Summons is divided, and what Circumstances it has to be observed, see Fleta, lib. 6. cap. 6. 7.

Summons in terra petita, Kitchin, f. l. 286. Is that Summons which is made upon the Land, which the Party (at whose Suit the Summons is sent forth) seeks to have.

Summons ad Warrantizand. And seguatur sub suo periculo. Dyer, f. 69. numb. 35. Summoneas ad Warrantizandum Is the Process whereby the Vouchee is called. See Coke on Littl. fol. 101. b.

Sumptuary Laws Are Laws made to restrain Excess in Apparel, and prohibit costly Clothes; of which we have heretofore had many in England, but all repealed. Anno 1 Jac. See 3 Inst. fol. 199.

Super-

Superfodere, For Superfidere, i. e. to give too much Credit to any Thing.

Super-institution, Super-institutio, One Institution upon another; as where A. is admitted and instituted to a Benefice upon one Title, and B. is admitted, instituted, &c. by the Presentment of another. See Hutchin's Case in Co. Rep. 2. par. fol. 463.

Super-jurare. When a Criminal endeavoured to excuse himself by his own Oath, or by the Oath of One or Two Witnesses, and the Crime was so notorious that he was convicted by the Oaths of many more Witnesses; this was called Super-jurare. In Leg. H. 1. cap. 47. Et qui culpam exigit de fure occiso, esse se tertio, ut duo sint de cognitione patris, & tertius de cognitione matris, & jurat quod in cognato suo nullum factum erat pro quo de vita forsistatus esset, & eant alii cum duodecim & Super-jurent eum in contaminationem, sicut ante dicebatur. Leg. Athelstan. cap. 16.

Superoneratione pasturæ Is a Writ Judicial, that lies against him who is impleaded in the County, for the Overburdening of a Common with his Cattle, in Case where he was formerly impleaded for it in the County, and the Cause is removed into the King's Court at Westminster.

Super Prerogativa Regis Is a Writ which lay against the King's Widow, for marrying without his Licence. F. N. B. fol. 173.

Superfedas Is a Writ in divers Cases, and signifies in general a Command to stay, or forbear the Doing of that which ought not to be done, or in Appearance of Law were to be done, were it not for that whereon the Writ is granted. For Example, A Man regularly is to have Surety of Peace against him of whom he will swear he is afraid, and the Justice required hereunto cannot deny him; yet if the Party be formerly bound to the Peace, either in Chancery, or elsewhere, this Writ lies, to stay the Justice from doing that which otherwise he ought not to deny. See the Table of the Reg. Orig. and Judic. and F. N. B. fol. 236. For preventing the Superfeeding of Executions, see the Statute 16, 17 Car. 2. cap. 8.

Superfedere Is a Word used in the Laws of Adelstan, Canutus, and in Bracton; and signifies to neglect to appear in Court, and plead. Si quis Gemotum adire Superfedeat, ter emendet overherrissam. Leg. Adelstan. cap. 25. Leg. Canuti, 2 Par. c. 26. Bracton, lib. 5. cap. 1.

Super Statutum Edwardi 3. versus Servantes & Laboratores, Is a Writ that lies against him who keeps my Servants, departed out of my Service, against Law. F. N. B. fol. 167.

Super statuto de York, quo nul terra Visseffer, &c. Is a Writ lying against him that uses Visitalling either in Grofs, or by Retail, in a City or Borough Town, during the Time he is Mayor, &c. F. N. B. fol. 172.

Super statuto 1 E. 3. cap. 12, 13 Is a Writ that lay against the King's Tenant holding in Chief, which aliened the King's Land without his Licence. F. N. B. fol. 175.

Super statuto facto pour Seneschal & Marshal de Roy, &c. Is a Writ lying against the Steward, or Marshal, for holding Plea in his Court of Free-hold, or for Trespafs or Contracts not made within the King's Household. F. N. B. fol. 241.

Super statuto de Articulis Clerici, Cap. 6. Is a Writ against the Sheriff or other Officer, that distrains in the King's Highway, or in the Glebeland, anciently given to Rectories. F. N. B. fol. 173.

Supervisor Is a Latin Word signifying a Surveyor or Overfeer: It was anciently and still is a Custom among some, especially of the better Sort, to make a Supervisor of a Will, but it is to little Purpose; however the Intention might be good, that he should superwise the Executor, and see the Will truly performed.

Supervisor, Or as now Surveyor of the Highways. Anno 5 Eliz. cap. 13. See Surveyor.

Superficies Is the Surface or Top of the Earth, and whatsoever is upon the Face thereof. Vocab. utrinsq; juris.

Supplicavit Is a Writ issuing out of the Chancery, for taking the Surety of Peace against a Man: It is directed to the Justices of Peace of the County and the Sheriff, and is grounded upon the Statute, Anno 1 E. 3. cap. 16. which ordains, that certain Persons in Chancery shall be assigned to take Care of the Peace. See F. N. B. fol. 80. This Writ was of old called Breve de minis, as Lambard saith in his Eirenarba, out of the Regif. Orig. fol. 88.

Surcharge of the forest, Superoneratio Forestæ, Is, when a Commoner puts on more Beasts in the Forest than he has a Right to. Manswood, part 2. cap. 14. num. 7. And is taken from the Writ De secunda superoneratione Pastura, in the same Sense, when the Commoner *surcharge*th. 3 Inst. fol. 293.

Sur cui in vita Is a Writ that lies for the Heir of that Woman, whose Husband has aliened her Land in Fee, and he brings not the Writ of Cui in vita for the Recovery of her own Land; in this Case her Heir may have this Writ against the Tenant after her Decease. F. N. B. fol. 193.

Surety of the Peace, Securitas Pacis, (so called, because the Party that was in Fear is thereby secured,) Is an acknowledging of a Bond to the Prince, taken by a competent Judge of Record, for the Keeping of the Peace. This Peace may a Justice of the Peace command, either as a Minister, when he is commanded thereto by a higher Authority; or as a Judge, when he doth it of his own Power, derived from his Commission. Of both these, see Lamb. Eiren. lib. 2. cap. 2. pag. 77. See Peace. See Supplicavit. Securitas de bono gestu, Surety of the good Abearing differs from this, that whereas the Peace is not broken without an Affray, or such like; the Surety de bono gestu may be broken by the Number of a Man's Company, or by his or their Weapons and Harnes.

Surgeon, Chirurgus, May be deduced from the French Chirurgien, signifying him that dealeth in the mechanical Part of Physick, and the outward Cures performed with the Hand; and therefore is compounded of Two Greek Words, viz. χειρ manus, & γυρ, opus: And for this Cause are they not allowed to minister inward Medicine. See the Statute 32 H. 8. cap. 4. and Polton's Abbridgment, Tit. Surgeons.

Sur sui jur, i. e. Upon his Oath. Leg. Will. 1. cap. 16.

Surmicha, A Loaf of coarser white Bread, such as in Kent is called Ravel-Bread, Conventus de Wartre concedit Joanni de Torp qualibet ebdomada 54. albas Michas conventuales & 14 galones melloris cervisifæ — & servitoribus suis 4. albas Michas & 13. magnas magnas furnichas, item 4 panes hastard. 28 Mart. 1309. Ex Registr. Grenfeld Archiepif. Ebor. MS. f. 119. Perhaps Sura micha was only leaven Bread; there is now a Sort of Oaten Cake in the North called Sour-Cake.

Surplusage, Surplusagium, Cometh of the Fr. Surplus, i. corollarium; and signifies in the Common Law a Superfluity, or Addition, more than needeth, which sometimes is a Cause that a Writ abate. Broke, Tit. Nagation and Superfluity, fol. 100. Plovdn, fol. 63. Dives and Maningham's Case. It is sometimes also applied to Matter of Account, and denotes a greater Disbursement than the Charge of the Accountant amounteth unto; Satisfaciant in omnibus quod conjunctum fuerit per predictum computum inter eos de surplusagio recepto de averiis venditis, &c. Ordinatio de marisco Romenciensi, pag. 38.

Surrebutter Is a Second Rebutter, or a Rebutting more than once. See Rebutter.

Surresponder Is a Second Defence of the Plaintiff's Action, opposite to the Defendant's Rejoinder. West. Symbol. part 2. Tit. Supplications, sect. 57. and therefore Holman calls it TriPLICATIONem, quæ est secunda actoris defensio contra rei duplicationem opposita.

Surrender, Surreun-redditio, Is an Instrument in Writing, testifying with apt Words, that the particular Tenant of Lands or Tenements for Life, or Years, doth sufficiently consent and agree, That he which has the next or immediate Remainder or Reversion thereof, shall also have the present Estate of the same in Possession, and that he yields and gives up the same unto him: for every Surrenderer ought forthwith to give Possession of the Things surrendered. West. Symbol. part 1. lib. 2. sect. 503. where are several Precedents: There may be also a Surrender without Writing: And therefore there is said to be a Surrender in Deed, and a Surrender in Law; A Surrender in Deed is that which is really and sensibly performed. A Surrender in Law is in Intendment of Law by Way of Consequent, and not actual. See of this Perkins, cap. 9. & fol. 606. As if a Man have a Lease of a Farm, and during the Term, he accept of a new Lease, this Act is in Law a Surrender of the former. Co. 6 Rep. fol. 11. There is also a customary Surrender of the Copyhold-Land, for which see Coke sup. Littleton, sect. 74. And a Surrender may be of Letters Patent to the King, to the End he may grant the Estate to whom he pleases.

Surrogate, Surrogatus, One that is substituted or appointed in the Room of another, most commonly of a Bishop, or of a Bishop's Chancellor.

Surstie, Superstia, 32 H. 8. ca. 48. Seems to be an especial Name used in the Castle of Dover, for such Penalties and Forfeitures as are laid upon those that pay not their Duties or Rent for Castleward at their Days. Bracton hath it in a general Signification, lib. 5. tract. 3. cap. 1. num. 8. and Fleta, lib. 6. cap. 5. in princ.

Surveyor, Supervisor, Is a French Word compounded of sur, i. super and voir, cernere, videre. It signifies with us, one that has the Over-seeing or Care of some great Person's Land or Works. As the Surveyor general of the King's Manors. Crompt. fur. fol. 39. And in this Sense it is taken, 33 H. 8. cap. 39. where there is a Court of Surveyors erected: And the Surveyor of the Wards and Liveries. But he is taken away with the Court of Wards and Liveries, by the Statute made Anno 12 Car. 2. cap. 24.

Surveyor of the King's Exchange, 9 H. 5. Stat. 2. c. 4. Was an Officer whose Name seems in these Days to be changed into some other; for there is none such now, or else the Office is now disused.

Survibo, From the French Survivre, i. seperesse, signifies the longer Life of Two Joint-tenants. See Bro. Tit. Joint-tenants, or of any Two joined in the Right of any Thing.

Sus, Unum fuit Machinamentum, quod nostri Suem, veteres vineam vocant, quæ machina levibus lignis colligata, testis tabulis cratibusq; contexto, lateribus crudis coriis communis, protegit in se subsidentes, qui quasi more Stus ad murorum suffodienda penetrant fundamenta. Will. Malmsbur. Hist. lib. 4.

Preparare fecerant variarum argumenta machinarum. Alii Sues rostratas, alii Contos, alii Sues, sive quodcumque genus vel prius visum vel tunc excogitatum. Ricardi Regis Iter Hierosol. cap. 59. Let the Etymologists consider, whether the large Tubs with Two Ears, carried on Mens Shoulders by a Pole or large Stick, be not hence called Sows and the Sticks whereon they are carried Scw-flangs.

Susana terra Is Land worn out with ploughing. It is mentioned in Thorn de terra mensurata, viz. Summa terra arabilis 567 acre, summa totius cum terra Susana 2149. acre, &c. and in several other Places there.

Suscematæ Carnes, Surfeited Meat: It is mentioned in Fleta, lib. 2. cap. 12. par. 27. De coquis & carnificibus carnes venditantibus suscematas, vel de marina vel semiocta, &c. It is called in Briton, pa. 33. Cars surfames.

Suskin. See Galli-Half-pence.

Suspension or Suspence, Suspendio, Is a Temporal Stop of a Man's Right; as when a Seignior, Rent, &c. by Reason of the Unity of Possession thereof, and of the Land out of which they issue, are not in esse for a Time, & tunc dormiunt, but may be revived or awaked, and so differs from Extinguishment, which dies for ever. Bro. Tit. Extinguishment and Suspension, fol. 314. and Co. on Lit. lib. 3. cap. 10. sect. 559. Suspension is also used sometimes by us, as it is in the Canon Law pro minori Excommunicatione, Anno 24 H. 8. cap. 12. See Vocab. utriusq; juris.

Suspensio ab officio Is when a Minister for a Time is declared unfit to execute his Office.

Suspensio a Beneficio Is when a Minister for a Time is deprived of the Profits of his Benefice.

Suspiral, From the Latin suspirare, i. ducere suspiria) And seems to be a Spring of Water passing under the Ground toward a Conduit or Cistern. 33 H. 8. cap. 10. And indeed the Word is an absolute French Word; for Suspiral in that Tongue signifies spiramentum Caverna, the Mouth of a Cave or Den.

Sute. See Suit.

Sute-silver Is a small Rent, or Sum of Money which, if paid, does excuse the Freeholders from the Appearance at the Court-Barons within the Honour of Clun in Shropshire.

Suthdure, i. e. The South Door of a Church: It is mentioned in Gervaf. Dorob. de reparatione Cantuar. Ecclesie, and it was the usual Place where Canonical Purgation was performed; that is, where the Fact could not be proved by sufficient Evidence, Evidence, the Party accused came to the South Door of the Church, and there in the Presence of the People, made Oath, that he was innocent. This was called Judicium Dei, and so was the vulgar Purgation, which was by Fire or Water: Opium Ecclesie quod antiquitus ab Anglis & nunc usque Suthdure dicitur, in quibus omnes querelas totius regni, que in hundredis & Comitatus, ivo vel pluribus, vel certe in Curia Regis, non possunt legaliter diffiniri, finem inibi sicut in Curia Regis Summa, sortiri debere discernitur. Gervas. Dorob. de reparatione Ecclesie Cantuar. It is for this Reason, that Porches are built at the South Door of the Church.

Suwellsilver, Inter antiquas consuetudines Abbatie de Sancto Edmundo — Apud grangias per totum annum sunt xlii. famuli capientes xlii. metecorns — & ad quemlibet metecorn datur singulis unus denarius ad Suwellsilver, & est summa de Suwellsilver per annum ix fol. — Ex Cartular, S. Edmundi, MS. fol. 322.

Swan, Cygnus, He that stealeth the Eggs of Swans out of their Nests, shall be imprisoned for a Year and a Day, and fined according to the King's Pleasure; one Moiety to the King, and the other to the Owner of the Land where the Eggs were so taken; and it was a Custom in ancient Time, that he which stole a Swan in an open and common River, lawfully marked, the same Swan, (if it may be) or another Swan shall be hanged in a House by the Beak; and he which stole it, in Recompence thereof, compelled to give the Owner as much Corn as may cover all the Swan, by putting and turning the Corn upon the Head of the Swan, until the Head of the Swan be covered with Corn. See Co. 7 Rep. Case of Swans.

Swan-herd. See King's Swan-herd.

Swainmore or Swainmore, (Swainmotus) From the Saxon Swang, i. e. (as we now call our Rusticks) a Country Swain, a Boeclandman, a Freeholder, and Gemote, i. e. Conventus; (the Saxon g being usually turned into i, or y) signifies a Court touching Matters of the Forest, and held by the Charter of the Forest Thrice in the Year, before the Verderors as Judges. Ann. 5 H. S. cap. 18. What Things are inquirable in the same, you may read in Crompt. Jurisd. fol. 108. And it is as incident to a Forest, as a Court of Pie-powder to a Fair; Nullum Swain-motum de catero teneatur, in Regno nostro nisi ter in Anno, viz. in Principio quindecim dierum ante festum sancti Michaelis, &c. circa festum sancti Martini, & initio quindecim dierum ante festum sancti Johannis Baptiste, &c. Charta de Foresta tam Regis Johan. quam Hen. 3. cap. 9. See 4 Inst. fol. 289. See Kennet's Glossary.

Swarff-Money, The Swarff-Money is one Penny Hal-penny, it must be paid before the Rising of the Sun; the Party must go Thrice about the Cross, and say the Swarff-money, and then take Witnes, and then lay it in the Hole: And when you have so done, look well that your Witnes do not deceive you: For if it be not paid, you give a great Forfeiture, 30 s. and a white Bull. This Exposition was found in an old MS. containing the Rents due to the Catesbys in Ledbrooke, and other Places in Warwickshire; but supposed to be mistaken, or to signify the same with Warth-Money. See Ward-penny.

Shepage Is the Crop of Hay got in a Meadow; called also the Sewepe in some Parts of England. Co. on Lit. fol. 4.

Swatha, Sax. Swath, a Swathe, or as in Kent

a Sweath, in some Parts a Swarth, i. e. a straight Row of cut Grass or Corn, as it lies after the Scithe at first Mowing of it. A Swathe of Meadow was a long narrow Slip of Ground, like a Selson in arable Land. William Barward sold his Part of Five Swaths in a Meadow called Bikmore — dne Swaths dicti prati jacent ut sequitur — & due Swathes apud Mathammis. Paroch. Anriq. pag. 399. Hence in the North, a Swath-Bank is a Swarth of new cut Grass, where a green Swarth or Furrow among arable Land is called a Swang.

Swoling or suling of Land, Sulinga, solinga, vel swolinga terre, in Saxon Sutung, from sul or suth, aratum; as to this Day in the western Parts, a Plow is called a Sul, and a Plow-staff a Sul-paddle. It is the same with Carrucata terra, that is, as much as one Plow can till in a Year: A Hide of Land, though others say it is an uncertain Quantity. — Dedit etiam idem inclitus Rex

Willielmus (Conqueror) eidem Ecclesia de Bello in Cantia, Regale Manerium, quod vocatur Wy, cum omnibus appendiciis suis septem Swolingarum, id est, Hidarum, ex sua Dominica Corona, cum omnibus libertatibus & regalibus consuetudinibus, &c. Rentale MS. de Wy tempore Ven. Parr. Tho. Ludlowe Abbatis, fol. 1. — Terram trium aratrozum, quam Cantiani Anglice dicunt Three Swolings. Charta pervecusta Ecclesie Cantuar. de qua vide Sommerum in Antiquitat. loci, pag. 211. This in Selden's Titles of Honour, fol. 636. is written Swillinga.

Sworn Brothers, Fratres jurati. Persons who by mutual Oath covenanted to share each the other's Fortune. — Statutum est quod ibi dehent populi omnes & gentes universe singulis annis, semel in anno scilicet, convenire. scilicet in capite Kalendarii Maii, & se fide sacramento non fracto ibi in unum & simul confederare & consolidare, sicut conjurati Fratres. Leg. Edw. Conf. cap. 35. In any notable Expedition to invade and conquer an Enemy's Country, it was the Custom for the more eminent Soldiers of Fortune, to engage themselves by reciprocal Oaths to share the Reward of their Service. So in the Expedition of Duke William into England, Eudo and Pincus were Sworn Brothers and Co-partners in the Estate which the Conqueror allotted to them. So were Robert de Oily and Roger de Iveri — Robertus de Oleio & Rogerus de Iverio Fratres jurati, & per fidem & sacramentum confederati venerunt ad conquestum Anglie. Paroch. Antiquit. pag. 57. No Doubt this Practise gave Occasion to our Proverb of Sworn Brothers, and Brethren in Iniquity, because of their dividing Plunder and Spoil.

Syb and som, Pax & securitas, And accordingly we read in the Laws of King Canutus, cap. 17. Eallum Cristenum Mamum syb, som gemene, that is, Omnibus Christianis Pax & securitas communis esto.

Sylva rædus, Wood under Twenty Years Growth; Coppice wood. See the Statute 45 E. 3. cap. 3. It is otherwise called in Law-French Sub-bois. 2 Inst. fol. 642.

Symbolum, (Gn) Is the Apostles Creed; in Latin Collatio, because the Catholic Faith was by them in unum collata: It is often called by this Name in our Historians, and thus described in the following Verses, which for their Curiosity I have transcribed.

Articuli fidei sunt his sex corde tenendi, Quos Christi Socii docuerunt pneumate pleni; Credo Deum Petrus inquit, ego cuncta createm, Andreas dixit, credo Jesum fore Christum; Conceptum, natum Jacobus, passumque Johannes, Infernos, Philipus, fregit, Thomasque, revisit, Scandit, Bartholomaeus, venit censere, Matheus, Pneuma, minor Jacobus, Symon, peccata remittit, Restituit, Judas, carnem, vitamque, Matbias.

Syncopeare, i. e. To cut his Words short, to pronounce them so as not to be understood; the Word is used in several of our Ecclesiastical Councils and Synods. Ita quod ex seftinatione nimia verba non praecidentur vel syncopeantur. Concilium Sarisb. cap. 36. Synod. Wigorn. cap. 10.

Syndicus, i. e. A Patron or Advocate: It is mentioned in Mat. Paris. Anno 1245. Syndicus omnium Christianorum terre Sanctae, &c.

Synod, Synodus, A Meeting or Assembly of Ecclesiastical Persons concerning Religion, of which there are Four Kinds: 1. General, where Bishops, &c. meet of all Nations. 2. National, where those of one Nation only come together. 3. Provincial, where they of one only Province meet. 4. Diocesan, where those of but one Diocese meet. See Convocation, which is all one with a Synod, only the one is a Greek, and the other a Latin Word. Our Saxon Kings usually called a Synod, or mixed Council, consisting both of Ecclesiasticks and the Nobility, Three Times a Year; which was not properly called a Parliament till Henry the Third's Time. See Parliament.

Synodal, Synodale, is a Tribute in Money, paid to the Bishop, or Archdeacon, by the inferior Clergy at Easter Visitation; and it is called *Synodale quia in synodo frequentius dabatur. The Impropriation of Derebuit in Com. Glouc. pays yearly 7 s., 9 d. pro Synodalibus & Procuratoribus. Pat. 20 July 34 H. 8. Et quod sint quieti a Synodalibus & ab omni Episcopali consuetudine excepto denario beati Petri. Mon. Angl. 2 par. fol. 276. See the Historical Discourse of Procurations and Synodals, pag. 66, & 98. These are called otherwise Synodals in the Statute of 32 Hen. 8. cap. 16. yet in the Statute of 25 H. 8. cap. 19. Synodals Provincial seem to signify the Canons or Constitutions of a Provincial Synod. And sometimes Synodale is used for the Synod it self. See *Dugd. Warwickshire, fol. 126. and Spelman de Concil. 1 Tom. pag. 529.

Synodales testes, The Urban and Rural Deans were at first so called, from informing and attesting the Disorders of Clergy and People in the Episcopal Synod. But when they sunk in their Authority, the Synodical Witnesses were a Sort of impelled Grand Jury, to inform of, or present Offenders, a Priest and Two or Three Laymen for every Parish. At last Two principal Persons for each Diocese were annually chosen, till by Degrees this Office of Inquest and Information was devolved upon the Churchwardens. See Kenner's Paroch. Antiq. pag. 649. Synodale juramentum, was the solemn Oath taken by the said Testes, as is now by Churchwardens to make their Presentments.

T.

T Every Person convicted of any other Felony (save Murder) and admitted to the Benefit of his Clergy, shall be marked with a T, upon the Brawn of his Thumb. Anno 4 H. 7. cap. 13.

Tabard, Tabarder, The Bachelor Scholars on the Foundation of Queen's College, Oxford, are called Tabiters, or Tabarders; of which Name there is a little Dissertation by Thomas Barlow, S. T. P. Provost of the said College, and afterwards Bishop of Lincoln, which, among other Letters and little Tracts, is now in the Hands of the Reverend Mr. Offley Rector of Middleton, Com. Oxon. and Prebendary of Lincoln, late Chaplain to the said Bishop. Out of which Dissertation, I shall transcribe somewhat for the Instruction, or at least Diversion of the Reader.

That our Scholars were called Tabiters (so we now pronounce the Name) from a Kind of Gown they wore, I make no Question. And that Gown was then called a Tabert or Tabary, or Tabard.—For, 1. Versfegan tells us, Tabert anciently signified a short Gown that reached no farther than the Mid-Leg, and that it remains for the Name of a Gown in Germany, and in the Netherlands. And in England, it is now the Name only of an Herald's Coat. 2. Edward Bolton, (Element of Armories, pag. 67.) speaking of the Monument of Edward the Black Prince at Canterbury, tells us, that there he hath on his quilted Coat Armour with half Sleeves Tabard Fashion; and in his Glossary at the End of his Book, explains the Word as Versfegan doth. 3. In Spanish I meet with Tavardo, which is rendered by Minshew in his Spanish Dictionary, a Kind of Garment like a Coat; the Word he takes not to be a pure Spanish Word, but an Arabic or Moorish Word. 4. In French we know that Tabarre signifies the same, and is rendered by Cotgrave a long riding Cloak or Garment. So that the Spanish Tavardo, and the French Tabarre, and the Teutonic and Saxon Taber or Tabor, signify all the same Thing, a Kind of Garment, &c.

Taberdum, A long Garment like a Gown; sometimes it signified a Herald's Coat, but generally a Gown wore by Ecclesiasticks. Frater sacerdos disti Hospitalis habebant unam robam integram, tunicam, superunicam, Taberdum & capucium, nigri coloris. Mat. Paris. pag. 164.

Tabellion, Tabellio, A Notary Publick, or Scrivener allowed by Authority to ingross and register private Contracts and Obligations. Mat. Paris. fol. 424. De anno 1236. hath these Words, Quoniam Tabellionum usus in Regno Angliae non habetur, propter quod magis ad sigilla autentica credi est necesse, ut eorum copia facilius habeatur, statuimus ut sigillum habeant non solum Archiepiscopi sed eorum officiales.

Tabernaculum, A publick Inn, or House of Entertainment. Memorandum quod die Martis proxime ante Festum Sancti Gregorii Anno Regni Regis Edwardi Fil. Reg. Edwardi secundo. Magister Gilbertus de Segrave Archidiaconus Oxon. recepit dimidium marcam pro procuracione sua in visitatione sua apud Sbulstone—quo quidem die Martis juxta in tabernaculo disti loco. Confectud. Domus de Farendon, MS. 48.

Table Rents, Redditi ad mensam. Rents paid to Bishops or Religious Prelates, reserved or appropriated to their Table or House-keeping. Such Rents paid in Specie, or Provision of Meat and Drink, were sometime called Bord-Land Rents.

Tabling of Fines Is the Making a Table for every County where his Majesty's Writ runs, containing the Contents of every Fine passed in any one Term, as the Name of the County, Towns and Places, wherein the Lands or Tenements lie; the Name of the Demandant and Deforcant, and of every Manor named in the Fine. This is to be done properly by the Chirographer of Fines of the Common Pleas, who every Day of the next Term, after the Ingrossing any such Fine, must fix every of the said Tables in some open Place of the said Court, during its Sitting. And the said Chirographer is to deliver to the Sheriff of every County, his Under-Sheriff or Deputy, fair written in Parchment, a perfect Content of the Table so made for that Shire, in the Term next before the Assizes for that County, or else between the Term and the Assizes, to be set up every Day of the next Assizes, in some open Place of the Court, where the Justices of Assizes shall then sit, and to continue there during their sitting: And if either the Chirographer or Sheriff fail herein, he shall forfeit 5*l*. And the Chirographer's Fee for every such Tabling is Four Pence. 23 Elizabeth. cap. 5. and West. Symbol. part 2. Tit. Fines, sett. 130.
G g 2 any

Tabula, A prescribed Form or Directory in Cathedral Churches, drawn up at the Beginning of each Week by the Held madary, appointing the several Persons and their several Parts in the Offices of the following Week; which Persons so nominated and allotted to respective Duties, were called Intabulati—— Sacerdotibus injungimus quod cum intabulati fuerint tabulam in legendo & cantando sequantur. Stat. Eccl. Pauline, MS. fol. 546. See Ebdomadarius, who was the Officer deputated commonly to this Care, and was therefore called Scriptor Tabule, and for the more equal Discharge of his Office, it was thus ordained—— Scriptori Tabule in virtute obedientie injungimus, quod officium suum fideliter exequatur, ita quod unum per fraudem seu malitiam non oneret, & alteri gratiam indebite deferat seu favorem, sed circa intabulandos rectum ordinem sine saltu & equitatem omnimodam studeat observare—— Ibid. fol. 55. a.

Tabur, (Taburcium) A Bell used in Time of War: It is mentioned in Dicetus, and several other Historians, viz. Juxta sonum illius instrumenti quod Ripatoribus vocatur Tabur. Rad. de Diceto, pag. 1191. And in Huntingdon, lib. 7. Equi non insolitum ferentes clamorem, buccinarum clangorem & iussus Taburiorum, &c.

Tacite—— Cum Household & Hayhold & Tacite de omnibus propriis porcis suis infra omnes metas de Cockisul, &c. Charta Domini Tho. de Menylgaring, sine dat. We still retain the Word Tac-free, a little altered, that is, they paid nothing for their Hogs running within that Limit.

Tactare For Confirmare. Fleta, lib. 2. cap. 61. par. 22.

Tadcaster. See Calcaria.

Taffe. See Ratofibus.

Tail, Talia, Tallia, A Tally or Piece of Wood cut with Indentures or Notches in Two corresponding Parts, of which one is kept by the Creditor, the other by the Debtor. As now used by our Brewers, &c. and was formerly the common Way of keeping all Accounts.—— Ut patet per talliam contra Willielmum Spinam collectorem redditus ejusdem anni, &c. Paroch. Antiq. p. 571. Hence to tell Money, old English, a tal'd Sum. The Tale of Money. Tale and Retail of Goods. The Tallier (Talliator) of the Exchequer, whom we now call the Teller. See Talles.

Tail, Tallium, May come from the French Word Taille, i. sectura, and in our Law signifies Two several Things, both grounded upon one Reason. Plowden, fol. 251. Willian's Case. First, it is used for the Fee, which is opposite to Fee-simple, by Reason it is so minced or parted as it were, that it is not in the Owner's free Power to dispose, but is by the first Giver cut or divided from all others, and tied to the Issue of the Donee. Co. lib. 4. in Procmio: And this Limitation of Tail is either general or special. Tail general, is that whereby Lands or Tenements are limited to a Man, and to the Heirs of his Body begotten; and it is so called, how many Wives soever the Tenant holding by this Title shall have, one after another in lawful Marriage; his Issue by them all have a Possibility to inherit one after another. Tail special is when Lands or Tenements are limited to a Man and his Wife, and the Heirs of their Two Bodies begotten; and hath this Term of special, because if the Man bury his Wife before Issue, and take another, the Issue by his Second Wife cannot inherit the Land, &c. Also if Land be given to a Man and his Wife, and to their Son Thomas for ever, this is Tail special. See more of this in Fee, and Lit. lib. 1. cap. 2. and the New Book of Entries, verb. Tail. Tail in the other Signification, is that we vulgarly call a Tally: For une taille de bois, is a cloven Piece of Wood, to set up an Account upon by Nicks; for in the Statute to E. 1. cap. 11. and 27 E. 1. stat. 1. cap. 2. it is termed a Tail, and 38 E. 3. cap. 5. and so in Broke's Abridgment, Tit. Tail d'Exchequer, fol. 247. See Talles.

Tail after possibility of Issue extinct is where Land is given to a Man and his Wife, and to the Heirs of their Two Bodies engendered, and one of them over-lives the other without Issue between them begotten; he shall hold the Land for Term of his own Life, as Tenant in the Tail after Possibility of Issue extinct, and notwithstanding that he do Waste, he shall never be impeached of it. And if he alien, he in the Reversion shall not have a Writ of Entry in conformi casu, but he may enter, and his Entry is lawful, by R. Thorpe Chief Justice. 28 E. 3. 96. & 45 E. 3. 25.

Tailage. See Tallage.

Talles, (Tallia) French Taille, Italian Tagliare, i. e. scindere, a cut Stick, i. e. a Stick cut in Two Parts: On each was marked what was due between Debtor and Creditor; and this was the ancient Way of keeping Accounts: Afterwards it signified a Tribute paid by the Vassal to the Lord: From hence comes Tallagium, which signifies any Sort of Tax.

But in the feudal Law, Talliare signifies to limit or cut: From the French Tallier to cut, so that Talliare feudum is to limit a Fee-simple, which we call a Fee-tail; that is, a limited Inheritance to such only who are named in the Grant.

There

There are Two Sorts of Tallies mentioned in our Statutes, to have been long used in the Exchequer; the one is termed Tailles of Debt, Anno 1 Ric. 2. cap. 5. which are a Kind of Acquittance for Debt paid to the King. As for Example, the University of Cambridge pays yearly Ten Pounds for such Things as are by their Charter granted them in Fee-farm, viz. 5 l. at the Annunciation, and 5 l. at Michaelmas. He that pays these Sums, receiveth for his Discharge a Taille or Tally at each Day, with both which, or Notes of them, he repairs to the Clerk of the Pipe-Office, and there instead of them, receiveth an Acquittance in Parchment for his full Discharge. The other are Tailles of Reward spoken of 27 H. 8. 11. & 33 & 34 H. 8. 16. and 2 & 3 E. 6. cap. 4. which seem to be Tailles or Tallies of Allowance, or Remittance made to Sheriffs for such Matters, as to their Charge they have performed in their Office, or for such Monies as they by Course have cast upon them in their Accounts, but cannot levy, &c. See 2 & 3 E. 6. cap. 4. There are also Tallies of Debt used among Subjects, Et si creditor habet Talliam, oportet creditorem probare illam per conviccionis suos vel per alios, per quorum fidelitatem Ballivi & alii presentes illo tempore in Curia notitiam habere possunt, & si Creditor petat debitum per vocem suam simplicem tunc debitor potest esse ad suam legem manifestatam. MS. Codex de LL. Statutis, &c. Burgi villæ Montgomer. a temp. H. 2.

Tails, Under-wood fit to cut: Et 500 Acres silve pascilis modo val. 6 lib. & Tailia, 40 Sol. Domesday.

Taini or Thaini mediocres Were Freeholders, and sometimes called Milites Regis, and their Land called Tain-land. 1 Inst. fol. 5. b. See Thane.

Taint, Atinthus, Cometh of the French Teint, i. infectus, and signifies substantively, either a Conviction, or adjectively a Person convicted of Felony or Treason, &c. See Attaint.

Tales Is a Latin Word of known Signification, and used in our Law for a Supply of Men impanelled upon a Jury or Inquest, and not appearing, or at their Appearance challenged by either Party as not indifferent; in which Case the Judge, upon Motion grants a Supply to be made by the Sheriff of one or more such there present; and hereupon the very Act of supplying is called a Tales de circumstantibus. But he that hath had one Tales either upon Default or Challenge, may not have another to contain so many as the former: For the first Tales must be under the principal Panel, except in a Cause of Appeal, and so every Tales less than other, until the Number be made up of Men present in Court, and such as are without Exception: Yet this general Rule is not without some Exceptions, as appears by Stanisford, Pl. Cor. lib. 3. cap. 5. These commonly called Tales may in some Sort, and indeed are called Adiores, viz. when the whole Jury is challenged, as appears by Bro. Tit. Off. Tales, & autre Tales, fol. 105. See Co. lib. 10. fol. 99. Beufrage's Case.

Tales Is also the Name of a Book in the King's Bench Office, of such Jury-men as were of the Tales. Co. lib. 4. fol. 95.

Tailia coryllina, i. e. Tallies made ex corylo arbore. Knighton, pag. 2570.

Tallage, Tallagium, May be derived of the French Taille, which properly signifies a Piece cut out of the whole, but metaphorically is used for a Share of a Man's Substance paid by Way of Tribute, Toll or Tax. Stat. de Tallagio non concedendo temp. E. 1. And Stow's Annals, pag. 445. Thence come Talagiers in Chaucer for Tax or Toll-gatherers. See Subsidy. Tallage, says Coke, is a general Word for all Taxes. 2 Inst. fol. 552. But Tenants in ancient Demesne are quit of these Taxes and Tallages granted by Parliament, except the King do tax ancient Demesne, as he may when he thinks good, for some great Cause.

Tallagium facere, To give up Accounts in the Exchequer, where the Method of Accounting is by Tallies.—Cum Vicecomes Cumbria sederet super computum ad Scaccarium apud Salop. idem Vicecomes fecit tallagium sub nomine suo 60 lib.—Memorand. in Scaccario Mich. 6 Ed. 1. by Sir John Maynard.

Tallatio, The keeping Account, as by Tallies of all Battles or Delivery of Meat and Drink. By the Statutes of the Church of St. Paul in London, it was ordained, Ut Custos Bravini claves panetie & cellarii penes se custodiat, & liberationes supervideat, & tallationes faciat per seipsum nisi rationabiliter fuerit impeditus. Liber Stat. Eccl. Pauline, MS. fol. 40. a.

Tallage. See Talles.

Tallis, Every Canon and Prebendary in our old Cathedral Churches, had a stated Allowance of Meat, Drink, and other Distributions, to be delivered to him per modum tallie. Hence their Commons or set Allowance, in Meat or Drink, was called tallia. As in the Statutes of the Cathedral Church of Paul's, collected by Ralph Baldock, Dean about the Year 1295.—Siendum est quod non residens Canonicus defungens per annum integrum a die sui obitus computandum talliam suam integram panis & cervisie in bracio—percipiat.

Talliari de certo tallagio, To be assessed or taxed at such a Rate or due Proportion, toward the Tallage imposed by the King on his Barons and Knights, and by them on their inferior Tenants. See Kennet's Paro. b. Antiquit. in Glossary.

Tallhide or Talwood (Talitura) Is Fire-wood, cleft and cut into Billets of a certain Length. Anno 34 & 35 Hen. 8. cap. 3. and Anno 7 Edw. 6. cap. 7. Every Tallhide marked one, being round bodied, shall contain Sixteen Inches of Assise in Compass, &c. Anno 43 Eliz. cap. 14. This was anciently written Talghwode.—Et quod de toto residuo Bosci, quod non valebat pro marenio, idem Petrus fieri fecit Carbores & boscum computabilem vocatum Talghwode. Claus. 3 E. 5. m. 26. intus.

Tamara, Tamerton.

Tamarus flubius, Tamar.

Tamisie, Thames.

Tanistry Is a Law or Custom in some Parts of Ireland, of which Sir John Davis in his Reports, fol. 28. thus, Quant aſcun perſon ſeiſe de aſcuns Caſtles, Manors, Terres ou Tenements del nature & de tenure Tanistry, que donques meſme les Caſtles, &c. dond deſcender & de temps dond memory ne court out uſe de deſcender, Seniori & Digniffimo viro Sanguinis & cognominis, de tiel perſon iſſint morant ſeiſe & que le file ou les files de tiel person issint morant seiste de tous temps avant dit, ne fueront inheritables de tiels terres ou tenements, ou de aucun partie de eux. The Name seems to be derived from Tharus. See Sir James Ware's Antiquitates Hibernie, pag. 38.

Tannare, To Dress or Tan Leather. Prior de Tyneworth habet communabos suos Mercatores coriorum recentium per patriam, qui cum ea comparaverint; apud Præsum tannare faciunt & inde naves vel batella apud Sheles onerant. Placito Parliam. 18 Edw. 1.

Tapanarius, A Seller of Tapestry, an Upholster. — De quolibet tapanario per totum tempus ferie (scil. Winton) unum denarium. Pat. 2 Edw. 4. P. 6. M. 6.

Target, A Shield; from the Latin Tergus, because it was formerly made of Leather wrought out of the Back of an Ox.

Targia (Tarida) Was a Ship of Burthen, since called a Tartan, Knighton, Anno 1385. calls it Taretta, viz. Cepit duas Taretas bene onustas. Wallingham, Anno 1386. calls it Tarrita. viz. Cepit sex Tarritas refertas multis bonis.

Tarida. See Targia.

Tartaron, (Anno 4 Hen. 8. cap. 6.) A Kind of fine Cloth or Silk.

Taspha. See Thaschia.

Tappa. See Bosium.

Tare and Tre, The first is the Weight of Box, Straw, Cloths, &c. wherein Goods are packed. The other is a Consideration allowed in the Weight for Walle, in emptying and re-felling the Goods. See the Book of Rates.

Tassale for Cassula.

Tassum, and Tassa, A Mow or Heap, from the French Tasser, to pile up. Commisso facta fuit Roberto Hadham ad vendend. blada & alia bona diversarum Abbatiarum alienigenarum, qui venit & cognovit, quod vendidit blada Prioris de Tikeford in garbis in duobus tassils existens. pro 10 li. &c. Hill. 25 E. 3. Coram Rege, Rot. 13. Hence Tassare, to mow or heap up; and ad tassum furcare, to pitch to the Mow.

Tath, In Norfolk and Suffolk, the Lord of each Manor had the Privilege of having their Tenants Flocks of Sheep brought at Night upon their own Demesne Ground, there to be folded for the Benefit of their Dung, which Liberty of so improving of their Land is called Tath. Vide Spelman Ienia.

Tau Signifies a Cross: Tradendo dicto Comiti Thau eloreum. So Mr. Selden, in his Notes upon Eadmerus, pag. 159. Ego Eadgisa prædicti Regis Iuxta hoc opus egregium Cruci's Taumate consilidavi. See Mon. 3 Tom. pag. 121.

Tauri liberi Libertas: In some ancient Charters Taurus liber signifies a Common Bull, so called, because he is common to all the Tenants within such a Manor or Liberty, viz. Cum libertate fallie, liberi Tauri & liberi Ari, &c.

Taurus Signifies a Husband. In Leg. H. 1. cap. 77. Videtur autem matris est (for esse) cuiuscunque Taurus alluserit.

Tax (Taxa, from the Gr. τάξις Quod non solum ordinem, sed & modum ratione temperatum significat, atque ob id etiam taxationem & tributum unde τάξις dicuntur, qui tributum imponunt). It was such a Tribute as being certainly rated upon every Town, was wont to be yearly paid, but now not without Consent in Parliament, as Subsidies etc. It differs from a Subsidy in this, that is always certain, as it is set down in the Exchequer Book, and levied in general of every Town, and not particularly of every Man. It is also called a Fifteenth, Anno 14 E. 3. stat. 1. cap. 20. and 9 H. 4. cap. 7. It seems that in ancient Time, this Tax was imposed by the King at his Pleasure, but Edward the First, bound himself and his Successors, from that Time forward, not to levy it but by Consent of the Realm. Anno 25 Edw. 1. cap. 5. See Gild, Subsidy, Fifteenth, and Witerden, and also Camb. Brit. pag. 304.

Taxatio Bladozum, An Imposition laid upon Corn.

Taxam Operarius, A Tasker, Triturator ad taxam, a Thresher in the Barn, who works by the Great, or by the Measure, not by the Day.

roſum, ſed ad aſſinectum omnium infernorum, &c.

Templers, or Knights of the Temple, (Tem- plarii) Was a religious Order of Knighthood, inſtituted about the Year 1119. and ſo called, becauſe they dwelt in Part of the Buildings belonging to the Temple at Jeruſalem, and not far from the Sepulchre of our Lord: They entertained Chriſtian Strangers and Pilgrims charitably, and in their Armor led them through the Holy Land, to view the ſacred Monuments of Chriſtianity, without Fear of Infidels; for at firſt their Pro-feſſion was to defend Travellers from Highway-men and Robbers. This Order continuing and increaſing for near Two Hundred Years, was far ſpread in Chriſtendom, and particularly here in England. But at length ſome of them at Jeruſa- lem, falling away (as ſome Authors report) to the Saraceni, from Chriſtianity, or rather becauſe they grew too potent and rich, the whole Order was ſuppreſſed by Clemens Quintus, Anno 1307.

 by the Council of Vienna 1312. and their Sub-ſtance given partly to the Knights of St. John of Jeruſalem, and partly to other Religious.

Caffan. de gloria mundi, par. 9. Conſid. 5. And ſee Anno 1 Edw. 1. cap. 24. Theſe flouriſhed here in England from Henry the Second's Days, till they were ſuppreſſed. They had in every Nation a particular Governor, whom Bracton, lib. 1.
cap. 10. calls Magiſtrum Militie Templi. The Maſter of the Temple here was ſummoned to Parliament, 49 Hen. 3. m. 11. in Schedula. And the chief Miniſter of the Temple Church in London, is ſtill called Maſter of the Temple. Of theſe Knights read Mr. Dugdale's Antiquities of Warwickſhire, fol.
706. In antient Records, they were alſo called

Fratres Militie Templi Solomonis. Mon. Angl. 2
par. fol. 554. b. About Nine Years after their Inſtitution, they were ordered by a Council held at Triers, to wear a white Garment, and afterwards in the Pontificate of Pope Eugenius, they wore a Red Croſs on their Garments.

The Temples which we now call the Inns of Court, was the Place where they dwelt, and in the Middle Temple the King's Treafure was kept.

Temporalities of Biſhops, Temporalia Episcoporum, Be ſuch Revenues, Lands, and Tenements, and Lay-ſees, as have been laid to Biſhops Sees, by Kings and other great Perſonages of this Land, from Time to Time, as they are Barons, and Lords of the Parliament. See Spiritualities of Biſhops. From the 31 E. 1. to the Time of the Reformation, a Cuſtom did obtain, that when Bi-ſhops received from the King their Temporalities, they did by a ſolemn Form in Writing renounce all Right to the ſaid Temporalities by Virtue of any Papal Provision, and acknowledged the Receipt of them only owing to the King's Bounty.

This Practice began on the Occaſion of a Bull of Pope Gregory 8. which conferred the See of Worceſter upon William de Gainsborough, and committed to him Administrationem Spiritualium &
Temporalium Episcopatus prædicti. Which Clause the King obliged him to renounce, and ordered a like Renunciation to be always obſerved.

Temptatio, Reſtius tentatio, Aſſay or Trial,
n. 51.

Tempus Peſſonis vel Peſſonæ, Maſt-time, — Volo etiam quod omnes Burgenſes mei, qui porcos
habuerint tempore Peſſonis in — &c. Charta
Hamonis de Maſſy, ſine dat. See Peſſona, which I take to be from Michaelmas to St. Martin's Day, Novemb. 11. After it was called Retropanna- gium.

Tempus pinguedinis & firmationis. Et sciendum quod tempus pinguedinis his computatur inter festum beati Petri ad Vincula & Exaltationem Sanctæ Crucis, & tempus firmationis inter festum sancti Martini & Purificationem Beate Mariæ. The first is the Season of the Buck, the latter of the Doe. See Firmisfona.

Terna Was that which we now call a Coif: It is mentioned in a Council held at Lambeth, Anno 1281. cap. 22. Et cum corona sit Character Christianæ militiæ, & revelati cordis ac patuli radii calestibus insigne, ipsi ut veraciter ostendant se hujus Characteris titulum erubescere, terna coronas abscondunt quasi calestes radices repellentes, &c.

TENANCIES (Anno 23 Eliz. cap. 4.) Are Houses for Habitation, Tenements or Places to live in, held of another.

Edwardus illustris Regis Angliæ primogenitus omnibus, &c. Salutem & amorem. Sciatis quod dedimus & assignavimus in Tenenciam dilecto & fideli nostro Thoni Pauntun omnes terras cum suis juribus & pertin. que fuerunt Hugonis Bedelli inimici nostri in Villa de Ashele. Tenendas ad nostre beneplacitum voluntatis, nisi aliquis qui nobiscum personaliter interfuit in conspectu apud Evesham, quarto die Augusti, manus prius posuerit ad easdem. Et ideo vobis mandamus, &c. Dat. Cestrie 14 Augusti, Anno Regni Domini Regis Patris nostri 49.

Tenandrius, The same with Tenens. Statut. Roberti Regis Scotiæ, cap. 4. par. 3. Statutum est & ordinatum quod licet in posterum Dominus Rex de dicto Comitatu aut Dominio cum Tenandriis & liberis tenentibus per chartam suam infeodaverit aliquem, &c.

Tend Seems to signify as much as to offer, shew forth or endeavour; as to tend the Estate of the Party of the Demandant. Old Nat. Brev. fol. 123. To tend an Averment. Britton, cap. 76. To tend to Traverse. Staundf. Prærog. fol. 16.

Tender May seem to come from the French Tendre, i. tener, delicatus, and used adjectively, signifies the same with us in English: But in a legal Sense it denotes as much as carefully to offer, or circumspectly to endeavour the Performance of any Thing belonging to us. As to tender Rent is to offer it at the Time and Place where and when it ought to be paid. To tender his Law of Summons. Kitchin, fol. 197. Is to offer himself ready to make his Law, whereby to prove that he was not summoned. See Law. See Make.

Tending Penny. See Tithing Penny.

Tenement, Tenementum, Signifies most properly a House or Home-stall; but more largely either for a House or Land that a Man holdeth of another, and joined with the Adjective Frank, it contains Lands, Houses, and Offices, wherein we have Estate for Term of Life or in Fee: And in this Sense, Kitchin, fol. 41. makes Frank-tenement and base Estate opposite to each other. In the same Sort Britton uses it, cap. 27. as also Bracton doth the Latin liberum tenementum, lib. 1. cap. 5 & 6.

Tenementarius (or Terra exterior) Is Land which was possessed by the Tenant, and distinguished by that Name from the Demesne Land of the Lord which was Inland, or Terra interior. See Inland.

Tenementary Land, The Saxon Thanes who possessed Bockland, or hereditary free Estates, divided them into Two Sorts, Inland and Outland. The Inland was the Demains which the Lord kept in his own Hands. The Outland was granted out to Tenants under arbitrary Rents and Services, and therefore called Tenementary Land, the Tenants Land, or the Tenancy. See Spelman of Feuds, cap. 6, 7.

Tenementis Legatis Is a Writ that lies to London, or any other Corporation, (where the Custom is, that Men may demise Tenements as well as Goods and Chattels by their last Will,) for the Hearing any Controversy touching the same, and for rectifying the Wrong. Reg. Orig. fol. 244.

Tenant or Tenant. Tenens, From the Latin Tenere, to hold, signifies one that holds or possesses Lands or Tenements by any Kind of Right, either in Fee, for Life, Years, or at Will. The Word in Law is used with divers Additions, as Tenant in Dower, which is she that possesses Land by Virtue of her Dower. Kitchin, fol. 160. Tenant per Statute-Merchant, that holds Land by Virtue of a Statute forfeited to him. Ibid. fol. 172. Tenant in Frank-Marriage. Ibid. fol. 158. He that holds Lands or Tenements by Virtue of a Gift thereof made to him upon Marriage between him and his Wife. Tenant by the Curtesy, Id. f. 195. That holds for his Life, by Reason of a Child begotten by him of his Wife, being an Inheritor, and born alive. Tenant by Elegit, that holds by Virtue of the Writ called an Elegit. Tenant in Mortgage, that holds by Means of a Mortgage. Tenant by the Verge in ancient Demesne (Id. fol. 81.) is he that is admitted by the Rod in the Court of ancient Demesne. Tenant by Copy of Court-Roll is one admitted Tenant of any Lands, &c. within a Manor, which Time out of Mind have been demisable, according to the Custom of the Manor. West. Symbol. part 1. lib. 2. sect. 646. Tenant by Charter is he that holdeth by Feoffment in Writing, or other Deed. Kitchin, fol. 57. There was also Tenant by Knights-Service, Tenant in Burgage, Tenant in Socage, Tenant in Frank-fee, Tenant in Villenage. So is there Tenant in Fee-simple. *Kitchin, fol. 150. Tenant in Fee tail. Id. fol. 153. Tenant at the Will of the Lord, according to the Custom of the Manor, Id. fol. 132, & 165. Tenant at Will by the Common Law, Ibid. Tenant upon Sufferance, Ibid. Tenant of Estate of Inheritance. Staundf. Prærog. fol. 6. Tenant in Chief, that holdeth of the King in Right of his Crown. F. N. B. fol. 5. Tenant of the King is he that holds of the Person of the King, Ibid. or as some Honour. Ibid. Very Tenant, that holds immediately of his Lord. Kitchin, fol. 99. For if there be Lord, Mesne and Tenant, the Tenant is very Tenant of the Mesne, but not to the Lord above: Tenant Peravail. See Peravail. Pl. Cor. 197. and F. N. B. fol. 136. See Dyer's Com. fol. 25. num. 156. So there are also Joint-tenants, that have equal Right in Lands and Tenements by Virtue of one Title. Lit. lib. 3. cap. 3. Tenants in Common, that have equal Right, but hold by divers Titles, Ibid. cap. 4. Particular Tenant. Staundf. Prærog. fol. 13. that holds only for his Term. See Coke in Sir Will. Pelham's Case, lib. 1. fol. 15. called Term for Life or Years. See Plowd. Cothbirt's Case, fol. 23. Sole Tenant. Kitchin, fol. 134. He that hath no other joined with him. Several Tenant is opposite to*

to Joint-tenant, or Tenants in Common. Tenant at Praeceptum is he against whom the Writ Praeceptum is to be brought. Co. Rep. lib. 3. Cafe of Fines, fol. 88. Tenant in Demesne, 13 E. 1. cap. 9. 32 H. 8. cap. 37. is he that holdeth the Demesne of a Manor for a Rent without Service. Tenant on Service, 20 Edw. 1. stat. 1. is he that holdeth by Service. Vide Britton, cap. 79. in principio & cap. 96. Car fealty, &c. Tenant by Execution, 32 H. 8. cap. 5. that holds Land by Virtue of an Execution upon any Statute, Recognisance, &c. with divers others.

Tenentibus in Massa non onerandis, &c. Is a Writ that lies for him to whom a Disfeisor hath alienated the Land, whereof he disfeised another; that he be not molested for the Damages awarded, if the Disfeisor have wherewith to satisfy them himself. Reg. of Writs, fol. 214. b.

Tenetura For Tenura, sometimes it is taken for Tenementum.

Tenibred, A Saxon Word signifying Decanus, Caput vel Princeps decuria. Leg. Edw. Conf. cap. 29. Statuerunt fusciparios super quosq; decem friborgos, quos Decanos possumus appellare, Anglice vero Tienheofod diu sunt. See Frank-pledge.

Tennis, Tennis-Play. Rex Henricus 5. villam de Harefete terra mariq; obsidione circumdans inmensis petrarum molibus ultra muros per Machinas bellicas introgressus, quass ludendo cum Francigenis, ut vulgo dicitur ad Tennis, ipsis acriter impugnabat. Hist. Croylad Contin. p. 500.

Tenmantale (Sax. Tienmantale, i. e. decemviro- rum numerus) Decuria, Tithinga. LL. Edw. Conf. cap. 20. Et sint quieti de Geldis, & Dane- geldis, & Themanatal, & Concelationibus, & Scot- tis, &c. Chart. 29 Ed. 1. p. 25. Abbat. de Thorn- ton. Also an ancient Tax so called. See Tenmen- tale, and Friburg.

The proper Signification of the Word is, viz. The Number of Ten Men, which Number, in the Time of the English Saxons, was called a Decennary, and Ten Decennaries made that which we call an Hundred: The Ten Men were bound for each other to preserve the publick Peace, and if either of them was guilty of a Breach of the Peace, the other Nine were to make Satisfaction or to bring the Criminal to Justice. See Friburg.

It signifies also a Duty or Tribute payable to the King. Hoveden mentions it in this Sense, pag. 737. viz. Rex constituit sibi dari de unaquaque carucata terre totius Anglie 2 solidos, quod ab antiquo vocatur Tenmantale, probably became every Man of the Decennary was bound to see it paid.

Tenore inditamenti mittendo Is a Writ where- by the Record of an Indictment, and the Process thereupon is called out of another Court into the Chancery. Reg. of Writs, fol. 69. a.

The Tenor of these presents, Tenore presentium, Is the Matter contained therein, or rather the true Intent and Meaning thereof, as to do such a Thing according to the Tenor of a Writing, is to do the same according to the true Intent and Meaning thereof.

Tenace, To teen, to fence or hedge in. Licet Abbati & Conventui de Rading in-ludere, fossa- re, & tensare praedictum pratum quibuscumq; modis melius viderint. Cartular. Radings, MS. f. 102. Terra tensabilis, i. e. Land fenced about. It is mentioned in the Monastic. 2 Tom. pag. 612. viz. Claudemus 40 Aras terre ad excolendum vel ad tensandum ad libitum nostrum, i. e. let us enclose 40 Acres, either to plough, or to keep it in- closed or fenced. So in the Book of the Priory of Dunstable, Est pratum illud tensabile per totum annum.

Tentates panis, The Essay of Bread.

Tenths, Decima, Are that yearly Portion or Tribute which all Ecclesiastical Livings pay to the King; for though the Bishop of Rome does originally pretend Right to this Revenue, by the Example of the High Priest among the Jews, who had Tenths from the Levites, Numb. cap. 8. Hierom. in Ezech. Yet we read in our Chronicles, That these were often granted to the King by the Pope upon divers Occasions. Sometimes for one Year, sometimes for more, till by the Sta- tute 26 H. 8. cap. 3. they were annexed perpetu- ally to the Crown. See Dismes. It signifies a Tax also levied of the Temporality. 4 Inst. fol. 34. First Fruits and Tenths were first on Occasion given, and gradually by Custom claimed, as an Acknowledgement to the Sec of Rome. The Tenths of all Ecclesiastical Benefices in England were first allowed by Pope Innocent IV. to King Hen. 3. Anno 1253. for Three Years; which occasioned the Norwich Taxation, Anno 1254. This proved a great Oppression to the Clergy, and was soon made more grievous. For when the Pope had again granted the Tenths to the King for Three Years; for a Compensation of what they fell short of the expected Value, the King in the 53d Year of his Reign, Anno 1269. made the Clergy pay within those Three the Tenths of Four Years. And again, Anno 1288. 16 Ed. 1. when Pope Nicholas IV. granted this Favour to the Crown for Six Years, towards an Expedition to the Holy Land; that they might be then collected to the full Value, a new Taxation by the King's Pre- cept was begun Anno 1288. and finished Anno 1291. 20 Ed. 1. by the Bishops of Lincoln and Winchester. For a particular Account whereof, see Mr. Kennet's Paroch. Antiq. p. 315.

Tentoz, A Stretch, Tryer or Prover, which Dyers and Clothiers use. Anno 1 R. 3. cap. 8. but prohibited by 39 Eliz. cap. 20.

Tenure, Tenura, And is properly derived from the Latin tenere, to hold, and accordingly in the Grand Customary of Normandy, cap. 28. it is thus defined: Tenure is the Manner whereby Tenements are holden of their Lord. What may make a Tenure, and what not, see Perkins, cap. 10. Res- servations 70. And in that Chapter you shall find the most of those Tenures recited that be now usually in England. See Comp. Fur. fol. 200. New Book of Entries, verb. Tenure. Mr. Eabian Phillips's Book entituled, Tenenda non Tollenda, and the Stat. 12 Car. 2. cap. 24. The Family of Barnhams hold the Manor of Nether-Bilington in the County of Kent, by this Tenure, to carry the last Dish of the Second Course to the King's Table at his Coronation, and presenting him with Three Maple Cups, which was performed at the Corona- tion of King Charles the Second. See Capite. In Scotland there be Four Manner of Tenures, the First is pura Eleemosyna, proper to spiritual Men, paying nothing for it but devota Animarum suffragia. The Second they call Few or Few-ferme, which holds of the King, Church, Barons, or others, paying a certain Duty called Feuda firma. The Third is a Hold in Blench, as they term it, by Payment of a Penny, a Rose, or such like Thing, if demanded in the Name of Blench, id est, nonik- ne alba firme. The Fourth is by Service of Ward and and Relief, where the Heir being Minor, is in the Custody of his Lord, &c. Skene de verb. signif. verb. Haubert.

Term, Terminus, Commonly signifies the Bounds and Limitation of Time, as a Lease for Term of Life or Years. Bracton, lib. 2. cap. 6. num. 4. But more noverly it is used for that Time wherein the Tribunals, or Places for Judgment, are open to all that think fit to complain of Wrong, or seek their own by due Courie of Law or Action; the rest of the Year is called Vacation. Of these Terms there be Four in every Year, during which Time Matters of Justice are dispatched. One is called Hillary-Term, Terminus Sancti Hillarii, which begins the 23d of January, or if that be Sunday, then the next Day after, and endeth the 15th of February following. The Second is Terminus Pasche, Easter-Term, which begins the Wednesday Fortnight after Easter-day, and ends the Monday next after Ascension-day. The Third is Terminus Trinitatis, Trinity-Term, beginning the Friday next after Trinity-Sunday, and ending the Wednesday Fortnight after. The Fourth is Michaelmas-Term, Terminus Sancti Michaelis, which anciently began the 9th of October; but by the Statute made 17 Car. 1. cap. 6. reduced to the 23d of October, unless it be Sunday, and then to the Day after, and ends the 28th of November following. Termini apud nos dicuntur certæ anni portiones agendis litibus designatæ. See Spelman, De origine & ratione terminorum frensum.

Termini censuales, Rent Terms or Times, the Four quarterly Feasts upon which Rent was usually paid, — *Ego Johannes filius Magistri Ade de Lincoln de Sancto Edmundo — concessi Johanni Abbati de S. Terra affirmata, Land let to Farm.

Terra culta, Land that is tilled, or manured; and terra inculta, the contrary, where there is Mention of Terra culta, and Terra inculta. See Wacnoth. Mon. Angl. 1 par. f. 500. b.

Terra debilis, Weak or barren Land. Item est ibidem una carucata terræ debilis. Inq. 22 R. 2.

Terra dominica vel indominicata, Prediorum pars est, quæ ipsi domini reservata, non coloniis nec emphiteuticariis conceditur. The domain Land of a Manor.

Terra excultabilis — Totam illam terram excultabilem, quam habuit apud Norwicum in Campis. Mon. Angl. 1 par. fol. 426. b. Land that may be tilled or ploughed.

Terra extendenda Is a Writ directed to the Escheator, &c. willing him to enquire and find out the true yearly Value of any Land, &c. by the Oath of Twelve Men, and to certify the Extent into the Chancery, &c. Reg. of Writs, fol. 293. b.

Terra frusca, — Continens xl acras terræ fruscæ, pasturæ, &c. Mon. Angl. 2 par. fol. 327. b. Fresh-land, or such as hath not been lately ploughed. This is elsewhere written Terra Frisca.

Terra Gilifozata, Land held by the Tenure of paying a Gilliflower. MS.

Terra hydata was Land subject to the Payment of Hydage, and the contrary was terra non hydata. Selden.

Terra lucrabilis. — Tam in Mora, quam in terra lucrabili & Marais, cum omnibus piscariis suis. Mon. Angl. 1 par. fol. 406. a. Land that may be gained from the Sea, or inclosed out of a Waste, to a particular Use.

Terra normannorum. In the Beginning of H. 3. such Land in England as had been lately held by some Noble, Norman, who by adhering to the French King, or Dauphin, had forfeited his Estate in this Kingdom, which by this Means became an Escheat to the Crown, was called Terra Normannorum, and restored, or otherwise dispos'd at the King's Pleasure. — An. H. 8. 3. Rex Ricom. Oxon. Salutem. Scias quod commissimus Thoma Basset manerium de Kirtlington quæ est Terra Normannorum — Paroch. Antiquit. pag. 197.

Terra nobis, Sape legitur in Cartis feodalibus & in censuibus schedulis, vel pro terra noviter concessa, vel noviter assarta. Prior Lew. pag. 1. Reddat pro nova terra, 2 fol. Spelm.

Terra putrata. See Putura.

Terra sabulosa, Gravelly or sandy Ground: Et prædictæ 24 acra terræ valent per annum 13 fol. & 4. denar & non plus, quia est terra sabulosa. Inq. 10 E. 3. n. 3. Norf. in Turv. Lond.

Terra siccata Is used in old Charters for Land sown with Corn.

Terra Wainabilis — Sciant — quod ego Alicia Malet dedi — centum acras terræ Wainabilis, &c. Penes Eliam Ashmole Arm. Tillable Land.

Terra Wareata, Fallow Land. See Wareatum.

Terræ boscalæ, Woody Lands. Inq. 2 par. 8 Car. 1. numb. 71.

Terræ tertiorum May be Englished Thirdling-Lands: Some Tenants de terris tertiorum belonging to the Commandry of Dynmore in Com. Heref. were bound to pay a Third Part of their Goods to their Lord at their Decease. Antiq. Rentale de Dynmore.

Terræ testamentalæ, Lands that were held free from feudal Services, in Allodio, in Socage, descendible to all the Sons, and therefore called Gavelkind, were devisable by Will, and thereupon called Terræ testamentales, as the Thane who possessed them was said to be testamento dignus. Vid. Sir Henry Spelman of Feuds, cap. 5.

Terrage, Terragium. Edward the Third granted to John de Gaunt, and Blanch his Wife for their Lives, Quod sint quieti de Theolonio, Passagio, Socagio, Lastagio, Tallagio, Caruagio, Priscagio, Pickagio &c.

Terregio, which seems to be an Exemption, a Precariis, viz. Boons of Ploughing, Reaping, &c. and perhaps from all Land-Taxes, or from Money paid for digging and breaking the Earth in Fairs and Markets.

Terrar, Terrarium vel catalogus terrarum, Is a Book or Roll wherein the several Lands either of a single Person, or of a Town, are described, containing the Quantity of Acres, Boundaries, Tenants Names, and such like. 18 Eliz. cap. 17. Terrarius, A Land-holder, or one who possesses many Farms. Anno Regis W. 20. Rex tenuit Curiam suam apud Wintoniam ibique venerunt contra eum omnes Barones sui, & omnes Terrarii hujus Regni, qui aliquis pretii erant, cuiusunque feodi fuissent, & omnes homines Regis effecti sunt. Anno 1084. Rex Willielmus accepit dominium omnium terrariorum Anglie cuiusunque feodi essent, iuramentum fidelitatis recipere non distulit. Annal. Waverlens.

Terrarius (ærobalis, An Officer in religious Houses, whose Duty perhaps was to keep a Terrier of all their Estates, or to have their Lands exactly surveyed and registered. — Johannes de Nevil ad excitationem Richardi de Byrtley Terrarii, & Johannis de Cornval Feretarii fecit circa Festum Nativitatis S. Johannis Baptiste novum opus in Ecclesia Dunelmensi, anno 1372. Hist. Dunelm. apud Wharton Angl. Sacr. P. 1. p. 769. Mr. Davies in his Rites and Monuments of Durham, calls him the Terrier, and implies, That one Part of his Office was to entertain the better Sort of Guests: Possibly the Convent Tenants, when they came to pay their Rent, &c.

Terris, bonis & catallis rehabendis post purgationem Is a Writ that lies for a Clerk, to recover his Lands, Goods, or Chattels, formerly seised, after he hath cleared himself of that Felony, upon Suspicion whereof he was formerly convicted, and delivered to his Ordinary to be purged. Reg. Orig. fol. 68.

Terris liberandis Is a Writ that lies for a Man convicted by Attaint, to bring the Record and Process before the King, and to take a Fine for his Imprisonment, to deliver him his Lands and Tenements again, and to release him of the Strip and Wast. Reg. Orig. f. 232. It is also a Writ for the Delivery of Lands to the Heir after Homage and Relief performed. Ibid. f. 293. Or upon Security taken that he shall perform them. Ibid. fol. 313.

Terrenant, Terra tenens, Is he who has the actual Possession of the Land, which we otherwise call the Occupation. 39 Eliz. 7. For Example, a Lord of a Manor hath a Freeholder, who letteth out his Freehold to another to be occupied; this Occupier (having the actual Possession) is called the Terre-tenant. West Symbol, part 2 Tit. Fines, sect. 137. Crompt. Fur. fol. 194. Britton, cap. 29. Perkin's Feoffments, 231.

Tesso, Lat. Taxus, Tassus. Ital. Tasso. German. Taisson, Tesson, a Grey, Brock, or Badger. — Et omnia placita de leporibus, reebibus, byenestis, ressonibus, vulpibus, &c. Blount of Tenures, pag. 19.

Testa de Nevil, An ancient and authentick Record in the Custody of the King's Remembrancer in the Exchequer, said to be compiled by Jollan de Nevil a Justice Itinerant in the 18. and 24. of H. 3. containing an Account of all Lands held in grand or petty Serjeanty, with Fees and Escheats to the King, &c. especially within the County of Hereford. — See Mr. Nicholson's Engl. Library, P. 3. p. 103.

Testament, Testamentum, Is thus defined by Plowden, Testamentum est testatio mentis, A Testament is a Witness of the Mind: But Aulus Gellius, lib. 6. cap. 12. denies it to be a Compound Word, and saith, It is Verbum simplex, as Calceamentum, Paludamentum, &c. And therefore it may be thus better defined, Testamentum est ultima voluntatis iusta sententia. eo quod quis post mortem suam fieri vult, &c. Of Testaments there are two Sorts, viz. a Testament in Writing, and a Testament in Words, which is called a Nuncupative Testament, which is, when a Man being sick, and for fear lest Death, want of Memory, or Speech, should come so suddenly upon him, that he should be prevented if he stay'd the Writing of his Testament, desires his Neighbours and Friends to bear Witness of his last Will, and then declares the same before them by Words, which after his Decease is proved by Witnesses, and put in Writing by the Ordinary, and then stands in as good Force as if it had at the first, in the Life of the Testator, been put in Writing, except only for Lands, which are devisable but by a Testament put in Writing in the Life of the Testator. See Co. on Lit. lib. 2. cap. 10. sect. 167. Plowd. fol. 541. Paramore and Furdley's Case. Co. 6. R. p. Marquess of Winchester's Case. Testament was anciently used (according to Spelman) pro Scripto, Charta vel Instrumento, quo prediorum verumque aliarum transactiones perficiuntur, sic dictum quod de ea re vel testimonium ferret vel testium nomina contineret — Si quis contra hoc mea auctoritatis testamentum alii quod machinari impedimentum presumpsit. Charta Croylandæ ab Æthelbaldo Rege. Anno Domini 716.

Testator, Lat. He that makes a Testament. See Swinburne of Wills and Testaments. See Wills. And especially see a Dissertation of the Probate of Wills or Testaments by the Learned Sir Henry Spelman among his late Remains, p. 127.

Testament Is a Writ in personal Actions, as if the Defendant cannot be arrested upon a Capias in the County where the Action is laid, but is returned Non est inventus by the Sheriff; this Writ shall be sent out into any other County, where such Person is thought to have wherewith to satisfy: And this is termed a Testament, because the Sheriff hath formerly testified, that the Defendant was not to be found in his Bailiwick. See Kitchen's Return of Writs, f. 287.

Tette Is a Word commonly used in the last Part of every Writ, wherein the Date is contained, which begins with these Words, Tette meips, &c. if it be an Original Writ; or if Judicial,

Teste Roberto Raymond milite, or Roberto Eyre milite, according to the Court whence it issues. Yet we read in Glanville, lib. 1. ca. 6. & 13, and lib. 2. cap. 4. the last Clause of an Original Writ to be Teste Radulpho de Glanvilla apud Clarendon, &c. and divers Times in the Register of Writs, Teste Custode Anglie, as namely in the Title Prohibition, fol. 42. and Consultation, fol. 54.

Testimonial, 39 El. 17. Is a Certificate under the Hand of a Justice of Peace, testifying the Place and Time when and where a Soldier or Mariner landed, and the Place of his Dwelling and Birth, unto which he is to pass, or such like. 3 Inst. fol. 85.

Tetton, 2 & 3 E. 6. cap. 17. A Sort of Money, which, among the French, did bear the Value of 18 Denar. But in Henry the Eighth's Time being made of Brads, lightly gilt with Silver, it was reduced to 12 d. and in the Beginning of Edward the Sixth to 9 d. and afterwards to 6 d. For the Fabrication and Value of Testoons, vid. Lovander's Essay upon Coins, p. 22.

Textus Is mentioned in several Authors, to signify the New Testament. It was written in golden Letters, and carefully preserved in the Churches.

Textus magni Altaris, — Die 28 Mart. Anno 11 Ed. 2. coram Judicibus apud S. Edmundum sedentibus Frater W. de Stowe Saxifra protulit textum magni Altaris vocatum le Domesday, in quo continebatur quod anno 24. Regis Patris Regis nunc, &c. Ex Cartular. S. Edmundi, MS. f. 174.

Textus Rossensis, An ancient Manuscript containing many of the Saxon Laws, and the Rights, Customs, Tenures, &c. of the Church of Rochester, drawn up by Eynulf Bishop of that See from 1114 to 1124.

Thaccare, Among the customary Duties done by the inferior Tenants of the Manor of Chebenhale, belonging to the Abbey and Conv. of St. Edmund in Suffolk — Cum cibo Domini ferculabit propter prandium uno die & thaccabit porcos, licet nullo porcos in bosca habeat, sic autem thaccabit Aule quolibet quintum porcum, & si non habeat quique porcos dabit ad pretium de porcis quintam partem — Cartular. S. Edmundi, MS. f. 401. See Tack.

Thacktile, 17 E. 4. 4. Otherwise called Plain-tiles which are laid on the Side of a House.

Thanage of the King. Thanagium Regis, Signified, a certain Part of the King's Land or Property, whereof the Ruler or Governor was called Thane. Domania Regis & Thanagia idem significant, says Skene. Ivo de Tailbois tenet in Capite de Domino Rege Baroniam de Hephall, cum uxore sua, quæ fuit filia Wil. de Prardolfe, quam habuit ex dono Domini Regis. Et omnes Antecessores sui tenuerunt eam Baroniam in Thanagio, & reddidit Domino Regi inde per annum, 50 s. Dominus vero Rex primus, viz. Will. Conq. requirit illud Thanagium temp. Will. Bardolfe ad feudum unius militis. Ex libro feud. Mil. penes Remem. Regis in Scac.

Thane: From the Sax Thenian, ministrare: Thanes were those who attended the English Saxon Kings in their Courts, and who held their Lands immediately of those Kings, and therefore in Domesday, they were promiscuously called Thaini & Servientes Regis, though not long after the Conquest the Word was disused, and instead thereof, those Men were called Barones Regis, who as to their Dignity, were inferior to Earls, and took Place next after Bishops, Abbots, Barons and Knights.

There were also Thaini minores, and those were likewise called Barons: They were Lords of Manors, and had a particular Jurisdiction within their Limits, and over their own Tenants in their Courts, which to this Day are called Courts-Baron: But the Word signifies sometimes a Nobleman, sometimes a Freeman, sometime a Magistrate but more properly an Officer or Minister of the King. Edward King grete mine Biscoops, and mine Eorles, and all mine Thegnes on than Shiven, wber mine Prefes in Paulus Minister habband land. Charta. Ed. Conf. Pat. 18 H. 6. m. 9. per Inseff. Lamb. in his Exposition of Saxon Words, verb. Thanus. And Skene de verb. signif. saith, That it is a Name of Dignity, equal with the Son of an Earl. This Appellation was in Use among us after the Norman Conquest, as appears by Domesday, and by a certain Writ of William the First: Willielmus Rex salutet Hermannum Episcopum, & Stevinum, & Britwi, & omnes thanos meos in Dorsetrensi pago amabiliter, MS. de Abbotsbury. Camden says, They were enabled only by the Office which they administered. Thainus Regis is taken for a Baron. 1 Inst. fol. 5. 1. And in Domesday Tenens, qui est Caput manerii. See Mills, de Nobilitate, fol. 132. The Saxon Thane was so called from Thenian, Service; and in Latin Minister a Ministrando. So that a Thane at first (in like manner as an Earl) was not properly a Title of Dignity, but of Service. But according to the Degrees of Service, some of greater Estimation, some of less: So those that served the King in Places of Eminency, either in Court or Commonwealth, were called Thani Majores and Thani Regis. Those that served under them as they did under the King, were called Thani minores, or the lesser Thanes. Vid. Spelman of Feuds, cap. 7.

Thane's Lands, Such Lands as were granted by Charters of the Saxon Kings to their Thanes with all Immunities, except the Threefold Necessity of Expedition, Repair of Castles, and mending of Bridges.

Thascia Was a certain Sum of tributary Money, imposed by the Romans on the Britons and their Lands, and paid every Year; which Payment continued under the several Reigns of the Saxon, Danish and Norman Kings; for the Word is mentioned in the Laws of H. 1. c. 78. Dedit nam medietatem de terra culta & inculta Deo & S. Maria cum Thascia & decimo, &c.

Thassare, Tassare, To lay up Hay or Corn into a Tass, Tols, Stack, Rick, or Mow. Lat. Tassa, Tassus, Tassius. Sax. Tas. — Homines de Hedington qui caretas non habuerint, venient cum fureis suis ad distum sœnum levandum & thassandum — Qui caretas non habuerint adjuvabunt ad thassandum bladum — Pro victualibus emptis pro factoribus tassiorum Prioris 12. — Paroch. Antiqu. pag. 550.

Thervo-onis, Sax. thuse, thesan, a young Plant or Set, a Standard, and sometimes any Branch or Bough, or Arm of a Tree. — Venerunt omnes predicti homines in eundem mariscum, & prostraverunt & extirpaverunt centum & 33. thecvoones, & alios asportaverunt sine licentia ipsius Abbatis & contra pacem Domini Regis. Chartular. Abbat. Glaston. MS. fol. 44. b.

Theft, Furtum, Is an unlawful felonious taking away of another Man's moveable and personal Goods against the Owner's Will, with an Intent to steal them; and this is divided into Theft simply so called, and Petit Theft, whereof the one is of Goods above the Value of Twelve-Pence, and is Felony: The other under that Value and is no Felony, but called Petit Larceny. See Larceny and Felony. Theft from the Person, or in the Presence of the Owner, is properly called Robbery. West Symbol. Part 2. Tit. Inditements, sect. 58, 59, 60.

Theftbote May be derived from the Saxon Theof, i. furtum, a Bote, i. compensatio, and signifies properly the receiving of Goods from a Thief, to favour and maintain him, Est quant homo prist Chastell de Larcens de lay favouer & mainteyner & nemy autrement, 42. Ass. pag. 2. And the Punishment thereof is Ransom and Imprisonment, and not Loss of Life and Member. Staufd. Pl. Cor. lib. 1. cap. 43. and the Mirror of Justices, lib. cap. Des Perches criminals al suit le Roy. Antiquite dicebatur pretium quo furti reus se eximeret a dispendio vite; hodie vero de iis dicitur qui furtiva bona a latrone susceperint, sceleris sui fovendi gratia, quo sensu Bote pro preda, ut alias solet, intelligendum est. In privilegiorum chartis ubi Theftbote conceditur, intelligitur alias esse emenda furti sine consideratione Curie Domini Regis. Theftbote (inquit statutum Wallie Anno 12 Ed. 1. — Hoc est, emenda furti sine consideratione Curie Domini Regis. Spelm. And see 3 Inst. f. 134.

Theque. See Thanus and Thingus.

Theloniun, or Thelone essendi quieti de thelono, Is a Writ lying for the Citizens of any City, or Burghesses of any Town, that have a Charter or Prescription to free them from Toll, against the Officers of any Town or Market, who would constrain them to pay Toll of their Merchandise contrary to their said Grant or Prescription. F. N. B. fol. 226.

Thelonmannus, The Toll-Man or Officer who received the Toll. — Proponebant quod ipsi catalia damnatorum de omnibus feudis Abbatis habere debent, & incontinenter seiscire, licet hoc non possunt extorere. cartarum suarum, cum Abbates ipsi ea semper habuerint in manibus sui Thelonmanni, de pretio quorum Ballivis Regis responderint in adventu Justiciariorum. Chartular. Abbat. Glaston. MS. fol. 446.

Thelonio rationabili habendo pro Dominis habentibus Domunia Regia ad firmam, Is a Writ that lies for him that hath of the King's Demesne in Fee-Farm, to recover reasonable Toll of the King's Tenants there, if his Demesne have been accustomed to be Tolded. Reg. Orig. fol. 87.

Themmagium, A Duty or Acknowledgment paid by inferior Tenants in respect of Theme or Team — Infra metas pradiati manerii nullum themmagium exigatur vel capiatur de catero de pradiato Abbate & successoribus suis, vel hominibus eorumdem, per quoscunque ballivos vel Forestarios pradiati Comitibus vel heredum suorum. — Chartular. Abbat. Glaston. MS. f. 88. a.

Them. See Teame.

Then Significat servum. Fleta, lib. 1. cap. 47.

Thenecium, Quod Pradiati Parochiani — Decimas inferius annotatas Ecclesiis suis persolvant, scilicet, Decimam lactis, ovorum, thenecii agrorum, apum, mellis, &c. Const. Robi. Winchelsey Archiep. Cant. Tit. de Decimis. Ibi Lindwode thenecii agrorum, i. Arborum crescentium circa agros pro clausura eorum, vulgarly called Hedge-rows, or Dike-rows.

Theodden, In the Degrees or Distinctions of Persons among the Saxons, the Earl or prime Lord was called Thane, and the King's Thane; and the Husbandman or inferior Tenant was called Theoden, or Under-Thane. See Thane.

Theowes, The Bondmen among our Saxons were called Theowes and Esnies, who were not counted Members of the Commonwealth, but Parcels of their Masters Goods and Substance. Spelman of Feuds, cap. 5.

Theaurus, The Word was sometimes taken for Thesaurarium, the Treasury. As in a Charter of Queen Maud, Wife of Hen. 1. to testify that the Manor of Levecanor (now Leiknor) was a Hundred of it self, and did not belong to the Hundred of Peritune, (now Pirton) in Oxfordshire — *Sciatis quod Eadritus Abbas de Abbodona in curia Domini mei & mea apud Wintoniam in Thesauro ante Rogerum Episcopum — distraxitavit quod Levecanora manerium suum nihil omnino debet in hundredo de Peritona facere — in thesauro, i. e. in the Treasury or Exchequer which was then kept in Winchester-Castle. And hence the Domesday Register preserved in that Place was called often Liber thesauri.*

Thelindus, the same with Thainus.

Thetford. See Sitomagus.

Thetbinga, A Tithing. Thetbingmannus, a Tithing-Man. Vid. Tithing and Tithing-men.

Thew, *Georgius Grey comes Cantii clamat in Manner. de Buxton & Ayton punire delinquentes contra Assam panis & cervisia per tres vice per amerciamenta & quarta vice piscores per Pilloriam, Braciatores per tumbellam, & rixatries per Thewe, hoc est, ponere eas super scabellum vocati. a Cucking-Stool. Pl. in Itin. apud. Cestr. 14 H. 7. Perhaps from the Sax. Theow, a Slave or Captive. The Word is also mentioned in *Charka 17 Edw. 3. m. 6.

Thewn Signifies a Freeholder, as Thet signifies a Servant. Fleta, 1 Lib. c. 47. par. 26.

Thingus, (Thanas) A Nobleman, a Knight, or Freeman; Sciatis me concessisse omnibus militibus & omnibus thingis & omnibus libere tenentibus, qui manent in Foresta mea de Honore de Lancaster quod possunt, &c. Crompt. Jur. fol. 197.

Thyrdborow Is used for a Constable, Anno 28 H. 8. c. 10. and Lambard's Duty of Constables, p. 6. and seems to be corruptly used for the Saxon Freeborog, ingenus fideiussor. Howbeit a late Author says, it signifies (more literally) tertium ordine ex decuria fideiussorem. Skinner.

Thyrdbinge, The Third Part of the Corn or Grain growing on the Ground at the Tenant's Death, due to the Lord for a Heriot within a certain Manor, and Lands belonging to the Manor of Tursat in the County of Heresford.

Third Night don-hinde, Trium noctium Hospes: By the Laws of St. Edward, (cap. De Hospitiis) If any Guest lay a Third Night in an Inn, he was accounted a Domestick, and his Host was answerable for what Offence he should commit. Forman night uncuth, Twa night Guesse, Third night acw-bind, that is, the first Night a Stranger, the second Night a Guest, the Third Night a Domestick. Bract. lib. 3. tract. 2. c. 10. num. 2. writes Hogenbine for Agenbine.

Item utimur quod si extranei moventur in Burgo pradiato ultra tres dies invenient fideiussorem de bene gerendo do se erga Burgenſes & communitatem dum moram inter ipſos fecerint. MS. Codex de L. Statut. & Conſuetud. liberi Burgi Villæ Moungom. fol. 26. See Uncouth.

Third-Penny, Denarius tertius eſt ea pars multarum forenſiumque molumentorum que in Comitatu olim cedebat comiti, Rege alias duas percipiente. Leg. Ed. Conf. c. 31. Rex habebit 100 ſolidos, & Conſul comitatus 50. qui tertium habebit denarium de forisfacturis, &c. and was anciently ſo fixt, and appropriate to an Earldom, as the Earldom of Oxford, in the Reign of King Henry the Second, paſſed by the Grant of Tertium denarium comitatus Oxon. ut ſit inde Comes. Of which ſee Selden's Titles of Honour.

Thiſſe-take, It was a Cuſtom within the Manor of Halton, in the County Palatine of Cheſter, that if in driving Beasts over the Common, the Driver permits them to graze or take but a Thiſſe, he ſhall pay a Half-Penny a Beast to the Lord of the Fee. And at Eſkerton in Nottinghamſhire, by ancient Cuſtom, if a Native or a Cottager killed a Swine above a Year old, he paid to the Lord a Penny, which Purchase of Leave to kill a Hog was alſo called Thiſſe-take. Reg. Priorat. de Thurgarton.

Thokes, Fiſh with broken Bellics, 22 E. 4. c. 2. which by the ſaid Statute are not to be mixt or pack'd with Tale-fiſh.

Thol, Thollonium eſt libertas emendi & vendendi in terra ſua. Lamb. Archæion, fol. 132. Thol, i. quod Prior habet in mercato ſuo die Lune quandam menſuram de bladis venditis, & quoddam certum de animalibus & cæteris ſimilibus venditis. Reg. Priorat. Cokeſford. See Toll.

Thorough-Toll, At a Place called Bowgh in Yorkſhire, in Times paſt the Earls of Richmond had a Caſtle, and a certain Cuſtom called Thorough-Toll, ſays Cambden. See Toll.

Thorpe, Thæp, Þrop, either in the Beginning or End of Names of Places, ſignifies a Street or Village, as Adleſþrop: From the Sax. Þorþ, villa, vicus.

Thraße of Corn, (Trava bladi) (from the Sax. Thraße, i. e. a Bundle, or the Britiſh Dreſa, i. e. Twenty-four) in moſt Parts of England conſiſts of Twenty-four Sheaves, or Four Shocks, Six Sheaves to every Shock, 2 H. 6. c. 2. yet in ſome Counties they reckon but Twelve Sheaves to the Thraße: As in the Matter concerning the Burgeſſes of Derby — Hi autem ad feſtum ſancti Martini reddebant Regi duodecim trabes annone. Domceſday Book, de Burgenſibus Derby, Anno 2 H. 6. cap. 2. — De qualibet Carucata arante in Episcopatu Eboraci, unam Travam bladi. King Athelſtan, anno 923. gave by his Charter to St. John of Beverley's Church, Four Thraves of Corn from every Plough-land, in the  Eaſt Riding of Yorkſhire.

— Dat gibe I God and Seint John.
Her before you ever ilkan,
All my herſt Cozn meideel
Do uphold his miſtre weel:
Ba fou Threbe, be Deben Kinge)
Of ilka Plough of Eſtriding. —
See Peter-Corn.

Threngus. See Drenches. Quia vero non erant adhuc tempore Regis Willielmi milites in Angliā, ſed

*Threnges, præcipit Rex ut de eis milites ſerent ad defendendam terram, fecit autem Lanfrancus Threngos ſuos milites, &c. Somner's Gavelk. pag. 123, 210. They were Vaſſals, but not of the loweſt Degree of thoſe who held Lands of the Chief Lord; the Name was impoſed by the Conqueror; for when one Eduyn Sharnbourn of Norfolk, and others, were ejected out of their Lands, they complained to the Conqueror, inſiſting that they were always on his ſide, and never oppoſed him, which upon Enquiry he found to be true, and therefore he commanded that they ſhould be reſtored to their Lands, and for ever after be call'd Drenches. *Spelm.

Thrymſa, From the Saxon Thrim, which ſignifies Three, was an old Piece of Money of Three Shillings, according to Lambard, or rather, (as Selden thinks) the Third Part of a Shilling, Titles of Honour, f. 604. See Weregeld. It was certainly but a Groat, or the Third Part of a Shilling, Thrymſa being a Contraſtion of the Lat. Tremiſſis, and was a German Coin of the Value of 4d. As thus expreſſy, lib. 6. ſect. 3. Saiga autem eſt quarta pars tremiſſis, hoc eſt denarius unus. Tremiſſis eſt tertia pars ſolidi, & ſunt denarii quatuor.

Thrything, Thrythingum, In the Statute of Merton, ſignifies a Court which conſiſts of Three or Four Hundreds. Co. 2. Inſt. f. 99.

Thrower. See Silk-Thrower.

Thude, Thud, A Woodward, or one who looks after the Woods.

Thum lum Signifies a Thumb: 'Tis mention'd in Leg. Æn. c. 55. apud Brompton, viz. Si paſſagium capiatur de porcis, de tridigitali tertius, de duo digitali quartus, de Thumelo quintus, i. e. whole Fat is the Length of a Thumb.

Thwertnik, *Edwardus, &c. Conceſſimus etiam quod Vicecomes noſter aut heredum noſtrorum, qui pro tempore fuerit in dicto comitatu, de cætero faciat executiones pro debitis recuperatis & recognitis in Comitatu vel Scaccario Ceſtrie aut in itinere Juſticiariorum, qui pro tempore fuerit, abſque aliquo capiendo pro executione facienda, licet etiam præteritis temporibus uſum ſit, prout per chartam habet ipſa communitas; (ſcilicet Ceſtreſine) quod ſi aliquis in curia noſtra culpatus fuerit, per thwertnik ſe defendere poſſit; quia hac deſenſo eſt contraria legi Comuni, nutrix malorum, pacis æmula & damnoſa populo pacifico: Velumus etiam de conſenſu & requiſitione dictæ communis, Ordinamus & præcipimus quod dicta deſenſo per thwertnik de cætero non alloctur ſed annulletur totaliter & damnetur, &c. Rot. Cart. de anno 11, 12. 13 Ric. 2. num. 11. per Inſpex. This Word ſeems properly Thirndnight, or Thirndicht, which in ſome old Writings is taken for the Cuſtom of giving Entertainment, or paying Procuracion-Money, to the Sheriff for Three Nights.*

Tideſmen Are certain Officers that belong to the Custom-Houſe, and are appointed to watch or attend upon Ships, till the Cuſtom of the Freight be paid; and they are ſo called, becauſe they go aboard the Ships at their Arrival in the Mouth of the Thames, and come up with the Tide.

Tierce, (Fr. Tier, i. e. a Third, or third Part) a Measure of liquid Things, as Wine, Oil, &c. containing the third Part of a Pipe, or Forty-two Gallons. Anno 32 H. 8. cap. 14.

Tigh or Tage, A Cloſe or Encloſure, a Croſt; which Word Tigh is ſtill uſed in Kent, in the ſame Senſe. And in an old Charter of the Church of Canterbury, we find this Clause — Manſonem quoque que eſt in Aquilonali parte Dorobernie, & clauſulam fulam quam Angli vocant Teage que pertinent ad prædialiam mansionem, &c.

Tithius. See Tithindimen.

Tithla, An Accusation: From the Sax. Tyhtla, Accusatio: 'Tis often mentioned in the Laws of Canutus, and H. 1. viz. Si quis amicus desitutus ut plegium non habeat in prima Tithla, ponatur in Carcanio. Leg. Canut. c. 62. and in Leg. H. 1. c. 45. De minore inoperto per Tithlam nento respondeat, nisi sit ibi captus.

Tithla Satten, for Tinsel Satten: 'Tis mentioned in the Statute 1 H. 8. cap. 14. and signifies Satten interwoven with Silver.

Timberloose, A Service so called, by which the Tenant was to carry Timber felled, from the Woods to the Lord's House: 'Tis mentioned in Thorn's Chronicle, Et debent pro qualibet swellinga 14 denar. per Annum, pro Timberloose, vel caviare extra Waldam per mare vel per terram ad dictum marerium.

Timber of Skins Is Forty Skins, De qualibet Timber de Fitchens venal. Ob. Pat. 10 R. 2. pars 1. m. 10. Hæc civitas (sc. Cestria) tunc recdebat de firma 45. libras & tres timbres pellium Matrinarium. Leg. Edw. Conf.

Tina fluvius, the River Tyne in Northumberland.

Tinct le Roy, (Fr.) It used for the King's Hall, wherein his Servants used to dine and sup. Anno 13 R. 2. c. 3.

Tineman, or Tineman, Was of old a petty Officer in the Forest, who had the nocturnal Care of Vert and Venison, and other servile Employments Constitut. Forestæ Canuti Regis, cap. 4.

Tinkermen, Those Fishermen who destroyed the young Fry on the River Thames, by Nets and unlawful Engines, till suppressed by the Mayor and Citizens of London. Of which see Stow's Survey of London, p. 18.

Tinct (Tinectum) — Et prædictus Firmarius habebit tinectum sufficiens extra bosum ipsius R. ad clausurandum terras & passuras supradictas. Charta Ric. Moninton 21 Hen. 6. Trousse, Brushwood and Thorns to make and repair Hedges. In Herefordshire to Tine a Glat or Gap in a Hedge, is to put Trousse or Thorns in it, that Cattle may not pass.

Tinnmouth. See Tinnocellum.

Tinpenny, A customary Tribute paid to the Tithingman, to support the Trouble and Charge of his Office. The laborious Du Fresne is apparently mistaken, when in Allusion to the first Syllable, he renders it a Tax of Acknowledgment paid for Tin Mines, or the Liberty of digging Tin. Whereas it bears no such fancied Relation; but Tin is only a Contraction of Teon, and means only the Number Ten. King Henry 1. granted to the Abbey of Radinges — Ut tementa quieta sint de tributis & lestageis, de tedinpeni & Tinpeni. Chartular. Albat. Radinges, MS. f. 2. where Tedinpenny signified the Money paid the Sheriff by the several Tithings; and Tinpenny was the Money paid the Tithing-man by the several Friburges or Divisions of his Decennary or District.

Tinettum, Trouse, Brushwood and Thorns for Fencing and Hedging, which Sort of Underwood cut at Length, and not fagotted up, is still in Kent called Tesnet.

Tipsiff Is one of the Warden of the Fleet's Men, that attends the King's Courts with a painted Staff, for the Taking such into Custody as are committed by the Court, and to attend such Prisoners as go at large by Licence: These are otherwise called Bastons. Anno 1. R. 2. c. 12. and 5 Eliz. cap. 23. They also are called Tip-staves, that attend the Judges with a Kind of Rod tipped with Silver, and take into their Charge all Prisoners either committed or turned over at the Judge's Chamber.

Tissur. See Tilsen.

Tithes, Decime, Are the Tenth Part of all Fruits, Prædial, Personal and Mixt, which are due to God, and consequently to his Church's Ministers for their Maintenance. Levit. 27. verse 30. Omnium bonorum litite quæstorum quota pars 1 eo, Divina constitutione debita. Father Paul, in his Italian Treatise Di Materie beneficate is of Opinion, that Tithes were not given to the Priest but a little before the Time of Charles the Bald; but this must be a Mistake, for in the second Council of Matfcon, which was held Anno 585. we may read that Leges divinæ, &c. præceperunt decimas fructuum suorum locis sacris præstare, &c. quas Leges Christianorum congeries longis temporibus custodivit intemeratus, &c. Du Cange. And it was of late Times resolved, viz.

Paschæ 1 Jac. Rot. 1119. in Communi Banco.

QUOD Decimarum tres sunt species, quedam Personales, que debentur ex opere personali, ut Artificio, Scientia, Militia, Negotiatione, &c. Quedam Prædiales, que proveniunt ex prædiis, i. e. Ex fructibus prædiorum, ut Blada, vinum, fœnum, linum, cannalium, &c. seu ex fructibus arborum, ut Poma, Pyra, Pruna, Volema, Cerasia, & fructus hortorum, &c. quedam Mixtæ, ut de Caseo, lacte, &c. aut ex fructibus animalium, que sunt in pascuis, & gregatim pascuntur, ut in Agnis, Vitulis, Hædis, Capreolis, Pullis, &c. Ex Prædialibus sunt quedam Majores, quedam Minutæ; Majores, ut frumentum, siligo, zizania, fœnum, &c. Minores sive Minutæ, quidam dicunt, sunt, qui proveniunt ex menta, aneto, oleribus & similibus, juxta illud dictum Domini, Luc. 11. 42. Væ, qui decimatis mentam & rutam, &c. Alii dicunt, Quod in Anglia consistunt Decimæ minutæ in lino, que sunt Prædiales, & Lana, lacte, caseis & in Decimis animalium, agnis, pullis, & ovibus; Decima etiam mellis & cere numerantur inter Minutæ, que sunt Mixtæ. Vide Lyndewode, cap. de Decimis.

But Laymen, in these latter Times, by withdrawing, or with-holding their Tithes, occasion'd the Statutes of 27 H. 8. 20. 32 H. 8. 7. and 2 E. 6. 13. which were made to enforce the Payment thereof, which former Times required not, when more was often given than was either due or demanded, as appears by these and many other recorded Donations.

EGO Willielmus de Braosa do & concedo Ecclesie Sancte Marie de Bargaveny & Monachis ibidem Deo servientibus, omnem Decimam de Castello de Bargaveny, sc. De Pane, de Vino, de Cerevisia, & Sifera, & de omni genere potus, de carnibus, de piscibus, de sale, de melle, de cera, de sevo, & omni expensa generaliter, tam parva quam magna, Castellum jam prædictum, de Denariis quoquomodo adquisitis & habitis, de placitis, de auxiliis, de prisonibus, de bebis, de vaccis, de porcis, de ovibus, de capris, de equis, & de omnibus

ribus rebus, & de omni eventu quomodo evenierit jam dicto Castello. Mon. Angl. 1 par. fol. 558. a. Et Decimas omnium proventuum Placitorum, Tolnetorum, Donorum, Lucrorum & reddituum meorum, & totius parisi & potus expensi de Castello Breckonia & de Haya. Charta Rogeri Comitis Herefordia. Sine Dat.

And anciently many Men were so scrupulously careful in their Payment of Tithes, that at their Death they bequeathed Soulescent, to their Parish-Priest, in lieu of any Tithes forgotten, and at their Funerals caused their best Ox or Horse to be led with the Corps, and as a Mortuary or Oblation given to the Priest, in Recompence of any Tithe which might have been forgotten. See Kennet's Glossary in Tithes.

Tithing, Tithingum, From the Saxon Teothung, which signifies Decuriam: It signifies, (according to Lambard, in his Duty of Constables) the Number or Company of Ten Men with their Families, knit together in a Society, all being bound to the King for the peaceable Behaviour of each other. Of these Companies, there was one chief or principal Person, who, from his Office was called Teothung-man, at this Day in some Places Tithing-man, but is indeed a Constable, for the old way of Tithing is long since left off. It is also used for a Court. Magna Chart. c. 25. Merton, c. 10. and 23 E. 3. c. 4. See Chief Pledge, Frank-pledge, Decennier and Tithing.

Tithing-men, In the Saxon Times, for the better Conservation of Peace, and the more easy Administration of Justice, every Hundred was divided into Ten Districts or Tithings, each Tithing made up of Ten Friborgs, each Friborg of Ten Families, and within every such Tithing. — Statuerunt fusticiarios super quosque decem Friborgos, quos Decanos possimus appellare, Anglice vero, Tienheford, i. e. caput de decem. Which Tithing-men, or Civil Deans, were to examine and determine all lesser Causes between Villages and Neighbours, but to refer all greater Matters to the superior Courts, which had a Jurisdiction over the whole Hundred. See Kennet's Paroch. Antiq. pag. 633. This Office was sometime called Tithing-mannus — Concessit Abbas pro se & successoribus suis quod catalis felonum fugitivorum, vel rationabile pretium eorumdem, per visum & ballium Coronatorum ipsius Abbatis tradantur Thethingmanno praedicti Petri, & heredum suorum, salvo custodienda usque ad adventum fusticiariorum itinerantium. Cart. 3 E. 2. in Cartular. de Radinges. MS. f. 156. b.

Tithing-penny, alias Tith-penny, alias Thething-penny, Et sint quieti de Thething-penny, Tyn-penny, & de omnibus forisfactis quacunque occasione emeruerunt, &c. In Mem. Scac. de anno 20 E. 3. Trin. Rot. 3. Abbati & Monachis Rading. Tithing penny, hoc est, quieti de Tallagio Decenna sive Tithing per consuetudinem. MS. in Biblioth. Cotton. sub. Tit. Vitellus. C. 9. fol. 221.

Tillage, Agricultura, Is of great Account in Law, as very profitable for the Commonwealth; and therefore arable Land hath the Precedence before Meadows, Pastures, Woods, Mines, and all other Ground whatsoever. And by laying of Lands used in Tillage to Pasture, Six grand Inconveniences ensue.

1. Idleness, which is the Ground and Beginning of all Mischief.

2. Depopulation and Decay of Towns, for where in some Towns Two Hundred Persons were employed and lived by their lawful Labours, by converting Tillage into Pasture, only Two or Three Herd-men are maintained.

3. Husbandry is decayed.

4. Churches are destroyed, by Diminution of Church-Livings.

5. Injury and Wrong done to Patrons and Ministers.

6. The Defence of the Land against foreign Enemies enfeebled and impaired; the Bodies of Husbandmen being more strong and able, and patient of Cold, Heat, and Hunger than any other. See Kennet's Glossary in Tithes.

Tinewald, The Parliament or annual Convention in the Ile of Man; of which Mr. King in his Description of that Island gives this Account.

— The Governor and Officers do usually call the Twenty-four Keys of the Island, especially once every Year, viz. upon Midsummer-day, at St. John's Chapel, to the Tinewald Court there, where upon a Hill near the said Chapel, all the Inhabitants of the Island, standing round about a fair Plain, they may hear the Laws and Ordinances agreed upon before in the Chapel aforesaid, published and declared unto them; and then and there the Lord of the Island, if he be in the Country, is to sit in a Chair of State covered with a Royal Cloth or Canopy over his Head, his Visage unto the East, with his Sword before him, holden with the Point upwards, his Barons, viz. the Bishop and Abbats, when was Time, with the rest of their Degrees, sitting beside him, &c.

Title, Titulus, Properly is when a Man hath lawful Cause of Entry into Lands whereof another is seised, for which he can have no Action, as Title of Mortmain, or Title to enter for Breach of Condition: But legally this Word Title includes a Right; also and Title is the more general Word, for every Right is a Title, but every Title is not such a Right for which an Action lieth, and therefore Titulus est iusta causa possidendi quod nostrum est, and signifies the Means whereby a Man cometh to Land, as his Title is by Fine or Feoffment. And as by a Release of a Right a Title is released, so by Release of a Title, a Right is released also. See Co. 4. Rep. Edw. Atham's Case. This is a Word mentioned in several Councils and Synods; and it signifies the Church to which a Priest was ordained, and where he was constantly to reside. Council. London. an. 1125. Nullus in presbyterium, nullus in Diaconum, nisi ad certum Titulum, ordinetur. There are many Reasons why a Church is called Titulus: But that which to me seems the best, is, because in former Days the Name of the Saint to whom the Church was dedicated, was engraved on the Porch, as a Sign that the Saint had a Title to that Church. From whence the Church it self was afterwards called Titulus.

Title of Entry Is when one seised of Land in Fee, makes a Feoffment thereof on Condition, and the Condition is broken; after which the Feoffor hath Title to enter into the Land, and may do so at his Pleasure, and by his Entry the Freehold shall be said to be in him presently. And it is called Title of Entry, because he cannot have a Writ of Right against his Feoffee upon Condition, for his Right was out of him by the Feoffment, which cannot be reduced with Entry; and the Entry must be for the Breach of the Condition.

Titu

Titinylks, Tale-Bearers. Letter of the Secretary of State in 28 of H. 8. to James the Fifth King of Scotland. — In all Realms the Popish Practice hath had such Confederacy of false, forsworn, factious and traitorous Titinylks, untrue to their Sovereign. Vid. Wever of Fin. Mon. pag. 94.

Toalia, A Towel. In the Inquisition of Serjeancies and Knights-Fee, within the Counties of Essex and Hertford, made in the 12th and 13th Year of King John. — Petrus Picte tenet dimid. Heydene per Serjantiam serviendi cum una toalia ad coronationem Regis — i. e. by the Service of waiting with a Towel at the King's Coronation. — Ex Lib. Rub. Saccar. fol. 137.

Tobius Fluvius, Toway in Wales.

Tod of Wool Contains Twenty-eight Pounds or Two Stone, mentioned in the Statute 12 Car. cap. 32. See 3 Inst. f. 96.

Toff, Tostum, A Messuage, or rather a Place where a Messuage hath stood. West Symbol. part 2. Tit. Fines, sect. 26. And is a Word much used in Fines. — Capitale Toffum & Croftum quod fuit Walteri Patris sui. Cart. Petri de Brus in Biblioth. Cotton. Scires & Tostres, an. 22 Car. 2. c. 11.

Tofmann, Tostmannus, The Owner of a Toff, Tostmanni similiter operabantur a Sancto Michaelis usque ad Autumpnum, & in autumno per 6 hebdomadas unaquaque hebdomade per 2 dies, &c. Pri. Lew. p. 18. See Molman.

Toile Cometh of the French Toile, i. tela, and signifieth with us a Net or Cord to compass or take Deer.

Toliatis, the Isle of Sheppey.

Tolling-penny, Mon. Angl. 2 Tom. pag. 286. for Teding-penny.

To Toll, To Bar, Defeat, or Take away. As to Toll the Entry, i. e. To deny or take away the Right of Entry. Stat. 8 Hen. 6. cap. 9.

Toll, alias Tholl, Tolnetum alias Theolonium, Is a Saxon Word, and hath in our common Law Two Significations. First, It is used for a Liberty to buy and sell within the Precinct of a Manor. Lamb. Arb. f. 132. Secondly, For a Tribute or Custom paid for Passage, &c. Bract. lib. 2. ca. 24. num. 3. interprets it to be a Liberty as well to take as to be free from Toll, for they who are enfeoffed with Toll, are Custom-free, saith Skene. Toll, hoc est, quod nos & homines vestri de toto Homagio vestro sint quieti de omnibus mercatis & de Tolneto de omnibus rebus emptis & venditis. Of this Freedom from Toll the City of Coventry boasts of an ancient Charter, granted by Leofrich (or Lurich) Merciorum Comes, who at the Importunity of Godeva his virtuous Lady, granted this Freedom to that City; and in Richard the Second's Time (as Dugdale saith in his Description of Warwickshire) the Picture of him and his Lady was set up in the South Window of Trinity-Church there, holding in his right Hand a Charter with these Words written thereon.

¶ Lurich, for the Love of Thee,
Do make Coventry Toll-free.

Some Authors make Mention of Tollthrough, which is Money paid for Passage in or through some Highways, or over Ferries, Bridges, &c. Toll-raverse, for passing over a private Man's Ground; and Toll-turne, which is Toll paid at the Return of Beasts from Fairs or Markers, though they were not sold. Pleud. f. 236. Wilton's Cafe. Kitchin. f. 204. By the ancient Law of the Land, the Buyers of Cattle or Corn in Fairs or Markers ought to pay Toll to the Lord of the Market, in Testimony of the Contract there lawfully made in open Market, because privy Contracts were held unlawful. Horn's Mirror, lib. 1. There is also Intoll and Utoll, mentioned in Henry I.'s Charter to the Church of St. Peter in York; which see Mon. Angl. 3 Part. fol. 326. a. The made Latin Word Theolonium, Cassianus de consuet. Burg. p. 118. deriveth a Tollendo, but it is more properly deduc'd from the Greek τελόνια or τελωνία, id est, vestigalium redemptio vel exactio. See Fleta, lib. 1. cap. 47.

Tollage. This Word occurs in the Statute made an. 17 Car. 1. c. 15. and is there used to signify the same as Tallage, which see.

Toll-Booth, the Place where Goods are weighed.

Tolcestrum, Tolaster, Excise, or Tribute paid to the Lord by the servile Tenant for Liberty to brew and sell Ale. — Among the customary Services of the Tenants in Blebury, to the Abbat and Convent of Reading. — Et solebant dare tolcestrum, scilicet, illi qui solebant facere cervisiam ad vendendum, videlicet, sex lagenas cervisie. — Cartular. Radinges, MS. f. 221. a. — Præterea si bractiant ad vendendum dabunt de cervisia sua predicti Abbati quantum consuetudinem que vocatur Tolfaster, scil. de qualibet bractina quatuor lagenas quotiescunque bractaverint, ib. f. 223. a. See Tolfeffer.

Tolcozn, Corn taken for Toll at grinding in a Mill. — Dedi Abbati & Conventui de Radinges unam dimidiam summam bladi, scil. de tolcorn de molendino de Homstoll. — Cartular. Abbat. Radinges, MS. f. 92. a.

Tolfeffer. — Per Tolfeffer, clamat esse quiet. de reddend. unum Sextarium Cervisie quod continet 16. Lagenas de nova cervisia mensurata, desubtus le Shak-cliff, pro licentia bractandi cervis. per totum annum. Ex Rot. Plac. in itin. apud Cest. 14 H. 7. The same Word occurs in a Charter, 55 H. 3. m. 6. See Gavelfeffer.

Tolsey, the Place where Merchants meet. From the Sax. Tol, Tributum, and See, sedes.

Tolt, Tolta, Is a Writ whereby a Cause depending in a Court-Baron, is removed to the County-Court, Old Nat. Brev. fol. 2. and so called, because it does tollere loquelam from the one Court to another. Preface to Co. Rep. 3. Plac. coram Rege Pasch. 22 E. 1. Rot. 18. Tolla placiti significat processum per quem causa a Jurisdictione curie temporalis tollitur. Tolt is also a Tribute, or an Exaction of any Thing. Mon. Angl. 1 Tom. p. 673. So in Mat. Paris. Mercatores vendunt sine Toltis malis.

Toltray. — Venditio salis qua debet so'ci, i. Bu-suel & dimid. satis per mensuram 4s. MS. de temp. Ed. 1. It should be Tolsny, or Toll taken by Tray or Dish.

Tolta, Wrong, Rapine, Extortion, any Thing exacted or imposed contrary to Right and Justice. — Nec aliquem depradetur, nec homicidia, vel incredia, roberias, tollas, seu alia huiusmodi perpetret enormia. Pat. 43 H. 3. in Brady Hist. Eng. Append. pag. 235.

Comm. A Weight To called amongst Goldsmiths and Jewellers, and is Twelve Grains.

Tonnage, Tonnagium, Is a Custom or Impost paid to the King for Merchandise carried out, or brought in Ships, or such like Vessels, according to a certain Rate upon every Tun; and of this you may read in the Statutes 12 E. 4. cap. 3. 6 H. 8. c. 14. 1 E. 6. c. 13. 1 Jac. 33. but especially 12 Car. 2. cap. 4.

Tonne. See Tun.

Tonneltight, The Quantity of a Tonne or Tun, in a Ship's Freight or Bulk, for which Tonnage or Tunnage was paid to the King. — Ricardus Rex, &c. Thoma de Percy Admirallus nostro in Parlamento ordinatum exstitit — percipiend. de qualibet navi & craiera cuiuscunque fuerit portagii que mare transierit infra predictum Admiratum eundo & redeundo pro viagio de quolibet Tonneltight sex denarios — item de quolibet vase piscatrice quod infra mare dicti Admiratus piscatur pro allece capiend. de quolibet tonneltight sex denarios, &c. Pat. 2. R. 2.

Torcere Is a Word mentioned in Fleta, 2 Lib. c. 71. par. 2. viz. Boves striliare & Torcere: Which is to comb and cleanse his Oxen.

Torcetter. See Tripenitum.

Torney. See Turney.

Torra, Teire, Sax. Tor, A Mount, A Hill, as Glastenbury Torre. — Terra in campis Glaslonia, una acra jacet in australi parte de la torrc. — super torram una acra. — Chartular. Abbat. Glaston. MS. f. 114, 116.

Tort, (from the Lat. Tortus) Is a French Word for Injury or Wrong, as de son tort mesne, in his own Wrong. Cro. Rep. fol. 20. White's Case. Wrong or Injury is properly called Tort, because it is wrested or crooked. Cro. on Lit. fo. 158.

Tortfeasor, A Wrong-doer, a Trespasser. Co. 2. par. f. 383. num. 11.

Tortitum Is mentioned in Fleta, and other Books, and signifies a Torch.

Toties-quoties, Anno 19 Car. 2. c. 4. and signifies As often as.

Tothlanda, A certain Portion of Land, in the Nature or Dimension whereof I can find no Direction, and can make no safe Conjecture. — Cum una virgata terre, & cum una Tothlanda, &c. octo acris, que fuerunt date in dedicatione (Ecclesia de Heyford ad Pontem Com. Oxon.) Wulstini Episcopi Dorcestrie. Paroch. Antiquit. p. 514.

Totter, A good Debt to the King, is by the foreign Apposer, or other Officer in the Exchequer, noted for such, by writing this Word Tot to it; q. d. Tot pecunia regi debetur. Anno 42 E. 3. cap. 9. and 1 E. 6. 15. See Practice of the Exchequer, pag. 71.

Totteray Was a customary Payment of Four Pence for every Bushel and a half of Corn, sold at Maldon in Essex. Hill. 15 E. 1. This Word should be Tolteray or Toll-tray.

Tourne. See Turn.

Tout temps prêt & uncoze est, That is, Always ready, and is so at this present. This is a Kind of Plea in way of Excuse or Defence for him that is sued for any Debt or Duty belonging to the Plaintiff. See Broke's Abridgment, fol. 458.

Towage, Towagium, and Thorogium, Is the Rowing or Drawing a Ship or Barge along the Water by Men, or Beasts on Land, or by another Ship or Boat fastned to her. Also that Money, or other Recompence, which is given by Bargemen to the Owner of the Ground next a River where they tow a Barge, or other Vessel, Dominus Rex habeat & habere debeat Thowagium navium & battellorum majorum & minorum in aqua de Tyne, &c. Pla. coram Rege & ejus concil. Parl. 18 E. 1. in Tur. London.

Torpilagus, A Sheep, a Ram — Qualibet hida potest sustinere octo & decem boves, sexdecim vaccas, & unum taurum, & ducentas oves cum quatuor toyliardis, cum exitu predictarum ovium de uno anno, & quatuor Agros cum exitu unius anni. — Chartular. Abbat. Glaston. MS. fol. 72. b.

Trabarie Were little Boats; so called, because they were made out of single Beams or Pieces of Timber cut hollow. Florence of Worcester, p. 618. writes, That uterque Rex in insulam Trabariis advehitur.

Trabes In Churches, was that we now call Branches, made usually with Brass; but formerly with Iron. See Thraee.

Tractus-uum, Traes, by which Horses, in their Gears, draw a Cart, Plough, or Waggon Par tractuum, A Pair of Traces. — Pro uno carsadale, uno colero, cum una pari tractuum emptis xiv. d. Paroch. Antiquit. p. 549.

Traga Was a Sort of Waggon without Wheels. 'Tis mentioned in the Monasticon, 1 Tom. p. 851. Qui cum quadriga vel Traga egressus. So in Virgil. Georg. lib. 1. ver. 164.

Tribulaque, trabeaque & iniquo pondere rastri.

Trahare Seems to be used for to Harrow, as well as Herciare. Inq. in an. 1223. in Registro de Blyth.

Tranatozium, a Bay.

Transcript, Anno 34 & 35. H. 8. caps. 14. Is the Copy of any Original written again or exemplified, as the Transcripts of a Fine.

Transcripto Recognitionis scilicet rogam Justiciariis itinerantibus, &c. Is a Writ for the certifying of a Recognition taken before Justices in Eyre into the Chancery. Reg. Orig. fol. 152.

Transcripto pedes finis lebatii mittendo in Chancellarium, Is a Writ for the certifying the Foot of a Fine levied before Justices in Eyre, &c. into the Chancery. Reg. Orig. f. 669. & Reg. Judic. fol. 14.

Transgressionem, Is a Writ commonly called a Writ or Action of Trespass, of which Fitzherbert reckons two Sorts; one Vicountiel, so called because it is directed to the Sheriff, and is not returnable, but to be determined in the County; the Form whereof differs from the other, because it hath these Words, Quare vi & armis, &c. F. N. B. f. 84. The other is termed a Writ of Trespass upon the Case, which is to be sued in the King's Bench or Common Pleas, in which are used always these Words. Vi & armis, F. N. B. fol. 92. See Trespass, and the divers Uses of this Writ in the Table to the Register of Writs and 2 Inst. fol. 419.

Tran-

Transire, Anno 14 Car. 2. cap. 11. Is used for a Custom-house Warrant or Let-pafs; from Transire, to go forth or let pafs.

Transitory Is passing away or flitting, the opposite to Local. See Local.

Transitory So in some Manors they call the Money arising by Amerciaments of Ale-sellers and Victuallers, for breaking the Assize of Bread and Ale, as Luslon, and other Manors in Herefordshire, especially those belonging to the Bishoprick of Hereford. But why so called, quere.

Translation, Translatio, In common Sense signifies the Version out of one Language into another; but in a more confined, denotes the setting from one Place to another; as to remove a Bishop from one Diocese to another is called Translating, and such a Bishop writes not Anno Consecrationis, but Anno Translationis nostræ.

Traba. See Thrava.

Traverse, (A derivative from the French Traverser, i. Transfigere) signifies sometimes to deny, sometimes to overthrow or undo a Thing, or to put one to prove some Matter; much used in Answers to Bills in Chancery; or it is that which the Defendant pleadeth, or faith in Bar to avoid the Plaintiff's Bill, either by confessing and avoiding, or by denying and traversing the material Parts thereof. West. Symbol. Part 2. Tit. Chancery, sect. 54, 55. The formal Words of which Traverse are in our French Sans ceo, in Latin absq; hoc, and in English without that. See Kitchin, f. 227. and 240. Stauford, Prærog. cap. 20. To Traverse an Office is nothing else but to prove, That an Inquisition made of Lands or Goods by the Escheator is defective, and untruly made. So to Traverse an Indictment is to take Issue upon the chief Matter, and to contradict or deny some Point of it. As in a Presentment against A. for a Highway overflow'd with Water, for Default of scouring a Ditch, &c. A. may Traverse either the Matter, that there is no Highway there, or that the Ditch is sufficiently scoured; or otherwise he may Traverse the Cause, viz. That he hath not the Land, or that he and they whose Estate, &c. have not used to scour the Ditch. Lamb. Eiren. lib. 4. c. 13. p. 521, 522. See the New Book of Entries, verb. Traverse.

Trasterum, a Ferry. 'Tis mentioned in the Monasticon, 2 Tom. 1002. Ab omni custuma pontagii vel traversi.

Traves, (Trave bladi.) Claus. 5 Edw. 2. dorf. 21. and Claus. 12 Ric. 2. m. 34. granted to the Provoit of St. John of Beverley. See Peter-Corn and Thrave.

Trawlmen, Of those Fishermen who used unlawful Arts and Engines to destroy the Fish upon the River Thames, some were stiled, Tinckermen, others Hebbermen, Petermen, Trawlmen, &c. See Stow's Survey of London, pag. 19. Hence to trawle or trawle with a Trowing-line for Pikes.

Trailbaston. See Justices of Traylbaston; and see the Copies of several Commissions granted to them by Edward the First in Spelman's Glossarium, verbo, Trailbaston. The common People in those Days called them Trailbaston, quod sonat, Trabe baculum. Edward the First, in his Thirty-second Year, sends out a new Writ of Inquisition, called Trailbaston, against Intruders on other Men's Lands, who, to oppress the right Owner, would make over their Lands to great Men; against Batterers hired to beat Men, Breakers of Peace, Ravishers, Incendiaries, Murderers, Fighters, false Assisors, and other such Malefactors: Which Inquisition was so strictly executed, and such Fines taken, that it brought in exceeding much Treasure to the King. Chron. fol. 111. See Plac. Parliamentaria, fol. 211. & 280. and 4 Inft. 186. And in a Parliament, 1 R. 2. the Commons of England petitioned the King, That no Commission of Eyre, or Trayle Baston, might be issued during the Wars, or for Twenty Years to come. Rot. Parl. 1 R. 2.

Traptoz, (Traditor, Proditor.) See Treason.

Traptrous Position. Of taking Arms by the King's Authority against his Person, and those that are commissioned by him, condemned by the Stat. 14 Car. 2. cap. 3.

T. R. E. Tempore Regis Edwardi. These initials Letters have this continual Note of Time in the Domesday Register, where the Valuation of Manors is recounted, what it was in the Time of Edward the Confessor; and what since the Conquest. As in Oxenfordscir — Manerium de Burcscire, T. R. E. valuit quindecim libras, modo sexdecim.

Treason, Proditio, Of the French Traibison, and it is divided into High Treason and Petty Treason; High Treason is defined to be an Offence committed against the Security of the King or Kingdom, whether it be by Imagination, Word or Deed; as to compass or imagine the Death of the King, Queen or Prince; or to deflower the King's Wife, or his eldest Daughter unmarried, or his eldest Son's Wife: Or levy War against the King in his Realm, adhere to his Enemies, counterfeits his Great Seal, Privy Seal, or Money: Or wittingly to bring false Money into this Realm counterfeited, like the Money of England, and utter the same. To kill the King's Chancellor, Treasurer, Justices of either Bench, Justices in Eyre, of Assize, or of Oyer and Terminer, being in their Place doing their Office. Anno 25 E. 2. cap. Forging the King's Seal Manual or Privy Signet, Privy Seal, or foreign Coin current here. Anno 2 Mar. Cap. 6. Or diminishing or impairing current Money. 5 Eliz. 11. 14 Eliz. cap. 3. 18 El. 1. Or to say the King is an Heretic or Papist, or that he intends to introduce Papery, &c. Anno 13 Car. 2. cap. 1. And many others, which you may read there, and in other Places particularly expressed. In Case of this Treason, a Man shall be drawn, hanged, and quartered, and forfeit his Lands and Goods to the King. It is called also Treason Paramount. Anno 25 E. 3. c. 2. Petit Treason is, when a Servant kills his Master, a Wife her Husband: Or when a secular or religious Man kills his Prelate or Superior, to whom he owes Faith and Obedience: And in how many other Cases Petit Treason may be committed, see Cramp. Just. of Peace. This kind of Treason gives Forfeiture of Escheats to every Lord within his own Fee. See Bract. lib. 3. tract. 2. cap. 3. num. 1, 2. There is also Mention of Accumulative Treason and Constructive Treason in the Statute, 14 Car. 2. cap. 29. And here observe, that in Majori proditione omnes sunt Principales, there are no Accessaries in Treason, all are Principals. And Voluntas non reputabitur pro facto nisi in causa Proditionis, for Petty Treason. See Co. 1. Rep. Shelley's Case.

Treasure, Thesaurus, the King's Treasure is the Sinsews of War, and the Honour and Safety of the King in Time of Peace, Firmamentum Belli & ornamentum Pacis. If any Mine of base Metal be found found in any Ground, it belongs to the Lord of the Soil; but if it be of Gold or Silver, it appertains to the King, in whose Ground soever they be found.

Treasurer, Thesaurarius, Is an Officer to whom the Treasure of another is committed to be kept, and truly disposed of: The chieftest of these with us is the Treasurer of England, who is a Lord by his Office, and one of the greatest Men of the Land, under whose Charge and Government is all the Prince's Wealth contained in the Exchequer, as also the Clerks of all Officers any way employed in the collecting of the Imposts, Tributes, or other Revenues belonging to the Crown. Smith, de Rep. Anglor. lib. 2. cap. 14. See more belonging to this Office. 20 E. 3. 6. 31 H. 6. 5. 4 E. 4. 1. 17 E. 4. 5. 21 H. 8. 20. and 1 E. 6. 13. This high Officer hath by Virtue of his Office, the Nomination of all Escheators yearly throughout England, and giveth the Places of all Customers and Searchers in all the Ports of the Realm, with divers other Matters, &c. There is also the Treasurer of the King's Household, who is of the Privy Council, and in the Absence of the Steward of the King's Household, hath Power with the Controller and Steward of the Marshalsea, without Commission, to hear and determine Treasons, Misprisions of Treason, Murder, Homicide and Bloodshed committed within the King's Palace. Stamdf. Pl. Cor. lib. 3. cap. 5. In Westm. 2. cap. 1. there is Mention of the Treasurer of the Exchequer, Treasurer of the Navy or War. 27 E. 3. Stat. 2. cap. 18. 35 Eliz. cap. 4. Treasurer of the King's Chamber, 26 H. 8. 3. 33 H. 8. 39. Treasurer of the King's Wardrobe. 15 E. 3. Stat. 1. cap. 3. 25 E. 3. Stat. 5. c. 21. Whose Office you have well set out in Fleta, lib. 2. cap. 14. Treasurer of the County for poor Soldiers. 25 El. c. 4. And most Corporations through the Kingdom, have an Officer of this Name that receiveth their Rents, and disburseth their common Expences, and is of great Credit among them.

Treasurer in Cathedral Churches, A Dignitary who was to take Charge of the Vestments, Plate, Jewels, Relicks, and other Treasure belonging to the said Church. But at the Time of the Reformation, when some who abhorred Idols did commit Sacrilege, and took away the infinite Treasure of Cathedral and Conventual Churches, then the Office was extinguished as needless in some Churches, as York, Lincoln, Hereford, but still remaining in Salisbury, London, &c.

Treasure-trobre, Thesaurus inventus, Signifies in our common Law as it does in the Civil, Vetere depositum pecunie, cujus non extat memoria, ut jam Dominum non habeat; with which Definition Bracton agrees: And though the Civil Law give it to the Finder, according to the Law of Nature, yet the Law of England gives it to the King by his Prerogative, or to some other who claim by the King's Grant, or by Prescription, as appears, Bract. lib. 3. tract. 2. cap. 3. num. 4. The Punishment for concealing Treasure found, is Imprisonment and Fine. Stamdf. Pl. Cor. lib. 1. cap. 42. Fitzherb. Abridgment, p. 187. But if the Owner may any ways be known, then it does not belong to the King's Prerogative. Britton, c. 17. says 'tis every Subject's Part, as soon as he has found any Treasure in the Earth, to make it known to the Coroners of the County, &c. See Kitchin, fol. 40. Anno 1 & 2. P. & M. c. 15. This was anciently call'd Finda-ringa, of finding the Treasure. Leg. H. 1. c. 11. See 3 Inst. fol. 132.

Tresurp, It signifies sometimes the Place where the King's Treasure is reposit; and at other Times the Office of Treasurer.

Lords of the Tresurp, Commissioners to execute the Office, when it is not committed to one single Person.

Treat Cometh of the French Traire, i. emulere; or rather from tractus drawn, and signifies as much as taken out or withdrawn: As a Juror was challenged because he could not dispend Forty Pounds, and for that Cause he was treate, (that is, withdrawn) by the Statute. Old Nat. Brev. fol. 159.

Trebuchet, (Terbichetum), A Tumbrel, or Cucking-stool. 3 Par. Inf. f. 319. See Tribuch. It was also a great Engine to cast Stones to batter Walls. Matt. Paris. Anno 1246. Per septem Trebuchetta ordinata, quæ tam de die quam de nocte in Castrum, &c. projicere non cessabant. See Treppet.

Tressa, (Tressorium), Hair hanging in Tresses. Amputentur eis Tressoria & tondentur. Fleta, lib. 2. c. 5. par. 4.

Treting. See Tribing.

Treet, (Triticum, i. e. Wheat.) In the Statute of 51 H. 3. Bread of Treet seems to be that Bread which was made of fine Wheat. See Cocket.

Tremagium, Tremisium, Tremesium, The Season for sowing Summer-Corn about March the Third Month, to which the Word may possibly allude. For Corn sow'd in March is by the French call'd Tremes and Tremoisi, and sometimes Mars or Marses, which the Italians call Martiolin or Martiol. Tremesium was commonly opposed to Hibernagium, i. e. The Season for Summer-Corn, Barly, Oats, Beans, &c. to the Season for Winter-Corn, Wheat and Rye. — Arabit unam acram, seminabit cum semine Domini, eandem berciabit, videlicet, dimidiam acram ad hibernagium & dimidiam ad tremagium, & carvabit de sæno Domini. Cartular. Glaston. MS. fol. 91. a. — R. Dei gratia Abbas Ecclesie S. Petri de Burgo. Noverit Universitas vestra Nos concessisse hominibus nostris de Tindele quod liberi sint & quieti — de secta halemotorum & sarclatura & de ferris levandis — arabunt semel ad hibernagium & semel ad tremescum cum hoc quod habuerunt in carucis suis. Cartular. S. Petri de Burgo Swafham vulgo appellat. MS. f. 227.

Tremellum, i. e. a Granary. 'Tis mentioned in Mon. Angl. 1 Tom. pag. 470. Sciendum tamen est quod prædicti monachi faciunt sectam molendini mei tam de blado suo quam hominum suorum; ita quod ipsi habeant primam molituram post bladum quod invenerint in Tremello, &c.

Tremuta, Treumia, Tremellum. The Hooper or Hopper of a Mill, into which the Corn is put to fall from thence to the Grinding-stones. — Do libere molere in molendino meo, ita quod immediate post bladum existens in treumia, quod vulgariter dicitur Ingranatum, eorum bladum molitur. Du Fresne in voce Treumia. Baldwin de Wake to the Priory of Deeping. — Sciendum tamen est quod prædicti Monachi faciunt sectam molendini mei tam de blado suo quam hominum suorum — Ita quod ipsi habeant primam molituram post bladum quod invenerint in tremello. Mon. Angl. Vol. 1. pag. 470. So Wido de Meriton in his Charter to the Knights Templars — Concesserunt mihi Fratres unam libertatem ad suum molendinum, scilicet, molendini segetem pro multura reddenda pro segete quæ est in tremuta. Paroch. Antiquit. p. 120.

Trenatum. Usque ad Trenatum in Marisco. 2 Monast. f. 211. b. A Trench.

Trenchator. (from the Fr. Trencher, To cut,) A Carver of Meat at a Table, as we often find in the Patent-Rolls, Pensions granted by our Kings to J. S. uni Trenchatorum nostrorum.

Trenchia, Trancia, Fr. trencher, to cut. A Trench, or Dike newly cut. — In a Perambulation, 33 H. 3. — De Mechenley usque ad quandam trenchiam que vocatur Bythmeford. Chartular. Abbat. Glaston. MS. fol. 97. a.

Trental, Trentale, An Office for the Dead that continued Thirty Days, or consisting of Thirty Masses, from the Italian Trenta, that is triginta, mentioned 1 Ed. 6. 14. See Tricennalia. Et volo & ordino quod Executores mei ordinent seu ordinare faciunt unum Trental pro salute anime mee. Will proved, Anno 1456.

Treppet, A great Engine to throw Stones against a Wall in storming a Town. 'Tis mentioned in Knights, Anno 1382. Posteunt etiam unam machinam magnam & unum Treppet, cum una magna Gunna.

Trespas, Transgressio, Signifies any Transgression of the Law under Treason, Felony, or Misprision of either, Staudf. Pl. Cor. f. 38. where he says, That for a Lord of the Parliament to depart from the Parliament without the King's Licence, is neither Treason nor Felony, but Trespas. But it is most commonly used for that Wrong or Damage which is done either to the King in his Forest, or by one private Man to another; and in this Signification it is of two Sorts, Trespas general, otherwise termed Trespas vi & armis; and Trespas special, otherwise call'd Trespas upon the Case; and this seemeth to be without Force, howbeit sometimes they are confounded. How to distinguish the Forms of these Writs or Actions, see F. N. B. fol. 86, 87. In an Action of Trespas, the Plaintiff always sues for Damages, or the Value of the Hurt done him by the Defendant. There is also Trespas local, and Trespas transitory. Trespas local is that which is so annexed to a Place certain, that if the Defendant join Issue upon the Place, and traverse the Place only by saying absque hoc, that he did the Trespas in the Place mentioned in the Declaration, and aver it, it is enough to defeat the Action. Trespas transitory is that which cannot be defeated by the Defendant's Traverse of the Place, because the Place is not material; but Actions of Trespas quare clausum fregit ought to be local. Bracton, lib. 4. cap. 34. num. 6. divides Transgressionem in Majorem & Minorem. See also New Book of Entries, verb. Trespas.

Trespasants Is used by Britten, cap. 29. for Passengers.

Trestornare, To turn or divert another way; as trestornare viam, to turn the Road. Rex Johannes in Carta concessa Hugoni Episcopo Lincoln — Concessimus etiam quod trestornare possit viam que se extendit a Kenelmton versus Hunteon per quandam partem bosci de Buggeden.

Treswel of double soled Shoes, 2 & 3 E. 6. cap. 9. It should rather be written Creswel, signifying the broad Edge of the Shoe-sole round about.

Tret. See Tart.

Trucea, and Truca, a League, Truce, or Cessation of Arms. Rex. — Sciatis quod cum quidam inimici nostri regnum nostrum Anglie, cum posse non modico, presentibus Trengis non obstantibus, hostiliter ingressi fuerunt. Rot. Parl. 5 H. 4. n. 24. See Custos Trengarum.

Truha, Trevia, Treuga. — A festivitate S. Michaelis usque ad Festum S. Andree treuva, (i. e. pas) erat in villa. Siquis eam infregisset inde Prapositus Regis accipiebat communem emendationem. Lib. Domescdei. Chenth. Dovece. — Pax Dei, que vulgo Trevia dicitur, sicut ipse Princeps Guillelmus eam in initio constituerat, firmiter teneatur. Constit. Norman, A. D. 1080. — Item diximus de treuga quod si aliquis vulnerat aliam, &c. treuga vero durat a die Mercurii postero usque ad diem Luna mane. Cart. Dat. A. D. 1105. in Brady Append. Hist. Engl. p. 44.

Trial, Triatio, Is used for the Examination of all Causes civil or criminal, according to the Laws of the Realm, before a proper Judge; of which there are divers Kinds; as Matters of Fact shall be tried by the Jurors, Matters of Law by the Justices, Matters of Record by the Record it self. A Lord of Parliament upon an Indictment of Treason or Felony, shall be tried without any Oath by his Peers upon their Honours and Allegiance; but in Appeal at the Suit of any Subject, they shall be tried per bonos & legales homines. If ancient Demeine be pleaded of a Manor, and denied, this shall be tried by the Record of Domesday. Bastardy, Excommungement, Lawfulness of Marriage, and other Ecclesiastical Matters, shall be tried by the Bishop's Certificate. Of the ancient Manner of Trial by Combat and great Assize, see Combat and Assize. See also Staudf. Pl. Cor. cap. 1, 2, 3. And Twelve Men. Triatio est exactissima litis contestata, coram Judice per duodecim virale Sacramentum, exagitatio. Pat. 3 R. Joh. m. 3. in fidelitate Leulini. Statuitur de triatione differentiarum, disti Leulini, &c. 'Tis usual to ask the Criminal how he will be tried; which formerly was a very significant Question, but 'tis not so now, because formerly there were several Ways of Trial, viz. by Battel, by Ordeals, and by Jury. And when the Criminal answered the Question, By God and his Country, it shewed that he made Choice to be tried by a Jury. But now there is no other Way of Trial.

Trial per Pais, i. e. Per Patriam, by a Jury.

Tribuch and Trebuchet, Terbichetum, A Tumbrel, or Cuckingsfoot; Hec omnia concedimus Deo & Ecclesie Sancti Albani cum Soca & Saca on Strond and Streme, on Wude and Feld, Toll & Teym, Tribuch, Hamfoken, Murdre, Forsfal, &c. Carta Joh. Regis, Dat. 11. Jun. anno Regni 1.

Charta Ealdredi Regis Anno 941. Abb. & Monachis Croiland, V. vitam Al-fredi, fol. 79.

Trimilch, The English Saxons call'd the Month of May by this Name, because they milked their Cattle Three Times every Day in that Month. Beda de ratione Temp. c. 19.

Trisugum, A Trithing. or Jurisdiction of Three Hundreds. — Similiter in quinque centuriatibus, dimidio de Wichelave, & uno & dimidio de Dyham & in trijugo de Wines-tune. Hist. Eliens. edit Gale. lib. 2. cap. 2. See Triumvir.

Trimpt or Trimpt Is a House at Deptford, which belongs to a Company or Corporation of Seamen, that have Power, by the King's Charter, to take Knowledge of those that destroy Sea-marks, and to redress their doings; as also to correct the Faults of Sailors. &c. and to take care of divers other Things belonging to Navigation, and the Seas. Anno 8 El. 13. and 35 El. 6.

Trimungeld, (Sax. Dri-mungild, i. e. Ter nona solutio.) Grandis delicti compensatio, qua non absolvitur nisi ter novem gildis, i. e. soluti. nibus.

Trinke Is a Kind of Net or any Engine to catch Fish withal. Anno 2 H. 6. c. 15.

Trinebant. Middlesex and Essex.

Trinoda necessitas, A Threefold necessary Tax or Imposition, to which all Lands were subjected in the Saxon Times, i. e. toward the Repairing of Bridges, the Maintaining of Castles or Garrisons, and an Expedition to repel invading Enemies. In the Grant and Conveyance of Lands, they were many Times exempted from all other secular Service. — Excepta trinoda necessitate — Exceptis his tribus, Expeditione, Pontis & Arcis constructione. Paroch. Antiq. pag. 46. See Portage.

Triours Are such as be chosen by the Court to examine whether a Challenge made to the Panel, or any of the Panel, be just or no. Bro. Tit. Challenge, fol. 122. and Old Nat. Brev. fol. 158.

Tripodium. Leg. H. 1. cap. 64. In quibus vero causis triplicem Ladam haberet, ferat iudicium Tripodii, i. e. 60. Solid. The Meaning is, That as for a small Offence, or for a trivial Cause, the Composition was Twenty Shillings; so for a great Offence, which was to be purged Triplici Lada, the Composition was to be Three Times Twenty Shillings, viz. Tripodio.

Tripodium, Toucester.

Triroda terre, A Quantity of Land containing Three Rods or Perches. — Dedit unam trirodam terra arabilis, quæ est sorsya cum pertinentiis in Staundford, MS. Chart. penes Elam Alsmele, Ar.

Trisantonis Portus, Southampton.

Trista, A Post or Station in hunting. — In quo Rex cum ceteris superior confistisset, secundum legem venandi, quam vulgus tristam vocant, singulis proceribus cum suis canibus singula loca delegat, ut obfessa undique bestia, ubicunque eligeret exitum, inveniret exitum, &c. Decem Scriptores, f. 307. Servitium vel Officium plane sapit, fiducia mixtum; Origo, vi fallor, a nostratum Truist. Gloss. in x. Scrip. See Tristis.

Tristis, Tristis & Trista, From Trast, i. Trust, Is an Immunity, whereby a Man is freed from his Attendance on the Lord of a Forest, when he is disposed to chase within the Forest, and shall not be compelled to hold a Dog, follow the Chase, nor stand at a Place appointed, which otherwise he might be, under Pains of Amercia-ment. Manwood, part 1. pag. 86. Et sint quieti, &c. de Chearing, Hondperry, Buckfall, & Tristis, & de omnibus misericordiis, &c. Privileg. de Semplingham, 4 Inst. f. 306.

Trithing-Reve, The Third Part of a County, or Three or more Hundreds or Wapentacks, were called a Triding or Trithing, such Sort of Portions are the Latbs in Kent, the Rapes in Suffex, and the Ridings in Yorkshire. And those who governed these Trithings, were thereupon called Trithing-Reves, before whom were brought all Causes that could not be determined in the Wapentakes, or Hundreds. See Spelman of the ancient Government of England, pag. 52.

Tristiga Was the uppermost Room in a House; a Garret or Room Three Stories high. 'Tis mentioned in Mat. Paris. anno 1247. Habebat nempe in ipsa navis, sicut de arca Noe legitur, diverticula & Tristegas, cameras & conclavia.

Triumvir, A Trithing-Man, or Constable of Three Hundreds. — Nec mora adest Thord. cum Centurionibus & Triumviris & Praconibus. Hist. Eliens. cap. 42.

Tronage, Tronagium, Is a Custom or Toll taken for weighing of Wool. Fleta, lib. 2. cap. 12. Sect. Item, Ulnas, says, That Trona is a Beam to weigh with, mentioned in Westm. 2. cap. 25. See Pesage. Monasticon, 1 Tom. 976. Et sint quieti de omni pascagio, picagio, terragio, tronagio, portagio. And indeed Tronage was used not only for the Custom or Toll in the Weight of Wool, but for the Weighing of it in a Staple or Publick Mart, by a common Trona or legal Standard. This Trona or Beam for the Tronage of Wool, was fixed at Leaden-Hall in London.

Tronator, From Trona, i. statera, An Officer in the City of London, who weighs the Wool that is brought thither. See his Oath in the Book of Oaths, f. 231.

Troper, Troperium, Troparium, A Book of alternate Turns or Responses in singing Mass, called by Lindewode, Liber sequentiarum. Thomas Becket Archbishop of Canterbury pleaded — Nulla justitia defuit Johanni in curia mea, sed ipse (nescio curia) consilio, an propria voluntatis motu) attulit in curia mea quandam Troper, (it ought to be Troper) & juravit super illam, quod ipse pro defectu justitie a curia mea recessit — R. de Hoveden Hist. p. 283.

Trober Cometh of the French Trouver; i. invenire, is an Action which a Man hath against one, that having found any of his Goods, refuseth to deliver them upon Demand. See the New Book of Entries, verb. Trover. Actions of Detinue are of late much turned into Actions upon the Case. Sur Trover & Conversion, Preface to Roll's Abridgement.

Troy-weight, (Pondus Troje.) See Weight. 'Tis called Troy-weight, from Troyes, a City in Champaigne, from whence it first came to be used here.

Truga, Truega, Fr. Trucie, a Sow. — dedi terram cum restauramento unius porcaria de decem truis & uno verre — In another Charter — de decem suis & uno verre. Cartular. Abbat. Radings. MS. fol. 93. b.

Trug, or Trug-Corn. Tres Trug frumenti vel avena faciunt 2 Bushels infra Præbendam de Hunder-ton in Ecclesia Heref. MS. de temp. E. 3. In the black Book of Hereford we find Truga frumenti for that Measure of Wheat. And at Lempster, at this Day, the Vicar has Trug-Corn allowed him for officiating at some Chapels of Ease (as Stoke and Docklay.) within that Parish. Haply it may come from the Sax. Trog, which signifies a great hollow Vessel or Trough.

Truncus, A Trunk or wooden Box, set in Churches to receive the Oblations of pious and well disposed People; of which, in the Times of Popery, there were many at several Altars and Images, like the Boxes, which since the Reformation, have been placed nigh the Church-door, to receive all voluntary Contributions for the Poor. — Collectum Jerusalemitanorum usibus destinandum truncus in singulis Ecclesiis adacta sera conclusit. Rad. de Dico sub anno 1166. These customary free-will Offerings that were dropt into these Trunks or Boxes, made up a good Part of the Endowment of Vicars before the Reformation, and thereby, as in many other Respects, made their Condition then better, than in later Times. In the Ordination of the Vicaridge of Lancaster, by Henry Bouvet Archdeacon of Richmond, 1 March 1430. — Vicarius habebit panis benedicti emolumenta secundum consuetudinem dictæ parochialis Ecclesiæ de Lancaster. Oblationes quascunque ad truncos tam in dicta Ecclesia de Lancaster quam alibi infra parochiam ipsius Ecclesiæ factas. — Collectan. Matth. Hutton, S. T. P. ex Registris Archid. Richmond. MS.

Trussa, A Truss or Bundle. Among the customary Services done by the Tenants in Chelesworth. — In vigilia S. Edmundi mittent pro infirmis in Elemosynaria sex rationabiles trussas straminis, & in vigilia Natalis Domini sex trussas, & in vigilia Pasche sex trussas. Ex Cartular. S. Edmundi. MS. f. 410.

Tucrobis Fluvius. Twy in Wales.

Tucsis. Berwick upon Tweed.

Tufta, A Cottage. Omniibus, &c. Henricus Parvulus de Sancto Eadundo salutem. — Concessit redditum meum de Ricardo Pibot Spicero viii. den. per annum, pro tufta sua ubi manet. — & de Rogero Filio Ricardo Carpentarii iiii. fol. per ann. pro tufta sua ubi manet in Hofenemansfetre. — Ex Cartular. S. Edmundi, MS. f. 188.

Tug, Ropes or Harness, or Traces for drawing, from Sax. getogar, to tug, or pull, or draw. In feramentis ad carucae emptis iiii. fol. ii. den. in carucae per vias emendandis iv. den. in jugis & tuggis ad idem cottis ix. den. — Consuetud. domus de Farendon. MS. fol. 16.

Tumbrell, Tumbrellum, Turbicetum, Is an Engine of Punishment, which ought to be in every Liberty that hath View of Frank-pledge, for the Correction of Scolds and unquiet Women. Kitchin, fol. 13. See Cuckingsfoot, New Book of Entries, Francise 2. Et quo warra. 1. Item si aliquis qui in libertatem nostram, per assensum & consensum Com-burgensium nostrorum admittitur fuerit, fecerit aliquod delictum, per quod ad poenam publicam seu vile Judi-cium, ut ad Colligrium vel tumbrellum, vel aliquod aliud hujusmodi adjudicatus fuerit, pro perjuro reputabitur, & ipso facto amittet libertatem suam. MS. Codex de Leg. Stat. & consueud. Burgi villæ Mont-gom. fol. 11.

Tun, Ton, In the End of Words or Names of Places, signify a Town, Village, or Dwelling-place. From the Sax. Tun, Sepe, Vallum, Villa, Vicus, Oppidum: And this from the Sax. Dun, i. e. an Hill, where they formerly built Towns.

Tun, (Tunnell.) Is a Measure of Oil or Wine, containing Twelve-score and Twelve Gallons, or Four Hogheads. Anno 1 R. 3. c. 12. 2 H. 6. cap. 11. and 12 Car. 2. cap. 14. A Tun of Timber is 40 solid Feet; a Load 50. Ex dono Will. de Braosa unum Tunnellum vini rubri de tribus modis & dimid. in villa de S. ad Missas celebrandas. Mon. Angl. 3 Par. f. 8. a.

Tun-græpe, (Sax. Tingereva, i. e. villa præpositus.) a Reeve or Bailiff. Qui in villis & qua dici-mus Maneris Domini personam sustinet, ejusque vice omnia disponit & moderatur. Spelman.

Tunnage, alias Tonnage, (Tunnagium and Tonnagium.) is a Custom or Impoit due for Merchandise brought or carried in Tuns, and such like Vessels, from or to other Nations, after a certain Rate for every Tun. Anno 12 H. 4. ca. 5. 6 H. 8. c. 14. 1 Ed. 6. ca. 13. 1 Jac. ca. 33. & 12 Car. 2. cap. 4. It is sometimes used for a Duty due to the Mariners for unloading their Ships arrived in any Havens, after the Rate of so much a Tun. Tonnage and Poundage began in the 45th of Edward the Third. Cottoni Posthuma, fol. 172. See 4 Inst. fol. 32.

Tunnocellum, Tinnouth.

Turbagium, Et decimam de Turbagio de una Snathfeld. 1 Mon. fol. 632. b. A Place where Turfs are digged; or the Liberty of digging Turfs.

Turbary, Turbaria, From turba, an obsolete Latin Word for a Turf: Is a Right to dig Turfs on another Man's Ground. Kitchin, fol. 94. And Common of Turbary is a Liberty which some Tenants have by Prescription to dig on the Lord's Waste. Turbaria is also taken sometimes for the Ground where Turfs are digged. And you shall find an Assise brought of Common of Turbary in 5 Aff. Pl. 9. & 7 E. 3. fol. 43. They likewise used turbs for the Turf, and Turbarius for the Turfary. John de Gray, Bishop of Norwich, grants the Monks of that Church this Liberty within his Manor of Elmhām, Ut fodiant per visum & liberationem servientium illius turbos in turbariis ejus, in usis necessariis in domo sua propria apud Elmhām sine waste turbariis & sine omni venditione turbarum. Ex Registr. Ecclesiæ Norwic.

Turking Is a Sort of Sky-coloured Cloth. 'Tis mentioned in the Statute 1 Ric. 2. cap. 8.

Turnerick, Turnevica, Is the Root of an Herb growing in Arabia, medicinal against divers Diseases in Horses, and sometimes used for a Man also in Case of the yellow Jaundice. It is reckoned among the garbleable Drugs, Anno 1 Jac. cap. 19.

Turn, Tourn, Is the Sheriffs Court kept Twice every Year, viz. Within a Month after Easter, and within a Month after Michaelmas. Magna Charta, cap. 35. and 3 E. 3. cap. 15. From this Court are exempted only Archbishops, Bishops, Abbots, Priors, Earls, Barons, all religious Men and Women, and all such as have Hundreds of their own to be kept. Anno 25 H. 3. cap. 10. Britton, cap. 29. calls it Tour, id est, ambitus, circuitus: It is a Court of Record in all Things that pertains to it. It is the King's Leet through all the Country, and the Sheriff is Judge, and this Court is incident to his Office. See Crompt. Jur. fol. 230. and 4 Inst. fol. 260. See Fleta, lib. 2 cap. 52. and Mirraur of Just. lib. 1. cap. de turnes. It is called the Sheriff's Turn, because he keeps a Turn or Circuit about his Shire, holding the same in several Places. Sir Jo. Dodridge's Hist. of Wales, fol. 50. See Setta Regalis.

Turnetum, Tornetum, A Tax or Acknowledgment paid to the Sheriff for holding his Turn or County-Court. — Abbas & Conventus & Homines sui sunt ubiq; quieti de torneto, sed quo Warranto nesciunt. — Cartular. Abbat. Glaston. MS. f. 87. a.

Turney, or Tournament, (French Tourney, i. e. Decurforium) Signifies a martial Exercise of Knights or Gentlemen fighting on Horseback one with another in Sport; and is thus defined, Torneamenta dicuntur nudine vel serie in quibus milites ex conditio convenire, & ad ostentationem virium suarum & audacie, temere congressi solent. This Word is used in the Statute 24 H. 8. cap. 13. but the Thing it self is now disused. But anciently was of such Note among us, that it was used as a Kind of Epoch in publick Writings; as, Habendum a Festo Sancti Michaelis proximum ante primum Tourneamentum fuit tempore Domini Regis Rich. Anno 1194. Charta penes Eliam Ashmole, Arm. These martial Exercises were very frequent in former Days. The Intent was only to enure Men for the Wars; for they fought with blunt Weapons, and in great Companies: For which Reason it differed from another warlike Exercise, Jufts; for that was a single Combat by one Man against another.

Turno Wiccomitum Is a Writ that lies for those that are called to the Sheriff's Turn out of their own Hundred. Reg. of Writs, fol. 173.

Turribulum, Thuribulum, The Incense Pot or Smoaking Pan of Frankincense, used in the publick Devotions of the Church of Rome. — Among the common Ornaments of every Parish-Church, before the Reformation, was — Turribulum cum navis. — Paroch. Antiq. p. 598. The Chorister or Boy who usually carried this Thurible, was called Puer thuribularis. And I have heard it a happy Conjecture of a most ingenious Friend, that a treble Voice in Musick was owing to the small and shrill Tone of the Thuribular or Incense-Boy. As the said Boy carrying a little tinkling Bell in one Hand, might possibly give the Name of Treble to the least Bell.

Turrite Signifies a Wood grubbed up, and turned to arable. Co. en Lit. fol. 4.

Twanights Geste, Hospes duarum noctium, If he did any Harm to any, his Host was not answerable for it, but himself. Hoveden part. poster. succ. annal. fol. 345. See Third Night's acene-binde.

Twelfthmou, The same with Tbanus. Amongst the English Saxons every Man was valued at a certain Price; and where an Injury was done either to the Person or Goods, a pecuniary Mult was imposed, and paid in Satisfaction of that Injury, according to the Worth and Quality of the Person to whom it was done. And all Men were ranked into three Classes, which see in Hindena: Those who were worth 1200s. were called Twelfthindi; and if an Injury was done to him, Satisfaction was to be made according to his Worth.

Twelve Men, Duodecim homines legales, Otherwise called the Fury or Enquest, is a Number of Twelve Persons, or upwards, to the Number of Twenty-four, by whose Oath as to Matter of Fact all Trials pass, both in Civil and Criminal Causes, through all Courts of the Common Law in this Realm. First, in Civil Causes, when Proof is made of the Matter in Question, then the Point of the Fact (that they are to give their Verdict upon) is delivered likewise unto them, which we call the Issue; then they are put in mind of their Oath to do Right, and are by the Judges, who sum up the Evidence, sent out of the Court by themselves, to consider upon the Evidence on both Sides, until they be agreed, which done, they return to the Court, and deliver their Verdict by the Mouth of their Foreman; according to which (if the Matter be not arrested or stay'd by the Court) the Judgment passeth. See Glanville, lib. 2. c. 14, 15. In Causes criminal there are Two Sorts of Enquests, one called the Grand Enquest, the other the Enquest of Life and Death. The Grand Enquest is so called, either because it consists of Sixteen at the least, or else because all Causes Criminal or Penal pass first through them; whereas the other Enquest is especially appointed for one or few Matters touching Life and Death committed to their Consideration. Those of the Grand Enquest are called by Bracton, Duodecim milites, lib. 3. tract. 2. cap. 1. num. 2. Because they were wont to be Knights, if so many could be had: And their Business is to receive all Presentments of any Offence, and accordingly to give their Opinion generally, either by writing these Words, Billa vera, upon the Bill of Presentment, which is an Indictment of the Party presented; or else this Word Ignoramus, which is doubting of the Fact presented. Now as Criminal Causes be of Two Sorts, either capital or finable, so is there a double Course of these Indictments; for in Causes only finable, the Party indicted must either traverse the Indictment by denying it, and so it is referred to a Petit Fury, whereby he is either convicted or discharged of the Crime; or else if he confess it, the Court setteth a Fine upon him without more ado. But in Matters of Life and Death, the Party indicted is commanded to hold up his Hand, and answer, Guilty or Not Guilty; if Guilty, he standeth convicted by his own Confession; if Not Guilty, he is farther referred to the Jury of Life and Death, who consider upon the Proof brought against the Prisoner, and accordingly bring in their Verdict; according to which he is either condemned or acquitted. Of this read more in Indictment, Assise, Fury. See the the Stat. 35 H. 8. cap. 6. & 37 H. 8. 22. 2 E. 6. 32. and 5 Eliz. cap. 25.

Twelthende, Twibende, Twybind, Twybindman. Under our Saxon Government all Persons had such an Estimate or Value put upon their Heads, according to their Quality or Degree, and according to such Estimation were reduced to their distinct Classes, Rank or Order. The lowest Order was that of the Ceorls or Husbandmen, who were valued at 200 Shillings, and called Twibunde-men: The Middle, that of the lesser Thanes or Free-holders, who were valued at 600 Shillings, and thence called Syrbundemen. The Highest, that of the Thanes or Noblemen, who were rated at 1200 Shillings, and called Twelfsbundemen. For which, see the Laws of King Alfred, cap. 12, 30, 31, 32. and of King H. 1. cap. 76. and 87. — Siqua Lucia vel ordinata persona, aut eorum quispiam, qui patria lingua Twelthende vel Twibende nominatur, aliquam adversus Ecclesiam hanc voluisset calumniam machinari. Hist. Ramef. Edit. Gale, cap. 57.

Tyhtlan, Accusation, Impeachment, or Charge of any Trespass or Offence. As in the Laws of King Ethelred, cap. 2. Nec componat aliquis pro ulla tyhtlan, si non interstet testimonium Prepositi Regis. There is a Mistake in the Laws of King Canute, as published by Brompton, cap. 56. Siquis amicis destitutus vel alienigena ad tantum laborem venerit, ut plegium non habeat, in prima thilac (it ought to be tyhtlan) id est, accusatione ponatur in carcerem, & ibi sustineat donec ad Dei iudicium eat.

Tylwith Is a British Word signifying, Familia, Famulitium, Tribus, and is derived either from Tyle, i. e. locus ubi stetit domus vel locus edificanda domus aptus, or else from Tylath, which signifies Trabs, tignus: In the first Derivation it signifies a Place whereon to build a House, and in the second a Beam in the Building. And Tylwith is a Tribe or Family branching or issuing forth of another, which we in our English Heraldry call Second or Third Houses: So that in Case the great paternal Stock branched it self into several Tylwiths, or Houses, they carry no second or younger House his Tylwith farther; and the Use of these Tylwiths was to shew not only the Originals of Families, as if their Work had been merely to run over a Pedigree, but the several Distinctions and Distances of Birth, that in Case any Line should make a Failure, the next in Degree may make an unconfounded Use of their Interest, according to the Rules of Partition in Gavelkind.

Tympber of Skins Is Forty Skins. Book of Rates, fol. 18.

Tympeny, Abbas & Monachi Rading. — sint quieti de tributis & lassagiis & stallagiis, de Thething-peny & Tympeny, de summonitionibus de assisis & super assisis, &c. In Memorand. Scac. de Anno 20 E. 3. int. Record. de Trin. Rot. 3. It is elsewhere written Tympeny. Mon. Ang. 1 par. fol. 419.

Tyne, — Puer quidam submersus in vase aquario quod Gallice Tyne vocatur.

Liber de Miraculis Tho. de Cantilupe, Episcop. Hereford. MS. penes D. D. Will. Glynn Baronetum.

Tythtes. See Tithes.

Tythla. See Tibla.

V.

V Is a numeral Letter, and stands in reckoning for Five; and among the ancient Romans was usually written alone as a Prenomen, as M. V. for Marcus Valerius, and the like; whereof, among Latin Writers, you may find plentiful Examples.

Vacaria, A void Place, or waste Ground. — Dedimus omnia dominica nostra sunt in Com. Lanc. cum vacariis & forestis de Wirefdale & Lounfdale. Memorand. in Scacc. Mich. 9 Ed. 1. by Sir John Maynard.

Vacation, Vacatio, Is all the respective Time betwixt the End of one Term and the Beginning of another. When such Times began and ended in our Ancestor's Days, see Roger Hoveden's Annals, part. poster. fol. 343. where you shall find that this Intermision was called Pax Dei & Ecclesie. Also the Time from the Death of a Bishop, or other Spiritual Person, till the Bishoprick, or other Dignity, be supplied with another, is called Vacation. Westm. 1. cap. 21. & 14 E. 3. cap. 4, 5. See Plenary and Non-Term.

Vacatura, A Voidance, or Vacancy, of any Ecclesiastical Benefice that shall hereafter happen. As prima vacatura, the first Voidance, proxima vacatura, &c.

Vacra lactaria, A Milch-Cow. — Et preterea ad tres vacas lactarias & ad unum Palefridum in mea dominica pastura. Reg. Priorat. de Wormley, MS. f. 49.

Vaccar, alias Vaccary, (Vaccaria, al. Vaccaria, Vacbiria, and Vacheria) Is a House or Place to keep Cows in. Fleta, lib. 2. cap. 41. Domus sive locus quo vaccæ aluntur, vel quo negotium quod ad eas attinet perficitur. Spelm. a Dairy-House or Cow-Pasture. Without Warrant, no Subject may have a Vaccary within the Forest. Crompt. Jur. fol. 194. But in the Stat. 37 Hen. 8. cap. 16. Vaccary seems to be a special Name of a certain Compas of Ground within the Forest of Aldowen. And we read of the Vaccary of Wyresdale in Com. Lanc. Rot. Fin. 35 Edw. 3. m. 23.

Vaccarius, The Cow-herd, or Herds-man, who looks after the common Herd of Cows. See his Office described in Fleta, lib. 2. cap. 2. This Officer is still in French called Vacher.

Vachivia, A Vachary, a Dairy. — Dedit eis unam carrucatam terræ. & unam vachiviam de 40 vaccis cum sēsa earum per tres annos, & pasturam ad 500 Oves cum sēsa earum per tres annos. Mon. Angl. Tom. 3. p. 15.

Vadium, Wages, Salary, or other Reward of Service upon Compact or Covenant. — Philippus Episcopus Elien. &c. Noveritis nos concessisse Waltero Farnham — officium custodis palatii nostri Elien. & 11 denarios per diem pro vadiis suis pro officio supradicto. Dat. 1. Apr. 7. H. 6. — Ex Cartulario Eccl. Elien. MS. penes Joh. Episc. Norwic. f. 56.

Vader Vadium ponere, To take Security, Bail, or Pledges for the Appearance of a Delinquent in some Court of Justice. — Edwardus Rex Vicecomiti Oxen. Salutem, Præcipimus tibi sicut alias tibi præcepimus quod ponas per vadium & saluos plegios Johannem de Burey. Paroch. Antiquit. pag. 334.

In Vadio exponere, To pawn, or leave any Equivalent as a Pledge or Surety of returning Money borrowed or owing: In vadium ponere, has the same Sense.

Vadium mortuum, Literally a Mortgage, Lands or immovable Goods so pawned or engaged to the Creditor, that he has a Right to the mean Profits for the Use of his Loan or Debt. See Glanville, lib. 10. cap. 8.

Vadiare duelum, To wage a Combat; that was when a Person challenged any other to decide a Controversy by Camp-Fight or Duel, and threw down a Gauntlet, or the like Sign of Defiance, which if the other took up, this was vadiare duelum, as it were to give and take a mutual Pledge of fighting.

Vadiat Seems to be the same with Valeat. A tous ceus que cetes lettres verront ou orrent Gilbert Talbot salut en dieu. Sachez moy aver assignez & plein poer done a mon cher Vadiat, Johan de Lunhales de purchaser en mon non dis Livres de terre a lestante en Comte de Hereford, & la seisine la terre reserver & en mon non continuer, tanquil eit autre mandement de moy. En tesmoigniane, &c. dat. 10 Martii. 1 Ed. 3. Ex Regist. Priorat. de Wormley penes Edw. Harleley, mil. Balnei.

Vadium, A Ford, or wading Place, and are to ford or wade over. Vadibilis, fordable or passable. But I have seen it thus used. — Et quod homines sui faciant fidelitatem ad Vadum Paris predicti R. Carta antiqua.

Waga, The River Medway.

Vagabond, (Vagabundus) One that wanders about, and has no certain dwelling; an idle Fellow. Rogues, Vagabonds, and sturdy Beggars, mentioned in divers Statutes. — De Vagabundis & aliis hominibus mendicantibus, qui se nominant Travelyng-men, &c. Carta 22 Hen. 6. m. 34. n. 36. Item utimur, quod nullus Vagabundus vagetur seu deambulet de nocte in villa seu suburbio ejusdem post pulsationem Campana nostra communis, vocata Coverfus; & si aliquis ibidem capiat post pulsationem dicta Campana, ducatur ad Gaolam Domini Regis, & ibi morabitur usque in crastinum, ut notitia persone sue habeatur, & emendas faciat ad voluntatem Ballivorum & Comburgensium, & per Ballivos Capitales liberetur, si hoc petat. MS. Codex de Legibus & Statutis Burgi-villæ Mountgomer. a tempore Hen. 2.

Vagantes For Vacantes. Concilium Worm. cap. 32. De Episcopis & Presbyteris Vagantibus qui Parochias non habent, &c. So Vagantes terra are forsaken and uncultivated Lands.

Wage. See Waga.

Vagapalantes, The same with Vagans. Leg. H. 1. cap. 83. Si quis in hostem suum incidat vel Vagipalantem, &c.

Vagnitæ, Maidstone in Kent.

Valet, Valet, or Vadelact, Vadiat and Valler, (Valeatus vel valecta. Qui juxta dominum vadit seu ministrat. French Valet.) A Servitor, or Gentleman of the Privy-Chamber, according to Cambden. But Selden (in his Titles of Honour, fol. 831.) says, Valets antiently signified the young Heirs which were to be Knighted, or young Gentlemen of great Descent or Quality, but now attributed to those of the Rank of Yeomen. In the Accounts of the Inner Temple it is used for a Benchers Clerk, or Servant; the Butlers of the House corruptly call them Valets. In Reg. of Writs, 25. b. Valetus. If the Sheriff be a Vadclekt of the Crown, &c. Coke on Littl. fol. 156. Sciunt—

Quod ego Henricus Comes Lancastrie, Leicestr. & Nichol. Senescallus Anglia Dedimus — Dilecto Valetto nostro Johanni le Blount novem acras terre cum pertin. in Holland in Foresta nostra de Duffeld, &c. Dat. apud Hegham Ferrers 3 die Junii 5 Ed. 3. Penes Wal. Kirkham Blount, Bar.

Valet Was antiently a Name specially denoting young Gentlemen, though of great Descent or Quality, but now given to those of the Rank of Yeomen. Selden's Titles of Honour, fol. 831. De dominabus & de Valetis & puellis, quæ sunt vel esse debent in donatione Regis, & de valetis terrarum suarum; & si quis eorum vel earum sit maritatus, &c. Bracton, lib. 3. Tra& de conn. cap. 1. par. 3. So in the same Chapter, De valetis integrum feodum militis habentibus, which shews that valetti were the Sons of Men of Quality. So Forscene in Land. Leg. Anglie, cap. 29. Sunt valeti plurimi in regione illa qui plusquam sexcenta scuta expendere possunt, &c.

Valentia, i. e. The Value or Price of any Thing. Malmesbury in vita, S. Adhelmi, cap. 10. Hoveden, pag. 783. See Value.

Valestheria, i. e. The Kindred of the Slain, one on the Father's Side, and another on the Mother's Side, to prove that he was a Welshman: It is mentioned in Statuto Wallie, Anno 12 E. 1. cap. 4. Proxima 4 villata propinquiores loco, ubi casus homicidii contigerit, veniant ad proximum Comitatum una cum inventore & Valestheria, i. e. parentale interfecit, & ibi presentent factum feloniam, &c.

Wallum, The Pitts Wall.

Value, Valentia, Valor, Is a known Word, yet West in his Symbol, part 2. Tit. Inditments, sect. 70. nicely distinguishes between Value and Price: His Words are these: The Value of those Things in which Offences are committed, is usually comprised in Inditments, which seems necessary in Theft to make a Difference from Petit Larceny, and in Trespass to aggravate the Fault, and increase the Fine: but no Price of Things feræ nature, may be expressed, as of Deer, Hares, &c. if they be not in Parks and Warrens, which is a Liberty. Anno 8 E. 4. fol. 5. nor of Charters of Land. And where the Number of the Things taken are to be expressed in the Inditment, as of young Doves in a Dove-house, young Hawks in a Wood, there must be said (pretii) or (ad valentiam) but of divers dead Things ad valentiam, and not pretii; of Coin not current it shall be pretii; but of Coin current it shall neither be said pretii nor ad valentiam, for the Value and Price thereof is certain.

Value of Marriage, Valore maritagii, Was a Writ that lay for the Lord, having proffered covenable Marriage to the Infant, without Disparagement, if he refused to take the Lord's Offer, to recover the Value of the Marriage. Reg. Orig. fol. 164. Old Nat. Brev. fol. 90. See Palmer's Case, Co. lib. 5. f. l. 126. and the Statute 12 Car. 2. cap. 24.

Vang, He vanged for me at the Vant, i. e. he stood for me at the Font. The Word Vanga also signifies a military Weapon like a Spade. Gervas. Dorob. Anno 1198. Unde factum est ut rustici imperiti Vangis & fossariis assueti, armis militariibus gloriantur inviti, &c.

Vana, In the Ordination of the Vicarage of Ayskerth, made 27 Apr. 1423. — Vicarius percipiet — 16 acras terre in campis de Ayskerth prope eandem Ecclesiam constitutas, prout jacent in eisdem campis de Ayskerth simul in longitudine ab extremitate orientali orientali de le Mankefete versis occidentem & le Gille usque vanam fere usque ad Midilkenel in le Sour myre eynges, &c. Collectan. Math. Hutton, S. T. P. ex Registris Archid. Richmond.

Vantarius, Prætor, As Vantarius Regis, the King's Fore-footman: Richardus Rothe miles tenebat terras Seatonie per Serjantiam esse Vantarium Regis in Gasoigne, donec perussus fuit pavi solutarum pretii 4 d. i. dum trivisset par calceorum pretii 4 d. Rot. de finibus, Term. Mich. 2 Ed. 2.

Vannys, Saxon Fana. Latin Vannus. A Fane or Vane, a versatile Ornament on the Top of a House, or other Building, to shew the turning and sitting of the Wind. — Cum duobus ventilogiis, videlicet, vannys de Tyn emptis de fabro de Oerlton ponendis sciper utrumque finem predicti dormitorii v. fol. ii den. Paroch. Antiquit. pag. 575.

Vares, i. e. Mus pecticus, Whose Skin is good Fur.

Et quas huc mittit varias Hungaria pelles.

It is mentioned in Hoveden, pag. 642. Et quod nullus post proximum pascha utatur Vario, vel grisso, vel sabellino, vel escarlata.

Wargi. See Wargi. Persons outlawed, who live by Robbery. Cambden in his Britannia, tells us, that the Britons called a Rogue or Robber Verjad, from whence this Word proceeds.

Variance, Variatio, Signifies an Alteration, or Change of Condition, after a Thing done: As the Commonalty of a Town make a Composition with an Abbot, and after obtain Bailiffs by Grant from the King. In this Case, if the Abbot commence any Suit for Breach of the Composition, he must vary from the Word (Commonalty) set down in the Composition, and use Bailiffs and Commonalty. Bro. Tit. Variance, fol. 292. It is also used for an Alteration of something formerly laid in a Plea. See Variance in the New Book of Entries.

Wargis, Bodvay in Flinthshire.

Warkets, By a repealed Statute of 20 Rich. 2. cap. 2. were used for Yeomen or Yeomen-Servants. See Valests, and the Statute 3 Car. 1. cap. 4. Will. Hunt Varleſt del Chambre nostre Seigneur le Roy. Chauf. 12 R. 2. M. 43. in Dorso. I suppose it mis-written for Valet.

Wasset, Vaslettus, Seems to signify a Ward, as appears by a Par. 1 H. 3. in Dorso M 13. Concordia inter Regem & Radulphum de Normavill, viz. quod Rad. tenebat in servitio Regis Geroldum & Radulphum milites filios suos, quamdiu guerra sua duraverit, per sic, quod Rex ei remittat 100 Marcas quas debebant Regi Johanni de fine pro redemptione dicti Geroldi & per sic deberetur; Thomas filius dicti Radulphi Vaslettus in custodia Regis, qui similiter morabatur in servitio Regis cum predictis Geroldo & Radulpho fratribus suis.

Vassal, Vassallus Signifies him that holds Land in Fee of his Lord, we call him more usually a Tenant in Fee, whereof some owe Fidelity and Service, and are called Vassalli Furtati. Skene de verbis. signif. verb. Ligeantia, saith, that Vassallus is divided into Homologum & non Homologum. Homologus is he that sweareth Service with Exception of a higher Lord, and non Homologus is he that sweareth without Exception, all one with Ligeus. And the same Author, verb. Vassallus, saith, that it is Vassallus quasi Bassallus, i. inferior socius, because the Vassal is inferior to his Master, and must serve and reverence him; and yet he is in a Manner his Companion, because each of them is obliged to the other.

Wasseleria, Vassalage, or Tenure of Vassals.

Wast Is a Writ that lies for the Heir against the Tenant for Term of Life, or of Years, for making Waste; or for him in the Reversion or Remainder. F. N. B. fol. 55. Reg. Orig. fol. 72. & 76. and Reg. Judic. fol. 17, 21, 23, & 69. Vide 6 E. 1. cap. 5.

Wastum, A Waste or Common lying open to the Cattle of all Tenants who have a Right of Commoning. — Thomas de Fekenham debet Regi quinque marcas & unum palefridum, sic quod inquisitio fiat utrum membrum illud de manerio de Brubal, quod idem Thomas tenet, debeat participare de vasto manerii de Brubal ratione communis ejusdem manerii in quo communi nihil habent ut dicunt. Paroch. Antiqu. p. 171.

Wastum foreste vel bosci, That Part of a Forest or Wood, wherein the Trees and Underwood were so destroyed, that it lay in a Manner Waste and Barren. Sciatis quod de vastis nostris in foresta nostra de Bernewode in Com. Buck. dedimus, &c. Paroc. Antiq. p. 351. Si boscus Domini de Pidinton abeat in vastum, tum acquiescant Dominum pro dictis housbote & heybote. Ibid. p. 497.

Wabaso, alias Wabaso, Is one that in Dignity is next to Baron. Cambd. Brit. pag. 109. Bracton, lib. 1. cap. 8. says thus of them, — Sunt & alii potentes Regni, qui dicuntur Barones, hoc est, robur Belli: Sunt & alii qui dicuntur Vavasores, viri magne dignitatis. Vavasor enim nihil melius dici poterit quam vas sortitum ad valetudinem. And Cambd. pag. 188. says, Primis etiam Normannorum temporibus & Thani proximi a Comitibus in dignitate censebantur, & Valvatores majores (si illis qui de feudis scribunt, credimus) iidem fuerunt Barones. — Rex, &c. Ballivis Petri de Pratellis de Insula Gersie & Gernse, &c. volumus — quod Episcopi, Abbat, Abbatiss, Clerici, Milites, Vavasores, & alii qui redditus & tenementa habent in insula Gersie, &c. quintam partem reddituum suorum unius anni, &c. prebeant ad sustentandum milites & sercientes qui predictas Insulas defendunt. Pat. 5 Reg. Johannis, m. 7. See more largely of these in Spelman's Glossary.

Wabaso, Vavassoria, The Lands that a Vavassor held — Quod dicitur de Baronia non est observandum in Vavassoria vel aliis minoribus feodis quam Baronia, quia caput non habent sicut Baronia. Bract. lib. 2. cap. 39.

Wautrier, (Fr. Vaultrier, Lat. Veltrarius) A Man that leads a Lime-hound or Grey-hound for the Chase, a Huntsman. Esch. 34 Edw. 1. m. 37. Karr. Hence our corrupted Word Fenterer, for a Dog-keeper.

Wéal Money, or Wéal Noble Money. The Tenants of one of the Tithings within the Manor of Bradford in Wiltshire, pay a yearly Rent by this Name to their Lord, the Marquess of Winchester, which is in Lien of Wéal paid formerly in Kind.

Wereda Fluvius, The River Were in the Bishoprick of Durham.

Wesours, Visores, May be derived from the French Voir, videre, intueri, are such as are sent by the Court to take View of any Place in Question, for the better Decision of the Right. Old Nat. Brev. fol. 112. So likewise Bracton uses it, lib. 5. traſt. 3. cap. 8. It signifies also such as are sent to view those that esloin themselves de malo lecti, whether they be in Truth so sick as they cannot appear, or whether they counterfeit. Bract. lib. 5. traſt. 2. cap. 10 & 14. Lastly, It is used for those that are appointed to view an Offence, as a Man murdered, or a Virgin ravished. See View.

Veltraria, Ministerium de Veltraria, The Office of Dog-leader or Courser. — Henricus de la Mura reddit computum de 28 l. 6 s. 8 d. pro ministerio Patris sui de Veltraria. Rot. Pip. 5 Steph.

Veltrarius, One who leads Greyhounds, which Dogs in Germany are called Welters, in Italy Veltro's, in France Viantres, Vautres. — Bertram de Criol tenuit manerium de Setene in Com. Cant. per servitium inveniendi unum Veltrarium qui tres canes duceret in Vasconiam quoties Rex transfretaret. — Blount of Tenures, pag. 9. The corrupted Word Fenteur is still in some Parts of England used for a Dog-keeper.

Velum quadragesimale, A Veil or Piece of Hanging drawn before the Altar in Lent, as a Token of Mourning and Sorrow. — Item ad quodlibet altare, cum contigerit missam inibi celebrari, sint superpellicea duo, & unum rochetum; velum quadragesimale, velum nuptiale, palla mortuorum, &c. Synod. Exon. anno 1217. cap. 12.

Veneria Are those Beasts which are caught in the Woods by hunting. Leg. Canut. cap. 108. Et omnis sit venatione sua dignus in nemore, &c. & abfinea ab omnibus venariis Regis, &c.

Venatio, The Word was sometimes used for the Exercise of Hunting, but more often for the Prey taken, or Venison. If any hunted without License within the Liberties of the King's Forests, a severe Penalty was imposed at the next Swainmote; which Fines and Amercements were not allowed to the Forester, but commonly reserved to the King. So when William Fitz-Nigel enjoyed several Privileges as Forester of Berruode, it was — Exceptis Indictamentis de viridi & venatione, que Domino Regi omnino reservabantur. — Paroch. Antiq. p. 73.

Venditioni erroneas Is a Writ Judicial, directed to the Under-Sheriff, commanding him to sell Goods which he hath formerly by Commandment taken into his Hands, for the satisfying a Judgment given in the King's Court. Reg. Judic. fol. 33. and anno 14 Car. 2. cap. 21.

Venditionis Regis, The King's Seller or Salesman; the Person who exposed to Sale those Goods and Chattels which were seised or distrained to answer any Debt due to the King. — Philippus de Lardiner clamat esse Venditorem Domini Regis de feodo in Com. Ebor. de omnibus rebus que vendi debent pro debito Domini Regis, vel etiam pro Auro Regine: Ita, videlicet, quod ipse vel certus suus Attornatus ibit ad mandatum Vicecomitis de loco in locum infra Com. sumptibus suis ad predictas venditiones faciendas; & capiat de unaquaque venditione pro feodo suo xxxii den. Quo Warrant. Ebor. temp. Ed 1. Which Liberty was afterwards seised into the King's Hands for the Abuse thereof, as appears by the great Roll in the Pipe-Office. Anno 2 Ed 2.

Venella Is a narrow or strait Way: It is mentioned in the Monast. 1 Tom. pag. 408. Que quidam terra incipit ad caput cuiusdam venellæ que quondam jacuit, &c.

Veneti, North-Wales.

Venia Is a Kneeling or low Prostration on the Ground used by Penitents. Walsingham, pag. 196. Rege interim prostrato in longa venia.

Per venias Centum verrunt barbis pavimentum.

Venire facias Is a Writ Judicial directed to the Sheriff, and goeth out of the Record, and lies where Two Parties plead, and come to Issue; for then the Party, Plaintiff or Defendant, shall have this Writ directed to the Sheriff, to cause Twelve Men of the same County, to say the Truth upon the Issue taken. And if this Enquest come not at the Day of the Writ returned, then shall go a Habeas Corpus, and after a Distress, until they come. Old Nat. Brev. fol. 157. See how diversly this Writ is used in the Table of the Register Judicial. There is also a Writ of this Name, that is Original, as appears in Reg. Orig. fol. 200. Which Lamb. in his Processus annexed to his Eirenarcha, says is the common Process upon any Presentment, not being Felony, nor specially appointed for the Fault presented by Statute, whereof he sets down an Example in the same Place. See also the New Book of Entries, verb. Enquest, fol. 253. and 35 Hen. 8. cap. 5.

Venire facias tot matronas. See Ventre inspicendo, and Lamb. Eirenarcha, lib. 4. cap. 14. p. 532.

Venitarium, The Hymn-Book or Pfalter, wherein the Psalm Venite exultemus Domino was wrote with musical Notes, as it was to be sung at the Beginning of Matins. In the Statutes of the Cathedral Church of St. Paul's in London it was ordained, Ut Vicarii de novo recepti & in posterum recipiendi singulis diebus infra annum probationis sue unum Nocturnum Pfalterii ita dicant & attente & ymptarium ac communem Sanctorum historiam, Invitatoria, & Venitarium, adeo diligenter interea repetant quod ea corde tenus otius habeant. Liber Stat. Eccl. Paul. MS.

Venenosus, Hibicrossi.

Venta Belgarum, Winchester.

Venta Glenozum, Caistor near Norwich.

Venta Silurum, Caerwent in Monmouthshire.

Ventoziun, A Wind-Fan for winnowing Corn.

— Idem computat in panno ad saccos & ad ventorum emptio iii fol. vi den. — Confuetud. donus de Farendon, MS. f. 16.

Ventre inspicendo Is a Writ for the Search of a Woman that saith she is with Child, and thereby with-holdeth Land from him that is next Heir at Law. Reg. Orig. fol. 227.

De Ventre inspicendo, Form and Process of it. Thomas de Aldham of Surrey, Brother of Adam de Aldham, claimed his said Brother's Estate, but Joan Widow of the said Adam pleaded she was with Child; whereupon the said Thomas obtained this Writ of the King to the Sheriff. — Quod assumptis tecum discretis & legalibus militibus & discretis & legalibus mulieribus de comitatu tuo in propria persona accedas ad ipsum Johannam, & ipsam a predictis mulieribus coram prefatis militibus videri facias, & diligenter tractari per ubera & per ventrem, & inquisitionem factam certificari facias sub sigillo tuo & sigillo duorum Militum Fustularii nostris apud Westm. T. M. de Pateshal apud West. xv Feb. Claus. 4 H. 3.

Ventrix, For Ventilatrix frumenti. Fleta, 2 lib. cap. 82.

Veneu or Veneth, Vinetum alias Visnetum, Is taken for a neighbouring Place, Locus quem vicini habitant. For Example, Twelve of the Assise ought to be of the same Veneu where the Demand is made. Old Nat. Brev. fol. 115. and Anno 4 H. 4. cap. 26. and 25 Hen. 8. cap. 6. And also shall return, in every such Place upon the Venire facias, Six sufficient Hundredors at the least, if there be so many within the Hundred where the Venue lies. See Vifne.

Venura Is a Coming or appearing in Court. Monast. 1 Tom. pag. 556. Et tenetur de venerabili patre Dunelmensi Episcopo in puram, &c. elemosynam, & pro una venura ad Curiam ipsius Episcopi, &c.

Veragium, Fleta, lib. 2. cap. 4. par. 4. Ejus est de omni prada bestiarum totam habere veragium, i. e. all the spotted Beasts.

Vert. See Vert.

Verdeur, Veridarius, From the French Verdeur, i. Custos, nemoris, is a judicial Officer of the King's Forest, chosen by the King's Writ in the full County of the same Shire, within the Forest where he dwells, and is sworn to maintain and keep the Assises of the Forest, and to view, receive and enrol the Attachments and Presentments of all Manner of Trespassers of Vert and Venison in the Forest. Manwood, part 1. pag. 332. His Office is properly to look to the Vert, and see it well maintained. Crompt. Jur. fol. 165. His Oath, Fee and Authority, you may see in Manwood, part 1. pag. 51. He is to sit in the Court of Attachment, to see the Attachments of the Forest, to receive the same of the Foresters and Woodwards that present them, and then to enter them into their Rolls.

Verdict, Verdictum, quasi dictum veritatis, Is the Answer of a Jury made upon any Cause, Civil or Criminal, committed by the Court to their Examination: And this is two-fold; General or Special; A general Verdict is that (Staundf. Pl. Cor. lib. 3. cap. 9.) which is given or brought into the Court in like general Terms to the general Issue; as in an Action of Disseisin, the Defendant pleadeth, no Wrong, no Disseisin; then the Issue is general, whether the Fact be a Wrong or not, which being committed to the Jury, they upon Consideration of their Evidence come in and say, either for the Plaintiff, that it is a Wrong and Disseisin; or for the Defendant, that it is no Wrong, no Disseisin. A special Verdict is, when they say at large, that such a Thing and such a Thing they find to be done by the Defendant or Tenant, so declaring the Course of the Fact, as in their Opinion it is proved; and as to the Law upon the Fact, they pray the Judgment of the Court: And this special Verdict, if it contain any ample Declaration of the Cause from the Beginning to the End, is also called a Verdict at large, whereof read Examples in Staundf. ubi supra. New Book of Entries, verb. Verdict, and Co. on Lit. f. 228. Item utimur, quod Balivi & Coronatores Burgi nostri usi fuerint & adduc utuntur recipere Verdictum Duodecim Juratorum ex quacunque causa infra Burgum nostrum prædictum seu ejus libertatem emergenti sive contingenti, Senescalli presentia nullo modo expellata. MS. Codex de LL. & Statutis, Burgi villæ Mountgomer, fol. 15.

Verrebot, A Packet-Boat, or Tranport-Vessel. — H. Prior Ecclesie Christi Cant. & Conventus concedunt severissime Domina A. Regina Anglie Consorti Domini Regis totam custodiam & redditum in villa & portu de Sandwic — Salvo nobis & nostris, item Abbati & Conventui S. Augustini Cant. & eorum familie libero passagio in portu prædicto in battello qua dicitur Verrebote, salvo insuper nobis, &c. Dat. anno 18 Ed. 1. Ex Registr. Ecclesie Christi Cant. MS.

Veretum, According to Domesday Book, signifies Fallow-ground.

Verecundium, Injury, Trespass, Damage. — Ex conventionione, ut ipse Calvellus & heredēs sui singulis annis dent cellerario 52 sol. pro omni ve, præter tres forisfacturas, id est, murdum & furtum, si ipse Calvellus vel heredēs sui fecerint, & præter si verecundium ipse vel heredēs sui fecerint Monachis Ecclesie vel servientibus eorum. — Somner of Gavelkind, p. 174.

Verge, Virgata, May seem to come from the French Verger, viridarium, and is used here in England for the Compass of the King's Court, which bounds the Jurisdiction of the Lord Steward of the King's Household, and of the Coroner of the King's House, and that seems to have been Twelve Miles Compass. Anno 13 Ric. 2. stat. 1. cap. 3. F. N. B. fol. 24. Britton, fol. 68, 69. Co. Rep. lib. 4. fol. 47. See also 33 H. 8. 12. Fleta, lib. 2. cap. 4. sect. 1. says, This Compass about the Court is called Virgata, a virga quam Mariballus portat ut signum sua potestatis. Verge hath also another Signification, and is used for a Strick or Rod, whereby one is admitted Tenant, and holding it in his Hand, swears Fealty to the Lord of a Manor, who for that Cause is called Tenant by the Verge. Old Nat. Brev. fol. 17. and Lit. lib. 1. cap. 10.

Verge of Land, Virgata terre, 28 Ed. 1. Statute of Wards. See Yard-land.

Vergers, Virgatores, Are such as carry white Wands before the Justices of either Bench. Fleta, lib. 2. cap. 38. Otherwise called Portatores Virge.

Verlucio, Warminster.

Verolæ, Some Distemper incident to Sheep.

— Cui apparuit Dominus Dicens, Filiole, quid facis hic? & respondit, Domine, custodio Oves meas de verolis & clausis — salventur Oves iste de verolis & clausis & omnibus aliis infirmitatibus in honore Domini nostri Jesu Christi, Amen. Fragment of a Legend in Conjunctud. Domus de Earendon, MS. f. 48.

Verometum, Borough-hill, in Leicestershire.

Veronica, When our Saviour was led towards the Cross, the Likeness of his Face was formed on his Handkerchief in a miraculous Manner, which is still kept and adored in St. Peter's Church at Rome, and called Veronica. The Word is mentioned in Mat. Paris, and Mat. Westm. Anno 1216. and again in Mat. Paris, pag. 514. and in Brompton, 121.

Verrent, To turn up the Earth, Si porci verrent pratum alienum, dominus illorum tenetur omnes verrificationes implere frumento. Statut. W. R. Scotiae, cap. 24.

Vert, Viride, Made of the French Vert, viridis, otherwise called Green-lue, signifies in the Forest Laws every Thing that grows and bears green Leaf within the Forest that may cover a Deer. Manwood, 2 par. fol. 6 & 33. And it is divided into Overt-vert and Nether-vert. Overt-vert is that which our Law Books call Hault Bois, and Nether-vert is that which they call South Bois. And of this you may read Manwood's 2 par. cap. 6. per totum. There is also a Vert called special Vert, and that is all Trees that grow in the King's Woods within the Forest, and all the Trees that grow there in other Mens Woods, if they be such Trees as bear Fruit to feed Deer; which are called special Vert, because the destroying of such Vert is more grievously punished than the Destruction of other Vert is. See Manwood, cap.

cap. 6. num. 2. fol. 35. Vert is also sometimes taken for that Power which a Man hath by the King's Grant to cut green Wood in the Forest. See 4 Inst. fol. 317.

Verturæ, Burgh upon Stanemore.

Verbiff, Otherwise called Plonkett. Anno 1 R. 3. cap. 8. a Kind of Cloth.

Very Lord and Very Tenant, Verus Dominus & verus Tenens, Are they that be immediate Lord and Tenant one to another. Bro. Tit. Haviot, fol. 23. In the Old Nat. Brev. and in the Writ Replegiari de averiis, you may read these Words. And know ye, that in taking of Leases, Six Things are necessary, that is to say, very Lord and very Tenant, Service behind, the Day of the taking; Seisin of the Services, and within his Fee. And that a Man is not very Tenant, until he have attained to the Lord by some Service. See 19 H. 7. cap. 15. And see Tenant.

Vetters, Anno 1 R. 3. cap. 8. and 14 & 15 H. 8. cap. 11. otherwise called Set-Cloths, most commonly made in Suffolk.

Vest, Vestire, Plenam, possessionem terre vel prædii tradere, seisinam dare, infeodare, saith Spelman.

Vesta, The Vest, Vesture, or Crop on the Ground. —Prata depasta sunt, & asportaverunt vestem & alias violentias fecerunt. Hist. Croyland. Contin. p. 454.

Vestimentum, The same with Vestitura or Vestura, i. e. the putting one in Possession: It is mentioned in Bracton, lib. 4. cap. 1. where, writing of Intrusion, he tells us, non vallatur aliquo vestimento.

Vestry-men, Anno 15 Car. 2. cap. 5. Are a select Number of the Chief Parishioners in every Parish within the City of London and Suburbs, and elsewhere, who yearly chuse Officers for the Parish, and take Care of its Concernments; so called, because they usually meet in the Vestry of the Church.

Vestura, A Crop of Grass or Corn. As in the Cartulary of the Abbey of St. Edmundsbury, MS. fol. 182. —Prior recipit annuatim de Cellerario —de socio eorum primæ vesturæ (i. e. of the first Crop or Mowing) duas caveas quatuor equorum —& de secunda vestura (i. e. of the Second Crop or After-math) duas caveas, &c. The Word was often used for a Vest, Vesture, Livery, Delivery; i. e. an Allowance of some set Portion of the Products of the Earth, as Corn, Grass, Wood, &c. for Part of the Salary or Wages to some Officer, Servant, or Labourer, for their Livery or Vest. So Foresters had a certain Allowance of Timber and Underwood yearly out of the Forest for their own Use. —Annuatim percipiendum tantum de roboribus & brueriis quantum pro vestura indigerint. Paroch. Antiq. p. 620.

Vesture, Vestura, Signifies a Garment; but in the Law, metaphorically turned to betoken a Possession, or an Admittance to a Possession or Seisin; so it is taken in Westm. 2. cap. 5. And in this Signification it is borrowed of the Feudists, with whom Investitura signifies a Delivery of Possession by a Spear or Staff, and Vestura Possession it self. Hotoman in verb. Feudal. verb. Investitura.

Vesture of an Acre of Land, Anno 14 E. 3. stat. 1. is the Profit of it. So in extenta Manerii, 4 Edw. 1. It is inquirable, How much the Vesture of an Acre is worth, and how much the Land is worth when the Wood is felled.

*Vetitum Namium, Namium, Signifies a Taking or Distress, and Vetitum forbidden; as when the Bailiff of a Lord distrains Beast, or Goods, and the Lord forbids his Bailiff to deliver them when the Sheriff comes to replevy them, and to that End drives them to Places unknown; or when without any Words they are so elained, or they cannot be replevied. Divers Lords of Hundreds and Courts-Baron have Power to hold Plea De vetito namio, in old Books called De vet. 2 *Inst. fol. 140. Matilla de Mortuo Mari clamant in manerio de Maewerdon duos Law-days, & Inlangentheft, & placita de Namio vetito sine brevi Domini Regis. Int. Record. in Thesaur. Scacc. in quadam бага de Quo War. ut. Glouc. Heref. Sir Henry Spelman says, it is Antiqua Juvris nostri locutio, & brevis Regis nomen. See Naam.

Vetters, These were a Sort of great Vessels or Ships formerly in use here: We read of them in Erompt. Chron. 1195.

Vingi, The Kings of the East Angles were so called from King Uffa, who lived in the Year 578. Mat. Westm.

Via militaris, A Highway: Qua publica dici poterit, & ducit ad mare & ad portum & quandoque ad mercata, as Bracton tells us, lib. 4. cap. 16. par. 7. and Fleta, lib. 4. cap. 6. par. 3.

Via Regia, The Highway, or common Road, called the King's Way, because authorised by him, and under his Protection. It is called Regia, quæ semper aperta, quam nemo concludere potest cum minis suis, quia ducit in civitatem, vel Burgum vel portum Regis. And as to the Breadth, Via Regia tanta vero debet esse ut inibi duo carvi sibi possint obviari, & bubulci de longo summbli sui possint assimulare. Leg. Hen. 1. cap. 80.

Vicar, Vicarius, The Priest of every Parish is called Rector, unless the predial Tithes be appropriated, and then he is called Vicar, quasi vice fungens rectoris. Sciunt —quod ego Johannes Webbe perpetuus Vicarius Ecclesie Parochialis de Bromyard, dedi — Domino David Hay perpetuo Vicario Ecclesie Parochialis de Anenbury duas acras terre, &c. Dat. 8 H. 5. They stiled themselves Perpetui vicarii, because they were not appointed by the Impropiator, and licensed by the Bishop to read Service, but presented by the Patron, and received Canonical Institution at the Hands of the Ordinary; and so had constant Successions, as Corporations, and never died. The Canonists mention four Species of Vicars. Quidam sunt Perpetui, ad Parochiales Ecclesias constituti; Quidam non perpetui, sed ad aliquos actus constituti, ut temporales; & isti dicuntur mercenarii: Quidam sunt speciales, non ad curam sed ad certum locum, articulum vel actum constituti: Quidam nec perpetui, nec ad curam, nec ad certum actum, sed generaliter dantur ad omnia. See Vocab. utriusq; juris, verb. Vicarius, and Kennet's Glossary.

Vicario deliberando oratione cuiusdam Recognitionis, &c. Is a Writ that lies for a spiritual Person imprisoned, upon Forfeiture of a Recognition, without the King's Writ. Reg. of Writs, fol. 147.

Under-Chamberlain, Called Under-Chamberlain, 13 R. 2. stat. 2. cap. 1. Is a great Officer in Court, next under the Lord-Chamberlain, and in his Absence hath the Control and Command of all all Officers whatsoever appertaining to that Part of his Majesty's Household, which is called the Chamber, or above Stairs.

Viccomes. A Sheriff: We are told (under that Title) that he was formerly chosen by the Freeholders, as Knights of the Shire are now; but it appears by Fortescue, who wrote in the Reign of H. 6. that he was chosen then in the same Manner as now, viz. on the Day after All-Souls, the Privy Council, the Judges, and Barons of the Exchequer, and several other great Officers meet in the Court of Exchequer, and there a Clerk reads the Names of several Persons in every County, out of which Three are chosen, whom the Noblemen and Judges think best qualified to serve in that Office for each County; whose Names being presented to the King, he chuses one out of the Three, and by Letters Patent appoints him Sheriff for that Year, who, before he enters upon his Office, must take an Oath, well and truly to execute it, &c.

Vice-Constable of England, and Vice Marshal, See their Office in Pat. 22 Edw. 4. Pars. 1. m. 2. printed in Pryn's Animad. on 4th. Inst. fol. 71.

Vice-Consul, The same as Viccomes. Leg. Ed. Conf. cap. 12. Qui modo dicuntur Vicecomites, tunc temporis Vice-Consules vocabantur; ille vero dicebatur vice-consul qui consule absente ipsius vices supplebat in jure & in foro.

Vice-dominus, The same also as Viccomes, as Selden tells us in his Titles of Honour, 2 Pars. cap. 5. par. 20. and in Leg. Hen. 1. cap. 7. and Inglulphus writes, that Vice-dominus dictus est presertus provincie.

Vice-dominus Episcopi, The Official, Commissary, or Vicar-general of a Bishop.

Vice-dominus Abbatie seu Ecclesie, The Law-Advocate or Protector of an Abbey or Church.

Vicegerent (Anno 31 Hen. 8. cap. 10.) A Deputy or Lieutenant.

Vicinage, Vicinetum, French Voisinage, Neighbourhood, near Dwelling. Mag. Charta, cap. 14. See Vener.

Vicinetum. See Vifne.

Vicis & venellis mundandis Is a Writ that lies against a Mayor or Bailiffs of a Town, &c. for the clean keeping their Streets. Reg. of Writs, fol. 267. b.

Vicount, alias Viscount, (Viccomes) Signifies as much as Sheriff: Between which Two Words, I find no other Difference, but that the one comes from our Conquerors the Normans, the other from our Ancestors the Saxons, of which, see more in Sheriff.

Vicount also signifies a Degree of Nobility next to an Earl, which Cambden (Britan. pag. 170.) says, is an old Name of Office, but a new one of Dignity, never heard of among us till Henry the Sixth's Days, who in his Eighteenth Year in Parliament, created John Lord Beaumont, Viscount Beaumont, but far more ancient in other Countries. Cassan. de Gloria mundi, par. 5. consider. 55. See Sheriff. And Selden's Titles of Honour, fol. 761.

Vicontiel Is an Adjective made of Vicount, and signifies as much as belonging to the Sheriff; as Writs Vicontiel, are such Writs as are triable in the County, or Sheriff's Court. Old Nat. Brev. fol. 109. Of this Kind you may see divers Writs of Nusance set down by Fitzberbert in his Nat. Brev. fol. 184. Vicontiels, Vicecomitilia, are certain Farms for which the Sheriff pays a Rent to the King, and makes what Profit he can of them. See the Stat. 33 & 34 H. 8. cap. 16. 2 & 3 E. 6. cap. 4. 4 H. 5. cap. 2. 6 R. 2. cap. 3.

Vicontiel Jurisdiction Is that Jurisdiction which belongs to the Officers of a County, as Sheriffs, Coroner, Escheator, &c.

Vicontiel Rents, Mentioned 22 Car. 2. cap. 6. See Vicontiel. The Vicontiel Rents usually came under the Title of Firma Comitatus, which were written generally sub nomine Vicecom. without Expression of the Particulars. The Sheriff had a particular Roll of the Vicontiel Rents given in to him, which Roll he delivered back with his Accounts. Vide Hale of Sheriffs Accounts, pag. 40.

Vidame, i. e. Vice-Dominus, was heretofore the Bishop's Deputy in Temporals, as the Earl was the King's, in Affairs of the County.

Viduitatis professio, The making a solemn Profession to live a sole and chaste Widow; of which Custom in England, the Practice and Ceremonies attending it are well delivered by Mr. Dugdale in his Antiquities of Warwickshire, pag. 313, & 654.

Vidimus. See Innotescimus, Anno 15 Hen. 6. cap. 3.

Vi & Armis, The Expression in a Charge or Indictment, to shew the forcible and violent Commission of any Crime.

View, Visus, Signifies the Act of Viewers; for when an Action real or personal is brought, and the Tenant knows not well what Land it is that the Demandant asks, then may he pray the View; which is, that he may see the Land which is claimed; of this Britton writes, cap. 45. This Course of proceeding we have received from the Normans, as appears by the Grand Customary, cap. 66, 80, & 96. This View is used as in other Cases, so in an Assise of Rent-service, Rent-charge, or Rent-seck. F. N. B. fol. 178. and in a Writ De Curia claudenda, Ibid. fol. 128. In a Writ of Nusance, Ibid. fol. 183. In a Writ Quo jure, Ibid. fol. 128. In the Writ De rationabilibus divisis, Ibid. fol. 129. And in the Writ De secta ad Molendinum, Ibid. 123. See the New Book of Entries, verb. View, and how this View is made in Fleta, lib. 4. cap. 5. See Vejour, and Westm. 2. cap. 48.

View of Frank pledge, Visus Franci plegii, Is the Office which the Sheriff in his County-Court, or the Bailiff in his Hundred, performs in looking to the King's Peace, and seeing that every Man be in some Pledge. This is called by Bracton, lib. 2. cap. 5. num. 7. in fine, Res quasi sacra, quia solam personam Regis respicit, & quod introductus sit pro pace & communi utilitate. Ibid. cap. 16. num. 8. See Frank-pledge, Leet and Decennier. Also see the New Book of Entries on this Word.

Vigil, (Vigilia Anno 2 & 3 Edw. 6. cap. 19.) Is used for the Eve, or next Day before any solemn Feast; because then Christians of old were wont to watch, fast and pray in their Churches.

Vi Laica amovenda, When the Bishop of a Diocese has certified into the Court of Chancery, that the Rector or Vicar of any Church within his Jurisdiction is kept out of his Manse, or Glebe, or Church, by any Lay Force or intruding Power; then may a Writ be granted to the Sheriff, Sheriff, to remove all such Violence and Usurpation, which Writ is therefore so called, De vi Laica amovenda.—Edwardus Rex Vicecom. Oxon. Saltem. Tibi precipimus quod omnem vim Laicam que se tenet in Ecclesia de Bokenhull, quo minus idem Episcopus officium suum spirituale ibidem exercere possit sine mora amoveas ab eadem.—Paroch. Antiquit. pag. 335. Sec Vi Laica removenda.

Vi laica removenda Is a Writ that lies where Debate is between Two Parsons or Provisors for a Church, and one of them enters into it with a great Number of Laymen, and holds the other out Vi & Armis: He that is holden out shall have this Writ directed to the Sheriff, that he remove the Force. And this Writ is returnable, and shall not be granted, until the Bishop of the Diocese, where such Church is, hath certified into the Chancery such Refusing and Force. For the several Forms of this Writ, see F.N.B. fol. 54. and Reg. Orig. fol. 59.

Vill, Villa, Is sometimes taken for a Manor, and sometimes for a Parish, or Part of it. Villa est ex pluribus mansionibus vicinata, & collata ex pluribus vicinis. 1 Inlt. fol. 115. b. Villa apud Saxones nostros antiquos Romano sensu accipi videtur pro pradio unius aliqujus in r re, cum idoneis edibus ad reponendos ejusdem fructus honestato. Non autem primitus pro multarum mansionum connexione, quod in oppidis potius expectandum esset, & successivis temporibus villis postea introductum est Spelman. Vill and Parish shall be intended all one. Cro. Rep. 2 par. fol. 263. Wraye's Case, yet there may be Two Vills in one Parish. Id. fol. 120. Stork's Case. Bracton tells us, Si quis in agro unicum faciat edificium, non erit ibi villa; sed cum ex processu temporis coeperint condurari & vicinari edificia. Lib. 4. cap. 31. And Fortescue in Laud. Leg. Anglia, cap. 24. writes, that the Boundaries of Villages is not by Houses, Streets, or Walls, but by a large Circuit of Ground, within which there may be several Hamlets, Waters, Woods and waste Ground. Fleta likewise mentions the Difference between a Mansion, a Village, and a Manor, viz. a Mansion may be of one or more Houses, but it must be but one Dwelling-place, and none near it; for if other Houses are contiguous, then it is a Village; a Manor may consist of several Villages, or of one alone. Lib. 6. cap. 51.

Villa faustum, St. Edmund's Bury.

Villa Regia, A Title given to those Country Villages, where Kings of England had a Royal Seat or Palace, and held the Manor in their own Demesne, and had there commonly a free Chapel, not subjected to Ecclesiastical Ordinary Jurisdiction. So Brill, Com. Buck. was a Villa Regia. So was Hedingdon, Com. Oxon. &c. Paroch. Antiq. p. 53.

Villain, Villanus, Signifies as much as Servus among the Civilians. A Man of servile or base degree, from the French Vilain, vilis, or from the Latin Villa, a Country Farm, whereto they were deputed to do Service: Of these Bond-men or Villains, there were Two Sorts in England, one termed a Villain in gross, who was immediately bound to the Person of his Lord and his Heirs. The other a Villain regardant to a Manor, whom the Civilians term Gleba ascriptum, being bound to his Lord as a Member belonging and annexed to a Manor, whereof the Lord was Owner. Smith de Rep. Anglor. lib. 2. cap. 8. Old Nat. Brev. fol. 8. and Bracton, lib. 1. cap. 6. num. 4. He was properly a pure Villain, of whom the Lord took Redemption to marry his Daughter, and to make him free; and whom the Lord might put out of his Lands and Tenements, Goods and Chattels at his Will, and bear and chastise, but not maim him. There are not truly any Villains now, tho' the Law concerning them stands unrepeal'd. We have hardly heard of any Case in Villenage since Crouche's Case in Dyer. And Spelman says, Servorum & Nativorum apud nos sublata est conditio, & quas ideo possidebant terras vel pradia, hodie libere tenent sub antiqua servitutis consuetudinibus. See Kennet's Glossary.

Villain Estate or Condition, Contradistinguished to free Estate. Stat. 8 H. 6. 11. They were called Villani from Villa, because they dwelt in Villages; they were also called Pagenfes and Rustici, a rusticus quia excolunt; and they were of that servile Condition, that they were usually sold with the Farm to which they respectively belonged; so that they were Slaves and used as such, and kinder Usage made them insolent.

Quando mulcet, villanus pejor habetur, Pungas villanum, polluet ille manum, Ungentem pungit, pungentem rusticus ungit.

The Proverb is known.

Villanis Regis subtrahitis reducendis Is a Writ that lay for the Bringing back of the King's Bondmen, that had been carried away by others out of his Manors, whereto they belonged. Reg. Orig. fol. 87.

Villata, The same with Villa.

Villain fleeces, Are Fleeces of Wool, that are shorn from scabbed Sheep. 31 Edw. 3. cap. 8.

Villainous Judgment, Villanum judicium, Is that which casts the Reproach of Villany and Shame upon him against whom it is given, as a Conspirator, &c. Standa's Pl. Cor. lib. 3. c. 3. c. 12. fol. 175. This Lamb. in his Eirenarch. lib. 1. cap. 13. pag. 63. calls Villainous Punishment, and says, it may be well called Villainous, because the Judgment in such Case shall be like the ancient Judgment in Attaint, as is said, Anno 4 H. 5. Fitzb. Judgment 220. And in 27 Lib. Ass. Pl. 59. set down to be, that they shall not be of any Credit afterward, nor lawful for them in Person to approach the King's Court, and that their Lands and Goods be seized into the King's Hands, their Trees rooted up, and their Bodies imprisoned, &c. And at this Day the Punishment appointed for Perjury (having somewhat more in it than corporal or pecuniary Pain, stretching to the Discrediting the Testimony of the Offender for ever) may be Partaker of this Name. This, and such like, is elsewhere termed Vile & odibile judicium. Vide Pillory.

Villenage,

Villénage, Villenagium, Cometh of Villain, and signifies a servile Kind of Tenure belonging to Land or Tenements, whereby the Tenant was bound to do all such Services as the Lord commanded, or were fit for a Villain to do. Ubi sciri non poterit vespere, quale servitium fieri debet manere. For every one that held in Villénage, was not a Villain or Bondman: Villenagium vel servitium nihil detrahbat libertatis, habita tamen distinctione, utrum tales sunt Villani & tenuerint in Villano soccagio de Dominico Domini Regis. Brañon, lib. 1. cap. 6. num. 1. The Division of Villénage was into Villénage by Blood, and Villénage by Tenure. Tenure in Villénage could make no Freeman Villain, unless it were continued Time out of Mind, nor free Land make a Villain free. Brañon, lib. 2. cap. 8. num. 3. divides it into Purum villenagium, a quo præstatur servitium incertum & indeterminatum, ubi sciri non poterit vespere, quale servitium fieri debet manere, viz. Ubi quis facere tenetur quicquid ei præceptum fuerit; The other he calls Villanum soccagium, and was tied to the Performance of certain Services agreed upon between the Lord and Tenant, and was to carry the Lord's Dung into his Fields, to plough his Grounds at certain Days, to reap his Corn, plash his Hedges, &c. As the inhabitants of Bikton were bound to do for those of Chun-Castle in Shro'eshire, which was afterwards turned into a Rent, now called Bikton-Silver, and the Service excused.

There were likewise Villani Socmanni, which were those who held their Lands in Soccage, and there were Villani adventitii, who were those who held Lands by performing certain Services expressed in their Deeds. Brañon, lib. 2. cap. 8.

Will. Maynard, qui tenuit terras in Heurfi, cognovit se esse Villanum Abbatii de Abendon, & tenere de eo in Villénagio & per villanas consuetudines, viz. per servitium 18 d. per annum & dandi Maritagium & Maribetum pro filio & sorore sua, ad voluntatem ipsius Abbatis, & faciendi omnes villanas consuetudines. Pla. 34 Hen. 3. Rot. 20. Berks. Copyholders, or Tenants by Copy, is but a new Name; for antiently they were called Tenants in Villénage, or of base Tenure. Fitz. Nat. Brev. fol. 28. C.

But the Slavery of this Custom hath received its Death's Wound, in favorem libertatis: For Sir Edward Coke out of Fortescue hath this Note. Insuper & crudelis judicandus qui libertati non favet; And gives this as the Reason of it, Anglie jura in omni casu dant favorem libertati; The Sense of Liberty was of so great Force and Power, and the Favour due unto it according to Law and Right of so great Respect, that those and the like Pressures have received Change and Alteration.

Vinagium, i. e. Tributum a vino, A Payment of a certain Quantity of Wine instead of Rent, to the Chief Lord for a Vineyard. Mon. Angl. 2 Tom. pag. 980. See Citation.

U N

Vis, Force; so we say, Vi & Armis, by Force of Arms; and this Force is Five-fold, vis impulsiva, ablativa, expulsiva, turbativa & inquietativa.
Vis ablativa is the Taking away of moveable Things: And hence accrues an Action, quare Vi
& Armis, &c. Vis compulsiva, by which a Man is compelled to do that which otherwise he would not do of his own free Will. And from this also accrues an Action; Vis expulsiva is, when any one is cast out of his Possession by Force and Arms.
Vis turbativa is, when any one is disturbed in his Possession, as when Two strive to possess the same Thing. Vis inquietativa is, when one Man will not suffer another quietly to enjoy his Right, or to do a Thing in his own Bounds or Limits. And from all these, some Sort of Action will arise.

from all these, some Sort of Action will be taken.
Visitatio, Visitatio. Is that Office or Action that is performed by a Bishop in every Diocese once every Three Years, or by the Archdeacon once a Year, by visiting the Churches and their Rectors, &c. — Ut populus illorum curæ commissus satisfacere a pastoribus & ordine gubernetur. Reform.
 Leg. Eccles. fol. 124. Ne quid detrimenti capiat
Ecclesia, says another Author.

Justification of Wannors, Vistatio morum, Was wont to be the Name of the Regarders Office in antient Time. Manwood, part 1. pag. 195. See Regarder.

Vicinum, Vicinitum, Significas a Neighbour-place, or a Place near at Hand. Anno 19 R. 2. c. 6. Dicitur Vicinitum in iure nostro locus quem vicini habitant, qui olim intelligebantur de eadem villa sive adjacentibus, atq; alias de eodem Hundredo vel proximis; modo vero de eodem pago, sive Comitatu, hoc est, compagenfes. Spelman. Ultagium, Violence, Outrage, — Justiciarius sex milites de Northampton ad videndum & plenius cognoscendum illud incomparabile ultagium transmissit.
Hist. Croyland. Contin. p. 454.

Umpire: It is mentioned in the Statute 3 Ed. 4. cap. 5. and it signifies fine Linen.

Unare, Inter consuetudines de Cokefeld — debet falcare unum pratum Domini vocatum Overeannedue a mane usque ad nonam pro uno opere, & dein levare & unare dictum pratum quod falcaverit.
Cartular. Sancti Edmundi, MS. B. 388. where Unare or Unnar can mean nothing more than to Inn, or get in or make up the Hay fit for Carriage.

Unceaseth: This is an obsolete Word, mentioned in Leg. Inc. cap. 37. viz. He who kills a Thief, may make Oath that he killed him in flying for the Fact, & parentibus ipsius occisi juret Unceaseth, that is, that his Kindred will not revenge his Death: From the Saxon Ceas, litis, and Un, which is a negative Particle, and signifies without, and Ath, which is Oath, i. e. to swear that there shall be no Contention about it.

Uncia tetræ, Uncia agri. These Phrases often occur in the Charters of the British Kings, and signify some Measure or Quantity of Land. — Sciendum est quod Gurgant Rex filius Corvin dedit Funepelo (it should be Lunapeio) Episcopo & Sanctis Dubricio & Teliawo & Ecclesie Landawie — podum Louden cum tribus uncis agri & cum sua tota libertate. Mon. Angl. Tom. 3. pag. 198. It was the Quantity of 12 modii, and each modius possibly 100 Foot Square. — Intuendum est nobis quod Catuath — agrum trium modiorum, id est, quartam partem uncie agri, immolavit Deo, &c. Ibid. pag. 205.

Unquies Proff. Is a Plea for the Defendant, being sued for a Debt due, at a Day past, to save the Forfeiture of his Bond, saying, that he tendered the Debt at the Time and Place, and that there was none to receive, and that he is still ready to pay the same. 7 E. 6. 6. 83 Dyer. (See Unquies Proff. See also Perkins, sect. 783, 784. and C. lib. 9. fol. 79. Peytor's Cafe.

Certe it is a Saxon Word signifying as much as Incongnitus, unknown, and is used in the old Saxon Laws for him that cometh to an Inn Guest-wife, and lies but one Night. In such Case his Host was not bound to answer for any Offence that he committed, whereof he was guiltless himself; but if he lay there a Second Night, then he was called Gæst, Hofes, and then must the Host answer for him, as for one of his own Family. And if he tarried any longer, then he was called Aggenbinc, that is, Familiaris, whom if he offend against the King's Peace, his Host was to see him forth-coming; or if he could not bring him out within a Month and a Day, he must satisfy for his Offences. Lamb. Archaen. fol.
 133. num. 7. And Bracton, lib. 3. cap. 10. num. 2.
 writes thus of the same, Item secundum antiquam
consuetudinem

consuetudinem diu potuit de familia alijs, qui Hæres fuerit cum alio per tres nobiles; quia prima nocte potuit dici Uncuth; secunda vero, Gust, tertia nocte Hogenhinc. See Third-night-name-hine.

Unde nihil habet Is a Writ, concerning which, see Date unde nihil habet.

Under-Chamberlain of the Exchequer Is an Officer there that cleaves the Tallies, written by the Clerk of the Tallies, and reads the same, that the Clerk of the Pell, and the Comptrollers thereof, may see their Entries be true. He also makes Searches for all Records in the Treasury, and hath the Custody of Domestick Book. There be Two Officers there of this Name.

Under-Excheater, Sub-excheater, Anno 5 E. 3. cap. 4. See Excheater.

Under-Sheriff, Sub-viccomes. See Sheriff.

Understiter Is an Inmate. See Inmate.

Undertakers Were such as the King's Purveyors employed as their Deputies. Anno 2 & 3 Ph. & Mar. cap. 6. And such as undertake any great Work, as draining of Fens, &c. Anno 43 El. cap. 11. See 12 Car. 2. cap. 24. 13 Car. 2. cap. 8. 14 Car. 2. cap. 20.

Under-Treasurer of England, Vice-theaurarius Angliæ, Anno 39 Eliz. 7. This Officer, as some think, was first created in the Time of Henry the Seventh, to chert up the King's Treasure at the End of every Term, and to note the Content of Money in each Chest, and to see it carried into the King's Treasury in the Tower, for the Ease of the Lord Treasurer, as being a Thing too mean for him to be troubled with, and yet fit to be performed by a Man of great Secrecy and Trust. He, in the Vacancy of the Lord Treasurer's Office, doth all Things in the Receipt, &c. But this Officer, in the Opinion of others, is far more antient. Yet named Treasurer of the Exchequer in the Statutes till Queen Elizabeth's Time, where he is termed Under-Treasurer of England. Yet Anno 35 Eliz. he is also written Treasurer of the Exchequer: Read the Statutes 8 E. 3. stat. 2. cap. 17. 27 E. 3. stat. 2. cap. 18. 1 Rich. 2. cap. 5. 4 Hen. 4. cap. 18. 8 Hen. 6. cap. 17. 27 Hen. 8. cap. 11.

Unders, Minors, or Persons under Age. Ante aetatem 21 annorum robusti vel habiles ad arma suscipienda pro patria defensione non reputantur, & ideo Undres dicuntur, & sub tutela Dominorum interim remanebant. Fleta, lib. 1. cap. 9.

Untrid: One who hath no Quiet or Peace.

Ungrld, A Person so far out of the Protection of the Law, that if he were murdered no Geld or Fine should be paid, or Composition made by him that killed him. As in the League between King Athelred and Aelun, cap. 3. Si frithman, i. e. homo pacis frigitur vel repugnet, & se nolit iudicari, si occidatur jaceat ungeld, i. e. insolutus.

Unghsa ðær: This is mentioned in Brompton, Leg. Æthelred. pag. 898. and it signifies almost the same as Ungeld, viz. where a Man was killed attempting any Felony, he was to lie in the Field unburied, and no pecuniary Compensation was to be paid for his Death: From the Sax. Un, without, Gilda, solutio, and acera, ager.

Uniformity, Uniformitas, One Form of Public Prayers and Administration of Sacraments, and other Rites and Ceremonies of the Church of England, to which all must submit; prescribed by the Statutes 1 Eliz. cap. 2. & 14 Car. 2. cap. 4.

Union, Unio, Is a combining or consolidating of Two Churches into one, which is done by the Consent of the Bishop, the Patron, and the Incumbent: But there are Two other Sorts of it, as when one Church is made subject to the other, and when one Man is made Rector of both, and when a Conventual is made Cathedral, as you may read in the Chapter Licet de locato & conducto, in Lindewode's Provincials, sect. & quia. In the first Signification by the Statute 37 H. 8. cap. 21. it was made lawful to make an Union, or Consolidation of Two Churches in one, whereof the one is not above Six Pounds in the King's Book of the First Fruits, and not above one Mile distant from the other. And by another Statute made 17 Car. 2. cap. 3. It shall be lawful for the Bishop of the Diocese, Mayor, Bailiff, &c. of any City or Corporate Town, and the Patron or Patrons, to unite Two Churches or Chapels in any such City, Town, or the Liberties thereof: Provided such Union shall not be good, if the Churches so united exceed the Sum of one Hundred Pounds per Annum, unless the Parishioners desire otherwise, &c.

Unity of Possession, Unitas possessionis, Is called Consolidatio fructus & proprietatis in the Civil Law, and signifies joint Possession of Two Rights by several Titles. As for Example, if I take a Lease of Land from one upon a certain Rent, and afterwards I buy the Fee-simple; this is an Unity of Possession, by which the Lease is extinguished, by Reason that I, which before had the Occupation only for my Rent, am become Lord of the same, and am to pay my Rent to none but my self.

University, Universitas, Is most usually taken for those Two Bodies which are the Nurseries of Learning and Liberal Sciences in this Kingdom, viz. Oxford and Cambridge; endowed with great Privileges, as appears not only by Anno 2 & 3 P. & M. c. 15. 13 El. c. 21 18 El. 6. but much more by their several Charters granted by divers Pious and Munificent Kings of this Land. See 14 Car. 2. cap. 4.

Unlaga, A Saxon Word denoting a wicked or unjust Law, in which Sense the Word is read in *Leg. Hen. 1. cap. 34, 84.

Unlawful Assembly, Illicita Congregatio, Is the Meeting of Three or more Persons together, by Force, to commit some unlawful Act, and abiding together, though not endeavouring the Execution of it, as to assault or beat any Person, to enter into his House or Land, &c. West. Synb. part 2. Tit. Indictment, sect. 65. Lamb. Eiren. cap. 19. And by the Statute of 16 Car. 2. cap. 4. and 22 Car. 2. cap. 1 if Five Persons, or more, shall be assembled together, above those of the Family, at any Conventicle or Meeting, under Colour of any Exercise of Religion, it is unlawful, and punishable by Fines, and otherwise, as in the said Statutes is expressed.

Unothing. See Nadering, Annals of Waverly, Gale 136.

Unques prist, Always ready, Is a Plea whereby a Man professeth himself always ready to do or perform that which the Demandant requires. For Example, A Woman sues the Tenant for her Dower, and he coming in at the Day offers to aver, that he was always ready, and still is to perform it. In this Case, except the Demandant will aver the contrary, he shall recover no Damages:

mages: When this Plea will serve to avoid Charges, and when not, see Kitchen, fol. 245. See Uncore prist.

Untrum Is a Saxon Word, and signifies a weak or infirm Man.

Vocalis, i. e. So called, viz. by such a Name or Appellation: It is a Word often mentioned in Matt. Westm. Posthac Morganus de tribu Wallensium, & alter nomine Madocus vocalis princeps eorum, &c.

Vociferatio, Out-cry, Hue and Cry. — Qui suum plegiatum dimiserit, qui ei obviaverit, & gratis sine vociferatione dimiserit, &c. Leg. Hen. 1. cap. 12.

Voidance, Vacatio, Is a Want of an Incumbent upon a Benefice, and this is double, either in Law, as when a Man hath more Benefices incompatible; or in Deed, as when the Incumbent is dead, or actually deprived. Bro. Tit. Quare impedit, num. 51.

Voire dire, Veritatem dicere, When it is pray'd upon a Trial at Law, that a Witness may be sworn upon a Voire dire; the Meaning is, he shall upon his Oath speak or declare the Truth, whether he shall get or lose by the Matter in Controversy; and if he be unconcerned, his Testimony is allowed, otherwise not.

Voltum, a Vault. — Lanfrancus Archiepiscopus reparavit Ecclesiam, in qua Sanctorum Episcoporum corpora in aquilonari parte super voltum magni & pulcherrimum imposuit reuerenter. — Osbernus de vita Bregwini apud Angl. Sac. P. 2. pag. 77.

Volumus Is the first Word of a Clause in the King's Writ of Protection and Letters Patent, Anno 1 Rich. 2. cap. 8. and 13 Rich. 2. cap. 16. Of Protections, some are Cum clausula volumus, and of these there are Four Kinds, viz. 1. Quia profecturus. 2. Quia Moraturus. Quia indebitatis nobis existit. 4. When any one sent into the King's Service beyond Sea in War, is imprisoned. Co. on Lit. sect. 199.

Volunt, Voluntas, Is, when the Tenant holds at the Will of the Lessor, or Lord, and that is in Two Manners; one is, when I make a Lease to a Man of Lands, to hold at my Will, then I may put him out at my Pleasure, but if he sow the Ground, and I put him out, then he shall have his Corn with Egress and Regress till it be ripe to cut, and carry it out of the Ground. And such Tenant at Will is not bound to sustain and repair the House as Tenant for Years is. But if he make wilful Waste, the Lessor shall have against him an Action of Trespass. The other Tenant at Will of the Lord is, by Copy of Court-Roll, according to the Custom of the Manor; and such a Tenant may surrender the Land into the Hands of the Lord, according to the Custom, to the Use of another for Life, in Fee, or in Tail; and then he shall take the Land of the Lord, or his Steward, by Copy, and shall make Fine to the Lord.

Mozanta terræ, For Virgata terræ.

Votum For Nuptia; so dies Votorum is the Wedding-Day: Fleta, lib. 4. cap. 2. par. 16. Si donarius ad alia vota convolaverat, &c.

Voucher, Vocans, Is vocabulum artis, and signifies when the Tenant calls another into the Court, that is bound to him to Warranty. New Book of Entries, verb. Voucher; Voucher de Garranty. Brit. cap. 75. And that is either to defend the Right against the Demandant, or to yield him other Lands, &c. in Value, and extends to Lands or Tenements of Freehold or Inheritance: He that voucheth is called Voucher (vocans) and he that is vouched is called Vouchee, (Warrantus). Bracton writes of this at large, l. 5. tract. 4. per totum. And Litt. in his Tenures, cap. ult. alfo E. N. B. fol. 134. And this seems in some Measure to agree to the Contract in the Civil Law, whereby the Vendee bindeth the Vendor, sometimes in the simple Value of the Things bought, sometimes in the Double, to warrant the secure enjoying the Thing bought; yet there is this Difference between the Civil and the Common Law, that the Civil Law binds every Man to warrant the Security of that which he selleth, which the Common Law doth not, except it be specially covenanted. The Process whereby the Vouchee is called, is a Summons ad warrantizandum. And if the Sheriff return upon that Writ, that the Party hath nothing whereby he may be summoned, then goes out another Writ called Sequitur sub suo periculo. See Lamb. Explic. of Saxon Words, verb. Advocare. A Recovery with a single Voucher, is, when there is but one Voucher: And with a double Vouchee, is, when the Vouchee voucheth over, and so a treble Voucher. There is also a Foreign Vouchee, when the Tenant being impleaded in a particular Jurisdiction, as in London, or the like; voucheth one to Warranty, and prays, that he may be summoned in some other County, out of the Jurisdiction of that Court, which might more aptly be called a Voucher of a Foreigner. De forisfactis vocatis ad warrantizandum. Co. on Lit. fol. 101. also Co. Rep. 2. fol. 50. Sir Hugh Cholmley's Case. Voucher is also used in the Statute 19 Car. 2. cap. 1. for a Leiger-Book, or Book of Account, wherein are entered the Acquittances or Warrants for the Accountant's Discharge.

Voxem non habere is a Phrase used by Bracton, lib. 3. cap. 34. par. 3. and by Fleta, lib. 1. cap. 34. par. 9. and in cap. 38. par. 21. and it signifies an infamous Person, one who is not admitted to be a Witness.

Upland, Uplanda, High Ground, or as some call it Terra firma, contrary to Moorish, Marsh or low Ground, — Duramq; terram novem Miliaris per aquam, de uplanda, id est, de superiori terra, scaphis deferri & paludibus commisceri iussit. Inglulph. Hist. Croyland.

Urlart, (i. e. Orulam vel limbos inferere). it is mentioned in Mon. Angl. 3 Tom. pag. 317. Amicus de aurifrigio, &c. Urlatur de aurifrigio stricto & puro.

Ufa Is the River Isis. Tunc in rectum ad Undersfordum, tunc sursum in Ufa ad Watlingstreet. Du Cange. This River was called Isis from the Goddes of that Name: For it was customary amongst the Pagans to dedicate Hills, Woods, and Rivers, to some Goddes, and to call them after that Name. And the Britons having the greatest Reverence for Ceres and Proserpina, who was also called Isis, did for that Reason Name this River Isis; and she being the Goddes of the Night, from thence they computed Days by Nights, and Years by Months: Of which we have still some Remains, as Seven-night, Fortnight, &c.

Ufage. See Prescription.

Ufe, Ufus, In the original Signification is evident enough, but it hath also a proper Application in Law, and that is the Profit or Benefit of Lands or Tenements. West. Symbol. lib. 1. sect.

48, 49, 50, 51, 52. Every Deed consists of Two principal Parts, namely, the Premises, and the Consequents; the Premises is the former Part thereof, being all that which precedeth the Habendum or Limitation of the Estate, which are the Persons contracting, and the Things contracted. The Consequent is that which follows the Premises, and that is the Habendum, in which are Two Limitations: The one of the Estate or Property, which the Party passive shall receive by the Deed: The other of the Use, which is to express in the said Habendum to or for what Use and Benefit he shall have the same Estate; and of the Limitation of such Uses, many Precedents are set down in the same West. Symbol. part 1. lib. 2. sect. 308 & 327. These Uses were invented upon the Statute of Westm. 3. Quia emptores terrarum, before which Statute no such Uses were known, Perkins's Devises 528. And because in Time many Deceits were invented, by settling the Possession in one Man, and the Use in another; to avoid which, and divers other Mischiefes and Inconveniences, was the Statute 27 H. 8. cap. 10. provided, which unites the Use and Possession together. See Co. lib. 3. Chudley's Case, fol. 121.

Usser de action, Is the pursuing or bringing an Action; which in what Place and County it ought to be, see Bro. Tit. Lien & County, fol. 64.

Usser, Officiarius, From the French Huissier, a Door-keeper of a Court, is an Officer in the Exchequer, of which Sort there are Four that attend the Chief Officers and Barons at the Court at Westminster, and Juries, Sheriffs, and all other Accountants, at the Pleasure of the Court. There are also Ussers in the King's House, as of the Privy-Chamber, &c. See Black Rod.

Ullact. See Utlepe.

Ullact, In Privilegio de Semplingham—sint quieti tam ipsi quam homines eorum, &c. de omnibus misericordis & amerciamenis & forisfacturis, &c. & de murdro, & latrocinio, & conceillis, & Ullact, & Hamsoka, Gritthbrech, &c. In Keilway's Reports it is written Hutlatch. But Ullact is the same with Utlepe: It should be wrote Uflant, which signifies an Escape of a Felon; from the Saxon Ufleon, i. e. Aufugere. It is mentioned in Mon. Angl. 2 Tom. 127. Sint quieti, &c. de murdro & latrocinio & conceyllis & Ullact & Hamsoka, &c.

Ullucaption, Ullucapto, The enjoying a Thing by Continuance of Time, or receiving the Profits, long Possession or Prescription.

Ullustruary, Ullustruarius, One that hath the Use, and reaps the Profit of any Thing.

Ullury, Ullura, Is the Gain of any Thing above the Principal, or that which was lent, exacted only in Consideration of the Loan, be it as well Corn, Apparel, Wares, or such like, as Money. And it is derived ab usu & ere, quasi usu ara, id est usus aris, & Ullura est commodum certum quod propter usum rei mutuate accipitur. Co. 5 Rep. Payton's Case. The Statute 13 Eliz. cap. 8. alloweth not Ullury, but punisheth the Excess of it. And that of 21 Jac. cap. 17. expressly ordains, That no Word in that Law shall be construed and expounded to allow the Practice of Ullury in Point of Religion or Conscience. And by the Statute 12 Car. 2. cap. 13. No Man must take above Six Pounds for the Forbearance of One Hundred Pounds for a Year, under the Penalties therein contained. See Co. 3 Inst. fol. 151. By the Stat.

3 & 11 H. 7. It is called Dry Exchange. By a late Statute, 1 Georgii, no Man must take above Five Pounds for the Forbearance of an Hundred Pounds for one Year. So that though Ullury is now allowed, yet in former Times it was severely punished. In Leg. Edw. Confes. cap. 37. Ullurios quoque defendit Rex Edw. ne remaneret aliquis in toto regno suo; & si quis inde convictus esset, quod scilicet exigeret, omni substantia propria caveret, & postea pro exlege habeatur, quoniam Ullura radix omnium malorum. They might dispose of their Goods before Conviction, and whilst they were living; but after their Death they were confiscated, so as it could be proved he lent Money to Use within a Year before his Death. Mat. Paris. 113. But if a Clergyman was an Ullurer, his Goods were not to be confiscated, but were to be distributed to pious Uses.

In those Days Ullury was thus defined:

See Stat. 15 Edw. 3. cap. 5, & 6. 37. H. 8. cap. 9. 5 & 6 Edw. 6. cap. 23. &c.

Ullurious Contract Comprehends any Bargain or Contract, whereby any Man is obliged to pay more Interest for Money than the Statute allows.

Ullas, Ollava, Is the Eighth Day following any Term or Feast, as the Ullas of St. Michael, the Ullas of St. Hilary, the Ullas of St. John Baptist, &c. As you may read 51 Hem. 3. concerning general Days in the Bench; and any Day between the Feast and the Ollave, is said to be within the Ullas. The Use of this is in the Return of Writs, as appears by that Statute. At the Ullas of the Holy Trinity, Preamble to the Statute 43 E. 3.

Ullensile, (Fr. Ullensil.) Any Thing necessary for our Use and Occupation; Household-Stuff. I find in an ancient Record Ullitamentum for Ullensil; and in another Ullentalia for Ullensils. Item lego Agneti uxori meae omnia Ullentalia domus mee, lignea & anea. Testam. Johann. Hereford. Anno 1439.

Ullfangthes, That is, Fur extra captus, scilicet, extra Dominium vel Jurisdictionem, Is an ancient Privilege or Royalty granted to a Lord of a Manor, by the King, which gives him Power to punish a Thief dwelling out of his Liberty, and committing Theft without the same, if he be taken within his Fee. Bracton, lib. 2. tract. 2. cap. 35. says thus, Ullfangthes dicitur extraneus latro, veniens aliunde de terra aliena, & qui captus fuit in terra ipsius qui tales habet libertates. See Outfangthes.

Ullibannum, There is a Charter of Maud de Pomeroy, granting to the Church of Plimpton in Com. Devon. Three Ferlings in the Manor of Wodeford for Four Shillings per annum on this Condition.—Quod si murdrum vel Danegeldis vel quodlibet aliud Ullibannum super manerio de Wodeford evenierit de ipsis quatuor solidis, quicquid de uilibannis super predictis iv ferlingos evenierit acquiratur. Ex Registro de Plimpton, MS. penes Rev. Patrem D. D. Joh. Episc. Norwic.

Ulllagh, Ulllagus, An Outlaw, signifies Bannitum extra legem. Fleta, lib. 1. cap. 47. And in Mon. Angl. 2 par. fol. 618. we read, Fuit quidam Ulllagus famosissimus partes istas frequentans propter iter iter commeanium inter Nottingham & Derby per foreham. See Outlaw.

Utlagatio, An Outlawry. Rex omnibus, &c. Sciatis quod Interdictum, quod vulgari ter Utlagatio nuncupatur, quod proponi fecimus contra personas Ecclesiasticas, publice revocavimus, protestantes id ad Nos de personis Ecclesiasticis minime pertinere. — Pat. 15. Joh. p. 2. m. 8. intus.

Utlagato capiendus quando utlagatur in uno comitatu & postea fugit in alium, Is a Writ, the Nature whereof is sufficiently exprest by the Name. See Reg. Orig. f. 153.

Utland, Terra externa dicebatur terra servilis seu tenementalis, quod de precinctu terrarum Dominicalium que Inland nuncupata sunt, in exteriore agrum rejiciebantur. Vide Inland.

Utlaw or Utlawy, Utlagaria vel utlagatio, Is a Punishment for such as being called into Law, and lawfully fought, do contemptuously refuse to appear, after an Original Writ with a Nihil habet, Three Writs of Capias, Alias & Pluries, returned by the Sheriff Non est inventus, and an Exigent with a Proclamation thereupon awarded. And Bracton says, He must be called at Five Counties, a Month between every County, lib. 3. tract. 2. cap. 11. And if he appear not within that Time pro exlege tenetur, cum Principi non obediit nec legi, & extunc utlagabitur; that is he shall be pronounced out of the King's Protection, and deprived of the Benefit of the Law. The Effect of this is divers; for if he be Outlawed at the Suit of another in a Civil Cause, he shall forfeit all his Goods and Chattels to the King; if upon Felony, then he shall forfeit all his Lands and Tenements which he hath in Fee, or for Life, and his Goods and Chattels; Et tunc gerit caput lupinum, ita quod sine judiciali inquisitione rite pereat & secum suum iudicium portet, & merito sine lege pereat, qui secundum legem vivere recusaverit, &c. Bract. lib. 3. tract. 2. cap. 11. And the same lib. 3. tract. 2. cap. 14. And Fleta, lib. 1. c. 27, 28. say, a Minor or Woman cannot be outlawed: For where a Man is said to be Outlawed, a Woman is termed waived. F. N. B. 161. How an Outlaw is inlawed again, and restored to the King's Peace and Protection, see Bracton and Fleta, ubi supra. See Outlaw.

Utlere, Significat escapium, hoc est, evasionem latrocinii. Fleta, lib. 1. c. 47. and 18 H. 6. Pat. 2. m. 22.

Utrum. See Affixe.

Utter-Barrister, Juris consulti, Are such, who for their long Study, and great Industry bestowed upon the Knowledge of the Common Law, be called from their Contemplation to Practice, and in the Face of the World, to take upon them the Protection and Defence of Clients. These in other Countries are called Licentiatii in jure. The Time before any one ought to be called to the Bar by the ancient Orders, was heretofore Eight Years, now reduced to Seven, and the Exercises done by him (if he were not called Ex gratia) were Twelve Grand Moots performed in the Inns of Chancery in the Time of the Grand Readings, and Twenty-four Petty Moots at the Inns of Chancery in the Term-Times, before the Readers of the respective Inns of Chancery. A Barrister newly called is to attend the Six next long Vacations Exercise of the House, viz. in Lent and Summer, and is therefore for those 3 Years called a Vacation Barrister. And they are called Utter-Barristers, i. Pleaders without the Bar, to distinguish them from Benchers, or those who have been Readers, who are sometimes admitted to plead within the Bar; as the King, Queen, or Prince's Counsel are.

Uultiba, A Wound in the Face. Uultivum 50 fol. componat. And Uultuarius signifies a Witch; so called from making the Image of a Face in Wax, and sticking Needles in it. From which it was called Defixio.

Uultus de Luca, The Image of our crucified Saviour kept at Lucca in the Church of Holy Cross. Eadmerus, lib. 1, & 2. tells us, That William the Conqueror often swore per sanctum uultum de Luca, viz. pag. 16. 19, 47, 51, 54. And Malmshury writes the same Thing, lib. 4 p. 121, & 124. and lib. 1, & 3. De gestis Pont. Angl. pag. 217, 277.

Uljia æfustum, The Mouth of the River Parret in Somersetshire, near Huntsbill.

Ujlla, Lefyithiel in Cornwall.

Wadremole, now called Wodmell, and in Oxfordshire Woddenell, a coarse Sort of Stuff used for the covering of the Collars of Cart-Horses. Mr. Ray in his Collection of East and South Country Words, describes it to be a hairy coarse Stuff, made of Island Wool, and brought thence by our Seamen to Norfolk, Suffolk, &c. — Et in quinque virgatis de Waddemole emptis pro coleris equinis hoc anno 11 fol. 1 den. — Paroch. Antiq. p. 574.

Wastours, Wastores, Edward the Fourth constituted a Triumvirate of Officers with Naval Power, whom the Patent 22 Ed. 4. membr. 2. styles Custodes, Conductores and Wastores; and these were chiefly to guard our Fishermen on the Coast of Norfolk and Suffolk. We still retain the Word to wast over, that is, to conduct or convey over Sea.

Waga alias Uaga, a Weigh, which is a Measure of Cheese, Wool, &c. containing Two Hundred and Fifty-Six Pound of Averdupois: For by the Statute 9 H. 6. c. 8. a Weight of Cheese ought to contain Thirty-Two Cloves, and each Clove Eight Pound, tho' some say but Seven; Unam Wagam salis de salinis suis de Terineton. Mon. Ang. 1. par. fol. 515. See Weigh. Lambard tells us, that a Weight of Wool at Salisbury and other Places is but Thirty Pounds. De prisicis Angl. legibus, fol. 221.

Wage, Vadiare, From the French Gager, dare pignus; Signifies the giving Security for the Performance of any Thing; as to wage Deliverance, which see in Gage, to wage Law. See in Law. None wages Law against the King. Bro. Tit. Chose in Action, num. 9. See Co. on Lit. fol. 294. Tit. Ley-gager.

Wager of Law. See Law.

Waif or Ulepf, Walvium: Goods waived are such as a Thief having feloniously stolen, and being newly followed with Hue and Cry, or else over-charged with the Burden or Trouble of the Goods, for his own Ease, and more speedy Flight, flies away, and leaves the Goods behind him; then the King's Officer, or the Bailiff of the Lord of the Manor, (within whose Jurisdiction they be left) who by Prescription, or Grant from the King, hath the Franchise of Waif, may seize seize the Goods so waived to his Lord's Use, except the Owner come with a fresh Suit after the Felon, and sue an Appeal within a Year and a Day, or give Evidence against him at his Arraignment, and he be attainted, &c. In which Cases the first Owner shall have Restitution of his Goods so stolen, and waived. And though Waif is properly spoken of Goods stolen, yet it may be also of Goods not stolen: As if a Man be pursued with Hue and Cry as a Felon, and he flies, and leaves his own Goods; these shall be forfeited as Goods stolen, and are properly called Fugitives Goods, which are not forfeited, till it be found before the Coroner, or otherwise of Record, that he fled for Felony. A Thing pro derelicto habita, waived and forsaken, is nullius in bonis. See 29 Ed. 3. Waifs, Things lost, and Estrays. Waif is derived from the Lat. Vagus, and Estray from Extrahendo; the one is defined to be Pecus vagans; the other is of the same Nature, because wandering Cattel extrahuntur alieno solo; and they are said to be Nullius in bonis ubi non apparet Dominus; and therefore they belong to the Lord of the Franchise where they are found, who must cause them to be cried and published in the Markets and Churches near about, else the Year and Day does not run to the Prejudice of him that lost them. Briton, cap. 17. Plac. coram Joh. de Berewel & Sociis suis iustic. Itin. apud Salop. in Octab. Sancti Michaelis 20 Ed. 1. Rot. 29. in Dorfo. Richardus fil. Alani Comes Arundel summonitus fuit ad respondend. Et Comes dicit quod ipse clamat habere Infangene-thef & Wayf, & eadem placita & libertates habuerunt ipse & omnes antecessores sui, & eisdem usi sunt a tempore quo non extat memoria, & eo Warranto clamat, &c. Et Hugo de Lowther qui sequitur pro Domino Rege dicit quod Wayf est quoddam grossum de Corona, ita Corone Domini Regis annexum, quod nullus eo gaudere possit, nisi inde habeat speciale Warrantum a Domino Rege vel antecessoribus suis concessum. Wayf i. e. Si aliquis adduxerit aliqua animalia, ut oves, boves, equos, & huiusmodi, vel aliquas alias res, & inde suspectus & arrestatus fuerit a Balliis Prioris domus probaverit per fideles homines, quod illa res furata non fuerant, & ille dimissus non redierit: Dicitur res seu animalia servabuntur per unum annum & unum diem, & si ille non redierit & res suas esse probaverit, erunt Prioris, &c. Si aliquis alius venerit, & res suas legitime esse probaverit, datis expensis, illas habebit. Ex Registro Prior. de Cokesford.

Wainable, That may be ploughed or manured, tillable. — Dedimus, &c. in loco qui vocatur Ship-lade la Moreis & la terre wainable & la Bruere, &c. Carta Rogeri de Scales, sine dat.

Wainage, Wainagium, May be derived from the Saxon Wæn, id est, Plastrum. And any others Villain than ours shall be amerced saving his Wainage, if he fall into our Mercy. Mag. Chart. cap. 14. Sir Edward Coke, 2 par. Inst. fol. 28. says, It signifies the Countenance of a Villain; but why not rather the Furniture of his Cart or Wain. See Gainage and Wannage.

Waitefe, Tho. Spelman filius Johannis, &c. dicitur tenuisse Manerium de Narborough, cum tertia parte advocacionis Ecclesie, &c. de Domina Regina de Manerio suo de Wingrave per servitium militare & per redditum 14 s. pro Waitefe, & Cattle-garde & valet clare per annum, 34 li. 17 s. 10. quadrant. Patent in Schedula liberationis Job.

Spelman fratris sui. 7 Aug. 5 Eliz. This might probably be a Fee to excuse his waiting at the Cattle.

Waive, Waivare, Is to forsake. Reg. Orig. 277. The Civilians term it Habere pro derelicto, and so Waivare feudum suum signifies, To Waive the Company of Thieves. Staurdf. Pl. Cro. fol. 26. But this Word properly belongs to a Woman, who is said to be waived, as a Man to be Outlawed. Reg. Orig. fol. 132. And the Reason is, because she cannot be outlawed as a Man is; for a Woman cannot be of the Decennary, which in former Times was accounted to be in Lege. Many of the King's Leige People outlawed, and many waived by erroneous Process. Anno 7 H. 4. c. 13. See Usury.

Wang Properly signifies in the Saxon Tongue a Field, but we use it also for the Cheek or Jaw-teeth, which Chaucer calls Wangs and Wang-teeth, according to these Verses,

And in witness that this is sooth.
I bite the way with my wang tooth.

Wapentake, or Wapentake Is all one with that we call a Hundred, as appears by Bradon, lib. 3. tract.
2. c. 1. num. 1. Convo-centur (he saith) servientes & Bal-lioi Hundredorum, & per ordinem irrotulentur Hundredarii sive Wapentachia & nomina servientium, &c. No-minis autem origo, non ab armorum tractu, ut Hove-deno traditum; sed hinc, quod quoties novus esset Hundredi Dominus, ei in subjectionis signum arma redderent vassalli, ut Ranulfo Cestriensi observatum. Lib. 1.
cap. 5. And Lambard in his Explication of Saxon Words, verb. Centuria, is of the same Mind; adding that this Word is specially used in the North-Countries beyond the River Trent. And in the Laws of King Edward the Confessor, are these Words, Et quod Angli vocant Hundredum, supra-dicti comitatus vocant Wapentachium. The Original of the Name Hoveden derives a tactu armorum, because cum quis accipiebat prefeaturam Wapenta-chii, die statuto in loco ubi consueverant congregari, omnes Majores contra eum conveniebant & descendente de equo suo, omnes assurgebant ei. Ipse vero, erecta lancea sua, ab omnibus secundum morem sæculis accipiebat: Omnes enim quotquot venissent cum lanceis suis ipsius hastam tangebant, & ita confirmabant per contactum armorum pace palam concessa, &c. But we take it from thence, Quod quoties novus esset Hundredi Dominus ei in subjectionis signum arma redderent Vas-salli. Ranulph. Cestri. lib. 1. cap. 5. See Fleta, lib. 2. cap. 61. sect. universimode. Sir Thomas Smith de Rep. Anglor. lib. 2. cap. 16. says, That anciently Mulsters were taken of the Armour and Weapons of the several Inhabitants of every several Wapentake, and from those that could not find sufficient Pledges for their good Abearing, their Weapons were taken away, and given to others.
The Statutes 3 H. 5. cap. 2. 9 H. 6. cap. 10. and 15 H. 6. cap. 7. make Mention of Staincliffe Wa-pentake and Friendless Wapentake in Craven, in the County of York. See Cambd. Brit. fol. 159. and Co. 2. par. Inst. fol. 99. Wapentake hoc est quietancia de sessis & Hundredis quod dicitur Wapentake, MS.
in Biblioth. Cotton. sub Tit. Vitellius. See Kennet's Glosary. The Word seems to be of Danish Original, and to be so called for other Reasons than what is given by Sir Tho. Smith, viz. When first this Kingdom was divided into Wapentakes, he who was the Chief of the Hundred, and whom we now call a High Constable, as soon as he entered upon his Office, appeared in the Field on a certain Day on Horseback with a Pike in his Hand, and all the chief Men of the Hundred met him there with their Lances, who alighting, they touched his Pike with their Lances; which was a Sign that they were firmly united to each other, by the touching their Weapons; for in Sax. Weapon is Armitura, and Tac, tactus.

Others say 'tis derived a Sax. Weapon, Arma, and Teacen, Tradere; because the Tenants delivered their Arms to every Lord, as a Token of their Homage and Subjection.

Wara, A certain Quantity or Measure of Ground. — Præterea concedimus in elemosynam eidem
Ecclesie eadem libertate totam terram quam tenuerat Brifardus in Stanes, scilicet, Waram & dimidium cum cotelandis & insuper quietatem totius nemoris. — Ad opus Ecclesie vendiderunt, scilicet, unam Waram & duas cotelandas cum dominio & prato — Mon. Angl.

Wara libera. — Libera wara est unus redditus, & talis conditio, quod si non solvatur suo tempore, duplicatur in crastino, & sic deinceps in dies — Tabularium Abbatie S. Petri de Burgo. MS.

Wards, City Wards. The Districts or Divisions of a City; as in London there be 26 Wards, according to the Number of the Mayor and Aldermen, of which each has a particular Ward for his proper Guard and Jurisdiction.

Ward, Custodia, Hath divers Significations, as a Ward in London, in Latin Warda, which is a Portion of the City, committed to the special Charge of one of the Aldermen of the City. See Stow's Survey of London: Also a Forest is divided into Wards. Manswood, part 1. pag. 97. Thirdly, A Prison is also called a Ward. Lastly, The Heir of the King's Tenant, that held by Knight's Service or in Capite, was called a Ward, during his Nonage. 32 H. 8. 46. But this last is taken away by the Stat. 12 Car. 2. c. 24.

Wardas, (i. e. Custodia.) In Walsingham, pag. 120. Data suis custodibus soporifera potione, evasit per omnes turris custodias, quas Wardas vocamus.

Warda, i. e. the Custody of a Town or Castle, which the Tenants and Inhabitants were bound to keep at their own Charge. 'Tis the same with Wardagium. Mon. Angl. i Tom. p. 372.

Warda Ecclesiarum, The Guardianship of Churches, which is in the King during the Vacancy, by reason of the Regalia, or Temporalities. Matt. Paris. and Matt. Westmister, Anno 1248. writing of Henry III. tell us, Regardatus est insuper quod Episcopatus & Abbatis & etiam Gardas vocantes immisericorditer depauperat, &c.

Wardage, (Wardagium.) Sed sint quieti de quolibet Theolonia, Talkagio, Passagio, Pedagio, Lastagio, Hidagio, Wardagio, & omnibus Geldis, Fengeldis, Horngeldis, Fortgeldis, Penigeldis, Tendpenigs, Hunderpenigs, Miskemelig, Brensalpeninge, Grithbreggs, &c. Wards and Liberties (Wardi & libertas) was a Court first erected in King Henry the Eighth's Time, and afterwards augmented by him with the Office of Liveries, and therefore called by him The Court of Wards and Liveries, now taken away and discharged by Stat. 12 Car. 2. cap. 24.

Ward-silver, Custumarius in Berton magna reddit obolum ad Ward-silver ad terminum. — Cartular. Abbatie S. Edmund, MS. fol. 26. Willielmus l. e. Kyng tenet 8 acres — solvit 1 den. ad Ward-silver die Sancti Petri ad vincula. Ib.

Ward-staff, The Constable's or Watchman's Staff. Lambourn Manor in Essex is held by Service of the Ward-staff, viz. To carry a Load of Straw in a Cart with Six Horses, Two Ropes, Two Men in Harness, to watch the said Ward-staff when it is brought to the Town of Ailbridge. Cambden in Essex.

Wardwaite, (Sax.) Significat quietantiam misericordiam in casu quo non invenerit quis hominem ad Wardam faciendam in castro vel alibi. Fleta lib. 1. Immunitas a presidii faciendis, vel ab eorum contributione. Spelm. But Skinner is of Opinion, That 'tis a Duty paid towards the Charge of Watching, rather than an Exemption from that Duty; from the Sax Weard, Vigilia, and Wite, Mul-ta.

Warefare, To fallow Ground, or plough up Land (designed for Wheat) in the Spring, in order to let it lie fallow for the better Improvement; which in Kent is called Summer-land. — Mense Aprili warefandi erit tempus idoneum & am-num, cum terra frugerit post carrucam. Fleta, lib. 2. c. 33. Hence warefabilis campus, a fallow Field; Campus ad wareftam, Terra wareftata, &c. See Mr. Kennel's Glossary in warefare.

Warectum, and Terra Warecta, (Warectum & Varectum; Fr. Terre greece.) Land that has been neglected, and long untill'd: Also fallow Ground. Tempus warecti, in ancient Records, signifies the Time wherein Land lies fallow, the fallow Year, or Season for fallowing Land. In Warectis, in bruieris, in bocis, in maris, in defens, & in omnibus terris, &c. Mon. Angl. 2 Par. fol. 253. a. xxv. Acras unoquoque anno ad seminandum, & totidem ad Warectandum. Idem, 1 Par. f. 525. b. See Yoenagium m.

Warfus, A Wharf. Piscarias vias, chimina, Warphos, vacuos fundos, &c.

Wargus, A banished Rogue, who lives by Robbery. Leg. H. 1. c. 83. Et si quis corpus in terra, vel nasso, vel petra expoliare presumpserit, Wargus habeatur. See Vargus.

Warland, The same with Warectum.

Warlaunde, Johannes Prior & Conventus Ecclesie Christi Cantuar. confirmant cartam Ricardi Archiepiscopi Cant. concedentis Wilhelmo de Astone & heredibus suis ut duodecim acras de Warlaunde cum pertin. apud Hakintone, quas tenebant in Gavelkind, in futurum teneant pro redditu 11 sol. 11 den. Registr. Eccl. Christi Cant. MS.

Warnamentum, A Garment, a Suit of Cloaths.

— Pro hac donatione concesserunt Abbas & Monachi Radinges mibi & Cecilie uxori mea corrodia & warnamenta secundum quod in carta eorum continetur. Chartular. Radinges. MS. f. 63.

Warnitura, Garniture, Furniture, Provision.

— Exceptis ab hac quinta decima libris & ornamentis Ecclesiarum — & exceptis bladis ad warnituram castrosum emptis. — Pat. 9. H. 3. Brady Hist. Eng. Append. p. 169.

Warninster. See Verlucio.

Warnoth. Inter Record. de Recept. Sacre Trin. 33 Ed. 1. Lin. 46. coram Rege, I find it to be an ancient Custom; whereby, if any Tenant, holding of the Castle of Dover, failed in paying his Rent at the Day, he should forfeit double; and for the second Failure, treble, &c. And in Mon. Angl. 2 Par. f. 589. a. Terris cultis & terris de Warnoth.

Warpenna, Wardpenny. Liddington. Homines hujus Munerii reddunt Warpennam Vic. Regis aut custodiam faciebant. Domclday, Tit. Grentbrig-scire. See Wardpenny.

Warrantia Charta Is a Writ that lies properly for him, who being infeoffed in Lands or Tenements, with a Clause of Warranty, and is impleaded in an Assse or Writ of Entry, wherein he cannot vouch or call to Warranty: For in this Case his Remedy is to take out this Writ against the Feoffor, or his Heirs. Reg. Orig. fol. 157. F. N. B. fol. 134. Fleta, lib. 6. c. 35. and West Symbol. part 2. Tit. Fines, sect. 156.

Warrantia custodie Is a Writ Judicial, and lay for him who was challenged to be a Ward to another, in respect of Land said to be holden in Knights-Service, which when it was bought by the Ancestors of the Ward, was warranted to be free from such Thralldom, and it lay against the Warrantor and his Heirs. Reg. Judic. fol. 36. But now by the Statute made 12 Car. c. 24. it is become altogether out of Use.

Warrantia dici Is a Writ lying in case where a Man having a Day assigned personally to appear in Court to any Action wherein he is sued, is in the mean Time, by Commandment, employed in the King's Service, so that he cannot come at the Day assigned. This Writ is directed to the the Justices to this End, that they neither take nor record him in Default for that Day. Reg. Orig. f. 18. Of this read more. F. N. B. fol. 17. and Glanville, lib. 1. c. 8.

Warrant of Attorney Is a Warrant whereby a Man appoints another to do something in his Name, and warranteth his Action: Which seems to differ from a Letter of Attorney, which passeth ordinarily under the Hand and Seal of him that makes it, before any credible Witnesses; whereas a Warrant of Attorney, in a personal and mixed Action, and many real Actions, is of Course put in by the Attornies for the Plaintiffs or Demandants, Tenants or Defendants. But a Warrant of Attorney to suffer a common Recovery by the Tenant or Vouchee, is acknowledged before such Persons as a Commission for the doing thereof directed. West, Par. 2. Symb. Tit. Recoveries. Sect. 1. F. See Attorney, and Letter of Attorney.

Warranty, Warrantia est securitas a venditore prestata emptori, quo tranquille aliquid possideat. Eaq; a significatione warrantizare dicitur warrantus, sive venditor quando se emptori obligat per acta Curie, aut chartam, aut contractus instrumentum, Vossius de viris Sermonis, lib. 2. cap. 20. It is a Promise or Covenant by Deed made by the Bargainer, for himself and his Heirs, to warrant or secure the Bargainee and his Heirs against all Men for the Enjoying any Thing agreed on between them. And he that makes this Warranty is called warrantus, by Bracton, lib. 2. cap. 19. and 37. and this Warranty passeth from the Seller to the Buyer, from the Feoffor to the Feoffee, from him that releaseth, to him that is released from an Action real, and such like: And the Form of it is in this Manner, Et ego prefatus J. & heredes mei predictas decem acras terra cum pertinentiis suis, prefato H. heredibus & assignatis suis contra omnes gentes warrantizabimus in perpetuum per presentes. West Symbol. part 1. lib. 3. Tit. Feoffments, sect. 287, 288. See Glanville, lib. 3. per totum. Bracton, lib. 5. tract. 4. Britton, cap. 105. and Co. 4. Rep. fol. 81. Noke's Case. In ancient Deeds we find Warranties run thus: Contra omnes homines & feminas & contra omnes homines & Judeos warrantizabimus, &c. Warranty is either real or personal; Real, when it is annexed to Lands or Tenements granted for Life, &c. And this is either in Deed, as by the Word warrantizo expressly; or in Law, as by the Word Dedi, or some other Amplification: Personal, which either respects the Property of the Thing sold, or the Quality of it. Real Warranty, in respect of the Estate, is either Lineal, Collateral, or commencing by Disseisin, for which see Littleton in the last Chapter of his Tenures, and Co. lib. 3. Fevmor's Case, fol. 78. So then under the Word Heredes are comprehended all such as the first Warrantor's Lands afterwards come unto either by Descent, or otherwise. Bracton, lib. 5. tract. 4. c. 1. num. 2. saith, Imprimis videndum est quid sit warrantizatio; Et sciendum quod warrantizare nihil aliud est quam defendere & acquiescere tenentem, qui warrantum vocabit in seipsum sua. With whom agrees Fleta, lib. 5. cap. 15. sect. 1. & lib. 6. cap. 23. per totum. By what Words in a Feoffment a Feoffor shall be bound to Warranty, see the Statute of Bigamy. 4 E. 1. cap. 6. and see Co. on Lit. f. 365. and 383.

Warren, Warrenna alias Varenna, Cometh of the French Gavenne, i. Vicarium, vel locus in quo vel aver, vel pices, vel ferva continentur, que ad vicium

Hani duntaxat pertinent. Calcepe out of Aulus Gellius, lib. 2. Noct. Attic. c. 20. But a Warren, as we use it, is a Franchise or Place privileged, either by Prescription or Grant from the King, to keep Beasts and Fowl of Warren, which are Hares and Conies, Partridges and Pheasants: And if any Person be found an Offender in any such Free warren, he is punishable for the same at the Common Law, and by the Statute 21 E. 3. called the Statute De malefactoribus in parvis & chaceis, &c. Videtur tamen fusticiarius licet & Comite Dom. Regis, quod Capreoli sunt bestie de Warena & non de Foresta, eo quod fugant alias bestias de Warena. Hill. Anno 13 E. 3. Ebor. Rot. 106. A Free-warren may lie open, for there is no Necessity of inclosing the same as there is of a Park; which ought to be seized into the King's Hands, if it be not inclosed.

Warwick. Edmundus Buseke tenet terras in Morton Com. Essex, per servitium inveniendi unum stimulum ferreum pro uno Warrocks super quoddam Clothac quondamque D. Rex equitaverit in exercitu versus partes Wallie tempore guerra. 22 R. 2. Blount of Tenures, p. 32.

Warth. It seems to be the same with Ward and Ward-penny; a customary Payment for some Cattle-Guard, or for keeping Watch and Ward. — Tota villi de Lighthorn in Com. Warwic. est geldabilis & dat fustagium & Warth, & venit ad duas magnos turnes Vicecomitis. — 7 E. 1. Blount's Tenures, pag. 60. This customary Acknowledgment by the very Name of Warth, is still paid within the Manor of Sutton-Celfield, Com. Warwic. with some particular Ceremonies that are indeed singular and surprising. — Adam de Okes was found by Inquisition, 18 E. 1. to die seised of certain Tenements in Dinley, Com. Warwic. held of the King, by the Payment of a Half-penny per annum, called Warth. Rot. Fin. 18 Ed. 2. n. 26.

Warfot Was the Contribution wont to be made towards Armour in the Saxons Times. Sint omnes, tam primarii quam mediores & minuti, immunes, liberi & quieti ab omnibus Provincialibus, summotionibus & popularibus placitis, quæ Hundredlaghe Angli dicunt, & ab omnibus armorum oneribus quod Warfot Angli dicunt, & forinse is querelis. Leg. forest. Canuti Reg. num. 9.

Warwick. See Pr. fidium.

Warwite. See Wardwite:

Washum, A Shallow, or fordable Part of a River or Arm of the Sea, as the Washes in Lincolnshire, &c. — Et sic transferunt per unum Washum maris ad longitudinem unius leuæ in vigilia S. Bartholomæi, & ex altera parte Washi inimici fuerunt parati ad prelium. Hen. Knighton sub anno 1346.

Wastale Was a festival Song, heretofore sung from Door to Door about the Time of the Epiphany. From the Sax. Waes Heal, i. e. Sis saluus.

Waste, Vastum, Hath divers Significations: First, It is a Spoil made either in Houses, Woods, Lands, &c. by the Tenant for Life or Years, to the Prejudice of the Heir, or of him in the Reversion or Remainder. Kitchin, fol. 163. Whereupon the Writ of Waste is brought, for the Recovery of the Thing wasted, and treble Damages. See Vasto. Waste of the Forest is most properly where a Man cuts down his own Woods within the Forest, without License of the King, or Lord Chief Justice in Eyre. See Manwood, part. 2. c. 8.

num. 4 & 5. Secondly, Waste is taken for those Lands which are not in any Man's Occupation, but lie Common; which seem to be so called, because the Lord cannot make such Profit of them as of his other Lands, by reason of that Use which others have of it in passing to and fro; upon this none may build, cut down Trees, dig, &c. without the Lord's License. Thirdly, Year, Day and Waste, (Annus, dies & vastum,) is a Punishment or Forfeiture belonging to Petit Treason or Felony, whereof you may read, Staufnd. Pl. Cor. lib. 3. cap. 30. And see Year, Day and Waste.

Waste Ground, Vastus fundus, Is so called, because it lies as Waste, with little or no Profit to the Lord of the Manor, and to distinguish it from the Demesnes in the Lord's Hands, 2 par. Inf. fol. 656. See Waste.

Wassel Bowl, A large Cup or Bowl of Silver or of Wood, wherein the Saxons at their publick Entertainments drank a Health to one another, in the Phrase of Was-beal, i. e. Health be to You. This is the Meaning of the Word Vastellum in the Lives of the Abbots of St. Albans, by Mat. Par. pag. 141. Abbas solus prandebit supremus in Refectorio habens Vastellum, of which the Learned Dr. Watts was ignorant. — Si non sit Umbraculum aut Baldachinum (a Canopy) nescio quid significet; neque tamen conjectare possum quare Umbraculum Vastellum diceretur. Quare, But by the Word Vastellum no Doubt is meant the Wassel or Was-beal Bowl, which was set at the upper End of the Table for the Use of the Abbat, who was served in this Plate, and began the Health or Poculum Charitatis to Strangers, or to his Fraternity. From hence Cakes and fine white Bread, which were commonly sopped in the Wassel-Bowl, were called Wassel-Bread. It is an unlucky Conjecture of Mr. Somner — Fortè a Latino Pastillus, alias Pastellus, P. in V. & W. ut sape transeunte.

Wassel-Bread, (Anno 51 Hen. 3. Statute of Bread.) Vox autem unde veniat, non liquet, says the Gloss. in x. Scriptores, forte a Gal. Gasteau, i. e. Libum, placenta habebit quotidie de liberatione xxx Sol. & xii Wastellos dominicos & xii Siminellos dominicos. R. Hoved. fol. 420. a. This was the finest Sort of Bread. See Cocket.

Wastinum, Waste Ground or Desert. — Unde queritur, quod disseisivo eis de quingentis acris terre, hesci, mora, wastini, & prati. Chartular. Abbat. Glaston. MS. f. 89. a.

Wastors Were a Kind of Thieves so called. Anno 5 E. 3. cap. 14. There have been divers Manslaughters, Felonies and Robberies, done by People called Roberdsfmen, Wastors, and Draw-latches. 4 H. 4. cap. 27.

Water-Bailiffs Seem to be Officers in Port-Towns, for the searching of Ships. 28 H. 6. c. 5. Also an Officer belonging to the City of London, who hath the Supervising and Search of Fifth brought thither, and the gathering of the Toll rising from the Thames. He also attends on the Lord Mayor for the Time being, and hath the principal Care of marshalling the Guests at the Table; and doth arrest Men for Debt, or other personal or criminal Matters, upon the River of Thames, by Warrant of his Superiors, and the like.

Water-gage, Watergagium & Aquagagium, A Sea-wall or Bank to restrain the Current or Overflow of the Water. Also an Instrument to Gage or Measure the Quantity or Deepness of any Waters. M m m 2 Ula

Water-gang, Watergangium, A Trench or Course to carry a Stream of Water, such as are usually made in Sea-walls to loose and drain Water out of the Marshes. Some confound this with Watergate, but they seem to differ in Signification. Cart. H. 3. De ordinatione Marisci de Romey, &c. Ad reparandum wallas & Watergangias ejusdem Marisci contra Maris periculum. Omnibus Ballivis de Beinfitone, Robertus de Curci, Salutem. Mando vobis atque precipio, quatenus justiciis meos homines de Margate, ut faciant wallas & watergangas, & clausuras wallarum sicut debent facere, & si facere noluerint, tum justiciis illos ut faciant, &c. Mon. Ang. 2 par. fol. 920.

Water-gavel Was a Rent paid for fishing in, or other Benefit received from some River or Water. Henricus Rex salutem; Sciatis nos dedisse, &c. dilecto & fideli nostro Huberto de Burgo comiti Cantie & Margerie uxori sue redditum 32s. & 4d. quem homines eorundem Huberti & Margerie de Manerio suo de Elmour nobis reddere solebant singulis annis, per manum Ballivi nostri de Mentfreworth nomine Water-gavel Habend. Dat. 15 H. 3.

Water-Measure, It is mentioned in the Stat. 22 Car. 2. and is greater than Winchester-Measure by about Three Gallons in the Bushel, and is now used for selling Coals in the Pool, &c.

Water-Ordeal. Our ignorant and superstitious Ancestors had a customary Way of Purgation, which they called Judicium Dei, believing it to be the Interposition of Divine Providence, or as it were the immediate Judgment and Decision of God himself. This was commonly by Fire-Ordeal, or by Water-Ordeal, and this latter was either by hot Water, or by cold Water. The Purgation by hot Water was for the Party accused to thrust his Hands or Feet into scalding Water, on Presumption that his Innocence would receive no harm. That by cold Water, was for the Defendant to be cast into a Pond or River, (as they now pretend to try Witches) whether he would sink or swim. The Fire-Ordeal was for Free-men, and Persons of better Condition: The Water-Ordeal for Churls, Bond-men, and other Rusticks, as Glanville reports—In tali casu tenetur se purgare is qui accusatur per Dei judicium, scilicet, per Ferrum calidum vel per aquam pro diversitate conditionis Hominum, scilicet, per ferrum calidum si sit Homo liber, per aquam si fuerit rusticus.

Watertrape, i. e. An Aqueduct. From the Sax. Waeter, Aqua, and Schap, ductus.

Watling-street Is one of those Four Ways which the Romans are said to have made here, and called them Consulares, Pratorias, Militares & Publicas. This Street is otherwise called Werlam-street. Et strata quam filii Wethe Regis ab orientali mari usque ad occidentalem per Angliam traierunt. R. Hov. f. 248. a. n. 10. This Street leads from Dover to London, Saint Albans, Dunstable, Towercester, Athelston, and the Severn, near the Wrekin in Shropshire, extending it self to Anglesey in Wales. Anno 39 El. c. 2. The Second is called Ikenild-street, so called ab Icenis, stretching from Southampton over the River Isis, at New-bridge; thence by Camlden and Litchfield; then it passeth the River Derwent by Derby, so to Bosworth-Castle, and ends at Timmouth. The Third was called The Fosse, because in some Places it was never perfected, but lies as a large Ditch, leading from Cornwall through Devonshire, by Teitbury, near Stew in the Wolds, and besides Coventry to Leicester, Newark, and so to Lincoln. The Fourth was called Ermine or Erminage-street, beginning at St. David's in West-Wales, and going to Southampton. See the Laws of Edward the Confessor, whereby these Four publick Ways had the Privilege of Pax Regis. See Hollinshead's Chron. vol. 1. cap. 19. and Henry of Huntington, lib. 1. in principio.

And in Leg. W. 1. c. 30. there are Three Ways mentioned; but Ikenild-street is omitted, which was called Ikenild from the Icenis, and Streat, which signifies a Way.

Way. See Chimin.

Wtrade, (for so anciently they wrote) Wood. See Wond.

Waltz-fte, Ward-penny, or Fce paid for waiting, i. e. for keeping Watch and Ward. — Thomas Spelman tenuit manerium de NARBOROUGH in com. Norf. per servitium militare & per redditum 14 sol. pro wayt-fce & Castle-guard. — Blount of Tenures, p. 7.

Wield or Weld, A Saxon Word signifying Sylva, is the woody Part of a Country, as the Wield of Kent. Camb. Brit. pag. 247. Anno 26 H. 8. c. 7. In the Collection of Statutes, 14 Car. 2. c. 6. it is misprinted Wildes of Sussex, Surrey or Kent, for Wields.

Weald, Walld, Walt, In the Beginning of Names of Places signifies a Situation near Woods or Groves; from the Sax. Weald, i. e. a Wood.

Wield

Wealcraft, i. e. Robbing a dead Man in his Grave: From the Sax. Weal, Strages, and Reaf, Spoliatio, quasi Strati vel Extincti Spoliatio. 'Tis mentioned in Leg. Ethelred at Wantage, cap. 21. Wealcraft, i. e. Mortuum referre, est opus nitibm, (i. e. of one made Free, or Manumitted,) fi quis hoc negare velit, faciat cum 48 Thaynis plane nobilibus, &c.

Wear or Were Wera & Wava, A Stank, or great Dam in a River, well known, accommodated for the taking of Fish, or to convey the Stream to a Mill. Unani waram & duas Cotlandas cum Dominio & Prato, Mon. Angl. 2 par. f. 128. See Kiddell. Gurgites is sometimes used in our Records for Wears; as, Ufque ad Gurgites, Anglice vocat. Snowtwears. Item Petrus tenet unum Gurgitem infra Wayam, a Wear on the River Wey. Liber niger Heref. f. 66. See Kiddell.

Wedbedrip, The customary Service which inferior Tenants paid to their Lord in cutting down their Corn, or doing other Harvest Duties. From Sax. Wed, a Covenant or Agreement, (whence to wedd, wedding, a wedded Husband, a wedded Bondslave, &c.) and Biddan to pray or desire, and Ripan to reap or mow. As if a Covenant of the Tenant to reap for the Lord at the Time of his bidding or commanding.—Anno Dom. 1325. Antiquit. pag. 401. Alicia que fuit uxor Ricardi le Grey — faciet unam sarculaturam & unam Wedbedripani & levationem farni. Ib. p. 402.

Weif. See Waife.

Weight, or Wer, (Waga) Is a Weight of Cheese or Wool, containing Two Hundred Fifty-six Pounds of Avoir-du-pois. A Weight of Barley or Malt is Six Quarters, or Forty-eight Bushels. A Weight of Cheese in Essex is Three Hundred Pounds. Et decimam Cafei sui de Hertings, prater unam Peifam que pertinet ad Ecclesiam de A. Mon. Angl. 3 Par. f. 80. b. Where Peifa seems to be used for a Weight. See Waga. Coke's 12 Rep. fol. 17. mentions Eighty Weights of Bay-Salt.

Weights, Pondera, There are Two Sorts of them in use with us; the one called Troy-weight, having Twelve Ounces in the Pound, by which Pearl, precious Stones, Electuaries, and medicinal Things, Gold, Silver and Brede be weighed. The other is termed Averdu-pois, and contains Sixteen Ounces in the Pound, by which all other Things be weighed that pass by Weight. Geo. Agricola in his learned Traclate De Ponderibus & mensuris, p. 339. terms the Pound of Twelve Ounces Libram medicam, and the other of Sixteen Ounces Libram civilem, saying thus of them both, Medica & civilis libra numero non gravitate unciarum differunt. The Second seems so to be termed, by reason of the more full Weight. But by these Words Aver du pois, are sometimes signified such Merchandise as are bought and sold by this Kind of Weights. The first Statute of York, made 9 E. 3. in Proem. 27 E. 3. Stat. 2. c. 10. and 24 H. 8. c. 13. See Skene de verbor. signif. verb. Serplathe. All our Weights and Measures have their first Composition from the Penny-Sterling, which ought to weigh Thirty-two Wheat-Corns of a middle Sort; Twenty of which Pence make an Ounce, and Twelve such Ounces a Pound; but Fifteen Ounces make the Merchants Pound, Fleta, lib. 2. cap. 12. which though an Ounce less should probably be all one in Signification with Aver-du-pois, and the other Pound called by Fleta Trone-weight plainly appears to be the same with that we now call Troy-weight. See Tronage. From henceforth there shall be one Weight, one Measure, and one Yard, according to the Standard of the Exchequer, through all the Realm, &c. Anno 17 Car. 1. c. 19. See Pondus Regis.

Weights or Uncel, Anno 14 E. 3. Stat. 1. cap. 12. See Uncel-weight.

Uemming. Leg. H. 1. ca. 33. Injusto quoque iudicio contradicere poterit Wemminge Superiori & Sapientiori: An unjust Judgment in an inferior Court may be set aside by an Appeal to a Superior. From the Sax. Wem, Menda.

Uend, Wendus, i. perambulatio, From the Sax-on Wend, ire, to go. Præcinctus terre amplior plurima juga in se continens. Rentale Regalis Manerii de Wye, pag. 31. — Tres sunt wendi, viz. Down-wend, Chiltones-wend, & Bronsford-wend, & in quolibet wendo sunt decem juga & sic in tribus wendis sunt 30. juga, quorum 26. juga & dimid. sunt in wye & infra. Quilibet wendus faciet 10. avoragia semper de tribus septimanis in tres, &c.

Uerr and Were (Sax.) are Words found in ancient Charters: The first signifies a Cattle; the last, æstimativum capitis, or Pretium, quo occisus æstimabitur. See Æstimatio capitis.

Uerr, The River. See Wedra.

Were, alias Uerræ, According to Lambard in his Explication of Saxon Words signifies æstimatio capitis aut pretium hominis. That is, so much as one paid in ancient Time for killing a Man, when such Crimes were punished with pecuniary Mults, not Death. In Leg. Ed. Conf. cap. 11. we read Were suum, id est, pretium sua redemptionis, his Ransom. — Si quis ante Comitum in placito pugnaverit, emendat secundum pretium sui ipsius, & forisfacturam quod Angli dicunt were & wite. Leg. Canut. MS. p. 150. In which Words the Saxon W is often mistaken for P, and written Pere and Pite. See Pere and Pite, see also Gavellet. The Words Were, Wita, and Manbota, are often joined together in our ancient Charters, and old Law-Books; but they are of different Signification: For Wera signifies the Price or Value of a Man slain, which was to be paid to the Kindred; Wita was a Mult usually of 30 s. which was to be paid to the Party injured; and Manbota was the Recompence to be made to the Lord for the killing his Vassal or Tenant.

Uerrgelf-theft Significat latronem qui redimi potest, Fleta, lib. 1. cap. 47. vel Gersuma pro latrone evaso ex carcere. Ex MS. Abbathie Radingie.

Werelada; From the Sax. Wera, Pretium capitis hominis occisi, and Ladian Purgare; which was thus, viz. Where a Man was slain, the Price at which he was valued was to be paid to his Relations. For in the Time of the Saxons the killing a Man was not punished by Death, but by a pecuniary Mult, which was called Wera: But if the Party denied the Fact, then he was to purge himself by the Oaths of several Persons, according to his Degree and Quality, viz. Si ad quatuor libras reatus sit, cum 18 ex patre, ex matre 4, si ad 14 libras natus, cum sexdecim; and this was called werelada. Leg. H. cap. 12. Homicidium wera solvatur, vel Werelada negetur.

Weretoff. Et sint quieti de communi miseriordia Comitatus, de Wardpenny & Awerpenny, de Hundredpenny, & Thirvingpenny, de Weretoff & de Forfeng. Charta H. 1. From the Sax. Were to-ron, i. e. To take a Ransom or Price for killing a Man. See Were.

Wergild, Wergeld, (Wergildus.) Pretium seu valor hominis occisi, homicidii pretium; which was paid partly to the King for the Loss of his Subject, partly to the Lord whose Vassal he was, and partly to the next of Kin. Quadam (crimina) emendari non possunt; que sunt Husbrech, Bernet, & Openchef, & Eberemord, & Latordfith, & infrafactio pacis Ecclesie, vel per manus Regis per homicidium. LL. H. 1. ca. 13. In which Chapter the Crimes are enumerated which might be redeemed per Weram. De unoquoque fure per totam Scotiam est Wergelt 30 Vacca & una juvenca, siue fuerit liber homo, siue servus. Reg. Maj. lib. 4. cap. 19. The Wergeld of an Archbishop and of an Earl, was 15000 Thrimsa's. Selden's Titles of Honour, fol. 604.

Wierhades, & Wirthades, (Sax.) Virilis & foeminei Sexus. LL. Edm. c. 1.

Wearings, i. e. A Curtilage.

Werth, Wroeth, Wirth, In the Beginning or End of Names of Places, signify either a Farm, Street, or Village: From the Sax. Worhtig, i. e. Platea, &c.

Wherlitotes, The ancient English open Chariots that were used by Persons of Quality before the Inventions of Coaches. See Stow's Survey of London, p. 70.

Whinard, A Sword so called; from the Sax.

Winnam, i. e. To get, and Are, Honour; because Honour is acquired by the Sword.

Whita. Edmundus Prior de Ely & ejusd. lo i Cono concedunt Johanni Palfrayman de Sutton unam placeam terre — & unam whitam jacentem in campo nostro de Sutton — inter whitam Thomas Arde hinc ex parte occidentali & whitam Johannis Pyper Nativi nostri ex parte orientali. — Ex Cartular. Eccl. Elicen. MS. penes Joh. Episc. Norwic.

Whithart, Silver, Candidi cervi argentum, Is a Muld paid into the Exchequer out of certain Lands in or near the Forest of Whitehart, which hath continued from Henry the Third's Time, who imposed it upon Thomas de la Linde, for killing a most beautiful White Hart, which that King before had purposely spared in Hunting. Cambd. Brit. p. 150.

Whithers, Whate's. Milk, Butter, Cheese, Eggs, and any Composition of them, which in Times of Superstition were forbid in Lent, as well as Flesh, till King Henry 8. published a Proclamation to allow the Eating of White-meats in Lent. Anno Reg. 34. 1543.

Whitrent Is a Duty or Rent of Eight Pence, payable by every Tinner in the County of Devon to the Duke of Cornwall. See Quitrent.

Whites, Spurs: A Sort of Esquires so called. See Esquires.

Whitfontide, So called because those who were newly baptized came to the Church between Easter and Pentecost in white Garments.

Whittawarn, Whittawers. Sch. Quia coria bovina & equina furata scienter albificant, ut sic non agnoscantur. Statuta Wallie. 12 Edw. 1. I find it elsewhere written Whytaroyers, and interpreted, Allutarii vel interpolatores albi corii. Hist. Oxon. fol. 158.

White-Straits, A Kind of coarse Cloth made in Devonshire, about a Yard and Half a Quarter Broad, raw, mentioned 5 H. 8. c. 2.

Whitley, A Town in Northumberland. See Alone.

Whitcherthila. See Thila.

Whitton-farthings. See Pentecost's, mentioned in Letters Patent of Henry the Eighth to the Dean of Worcester.

Wic, A Place on the Sea-shoar, or on the Bank of a River. 1 Inst. f. 4. b. But it more properly signifies, in the Saxon, a Street, a Village, or Dwelling-place; also a Cattle. See Wyke. It is often in the Saxon Language made a Termination to the Name of a Town which had a compleat Name without it; as Lunden Wic, that is, London-Town, which signifies no more than London; as in the Saxon Annals, 'tis mentioned that King Ethelbert made Mellitus Bishop of Lunden-Wic: So Isfwich is written in some old Charters Villa de Gippo, and sometimes Villa de Gippo Wico; which is no Variance, but the same Thing: For Gipps is the compleat Name, and Gipps-Wic is Gipps-Town.

Wicca, A Country-House or Farm, of which many a one is now called the Wike and the Wick. — Nos W. Abbas Glaston, & Conventus concessimus Andreæ de wik, pro homagio & servitio suo wicam de manerio nostro de Eſſebi cum omnibus pertinentiis suis in eadem villa. — Chartular. Abbat. Glaston. MS. f. 29.

Wichemere. See Quietantia.

Wichencraft, Witchcraft. The Word occurs in the Laws of King Canute, c. 27.

Whidow

Widow of the King, Vidua Regis. Was she, that after her Husband's Death, being the King's Tenant in Capite, was forced to recover her Dower by the Writ De Dote assignanda, and could not marry again without the King's Consent. Staudf. Prærog. c. 4. See the Statute of the Prærog. Anno 17 E. 2. Mag. Chart. cap. 7. and 32 H. 8. cap. 46. See F. N. B. f. 263.

Wife, Uxor: After Marriage, all the Will of the Wife, in Judgment of the Law, is subject to the Will of the Husband, and it is commonly said, A Feme Covert hath no Will, sed fulget radiis mariti. Co. 4. Rep. Forfe and Hembling's Case. See Perkin's, fol. 2, 3, 4. Plowd. Comment. 344. Bret and Rigdon's Case. Doctor and Student, fo. 13. and 4 H. 6. 31.

Wike. See Wyke.

Wilsade. See Wethade.

Wiggebr, A Saxon Word, derived from Wig, or Wic, which signifies Syloam, and Grove prepositus, and denotes the Overseer of a Wood, according to Spelman: But Wia in Saxon more truly signifies Via, and so it may more properly intend an Overseer of the Highways.

Will, or last Will, Testamentum, ultima voluntas, Is of two Sorts, A Will in Writing, called also a Testament; and a Will by Word of Mouth only, called a Nuncupative Will, which being proved per Testes, may be of as good Force as that in Writing, except only for Lands, which are not devisable, but by a Testament in Writing made in the Life of the Testator. See Toussie's of Wills, pa. 2. See Testament.

Ex Codice MS. nuncupato March, penes Registrar. Curie Prærog. Domini Archiep. Cantuar. Qu. 7.

IN nomine Patris & Filii & Spiritus Sancti, Amen. Windsoze, A Herald. See Herald.

Winterheynning Is that Season comprehended between the Eleventh Day of November, and the Three and Twentieth of April, which Time by the Act made 20 Car. 2. cap. 3. is excepted from the Liberty of commoning in the Forest of Dean.

Winegellsther, Vale Royal, pag. 113. Perhaps mistaken for Weregellsther, which see.

Wista Quatuor virgatis constat. MS. Abbatie de Bello. It was a Measure of Land among our Saxons. And was as much as made half a Hide of Land, the Hide being accounted 120 Acres, viz. Monasticon. 1 Tom. p. 133. Offo virgate unam bidam faciunt, Wista vero quatuor virgatis constat, which in this Place must be Sixty Acres; but the Number was uncertain according to the Place; for in an old Chronicle of the Monastery of Battle, we read, In perlea est una Wista in dominio, ista enim 48 Aris constat. Du Fresne.

Witam: Secundum witam jurare is to purge himself by the Oaths of so many Witnesses as the Quality of the Offence, and the Forfeiture incurred, require: Jurat secundum Witam quod nec fuerit furti confusius, nec coadjutor in eo, &c. Leg. Inæ, c. 63. From hence there were several compound Words, Words, as Blodwita, Eintwita, Legeowita, Ferdwita, Chilawita, Wardwita, Heingwita, Elitwita, Leirwita &c. which see in their Places.

Wita plena was a Forfeiture of Fifty Shillings. Leg. H. 1. cap. 40. Si pundeche fiat in Curia Regis plena wita fit, alibi quinque marce, i. e. 12 s. & 6 d.

Witfree, (Sax.) Immunis a Multis.

Wite, A Saxon Word signifying Punishment, Pain, Penalty, Fine, or Mult: Hence Wite or Witfree, one of the Terms of Privilege granted to our Portsmen, denoting a Freedom or Immunity from Fines or Amerciaments, and not (as they vulgarly accept) from being liable to be begged for Fools, for lack of Wit or Understanding, Saxon Dict. See Wyte & Gless in 10 Script.

Witnamot and Witnagaemot (Saxon) Conventus sapientum. It was a great Convention among the Saxons, answerable to our Parliament.

Wites, Witen, The Title among our Saxon Ancestors for their Chief Lords or Thanes, their wife and their Noble Men. And the Witena Gemotes were the Councils or Assemblies of the great Men to advise and assist the King.

Witreden, alias Witereden, and Witinterden, Was a Kind of Taxation among the West-Saxons, imposed by the publick Council of the Kingdom: For Wite and Witan signify Majores Regni and Radan, Concilium. See Charta Ethelwulphi Regis Catholica apud Malms. de Gest. R. lib. 1. p. 41. Mansio (sc. quævis Ecclesiæ assignata) fit tata & libera ab omnibus secularibus servitiis, necnon regalibus tributis majoribus & minoribus sive taxationibus, quæ nos dicimus Witereden.

Wittherila, For Wittherybla, i. e. A Recriminating, or adversa accusatio: In Leg. H. 1. cap. 23. Nemo de castione nemoris inoperti jure cogitur respondere per Wittherilam, nisi Domino suo, vel captus in eo, &c.

Withernam, Vetium Namum, May be compounded of the Saxon Wyther, altera, & Nam, captio, and is a forbidden taking, as the taking or driving a Distress to a Hold, or out of the County, so that the Sheriff cannot upon the Replevin make Deliverance thereof to the Party distrained. In which Case the Writ of Withernam, or de Vetito Namio, is directed to the Sheriff, for the Taking as many of his Beasts that did thus unlawfully distrain, or as much Goods of his into his keeping, till he hath made Deliverance of the first Distress: Also if the Beasts be in a Fortlet or Castle, the Sheriff may take with him the Posse Comitatus, and beat down the Castle, as appears by the Statute of Westm. 1. cap. 20. and Britton, cap. 27. Withernam according to Bracton, lib. 3. tract. 2. cap. 37. and in Westm. 2. cap. 2. seems to signify an unlawful Distress made by him that has no Right to distrain. Anno 13 E. 1. cap. 2. See the New Book of Entries, hoc verb. and see Fitz. Nat. Brev. fol. 73. Reg. Orig. fol. 82, 83. Reg. Judic. fol. 29. and Smith de Republ. Anglor. cap. 10. This Withernam, (saith he) is in Dutch, and likewise in Saxon Witbernempi, that is, alternum accipere, and signifies all one with Reprisalia, Reprisals. See Skene de verbor. signif. verb. A-veria.

Woad, Glastum, Is an Herb like Plantain, growing in many Places in England, formerly brought from Tholouse in France, and from Spain, much used, and very necessary for the dying of a blue Colour. Anno 7 H. 8. cap. 2. We call it Woad, from the Italian Guedo.

Woderede — De fossis, fœrgiis & Woderede respondent. — Lib. niger Heret. fol. 82.

Wold, (Sax. Lat. Walda) A Plain, a Down, an open Champion Ground, hilly and void of Wood; as Stow in the Wolds, and Cotswold in Gloucestershire. This is sometimes misunderstandingly confounded with Weald.

Wunderchone. That certain Engines, called Wonderchones, used in Havens and Creeks for the Destruction of Fish, may be forbidden. Petition of the Commons in Rot. Parl. 51 Edw. 3.

Wong, A Saxon Word, written otherwise Wange, and signifying a Field; Tres aras terre jacentes in lez wongs, i. in campis opinor seminales, magis quam pascuis, saith Spelman. So in an ancient Charter of Garradon Abbey in Leicestershire, Dat. 14 E. 3. There is Mention of the Wicketwong, which is a large Piece of inclosed Ground lying before the Abby-Gate. See Wang.

Wood-corn, Some Quantity of Oates or other Grain, paid by customary Tenants to the Lord, for Liberty to pick up dead or broken Wood. — In villa de Thorp he sunt consuetudines — qualibet integra virgata terra — Dat ad Natale unum panem, & unam summam de avena, scil. Woodcorn & operatur 3 diebus. — Swafham, five Cartular. Burgi S. Petri, MS. fol. 142. — Ic esse est una hida terre & dimidia — qualibet virgata — Dat ad Natale ii gallinas & panem & vi escheppas avene ad Woodecorn pro mortuo besce. Ibid. fol. 143.

Woodcote. See Noviomagus.

Woodgeld, Woodgeldum, Seems to be the gathering or cutting of Wood within the Forest, or Money paid for the fame to the Foresters; and the Immunity from this by the King's Grant is by Crompton called Woodgeld, fol. 157. Co. on Litt. fol. 233. says, it signifies to be free from Payment of Money, for taking Wood in any Forest.

Woodhey. — De quolibet bosci summagio super Isæ pontem (i. e. Exbridge) deportato unus truncus solvitur ad pontis reparationem, quæ consuetudo vocatur Woodhey. — Antiquities of Exeter, pag. 45.

Woodmen Are those in the Forest that have Charge especially to look to the King's Wood. Crompt. Jur. fol. 146.

Woodloose. — Rogerus Prior & Capitulum Ecclesiæ Christi Cantuar. quietos clamant Magistrum & Fratres Hospital. S. Marie de Ospreng & eorum Successores de consuetudinibus subscriptis, videlicet, de arura, Haterwite, Rijsfwer, Wodclode, Heylode, Aversflver, &c. que consuetudines fieri solent in curia de Adesham. Dat. Mens. Febr. 1242. — Registr. Eccles. Christi Cant. MS.

Woodnote Is the old Name of that Court of the Forest, which is now, since the Statute of Charta de Foresta, called the Court of Attachments, and by that Statute is held every Forty Days, but was wont to be held at the Will of the Chief Officers of the Forest, without any certain Time. See Manwood's Forest Law, cap. 22. fol. 207.

Woodplea-Court Is a Court held Twice in the Year in the Forest of Chun in Com. Salop. for determining all Matters of Wood and Agistment there, and perhaps was antiently the same with Woodmote-Court.

Woodward, Woodwardus, Is an Officer of the Forest, whose Function you may understand by his Oath set down in Crompt. Jur. fol. 201.

YOU shall truly execute the Office of a Woodward of B. Woods within the Forest of W. so long as you shall be Woodward there; you shall not conceal any Offence either in Vert or Venison, that shall be committed or done within your Charge, but you shall truly present the same, without any Favour, Affection or Reward. And if you see or know any Malefactors, or find any Deer killed or hurt, you shall forthwith do the Verdorer to understand thereof, and you shall present the same at the next Court of the Forest, be it Swainmote, or Court of Attachments. So help you God.

Woodwards may not walk with Bow and Shafts, but with Forest Bills. Manwood, part 1. pag. 189. Arcum & calamos gestare in Foresta non licet, sed ut respici utar verbo Hachetrum tantummodo. Sic Term. Hill. Anno 13 E. 3. Ebor. Rot. 106.

Wool-buyers, Anno 2 & 3 P. & M. cap. 13. Are such as buy Wool abroad in the Country of the Sheep-Masters, and carry it on Horseback to the Clothiers, or to Market-Towns to sell again.

Woolfherhod, Caput Lupinum, Is the Condition of such as were out-lawed in the Saxons Time, for not submitting themselves to Justice: For if they could be taken alive, they should have been brought to the King, and if, upon fear of Apprehension, they defended themselves, they might be killed, and their Heads brought to the King; for they carried a Wolf's Head, that is to say, their Head was no more to be accounted of than a Wolf's Head, being a Beast so hurtful to Man. So the Laws of King Edward, by Lambard, fol. 127. num. 7. and Bract. lib. 3. tract. 2. cap. 11. This is mis-written Wulvesheved, by Roger Hoveden, part. poster. suor. Annal. fol. 343.

Woolfsherrod. See Wulvesheved.

Woolstaple, Anno 51 H. 3. stat. 5. That City or Town where Wool was sold. See Staple.

Wooltinders, Are such as wind up every Fleece of Wool, that is to be packed and sold by Weight, into a Kind of Bundle, after it is cleansed in such Manner as it ought to be by Statute, and to avoid such Deceit as the Owners were wont to use by thrusting in Locks of refuse Wool, and other Drofs, to gain Weight. They are sworn to perform that Office truly between the Owner and the Merchant. See the Stat. 8 Hen. 6. cap. 22. 23 Hen. 8. cap. 17. and 18 Eliz. 25

Worcester, The Chief City of the County of that Name: It is called Brunonium in Antonine's Itinerary. Brannogenium by Ptolomy, Caer-Wrangon by the Britons, and Wire-caester, by the Saxons. Mr. Camden tells us, from Wire, memoroso saltu adjuncto; but this must be a Mistake, for that Wood is almost Twelve Miles distant from this City; the true Original is Wicwaraeaster, i. e. Civitas Wicciorum, who were a People so called, living in those Parts; and it was first called, Wicgornia, by one Joseph of Excester, in some Verses which he wrote on Baldwin Archbishop of Canterbury.

Worderinde; — Item pro cibo Prioris querendo, & pro servitio, quod dicitur Worderinde & pro pomis frangendis 12 den. &c. Sonner of Gavelkind, pag. 120.

Wormseed, Semen Sanftonicum, Is a medicinal Seed, produced by that Plant which we call Holy-wormwood, whereof you may read in Gerard's Herbal, lib. 2. cap. 435. This is a Drug to be garbled, Anno 1 Jac. cap. 19.

Wormtak, — Item est ibidem (scil. apud Orlenton) de Wormetak vi Sol. viii den. solvendi annuatim ad Festum S. Martini. Inquis. apud Heref. 22 Rich. 2.

Worth, i. e. A Curtilage or Country-Farm. Mat. Westm. 870. In Villa Regia qua lingua Anglorum Beodricsworth, Latine vero Beodrici curtis sive habitatio nominatur.

Worthinus, A Worthine of Land, a certain Quantity or Dimension of Ground so called in the Manor of Kinlsland Com. Hereford. It is from hence possibly, that in some Manors certain Tenants are called Worthies. 18 Edw. 3. inter consuetud. Manerii de Haddenham Com. Buck. from the Sax. Worth, a Country House or Farm; whence the Termination of Worth in so many of our Country Villages. — In villa Regia qua lingua Anglorum vocatur Beodnithesworth, Latine vero Beodrici curtis sive habitatio nominatur. Mat. Westm. sub anno 870.

Wringlands Seem to be misgrown Trees, that will never prove Timber. Kitchin, fol. 169. b. quasi Wringlands, that wrong the Ground they grow in.

Wreck, Wreccum maris, Is, where a Ship is perished on the Sea, and no Man escapes alive out of it: The Civilians call it Naufragium. This Wreck being made, the Goods that were in the Ship being brought to Land by the Waves, belong to the King by his Prerogative, or such other Persons to whom the King hath granted Wreck. But if a Man or a Dog, or a Cat escape alive, so that the Party to whom the Goods belong, come within a Year and a Day, and prove the Goods to be his, he shall have them again by the Provision of the Statute of Westm. 1. cap. 4. and 17 E. 2. cap. 11. Co. vol. 6. fol. 106. Bracton, lib. 2. cap. 5. num. 7. This in the Grand Custumary of Normandy, cap. 17. is called Varech, and latinized veriscum, and in some ancient Charters it is written Seupwerpe, quasi Sea up-werpe, that is, ejectus maris, from Up-werpen, ejicere. By which, and other Antiquities, it appears, that Wreck did not only comprehend Goods that came from a perishing Ship, but whatever else the Sea did cast up upon the Land, were it precious Stones, Fishes, or the like, as by the Statute made 17 E. 2. cap. 11. called Statutum Prerogative Regis, appears in these Words, Item Rex habebit wreccum maris, per totum Regni. Balenas, & Sturgesiones captas in mari vel alibi infra regnum, exceptis quibusdam locis privilegiatis per Regem. In the Statute of 27 H. 3. cap. 26. it is called Wreck de mer. See 2 Inst. fol. 167.

Wreckfry, Wreckfree, or exempt from the Forfeiture of shipwrecked Goods and Vessels to the King. King Edw. 1. by Charter granted this Immunity to the Barons of the Cinque Ports — Quod sint Wreckfry & Wyttfry & Lestagefry & Lonotfry & quod habeant de & Strond apud Gernemuth. — *Placit. temp. ibi duo Wreledli qui debent idem seruitium facere quod
Cotarii. lb.

Writ, Breve, Is the King's Precept, whereby any Thing is commanded to be done touching a Suit or Action; as the Defendant or Tenant to be summoned, a Distress to be taken, a Disseisin to be redressed, &c. And these Writs are diversly divided in divers Respects; some in respect of their Order, or Manner of granting, are termed Original, and some Judicial. Original Writs are those that are sent out for the Summoning of the Defendant in a personal, or the Tenant in a real Action, before the Suit begins, or rather to begin the Suit: Those are Judicial, which are sent out by Order of the Court where the Cause depends, upon Occasion after the Suit begun.
Old Nat. Brev. fol. 51, & 147. And the Judicial are known from the Original thus, because the Teste of that bears the Name of the Chief Justice of that Court whence it issues, whereas the Original in the Teste has the Name of the Prince: and according to the Nature of the Action, they are either Personal or Real: Real are either touching the Possession called Writs of Entry, or the Property called Writs of Right. Of the Antiquity of the Writ of Right, thus in a Charter of King
Athelstan's, of Privileges granted to St. John of Beverly, Anno 925.

W, if man be cald of limes or lif,
W men challenges lond in strit,
Wit my bodilaik boit of fight,
Will Saint John have the might.

Some Writs are at the Suit of the Party, some of Office, some Ordinary, some of Privilege. A Writ of Privilege is that which a privileged Person brings to the Court for his Exemption, by Reason of some Privilege. See Precedendo, and New Book of Entries, verbo Privilege. See Brief. The Word is derived from the Saxon Writan, scribere; and Skinner tells us it is worth Observation, that we alone of all the German Race, do still retain this Word, for they call it schreiben, from the Latin scribo.

Writ of Assistance Issues out of the Exchequer, to authorise any Person to take a Constable, or other publick Officer to seize Goods or Merchandise prohibited and uncustomed, &c.
Stat. 14. Car. 2. c. 1. There is also a Writ of this Name issuing out of the Chancery to give a Possession.

Writ of Rebellion. See Commission of Rebellion.

Writer of the Tallies, Scriptor Talliarum, Is an Officer in the Exchequer, being Clerk to the Auditor of the Receipt, who writes upon the Tallies the whole Letters of Tellers Bills.

Writs Writountiel Are such Writs as are triable in the County or Sheriff's Court. Old Nat. Brev. lib. 109. See Vicountiels.

Wrong, Injuria, Is in French aptly called Tort, because Wrong is wrested or crooked, being contrary to that which is right and strait. Co. on Lit.

Enodochium Interpretatur hospitium, An Inn by publick Licence allowed, for the Entertainment of Strangers, and other Guests. It may also be interpreted an Hospital, In qua valetudinarii & senes, id est, infirmi, recipiuntur & aluntur. See Vocab. utriusq; juris, verb. eodem.

Y.

Y & Nay,— Quod homines sui (Ripponienses) sint credendi per suum Ya & per suum Nay in omnibus Querelis & Curis, licet tamen Freedmortal, &c. Charta Athelstani Regis. Mon. Ang. Tom. 1. pag. 175. a.

Yare, Virga, Is a well known Measure, Three Foot in Length, which (Sir Richard Baker in his Chronicle, says) Henry the First ordained by the Length of his own Arm. See Virga ferrea.

Yardland, Virgata Terra, Is a Quantity of Land, various according to the Place; as at Wimbleton in Surry it is but Fifteen Acres, in other Counties Twenty; in some Twenty-four, in some Thirty, and in others Forty Acres: Virgata terra continet 24 Acres, & 4 Virgatae constituent unam Hydram, & quinque Hydræ constituent sedum militare. MS. Abbatæ Malmbs. This Yardland, Bracton, lib. 2. cap. 10, & 27. calls Virgatam terram, but expresses no Certainty what it contains. It is called a Verge of Land, Anno 28 E. 1. Statute of Wards. See Selden's Titles of Honour, fol. 622.

Yare, A River in Norfolk. See Gariennus fluvius.

Yarmouth. See Garianonum.

Yburpananfera, i. e. The stealing a Calf or Ram, or as much as a Man can carry on his Back. Skene could not tell the Original of the Word, but Spelman says it is compounded of the Letter y, for you, and Byryn, which signifies a Burthen, and saca a Sack, i. e. a Burthen in a Sack.

Yconomus, Oeconomus; an Advocate, Defender, or Patron.— In Ecclesia illa Rex ipse vice agens Yconomi & Custodis specialis. Vit. Abbat. S. Albani.

Year. Beda de ratione temporum, tells us, That our Ancestors computed their Months according to the Course of the Moon; and that they began the Year at Christmas: This appears by the antient Grants and Charters mentioned in the Monasticon. 1 Tom. 62. viz. Acta apud Westmonasterium, &c. Kalendas Januarii die sanctorum Innocent. Anno Dominice incarnationis MLXVI. which Method of Computation was observed here to the Time of William the Conqueror, and for the greatest Part of his Reign, as may be seen in the Monastic. 1 Tom. pag. 43, 53. but afterwards the Year of our Lord was seldom mentioned in any Grants, but only the Year of the Reign of the King. See Curriculum.

Year and Day. Annus & Dies, Is a Time that determines a Right in many Cases; and in some works an Usucaption, in others a Prescription; as in Case of an Estray, if the Owner (Proclamations being made) challenge it not within that Time, it is forfeit: So is the Year and Day given in Case of Appeal, in Case of Descent after Entry or Claim; of no Claim upon a Fine or writ of Right at the Common Law; so of a Villain remaining in antient Demesne: Of a Man fore bruised or wounded: Of Protections, Emissions in respect of the King's Service; of a Wreck, and divers other Cases. Co. Vol. 6. fol. 107. And that touching the Death of a Man, seemeth an Initiation of the Civil Law. Nam si mortifere fuerit vulneratus & postea post longum intervallum moriturus sit, inde annum numerabimus; Secundum Julianum l. air lex  $\pi$  ad legem Aquil.

Year, Day, and W. i. e. Annus, Dies & Vastum, Is a Part of the King's Prerogative, whereby he challengeth the Profits of their Lands and Tenements for a Year and a Day, that are attainted of Petty Treason or Felony, whoever is Lord of the Manor whereto the Lands or Tenements belong; and not only so, but in the End may waste the Tenements, destroy the Houses, root up the Woods, Gardens, Pasture, and plough up the Meadows, except the Lord of the Fee agree with him for Redemption of such Waste, afterwards restoring it to the Lord of the Fee; whereof you may read at large in Stannif. Prærog. cap. 16. fol. 44.

Yeman, or Yeoman, or Yoman, A Derivative of the Saxon Geman, i. Communis. These Camden in his Brit. pag. 105. placeth next in order to Gentlemen, calling them Ingenuos, whose Opinion the Statute affirms, Anno 6 Ric. 2. cap. 4. and 20 R. 2. cap. 2. Sir Thomas Smith in his Republ. Anglorum, lib. 1. c. 23. calls him a Yeoman, whom our Law calls Legalem hominem, which (says he) is in the English a free-born Man, that may depend of his own Free Land in yearly Revenue to the Sum of Forty Shillings Sterling. Verfegan in his Restitution of decayed Intelligence, cap. 10. writes, That Gemen among the antient Teutonicks, and Gemin among the modern, signifies as much as Common, and the Letter G being turned into Y is written Yemen, which therefore signifies a Commoner. Yeoman also signifies an Officer in the King's House, in the middle Place between the Serjeant and the Groom, as Yeoman of the Chandry, Yeoman of the Scullery. 33 H. 8. cap. 12. Yeoman of the Crown, 3 E. 4. 5. The Word Youngmen is used for Yeomen, in the Statute 33 H. 8. cap. 10. and I have seen it written Yemen in old Deeds. See Femen.

Yeme Is an antient Corruption of Hieme, Winter, as I have seen in an old Deed.— Reddend.

— Ad Festum S. Martini in Yeme, &c. And in another of 4 Edw. 3. thus, — Reddend. quando dist. quatuor acra terre seminantur semine Yemali, duodecim Bussel. boni & legalis frumenti ad Festum Purificationis, &c.

Yeven or Yeoven (as we use at the End of Indentures and other Instruments, Yeoven, the Day and Year first above written) is derived from the Saxon Coerian, i. e. Dare, and is the same with Given. So Diſſum de Kenelworth concludes with — Yeoven, and Proclaimed in the Castle of Kenelworth the Day before the Calends of Nov. Anno 1256.

Yew Is derived by Minsheu, from the Greek Word ιωτε, which signifies to hurt, probably, because before the Invention of Guns, our Ancestors made Bows with this Wood, with which they hurt their Enemies, and therefore they took Care to plant the Trees in the Church-yards, where they might be often seen and preserved by the People.

Yielding and Paying (Reddendo & solvendo) Is a Corruption from the Sax. Geldan, and Gildan, Solvere, prestare. And in Domesday, Gildare is frequent.

ly used for Solvere, reddere; the Saxon G, being often mistaken into Y.

Yingman, Leg. H. 1. cap. 15. Danagildum quod aliquando yingeman dabatur, i. 12. de unaquaque hida per annum; si ad terminum non reddatur, wita emendetur. Spelman thinks this may be mistaken for Inglishman, or as we say now Englissman, though he finds it written yingeman both in Sir Robert Cotton's Codex and his own.

Ypſivremeta Signifies in Latin Altitonans, i. e. God.

Yſicius. Anketel, in the Reign of King Ethelred, gave to the Abbot and Monks of Ramsay the Land of Hickeling, to receive from it this annual Sum or Rent in Provisions——ad festum S. Benedicti quod est in estate 10 mittas de braseo & 5 de gruto, & 5 mittas farina triticea, & 8 pernos, & 16 caseos, & 2 vaccas pingues——in capite autem quadragesima 8 fratribus yſicios annuatim——Histor. Rameſ. ſect. 144. By yſicios understand, what in Old English they call Yſinges, a Sort of pickled Salmon.

Yvernagium, (From the French Hyvernee, that is, the Winter-Season) was antiently used for the Winter Seedness, or Season for sowing of Corn; Diſtus vero Willielmus & heredes ſui arabunt unum ſelonem ad yvernagium, & unum ſelonem ad ſemen Quadrageſimale, & unum ſelonem ad warectum, &c. Charta Richardi de Harecourt penes Tho. Wallſcot Arm. ſine Dat.

Yule, Deep in the North Parts of England, the Country People call the Feast of the Nativity of our Lord, usually termed Chriſtmas, Yule, and the Sports used at Chriſtmas, here called Chriſtmas Gamboles, they ſtile Yule-Games. Yule is the proper Scotch Word for Chriſtmas. See the Act 1 Geor. cap. 8. for repealing an Act intituled, An Act for repealing Part of an Act paſſed in the Parliament of Scotland, intituled, An Act for diſcharging the Yule-Vacance.

Z.

Zabulum, (Latin Sabulum) Groſs Sand or Gravel. Quinque Plauſtratas Zabuli, for Five Wain-loads of Sand. Computus temp. Hen. 6.

Zabulus, i. e. Diabolus: It is mentioned in ſeveral of our Hiſtorians, viz, Gildas in Excidio Britannie, Edgar in Leg. Monachorum Hydenſium, c. 4.

Zacones, For Diacones.

Zala, i. e. Incendium: It is probable from hence we derive the Engliſh Word Zeal.

Zatoby, i. e. Satin: It is mentioned in the Monaſt. 3 Tom. pag. 177.

Zvalor, Zelotes, Is for the moſt Part taken in pejorem ſenſum, and ſo we Term one that is a Separatiſt or Schiſmatick from the Church of England, a Zealot, or a Fanatick; which are well known Terms of Separation.

Zeta, A Dining-Room, Hall, or Parlour.——Elphegus cum Zetam veluti tranſurus intraret, tam vacuus fere a menſa ſurrexit, quam vacuus ad menſam acceſſit. Osborn. vita S. Elphegi apud Wharton Angl. Sacr. P. 2. p. 127.

Zemata For Somata.

Zuche, Zuchcus, Stips ſiccus & aridus, A withered or dry Stock of Wood, Rex, &c. Quia accepimus per Inquiſitionem quod non eſt ad dampnum ſeu præjudicium noſtrum aut aliorum, ſi concedimus dilecto vaſcello noſtro Ric. de Stelley omnes Zuches avidos, qui Anglice vocantur ſtovenes, infra Haiam noſtram de Beſkeewood, qua infra foreſtam noſtram de Shirewood, &c. *Pla.
